Natural Gas Rates Are To Increase

The cost of natural gas for Booneville residents is going up approximately 12.3 percent, according to Marvin Burcham, manager of the Booneville Gas Company.

At the present time, Booneville natural gas customers are paying $3.66 per 1,000 cubic feet, Burcham said Wednesday. When the new rate takes effect, probably in November, customers will be paying $4.11 per 1,000 cubic feet, he said.

Inflationary costs of parts, material and fuel have caused the rate increase, he

"Our suppliers have raised their cost to us and we have to absorb the cost by raising our customer's rates," he said.

The increase was approved by the city's board of mayor and aldermen at their regular meeting on Tuesday of last week.

been indicted by a federal grand jury in Oxford on charges of receiving and concealing stolen motor vehicles and other merchandise moving across state lines.

The five-count indictment was returned against Howard M. Padgett of Route 3, Booneville. He is charged with receiving and concealing a tractor-trailer truck and a car and with making false statements concerning security property on loan applications.

Specifically, the first count of the indictment charges that between Sept. 17, 1978, and Jan. 16, 1980, Padgett received and concealed a 1978 tractortrailer truck moving between Tennessee and Mississippi. According to the indictment, the truck was known to have been stolen.

The second count charges Padgett with making false statements and overvaluing security property in an effort to influence the action of the Northeast Mississippi Production Credit Association in his application for a $20,000 loan.

The indictment alleges that on Sept. 20, 1978, Padgett claimed a truck he property for the loan was valued at $22,000 and was purchased at Hartley Truck Parts in Munice, Ind.

The truck offered a security for the loan was the stolen truck, the indictment charges. It claims he had transfered the vehicle identification number of a salvaged vehicle, valued at only $2,500, to the stolen one.

The third count of the indictment specifically charges that Padgett pledged a stolen vehicle as security for the loan.

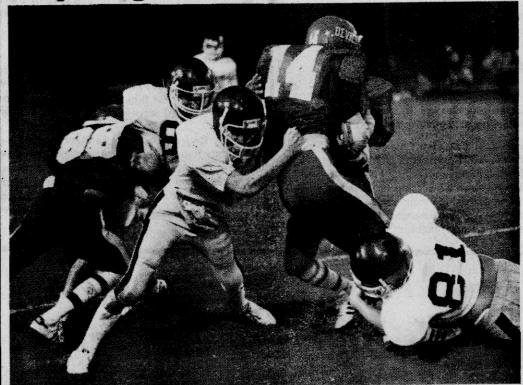

The indictment against Padgett also charges him with receiving and concealing a stolen Ford Thunderbird between Nov. 21, 1979, and Jan. 14, 1980.

According to the indictment, this vehicle was also used as security on a loan application. The vehicle was overvalued at $6,500 for a $3,500 loan application with a Booneville bank on Sept. 7, according to the indictment. The vehicle's salvage value was only $800, the indictment charges.

Padgett's arraignment has been set for 2 p.m. Tuesday in Oxford before U.S. Magistrate Norman Gillespie. If convicted on all five counts, Padgett could face up to 24 years in prison was using as security and-or fines up to $30,000.

Power Rates To Increase 8.6 Percent

Prentiss Countians will see another increase in their electric power bills next

Last week, the TVA board increase in electric rates of 8.6 percent for most of the Tennessee Valley's 2.5 million rate payers.

But, J.W. Abernathy, manager of the Prentiss County Electric Power Association said Tuesday, TVA hopes from this point on an increase in the power bill once a year will be sufficient to meet their bonding obligation.

'Power goes up to us and we'll have to go up on our of directors approved an members," Abernathy said. TVA supplies the electric power distributed by the Prentiss County Electric Power Association.

The increase, which TVA officials say was needed to offset rising fuel costs, interest rates and general inflation, will become effective Oct. 2.

Demand Is High For Ag Grads

The demand for individuals with higher education in the food and agricultural sciences is expected to exceed the available supply by as much as 15 percent during the early 1980's, according to a recent study by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Such a need has governmental and university officials on the alert. Officials at land-grant institutions throughout the nation are especially interested in attracting more students into agricultural and food science fields.

"The number of job opportunities for agricultural graduates has increased steadily, but the supply is falling behind," said Dean Charles Lindle of the School of Agriculture at Mississippi State Univer-

But if tinted glasses are worn because the eyes are bothered in any way, it's a good idea to have an eye examination first. Sensitivity to bright light is a warning that your eyes may be straining to focus on objects that are near or far away. Tinted glasses won't improve your vision or take the strain away. BIBLE QUESTION

QUESTION: (This question comes from Rt. 1, Booneville, MS. I will omit the name). Mr. Hogland, in Matt. 19:9, We find Christ said, "Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another committeth adultery." Can a wife put her husband away for adultery another?

and marry WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Yes, the Bible does teach that a woman may put away her husband for adultery and marry another. Your text tells you this. However, some other BIBLE facts must be kept in mind. The Bible also says in 1 Cor. 7:1-5 that both the husband and wife must render "due benevolence." This means that neither the husband or wife has the right to marry again IF they have put the companion in a position to be tempted and thus sin. God does not excuse the fornication but neither does he excuse the husband or wife who fails in their marriage respon sibility. You see, what the Lord is teaching is that if either husband or wife goes out and commits fornication, while their companion is doing their duty to them, then we truly have an innocent party who can marry another if he or s'

Branch Bank To Open

The Peoples Bank and Trust Company hopes to have a branch office opened in Jumpertown by the end of this year, according to John Smith, executive vice-president of

"We now have state approval to establish the Jumpertown branch, but we have not yet received approval from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation," Smith said. "But we're looking for it any day."

Architects are working on the bank plans now. Construction bids will probably be taken by the end of October, he said.

