Missing Falkner Youth Found Murdered

Skeletal remains found last week in a wooded area in Benton County have been positively identified as those of Steve Brown of Falkner. Brown, who would have been 17 in May of this year, had been missing for 21 months when a 15-year-old hunter from Corinth discovered his body in a gully near the Blackwell Church on Dec. 27.

An autopsy revealed that Brown was killed by a single .22 caliber bullet that entered the skull at the rear and exited through the forehead.

Brown reportedly disappeared on March 23, 1981, after returning from a hunting trip with a friend. A .22 caliber single shot, bolt-action rifle, a bullet, a .22 caliber hull and a piece of denim were found with the body.

Authorities are treating the death as a homicide. If Brown had killed himself, they say, a hull would probably still be in the barrel of the rifle. There was no hull in the rifle, they reported.

Investigators say they have uncovered some possible motives for the murder, but have refused to reveal what they are. "When we do that," Walter Tucker, Mississippi Highway Patrol Investigator, said last week, "we'll be naming a suspect."

Authorities plan to present the evidence to the regular session of the Benton County grand jury which convenes on Jan. 13. No arrests are anticipated until that time.

Brown's body was returned to Falkner Tuesday from Jackson, where the autopsy was performed. Funeral services were scheduled for 1 p.m. today.

Jumpertown Rehires Town Marshal

The Jumpertown Board of Aldermen rehired Town Marshal John Moore on Tuesday night of last week in a specially called meeting. The meeting was called after Moore told Mayor C.D. Windham he would return to his job if the board wanted him.

Moore resigned last month when the board voted 3-2 to fire deputy marshal John Tullis. The board voted unanimously this week to re-hire Moore.

"A lot of good people let me know they're behind me," Moore said Tuesday. He said he had resigned because "I felt like they had done Tullis sort of bad. He was doing his job." Tullis was fired after the board received complaints of harrassment against Tullis.

Moore, 43, is originally from Freedom Hills, Ala. He worked as a deputy in Tishomingo County for eight years. He had been Jumpertown town Marshal for about three months when he resigned.

"The people at Jumpertown need a town marshal," Moore said. "I like to work where I think I'm needed."

Moore reported that Mayor Windham's pickup has still not been recovered. The mayor's truck was stolen from the parking lot of Lamb's Chapel Church in Jumpertown while Windham and his wife were attending a Christmas program Dec. 26.

"We've got leads in the case, but not enough to make an arrest," Moore said.

Hopefuls Sign Up For 1983 Elections

Nineteen candidates had qualified in Prentiss County as of early Wednesday morning to run for various political offices. Fourteen of the candidates are incumbents.

Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley has qualified to run for re-election as sheriff. Two other men have also qualified to run for sheriff - Prentiss County Deputy Hubert Kitchens and Roy N. Elder.

Incumbents who have filed qualifying papers this week to seek re-election are Circuit Clerk Travis Cox, Chancery Clerk Phillip Cole, Tax Assessor Danny B. Childers, all five supervisors - Larry Barron, Jimmy Moore, J.P. Davis, H.B. Lindsey Jr., and William L. McKinney. As of Wednesday morning the incumbents were the only candidates who qualified to run in those positions.

As of Wednesday morning no candidates had qualified to seek election to the offices of superintendent of education, coroner, justice court judge north of senator post 5.

Incumbent Billy McCoy has qualified for Representative Post 3. Incumbent Tim Ford has also qualified for Representative Post 18. No one had challenged the incumbents for their offices as of Wednesday morning.

Booneville attorney John Hatcher is seeking re-election to his position as county attorney.

Three men have qualified to run for Justice Court Judge in the south. Dalton E. "Gene" Prentice, Billy Sartin and James W. Wilson Jr. have qualified to run for the post. Prentice and Sartin are currently serving as justice court judges.

John W. Tullis Jr. has qualified to run for constable in the first district.

Tifton "Tip" Norris is seeking election as fourth district constable.

No one had qualified to run for constable in the other three districts.

Primary elections for state and county offices will be in August, with the general election scheduled for November.

County School Board Files Third Suit Against Tax Assessor-Collector

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

The Prentiss County Board of Education has filed another lawsuit in Chancery Court against Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers, claiming that in 1980 he failed to collect $137,408 in taxes which should have gone to the county school system.

The suit asks that Childers, and-or his bonding company, U.S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company, pay the $137,408 plus interest from Jan. 1, 1981, plus reasonable attorney's fees. The bonding company is named as a co-defendant in the suit.

This time the school board is attempting to fulfill requirements which they failed to meet in an earlier lawsuit, resulting in the dismissal of that suit.

This is the third time the county school board has filed suit against Childers. Both of the earlier suits were dismissed.

The lawsuits stem from the separation of the Booneville schools from the Prentiss County School District in 1980.

The county school board claims the county school system was entitled to 1980 tax money which Childers should have collected from residents within the city limits of Booneville.

The board claims the county school system is entitled to this money because the separate school district did not take effect until July 1, 1980, and state law says any taxable real property must be made a part of a school district prior to June 1 of any year for that school district to be entitled to the taxes for that year.

ACCORDING TO the school board's attorney, Roy O. Parker of Tupelo, the two earlier suits - each similar in nature to the most recent one -- were both dismissed on technicalities.

Parker said Monday it was upon his recommendation that the school board re-filed the lawsuit against Childers.

"If we can ever get it in court," he said, "I think we have a pretty good case."

Parker said that if efforts to have the case heard in Chancery Court fail, the school board will take it to the state supreme court.

The first suit, filed in U.S. District Court in Aberdeen, was dismissed in February 1982 by Judge L.T. Senter. Basically, Senter ruled that the suit should have been filed in a state court rather than federal court.

The county school board, through Parker, then filed the suit in Prentiss County Chancery Court in March 1982. This suit was dismissed in November 1982 by Chancellor George Adams.

Adams ruled that the school board could not file the suit as a public body because, "it is the settled rule in this state that public bodies or subdivisions of the state have only such powers as are conferred on them by law, and, unless the statute gives the power to sue and be sued, such boards or bodies have not such power."

Adams also ruled that if the school board was filing the suit as individual taxpayers rather than as a public body, they had not met certain criteria of such a suit. He said that:

1) They did not invite the public to join the suit;

2) They did not show the suit to be in the interest of the entire public;

3) They did not show that an officer had not been presented sufficient facts to convince the legal mind that a suit was warranted; and

4) The suit showed no special injury other than all taxpayers in the district which are public in their nature.

Sheriff's Car Is Stolen, Wrecked

It was an embarrassing situation for Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley last Thursday night. While he was drinking a cup of coffee inside the Cardinal Cafe in Jumpertown, his patrol car was stolen from the cafe parking lot.

McCauley's car was found about 30 minutes after it was stolen. The 1981 Chrysler LeBaron had been totaled in a wreck in front of Gene Davis' home, approximately four miles northwest of Jumpertown.

A 17-year-old juvenile from Route 3, Rienzi, was arrested and charged with auto theft in connection with the theft of the sheriff's car. He was released from jail Monday on $2,500 bond.

The same juvenile had earlier been charged with stealing the personal car of deputy town marshal John Tullis. When Tullis' car was recovered, it had been burned.

Before the sheriff's car was found Thursday night, the juvenile who stole it apparently wrecked it twice. First, he ran it into a parked tractor, knocking the tractor into a parked car at Herschel Eaton's residence, McCauley said.

The second accident, the one that totalled the sheriff's car, occurred in a curve. The driver apparently lost control and the patrol car went up a bank. It rolled over and then flipped, McCauley said. The juvenile apparently was not hurt in either incident, he said.

When the car flipped, a case of ammunition that was in the back seat of the car went through the rear window and was found under the back wheel of the car, the sheriff said.

McCauley had been to a

Sheriff Changes His Mind About Not Seeking Re-Election

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Although in March of 1981 Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley said he would not seek a second term as sheriff, he changed his mind and Monday became the third candidate to qualify to run as sheriff of Prentiss County.

Almost two years ago when Sheriff McCauley said he was through at the end of the four-year term he was mainly frustrated over the lack of funds with which to properly operate his department, he said.

"Now I have another deputy and two more cars," McCauley said Monday. "March 1981 was before we had gotten all the convictions we have now. I felt I hadn't accomplished much at that point. Now it's different," he said.

"I feel like we have accomplished quite a bit in the last four years. They tell me we've sent more thieves and drug dealers to the penitentiary than in the history of Prentiss County. We've got a lot of indictments ready to go to court now," he added.

"I wouldn't have run at that time if they had tripled my salary," McCauley said, referring to his statements in March 1981.

