Local Roadblock Nets Stolen Vehicle

Local law officers discovered a 1982 Cutlass which had been stolen from Rochester, N.Y., Monday during a roadblock set up to check driver's licenses and car tags, according to Prentiss County Deputy Sheriff Hubert Kitchens.

Highway Patrol Trooper Alfred Michael and other officers were checking licenses at a roadblock just south of Booneville on U.S. 45 when the Cutlass was stopped.

Three juveniles from New York, two boys and a girl, were in the vehicle. When they could produce no driver's license or vehicle registration, officers ran a check on the car's vehicle identification number. The car proved to have been stolen from Rochester, N.Y., Kitchens said.

The juveniles will be released to the custody of their parents, he said.

The trio were enroute to Louisiana, officers said.

Four Arrested In Theft Of Push Mower

Four men were arrested Wednesday of last week and charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of a push mower from Prichard's Feed Mill on U.S. 45 South.

Arrested were Stephen L. Moore, 23, Thomas E. Byrd, 22, Danny Ray, 23, and Ronnie Howard, 25. All four have been released on $2,200 bond each.

Assisting in the arrests were Booneville Police officers Glen Honeycutt and Eddie Miller and Prentiss County Deputies Hubert Kitchens and Joe Shackelford.

Two Sentenced For Probation Violations

Two local men received prison sentences during a probation violation hearing last Friday.

Circuit Court Judge Fred Wicker sentenced Vaughn Grizzard of Meadowview Heights, Booneville, to serve a term of four years in prison. The sentence is in connection with break-ins at the residences of Elaine Pounds and Bill Haley, deputies said.

James Ellis "Bud" Young of Baldwin was sentenced to serve three years in prison in connection with two break-ins at Coleman's Bar-B-Q in Baldwin, deputies said.

Special Homecoming Planned At Northeast

Homecoming at Northeast Junior College this year will take on a different twist if all goes as alumni have planned, according to Edna Drewry, secretary for alumni affairs.

The Great Gatsby Homecoming, scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 2, will feature an antique car show on Cunningham Boulevard from 2 to 5 p.m., she said.

The idea of the car show, which was prompted by the increasing number of antique car enthusiasts in the area, has expanded to include a parade of the participants around Keenum Stadium prior to the presentation of the homecoming queen and her court. As the participants pass the press box, they will be identified and a description of the automobiles will be given for the expected crowd of 4,000.

"If enough owners choose to participate in the parade, we hope to have them escort the homecoming court onto the field," Mrs. Drewry said.

Anyone interested in participating should contact the Office of Alumni Affairs at 728-7751, ext. 298, for further information. There is no entrance fee for participation.

Help Offered To Small Businesses

During the first six months of the year, more businesses have failed than in all of 1980.

In order to stem this trend, free business assistance is being offered to small businesses in Prentiss County through the Small Business Development Center (SBDC), according to Raleigh Byars, director of the Oxford SBDC subcenter.

The SBDC began operation in February 1980 to help provide a wide range of management, training and technical services to Mississippi's small businesses.

"Our business is keeping small businesses in business," Byars said. "So far we haven't received too many calls from Prentiss County."

He said small business owners need only call the SBDC for assistance and an SBDC representative will visit the business. "We know in some instances it is impossible for a small business owner to leave his business; therefore, we'll come to him."

An SBDC satellite office will open on the Itawamba Junior College campus Sept. 13. It will be open the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Small business seminars are scheduled to be held in Booneville this fall, Byars said.

Supervisors Approve $3 Million Budget

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

THE PRENTISS County Board of Supervisors has tentatively approved a budget totaling approximately $3 million for the coming fiscal year.

Although this figure is up from last year's budget of $2.6 million, the tax levy will be down by about 4 mills from this past year.

The extra revenue for the budget will result from an increase in the assessed property evaluation, from a slight increase in revenue sharing funds ($324,163 this year, $285,845 last year) and from an increase in tax revenue due to new growth, the supervisors said Tuesday.

The total tax levy is expected to be 91.5 mills for Districts 1, 2, 3 and 4 and 89.5 mills for District 5. District 5 is the only district not involved in the repayment of disaster loans dating back to 1972.

These millage rates are expected to receive final approval from the supervisors next week. Last year's tax levy was 93.5 mills for Districts 2 and 5, and 95.5 mills for Districts 1, 3 and 4.

THE COUNTY'S budget, tentatively approved last Friday, is expected to receive final approval next week from the supervisors.

The general county budget shows a total of $1,307,813.13 in disbursements from the general fund, an increase of almost $300,000 from last year's general budget allocation of $1,008,630.

Budget figures for road work in each district, as well as revenue sharing and debt service figures, are still incomplete, but should be finalized by next week, supervisors said Tuesday.

Most divisions in the general fund show increases from last year's budget allocations.

The largest increase, $79,456, is in the allocation for sanitation and waste removal. Last year's allocation for these services was $105,544. This year, $185,000 is allocated.

The second largest increase is a $21,172.90 increase in the budget for the Sheriff's Office. Last year the Sheriff's Office received $172,946; this year, $194,118.90.

However, this is still less than the $234,266.90 figure requested by Sheriff John McCauley.

ONLY SEVEN divisions in the general budget will receive less money than last year: Justice Courts are allocated $36,000, down $1,000 from last year; Civil Defense, $8,121, down $257 from last year; Constables, $2,600, down $50; Booneville-Baldwyn Airport, $2,100, down $300; Pro rata Welfare Expense, $6,600, down $943; Veteran's Service, $7,800, down $1,178; and National THIRD STREET IMPROVEMENTS - Work is now underway to renovate a portion of Third Street from the Kellwood factory entrance to just south of the southern entrance of the city park. The city board voted Tuesday to extend the work on past the first park entrance. The project will include a new roadway plus curbs, gutters and sidewalks. Mel Tidwell of Booneville was awarded the $154,500 project. Work on the project began last week. The project should be completed by December, weather permitting, Street Commissioner Wade Lambert said.

Third Street Project

City Board Votes To Extend Roadwork

During their regularly scheduled monthly meeting Tuesday night, the Booneville Board of Aldermen agreed to provide enough funds to extend the renovation of Third Street at least beyond the south entrance of the city park.

The board had previously approved a project which would have completely reworked Third Street from the entrance at Kellwood Company north to approximately midway between the two city park entrances.

A contract was let to Mel Tidwell of Booneville and work began on the Third Street project last week.

However, Street Commissioner Wade Lambert told the other board members Tuesday night that the project has proven to be more costly than anticipated. With the revenues available, the work would have to stop about 200 feet short of the south entrance to the park.

The project is being financed with federal monies matched with some local funds. The contract let to Tidwell was for $154,500. Lambert said federal funds are available for up to $211,000 if the city will put up the additional matching funds.

He said the city's part of the $211,000 would be $53,000.

"We have $41,500. We'll have to come up with the rest," he said in asking the board to approve the matching funds.

"I hate to stop 200 feet short of the park entrance," Lambert said. "If we are allocated additional money next year (for the Third Street renovation), the work would block both park entrances (if the present work stops short of the entrance)."

The other board members agreed with Lambert and voted to provide additional funding to continue the renovation at least past the southern entrance to the park.

Alderman Charles Steen, who presided over the meeting in the absence of Mayor Charles Crabb, told the board that the police department is short handed and needs to hire two additional policemen.

Steen, who also serves as police commissioner, recommended that the board hire Joe Miller Coggins, a radio dispatcher with the Sheriff's Department, as one of them. He said the department is still looking for someone who can double up as both a police officer and a dog catcher.

The board unanimously approved Steen's recommendation.

Prentiss County Civil Defense Director Bill Prather appeared before the board to ask that the city pre-designate a large building for use by federal and state authorities in the event a disaster of some type should occur here.

The board approved Prather's recommendation that the West Side Park community Center be designated as the primary site and that the East Side Community Center be a secondary site. In case neither of these facilities could be used, the Booneville Fire Department would be the third choice.

Marvin Burcham of the Booneville Gas and Water Department reported to the board Tuesday night that the city's "water situation looks gloomy."

He said more water is being used than ever before. Some 46,568,000 gallons were used last month, he said, and that is down from the amount used the previous month.

However, Burcham added, tests have indicated that the water table in Prentiss County is not falling as it is in Tupelo and Iuka. "We're just using more water," he said.

Veteran Vegetable Vendor Approves Of Farmers' Market

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Times have changed since George Denson first began selling vegetables in Booneville almost 75 years ago.

Denson, 82, was eight-years-old when he first started driving a wagon and a pair of mules from his home in New Site to Booneville. "It took five hours to get here," Denson remembers. "Seems long compared to the 15 minutes it takes me now."

