Police Chief Resigns, Then Reconsiders

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

After serving only seven months of his first four-year term as Booneville Police Chief, John O. (Bobby) Lambert turned over the keys of his office to Police Commissioner Charles Steen Monday morning, telling the commissioner that he had had enough and was quitting.

During a meeting Tuesday night in which the Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen pledged to support and stand behind the police chief, Lambert said he had reconsidered and was not going to resign. However, he indicated he might still do so at a later time if conditions do not improve.

DURING TUESDAY NIGHT'S meeting at city hall, attorney Donald Franks, speaking on behalf of Chief Lambert, told the city board that Lambert had resigned because of personnel problems within the police department. Franks indicated that some officers were not obeying orders from Lambert and that the police chief had no way to discipline these officers.

"He says he does not have the proper backing of the mayor and board of aldermen and the police commissioner," Franks said. "He says he does not have control of those who work under him. If he doesn't have control of and can't discipline them, he has no authority."

Franks said Chief Lambert has told him that the police officers are divided into groups, "one fighting another."

Lambert himself told the board that dissension among the officers is so bad that, "I'm afraid it's going to come to a gunfight within the department." He said he could not enforce the law with that kind of problem within the department itself.

"We're fighting lawbreakers and we're having trouble in the department," Chief Lambert said. "I've had about enough."

FRANKS SAID THAT Lambert feels he has no control over the hiring and firing of personnel in his department, that the city board is making those decisions.

Chief Lambert doesn't have the loyalty of his officers, the attorney said. "They more or less thumb their nose at him. If they know he can get their jobs, he might get their respect."

"This man has to give orders and if they are not obeyed, he has to have some way to discipline his men," Franks said. "He can't fight the criminal element and then fight the city fathers, too. If you are going to have an effective force, you have to have a police chief that can hire and fire, within the boundaries of the law."

Franks told the board members that some of the policemen who refused to obey Lambert's orders were "either getting some protection somewhere, or believe they are going to get it somewhere."

On behalf of Lambert, Franks also accused the city board of not acting quickly enough on recommendations made to the board by Lambert.

Chief Lambert said that he and Commissioner Steen had made some recommendations on promotions and demotions within the department immediately after he had taken office seven months ago and that the board had never acted on those recommendations.

BECOMING A 'KEY COMMUNITY' - Gov. William Winter (above) brought his campaign to improve the state's education system and to entice industry into the state to Northeast Mississippi last Thursday night when he appeared as the keynote speaker at the sixth annual membership banquet of the Prentiss County Development Association.

While the Governor was here, he presented Prentiss County with the 14th Key Community award to be given in the state. Pictured receiving the award are (inset photo, l-r) Mayor Jimmy Pharr, Mayor Charles Crabb, Supervisor J.P. Davis, Charles Walden, Mayor C.D. Windham, and (out of view behind the governor) Mayor M.B. Key Community Award Given

On Thursday night of last week, Prentiss County became the 14th community in the state to receive the Key Community Award.

Gov. William Winter made the presentation at the sixth annual membership meeting of the Prentiss County Development Association which was held at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

"The Key Community idea is to have communities analyze themselves - their strengths and their weaknesses - based on some standards that are considered to be proper standards for measuring communities," Gov. Winter said.

"This isn't an idle exercise," he said. "It's not for the purpose of just presenting plaques and having a program of recognition."

The whole idea, he said, is for the state to be able to say to prospective industries, "These Key Communities are communities that we can certify - on the basis of what they have planned and achieved - to be places in the state of Mississippi where you can't go wrong. They have achieved a standard of quality and excellence in their community that we can certify. You can take a second look at them when you are getting ready to make some investments."

According to PCDA executive director Doug Mansell, the Key Community program was initiated through the governor's office and the Department of Economic Development in order to assist communities in preparing themselves for industrial growth.

PCDA began work on achieving Key Community status eight months ago on behalf of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors and the four municipalities within the county.

According to the regulations set forth by the state, once a community has entered into the program, that community has a maximum of 18 months to meet the requirements. Prentiss County achieved this goal with 10 months to spare.

At Thursday night's meeting, Gov. Winter presented the Key Community plaque to J.P. Davis, president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors. Identical plaques will be presented to Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb, Baldwin Mayor M.B. Rowan, Marietta Mayor Jimmy Pharr; Jumpertown Mayor C.D. Windham; and Charles Walden, PCDA president.

In other business at the membership meeting, four members of the PCDA board of directors were re-elected and one new member was elected. Each will serve a three-year term.

Re-elected were Thurston Davis, Marjorie Franks, David Hill and Richard Coggin. The new board member will be Junior Roper.

City Policemen Accused In 1979 Burglary

The Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen decided Tuesday night to let the District Attorney's office handle an investigation of three Booneville Police officers and one former police officer who have been accused of taking merchandise from a Booneville business establishment.

The four men - two black and two white - have been accused of taking items from the Win-Way Store in Booneville on a night when they found the door of the establishment unlocked. The incident was supposed to have occurred in 1979.

Although officials have not released the names of the men involved in the investigation, police captain William Anderson appeared before the city board Tuesday night to plead his case.

"I'm one of the policemen who they are saying broke into some place," Anderson said. "I'd like to say that's not true. I've never stole anything in my life."

Anderson, who in addition to being a captain on the police force is also the first black to be elected as a Justice Court Judge in Prentiss County, said that the publicity on TV and in the newspapers about the police department is making the entire city look bad.

He said the accusations against him are due to the fact that some of the other officers in the police department do not like him and Police Chief Bobby Lambert.

"I've worked with Bobby Lambert for years," he said. "They've been trying to get something on me because Lambert and I were such good friends."

In referring to the night in 1979 that the alleged theft occurred, Anderson confirmed he and the other officers had found the door of the business open. But he said they called W.M. Stacy, who was Chief of Police at that time, and then tried to locate the man who ran the store.

Anderson said the officers were unable to locate the store manager, so one of the officers stayed at the store to watch it. Now, two years

Tax Assessor Answers School Board Lawsuit

Prentiss County Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers last week filed papers in the U.S. District Court in Aberdeen asking for the dismissal of a federal lawsuit filed against him by the Prentiss County School System.

The school system filed the suit in late 1981, charging that Childers failed to collect $137,408 in taxes to which the county school system claims it was entitled.

In his reply to the suit last week, Childers maintains Prentiss County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain and the school board knew he was not required to tax property within the newly-formed Booneville Municipal Separate School District, the subject of the legal dispute.

The suit stems from the separation of 1980 of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District from the Prentiss County School System and involves funds that the school board says should have been collected in 1980.

When the new district formed, the city of Booneville levied 25 mills on property within the city limits for operation of the city schools, Childers stated in the court records.

However, county school officials charge that Tax-Assessor Childers collected taxes for the schools only from county residents and not taxpayers residing within the new Booneville city school district. The county school board maintains the Prentiss County district was entitled to the funds during 1980 even though the Booneville taxpayers no longer were residents of the county district.

Childers countered by stating millage assessments made by the Prentiss County

Mobile Health Unit To Begin Operation Feb. 11

Elderly persons living in isolated portions of Northeast Mississippi who find it difficult to reach health screening facilities soon should have a solution to their problem.

A mobile unit, equipped to provide basic health screening activities such as blood pressure, and eye and diabetes tests, will travel from community to community in Alcorn, Benton, Marshall, Prentiss, Tiptah and Tishomingo counties.

Mrs. William Winter, wife of the governor, is expected to join other state and local officials at a ceremony at Northeast Junior College on Feb. 11 to initiate the program.

"Approximately 20,300 age 60 and older Mississippians live in these six counties, and 9,286 of these individuals have incomes below the federal poverty level," said Ted Keyes, project coordinator with the Mississippi Council on Aging.

"This new project is another example of the state, community and private sector working together to meet a pressing need," he said.

The project will be conducted by the Mississippi Council of Aging, a division of the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, in cooperation with the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA), the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District (NMPDD) and the State Board of Health.

TVA has granted $50,000 for purchasing the unit and some of its equipment, NMPDD has allocated $39,760 to cover operating expenses and additional equipment as needed, and the Board of Health has provided $14,000 for medical personnel salary and travel expenses. Council of Aging funds have been provided by the Title 3-B Older Americans Act.

In addition to providing basic health screening activities, the mobile unit will offer educational services on health, nutrition and consumer subjects, particularly those related to energy conservation.

Consisting of a 15-passenger van with a wheelchair lift and a 25-foot mobile trailer, the unit will be manned by a registered nurse and a licensed practical nurse.

Local health departments, cooperative extension offices, area agencies on aging and other local agencies will assist in coordinating the

Circuit Court To Hear 25 Criminal Cases

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

The murder trial of a Booneville man charged with the November 1980 shooting death of his wife is among the 25 criminal cases scheduled to be heard during the February session of Prentiss County Circuit Court which begins the third week of the month.

Harold Lloyd Brinkley, 52, of Booneville, who was indicted in October 1981 on a murder charge in connection with the Nov. 10, 1980 shooting of his wife, Margaret Brinkley, is scheduled to face trial Feb. 17.

Mrs. Brinkley, 39, died at her home on Highway 4 West, just inside the Booneville city limits, after she was shot twice - once in the stomach and once in the chest - with a .38-caliber pistol.

Following the incident, Brinkley was hospitalized for a short time at the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo. He was treated for a gunshot wound to his left knee.

Brinkley is free on a $50,000 bond.

Brinkley's case is scheduled to be the first case heard Wednesday, Feb. 17. Booneville attorney Tommy Comer will represent Brinkley.

Monday, Feb. 15

The first case scheduled to be heard during the first day of criminal court is a re-trial of an aggravated assault case.

On Jan. 26 Circuit Court Judge Thomas Gardner ruled that Robbie Storey, 20, of Route 1, Rienzi, should be granted a new trial because his attorney, Tommy Cadle, had a conflict of interest during Storey's trial in October 1981 on a charge of aggravated assault.