"I was having some employee problems. We just hadn't gotten started in court. At that time it didn't look like we were going to. We had to learn all the technicalities to get a case in court. It was actually the latter part of 1981 before I felt we had accomplished very much."

There is also another reason Sheriff McCauley is seeking re-election, he said.

"I want to know for my own satisfaction that a man can enforce the law fair and impartially and get re-elected."

"If there's one thing I've urged my men to do it's to treat everybody alike. The big shots didn't get turned loose and the poor people put in jail. After I heard the definition of a big shot - a little shot that does a lot of shooting - I decided there weren't any big shots in Prentiss County," McCauley said.

"I'm by running for sheriff like I am by my farm," he said. "I don't want to sit back and watch grow up what I've cleaned up."

McCauley said he will not campaign on county time.

"I'll not make a door-to-door campaign and use the county's time. If people know me they know what kind of sheriff I've made."

McCauley said his deputies who run for sheriff will not be allowed to politic on county time, either. "If they can run a campaign and it not interfere with their work, it's fine with me."

Assistant Librarian Retires After 10 Years

By ANGELA SMITH

"Are elephants afraid of alligators?" That's just one of the many questions Mrs. Zera Dugger has been asked to answer while she has served as assistant librarian at the George E. Allen Library in Booneville.

Mrs. Dugger retired as assistant librarian Friday, Dec. 31, after serving in that position for six years. She was the main librarian at the Booneville Library for four years when it was located on West Church Street at the present location of Sherry's Uniforms.

Mrs. Dugger, the former Zera Anderson, is a native of Marietta. She graduated from Thrasher High School in 1932. She also graduated from Freed-Hardeman College and attended the University of Chicago.

During World War II she worked for the Civil Service in Utah as a long distance telephone operator.

She was employed at Prentiss Manufacturing for 22 years. She was a supervisor there for 15 years. She has one daughter, Jo Carol Hisaw of Booneville, and two grandsons, Michael, 10, and Wesley, 2.

People often call the library seeking answers to perplexing questions, Mrs. Dugger said.

And is an elephant afraid

Lawsuit

THE LATEST SUIT, filed Friday in Prentiss County Chancery Court, was filed by the school board members as individual taxpayers.

This time they are attempting to fulfill the requirements that Judge Adams pointed out they neglected in the earlier attempt in Chancery Court.

The latest complaint is being refilled in accordance with the guidelines outlined by Judge Adams in his opinion in November.

The school board members are publishing a public notice in The Banner-Independent, inviting the public to join in the lawsuit against Childers. They are also including in the lawsuit copies of letters showing that they attempted to get District Attorney John Young, Attorney General Bill Allain, Board of Supervisors president J.P. Davis and vice-president Jimmy Moore to take action against Childers for not collecting the taxes.

Although county school board members Edwin Brown, Larry Cosby, Gene Gray, Bill Wimberly, Harold Woodruff and Supt. of Education Lex Cain have filed the suit as individual taxpayers, they claim they have a special interest in the suit, more so than the general public and other taxpayers because they have a duty to see that all funds due the county schools are collected and properly used.

"... a failure to carry out these duties could subject them to penalties and lawsuits which other members of the general public would not be subjected to," the suit states.

"... The Plaintiffs have attempted to get the public officials charged with the duty to bring a writ of mandamus or suit against Defendant Childers and his bonding company to do their duty, but the officers, specifically District Attorney Young, Attorney General Allain, President of the Board of Supervisors Davis and Vice-President of the Board of Supervisors Moore, have all wilfully failed, refused and neglected to do their duty in this regard," the suit says.

CHILDERS HAS 30 days in which to file an answer to the complaint. However, he said Tuesday that he has only acted in what he felt to be in the best interests of the children of Prentiss County, those outside as well as inside the city limits of Booneville.

"Both the city and the county should be pulling together as a unit, not in different directions," he said.

In answers to the previous suits, Childers' attorney, Thomas Keenum of Booneville, claimed Childers did not fail to perform his duty as alleged by the school board. "The assessment made on the second day of September 1980 by the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors for the use and benefit of the Prentiss County Board of Education... specifically excluded the assessed evaluation of property of separate school districts," Keenum stated. "... Further, the said City of Booneville, Mississippi, collected the said 25 mills on all the taxable property within the City of Booneville for the period of time alleged in this lawsuit. ..."

Keenum also pointed out that Superintendent of Education Lex Cain asked the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors to levy two additional mills on the property of Prentiss County, excluding the property of the separate school districts of Booneville and Baldwin, for capital improvements.

He also pointed out that the county school board submitted a budget for 1980 to the board of supervisors and to the State Department of Education reflecting the assessed evaluation of the Prentiss County School District as not including the property within the Baldwin Separate School District and the Booneville Municipal Separate School District "... again showing that the Plaintiffs knew they were not entitled to received the taxes collected on the property within the city of Booneville, Mississippi, for 1980."

Keenum stated earlier that since the Education Finance Commission entered its order approving the Booneville Municipal Separate School District as a legal entity on Nov. 19, 1979, the property taxes within the city limits were properly collected for and on behalf of the separate school district.

Once Childers' answer to the complaint has been filed with the court, a date will be set for the hearing.

WARD HOGLAND

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I read your column and have a question for you. In Ex. 9:3,6 it says, all the cattle and horses of Egypt died and yet I read about the horses and chariots of Pharaoh chasing the Israelites. If all the horses died where did these come from?

ANSWER: I believe you failed to read the text as closely as you should. The text does not say all the horses died. It says in verse 6, that "All the cattle of Egypt died." The disease was called "murrain" which was a disease of cattle. The hand of God was against sheep, camels and horses but it is not indicated that he killed all of them. Furthermore he talked about "cattle in the field" which could have excluded some. Then, you must keep in mind that the word "all" is sometimes used in a limited sense. For example when the Bible says, "all Judea went out to be baptized of John in Jordan" this does not mean that everyone was baptized but a great majority. So I see no problem with the horses pulling the chariots as the Egyptians pursued the people of God.

Baby Is Born In Car

A Funny Thing Happened On Way To Hospital

By ED WOODWARD
Contributor

Shortly after 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 28, the employees at the House of Bar-B-Q on U.S. 45 in Baldwin received their most unusual order of the year — an order that even required the services of several customers to fill.

It all began two hours earlier in Rienzi, when Stella Potts received a positive indication that the baby she was expecting was ready to make its appearance.

"She was due on the 20th (of December)," said Stella's husband Joe. "She had been to the doctor (Dr. Jack Kalstorf of Tupelo) on the 23rd, and had asked him if she could go into the hospital on Sunday (Dec. 26). But he said she hadn't dilated enough.

"But, then, Tuesday afternoon (Dec. 28), about 4 o'clock, she was cleaning house, and she started having pains. And, about 4:30 or so, she sat down on the couch, and her water broke."

Though it had been reported that Mrs. Potts then showered, washed her hair, and took their two daughters to the baby sitter before setting out for the hospital, Potts said this was only partially true. "My dad was here with us, and he took the kids home with him. But she did go ahead and shower. And we left for the hospital a little after 5:00," he said.

"And the closer we got to Baldwin, the more she was hurtin'," said Joe Potts. "She had one real bad pain, and grabbed at me, and I thought I was gonna run off the road. So, I pulled over at the Auto Auction north of Baldwin. But it was so dark,

I told her to hold on, and drove on to the House of Bar-B-Q. I couldn't remember where the Baldwin Hospital was, anyway.

"And, when we got to the lights at the edge of town, she said, 'I can't go any further.' So, I pulled over right there at the House of Bar-B-Q. And I ran inside. . . I didn't even close the car door, and Stella hollered at me, and told me to close it. But I was already too far, and I ran inside and asked for somebody to call a doctor or an ambulance."

Lucy Durham, manager of the restaurant, and Linda Halmark, were working when Joe Potts rushed in with his request.

"I grabbed the phone, asked Lucy for the hospital's number, and dialed it," said Ms. Halmark. She then handed the phone to one of the customers, Gerald Carpenter, and hurried out to the Potts' compact car, which was parked near the portable sign in the parking lot.

"The baby was already crowning. We could see the head," she said. "Mr. Potts spread a raincoat across the front seat, and we laid her down. Lucy Oswald held her head up. And I helped Mr. Potts with the baby."

She said Carpenter came out to announce that the ambulance was on its way, and he and two other customers, Prentiss Halmark and Jim Baxter, offered help.

Though, according to Ms. Halmark, Potts actually delivered his wife's baby, Potts plays it down.

"That's what everybody says, but it was just one of those things. He was there, and he was ready. He just came right on out. And there wasn't really anything for me to do other than wait till he came out, and catch him," Potts said.

