Charges Dropped In J'town B&E

Breaking and entering charges have been dropped against a Prentiss County man who was arrested last week in connection with a break-in at the Cardinal Cafe in Jumpertown, according to Prentiss County Deputy Jim Ross.

Investigating officers said the glass in the front door of the cafe was broken some time Monday night of last week and two boxes of gum, a box of cigarette lighters, and half a box of potato chips were stolen.

Billy Baygents, 19, of Route 3, Rienzi, was arrested Tuesday of last week and charged with breaking and entering in connection with the incident. However, these charges were dropped after Baygents paid for the cafe's damaged door, Deputy Ross said.

Baygents reportedly admitted to accidentally breaking the glass in the door. He said he had dropped a friend off at the cafe and as he was leaving rocks thrown up by his car tires hit the door, breaking the glass.

However, he reportedly claimed no knowledge of the items taken from the store.

No further arrests have been made in that case or in a case involving vandalism at the new People's Bank branch office in Jumpertown.

On the same night as the break-in at the Cardinal Cafe, three windows were broken out at the bank branch office. Damage was estimated to be about $300, according to police reports.

City Judge Says Pay Tickets Or Else

Anyone receiving a citation from the Booneville Police Department should either pay the fine or appear in court on the date indicated on the ticket. Otherwise, they will have to pay an additional $32 fine for contempt of court, City Judge Billy Sartin said Tuesday.

According to Sartin, a number of tickets have been issued recently on which the fines were not paid nor did those ticketed appear in court to face the charges. Because of this, the $32 fine for contempt of court will be enforced, he said.

Anyone receiving a ticket can pay the fine at the police department or, if he desires, he can appear in court for a hearing, Sartin said.

The date a person should appear in court if he wants a hearing is indicated on the citation. City court is held every Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the courtroom located downstairs at the City Hall.

Baldwyn Man Charged In Shooting

A Baldwyn man has been arrested and charged with aggravated assault in connection with a Sunday shooting incident in which his son-in-law was shot in the face with a 20-gauge shotgun.

Arthur Henry, 70, faces the charges that were filed against him by his son-in-law, Jerry Partain of Baldwyn, according to Lee County Investigator Tim Gillentine.

Partain was shot in the face during a domestic quarrel at about 9 a.m. Sunday, he said.

Partain was taken to North Mississippi Medical Center where he was treated and released Sunday.

Henry has been released on a $5,000 bond.

New County Forester Named For Prentiss

Robert Thornton, 29, a native of Ripley, has been named as the new Prentiss County Forester.

Thornton replaces John Stuart who has assumed a similar position in Clay County.

Thornton, who attended Northeast Junior College, received a degree in forestry from Mississippi State University. He has worked with various timber companies in Prentiss County for the last four years.

He and his wife Kathy are the parents of one daughter, Jennifer, who is one year old. Mrs. Thornton is employed at the Booneville hospital as a Registered Nurse.

The Thorntons reside on Elm Street in Booneville.

Rabid Bat Found In Prentiss County

Veterinarian Says, 'No Cause For Panic.'

The first confirmed case of rabies in Prentiss County in approximately 20 years occurred last week when a rabid bat was found near New Site, according to Booneville veterinarian Dr. Harold B. Kirk.

The bat did not bite anyone. It had flown onto a porch at a residence in New Site where it was shot and taken to the Prentiss County Health Department. The remains were sent to the State Board of Health laboratory where tests confirmed the bat had rabies, said Greg Geno of the Prentiss County Health Department.

Dr. Kirk said he does not feel the situation warrants a general panic, but that people should be aware of the possibility of other infected animals.

"We don't know if this is an isolated case," he said. "But people need to be aware that the rabies virus is present in the county. People have gotten lax in having their pets vacinated. This should encourage them to have their pets vaccinated - dogs as well as cats."

Dr. Kirk said the best precaution people can take is to stay away from bats and have their pets vaccinated.

Rabies is practically endemic in bats, he said. "This doesn't mean they'll start biting, but everyone needs to be more conscious of bats and avoid them."

Rabid bats have been reported in every state except Hawaii. They have been the source of rabies infection for at least 10 human cases of rabies in the U.S.

Bats should be eliminated from houses and surrounding structures to prevent direct association with people. Such structures should then be made bat-proof by sealing routes of entrance with screen or other means.

If an animal is suspected of having rabies, a test must be performed on the animal's brain. "People shouldn't shoot the animal in the head - if they do it will be impossible to check for rabies," Dr. Kirk said. "The brain must be intact for the tests."

Dogs are man's main source of infection. However, other warm blooded animals such as cats, horses, cattle, goats, sheep, foxes, skunks, and bats may be infected with rabies and spread it.

Rabies is caused by a

State's Low-Interest Mortgage Loans Are Going Fast

A multi-million-dollar bond issue last week by the Mississippi Housing Finance Corporation could provide a shot in the arm for the home building industry in Mississippi by providing low-interest mortgage loans to many people who are interested in building new homes.

However, local realtors indicate they expect the money available for Prentiss County to go fast and to provide for the building of relatively few homes.

The Mississippi Housing Finance Corporation was established by the Mississippi Legislature to help combat high-interest mortgage rates.

The $127.5 million resulting last week's bond sale will be distributed statewide through banks, savings and loans, and other financial institutions to help some 2,800 Mississippians purchase homes with mortgage loans at an interest rate of 12 1/4 percent.

In order to receive a mortgage loan at this rate, applicants must meet requirements established by the federal government. For instance, family income cannot exceed $35,000 (plus $1,000 for each family member). Also, the applicant for the loan must not have owned a home within the past three years.

Forty of the state's 82 counties have been designated as "targeted" areas in this program, meaning there will be more money available for these low-interest loans in those counties. None of the counties in Northeast Mississippi are among the targeted areas.

As a non-targeted area, Prentiss County borrowers are eligible for a maximum of $59,130 for new homes or $42,390 if they are purchasing a previously owned home.

All three Booneville banks are participating in the program and report that a number of Prentiss County residents are interested.

Custodian For 19 Years

'Courthouse Seems Like Home'

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

When Sam Frank English was hired as custodian of the Prentiss County Courthouse he figured it was a four year job. That was 19 years ago. "I never dreamed of staying 19 years," English said. "Now the courthouse seems like home."

But, come the first of the year that will change because English plans to retire because of health reasons.

During his 19 years as custodian at the courthouse,

English has seen a lot of elected officials come and go. Through it all he has remained friends with everyone, he says.

"I like everyone and I think they like me. Getting along with everybody is easier than raising cane all the time."

English, a Jumpertown native, was a deputy sheriff for four years when George Rutherford was sheriff. He continued farming until he was hired as custodian. He and his wife, Lynn, live on Wheeler Drive in Booneville. They have two sons and four grandchildren.

English, who will be 64 on Oct. 9, arrives at the courthouse between 5 and 5:30 a.m. every week day. He likes to get his work finished before the crowd arrives. When 4 p.m. rolls around it's time for him to go home. "I enjoy getting here early and I enjoy getting away early," he laughs.

When he started working in the courthouse, he knew practically everyone who came in the front door. That isn't so any more.

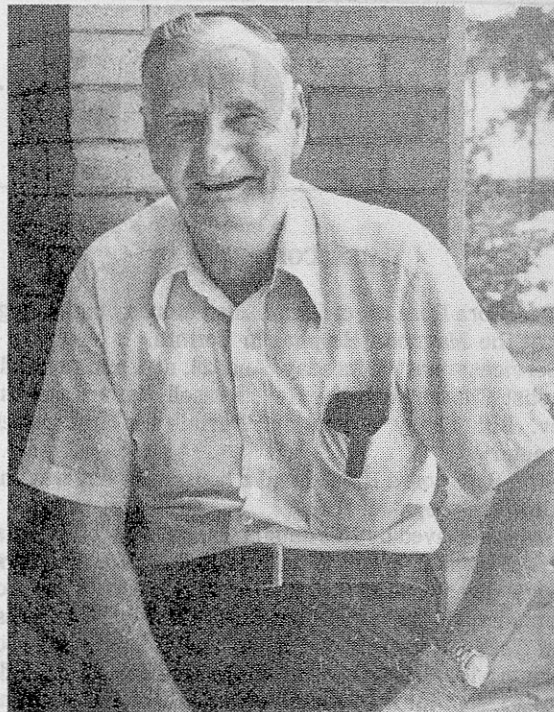

"It's not like the old days.

