Spring Clean-Up Planned By Committee

The Prentiss County Beautification Committee, which consists of representatives from all area communities, has asked local officials to proclaim the period of March 22 through April 19 as Prentiss County Spring Clean-up Time, according to Doug Mansell, executive director of the Prentiss County Development Association.

Several activities have been planned throughout this period, including beautification programs at all schools within Prentiss County. Poster or essay contests will be conducted at each school, with awards presented for those judged as the best.

The Beautification Committee, along with the Prentiss County Extension Office and PCDA which are helping sponsor the project, is encouraging each town, community, civic group and others to prepare and complete some type of clean-up or beautification project.

A call should be made to either the Extension office or the PCDA office to explain the project, Mansell said. Upon completion of these projects, Beautification Committee representatives will present an award, he said.

No Arrests Yet In Week-Old Shooting

No arrests have been made yet following a shooting early Sunday morning Feb. 28, that resulted in the death of a Booneville city employee.

Dave (Smoke) Rogers Jr., 57, of Jacinto Heights died after he was shot twice - once in the left side of the neck and once in the left arm - with a small caliber weapon.

Local authorities discovered Rogers' body about 40 feet behind his neighbor's house around 1 a.m.

Seventeen people were questioned by law authorities following the shooting.

Evidence was sent to the state crime lab last Thursday. It will be several weeks before the results are returned, officers said.

Rogers had been employed by the city for about 28 years. He had served as street superintendent since last June.

Local Man Killed In Motorcycle Crash

A 58-year-old Booneville man was killed Tuesday afternoon in Burnsville while attempting to pass a car on his motorcycle.

The accident happened at 1 p.m. on Mississippi 365 inside the Burnsville city limits.

Highway patrol officials identified the victim as Kinyon Bain, 58, of Route 6, Booneville.

Highway Patrol investigating officer Ralph Montgomery said Bain was attempting to pass a car, which was turning left to a driveway.

Bain's motorcycle hit the left side of the automobile driven by James Timbes, 20, of Route 2, Iuka. Timbes was not injured, Montgomery said.

Services for Mr. Bain will be today, Thursday, March 18, at 10 a.m. at Coleman Funeral Home East Chapel in Corinth with the Rev. Travis Smith officiating. Burial will be in W.A. Rogers Cemetery in Tennessee.

He was a member of the Frazier Baptist Church and a retired sheet metal worker. He was a veteran of World War II.

Local Church To Celebrate 111th Year

The Booneville Presbyterian Church will celebrate the 111th anniversary of the organization of the local congregation with special services this Sunday.

Morning worship will be at 11 a.m. instead of the usual 9 a.m. service. The Rev. Amos L. Wilson of Lebanon, Tenn., will deliver the morning message. The Rev. Wilson served as pastor of the church during 1960-61.

An open house will be held at the church Sunday afternoon.

The Booneville Presbyterian Church was organized March 3, 1871, when 19 members transferred from the Ebenezer Church which was located at the spot now occupied by the Gaston Baptist Church. Presbytery dissolved the Ebenezer Church in the fall of 1898 and transferred the few remaining members to the Booneville Presbyterian Church.

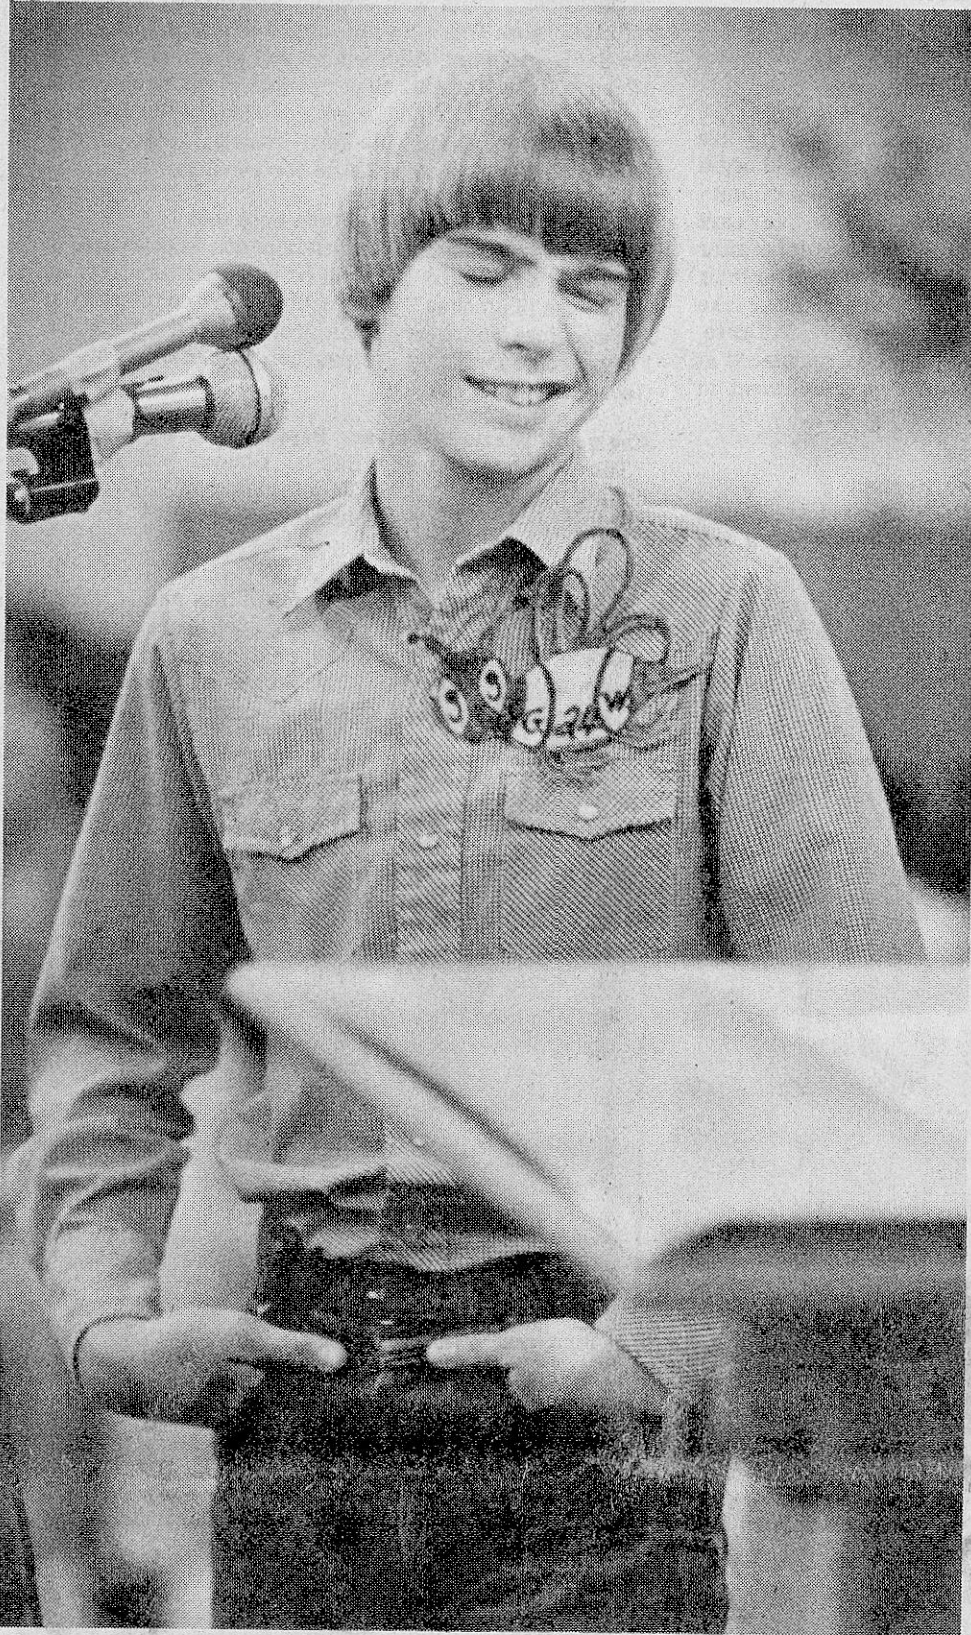

The congregation moved into its present church building in 1973. The former location of the church was the area now occupied by the Bridge Apartments. The original building was a wooden structure, with a brick church being built in 1911. A white frame two-story parsonage was built in 1901 just east of the church.