He said the closest he had ever been to a baby being delivered was on TV. He said he had not attended the deliveries of his two daughters, but that his wife had insisted he was going to be in the delivery room this time. He had insisted he would not.

"I guess she really showed me," he said, laughing.

The baby, John Caleb, arrived shortly before the arrival of the ambulance from the Baldwin Satellite Unit. It was wrapped in a House of Bar-B-Q apron, and given to Mrs. Potts to hold. According to the father, it weighed in at 8 pounds 7 ounces, and measured 19½ inches. Both Mrs. Potts and John Caleb are doing well. And they were allowed to return home to Rienzi on December 30.

Asked how the father was surviving, Joe Potts said, "Okay, I reckon. It's sorta like a dream. It doesn't seem real even now."

"It's funny now, looking back," said Ms. Halmark about her part in the delivery. "But it was scary while it was happening. I was scared to death."

"But we had to do it," Potts said. "We didn't have time to do anything else.

"And we appreciate the people who came out to help us and did what they could,"

he said. "Sometimes, if you're in the wrong place, and have a problem, you don't get any help at all. But, if you're in the right place, you've got all the support in the world. And, that's what we had."

At City Board Meeting

Television Cable Ordinance Discussed

Tuesday night at their regularly scheduled board meeting, the Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen discussed revising the cities' cable ordinance which regulates the cable television company in Booneville.

This action came about as a result of the numerous complaints from Heritage Cablevision customers about the lack of service they are receiving.

"People are calling me all the time about their cable service," Mayor Charles Crabb told the aldermen. "I'm getting tired of it. I guarantee you I got 25 calls (over the holidays). But I don't blame the people for complaining," he said.

The mayor related several incidents where cable customers were given "the run-around" concerning their bad cable reception.

Monthly cable rates increased 50 cents this week, the mayor noted. "I don't believe anyone would care to pay a $1 extra if they get what they pay for," Crabb said. "Frankly I don't think we're getting what we're paying for."

It was also brought up by aldermen that one of the stipulations in Booneville's cable ordinance was that Heritage would serve all the people in the city. Even Police Chief Bobby Lambert can't get cable, Alderman Wade Lambert noted.

The board plans to study a 33 page ordinance adopted by Collierville, Tenn., which is also served by Heritage Cablevision.

"We're not trying to be hard on Heritage," Mayor Crabb said. "I just don't think it's right for customers to get the run-around. It's putting a bad taste in our citizen's mouths when they don't get service."

Aldermen also discussed the condition of the bridge on North College Street. Aldermen said the bridge wasn't in good shape at all.

Alderman Lambert was given authority to work with the city engineer about replacing the bridge.

Larger signs will be erected on College Street to keep trucks and buses from traveling that street.

The police department is still short one policeman, Police Commissioner Charles Steen told the board. Chief Lambert was given authority to post a notice to hire another policeman.

The board decided to make a 3-way stop at College and First Streets because of complaints after the traffic light was covered up to allow a better traffic flow.

The board will advertise for a controller for the traffic light at Big Star. The cost will be about $2,200, Crabb said.

The aldermen also approved the purchase of a motor lift and a motor stand for $400. This equipment will be used to work on all the cities' vehicles.

The board of aldermen also approved comprehensive, collision and liability insurance on the city's two fire engines at a total of $809.50 yearly for the two trucks with $500 deductible.

At Northeast

Night Class Registration Set

Northeast Junior College will conduct registration for evening college classes 6:30 p.m., Jan. 10, in Patterson Hall on the Booneville campus. Cost is $25 per semester hour, plus a $10 registration fee.

Course offerings for the spring semester include English composition II, general psychology I, zoology I, principles of chemistry, general chemistry I, seminar II (hematology and microbiology), elementary Spanish I, anatomy and physiology II, microbiology, general chemistry lab I, general chemistry II, principles of chemistry lab, oral communication, U.S. history I, anatomy and physiology II and general chemistry lab II.

A minimum of eight students must enroll in a particular class to ensure its development.

The classes begin January 17 and continue through the first week of May. All classes except microbiology will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m., one night per week. Microbiology will meet during the same hours two nights per week.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

from the office of:
JOHN R. WHITE, O.D.

PREVENTING EYE INJURIES

You don't only have to be working in heavy industry to wear protective lenses. Even the home hobbyist should protect himself from particles which may be produced by a tool as common as an electric drill. The same is true for lawn mowers, saws, sanders, chisels, chain-saws, etc.

Goggles or visors should be worn while using any motor driven tool or hand tool which might produce a flying particle! They are also good protection when handling chemicals such as industrial acids, battery acids, battery jump cables (batteries can explode, scattering acid), paint thinners and removers, strong detergent or bleaches, and lye for cleaning home drains.

If you wear ordinary glasses and you obtained your last pair since January 1, 1972, you have some measure of protection. Since that date all spectacle lenses are, by federal law, shatter-resistant. But for heavy use protection you'll need safety glasses. There is a difference. To be certain check with your optometrist.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office.

Richardson Turns Democrat To Seek Re-Election

Northern District Highway Commissioner Bobby G. Richardson has officially qualified to seek a third term to that office.

The 46-year-old Pontotoc County native was first elected to the highway commissioner's post as a Democrat in 1975.

"I officially qualified Monday to seek re-election as a Democrat," Richardson said.

Although he was elected to that post four years ago as a Democrat, Richardson switched parties to run for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate.

He was defeated by Haley Barbour for the Republican nomination to run against incumbent Democrat John Stennis. Stennis was re-elected in the 1982 race.

The area served by Highway Commissioner Richardson is composed of 31 counties in North Mississippi. Richardson said he has already begun his campaign efforts and that he will conduct a vigorous campaign in every county throughout the district.

"We have made considerable progress in highways in North Mississippi,"

Richardson said, "but realize that there is still a lot that needs to be done."

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Which team do you think will win the County Tournament?

EUGENE MILLER of 209 Massey St., Booneville: "I hope Booneville does, but from the looks of things Jumpertown has the best team in the county this year."

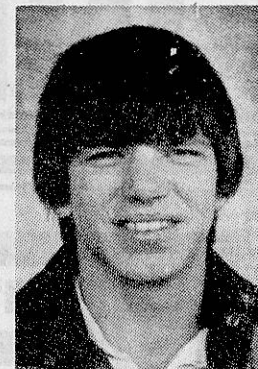

BILLY TAYLOR of Route 6, Booneville: "Jumpertown. They seem to be out-hustling all the other teams in the county. I think the Booneville girls will win in the girls division."

EILEEN HARE of Route 5, Booneville: "Booneville girls will win. That's the only one I'll predict. The boy's division is anybody's game."

MARGARET KELLER of Campus Garden Apts., Booneville: "Thrasher will win the A-boys game. They've always had a good team."

LARRY MORRISON of Route 3, Booneville: "Jumpertown. They've got the best team around so far. They've won the most games. I say Booneville girls will win, too."

PAM FLEMING of Route 4, Booneville: "Wheeler. We've got a great team and Wheeler should be number one in the county. Sam Richey's a good coach. I think the Wheeler girls have a pretty good chance of winning, too."

Eyes On Mississippi

Commission Determined To Get Strong Ethics Law

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. -- There's still a lot of unfinished business in the area of ethics legislation that the Legislature needs to attend to before Mississippians have any reasonable assurance state law protects them from unscrupulous or corrupt public servants.

Mississippi has had a state ethics law now for three years, but even the most sanguine observer of state government would have to say it is about as mild as lawmakers could make it. Considering, however, it was preceded by 12 years of failures, at least it represented progress.

Now, the 1983 session of the Legislature will get a crack at toughening the ethics law, and providing for criminal penalties for violations. A package of bills setting out for the first time standards of conduct for both elective and appointive public officials, as well as all other public employees, has been drafted by the State Ethics Commission.

If some legislators are looking around for something to take home to the voters this election year, the tougher laws setting ethical standards for those on the public payroll could be a hit with the home folks.

Until just a few years ago, Mississippians either didn't care, or didn't believe such things as malfeasance, misfeasance and non-feasance ever happened among our Good Ole Boys in governmental service, but that has all changed. They finally found out it was already there, except it had been swept under the rug.

The big change came when the federal government, through the public integrity unit of the Justice Department started snooping around and found lots of shenanigans in state agencies.

Interestingly, the first attempts by the Justice Department to dig into corruption in Mississippi's free-wheeling county supervisors system in the early 1970's fell by the wayside. The feeling then was that political influence had been exerted, possibly by Sen. James O. Eastland, to get Justice to call off the dogs.

(When the feds moved into the county commissioner system in Oklahoma a year or so ago, it resulted in massive indictments and convictions of county officials.)