The Jumpertown branch bank will not be a full service bank when it first opens. However, Smith said he hopes it will grow to that in the future.

"This will be a paying and receiving branch office," Smith said. "People can cash checks and make deposits." The branch office, which will initally employ two people, will be built across from the Jumpertown Town Hall, Smith said Tuesday.

Reflections By Ken Christian

For those attending the dedication ceremonies of the new Baldwyn High School a couple of weeks ago, Gov. William Winter had some startling statistics.

"In 1970," the governor said, "Mississippi was in 50th place (in per capita income), but only $200 in per capita income behind Arkansas."

That by itself may not have come as much of a surprise. But most people probably feel that the state made some advancement during the decade of the 70's. Not so, according to the governor.

"Mississippi actually lost ground relative to our after the most prosperous decade in American history, we force."

were $800 behind Arkansas. In 1970 we were about $300 behind Alabama; by 1980 we were $1,000 behind Alabama. In 1970 we were $500 behind Louisiana; by 1980 we were $1,800 behind Louisiana."

"Instead of falling further behind as we did in 1971 to 1980, we must jump ahead of some of these other states that have been outdoing us in the field of economic development," Gov. Winter said.

And how do we do that?

According to the governor, we must "take advantage of the many advantages that we have, including a good surrounding states in this 10-year period," he said. "By 1980, business climate and a skilled, competent, and willing work

And no matter what the cost, "we've got to improve the educational system," the governor said. "Until we do that, we're not going to get out of 50th place in per capita in-

Gov. Winter said that, in talking to industrial prospects about locating in Mississippi, "before they inquire about anything else, they want to know what kind of educational

I agree with the governor that we need to improve our state's educational system. But, I also think we need to take it even further. I think we have to change some attitudes in the state about education.

In the early 1970's I taught junior high math for one year at a school in a poor section of the Mississippi Delta. When the students came to class, they were told by the teachers how important it was to get a good education if they wanted to get a good job.

Yet, when they went home, many of their parents, often living off welfare checks, would say, "Who needs a good education? Look at me. I'm doing all right and I don't have an education.'

Hopefully, this type of attitude is not widespread in the state. But, no matter what we do to improve our schools, it will make little difference if we do not also change the at titudes of parents such as these.

Funding'82 Budget Poses Problems

By BILL MINOR Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.-It's January 1932, an studious, fiscally conservative Gov. Martin Sennett "Mike" Conner is impelled to go before a very reluctant Mississippi Legislature with a radical proposal to levy a state sales tax in order to keep the government of the state functioning. Turn the clock ahead 50 years. It's January 1982, and studious fiscally conservative Gov. William Forrest Winter is impelled to go before a very reluctant Mississippi Legislature with a tax program to prevent hurtful cutbacks in vital state services.

The comparison is odious, perhaps, because the state in 1932 was faced with bankruptcy in the midst of the Great Depression, while in 1982, the prospects of economic disaster are far less apocalyptic. But the proportions of adverse impact upon the common good of the citizenry by the present fiscal crisis have a good deal of similarity, allowing for the differences in the standard of living between those days and now.

What gives the two situations absolute common ground, however, is the degree of courage state legislators had to exhibit in 1932 and will have to exhibit in 1982 in using the taxing power of the state to restore government services to an acceptable level.

Perhaps nothing in the annals of the Mississippi Legislature could exceed the courageous enactment of what was called the "Emergency Revenue Act of 1932," launching in Mississippi the first retail sales tax in the nation. Somehow, the "emergency" which existed back a half century ago when the first 2 percent sales tax was enacted has never ended. To the contrary, the sales tax has been built upon as the foundation stone of financing state government in Mississippi ever since. Because of the overwhelming dependence upon the sales tax, state government in Mississippi is now in trouble. Funding of most state services and occasional new services has been geared to the predictable annual increase in the yield of the sales tax, reflecting constant growth of the purchasing power of the average Mississippi For the past two years, the state economy, hit by recession and stagnation felt nationally, (and slightly worse here because of the state's thin economic base) has not been able to produce sales tax revenues at a sufficient rate to maintain that growth and compensate for inflation. Worse yet, there is no relief on the sales tax front in sight.

When the Legislature in 1979 enacted an $85 million income tax cut over a two and a half year span, it added further to the burden state government financing that the sales tax must carry.

Consequently, William Winter in the upcoming session of the legislature faces a far graver task than his administration forces are willing to admit at this stage in finding new or addition tax sources other than the sales tax to prevent what could become a calamatious deterioration of state services as a result of the steady decline in state tax revenues, plus the lost of some $170 million in federal funds already in sight under the Reagan administration

How much of a tax program Winter will bring to the legislature in January is not yet known. It could range from a minimum of $20 million to merely fund his high-priority public kindergarten program, up to $80 million to meet general budgetary deficiencies. Already some top legislative fiscal leaders have doused cold water on any tax increase at the next session, contending they have felt the pulse of the people and the people don't want a tax increase. If Winter can't get a tax program passed in 1982, there's little chance it would pass in 1983, since that is election year.

A legislative tax battle in 1982, however, could hardly generate as much bitterness as did the fight over enactment of the sales tax in 1932. when angry merchants and others descended upon the capitol by the thousands to backwaters. protest the proposed tax

When the bill finally passed by the switch of one legislator's vote, the animosities left by the battle persisted for years afterwards. Many who voted for the sales tax bill bit the dust in the next legislative elections, and Mike Conner was never elected to another public office.

record that what Conner and battle. the legislature did in 1932 was the turning point in bringing Mississippi out of the cultural and economic ciliation in the current

Those close to the state government scene back then gave credit to the friends of public schools and colleges in Mississippi for carrying the day in the legislature on the passage of the sales tax.