From 1908-1920 Denson brought vegetables from the farm via wagon to Booneville to sell in front of Booneville Hardware. His brother, the late W.C. Denson, also drove a wagon load of vegetables to town to be sold. In those days the Densons sold two wagon loads of vegetables a day. "Back then I'd wag a sack of sweet potatoes all over town for $1 a bushel. Now they're $6 a bushel," he said.

Now Denson sells his vegetables from the back of his red Ford pickup parked at the new Farmer's Market on North College Street in Booneville.

"The Farmer's Market is the greatest thing," Denson says. "It will help producers and users. People can come by and buy the vegetables cheaper and fresher. People appreciate a reasonable price. That's the purpose - to sell people fresh vegetables at reasonable prices. The Farmer's Market will be twice as big next year," he predicts.

"More people buy vegetables now. Back then people grew nearly everything they used. They made their living at home. Now nearly all of it has to be bought. The Farmer's Market gives them a good outlet for what they have to buy."

In the last five weeks, Denson has missed only two days of selling vegetables at the Farmer's Market. He arrives there at 7:30 a.m. and stays until late evening - rain or shine.

"I've always been an early stirrer and I go to bed early to get my sleep. Not many people my age think about working. But I wanted to help my daughter Loretta, and her family get started in the business of growing and selling vegetables. They're doing a wonderful job," he said.

Denson and his wife, the former Lona Huggins of Allen Line, live with their daughter Loretta and her husband, Jerry Wayne Moore and their three children on the Denson farm in New Site.

Mr. and Mrs. Denson have been married 56 years. They are the parents of seven children - two boys and five girls. "I have every investment I ever made," Denson says. "My best investment is my seven children."

Denson remembers that on his wedding day in 1926 he borrowed $9 from a neighbor to get married. "The marriage license cost $3 and I gave a neighbor $6 to take us to Shiloh."

"I married a girl who has really been a wife. I love her today like I did when I first met her," he said.

The Densons were married on a Sunday. The Guard, $1,500, down $200.

Last year, the county budgeted $88,000 for the Northeast Mississippi Hospital. However, since Baptist Memorial Hospital of Memphis has leased NEMH, that expense has been eliminated from this year's budget.

There are also two divisions on this year's budget that were not listed last year: Northeast Mississippi Junior College, $183,562, and Jacinto Courthouse, $5,555. (The county did provide funds to the junior college last year, but those funds did not come out of the general budget as they do this year.)

OTHER BUDGET allocations for the coming fiscal year include:

Administrative Offices: Board of Supervisors, $18,400 (an increase of $728); Chancery Clerk's Office, $63,882.95 (up $1,749.95); Circuit Clerk's Office, $24,279.96 (up $268.96); Tax Collector-Assessor, $95,940 (up $4,601); Maintenance of Buildings and Grounds, $25,500 (up $5,940); Election Expenses, $29,000 (up $6,862).

Courts: Chancery Court,

$15,300 (up $2,310); Circuit Court, $44,200 (up $14,050); Juvenile Court, $9,500 (up $3,050); Lunacy Court, $1,700 (up $300); Coroner and Ranger, $3,500 (up $960); and County Attorney, $9,100 (up $630).

Public Safety: Fire Department, $48,000 (up $18,000).

Health & Welfare: Health Centers & General Clinics, $36,155 (up $754); and Timber Hills Mental Health Services, $35,625 (up $2,625).

Welfare: Paupers, $39,125 (up $252), and Northeast Mississippi Community Action Agency, $3,000 (up $1,700).

Education & Recreation: Regional Library, $45,000 (up $1,000); and Law Library, $3,500 (same as last year - funds come from fines collected).

Conservation & Economic Development: County Agent, $18,198.32 (up $95); Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District, $11,125 (up $125); Advertising, $5,000 (up $2,500); Yellow Creek Watershed, $7,500 (same as last year); Soil and Water Conservation, $11,125 (up $125); and Prentiss County Development Association, $22,250 (up $250).

next day he was logging timber to build their house and Mrs. Denson began piecing a quilt. "That's the way life is," he grinned.

Denson still works every day except Sunday, although, he says, he doesn't do so much now.

Denson's grandfather, W.C. Denson, purchased the 310 acre Denson farm ten years after the Civil War. His father, George M. Denson, was a school teacher. His mother died of tuberculosis when he was 18 years old.

Denson has worked on the farm all his life except during one winter when he worked on the railroad for six weeks. He went back to working on the farm because his father needed him, he said.

"They said I started working when I was five. I've enjoyed farm work all my life. I really enjoy being out in the open."

Today there are 30 acres of vegetables planted on the farm, which is "a big jump from an acre garden," Denson says. Soybeans are also grown on the farm along with 2 acres of peanuts, 1½ acres of pimiento peppers and 10 acres of sweet potatoes.

Those sweet potatoes are probably what Denson is most famous for.

Denson has been growing sweet potatoes since 1915. That was the year he won the world's record for growing sweet potatoes. He harvested a bumper crop of 1,368 bushels of potatoes to an acre. As far as he knows that record hasn't been topped.

He says the sweet potato crop was so good that year because of "know how." "You have to know a lot about sweet potatoes. The weather controls the rest of it." Another year he raised 800 bushels of sweet potatoes to an acre.

In 1927 Denson had 18 varieties of sweet potato plants. "It was hard keeping them separate," he said.

Now the Densons grow the Bunch Puerto Rican and Centennial varieties. His favorite variety is Bunch Puerto Rican because the vine doesn't spread every place. "The new hybrids aren't worth a thing," he says.

Not only does he enjoy growing and selling the sweet potatoes, he enjoys eating them, too. "I eat some nearly every day. There's nothing better to eat than a sweet potato. There's so many ways they can be cooked."

Denson thinks this will be the best crop ever of sweet potatoes. "We've had plenty of rain when we needed it. That makes a big difference in the yield."

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I read in 1 Cor. 7:6, where Paul said "But I speak this by permission and not of commandment," then I read where he said, "But to the rest speak I not the Lord." Does he mean in these verses that he is not inspired?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Paul tells us that all scripture is given by inspiration (2 Tim. 3:16). So obviously he was inspired when he wrote all his books. The context of 1 Cor. 7, shows he was quoting from the Lord but at times he gave what inspiration said to him. We must understand that an inspired man may give his opinion on a certain matter, but that does not mean he is not inspired. For example, in verse 36 of this same chapter Paul, as an inspired man, gives his opinion about a man permitting his daughter to get married. His opinion was that it was best not to allow the marriage, but he goes ahead to say the man has not sinned if he allowed his daughter to get married (see verse 36). In verse 26 he advised certain people not to get married because of the "present distress." However, he made it clear that sin had not been committed if they got married. Being inspired doesn't mean that one has to give a commandment about all things. One can give an "opinion" and still be inspired.

STAR Scholarships Increased

The Hardin Foundation of Meridan has agreed to increase its financial contributions to scholarships provided each year to top STAR Students, according to the Mississippi Economic Council.

The Foundation was acting on a request from the MEC's STAR Committee that the scholarships be increased for the popular program, which is designed to award student and teacher achievement.

Beginning next April, the committee was told by the Hardin Foundation, the state's top STAR Student will receive a $1,500 scholarship, an increase from $1,000; the first runner-up's scholarship will be increased from $500 to $1,000; and the scholarship for the second runner-up will go from $200 to $500.

The Foundation also increased cash awards to STAR Teachers to $300 each, from $100 apiece.

The STAR (Student Teacher Achievement Recognition) Program is designed to recognize Mississippi's outstanding high school students and teachers. The program is part of the M.B. Swayze Foundation.

The STAR Program attracted record participation from Mississippi schools last year. Committee Chairman Benton Cain of Jackson said 330 public and private secondary schools participated during the past school year.

"The M.B. Swayze Foundation expresses its sincere appreciation to the Hardin Foundation for this increased support for the STAR Program," said Bob Pittman, MEC president.

"The success of the STAR Program is evident from the growing participation by schools throughout the state.

On Manslaughter Charge

Jury Convicts Booneville Man

A Lee County Circuit Court jury convicted a Booneville man of manslaughter Friday of last week in connection with the October 1981 fatal shooting of Guntown lounge owner Wayne Watson.

Stanley Larry Davis, 32, of Route 2, Booneville, was tried on a murder charge stemming from Watson's death.

Jurors deliberated about two hours before returning the verdict in the four-day trial.

No sentencing date was scheduled Friday of last week. The maximum penalty allowed for a manslaughter conviction is 20 years.

