Ready For Classes

NEW FACILITY—Baldwyn High School principal, C.L. Shelton (left), and Steve Clark, superintendent of the Baldwin schools, congratulate each other on the completion of the new Baldwin High School building. Formal dedication ceremonies will be held in the school auditorium at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Gov. William Winter and State Supt. of Education, Dr. Charles Holladay, are expected to attend.

Sunday In Baldwyn

New School To Be Dedicated

Climaxing nine years of planning, building, remodeling and general improvements, formal dedication ceremonies for a new, 12,000 sq. ft. high school building will be held Sunday in Baldwyn.

Gov. William F. Winter and Dr. Charles Holladay, State Supt. of Education, are expected to make appearances at the ceremonies which begin at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Baldwyn High School auditorium, according to Steve Clark, superintendent of the Baldwyn Separate Schools.

An open house will also be observed at the school following the ceremony, he said.

IN ADDITION TO administrative and guidance offices, the new building has 10 classrooms and will house the 10th, 11th and 12 grades at Baldwyn.

It is centrally heated and cooled and is equipped with all new furniture, including facilities for handicapped students, Clark said.

George A. Thomason, an architect from Memphis, designed the building. S&J Steel Builders of Booneville was the general contractor and Bob Ricks was the chief engineer.

The total cost of the building, including the new equipment, was approximately $400,000, Clark said. The project was financed through a $397,000 bond election in December 1980, plus $217,000 from the State Education Finance Commission.

NOT ONLY HAS a new building been constructed, but the Baldwyn school system has made major improvements to the old high school building.

It has been re-wired and will be air-conditioned with window units, Clark said. It has also received a new ceiling, roof, insulation and paint, he said.

City Plans To Cut Employees

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

City officials say they had rather not do it, but there will be a layoff of some city personnel in order to balance the city's budget.

"There will be reduction in city employment," Mayor Charles Crabb said Wednesday. "It's just a matter of economics."

Crabb admitted that recent cutbacks in federal funds and a slight decrease in city sales tax collections have hurt the city's effort to maintain a balanced budget. "But, basically what's causing the problem is that the cost of every item we get has increased over the past few years," he said.

The mayor said he does not yet know how many city employees will be laid off or who they will be, but he said the decisions in each department will be based on seniority.

"We have asked each department head to go through his department and report back to the board," the mayor said.

The decision to cut city employment came at a meeting Monday night at the City Hall as the mayor and board of aldermen worked on the budget for the coming year.

At the previous board meeting, earlier this month, the board voted to freeze salary increases for city employees. Mayor Crabb said this week that the city had put a freeze on hiring (except for emergencies) some time ago.

"This is something we had hoped would never come," the Mayor said, "but to balance the budget, we have to cut every way we can."

The mayor said he hoped the personnel cuts could be done in such a fashion that services would suffer as little as possible.

Pace Elected Constable

It's official. Gerald Pace will be the new constable of Prentiss County's Fifth District.

Pace beat his opponent in Tuesday's runoff election, H.O. Jourdan, by a vote of 292 to 210.

The results were certified as official by the election commissioners Wednesday morning, Circuit Clerk Travis Cox said.

Pace and Jourdan were the leaders in a seven-man field in the special election for the post two weeks ago.

The constable's post became vacant earlier this summer when the former constable, John O. (Bobby) Lambert was sworn in as Booneville's Chief of Police.

J.P. Davis, president of Prentiss County's Board of supervisors, said Wednesday morning that Pace will be administered the oath of office as soon as possible.

Ole Miss Music Professor To Appear In Local Concert

A piano concert, the first in a series of three cultural performances sponsored cooperatively by the Prentiss County Development Association and the Northeast Mississippi Junior College, will be presented Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 8, at 3 p.m. in the Hines Hall Auditorium at Northeast.

The guest artist for the performance will be Dr. Natalia da Roza, associate professor of piano at the University of Mississippi.

Born in Hong Kong of Portuguese parents, Dr. da Roza received her early musical training from her mother who introduced her to the piano at age 3.

From 1952 to 1958 she was a yearly winner in the piano solo category of the Hong Kong Schools Musical Festivals, and from 1955 to 1957 she was a distinguished candidate in the piano examinations of the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music.

In 1958 she came to the United States and attended

Nazareth College of Rochester, N.Y. After receiving her bachelor's degree there, she continued her studies at Holy Names College in Oakland, Calif., where she earned her master's of music.

In 1972 she received the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in piano performance from North Texas State University.

As a soloist Dr. da Roza has performed widely in the Far East and throughout the United States. She has also served as adjudicator for piano competitions and given piano master classes in the South.

While in Booneville for the concert on Sept. 8, Dr. da Roza will conduct a master class in piano for local music students.

Using Federal Funds

Fire-Damaged Bridge To Be Replaced

Due to the possibility of federal funding for the project, Tupelo highway officials this week announced changes in their plans for repairing the bridge over the Little Hatchie River on Highway 4 between Ripley and Booneville.

A 340-foot section of the 700-foot wooden and creosote structure was damaged by fire on June 29 and was closed to thru traffic.

Five days later a second fire destroyed an additional 20 feet of the bridge, causing portions of the bridge to fall in. Arson was suspected in both fires.

Because of the limited amount of funds available, state highway officials had originally planned to replace only the most damaged section of the bridge was the same type of materials used in the original construction of the bridge.

However, federal highway officials have advised the State Highway Department that there is a good possibility that 100 percent federal money can be obtained to replace the entire 700-foot bridge.

Rothe Davis, assistant division administrator for FHWA, said the Atlanta Regional Office advised him there is a good possibility of obtaining the emergency relief funds to replace the bridge.

The State Highway Department has already advertised for bids to be received on the repair of the wooden bridge.

But, in a letter to L.G. Summerford, district engineer for the Tupelo district, Jimmy Quinn, chief engineer for the Mississippi Highway Department, said the decision has been made to withdraw the state project for repairing the bridge and take immediate steps to apply for the federal funds.

If the federal money is made available, a contract is expected to be let in early 1982 and the work could be completed in 12-14 months, State Highway Department officials say.

In the meantime, an official detour has been routed on Highway 370 to Highway 30 to Highway 45. However, a local traffic detour around the damaged bridge has been constructed and district engineers are planning to pave it in the near future.

"Our plans to overlay Highway 4 from Ripley to the Prentiss County line are still firm, and a contract will be let in September or October," Highway Commissioner Bobby Richardson said.

The 13-mile project to overlay the road is estimated to cost approximately $1 million.

Organization Re-Activated To Push For Highways

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Apparently Booneville businessman Stewart Vail has decided to live up to a statement he made at a meeting on July 20 with Highway Commissioner Bobby Richardson and other officials.