The Rev. L.K. Foster has been serving as pastor of the Booneville and Saltillo Presbyterian churches since 1969. His residence is in Saltillo.

The Rev. Wilson, Sunday's guest speaker, is a native of Madisonville, Tenn., and grew up in East Tennessee. He is a graduate of the University of Tennessee, Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, Va., and Mississippi State University.

In addition to serving the Booneville Presbyterian Church, he served as pastor of the New Hope Presbyterian Church at Biggersville in 1960-61. He then served for several years as the Presbyterian Campus Pastor at Mississippi State University.

The Rev. Wilson has also served as chaplain at Brushy Mountain State Prison and Tennessee State Prison. He is presently Chief of Chaplains for the Tennessee Department of Corrections.

OUCH!!! - Gary White, an eighth grade student at Thrasher School, grimaces after misspelling a word in the Prentiss County Spelling Bee Tuesday night at the courthouse. But luck was with Gary as the only other remaining contestant also missed the same word, giving him another chance. Gary, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H.D. White of Route 3, Rienzi, went on to win first place in the contest. (Additional story and photo on page 3)

Construction Program:

NE To Apply For Funds

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College administration has received the go-ahead from trustees to apply for $200,000 in construction funds.

These funds are an addition to a budget increase of $17,215 approved for a building program already underway.

This action was taken by the NEMJC board of trustees at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday of last week.

The $200,000 request will be made to the state building commission and the vocation division of the State Department of Education. Monies will be used to renovate Wright Hall.

"This work will center on sand blasting the brick and adding stone where the painted concrete is," said NE President Harold T. White.

The building will also receive other improvements - such as adding storm windows, relocating partitions, putting up new wall covering most of the building and improving the heating and cooling units. "It will be a general overhaul job," President White said.

The Board passed a change order to approve the additional $17,215 expenditure for the work being done on two main dormitories.

"This deals with changing existing tiles to ceramic in the bathrooms, changing shower specifications in both dorms and adding vinyl wall covering to one wall of each of the bedrooms," he said.

In other business the board accepted bids for printing supplies, and vocational equipment. Bids were taken under advisement for the purchase of security alarms for the business office.

The board also accepted the recommendation to purchase a used dragline for the vocational education program. The dragline, which will cost $8,500, will be purchased from Scribner Equipment Co. in Amory. The board accepted a new admissions policy for associate degree nurses. A change in the provision for academic standing and withdrawal policies was also

Evidence Will Go To Grand Jury

By KEN CHRISTIAN

Editor

Any evidence gathered against three Booneville police officers and one former member of the department is expected to be presented to the next session of the Prentiss County Grand Jury, probably in June, Assistant District Attorney Richard Bowen said Wednesday.

The four men, two black and two white, have been accused of illegally taking some items from a downtown variety store while they were on duty late one night during the latter part of 1979.

The two white officers reportedly confessed to the theft to another Booneville policeman and named the two blacks as accomplices.

However, the two black officers, Bob Jones and Willie Anderson, later came forward and publicly declared their innocence, demanding that their accusers either bring charges against them or apologize for damaging their reputations and their efficiency as police officers.

The names of the two white officers involved have not been released by authorities.

Bowen said the District Attorney's office was approached a few weeks ago by a city policeman who turned some information over to him. "We have never been approached by the city government, the chief of police or the police commissioner," he said Wednesday.

Although Bowen confirmed that an investigation is underway, he admitted that "our investigative resources are quite limited - we're prosecutors."

However, Bowen indicated that an investigator for the Mississippi Highway Patrol is investigating the incident "quite vigorously." "I expect the investigation will be complete before the next term of the grand jury in Prentiss County," Bowen said. "And whatever evidence we have, we will present to the grand jury the next time it convenes."

The incident in question occurred one night in 1979 when a policeman making his rounds discovered the door to the Win-Way store open. He then called the other three officers to the store.

The two white officers reportedly claim that the four policemen took some items from the store while waiting for the store manager to be located.

However, the two black officers claim they took nothing, that they called then-chief of police W.W. Stacy and that an officer stood watch at the store until the manager could be located.

An investigation at the time of the incident reportedly revealed no evidence of break-in at the store. Investigators said either the door was just left unlocked or someone had a key to the door.

The manager of the store is reported to have said that a few items appeared to be missing from the store, but that it would be virtually impossible to determine what, if anything, had been taken.

No charges were brought in the incident.

Manslaughter:

Trial Now Underway

The manslaughter trial of a Prentiss County man, who received a change of venue after the state Supreme Court reversed his 1979 murder conviction, began in Aberdeen Tuesday.

James Lowrey (Larry) Edge, 36, was convicted in a jury trial in the October 1979 term of Prentiss County Circuit Court of the shotgun slaying of another Prentiss Countian, John Wayne Murphy, 39 at Elder's Lake on the night of Oct. 24, 1978.

William Shouse, Dr. Houston Franks, and former sheriff Ralph Martin testified for the State on Tuesday. Eva Epperson was being cross-examined by defense attorney John Farese of Ashland at presstime Wednesday.

District Attorney Richard Bowen of Iuka said the state would probably rest its case

Wednesday morning. He said he expected the trial to conclude by late Wednesday or Wednesday night.

The jury is composed of one man and 11 women.

Edge's trial had been scheduled last November, but was postponed when one of the State's chief witnesses could not be located.

In February 1981 the state

Marietta Man Killed

A Marietta man is dead as the result of a one-car accident which occurred north of Baldwin early Saturday morning.

Frank Blane Pharr, 21, of Marietta, was killed when the 1976 Datsun he was driving ran off the left side of the road, flipped, and trapped him inside, according to Prentiss Hallmark, radio dispatcher at the Baldwin Police Department.

The accident happened north of the Bio Clinic on Highway 45 at about 4:55 a.m. Saturday, he said.

Prior to the accident, a police officer saw Pharr at Mr. Quik, Hallmark said.

The Jaws of Life were used by Booneville firemen to free Pharr's body from the car.

Services for Mr. Pharr were Monday, March 15, at 11 a.m. at McMillan Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Richard Gooch officiating. Burial was in Zions Rest Cemetery.

He was a member of the Church of Christ and a sawmill employee.

Layoffs Begin At Yellow Creek Plant

TVA began to implement its layoff plan at Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant Monday by dismissing 55 workers.

An official at the Yellow Creek plant said at least 40 workers per day will be terminated this week. The official would not comment on how the layoffs will be handled after Friday.

TVA plans to lay off 1,713 employees by July 1. This would leave about 375 employees, including 75 persons in management at the plant.

The remaining employees will be responsible for maintenance and security at the plant. In keeping a maintenance force at Yellow Creek, TVA has the flexibility to start construction again or to replace it with an entirely new plant with coal-fired capacity. TVA will have to spend an estimated $20 million to $30 million per year to keep Yellow Creek in deferral.

Commenting on the deferral Monday, Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., said that under the law the running of the power operation is strictly under the control of the TVA board of directors.

However, the congressman, a long-time supporter of TVA, said, "I am hopeful that the directors will realize the purpose of the TVA act was to make power available for developments of the whole Tennessee River Valley and not merely that in the state of Tennessee."

He added that the TVA board had assured him that attention is being given to additional developments of the Yellow Creek Port.

The congressman said that this port, originally financed by TVA, needs an increase in facilities to meet foreseeable needs.

The Yellow Creek plant's construction has been underway for more than three years. The estimated cost of the plant is $1.25 billion. Some $871 million was spent on the deferred Unit 1, on which construction was halted last March. The plant is 33 percent complete.

An estimated 501 workers at the project are from Tishomingo County and another 178 come from Alcorn County.

Exact figures for the number of workers from Prentiss County at the power plant were unavailable Tuesday, but a TVA spokesman said that Prentiss County is not included in the "impact" area as are Alcorn and Tishomingo counties.

The TVA board of directors voted two weeks ago to halt work on the Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant near Iuka, and at the Hartsville Nuclear Plant in Middle Tennessee.

No decision has been made on how long the deferrals will be in effect. TVA official George Kimmons has said the deferrals may last for up to five years due to licensing problems.

The expense of completing the nuclear reactors, now considered to be eight times as much as the original estimate, and the fact that energy consumption is not growing as fast as projected were cited as the main reasons for deferring construction at the plants.

However, on Monday Rep. Whitten said attention is being given by the TVA board to the need for additional power in the Tennessee Valley parts of Northeast Mississippi.