Six shots were fired into the lounge shortly after Watson sprayed Mace in Davis' face to break up a fight between Davis and another customer, James McMillan of Baldwin, according to testimony.

The shots were fired through the lounge window from a pickup truck passing on U.S. 45 after the lounge closed.

In closing arguments last Friday, County Prosecutor Joe Timmons and District Attorney John Young argued that, though the testimony of five witnesses who were at the lounge during the shooting differed slightly, their testimony was sufficient to convict Davis of murder.

Davis' defense lawyers, John Farese and John Booth

Farese of Ashland, argued that if jurors found Davis guilty, he should only be convicted of manslaughter because he had not intended to kill Watson when he shot into the lounge.

They further argued that discrepancies in testimony by the state's witnesses proved that none of them was sure about exactly what happened the night of the shooting.

Young argued against finding Davis guilty of manslaughter, asking the jury, "How can you prove what is in the mind of an individual?" Davis planned to murder Watson when he went back to the lounge with a gun, Young said.

Watson was "killed for no reason whatsoever except that Stanley Davis got mad at him," Young said.

John Farese pointed out that Watson's wife would not have been able to tell who was driving the pickup that night because it passed the window about 118 feet away from her in about a second's time on a poorly lighted road.

Davis was picked up by Baldwin police 30 minutes after Watson died of a gunshot wound he suffered when shots were fired into the lounge around midnight on Oct. 28.

About 90 minutes later, he was arrested by the Lee County Sheriff's Department on murder charges in connection with the shooting.

Big Savings Expected

Prentiss County's School Buses Converted To Burn Propane

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

All 52 of the county school district's school buses have been converted to using propane in an effort to save approximately $63,000 a year in transportation costs, according to Prentiss County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain.

The conversion from gasoline to propane began in March. By the time school recessed for the summer about 35 buses had been converted. The buses at Thrasher and Jumpertown were converted during the summer months, Cain said.

During March a bus that had been running on gasoline averaged about six miles per gallon. When converted to propane the same bus averaged about five miles per gallon. However, Cain noted, some buses average even better mileage.

In March the county school district paid $1.12 a gallon for gasoline and $.61 per gallon for propane, he said.

In May there was almost a $4,500 savings on gasoline. "We expect to save $7,000 a month in the future," he added. "That's the reason for the conversion."

Marietta Butane and Gas Co. converted the buses for less than $30,000, Cain said.

"I had checked with several counties that had converted their buses to propane. Their savings convinced me that we needed to go propane."

Propane should deliver savings of 15 to 17 percent over gasoline, according to manufacturers.

Cain said there would also be other benefits derived from the propane conversion.

"Mufflers and tailpipes won't burn out as easily. Oil will be changed at Christmas and at the end of the school year, whereas we've been changing oil every three months. One set of sparkplugs will be used, whereas, we usually use three sets during the year," Cain said.

The conversion to propane has caused no problems thus far, Cain said.

"I'm pleased with the results of the conversion. I'm pleased enough with it that I've had my own car converted," he said.

QUESTION: Do you think local stores should be allowed to remain open on Sunday?

KELLY LINDSTROM of Route 1, Booneville: "Yes. I think it would be better for the area. Businesses would do better business. It would be more convenient for those people who don't have time to shop during the week. Often there's something you need and you have to drive 30 miles to get it."

BETTY DAVIS of 630 Allen St., Baldwyn: "Yes. Sometimes on Sunday you need things you didn't need before Sunday and if the stores were open you could get it. If they were open on Sunday the stores would have a lot more business."

TIMMY DUNCAN of Route 1, Rienzi: "Yes. A lot of people work and Sunday is the only time they have to shop."

BENITA SCOTT of Baldwyn: "If the stores opened after church hours and closed before church hours at night I think it would be fine."

PEGGY FRANKS of Route 1, Booneville: "No. People should be in church Sunday. We are and I guess I expect everybody else to be, too."

SANDRA GOOGE of 306 Williams St., Booneville: "Church comes first. But I think it would be okay if they were open a few hours in the afternoon."

Maintaining Your Mental Health

Learn To Admit Your Feelings

By BARBARA SHACKELFORD
Timber Hills
Mental Health Services

We all have feelings, both good and bad. When we're happy, we don't hide it. We let our friends and family know. That's healthy. And letting people know when we're angry is healthy, too, as long as we express our feelings in healthy ways.

Learn to admit your feelings. Don't bury anger inside yourself. Repressed feelings are bound to explode sometime.

Try to become aware of your feelings. See if you can describe how you feel. Talking out a situation helps you blow off steam without hurting anyone or anything.

One young woman recalls how helpful this can be. Jean had been to a club meeting where things did not go well. In fact, she became so upset she got up and walked out.

Jean hardly remembers driving home. But when she got there she did something positive about her feelings. She sat down and talked out her feelings while her husband listened. When she finished, her headache was gone and she felt human again. Her husband realized she didn't want advice. He merely listened while she blew off steam.

Driving home angry is dangerous. It's also an example of an unhealthy way to deal with anger. Talking it out is much safer.

When you begin to describe your feelings, you may not even know what they are. But when you share your feelings with someone you trust, you begin to know what you think and feel. This is a most important first step in dealing with your anger.

Timber Hills Mental Health Center offers a variety of workshops in areas such as stress management, couples communication, parenting, and assertiveness training. For information about services available phone 728-3174 or visit the offices on the Highway 30 By-Pass in Booneville.

The History of Prentiss County

Those interested in the history of Prentiss County have something to look forward to. A book chronicling the history of the county is in the works.

William D. (Bill) White, who works as plant manager at Prentiss Manufacturing in Jumpertown has started gathering the necessary information.

Although White is not actually writing the history, he will edit it and put it together in book form. Mrs. Mary Dobbins has written the history of Thrasher for White's book. Several years ago one of Mrs. Barbara Holland's classes at Jumpertown wrote the history of Jumpertown as a class assignment - that will be included in the book. Mrs. June Green is working on the history of Booneville, White said.

Thus far he has not contacted anyone about writing the history of New Site, Marietta, Wheeler or other areas in the county. He hopes to find someone to write those histories soon.

He has not set a date for the completion of the project, because he says he doesn't like to impose deadlines on himself.

The reason White wants to put together the history of Prentiss County is simple. He wants to preserve the history of the county for future generations.

And Now A Word About Casket Handles

Although you have probably been studying such weighty matters as the nation's economy and local unemployment, let me divert your attention for a moment to the subject of casket handles.

Did you know there hasn't been a significant change in funeral caskets for more than 50 years? That's what Paul Behrendt, a casketmaker from Skokie, Ill., said in a recent newspaper article.

He said casket handles constitute up to 25 percent of the cost of a casket. Behrendt has obtained a patent on a new casket carrier which would do away with handles altogether.

"That means 32 fewer holes in a casket, a cheaper price and an opportunity for more artwork," he said. In addition, the new carrier would let pallbearers get a grip on their burden more easily, he said. "That's a problem now. Most casket ornamentation is on the handles. Some pallbearers can hardly get their fingers through."

He says elimination of casket handles also could make for wider caskets. Of 4,000 caskets used each day in the United States, the vast majority are lowered into vaults or slipped into crypts only 30 inches wide, he said.

I can see it all now. All across the United States, instead of carrying signs proclaiming "Save the Whales," people will be carrying signs saying "Save the Casket Handles!"

Eyes On Mississippi

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - Back in 1956, a small band of us from Jackson went up to New York to see Eudora Welty's "The Ponder Heart" that had been made into a Broadway play.

It had just opened a night or so before we got there, and it was lucky we went when we did, because a short time after that, the play had closed.

You see, in those days, Eudora Welty's work had not arrived as the "in" thing for the literati up East.

It was evident from the audience reaction the play was in trouble. Those Yankees just didn't appreciate the Mississippi humor back then. They never laughed in the right places.

When Uncle Daniel and Miss Teacake Magee, Edna Earle and the rest talked about going to the Jitney Jungle, it brought not a smidgen of recognition. How did we know they didn't have any Jitney Jungles up there in New York?

Or they couldn't understand why some of our folks can be so proud of getting a washing machine, that we sit it out on the front porch for everybody to see. Even if we don't have electricity.

They didn't care that Dorris R. Gladney, the upstart politician, who was the county attorney who had the audacity to put Uncle Daniel on trial, had his eye on getting to be governor of Mississippi.

But New York's loss now is Mississippi's gain. "The Ponder Heart" is too much of a little jewel not to be taken out and admired once again.

