Local Man Indicted On Charges Of Murdering Wife

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

A murder indictment, stemming from a 1980 shooting, was among 22 criminal indictments returned during the October term of the Prentiss County Grand Jury.

Harold Lloyd Brinkley of Booneville, has been charged with murder in connection with the Nov. 10, 1980, shooting death of his wife, Margaret Brinkley.

"This is the first time the grand jury has had the full evidence presented to them. The two previous grand juries did not have all the evidence in the Brinkley case," Assistant District Attorney Richard Bowen said Monday.

An out-of-state witness testified before the grand jury this time, Bowen said.

"Due to the heavy court docket, the Brinkley case could not be tried this court term, so the case will be continued to the February term of court," Bowen said.

Brinkley is out of jail on a $50,000 bond, he said.

Mrs. Brinkley, 39, died at her Booneville home on

Third Trial Begins In Murder Case Today

A re-trial of a murder case that has ended in two previous mistrials is scheduled to begin today, Oct. 29, as the October session of Prentiss County Circuit Court draws to an end.

Bobby Ray Morrow, 35, was indicted in October 1980 on a murder charge in connection with the fatal shooting of his third cousin, Buddy Baggett.

The shooting occurred at the house trailer residence of Hubert Morrow (father of the defendant) near Jumbertown.

Circuit Judge Thomas Gardner declared a mistrial in the February term of circuit court after the jury was deadlocked for five hours in its attempts to reach a verdict in the first hearing of the Morrow case.

In the second trial, Circuit Judge Fred Wicker also declared a mistrial in the June term of circuit court when another jury was unable to reach a unanimous decision in the Morrow trial.

Arson Suspected In One Of Two Early Morning Fires

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Arson is suspected in at least one of two fires which occurred within a short time of each other early Wednesday morning in Booneville.

The first fire occurred around 4 a.m. Wednesday at the House of Carpet located on Highway 45 South. The second fire occurred about 6:30 a.m. at the old Brown Plumbing and Electrical Supply building located on First Street in downtown Booneville. House of Carpet is owned by Pud Burress and the Brown Plumbing building is owned by Charles Brown, authorities said.

The report of the fire at the Brown building was reported to the Fire Department only 3 minutes after firemen had returned to the station from the fire at the carpet store.

Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming said there is strong evidence of arson in the carpet store fire.

Firemen reported smelling gasoline when they arrived on the scene and collected fragments of partially burned carpet which they believe may have been soaked with gasoline.

The carpet fragments were placed in glass jars to be shipped to a laboratory to determine if there was gasoline on them.

Chief Fleming said his department would continue the investigation into the cause of the fire and that he would also contact the state Fire Marshall's office who will probably send someone up from Jackson to examine the evidence.

A resident living near the House of Carpet reported the fire to the Booneville Police Department after hearing what was described as a loud "pop." The fire was contained mainly to the rear section of the building which was used as a storage area for carpet.

The second fire of the morning totally gutted the old Brown Plumbing building. As of press time Wednesday, the building was still smoldering and firemen had not been able to enter the remains to investigate the cause of that fire.

20-Cent Rate Coming Nov. 1

It will cost 20 cents to mail a first class letter beginning Nov. 1, Booneville Postmaster Jack Wright said Monday.

The cost of first class postage stamps from 18 cents to 20 cents. Postal cards will now cost 13 cents, he said.

The non-denominated "C" stamp is valued at 20 cents. This stamp was printed to get adequate supplies to Post Offices prior to being able to get the regular 20 cents stamps available. These stamps are for domestic use only, and are available at the Booneville Post Office now, Wright said.

The new 20 cent stamps are also available now at the post office. Christmas stamps will be available at the post office beginning Monday, Nov. 2, he said.

Overseas rates will not change. Those rates are available at the post office, Wright said.

Statistics Indicate Where Hospital Patients Are

(This is the second in a series of articles planned by The Banner-Independent to look at current problems faced by the Northeast Mississippi Hospital.)

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

The statistics seem almost contradictory.

According to the 1980 census, there has been an increase in the population in Prentiss County. However, statistics from the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville show a decrease in patients.

If both statistics are accurate, then one of two things must be true: either Prentiss Countians are getting sick less often than in the past few years, or they are just going elsewhere for their medical care.

Other statistics indicate the latter case to be true.

As reported last week, there was a recent day at the Booneville hospital in which there were only 28 patients in the 136-bed hospital. On that same day, 71 Prentiss Countians were reported as patients in the Tupelo hospital system (which includes the Baldwin hospital).

During the past several years there has been a steady increase in the number of patients from Prentiss County who are admitted to the Tupelo hospital.

Over a five-year period, the statistics look like this: During fiscal year 1975-76 there were 2,834 patients from Prentiss County admitted to the Tupelo hospital. During FY 1976-77 that figure dropped slightly to 2,609. But from then on the increase was dramatic.

In FY 1977-78 there were 2,971 Prentiss Countians admitted to the Tupelo hospital. In FY 1978-79 this number increased to 3,284, and in FY 1979-80, the last year for which figures were available, the number Prentiss Countians admitted to the Tupelo hospital had reached a total of 3,670.

During the same period that 3,670 patients from Prentiss County were admitted to the Tupelo hospital, there were only 3,498 patients admitted to Booneville hospital. This means there were more patients from Prentiss County admitted to the Tupelo hospital during FY 1979-80 than there were total patients admitted to the Booneville hospital during the same period.

But apparently this exodus in patients from the county is virtually limited to the Tupelo system. While the number of patients from Prentiss County admitted to the Corinth hospital has shown increase during the past few years, it still is a relatively insignificant number.

In 1976, nine patients from Prentiss County were admitted to the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth. In FY 1977 this number increased to 20; in FY 1978 it reached 51; there were 102 in FY 1979; 111 in FY 1980; and a slight drop to 107 in FY 1981 (which ended Sept. 31).

As reported last week, this drop in patient load has caused financial burdens on the hospital which, when the patient load fell to 28, resulted in the hospital asking all full-time employees (not just some of them, as reported last week) to work one less 8-hour shift during their regular 80-hour work period. This move was made to help cut hospital expenses.

The Booneville hospital has a fully equipped, almost brand new intensive care unit. But, according to hospital board member Dr. Dwight Johnson, this unit has been closed for almost a year due to the low patient load.

What is the cause of the drop in patient load?

Unfortunately that is not an easy question to answer. There is no one cause, but many factors that have contributed.

For one thing, according to hospital administrator Carl Barker, some of the local doctors (who are of course, subject to viruses and illnesses just like anybody else) have been sick themselves in recent days and have not been able to see patients. And when the doctors are not seeing patients, they are not admitting them to the hospital.

Next -- A closer look at the causes of the decrease in patients at the hospital and what can be done about it.

a suspended six-month jail sentence. The judge ordered each of the three men to work 20 days for the county at whatever jobs they are told to do.

The three men were also ordered to pay a $250 fine plus court costs in addition to paying $150 in restitution.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, is it possible to tell anything about people from looking at the stars and the date of one's birth?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: I answered a letter similar to this some time ago. Some of man's most ancient writings deal with the subject of astrology. Old Chaldean clay tablets trace it to Sargon of Akkad who lived around 2350 B.C. The "Creation Epic" of the Babylonians connect certain false deities with the stars. The word itself comes from two Greek words meaning star and word. Astrology, then, means "speech of the stars." Practitioners of astrology tell us that every truth abides in the Zodiac. They tell us they are able to ascertain one's personality, interests and future potential. May I say that astrology has always been a miserable failure (see Daniel 1:20, 2:2-13, 20-23, 5:5-16). It is also condemned by the Bible as an abomination to the Lord (Deut. 18:9-13). It seems there has been a resurgence of it during this century. There are ten million copies of astrological magazines distributed in this country every year. When the Ephesians were converted they had been involved in the occult but set the right example by burning their books (see Acts 19:18,19).