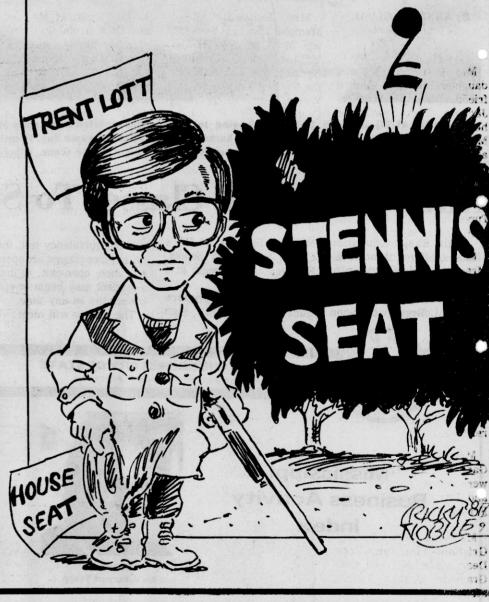

Significantly, it appears that both public education and higher education again face serious trouble in the present fiscal situation and their out cry could be crucial in changing the minds of

But historians would legislators in the 1982 tax Come November, when the state budget law requires another reconyear's budget to compensate for the shortfall in state revenues, the prospect is immedidate across-theboard cuts in teacher salaries, along with pro rata reductins throughout state government.

If that happens just before Christmas, the hue and cry which would greet the lawmakers come January could be a boost for Winter's tax program. He'll no dount need all the help he can get precautions people could take just in case any of their merchandise was ever stolen.

Local officiers willingly answered my questions.

They told me how important it is to write down serial numbers of appliances, tv's, stereos, guns, etc., and to put the serial numbers in a safe place.

Officers said without serial numbers it's almost impossible to recover stolen items.

For instance one Prentiss Countian reported two guns stolen several months ago. The gun owner knew one of the gun's serial numbers. Law authorities have since recovered the gun with the known serial number. The other gun has not yet been

However, a law officer cautioned, some serial numbers are written on plastic strips which can be peeled off by thieves. So, the officer said, people should mark merchandise themselves so they can identify their property without serial numbers and in turn be able to tell law authorities how to identify the property.

He said if a person scratches a name, number, or any identifying mark in an unnoticeable place merchandise, this would help law officers a great deal in recovering stolen merchandise if the serial number has A picture of the stolen item can also aid law authorities,

Burcham Reunion

Sunday I attended the Burcham reunion at the site of the old Burcham School. My purpose in attending the reunion was to learn the history of the old school.

Thanks to many people who were willing to take time to talk with me, I learned quite a bit of information. The story about the Old Burcham School will appear in

The Banner-Independent's Family Album of Old Prentiss County later this month.

I would be happy to talk with anyone who has pictures or stories concerning old Prentiss County or Booneville.

A Hearty Breakfast-Necessary To Balanced Diet

By CLAIRE T. ROSS Extension Home Economist

What's more American than apple pie? A hearty breakfast! Yet many of us have forgotten this noble tradition

Today, while our lifestyles are much less streneous than in frontier or mid-19th century America, it is still important to include high protein foods in the breakfast menu. It is an established fact that children can work and play pest if they have 1/4 to onethird of their daily protein requirements at breakfast.

Adults appreciate the way meat or other protein foods at breakfast eliminate the craving for high-calorie, mid-morning snacks. And, meat gives every member of the family a sense of well-

ATHLETIC INJURIES

Professional athletes working with doctors of chiropractic find real advantages and the outcome is better performance and increased emergy levels.

However, most of us weekend-warriors" are not professional athletes, yet we need chiropractic ewen more. Our bodies are not as finely tuned for the variety of sports that we take part in and are more easily injured as a result of ower-stretching, collisions, slipping, sprains etc.

Many times seemingly minor injuries go untr'eated, leading to greater pain and suffering. Some imjuries related to the spinal column and central nærvous system require immediate treatment so as prevent future diiscomfort and ill health. Nierve interference can be readily observed by the atthlete as soreness, lack of fllexibility, delayed reaction time, loss of balance etc. Many professional athletes know it keeps them in the game, amd it will work for you

As an athlete you know thie advantages of proper physical fitness, but do you really know how good you cain feel? Call our office amd let us help you plan your physical fitness program to help you ac:hieve the best results.

Thought for the week: Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Geno This time of the year I suppose we appreciate rain more than any other time. Let's be more thankful for this one blessing that God so lovingly bestows upon us.

"Rain"

I saw God wash the world last night With His sweet showers on

And then when morning came

I saw Him hang it out to He washed each tiny blade

And every trembling tree. He flung His shower a against the hills And swept the billowing

The white rose is a sweeter sight

The red rose is more red, Since God washed every fragrant face

And put them all to bed. There's not a bird, there's

That wings along its way

bee than it was yesterday I saw God wash the world last night,

Ah! Would He had washed

But is a cleaner bird and As clean of all my dust and dirt,

As that white birch- bark

Prentiss Livestock Show Set For Sept. 12 1

By Edward L. McWhirter Extension 4-H Youth Agent

This is the time of the year for livestock shows to start. Our first show was at Philadelphia, Miss., on Aug. 7. We had four 4-H'ers attending this show: Delbert

Morgan, Keith Cox, Melissa Taylor and Royce Taylor. Other shows coming up will be the Newton County Show and on Sept. 2-5. The Prentiss County livestock show will be Sept. 12 at the feeder pig barn on Highway 45 north at 10 a.m. Following this will be the Tupelo livestock shows Sept. 15-18. The State Fair will be Oct. 15-19.

Motivation

How do you motivate 4-H members? You might start by thinking just what motivation is.