At that time, Vail said it is time to stop "being nice and quiet" and time to start to "raise a little hell" in order to get better highways for the northeast section of the state.

He apparently took the first step to do just that last week when he was instrumental in organizing a meeting with representatives of 13 counties to re-activate a lobbying group to press for better highways in the area.

THE LOBBYING GROUP-called N.E.D.A., an acronym for Northeast Economic Development Association-was originally organized on Feb. 4, 1971, some 10½ years ago.

"We feel the need for re-activating it because of a June 4 meeting with the Highway Department here and a July 7 highway meeting here sponsored by the transportation committee of the Prentiss County Development Association," Vail told approximately 50 area officials last Thursday.

These officials had met in the Haney Union at Northeast Junior College at the request of Vail, who serves as chairman of the PCDA Transportation Committee. Vail said the two earlier meetings, plus the public hearing with Richardson on July 20, had resulted in "numerous requests for today's (organizational) meeting, especially after the July 20th hearing."

THE OFFICIALS attending Thursday's meeting unanimously agreed to re-organize N.E.D.A. and Vail was elected president of the organization.

He told the officials he would like the policy of N.E.D.A. to be the same as that of T.I.M.E. (Transportation Is Mississippi's Emergency), a statewide organization which replaced H.O.P.E. (Highways: Pressing Emergency) which was spawned by the original N.E.D.A. organization. Vail serves on the executive committee of T.I.M.E.

"The policy of T.I.M.E. is that we will support any good (highway) plan that is brought forward by the Highway Department, the Governor's Office and the Legislature," Vail said.

"We say it is the responsibility of the elected officials to come up with the plan of how they're going to get the money, where they're going to get the money, and so on," he said. "It's not our responsibility to tell them where to get it. They were elected to do this; it's a part of their responsibility."

"We have been told that Northeast Mississippi has top priority on new construction," Vail said. But he cited a recent announcement that seven miles of Interstate 55 in North Jackson will be expanded to six lanes over an 8-year period with the state paying 10 percent of the cost.

He also cited a state R&D Center representative as saying that a triangle from Jackson to Mobile to New Orleans would probably carry a higher priority than Northeast Mississippi.

REP. BRUCE HANSON of Columbus, who is the executive director of a similar organization-the East Mississippi Council-supported the proposal to make N.E.D.A. a formal organization.

"I can't emphasize enough the need for organizations such as this to flourish and

Students To Report Tuesday

All Booneville High School students will report to the high school at 8 a.m. next Tuesday for the beginning of the new school term. BHS principal, Mac Curlee, said this week that some students and parents are apparently confused about the beginning schedule.

The school calendar, released last week, lists Tuesday as registration day. However, Curlee said that all high school students, including those who have already registered, are to report to the school Tuesday. The students will meet with the faculty at 8 a.m. in a general assembly, he said.

After the assembly, a short schedule will be carried out for that day, the principal said. The regular class schedule will begin Wednesday of next week.

Big V Receives FmHA Loan

The Big V Water Association has received a loan of $36,700 from the Farmers Home Administration for completion of a domestic water project.

The loan will be used to pay for a new well, a filter system and water line extension, Gorden Walden, president of the Big V Water Association, said Monday.

The well has already been drilled and the filter system is being installed now. Work on extending the water line will begin as soon as the contract is awarded, Walden said.

The water line will be extended five miles from Hills Chapel east on Highway 30 and about three miles into the Zion's Rest community, Walden said.

'POT' LUCK—Prentiss County law officers raided a residence located approximately 5½ miles east of Booneville in the Hill's Chapel community about 11:30 Monday night. One person was arrested and 31 marijuana plants were confiscated, officers reported. Pictured with the work with other groups in order for these types of programs to get through the Legislature," he said.

"N.E.D.A. has functioned as a 'sometime' organization when there was a need for someone to show up," he said. "But I think the step to formalize yourselves should prove to be one of the better things that you can do for this area of the state."

However, he—and others at the meeting—urged that N.E.D.A. not focus simply on the highway program, but also address other issues affecting the area.

Hanson also stressed the "need to have business and industrial leaders and individuals involved in N.E.D.A." in addition to the officials of the cities and counties.

HOWEVER, AT Thursday's meeting, Hanson disagreed with a popular interpretation of House Bill 1383, the bill which has caused such an uproar recently among advocates of better highways in Northeast Mississippi.

"I think that if you would read the bill, you would find something that's somewhat different than what's been said most of the time," he said.

Contradicting statements from highway officials at the July 10th public hearing, Hanson said, "I think the provisions of the bill actually grant greater authority to the (Highway) Commission for the allocation of funding and setting priorities than they have had in the past."

"The (old) law had strict limitations on the amounts of funds which could be expended for maintenance," he said. "The (new) bill removes all limitations on the amounts which may be expended for maintenance and the Commission has the authority to expend all or any part of state funds available for after debt serviceable maintenance."

"It says that the State Highway Department may expend all or part of any funds available for maintenance after debt service," he said. "It does not say that you must spend all money on maintenance. It simply says that you have the choice to spend the money either on maintenance or construction."

Rep. Jerry Horton of Ecru echoed Hanson's interpretation of the bill, saying that it is "the best thing that's ever happened to Northeast Mississippi...if the intent is carried out."

IN THE PLAN to re-activate N.E.D.A., Vail is asking each participating county's board of supervisors for $100 and each county seat for $50 to fund mailings and phone bills.

The presidents of the boards of supervisors and the mayors of the county seats (or their designates) will serve as the executive committee of N.E.D.A., Vail said.

The 13 counties involved in the organization are Alcorn, Benton, Calhoun, Chickasaw, Union, Tippah, Tishomingo, Itawamba, Pontotoc, Prentiss, Lafayette, Lee and Marshall.

NEMJC Registration

Registration for the fall semester at Northeast Mississippi Junior College will continue through Sept. 8, according to Kenneth B. Floyd, director of the school's admissions office.

Applications will be processed weekdays, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., in Estes Hall. Complete transcripts of all schools attended will be required of entering freshmen and transfer students before admission procedures can be completed.

Students who plan to register in an academic or technical curriculum will also need ACT scores, Floyd said.

For additional information, contact the Office of Admissions on the Northeast campus at 728-7751, or toll free within a 55-mile radius of Booneville, at 1-728-7759, ext. 239.