Student Charged With Auto Theft

A student at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College has been arrested and charged in connection with the reported theft of a vehicle from a motel in Tupelo.

According to reports from the Tupelo police, a motorist left his keys in his vehicle when he stopped at the motel on North Gloster Street in Tupelo.

"This person (who reportedly stole the vehicle) saw the owner of the car put his keys on the wheel," said Tupelo Police Chief Ed Criider. "And he stood around and watched the owner, and as he went in (the motel) he cranked it up and left."

The vehicle was reportedly spotted later in the day parked near the Northeast Junior College in Booneville by campus security, who reported it to the Booneville Police Department.

Booneville officers kept the vehicle under surveillance for the rest of the day, according to Booneville Police Chief Bobby Lambert. However, when no one returned to the vehicle, it was towed to Sartin's Garage to be held for the owner.

Chief Lambert said there was a witness to the theft in Tupelo. Since the suspect was believed to be a student at the junior college, student photos were obtained from the college and taken to Tupelo for the witness to identify.

The next day, Booneville Police arrested Lydie Willis Jones, 21, of Route 1, Box 252, Faulkner, and charged him with auto theft in connection with the incident.

Street Opinion Poll

QUESTION: What do you think is the cause of the drop in the number of patients at the Northeast Mississippi Hospital and what can be done to improve the situation?

TEENIE EATON of Route 3, Booneville: "I don't use the hospital. Anytime I've ever been there they say they can't fix you and send you to Tupelo. I had a cut finger once and went to the hospital here. They looked at my finger and said I'd have to go to the Tupelo hospital. They charged me $109 at Booneville for looking at my finger."

ESTELLE SKELTON of Route 2, Rienzi: "I think one of the reasons the patient load is down is because of job lay-offs and Reagan's cuts in Medicare and Medicaid. People don't have money with jobs scarce and no insurance. I think the Booneville hospital is one of the greatest hospitals there is...not because I work there but because I love the job, the doctors and the place. If you're sick you get the greatest nursing care here."

SHARON LEE of Rienzi: "If they improved the hospital facilities there would be a lot more people who have trust in the hospital."

ROGER ROSS of Route 1, Booneville: "The doctors here don't seem as nice or as capable as the doctors in Tupelo. To improve the situation, their director could get around more. He doesn't seem to know the problems. The last time I was in the hospital I went to Tupelo. I think the major thing is having more qualified doctors in Booneville."

HELEN MILLER of Route 2, Baldwyn: "I don't know first hand. My father-in-law had been in the Booneville hospital two weeks and the doctors told him his problem was his heart. Then he went to the Tupelo hospital and they told him it was his stomach. I think it's a bad situation. I don't know what can be done about it but I think it needs to be looked into."

CONNIE GAMBILL of Route 4, Booneville: "I never have used the Booneville hospital. I've heard a lot of talk about people not trusting the doctors. If we had to go to the hospital, it would be Tupelo, I suppose. I don't know what can be done to improve the situation...I really don't know the doctors."

Reflections

By Ken Christian

It took a lot of planning and an opinion from the state attorney general's office, but, thanks to the efforts of the First and Fourth District supervisors, a precedent has been set that could save Prentiss County tax payers money in the future.

Larry Barron, First District supervisor, and H.B. Lindsey, Fourth District supervisor, have broken with tradition and constructed maintenance buildings for their individual districts on county property.

It had been the practice in the past for each supervisor to build a maintenance building on his own property. Thus, when he left office, he retained ownership of the building and the new supervisor in his district had to build another one.

While this practice has been considered expensive and wasteful by many, it apparently violates no laws and is considered a fairly common practice all over the state. And in many cases, it has not proved to be that expensive for the county. For example, if a supervisor remains in office for an extended period of time, the building may be fully depreciated by the time he leaves office.

On the other hand, if a supervisor builds a maintenance building on his property and then only serves one 4-year term, that means the county has to lay out more money for another building during the next 4 years.

Now that Barron and Lindsey have constructed maintenance buildings on county property, it will be extremely difficult for any future supervisors in those districts to justify the construction of a new maintenance building on their own property.

I think most people will agree that the steps taken by Barron and Lindsey are good for the county. However, there are some who argue that it is not enough.

For example, the Mississippi Economic Council, which bills itself as a "state chamber of commerce," is a strong advocate of the unit system of administering county road funds.

And, in fact, the 1981 state legislature passed a bill which requires that all counties adopt the unit system by July 1, 1983, or lose their state aid road funds. But there's a loop-hole. Any county's board of supervisors can adopt a resolution exempting that county from the mandate.

In Prentiss County, as in many Mississippi counties, the management of county road programs is split five ways. Each supervisor manages the roads in his own beat, with his own labor force, his own equipment, his own budget, and his own method of building and maintaining county roads. Under the unit system, all roads in the county would be maintained from one central location.

While this may be feasible for some counties, Fourth District supervisor Lindsey doesn't feel it will work well in Prentiss County.

He said recently that the unit system will not work as effectively here because of the large number of gravel roads in the county. He said it requires much more work to keep a gravel road in good condition than it does a paved road, and that if the supervisors worked from one central location the equipment would spend an enormous amount of time just getting from one location to another.

Eyes On Mississippi

Jackson Lawyer To Defend Williams

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. -- Al Binder's career in Mississippi could easily be taken out of a Mickey Spillane mystery novel. It's filled with intrigue, shadowy politics, personal tragedy, incredible dealing in and out of the courtroom, and a reputation as one of the shrewdest, meanest, most effective lawyers in the state.

Mostly, Binder, the 52-year-old Jewish attorney from Jackson, has been a behind-the-scenes operative, a wire-puller par excellence. Now suddenly he is about to be vaulted onto the national scene in a role which could make him something of an F. Lee Bailey of the Deep South. To the amazement of many, last week Binder was picked as the trial lawyer to defend Wayne Williams, the young black Atlanta photographer charged with two in the series of murders of 28 young blacks in the Atlanta area.

How could a criminal lawyer from Mississippi be pulled up from the land of magnolias into that fast league? One thing, evidently is that Binder's effectiveness around the courts has become known far beyond this state. Another, is it's a small world.

For instance, a former Jackson vice squad detective now running a private agency in Atlanta has been hired by Williams defense team. When the defense lawyers had a big split and appeared to be without a lead trial attorney, the detective thought of the wily Binder back in Mississippi.

But also, says Binder, "some black person" in Mississippi, whom he won't name also pushed Binder as the man to hire. Now he's taken the case as a "last hurrah," but the chance for national attention is not completely lost on him.

Lately, Binder has been representing a string of Mississippi white collar crime types, including some black clients. Often, as is his style, Binder hasn't gone to trial, but negotiated lighter sentences for his clients.

One irony is that several of his clients charged with white collar crime have come out of the Cliff Finch administration, of which Binder was a part for more than two years in his first (and last, he says) experience of working for the state.

Binder had become special counsel to Gov. Finch in the summer of 1976 when, he claims, Finch, whom he barely knew, called Binder to visit him in the hospital when Finch was recovering from an emergency appendectomy.

"I was flattered, and I thought he was a man who was really going to do

Seeks Information On Local Family Members

Dear Editor,

Eula Wingo Stafford was four when they buried the mother she hardly knew. The former Dora Walden had married Enoch C. Wingo in 1899 in Prentiss County, Miss.

Within two years they followed the rest of the family to Texas, a move that they hoped would help their economic situation. But times were hard, and the move provided little extra money.

Shortly after their arrival in Texas, Dora was stricken with galloping consumption. In 1904 at the tragically young age of 24 she was laid to rest in Calloway Cemetery near Fort Worth.

Two young daughters preceded her in death. Her only living daughter, Eula, was forced to live with her grandparents during the final year of her mother's life. Her mother's death enabled the young girl to move back with her father.

But 10 years later, Eula knew grief again as her father lay dying in the home of her Uncle George. With his death she lost whatever contact there might have been with her mother, and her mother's family.