What's more, "The Ponder Heart" is coming back as an opera, put to the musical score by Alice Parker, the distinguished Boston-born composer and conductor. Parker says she had come upon a copy of "The Ponder Heart" in a New York bookstore in the late 1970's and found it the rich material for an opera of light comedy and Southern folklore she wanted.

The project received the blessings of Eudora Welty, and the setting for the premiere of the operatic version of her happy little literary creation was chosen to be Jackson's New Stage, the state's only professional theatre. It opens Friday night for a nine-day stand here.

All citizens of Mississippi, significantly, have a stake in the launching of the Welty book as an opera which hopefully will wind up making the big time in New York. For the first time in state history, Mississippi tax dollars are being used to subsidize an opera.

The State Board of Economic Development had agreed back in the spring to provide $48,000 toward the funds to produce "The Ponder Heart" as an opera. Private contributions locally provided the rest.

In case you've forgotten, $250,000 of your tax money went to subsidize the Miss USA Pageant at Biloxi earlier in the summer, the third year the state has picked up the tab for the king-size beauty contest.

Maybe it's all a bit crazy, the State of Mississippi putting up money for a comic opera. But it's sort of like "The Ponder Heart" itself: a story of how preposterous, yet lovable, the people of this state really are.

Ag Affairs

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi
Farm Bureau Federation

Among this state's agricultural problems that are certain to land up in the hands of the 1983 legislature is an admittedly complex one on how to deal with the problem of bee diseases - especially in view of the migratory nature of much of this business.

Last session, House Bill 212 dealt with most - if not too much - of the bee problem, and was not passed on to the full chamber by the agriculture committee. In fact, beekeepers representing various specialties in the business had not totally agreed on all points of the bill, and other agricultural leaders who favored doing something about the problem were not sure exactly what was wanted by way of new legislation to stamp out the problems.

But, problems there are. The Mississippi Beekeepers Association has this summer made note of the fact that bee disease incidence in Mississippi has increased two and three times during the past several years, and the disease increases seem to parallels their discovery in some migratory beekeeping operations in Mississippi.

Particularly in south Mississippi, northern and western beekeepers bring their colonies south for the severe winter months and rent space from local landowners so their colonies may forage in this state's relatively mild winter climate. The practice saves on winter feeding costs.

Beekeeping officials and other farm leaders currently are working out joint meetings for discussions of the situation so that they will come up with a better informed and more united front to attack the problem in the 1983 legislature.

Whatever form the proposed new legislation may take, it will try to provide for inspections by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce so that bee colonies contaminated by any diseases or parasites may be detected and such diseases or parasites controlled.

Inspections, of course, entail fees to pay for such services, so the bill will set up as nearly a self-supporting inspection system as possible. It also will establish penalties and fines for violations.

Another point of contention in this industry is the protection of forage zones. Bees forage within two miles of their hives, and conflicts have been created for some local beekeepers when migratory colonies were trucked in for the winter and located too close to resident colonies.

Hence, site registration and approval have a part in any new regulations along with permission statements from landowners.

The need for the various agricultural folks involved in beekeeping, forage zones, and crop production to get together already is realized from last year's failure in the state legislature.

Everybody benefits from the work of honeybees both directly and indirectly. Farmers depend on them to pollinate their crops. Consumers depend on both the farmers and the bees to do their jobs well in order that sufficient food is produced to feed everyone.

This time around - the bees, their keepers and dependents should be heard.

Natchez Trace DAR Meets

The Natchez Trace Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met for its first regular meeting of the 1982-83 year Sept. 2, at the Frank Haney Union on the Northeast Junior College campus.

Show Ring Operation

(Designed to Improve

Junior Beef Shows)

1. Upon entering the show ring, exhibitors line up beef animals side by side as directed by the ringmaster. Beef Cattle are first studied by the judge in this position. (Usually the judge handles each animal. If it is a steer class, handling is necessary).

2. At direction of the ringmaster, animals are then moved clockwise around the judge (assuming the judge to be in the center of the ring). The judge inspects the class while at the walk.

3. When the ringmaster signals, all animals are stopped, head to tail, so the judge may get a side view of each entry from his position; also, for later individual inspection.

4. After this phase, the judge signals to individual exhibitors as he selects the animals for the new lineup and final placing. Cattle are again arranged side by side. As finally lined up from left to right, viewed from the rear, the class is in place. Before making final decision, the judge may desire to walk part, or all, the animals again. If so, the ringmaster will instruct exhibitors.

5. All animals in a class should be placed from top place to the bottom. First place animals will be on left when viewed from rear, the last place on right of line.

6. After clerk records placings, the class should leave the ring at the direction of the ringmaster.

Ms. Johnson Earns Certification

Gale J. Johnson of Booneville received notification this week that she has earned the professional designation of Certified Professional Secretary. The announcement was made by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries, a division of Professional Secretaries International. She is one of five Mississippians to receive the rating this year. Presently there are 77 Certified Professional Secretaries in the state. Mrs. Johnson's new status evidences the fulfillment of a prescribed period of education, satisfactory secretarial experience and the successful completion of a two-day comprehensive examination in the areas of behavioral science in business, business law, economics and management, accounting, secretarial skills and decision making, and office procedures and administration. A member of the staff at Northeast Junior College, Mrs. Johnson has held the position of secretary to the Director of Vocational Technical Education since 1967. Prior to that time, she was a student worker for two years when the program was first begun.

"I started with Mr. Aust when the Vocational Technical Division was developed and I've been there since 1965," she said. The Booneville High School graduate studied both secretarial science and business administration while she was enrolled at Northeast.

The daughter of Mrs. Bernice Janeway, she is married to Julian Johnson and they have two daughters, Jennifer and Cori.

Booneville Native Tells

How To Dress For Success In Business

Starting a new job? Heading for the first job interview? Changing careers? Be sure your wardrobe measures up to the job requirements, advises Dr. Wanda H. Hartman, assistant professor of home economics at Memphis State University.

Dr. Hartman, a native of Booneville, outlines some basic rules for the "Success Look" in talks she gives to women's business and professional groups in Memphis and Shelby County. In interpreting Joan Dietrich's "Success Look," John Molloy's "Dress for Success," and Jacqueline Thompson's "Image Impact" for her audiences, Dr. Hartman emphasizes the necessity of dealing with the total person.

"Women must look at their height, weight, age, skin and hair coloring, and they must also know their personality type," Dr. Hartman said. "Some people just can't wear bright clothes - their personalities can't take it, the bright colors make them uncomfortable. Other women are uncomfortable in little ruffles or in button-down shirts."

The short woman, especially, has to take special pains with her appearance because she has more trouble coming across as a professional than anyone else. "She needs to wear suits and blouses without without a lot of little ruffles," Dr. Hartman said.

When preparing a basic professional wardrobe, one should clean out closets, getting rid of everything not worn in a year or longer, Dr. Hartman said.

"Put jackets together, skirts together, blouses together, and so on, so you can mix and match outfits better. Arranging items from light to dark colors will help you get a better feel of what is in the closet. Don't be discouraged if the closet looks skimpy," Dr. Hartman said.

"The next step is to analyze your figure to see where you need to lose or gain weight or shape up - then do something about it," advises Dr. Hartman. "When you do go into a store to buy needed items, don't buy it unless it feels good in the store. If it doesn't fit there, it definitely will not fit when you get it home."

For summer, the first item to buy should be a navy or khaki suit, depending on your coloring, according to Dr. Hartman. You can mix and match those colors with neutrals or bright colors - khaki will even go well with black. If you don't want to wear a suit in summer, a lined blazer will go with most everything, especially with classic-cut pants.

Skirts are the best way to multiply a wardrobe - one blazer and five skirts will do lots of different looks, Dr. Hartman said. Shirtwaist blouses in beige, cream and white are best for summer, along with light blue, peach and pink. Cotton blouses or polyester georgette blouses that require no ironing and travel well are ideal for business and professional women.

Summer sweaters are good in air-conditioned offices, but Dr. Hartman cautions against heavy, bulky sweaters - they make the small person look smaller and add bulk to the larger woman.

Although Molloy and others say professional women should never wear dresses, Dr. Hartman said that rule does not hold true for Memphis professional women.

"The professional woman can wear a dress, especially a shirtwaist or sheath, if it is either a solid color or a geometric print, but dresses should never be flowered prints. People don't take you seriously when you wear little flowers. It's ridiculous that sophisticated individuals can't overlook what a person has on, yet we don't."

Southern women can even wear white clothing and shoes, while in the North white is considered unprofessional.

"Accessories can make or break an outfit, and shoes are very important," Dr. Hartman said. "The basic pump is always good, as are open-back, T-strap or sling pumps. Handbags should be neat, sleek and clean, inside and out. A good leather bag in a neutral color can go from summer to winter and is one of the best investments you can make."