NOTHING BUT THE BLOOD—The Bloodmobile will be at Hargett Hall at Northeast Junior College from noon to 6 p.m. today. Area representatives say the quota of blood donations for this area is low. Here, LPN Gerry Vick of the Northeast Mississippi Hospital demonstrates one of the procedures required before a blood donation—a blood pressure check.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland don't you think some preachers preach too hard?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Of course, it depends on what you mean by too hard. The Bible nowhere authorizes a preacher to insult people. However, I notice in the preaching of Christ that he called people "serpents" and a "generation of vipers etc." (Matt. 23:23). I also observe that Paul called a man "child of the devil" and "enemy of all righteousness." (Acts 10:9). Sound preaching also includes proper disputation. In Acts 19:8-9, we are told that Paul disputed daily for two years in the school of Tyrannus. Preaching cannot be too hard if the evangelist preaches out of love and is trying to save the souls of people. In Psa. 119:104 David said "He hated every false way." This means that the true evangelist must condemn error and false religions. On the day of Pentecost recorded in Acts 2, Peter was very personal in telling the Jews they had sinned. This brought conviction to the Jews, and caused them to ask what to do to be saved. Peter then told them to "Repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit."

Caring For Contacts

If you're wearing contact lenses, they'll need special care. Contact lenses should be kept clean and free of germs. When you go to bed or a swim, remove your contacts first. Avoid irritating vapors and substances that could have an adverse effect on the lens. On the list of "no-no's" are such things as cosmetics, lotions, soaps, creams, and hair sprays. Don't let your contacts come in contact with them.

Both contacts and glasses should fit properly to do you the most good and provide the most comfort. This is especially important with contacts, which rest directly on your eyes. Maybe you should have them checked. Many people have their eyes checked once a year, whether they're aware of a problem or not. Your eyes change gradually, and even a slight improvement in correcting your vision can make a big difference. So does the comfort of your contacts. If you're not sure you have a good fit or are seeing as well as you should, now's a good time to make sure.

Arm Wrestling... It's Just 'Plain Exciting!'

Booneville Native To Appear On 'Wide World Of Sports'

HANDS DOWN WINNERS—Kenneth Brinkley (right) and Pam Smith (left) have teamed to win second place in a "doubles" arm wrestling match in Texas, as well as to win several other trophies as a team. Brinkley, a Booneville native, is currently ranked 14th in the world featherweight category.

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter
Some people call it arm wrestling. Some people call it wrist wrestling. Terrissa Burch of Booneville calls it just "plain exciting."

And she should. Because her son, Kenneth Brinkley, who now lives in Houston, Texas, is ranked 14th in the world in the featherweight division of arm wrestling.

On Sept. 12 in Kansas City, Ken will compete in a featherweight arm wrestling championship match to be televised by ABC's Wide World of Sports.

This will be Ken's third time to appear on ABC's Wide World of Sports in an arm wrestling match, Mrs. Burch said.

Thus far, Ken has won four arm wrestling titles. These titles were won in Texas, Kansas City, California and Atlanta, respectively.

Mrs. Burch says there is no money involved in the arm wrestling matches.

"Arm wrestling is just man-to-man competition.

They wrestle for themselves...for self-achievement."

And matches are frequent, she said.

"Ken sometimes has had a match every weekend for two months. That happens quite a bit."

While Ken's arm wrestling matches are frequent, they are also of short duration, she said.

"I'd say the matches last just a matter of minutes...you can't stand the pressure. Each arm wrestler is allowed to wrap one of his legs around a table leg. I've seen bones pop during a match," she said.

But luckily, Ken has not suffered broken bones, just bruises.

"I've seen Ken turn black from his toes to his hips after a match."

Even though Ken hasn't received broken bones from arm wrestling matches, some of his opponents haven't been so fortunate, she said.

"Ken has broken other people's bones during a match. Quite a few. Bones pop real easy. But there's no hard feelings among the boys. It's all fun and games."

Mrs. Burch says arm wrestling has mixed doubles just like a game of tennis.

Ken, teams with Pam Smith, also of Houston, for arm wrestling doubles matches. They won second place in an arm wrestling championship in Texas which included five western states and they have won several trophies together as a team, she said.

In all, since Ken started arm wrestling, he has won a number of trophies.

But about two months ago when he was moving to another apartment, he put his trophies in storage.

"Someone stole 20-30 of his trophies while they were in storage. They were the prettiest and largest trophies, too," she said.

Mrs. Burch says arm wrestling is built up around body builders.

Ken, a 1970 Booneville High School graduate, became interested in arm wrestling several years ago through some friends at Butch Cassidy's Club in Houston, she said.

And since that time he's gradually worked himself up to being ranked 14th in the world in the featherweight division (150 lbs. and under) of arm wrestling.

Mrs. Burch says arm wrestling is very popular in the western states, particularly in California.

"Fans at arm wrestling matches are even more enthusiastic than wrestling fans. Arm wrestling fans pull for both sides. Everybody pulls together. It's just competition."

Arm wrestlers have to watch their weight like any other athlete, she said. Otherwise, "referees can throw them out."

Several weeks ago when Ken was scheduled to arm wrestle in a championship match in Atlanta, he was about three pounds overweight, his mother said.

"He had from Tuesday to Saturday to lose the weight, so he went on a crash diet."

"The only thing he ate was milk with raw eggs in it. He lost the weight."

On the other hand, sometimes Ken gets underweight. In that case he follows a somewhat tastier diet regimen.

"Then he crams steak and liver to build up his body right quick."

Ken's arm wrestling abilities have not gone unnoticed.

In October 1978 a picture of Ken arm wrestling was featured in "Muscular Development" magazine.

"As soon as Ken told me what issue his picture would be in, I called Mr. Smith at Mr. Quik and told him I wanted 25 copies of "Muscular Development," He said, "You want what?" and I said, "I want 25 copies!" I went wild, honey!"

And the arm wrestler's mother says she goes wild, too, when she sees her son on television.

"All my neighbors could have heard me screaming because I was screaming all over the house."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Burch is content to leave the arm wrestling to her son.

"He's got a fantastic life ahead of him. He really has."

Bank To Be Telethon Phone Pledge Center

The Bank of Mississippi will serve as the location for receiving local telephone pledges and donations during the upcoming Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon.

The telethon, which is to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA), will be seen live from Memphis and Las Vegas over Memphis television station WREG, Channel 3, on Sept. 6 and 7.