When the feds cracked open the Bill Burgin case in 1977 and the powerful state senator was convicted the following year for peddling his legislative influence in an $850,000 child welfare contract, Mississippians finally realized they had a little Watergate of their own.

The Burgin case, followed by the state conviction of Sen. Nap Cassibry of Gulfport a few months later involving a similar case, is what pushed the Legislature to finally enact the state ethics law.

The Cassibry experience has left state lawmakers jittery because it came under a provision of the state constitution that simply says no legislator may be interested "directly or indirectly" in any contract authorized by the Legislature of which he was a member, whether or not he voted for the authorization.

One thing the State Ethics Commission's package would do is redefine the law so no member of the legislature would face prosecution for doing business with the state or other governments if done in fair, open competition.

Last year, the Ethics Commission felt it was on solid enough ground with the legislative leadership to propose strengthening of the ethics law in a series of proposals similar to the present ones, but it suddenly found itself under heavy attack from the Senate, and barely stayed in existence.

The new set of ethics changes has been modeled after the Louisiana ethics law, which has had some surprising results in curbing abuse with state government there, where public corruption used to be taken as a fact of life.

Even LSU football Coach Jerry Stovall found himself confronted on a conflict of interest complaint because he had given paid endorsements to a line of sporting goods used by the football team. Stovall was forced to give up his little outside endeavor.

What the Ethics Commission here is proposing is repeal of some 24 loosely connected laws now which relate to conflict of interest, and putting them all into one law, with a clear definition of conflict of interest. The package for the first time would establish standards of conduct for all public servants, both elected as well as employees of public bodies.

One bill puts public fraud into the state criminal statutes, something which would have made it possible to prosecute Burgin in the state courts rather in federal court several years back.

This time, to play it safe, the Ethics Commission is proposing one bill which would provide criminal as well as civil penalties for ethics violations, along with a standby bill providing only civil penalties.

With the big education fight behind the lawmakers, the Ethics Commission folks are determined this session won't duck the ethics law changes as they did last time.

Ag Affairs

Conditions Are Ripe For Severe Spring Flooding

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

Mississippi's record-breaking December rainfall was spaced out throughout the month to such an extent that the state suffered no major floods, yet the massive run-offs have filled lakes, reservoirs and streams to a point that conditions are ripe for a repeat of the spring floods that ravaged the lower delta in 1973.

During a briefing in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers office in Vicksburg last week, the engineers were quietly feeling the pulse of the state's water holding capacities in light of December's more than 17 inches of rain reported in the Jackson area and with this state's traditional rainy season just ahead.

Mississippi's river towns of Greenwood and Grenada last week were facing crises as floodwaters forced some residents from their homes. By the middle of last week the Yazoo River gauge at Greenwood recorded 37 feet of water depth sweeping southerly from that delta city heading for a confluence with the Mississippi River just north of Vicksburg.

The reading was but a foot and four inches less than the crest in March 1973 which forced evacuation of many city residents and caused the Corps of Engineers to hastily top off existing levees with sandbags and plywood. Last week's reading is but three feet short of the all time record of 40.1 feet at Greenwood measured in 1948.

Meanwhile on the northern outskirts of Greenwood the Yazoo River stands at 26.7 feet -- two-tenths of a foot higher than during the 1973 floodcrest and only six-tenths of a foot lower than the record level of 27.3 feet recorded in January, 1980.

Michael Logue, a spokesman for the corps, reported last week that already the floodgates have been closed at the reservoirs upstream from Greenwood, and water has begun to pass through the spillways. These dams are at Grenada, Enid, Sardis, and Arkabutla reservoirs.

Downstream at the Steele Bayou flood control structure near Eagle Lake in Issaquena county, the floodgates were open wide as the engineers enabled the upstream water to move as quickly as possible into the Mississippi River.

The key to lower delta farmland flooding lies with the level of the Mississippi River as it passes the Vicksburg vicinity. Today the Mississippi River level is more than ten feet lower than it stood during the 1973 spring floods, and consequently the lower Yazoo basin is draining satisfactorily rather than building up intensive backwater levels. Yet the level last week of the Mississippi River at Vicksburg of 42.5 feet is comparable to that of the same time of year in 1972-73.

Also, the Corps notes, the water levels in the reservoirs are only too similar to levels of 1972-73.

The new threat catches plans for a future pumping station in the lower delta still on the drawing board so to speak. It will be several years at best before the pumping facility will be in operation to help control the backwater level.

All of this for the farmers in the Yazoo basin is cause for great concern, especially in view of depressed prices for the cotton and soybean crops typically grown in this region.

Spring flooding in the lower delta alters planting dates and means a mandatory shift from cotton to soybeans at a time when soybeans already are in a major cost-price squeeze.

With economists already predicting another lean year for Mississippi farmers, the prospect of another major spring flood is bad news indeed.

How To Do Business With The Federal Government

A conference designed to match Mississippi's small business owners with State, Federal Government agencies and Prime Contractors is scheduled Jan. 19-20 in Jackson.

Vice-President George Bush will be the featured speaker Jan. 19 during a luncheon to open the conference at the Coliseum Ramada Inn.

"This conference will provide an invaluable opportunity for participants to learn more about selling to Federal and State Governments and their Prime Contractors," said William T. Hackett Jr., Executive Director of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development.

The conference is being sponsored by the Small Business Administration and the Marketing Division of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development.

"It's important for Mississippi's small business owners to attend this conference, especially if they are interested in making more money," said Mike Shelton, SBA Branch Manager in Biloxi, who is the conference coordinator.

He continued, "Last year, Federal Government procurement officers in Mississippi purchased $186 Million worth of goods and services."

Shelton said the conference will aid Mississippi's small business owners by "putting them together" with Federal Government procurement officials.

With the exception of the kick-off luncheon, seminar sessions will be held in the Mississippi Trade Mart.

Purchasing officials from State government agencies, State universities junior colleges and private corporations whose government contracts require them to subcontract some of their work to minority businesses will attend the conference.

Workshop topics will include "Procurement Opportunities," "Bidding Procedures," "Technical Assistance," "Financing," "Legislation and Small Business."

Seminar tickets are $35 each. The one-price ticket includes two days of seminars and two luncheons. No tickets will be sold for individual functions or seminar sessions. Reservations are limited.

Co-sponsors of the conference are the Mississippi Congressional Delegation, U.S. Senators Thad Cochran and John Stennis, and U.S. Representatives Jamie Whitten, Sonny Montgomery, Wayne Dowdy and Trent Lott, all of Mississippi; and 2nd District Congressman-elect Webb Franklin.

For additional information, write Bill McGinnis, Marketing Division, Mississippi Department of Economic Development, P.O. Box 849, Jackson, Mississippi 39205 or phone 359-3444 in Jackson.

Robots Taking People's Jobs

Dear Editor,

I enjoy reading your paper, but I feel it needs more excitement. Maybe an article called "What bugs me" might be what you need.

For example: What bugs me? Well, I'll tell you.

A man who has been out of work for a while was interviewed on TV. He said he was ready to steal for his family.

I get to thinking of all the jobs people could be doing that fancy machines, computers, and robots have taken over. Boy, that bugs me!

Why doesn't our nation wake up? In a few years they will have all the jobs. Of course, they don't have my job yet. I am a quality control inspector. I can imagine a robot walking up and down the plant, checking work. It could happen, you know. This is bugging me.

I don't expect you to agree with me about printing an article like this. This idea woke me up Sunday morning. I just thought I would share it with you.

It would be nice to help the folks get the bug out of their brains in 1983!