The government has so many out-of-towners working in different programs now who come to the courthouse. It used to be the same old crew who came in the old days."

English recalls the times when the Prentiss County courtroom would be filled with spectators who had come to town to watch the goings on while court was in session.

"But the old timers have passed away," he says. "Now most of the folks in the

Nearly Half Nation's Bridges Substandard

An inventory of highway bridges in the U.S. shows an increasing number of them classified as structurally deficient or functionally obsolete, the Mississippi Manufacturers Association reports.

Nearly half (45 percent) of all bridges are either deficient or obsolete, according to a report from the Secretary of Transportation to Congress. The report says more than $47.5 billion could be required to replace or rehabilitate all the inadequate bridges.

A structurally deficient bridge is restricted to light vehicles only, closed to traffic, or must be rehabilitated immediately to stay open. A functionally obsolete bridge is one whose narrow lanes, load carrying capacity, clearance, or approach roadway alignment can no longer safely serve its traffic load.

The MMA reports that more than half of the deficient and obsolete bridges in the U.S. are in 10 states, one of which is Mississippi.

virus present in the saliva of an infected animal. The virus enters the body through tooth wounds, fresh cuts, abrasions and mucous membranes and travels along the nerve until it reaches the brain.

When an infected animal has rabies at first he appears only slight ill, Dr. Kirk said. As the disease develops there are varying behavior changes.

In the furious type of rabies there is irritability, great excitement, tendency to wander and attack whatever crosses the animal's path.

In the paralytic type there is drowsiness with no inclination to bite unless disturbed; swallowing becomes painful and eating stops.

If rabies is suspected in an animal, Dr. Kirk said the animal should be caught, if possible, and confined for observation for 10 days. Contact with the animal's saliva should be avoided. The animal should be examined by a veterinarian or the local health department.

Only a veterinarian is qualified to evaluate the symptoms of rabies. If the animal dies or is killed, preserve the head by placing it on ice within two hours after death.

Allowing the animal to die

naturally increases the chances of identifying the virus quickly.

In case a person receives an animal bite or scratch from an animal suspected of having rabies, the wounds should be washed thoroughly with soap and running water. A physician or health officer should be seen immediately.

To be safe, Dr. Kirk said, consider every biting animal as rabid until proven otherwise.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I read the word predestination and election in the Bible and this leaves me somewhat confused. Does God pick out certain individuals and give them salvation and leave others out?

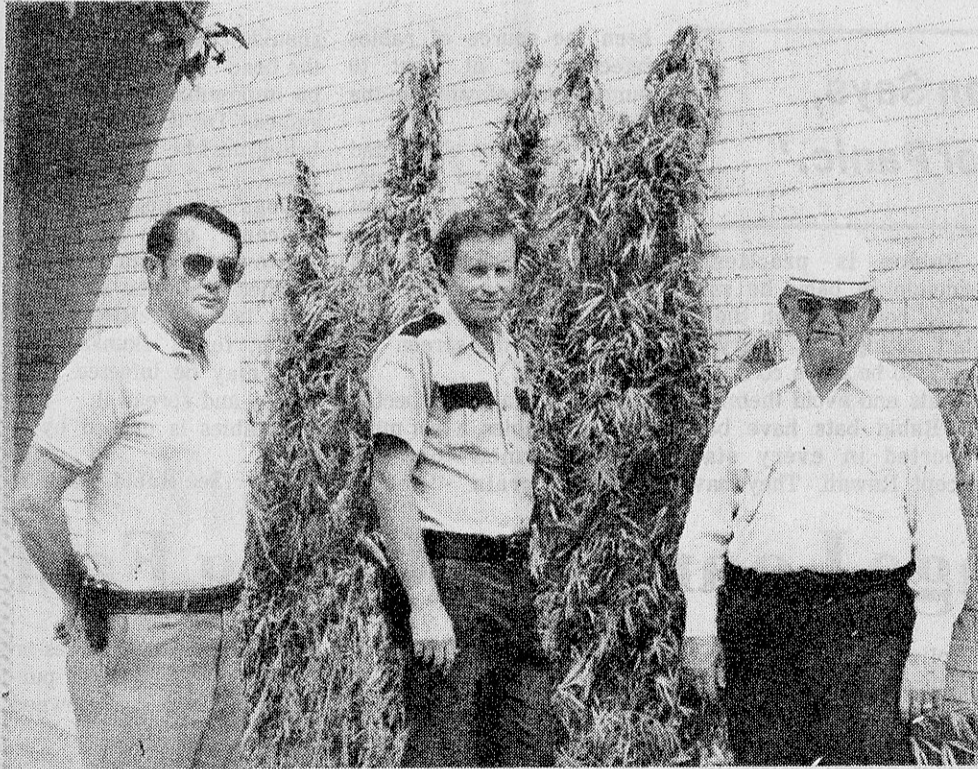

ANSWER: It is true that the Bible speaks of God "Predestinating, foreordaining, choosing and electing." However, this has nothing to do with God arbitrarily picking certain ones to be lost or saved. To the contrary, the Bible speaks of a loving God who foreordained and predestinated a plan whereby fallen man could be redeemed from his sins. Some have distorted God's "free will" and contradicted what Peter said in 2 Pet. 3:9. He tells us that God is longsuffering and not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. You will observe that God does not force people to repentance but wants all to come to repentance. The Bible teaches us that we are sinners who have been justified on the basis of the redemptive work of a foreordained Christ (Acts 2:23) through a foreordained gospel plan (1 Cor. 2:7), in order that we should live a foreordained life (Eph. 2:10). It is in this sense we are said to be foreordained or predestinated. Salvation is not something we earn, but at the same time you must remember that one cannot be saved with obeying God (see Heb. 5:8).

Beautiful Food ‘If Food Looks Pretty, It Always Tastes Good’

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

After tasting some of the delicious food that Sarah Hunt Martin prepares, some people might find it hard to believe that baking isn't her first love.

Although Mrs. Martin takes great pleasure in preparing food, she says her first love is teaching young people. Mrs. Martin, who teaches business at Booneville High School, has taught in the Booneville School System for 15 years.

Her second love is her family — which includes husband Dewey; three married daughters, Linda Ruth Comacho of Germany, Dianne Miller of Gulfport and Genia Toye Mincey of Kossuth and their families. But the apple of her eye are the six grandchildren.

And finally, her third love is baking.

Besides teaching, Mrs. Martin also operates a catering service — something she has done for about four years. It began as a hobby when she took a Wilton Cake Decorating Course in Tupelo so she could decorate birthday cakes for her grandchildren.

Because of that decorating course plus the fact that she enjoyed helping friends prepare foods for special occasions, “Sarah's Reception Service” was born.

Now Mrs. Martin caters for wedding receptions, anniversaries and other occasions.

Her delicacies, which are prepared at her home located on Franks Road behind the radio station, are well-known in the area for being as pleasing to the eye as to the palate.

“I enjoy fixing pretty foods,” Mrs. Martin said. “Foods need to be beautiful to adore as well as delicious to consume. If it looks pretty, it's always good.” Probably her most popular cake is the “Dolly Parton” cake — a cake she designed herself. It takes 3½ recipes of cake mix and 4 recipes of icing for the Dolly cake — and three hours to decorate it. Dolly wears a bikini and has a champagne glass over her navel to hold a candle.

The most unusual cake she ever baked was in the shape of an 18-wheeler truck.

Mrs. Martin uses a package of dry Dream Whip in each cake mix and also uses milk instead of water when she mixes the cake mix. “This really makes it good,” she said.