Of Costly Bills

Winter Threatens Veto

Saying he will demand "a rigid adherence to fiscal responsibility" Gov. William Winter has indicated he will veto legislative measures that force the state to live beyond its revenue means. Winter, who was joined at a recent press conference to discuss Mississippi's fiscal picture by Budget Commission Director Jim Cofer, said the Legislature must keep appropriations within guidelines set by the state Budget Commission. The governor said the state's tight revenue picture "leaves no margin for error" in the budgeting process. In a related matter, Winter signed into law a bill allowing the state to issue tax-exempt, short-term commercial paper in the event of general fund cash-flow difficulties. Under current policy the state dips into special funds for cash during periods of cash-flow problems. The new procedure will save the state money by allowing special funds to remain in interest-bearing accounts. Commenting on the House of Representative's failure to approve his innovative Trust Fund program to finance economic development and education initiatives, the governor said: "This is a severe setback for the people of Mississippi. We have missed an opportunity to improve and enrich the economic helath of our state. I do not, however, regard this action as the final word and I will continue to work for this program and the important needs it addresses. Public opinion overwhelmingly supports this effort and I think ultimately the best interest of the people will prevail."

BIBLE QUESTION BOX
QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, would you discuss the Soul and Spirit? I do not understand how they are used in the Bible.
ANSWER: It will be difficult in this short space but I will try. The word SOUL (Hebrew: nephesh; Greek: psuche) and SPIRIT (Hebrew: ruah; Greek: pneuma) are sometime used to mean the same thing. However, a distinction is also made many times in the Bible. For example a SOUL is a man, a person. From the family of Jacob, seventy-five souls went down into Egypt. The SOUL that sinneth shall surely die Ezek. 18:20. 3,000 SOULS obeyed the gospel on the day of Pentecost Acts 2:41. Most of the time, in the Bible when the word SOUL is used it refers to a person who is alive. When BODY and SPIRIT are joined together this makes a SOUL. When one dies his BODY is separated from his SPIRIT and the SPIRIT goes back to God who gave it. This is the general rule. However, one must keep in mind that sometime the word SOUL and SPIRIT are used to mean the same thing. For example the word SOUL is used to describe the disembodied state of man in Rev. 20:4, 6; 9, 10 and Acts 2:27. As I have said many times the context has to point out the real meaning of many words. I hope this will help in your understanding of these important words.

New Enthusiasm Gained

Earth Week Observed At Middle School

Passersby at the Booneville Middle School on Friday, March 12, may have wondered what on Earth was going on.

What looked like a playground game of volleyball using a giant replica of the world really was one of the activities bringing to an end a week of Earth-centered learning experiences.

Earth Week at Booneville Middle School began March 5 when Doug Flurry of the Northeast Mississippi Museum Association conducted a solar demonstration for S.T.E.P. students at the school.

Using reflecting and refracting telescopes, he projected the sun's image onto a white surface, making sunspots visible.

Later that evening, about 75 students and parents gathered for a "Star Gaze." The students looked at the moon and constellations through Flurry's refracting and reflecting telescopes.

Several students also brought their own telescopes or binoculars for the sky search.

Flurry also used an indoor planetarium to point out major stars and constellations and to show the orbits of the planets.

On Monday, March 8, meteorologist Dick Rice of Tupelo spoke to the school's S.T.E.P. students. He discussed weather patterns and climate, as well as broadcasting.

The students' questions made for a lively discussion of meteorology.

Classroom activities throughout the week centered around the environment.

Some of the classes went on exploratory walks along the school's nature trail. Others wrote poetry or made posters about the Bald Eagle, an endangered species.

The finale to the week was directed by Mrs. Hilda Hill of the Northeast Mississippi Environmental Education Consortium. She spoke to each class in the school, showing them her specimen of the Great Horned Owl.

She explained to the students the importance of ecology and the protection of endangered species of wildlife. Each student received a pocket chart of animal footprints to help them recognize tracks outdoors.

Each class also spent a period playing with the giant Earth Ball, learning that everyone has to cooperate to keep the Earth balanced.

At the end of the day, S.T.E.P. students assembled to hear Mrs. Hill speak to them about NASA. She explained some of the technology developed for space travel and told of the spinoff advantages received from the space industry.

At the end of the week, students had gained a new enthusiasm for the environment and an increased knowledge of the world community, according to teachers at the school.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

from the office of:
JOHN R. WHITE, O.D.

"A" FOR EYE HELP

About 95 percent of all children's eye problems can be corrected today either in whole or in part. That's a "straight A" in anyone's book.

The most common problems are those affecting the ability to see clearly and sharply. Myopia (nearsightedness) causes near objects to be seen more clearly than objects at a distance. With hyperopia (far sightedness) objects are seen more clearly at a distance, but close-up objects are sometimes blurred and difficult to bring into focus. A stigmatism can cause objects to be distorted and will not allow all portions of an object to be seen in focus at one time. These are relatively straightforward vision problems to identify through an eye examination and to correct if needed.

Unfortunately, you probably won't hear about these problems from children. If they see chalkboards or book pages as blurs, they'll assume everyone does. Since 80 percent of learning is through vision, give your child a head start with an eye examination BEFORE entering school. That will give you an "A" for effort whether your child's vision needs help or not.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office

'Talk O' The Town'

QUESTION: The government reported last week that wholesale prices dropped in February for the first time in six years. The White House hailed this news as evidence that "inflation is coming down decisively." Do you think this indicates a turnaround in the economy or do you think things will continue as they have been?

LINDA PERRIGO of Route 3, Rienzi: "I think the economy is going to stay like it's been for awhile. Nothing is selling. Interest rates are so high that nobody can afford to buy anything."

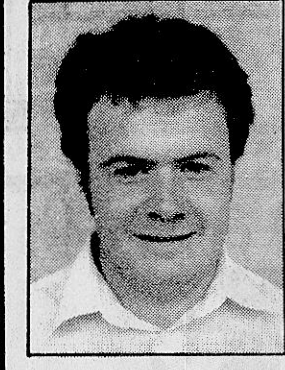

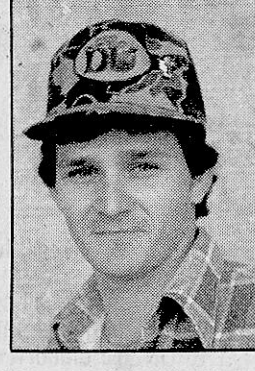

RITA GODWIN of 1404 N. College St., Booneville: "I guess that remains to be seen. No one knows really how the economy will turn out. Hopefully it will be for the better."

GLORIA NICHOLS of 302 Park St., Booneville: "I think things will continue the way they've been. I think prices are going to stay exactly the way they are...high."

WYTHEL SAYLORS of Route 1, Booneville: "I don't think the economy is going to change for awhile. This is just the time of year when everything slows down. I don't look for the economy to pick up for a good while. President Reagan's programs haven't had time to take effect yet."

GARY WALKER of Route 2, Booneville: "In this general area the economy is going to get worse with the coming of the fall of '82 and it will continue to decline 'til the summer of '83 because of the shutdown of the nuclear power plant and construction in this area in general. Nothing is going on."

ROBERT ISBELL of Route 6, Booneville: "I think things are going to get better because I think the President is doing a good job. He's the only president in my lifetime that has tried to change the economy."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss and Alcorn Counties an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Reflections

By Ken Christian

Editor

'All that is needed for the forces of evil to win is for enough good men to do nothing.' - Edmund Burke

A little more than six weeks ago it was first reported that one member and one former member of the Booneville Police Department had confessed to having committed a crime while on duty in 1979. These two men are said to have named two other police officers as accomplices.

And although there is apparently at least a superficial investigation underway, as far as we can determine, no member of the board of mayor and aldermen has made any attempt to contact the District Attorney's office or the state investigator who is looking into the incident.

Because of this, the incident which reportedly happened in 1979 has now taken a backseat to a more critical issue: Why has the Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen not acted on this matter?

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Leon Jaworski served as the special Watergate prosecutor in the case which led to the eventual downfall of President Richard Nixon. In his book on Watergate, entitled "CROSSROADS," Jaworski writes:

"Right and wrong had been forgotten. Little evils were permitted to grow into great evils, small sins to escalate into big sins.

Eyes On Mississippi

Optimism High Over Offshore Oil

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - Men have envisioned at least since 1904 that the submerged lands off Mississippi's Gulf Coast contained rich deposits of oil and gas, but those who have searched for the mineral treasures in the state's offshore areas in years past have never met with success.