Judge Gardner said Cadle was representing the prosecuting witness, Melody Strange in a civil suit at the same time he was representing Storey.

The charge of aggravated assault against Storey stemmed from an incident involving Storey and Miss Strange that allegedly occurred in September 1980.

During the October 1981 term of Prentiss County Circuit Court a jury found Storey guilty of the aggravated assault charge.

Jim Austin (no address available) is scheduled to face charges of grand larceny under the Habitual Criminal Statute.

Austin was convicted in Lee County Circuit Court in February 1980 for two felony counts of burglary and larceny. In March 1980 he was sentenced to serve 7

Police Chief

"The man who runs the department should have the authority to come to the board and say, 'Something needs to be done.' And if the facts warrant it, the board should do something," Franks said. "You've got to back the man who's facing the criminals -- sometimes even if he's wrong."

Franks said Lambert is "frustrated, sick and has developed ulcers" because of the situation. "He wouldn't have developed ulcers if he wasn't really concerned," Franks said.

IN RESPONSE TO the comments from Franks and Lambert, Mayor Charles Crabb said that every recommendation Chief Lambert had made to the board had been handled. "It may not have been in the way it was asked to be handled," he said.

Board members indicated that they could not act on the police chief's recommendation of seven months ago because it involved the demotions of some officers, but did not include any documentation of wrongdoing on the part of those officers.

Mayor Crabb said the city board would support the chief of police -- or any department head -- in their recommendations on hiring or firing, but that the board would have to work within the guidelines of the personnel policy adopted by the city.

"We cannot go against a personnel procedure that this board has adopted," the mayor said. "This has to be handled in the proper manner or we could become involved in a lawsuit."

Members of the board told Lambert and Franks that in order to fire or demote a city employee, some type of documentation of wrongdoing was necessary.

"Promotions are easy," Alderman R.G. Houston said.

Tax Assessor

Board of Supervisors in September 1980 on property owners specifically excluded county taxpayers living within the Baldwin and Booneville city school districts. This shows that the county school officials "knew they were not entitled to receive the taxes collected on the property within the city of Booneville for 1980," Childers' answer states.

In the motion to dismiss the suit, which accompanied the answer, Childers also states that the legal action should be dropped because the court lacks jurisdiction of the case between the two Prentiss County public bodies.

Mobile Health

project. As the mobile unit is relocated from community to community, local civic clubs, churches and other organizations will be called upon to provide volunteer assistance. Following an individual's visit to the mobile unit, referrals will be made to local service providers to ensure that participants obtain necessary social and follow-up medical services. Individuals also will be referred to their family physicians for treatment indicated by the screening. "Elderly residents in the counties will be notified when the mobile unit will be in their areas," Keyes said.

"It's demotions that cause a problem. You know how the law is; you've got to document everything you do."

Alderman Wade Lambert also pointed out the need for documentation. "Let him get the documentation on these officers and bring them up here and see if they get any protection from this board," he said.

"If they don't take your orders, then that's enough to dismiss them as far as I'm concerned," Alderman Lambert told the police chief.

City attorney Eugene Gifford said that documentation was needed for demotions or firings in case a disgruntled employee or ex-employee decided to sue the city. "When an employee is suspended and we have to go to Aberdeen (court), we need proof that that man has misbehaved. Just bring us the proof and we'll act on it."

Chief Lambert asked that the board -- or at least the police commissioner -- meet with the members of the police department and let them know what the situation is and that the board will stand behind the chief of police.

THE CITY BOARD members all agreed that they were not questioning Chief Lambert's ability to do the job. "We've had less trouble since Bobby's been over this department," Alderman Lambert said. "He's done a good job."

Mayor Crabb suggested that Chief Lambert take a week off -- "a mini-vacation," as one board member put it -- and then come back to work.

The meeting ended amicably, with Chief Lambert shaking hands with each of the board members and thanking them for their cooperation.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, over in 1 Thessalonians 5:19, Paul says "Quench not the Spirit;" just what does he mean by this expression?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: One must understand that the Christian is led by the Spirit as he works through the word of God. We must understand that the sword of the Spirit is the word of God (Eph. 6:17). The figure seems to be about a FIRE. He compares the Spirit to a fire which might be put out. One can put out a fire by pouring water on it, smothering it or just neglecting it, by failing to add more fuel. Albert Barnes says, "It is a great rule in religion that all the piety which there is in the soul is the fair result of culture. A man has no more religion than he intends to have; he has no graces of the Spirit which he does not seek; he has no deadness to the world which is not the object of his sincere desire, and which he does not aim to have." This means that man has volition and can choose to quench the Spirit if he desires. Some Christians smother the fire of the Spirit with worldliness. The sins of the flesh will do this. Others just NEGLECT the fire of the Spirit and it goes out. We must be vigilant at all times or the FIRE will die. "Study to show thyself approved to God" is still the best advice for a Christian to keep the fire from going out. God does not force salvation on any of us, but even after we have heard the word of God we can "quench the Spirit" by refusing his teachings.

PLANNING FOR A 'SUPER-WALK' - Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb (right) and Mrs. Janis Johnson, Prentiss County director for the March of Dimes, are shown making plans and mapping out the route to be taken for a super-walk that is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, March 28. Mrs. Johnson is asking for everyone's help and cooperation in supporting this effort. "Any and all volunteer services will be greatly appreciated," she said.

To Fight Birth Defects

March Of Dimes Super-Walk Set For March 28

Birth defects are the nation's most serious child health problems, says Mrs. Janis Johnson, campaign director for the Prentiss County March of Dimes. They strike more than 250,000 babies in the United States each year and affect the daily lives of people of all ages.

"The March of Dimes foundation fights these birth defects through research, medical services and educational programs funded by people who care and are willing to share their time and concern," Mrs. Johnson said.

A March of Dimes super-walk is being planned in Prentiss County for Sunday afternoon, March 28.

"This is a great opportunity for all Prentiss County residents to participate in a worthwhile project to fight the problem of birth defects," Mrs. Johnson said. "Walking is a terrific form of exercise for all ages and with this walk, all of us can help fight birth defects while having fun and sharing a rewarding experience."

The March of Dimes has one goal, according to Mrs. Johnson, and that is the prevention of birth defects.

"They want to put an end to this country's number one health problem," she said. "As we all join together as a community, won't you help?"

For more information, contact Mrs. Johnson at 728-2204 or 728-2123.

Regulations Changed For FmHA Home Loans

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has changed its regulations to make it possible for more people to get single-family home loans through USDA's Farmers Home Administration.

Charles W. Shuman, administrator of the USDA rural credit agency, said the revised rules change the income eligibility criteria, permit funds for approved solar heating, and make numerous changes to clarify and simplify operation of the agency's single-family housing programs.

The Farmers Home Administration has a wide range of housing programs, including mortgage loans for single-family homes, housing repair and rehabilitation loans, rural rental housing, farm labor housing and self-help housing loans.

Before the new regulations were implemented, they were reviewed and revised extensively, Shuman said.

One of the major changes is the elimination of a single, nationwide income eligibility level. Previously, only families with incomes below $15,600 were considered eligible for Farmers Home housing loans, except in Alaska and Hawaii.

Income ceilings now vary by economic areas and are based on a percentage of the area median income. Low income is defined as 80 percent of the area median income.

Applicants who qualify for moderate-income loans will pay interest rates prevailing when the loan is closed. The current interest rate charged by Farmers Home is 13.25 percent.

For those with incomes at or below 80 percent of the area median income level, the agency provides "interest credits," which reduce the amount of interest the borrower pays, sometimes to as low as one percent.

Using data developed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Farmers Home Administration now sets income eligibility limits in more than 500 economic areas throughout the nation.

Income eligibility ranges from $17,000 in some of the nation's poorer counties to $23,500 in the more affluent areas, and up to $33,000 in Alaska. Low-income levels at which applicants become eligible for "interest credits" range from $11,500 to $18,000.

In addition, the new regulations identify "very low income" levels as 50 percent of the area median income and stipulate that 30 percent of housing loans be made to borrowers in those categories, to the extent practical.

Other changes include:

- simplified loan information, instructions and procedures to make it easier for eligible borrowers to understand FmHA loan programs.
- interest rates charged on loans to moderate-income borrowers may be either Farmers Home's established rate or Housing and Urban Development's rate, depending on the borrower's ability to pay.
- priority will be given to applications to refinance debts and subsequent loans necessary for servicing actions. Generally, loans will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis, but priority will be given in cases that will prevent loss of a home.
- elimination of the five-year limitation before Farmers Home has authority to refinance home loans made by commercial lenders when eligible applicants are delinquent for reasons beyond their control and threatened by foreclosure.

-size of allowable living area in new homes reduced to 1,200 square feet from 1,300 square feet.

-stipulates certain unusual, recurring expenses which may be deducted from income in determining eligibility.

The regulations are being published as a final rule, Shuman said, but the agency is accepting comments and will consider them in making future revisions in the operation of the housing program.

Use Of Counter Checks Discontinued

Counter checks will soon be a thing of the past for Booneville. The Peoples Bank & Trust Company, Bank of Mississippi, and First Citizens Bank in Booneville announced they will discontinue the use of counter checks.

"The major reason for discontinuing the use of counter checks is because many merchants lost money through counter checks during the Christmas season," said Sam Milton, senior vice-president and manager at the Peoples Bank & Trust Company in Booneville.

"Due to increased use of counter checks to defraud merchants and businesses, this action is required," Milton said.

"The information we get from other banks about people who are defrauding a bank, more times than not, the use of a counter check is what is used to beat the bank or merchant out of money," he said.

Another reason the local banks will be discontinuing the use of counter checks is because it will be a cost savings to the banks, Milton said. He noted that information on counter checks must be handwritten by bank employees.

Junior Roper, vice-president and manager at First Citizens Bank said, because the bank only recently opened, to discontinue the use of counter checks will have very little effect on the bank.