In June, the Martins', along with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Griffin, spent about three weeks in Germany. There the Martins' visited their daughter, Linda Ruth, and her family in Frankfurt. Mrs. Martin said the only food she liked in Germany was the pastries.

She said a highlight of the trip was visiting Salzburg, Austria, where she visited the home of Mozart and viewed his concert piano.

Mrs. Martin enjoys sharing recipes with friends. In fact, she and four women she met in Germany are corresponding now and exchanging recipes.

“My recipes come from sharing them with friends. Very few are original but I do doctor some up! I'm originally from Blackland and Dewey is from Hills Chapel — we like ordinary foods.”

She says the recipes she prepares aren't difficult and the ones she has chosen to share with Banner Independent readers are ones she uses all the time.

The recipe for “Chocolate Fudge Frosting” is one she uses on the groom's cake at weddings and is her favorite recipe. “At weddings nearly everyone tells me they had rather have the groom's cake instead of the bride's cake. It's the best icing I've ever had.”

“Chicken Rotel” is a one dish meal (that can be frozen) — all that's needed to round out the meal is bread and a salad. Mrs. Martin says when she visits her daughters they often request that she make enough “Chicken Rotel” to “fill their freezers!”

“Everyone likes the ‘Sweet Potato Crunch’ recipe,” she says. “When I serve it people always want the recipe.”

The recipe for “Apricot Salad” came from her neighbor, Sue Cole. Mrs. Martin calls this recipe simply “delicious.”

“Banana Beer Punch” is a misleading name for a scrumptious summer punch. The punch contains no beer. It's named “beer” because when ginger ale is added the punch foams.

“Pineapple Cheese Log” is a recipe that had made many mouths water in Booneville. Not only is it tasty, but it can be made ahead of time and frozen.

SARAH'S RECIPES

Chocolate Fudge Frosting

1 stick oleo
3 Tablespoons cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 box Confectioner (powdered) sugar (sifted)
½ cup hot water

Melt oleo in heavy skillet (on low heat) — add cocoa and vanilla. Heat until it bubbles.

Pour in mixing bowl — over sifted powdered sugar. Add the ½ cup hot water to skillet where chocolate mixture was and mix well.

Start slowly adding hot water and beating to sugar and chocolate. Beat with electric mixer to a spreading consistency. You may not need all the water or you may need it all. This takes some experimenting. You can put through the decorator. I use a knife blade in hot water to smooth icing. This is the icing I use for the chocolate grooms cake.

Chicken Rotel

4 to 5 lb. of chicken meat
2 large green peppers
2 med. onions
½ stick oleo
12 oz. pkg. vermicelli
1 can rotel tomatoes (use only ½ of juice) Mash
1 can small english peas
2 lbs. processed cheese (Velveeta)

2 tablespoon Worcestshire
1 large can mushroom pieces

Season and cook chicken in enough water that there will be 1 ¾ qts broth. Chop and saute peppers and onions in oleo. Cook vermicelli in chicken broth after removing chicken. When vermicelli is done add mashed rotel tomatoes and ½ of juice, Worcestshire. Cook for about 8-10 minutes on medium heat, add drained peas, mushrooms (chopped) drained onions and peppers. Mix well. Then add cheese that has been shredded. Stir until cheese is melted. Salt and pepper to taste. Last, add cooked chicken meat that has been removed from one and chopped.

Put in casseroles. You can serve or freeze. When ready to serve put in 350 degree oven until it bubbles.

Make a salad and you have a meal. This makes 2 large casseroles or 4 to 5 small ones.

Sweet Potato Crunch

4 or 5 medium sweet potatoes — cook in pan where potatoes are covered with water until done — Remove skin from cooked potatoes and mash well.

Add: ¼ cup sweet milk
2 eggs well beaten
1 cup sugar
1 stick oleo (melted)
1 cup coconut or raisins
Mix well — put in 13 x 9 casserole

Topping

½ cup self-rising flour
1 cup brown sugar
1 stick oleo (melted)
1 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix all together and spread over potato mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes.

Apricot Salad

1 cup water
1 small can crushed pineapple
¼ cup sugar
1 pkg. apricot jello
1 large carton Cool-Whip
18 oz. pkg. cream cheese (soft)
½ cup chopped pecans

Bring water, pineapple, and sugar to a boil. Add jello and let set until it begins to congeal. Mix cream cheese and Cool-Whip together and add to jello mixture. Mix well. Add chopped pecans and put in mold or 13 x 9 dish. Can be cut in squares and served on lettuce bed or served from the mold.

Pineapple Cheese Log

2-8 oz. pkg. cream cheese (soft)
1 small can crushed pineapple (well-drained)
¼ cup bell pepper (chopped fine)
1 ½ tablespoon seasoning salt
2 tablespoon chopped onion
2 cups chopped pecans (one for mixture and one to coat with)

Mix all together except 1 cup pecans. Chill. Form into one large ball or 2 logs. Coat with chopped pecans and sprinkle with paprika. Serve with party crackers. Can be frozen.

Banana Beer Punch

It is called banana beer because it foams when the ginger ale is used.

Bring to a boil for 3 minutes: 4 cups sugar, 6 cups water. Let cool. Add juice of 3 oranges (or 1 small frozen orange juice with 2 cans of water), 3 tablespoons real lemon juice or juice of 2 lemons, 1 46 oz can unsweetened pineapple juice. Stir all together. Mash

5 ripe bananas and add to the juice mixture.

Freeze — When ready to serve remove frozen mixture from freezer and let it get mushy. Add 2 large bottles of ginger ale.

LET THEM EAT CAKE — This week Sarah Hunt Martin of Booneville shares her recipe for Chocolate Fudge Frosting — a chocolate lover's delight. Here Mrs. Martin finishes frosting a groom's cake.

'Talk O' The Town'

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think the recent lowering of prime interest rates indicates that the nation's economy is going to improve in the coming weeks?

JERRY BISHOP of Route 2, Booneville; "I don't think the economy is going to improve because of the man we have in the White House. I don't agree with his budget cuts and the tax increase. He should leave it like it is."

A.V. HOLLEY of East Circle Apts., Booneville; "I don't think so. It seems like every change has been for the worse. I just have a feeling that times aren't going to get any better unless there's a big change made somewhere."

BRENDA GREEN of Route 1, Marietta; "Possibly. I don't think that will be the main thing but it will help a lot of people because they will start buying now."

JERRY WARD of Route 4, Booneville; "I hope it improves but I don't think it will. I think the President lowered it just to get the tax bill back up."

SUE OAKS of 105 Fifth St., Booneville; "I think so. I think people will be able to buy more things. More people will be building houses and there will just be more going on in general."

ORA LEE LAMBERT of Route 6, Booneville; "In the past the prime interest rates started down but then they went up again. Since it's dropped again it's hard to make predictions."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

Staff Reporter

Since this is back-to-school week, it seems fitting to recall some of the early Prentiss County Schools. The oldest records in the county superintendent's office are from 1912. According to those records there were at least 28 schools that year. However, schools came to my mind that I did not see listed - such as Buck Snort, Asberry, Idumie, and even Thrasher. Schools listed in the 1912 census book are Caveness School, Mt. Carmel (Shuffle Dust), New Site, Blythe Chapel, Burcham, New Candler, Jumpertown, Hills Chapel, Osborne Creek, Carolina, Pisgah, Snowdown, Little Brown, Good Luck School, Hill School Roaring Hollow, Old Burnt School, Hester, Marietta, Booneville, Pleasant Valley, Ben Weaver, Martin Hill, Rienzi, Mauldin, Mt. Pleasant, Rutherford and Wheeler. The next oldest records are dated 1920. Those records show about 32 schools in the county at that time. But here again there may have been several more that were not listed. Schools listed in the 1920 census book were Burton, Booneville, Bynum Line, Dalton, Piney Grove, Thrasher, Carolina east and west, Jumpertown, Oak Grove, Blythe Chapel, Casey Creek, Shady Grove, Baldwyn, Geeville, Wheeler, Osborne, Zions Rest, Oak Hill, Hills Chapel, Hopewell, Pisgah, Mt. Pisgah, Robinson, Hill School, Gaston, Blackland, Clausal Hill, New Candler, Lincoln, Wolf Creek, and Burcham. More Memories And speaking of schools. . . people are beginning to bring by old photographs of schools and other scenes of old Prentiss County for the Banner's "Remember When" edition. Most of the pictures are ones we have never seen before. The Banner staff has really enjoyed seeing these old pictures. If everyone enjoys seeing them as much as we have, everyone is in for a treat! We hope everyone who has old photos of the county will take time to look through them and share them with us for the "Remember When" edition. A Year This Week This week marks the first anniversary for the Banner's Street Opinion -- meaning some 312 people have participated in it. And just think. . .there's about 24,000 people in Prentiss County. We may run out of questions before we run out of people! Education Amendment In Trouble