It's not something you do to someone else. Yet many of us in leadership positions persist in looking for some simple way to get our members rolling. Nobody can truly motivate anyone else. Actually, the results. only thing we as leaders can do to achieve better results from 4-H'ers is to establish a climate that encourages them to want to achieve their club's goals, while at the same time achieving their personal goals. So how do you create this climate? Before we go into that, let's look at a few different approaches to motivation:

Authoritarian--Leader 'tells 'em what to do," and strictly enforces what he Manipulative--Leader sees himself as being smarter than members, thus manipulates them to do his way.

Nice Guy--Leader seems to say, "I'm such a nice guy, my members can't help loving me, and because they do, they'll do things the way

Rational--Leader establishes the rules, policies and procedures to cover all situations; these rules become ends in themselves, with little concern for

There are times, off course, when some of the approaches can be effective--but only for short terms, simply because differentt things appeal to differentt people at different times.

Perhaps a leader's most difficult job is recognizing; that people are different andl that his responsibility for getting results depends: largely on his ability to see: the world through each member's eyes.

That brings us to another approach:

Individualistic--Leader is: aware of individual member's needs. This is the most effective motivational approach, but it requiress considerable rapport between leader and members meaningful communication can take place..

A key to this approach is the leader's discovering Asking them is the best way to find out.

Although this sounds obvious, few leaders ever do it. But once you ask members, how do you know they tell what they really want, or that they even know what they want?

It's here that you start creating meaningful relationships with members, trusting them to report accurately what their needs are, and also watching for their responses to a variety of incentives-opportunities to be creative, to become more expert in their projects, to be trusted, to do their jobs and solve their problems in their own ways, to be given more responsibility, to tackle bigger jobs.

All people have secret desires and hopes and needs. Even if few ever achieve the pinnacles of personal goals, they nevertheless work toward satisfying needs, consciously or unconsciously. And it's a leader's job to help them along that road.19

For Insurance Purposes

Accurate Inventory Can Help Determine Losses

Many people pride themselves "photographic" memory, but the Insurance Information Institute of New Orleans warns that memory alone is not adequate when reporting a loss of filing an insurance claim.

The Institute advises every household to prepare a complete, current inventory of all furnishings and personal belongings before a loss occurs.

"If your home is damaged by fire or looted by burglars," said Nancy Golonka, the Institute's director of consumer affairs, "it could be difficult to remember or to prove exactly which items were lost and what their approximate value was without an up-to-date inventory."

"An accurate inventory can also be useful in determining the total value of your belongings so they may be insured correctly, in settling your insurance claim quickly and efficiently and in verifying losses for income tax deductions," she

A written inventory should include a description of each item, its purchase date and its cost new. The contents of all drawers, closets and cabinets should be listed separately.

The Institute also suggests that a photo inventory be made to supplement the written one. Photographs can add to the thoroughness of an inventory by recording details, shapes, colors and configurations that are difficult to describe in words.

If you photograph a large area, such as a room, be sure to take plenty of shots, overlapping if necessary, so tthat nothing is missed. The cost of each item in the picture and its purchase date should be listed on the back of the photo.

No matter which inventory method you use, be sure to keep your records in a secure place away from home, such as in a safe deposit box.

To help you get started on your home inventory, The Institute has published a new brochure, "Taking Inventory." Single copies in English and in Spanish are available free from the Insurance Information Institute, 1001 Howard Avenue, New Orleans, LA

September Is Pasture Improvement Month

By DON JONES Soil Conservation Technician

ptember has been aignated as pasture improvement month by Gov. Winter; so this would be the ideal time to plant some winter grazing. Perhaps the best combination for the area is tall fescue and either Regal white clover or Kenland red clover.

This combination of fescue and clover should be seeded o. a prepared seedbed. You should plant 20 pounds of tall fescue with three pounds of Regal white or 6 to 8 pounds of Kenland red clovers per seeding, After cultipacker or similar tool should be used to lightly cover the seed. This should t sown between Sept. 1 and

Before seeding tall fescue and clover, a soil test will provide information as to the amount of fertilizer and lime needed for establishment. In the absent of a soil test, use 250 pounds of 8-24-24 and one ton lime per acre. Fescue has the ability to survive under a wide range of conditions, such as high and low fertility, but since clove produces nitrogen for the fescue, a high rate of nitrogen fertilizer added will clover stand. The ideal stage to graze a fescue-clover mixture is to turn on at a six-inch height and take off when grazed down to three inches high. This is, of course, not always possible; but rotating the cattle among three or more pastures will greatly benefit the grazing procedure.

With a rotation plan, the excess can be removed as hay and, if cut when grass is in early bloom stage, clover and grass will make excellent hay.

The stage of growth for fescue and clover to make the best hay occurs in North Mississippi in early to mid-May.

Folks who like to get an early start should remember that night and weekend rate discounts also apply to long distance calls placed before 8 o'clock in the morning.

Rates on out-of-state 1+ dialed calls made from 11 p.m. till 8 a.m. every day, all day on Saturday, and till 5 p.m. on Sunday are 60 percent lower than regular day rates.

An early morning visit to friends and relatives can be a great way to start the day and get the most for your long distance dollar.

When you make a long distance call to someone in another time zone, the call is charged at the rate in effect in your time zone.

For example, if you call California on a weekday at 6 p.m. Mississippi time (when the evening rate is in effect), the call is charged at the evening rate even though it is 4 p.m. in California and the day rate is still in effect there.

The 1981-82 school session has begun in Mississippi. When you're driving, remember to watch for school zones and obey traffic laws. Be especially careful when children are walking along streets or roads and when school buses are stopped.

*Low 1+ rates do not apply to 0+ dialed calls, operator-handled calls, coin telephone calls, or calls from a hotel or motel. Different discounts apply to Alaska and Hawaii. Blue Devils Scalp Indians To Open '81 Season

By LEE GENTRY Sports Editor

BALDWYN-Some 1800 screaming Blue Devil fans roared with excitement last Friday night after the 1981 Blue Devils had taken a 7-6 victory over Fulton Indians in the season opener at Latimer.