"Since we started in October we ordered our customers new checks on our bank when we bought out the other bank that was here," Roper said.

Although the banks will discontinue the use of counter checks, Roper believes it will not be a big problem.

"It's just a fact that through the years everybody has gotten accustomed to using counter checks. The merchants will not have counter checks at the stores so people need to make sure they have their own checks with them," he said.

Roper noted that the use of counter checks in Memphis was discontinued about 10 years ago. "We are more of a rural area so we put off things like that to the very last minute."

Mike Sappington, president of the Bank of Mississippi said, "Doing away with counter checks is an on-going trend across the country. I think we are behind the times as far as doing this is concerned."

Sappington said if a bad counter check actually goes through the bank and the money is paid to the merchant-the bank loses the money because the bank doesn't have any recourse to anyone.

The banks are asking people to destroy counter checks they have in their possession. There will be no new supply of counter checks available at the three banks.

"We have stopped ordering the counter checks. If a merchant came in and asked for counter checks, we would not be able to provide them," Sappington said.

Roper said that, in the long run, not accepting counter checks will be safer for the customer because the customer won't have the problem of someone possibly writing a check on his account, and retail merchants will not be faced with the possibility of taking a bad counter check.

The three banks in Booneville are sending out notices that they will discontinue the use of counter checks in this month's bank statements.

later, the four policemen are being accused of taking items from the store, he said.

"I'll put my hands on a stack of Bibles and say that I have never stole anything in my life," Anderson said.

Two of the officers who are being investigated in connection with the incident have reportedly confessed and implicated the other two. However, Anderson said that one of these men blames him for a salary cut he received and that he was implicating Anderson to get back at him.

"He told a man he was going to get me if it's the last thing he does," Anderson said. "I guess this is one of the things that he's going to do to get me."

The investigation was instigated by the Booneville Police Department and the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department. However, city board members say they will not get involved in the investigation.

"We'll let the District Attorney's office handle this," Mayor Charles Crabb said.

"We welcome any investigation of any of our departments," he added.

'Talk O' The Town'

Street Opinion Poll

QUESTION: What do you think of President Reagan's proposal to turn control of food stamps and welfare over to state and local government?

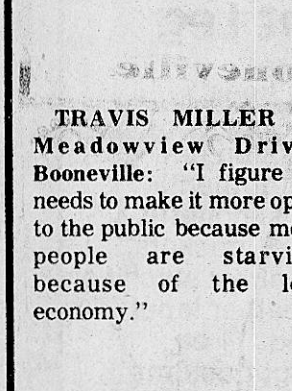

ELEANOR MCGAHA of Route 3, Booneville: "If it's for a good cause I'm all for it but if it's for the benefit of him or other rich people I think it should stay like it is. I think Reagan is trying to make rich people richer and make the poor people suffer because he is taking everything from all the poor people."

JIMMY MORRIS of Route 1, Glen: "If he provides the funding that he says he is going to, I think it's great. I think there should be some cuts in some of these programs. I think there are some of these programs that shouldn't be in them."

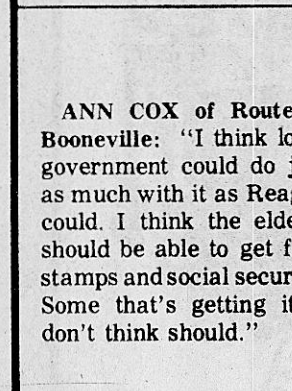

MRS. CATO SMITH of 101 Magnolia Dr., Booneville: "I'm for it because I think local government should take care of its own people."

TRAVIS MILLER of Meadowview Drive, Booneville: "I figure he needs to make it more open to the public because most people are starving because of the low economy."

SAMMY TOLAR of Route 1, New Site: "I think it would be a good thing if they would take it and control it and get the corruptness out of it by getting the crooked people out of it and getting good Christian people in there to run it."

ANN COX of Route 2, Booneville: "I think local government could do just as much with it as Reagan could. I think the elderly should be able to get food stamps and social security. Some that's getting it, I don't think should."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Eyes On Mississippi

Fight Brewing Over Political Spoils

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - The Mississippi Republicans are apparently about to have another major squabble over the distribution of their new-found political patronage under the Reagan administration.

Also the flap could bring into focus once again the feud that exists between Sen. Thad Cochran and Rep. Trent Lott, the two most powerful GOP figures from Mississippi with clout in Washington.

The newest brou-ha-ha in the state Republican ranks is over filling the job of state director of the Small Business Administration which is to be vacated in April by Sam Baker, a Carter administration appointee. Baker incidentally, was the first black ever named to head a major federal agency in Mississippi.

He was picked for the SBA job over former Mayor Russell Davis of Jackson in what was considered a strategic move by Carter administration forces to toss a plum to black voters in Mississippi who had given Carter a critical edge to carry the state in 1976.

Ironically, black Mississippi Democratic political leaders didn't view it that way because none of them knew Baker, who had spent most of his time working in the ranks of the SBA rather than in black political ranks.

What is in the making now, is a move by Cochran to name another black to the important SBA job. His choice is Nehemiah Flowers, a member of Cochran's Jackson office staff and a one-time football star at the University of Oklahoma.

Flowers had been the first black ever named to the staff of a Mississippi Congressman in modern times, after Cochran was elected to the U.S. House in 1972. He has remained with Cochran ever since, except for one unsuccessful excursion as a candidate for the state legislature in 1979.

But a number of Republican Party faithful, especially in the Jackson area, are up in arms about the prospect of Cochran making a purely political appointment to fill such a major federal administrative job. Besides, many, even some black Republican Party activists, have strong reservations about Flowers' ability to handle any administrative position at the level required by the SBA job. Mostly, Flowers' responsibilities in the Cochran Senate office have been nothing more than processing veterans' cases.

The Jackson area Republicans are pushing for Jack Spradling, a veteran of some 10 years experience in the SBA state office, who is also a known Republican. Spradling was one of the top assistants in the SBA who was passed over by the Carter administration when Baker was named in 1978. Evidently, the pro-Spradling forces in the state GOP have involved Cong. Lott in the patronage flap and he is expected to go to bat for Spradling.

State GOP Chairman Mike Retzer evidently sides with Cochran in the Senator's intention to send up Flowers' name to the White House for the SBA job, on the strength of the post being primarily a piece of Senatorial patronage.

While Retzer won't admit it openly, the idea of picking a black for a job that the Democrats had filled with a black is in line with Retzer's strategy to make inroads in the almost solid black base of the Democrats in Mississippi.

Some top Republican figures in the state concede that if Lott chooses to go to the mat with Cochran on the SBA appointment, he could throw a major roadblock in the way of Flowers getting the job and probably could derail it. A close inspection of Flowers' qualifications for the key administrative post, even some in Cochran's camp admit, could greatly weaken Cochran's position in pushing his staff assistant for the job.

Cochran and Lott have not yet resolved the stalemate that has been going on for the last four months or so over filling the vacancy on the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals which is supposed to go to Mississippi. Cochran is still standing pat on naming his old friend, Jackson attorney E. Grady Jolly, and Lott is resolutely opposed to Jolly getting the court position.

So far, only the fact that Lott is relied upon by President Reagan to handle much of the administration program in the House has Reagan withheld making any nomination for the Court of Appeals spot.

But insiders in the State GOP hierarchy see the appeals court deadlock being broken shortly because of a hardening position they say is taking place among the U.S. Senate members who hold the power to confirming whomever gets the judicial post.

They say that Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who heads the Senate Judiciary Committee, from which all federal judgeships must be cleared, has sent word that no other name than the one submitted by Cochran will be allowed to get to the floor.

Meantime, however, there is no easing of tensions on the patronage front in the Mississippi Republican ranks as the forces seem to line up behind the two congressional figures.

An Upcoming Crisis

Education has been recognized as a major solution to the state's economic advancement problems. No other governmental service plays a more critical role in the state's advancement.

But, a recent analysis of local financial support of education by the Mississippi Economic Council reveals a disturbing funding trend.

A 25-year decline in local support of education, combined with projected cuts in federal funding, may put local districts in difficult positions in the near future.

Local contributions to public education decreased from just over 42 percent of total support in the early 1950's to just over 23 percent in the late 1970's.

At the same time, the state became more dependent on federal funding, with the percentage of federal funds supporting total education increasing from just over 6 percent in the early 1950's at almost 24 percent in the late 1970's.

Meanwhile, the percentage of state support has remained relatively constant during that 25-year period.

Local districts will be in difficult positions to assume additional funding responsibility for two major reasons.

First, the trend has developed for so long that the state's program cannot easily absorb the shift.

Second, the problems of the local level absorbing the shift are compounded by statutory ceilings placed on the local level's ability to increase funding.

Based on its analysis, MEC reached these recommendations and conclusions:

--The state's local school districts are not generally capable of assuming additional financial burdens associated with projected cuts in federal funding.

--If additional programs or services are required of local districts and no state funds are provided, the Legislature should provide local districts the statutory ability to raise the necessary funds.

--Any shift in funding responsibility to the local level should not discourage the state's efforts to attain accountability in education.

--The state's Minimum Education Program should be upgraded and soundly financed.

Legislative Report

By Billy McCoy

Representative District III

Prentiss And Alcorn Counties

This past week the House of Representatives passed House Bill 315 which provides for reapportionment of the representatives' districts across the state.

The new districts for Alcorn and Prentiss Counties will be as follows: District 1 (Rep. Wadkins' present District) - Alcorn County precincts of East Corinth, Farmington, Five Points, Glen and Jacinto; and Tishomingo County precincts of Burnsville, Coles Mill, East Burnsville, East Iuka, Hubbard, Salem, Iuka, North Burnsville, North Iuka, West Burnsville, and West Iuka.

District 2 (Rep. Wilson's present District) - Alcorn County precincts of Bethel, Biggersville, College Hill, Kossuth, North Corinth, South Corinth, Union, Wenasoga, and West Corinth.