But a new wave of optimism has struck state government officials and found its way into the halls of the legislature that the State of Mississippi is now sitting on the brink of a bonanza in offshore oil and gas leasing and development in Mississippi Sound and just beyond the coastal barrier islands.

Of course, this optimism is being fanned by some legislators who are seeking to find a windfall for an ailing state treasury, and to divert the attention of the Winter Administration from raising the oil and gas severance tax to improve education.

The euphoria over what Mississippi may cash in on seems to stem from some recent developments in the leasing of waterbottoms by the State of Alabama in Mobile Bay and by the federal government on the outer continental shelf south of Alabama and the easternmost barrier islands of Mississippi.

Alabama had received a colossal $480 million last summer for leasing several tracts in Mobile Bay as a result of a major deep gas discovery at the southern tip of the bay. More recently, the federal government received a $23 million bid for one three-mile square block and $17 million for another one that is just south of the three-mile limit beyond Mississippi's Petit Bois Island.

Now Mississippi is about to take its hand at leasing some 250,000 acres both inside Mississippi Sound and within the three-mile limit below the state's chain of coastal islands.

Some sources close to the State Department of Natural Resources believe the state venture will open the door to untold millions and possibly billions of dollars in revenues from lease bonuses and gas production which will result. The state would share in 20 percent of any revenues from the hydrocarbons produced from state leases.

All of this, however, is pure speculation and a certain amount of stargazing on the part of those around the State Capital pushing for the new offshore leasing by the state. What some are now worrying about is that Mississippi may have just missed the market peak in the industry and will face declining interest when bids opened May 12.

Some division of opinion evidently existed between the Natural Resources Department and Gov. William Winter as to how much of the 250,000 acre bloc should be put up for lease on the first shot. The department opted for only the "hottest" part of the bloc being leased, with the idea development would enhance the value of contiguous tracts. But Winter vetoed the idea and went for the whole bloc.

Oldtimers in the state's oil and gas industry are a bit amazed over the sudden new interest in the Mississippi coastal bottoms based on what geophysical and seismic work that has been done there in years past.

The Mississippi Sound, for example, has been leased two and possibly three times going back to the 1930's for oil and gas exploration. In the early 1950's, the whole 600,000 acres had been leased to a major company at the handsome amount of 25 cents an acre.

This was at a time when offshore oil development off the Louisiana coast was bringing in great wealth that some thought may well extend into Mississippi's coastal waters.

Nothing ever came from the exploration and testing done in the Sound, other than a lot of irritated fishermen,

"Nothing surprised me more than the attitude of a segment of citizens who could not be bothered by the revelations of this great trauma. With a wave of their arm or a shrug of the shoulders, they would remark, 'It has been going on for a long time.' Or, 'It did not begin with Watergate.'

"How long these practices may have been going on - or whether such perfidy was greater or lesser or equal to Watergate - is not even a mitigating circumstance. The question is: Why were these instances not brought to light? Why were the offenders not called to an accounting for their wrongs?

"The answer would have to be that they were condoned, and thus permitted to serve as a spawning ground for subsequent misdeeds, either because of a lack of vigilance or because of indolence in attending to them. The thought of the evils that might have crept into government if these men had not been held accountable is devastating."

Further along in the book Jaworski adds: "As Edmund Burke warned: 'All that is needed for the forces of evil to win is for enough good men and women to do nothing.' And, in fact, there were enough good men and women in Germany who, during the growth of nazism, did nothing."

Legislative Report

Less Than 60 Bills Passed During Current Session

By BILLY MCCOY
Representative
Prentiss and Alcorn
Counties

With only three legislative weeks remaining, the 1982 session is drawing quickly to an end. I checked last Friday, March 12th, and found that less than 60 bills had passed both the House and Senate and been signed into law by Gov. Winter.

There are, by now, however, scores of bills which have passed both houses. Most of the major bills still have different versions as passed by each body and must go to conference committees to resolve the differences.

One major House bill which has become law is H.B. 349 which established the Mississippi Fair Pulpwood Act. This act, which I supported, will enable the commissioner of Agriculture to make periodic inspections of pulpwood buyers facilities to insure pulpwood producers and pulpwood cutters a proper measurement of their wood when being purchased.

According to testimony given for the last two years to the Legislature, there has been widespread abuse of the cord measurement when using the scaling stick method rather than measuring by weight. The Legislature was much impressed by the pulpwood cutters who came to discuss their problems. While the great majority of buyers are totally honest, those who take advantage of one of the hardest working groups of Americans must be stopped. This act is an attempt to do so.

Recently the House passed H.B. 1190 which is an act to authorize the imposition of a local sales tax of 1 percent within counties and municipalities if the governing authorities adopt a resolution declaring the need for such a tax. The resolution would not become effective until an election had been held and a majority of those voting approved of the new tax.

The election would first be held countywide with both the residents of the city and county participating. If the resolution passed the proceeds from the tax would be shared by the county and cities located within. The amount each would receive would depend on the percentage of the population living in the county and in the cities within.

If the Board of Supervisors fails to call for an election, or if a majority of the qualified electors do not vote in favor of the resolution, then the governing authorities of any municipality in the county may initiate and conduct an election.

If the majority of the electors of a municipality voting in a county wide election vote in favor of the tax income, the tax may be imposed on all goods purchased within that municipality if the authorities of the city so desire.

The tax returns in this case would go only to the municipality that imposed the tax.

The act also provides that 30 percent of all such funds provided by the 1 percent local sales tax must go to the school districts supported by county or cities in which the tax is collected.

As I have stated many times, there is no doubt that the burden for supporting parts of the essential service of education, transportation, health care, and law enforcement is being shifted more and more from the federal and state level to the local level.

As this shift occurs there must be found sources of revenue in addition to property tax. Home owners and land owners simply cannot bear all the burden of this shift.

This act will provide the means for additional local revenue to be spent entirely on the local level. Most important of all it provides that a majority of the residents of a county or a city must first vote in favor of this tax increase before it can be collected.

That would be no problem to produce the minerals thereunder, with today's drilling techniques.

Ponderings

No Free Lunches

Most people are just a little suspicious when a product is offered for "free." Most people.

A couple of weeks ago I received a coupon in the mail that offered a "free" product.

It wouldn't have mattered to me if the product had been a bucket of quicksand...if it was free I wanted it.

So I sent in the coupon and in a few days I received my free product along with two other similar products.

Here again, most people would have thought it odd that they received extra free products. However, it was conceivable to me that the company had an excess of the product on hand and sent me some extra freebies.

I had forgotten all about the products until the other day. That was the day I received a bill reminding me that I owed the company for those products I thought had been free.

What must have happened is this -- in my greed for receiving something free, I failed to read the fine print on the coupon that must have said to receive the free product, other products would be sent along for my approval.

And since I kept the products, the company must have concluded I approved of the products.

So I learned two lessons--always read the fine print and be very cautious if something is advertised as "free," because as the saying goes, there are no free lunches.

Court Square Joke

A stranger entered the church in the middle of the sermon and seated himself on the back pew. After awhile he began to fidget. Leaning over to the white-haired man at his side, evidently an old member of the congregation, he whispered, "How long has he been preaching?" "Thirty or 40 years, I think," the old man answered. "I'll stay, then," decided the stranger. "He must be nearly through."

Woman's Club Meets

Mrs. Stewart Vail, a local artist, presented a program on China painting at the Booneville Woman's Club meeting at 3 p.m. March 11 in the Marion W. Smith Room of the George E. Allen Library.

Mrs. J. Curlee Ross, president of the club, presided at the meeting. As the 26 members arrived, the hostesses, Mrs. Stanley Down, Mrs. James Vernon and Miss Vessie Ferrell, pinned handmade shamrocks on them. The theme of St. Patrick's Day was carried throughout the decor of the club room.

The program featuring original paintings, was conducted by Mrs. Vail who gave a history of China painting. She said the art should actually be called porcelain painting, but that it is called China painting because it originated in China.

For many years the Chinese kept the art a secret, she said. The first examples were brought to the Western World by Marco Polo. Finally, in 1709

Richard Bottenger, a German, discovered the art for his country.

Germany also tried to keep its discovery a secret, but eventually the art spread to France, England and throughout the world.

Mrs. Vail explained that there are three types of China: hard paste, soft paste and bone. She demonstrated several of the stages of the painting and showed several different types of brushes and paints that are used. She also challenged the members to become China painters themselves.

Mrs. Vail has been doing China painting for three years. She presented a display of decorative plates, cups, tea pots, individual family monogrammed plates, and a child's tea set which she had painted for one of her grandchildren.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Vail awarded one of her China plates as a door prize. Mrs. John Henry Price was the recipient.