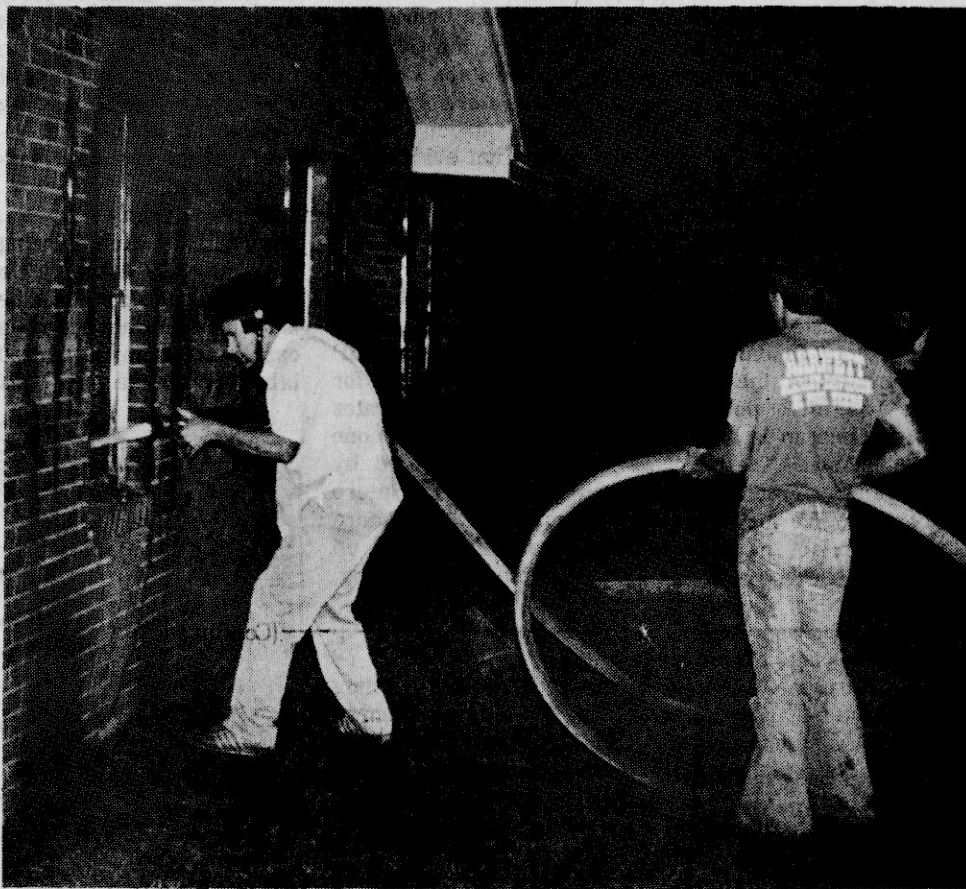

The Booneville Jaycees, under the direction of project chairman Macky Gann, will man the pledge center for the duration of the 1½-hour telethon. A special telephone number is being assigned to the center to receive pledges.

"We're looking forward to this event," Gann said, "and we know the good people of Prentiss County will unite and help us in our fight against this people-wasting disease."

MDA is a national voluntary health agency which funds extensive patient service and research programs throughout the world for those afflicted with muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular disorders.

City Plans

balanced budget, the mayor said the city will soon advertise for bids to convert all city vehicles so that they may be powered by natural gas.

He said the city will probably take bids on a lease-purchase type basis in which the city would have the conversion of its 21 vehicles completely paid for in about three years.

He said that, compared to gasoline, the city expects to save about $1,000 per month over the monthly payments to cover the expense of converting the vehicles.

A study by the city shows it should save approximately $3,336 per month on fuel expense once the lease-purchase agreement has been paid off, Crabb said.

Mayor Crabb said the city will primarily be advertising for a compressor to serve in a "quick-fill" system. The city will also need conversion kits and two cylinders per vehicle to contain the natural gas.

Once converted, the vehicles will have what is called a "dual-curve" ignition, the Mayor said, which he said he understands to mean that the vehicles can be operated on either gasoline or natural gas.

"We are doing this simply to conserve and balance the budget," Crabb said.

IN OTHER ACTION Monday night, the board of aldermen voted to increase garbage rates for city residents. This, too, comes as the result of increased expenses, Mayor Crabb said.

The residential garbage rates will increase from $2 per month to $3 per month, the mayor said, while commercial business rates will go from $3 to $4.

Supermarkets and similar businesses will pay $15 per month to have their garbage picked up; restaurants, $10 per month; and apartments, also $10.

The mayor said he expects these new rates to go into effect Oct. 1.

At Monday night's meeting, the board also discussed and agreed to participate with the county this year in a campaign to help eliminate rats, the mayor said.

Pears Are A Versatile Fruit

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Pears are like people. They come in assorted sizes, shapes and flavor personalities. Thanks to the difference in harvest dates of our several varieties of pears, we can enjoy their luscious goodness from now through the winter months.

The medium and smaller sizes are often preferred for fresh eating. Children, for instance, love the small sizes because they like a whole pear better than a section of a large one. The smaller pears are also perfect for salads.

Pears, like bananas, develop best flavor when picked at a mature stage but before they are completely ripe. They're best if allowed to ripen off the tree.

When pears ripen on the tree, the fruit become coars and gritty, but when picked "Green-ripe" it stays soft and buttery after ripening.

When you choose pears at your grocery store or market, don't be misled by a scar or minor surface blemish. Many delectable pears have a highly russeted skin.

If you overlook the furit with slight blemishes, you may be passing over the choices of the bunch !

You may bake, broil, glaze, or fry-pears are delicious served in all of these ways. Baked or broiler pears make a scrumptious, easy dish to prepare for your family. Fry pears for a luscious treat. Or serve glazed pears to add elegance to the mal. Experiment.

Pears have long been a favorite fruit for many salads and desserts as well as eating out-of-hand, and can become a favorite in many other ways. Try substituting them in recipes calling for another fruit.

Pears, long accepted for canning, have never been popular for freezing; however, baked pears freeze quite well. Use your recipe for baking pears, but undercook the fruit slightly.

Bake the pears only until they are almost tender. Remove them from the oven. Cool quickly. Pack in moisture-vapor rigid containers. Seal and freeze. When you are ready to use them, slip the pears back into the oven, and heat until tender.

If you have access to home grown pears, you may like to prepare some baked ones to freeze for later use. They're excellent for any easy dessert to compliment energy savings oven meals, since they can heat right along with a complete oven meal with little effort.

Thought for the week:

Some Things To Think About

When tempers flare don't talk-walk!
Men with clenched fists can't shake hands.

The person who serves deserves!
If you must use a hammer build something.
He tried to cover up his ignorance by constantly talking

Doors open for doers.
He stands best who kneels best.

When you stretch the truth, people usually see through it.

Learn to say kind words-nobody resents them.
When a church stops doing, it starts dying.

Show-offs often get showed-up in a show-down.
Don't blame anyone for your face. As you grow older we all acquire faces we deserve.

Enemies are made, not born.
When opportunities knock open the door.

If you don't enjoy what you have, how could you be happier with more?

Grants Still Available At NEMJC

Contrary to what many prospective students may think, it is not too late to apply for a basic educational opportunity grant (BEOG), according to Ronnie Sweeney, director of financial aid at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

The BEOG is especially attractive to college students and their families because it is just what it says it is—a grant, or a gift, that does not have to be repaid, he said.