A somewhat untested Blue Devil defense proved to be. iindeed strong and stopped one Indian drive after another to help preserve the one point victory.

Blue Devil head coach Doc Gullett had said before Friday's contest that he, along with the entire coaching staff, felt good toward the Devils outlook for the opening game.

The Devil (nasty bunch) defense rose to the occasion time and time again against. what several football observers said was a very strong offensive unit.

Fulton jumped on the Devils first in the opening period when Indian signal caller Rusty Riley tucked the ball under his belt and raced 11 yards on a quarterback keeper for the first score of the night.

The Devils blocked the extra point and held the Indians to a 6-0 lead.

That lead lasted about as long as a hotdog given to a hobo when the men with the horns came right back.

The Devils charged a number of offensive threats but coffed up the ball twice in the first two quarters on two fumbles.

Booneville's Greg Oakley converted this year from quarterback to fullback, scored th winning touchdown in the 2nd period when he scampered 65 yards a on a punt return.

Blue Devil place kicker Rod Coggin added the very important extra point to give Booneville a 7-6 led which held til the intermission.

The second half belonged to the Blue Devil defense who kept the squad n the game with key sacks on 3rd down behind the line.

Booneville compiled some 140 yards total offense including 109 of those on the ground and only 28 yards passing.

Fulton had only 97 total vards and picked up only 5 first downs compared to 9 for the Blue Devil squad.

The Devils will return to Latimer Park tomorrow night when they play archrivals Baldwyn's Bearcats.

"We don't have to tell you what this game is," Gullett said. "Anything can happen in this ballgame." Kickoff is

Devils, Bearcats To Meet For 47th Time

By LEE GENTRY Sports Editor

At 7:30 tomorrow night at Latimer ork the Booneville Blue Devils will meet ldwyn's Bearcats for the 47th time ince the rivalry series began in 1919.

Since that time, the Bearcasts hold a 27-6 lead in the series while there have been nly three ties.

At home, the Devils falls one off the past winning 10 while losing; 11 and two

The Bearcats are on a three game win treak winning the last three years in ccession. In 1978 the Bearcats won 7-6; 79 it was Baldwyn again winning 27-0 and last year the Bearcats got the best of he horned men with a 7-3 viictory in the closing seconds. The Booneville Baldwyn game is one of he oldest football rivalries in Northeast Mississippi. The first recorded meeting was in 1919 here in Booneville, when the local team lost to the Bearcats or vhatever their name was back then, 30-0. For some reason both the 1936 and the 37 games were played at Baldwyn. coneville lost both games by large

Speaking of large scores, the most oints scored in the series since 1934 was 1958 when the Baldwyn game was omecoming at BHS! The devils routed e bearcats by the large score of 59-6. Ward was the BHS coach, and the port was that he did not substitute a nan until late in the fourth quarter..that was the first Booneville win since 1949. The most points scored by the Bearcats at Booneville was their 36-6 win in 1950. It as also homecoming for Booneville.

The most unusual thing to happen in a Booneville-Baldwyn game played at Booneville was in 1970 at Tiger stadium. one of the Blue Devil backs was in the clear for a touchdown and as he passed the Bearcat bench, one of the players got so excited that he went on the field and made the tackle. It was plays later before the officials realized what had happened. There was nothing they could do. The game ended in a 12-12 tie.

The largest crowd and one of the most exciting games was played on Wednesday night, November 20, 1940. It was the first night meeting between the Prentiss County rivals. 2500 showed up. After playing a scoreless game for 3 quarters and with less than five minutes left in the game. Spain scored for the Bearcats. It ended Baldwyn 7. Booneville

As far as the coaching records vs. Baldwyn, Coach Hale won in 1934 and it was a scoreless tie in 1934. Coach Pyle who was here from 1935 until 1941 won 2 and lost 5. Coach J.P. Box (1942-1951) came out with 5 wins and 5 over Baldwyn (5) 1946-1949. Coach J.M. Curlee was not able to beat Baldwyn his two years as BHS coach but he did tie the 'cats in 1952. Bill Ward (1954-1960) came out with 3 losses. He holds the Booneville High record for 4 consecutive wins against 3 on the lost side. Doug Herbert (1961-1964) did not beat Baldwyn during his tenure. Jim Drewry was Coach at Booneville longer than anyone else and won more games. With the Bearcats he won 6, lost 6 and tied Outgoing head coach Mac Curlee didn't register a win against the Cross County rivals. He was 0-3 against the Bearcats.

Current Blue Devil coach Doc Gullett will face the Bearcats for the first time as head mentor although he has been on the winning side as assistant coach under James Drewry.

Anytime these two power houses get together, anything can happen.

Don't miss the continuing drama of Booneville-Baldwyn football at Latimer Park Friday night.

Bearcats Fall To Saltillo's Depth

BALDWYN-Baldwyn's rugged Tigers to a standoff at halftime here Thursday night but fell 20 points short in the second half and dropped a 20-0 loss in the season opener at Latimer Park.

The Bearcats, under head throughout the first two quarters but allowed the Tiger guns loose allowing Saltillo defense several ee second half touchdowns.

Saltillo drew first blood and later proved to be the champs. winning touchdown when Tiger ace Harold McGlaun scored on a 15 yard jaunt to give Saltillo the early lead.

The second score, set up on a pass interception, came when the Tigers marched 58 Bearcats played Saltillo's yards and quarterback Mike Webb hit Arlanders McKinney on a 25 yard touchdown pass for the second score.