Eula has grown old knowing little about the Walden family. She has lived a full life, full of the joys children can bring. Despite the fact that she was the lone survivor of the Dora Walden-Enoch Wingo union, today there are five generations who claim kinship to that ill-fated marriage.

Eula has little in life that she would care to conquer at this point in time. However, today her strongest wish is to learn more about the family she never knew. Any information that you might provide in this search for her family would be greatly appreciated.

What follows are the facts as they are known about Dora Walden: She was the daughter of Reese Walden, and Rebecca Anderson. She had an uncle by the name of Harvey Anderson. Dora had two brothers whose names are known: Simmie, who is thought to have moved to Dallas, and Otto who is believed to have died young. Her sister (or perhaps half-sister) was named Lettie (Litte?), last name unknown. It is believed that the Walden's lived in Prentiss County in the late 1800's.

Any help that you might offer would be of great help. Please write to Wiley Whitten, 234 N.E. Craig, Burleson, Texas 76028.

Sincerely,
Wiley Whitten

Ponderings

Shuffle Dust School

Mrs. Marie Lindley of Blackland passed some information my way about Shuffle Dust School.

It seems that "Shuffle Dust" was the nickname for Mt. Carmel School which was located east of Wheeler.

Mrs. Lindley said a candidate speaking was held at the school one dusty day and during all the campaign promising two of the candidates got into a scuffle.

After the dust settled, someone in the crowd remarked, "They sure did shuffle dust!"

And from then on Mt. Carmel School was known as "Shuffle Dust".

Mrs. Lindley said after Shuffle Dust burned the school was consolidated with Wheeler.

According to records dated 1927 in the County Superintendent of Education's office, the two-room elementary school was constructed in 1924 at a cost of $1,000.

Arthur Glover was principal during the 1927-28 school term.

Some of the names of students attending "Shuffle Dust" during the 1927-28 school year were Barnett, Boren, Burns, Bridges, Crabb, Corbin, Dobbs, Enis, Floyd, Gardner, Glover, Kessler, Lindley, Mize, McCarty, Owens, Powell, Pierce, Pate, Stanton, Strickland and Tyus.

Such Good Friends

Earlier this week I was talking to Alfred Michael from the Jumpertown area and he was telling me about some of his buddies and the good deeds they did for him.

He didn't go into a lot of detail, but the highway patrolman offered this example.

He told me he had diligently worked in his yard for two weeks preparing the ground to sow grass. After hours and hours of back-breaking work, he finally had his yard in shape to plant bermuda grass.

After he finished planting the grass, he went to bed that night and dreamed about the lush, green lawn he would soon have. Unbeknownst to him, while the highway patrolman was away on a detail, his friends sowed some seeds in his yard, too.

The highway patrolman realized what had happened when turnips and radishes sprang up in his yard. And to top it off, his friends even had local restaurants calling him to inquire if he had turnips for sale!

Ghosties

One night not long ago, some friends and I were driving by a cemetery in Jacinto on our way home when I saw a reddish-orange light in the center of the cemetery.

"Look!" I yelled as I directed everyone's attention to the light.

Everyone's attention focused on the cemetery as the car came quickly to a halt.

And there in the cemetery, directly across from our car, was a reddish-orange light.

After we observed the light for a few long seconds, my friend finally said, "It's just the reflection of the car's brake light shining on a tombstone."

He removed his foot from the brake and the light in the cemetery vanished.

"See," he said, obviously relieved.

And being rather faint-of-heart ghost hunters, my friends and I didn't tarry in front of the cemetery.

But as we drove away from the cemetery, I just had to turn around for one last glimpse of the graveyard.

And as we sped down the gravel road, I saw there was still a reddish-orange light glowing in the cemetery.

Apples Are Great For Fall Dishes

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Now, as brisk weather turns our tastes to spicy and warm treats, fresh crunchy apples will be the perfect starting point. They're excellent in many dishes, from the school lunch to salads and snacks.

BUYING TIPS

Look for bright, fresh-looking apples. The green "ground color" or background color, when visible on varieties that are not a solid red, should be a yellow-green. If the apple has too green a ground color, it will be immature, hard and have a poor, starchy flavor. If overripe, the apple will have too yellow a ground color and will be poor in flavor with a soft, mealy texture.

Always check the skins; they should be smooth and reasonably bruise free. Apples with surface russeting (brownish roughened area on skin) make good eating fruit and may be less expensive.

It is usually more economical to buy apples in large quantities when they're in season. However, purchase only what you can use or store without waste. Smaller apples will usually keep longer and have less bruising.

"Buy apples for their intended use!"

USING APPLES

-- 4 small, 3 medium and 2 large apples generally weight about one pound.

-- 2 medium apples equal 1 cup grated apple.

-- 1 pound of apples equals 3 cups diced apples.

-- Allow about two pounds of apples for one nine-inch pie (6-8 apples).

-- One bushel of apples will make approximately 16-20 quarts of applesauce or apple butter.

-- When cooking with apples, use very little water; none for pies, betties, etc. Add only enough water for applesauce to prevent the apples from scorching.

-- When making salads, dip apple slices in lemon juice, salt water or ascorbic acid mixture to prevent darkening. Golden Delicious apples stay white longer.

APPLE CRISP

2 tablespoons granulated sugar

1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

4 cups, pared, sliced tart apples

1/2 cup water

1/2 cup flour

1/8 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1/3 cup brown sugar, packed

3 tablespoons softened butter or margarine

Mix granulated sugar with 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon; sprinkle over apples and mix lightly. Spread apples in a greased 8x8x2-inch baking pan. Sprinkle with water.

Blend flour, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and brown sugar. Mix in fat to make a crumbly mixture. Spread over apples. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees F. for 40 minutes or until lightly browned and apples are tender.

Did you say 183 cups of margarine?

That's the question that everyone has been asking me the last few days following last week's news publication.

Actually that is what appeared in my recipe for Caramel Pecan Bars last week. But I will assume that is was a typographical error that occurred sometime after I turned in my column because that's not the way I know it.

Actually, it is 1/3 cup and not 183 cups. So if you tried it with 183 cups and found it a bit messy, try reducing the margarine to 1/3 cup and I personally guarantee better results (and a lot less calories too!).

Actually that was not the only error. If you noticed someone added an E to my name spelling it "Belinda" and somehow Levi Sides came out "Livi Sides."

But we understand that mistakes do occur and that to err is human. So no hard feelings!

Actually I am used to having my name misspelled in this way and it doesn't bother me one bit. "Belinda" is the usual spelling of my name, but I had to be different and have something all my own.

But I have been involved in cases where someone would actually get angry when their name appeared in print and was misspelled.

I have said all this to, if this happens in your case, don't take offense. Just remember that we're all human.

Myrtle Cole hasn't been feeling well the last few days. She was unable to attend church services on Sunday. Hazel Murphy of Memphis was down over the weekend visiting with Myrtle and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Foster have returned from Louisiana where they spent a few days visiting relatives.

On Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 20, Brownie Scout Troop 334 of Hill's Chapel held their Investiture and Rededication Service. Members of the troop, Jennifer Dunaway, Kacy Huddleston, Mary Hoffman, Cindy Bigsby, Leslie Moreland, Molly Smith, Teresa Harris, Jacqueline Ackers, Danielle McCombs and Mimi Cleveland, along with leaders, Mrs. Josie Smith and Mrs. Carolyn McCombs, presented the Girl Scout Law and gave their pledge to the scouting cause.

The girls were presented with their pins and entertained with "The Brownie Smile Song." Refreshments were served to the visitors by Brownie hostesses, Jennifer Dunaway and Kacy Huddleston.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Caver recently went home to Oak Ridge, Tenn. for a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. James P. Grubb, parents of Mrs. Caver.

Jennifer and Brock Dunaway, Pat, Steve and Bryan Burns were all overnight guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burns, on Saturday night.