During the business session, officers for the 1982-

83 club year were elected. New officers are Mrs. Webster Cleveland Jr., president; Mrs. Hal Hughes, vice-president; Mrs. Stanley Downs, recording secretary; Mrs. J.W. Browne, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Brown, treasurer; and Mrs. La Beaume Peeler, historian.

Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Peeler were elected to represent the club as delegates to the District III Convention of the Mississippi Federation of Women to be held at Blue Mountain College on March 27. The Booneville club is one of the host clubs and will have charge of the reception honoring the 1982-83 district officers.

Mrs. Emmons Turner Jr. reported on Free Enterprise and urged members to contact their Congressman and encourage them to reenact the Library Services and Construction Act.

The hostesses served refreshments depicting the "wearing of the green" motif.

Home Economist's Notes

Add Some Spice To Your Life

By CLAIRES T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

The traffic in spices goes back to the days before recorded history. The earliest written records show the important part spices played in the lives of the ancients - and the Bible is full of references, including, of course, the famous gifts of rare spices brought by the Wise Men to the Christ Child.

For thousands of years, spices were brought from mysterious sources in the Orient by long, winding camel caravans, and by frail ships that plowed their way through pirate-infested waters. For centuries, since 950 B.C. or earlier, the Arabs were the masters of this dangerous but rich spice trade.

Today, the United States is the prime figure in world spice buying and New York is its center. Though wars, and threats of wars still influence the spice market and the flow of spices from remote Eastern Lands - buying spices and herbs is as simple as a trip to the nearest grocery store. There you see dozens of neatly packaged spices ready to turn their magic on food.

Once you transfer these neat little packages to your own kitchen there are a few simple things you should keep in mind. The flavor of spices and herbs depends on the volatile "essence" they contain. The best way to keep their flavor fresh and lasting is to keep your spice shelf away from heat, not over the stove, please! Protect your spices from strong light and moisture too, by carefully closing each package after you use it.

Spices will stay fresh in tightly resealed packages for several months, but they don't improve with long aging. It's a good idea to date each package when you buy it, and if you're not sure a spice is fresh, make this simple test: Rub a bit of spice or herb between your palms and breathe in the aroma. No aroma? Then it's time to replace your supply with a fresh, fragrant spice.

There's hardly a food you've tasted that can't be made better by a dash of spice and herb. So, don't be a sissy - season! Just remember the key word is "dash," not "disguise." Use spices in small quantities at first, until you get to know their flavors. Start by following standard recipes, or use 1/4 teaspoon for each 4 servings. The only limit on the amount of spice you use is how well you like it - but remember, you can always add more later.

Dried herbs are stronger and more aromatic than fresh, so substitute 1/2 teaspoon of dried leaf herbs for 2 teaspoons of minced fresh herb. Dried herbs or spices in whole or crushed form need moisture to unlock their true flavor - so add them to the liquid in your recipe.

Local UDC Holds Monthly Meet

Seventeen members of the D.T. Beall Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy met March 10, in the Frank Haney Room at Northeast Mississippi Junior College for the monthly meeting.

Mrs. Bobby Buchanan and Mrs. Minnie McBride, "a real daughter," were the hostesses.

Mrs. Doug Holland gave the program. Her subject was Joseph R. Anderson and the Tredegar Iron Works.

She said the largest supplier of war armament to the Confederacy was the Tredegar Iron Works. The founder was Joseph Reid Anderson who was the youngest of nine children. He was born on a farm near Fincast, Va.

He was reared by his stern Presbyterian, Scot-Irish father and he learned to appreciate the values of thrift, honor and obedience.

Anderson was a graduate of West Point and married Sally Archer. He was of such note that the Tredegar Iron Works became interested in the ambitious young man and he became their commercial agent.

The Tredegar Iron Works supplied equipment to the Confederate government.

When Navy Secretary Mallory proposed an iron-clad fleet, Tredegar was the only place capable of supplying the armor plate and marine engines needed.

They developed a light brass howitzer and wrought iron mountain rifles. Also in 1861 they built the first tanks used for torpedo experiments.

When the panic of 1873 struck, Anderson had rebuilt the heavily damaged Tredegar Iron Works to twice its prewar capacity. After fire destroyed the interior of the buildings in 1952, a small rolling mill was built to replace the former industrial giant of the South.

During the social hour the hostesses served coffee and cake topped with strawberry icing.

Spring brings out the "farmer" in many Mississippians. In the yard, on the farm, and at construction sites, people take to the soil to do a little digging here or there. Quite often the digging produces some unexpected results -- one being a cut telephone cable.

South Central Bell puts cables underground to protect the cables and to help keep Mississippi beautiful. But we need the help of all "diggers" to protect those cables.

If you're a contractor, machine operator, or a homeowner planning to dig in your yard, please call our buried cable location service before you dig. We'll send someone to your digging site to locate the cable and mark its route for you -- at no charge (48-hour notice requested).

One cut cable can disrupt phone service for hundreds of telephone customers. And you and your neighbors may be without telephone service at a time when it's urgently needed.

The emergency work required to repair a cut cable is expensive and time-consuming. So if you dig without notifying us and cut a cable, you'll be billed the cost of repairing the cable.

You'll find the buried cable location information number in the Customer Guide or Call Guide section in front of your telephone directory. Help us protect your service -- call before you dig.

Last week we really enjoyed the devotional hour on WBIP conducted by the Rev. Johnny Poole. Each message was inspirational. We thank the Lord for not having to express our deepest sympathy to any family this week.

A special message to one of my readers who is a patient at North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo -- Glenda King -- we want to encourage you to believe God. We believe every thing will be all right and you'll be able to come back to work feeling fine.

On Easter Sunday, April 11, at 3 p.m. there will be a musical or concert at the Eastside Community Center featuring The Pilgrimages from Corinth, The Crown of Harmony from Shannon, and The Friendly Gospel from Chesterville. Everyone is invited to attend. This concert is sponsored by the Sunflower Development Club.

On April 17, the Development Club will be having family portraits made at the Eastside Community Center. It will only cost $7.95. In later years you'll look back at these portraits and think 'I wouldn't take a $100 for that portrait!' See any member of the Sunflower Development Club to purchase your coupon.

you.
I'm closing with this poem.

Worth While

It is easy enough to be pleasant
When life flows by like a song

But the man worthwhile is one who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong

For the test of the heart is trouble,
And it always comes with the years,

And the smile that is worth the praises of earth
Is the smile that shines through tears.

It is easy enough to be prudent
When nothing tempts you to stray

When without or within no voice of sin

Is luring your soul away;
But it's only a negative virtue

Until it is tried by fire,
And the life that is worth the honor on earth
Is the one that resists desire

By the cynic, the sad, the fallen,
Who had no strength for the strife

The world's highway is cumbered today;
They make up the sum of life.

But the virtue that conquers passion
And the sorrow that hides in a smile

It is these that are worth the homage on earth
For we find them but once in a while

YOUR HEALTH

By
DR. JIM

"SOFTNESS" IS NOT COMFORT

Your posture can make quite a difference where your health is concerned. That's why you should avoid "posture traps." Soft sagging chairs. Soft, lumpy mattresses. Low feet-in-front auto seats. Chairs with no backs, or backs that make you sit too rigidly. These are just a few examples of furniture that can put your body out of whack. Result: fatigue, irritability, muscle strain, unhealthy pressure on nerve centers.

Softness is not comfort. A chair or mattress should be firm enough to properly support your spine and all the muscles and joints in your body. A chair that's too soft, for example, can crowd your abdomen, press against your chest cavity, and interfere with the healthy functioning of your body. The true test of chair comfort is being able to sit for long periods without feeling fatigue or unwelcome pressures on any part of your body.

Production Plan Helps Make Profit

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent

NAIL DOWN COSTS
Are you producing crops at a profit-- or taking a loss? If you know what it costs to produce a crop, you can tell your profit margin from a glance at the latest market prices quote. And, if you know your cost per bushel or pound, you can develop both a production plan and a marketing plan to help you make a profit in 1982.

A production and marketing plan won't guarantee a profitable year, but they are an important first step to profits. A good production plan includes varieties, tillage practices, chemical programs and a good estimate of production costs.

Likewise, your marketing plan answers the what, when, where and how much you hope to sell and at what price levels. And, it's not too early to think about your expected selling price for 1982 crops.

Knowing your production costs and potential yield is the key to building good production and marketing plans. Identifying either is not easy. You can only estimate them, based on recent trends. You may want to budget several options before finalizing plans.

