Local Authorities Uncover Theft Ring

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Local law authorities, acting on a tip from the Tishomingo County Sheriff, raided a house in the Big V Community Monday afternoon and recovered several thousand dollars worth of merchandise stolen from a six county area.

Prentiss County authorities arrested five men who are suspected members of a burglary ring that has been operating in the area for the past two months. Additional arrests are expected, officers said.

The five men charged with burglary and grand larceny are Lloyd Lambert, 25, of Route 5, Booneville; Bobby Ray Deviney, 31, of Route 5, Booneville; Kenneth Earl Trimble, 20, of Manassas Park, Vir.; Thomas Lynn Trimble, 19, of Route 5, Booneville; and Dearn Edward Trimble, 21, of Memphis.

Arrests were not made until late Monday night and early Tuesday morning. The Trimble brothers were arrested at their grandmother's residence in the Jacinto area and Deviney and Lambert were found at homes in the Big V community, said Prentiss County Deputy Sheriff Carl Sartin.

The suspects are being held without bond because the case is still under investigation, he said.

Law authorities recovered five carloads of items, including 31 guns, two television sets, three large garbage bags of frozen food, canned food, jewelry, hand tools, cb's, stereos, knives, and guitars. Two guns and two pistols believed to be stolen by the suspects were later recovered at a pawn shop in Corinth by the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department.

Tuesday afternoon authorities returned to the rented house, located about 1½ miles east of Booneville, and picked up shotgun shells, jewelry, clothing, and a TV that had been overlooked Monday afternoon, Sartin said.

Tishomingo County Sheriff Amos Bates said about 90 percent of the guns were still loaded with am-

Work Begins In January

Baldwyn Hospital To Expand

A new radiology facility at the Baldwin unit of the North Mississippi Medical Center should reduce by more than half the number of patients that have to be transported to the main unit in Tupelo for x-rays, according to NMMC assistant administrator Eddie Foster.

The new x-ray facility is part of a planned $263,228 expansion and renovation project at the NMMC satellite unit in Baldwin. Work on the project is scheduled to begin in January 1982 and is expected to take about four months to complete.

Because NMMC's Plant Engineering Department will supervise the project, the renovation will be accomplished at an approximate 10-15 percent savings, Foster said.

"One of our goals this past year was a feasibility study of the expansion of the Radiology and Physical Therapy facilities at the Baldwin Hospital," he said. "A part of the study included a survey which indicated a community desire to see these facilities expanded."

To provide the new radiology capability at the Baldwyn hospital, two fully equipped radiographic-fluoroscopic rooms will be added that will enable the hospital to produce all types of routine diagnostic x-rays, Foster said. Highly specialized procedures, such as CAT scanning, will continue to be available at the Tupelo unit.

Pontotoc Jail Escapees Captured After 2 Days

A Booneville man was one of two inmates who escaped from the Pontotoc County jail early Wednesday morning of last week.

After two days of freedom, James Reeves, 31, of Booneville and Thomas Smith, 40, of Tupelo were found by deputies and Pontotoc police at approximately 7 p.m. last Thursday in an old grocery store and house just inside the Pontotoc County line.

The two prisoners had reportedly used a hacksaw blade to saw through the bars of their cell sometime between 2:30 and 3 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 23. However, they were not discovered to be missing until about 5:30 a.m.

Officers said they had no indication as to how the prisoners obtained the saw blade.

The escape of the two prisoners sparked a manhunt in which all neighboring counties assisted, Pontotoc officials said.

A Look Back At 1981

The year 1981 was an eventful one for Booneville and Prentiss County.

Nationwide, the economy suffered from run-away inflation, high interest rates and high unemployment rates. And although 1981 could not actually be considered a "boom year for Prentiss County, there were indications that things might be improving. For example, two local industries chose 1981 to announce the planned construction of major expansions in the Booneville-Prentiss County Industrial Park.

In other construction during 1981, Northeast Junior College completed a major renovation of its football stadium and began construction of two new dormitories.

Possibly as a result of the economically difficult times, 1981 saw a major increase in crime in Prentiss County, chiefly burglaries of private residences. There were also two murders in the county during 1981. There are still no suspects in one of them.

Local authorities feel they made a major breakthrough in the burglaries this week when they discovered a house near the Big V water tank that contained several car loads of merchandise stolen from Prentiss and surrounding counties. Several arrests have been made in that case.

But perhaps the one event during 1981 that will most affect the lives of Prentiss Countians was the signing of an agreement to affiliate by the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis and the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville. This one step could totally change the quality of medical care available for Prentiss Countians for many years to come.

These are just a few of the things that happened during the past year. The following is a month-by-month retrospect of some of the major events that occurred in Prentiss County in 1981:

January 1981

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors announced the appointment of Don Murphy, assistant manager of radio station WBIP, to the board of trustees of the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville.

Booneville High School head football coach Mac Curlee announced his resignation from the coaching ranks to assume fulltime duties as Booneville High School Principal.

February 1981

Charles Gullett was named the new Booneville High School football coach for the 1981 season.

Sharon Gifford, a senior at Thrasher High School, competed in New York City with four other girls for the title of All-American Girl of the Year. The contest was sponsored by TEEN magazine and the Noxell Corporation.

The city of Booneville was notified that its application had been approved for a $3,500 federal grant to be used in the purchase of the "Jaws of Life," a device that officials said should reduce traffic accident deaths by 10 percent during 1981. The only other towns in this area to have the important piece of equipment are New Albany and Holly Springs.

forcement officials apprehended Smith and Reeves about 7 p.m. Thursday. The escapees reportedly offered no resistance when police crashed through the doors of the building.

Although a family was living in the store, they were not present at the time of the arrest and officers said they may not have been aware of the prisoner's brief stay there.

When apprehended, the prisoners were cold and muddy, officers said.

At the time of the escape, Reeves was being held on six counts of burglary and larceny. Smith was awaiting trial on 10 counts of armed robbery, one count of attempted kidnapping and one count of disrupting a worship service.

The charge against Smith on disrupting a worship service stems from an attempted robbery on Aug. 30 off the congregation at Pleasant Grove Church in Pontotoc county, officials said.

A Look Back

The Wheeler Eagles and Thrasher Rebelettes claimed honors in the District B Tournament in Baldwin. The Eagles who were undefeated and ranked first in the state, kept their unblemished mark intact with a slim 73-71 win over the Thrasher Rebels. Thrasher's Rebelettes claimed district honors with a 52-46 victory over Jumpertown's Cardinales.

A former Booneville resident, Dr. Robert Hamblin, who is now a professor in Missouri, was named Alumnus of the Year for 1981 by the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Alumni Association.

ABOUT ARTHRITIS

A patient's will, determination and desire, and the skill of an understanding doctor, frequently make a more powerful combination in overcoming pain and crippling effects of arthritis than any drug available today.

Increasing numbers of the estimated 20 million sufferers of arthritis in the United States are turning to chiropractic doctors for relief. The vast majority have either osteoarthritis, a "wear-and-tear" disease of joints most common in those over 50; or rheumatoid arthritis, characterized by swelling of various joints that occasionally leads to deformities and disability.

The chiropractic doctor usually takes a multi-pronged approach in treating arthritic conditions, in addition to regular adjustments which can provide significant relief. These include carefully programmed mild exercise, improvement of posture, weight reduction when indicated, individualized diet with appropriate nutritional supplements, heat therapy, and counseling in lifestyle adjustments to alleviate arthritic pain.

With these approaches, sufferers can move away from drug dependence toward more pain-free, less crippling, lives.

BIBLE
BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, how do people call on the name of the Lord?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: In Rom. 10:12, Paul says, "For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek. For the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." So the Bible plainly says that if one calls upon HIS name he shall be saved. But how does one call on him? The text says, "How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed; and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? In verse 16, (But they have not all obeyed the gospel). For Esaias saith, "Lord, who hath believed our report? You will note that Paul says they have not all obeyed the gospel. Therefore to call on the name of the Lord is the same as obeying the gospel. We know that saying "Lord, Lord" is not calling on the name of the Lord because Jesus said, "Not everyone that saith unto me Lord, Lord shall enter the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my father which is in heaven." (Matt. 7:21). In Acts 22, Paul was told to "Arise and be baptized and wash away thy sins calling on the name of the Lord." Therefore since being baptized is a part of the gospel one calls on the name of the Lord when he obeys the gospel.

Public Hearing Set
On Tenn-Tom Waterway

A public meeting will be held in Columbus on Jan. 23 concerning the draft of a supplemental environmental impact statement for the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

The supplement is a followup of the final environmental impact statement filed with the Council of Environmental Quality on April 20, 1971.

In November 1978, a legal challenge was initiated against the waterway by the L&N Railroad. The Environmental Defense Fund and others joined L&N in that suit.

On July 13, 1981, the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals issued an opinion which directed the U.S. Corps of Engineers to prepare a supplement to the original impact statement.

This supplement was to cover four major changes in the design and economic projections for the waterway which have occurred since the 1971 statement was prepared.

The supplement was prepared and filed with the Environmental Protection Agency on Nov. 27.

The meeting in Columbus on Jan. 23 will allow the public to comment on this supplemental statement. Officials say the 500-page statement could be subject to change, pending the outcome of that meeting.