Mrs. Jannie Braddock and children and Lonie McAnally of Glenn visited over the weekend with Mrs. Braddock's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Chase.

Mrs. Jannie Braddock reports losing a billfold while in our area. She described it as a long-shaped, brown leather billfold containing her driver's license, social security card and other important papers. If anyone finds it, she would appreciate having it returned or at least her drivers license and other paper. It can be returned to her at Route 1, Box 81, Glenn, Miss.

Or leave it with me and I will get in contact with her.

The young people of Mt. Olive Church of God enjoyed a night of Halloween fun and games at the old Burcham school building on Friday night. The youth leader of the congregation is Billy Floyd.

A birthday dinner was held on Sunday, Oct. 11, for R.E. Bain who had his 82nd birthday on Oct. 14. It was a very special day for Mr. Bain. Over 100 people came from Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee and Texas to wish Mr. Bain a very happy birthday.

The group included all four of his living sisters, Rosella Pyle, Laurette Robinson, Myrtle England, all of Duck Hill and Alice Lambert of Burnsville. All six of the Bain's children were present. These were Marvin Bain, James Bain, Jewel Laster, Eura Mae Lambert, Katie Lou Morgan and Pauline Laster.

Also among the group were two fifth generations represented, beginning with Mr. Bain, Katie Lou Adams, and Laura Adams. The other fifth generation group began with Mr. Bain, Eura Mae Lambert, Betty Jo Coss, Janet Smith and Jimmy Smith.

The children and faculty at Hill's Chapel School have been busily preparing for this year's Halloween Carnival which will be held Friday night, Oct. 30.

This past week students have been seeking votes in the form of donations to determine who would represent each class in the King and Queen contest. The contestants have been narrowed down to one boy and one girl from each class. From these a winner for King and Queen will be chosen in four groups: Headstart, Grades 1-3, Grades 4-6, and Grades 7 and 8.

Contestants include: Headstart: Brian George, Michelle Arnold, Starsby Bearden and Jana Johnson.

Grade 1A: Jason Riddle and Eunice Rowland; 1B: Jason Cole and Bobbie Tiger.

Grade 2A: Chris Hamblin and Lori Nicholson; 2B: David Johnson and Deanna Hill.

Grade 3A: Belinda Ford and Dana Eubanks; 3B:

Jennifer Dunaway and Robbie Burcham.

Grade 4A: Danny Arnold and Tonya Latham; 4B: Jennifer Echols and Jeff Taylor; 4C: Debra Brown and Jeff Horton.

Grade 5A: Rehnea C Yates and David Brown; 5B: Kandi Miller and Terry Cartwright; 5C: Darla Rhoads and James Gailor.

Grade 6A: Kary Jo Jacobs and Mark Moreland; 6B: Jeff Green and Cindy Underwood.

Grade 7: Elisha Eaton and Tommy Bringham.

Grade 8: Jan Lambert and Mark Johnson.

A new event this year at the carnival will be the pie throwing event. In this event for a fee the children will be able to give the teacher of their choice a pie smack in the face. This will probably be the most popular event among the students.

Also, a talent contest is being held Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Hill's Chapel School Gymnasium. Everyone is invited to attend. Admission for the event will be .50 cents.

The contest is sponsored by Mrs. Edith English and the 8th grade girls to raise money for the King and Queen Contest.

Do you remember when people would go home with their friends from the church and eat dinner and have a good old fashion time? This is what the Bob Hunt church Training Class of Calvary church did this past Sunday.

The hostess was Mrs. Jaunita Chambers at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Havis Chambers of New Bryant Road. Jaunita was at her best as she served her guests fresh peas, chicken, and spaghetti, a delicious rice dish, salads, relishes, home-made rolls and corn-sticks, potatoes and coconut-chess pie with coffee or tea.

After lunch the group assembled in the big den for a time of sharing. The time for departure came all to $900 for the members present. This has become an annual affair for this class.

Those attending were Alice Bullard, Gertrude Floyd, Ola Geno, Jessie Presley, Lula Cartwright, Bernice Carroll, Willie Mae Moreland, Katie Shackelford, Sallie Allord, Mildred Thorn and Mrs. Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lence and sons, Ken, David and Jason of Ripley, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hodges and Beth Saturday night.

Mrs. Myrtle Maness of Wheeler is a patient at the Baldwin hospital. We send Mrs. Maness our love and wish her an early recovery.

Mrs. Annie Lee Bolt had a letter recently from Mrs. Josephine Holliday, a former resident of Prentiss County. At this time Josephine is in Key West, Fla., with a brother who is ill. Josephine was an Extension Home Economist while living in Booneville.

Mrs. Edith Googer is out of the Baldwin hospital after an extended stay. Edith is feeling much better and says the good treatments at the hospital, the many cards and calls made her stay in the hospital one she will never forget.

Mrs. Herbert (Josephine) Grisham of Senatobia, Miss., lost her mother, Mrs. John Epting of Baldwin last week. We extend our deepest sympathy to this family.

Visiting with Mrs. Mayme Forrester recently were Mr. and Mrs. James DeLoach of Jackson, Tenn.

Louise Gillean, her daughter, Susan, and Bobbie Hodges from Houston, Texas, visited Lila Williams of Booneville recently.

Thought for the week, For Youth Only:

"HOW to get along with your parents"

-Don't Be Afraid To Speak Their Language. Try using strange phrases like "I'll help wash the dishes," "Yes," "Thank You" and "Please."

-Try to Understand Their Music. Play some music they enjoy. Listen with them, you might enjoy it a little.

-Be Patient with the Underachiever. When you catch your dieting Mom sneaking salted nuts, don't show your disapproval. Tell her you like fat mothers.

-Encourage Them To Talk About Their Problems. Try to keep in mind that to them things like earning a living and paying off the mortgage seem important.

-Be Tolerant of Their Appearance. When your dad gets a haircut, don't feel personally humiliated. Remember, it's important to him to look like his peers.

-And Most of All: If they do something you consider wrong, let them know it's their behavior you dislike, not themselves. Remember parents need to feel loved too.

We express our sympathy to Mrs. Madeline Taylor who just returned from her father's funeral in Chicago, Ill. We just pray that the Lord will take care of the whole family.

We welcome Larry, Theresa and Zephia Miller and the two boys back home from Midland, Pa. We only wish their stay here could be permanent. We always enjoy him on bass guitar. He's our own "Muncho Bass Man."

Our services where inspiring Sunday and Sunday night. Sis. Miller was the speaker for Women's Day. She preached to the young people about being kept by God.

She talked of how Joseph in the Old Testament had a mind to be kept by God and how God kept him although he had to go to prison and suffer two years for a lie that Pharaoh's wife had told on him.

The Lord was with him and God gave him victory in the end. The message was an eye-opener and a mind-stirrer. I pray that the Lord will give all of us a mind to be kept by Him.

We also had a song by our choir featuring Lee Miller. "Reaching for the Top," which should be everyone's goal, whether spiritual or natural. We should want to be the top and not the bottom.

Halloween is Saturday night. I'm sure everyone knows that, but I'm asking everyone to be considerate and kind to others as you would that someone be to you.

Don't throw eggs on people's cars. That's an expensive prank to pull on someone and, furthermore, you wouldn't want anybody to do your car like that.

Be careful and watch out for the little trick-or-treaters. They're just having fun, so, you older ones, be nice to them. Parents, go out with your children or let some responsible older child go with them. No one wants to see their child hurt, so let's make this Halloween a very safe one.

In other words, have respect for yourself and then you can have respect for your fellow man.

Happy birthday wishes go out to Mrs. Olivia Grizzard, to Mrs. Brenda Moment, and to anyone else having a birthday that I may not know about.

We pray God's blessing upon all the sick and shut-in.

We heard that Forrest Betts has been sick. We're praying that the Lord will touch and heal his body.

As we come down to the last two months in the year, let's make up in our minds to show love to somebody. There are many elderly people in our community who would just love for somebody to read a scripture to them, or help clean their house, take them to the grocery store, or just sit and talk.