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - The constitutional amendment on the ballot in November to create a lay State Board of Education, which many feel is an idea whose time has finally come, apparently is in trouble out in the hinterlands. With all the momentum that has been generated behind the amendment from such formidable sources as Gov. William Winter, the Mississippi Association of Educators and the Mississippi Economic Council, and, with no major organized opposition in sight, observers here felt the lay board was virtually a shoo-in. That's not what this writer found, however, in sampling some politically knowledgeable sources in several rural counties in Northeast Mississippi which are frequently bellwether counties in determining how the country folks in Mississippi will vote. One rural school official who keeps his fingers on the pulse of his county and the surrounding area - and who, incidentally, favors the amendment - voiced the opinion that unless the amendment gets a strong vote in the urban counties, it won't make the grade. What is bothering the rural folks about the new lay State Board of Education is that the board, rather than the voters, will select the State Superintendent of Education. While Mississippians have changed their minds about a lot of things in public life, apparently many rural voters are still adamant about not giving up the right to elect any public official, even in the field of education. One of the primary reasons, of course, for having the lay board and an appointive State Superintendent of Education is to insulate the schools from the vagaries of politics. Some key legislators see the lay board providing the same stability for public schools that the College Board does for institutions of higher learning. Besides, they reason, the new lay board can relieve the legislature of considerable blame for inadequacies in funding and structuring the school system. Gov. Winter's open support for the amendment at the same time he is laying plans to revive his fight for public kindergartens and compulsory school attendance in a special session of the Legislature in November is causing considerable concern among the leading backers of the lay board amendment. They fear Winter's outright backing will polarize his kindergarten foes into also opposing the lay board amendment, since he has made the special session contingent upon its ratification on Nov. 2. This column has learned that at least one legislative leader for the governor's kindergarten bill and some private organizations sponsoring the lay board amendment have appealed to Winter to back off pushing the amendment as part of a package. Key to the Board of Education amendment's chances of success, say major backers of the amendment, is the Mississippi Farm Bureau, which in return for the MEC softpeddling its long-standing opposition to the Property Classification amendment. Evidently the MEC has thrown in the towel on having any chance of defeating the property amendment, once it got on the ballot. But the MEC also sees that the Farm Bureau is the best available source for reaching the rural voters on the lay State Board of Education proposition. Meanwhile, State Supt. of Education Charles Holladay, whose involvement in the highly questionable sale of sample textbooks for his own gain helped trigger passage of the lay board amendment with the appointive superintendent provision, is telling anyone who asks that he is supporting the amendment, but doing nothing more. Local school superintendents generally support the lay board amendment because they see it increasing the clout of public education with the Legislature. However, some superintendents still harbor ambitions of being elected State Superintendent, or being in the power bloc which controls the State Superintendent. Many backers of the amendment are not pleased, however, that it provides for the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor each to appoint two members of the board. But to get the measure unlocked from almost certain death in the House-Senate conference committee, supporters had to accept that part.

On Taxes, Inflation, Interest Rates

The News Behind The Headlines

By CONG. TRENT LOTT
House Republican Whip
5th District
Mississippi

Hidden behind some of the headlines last week was a variety of information which falls into the category of good news, including indications of an economic upturn. The stock market, for example, reached historic new highs, with some experts crediting an emerging confidence in long-term economic recovery. The stock market's progress was overdue and I was pleased to see the action. Interest rates continued to fall in a systematic way. Major banks have lowered their prime rate to approximately 14 percent, which is far below the 21.5 percent high in January 1981. Lower interest rates have also been a long time coming and I would like to see the trend continue. Inflation continues to run at about half of its 1980 rate, a year in which the American people consistently named it as their top worry. What happened last week with the stock market, interest rates and inflation is important when viewed in connection with Congressional debate on the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982. The media referred to the bill as the "tax bill," but there was a lot more in it than taxes. 1 -- Unemployment benefits were extended for 10 additional weeks in the wake of the national jobless rate. This has an impact on more than 7,000 Mississippians who need the continued assistance just to help them survive until they can find a job. 2 -- There was little mention of the fact that the bill carried new cuts in federal spending totaling approximately $17 billion. For conservatives concerned about huge budget deficits, the cuts were important. But, to get the cuts, we had to accept the tax part of the bill, which will generate about $20 billion in new revenue in fiscal year 1983 and an estimated $98 billion over a three-year period. Even so, more than three-fourths of the tax cuts enacted in 1981 remain in force, amounting to $335 billion for the American people. 3 -- Most of the tax law changes were reforms in the system, closing loopholes which have been used by particular groups to their own best advantage. The so-called modified co-insurance is an example of an existing loophole which was closed. Even the insurance industry recognized that it needed to be straightened out. 4 -- The bill also continued the program of industrial development bonds, a tax-exempt way for states like Mississippi to attract new industrial jobs. Industrial development bonds totaling $700 million were issued last year in Mississippi, creating an estimated 20,000 new manufacturing jobs. Because it has been so beneficial to our state, I stood firm on retaining the program. Besides the reforms in the bill, there were new taxes on such items as cigarettes, airplane tickets and telephone usage and collection of some taxes now owed under the law. The bottom line, though, was that the revenue generated by the bill will help get the deficit down and move us further toward a balanced budget and real control of federal spending.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS Librarian
George E. Allen Library

Whether your autumn travel is eastward, southward, by motor or just by armchair you will enjoy two new picture books as colorful as their subjects. "New England: a Picture Book to Remember Her by" and "New Orleans: a Picture Book to Remember Her by" are volumes of an extensive series covering the world.

Perhaps your idea of a vacation will be better served by "An Outdoorsman's Guide to Wilderness Camping," by Douglas Durst. The subtitle, "A Complete Manual for the Adventurous Camper, Including Plans for Tent Making and Camping in the Snow," lets you know what to expect from it.

For the adventurous also is "Build Your Own Sport Plane with Homebuilt Aircraft Directory," by Don Dwiggins. Twenty-three years with the Experimental Aircraft Association lends authority to its author.

Another and different use of air ways is the new "Chilton's CB Handbook" which offers advice on choosing, installing and operating citizens band radio whatever its base may be.

Have an ink stain on your clothes? How do you clean your microwave oven or your dacron-polyester sleeping bag? If you don't have the answers, Mrs. Alma Moore's "How to Clean Everything" will solve those problems and many others.

A lovely to look at and to read juvenile book that will attract adults as well is "Fables of Leonardo da Vinci," interpreted and transcribed by Adriana Saviozzi Mazza.

It's Happening at...

The Right Light

CORINTH, Miss. (ICU) - Lamps! Lamps! Lamps! from mini to large ... from $35 to over a $100 ... all either adorable or handsome (depending on the style) ... some in "decorator colors" of peach, navy, whisky, stone; all with good-looking shades. Several would add a touch of class to your home or office. Any would make a much appreciated gift ... so come let us "light up your life" and "brighten the corner where you are."

Everything's Just Ducky

As you've probably noticed ... everything is ducky now, most particularly the handsome mallard (green-head). We have ducky plates, mugs, bookends, paper weights, trays, vases, molds, wallhooks and a long narrow dish to serve your "quackers" in. At Reid Bros., they have pants, sweatshirts and ties all sporting the popular duck (not Donald).