YOUR OPTICAL CENTER

When your eye doctor prescribes glasses or contact lenses for you he will be giving professional attention to your exact point of viewing.

The optical center of the lens is a tiny point positioned directly in front of your pupil. This is the point at which light passes through your eye on its way to the retina. If the image is clear, the retina sends a clear picture to the brain. Then you know exactly what you're seeing but you can't get a clear image unless the light is bent correctly. That's what corrective lenses do. They bend the light just enough to create a clear image.

Usually both eyes need correcting but never in exactly the same way. Each lens has to be specially ground to correct the vision problems in each eye.

Glasses or contact lenses will not cure any structural errors in your eyes but they will make it possible for you to see clearly and comfortably.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office

J.R.'S MAMA'S SHOES - Mrs. Mary McVey of Booneville owns this pair of shoes which once belonged to Mary Martin, an actress who worked her way to stardom in the movies in Hollywood in 1935. Miss Martin, who is the real-life mother of Larry Hagman who portrays the villainous J.R. Ewing in the current TV series "Dallas," was probably best known for her stage and TV portrayal of "Peter Pan." Mrs. Martin's mother, known affectionately as "Mother Willis," gave the shoes to Mrs. McVey in 1962. Mother Willis and Mrs. McVey were next door neighbors and attended the same Sunday School class - "she the teacher and I the secretary." "She gave me these shoes because she knew I would wear them and think of her," Mrs. McVey said of her friend. Pictured with the shoes is Glenn Storey, Mrs. McVey's great-niece.

Members Nominated To Local Draft Board

Gov. William Winter has nominated to President Ronald Reagan 134 Mississippians to serve on the 24 local boards of the Selective Service in the state.

"All selectees are volunteers who have agreed to serve their state and nation in this most important assignment," the governor said. "Their willingness to serve as a member of the local board and to participate in a training program will guarantee fair and equitable treatment to those individuals served by the board."

Prentiss County is one of five counties under the jurisdiction of Local Board No. 4 of the Selective Service. Other counties in the same district are Benton, Tishomingo, Alcorn and Tishomingo.

Nominated by Gov. Winter to serve on Local Board No. 4 are: Gardner Leon Fields and Clinton Dale Padem, Corinth, Alcorn County; Robert Joseph Leak, Lamar, Benton County; Sally Pearl Taylor, Booneville, Prentiss County; David Earl Kent, Ripley, Tippah County; and Billy E. Martin, Belmont, Tishomingo County.

According to Gov. Winter, the appointment of members to the Standby Local Boards was part of the revitalization of the Selective Service in the U.S. Edgar F. Rapp Jr., state director of Selective Service, said the appointment of local board members followed the recent establishment of boundaries for the nine area offices and 24 local boards in the revitalization process.

He said the area offices would be activated and the local boards begin hearing procedures for deferments and exemptions only in the event of a national emergency during which Congress authorizes the activation of the Selective Service System.

Rapp said the training program for local board members will be conducted during the early part of 1982 at various clinics around the state. Details will be announced later, he said.

Padgett Sentenced To Six Months

A Prentiss County man, convicted last month of overvaluing a stolen truck on a credit association loan application, was sentenced to six months in jail by a federal judge in Aberdeen.

Howard M. Padgett of Jumpertown had been convicted by a federal court jury of one count of a five-count indictment. Judge L.T. Senter Jr. dismissed one count during the trial and the jury could not reach a verdict on the remaining three counts.

Padgett was convicted of offering a stolen truck as collateral for a $20,000 loan he was trying to obtain from the Northeast Mississippi Production Credit Association. He claimed the truck was worth $22,000 when its salvage value was only $2,500.

The judge told Padgett it was difficult to pass a sentence, particularly since he felt the defendant was forced into a "coverup" situation.

"But we can't get around the fact that some way or another you had some connection with those stolen vehicles," Senter said.

In addition to the jail term, Padgett was placed on four years probation. He also faces related charges next month in Memphis.

BOONEVILLE'S GREATEST TRAGEDY

"Christmas has brought happiness and good cheer; it has also brought sadness and sorrow. It has reminded us of life as it is. Booneville has experienced its greatest tragedy perhaps." - Dr. W.H. Anderson, The Booneville Independent, Dec. 28, 1950.

It happened on Friday night, Dec. 22, 1950. U.S. troops had only recently been used in the police action in Korea for the first time when "war and all its horrors were brought home to the citizens of Prentiss County."

Apparently a group of guardsmen at the National Guard Armory in Booneville were using gasoline to clean equipment in preparation for an anticipated call to active duty. Fumes from the high octane gas are believed to have been ignited by a gas heater in the small room in which the men were working.

The resultant explosion and blaze killed two of the guardsmen instantly. Five others died later of the injuries they suffered that night.

Killed instantly were Sgt. Charles Owen Fugitt, 21, and Cpl. William Howard Duncan, 31, both of Booneville. Those who died the next day were Hugh Thomas Weatherbee, 18, of Rienzi; Freddie Fulghum, 18, of Booneville; Billy W. Mooney, 18, of Thrasher; James Ray Robinson, 19, of Thrasher; and Lawrence Sidney Burks, 30, of Thrasher.

Three other guardsmen were seriously burned in the accident and were taken to Kennedy Veterans Hospital in Memphis for treatment. They were Harmon Barron, 28, of Booneville; Norman Ford, 27, of Baldwyn; and William R. Spencer, 26, of Booneville. Hardy Prentiss, 25, of Booneville was also injured in the explosion but was released from the hospital following two days of treatment for burns and shock.

According to the report in the Independent: "To the town that was expecting a merry Christmas, the blast death toll brought sudden sorrow into many homes of families and friends that were already decked out for the holidays."

"The facilities of the Northeast Mississippi Hospital were taxed to the fullest by the tragedy and had to summon doctors and nurses from the surrounding area to lend their assistance in giving the injured guardsmen all possible medical care. Several private nurses of this section also offered their services."

Services for five of the men killed were held the following Sunday in Booneville, while services for the other two were held in Rienzi and Thrasher.

Unfortunately, not all Christmas stories have happy endings.

MISSISSIPPI LAWYER IN ATLANTA

For the next few weeks, the Atlanta murder trial of Wayne B. Williams will be making headlines across the nation. Williams is charged with killing two of the 28 young blacks murdered in Atlanta. The trial began Monday.

One of the attorneys working on Williams defense is the 52-year-old Mississippi attorney, Alvin Binder. Binder joined the defense team in October after chief defense attorney Mary Welcome fired attorney Tony Axam in a dispute over strategy.

The Mississippi attorney has represented several well-known political figures, including former Mississippi governor Cliff Finch. However, he and other members of Williams' defense team are said to have limited murder trial experience.

But, Binder's slow speech and "folksy" demeanor are said to conceal his considerable defense skills.

By the way, Binder is married to a native of Booneville, the former Nancy Geno.

Eyes On Mississippi

State's Libraries Need More Books

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.-In the academic world, the quality of a university is not judged by its won-lost record on the gridiron, or how many spectators it lures into its stadium, or where it stands in the Top 10. It's how many volumes and periodicals it maintains in the library.

Unfortunately, Mississippi's eight institutions of higher learning are hardly in the same league with their sister institutions around the South in terms of library holdings. And even more startling is the size of the deficiencies in the libraries of the Mississippi universities under accepted minimum standards for universities and colleges.

A recent audit of combined library holdings in Mississippi's state supported universities showed a total of 3,630,897 volumes in all eight institutions.

That figure, however, is a whopping 3,387,920 volumes short of the standards set by the Association of College and Research Libraries, the nationally accepted review agency in the field of higher education. The ACRL standards would require that all Mississippi universities have 7,018,817 volumes as of July 1, 1982.

The inadequacies of university libraries in Mississippi weren't just discovered. They were pointed out some 12 years ago in accreditation reviews and the State College Board was put on notice that Mississippi would have to show substantial progress at making a library catch-up or the standing of its institutions may be in jeopardy.

For several years thereafter, the College Board started asking for a separate library catch-up appropriation from the legislature, but the lawmakers, who better understand winning records on the football field than library deficiencies, grudgingly gave the board only part of what it asked for the library catch-up.

Even that effort by the legislature was reduced to a trickle during the mid-1970's when revenues started to get tighter and the cost of library volumes began to increase even faster than the inflation rate.

So, the Mississippi institutions during the '70s, while adding 1.5 million volumes to their libraries, still were not gaining ground on overcoming the deficit in the holdings they needed to come up to ACRL standards and generally fell behind the pace of what other Southern universities were doing to improve their libraries.

Since 1979, the College Board has gone to the legislature with a five-year plan to add at least 100,000 volumes a year to the eight university libraries. That plan calls for both special catch-up funds being supplied by the lawmakers, plus a requirement that the university also utilize a certain amount of their general support funds for increasing their library holdings.

This year, the state's universities have had their best catch-up year ever, adding 125,249 volumes, and the year before, they added slightly over 100,000 volumes.

But in the State Budget

Commission's proposed budget for Fiscal Year 1983, the amount of money for the library catch-up at the eight state universities has been cut in two. Based on the original plan of adding 100,000 volumes a year, it

Jumpertown Parade Growing

Dear Editor:

The Banner-Independent has made it possible the last few years for the citizens of the Jumpertown community to share their spirit of Christmas with fellow Prentiss Countians. Thanks to your support and coverage of the Christmas parade, it has grown into an expected annual affair in which the young and old can participate.