The world is full of lonely people just wanting to be loved or have someone concerned about them. In the good old days there was brotherly love among people but, somewhere, somehow it seems everyone is concerned about themselves and forgets about their neighbor. But the blessing lies in the giving. It's not always finances, but giving yourself, your time, your concern for one another.

"Reach out and touch somebody's hand; make this world a better place, if you can." If everybody does his part, what a beautiful world we would live in.

Wolf Creek M.B. Church is having Family Day on Sunday, Nov. 1 at 9:30. Everyone is invited to come out and bring the whole family. Dinner will be served.

My closing thoughts are: The wise man Solomon said, "Hell and destruction are never full; so the eyes of man are never satisfied." (Prov. 27:20)

JUDGING LIVESTOCK
Judging livestock involves two actions. First, you must place each animal in a class, and second, you must be able to defend that placing.

Oral reasons are your explanation of why you placed a class as you did. Anyone can guess at a class placing. Good livestock judges must be able to explain logically their reasons for placing a class. Oral reasons should be brief, with emphasis on the main points in the class.

Your reasons should be accurate, interesting, sincere, and presented in a pleasant and confident manner. Being honest and accurate are most important when giving reasons.

Generally, the individual or team that delivers the best set of reasons will win the contest. Reason scores can count 50 points for each set, the same as the placing score for each class.

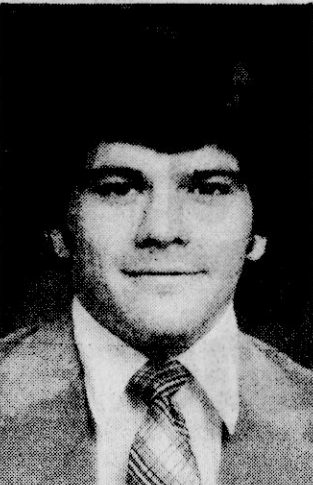

Giving good sets of oral reasons is the secret in winning contests. You could place a class backwards and still make a good score on reasons. So back up your placings with clear, accurate, and convincing reasons.

Be persistent. Study and practice your reasons thoroughly before giving them to the judge.

Students Are Serving Externship

DONNA DENSON

BRIAN SMITH

Donna Denson of Booneville, a fifth year student in the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy, will begin serving an externship at Jimmy Bennett's Apothecary in Corinth this month.

Donna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Denson of Booneville, will work under the direction of Bennett during her externship.

Bennett is a clinical instructor for the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy.

Also during this month, Brian Smith of Hattiesburg, who is also a fifth year student in the UM school of pharmacy, will begin serving an externship at Tigrett Drug Center in Booneville.

He will work under James Tigrett, who also serves as a clinical instructor for the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy.

Students participating in the clinical program gain valuable on the job training by having the opportunity to practice pharmacy under the direct supervision of a certified clinical instructor, a spokesman for the pharmacy school said.

Everyday, Americans swallow literally tons of aspirin tablets in an effort to get relief from pain...usually headaches. Such self-treatment offers only temporary relief.

When headache results from a spinal misalignment, chiropractic treatment is usually effective. If a spinal segment is displaced in a manner that results in compression or irritation of the upper spinal nerves, chiropractic procedures are indicated, to correct the cause of the pain.

A chiropractic spinal examination reveals any spinal distortions which may be causing pain and discomfort, so that corrective treatment is possible. Phone for an appointment.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian
George E. Allen Library

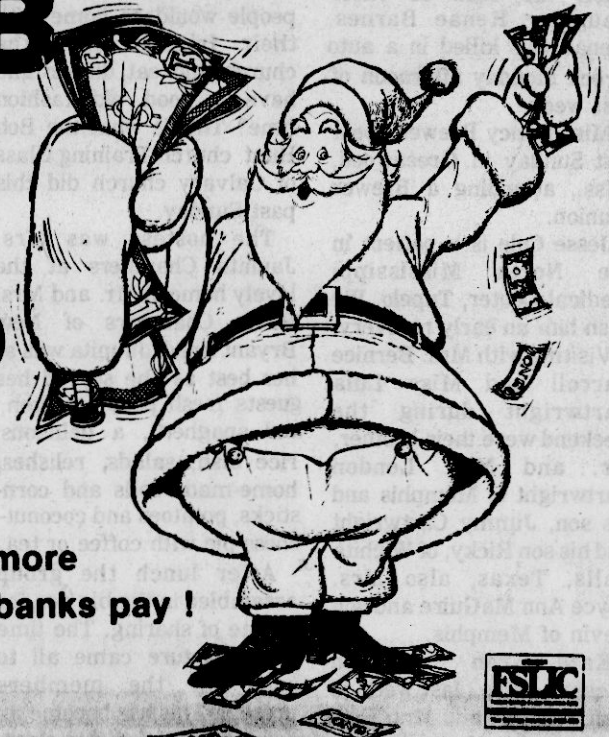

We are receiving great interest in the exhibit of firearms from the collection of Dan Wylie which is now on display in the Allen Library. They come from several countries and cover types used in many major conflicts.

Included are the "Cap and Ball" Colt 44, or "Horse pistol," used by the Union Cavalry and the Israeli Uzi which is well liked by the law enforcement personnel. The U. S. Treasury agent who stood guard over wounded President Reagan carried an Uzi.

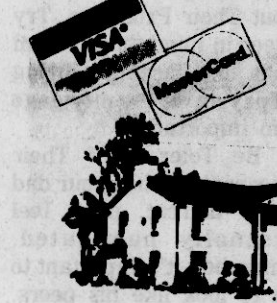

A book of interest to those who enjoy "kitchen crops" is "The Sprouter's Cookbook," by Marjorie Page Blanchard. The introduction to the book states its intention of adding sophistication to the simple sprout and adding a new dimension to ordinary meal planning. How to raise sprouts, how to use them, and why they are healthful fill this thin but attractive volume.

Biographies are popular with our readers and are among the types of writings assigned as book reports. The Allen Library shelves biographies in a separate section. They are arranged on the shelves alphabetically by the surname of the subject of the work. Come in and browse through it and choose a person, important,

Cleveland Enters Optometry School

Craig Webster Cleveland of Booneville has entered the Southern College of Optometry in Memphis as a first-year professional student.

Cleveland was one of 135 entrants selected for the class entering in September, 1981.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Webster Cleveland Jr. of Booneville.

In preparation for his career as a doctor of optometry, Cleveland completed more than two years of preprofessional college work and will spend four additional years at the Southern College of Optometry studying a specialized curriculum leading to a degree of doctor of optometry (O.D.).

Doctors of optometry are the major providers of vision care in America today, according to a spokesman for the college. As primary care professionals, they are concerned with eye health and general health problems that affect the eyes.

Optometrists also provide special services for children and the elderly, and help the partially sighted use their remaining vision.

Southern College of Optometry is an independent, coeducational institution of higher education with a curriculum emphasizing psychological, optical, and medical education. SCO has graduated more than 4,600 optometrists since it was founded in 1932.

MISSISSIPPI'S WHEAT CROP SET AT 22.8 MILLION BUSHEL

Mississippi's 1981 wheat crop is forecast at 22.8 million bushels, up from the 7.7 million bushel crop for 1980.

In 1979 Mississippi farmers produced 3.7 million bushels of wheat, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's September crop production report.

The report indicates that wheat producers in the State could harvest 600 thousand acres this year compared to 250 thousand acres last year and 115 thousand acres in 1979. Crop yields averaged about 38 bushels per acre for 1981, compared with 31 bushels in 1980 and 32 bushels in 1979.

Nationally, wheat production is forecast at a record high 2.75 billion bushels, 16 percent more than the previous record set last year and up fractionally from the August forecast. A substantial increase in acreage for harvest and a moderate increase in average yield from last year resulted in the record high production.

Farmers may still place their 1981 wheat crop under loan and in the new wheat reserve. Information in this regard may be obtained at any county ASCS office.