In 1981-82, the amount of a basic grant will be between $200 and $1,900, with the actual dollar amount determined by the individual's eligibility index, whether he is a full-time or part-time student, how much it costs to go to his chosen college and how long he will be enrolled in school between July 1, 1981, and June 30, 1982.

Within six weeks from the date the grant application is mailed, a student eligibility report is issued to the student. The eligibility index contained in this report helps to determine whether a student is eligible for a grant and if so, how much. There is no fee for the processing of this information.

The purpose of the basic grant program, Sweeney said, is to allow the government an opportunity to invest in its own people.

For additional information or assistance in completing the basic grant application, contact Sweeney in the Office of Financial Aid on the Northeast campus at 728-7751, or toll free within a 55-mile radius of Booneville at 1-728-7759, ext. 302.

September Weather Expected To Be Wet And Warm

Mississippi farmers can expect near normal temperatures and above median rainfall from mid-August until mid-September except in the Gulf Coast counties, according to the National Weather Service's 30-day outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Most farmers could use additional showers to help increase pasture and crop yields, an Extension Service spokesman said.

Rainfall usually ranges from about three inches in the north to six inches or more near the coast.

Rainfall patterns are expected to change from mainly afternoon thunderstorms in August to a more even distribution of showers throughout the day and night in September, say agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts.

This change may make it harder to schedule insecticide and defoliant applications, they add.

Cotton which was cutting out in the dry spell in early August may put on new growth which will be hard to defoliate in September. Dry soybean fields still may need irrigation to fill seed pods.

Periods of heat stress in poultry and livestock will lessen, but August will have several days with high temperatures in the mid-90s, the report says.

Normal temperature trends are downward from now on and will lower three to six degrees by mid-September. More showers and cloudiness will help keep animals cooler.

of the old high school building have been repaired and new, more energy efficient windows and doors have been installed, he said. Some of the rooms have also been remodeled.

Both the old and the new high school buildings have new student lockers.

The older structure will house the 9th grade classes as well as high school science, home economics, and special education departments and the high school library, Clark said.

The repair cost for the old high school building was $143,000, he said. Over $100,000 has also been spent on new roofs for all the buildings on campus, he added.

The oldest of the two elementary schools at Baldwyn has had a $40,000 face lift, the superintendent said. It has a new roof, new lights, new windows and doors, a new ceiling and insulation, and has been completely painted, inside and out.

There are also new blackboards in each room and a new walkway to the cafeteria, Clark said. The elementary and middle schools have been completely repainted twice since 1972, he added.

The elementary and middle schools were air-conditioned three years ago, Clark said. At present all Baldwyn schools and cafeterias are air-conditioned or will be soon, he said.

FOLLOWING THE dedication ceremony, the Baldwyn Woman's Club will serve refreshments in the high school cafeteria.

All facilities, including administrative offices, classrooms, temporary classrooms, band halls, gymnasiums, and the football fieldhouse and field will be open to the public, Clark said.

"We feel you will be surprised and happy with the changes, beauty and comfort of our schools," he said.

The Baldwyn Municipal Separate School District is composed of 63½ square miles, almost equally divided between Lee and Prentiss counties.

School enrollment for the 1980-81 school year was 1,068, which was almost equally divided between the two counties. Approximately 35 percent of the students attending the Baldwyn schools live outside the city limits, with 65 percent living inside.

School enrollment for the 1981-82 term is down slightly from last year to a total of 1,050 for all grades, 1-12, Clark said last week.

Classes for the new term began on Tuesday of this week.

Maintaining Your Mental Health

Who Are The Alcoholics?

From TIMBER HILLS
MENTAL HEALTH CENTER

(Seventh in a series on alcohol and alcoholism)

Many people believe that the "typical" alcoholic individual is found on skid row. In fact, the homeless alcoholics on skid row make up a very small portion of the total alcoholic and problem drinking population—from 3 to 5 percent. Three out of four alcoholics are well accepted members of their communities. Most are trying to conceal their illness and keep up a good "front."

Actually, alcoholic people represent a cross section of America, embracing rich and poor, young and old, male and female, white-collar workers and blue-collar workers.

In other words, there is no typical alcoholic American, just all kinds of people in trouble with drinking from every level of society.

Alcoholic persons come to depend upon the drug alcohol simply to get through their days and nights. Contrary to popular belief, however, few alcoholic people are intoxicated all the time. A majority of those who suffer from alcoholism manage to hold down jobs or tend their homes and families when they are sober—and many times while drinking—although maintaining their ability to do so grows increasingly difficult.

Seldom can you spot alcoholic people by their appearance. However, for those close to a person who seems to be more and more dependent on alcohol in order to function, there are indicators that his or her drinking may be reaching the danger point. (These were pointed out more fully in a previous article "What are the Warning Signals of Alcoholism?")

For example: Is there the immediate reaction to pour a drink when faced with any problem; has getting drunk become a regular occurrence; is there a record of missing work because of drinking or regular attendance at work with an ill-disguised odor of liquor on the breath; has the person's license been suspended for driving while drunk; has the person gotten into trouble with authorities for no "logical" reason; has the person been involved in several unexplainable accidents without evidence of physical impairment; has his or her home life become intolerable because of excessive drinking or arguments resulting from drinking?

When such signs are present, it means that a person's drinking pattern, if not already out of control, is heading that way.

Next - "Can Alcohol Affect Your Health?"

For information about alcohol and drug abuse services available at Timber Hills phone 728-3174 or visit the offices on the Highway 30 Bypass in Booneville between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. After hours and on weekends phone 1-286-9209 toll-free for emergency counseling services.

For those who missed the meeting last week, the officers elected were the present ones, with the exception of one board member. The "Brass Monkey," was elected instead of the "Termites."

We have a new sergeant of arms, the "Buffalo I," and the "Lady Blue Surf," is the reporter, we are very fortunate to have such fine people to work with.

Remember our officers are only as good as we let them be. If each of us will carry our part we will have another successful year. So do your part.

Our social will be the second weekend, "the 12th" of this month. Hope each of you will be present. We will have a band present.

We send our congratulations to the "Little Bear," and his wife on the addition of their little one last week. Mama and Baby are doing fine. I wonder how the "Running Bear" and "White Dove" are doing?

Just enjoy every minute you can with the baby. These "Grand-ones" are precious. If you don't think so, ask me about ours!

The only one I know of on our sick list this week is the "Letterman." He came home Saturday from the hospital. Maybe those ribs will heal this time.

On Thursday of last week, the "White Girls" sister came down from Memphis for a visit. She carried their mother, Mrs. White, out for the day. Best wishes to Mrs. White, who continues to improve.