A key point: Your cost per bushel or pound goes down as yields increase. If you produce more soybeans per acre, for example, your production costs don't rise nearly as fast as your return per acre since you're producing more beans per acre.

That means if you're trying to cut production costs, be careful about doing anything that may reduce yields. That will raise your cost per unit -- and reduce your profit margin.

KEEP GRAZING QUALITY HIGH
Excellent growing weather during the last few weeks has brought out the best in our winter grazing crops. In fact, some of our cattlemen tell me that if this kind of weather continues, their cattle will have more than enough grazing for the rest of the cool season.

An excess of grazing may look good, particularly after the tough winter we've had for growing forages. But even though plenty of forage is always better than none, too much forage can mean lower quality if it's not managed properly.

To keep quality high, make sure you have adequate nitrogen for good growth. That usually means one pound of nitrogen per acre for each day of grazing, or the equivalent of 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre in each application.

Control weeds and rotate cattle when pastures are grazed down to two to three inches. If cattle can't be rotationally grazed, provide enough pastures so cattle don't graze constantly below this height. When cattle can't keep up with the forage growth, cut the excess for hay.

By using these practices to fit your situation, you can maintain both quantity and quality of forages.

A Report To The Public

What's Happening At Booneville High School

(Editor's note: The following article is the first in a series which is anticipated to appear on a non-regular basis to keep the public informed of events and opportunities at Booneville High School.)

By MAC CURLEE
Principal
Booneville High School

The purpose of this article is to be informative about what is happening at Booneville High School. Among the reasons as to why an article of this nature should appear are, one, parents deserve to know how we are educating their children, and, second, taxpayers and community members need to know the achievements of their school.

This article will not appear on a regular basis, but rather as events occur, and plans are finalized to convey this information to the public.

This first article will focus on the PTO, The Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981, Career Education, Testing Services, the Resource Class, and Publications- featuring the BHS annual, the Spotlight. Teachers contributing to this article are Guidance Counselor Mrs. Linda Clifton who prepared the segments on Career Education and Testing, Mrs. Dinah Hill, who prepared the segment on the Resource Class, and Mrs. Sarah Hunt Martin, advisor for the BHS annual and staff.

PTO

A Parent-Teacher Organization has been formed at Booneville High School, and we are seeking support and input from this organization. Officers elected for the 1981-82 school year are President Stanley Downs, Vice-President Helen Jones, and Secretary-Treasurer Conlee Keenum.

Now that the organization's groundwork has been laid, we encourage every parent and community member to join this organization as teachers and parents work together to accomplish short-term and long-term goals for this school.

OMNIBUS RECONCILIATION ACT

In 1981 Congress passed the Omnibus Reconciliation Act which stated that students 18-22 years of age not attending college classes by May 1, 1982, will be ineligible for Social Security financial aid benefits.

Because of this act, eight BHS seniors prematurely ended their high school careers in January and enrolled in The Northeast Mississippi Junior College. Also, four high school juniors have decided to graduate early in order to continue to receive benefits.

The National Association of Secondary School Principals have voiced disapproval with the Omnibus Reconciliation Act as students find themselves choosing between completing their high school career and sacrificing financial aid or dropping out of high school and enrolling in college to become eligible for benefits.

Booneville High School lost quality students because of this act, and we have missed these students.

ACT SCORES

The American College Test is given to high school seniors and juniors who plan to enroll in college after graduation from high school. After accumulating and averaging the ACT scores of Booneville High School students, the results indicated that our students are performing well in the various subject areas in comparison with other students statewide.

BHS students scored better than 63.42 percent of other students statewide in English, better than 55.30 percent of other students in Math, better than 57.47 percent of other students in Social Studies, and better than 49.67 percent of other students in Natural Science. This is a credit to our students and teachers.

APPRAISAL TESTS

The basic need for individual appraisal at Booneville High School is based upon the belief in the right of each child to an education uniquely suited to his needs, interests, and abilities. The testing service seeks to gather information about the pupil that will aid him in understanding himself and in making meaningful decisions.

The appraisal service is also utilized by teachers, counselors, and administrators to know the pupil so that they will be able to understand and help him.

Tests which have been administered this year include:

- Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test - National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test: This test is an objective one which tests ability to reason with facts and concepts rather than to recall and recite them. This test is offered to any student in their junior year who wishes to participate.

- Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery: A test administered to students in their Junior year. The battery of nine tests is derived from "common content" among the military service aptitude batteries.

- National Educational Development Tests: A test given to students who were referred for Talented Classes and students presently enrolled in the Gifted Talented Classes. The test measures learning ability in five areas of educational development.

- California Achievement Tests: This test will be administered in April to all tenth grade students. The test measures knowledge and understanding in reading, mathematics, language, spelling, and reference skills.

CAREER EDUCATION

The goal of Career Education at BHS is to prepare students to live productive and rewarding lives. Since staff development is vital to carry out this goal, extensive in-service training has taken place this year. More than half of the BHS faculty has participated in at least seven hours of career training.

To help with Career Education infusion, an organized career Career Resource Center has been developed. The center contains up-to-date career resource material which enables students to research careers in depth.

Career Education will be infused into all academic classes beginning in the fall of 1982.

BHS ANNUAL

It has always been and will continue to be that students expect a high school annual; but do they know just what it takes to get his book ready for them to enjoy and have a lasting remembrance of their high school years?

This could not be done without a dedicated annual staff and we have been blessed the past two years with an able staff of workers. Two of the staff members attended a one-week yearbook clinic at The University of Mississippi last summer and the entire staff attended last year and will attend this spring a one-day publication workshop at The University of Mississippi.

The 1980-81 staff saw the need of making and developing pictures as soon as possible, so they completed a project that resulted in funds enough to install a darkroom in our school and to buy a camera. This darkroom has not only been a learning experience for annual staff members, but for other students as well. It is available to the entire student body.

The $8,000 plus needed each year to publish the annual is the full responsibility of the annual staff and advisor. These monies are made through advertisements, the beauty review and sales to the students. The annual staff appreciates the support it has received from advertisers and parents in making the projects a success.

Students receive 1/2 credit for their work on the annual staff. The students also receive career training in such fields as sales, marketing, advertisement, deadlines, and accounting.

RESOURCE CLASS

Students often experience some difficulty with one or more academic subjects. Individual assistance is provided by the Resource Class which will allow the students to spend more time on their weak area, thus enabling them to improve their grades. The goal of the Resource Class is to aid these students in coping with the pressures of school as well as to prepare them to live productive lives and to become contributing members of society.

Although the current trend is for students to refer themselves to the Resource Class, parents and-or teachers may refer a student.

Students are tutored in their subject areas, with emphasis placed on language arts and math. Besides our basic tutoring program, next year we plan to implement several new programs. One such program "The Write to Read Typing Program" is designed to improve reading skills. Emphasis is also placed on career education through the use of our Career Education Resource Center.

Cooperation from parents and faculty members as well as each student's desire to learn has made our program a success. Through our Resource Class, we feel we have met the needs of many of our students and plan to continue to do so in the future.

Anderson S.T.E.P. Class To Compete For Honors

Students from the eighth grade Project S.T.E.P. class at Anderson Junior High School will be involved in the State Future Problem Solving Bowl in Jackson on March 26-27.

In the statewide preliminary competition held earlier, the Anderson team consistently remained in the top ten, ranking at second, seventh and third placed.

Problems for consideration this year been child abuse, mind control, and drug abuse. The problem for final state competition is endangered species.

The three winning teams at the state level, one from each division, will go on to national competition at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, during the week of June 2-5.

Taking part in the two-hour written competition will be Nancy Stutts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stutts; Ric McGreger, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McGreger; David Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Smith; and Patrick Weatherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Weatherford.

Melanie Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Garner, will join them in presenting an original skit during the second phase of the problem solving competition.

Mrs. Marie Spain, the team's coach and teacher of gifted and talented classes at Anderson Junior High, will accompany the students to Jackson.

Two other students, Christi McCoy and Martha Pippin, participated in the preliminary competition but do not plan to make the trip to Jackson.

EMPLOYEES PASS TEST - Ten employees of Schweiger Industries successfully completed the GED test at Northeast Junior College recently. The test provides individuals with an opportunity to qualify for the certificate of High School Equivalence, which is accepted as a high school diploma by employees and institutions of higher learning.