Faced with production losses because of excessive rain in the spring and dry weather during the summer.

Shown above is a no-till drill at work on the Wyatt Breedlove farm. The no-till drill is used to drill soybeans into standing wheat stubble. Approximately 100 acres of soybeans were planted by the no-till method this year in Prentiss County, while approximately 3,123 acres of soybeans were planted using limited tillage systems such as no fall plowing and delaying seedbed preparation until April or May. Many Prentiss County farmers have shown interest in both no-till double cropping systems and limited tillage systems. And why not, both systems help to control erosion while reducing fuel and labor bills.

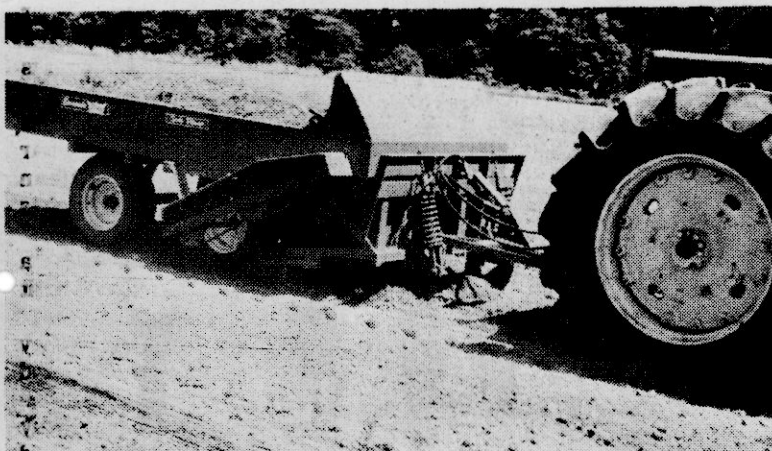

Ole Spot inspects the terrace plow which was demonstrated on the Hughes Brothers farm near Jumpertown this past spring. Building terraces with the new disk type terracing plow is much faster than other methods of terrace construction. Prentiss County farmers installed over 27,000 feet of terraces this past year. Due to terrace installation and other conservation practices such as minimum tillage, delayed seedbed preparation and contour farming, over 3,700 acres of cropland was adequately protected from soil erosion. Prentiss County farmers and landowners are encouraged to use terrace systems when needed to reduce soil erosion.

Shown above is a good field of winter wheat produced right here in Prentiss County on the Hatfield farm near Thrasher. During the past few years winter wheat production in Prentiss County has gone from near zero to over 4,200 acres in 1980-81. Many farmers feel winter wheat is an excellent crop to plant on sloping cropland since wheat yields are much better than soybean yields on this type land, and the soil erosion problem is much less with wheat. According to most farmers, a big advantage to farming wheat on sloping cropland is that wheat provides them with some income during June when cash outlays are so great.

A group of Prentiss County cattlemen are shown above at the Pasture Study and Tour which was held on the Steve Johnson farm this fall. The topic for the pasture tour was "Management of Hybrid Bermudagrass." The Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District utilizes such techniques as pasture tours and demonstrations to encourage Prentiss County cattlemen to establish and manage adapted forage species. Through proper forage management cattlemen can increase production while protecting the soil from erosion.

Ed Honeycutt is shown above sprigging the newly released Tifton-44 hybrid bermudagrass. This past year, Prentiss County farmers and cattlemen planted almost 900 acres to various grasses and legumes. Almost 1,400 acres of pastureland was adequately protected from erosion through good management practices such as liming and fertilizing, weed control, and rotational grazing. The Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District encourages farmers and cattlemen to utilize adapted forage varieties and good management practices in order to protect the soil from erosion.

Pictured above is a part of the group of conservation district leaders, Department of Wildlife Conservation officials, state legislators, Weyerhaeuser representatives, and sportsmen who attended a tour of the John Bell Williams Game Management Area near Marietta in April, 1981. The Prentiss County conservation district commissioners sponsored the tour in an effort to call attention to existing problems on the 11,000 acre game management area and to push for needed improvements that will benefit local sportsmen.

This aerial view shows a section of the John Bell Williams Game Management Area's fine bottomland hardwood that is bordered by the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway under construction on the left. As a result of local efforts, work is underway to construct a 300 acre "Greentree Reservoir" for duck hunting near the management area headquarters in Prentiss County. Other wildlife accomplishments during 1981 included district cooperators developing food plots and habitat cover on 227 acres to benefit quail, rabbits, squirrels, deer, and other upland game.

A tree planting crew can be seen above setting out loblolly pine seedlings on an idle field of cull hardwood. Prentiss County woodland owners can receive up to seventy-five percent cost-share help through the federal "Forestry Incentive Program" or the state "Forest Resources Development Program" to carry out site preparation and tree planting practices. According to John Stuart, County Forester, 450,000 loblolly pine seedlings were established on 562 acres of private forestland in Prentiss County during the 1980-81 planting season.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

By C. D. Edge

There Is A Heaven

- Yes, there is a Heaven. The Bible says so and all the laws of logic demand it. Have you ever stopped to think that there is a thing in man called INSTINCT? Even before newborn eyes are open the instinct to seek nourishment is there. God has provided it. He created you and me. We hunger and God provides food. We thirst and God provides water. It's our instinct that He put in each one of us.
- But there is a deeper longing down in the soul, one that's stronger than any other. It's a longing for or instinct for something better. God created it, He put it there and GOD ALWAYS PROVIDES.

The old song says -
There's a land that is fairer than day, and by faith we can see it afar -
For the Father waits over the way, to prepare us a dwelling place there.
- God created that Better Land called Heaven. It's the home our instinct looks for. Jesus said in John 14:2&3 - - I GO TO PREPARE A PLACE FOR YOU. AND IF I GO AND PREPARE A PLACE FOR YOU, I WILL COME AGAIN, AND RECEIVE YOU UNTO MYSELF; THAT WHERE I AM, THERE YE MAY BE ALSO.

Bike-A-Thon Is Successful

Local bikers raised $512 for the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Sunday in the Jumpertown Wheels-For-Life bike-a-thon, according to bike-a-thon chairman Betty Phillips.

"This ride was a great success and showed that Jumpertown understands the importance of research being done at St. Jude Hospital," she said in announcing the ride's results.

Fifteen riders participated in the bike-a-thon. Shane Reed won the 10-speed bicycle and Tim Smith won the radio.

"The $512 raised from the ride will help continue the research into childhood cancer and other catastrophic diseases," Ms. Phillips said. "Children here and everywhere will be helped by this successful bike-a-thon and the progress being made at St. Jude hospital."

On behalf of the Jumpertown Jaycees and Jaycettes and the Prentiss County FBLA Chapter, co-sponsors of the bike-a-thon, Ms. Phillips expressed her thanks to everyone who participated in the event.

FBLA BIKERS - Cindy Robinson, FBLA member, and Tim Smith, co-president of the FBLA Chapter at the Prentiss County Vo-Tech, were two of the local club members who participated in the "Wheels For Life" bike-a-thon jointly sponsored by the Jumpertown Jaycees and Jaycettes and the Prentiss County FBLA Chapter, Sunday, Oct. 18. Money raised from the bike-a-thon totaled $512 and will be sent to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital in Memphis.

Cold Drives Pests Inside

Cooler temperatures may mean an increase of insects in your home.

Dr. Pat Harris, area pest management specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, says more ground beetles, roaches, crickets and flies will be entering Mississippi homes as temperatures drop.

They will invade homes through holes in screens; cracks in floors, walls and ceilings; and through any other opening they can find, he says.

"They irritate people usually by being a nuisance or frightening them," he says. "They can cause unsanitary conditions, too, which may cause health problems."