When others scoffed at the idea of a small community, such as Jumpertown presenting a Christmas parade, you, The Banner-Independent, sent a photographer and provided liberal coverage which has enabled the parade to grow in size and spirit. On behalf of myself and, I'm sure, the other citizens of Jumpertown, I want to assure you that your support has not gone unnoticed. A sincere thank you from the Jumpertown community.

'81 started off great, when they set the hostages free
And Ronnie and Nancy gave us new hope for the economy!
But, you know, some things are easier said than done
And balancing the budget while cutting taxes was certainly one!
And so, Reagan's been cussed, discussed shot at and hit
But, ol' Ron just says, "Quitters never win and winners never quit!"

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

William and Kate Anderson of New Orleans seemed happy to be in Prentiss County this past weekend to spend part of the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Anderson's mother, Mrs. R.H. Kelly of Blackland.

The Andersons just recently returned from Tripoli, Libya, where Mr. Anderson worked for the last 16 months as an auditor with Mobile Oil Company.

The couple left Libya when the Reagan administration, trying to avert another Iranian-type hostage crisis, urged the 1,500 Americans in Libya to leave as soon as possible.

"We heard that the President had invited us to leave voluntarily over BBC and also on the American Forces Radio. Then the next day Mobile reacted to it and made preparations for leaving. That must have been Thursday and we left Monday. So it was rather a hasty notice," Mr. Anderson said.

"A lot of people didn't think it was necessary to leave. They weren't aware of any threat to their safety. We weren't aware of any—certainly not from the local people. But we don't know what the President knew as far as what might happen in the future from outsiders such as Israel, Chad, Egypt or one of the other countries," he said.

Anderson said some Americans still remain in Libya but that they are supposed to leave the country next month.

He noted that although the American oil companies had a great deal of money invested in Libya, the oil companies adhered to the requests of President Reagan by leaving.

The Andersons gave some of the following examples of what life in Libya was like.

—Sometimes when people returned to their homes, it was only to find that another family had moved in and locked them out. This practice was okayed by the Libyan Housing Authority.

—There is no free enterprise in Libya. All businesses are owned and operated by the government—headed by Col. Khadafi.

—In Libya policemen don't write tickets for illegal parking...they simply let the air out of tires. (Of course, the cars continued to block traffic while people searched for pumps to pump up their flat tires.)

—Every cut of meat was the same price. Flour cost $3.4 for 100 lbs. and 100 lbs. of sugar was about $6. A loaf of bread cost about the equivalent of 10 cents. Foods they ate were vegetables, beef, sheep, and sometimes camel. (Recipe for cook camel? "Just put it in the oven and bake it!") And Mrs. Anderson said it was often difficult to find canned goods in the grocery store.

—Libyan marriages are planned by the families. "It's very hard for a man to get married. He has to have about $10,000 worth of gold in case he divorces his wife. The man can divorce the woman without cause, so for her security she receives gold before the marriage."

Marriages are only held on one day of the week—Thursday. Men can have up to four wives. (But they usually don't.) "However, one little boy in school said his daddy had three wives and that he had 19 brothers and sisters," Mrs. Anderson said.

—There were two hours each night of American-speaking television programs. "Dallas" could even be watched in Libya. But mostly the TV fare was old reruns of programs like "I Love Lucy" and "The Brady Bunch."

—No alcoholic beverages were served in Libya. "Locals weren't 100 percent convinced that abstinence from alcohol was the right path. They grow a lot of grapes there. One man told me, 'You crush the grapes, put the juice in a container and put it in the heat and you wait for awhile. You can't make wine here but if you let the grapes set there long enough, it's all right!'" Mr. Anderson said.

—Work days were Sunday through Thursday. Church day was Friday.

Mrs. Anderson said she especially enjoyed traveling to Malta, Rome, Athens, and London while she was in Libya.

The both said they enjoyed the weather in Libya, meeting the people, and going to the beach on weekends. But they indicated the best part about going to Libya was returning to the United States.

Meanwhile the Andersons are busy buying Mr. Anderson some new clothes. It seems his luggage was lost during the return trip!

STORING UP- Does our furry friend know something that we don't? For The New Year

Resolve To Kick The Smoking Habit

Making New Year's Resolutions? The Mississippi Lung Association suggests that if you smoke, you may wish to "kick the habit."

There is nothing healthy about inhaling hot smoke into your lungs and there is much to be gained by quitting.

During the last three years, one million Americans died prematurely with cigarette smoking-related illnesses. If you are 30-35 and smoke two packs of cigarettes a day, your life expectancy is 8-9 years shorter than a non-smoker.

Safety and economics also enter the picture. Smoking is the number one cause of fires in the U.S. today. And moneywise, if you smoke a pack and a half a day, you are sending $400 to $800 a year up in smoke!

If you would like to quit smoking, you may wish to follow the following tips to join the many Mississippians who have become free of the tobacco habit. If you don't smoke, perhaps you could help a friend "kick the habit."

- 1) Set a goal date for quitting and make this fact known.
- 2) Eliminate available sources of cigarettes - make it very difficult (or better still, impossible) to find a cigarette.
- 3) Remove reminders such as ashtrays, lighters and matches.
- 4) Be enthusiastic about your project - you are learning to be a nonsmoker - and the benefits are many.

- 5) Keep in mind positive aspects of not smoking - money saved, better breathing, a new opportunity for better health.
- 6) Keep chewing gum, fruit or low-cal candy ready - to offset reaching for a cigarette.
- 7) Get moral support from others who have successfully quit smoking - and be proud of your success in your endeavor.
- 8) Learn more about helping yourself to better "life and breath."

So, consider giving yourself the "gift of quitting" cigarettes this holiday season - and for free information on smoking cessation, contact the Mississippi Lung Association, P. O. Box 9865, Jackson, Ms. 39206. Happy New Year!

Museum Association To Host 'Star Gazes'

The Northeast Mississippi Museum Association (NEMMA) in Corinth is inviting area communities to host one of its monthly Star Gazes.

In January, Kossuth Elementary School will host a special star event in a "school-after-school" program. Students will share their astronomical understandings with parents and friends during the Star Gaze program.

In February, students in the Gifted Program in New Albany and their families will hold a special Chinese New Year Star Gaze.

Any school or community group wishing to host a Star Gaze in their area should contact Museum Trustee Horace K. Frost at NEMMA, Box 993, Corinth, MS. 38834.

Star Gazes are held each month on the Friday or Saturday nearest the New Moon. After the New Moon, Star Gazers are treated to a good look at the mountains on the moon's thin crescent.

Star Gazes are a free monthly, public service of the Museum. They are funded in part by a grant from the Institute of Museum Services. The Institute helps support the operation of our country's museums.

NEMMA is funded locally through memberships and contributions.

State's Libraries

would take 20 years for Mississippi to have enough volumes in its college libraries to meet the requirements.

If the catchup is cut in half, says Dr. Jim Meredith, director of the Mississippi Research and Development center, who is coordinating the library efforts of the College Board, "it will take us 50 years to ever bring our library holdings up to what they should be."

Here are the current library holdings at each of the state's universities, and the number of additional volumes they need to meet ACRL standards (in parentheses): Mississippi State, 926,820 (723,546); Ole Miss (including law), 805,530 (989,347); USM, 664,950 (814,615); Jackson State, 362,558 (234,184); Delta State, 287,464 (357,629); MUW, 289,000 (47,490); Alcorn State, 183,629 (131,251); Mississippi Valley, 110,946 (89,858).

The library holdings for the bigger Mississippi institutions pale in comparison with their colleagues around the South with whom they compete in athletic events. For instance, whereas Mississippi State has 900,000 volumes and Ole Miss 800,000, L.S.U. (as of June 30, 1980), had 1,822,000 volumes in its library; Tennessee, 1,356,000; Kentucky, 1,636,000; Florida, 1,800,000; South Carolina, 1,622,000; North Carolina, 2,225,000. Duke University, with more than 3 million volumes in its library, has practically the same number of volumes as all the institutions of higher learning in Mississippi.

The story of quality of libraries is not just in the volumes they hold, but also in the number of periodicals they carry. Here, again, the Mississippi institutions fall way behind. While Ole Miss carries 4,650 periodicals, and Mississippi State 8,601, L.S.U. carries 18,500; Kentucky, 31,800; Tennessee, 21,800; Florida, 21,800; North Carolina, 28,200; and so on.

Christmas day has passed and the weather was all that could be desired - fair and pleasant.

Many families were gathered at the home places for fellowship with loved ones, to enjoy traditional foods and extras, to exchange gifts and to reminisce.

It was truly great for the V.L. Coats family - all eight children, the 14 grandchildren, the in-laws and two very close friends of the young people were here. There were 31, all told.

After the delicious meal at 6 p.m., gifts were passed out and some pictures made.

Then the two daughters, two of the sons and two granddaughters got together to sing. We had only three books, but I joined in singing from memory.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes and Jack drove to Booneville and had dinner with their daughter, Mrs. Arletta Geno, along with a host of their other relatives. Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wilson, Steve and Doug visited with his mother, Mrs. Irene Wilson, in Booneville during the holidays. They visited with Buck and Mae: Eldridge, also, and with the Lynn Coats family and with us.