Take Advantage Of Reduction

To celebrate this "ducky era" and help you have the "in" look we're reducing the price of our classic Oxford cloth, button-down shirts with the flying mallard (where the polo pony usually gallops) from $32 to $22 or 2 for $39 this week only. The classic colors are white, blue, peach and yellow; and ladies' sizes are from 8 to 16. You'll probably want several colors for yourself and perhaps several for gifts too, at this special reduced price on a great shirt for the new season. (It's only 4 months 'til Christmas!)

Comfort Is The Word

The best way to describe our new "active wear" is comfortable. The pants have elastic in the waist. The fabrics are either cotton-knit (as in jogging or sweatsuits, but lighter weight) or a cotton blend; perfect for our weather. The colors are earthy reds, blues, browns and rusts. The tops are all feather-weight, cotton knits in a variety of styles and are hip-length or longer. Put 'em on in the morning and wear everywhere all day until you need to "dress-up" for something. This look is tops for casual wear, and the feeling is easy.

Also "feeling good" are our denim trousers. Because they're a lighter weight fabric than most jeans, they're cooler and have a softer touch (as if they've been washed a 100 times). They also look a bit neater than jeans. Some have elastic in the waist and some are belted.

Hot Football Games, Etc....

The Hammond House has racks full of dark cotton (and blends) skirts and pants and stacks of new shirts and blouses in the best colors and patterns of Fall '82. These are just perfect to wear to work or school, to the football games and other activities where it's important to "keep your cool" (during our hot, early fall months) and yet not look like the "last rose of summer." These all have the great versatility of mixing with other items already in your wardrobe.

Annual "Party"

We must mention the annual back-to-school party Thursday night at Reid Bros., and The Clothes Pen (our brother and sister stores). It's from 5:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. There's a discount on every purchase during those hours, and you have the chance to save 15% to 40% on many new items. Folks from miles around come and meet their friends, enjoy free refreshments, shop for Fall and just have a good time.

Meet Cassandra

When you enter the Hammond House, your eyes will naturally be drawn to the bright coral-salmon-orange color flowers with the dark green leaves in the window. They are cassandra plants, a firecracker breed. Only $4 each (or $5 if you want them in a plastic lined basket), they'll add charm to any well lighted spot in your house or patio. A friend, who can't even grow philodendron, has a beautiful one blooming on her deck that she's had since last summer. (She kept it inside during the winter.) Anyway, you'd enjoy pert and pretty cassandra and so would one of your friends, or let it add a spot of cheer in a hospital or nursing home room.

Also we have an unusual group of mini cactuses (cacti, if you prefer) in very appealing planters that look just right for that type plant ($8 to $12). Both cassandra and cactus have care instructions.

Please come see us and look around. You'll always find something new, and it's happening for you ... at The Hammond House in Corinth.

EYE OPENER

By Dr. Walter C. Simpson

Vision Problems

The eye's structure is complex, yet visual difficulties basically fall into only two categories. They are either REFRACTIVE errors or BINOCULAR errors.

Usually, refractive errors are NEARSIGHTEDNESS, where distant objects are blurred, FARSIGHTEDNESS, where close objects are perceived only with difficulty, and ASTIGMATISM, where the image is simply blurred.

A farsighted child may prefer tasks he can do at arm's length, rather than close up. This problem is difficult to detect on school vision tests, and reading disabilities seem to be more prevalent among farsighted children.

Astigmatism may occur in both the nearsighted and farsighted; blurred vision is caused by an uneven curvature of the cornea.

With binocular errors, the two eyes cannot adjust to the distance of the object viewed and they lack the ability to make both eyes focus on the same object. Both refractive and binocular errors usually can be treated successfully by vision specialists.

Presented as a public service by Dr. Walter C. Simpson, Optometrist, 113 Main St., Booneville, Mo., phone 728-4853.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS - Mr. and Mrs. Earl Oswalt have been Girl Scout leaders for two years in Booneville. Mr. Oswalt is the first man from Booneville to be registered as an assistant girl scout leader.

Scouting Family Serves Together

Doris and Earl Oswalt have set a precedent in Girl Scouting in Booneville - both have served as girl scout leaders.

Mrs. Oswalt began as an assistant leader with one of the Junior Girl Scout troops when her daughter Martha Carol was a member of that troop. The following year she became the leader of the troop.

When the troop became a Cadette Troop, Mrs. Oswalt registered as the leader and her husband, Earl, registered as her assistant - a first for the Booneville Girl Scout Neighborhood.

Oswalt went further than just registering as an assistant leader - he went to Camp Tikawitha for a training weekend and received his camp license at the same time Mrs. Oswalt received hers.

The Oswalts have been Cadette Troop leaders for two years. Although they are not planning to work directly with a troop this year they will still be a part of the Booneville Girl Scout Neighborhood to help wherever they can.

Mrs. Oswalt, an RN, is also a certified First Aid instructor and has conducted First Aid training for Scout leaders.

NE Vocational Registration Set

Registration and first class meeting for vocational classes to be taught in the evening at Northeast Junior College will be 6 to 8 p.m., Monday, Aug. 30, in Dean Hall.

The registration fee for classes granting Continuing Education Units (CEU's) is $10. An additional fee of $40 will be charged for classes meeting a minimum of 50 contact hours. For classes meeting less than 50 contact hours, the fee is 80 cents per hour.

Cherish Freedom

Because I am an American,
I know the sounds of freedom.

From songs and words of adoration and praise to harsh criticism spewn out in anger,

I know every sound and I am free to listen, to tune out, to speak up, or be silent. Because I am an American,

I know the sights of freedom.

From the glitter of holiday parade to a handmade protester's sign,

I know every sight And I am free to observe, to ignore, to show myself, or be hidden.

Because I am an American,
I know the feeling of freedom-- the joy, the excitement, the fever, the agony, the anger, the quiver, the swell, the thrill, the pride.

Because I am an American,
I have no bounds. I can soar as high As I have the strength and the will to soar I can create or do nothing. I can be anything I want to be.

I can be me. I can be.

Because I am an American!

Copied poems and I hope you enjoy it, too.

This is one of my favorite

Schools have opened around our area for the new session. As usual it is viewed with mixed emotions among the children. Some of them are reluctant to end their summer vacation while others found it boring and the beginning of school is a welcomed change.

The children will find one thing missing from Hill's Chapel School as they return. The second grade teacher, Mrs. Mauvoline Wilemon has retired after many years teaching. I'm sure that Mrs. Wilemon will miss the school just as much as they miss her.

It's hard to think of second grade class without thinking of her. She has been a part of the school as long as I can remember. I miss her already and I don't even go to school.

I remember what a friend she was to all the children through the years and I know that they all loved her dearly. When you make a friend with a child, you'll have a friend for life. We all wish the best for Mrs. Wilemon and hope that she will enjoy her retirement years to the fullest.

Thought For the Week:

My poem today is especially for Mrs. Ruby (Gibson) Garner whose husband passed away recently and the family of Willie Browning whose wife Lula Parker was buried last Sunday. These families were very dear friends of the Presleys. We were neighbors many many years during the time of childhood.

All three families were large.

The Parkers lived on one side of the Creek and the Presleys on the other side. The Garners lived on Old Highway 45 going toward Booneville. We all rode the school wagon together (My daddy drove the wagon), played town ball on Sunday, played tennis, (went to church Osborne Baptist and Oak Grove Methodist had only one service a month). In the summer out door parties with home made ice cream. Girls would spend the night with each other. You could just name it and we would get together.

I shall never forget at the end of World War I, the Garners and our family had small pox. This was a terrible experience. The neighbors were afraid to "sit up with us" and we mostly had to tuff it out. O yes, one man did come and this was Mr. John Neeley, a dear old soul. About the Parker family: They were lovely people too. I remember the parties they would have at Christmas. They would invite all the young people in the community. They had a big house. The Christmas goodies were delicious. We played rook and many games. In the summer the revival took place. Groups of kids would go home with families for dinner and maybe stay for supper and on to church. Spend the night was a happy occasion.