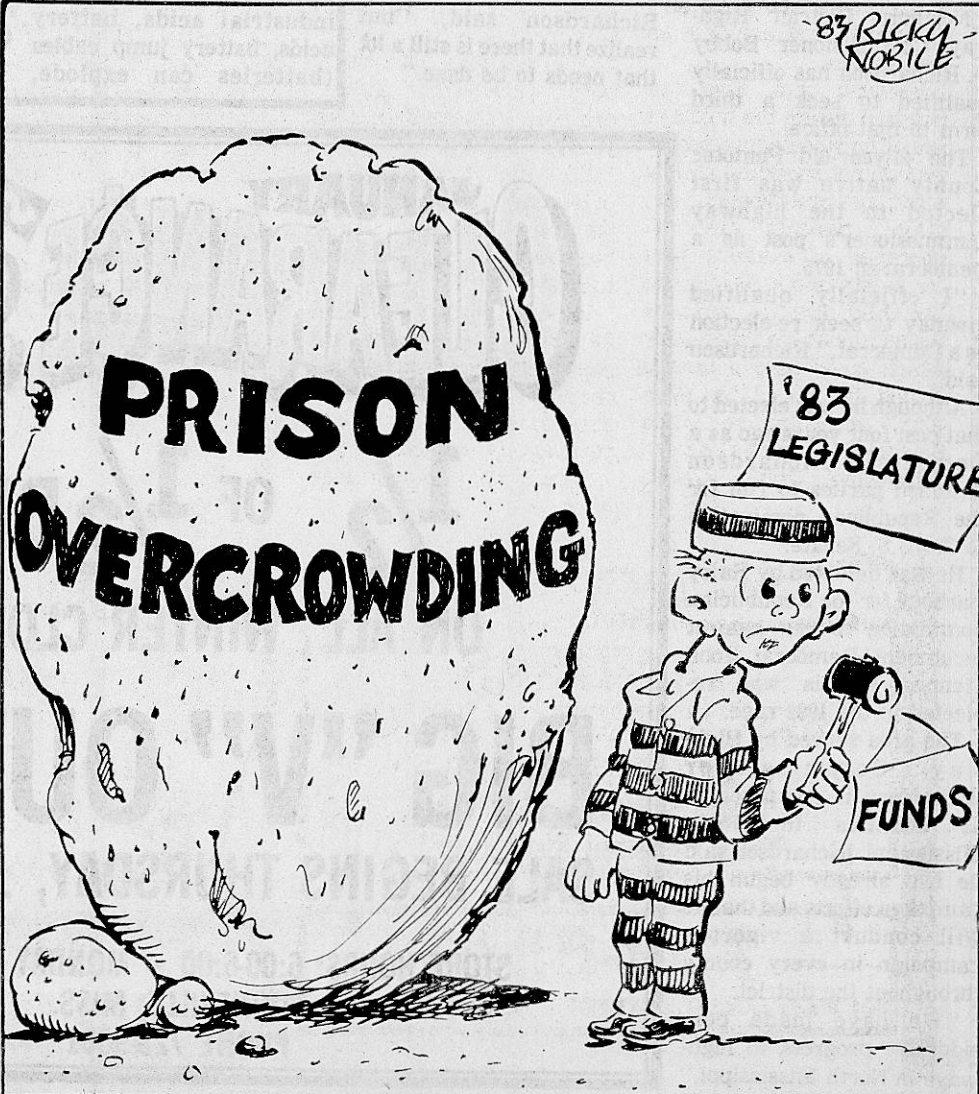

Thank you for your time. Mary Ann Hayden Booneville, MS 38829

By now most everyone has made his New Year's resolution and many have already been broken. I found that instead of making new ones, I was just renewing the same ones that I had made the year before, but for some reason or other I never quite carried them out.

So this year my resolution was not to make any promises to myself that I wouldn't carry out anyway. Then I will not be a big disappointment to myself when I fall short of my goal.

I have decided to take one day at a time and make the most of it that I can, realizing that some days will be more fulfilling than others. But with each day comes a new beginning and for that we should be thankful.

I recently saw a poster and the words have stayed in my mind as an inspiration. "I have no yesterdays; Time has taken them all away. Tomorrow may never be; I only have today." For this reason, we should all resolve to make the most of each new day in this new year 1983.

Bro. V.P. Black of Alabama was guest speaker at Carter's Chapel Church for the Sunday morning worship service. Everyone enjoyed the wonderful lesson that he presented.

Brock was ill on Sunday, so I had to stay home with him. A trip to the doctor on Monday morning revealed an infected throat and ears. After the ever-dreaded s-h-o-t as the doctor so kindly put it when first prescribed, Brock is very much improved.

Mrs. Lena Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Carroll, Clint and Camille, Nena Fay Holder and other family members enjoyed an overnight visit in Memphis with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hartman over the Christmas holiday.

Fletcher and Annette Sullivan of Carbon Hill, Ala., were recent visitors of Fletcher's brother, Ted Burns and family.

Wishes for a happy birthday this week (Jan. 2-8) are sent to Bondie Kendrick, Tammy Hutchens, Chris Moreland, Betty Hearn, Agnes Coker, Cindy Brown, Helen Harris, Bronzie Sweeney, Max Whitehead, Joshua Leon, J.B. McAnally, Mary Alice Beard, Brian George Raymond Burcham, Luther Moorman, Sheila Foster, Fay King, Essie Michaels, Juanita Pounds and Alan Lewis.

Lenora Slack has been hospitalized at the Baldwin hospital due to a blood clot in her leg. We hope that she is home again soon and feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Newborn enjoyed a meal in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Foster on Monday night.

Bernice Chase enjoyed visiting in the home of her son and family, Dr. and Mrs. David Chase on New Year's Day. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Merle Shelton and Elizabeth of Tupelo and Mrs. Ray McKinney of New Site.

I have not made it a habit to include poems with each column, but occasionally something special comes along that needs to be shared to others. The poem that follows has been requested. I hope that you will take it to heart and seriously consider it's message.

Have You Thought
About Your Soul?

Have you ever stopped to wonder
What this life is all about?
Why you're here and where you're going
When your lease on time runs out?

Maybe you've been far too busy,
Trying hard to reach your goal;
Would you let me ask you kindly,
Have you thought about your soul?

You may reach the highest protals,
And your dreams may all come true;
Wealth and fame may be your portion,
And success may shine on you.

All your friends may sing your praises,
Not a care on you may roll;
What about the great tomorrow -
Have you thought about your soul?

Don't forget your days are numbered,
Though you may be ridin' high;
But like all of us poor mortals,
Someday you'll just up and die.

Your success and fame and glory
Won't be worth the bell they toll;
Let me ask you just one question,
Have you thought about your soul?

If you've never thought it over,
Spend a little time today;
There is nothing more important
That will ever come your way

Than the joy of sins forgiven,
And to know you've been made whole
In the name of Christ the Savior.
Have you thought about your soul?

YOUR HEALTH
By
DR. JIM DAVIS, D.C.

GRAVITY AFFECTS YOUR BODY

If you had been a member of the crew on the 84-day Skylab space mission, you would have had a first-hand experience on how the body reacts in a gravity-free world. And if you thought your body had stopped "growing," you might be in for a surprise. All of the astronauts while on that mission grew taller, some of them almost two inches taller. Why? Without the pull of gravity, the body loosens up. The distance between each disc in the spinal column expands slightly.

Here on Earth, we all know how important the force of gravity is in keeping our feet on the ground. In fact, the whole body is affected by this force. If your spine is in proper alignment, this is one sign of good health. But if it isn't, then you may be suffering unnecessarily from back pain and other discomforts. If that's the case, you may want to consider an examination to find out how you can get relief.

Time To Renew Memberships To Help Sheriffs' Boys' Ranch

Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley, a member of the Mississippi Sheriffs' Association, wants to remind all Prentiss County residents that January is the month each year for the renewal of "Honorary Memberships" to the Mississippi Sheriffs' Association.

Many local residents enjoy an Honorary Membership status, and he is simply asking for their prompt cooperation this January in the renewal of their membership.

The Sheriffs' Association founded the Mississippi Sheriffs' Boys and Girls Ranches in 1976. It is a charitable childcare home located in Lowndes County and provides permanent homes for Mississippi children who are not delinquent but rather abandoned, neglected or abused. The funds for the operation of the program come totally through voluntary contributions. No tax monies of any kind are received.

The majority of the funds are made available through this Honorary Membership to the Mississippi Sheriffs' Association. Every cent of the memberships goes to the Ranching program. The Sheriffs' Association receives nothing. The membership fees are tax deductible.

Sheriff McCauley says that there are 38 children in care at the present time and that the Ranch offers quality childcare in a home-family like environment that is second to none in the State.

Those who are already Honorary Members will be notified by mail in January and asked to renew for 1983. Those who wish to become Honorary Members for the first time may forward the membership dues directly to the Ranch.

Individual Honorary Memberships are $15 or $25 as a business. Memberships includes a year's subscription to "The Mississippi Sheriffs' Boys & Girls Ranch Round-up News."

Checks should be made payable to "Mississippi Sheriffs' Boys & Girls Ranches, Inc." for tax deduction. Mail to: Mississippi Sheriffs' Boys & Girls Ranches, Inc., P.O. Box 369, Columbus, MS 39701.

Sheriff McCauley stated that this is a program of which the people of Mississippi can be very proud. "It belongs to Mississippi people," he said. "It is also one of the few charitable programs in existence where the donors can be assured that every cent is used to benefit the cause for which it was given."

He wishes to express thanks to the Prentiss Countians who have faithfully given their support in the past and encourages their continued support.

Be Sure Christmas Toys Are Safe

The gifts are all open and the wrappings put away. Now's the time for parents to make sure their children's Christmas toys are safe as well as fun.