Those reported sick at church services on Dec. 27 were Louise Pannell, Betty Coats and Delma Frame.

Aunt Myrtle Harris is seriously ill in the local hospital, room 206. She is very weak and stays nauseated. Let's pray for the sick and try to be of service.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Myrtle Stephens whose mother, Mrs. Minnie Houston, died last week; and to her other children and relatives. Her funeral was at McMillan's Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

The following is a poem sent to the TV Guide by Mrs. Tracie M. Brown of Lewisburg, Tenn.:

Time

Another year is almost at an end,
Now it's time for a New Year to begin-
Time to forget the old and ring in the new:
Time to stop thinking of me and start remembering you;

Time to start a new life and leave the old one behind;
Time to look for the new things in life you may find;
Time to reach the destinies you didn't quite make in the past;
Time to find out what they are and make them last.

But most of all it's time to think of our Creator and what life would be if he hadn't died on the cross for you and me.

Without Him there wouldn't be a New Year and we'd have everything to fear.

But with Him there's no need to worry because He's always near.

Even when you and I are gone,
Jesus Christ, our Lord will keep living on.

Visitors at services Sunday, Dec. 27, were Mr. and Mrs. Brian Doyle of Madisonville, Ky., and Betty Crabb from Okolona. She is a niece of Mrs. Gladys Kennedy.

I know the many parents are so glad Christmas is over.

On Christmas Eve it's such an exciting time of the year. Late at night many cars start traveling going from place to place picking up toys and gifts for Christmas.

The most precious thing of all is the little children.

They're so excited, they just can't sleep. Being a parent, I'm excited just knowing how excited the many children are.

This Christmas brought happiness to many families and to some families it brought sad news.

We would just like to express our sympathy to the Shinault family. Death knocked on Smiley Shinault's door and carried him around. We know this is a sad hour for his wife, children, and the rest of the family. The main thing we can do is pray and ask the Lord to guide them through this hour.

The Rescue Squad had to pick up Mrs. Hinton Taylor and carry her to Northeast Mississippi Hospital. We're also praying for her to soon recover and return home to her family. Our prayers are especially with these families in these hours.

Saturday evening, the candles were lighted, which were the highlights of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Anthony Miller's wedding. We continue to pray for their happiness and a very successful life ahead.

After the end of the wedding, they had a surprise birthday dinner for Mrs. Virginia Miller.

Mrs. Melissa Dean was trying to get everyone's attention to get them quiet for a minute and Mrs. Miller was busy helping her not knowing what was coming up next. Then Mrs. Dean led the congregation in "Happy Birthday," which really was a surprise to Mrs. Miller.

On Christmas Day many, many years ago, a baby boy was born into the world to bring love, peace, and joy to all mankind. This is what Christmas is all about. Of all the gifts that can be exchanged or just given away, the greatest of these gifts is "love."

One of the greatest commandments is "Love your neighbor as yourself." When we do this, this is one of the greatest miracles that has ever been worked in our lives.

As the new year fast approaches, we should make one goal in our heart-that we will love our neighbor as ourself. If we love one another that is the more we love Jesus whom we have never seen and hate our boy whom we see daily? It's impossible.

On New Year's Eve if you don't have any place to go, the Holiness Church will be having services beginning at 9 p.m. Everyone is invited to come.

Every year has its numbers and the year's end is fast approaching. Who knows who will be next? People, let's get ready.

Wishing everyone a very happy and prosperous New Year. May God bless each and every reader.

"Til next year and week,
"Love ye one another."

Happy
New Year!

The Prentiss County Shrine Club held their annual Christmas party Dec. 19 at the Sportsman's Lodge.

Noble Ewell Wright gave the invocation, after which a meal prepared by the ladies, was served.

After a short business session, a slate of officers for 1981-82 was presented. They are Bill Ward, president; Ewell Wright, vice-president; and Robert Baygents, secretary.

The members exchanged gifts during the party.

Those present were Mrs. Louise Peeler; Mrs. Marion Smith; William E. Vinson; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bourne; Mr. and Mrs. Eston Stevens and granddaughter, Monica; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Miller; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ward; Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Wright; Mr. and Mrs.

Robert Baygents; Mr. and Mrs. Winford Dawson; Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Honeycutt; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill White.

Not only did David spend Christmas in the hospital, but he also celebrated his birthday there

1981--A Photographic Retrospect

UP IN SMOKE - The old Brown Plumbing building in downtown Booneville, thought to have been built around the turn of the century, burned in the early morning hours of Oct. 28. The fire totally gutted the building and by week's end it had been leveled to the ground. The exact cause of the fire was never determined.

COLLAPSED - Being struck by arsonists twice in less than a week was too much for this wooden and creosote bridge over the Little Hatchie River on Highway 4 between Booneville and Ripley, so it proceeded to collapse. Damages to the bridge were estimated at $1 million. Although a temporary bridge has been erected at the river for local traffic, a detour is still in effect for the majority of the traffic.

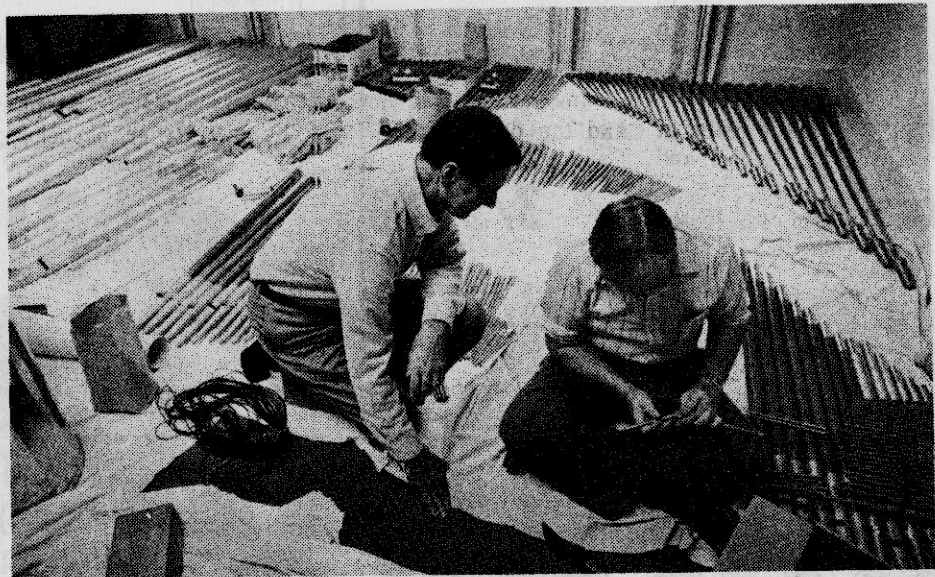

HOPING FOR OCCUPANTS - The summer of 1981 saw the completion of a new access road for the Booneville-Prentiss County Industrial Park. In December, the Research and Development Center in Jackson approved the park as having met the qualifications for the Key Community program being sponsored by the state. Hal Walters, an industrial analyst with the R&D Center, said he feels the Booneville-Prentiss County Industrial Park ranks in the top five of the 231 such parks in the state.

JUST CLOWNING AROUND - Oneta Cole (right), a local artist, and Angela Burcham demonstrate the finer points of clown makeup during the Junior Auxiliary-sponsored "Circus" at the Booneville Community Center on July 18. The presentation of the circus was the culmination of five days of rehearsing, set building, and costume making by the 47 participants in the children's workshop.

NOT JUST HOT AIR - Dam Warmbrod (left), organist at the First Methodist Church in Booneville, and Dan Nealon of the R.G. Capra company of Memphis are surrounded by some of the approximately 1,000 pipes of the church's 34-year-old pipe organ. The organ was dismantled for routine repairs and to install additional pipes to give it a fuller sound....And there was not a single pipe left over when they put it back together!

Ken Christian

'NEITHER RAIN, NOR...' - Despite the rain, the Uptown Merchants Association was determined to have a promotional drawing in Booneville as advertised on Saturday afternoon, April 4. Jimmy Jones (left), Kenny Goddard (back) and Marshall Dickerson (right) look on as Sol Threadgill draws the winning ticket for 100 gallons of free gasoline.

FATAL SHOOTING - In what authorities said they believed was a planned shooting, Willie Henry Hurd of Prentiss County was gunned down in his Ford pickup near the Prentiss Drive-In Theatre on the morning of April 21 as he drove into Booneville to work. Few clues developed and the case is still unsolved.

DUMP-ED TRUCK-Tommy Garner and his father, Leland, discovered a new way to unload soybeans when their truck fell through a bridge on a gravel road between U.S. 45 and Rienzi on Nov. 15. Luckily, neither of the Garners were injured in the accident. A crane from a construction company in Corinth pulled the truck out of the creek the next day.

MID-DAY FEEDING - Betty Warren, an employee of the Medical Clinic in Booneville, feeds a baby squirrel found in the woods by her 14-year-old son, Bill. Nicknamed "Woodrow" by the nurses at the clinic, the furry creature created quite a stir among the staff and visitors. Unfortunately, Woodrow died a few days after this photo was taken.