Whatever kind of handbag you choose should be in proportion to your figure.

"Molloy says a woman should never carry both a briefcase and a purse," Dr. Hartman said. "I disagree. If a woman has a full briefcase, she might not want to carry it to lunch. Probably the best idea is to carry a purse or to slip a little clutch bag down inside her briefcase."

Jewelry should be simple. "If you can't afford good jewelry, it's best to wear none at all," Dr. Hartman said. In an office, one should not wear more than one bracelet at a time, and that should be very simple.

Keep makeup calm for daytime, Dr. Hartman advises and be careful with hair coloring. Go to an expert to get a good hairstyle that can be easily cared for.

Dr. Hartman says little details can do much to achieve a professional look, such as buying long, narrow scarves which are "in" right now and which can add dimension to a wardrobe.

"If you wear a bow blouse, always fluff the bow - never just tie it straight and stiff. Cotton sweaters are also in and can be worn well with suits. When you add a scarf to a cotton sweater, it really dresses the outfit up."

"If you have a short neck, wear something with a V-neck look or tie a scarf to one side. Sleeveless dresses are really out - in fact, it's better to wear long sleeves always, especially in air-conditioned buildings. If you do choose shorter sleeves, don't wear little puffed sleeves - the little girl look is unprofessional - better a straight sleeve or a tulip sleeve."

Finally, Dr. Hartman advises the professional woman to consider whether or not she must travel to other parts of the country as part of her job. If so, basic clothes like the khaki suit should be right at home whatever her destination.

Busy Season Calls For Quick-Fix Meals

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

'Tis the season for football games, church suppers, family reunions, and fall picnics. A busy time of year that calls for delicious recipes that can be prepared in a hurry.

This week Barbara McCoy shares some of her favorite recipes for busy cooks to try who don't have a lot of time to spend in the kitchen. Mrs. McCoy keeps quite a hectic schedule - so she knows firsthand how precious time is.

Mrs. McCoy is chairman of the Home Economics Department at Northeast Junior College. She also owns the Frame Shop in Booneville, and is a member of the Booneville B&PW Club, the DAR, and attends the First Baptist Church in Booneville.

Her husband, Edward, teaches electrical trades at the Prentiss County Vo-Tech. Her sons, Rusty, 12, and Jason, 9, attend Booneville schools. The McCoy's reside on Thrasher Road.

Mrs. McCoy is a graduate of Booneville High School and the Mississippi University for Women. She received her Master's degree from Ole Miss, and began teaching home economics at Booneville High School in 1967. She has taught at Northeast for three years. Several years ago, she taught cake decorating courses at the vo-tech.

"Cooking is relaxation for me," Mrs. McCoy says. "But I also cook a lot to keep up with new cooking techniques in order to be able to explain them to my students."

About seven years ago Mrs. McCoy entered a chicken cooking contest sponsored by the poultry association. Her recipe for "Soup-er Fast Chicken" was so good that she was selected as one of five finalists chosen to prepare their chicken dishes in the Metro-Center in Jackson.

"It was wild," Mrs. McCoy remembers. "As we cooked, we were surrounded by TV cameras, and shoppers and reporters asking us all sorts of questions. There's just never been anything like it!"

The recipe for "Soup-er Fast Chicken Deluxe" is an elegant main dish which is so easy it's unbelievable, she says.

The recipe for "Apple Dumplings" may sound hard, but it isn't, Mrs. McCoy says. "Everyone loves it," she adds.

An unusual recipe that Mrs. McCoy shares with Banner-Independent readers this week is "Pineapple Pie." This recipe comes from Mrs. McCoy's mother, Mrs. Nell Olive of Booneville. "This pie tastes a lot like a chess pie, but it's better. It calls for few ingredients and is an inexpensive pie to make. It's good to take to church suppers or club meetings," she says.

The recipe for "Baked Pecan Pie Shell" is one that Mrs. McCoy uses on special occasions for her chocolate pies. The pecan pie shell gives the chocolate a nutty taste -- an unbeatable combination.

The "Buttermilk Pound Cake" recipe came from her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elmer McCoy of Booneville. The best thing about this cake, besides its delicious taste, is that it's an easy cake to prepare that turns out good every time.

To make the cake lighter, Mrs. McCoy substitutes cake flour for all-purpose flour. She glazes the cake with a lemon glaze. Orange juice or coffee can also be used as glazes.

Because the Buttermilk Cake is not too sweet, it is a good cake to give as a gift.

The "Chocolate Cream Cheese Cake" tastes very much like a French Chocolate Cake. However, the chocolate icing is lighter than most chocolate icing recipes. The cake is unusual in that the frosting is made first, part of which is used in the cake recipe.

"The icing is soft," Mrs. McCoy warns. "To anyone used to baking, they will think they have done something wrong. But refrigerating the icing makes it firmer."

"Fancy Popcorn" is unlike regular popcorn in that dried apples are used. This nutritious recipe is simple enough for kindergarten children to prepare in the classroom.

NEMJC Instructors To Be Honored

Northeast Junior College art instructors, Judy Tucci and Terry Anderson, will be honored with a reception in Room 47 of Hines Hall, Thursday at 11:20 a.m.

Joining the art faculty at the beginning of this term, both Tucci and Anderson are former Northeast students, Marty McLendon, chairman of the department said.

"We hope the reception will allow them an opportunity to meet with not only the faculty, staff and students, but with their friends in the local community as well," McLendon added.

In conjunction with the reception and the onset of their teaching careers at Northeast, many of their art forms will be exhibited in the Hines Hall gallery throughout the month of September.

This exhibit is free to the public and will be open for viewing weekdays, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Tucci's works contain drawings and paintings, while Anderson, a lover of commercial art, will be exhibiting many of his former advertising projects.

A native of Baldwin, Tucci obtained her B.A.E. degree from the University of Mississippi in 1973. Since then, she has strengthened her knowledge of art through workshops and by offering private instruction to all ages.

Anderson earned his B.F.A. degree from the Memphis Academy of Arts where he pursued his interest in advertising, photography and design. He is a Corinth native.

Airman 1st Class Robert G. King, son of Chester and Genell King of Route 6, Booneville, has participated in an Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC) exercise called Global Shield 82.

King, a missile propellant systems specialist with the 308th Missile Maintenance Squadron at Little Rock Air Force Base, Ark., joined others from all SAC units in the United States and selected Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard units to take part in command post and field training exercises.

Global Shield 82 was the fourth such exercise held by the command in as many years. It was designed to enhance readiness and the ability of the command to carry out orders which support U.S. national policy, should deterrence fail.

His wife, Kathy, is the daughter of Sherman and Edith Barron of Route 1, New Site.

WHO IS A SAFE DRIVER?

The American Optometric Association has published a "profile" of what it terms "The Safe Driver."

The safe driver does not mix alcohol and driving, nor driving with drug-taking or even smoking. He or she reduces speed at night and adapts driving habits during the day, to conditions of the road, the traffic and the weather.

The safe driver knows his visual capabilities and uses them to the utmost. But he also knows, based upon his eye doctor's diagnosis, his visual limitations. And he compensates for these limitations by being a "defensive driver."

CCC LOAN INTEREST RATE DECREASED TO 12 PERCENT

Commodity and farm storage disbursed in September by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation will carry a 12 percent interest rate, according to CCC executive vice-president Everett Rank. The new rate, down from 14 percent, reflects the interest rate charged CCC by the U.S. Treasury in September, Rank said.

COTTON STOCKS DOWN BUT STILL LARGE

Although 1982's cotton crop will probably harvest out to 29 percent below 1981's, large carryover stocks from the 1981 crop will keep supplies fairly high - 17.5 million bales, versus 18.3 million for 1981-82. Carryover stocks will likely shrink about 1 million bales over the next year, according to the "Cotton Situation" released here Aug. 29 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service.

Carryovers totaled 6.3 million bales this Aug. 1, and USDA economists forecast that they will total 5.3 million on Aug. 1, 1983.

The U.S. cotton crop will likely total 11.1 million bales - 11 million bales of Upland and 94,800 of American Pima cotton. The 29 percent decline from last year's crop is due to bad growing conditions in Texas, and Oklahoma and widespread compliance with the average reduction program. In Texas, growers abandoned one-third of planted acres. Farmers replanted some acres, but late planted cotton faces chancy weather.

Total cotton disappearance between Aug. 1, 1982, and Aug. 1, 1983, may total 12.3 million bales, up from the previous year's 12 million. Domestic textile mills will consume 5.6 million bales, and exports are estimated at 6.7 million bales. However, thus far China - last year's No. 3 importer of U.S. cotton - has bought only a minimal amount.