The Browning family was dear friends too. They lived on the other side of the Osborne Creek School. They also had a large family.

Here is the poem:

"What God Hath Promised"
God hath not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through,
God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow
Peace without pain.
But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way,
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy,
Undying love.

For Free School Lunches

Social Security Numbers Needed

To ensure that only eligible children get free and reduced-price school meals, parents are required to provide social security numbers on applications for free and reduced-price meals, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture official.

The ruling implements provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981, which requires that applicants include the social security number of all adult household members or an indication that none is available.

In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, all state agencies and local school food authorities will be required to disclose how the social security numbers will be used and by what authority the information is requested. In addition, the individuals must be informed that the disclosure is required in order for the application to be considered.

Prior to the 1981 Reconciliation Act, applications for free and reduced-price meals required only family size and income information.

"The change in the application procedures has been initiated to improve the integrity of the school feeding programs," Assistant Secretary Mary C. Jarratt said. "We are very concerned about the potential abuse that can be caused if parents misreport their incomes on free and reduced-price meal applications," she added.

To implement the revised application procedures in the beginning of the 1982-83 school year, the regulations will be published interim final. This means they are effective upon publication but USDA will accept comments on the procedures in order to make necessary changes.

Comments should be sent by Dec. 31, 1982 to Stanley Garnett, chief, Policy and Program Development Branch, Food and Nutrition Service, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, Va. 22302.

Clothes Management Improves Wardrobe

Managing clothes properly can turn an overstuffed clothes closet full of out-dated, worn out, no-longer-fit items into a closet full of attractive up-to-date garments.

Beth T. Duncan, clothing specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, said the first step in proper Clothes management is to take an inventory of the wardrobe.

"Get all of your clothes out, try them on and look them over," she said. "Then divide the clothes into three groups: those that fit and can still be worn; those that fit and can still be worn but need to be mended or altered; and those that do not fit or are beyond repair."

Duncan advises hanging the clothes that fit and can still be worn back into the closet.

"Those that need to be mended or altered do not go back into the closet until they are fixed," she said. "And those that do not fit and are beyond repair should be recycled or given away. There is no need to clutter up a closet with clothing that will never be worn again."

"If you haven't worn a piece of clothing in the last two years, get rid of it, or recycle it," she said.

The specialist said clothing can be recycled into dust cloths, rag rugs, pillow stuffing and quilt pieces. Also, fabric buttons, zippers and trims can sometimes be re-used and made into completely new garments.

"Before you begin a recycling project, study fashion magazines and newspapers for ideas," Duncan said. "You can often change an old garment so that no one will recognize it. Keep in mind that a garment worth making over deserves the same sewing techniques you would use with new fabrics."

The next step in clothes management involves taking a good look at what is left after the wardrobe purge.

"Prepare a wardrobe in inventory by listing the items on index cards," Duncan said. "Take the cards with you on shopping trips, especially when shopping sales.

Farm Storage Facility Loans Are Now Available

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

FARM STORAGE FACILITY LOANS TO PAY STRUCTURE COSTS

Farm storage facility loans are now available for applicants to buy the storage structures needed for one year's production of wheat, feed grains or rice produced on farms participating in the acreage reduction program. The new loans will be limited to $25,000 per farmer. The loan disbursement will begin after Oct. 1, through the Commodity Credit Corporation. Up to 70 percent of the cost of eligible items may be approved for loan by the County ASC committee, and be payable in five years.

The program was given new requirements during a review period from Feb. 9 through mid-July. Producer's applications that were pending during that period may now be revised based upon the new requirements.

The loans will be for building new storage structures and remodeling existing structures but not for electrical, handling, operating or drying equipment. Ineligible items which are an integral part of the structure must be paid in full before loan disbursement.

Production that will not be considered for loan funds are rye, soybeans, dry edible beans, peanuts, sunflower seeds, high moisture forage and silage.

An extended interim rule published in the Federal Register on Aug. 4, indicates that a public comment period will end on Oct. 1.

1982 PEANUT PRICE SUPPORT LEVELS SET

The average federal support price that farmers can expect for a ton of 1982 crop peanuts is $544.39 for Virginia and Valencia (southwest) types; $553.82 for Runner; $535.43 for Spanish and for Valencias in all other areas.

The method of computing the different levels is the same as for the 1981 crop. The actual support prices depend of the percent of the various sizes of kernels in each ton of nuts.

For each percent of sound mature and sound split kernels, the support level per ton is: Virginia, $7.976; Runner, $7.82; Spanish, $7.859; Valencia in the Southwest suitable for cleaning and roasting, $8.209; and other Valencias in all areas, $7.859.

The 1982 crop rates, premiums, discounts, and quality and location adjustments are the same as for 1981 crop peanuts. The percentage factor used in calculating the loan value of additional peanuts is 36.36 percent of the applicable quota rate. This is the ratio of the $200 per ton national support level for additional peanuts to the $550 per ton national support level for quota peanuts.

The gross farm value of the 1981 U.S. peanut crop is estimated at about $1.07 billion.

OPTIONAL 6 MONTHS EXTENSION OF 1981 CROP SOYBEAN LOANS

Since soybean marketing

prices are depressed it is in the best interest of CCC to give producers additional marketing time before redemption or forfeiture of soybean loans.

Producers will be notified of the maturity date of the loan in question and will have a optional 6 month extension for all outstanding and unsettled 1981 crop soybean loans. The request for extension must be in writing and presented to the county ASCS office that maintain records for the loan.

Interest on 1981 crop loans shall continue at the rate applicable to the loan and will be subject to change on Jan. 1, 1983. All the terms and conditions of the loan and the program regulations applicable to the old maturity date would be applicable to the new maturity date.

Also loans that are extended shall not be forfeited or delivered to CCC until after the revised maturity date. The necessary forms to request an extension of the loan will be furnished each producer with outstanding loans before the original maturity date.

State's First Dove Season Opens Saturday, Sept. 4

Mississippi's first fall hunting season is just around the corner.

Dove hunting, which traditionally opens the hunting season each year in the Magnolia state, gets underway statewide Saturday, Sept. 4. This first season extends through Sunday, Oct. 3.

Department of Wildlife Conservation officials say shooting hours are the same as last year, one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

The bag limit has not changed on doves. Hunters are permitted 12 birds per day and a possession limit of no more than 24. A possession limit is not allowed on opening day.

"For dove hunting, shooters must have their shotguns plugged and incapable of holding more than three shells," advised Benny Herring, director of the Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife.

"Of course, those persons between the ages of 16 and 65 hunting doves must have a valid hunting license on their person before going to the field," he added.

The dates for the remaining dove seasons are Oct. 16 through Nov. 7, and Dec. 25 through Jan. 10.

Each year in Mississippi, dove hunting continues to be one of the state's more popular shooting sports. Figures from the Department of Wildlife Conservation indicate some 123,000 participate in dove hunting annually.

Hunters average taking just over four birds per day, with an annual season bag of almost 28 birds, officials said. Some 3.4 million doves are killed each year in Mississippi.

Closely following the dove season, waterfowl hunters get to take to the marshes during Mississippi's special nine-day teal hunting season.

During this season, which opens Saturday, Sept. 11, and closes Sunday, Sept. 19, duck shooters may hunt blue-winged and green-winged teal, some of the earliest waterfowl to migrate through the state toward wintering grounds further south.

Shooting hours are from sunrise until sunset. The daily bag limit is four teal, with no more than eight in possession. The season is open statewide.

State conservation officials say a $7.50 federal duck stamp is required by teal hunters 16 years of age and older. Hunters over 16 and under 65 must also have a $2 state duck stamp, in addition to their valid state hunting license.

All licenses and stamps must be signed and on the hunter while hunting.

Northeast Grid Season Opener Set For Sept. 2

Good news for those football fans who just can't wait for the season to begin - the opening date for Northeast Junior College football action has been moved up by two days.