District 3 (Rep. McCoy's present District) - Alcorn County precinct of Rienzi; Prentiss County precincts of Blackland, Booneville, Crossroads, East Booneville, East Prentiss, Marietta, Martin Hill, New Chandler, New Hope, New Site, North Booneville, Odom Hill, Osborne, Pisgah, Roaring Hollow, Thrasher, Tusculumbia, and West Booneville.

These new districts will be in place for the next 10 years if approved by the United States Justice Department. All representatives will continue to serve their present districts until the next election.

Because Northeast Mississippi has increased in population since the last census, considerable shifts were required in most House districts in order to abide by the United States Supreme Court "one man one vote" ruling. This ruling of course mandates that each legislator will have, as near as possible, the same number of citizens in his district.

Because of this court rule, districts may fracture county lines, supervisor's district lines, municipal boundries, and sometimes even split precincts.

This splitting of counties, districts and cities is confusing to both voters and candidates on election years. Just as a legislator is getting to know most of the citizens in his district, he may find his district drastically changed.

Like most of the other representatives in the state Mr. Wadkins, Mr. Wilson, and I were satisfied with the districts we now have. We asked to have our districts changed as little as possible.

I pledge my continued efforts to serve the best interest of Alcorn and Prentiss counties regardless of where my district lines may be.

Representatives Wadkins, Wilson, and I have had a very close working relationship during our tenure in the House of Representatives and we mutually pledged that this relationship will continue as we work for the betterment of all Northeast Mississippi.

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

Human Beings or Human Beans?

There was an article in the news last week that really caught my attention. Some scientists are saying that human beings and soybeans may be related. (I've met a few people I thought were related to pecans!)

Although it started out as a joke, research conducted by microbiologists is beginning to show that human beings may actually be "Human beans."

According to a professor of agronomy and range science at the University of California at Davis, the relationship may be tied to small nodules that grow on the root system of soybean plants.

These nodules contain a fluid similar to blood pigments in humans, the professor said. He said the similarities were discovered by scientists researching the plants because of their ability to produce their own nitrogen food.

If soybeans and human beings are indeed related, this could cause some problems.

For instance, would it mean we are cannibals if we eat food that contains anything made from our soybean relatives? So many foods contain soybean products that cannibalism or not, it would be hard to shy away from those foods.

But perhaps the worst possibility of all is this: If soybeans and human beings are related, our Mississippi Legislature will probably attempt to pass a bill requiring the teaching of scientific soybeanism in the schools.

Audacity

A man called the Banner-Independent this week with a news tip. All would have been fine, except for one thing.

The man with the "news tip" only called the Banner-Independent to get the phone number of WTWA in Tupelo. It seems the man wanted to give the "news tip" to the television station and not the local newspaper.

Needless to say, the Banner-Independent does not look up the competition's telephone number.

A Double-Talker

Frank Raines, the well-known "double talker" who has appeared on TV shows such as "You Asked For It" and "The Tonight Show" stopped by the Banner office Tuesday.

(Banner employees were astonished to find someone who could "double talk" as well as themselves!)

At first Mr. Raines calmly talked to employees but then the next thing they knew Mr. Raines was talking right along with them! Can you imagine how disconcerting it is to have someone saying the exact statement you are saying...especially if you don't know what you're going to say next!

Snow flurries have been predicted for today, Jan. 31, and for tonight. Whatever the weather let's all be careful about fires in our homes. Statistics show that more homes are burned during extremely cold weather than at any other time.

Jerry Wayne Barnes and children Sherry and Kenneth from West Memphis, Ark. were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes. They worshipped at Oak Ridge on Sunday morning.

Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sloop and children from Tunnel Hill, Ga. It is encouraging to have visitors present.

Reported sick today was Mrs. Edna Mayo and Mrs. Gracie Crawford.

Absent today were Larry Kennedy and Larry T. Coats. They were not sick but were preaching. Larry Kennedy spoke to the New Bethel Congregation and Larry Coats spoke to the Lee Acres church. These young men are doing a good work.

A few days ago a friend, Mrs. Gladys Saylor called me to inquire of the location of Dr. Shipp's office. She also wanted to know if I would recommend him. I said, "I certainly do." She and Jimmy Moore saw Dr. Shipp last Wednesday. They got good reports - Gladys needed only new glasses.

Cherry Coats is home from visiting in Orlando. She said they had a good time but failed to visit Disney World. She hopes to go again and complete her plans.

Mrs. Nora Rinehart is helping out while her sister Gracie Crawford is hospitalized.

Get-well wishes are extended to all the sick, the shut-ins especially to Mrs. Dora Garrett "Ma" who had surgery last week in the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth.

Good to see Mrs. Arthur Barnes able to be up and going following a two day stay in N.M.M.C. in Tupelo for tests and X-rays.

It will bring a blessing, so be sure this to do.

Club volunteer CF chairman; Ron Roper; Molly Crow; Ryan Roper; and Wanda Crow of the Junior Woman's Club.

Local Woman's Club To Sponsor 'State Skate' February 7

Final preparations for the 1982 Cystic Fibrosis State Skate are now being completed, according to Mrs. Kay Roper, Booneville Junior Woman's Club volunteer chairman for cystic fibrosis.

Skaters are out collecting donations so that they can compete for some great prizes in the State Skate which will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Feb. 7 at the Dixieland Skate Center in Booneville, she said. Mrs. Roper said that skaters must bring in at least $5 in donations for Cystic Fibrosis to enter the State Skate. Each skater will also be charged regular admission at the skating center, she said.

Any skater who brings in $25 or more in donations will receive a t-shirt and a free small pizza from Pizza Hut, she said. The skater bringing in the most in donations will receive a pair of Pacer racer skates plus a tote bag. The skater in second place will receive a hand-held electronic game and the third-place winner will receive a free pizza party for five at Pizza Hut.

The funds from the Mississippi State Skate will be used to benefit more than 200 children and young adults throughout the state, Mrs. Roper said.

Cystic Fibrosis is a genetic disease which attacks the respiratory and digestive systems. There is no cure and the disease kills more children than any other disease except cancer.

Sponsor forms to be used in the State Skate can be picked up at the Dixieland Skate Center or at Pizza Hut.

Altitude News

When I was a schoolgirl, one of our favorite phrases was T.G.I.F. (thank goodness it's Friday). But now that I have reached another stage of life and have a child in school, I'm singing a different tune. T.G.F.S.M.C. (Thank goodness for Saturday morning cartoons).

I know that parents are encouraged not to use televisions as babysitters, but I can find only one thing undesirable about these cartoons. I only wish that they continued all through the day.

It's not like the children are having something forced upon them that they don't enjoy. I can barely drag my daughter out of the bed by 7 o'clock on a school day, but come 6 o'clock Saturday morning, the kids usually drag me out inquiring as to how long it will be before "The Smurfs" come on. That hours wait has to be the longest hour of the week, at least to the.

Whoever scheduled a program of all morning cartoons had to be a parent.

After a peaceful morning, the following afternoon proves to be a humdinger! The conversation consists of constant gripes of "I'm bored," "I want to help you," "I'm hungry," or "Jennifer hit me."

The puppy contributes to the festivities by being constantly underfoot, looking for a playmate.

Then the evening fighting match begins. My third-grader can't wait until the school week ends, but then on Saturday all she wants to do is play "school."

When you have a 4-year-old who is used to doing things his own way and then along comes a bossy big sister, it just doesn't work out. The final result is usually a name-calling match starting with "stinky" and ending with the most dreaded of all, "punk."

I don't understand why "punk" lands such a hard blow, but I guess it means something to them. I've always heard that things could be worse, but sometimes I wonder. They could play chase and use "Mommie" for base!

Sunday is a big improvement. The morning passes quickly with church services and lunch is a bit more interesting since we have guests for the meal.

The evening goes off pretty smoothly. Perhaps the children learned something in Sunday School after all. Or maybe they are better behaved because our guests include our preacher from church.

Now it's back to church for the evening services and home again. Just enough time for music practice and one last check to be sure homework is all done before bedtime. And then T.G.I.M. - Thank goodness it's Monday! Five more days of peace before Saturday comes around again.

Elvia Moorman is home from the local hospital after her stay there. She was released on Thursday and is reportedly feeling fairly well.

I would like to send best wishes for a speedy recovery to Howard Hardin, Bessie Wade and Earnestine Oakley who were reported hospitalized during the latter part of the week. I hope that they are home soon and feeling better.

Also, I would like to remember Lizzie Underwood and Bill Williams who are patients at the Bella Vista Unit in Tupelo. May their sufferings be eased as their friends offer prayers in their behalf.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hare were recent Saturday night visitors of Lucille Phillips. Lucille Phillips, Polly

Murphy and Edith Holley attended a workshop sponsored by the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District Council on Aging. The program was conducted at Rust College in Holly Springs on Friday, Jan. 30.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gladys Harris were held Sunday afternoon. Our sincere sympathy is extended to her husband, Arliss Harris, and other loved ones.

Death is something that we all know is certain to come, but we're never prepared for it. We have been taught early in life to accept the idea of death, yet the grim reality is something that's hard to accept. But we must go on and seek encouragement in the things that are still alive. For as one life ends, another is just beginning.

Enjoying a meal in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dunaway on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. G.T. Pharr, Mrs. Marie Burns and Miss Cindy Underwood.

Belated Birthday wishes for those who celebrated their birthdates last week. Included are Wanda Brimingham, Gene Johnson, Jeff Lambert, Mastie Bell Huddleston, Derek Timbes, Danny King, Mildred (Hare) Clark, Jeff Strickland and William L. McKinney and Pam Penna.

Our birthday people of this week (Jan. 31 - Feb. 5) are Pat Fugitt, Donna Johnson, and Randal Floyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge Young were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hutchens and children on Friday night.