SEPT. 14, DEADLINE FOR COTTON COMMENTS

Cotton producers and other persons interested in commenting on or making recommendations for the 1983 upland cotton program should do so prior to Sept. 14, the deadline for receiving such statements.

The Secretary of Agriculture will consider any written comments received in the Washington office by that date concerning the 1983 target price and base loan rate for upland cotton and the loan rate for seed cotton.

By law, the target price cannot be less than 76 cents per pound and the upland cotton loan rate cannot be less than 55 cents per pound. The loan rate is determined by using a statutory formula which includes domestic and world price data.

Farmers should also express their views regarding whether there should be an acreage reduction program, and-or a paid land diversion program. Those in favor of these provisions should specify the amount and extent of such requirements.

Suggestions may be made also for a national program acreage and voluntary reduction percentage in case no acreage reduction program is announced.

Because of the 1981 cotton surplus, USDA is considering both acreage reduction and paid diversion programs, but the actual need for acreage adjustment programs will depend on supply and demand conditions affecting the 1982 crop.

Cotton comments should be mailed to the Director, Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, Room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

County Agent's Report

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent

SAFETY SAVES LIVES

Harvest time is probably the busiest time of the year for farmers and others associated with farming. But farmers should never be so busy that they neglect the most important part of harvesting - safety. Farmers across the country will try to make this harvest a safe one by observing National Farm Safety Week September 19-25. President Reagan has officially proclaimed the occasion, and I urge all Prentiss County farmers to join in the observance.

Last year, farm work accidents caused about 1,900 deaths and 190,000 disabling injuries in the United States. Although that's less than in the previous two years, agriculture is still one of the country's high-risk industries in terms of accidents.

Difficult jobs and adverse conditions are an everyday part of farming. But they are no excuse for poor safety performance. We all have to do more for agriculture to gain a reputation as one of the country's safest industries.

As a farmer, you can help by taking an active part in Farm Safety Week. By emphasizing farm safety during the week and throughout the harvest season, I think we can significantly reduce the chance of accidents during harvest. Take part in this effort to make our country harvest a safe and healthful event. Without emphasis on safety, it should be a harvest of cuts, bruises, broken bones or worse.

LOWER INTEREST HELPS

Falling interest rates and predictions by some noted economists that a continued sluggish economy will pull rates down further in the next year is helping agriculture as well as other businesses.

Short-term interest rates were recently knocked from their lofty levels by an easing of the Federal Reserve System's tight-fisted money policy. And some decline in long-term rates in the next year should bring an increase in business activity.

The importance to agriculture is the effect of lower interest rates on the value of the dollar overseas. There is little doubt that decline of the dollar against foreign currencies will help rebuild our export markets.

A drop in interest rates amounts to a price cut for agricultural exporters. This will help regain agricultural markets that were lost when interest rates were so high.

FARMWEEK

Doublecropping, a farming system that has made great strides in Mississippi agriculture in recent years, will be featured on Farmweek on Sept. 13.

In doublecropping, farmers plant two crops each year on the same land. Planting two crops, such as soybeans and wheat, gives financially strapped farmers a better chance at profits. For details about the system, watch Farmweek on Sept. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

County Forestry News

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

Who owns the majority of the 16.5 million acres of commercial forestland in Mississippi?

"If you guessed timber companies or the Federal government, you were wrong," says Everard Baker, Private Lands Forester for the State Forestry Commission.

Private, non-industrial landowners, with an average of about 80 acres, own 72 percent of Mississippi's forestland. The rest is held by timber companies (18 percent) and government or other public entities (10 percent), according to Mississippi's last official forest census.

For Mississippi's private, non-industrial landowners, the Forestry Commission provides expert advice on forest management at no cost to the landowner. The Agency works closely with these independent owners of forestland.

"America needs the help of the thousands of smaller landowners if future needs, projected to double in the next few decades, are to be met," says Baker.

Mississippi's forest industry is very important to our economy. It is one of the top manufacturing employers in the state.

According to the 1978 Survey of Manufacturers, more than 43,000 people earn their living as employees in the forest industries in Mississippi. This is almost 20 percent of all persons employed in Mississippi and does not include persons involved solely in forest management nor independent loggers.

In 1981 Mississippi landowners received approximately $257 million for timber harvested on their lands, even with a slump in the timber market. However, apparently forestry's support of our state's economy could be much greater.

"Studies show that Mississippi's non-industrial forestlands are producing only about 60 percent of their potential due to poor management or no management at all," says Baker, a forest management specialist.

"Not only does the state need that potential production, but the owners are missing the opportunity to make their lands more profitable for themselves."

Proper forest management is a science requiring specialized knowledge, and the state's forestry agency can provide it. At the landowner's request, the local County

Forester with the Mississippi Forestry Commission will make an on-the-ground inspection of the timberland.

Taking into consideration first the landowner's objectives, he will help the owner formulate long-range plans to achieve these goals, whether they be timber production, recreation, esthetics, wildlife production or a combination of these.

With these specific needs in mind, the forester will evaluate conditions of the land and resources to determine how they can best be managed. He will also note particular problems and ways to correct them.

This information is then written into a "forest management plan," a step by step plan the landowner can follow to accomplish his forestland objectives.

"The management plan is the first and most important service the landowner can request from the Forestry Commission and there is no charge for the service," Baker noted.

More information about these and other services can be obtained by writing the Mississippi Forestry Commission, 908 Robert E. Lee Building, Jackson, MS 39201, or by contacting your local County Forester.

Taking A 'Long' Shot

Unity, Courage Bring Devils Opening Victory

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

FROM THE TIME the Blue Devils ran out on the field last week against Fulton until they knelt for a closing prayer by the goal post at the end of the game, one aspect of victory shone out. A feeling of unity.

Teamwork, not individualism, reigned over the entire ball game. The Blue Devils proved to everyone -- but most importantly, they proved to themselves -- that it takes 11 players formed as one, not one player carrying 10 others.

Improvement? Sure, there is plenty of room for it.

'This Is Great'

Blue Devils Take Convincing Win Over Fulton

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

SPIRITS SOARED Friday night at the Itawamba Junior College football stadium as the Booneville Blue Devils defeated the Fulton Indians, 38-15.

Senior linebacker Steve Loveless summed it up on the sidelines late in the fourth quarter by saying simply 'this is great!'

Booneville's opening game performance did give a packed visiting crowd something to cheer about. Although there were some obvious mistakes, improvement was present over last year.

Player anticipation rose as team captains Mark Rinehart and Bernard Anderson walked out for the opening coin toss. Booneville won the toss and elected to receive the opening kickoff.

GREG OAKLEY returned the kick to his own 37-yard line before being downed. Quarterback Bernard Anderson and the rest of the Blue Devil offensive unit took to the field to attempt an early score, but the Fulton defense caused a fumble in the first series of downs and recovered it on the Booneville 25-yard line.

This field position very quickly set up a score as Fulton's quarterback trotted into the end zone. The touchdown was followed by an extra point, resulting in a 7-0 lead.

Booneville quickly retaliated with a selection of plays that carried the Blue Devils into scoring position and sophomore kicker Rod Coggin was called on to do his job.

Coggin split the uprights with his 26-yard effort to bring the Devils to within four points of Fulton as the first quarter came to an end.

AFTER COGGIN'S kickoff, the Blue Devil defense did their job well, forcing the Indians to punt from their own 35. Greg Oakley, 1981 leading punt returner, carried the ball back to the Fulton 46-yard line.

After two first downs moved the ball to the 26, quarterback Bernard Anderson hit his target in the corner of the end zone. Senior tight end Larry Mackin pulled in the Anderson pass for the score.

After an unsuccessful point after, Booneville took the lead they would keep for the remainder of the night.

Fulton took the kickoff to their own 47. They were again unsuccessful at making a first down and punted to the Blue Devils.

Anderson started a drive on his own 27-yard line. The ball was kept on the ground throughout the sequence, except for a 52-yard pass reception by Ray Holloway that highlighted the drive.

In the single drive, five different backs carried the ball, helping to confuse the Fulton defense. When Anderson got close to the goal line, he carried the ball across on a sneak for the score.

With four minutes left in the half, Booneville held a comfortable 15-7 lead.

Fulton could not manage to score before the half and went in the dressing room with an eight-point deficit.

AS THE HALF ended, Booneville had been charged with eight penalties for almost 70 yards, and Fulton with two for a total of only 10 yards.

BHS fumbled three times

Coaching was definitely to Booneville's advantage. This was obvious as offensive play calling kept the Fulton defense guessing all night long. And guessing wrong, may I add. The selection of plays included passing on different downs in each series, and allowing eight different backs to run the football.