Northeast Junior College

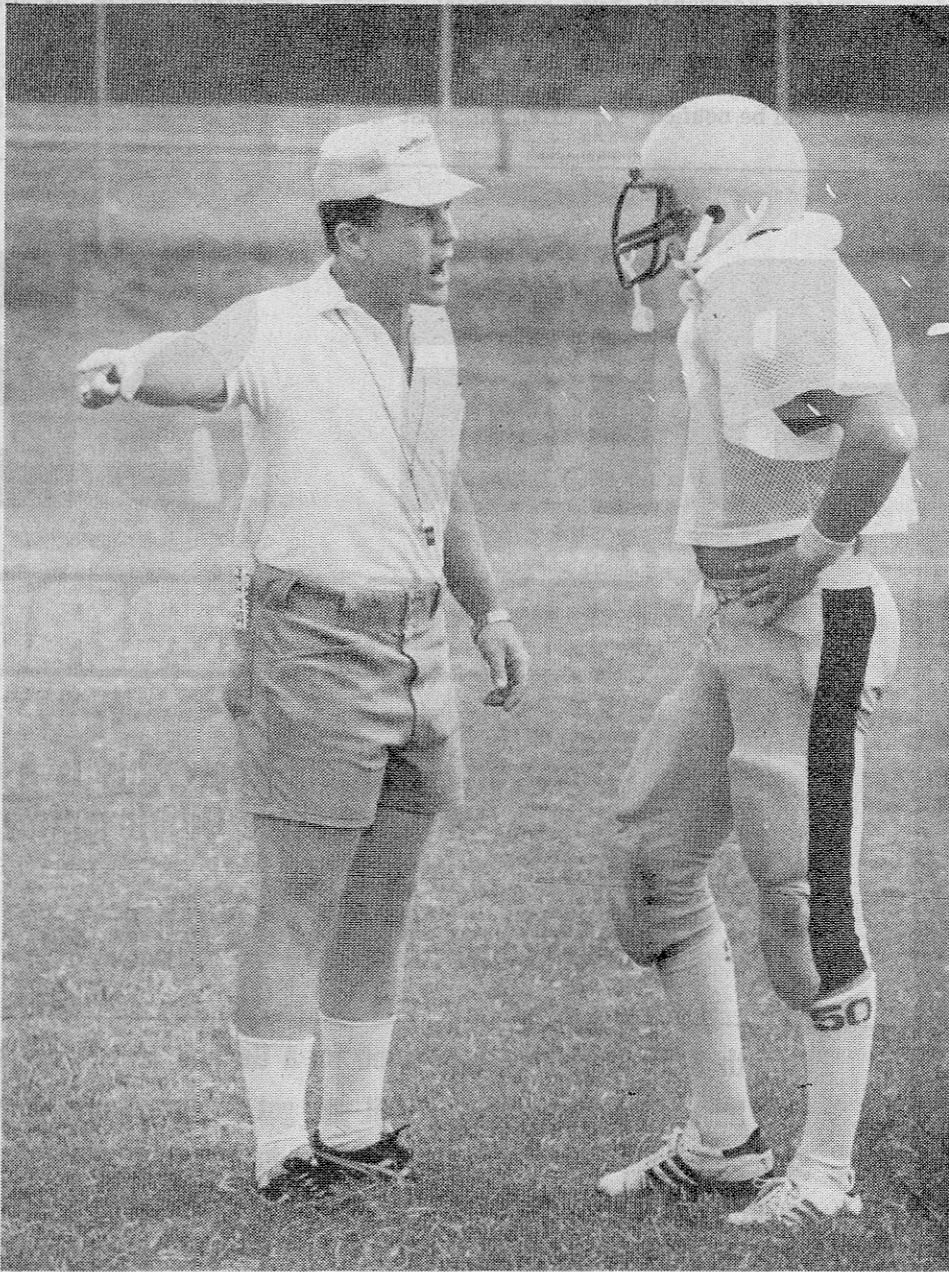

director of athletics Bill Ward this week announced the schedule change for the first game of the season.

The game against Gulf Coast Junior College, originally set for Saturday, Sept. 4, has been changed to Thursday, Sept. 2.

The Tigers will travel to Perkinston for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

Ward said the change was made by Gulf Coast because of the Labor Day holiday.

Friendly Advice

Getting ready for football season is not all fun and games, as any football player (or coach) can testify. Northeast Junior College coaches David Carnell (left photo) and Billy Southward (right photo) demonstrate two different methods of getting their point across to players during practice sessions this past week at the junior college. Southward gives some friendly advice to Wilson Clark, while Carnell points out to Scott Doles the errors of his ways. Northeast opens their season Sept. 2 on the road against Gulf Coast Junior College in Perkinston. Originally scheduled for Sept. 4, the date of the game was changed last week due to the Labor Day holiday. (Photos by Ken Christian)

PRENTISS COUNTY DANCERS - Prentiss County students chosen to perform with the Tiger Dancers are (front, l-r) Tammy Boyer, Johnna Chomak, Robie Wilson,

Tiger Dancers!

They Dazzle Their Audiences

Onetwothreefourfivesixseveneight... "There's no business like show business. There's no business I know..."

The rhythm of the tune and the high-kicking girls in the glitter suits linger in your memory after the music has faded and the lights blackened.

The unforgettable song is a home-crowd favorite, the stage is a football field and the young ladies are the Tiger Dancers of Northeast Mississippi Junior College, a dance line reminiscent of the Rockettes and other such famous show girl entertainers. They dazzle audiences with their sparkling costumes and Hollywood routines.

Recognized as one of the most beautiful and talented lines in the South, the Dancers were the first to introduce the precision kick line to the state of Mississippi. They perform it to the music of the 190-member Tiger Band from early fall until the school year ends at every home football game, many away games and many basketball games.

They have also appeared on national television, in two New Orleans Mardi Gras parades, in many marching festivals throughout the South and once gave a special performance for former Mississippi governor Bill Waller.

In addition, the group is also known for their innovative approach in the use of props. Dancing to well-loved tunes like "String of Pearls" or "In the Mood," they often incorporate either hats, canes, chairs, boxes or flash flags into their act. As well, they boast being one of the first lines in Mississippi to use pom-poms.

However, the work is hard and the road to precision a long one at times. The girls practice spasmodically during the summer and with the band everyday in marching season to keep the innovative kick line sharp.

As with any group that works closely together, friendships grow among the squads that come and go down through the years. Many of them still keep in touch even though some have gone on to be reputable dance instructors, some models appearing in magazines and some performers with dance companies.

The squad of 34 was increased this spring to include 42 young ladies from Northeast Mississippi and the surrounding area. Over 100 hopefuls, the largest number of girls to try out since the Dancers began in 1974, showed off their talents to judges vying for a spot on the line, Rickey Bishop, Tiger Band director, said.

But, he added, because of the quality, dance ability and performance personalities of the girls trying out, the performance standard will remain high. In fact, this year's line promises to be one of the best yet.

Registration Set For LL cheerleaders

Registration for cheerleaders for the newly organized Little League football teams will be held from 10:30 a.m. until noon Saturday, Sept. 4.

Any girl in Prentiss County between the ages of 5 and 12 who would like to be a Little League cheerleader should register at that time. There will be no tryouts. All girls who register will be assigned as a cheerleader to one of the teams, according to Doug Mansell, chairman of the Little League organizing committee.

Registration will be held at the community center at the West Side City Park.

For further information, contact Mansell at the Prentiss County Development Association, 728-3505.

The King Wrestles Here Saturday Night

Also included on the ticket will be a Mid-America Title Match between Bill "Superstar" Dundee and Bobby Eaton (with manager Jimmy Hart).

Other matches scheduled include Dennis Condry and Norvell Austin against Terry Taylor and Bobby Fulton, Ric McCord against "The Angel," and Novell Austin Against Terry Taylor.

Championship Wrestling is sponsored at Northeast by the college's athletic department. Tickets are available at the college and at the Chicken Hut in Booneville.