Present in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Foster for the noon meal on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Foster and Susie, Mr. and Mrs. Larry George and Desiree, Sheila Hill, John and Joe, Pam Penna, Michelle and Jared, Myrtie Cole and Robert McDonald. The group enjoyed a song fest accompanied by Harold Newborn on the guitar. Joe and Annette Clark and sons were visitors later in the afternoon.

Stainless Steel

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

THE MAGIC OF STAINLESS STEEL

Stainless steel is the quality name given to a family of steels so durable they were used in the Apollo II rocket that landed on the moon in 1969.

Developed in the 1920's for commercial applications, stainless steel alloys are known for resisting rust and withstanding high temperatures. These qualities explain why they are particularly attractive for houseware products.

Different alloying elements alter the characteristics of stainless steel. Like other steels, stainless steel is a combination of iron and other metals.

Chromium makes it corrosion resistant and the higher the content, the more resistant it is. Other elements may include nickel to improve fabrication characteristics while carbon is controlled to enhance strength and hardness.

For example, the stainless steel in cutlery contains enough carbon to allow the cutting edge to be honed razor-sharp. Stainless steel that is easily molded is used for cookware. Top-of-the-range cookware is generally combined with other metals such as aluminum, copper or carbon for the best distribution of heat.

As a noncorrosive metal, stainless steel is sanitary. It is also acid-resistant, does not tarnish, and is easy to clean. It is therefore suitable for making all types of cookware as well as cutlery and flatware.

It is also especially effective for small appliances like coffeepots and tea kettles that must be kept clean for best results. Because of its durability and attractive appearance, stainless steel is also used in major appliances such as automatic washers and dryers, as well as in dishwashers and sinks.

Before using a new product made of stainless steel, read the labels for use and care information. The Soap and Detergent Association advises that it first be washed thoroughly in hot suds to remove manufacturing oils and polishing compounds.

For regular cleaning, automatic dishwashing or hand washing in hot water with detergent or soap are the only requirements to keep it bright and shiny. Prompt drying prevents water spots. Remove burned-on foods and grease from cookware by soaking the utensil in hot, sudsy water.

Then use a scouring powder with a plastic or steel wool pad for stubborn spots. In such cases, rub the stainless steel along grain lines to avoid scratching.

New Clubs Organized

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

When Does Life Begin For You?

By C. D. Edge

C. D. Edge, Pastor
Grace & Liberty
United Methodist Churches

Ask the youngster and he will answer --
WHEN I'M IN SCHOOL!

Ask the pupil in school and he will answer --
WHEN I'M FINISHED WITH SCHOOL!

Ask the young adult and he will answer --
WHEN I'M SUCCESSFUL!

Ask the busy family man and he will answer --
WHEN THE CHILDREN ARE GROWN UP!

Ask the older adult and he will answer --
WHEN I RETIRE!

Ask the Christian and he will answer --
FOR ME TO LIVE IS CHRIST AND TO DIE IS GAIN!

Can you say today -- My present life is glorious because God is working through me, and my future is so certain that I can hardly wait! You can if you have received Jesus Christ. Your life really begins when Jesus comes in.

JOHN 10:10 -- Jesus said -- "I AM COME THAT THEY MIGHT HAVE LIFE, AND THAT THEY MIGHT HAVE IT MORE ABUNDANTLY."

Perspectives Of Teachers Symposium Set At Northeast

The Mississippi Committee for Humanities recently announced funding for a symposium entitled "Perspectives of Teachers in Three Novels by Mississippi Writers." The symposium, which is open to the public, will be from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 10, in Anderson Hall Auditorium on the Northeast Junior College Campus.

The proposal for this project was submitted by Mrs. Nancy Brock and Mrs. Polly Fitzgerald, instructors at NEMJC; Mrs. Hilda Hill, director of the North Mississippi Environmental Education Consortium (NMEEC); and Dr. Eugene Doran, director of Continuing Education at NEMJC.

Sponsoring organizations from Northeast for the symposium are Phi Theta Kappa, Continuing Education, and NMEEC.

During the symposium, Dr. Frank Ginanni, English professor from Middle Tennessee State University, will deal with the literary perspective of teachers revealed in William Faulkner's "The Hamlet," Eudora Welty's "Losing Battles," and Willie Morris' "North Toward Home."

Dr. John H. Peterson Jr., professor of anthropology at Mississippi State University, will discuss the possible factors contributing to the change in philosophy toward educators.

Dr. Ann Abadie, associate director of the Center for the Study of Southern Culture at the University of Mississippi, will present ways teachers portrayed in the novels are distinctively southern.

For additional information, contact Mrs. Hilda Hill on the Northeast campus by calling 728-7751, ext. 309.

Engineering Fundamentals Course Scheduled At NEMJC

Northeast Junior College will offer an eight-week course in the fundamentals of engineering, beginning Monday, Feb. 15, at 6 p.m. in Room 5 of Wright Hall on the Northeast campus. The fee for this course is $50.

Designed as a review for the first part (EIT) of the Professional Engineers' Examination, the class will meet one night per week for three hours each night. Because the class is structured as a review for degreed or equivalently experienced engineers, all participants should have an adequate engineering background.

Each class session will consist of two 30-minute videotaped presentations made by a licensed engineering professional in his area of specialty. Additional time will be given to discussion of concepts covered in readings and video programs for expansion and clarification of ideas and problem-solving techniques.

Course topics include mathematics, nucleonics and wave phenomena, chemistry, statics, dynamics, mechanics of materials, fluid mechanics, thermodynamics and heat transfer, electrical theory, materials, science and engineering economics, all of which are covered in the Professional Engineerings' Examination.

Upon completion of the course, participants will be awarded Continuing Education Units (CEU's) and a certificate for 30 contact hours from Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

For additional information or to pre-register for the course, contact Mrs. Opal Melvin, ACSN Coordinator, at 728-7751, ext. 303.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. JIM DAVIS

GRAVITY AFFECTS YOUR BODY

If you had been a member of the crew on the 84-day Skylab space mission, you would have had a first-hand experience on how the body reacts in a gravity-free world. And if you thought your body had stopped "growing," you might be in for a surprise. All of the astronauts while on that mission grew taller, some of them almost two inches taller. Why? Without the pull of gravity, the body loosens up. The distance between each disc in the spinal column expands slightly.

Here on Earth, we all know how important the force of gravity is in keeping our feet on the ground. In fact, the whole body is affected by this force. If your spine is in proper alignment, this is one sign of good health. But if it isn't, then you may be suffering unnecessarily from back pain and other discomforts. If that's the case, you may want to consider an examination to find out how you can get relief.

Invitation to membership is extended twice a year to students who maintain a 3.5 grade point average while carrying a minimum of 12 semester hours.

Careful Driving Can Save Money On Your Insurance Premiums

Keeping a clean driving record - one without traffic tickets or accidents - can mean hundreds of dollars a year in savings on auto insurance premiums.

The key to this savings is to drive carefully and to know how accidents and tickets affect your auto insurance premiums, says the Insurance Information Institute of New Orleans, LA.

Many auto insurance companies in Mississippi base their rates on the "Safe Driver Rating Plan." Drivers without a chargeable accident and without a traffic violation conviction pay the lowest rates offered by these companies. Others are assessed surcharges based on the number of violation "points" that they have accumulated.

Points can be assessed for the following traffic violation convictions:

-- Driving while intoxicated or under the influence of drugs; failing to stop and report when involved in an accident; driving while your license has been suspended; and using a motor vehicle for homicide or assault.

-- Having to submit a state financial responsibility report because of a state point system or series of violation.

-- Having your license suspended or revoked by the state.

Points are also assessed for accidents that involve any bodily injuries or any property damage totaling more than $300. You would not be assessed points only if you could show that the other person was at fault.

Examples of accidents not your fault are if someone hits your car that is lawfully parked on the street, if the other party reimburses you for 50 percent or more of your damages as a result of the accident, if your car is struck by a hit-and-run driver or if the other party is convicted of a moving violation and you are not.

Getting assigned points can increase your insurance premium from 40 percent for one point up to 220 percent for four or more points.

The Insurance Institute points out that the Safe Drive Rating Plan does not assign points for ordinary violations, such as speeding tickets. If, however, you incur several convictions, insurance companies may refuse to sell you a policy.

In that case you would have to go to the Mississippi Automobile Insurance Plan, where you would be assigned to a company. Policies issued through the plan have their own rates and carry surcharges for all moving violation convictions and for all chargeable accidents. These surcharges start at five percent for one point and escalate upward without limit, depending only on the number of points you incur.

Points remain on your driving record for three years.

If you have questions about your company's policy on accidents and violations, contact your insurance agent. For other information about auto insurance, write for a free copy of "Insurance for the Car" to the Insurance Information Institute, 1001 Howard Ave., New Orleans, LA 70113; or call toll-free 1-800-221-4954.

In Jackson

Drug Abuse Conference Set

Dream One, a statewide conference on juvenile drug abuse, has been rescheduled for Feb. 25-27 in Jackson.

Originally set for Jan 14-16, the conference was postponed due to the snow storm that covered Mississippi and much of the nation during that time.

Dream One will be held at the Jackson Municipal Auditorium and will be sponsored by DREAM (Drug Research and Education Association in Mississippi, Inc.), the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, the Junior League of Jackson, Sunburst Productions, the Mississippi Criminal Justice Planning Commission, and the Mississippi Department of Mental Health, Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

The conference is said to be the first of its kind in Mississippi and will feature leading experts in the fields of drug abuse and enforcement and young people who have actually been involved in the drug scene. The agenda includes workshops, panel discussions and a banquet. "The agenda for the 'new' DREAM ONE is essentially unchanged," said conference director Mrs. Terrie Ainsworth, "and we are notifying by mail all persons who registered for the original conference that their paid fees will apply to February's event."

Mrs. Ainsworth added that the new DREAM ONE will offer special one-day and half-day rates for persons unable to attend the full conference.