By DON JONES
Soll Conservation
Technician USDA Soil
Conservation Service
Booneville Field Office

Catfish farming is like a fever in the blood. Farmers throughout the state are entering this phase of agriculture like the land rush days of the old west. The promise of gold lures novices onward with the promise of high returns with short term investments.

Recent publication of articles paint a rosy picture of fish farming. But catfish farming is not the simple concept of "Have water; add fish; have instant money." Initial investment costs are among the highest in agriculture. Purchase of land coupled with costs of pond construction and the expense of developing water control systems can raise the cost as high as $1000 per acre.

Pounds should be constructed only in soils which will hold water readily. Water systems should not only provide for getting water to the ponds, they should also provide for getting it out. Minimum water depths should be at least 30 inches with an average of four feet. Pond bottoms should be graded and cleared to permit seining at harvest time.

Farmers should stock the largest fingerlings available to assure that the crop will reach market size in a single growing season. Purchasers of fingerlings should look for large, well-fed fish, at farms with reputations for disease-free stock. The savings from the purchases of cheap fish will be lost several times over if disease outbreaks occur.

Feeding a fish crop represents a major investment during the growing season. Feed cost are about 28 percent of the sale price at harvest; this cost is above development and occurs before money is received from crop.

At the end of the growing season, attention must turn to the harvesting and marketing. Waiting until harvest time before considering markets places the beginner at a disadvantage and may keep him from getting top prices for this fish.

It is only fair that the brighter side of the coin also be examined. Although initial investments are very high, and a great deal of attention is required, efficient fish farmers are able to realize a profit per acre equal to or above soybeans. Some recent estimates place the average profit at $135.00 per acre.

Remember: You should get all the information available from reliable sources, plan ahead for construction, production and marketing. Then if you decide to get in, do so judiciously, as you gain experience and your market widens. You can expand and grow with the industry.

The Congregation
of
The Booneville Presbyterian Church

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Bobby White

Who Is My Neighbor?

Does this seem like a foolish question? Let us examine it closely. Webster defines a neighbor as a person who dwells near another. Now lets look at what God says a neighbor is. Luke, chapter 10 verses 25 thru 37, in verse 29 a lawyer asked Jesus, "Who is my neighbor?" Jesus told of a man that was beaten and robbed. His clothes were taken and he was left half dead. Three men happened to come by at different times. I believe one a Priest, just looked at him and passed by on the other side. Then a Levite did the same. Then a Samaritan came by and helped him; bound his wounds, got him a place to stay, and said if it cost anymore he would pay it. You see, this Samartian didn't have to help this man. He did it out of compassion for this man. I believe this teaches a neighbor is one who is willing to help another, not expecting something in return and not just the one that lives next door, but anyone that needs help. This also teaches that the one who receives help should be thankful, not taking advantage of anothers hospitality, not demanding or domineering, but gracefully receiving help and giving too. Remember, the Lord said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." I believe also to have a neighbor we have to be a neighbor. Jesus said in verse 37, "Go and do thou likewise."

Good Planning Needed Before Good Planting

By EDWARD L. McWHIRTER
Extension 4-H
Youth Agent
4-H PROJECTS

The 4-H program is built around the 4-H Club with the club program built around the 4-H project.

It is through the 4-H project work that records are developed from learning experiences, community service, and leadership involvement.

The 4-H garden and vegetable project is such a program which developed more than just growing vegetables.

4-H'ERS LEARN TO PRODUCE, PRESERVE FOODS

Growing vegetables involves more than just planting the seeds and watching the plants grow. Aside from routine chores like weeding, watering, and fighting bugs, there are other matters to deal with, including thinning, transplanting and deciding what to do with all the goodies once they start ripening.

4-H members in gardening, entomology, and food preservation projects conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, combine study with actual hands-on experiences. Good planning precedes planting in the garden and is essential to achieving overall satisfying results.

The national 4-H gardening program, supported by the Ortho Consumer Products Division, Chevron Chemical Company, encourages members to submit soil samples for analysis, learn insect and weed control methods, mulch and irrigation techniques, seedbed preparation, and seed selection and planting.

Extension specialists say tilling the soil will help reduce the number of overwintering insects by exposing them to an unfavorable climate, as well as to birds and other predators. Tilling also helps to control weeds that steal valuable moisture and nutrients and serve as hosts for insects and diseases.

The national 4-H entomology program, supported by Mobay Chemical Corporation, Agriculture Chemical Division, teaches 4-H members to recognize garden pests and learn methods of eradicating insects that are harmful to fruits and vegetables. Be sure to use insect and disease controls as directed by the state and federal agencies.

A bountiful garden offers several alternatives for use of crops. Aside from enjoying fresh vegetables, members in the national 4-H food preservation program, sponsored by Kerr Glass Manufacturing Company, lengthened enjoyment of their crops through canning, freezing and drying.

They offer these guidelines:

- Preserve only what you can use within a single year. While the food will remain safe to eat after that, quality may deteriorate.

- Use only fresh-picked produce in prime condition - neither too green nor too ripe.

- Label and date each container, taking care to use the oldest items first.

4-H members in gardening and food preservation programs enjoy first-hand the special fresh, out-of-the-garden flavor of their home grown fruits and vegetables. Further, they can save money, earn money by selling their crops at roadside stands, and help meet special dietary needs and family preferences all year long.

For more information on the 4-H programs contact Ed McWhirter, or Wanda Robinson at the county Extension office.

Pac Man Fever Hits Epidemic Proportions

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Video games are currently the rage across the country and one of, if not the, most popular ones is of course Pac Man.

Pac Man "Fever" has swept across the country like a storm and whether you play it at a grocery store, at a service station, or at one of the many video arcades, the game has to be the craze of the current era.

Like with anything else, some of "us" are better at it than others. Some can play for hours on a single quarter while others no more than get started when they hear and see the familiar little man shrivel up before their very eyes to end the game.

The game has a variety of interest. It can improve your eye sight, and in several cases definitely improve your vocabulary!

Players who exceed the 100,000 and 200,000 point totals are considered above average. Others fail to even reach 10,000 to receive their extra man.

On each game, a person gets three chances (or men, or whatever they're called) and when he reaches 10,000 points he receives a free man to add to the point total. There's more to this game however than meets the eye.

A particular pattern is necessary to obtain any high point total.

There are numerous patterns used in playing the game. And there are a few different ones for many board changes which occur everytime the little men are gobbled up.

The first board is a maze where the object of the game is to eat all the men before you get eaten yourself.

There are energizers in each corner of the maze to give you added time to eat all the men. The object of the game is to get to one of the energizers while they're lit and add up the points.

There is almost an eternity of different boards to play if you can keep from getting eaten, but who could possibly get that far.

When I started playing about a year ago, I was very inexperienced and couldn't do very well. But after kicking the machine numerous times and after what seems like enough money to purchase the Super Dome in New Orleans, I'm beginning to get a little better and can at least play long enough to have some fun at it.

I still have trouble on the first one or two boards and have tried everything. Believe me, a rabbit's foot doesn't work on this thing.

Pac Man is somewhat similiar to the famous Rubiks Cube in that it will tend to run you a little on the waco side.

But it's much easier to play and a heck of a lot more fun.

There are several folks around town who are better at it than us common turkeys, but I think in a few more decades I'll be ready to take some of them on.

Patterns are definitely the name of the game when it comes to Pac Man. Without a pattern or patterns (depending on which board change you're at) you can hang it up and get ready to stick in another quarter cause you're gonna get eaten.

The little man really makes you mad when he eats you and when you hear that sound that is somewhat similiar to an old jalopy that's run out of gas, it really burns you up.

There are many different ways to play the game. Many books have been printed on the game and by now I guess everyone has heard about the current song that's being played on all the radio stations called "Pac Man Fever".

The books have the exact patterns to use on The Pac Man machine, but my trouble is that when I try to use one of the patterns, the little men seem to have minds of their own and change patterns on me.

The best way to learn a particular pattern is to watch someone who is very good at it and learn from them.

A person can show you a pattern and after you spend about 10 bucks learning it you won't forget it. At least I didn't anyway.

There still isn't a sure fire way to win even with a pattern. Occasionally the men will change patterns after you've run the same one six or seven times without being caught.

This game has to be the most popular games out, although there are several video games such as Space Invaders, The Frogger, Asteroids and many others that are popular also.

But Pac Man is still the King. Every time you walk into an arcade the Pac Man Machine is usually in use with many quarters waiting to play next.

The machine has one thing that really bugs everyone. After you eat the first two boards of men this funky music comes on and you have to wait til the music stops before you can return to action.