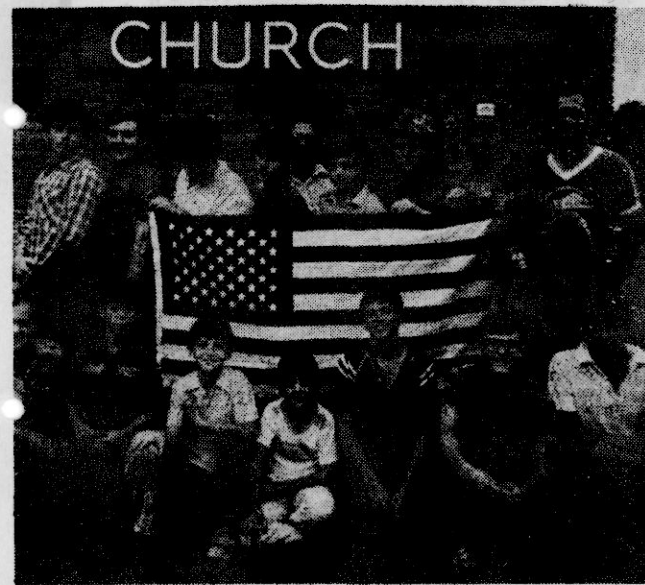

One of the best methods of controlling such pests is by prevention. Repair torn screens and cracks in floors, walls and ceilings, he suggests. Most of these pests may be controlled with a fly swatter. By winter, the number of insect invaders will decrease sharply.

Several chemicals have been cleared for household use, including various aerosol sprays in cans. Other chemicals include diazinon, malathion, dursban or baygon. Be sure to read label instructions when using any insecticide to make sure it is labeled to control the insect or insects you want to control.

Most household insecticides kill insects by contact, so thorough coverage and careful label usage is essential for good control. It is important to identify your insect pests correctly so you will apply the necessary insecticide labeled for its control.

Follow all label precautions and use insecticides safely. If you need help to identify pests or to control them, contact your county agent.

W.O.W. FLAG - Troop 76, Boy Scouts of America, posed with an American flag presented to them by Wimp Caldwell, Field Representative of Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society. Pictured are (front, from left) scoutmaster William Cook, Corey Moore, Nathan Young, Pete Gailor, Doug Nichols, Richard Norris, Charles Moore, (back, from left) assistant scoutmaster James Lee, Robert Cook, Danny Isbell, Jeff Laster, Caldwell, Tommy Wren, John Cook, and assistant scoutmasters Layne Green and James Young.

LAWNMOWER RECOVERED - This John Deere riding mower, reportedly stolen from Dr. Jose Madara of the Wickwood Subdivision, was recently recovered in the Piney Grove community. James Roy Eaton, 23, of Route 3, Booneville, was charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft. A preliminary hearing was held earlier this week and Eaton was bound over to the action of the grand jury. Pictured with the recovered mower are (from left) Booneville Police Chief Bobby Lambert, Justice Court Judge Billy Sartin, and officers Willie Anderson and Tony Childers. A tip from an informant led to the recovery and arrest.

Devils Rally With 19-0 Shutout Over Nettleton

Blue Devil signal caller Bernard Anderson fired a five yard touchdown pass to halfback Tony Brooks in the second quarter Friday night and Booneville's Blue Devils went on from there to coast to an easy 19-0 victory over Nettleton's Tigers in a class A skirmish at Nettleton's Tiger Stadium.

The Devils, who registered their first official win of the season (2 actually) finally got their offensive attack in gear and waltzed to the win to gain some revenge from last year's defeat at the hand of the Nettleton squad.

Booneville's offense, which had scored only one touchdown in the past four weeks, got themselves together in the second quarter while the Devil defensive corps held the Tigers scoreless throughout the four frames.

The pass from Anderson to Brooks started things off in the second quarter and Booneville's defense stiffened at this point and held on to preserve the win.

Anderson got the Devils on the board for the second time in the third quarter when he capped off a 40 plus yard drive with a one yard lunge for the second score of the night.

Brooks, who had one of his best nights of the season put the Devils ahead to stay in the fourth and final period when he broke loose on a 14 yard sprint.

Placekicker Rod Coggin added the point after and the Devils registered their second highest point total of the year.

Booneville head coach Doc Gullett had said before Friday's game that he felt like if anyone, the Devils were certainly due to have a good outing.

"We've had to play one more tough schedule this year and we've had five tough games back to back," Gullett said. "It was time for our kids to come back and we hope this will carry on the remainder of the season."

In Friday's game Gullett had said the Devils would shift their offensive sets about. "We were just trying to throw in some wrinkles," he said. "We wanted to use the split veer and the wish-bone and we just hoped we could be effective with one of the two."

The Devil win shoved the Booneville record to 1-7 on the year with two remaining games left on the schedule. Both the two are at home.

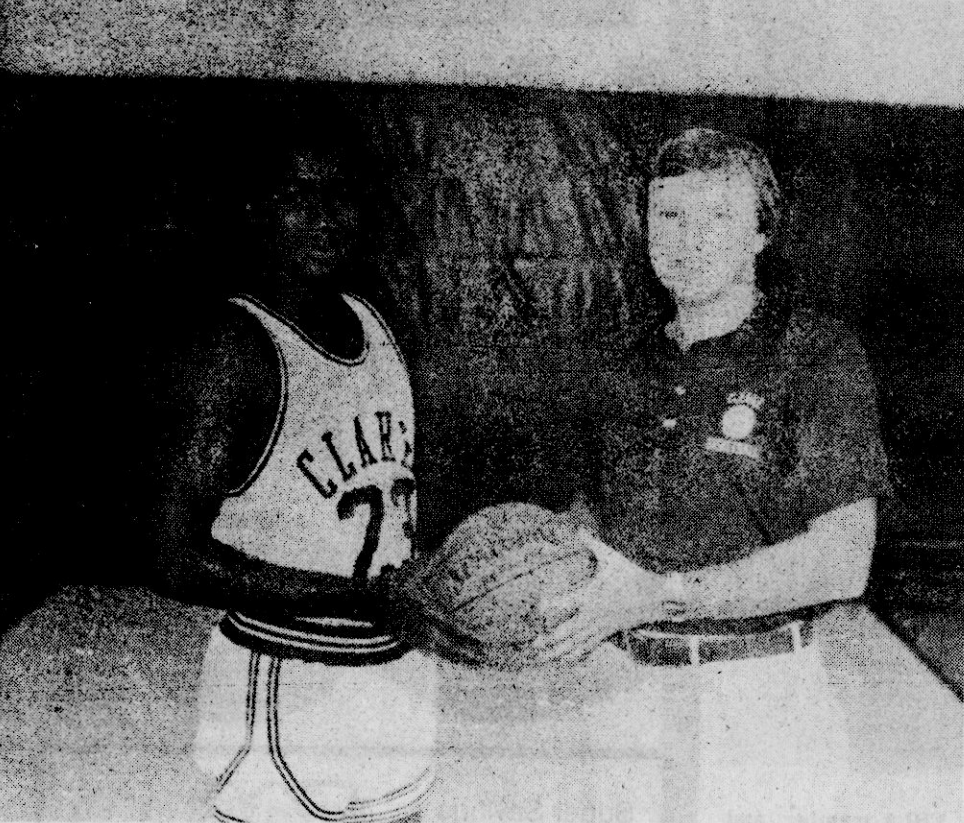

In this week's game Booneville will face rival Pontotoc in a 7:30 kickoff and then next week it's the season finale with a home encounter against Corinth.

Saylors Leads Area Pickers

Manfred Saylors continues to be the top area picker and last week correctly picked 10 out of 12 games correctly to lead in the race for the chart's best picker.

Saylors missed only the Booneville-Nettleton game and the Michigan State-Purdue game out the entire list of 12 games.

Three tied for the second place spot picking eight of the 12 games including Leighton Miller, Dan Arthur, and Dan Childers while Doug Jumper took the cellar position last week with 7-12.

Further ahead in the standings for the year and now has a four game lead on his nearest competitor.