Tickets for DREAM ONE are $25, which includes the two-day conference and the workshops. Tickets for one day only are $15 and half-day tickets are $10.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT
from the office of:
JOHN R. WHITE, O. D.
MACULAR DEGENERATION

The macula is a small area at the back of the eye that's responsible for fine or distinct vision. When the macula degenerates there's a loss of central vision. You can't see things directly as well as you used to and all you get is a blur. Your side vision or ability to see clearly adjacent to an object may still be good but the object itself is out of focus. Macular degeneration is one of the major causes of visual disability among older people. It's the result of damage to the blood vessels that nourish the retina, the nerve network at the back of the eye that sends images to the brain.

If the condition is treated early enough the patient may benefit from photocoagulation. In this procedure an intense beam of light from a laser is used to seal off or "coagulate" the affected blood vessels. You can also benefit from the many low-vision aids available such as high-intensity reading lamps and stronger eyeglasses or bifocals. The key phrase is treating it early enough.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office

Despite Two Wage Earners

Most Families Deeper In Debt

FROM MISSISSIPPI COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE

More than half of Mississippi's families have two or more wage-earners. Lifestyles have been simplified, but families have reduced their savings and gone deeper in debt in many of the rural areas in spite of two wage-earners in at least 70 percent of the rural homes. In the last decade, personal bankruptcy filings have more than tripled.

"Mississippi's fastest growing age group is the prime buying age—25 to 34," says Dr. Julia Barnes, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service family economics and management specialist. "The needs of this group are crucial—families are formed, careers are forged, and homes are bought and furnished. The planning of spending, borrowing, protecting, and saving becomes even more important as management functions affect success in reaching goals."

About 70 percent of family living expenses are for housing, food, energy and medical care. The annual cost of raising farm children generally rises with the age of the child. No substantial difference in cost by sex appears until the children reach their late teens. Then the costs for farm boys are higher.

The moderate cost of raising southern, rural, nonfarm children to age 18 is $82,555, Dr. Barnes says. The child's shares of family housing and food are the greatest expenditures, 33 and 23 percent, respectively.

Housing and food make up the greatest proportion of expenses for urban children at all cost levels. The cost of raising these children to age 18 ranged from $40,498 at the economy level to $75,736 at the moderate level.

Food marketing costs will take nearly two-thirds of every consumer food dollar in 1982. Prices for marketing inputs are calculated to rise 8 to 10 percent. The farm share of retail food prices is expected to average about 36 percent in 1981.

The food marketing increases combined with nominal increases in farm-level prices indicate an increase of from 5 to 8 percent for retail foods for 1982. Good weather, low export demands, and lower rate of cost inflation could push food retail prices below the lower limit, she points out.

House payments or rent should not exceed one week's income. Rental housing will get tighter and costlier in 1982. Mobile homes sales are expected to increase in Mississippi, and they are already up about 20 percent.

Mississippi reports indicate there are already up about 20 percent.

Mississippi reports indicate there are 155,854 substandard houses in our state. An estimated 165,123 new units will be needed in 1982.

The cost of home ownership has increased more rapidly since 1979 than per capita income and the Consumer Price Index for all items. The cost of new houses has increased twice as fast as family income. Housing will not make a general recovery until all institutions that finance it can offer competitive rates. The cost for clothing and

JUMPERTOWN DROPS NEW SITE

Jumpertown's Cardinals defeated arch rival New Site's Royals 81-68 here last Friday night to spoil New Site's Homecoming.

The Cardinals had lost two earlier contests to the Royals but have been on a tear the past couple of weeks.

In the girls contest the Cardinalettes made it a clean sweep for the night with a 45-44 victory.

In girls action, Lynette Miller led the Cardinalettes with an 18 point performance followed by Wendy Green with 13 and Martie Moore with 10. Chris Frost had 14 and Janie Williams 12 for New Site.

In eighth grade action, Marla Cartwright led Anderson's girls with 2 points while Clay Johnson had 12 points for the boys.

Finals of the tournament was scheduled last night (Wednesday) however results of the tournament were not available at presstime.

A report of the tournament will be published in next week's Banner-Independent.

Delta's Statesmen To Meet UNA Monday

A host of Prentiss County fans are going to Florence next Monday night when the Delta State Statesmen will battle the University of North Alabama in a Gulf South match at UNA's Flowers Coliseum.

Former Thrasher High School performer James Swinney is one of the top performers on the Delta State team.

Anyone wishing to attend the game can still purchase tickets for the game according to a spokesman for the school. Plenty of seats will be available to watch the key rivalry game.

Swinney will see plenty of action in the game. The former Rebel is averaging some 10 points per game and is the team's leading free throw shooter with a remarkable 86 percent average.

Gametime for the Monday Feb. 8th matchup is 7:30

Tupelo, Wheeler To Faceoff Tonight

An overflow crowd is expected here Thursday when Wheeler's Eagles and Tupelo's Golden Wave clash in a key rematch at Northeast's Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

The game was originally scheduled for early January but since has been rescheduled due to inclement weather.

One of the largest crowds in the history of the Northeast gym turned out for last year's game and another huge following is expected this time around.

The Eagles, who at one point this year ranked fifth in the State have since dropped one outing to Jumpertown's Cardinals while the Wave have fell on four occasions at press time while claiming 21 on the win column.

Wheeler won last year's clash in a very memorable affair and this year's game is again expected to be a close one.

The Eagles overall record stands at 29-3 for the season and they have one remaining regular season game with Saltillo's Tigers tomorrow night before the District Tournaments get underway.

Make your plans to attend this key contest in a fine facility at Northeast's Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

A tentative starting time has been set at 7:45. A junior high game will be held prior to the varsity matchup.

17 Gridsters Sign NE Scholarship Pacts

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head football coach and athletic director Bill Ward announced here Monday that the school had signed 17 football performers for the upcoming 1982 grid season.

Ward made the announcement after some two months of the signing trail.

Players signed include, from Corinth, Terry Lamberth, 190 lb. def. back; Lamar Keith, 160 lb. def. back; Tim Dixon, 180 lb. quarterback; William Green, 170 lb. lineman. Biggersville signees include, John Weatherbee, 240 lb. tackle; and Ronnie Armstrong, 220 pound fullback.

Players who signed from

New Albany are, Terry Hatch, 195 pound quarterback; Jeff Leaper, 240 pound lineman; James Jones Jr. 165 pound defensive back, and John Conlee, 190 pound lineman.

Booneville signees are, Richey Leach, 195 pound back and Willie Shinault, 217 pound lineman.

Ripley signees include, Rickey Johnson, 175 pound running back; Daryel Rogers, 170 pound tightend, and Lonnie Smith 170 pound receiver.

Rounding out the list of signees are, John Waldrop, of Blue Mountain and Odia Cox, a 250 pound tackle from Arabia, Georgia.

The Northeast head coach says he plans to sign some 25 to 30 performers for the upcoming season.

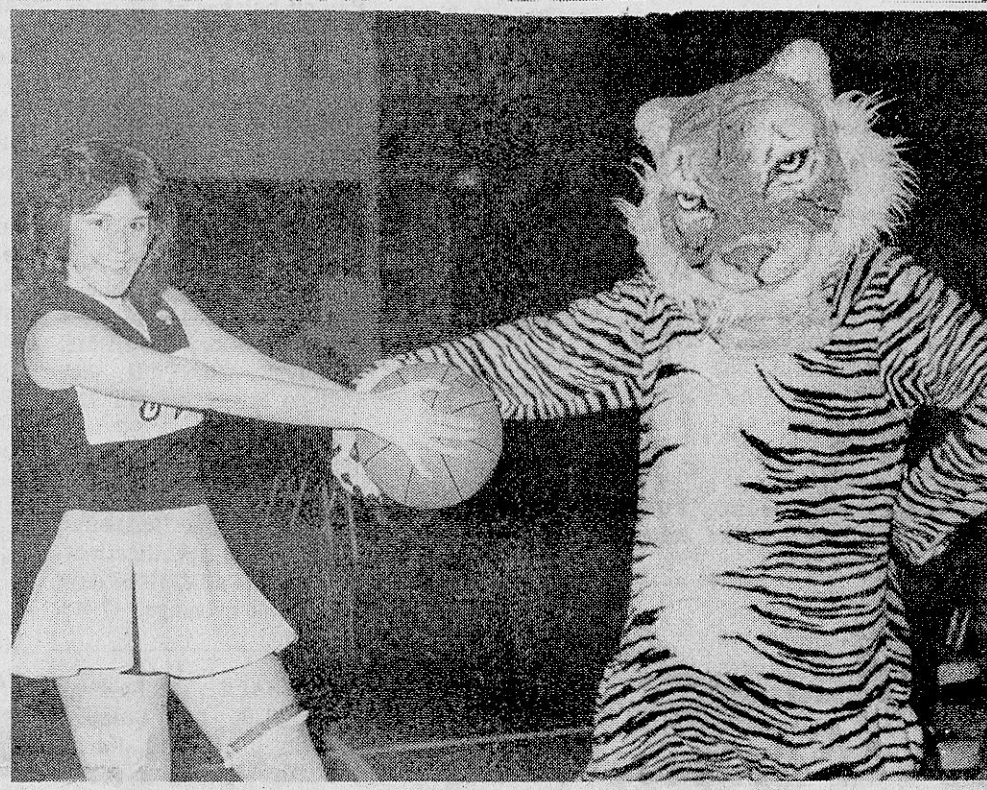

"We feel like we've signed some outstanding recruits for this fall," Ward said. "We signed as many from the five county area as we could and plan to sign even a few more. We saw some good talent on the area high school teams," he added. "We want as many of them playing for Northeast as possible."

The Tigers had a host of freshmen on last year's roster that should indeed see plenty of playing time this year.

Ward said he hoped the new recruits would continue their workouts through the spring and summer months ahead before reporting for the fall practice.