Because toys given to children during the holidays are often selected by people who do not know the child's exact age and development stage, parents are encouraged to examine toys for safety and suitability to the child. Any toy which is too advanced for the child or which could pose a hazard should be stored for later play, according to Wade Spruill, president, Mississippi Public Health Association.

Toys designed for older children should be kept away from little ones. Chemistry sets, hobby items and toys with small parts, particularly games, can pose extreme danger to younger children.

Plastic packaging materials can be deadly playthings. Parents should remove and destroy them immediately.

Broken toys are potential hazards and should be repaired immediately or thrown away. Parents should check all toys periodically, Spruill said. Spruill recommends that parents become label readers and heed age recommendations. Parents and children, when appropriate, should fully understand all instructions.

Toys for infants and small children should never hang from long strings, cords, loops, or ribbons in cribs or playpens where children can become entangled.

And children should learn to put toys away on shelves or in another storage area to help prevent accidents from trips and falls.

"Toys are only as safe as their owners," Spruill said. "Rules and guidelines will not protect a child who is careless with his toys or if parents select unsafe toys. Parents should select toys carefully and teach the child the necessary safety rules. Toys and play can be both safe and enjoyable."

The New Year came in and we haven't heard of any incidents and we thank God for that.

By the time this article is printed we will have been working three days after two weeks of vacation. We will be so tired!

During the Christmas and New Year's holidays we are so thankful that all our families have been kept well and healthy.

The Rev. Bill Ragins is out of intensive care unit but has been moved to a room and we're asking everyone to pray for him.

As the college students prepare to go back to school we wish for them a safe trip back to school.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian
George E. Allen Library

On the last day of the year 1982, Mrs. Zera Duggar ended a ten year span of service to the people of Booneville in their public library.

When Mrs. Duggar came to the library in 1972, it was located at 315 West Church Street. She was a very capable whole staff, making library services a helpful and pleasurable experience to the people of this area.

The George E. Allen Library opened in 1976 and broadened the scope of these services, with Mrs. Carol Killough as librarian and Mrs. Duggar as assistant librarian. It continued to increase its holdings and expanded its services.

On Thursday evening, December 30, 1982, librarians of the Northeast Regional System and members of the George E. Allen Board met in the Marion W. Smith Room for a dinner to honor Mrs. Duggar and wish her well.

The Regional Board presented Mrs. Duggar with a silver pen engraved with her name. There were also other personal gifts presented to her with congratulations and expressions of appreciation.

Many will miss Mrs. Duggar's help in doing research, her advice and her interest concerning their recreational reading. We hope and expect that you will often meet her in the library as another patron.

Lila Johnson

From Asparagus To Brownies, She Cooks 'Em All

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Lila Presley Johnson of Jackson, Tenn., was in Booneville last week visiting her son, Butch Caldwell and his family.

She also stopped by the office of the Banner-Independent to leave a batch of freshly baked Kocoon Cookies - a favorite of the "Banner Bunch."

Lila said she knew that her late sister, Miss Jessie Presley, had always enjoyed providing the Banner employees with Kocoon Cookies during the holiday - so this year she made them. (They were appreciated, too. All the Kocoons had disappeared by the end of the day!)

Lila is a registered food service supervisor. She worked as assistant to the dietician at the Booneville hospital for seven years. After leaving the Booneville hospital she worked at the Medi-Center in Jackson which is now known as the Jackson Specialty Hospital. She retired in 1978.

Lila's husband, Quinn, retired from TVA in 1977 after 43 years of service. He works part time for the Jackson National Bank.

In addition to Butch Caldwell, her other children are Don Lee Keith of New Orleans and Delores Taylor of Orlando, Fla. She has four grandchildren.

Lila has two sisters, Dollye Hodges of Booneville and Julia Wilson of New Albany and three brothers, Neal of Florida, Joe of Aberdeen and Robert of Jackson.

Presently she serves as food service manager for Wednesday night meals at the First Presbyterian Church in Jackson. She is a member of the West Jackson Baptist Church.

"Sometimes we serve 200 people on Wednesday night," she says. She handles buying the food, menu planning and directs the cooking. She makes about 20 dozen homemade rolls every Wednesday night to be served at the meal. The Wednesday night suppers are held eight months during the year - the meals aren't served in the summertime, she said.

Lila says she has always enjoyed cooking. "I was always at my mother's coattail when she was making tea cakes," she smiled.

Lila's recipe for Boiled Custard originally came from her mother-in-law, the late Mrs. Sammy Johnson of Pontotoc. She uses the Vegetable Medley recipe often. It's one of the foods she often serves at the First Presbyterian Church.

The recipe for Indiana Brownies came from one of her friends in Indianapolis, Ind. But dieters beware. "These brownies are the richest and best," she says.

Indiana Brownies

1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup all purpose flour
1 stick butter or oleo
4 eggs
1 large can Hershey syrup
Melt butter and combine rest of ingredients. Bake in greased and floured pan about 30 minutes at 325 degrees. Cool.

Icing

6 Tbs. margarine
6 Tbs. sweet milk
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
3/4 cups chocolate chips
3/4 cups chopped nuts (optional)

Bring milk, margarine and sugar to boil, stirring constantly. Boil 30 seconds. Remove from heat and immediately add chocolate chips, beating until dissolved. Spread immediately over cooled brownies.

(Lila toasts pecan halves and places one on each square of brownie before the icing is cool and doesn't use nuts in the batter.)

Vegetable Medley

Sauce for medley:
5 hard boiled eggs (chopped)
1 medium onion (chopped)
3 Tbs. Worcestershire sauce

1 Tb. tobasco or hot sauce
1 cup margarine
2 Tbs. oil
Saute onion in oil but do not brown. Mix chopped eggs with Worcestershire sauce, margarine and hot sauce with onions. Put sauce in refrigerator over night.

Before dinner cook 2 packages frozen mixed vegetables tender. Drain well. While vegetables are hot (not boiling) pour medley sauce over vegetables and keep piping hot. If ingredients boil the sauce will turn to oil. Serves about 8 people.

Boiled Custard

1/2 gallon sweet milk

2 heaping Tbs. flour added to 1 1/2 cups sugar. Make a paste of this with warm milk.

Beat into the paste the yolk of 4 eggs. Set aside. Beat 4 egg whites with a dash of salt and add 1/4 cup sugar.

To the 1/2 gallon of milk that has been heated over medium heat, add the egg yolk and flour paste - stir in gradually. When hot add 6 large marshmallows. When piping hot stir in beaten egg whites. Let come to a boiling point. Remove and cool in vessel of cold water. Add 2 tsp. vanilla.

Lucious Squares

Sift together: 1 cup plain flour and 2 Tbs. sugar.

Work into 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter. Put into greased 9 x 12 inch pan. Bake in moderate oven until light brown.

Prepare the following to spread over pastry: 3 eggs beaten, 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, 2 Tbs. flour, 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. vanilla flavoring, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 cup chopped nuts.

Mix and spread above ingredients over pastry and bake in slow oven about 30 minutes. When cool, spread with icing before removing from pan.

Butter icing: 1 Tbs. butter, 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar, 1/2 tsp. vanilla.

This with light cream to consistency to spread. Cut into squares before removing from pan.

Sheriff

basketball game at Jumbertown just prior to the theft of his car. He left the game at half-time of the last game and stopped at the Cardinal Cafe in Jumbertown for a cup of coffee. He said when he went inside he left the car engine running because of a weak battery.

Although McCauley locked the front doors of his car, the thief apparently got in through one of the back doors.

"I always keep my back doors locked," the sheriff said Monday. However, one of the deputies had taken something from the back seat earlier and had failed to re-lock the right rear door. "I must have taken for granted that it was locked," McCauley said.

The sheriff had been in the cafe for about 25 minutes when he discovered his car was missing. He said he first thought one of his deputies had moved his car as a joke. Unfortunately that was not the case, he said.

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors, who must approve the purchase of a new patrol car, have told McCauley to look for a used vehicle. Until he finds one, the sheriff says he plans to use his personal car.

Insurance Types Explained

By BEVERLY RIGGS
Area Consumer
Management Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Insurance plans or policies have many different names, depending on the coverage or combination of coverage involved and the company issuing them.

They become easier to understand, however, once you realize that there are just three basic types of life insurance policies: term, whole life and endowment.

In one way or another, all plans are really a combination of protection and savings elements. All plans provide protection against death. However, each of the three basic types has its own characteristics and each is designed to do a different job.

Term insurance provides pure protection, without savings features or a buildup of cash values. Because term protection is temporary, the benefits are payable only if the insured dies within a specified period time. It is usually taken out for periods of 5, 10, or 15 years.