Adding insult to injury, the Tigers added yet another six pointer in the final frame when Kent McKinney scored coach Hubert Tucker, held on a 13 yard run to give the Tigers scoreless Tigers the 20 points on the

Maintaining Your Mental Health

Is Alcoholism Curable?

From

TIMBER HILLS MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES (Ninth in a series of articles on alcohol and alcoholism)

Is alcoholism curable? The answer depends on the definition of the word "curable." If by cure we mean the ability to return to normal social drinking, the answer is Most counselors and recovered alcoholics believe that if alcoholic who has given up drinking thinks he will be able to handle alcohol again, he may slip back repeatedly into drunkenness.

If "cured" is defined as "never taking a drink again" or "only occasional slips back into intoxication," the answer is yes. Although today's treatment methods are still in an early stage of development, the majority of people suffering from alcoholism can be helped to give up drinking forever or for longer and longer periods of time. As knowledge of the illness and its treatment grows, even higher recovery rates are possible.

In the past, most people believed that nothing could be done for a person with a drinking problem. It is now recognized that the overwhelming number can be helped at any stage so long as adequate treatment and rehabilitation resources are available, and care is marked by acceptance and understanding.

Help can be provided by a doctor, a clergyman, a local welfare agency, a clinic, a social worker, a psychologist or psychiatrist, a general hospital or psychiatric, and alcoholism treatment center, or the local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous, Many large business or industrial firms and labor unions also have programs to help their employees and members treatment and rehabilitation.

Today we know that many alcoholic persons are intensely relieved to learn that their alcholismis an illness, and that is is treatable. Like other illnesses, the earlier alcoholism is diagnosed and treated, the better the chance for recovery.

A year has now passed and I would like to, again, thank our friends for every expression of sympathy and for all the kindnesses shown at the home-going of my sister, Frances McClamroch, on September 13, 1980.

Although I did not get to speak to all who came, I deeply appreciate your coming; just knowing you cared has brought comfort

May God bless you

CARD OF THANKS

White, Margie Franks, Doug Mansell (PCDA executive director), Claire T. Ross (Extension Home Economist), Tina Moore, J.P. Davis (president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors), and Ed McCoy. Also attending, but not pictured was James Chase.

Community Appearance Group Declares 'War On Ugliness'

"Prentiss County's beauty is everybody's busin ess," says Mrs. Claire T. Ross, chairman of the Community Appearance Steering ommittee, sponsored jointly by the Prentiss County Development Association and the Prentiss County Extension Office.

Eleven Prentiss County communities were represented at a recent meeting at the Extension ffice to organize the committee.

Dr. Bob Chapin, Extension Specialist with the Land Use

University, gave the com- Larry Morgan, New Site; mittee members a report on another county's "War on Ugliness," and presented ideas for the Prentiss County group.

Members of the Community Appearance Steering Committee, to date, include: Alice Enis, Baldwyn; Brenda Sayldors, Blackland; Carolyn McCombs, Burton; Louise W. Peeler, Booneville; J.P. Davis, Geeville; Margie Franks, Frankstown; Josie Smith, Hill's Chapel; Tina Moore, Jumpertown;

Grace DePoyster, Center at Mississippi State Marietta; Kay Crowe and Geraldine Sweeney, Pisgah; Versie Jones and Luzene Triplett, Sunflower; Evelyn White, Snowdown; Ed McCoy and June Chase, Thrasher; and Marjorie Franks, Wheeler.

The goal of the group is for Prentiss County people to make community appearance a personal business, Mrs. Ross said.

"Many homes, places of business, and communities are already attractive," she said, "but in some areas the reverse is true. Concentration in those areas of blight will add much to the overall appearance of Prentiss County."

'Whether we like it or not, we, as a people, are judged by the appearance of our surroundings," she said. "Our highways, streets and roads are our living rooms to tourists."

Each of the community leaders in the project, with the help of others, hopes to survey their community with a rating sheet, Mrs. Ross said. "A plan of action will be developed and hopefully action will begin shortly after Jan. 1, " she said.

Dental Hygiene Clinic To Open

This fall's dental hygiene students at Northeast Junior College are preparing to open their clinic to patients for two days each week.

Dr. Joe Cromwell, dentist in residence and head of the dental hygiene department, says the clinic will be open from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Equipped to handle as many as 18 patients a day, the fully accredited dental hygiene program stresses to its patients methods of preventing tooth and gum problems, Cromwell said. A routine check-up includes an oral examination, panoramic, bite wing and periapical cleaning, fluoride treatment and oral hygiene instruction,

The development of proper oral hygieme at an early age is especially important as a pireventive tooth decay, the demtist said. Many people, however, make the mistake of seeing their dentist only after decay and other problems have begun to cause them pain, he said.

Upon request, the records of a patient visiting the clinic at Northeast will be sent to the patient's dentist, Cromwell said.

For more information on the program, call the clinic at 728-7751, or toll-free within a 55-mile radius of Booneville at 1-728-7759, ext. 208, weekdays from 8 a.m. to

County Agent's Notes

More Accidents At Harvest Time

By W.H. HADEN County Agent

Harvest Safely

Harvest is just around the corner, and that's good news to farmers. Unfortunately, it's also when more accidents are reported. The big problem is the use of combines, cotton pickers and other heavy harvesting equipment.

If you must do equipment maintenance in the field, be sure the power supply is off before making repairs. Use blocks or safety stands to immobilize equipment.

It's also a good idea to use slow-moving vehicle signs when driving. Also, keep children away from work areas, and don't allow riders on equipment designed for the driver only.