Our house is somewhat quieter this week, the "Little Rascal" left for Delta State Sunday morning, where she will be a Junior this year.

There are quite a few from our area going to Delta State this year. Robin Hopkins is "Little Rascal's" room mate. Good Luck to all of our area students who have gone to school at different places. We hope they will represent Northeast Mississippi in such a way we will not be ashamed of them. Best wishes to each of you.

Happy birthday to our "Little Red" on Wednesday, and to the "Brass Monkey" on Saturday. Hope each of you have a good day.

Hope each of you have a good week. Go to the church of your choice, but go.

Material Offered

A special six-week instructional unit on economic education has been developed by the Mississippi Economic Council's American Enterprise Center and is available for use in high schools in the state this fall.

"The AEC was founded in order to develop an appreciation and understanding of the American enterprise system and to assure that this system will continue for the benefit of future Mississippians, a spokesman said.

"The AEC's Free Enterprise Curriculum Guide was developed to assist the classroom teacher in organizing materials and resources for teaching the economics of free enterprise in grades 10-12," said MEC president Bob Pittman. "And, this material is available through the AEC office in Jackson."

Pittman explained that each guide includes a teacher's outline, learning experiences, transparency masters, a section on inflation, a section on games and simulations, a free enterprise poster, a free enterprise resource materials directory, American enterprise teaching notes, a pre-test, and a post-test. Student workbooks are also available.

"For more than 200 years now, Americans have enjoyed the benefits of the free enterprise system," he said. "This system has produced the highest standard of living and the greatest degree of freedom ever known to man. This is why the AEC has developed the guide—to help pass on to future generations the knowledge and values of our free enterprise system."

The American Enterprise Center, now in its third year, is the economic education arm of the Mississippi Economic Council, the state's largest association of business and professional leadership.

Soil Conservation Report

Prentiss Countians Attend No-Till Field Day

By TONY THOMPSON
District Conservationist
USDA-Soil Conservation Service

A group of 21 Prentiss Countians—mostly farmers and agricultural businessmen—were among some 2,500 people to attend the No-Till Crop Production Field Day held July 23 at the Milan Agricultural Experiment Station in Milan, Tenn.

The day-long event consisted of field demonstrations of no-till planting equipment and tours of no-till crops and erosion control practices. Our group was tremendously impressed with the way the field day was conducted and the quality of the information presented.

We observed 15 different no-till planters and drills being demonstrated under actual field conditions. This allowed for an evaluation of each unit and its comparison to others in the field.

Manufacturer representatives were also on hand to discuss their unit's features and answer questions.

An afternoon thunder shower prevented us from making the two field tours that were planned. We were able, however, to inspect several plots of no-till soybeans being grown under different treatment systems.

We also received a written report of the no-till research findings related to erosion control, weed control, and yield comparisons for different no-till systems. Copies of this report are available to interested persons and can be obtained at the Soil Conservation Service office in Booneville.

An interesting feature in the report involved a study to determine the amount of soil loss from conventional versus no-till cropping systems.

The actual amount of soil loss from quarter-acre plots was measured in a field comprised of Lexington silt loam with 5 to 8 percent slopes. The study was conducted on June 11, 1981, when a natural rainfall of 2.5 inches occurred.

The results showed a loss of 11.4 tons of soil per acre from a plot where the cropping system consisted of conventional soybeans without crop residue management.

This compared to only 0.15 tons per acre of soil lost where soybeans were planted no-till in the previous year's crop residue. No-till soybeans planted in wheat stubble showed even less soil loss—0.06 tons per acre.

This field test substantiates what the Universal Soil Loss Prediction Equation has shown for our soils here in Prentiss County: the fact that the average sloping field planted on a conventional seedbed without conservation practices is losing 10 to 15 times the amount of soil it can afford to lose and maintain soil productivity.

With no-till farming, we can reduce the 30 tons per acre annual soil loss we're experiencing on many fields to less than one ton per acre. In economic terms, this could amount to a sizeable chunk of potential farm income that will otherwise be lost if the topsoil is allowed to continue being washed away.

I'm convinced that no-till farming will work here in Prentiss County. It's not for everyone or every field, but under the right conditions and with correct management it can be practiced successfully. Our thanks is extended to the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District commissioners who sponsored the trip to the No-Till Crop Production Field Day and to each farmer who participated.

Maybe together we can learn more about this unique method of farming and see it become an accepted practice in our county.

For Pesticide, Fertilizer Use

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent

Soybeans

Foliar Fungicides: The potential for several foliar diseases in soybeans is tied closely to environmental conditions. With large plants, plenty of rain-fall or long periods of dew fungi tend to thrive.

The question is whether fungicidal protection will more than pay for the cost of material plus application. Guidelines are available through county Extension offices to help growers make a decision on fungicides.

It will take a two to three bushel increase to break even this year. This is about what we've averaged in research plots most years in Mississippi.

Insects: Insects may become a problem in August, but the presence of a few insects does not automatically dictate spraying.

Each producer should base decisions upon his individual fields and not be influenced by a neighbor's insect problem or general statewide information.

We cannot afford needless spraying which wastes money and might lead to later problems because of its impact upon natural controls. The most serious problems usually come from pod feeders like stinkbugs and podworms.

Weed Control: August is usually the month of late season weed control and clean-up in preparation for harvest.

Where cotton is still small enough, producers will be cultivating shallowly and applying herbicides for contact as well as residual weed control. Many producers will want to apply Lorox and Karmex plus surfactant, to burn down existing vegetation and provide residual control.

Bladex is labeled and may be desired because of its short residual period.

Cotton is past the stage of using MSMA or DSMA. These materials should not be applied after cotton begins blooming. Spot treatments with herbicides on the ends of fields and on turnrows will go a long way toward allowing producers to harvest a clean crop and prevent re-infesting fields.

Harvesting: It is not too early for producers to plan how they will harvest and gin this year's cotton crop.

Some will use rick compactor and module builders. Operators should be familiar with the "how to's." Get pallets, tarps and related equipment ready now! Clyde Bryason has guidelines you may need.

Insect Control: Our entomologists are encouraging adequate insect control based on field observations and scouting.

Bollworms, budworms, plantbugs and boll weevils generally damage cotton during August and must be controlled. Check the Extension Insect Control bulletin for recommendations.

Cotton Maturity: Squares set on Aug. 3 will bloom about Aug. 25-28. If protected from insects and not shed, open, mature bolls should appear about Nov. 1. They will mature earlier with hot, dry weather and later with cooler weather.

A square set about Aug. 10-12 is the last one to count on. Even then, we must have good weather. Temperature is the chief controlling factor; temperatures below 60 degrees F does nothing for cotton.