Premiums are lower than those for whole life, and stay the same as long as a given contract is in force. If you wish to renew the contract, you will be charged a higher premium, with the amount depending on your age.

Generally, you will not be able to renew your term insurance policy after you reach age 65. Term insurance is for persons who need maximum protection at the least cost.

Also called ordinary, or straight life insurance, whole life insurance protects you for your lifetime as long as you pay the premiums. It is therefore referred to as "permanent insurance." You pay a level premium for as long as you live, or up to age 100.

The premium is calculated to remain the same through the years. The face amount of the policy is payable to the beneficiary at the death of the insured, or when he or she reaches the age of 100. In addition to this protection feature, there is a savings feature not included in term insurance.

The cash value of a whole life policy accumulates over the course of the years in which a premium is regularly paid. Though it is not usually recommended, the owner of the policy can borrow against that cash (or cash surrender) value, at a relatively low interest rate.

An endowment policy also is considered a savings plan with term insurance, or an insured savings plan, because it offers a strong savings plan combined with decreasing term insurance. The proceeds (face amount) of the policy will be paid whether the insured lives or dies. This is a "double promise."

If death occurs within the endowment period, the proceeds will go to the beneficiary; if not, the face amount will be paid to the policyholder at maturity (the end of the endowment period). This can be paid as either a lump sum or in the form of monthly income. When the policy matures you are no longer covered by insurance, but you are entitled to the face value.

Roundball Roundup

And Now—Into The Home Stretch

It's time to get serious. Real serious, if you are a Prentiss county basketball fan. January has finally arrived.

Nobody would minimize the importance of the early season roundball play. But, the advent of 1983 brings the home stretch run, when the big winners must stand up and take charge.

One local coach used to say, "They won't remember what you did in December." That is not completely true, but the emphasis of where you are when the season is completed is absolutely true and most important to the coaches and players.

So, throw out the record books, because the local county teams are prepared to make the final push; the biggest push of the season.

The first indication of the fire for the upcoming district tournaments will take place in Bonner Arnold Coliseum this week. The Prentiss County Tournament will provide elimination-basis competition for a preview of coming district tournament attractions.

Although winning the tourney is not a life-or-death issue, it is vitally important for each team to play well. Little time remains to correct any major shortcomings and this is the time of the season to play with reckless abandon. Without a doubt, January is a critical time in the roundball year.

JUMPERTOWN (B)

Using his sense of humor and understatement, Cardinal mentor Guyton Wilkerson commented, "I know one thing: If you don't play real well; then I'll guarantee you can't win the county tournament."

Despite a shiny 20-4 mark, Wilkerson concedes nothing for his flashy Cards. "This is the most balanced county tournament I've ever seen. Any team can win it; any team."

"I just don't think any club can have a bad night and expect to win anyway. The first game will be the most important for all the teams, but it will come down to which two teams happen to be playing well at this moment of the season."

January figures to be an especially important month for Jumpertown. The Lady Cards, despite a 1-17 sheet, have lost a handful of games by a single point. The boys face their toughest month of the campaign.

"You've got to try to get a little better each day," explained Wilkerson. "This is our toughest month of the season, but I'm more concerned about getting better than I am about the won-loss record. Our main goal is looking to get better as the month goes on. There isn't much time to do anything but polish your game and eliminate mistakes."

NEW SITE (BB)

If you would like to read a Who's Who list of tough cage teams in North Mississippi, then read the list of the teams that have struggled to topple New Site.

Mackie Smith's club has not wanted for tough competition this year. However, the Royals are 8-12 anyway, which is none too shabby when you consider the opposing forces.

There is a method to the madness. Earlier, Smith admitted, "We've got a tough, well-balanced district tournament coming up for us. I want our players to have played against tough competition, because this should help us in the long run."

The philosophy should bear itself in the county tournament. The Royals may be the best sub-500 team anywhere. There isn't a single county coach that doesn't figure New Site could win the tournament if the conditions are just right.

On the girls side, the Lady Royals of Janet Doom are also sitting below the .500 mark. But, the New Site girls have fared well against their county foes. A repeat could land them with a surprise finish at Northeast.

Either way, you can be sure that nobody is going to overlook New Site in January. Both clubs figure to have a big say-so in the success or failure of many local clubs.

THRASHER (BB)

While the temperatures have been dropping, the Thrasher Rebels have been heating up. Nothing drastically, mind you, but the Rebels have been getting better with time.

At one point, Thrasher was four games under .500; while the coming of the county action finds them three games above .500. "We still have a way to go," reminds Jacky Rowsey, to anyone who will listen about his 13-10 entry.

"I don't think we've put a complete performance together yet," Rowsey noted earlier in the season. However, Thrasher looks like they are getting closer to that goal and they may have picked the right time of the year to do just that.

On the girls side, Phil Worley has not had the best of circumstances. Injuries and a wicked schedule have left his club with a sub-.500 mark at 7-13.

However, the Lady Rebels have a deceiving appearance, because they have played many outstanding clubs. This could prove invaluable in the stretch run of January.

"They are hard workers," admitted Worley earlier this year. "I'm encouraged by their hustle and determination." Those two elements could carry the Lady Rebels further than anybody has a right to imagine.

WHEELER (B)

"Naturally, this is the time of the year when you want to play well," admitted Sam Richey, one of the premier coaches in Mississippi prep circles.

Then with a laugh, he added, "Of course, if you don't play well, then you aren't going to give up, either." A quick look at Wheeler's 16-7 worksheet would reveal the good has outweighed the bad this far.

"I know this tournament will be good for the players." After thinking on the surroundings, Richey offered, "Playing at Northeast will mean bigger crowds, a bigger floor, and really expose them to tournament experience."

The experience should prove vital for the Lady Eagles, now 9-11 for the campaign. It has been a 'streak' year for Wheeler's girls, winning six of eight at one point, then losing four of five contests at another juncture.

Billy Shelton, girls mentor, along with Richey, will be looking for the meshing of fine play on consecutive nights. "Without a doubt, January is when you really need to play well," reminded Richey.

A One-Man Show, But

Where Were You When We Needed You, Marcus?

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

A hospital bed is not the greatest place to spend the holidays, but due to a case of pneumonia and doctor's orders, this writer was put into hibernation last week. Although it was a bad predicament, the situation did allow me to make a detailed study of the many bowl games that were televised.

New Year's Day sported five bowl games, none of which were completely one-sided, although some were better than others. In order of appearance the games were: the Fiesta, Cotton, Rose, Orange, and Sugar bowls.

The Fiesta Bowl matched the Oklahoma Sooners (8-3) against the Arizona State Sun Devils (9-2). This game had special prominence over the Cotton Bowl for me. Although both games were played at the same time and my automatic channel-changer was at work, most of my time was given to the Fiesta Bowl. The reason — Mississippi's own Marcus Dupree, Oklahoma's freshman running back from Philadelphia, Miss. rushed for 239 yards on only 17 carries.

Arizona State won the game 32-21 because Oklahoma had nothing in the likeness of a football player except for Dupree, who was forced to sit out most of the game with first a rib and then a hamstring injury.

At the conclusion of the game, Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer publicly blamed Dupree for the loss because he didn't score any touchdowns. This made me furious. That is the silliest thing I've ever heard. If Switzer's team had any depth, they could score after Dupree set them up at the 3-yard line. Dupree did his share and more as he averaged an amazing 14 yards per carry against the number one defense in the country and was voted the game's most outstanding player. It is also my prediction that Dupree will capture the Heisman Trophy in a couple of years.

Arizona State finished sixth in the nation, while the Sooners bought the sixteenth spot on the poll.

In the Cotton Bowl at Dallas undefeated Southern Methodist played the 9-2 Pitt Panthers. SMU played a championship fourth quarter as they fashioned an 80-yard touchdown drive on offense, and the defense stopped a Pitt drive deep in SMU territory. Of course Southern Methodist believed they deserved the national championship but they were handed number two. Pittsburg was voted the tenth best team in the nation.

UCLA beat Michigan in front of 105,000 people in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena. You had to feel sorry for Michigan as their starting quarterback was knocked out of the game by a devastating open-field tackle, and the Wolverines were forced to play their inexperienced second-stringer. As far as the Rose Bowl goes though, who cares? Give us a break. We don't live on the Pacific coast. What difference does it make who wins between the Pac-10 and Big-10 conferences?

Southeastern conference team and underdog LSU gave Nebraska more than they bargained for in the Orange Bowl at Miami. Nebraska pulled off a 21-20 win over the Tigers. LSU led 14-7 at halftime but they couldn't get the ball across the goal line in the second half. Nebraska managed two touchdowns in the second half and took home the one-point victory. Nebraska finished with a third place ranking nationally, while LSU took the eleventh spot.