Cotton Crop

The 1981 Mississippi cotton crop is maturing very rapidly, and harvest will be of food, thus preventing im full swing soon. But accumulation of fat required Extension Entomologist Dr. Bob Head says boll weevils aire still causing problems in some areas. Where whole fiields are green, insect pests continue to reduce potential yiield. Bollworms, armyworms and boll weevils can damage young bolls. Hlead says a boll can be considered safe when it is hard to cut with a sharp

Dr. Head urges all cotton producers to use a fall diiapause program to control boll weevils. The major imgredients of this program are good in-season controls off weevils, the additon of an imsecticide to defoliate and at least one additional appllication within 10 days after defoliation.

If the crop is harvested early, destroy stalks as soon as possible. Dr. Head says this will deprive the weevils for winter survival.

Cotton Defoliation Chemical cotton defoliation is a necessary aid to machine harvesting when yields are high and plants have green succulent foliage.

Chemical defoliation is important in today's production of high quality cotton fiber, but when used improperly, defoliants or desiccants are not beneficial and often reduce yields and quality.

Where fields have matured early, natural defoliation has begun and remaining leaves are tough. Chemical defoliation may not be needed.

If wet weather becomes a problem during boll opening, consider chemical defoliation. Too early defoliation will result in immature fiber and seed which will contribute to quality planting seed problems next spring. It also will reduce the value of seed to oil mills and lower yield results.

Lime Time Is Now Lime is critically needed on one-third of the cropland in Mississippi. We urge you to help farmers in every way you can to see that lime is applied on as many acres of acid soils as possible.

Lime is the number one investment needed on most Mississippi farms. Lime vendors and lime suppliers are making a special effort to see that an adequate supply is on hand this fall.

Many vendors are stockpiling now to avoid shortages this fall. The lime supply has improved, and farmer should take advantage of this to improve serious soil acidity problems. Lime is a blue chip investment!

Computerized Control Center Keeps TVA Power Flow Orderly

Most of TVA's Power System Control Center-nerve center of the sevenstate power grid with interconnections throughout eastern America--lies, like er iceberg, beneath the Fortified with concrete walls more than a foot thick, it's designed to withstand earthquake or radiation from nuclear attack.

This featureless building near Chattanooga is the hub the power grid, where electricity from TVA's 68 power plants is monitored. allocated, and controlled. The center's computerized control room is manned around the clock. The load-control center's main computer constantly analyzes monitoring reports eent in electronically by sensors throughout the TVA power distribution system. With that information, the Load coordinators, orking with the computer. make sure the power supply is properly balanced with the demand.

Ron Smith, a power supply engineer at the Center, says the computer "not only keeps track of what happens with the system on a day-today basis, but also handles -wer-interchange transactions between TVA and neighboring power companies.'

This power-sharing is ccommonplace when there is supply-demand imbialance-a need for shortterm additional power in one airea, for instance, when amother system has a surpllus to share.

What it all boils down to is that the region's power consumers must get the ellectricity they need, when they need it, to run more than 2.8 million homes, færms, and businesses.

Experience is a highpiriority item at the Center. "We've got to be one of the ollder operations around T'VA," says Ed Stephenson, hiead of the System Dispatching Branch. "Our younger dispatchers are mostly in their mid-40's, and most of our load coordinators are in their 50's. In fact, our two oldest coordinators have about 88 years off experience between them.'

Stephenson says all of his coordinators have technical backgrounds and are selected from among the agency's most experienced operators.

"All of them come up through the ranks," he says. "We look for people who have put in a lot of time as operators at TVA subsitations and generating pilants."

Weather reports are ciritical to their work, according to Stephenson.

"We live on them. If we could get absolutely accurate weather reports, our job would be a piece of cake. As it is, if we set up for a peak load today based on an average day of 88 degrees and the temperature climbs to 90, that translates into an megawatts additional 400 of demand we've got to meet. That's about four times the generation capacity of Chickamauga

Dam. So it's hardly surprising that one of the first things the daily scheduling section must do is check weather reports from TVA's meteorological forecast center at Muscle Shoals.

Then they check the status of the agency's generating units to see what's available and what's not.

But things hardly ever work out that smoothly. Weather reports are unreliable. nationally Generating units may unexpectedly break down. Or some similar, unpredictable problem may

Because they face such a variety of variables, load coordinators must stay

"The main thing," Stephenson says, "is to keep a balance between power resources, our own needs, and contractual obligations to help supply electricity to the 13 companies which connect with the TVA power system."

The dispatchers, who work at five field offices scattered around the Valley, maintain up-to-the-minute status reports about the condition of the generating plants within the TVA power

Dispatchers also see to it that the transmission lines in their particular areas are properly maintained and that damaged lines are promptly taken out of service.

But the dispatchers' biggest job, perhaps, is making sure here are enough lines transmitting power to satisfy the needs of the coordinators at the TVA Power System Control Center.

"We all work together," Stephenson says. "The coordinators work hand-inglove with the dispatchers and key people at the TVA plants to make sure that they supply enough electricity to economically serve the power needs of the power con-

organization to make the all has to come together here at the load-control

Wetter, Cooler Month Expected

Mississippi's September weather will be characterized by below median temperatures except in the extreme south and coastal counties and above median precipitation throughout the state, according to the National Weather Service)-day outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Rain in early may be heavy enough to reduce the need for more irrigation of soybeans. Pasture and hay crops will also benefit from the wetter weather, but hay cutting will have to be planned carefully. Dew will be heavier where soils are damp, and hay will be too wet to bale during most morning hours.

Rice and cotton harvesters don't want much rain from now on, say agrometeorologists at the id-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts.

Normal September rains are about three inches in the northwest and more than seven inches in the southeast. An exception to the increased rainfall toward the south is a band from near Vicksburg and Port Gibson east-northeast across the state where totals are usually less than three

More than normal rainfall may slow rice and cotton harvesting. One of the problems will be the difficulty in removing second growth caused by rain late in the season. Dr. George Mullendore, MCES cotton specialist, suggests cleaning grassy turnrows by scraping or chemical control rather than by disking.