THE BEAUTY AND THE BEAST—Northeast cheerleader Yvette McIntire scuffles with Mr. Tiger in the bottom photo during pre-game ceremonies Monday night. Well Mr. Tiger finally realized that it was much nicer and much more enjoyable to make friends with Yvette than to scuffle and at left he finds that this was also a lot more fun. Does Yvette always get her way? With her looks you bet... (Photos by Lee Gentry)

1. Choosing the right tire for your car can save you a lot of money. The right tire will give you better mileage, better handling, and better braking. It will also save you a lot of money by lasting longer.
2. If your engine is not running properly, it will use more fuel. This means you will get less mileage. Check your engine regularly and make sure it is running properly.
3. It is a common fact that the more you drive, the more you spend on gas. This is because the more you drive, the more you use gas. To save money, you should drive efficiently. This means you should not rev the engine too high, you should not accelerate too fast, and you should not brake too hard.

Get a $2000 tax deduction every year and retire like a millionaire.

How your IRA Tax Shelter can grow into a small fortune (or a big one).

Start at this age and contribute the maximum each year until you're 65.	An individual contributing $2,000 a year could have this amount by age 65.	A couple with one spouse working contributing $2,250 a year could have this amount by age 65.	A working couple contributing $4,000 a year could have this amount by age 65.
Age 25	$1,718,284	$1,933,070	$3,436,568
Age 30	$ 966,926	$1,087,791	$1,933,852
Age 35	$ 540,585	$ 608,158	$1,081,170
Age 40	$ 298,667	$ 336,001	$ 597,334
Age 45	$ 161,397	$ 181,572	$ 322,794
Age 50	$ 83,506	$ 93,944	$ 167,012
Age 55	$ 39,309	$ 44,222	$ 78,618
Age 60	$ 14,230	$ 16,009	$ 28,460

Amounts are based on an average of 12% simple interest annually with deposits made on January 1 of each year. This chart is not meant to be a statement of actual interest rates available or guaranteed end financial results.

All you do is stash away up to $2,000 a year in a First Bank IRA Tax Shelter account.

You can deduct every penny of that money from your Federal income taxes. In a 50% tax bracket, that could save you $1,000 a year on taxes; $600 in a 30% bracket. And you'll earn high interest so by the time you retire, you'll have accumulated quite a nest egg.

In fact, if you start putting in $2,000 a year when you're 29 and you earn an average of 12% a year interest, you'll have somewhere around a million when you retire at 65. For a working couple, it could be two million.

Almost everybody's eligible for an IRA Tax Shelter.

Thanks to recent changes in federal laws, you can now get an IRA Tax Shelter no matter what other retirement or profit-sharing plans you may have where you work. The only requirement is that you earn the money you contribute to an IRA.

If you and your spouse both work, you can put in up to $4,000 a year from your joint income. For couples with one spouse working, it's $2,250. And for individuals, it's $2,000.

Even contribute monthly at First Bank.

You can put your money in a 1982 IRA Tax Shelter in one lump sum any time between January 4, 1982, and April 15, 1983. But, of course, the sooner you put your money in, the sooner you start earning the high interest.

Or at First Bank, you can put in a little every month. If you start in January, you only need to contribute $166 a month for the maximum tax deduction by the end of the year. For working couples, it's $333 per month. And for couples with one spouse working, it's $187.

To make it more convenient, we can automatically withdraw your monthly payment from your First Bank checking account.

Start now for high interest all year.

With the First Bank IRA Tax Shelter, you always earn a competitive interest rate, because the rate is tied to the rate for Money Market CD's, and it will vary quarterly. When interest rates soar—like they did this year—your rate does too. And vice versa. But no matter what happens, you're assured of earning money market rates. And over the long haul, the tax benefits make it your best investment.

You can begin withdrawing your IRA Tax Shelter money when you're age 59½, and you must start by age 70½. Then you'll pay taxes on the amount you withdraw, but when you retire you'll probably pay taxes at a lesser rate. There is a substantial penalty for withdrawal before age 59½.

Your IRA Tax Shelter money is completely safe because it's invested in 18-month Savings Certificates and it's insured up to $100,000 by the F.D.I.C.

If you want to cut your taxes. If you want to make sure your retirement is secure. Or if you'd just like to become a millionaire, our IRA Tax Shelter is for you. Call or visit any First Bank location.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian
George E. Allen Library

For those history majors or history buffs interested in Confederate military history the Allen Library has received four volumes of the series written by Southern historians and edited by Clement A. Evans.

"Alabama and Mississippi," "Kentucky and Missouri," "Louisiana and Arkansas," and "Maryland and West Virginia," are those new to our collection.

The series consists of 13 volumes and are now in publication from the Blue and Grey Press.

Genealogists often prefer the census returns in book form. New on our shelves in a book edited by Marie Bankhead Owen, "Alabama Census Returns, 1820, and an Abstract of Federal Census of Alabama 1830." This is a publication of the State Department of Archives and History and is a gift of a patron.

"The Complete Book of Entertaining," from the Emily Post Institute, is new in an area of frequent requests.

"Pictorial Guide to Home Restoration," by William Rooney offers practical information on remodeling dwellings. "Evergreens, a Guide for Landscape Lawn, and Garden," by H. Peter Lewer, is also for home owners. Of interest on their activities, too, is "A Beginner's Guide to Oriental Rugs."

For our young readers, new books include "Wonder Why Book of Stars," by Patrick Moore; "Yarn Crafts," by Linda Hetzer; "The Music Lover's Guide to the Instruments of the Orchestra," more books in the "Let's Discover" series; and, of course, entertaining and refreshing fiction.

Even The Rubik's Cube

Many Leisure Activities Increase Human Ailments

Whether jogging, trying to outwit a Rubik's cube, eating Chinese food or listening to rock music on headphones, Americans are working overtime to increase the risks of leisure living.

Research by the Combined Insurance Company of America indicates that ailments such as "disco food," "Hunan hand" and "runner's palsy" are joining the ranks of tennis elbow and writer's cramp as discomforts incurred in daily pursuits.

Podiatrists point out that disco dancing is one of the few "sports" in which women wear highheeled shoes. The higher the heel the greater the risk of developing foot and leg disorders—and of spraining an ankle.

Men also suffer from disco foot—to a lesser degree than women—when they put too much stress on feet that are out of alignment. And the heavier the dancer, the harder the disco is on the feet.

Physicians are receiving increasing reports of physical problems associated with jogging. Damage to knees, feet and ankles are most common, but reports in the New England Medical Journal describe gastrointestinal disturbances brought on by compulsive running, and one recent account deals with runner's radial palsy, in which a jogger suffered numbness in his left hand and forearm from flexing his arms tightly while running.

In the Chinese food department, danger lurks in the preparation of highly spiced Szechuan and Hunan dishes, which call for red pepper. The skin of the dried red chili peppers frequently used to spice up Chinese cuisine contains volatile oils that can cause severe skin irritation. If the oils enter the blood stream through cuts or abrasions they can affect the mucous membrane and cause acute discomfort.

Chinese restaurant asthma has been known to the medical profession since it was first officially described in 1968. The ingestion of monosodium glutamate (MSG) used in many Chinese dishes causes Chinese restaurant syndrome—headache, nausea, sometimes vomiting, and abdominal pain within one or two hours after dining.

The Rubik's cube, those little squares that are driving people to distraction, are creating sore hands, particularly cuber's thumb, a localized tender swelling. Aficionados say that the more expensive the cube, the easier it is to manipulate and the less likely one is to develop a sore thumb.

A new and perhaps esoteric ailment has emerged from inflation and the high price of gold. The American Medical Association Journal reports that mercury poisoning is resulting from some home processing of gold ore.

With the high price of gold motivating many to find and sell gold, home smelting processes are being developed, usually involving heating the ore in an open pan on a kitchen stove. That can cause nausea, headache, chills, coughing, vomiting, weakness and numbness.

Home gold processors are warned to learn more about what they are doing or risk severe injury or death.

The portable stereos with headsets (called walkarounds by some) are proving a menace both to hearing and to traffic safety, according to Combined Insurance research. Walkers, bikers, motorists and others cannot hear the sounds of traffic while tuned into rock or other music.

They become distracted, taking their attention away from potential traffic hazards and making them targets for disaster. Some states are moving to outlaw wearing headsets while driving and the Insurance Information Institute is urging the utmost caution in using this new recreational toy.

The Journal of American Insurance reports that some 54 million Americans are endangering themselves through arts and crafts activities. Many people may become sick from the materials they use and the way they use them. Some work with toxic substances such as arsenic compounds in coloring aluminum sculpture. The chemical in spray adhesives poses other perils while a solvent used in photo-lithography can cause anemia.

According to the Federal Consumer Product Safety Commission, the most dangerous arts and crafts are jewelry making, enameling, working with glass and crystal, painting, lapidary work, printing and the dying of textiles and fibers.

Combined Insurance safety experts urge people to learn as much as they can about the perils as well as the pleasures of leisure pursuits and to seek medical advice about potential dangers.

"Leisure should be fun," one expert said, "but it also should be marked 'handle with care'."

"I'm only 32.
Why worry about retirement now?"

Because every year you wait, you're losing money. And a tax deduction, too.

With an Individual Retirement Account from The People Place, your deposits are tax-deductible. And the interest you earn is tax-free until you withdraw it at retirement—as early as age 59½. By then, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket anyway.

You can open an IRA at The People Place even if you already have a pension plan where you work. And you can deposit up to $2,000 a year for individuals, $4,000 a year if both you and your spouse work.

Say you start depositing $2,000 a year into your IRA at 30. By age 65, you'll have put a tax-deductible $70,000 in the bank. Tax-deferred interest mounts up so fast that, assuming a 12% interest rate compounded quarterly, your $70,000 will have turned into $1,106,452.

Even if you deposit just $25 a month in your IRA, you'll still have a handsome sum of $165,967.91 at retirement. And a tax deduction every year until then.

Find out more about IRAs. Ask the people who know. At The People Place.

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal of funds from an IRA. Also, the Internal Revenue Service imposes a 10% penalty on the amount withdrawn, and the amount withdrawn must be included in taxable income.