For Timber

Prices Will Continue To Rise

By JOHN STUART
County Forester

People who own timber won't have to worry where their next meal is coming from, predicts Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette, a brokerage firm in New York City. The firm predicts "extraordinary growth of timber prices" through 2030, based on rising demand for wood fiber both in North America and abroad. Indeed, owning timber hasn't been a bad deal since 1800, the firm said. Since then, lumber prices have risen 1.7 percent more than general inflation. Since 1910, stumpage prices have outpaced inflation by more than 3 percent. DL&J explains that strong demand for wood products pulls both lumber and stumpage prices up, and demand-supply trends projected through 2030 indicate a rosy outlook for timber owners. Not only is the demand for wood burgeoning in the United States. Elsewhere, the problem is even worse because demand has outgrown forests' ability to produce. Sweden, Europe's major timber supplier, has overcut its forests and has been importing chips from the U.S. South since the mid-1970s. Russia has 57 percent of the world's standing softwood timber, but most of the trees are in hard-to-reach Siberia. The forests in western Russia have already been overcut. If the Soviet Union's oil consumption outgrows production as predicted, Russia will have to devote resources to energy projects instead of to Siberian forest development, DL&J predicts. The company notes that Japan imports two-thirds of its wood fiber, and China has moved into the world wood buyers' market. "In the forest-resource industry," the firm says, "the U.S. is the strongman internationally."

Tours Are A Part Of The 4-H Club Program

By EDWARD L. McWHIRTER
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

4-H CLUB TOURS
A 4-H club tour may be defined as a planned trip by an organized 4-H group of five or more 4-H'ers to a point or points of interest with specific educational objectives.

Tours are fun and educational. The club tour committee can generate lots of excitement and enthusiasm for project tours. Combine the serious learning experience and some recreational activity such as a picnic, swimming party, ballgame, movie or roller skating. Members will remember it as a highlight of the year.

There are many kinds of tours: project tours, marketing tours, tours relating to careers and production or research tours.

Project tours are visits to a member's home to inspect and hear the member talk about experiences in the project.

Marketing tours take members to places where products are sold, processed or transported.

Use Storage Space Wisely

By CLAUDE T. ROSS

FINDING MORE SPACE

Are you running out of space in your home? Closets bulging? Cabinets with too many things stacked on top of each other? Can't find anything in the attic? Have you been called a pack rat?

Before you call in a contractor and start to build on another room, take a good look at what you have stored. Is all of it worth keeping? Items that are used and those that are of sentimental value are worth the space they occupy.

Think about all the other items you are keeping: the empty boxes you are saving. Some can be used for packages, but many are not the right shape or size. Keep a few empty jars, but cull the surplus. Do you have odds and ends of dishes and glasses that you never use. Discard them.

It takes stern self-discipline for those who are "gatherers" to eliminate the unused. How often have we heard "I'll use it someday." In the meantime "it" is occupying valuable space in your house and making it harder for you to find space for the useful items.

With space a premium in many homes, we need to be more discriminating in what we choose to keep and store in our homes.

"KEEP IT CLEAN"

Permanent press garments are less likely to need touch-up ironing if removed from an automatic dryer promptly when tumbling stops. Dryers with permanent press settings have an automatic 10 minute cool-down period which discourages wrinkles.

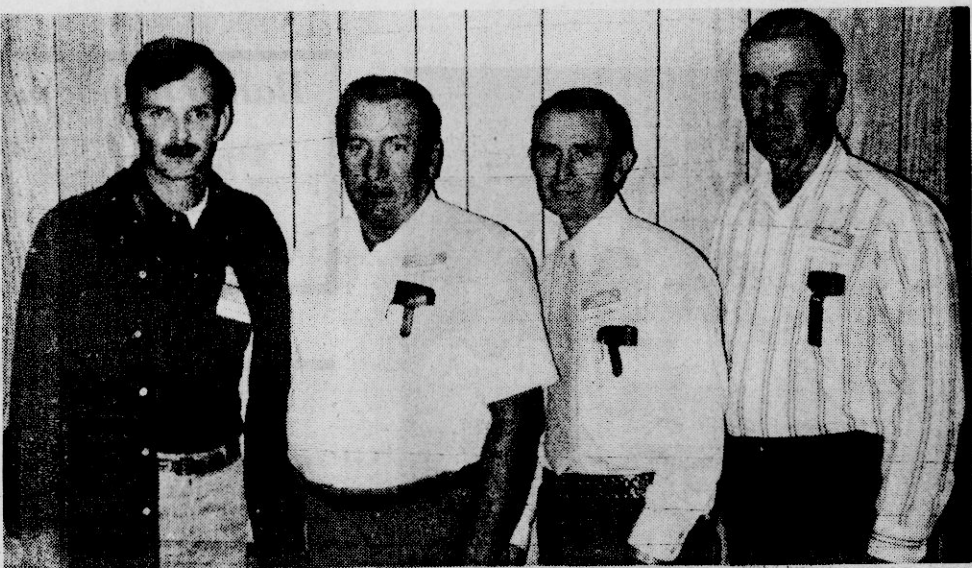

Containers under house plants need an occasional dusting to show off plants to best advantage.

Although disposable diapers are popular, many mothers prefer cloth diapers, or use them alternately. For easier laundering, rinse promptly after changing baby. Store soiled diapers in a pail half-filled with a detergent booster or a detergent solution until time for regular laundering.

Plastic toys, and those made of rubber and wood, should be thoroughly scrubbed with soap or detergent almost as often as a baby is bathed.

When cleaning out closets, wipe clothes hangers with a sudsy cloth to remove accumulated dust. Plastic hangers can be immersed in detergent and water, rinsed and dried.

By soaking heavily soiled garments, or using a presoak product, clothing will wash clean more easily and may save the need for a second laundering.

DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVES—Gerald Tennison was re-elected to serve as the district's voting delegate at the District 5 meeting of Associated Milk Producers Inc. held recently in Ripley. Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS

Librarian

George E. Allen Library
"By tribal custom, all the old women of the past are my grandmothers," writes Beverly Hungry Wolf. That is how she came to call her book "The Ways of My Grandmothers."

She has carefully studied publications about the Blackfoot Tribes, but she has also recorded information and stories from older women who agreed with her that the younger generation needs to understand ancestral ways to appreciate them. There is a section of photographs, some of them from the National Museum of Canada, recipes, and a section of myths and legends. Also described are such skills as beading, tanning hides, quilling, and drying foods.

Have you wanted to make your own cheese — or vinegar? Perhaps you have wondered why carob has more nutrients and fewer calories than chocolate. The carob bean grows on a fairly tall evergreen tree that is also known as the locust tree. The edible pods and beans are sometimes called St. John's Bread and many believe that it is the locust bean and not the insect referred to in the Bible when we are told that St. John the Baptist lived in the wilderness on locusts and wild honey.

Since carob seeds were among the things used to buy goods in Middle Eastern countries, some also infer that the word "carat" used by jewelers is derived from this trading. This and much other information on nutrition, "wholefood," recipes, and lists of suppliers is furnished by "The Natural Food Catalog," by Vicki Peterson. "The Pictorial History of the Democratic Party" and "The Pictorial History of the Republican Party," both by Beryl Frank, deal largely with the national presidential elections, but include party ideologies and are crowded with illustrations to make you chuckle, as well as fill-in names, dates, and places to round out the history. "Decorating: a Realistic Guide" by Mary Gilliat, states that it was written for those who would like professional help with their decorating but without the high fees.

A new exercise class routine is now beginning at the library and we remind those interesting in joining the group that it is open to all, charges no fees, and meets from 8 a.m. in the Marion W. Smith Room of the Allen Library each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. You will be welcome there.

May 1982 be a happy and prosperous year for each of you!

Ripley's First Monday

From Irritation To Mission

By TIM NICHOLAS
Director
Mississippi

Baptist News Service
Springdale Baptist Church in Ripley has turned a "source of irritation" into a direct Christian witness.

First Monday in the north Mississippi town was the irritation. Billed as one of the oldest flea markets in the country, it began decades ago on the town square with farmers trading mules, dogs, guns, and knives. It moved to the Ripley fairgrounds and about three years ago across Highway 5 to where it has grown into a real spectacle. People still sell the dogs, guns and knives. But now they sell—name it and it's there. Perhaps 200 dealers spend the weekend of the first Monday of each month hawking their wares.

Saturday, Sunday, and Monday thousands of people stroll the paths between the dealers looking for the best deal in books, "cubes," tools, even clothes.

The irritation is still there to Springdale pastor Jimmy Walker, primarily because of the buying and selling on Sunday. But, as Walker tells it, "God has opened a door of opportunity for our church to witness to people of Christ's love."

Walker had endured the monthly event for three years as pastor of the Ripley church when he decided to get involved. He approached Wayne Windham who operates the flea market about bringing a bit of church to First Monday.

Windham welcomed the church group warmly and offered space free of charge to the church, provided they stay all three days. Walker said okay (except for Sunday mornings) and the deal was on.

An 8' x 16' lean-to became the Watering Hole—the only place where thirsty folks could get a cup of cold water—and a gospel tract. The first volunteers served July 4, 1980.

That first weekend the group passed out more than 5,000 cups of water and tracts. That Sunday Windham asked Walker to lead an early morning worship service for the dealer and on July 6 about 20 people met under an oak tree for worship.

In the spring of 1981 the church built a 35' x 20' pavilion and brought in pews to seat 60.