All that is history, as one announcer would say, and we must look forward to next week. The game was billed as a "dandy" by Coach Doc Gullett and it shouldn't be anything less.

GULLETT CLAIMS THAT Baldwyn, tonight's rivals, will be possibly the toughest game of the year. He says that Baldwyn will pull out all the stops just to beat the Blue Devils. He said that the Bearcats would definitely be the toughest defensive team that the Devils will meet.

Gullett says he will make no major changes from last week's opener, which he calls the best season opener in five years. The only possible big change could be the kickoff team personnel.

As far as a prediction goes, I predict a full stadium on both sides, a low scoring ball game, and a Booneville victory no larger than two hairs.

THE NEXT GAME for Booneville High School will be tonight in Keenum Stadium on the Notheast Mississippi Junior College campus.

The Blue Devils will be matched against the county rival Baldwyn Bearcats. Coach Doc Gullett said Baldwyn should have the toughest defense of any team the Devils will play all year.

Kickoff time is at 7:30 for the Booneville Blue Devils home opener.

CRAMPS! -- It was hot in Fulton Thursday night as Booneville opened their 1982 football season. The heat could contributed to the large number of cramps suffered by Booneville players during the game. Nine Blue Devils had to temporarily leave the game due to cramps. (Photos by Cliff Long)

In Defeat By Gulf Coast

Opening Game Jitters Lead To Tigers' Downfall

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

TRY AS THEY might, the Northeast Junior College Tigers couldn't get on the scoreboard last Thursday night against Gulf Coast Junior College in Perkinston.

The Bulldogs shut out the Tigers 31-0 in the season's opener for both teams.

According to Northeast head coach Bill Ward, "opening game jitters" contributed to the Tigers' defeat.

"We had eight players on offense and six on defense who had never played junior college ball," Ward said this week. "We made a couple of turnovers -- one fumble cost us a touchdown."

"We let them break the long 50-yard runs," he added.

Ward said he believes that, once the game settled down, the Tigers played pretty well overall against what he called one of the number one teams in the state.

NORTHEAST'S TOMMY Hill booted the opening kickoff 33 yards to get the game underway. The Bulldogs' first score came with their second possession of the ball.

With 9:06 remaining in the first quarter, Gulf Coast's Leroy Wonsley (5-8, 195 lbs, soph RB) ran 70 yards for the score. Kicker Bobby Murrah (5-10, 180 lbs., fresh) booted it between the goal posts for his first extra point of the night.

Less than three minutes had run off the clock in the second quarter when the Bulldogs scored their second touchdown. Greg Switzer (5-8, 165 lbs., soph RB) carried the ball across from the 3-yard line. Murrah kicked the extra point.

During the third quarter, the scoring was held to a single field goal. Murrah placed the ball between the uprights from 25 yards out, making the score 17-0.

About one minute into the fourth quarter Northeast fumbled the ball. Gulf Coast recovered on the Tigers' 17-yard line, setting the Bulldogs up for another score.

Quarterback Tim Kendrick (6-3, 210 lbs., soph) carried the ball 13 yards to score the touchdown. Murrah once again kicked the extra point.

Gulf Coast's final score came after time had run out on the clock. Almost immediately following the snap of the ball, the buzzer rang, signaling the end of the game. However, the play was already underway and freshman quarterback Bruce Eubanks (5-10, 175 lbs.) managed to carry the ball in from the 2-yard line to score.

Murrah then kicked his fifth extra point of the game.

FOR THE NIGHT, Northeast quarterback Shane Russell completed 8 of 14 passes for a total of 84 yards gained.

David Goode was on the receiving end of three of those passes for 42 yards; Ricky Johnson caught two for 14 yards; and Ricky Cannon, Preston Maddox, and Daryl Rogers caught one each for 13, 11 and 5 yards, respectively.

In rushing, Maddox carried the ball 14 times for 60 yards; Russell carried 11 times for 2 yards gained; Phillip McDonald, 10 times for 18 yards; Johnson, 3 times for 4 yards; and Cannon, 1 carry for 26 yards.

Maddox punted five times for total of 194 yards, averaging 38.8 yards per punt.

Johnson and Rogers returned one punt each. Johnson got returned for 11 yards and Rogers for 12.

Northeast's Terry Taylor returned two of Gulf Coast's kickoffs for a total of 47 yards. Cannon, Maddox and Johnson also returned one kickoff each for 29, 43, and 24 yards, respectively.

"OUR OFFENSE WAS not consistent," Ward said of the game. "We could move the ball up and down the field, but when it came to getting into the end zone, we couldn't do it."

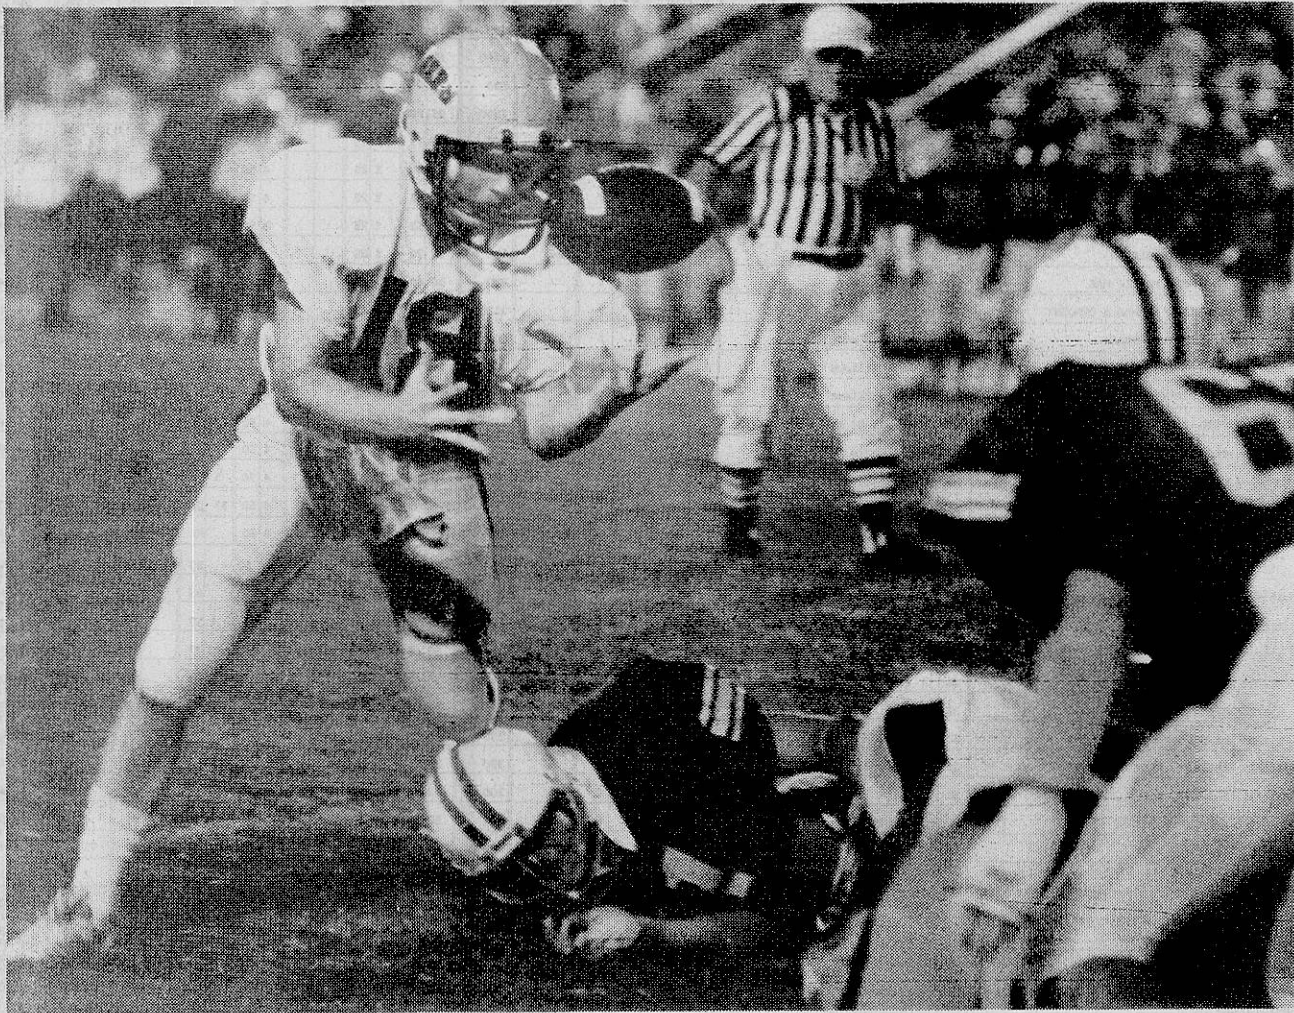

"I think we'll get better," Ward added.