Area Students On Honor Roll

Three women from Prentiss County are among 341 students listed on the 1981 fall semester honor roll at Mississippi University for Women.

MUW's honor roll is composed of the President's List, which represents students who earned a straight "A" average for the semester, and the Dean's List, which features students showing an overall average of "A" for the fall term.

The President's List for the fall semester at The W includes 55 seniors, 32 juniors, 24 sophomores and 10 freshmen, for a total of 121 straight "A" students. The Dean's List includes 79 seniors, 65 juniors, 51 sophomores and 25 freshmen for a total of 220.

Students named to the honor roll from Prentiss County include: Baldwin students Nila Karen Morris and Tammy L. Prather, both named to the President's List. Kathy Lynn McElroy of Booneville was named a Dean's List scholar.

"On behalf of the entire University community, I wish to congratulate these students for their academic achievements. We're proud of them and wish them continued success in their studies here at The W," said Dr. James W. Strobel, president of MUW.

Clip And Block Before Show Day

By EDWARD L. McWhirter
Extension 4-H Youth Agent
CLIP AND BLOCK
BEFORE SHOW DAY

Clipping and blocking are of utmost importance in preparing an animal for show. Heads on breeding cattle are clipped different ways depending upon the breed.

Some breeds (Polled Hereford) clip only the poll while others clip the entire head. However, with all breeding animals, the ears are never clipped.

On steers of all breeds, draw an imaginary line from the front part of the ear down and clip everything forward as close as possible. With steers, the ears may or may not be clipped.

You may choose to only trim the long hairs enough to give a smooth, neat appearance. The tail should be clipped upward from the point where the twist starts to break to where the tail head starts to round up the rump.

After you have clipped all the way up, then level across the top. This will give the animal the appearance of being longer.

Before you start to block your calf, you must have him completely analyzed and know his strong and weak points. Once you begin to block, you should do it by emphasizing his strong points and detracting from his weak points.

In blocking, you want to enhance the animal's length of body, length of leg, trimness, muscling, structure and size. If your calf does not have enough hair to stand up and block, it may be best to show him slick or with his hair down. This will generally make him look longer and trimmer but often detracts from his muscling. It is best then to try to get the hair up over the forearm and through the stifle or rear quarter area.

The more hair that is pulled up in the rear quarter, generally the more muscular the individual will look, but it will usually have a diminishing effect on the animal's length. Usually, bulls are shown with their neck hair up also to bring out their masculinity. Several higher placings can be obtained if a good job of blocking is done. This will take many hours of practice.

Don't give up or get discouraged if he doesn't look like you expect him to. Remember that blocking only brings out the good points in your calf and will not give him good points where he doesn't have them. It is best to clip and block your calf several days before the show day to allow for touching-up and smoothing over at the show.

A period of not less than 3 days to more than 10 days will allow the hair time to grow and lose its stubby look.

Another procedure that needs to be done several weeks in advance of show day is that of trimming the feet. This area of grooming your calf is most often neglected.

An animal with long toes and unbalanced feet often results in crooked legs and are always poor travelers. This is a point against you in the show ring. As all animals are required to walk and be set squarely, improper foot care could be a lower placing.

ASCS Goal: Service To Farmers

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) provides many services to agriculture through administration of farm programs enacted by Congress. Service to our nation's farmers is the goal of ASCS.

Some of the basic farm programs are designed to improved the economic stability of agriculture and help farmers to achieve supply and demand balances. Related programs help maintain an even flow of quality products to market at reasonable price to both producer and consumer.

We have programs absolutely basic to improving and protecting soil and water resources, while at the same time helping to keep our water clean which cost-share with farmers on specified conservation and land use practices.

Throughout Mississippi and in Prentiss County, most all programs are available for use by farmers. Farmers participating in ASCS administered farm programs are familiar with price support activities and loans, direct purchases and export programs which all aid in maintaining economic stability.

Helping to keep an even flow of quality products to market are indemnity payments, emergency and defense programs and incentive payments which are available as needed. The Agricultural Conservation Program and the Forestry Incentives Program provide cost-sharing for improving and protecting our soil and water resources. Many farmers, especially cotton and soybean farmers have used the price support loans extensively during this marketing season.

ASCS administered farm programs, as we know them today, are strictly voluntary and they are available when needed. Farmers and others who are interested in getting detailed information on any of the programs administered by ASCS are urged to call or drop by the local ASCS office.

ACP SIGNUP

A signup will be conducted under the Agricultural Conservation Program - ACP- during the last two weeks in February.

Farmers and landowners who are interested in requesting cost-sharing for conservation practices should go by the county ASCS Office and sign up during this period. The signup will include requests for annual practices to be carried out this year and for long term agreements.

Mississippi's increase in allocation for 1982 annual practices is $3,419,000. Prentiss County received an increase of $40,194 for 1982 annual practices. The county does not receive an allocation for long term agreements. After the signup, funds will be requested to cover the long term agreements.

Practices available include following: SL1 - Permanent Vegetative Cover Establishment; SL3 - Stripcropping Systems; SL4 - Terrace Systems; SL5 - Diversions; SL11 - Permanent Vegetative Cover on Critical Areas; SL13 - Contour Farming; SL14 - Reduced Tillage Systems; SL15 - No-Till Systems; WC1 - Water Impoundment Reservoir; WP1 - Sediment Retention; Erosion, or Water Control Structures; WP3 - Sod Waterways; WP4 - Animal Waste Control Facilities; FR1 - Forest Tree plantations; and FR2 - Forest Tree Stand Improvements.

Persons interested in requesting cost-sharing or who are interested in getting detailed information on the program should contact the local ASCS Office.

Tree Planting Week Is Feb. 8-12

From USDA Soil
Conservation Service
Booneville, Mississippi

Mississippi's eighth annual statewide Tree Planting Week has been set for Feb. 8-12, according to James Martin, tree farmer of Brandon.

Martin has been named the Tree Planting chairman by the state Tree Planting and Forest Resource Development Committee with the Mississippi Forestry Commission. The primary sponsor of Tree Planting Week is the Mississippi Association of Conservation Districts Inc.

Martin replaced long-time tree farmer L.L. Mullins of Starkville, who founded the annual tree planting event and has served as its statewide chairman since 1975.

Ralph G. (Bubby) Smith, chairman of the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District, says loblolly pine seedlings will be given away to over 3,000 county school children during the observance.

Homeowners can obtain a limited number of seedlings for ornamental purposes by contacting the County Forester's office.

People in Prentiss County will join other Mississippians in acknowledging the many contributions trees make to their daily lives. Benefits from Mississippi's forest and wood products, are essential to the economic, recreational, and environmental needs of all.

During 1981, more than 66,000 Mississippi school children at 436 schools took part in Tree Planting Week activities. Five million tree seedlings were planted throughout the state during the five-day observance.

Mississippi is blessed with abundant forests; more than half of the state's land area is in trees. But several million acres of land best suited for growing timber, still need tree planting. Many of these idle and unproductive acres are in Prentiss County.

Tree Planting Week is a good time for Mississippi landowners to check reforestation needs on their land and make plans for a tree-planting program that will benefit them in the future.

Individuals wishing to obtain trees during Tree Planting Week should contact the local Soil Conservation Service or Mississippi Forestry Commission office.

County Agent's Report

Select Seed Soybeans Carefully

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent

SOYBEANS

Varieties and Seed Supply. More varieties are on the market than ever before. Before selection, consider maturity, disease and nematode resistance, seed holding, herbicide sensitivity and yield.

Look at several years' research data from locations nearby. If homegrown seed are to be used, be sure to get a germination test and have them cleaned properly.

A vigor test will give some additional information on seed quality.

Fertilization and Liming. These represent a sizable portion of total production costs. It is false economy to reduce and eliminate fertilizer indiscriminately and or lime just to reduce costs, yet there are some ways to economize.

Use soil tests as a guide for selecting rates and ratios of fertilizers. Not every field requires fertilizing this year, but medium or high testing soils may not give an economical return when looked at for a single year.

The micronutrient molybdenum when properly applied to seed or foliage, can help overcome the problem of soil acidity.

Where molybdenum is applied, there is no economical return expected from lime applications on sandy and silt loam soils unless the pH is below 5.6. For clay soils, economical returns aren't likely if pH is above 5.1, provided molybdenum is used.

On the rented land, the economics of lime are unfavorable unless the landowner bears the cost and prorates it in the rent.

GARDENS AROUND THE CORNER

Garden seed catalogs for 1982 are bulging with new vegetable varieties to try this year. Many new varieties of beans, squash, cucumbers, corn, pepper and melons are listed, just to name a few.

It would be impossible to try all of the new varieties, and no one should. You may find it hard to locate seed of some vegetables, because there is no one source for all of them.

Some varieties have certain growth and disease resistance characteristics you may want to consider. Check the mail order seed catalogs and packet racks in nurseries and garden centers to help you decide which of the new varieties you may want to plant.

Remember that caution is the word when considering something new like vegetables. You don't want to end up planting the whole garden to new and untried varieties.

The county Extension office has a list of vegetable varieties recommended for growing in our area.

NEWS ABOUT FIRE ANTS

Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Buck Ross has announced that the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce has applied to the Environmental Protection Agency for the conditional use of the insecticide ferriamicide for the control of fire ants.

According to a research team at the Mississippi State

Chemical Laboratory at Mississippi State University, ferriamicide is effective in controlling fire ants, which are a serious problem in Prentiss County and throughout Mississippi. The product is degradable and considered safe.

Commissioner Ross says reports have been made to his office relating to problems with health, livestock, wildlife and reduction in yields of row crops because of the fire ant problem. According to Ross, EPA should be informed of the serious need to control the pest in Mississippi.

Farmers, homeowners and others interested in expressing to EPA a need to control the fire ant problem may do so by writing Dr. John A. Todhunter, USEPA, Washington, D.C. 20460.