Now the year-round ministry includes the cold water, tracts which are provided by the tract ministry of Broadway Baptist Church, Memphis, and brought by dealer Johnny Loftiss, the 7 a.m. (in winter, 6:30 a.m. in summer) worship services, and Saturday evening programs aimed at dealers' children. Adults join the kids and attendance on Saturday evenings averages 60, according to Walker.

Winter winds are slowed by heavy grade plastic sheeting around the pavilion and poultry heaters bring the brisk air of December down a few important degrees.

The December First Monday featured a Christmas program by students from Blue Mountain College. Tommy Martin of Jackson and Tim Roaten of Etta led in the children's music and story time. The mime team from BMC told Bible stories in their special interpretive way.

Sunday morning brought about 35 of the dealers and families out of their cocoons—trailers mostly, behind their booths. Some drank coffee during Walker's short evangelistic sermon. A couple even took off their coats as if warming up to the message—if not the poultry heaters.

Walker feels the ministry is worth every penny and every minute spent there. "I've probably preached to as many lost people here in a Sunday as I do in a year at church," he ventures.

The church budgeted $700 for 1981-82 for the ministry. It had been a bit higher, but the propane tanks and the heaters and water coolers were one time costs. No offering is taken, but appreciative dealers give anyway, equalling fully half the budget.

Church members sign up as volunteers through the church missions committee. Walker usually takes Saturday afternoons or evenings. The Woman's Missionary Union has just promised volunteers for each Sunday afternoon.

"Most of our people see it as a real mission," says Walker. "Some have given out a tract here that have never witnessed in their lives."

He noted that a lot of the dealers are Christians who appreciate a chance to worship. Others would come to the rough pavilion, but wouldn't grace a church building. Some won't come inside the pavilion, but stand nearby, within the sound of the loudspeaker.

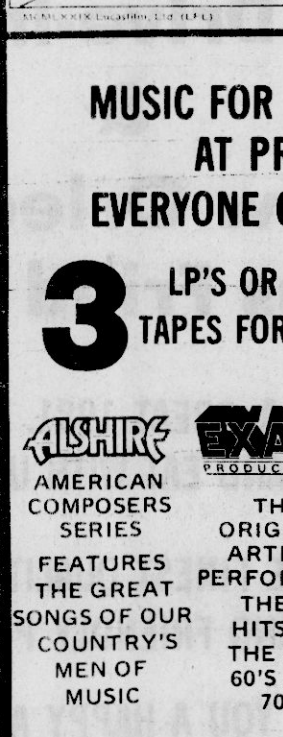

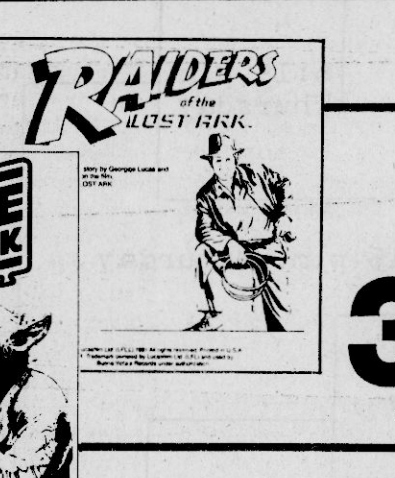

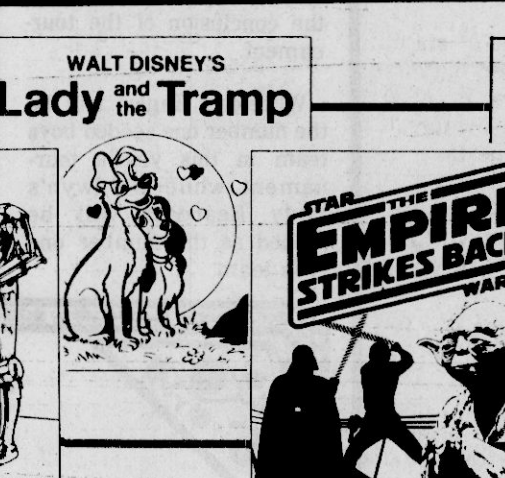

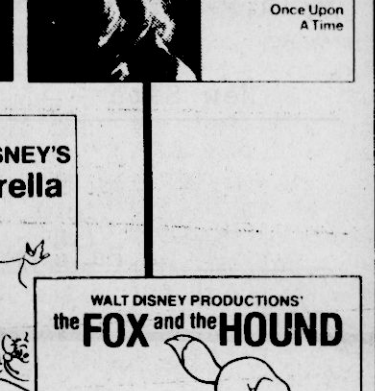

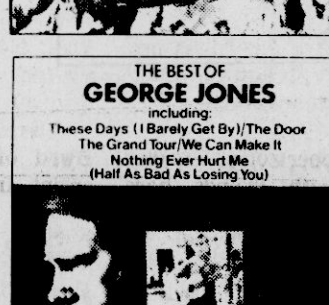

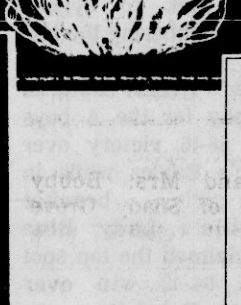

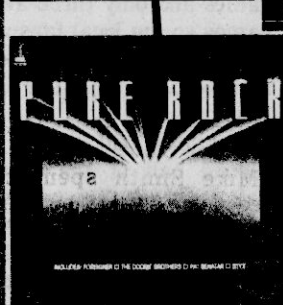

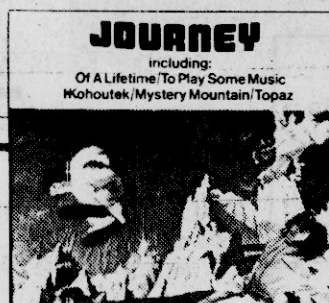

Carl King a dealer from Caraway, Ark., a Baptist, says he appreciates the ministry. Most don't have dress clothes to wear to church and couldn't leave their booths that long anyway.

"Everybody that comes, they're happy to be here," he says. "Lots of times, I'll bring guys that don't ever go to church. They don't have to shave—they hear the Word. Maybe next week they'll go to their own church."

King nods across the pavilion to two other dealers. "See those two fellows? I drug them over."

night when the Annual Prentiss County Basketball Tournament gets underway.

The Tournament, sponsored by the local Jaycees, has been tabbed this year as one of the top events around and returns by popular demand after a year's absence.

Competition, composed of girls, and both B and A team boys, will begin next Wednesday night beginning at 5 p.m. and will continue through the finals slated for Saturday night Jan. 9th.

Going back to bygone days. Remembering the last tourney highlights in 1979 Thrasher's Rebels captured the trophy for the A boys with a 56-45 victory over Wheeler's Eagles while in the girls bracket Booneville's Lady Blue Devils claimed the top spot with a 64-42 win over Thrasher's Rebelettes.

In B team action it was Booneville winning over New Site's B's 40-27.

At that time of the tourney in '79 the Rebels were ranked as high as third in the State.

All six Prentiss County schools will participate in the local event including Booneville, Wheeler, Baldwyn, Thrasher, Jumpertown and New Site and trophies will be presented to winners of the girls, and B and A boys brackets.

Also included will be an All-Tournament selection at the conclusion of the tournament.

Wheeler's Eagles will be the number one seeded boys team in this year's tournament while Baldwyn's Lady Bearcats will be tabbed as the number one girls team.

Statesmen On Holiday Break

CLEVELAND, Miss. -- Taking into mind there's no place like home for the holidays, both Delta State University basketball teams have departed for all parts of the country to enjoy Christmas with their families.

Coach Mel Hankinson's Statesmen finished their pre-Christmas schedule with a 5-1 worksheet, losing the final game of the 1981 portion of the slate with a disappointing 62-60 loss here to Augustana College of Rock Island, Ill.

On the other hand, coach France Garmon's Lady Statesmen move into the Christmas break with a 6-3 record, including a 79-66 decision over Alcorn State on Dec. 17.

That's a far cry from last year's team that went home asking Santa to help them to improve a 3-11 worksheet.

"We are going to have to take the holiday break to regroup. I feel like our guys can come back and run their offense and do a better job on the boards that they did against Augustana," the fifth year DSU mentor said.

Swinney Leads In Rebounding

Despite the loss to the Illinois team, Hankinson's charges showed up well in the NCAA Division II basketball stats released last weekend. Freshman James Swinney of Thrasher was tied for 10th place in foul shooting with a 92.3 percent effort from the line as he has hit on 24 of 26 freebies.

The Statesmen are ranked second in team defense nationally, fiving up just 55.8 points per game. Prior to the Augustana setback Delta State was tied for first in the win percentage column.

Senior guard Robert Tanner continues to top the Statesmen in scoring and field goal percentage with his 14.2 points per game and a 54.1 percent effort from the floor.

Swinney's foul shooting, needless to say, leads the team while junior forward Anthony Ross is averaging 6.7 rebounds per game to lead that category.

As a team the Statesmen are scoring 65.7 points a game, hitting 44.2 percent from the field and 75.5 percent from the line while outrebounding the opposition 36.3 to 32.6. DSU's foes are hitting 45 percent from the floor and 64.6 percent from the foul line.

Garmon's Lady Statesmen have had outstanding performances by three youngsters on this year's squad. Two freshmen and a sophomore are the top three offensive stat leaders through nine games.