Forages

Contrasting situations are taking place in producing forage crops to feed livestock. Cattle prices have decreased while the cost of producing forages to feed these cattle increases.

Fuel, seed, lime and fertilizer are increasing in price. From land preparation until a new forage crop is established cost may be more than $100 an acre for some forages, so producers should plan their forage programs to reduce costs where possible and to grow and use forages efficiently.

Forage legumes: The cost of nitrogen fertilizer especially continues to increase. This, combined with the fact that cattle perform better on legumes, has caused an increased interest in growing forage legumes.

Research has proven that forage legumes such as alfalfa and white clover can produce from 100 to 200 pounds of nitrogen annually. Some annual clovers can produce more than 100 pounds of nitrogen.

This nitrogen is used by the legume itself and any grass growing in combination with it. Any crop following legumes will be supplied with residual nitrogen left in the soil from the legume.

In planning a forage program, use forage legumes to produce nitrogen and increase forage quality. For more details, ask your county agent for information sheets 910, "Cool Season Legumes," 844, "Alfalfa Production," and 1083, "Innucleating Forage Legumes."

"SINUSITIS"

Sinusitis, or infection of the sinuses of the head, is not a head cold, nor is it an involvement of the nasal passages, but rather it involves the small cavities located in the bones of the head. The symptoms are headache, nasal discharge, watering of the eyes, pain and tenderness over the affected areas, swelling of the jaw, and protrusion of the eyeballs.

From a Chiropractic viewpoint sinusitis is caused by a depletion of nerve force which flows from the brain to the delicate mucous membranes lining the sinuses, for when this nerve involvement is properly corrected, all the symptoms leave and gone are the worries about climatic conditions, colds and other phobias of the sinus sufferer.

For Fall Forage Crops

Selection, Preparation Of Land Are Important

By DAVID SUMMERS
Soil Conservationist
USDA-SCS Booneville
Field Office

I'm sure many Prentiss County cattlemen will be planting tall fescue and clover this fall to improve and extend the grazing season.

If you are one of the cattlemen who plans to plant tall fescue and clover this fall, there are a few things you might want to consider.

Things such as land selection, fertilizer and liming rates, seeding rates, and grazing management.

Proper land selection will be very important in determining how much forage will be produced. Tall fescue and clover should be planted on level to gently sloping soils with fair to good moisture holding capacity.

Plantings should be avoided on extremely wet soils and extremely droughty soils.

Fertilizer and lime should be applied according to soil test recommendations. If you have not soil tested, a good rule of thumb is to apply 250 pounds of 8-24-24 + Boron per acre and one tone of lime per acre.

After fertilizing, liming, and preparing the seedbed, plant 20 to 25 pounds of tall fescue seed per acre at a depth of 1/2 to 1 inch. Then, plant three pounds of white clover seed or eight pounds of red clover seed per acre at a depth of 1/4 inch.

Cattlemen also have the choice of planting a combination of white and red clover at the rate of two pounds of white clover seed per acre and six pounds of

For Show Animals

Birth Date Is Important

By Edward L. McWhirter
Extension 4-H
Youth Agent

It's Dairy Showtime!
Select A Good Animal

Yes, time really flies by! The dairy shows are only a few days away.

To do your best at the shows, you need to start with a good calf. The boy or girl who starts with a mediocre or poor calf often becomes discouraged. Select your best animals to show, if you have more than one.

Keep in mind dates of birth are important. The base dates for showing are March 1 and Sept. 1. Consequently, any heifer born in March or April, or in September or October will usually have an advantage when showing against heifers born in May or November.

Select heifers with good conformation and framework. Here are some tips on selecting the right heifer:

—Be long and stretchy and of good size for her age and breed;
—Have a good head, sharp, clean withers, a straight, strong back, and a long, level, wide rump;

—Show promise of outstanding udder development, well placed teats that hang plumb;

—Have a good spring of rib, be deep in the chest and rear flank, and have good straight legs; and

—Be the offspring of a proved bull and out of a cow possessing good type with a sound production record.

Grain Feeding

Feed your heifer so that she will be thrifty and dairy-like at show time—not too thin and not too fat. You can best control your heifer's body condition by the amount of grain fed.

If your animal is in good condition, she will need very little grain. On the other hand, if she is thin and in poor condition, she may need 6 or 8 pounds of grain per day. Some heifers gain much more rapidly than others; watch this.

Good fitting rations are light, not too high in protein, and not too high in feeds such as corn. A good home-mixed fitting ration can be made as follows:

200 lbs. crimped or rolled oats
200 lbs. wheat bran
100 lbs. ground corn
40 lbs. linseed or soybean meal

5 lbs. salt
5 lbs. dicalcium phosphate
This ration contains about 12 percent crude protein.

Beet pulp, when fed wet, is one of the best ways to get a good fill on your animal before showing. It should be placed in a tub and water added and allowed to soak before feeding.

Before you take your animal to the show, teach her to eat and drink from the same pails that will be taken to the show.

You should make sure your heifer has trace-mineralized salt and plenty of clean water available at all times.

Seasons tickets for adults are now being sold at the price of $12 for all five Devil home games while for principal Mac Curlee and head football coach Charles Gullett have both said they hope for a large response out of this.

"We hope this is the building for the future," Gullett said. "This is a big advantage for the parents and fans in general."

Home games this year are, Fulton, Houston, New Albany, Pontotoc and Corinth and all of these games are included in the $12 season ticket price.

Two of the home games will be played at Baldwin's Latimer Park due to the renovation of Tiger Stadium at Northeast and the first scheduled game in the new stadium will be Oct. 16th when the Devils host New Albany for homecoming.

Jumpertown Winners Announced

Jumpertown hosted a Little League Softball Tournament recently and results are announced in their respected divisions.

Jaycettes downed Perrigo Fertilizer 11-4 to take the coveted first place honors. The squad also defeated the S&J Cubs and went undefeated in all of their games in the tournament. Also Prentiss MFG of Booneville took first place honors in their division with a win over the Jumpertown All-Stars. In boys action, finals were held Tuesday night but results were not available at presstime.

Local Gridsters On Heavy Workout

Booneville and Baldwin High Schools along with the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers all continue to work for their season openers as the practice season continues.

Several Tiger players have left the squad for various reasons and some 60 performers still remain on the Tiger roster.

From the Blue Devil training camp, coach Gullett said the Devils still had quite a bit of work to do but added that practice had been going pretty well.

The Devil strong points this year appears to be the backfield again. Some strong nucleus return there and should give them some depth.

Baldwyn coach Hubert Tucker, who has a squad of some 25 footballers said he had some injuries that had hurt the ballclub thus far and said he'd just had to wait and see how the youngsters progress.