THE OLD AND THE NEW — Jason Walden (left) is ready for Little League action to begin. Teams have received helmets and shoulder pads and practice is underway. Little League Teams Issued Uniforms Issued Baseball fields at the West Side City Park have been seeing a different type of action lately.

In addition to practice sessions at the park by the Northeast Junior College's Tiger Marching Band, a more specific change has come about on the fields themselves.

Instead of the past weeks' gloves and caps, spectators are now seeing shoulder pads and helmets. Little League football has begun.

About 100 kids have officially signed up, and more are expected, according to Doug Mansell, chairman of the Little League organizing committee.

The league will consist of two age divisions, one for boys 7-9 and one for those 10-12. Plans call for three teams in each age division, and for each team to play four games at the park this fall.

Faces lit up Tuesday as helmets and shoulder pads were distributed among the anxious young participants who are already involved in practice sessions.

Anyone who would like to participate in Little League football but who has not yet registered, should contact Doug Mansell at the Prentiss County Development Association or call the Sportin' Goods Store.

Improvements Set For Jackson Coliseum

Approximately $4 million will be spent in early 1983 for building improvements at the Mississippi State Fairgrounds Complex in Jackson, according to Mississippi Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Jim Buck Ross.

The Fair Commission received authorization from the Mississippi Legislature to issue $4 million in revenue bonds for the improvements, which will include:

— Increasing the size of the Mississippi Trade Mart from 42,000 to 62,000 feet.

— Building an enclosed and heated multi-purpose building for horse shows, cattle shows and other usage.

— Adding up to 3,000 seats in the Coliseum.

— Constructing a building on Mississippi Street adjacent to the Fairgrounds Complex for Breed Association offices during livestock shows.

— Building a rest station on the east end of the midway which would contain shower facilities for fair and carnival workers.

In addition to the improvements covered under the bond issuance, Ross said the fairgrounds complex will also get a $43,000 steel and aluminum canopy which will tie in the west end of the midway with the Coliseum. It will be 48 feet wide and 172 feet long.

Ross said the canopy will be paid for by funds generated by the fairgrounds complex through rental of buildings and state fair revenues.

"The purpose of the canopy is to provide a place for animals to stand dry during inclement weather," he said.

"We hope the canopy will be completed by the Mississippi State Fair which opens Oct. 8. If not, we will definitely have it completed by the Dixie National Livestock Show in the spring," Ross said.

The improvements for the fairgrounds complex are being constructed to keep up with the demand for the fairgrounds complex's usage, the commissioner said.

"In the last few years, the Mississippi Fairgrounds Complex has become a very busy place," he said. "It is the center of agricultural and industrial exhibits for Mississippi."

"It is the aim of the Mississippi Fair Commission to bring the people of Mississippi the best facility possible. These new improvements help realize that goal," Ross said.

If you keep $1500 in savings at First Bank, don't forget to ask for free checking.

Most banks conveniently forget about your savings account. No matter how large your balance, they still charge you for checking.

Not at First Bank. If you keep $1500 or more in your savings account, you're one of our Super Savers and you won't be charged a cent for checking services.

And you can get Super-Saver free checking when you maintain a $1500 minimum balance in any one of three First Bank Savings Accounts.

Get free checking with a Regular Savings Account.*

If you like the option of withdrawing your money anytime, you'll like a Regular Savings Account. Interest is paid or compounded on the last day of June and the last day of December. And money deposited by the 10th of any month earns interest from the first. Super Saver free checking comes with a $1500 minimum balance.

Get free checking with a Silver Savings Account.*

You need $10 to qualify for a Silver Savings Account, and $1500 to qualify for Super Saver free checking. It pays slightly more interest than Regular Savings. And interest is compounded daily from deposit to withdrawal and posted quarterly. If your balance drops below $1500 you'll lose out on free checking but your account will earn interest down to $10.

Get free checking with a Golden Savings Account.*

Golden Savings pays the highest interest you can earn on a First Bank Savings Account. Interest is paid or compounded quarterly at the end of March, June, September and December. Ten dollars can get you into Golden Savings and $1500 can make you a Super Saver. You can make deposits anytime. But the money must remain in your account for at least 90 days. Withdrawals can then be made during the first 10 days of any calendar quarter, or after 90 days written notice.

First Savers can get free checking, too.

As a First Saver, you pay yourself first. Your savings come right off the top of your paycheck. We automatically transfer the amount you want from checking to the savings account of your choice. Interest is compounded quarterly. And if your balance is at least $1500, you'll qualify as a Super Saver as well.

* Substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal.

Super Saver free checking applies to First Bank Savings Accounts only. Not to certificates of deposit. Because the interest we pay on CD's is so high that we really can't afford to throw free checking into the deal.

Unfortunately our computers aren't bright enough to spot our checking customers who also maintain large savings balances. So if you already qualify as a Super Saver and want to cash in on free checking, please stop by any First Bank office and tell us.

Your checking account can earn savings account interest.

It's our First NOW account. It's a checking account that pays you 5¼% interest when you meet the minimum monthly balance requirements. If you keep $1500 in checking or are a Super Saver and haven't converted to a First NOW account, talk to your First Banker. We think all the money you keep with us should earn interest.

Free checking with only a $500 minimum.

So far, none of the plans sound right for you? Don't worry, First Bank has even more ways you can get free checking — ways that have nothing to do with savings.

If your minimum monthly balance in our regular checking account is $500 or more, your checking is free. Or if you're a full-time student, ordained minister, a senior citizen over 65, or a full-time teacher, you can make special arrangements for free checking at any of our 15 locations.

At First Bank, remind us about the money you have on deposit. Maybe you can forget about checking service charges.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"There Is No Place Like Home"

By Dr. Bill Duncan

"O Lord, how I need your help, especially in my own home where I long to behave as I should." Adapted by J. Clark Hensley from Psalm 101:2

The homes of the church are the spiritual thermostats which govern the "highs" as well as the "lows" temperature in which we worship and serve. There is no place like home. God has designed the home to provide the necessary ministry that each father, mother and child really needs. Someone has said that "The home is the best place for love, acceptance, security, fellowship, forgiveness; for teaching values; for demonstrating respect of persons; for conveying truths about God and for developing the art of communication generally."

Most homes are really nothing more than restaurants and motels. It is only a place where we eat or sleep. The homes should be a learning laboratory where the most scientific work is done. I do not know any more serious learning or labor that can be done. Unselfish, warm, outgoing, others-centered love or the lack of it is caught, taught and communicated in the home. Long before the child is able to talk or understand words he is learning from what he sees and feels. Indeed he learns much more from what he sees and feels than he ever does from what is said. He learns from the emotional atmosphere. By the manner in which he is handled, he feels security or senses rejection. The home is constantly facing change. With children growing through different stages of maturity, with adults facing economic crisis, marriage, death, birth and many more life changing events, stress is a real factor we all experience.

How can we cope with the current needs we all have? All of us need help. There are none of us who could be called an expert on the home or family. About the time we think we have figured out what to do something comes along to change the situation.

There is a teacher who has helped me very much in recent months. His name is Dr. James Dobson. He is connected with the University of Southern California School of Medicine. After listening to his tapes and reading his books, I was pleased to read that his approach to the family is no more than the Judeo-Christian tradition regarding discipline of children and the application of those concepts to today's families. His most popular book is "Dare to Discipline."

Parenting needs to involve control with love, a reasonable sense of self-discipline and responsibility, leadership which seeks the best interest of the child and respect for dignity and worth of every member of the family, and realistic boundaries that are enforced with confident firmness, and finally a judicious use of rewards and punishment when required for training.

You will find good help from the principles of God's word. They are given to give us guidance and help. The book of Proverbs abounds with help.

You will also find help in parenting and coping from such Christian writers as Dr. James Dobson. We are showing his film "Focus on the Family" beginning this Sunday night. The first film is "The Strong-Willed Child." Everyone is invited.

"O Lord, how I need your help, especially in my home where I long to behave as I should."