Delta State owns a perfect 3-0 record inside the Mississippi AIAW league with only two games remaining on the conference slate. The Lady Statesmen, who average 75.1 points a game while allowing 65, will host the state AIAW tournament in February.

The Lady Statesmen are hitting 45.6 percent from the field to 43 percent for their opponents, but the team is hitting a poor 59 percent from the line to 63 percent for their foes.

Hunters Meeting Set

There will be an Earl Womack Hunting Association Meeting Tuesday January 5th at the Prentiss County Sportsman Club Building beginning at 6:30 p.m. All members are asked to attend.

NE Has Full Slate In Month Of January

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers and Tigerettes will return to full form following the Christmas Holidays with a host of home games at the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

During the month of January the Northeast squads will play five home games and only three away games so the local fans will have plenty of junior college action to watch after the Holidays.

Northeast will kickoff the second half of the season Jan. 7th when they travel to Clarksdale to meet Coahoma and then they return home for an outstanding four game home stand.

The Tigers and Tigerettes will open their home encounters Jan. 11th against Holmes followed by Delta, Jan. 14th; Jackson State, Jan. 16th; and then Meridian, Jan. 18th.

Following the home stand Northeast travels to arch rivals Itawamba, Jan. 21th and then Northwest at Senatobia on Jan. 25th before returning home Jan. 28th against East Mississippi.

The Tiger men are having one of their best seasons thusfar. The Northeast squad, under the direction of head coach Richard Mathis, currently post a 12-2 overall record plus a Tournament victory earlier in the season.

Basketball action should return to full form after the Christmas break with a host of tournament action for area basketball fans.

The Booneville Tournament pits three area teams battling this weekend with Booneville, Baldwyn and Wheeler locking horns while coming next week will be the Annual Prentiss County Tournament.

According to all outside sources, this year's Jaycee sponsored tourney will be one of the best matched in recent history and it looks as though it will be anything goes.

All six Prentiss County schools will be represented in the tournament and to give a favorite would be hard to do. Recordwise it would have to go to Wheeler's Eagles. The Eagles, under head coach Sam Richey, has the top mark going into the tourney and would indeed have to be considered as the favorite.

They should, however, receive some strong competition from all the rest, (leaving none out this year).

Baldwyn and Booneville should again battle it out for the girls crown with Booneville picked as a slight favorite although the Lady Bearcats have the best record. I would just have to pick the Devilettes because of their depth and experienced players. This is the best Booneville girls team in quite sometime.

* don't think you can count any of our local teams out at this point. The most improved award would have to go to Jumpertown's Cardinals. These athletes have excelled well throughout this part of the season. New Site is also a team that is getting better and better as the season progresses.

So from this standpoint it looks as though the County trophy may be in anyone's arms. The tournament gets underway next Wednesday night. Be sure and make your plans to attend.

3 Expected To Sign

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head football coach and athletic director Bill Ward said here Tuesday that he expected at least three of the 1981 football Tigers to sign senior college scholarships.

At presstime no official word had been given but the three had been contacted concerning scholarship offers.

Robert Caldwell is talking with schools in Southeast Missouri while Buddy Hall of Booneville and Monte Hamilton of Ripley are both talking with Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi.

Coach Ward said Northeast would lose six starting sophomores to graduation and added that he would lose some 16 sophomores in all off last year's 1-9 ballclub.

Action Gets Underway Tonight At Booneville Tourney

Action gets underway hot and heavy here tonight when the Annual Booneville Basketball Tournament gets underway at the Booneville High School Gym.

Four schools will make up this year's tournament with only Booneville's Devilettes back to defend their girls' crown from a year ago.

Alcorn Central's Golden Bears was last year's boys winner but didn't make the trip this time around so a new champion is assured in the boy's round robin affair.

The Lady Blue Devils, under coach Stephen Jobe, are expected to again be a strong contender for the girls' crown with neighborhood rivals Baldwyn's Lady Bearcats battling right at their heels.

Other girls teams competing for the tourney crown are, Wheeler's Eaglettes and Tishomingo's Lady Bulldogs.

Wheeler's Eagles will be the favored team in the boys round robin competition but will have strong competition from Booneville's Blue Devils, Baldwyn's Bearcats and Tishomingo's Bulldogs. The Eagles, under coach Sam Richey, have the best record going into the tourney with an 18-2 mark.

Last year's tourney was highlighted by a Sat. night thriller in the boys contest. The Lady Blue Devils had earlier won the girls crown with a 62-41 victory over arch-rivals Baldwyn's Lady Bearcats while the boys contest (Booneville-Alcorn Central) went into overtime.

Central came out on top in the finale to win 52-51 in one of the most exciting games in quite sometime and won the round robin event with a three game sweep.

Action gets underway tonight at 6 p.m. with Booneville and Tish. girls battling followed by Booneville-Tishomingo boys at 7:15 and then it's Wheeler against Baldwyn's boys in the finale at 8:30.

In Friday's action, Baldwyn and Wheeler girls faceoff at 6 followed by Tish. and Wheeler boys at 7:15 and then Booneville and Baldwyn boys at 8:30.

Saturday Baldwyn and Tishomingo boys meet at 6 followed by the two girls winners at 7:15 and then it's Booneville and Wheeler boys in the finale at 8:30.

Wilbanks Named To All State Squad

Scott Wilbanks, A 6' 2" - 250 pound offensive lineman for Erwin High School in Birmingham, was named to the Alabama All-State Football Team recently announced. He was also selected to the All County Team, The All Metro Team, and was elected the most valuable Offensive Lineman by his football team.

Erwin High compiled a 16 win and 4 loss record over the last two years and played in the state playoffs both years.

Local law authorities said this was one of the largest quantities of stolen household merchandise to ever be recovered at one time in Prentiss County.

Some of the items were found to have been stolen not only from Prentiss County, but also Alcorn, Tishomingo, Lee, Tippah, and Union counties as well. Some of the merchandise has been released to the owners because the sheriff's department does not have the storage space for the items, Sartin said.

Booneville City Police Chief Bobby Lambert explained the chain of events that brought about Monday's raid. On the previous Saturday, Tishomingo County Sheriff Amos Bates found two guns that had been reported stolen in Tishomingo County in a pawn shop in Corinth, he said.

An employee of the pawn shop gave Bates the names of the people (one of which turned out to be an alias) who had pawned the guns and also their license tag number—which was a Prentiss County tag.

Sheriff Bates contacted Chief Lambert on Sunday afternoon. Lambert in turn reached Prentiss County Tax Assessor Danny Childers, who opened the courthouse Sunday afternoon and gave officers the name and address of the tag owner.

The following day a search warrant was issued and authorities confiscated the stolen merchandise.

Monday morning several necklaces believed to have been stolen by the suspects were found in a Booneville pawn shop, Sartin said.

The five men are suspected of being involved in six break-ins that happened in the county Sunday, Sartin said. The following break-ins were reported Sunday to the Sheriff's department:

Zane Ellis of Route 4, Booneville, reported the theft of three shotguns, a rifle, and a jewelry box.

Stanley Stacy of Route 5, Booneville, reported the theft of frozen meat.

Michael Stevens of Route 4, Booneville reported the theft of a rifle, a shotgun, $41 in cash, canned goods and deer meat.

Mrs. John T. McNeese of the Shady Grove Community reported the theft of canned goods, frozen meat, and a shotgun.

Gerald Caveness, of the Zion's Rest Community, reported the theft of jewelry, a jewelry box, and assorted meats.

Charles Parker, also of the Zion's Rest Community, reported the theft of a frozen turkey.

Also, Don Starling of Route 6, Booneville, reported the theft of tools valued at approximately $200. The theft occurred sometime during the weekend while the tools were at a building site at Altitude.

Sartin said the arrests "will definitely eliminate some of the break-ins" that have been plaguing Prentiss County during the past several months.

Baldwyn Hospital

"This will not only be a great convenience for Baldwyn patients, but will also eliminate a large portion of transportation costs," Foster said.

The physical therapy function at Baldwyn will also be much improved through the renovation project, he said. It will gain some much needed floor space, additional equipment, and will provide a broader range of physical therapy services.

The renovation will also provide a waiting area in the hospital's emergency room. Currently the only emergency waiting area is in the hallway.

"The renovation project is an investment in the Baldwyn community and the Baldwyn health service area," Foster said. "It will improve utilization of inpatient beds because of the additional scope of services available at the hospital. Also, there can be some outpatient services offered that were not previously available."

A Look Back

Investigation joined Prentiss and Alcorn deputies in a midnight raid at a residence near the Prentiss-Alcorn county lines. Three persons were arrested and charged with receiving stolen property.

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Development Foundation Inc. was awarded two gifts valued in excess of $170,000 to be used in the construction of a swimming facility. The gifts were presented in memory of Gaye Roden Carr by Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Roden, Emmett Roden, Melody, Jason and Rosemary Roden, and Zane D. Roden.

A former Prentiss County resident, Richard Caldwell, who had confessed to two murders in Tennessee, accused his ex-wife of poisoning Prentiss County Bynum Rogers, who died in 1976. Rogers body was exhumed in August and tissue samples taken from Roger's body were sent to New Jersey for analysis. The autopsy results have not been returned yet.

The Northeast Economic Development Association (N.E.D.A.), which was originally organized in February 1971, was re-activated in August in order to lobby for better highways for the northeast section of the state.