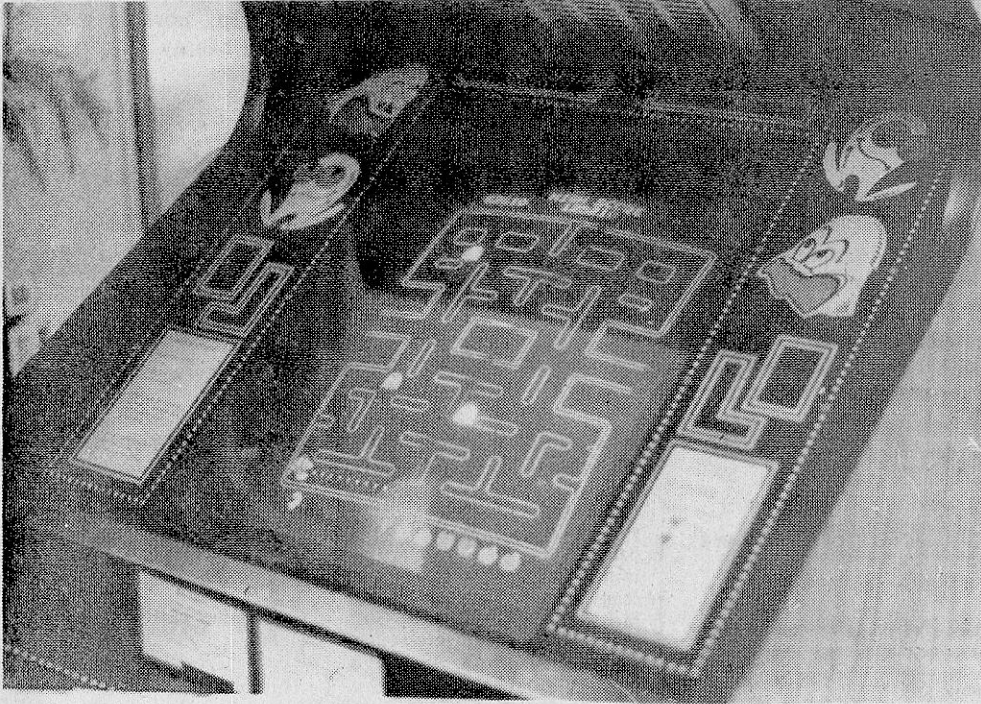

Sometimes you want to ring the machine's neck and make it stop playing the weird music.

Many places across the county have scheduled Pac Man tournaments designed to find out just who is really the king of the circuits.

I think I'll wait a while before entering one of these.

WHY NOT GIVE IT A WHIRL
So if by chance you haven't played the game of Pac Man, next time you're near a video arcade why not stop by and try your luck.

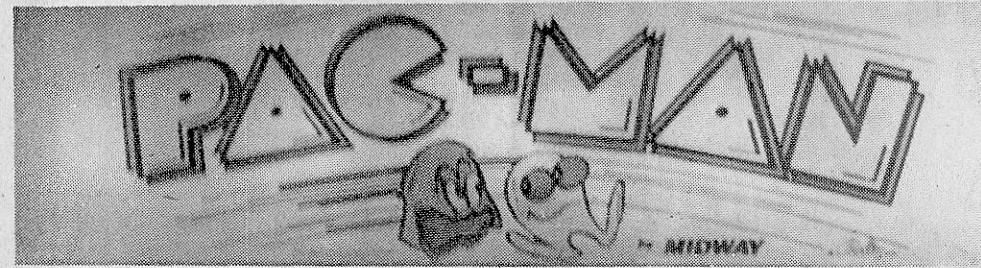

Be careful though cause it will "Gobble You Up".

PAC MAN FEVER - HAS EM HOOKED - According to Barbara and Roy Elder, managers of the Electronic Eye in Booneville, one of the most popular games in the local arcade is Pac Man. According to the two, the game which is nationally know, draws quite a bit of interest with the local youngsters as well as many adults who spend hours on end playing the game. Pac Man takes some skill and certainly some concentration but provides many hours of enjoyment for all. In Booneville, along with The Electronic Eye, there are Pac Men Machines at Mr. Quick, Sunflower Food Store, Dixieland Skate Land, Handy Dan's and at Northeast Junior College.

Devil Baseballers Open 1982 Season

Booneville's Blue Devils opened their 1982 baseball season at Corinth Tuesday and will compete in Class A North action through March and April.

The Devil unit, coached by Riley Presley and Ken Shackelford, will consist of only two seniors along with a host of sophomore and junior performers.

Senior performers on this year's ballclub will be Michael Wright, an infielder and Andy Perry, an outfielder.

Junior members of the Devil baseball roster are,

John Purvis, outfielder and pitcher; Ray Holloway, outfielder and catcher; Wally Davis, infielder; Larry Mackin, outfielder; Mark McCreary, infielder and pitcher; Steve Loveless, outfielder; Dwight Wright, infielder and pitcher; Greg Oakley infielder; Joey

Merrill, outfielder; Tony Finch, infielder; Jimmy Griffin, outfielder; and Jody Presley, infielder.

Carlos Hastings, catcher, is the only sophomore on the ballclub while Rod Coggin, who plays infield and pitches along with Michael Blaylock, an outfielder, are the only two freshmen on the 1982 roster.

The local squad, who will probably be ranked among the top teams in the area, will play a 16 game regular schedule along with District action to start May 3 with the Bigbee Tourney then slated for May 10th.

The Devils scheduled opener was postponed from Monday to this Tuesday and at presstime no word had been given on the results of the game or where it was played or not.

The Booneville nine's first home game will be March 23rd when they host Tishomingo at the Booneville City Park.

Following that Booneville will travel to both Kossuth on March 26 and then New Albany on March 30th before returning home April 2nd against Baldwin.

Both coaches Presley and Shackelford had very encouraging remarks to say about the 1982 Blue Devil roster. Both agreed that the team looked promising to have a good season and both were really anxious to get the season started.

Tiger Nine To Host John Logan

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College baseball squad will host John Logan College this afternoon (Thursday) to kick off this week's spring calendar of events.

The Tiger nine, under coach Billy Southward, will battle the Logan College beginning at 2:30 and also have another contest scheduled with Logan tomorrow at 2:30 to complete the two game stand. In other events of the week, Northeast's Lady Softballers will battle the University of North Alabama Friday in Florence, Alabama and then for the weekend, Northeast's baseballers return to action playing East Mississippi Saturday on the road and then returning home Sunday to host Jackson State at the Booneville City Park.

In other action of the week, Northeast's baseballers will travel to Mississippi Delta next Tuesday afternoon to battle the Trojans while, also on Tuesday, the Northeast tennis squad will be on the road battling Freede Hardeman and the Tigerette softballers will be traveling also meeting Mississippi Delta at Moorehead.

Northeast actually opened their spring schedule last week but some of last week's action was rained out.

Cindy Tackett went four for 6 here last Thursday at the Booneville City Park in an afternoon double-header to lead the new Northeast's Tigerette softball squad to two victories over Itawamba in the first softball games ever on the Northeast Athletic Program.

The Tigerette softballers, under coach Millard Lothenore, dropped the IJC ladies 3-0 for a shutout in the opening game and then scored a 4-2 victory in the nightcap for a sweep of the two game stand.

In the opening game Brenda Mayes of Biggersville earned the Northeast win on the mound allowing only three hits while in the second contest Angie Whitehead took the win.

The Northeast ladies, who according to coach Lothenore really played an exceptional ballgame, pounded out five hits in the opener and then followed with an 11 hit burst in the second game for a 16 hit performance on the afternoon in their softball premiere.

Leading hitters, along with Tackett, were, Donna Rinehart, Tina Garner, Monte Hare, and Regina Trussell, all of whom went three for six each at the plate.

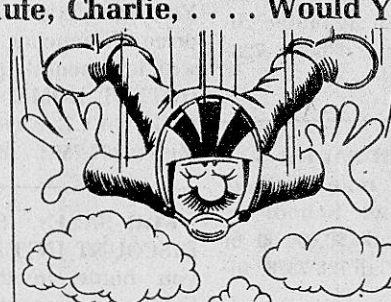

Tackett's homerun blast came in the second game of the twin gill when Northeast scored two runs in the third, one in the fifth and another one in the sixth for the victory.

The lady softballers will be in action again tomorrow (Friday) when they travel to Florence, Alabama to meet UNA and their next home game will be March 25th when the Lady Tigers host Northwest Junior College at the Booneville City Park.