Along with Booneville, the Bearcats have only four seniors on their ballclub along with a host of freshmen and sophomore performers.

On the junior college circuits, The Tigers, under head coach Bill Ward, are working toward their season opener Sept. 5th on the road against Copiah Lincoln. Tiger boss Bill Ward said the players have been worked hard through the first few weeks of training and when asked about injuries, he said, "Oh man we have the normal bumps and bruises but all in all we're in pretty good shape."

What If: Hopefuls For Upcoming Season

Running At Night Could Be Hazardous To Your Health---

What If... The Northeast Tigers repeat their performance from a year ago and wins the state championship...

These are just a few of the "What Ifs" that could occur on local, college, and pro level, and of course we're all hoping the What Ifs turn into reality.

The local groups have done well in the past and we're hoping for a similiar case this year

Burruss said. "This will be the kickoff for the 1981 football season."

FAMILY-SIZE AND INCOME SCALE FOR FREE MEALS

This is the income scale used by the Booneville Municipal Separate School District to determine eligibility for free meals in the 1981-82 school year.

Family Size	INCOME
	Yearly	Monthly	Weekly
1	$ 5,600	$ 467	$108
2	7,400	617	142

Each additional family member, add	1,790	149	34

The same policy is also used by the county schools for the National School Breakfast Program.

The accompanying scales on family size and income standards have been adopted by school officials in both districts for determining eligibility for participation in the program(s).

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the office in each school.

The information provided on the applications is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

A simple statement of income and family size is required, plus a signed certification by the parent, guardian or other adult household member that the information is correct.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, it should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy, the principals of each school will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent or guardian is dissatisfied with the decision of the determining official, he or she may wish to discuss it with the official on an informal basis.

To make a formal appeal, the parent or guardian should make a request, either orally or in writing, for a hearing to the superintendent of the school district: R.D. Griffin, P.O. Box 387, Booneville, 728-5863, for the city schools, or Lex Cain, P.O. Box 147, Booneville, 728-4911, for the county schools.

The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If, during the year, a family member becomes unemployed or if the family's size or income changes, the family should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for additional benefits, if the family income falls at or below levels shown.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color or national origin.

Each school and both superintendents' offices have complete copies of the lunch policy. These copies may be reviewed by any interested party.

Materials Presented To Schools

The FBLA chapter at the Prentiss County Vo-Tech School last week presented economics materials to the city and county school districts.

The local schools are now in the process of incorporating economic education into the school curriculum for the year 1981.

82 in order to meet the new accreditation requirements.

The booklet presented by the FBLA is entitled, "Suggested Resource Materials in Economic Education," and includes listings of audio-visual material as well as publications, catalogs, trade journals and magazines.

The Prentiss County FBLA Chapter obtained the resource materials listings from the American Enterprise Center in Jackson. Students in club then duplicated the material to present it to all teachers, grades 1-12, in both the city and the county schools.

Debbie McAnally, Free Enterprise chairman of the FBLA chapter, presented the materials last week to Bob Griffin, superintendent to the Booneville Municipal Separate School District, and to Lex Cain, superintendent of the Prentiss County School District, and Donald Johnson, assistant superintendent of the county schools.

ASCS Report

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director
Farmers Advised To Report Crop Disasters Promptly

Farmers who suffer crop losses or reduced yields due to drought or other natural disasters should file a report with the local Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service (ASCS) office.

Total or partial losses of cotton, rice or feed grain crops may result in the producer's eligibility for low yield payments under the current farm program.

Prompt reporting to the county ASCS office by the producer provides opportunity for adequate appraisal of the crop loss. This is particularly important in cases where drought strikes corn or sorghum which planted for grain is to be salvaged as silage, grazing, hay or green chop.

Appraisal of losses after harvest may be impossible and could result in loss of payment.

Producers of cotton, rice (on allotment farms) and feed grains who harvest these crops and find that yields are below normal for the farm (due to natural disaster) should notify their ASCS office not later than 15 days after harvest.

The crop residue should be left until necessary appraisal has been made. The chairman emphasized that it is wise for the producer to notify the county office prior to harvest in cases where a low yield is anticipated.

Producers who have questions concerning the low yield payment provisions or other aspects of the current production adjustment program should contact their local ASCS office.

ASCS Provides List Of Federal Crop Insurance Agents

Farmers now can call or visit the Prentiss County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and get a list of local federal crop insurance representatives. The agents will explain how farmers can receive insurance protection for their crops.

Farmers may also call 1-800-447-4700, a toll-free number, to get names of local agents who sell all-risk insurance.

Oct. 15 is the last day for winter wheat and barley producers in most areas to sign up for the insurance.

Federal crop insurance is available in every county previously covered by the ASCS disaster payment program.

USDA urges farmers to sign up for the insurance coverage before the deadline and cautions them not to expect disaster program protection to be available again next year. Current legislation being considered by Congress calls for disaster payments only in those counties where the federal crop insurance is not available.

The future plans for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is to establish insurance coverage on most agricultural crops. The expansion is part of an overall effort to assure virtually every farmer the opportunity to take advantage of the all-risk crop insurance program.

USDA statistics show that each year, one of every 14 planted acres never make it to harvest.

The federal crop insurance is a self-help assistance program designed to provide economic protection for farm families. Next year, the coverage will be available nationwide on corn, wheat, cotton, grain sorghum, rice and barley—the six major crops. Major producing areas growing 22 other crops also will be covered.

The list of agents authorized by FCIC to sell all-risk crop insurance may be obtained by calling or visiting the county ASCS office at 105 College Street, 728-3541.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

By Charles L. Potts

'Dear God...I Feel Depressed'

(Third Article Dealing With Personal Loss)

Some depression is to be expected in our human situation and is considered "normal" unless prolonged or too frequent. Depression and that terrible feeling of loneliness is always associated to some degree with the loss of a loved one. This feeling of being isolated causes us to wonder even if God cares about the way we feel. We are convinced that no one else has ever grieved as we are grieving... and it's so difficult for us to realize that this is a normal part of the grieving process. Depression is like the sun that is hidden behind the clouds... dark and gloomy. We know that the sun is shining... behind the clouds... but for us we feel it will never shine again. Depression is like that cloud and blocks us out... and we feel lonely and depressed. In the Scriptures we read of men like David who cried out in isolation... "Why are you cast down, O my soul" my soul is cast down with me... I say to God, my Rock, why hast thou forsaken me? ... my adversaries taunt me, while they say continually, "where is your God?" Jesus himself faced this loneliness when on the cross He cried out, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

One thing to remember... a depression experience will pass. Dark days do not last forever. During these times one of the most helpful things is to stand by... in quiet confidence, and give assurance that though we cannot see Him now... God is still around... alive... and desiring to help us onward to reality.