Saylors has hit on 69-96 correct predictions while Miller is next in line with 65-

Trojans Trounce Tigers:

Northwest Comes To Town Tonight

MOOREHEAD --- The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers dropped their seventh game of the 1981 season here last Thursday night with a 28-16 setback to the hands of Mississippi Delta Junior College in a Miss. JUCO contest held at Moorehead, Mississippi.

Northeast head coach Bill Ward said before Thursday's outing that this Delta team would indeed be one of the most physical teams that the Tigers had faced all year.

The Trojans had upset some favored ballclubs this year and were heavy favorites going into the Thursday night affair.

Northeast did have some heroics in the ballgame but rallied short on the comeback efforts and just couldn't overcome Delta's early lead.

Scoring for the Tigers has been plentiful in the past few weeks and the result was the same here Thursday night.

One of the bright spots in the game was the running of Northeast speedster Phillip McDonald. McDonald ran up and down the field and scored one of the Tigers two six points of the night.

Backup quarterback Shane Russell scored the other touchdown for the Tigers while Tiger placekicker Kenny Mathis added a fieldgoal and an extra point to account for the Northeast points on the night.

The Tigers will return home tonight against yet another rough and tough opponent in Northwest Junior College.

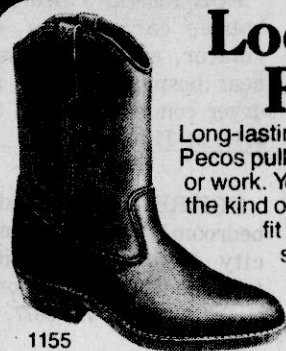

"Without a doubt this is the best looking football team that I've seen anywhere," Ward said.

"I'm sure a lot of senior colleges would like to have the quality of players that Northwest has."

"I'm not kidding," Ward added. "This is the meanest bunch of Rangers that I've seen in a long time and you can better bet that their record doesn't indicate the quality of players they possess."

Gametime for tonight's game has been moved up to 7:00. Make your plans to attend.....

SEC Briefs

Birmingham, Ala. - Two of the current Big Three in Southeastern Conference football collide Saturday. Alabama and Mississippi State fight it out Saturday at Tuscaloosa for the right to challenge Georgia for the 1981 SEC and, possibly, the national championship. Georgia is defending both titles, won in 1980.

Georgia and Alabama are 4-0 in SEC action and Miss. State is 3-0. The two Bulldog teams are 6-1 overall while the Crimson Tide is 6-1-1. Last Saturday State won a wing-dinger at Auburn 21-17, while Georgia kicked Kentucky 21-0 and Bama beat Rutgers 31-7. I the other SEC game, Vanderbilt beat Ole Miss for the first time ever in Oxford, 27-23. In others outside, Tennessee tagged Memphis State 28-9 and LSU lost to Fla. State 38-14.

This Saturday, as Alabama and Miss. State struggle, Florida, with only one SEC loss (2-1 and 5-2), invades Auburn determined to make the race a four-team affair. LSU and Ole Miss meet at Jackson in the other SEC game while Georgia hosts Temple. Kentucky entertains Virginia Tech and Vanderbilt has Memphis State in Nashville.

The record of SEC teams with schools outside the conference is now 21-15-1, a winning rate of 58.1 percent. They are 5-4 with the ACC, 2-1 with the SWC, 2-1 with the Pac-Ten, 2-0 with the WAC, 1-0 with the Southern and 9-6-1 with independents, but a flat 0-3 with the Big Eight for the accumulative 21-15-1.

The Big Three of the SEC all rate the AP Poll's eight this week. Georgia is fifth, Miss. State seventh and Alabama eighth. The first four are Penn State, Pitt, Clemson and Southern Cal, with Texas at number 6.

Alabama Passes Georgia In SEC Rushing Offense

Birmingham, Ala. Alabama rushed for 359 yards on Rutgers Saturday to wrest the Southern Southeastern Conference rushing leadership from Georgia, 292.7 yards per game to 279.4. The Bulldogs gain 4.7 yards per carry to Bama's 4.5 and have the most rushing TD's 16, to Miss. State's 14. Bama is number 8 nationally and Georgia number 10.

Georgia retained the lead in defense against rushing by holding Kentucky to 63 yards for a season average of 54.1 ypg, the second best rate in the nation. Miss. State is second in the SEC and fifth in the nation with 73.0. Georgia permits only 1.6 yards per play, and only one TD so far, to State's 2.1 yards and 2 TDs.

Vanderbilt and Kentucky Lead SEC Passing and Pass Defense

In the SEC passing game Vanderbilt continues atop the offense with 256.7 yards per game, and Kentucky the defense, yielding only 109.4 ypg. Vandy has thrown 12 TD passes and Kentucky has allowed only one.

For a lot of us, testing soil for nutrient needs is like getting immunized. We all know that the job needs to be done, but we always seem to find a way to put it off.

By soil testing now, you not only get the results back sooner to make lime and fertilizer decisions, you also beat the spring rush when you'll be busy getting ready to plant. The print-out will give you lime amounts you need to correct soil acidity and fertilizer needs for your particular crops. If you suspect nematode problems, you can have a test for that, too.

Soil testing is a free service of the Extension Soil Testing Department at Mississippi State University. We have all the materials and details you need here at the county Extension office. All you have to do is take the sample and send it in.

SAVE LEAVES FOR MULCH

FOR MULCH
Do you consider falling leaves or pine straw in your yard to be a nuisance? Put these materials to good use by saving them for mulching around flowers, shrubs and young shade trees.

A four to six-inch layer of mulch around flowers and shrubs will protect the delicate roots from freezing this winter and from getting too hot next summer. Mulching helps conserve soil moisture for plant roots. This will reduce your watering chores next summer and fall. It also reduces weed problems by serving as a barrier to weeds.

Keep the mulch and the planting area moist during dry periods to avoid the danger of fire around wooden structures and homes.

FARMWEEK

On Nov. 2 Farmweek looks at ways farmers can meet their equipment needs. Reporter James Booth analyzes the options available to farmers by renting, buying or custom hiring.

Booth talks with Delta farmers and agribusinessmen about the advantages and economics of each system. The program will be broadcast on Monday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 p.m. on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

then select the proper herbicides to control these weeds.

Weed control programs that work usually include a knock-down herbicide, two or more pre-emergence herbicides and two or more post-emergence herbicides. Remember to check soil texture and organic matter before applying herbicides.

A well balanced soil fertility program is also an absolute must for no-till farming. In most cases, no-till farming is done behind a winter wheat crop. If you are planting wheat this fall and plan to no-till next spring, apply the needed amount of lime, phosphorus and potash and incorporate this fall. A well balanced soil fertility program is needed in order for the no-till crop to grow off fast and provide ground cover as soon as possible.

in fall are planning wheat this fall with the intentions of no-tilling next spring, remember to select land that is free from hard to kill perennial weeds such as Johnsongrass, common bermudagrass, and bahiagrass, develop a good weed control program directed toward your weed problems, and apply all needed lime, phosphate, and potash this fall.

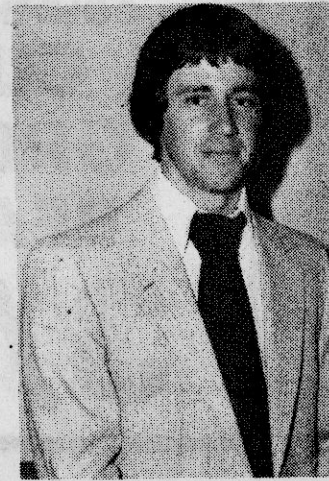

For more information on no-till farming, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Booneville or call 728-3544.

Student Teaching

Ricky Wayne Gillentine of Booneville will soon begin student teaching, the final phase in teacher education at The University of Mississippi.

Education students participating in the student teaching program are assigned to a public school and assume responsibility for planning and teaching the course under the direction of a cooperating teacher.

Gillentine will begin teaching physical education at Green Street Elementary School in Tupelo.