Below normal temperatures will benefit the production of livestock and poultry. Maximum temperature averages drop five to seven degrees in September, say weather experts. Some mornings will require a little more heat than usual to keep chicks warm.

For Private Business

Training Costs Shared By State

Mississippi businessmen training costs, including who face rising costs for training unskilled workers can get financial help from the Private Sector Initiative Program (PSIP), according to the Mississippi State Employment Service (Job Service). And, what's more, any size business can participate.

PSIP can share training costs for unemployed or underemployed workers eceiving on-the-job training (OJT) or classroom training under the program. Not only can this help defray costs for training entry-level workers, but it can also provide funding assistance for retraining and upgrading present employees.

Through PSIP, businesses can be reimbursed for up to 50 percent of on-the-job training costs, usually based on wages. They can be reimbursed for up to 100 percent of classroom

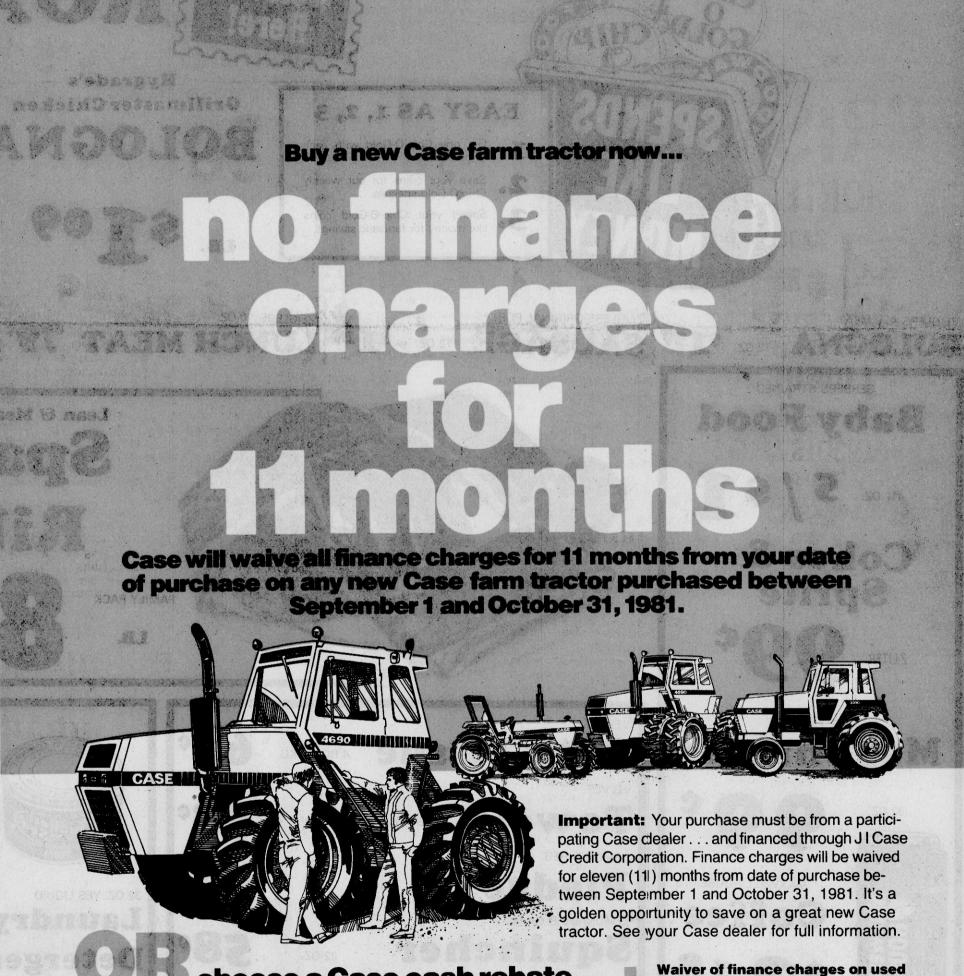

In addition, the business may qualify for a tax credit through the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit program for each eligible participant who completes on OJT program.

The Governor's Office of Job Development and Training is the prime sponsor for the federally-funded program, which is administered through the Mississippi State Employment Service.

More than 1,000 training contracts have been written for Mississippi businesses since Oct. 1, 1980, with about 450 currently active.

Since Oct. 1, 1980, more than 1,330 workers have been served by the program, with about 650 currently enrolled in training.

For more information about the Private Sector Initiative Program, contact your local Job Service office of the Mississippi State Employment Service.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

By C. D. Edge

A Worship Service

-The right to Worship God is a precious freedom that we as citizens have in this country. The right to assemble ttogether to worship our Lord should always be guarded carefully and

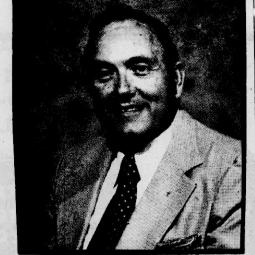

-- A Worship Service is not a sports event, nor is it a program where spectators are to be entertained. We should receive great personal benefits from each Worship Service, COMFORT, INSTRUCTION, FELLOWSHIP, CLEANSING, RENEWAL and certainly INSPIRATION are omly a few of the benefits of corporate Worship.

--Service means that someone else benefits and Worship means that someone else is worthy of Honor and Praise. It is amazing to me that the great God is pleased to have mere mortals magnify and glorify His name.

-A Worship Service is giving and receving. Learn to Worship God through Hiss Word, this is pleasing unto Him. Declare to God that He alone is worthy, mediate on His, LOVE, His MAJESTY, His FAITHFULNESS, His HOLINESS, His GREATNESS and His MERCY. -The Bible tells us in Psalsm 29:2- GIVE UNTO THE LORD THE GLORY DUE UNTO