Climaxing nine years of planning, building, remodeling and general improvement, formal dedication ceremonies for a new 12,000 sq. ft. high school building were held in Baldwyn. Gov. William Winter and Dr. Charles Holladay were on hand for the ceremonies.

Booneville officials said that in order to balance the city's budget, some city personnel would be laid off.

September 1981
NEMJC officials were advised by the Farmers Home Administration in Jackson that both contracts for the proposed new men's and women's dormitories would have to be awarded simultaneously.

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors approved a $2.6 million general budget for fiscal year 1981-82 that included, possibly for the first time ever, two different millage rates for the county.

The Booneville mayor and board of aldermen approved a balanced budget of $1.4 million for fiscal year 1981-82.

Residents living on Old Highway 45, which runs behind Troy Moore's Store north of Booneville, decided that if the county could not afford to pave their road, they would do it themselves. Each resident living on the road chipped in from $300 to $800 on the expense of having the work done. The total cost of paving the gravel road was estimated at costing $19,000.

In September, Booneville High School was placed on athletic probation by the Mississippi High School Activities Association. The school was placed on probation due to ineligible players on the football team.

October 1981
Formal dedication ceremonies for the Northeast Junior College's newly renovated Tiger Stadium were Oct. 3. Seating capacity for the facility is 5,200 an increase of 2,200 over the former stadium. The cost of the completed renovation was near one-half million dollars.

The First Citizens National Bank, based in Tupelo, finalized its purchase of the Booneville branch of the First Mississippi Bank of Commerce in October.

The Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen approved the bid of a Florence, Ala., company to convert most of the city's vehicles to operate on natural gas.

The plant building in Rienzi formerly occupied by Wurlitzer was leased by Maylor Industries Inc. of Haleyville, Ala., who produce pine living room furniture.

First District Supervisor Larry Barron and Fourth District Supervisor H.B. Lindsey completed the construction of new maintenance buildings to house equipment used in the maintenance of roads in their districts.

Arson was suspected in one of two fires which occurred within a short time of each other early on the morning of Oct. 28. The first fire occurred around 4 a.m. at the House of Carpet located on Highway 45 South. The second occurred about 6:30 a.m. at the old Brown Plumbing and Electrical Supply building located on First Street in Downtown Booneville.

A murder indictment, stemming from a 1980 shooting, was among the 22 criminal indictments returned during the October term of the Prentiss County Grand Jury. Harold Lloyd Brinkley of Booneville was charged with murder in connection with the Nov. 10, 1980 shooting death of his wife, Margaret Brinkley.

November 1981
On Nov. 1, the cost of mailing a first class letter increased to 20 cents.

The manslaughter trial of James Lowrey Edge, scheduled to begin in Aberdeen, was postponed to March 1982 because one of the State's witnesses could not be located.

Bobby Ray Morrow, who was indicted in October 1980 on a murder charge in connection with the fatal shooting of his third cousin, Buddy Baggett, was found innocent of the murder charge after his third trial. His previous two trials ended in mistrials.

In November, the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville and the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis agreed in principal to become affiliated. This affiliation was to take the form of an interim management agreement with an option to lease the 136-bed facility in Booneville, pending completion of further technical studies.

Also during the month of November, the county experienced a rash of break-ins.

December 1981
The Prentiss County Board of Education filed a federal lawsuit in Aberdeen against Prentiss County Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers, charging that he refused to collect $137,408 in taxes to which the county school district claims it was entitled. The suit stemmed from the separation in 1980 of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District from the Prentiss County School System and involved funds that the school board said should have been collected in 1980.

The Goodfellow Program exceeded its goal of $3,000 which was used to buy fruit baskets for needy Prentiss Countians at Christmas.

Although the chief engineer of the State Highway Department said the department was looking into the possibility of construction of passing lanes between Corinth and Tupelo on Highway 45, his remarks were not very encouraging at the annual membership meeting of the Northeast Development Association at NEMJC in December.

A Prentiss County man, James H. Butler, who escaped from the county jail three years ago, was arrested in Zion, Ill., in December.

Due to the high number of break-ins in the county, Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley offered a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone in Prentiss County who had committed grand larceny.

The City of Booneville moved a step closer to being designated as a "Key Community" when the Booneville-Prentiss County Industrial Park received a top rating from the Mississippi Research and Development Center in Jackson.

A Marietta man, Gene Roberts, was charged with the fatal shotgun shooting of his wife, Ruby Roberts, on Dec. 19.

During the last week in December, five men were arrested in connection with several break-ins occurring in Prentiss County and in five surrounding counties. Local law authorities confiscated 36 guns and various items of stolen merchandise from a residence occupied by some of the subjects and located about 1 1/2 miles east of Booneville.

Get a $2000 tax deduction every year and retire like a millionaire.

How your IRA Tax Shelter can grow into a small fortune (or a big one).

Start at this age and contribute the maximum each year until you're 65.	An individual contributing $2,000 a year could have this amount by age 65.	A couple with one spouse working contributing $2,250 a year could have this amount by age 65.	A working couple contributing $4,000 a year could have this amount by age 65.
Age 25	$1,718,284	$1,933,070	$3,436,568
Age 30	$ 966,926	$1,087,791	$1,933,852
Age 35	$ 540,585	$ 608,158	$1,081,170
Age 40	$ 298,667	$ 336,001	$ 597,334
Age 45	$ 161,397	$ 181,572	$ 322,794
Age 50	$ 83,506	$ 93,944	$ 167,012
Age 55	$ 39,309	$ 44,222	$ 78,618
Age 60	$ 14,230	$ 16,009	$ 28,460

Amounts are based on an average of 12% simple interest annually with deposits made on January 1 of each year. This chart is not meant to be a statement of actual interest rates available or guaranteed end financial results.

All you do is stash away up to $2,000 a year in a First Bank IRA Tax Shelter account.

You can deduct every penny of that money from your Federal income taxes. In a 50% tax bracket, that could save you $1,000 a year on taxes; $600 in a 30% bracket. And you'll earn high interest so by the time you retire, you'll have accumulated quite a nest egg.

In fact, if you start putting in $2,000 a year when you're 29 and you earn an average of 12% a year interest, you'll have somewhere around a million when you retire at 65. For a working couple, it could be two million.

Almost everybody's eligible for an IRA Tax Shelter.

Thanks to recent changes in federal laws, you can now get an IRA Tax Shelter no matter what other retirement or profit-sharing plans you may have where you work. The only requirement is that you earn the money you contribute to an IRA.

If you and your spouse both work, you can put in up to $4,000 a year from your joint income. For couples with one spouse working, it's $2,250. And for individuals, it's $2,000.

Even contribute monthly at First Bank.

You can put your money in a 1982 IRA Tax Shelter in one lump sum anytime between January 4, 1982, and April 15, 1983. But, of course, the sooner you put your money in, the sooner you start earning the high interest.

Or at First Bank, you can put in a little every month. If you start in January, you only need to contribute $166 a month for the maximum tax deduction by the end of the year. For working couples, it's $333 per month. And for couples with one spouse working, it's $187.

To make it more convenient, we can automatically withdraw your monthly payment from your First Bank checking account.

Start now for high interest all year.

With the First Bank IRA Tax Shelter, you always earn a competitive interest rate, because the rate is tied to the rate for Money Market CD's, and it will vary quarterly. When interest rates soar—like they did this year—your rate does too. And vice versa. But no matter what happens, you're assured of earning money market rates. And over the long haul, the tax benefits make it your best investment.

You can begin withdrawing your IRA Tax Shelter money when you're age 59½, and you must start by age 70½. Then you'll pay taxes on the amount you withdraw, but when you retire you'll probably pay taxes at a lesser rate. There is a substantial penalty for withdrawal before age 59½.

Your IRA Tax Shelter money is completely safe because it's invested in 18-month Savings Certificates and it's insured up to $100,000 by the F.D.I.C.

If you want to cut your taxes. If you want to make sure your retirement is secure. Or if you'd just like to become a millionaire, our IRA Tax Shelter is for you. Call or visit any First Bank location.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A Time To Forget

. . . forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before. Philippians 3:13

Adapted from 'Our Daily Bread'

By Richard W. Dehaan

The dawning of a new year provides an excellent opportunity to wipe the slate clean and make a fresh start. Those who know the Lord are able to do this in a way that has special meaning. Having confessed their sin (forgetting what is behind), they can face the future (reaching to the things that are before), determined to attain new heights of spiritual victory. Remembering God's faithfulness and forgetting past mistakes can make entering the new year a time of joyous anticipation.

With this in mind, the great preacher of the 19th century Henry Ward Beecher said: "We have passed through one more year. One more long stage in the journey of life, with its ascents and descents and dust and mud and rocks and thorns and burdens that wear the shoulders, is done. The old year is dead. Roll it away. Let it go. God, in His providence, has brought us out of it. It is gone; or rather its evil is gone; its good remains. The evil has perished, and the good survives. And now we stand on the beginning of the next, the new. By (God's) grace we have been what we have been; and by His grace we shall have our experience in days to come."

Yes, we should leave the failures of 1981 behind us. Having confessed our sins to the Lord, let's accept His forgiveness and press on to higher ground. As we move into 1982, we should pause and remember God's faithfulness and blessings during the past 12 months. But as far as our shortcomings are concerned, let's make the beginning of the new year a time to forget.