Northeast plays their first home game this Saturday night against Holmes Junior College. Ward says he has no major strategy changes planned for that game.

Last year's state junior college champs, the Holmes team has a new coach this year.

"Saturday," Ward said, "we feel we'll be a better football team."

Game time is 7:30 in Keenum Stadium.

ON THE LOOSE -- Northeast quarterback Shane Russell (18) struggles to regain possession of the football during Thursday night's game against Gulf Coast at Perkinston.

The Tigers fumbled three times during the game, turning the ball over twice.

(Photos by Ken Christian)

CONCERNED -- A concerned Northeast head football coach Bill Ward watches the action from the sidelines Thursday night as the Tigers come out on the losing end of a 31-0 ballgame. Ward he feels his players handled the heat and humidity well on the night of the game. However, "opening night jitters" contributed to the loss, he said.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON REAPPORTIONMENT OF SUPERVISORY AND JUSTICE COURT DISTRICT:

Pursuant to the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution and the laws of the State of Mississippi, the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County is required to review the 1980 Decennial Census data provided by the United States Bureau of the Census to determine whether or not it is necessary to reapportion the County supervisory districts and justice court districts due to any inequality of population among the districts.

If the Board of Supervisors finds that such inequality is impermissible subject to the requirements of the Federal and State Constitutions and the State laws, it must then, by order, shift the population of the supervisory districts and justice court districts in order to adjust such inequalities.

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing on this matter in Booneville, Mississippi, at the Prentiss County Board Room on September 13, 1982 from 2:00 P.M. to 7:00 P.M. The purpose of this hearing is to give the citizens of Prentiss County interested individuals, organizations and groups of citizens an opportunity to express their views on this subject.

A map of the proposed reapportionment of the supervisory districts and the justice Court Districts prepared by the Board of Supervisors, along with census data and maps will be available in the Board of Supvisory Room in the Prentiss County Courthouse at Booneville, Mississippi. Please note that Prentiss County will only have two (2) Justice Court Districts due to the recent changes in State law.

The Board of Supervisors urges that testimony given at this hearing be as specific as possible and thus suggest some guidelines. Of course, any concerned citizens and citizens groups are welcome to express any views provided they are relevant to the Board's purpose. The guidelines are:

(a) Inform the Board of Supervisors of the geographic, economic or other community interest that may exist within supervisory districts or justice court Districts that should bear on the plan of the Board of Supervisors;

(b) Suggest criteria to be used in the determination of where the lines are to be drawn;

(c) Submit a plan or plans on proposed reapportionment of supervisory and Justice Court Districts;

(d) Although the Board of Supervisors has not determined at this point in time what the maximum allowable deviation in population between the most populous and least populous district may be, you should be advised that counsel has informed the Board of Supervisors that at this time it should not consider a total or partial plan that will result in a 5 percent deviation as among the various districts.

The Board of Supervisors encourages the submission of a written statement and brief summary of this statement at the public hearing.

The Board of Supervisors encourages interested citizens and citizens groups to contact the staff of the Board of Supervisors for information, or assistance in helping to prepare testimony, submitting plans or any other data.

Any citizen desiring further information is requested to write or call Attorney Tommy Dexter Cadle, Attorney for the Board of Supervisors at the following address and/or phone number:

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Charles L. Potts

Hello Lord...It's Me Again

Luke 11:2—"Our Father . . . "

...and aren't we all about alike. Did you pray today? Busy, Busy, busy is the order of the day. It's back to school time... wait til I catch my breath. Even those who wear the "cloth" will admit to this hectic pace. And yet... the God of our faith is wonderful! Someone has suggested that God must have a real sense of humor to put up with some of our antics. He may even turn his head for an occasional smile when he hears... "Hello Lord... it's me again." Not that we don't believe... we do, but, we are so busy.

Now, who are we kidding? Whose game are we playing? The God of our faith is all powerful. He is the source of everything... "In the beginning God created..." (Gen. 1). "Before the mountains were brought forth, or even thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God (Ps. 90:2). In Him... "we live and move and have our being" (Acts 17:28). But his highest work is not seen in creation and rule... but in His love, truth, and righteousness overcoming evil and bringing in the kingdom of God. Its highest expression is in Christ, who is "the power of God unto salvation" (Rom. 1:16). The truth is, God knows all about us and our timidity and lack of faith... and its true wisdom that predicts the present hour for high level commitment to the power of our Lord's salvation.

...and also the very heart of our faith teaches us that God is good. His goodness and power are one. We pray "Our Father who are in heaven." Here "heaven" indicates the power of God, and "Father" his goodness. Our prayer extends to that power which is good. We also are persuaded that this power that runs and rules the universe is good. The goodness of God is holiness... that is, lifted above sin. It is justice and righteousness and as such it is forever set against evil. It is love seeking to give, to save, to bestow on his children his own very life. His love is pure and unselfish... does not depend on our deserving. We know what the Father is like for we have seen his spirit in his Son Jesus Christ.

Hello Lord... it's me again. I believe Lord... help where I need it most... to learn where important things belong.

Prentiss County Wheat Crop Increasing In Importance

By DAVID SUMMERS
Soil Conservationist
USDA-Soil
Conservation Service
Booneville
Field Office

Soft red winter wheat has become an increasingly important cash crop for Prentiss County farmers during the past few years with over 13,000 acres harvested in 1982. The major reasons for this increase in wheat acres are, wheat harvested in June helps to ease the cash flow problem of farmers in early summer and the ability of wheat to produce good yields on most of our soil types in Prentiss County.

Many farmers have indicated they will continue to plant wheat, especially on sloping cropland because of its yield potential and erosion control benefits.

For those who will be planting wheat this year there are three primary planting methods to follow which are planting on a prepared seedbed, "roughing-in", or, aerial seeding.

If you are single cropping wheat plant 90 pounds of wheat seed per acre on a well prepared seedbed. If you plant wheat following soybeans by the roughing-in method, sow 120 pounds of wheat seed per acre and disk lightly. This should be done by early November. If you plan to aerial seed wheat into standing soybeans, seed 150 pounds of seed per acre.

Aerial seeding should be done when about 10 percent of the soybean leaves have dropped. Be sure to select fields for aerial seeding that have a good soybean cover since direct sunlight can kill germinating wheat seed.

A well balanced soil fertility program is very important for good wheat yields. Wheat following well fertilized soybeans will probably not need fertilizer until spring. However, single cropped wheat and wheat following unfertilized soybeans will usually need 30 pounds of nitrogen, 60 pounds of phosphate and 60 pounds of potash per acre in the fall. Lime should be applied to maintain a pH of 6.0 to 7.0.

For those who would like more information on planting wheat this fall, come by the Soil Conservation Service office in Booneville or call us at 728-3544.

'Discovery: MSU' Days Scheduled Sept. 10-11

Mississippi State University will welcome a new school year and some 2,500 future students with the "Discovery: MSU" weekend Sept. 10-11 on campus.

The traditional "Welcome Back" party for enrolled students will be combined this year with other traditional activities designed to acquaint high school and junior college students with the university.

Events will get under way at 6:30 p.m. Friday (Sept. 10) with a pep rally at "Five Points," across University Drive from Scott Field and the Best Extension Center. MSU Cheerleaders and Bully, along with the Famous Maroon Band, will help ignite school spirit in preparation for the first home football game Saturday (Sept. 11) with Arkansas State University.

An open-air concert featuring rock singer Pam Tillis and her band will begin at 7:30 p.m. adjacent to the pep rally site.

On Saturday, an academic fair will be held from 9-11:30 a.m. on the Drill Field. In an informal atmosphere, education, food and fun will be blended as more than 50 departments use displays, exhibits and demonstrations to explain their academic offerings.

Free popcorn and ice cream will be available and the MSU Stage Band and Madrigal Singers will provide entertainment.

A limited number of $3 tickets will be sold on a first-come basis to visiting students who attend the fair. The ticket table will be located in the center of the field.

The 1:30 p.m. MSU-Arkansas State football game at Scott Field will conclude the weekend's activities.

For additional information on "Discovery: MSU," write in care of the Office of College and School Relations, Box NN, Mississippi State, Miss. 39762, or telephone Mississippi toll-free 1-800-222-1810, extension 3076.