Finally in the Sugar Bowl, first-ranked Georgia choked in a first-ranked embarrassment as Penn State defeated the Bulldogs 27-23. Georgia's passing attack and special teams coverage was awful. It took Heisman Trophy winner Herschel Walker 28 carries to break the 100-yard mark. Penn State's defense stopped Walker cold every time he got the ball and what's more the near legend didn't even show us the duck of a head or the shuffle of feet. He just didn't seem to be giving the 100 percent he's always talking about.

Penn State won the game and the national championship. It is Joe Paterna's first. The Nitany Lions head coach said he was "obviously thrilled" for his team.

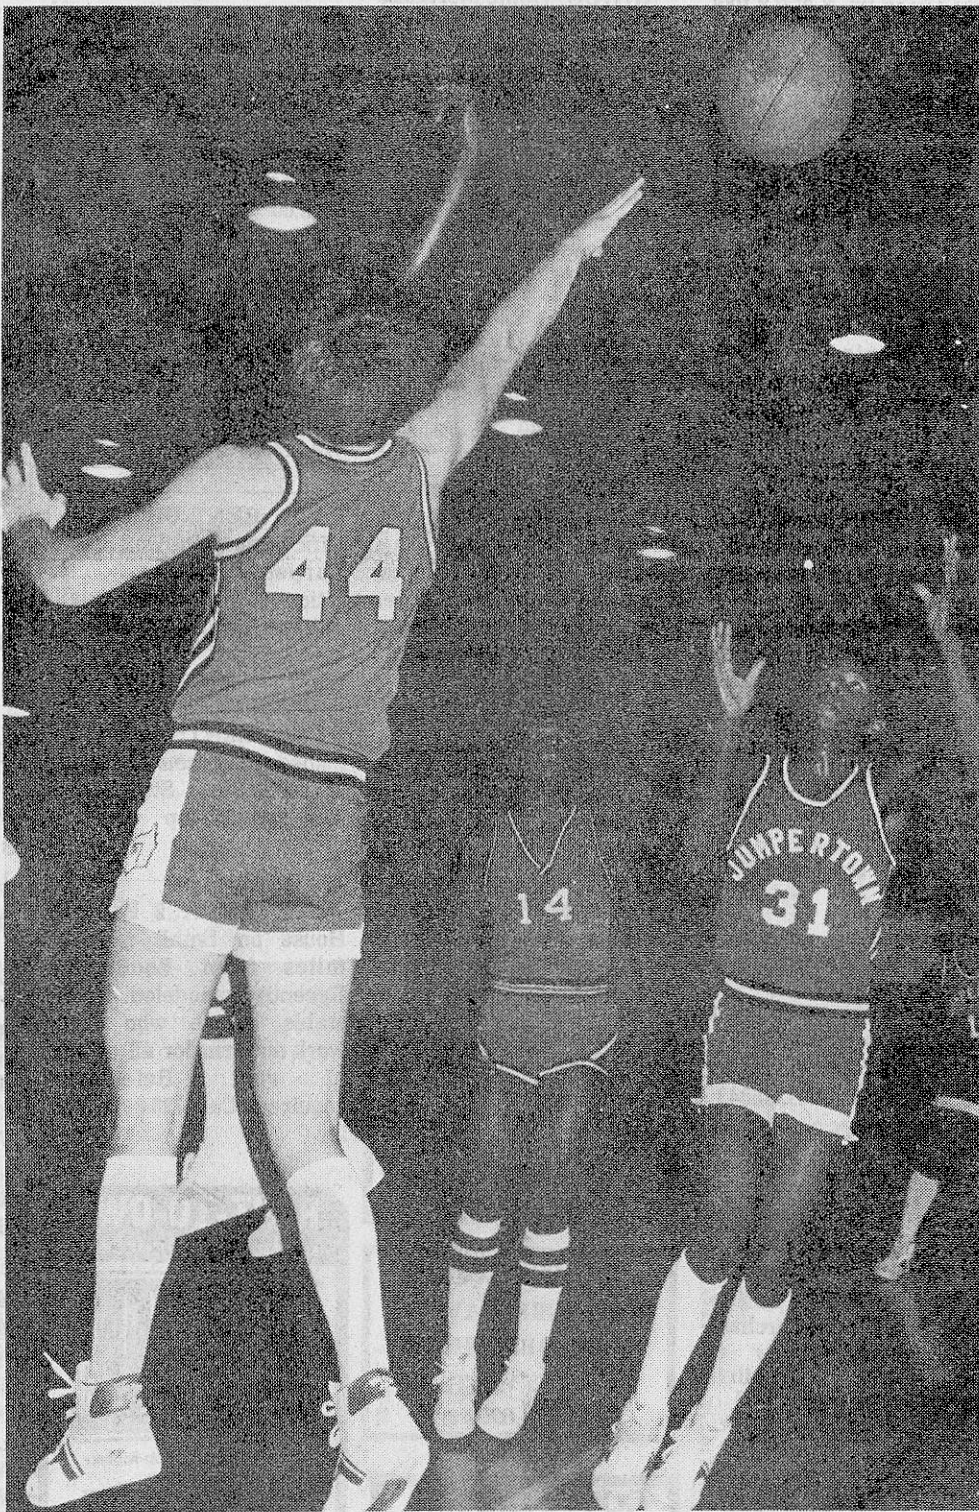

1983 has just begun, but 1983 bowl fever is already over. Of course this fever was even hotter this year as pro football popularity took a drastic fall.

Another good point was that seven out of the ten SEC teams went to a bowl.

Southeastern teams had a poor bowl record with 2-5 but the SEC still made their mark for the year. Auburn fans in the area can be especially proud of their War Eagles' fourteenth ranking.

Of course, if we wanted to find a bad point to the story, it would be this. Yes, seven of ten SEC teams made bowl appearances. The three who didn't? Kentucky, Ole Miss, and Miss. State.

Oh, well. Maybe next year.

GOING FOR REBOUND — Jumpertown's Bently Green (44) and Ricky Burrell (31) go for a rebound in the Cardinals' game with Charleston Thursday at Jumpertown. The Cardinals won the game, boosting their season's record to 20-4.

Deer Season Announced

Mississippi's either-sex deer hunting seasons have been set by the Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Known to many hunters as the "doe seasons," this is a time in which hunters may harvest a doe in addition to a legal buck.

According to a wildlife spokesman in the agency's Jackson office, antlerless hunting is one of wildlife management's useful tools in keeping a deer herd in balance with its habitat.

This year in the Magnolia State there will be a statewide antlerless day in all counties on Jan. 14. However, this includes only certain state wildlife management areas.

There will be other antlerless hunting days at different times in different counties. The following guidelines should be helpful in knowing which counties or parts of counties are open.

AREA I: January 14, 1983. Statewide but including ONLY the following Wildlife Management Areas: Bacatunna, Red Creek (excluding Refuge), Wolf River (excluding Refuge), and Chickasawhay.

AREA II: January 14-15, 1983. Counties of: Adams; Amite; Carroll; Choctaw; Claiborne; Clarke (including Bucatunna Wildlife Management Area); Copiah, west of I-55; Franklin; Gretna; Jefferson; Kemper; Lincoln, west of I-55; Lowndes, south of Hwy 82; Montgomery; Noxubee; Pike, west of I-55; Warren, west of Hwy 61 and south of I-20; Webster, west of Hwy 9; Wilkinson; and Yalobusha.

AREA III: December 18, 1982-January 15, 1983. Counties of Coahoma, west of the west base of the main Mississippi River Levee; Bolivar and Washington, west of Hwy 1 (excluding Ozark Island); DeSoto, west of the west base of the main Mississippi River Levee; Tunica, west of the west base of the main Mississippi River levee plus those Tunica County lands east of the main Mississippi River Levee and west of the Beaver Dam Lake known as the Owens Brothers Plantation.

The bag limit for the either-sex hunting seasons in all areas during the regular gun season will be one antlerless deer per day, two per season, in addition to the one legal buck per day already permitted.

Bass Limit Removed At Some State Lakes

The fishing limit imposed on largemouth bass on several state-operated lakes and one reservoir has been removed, according to the state Department of Wildlife Conservation.

The fishing restriction, known as the "gap limit," was removed Dec. 31 from lakes Mary Crawford west of Monticello, Mike Conner southwest of Collins, Claude Bennett in Jasper County, Lamar Bruce above Tupelo, and Ross Barnett Reservoir north of Jackson.

The gap limit had permitted fishermen to keep largemouth bass that fell within certain size requirements. All other bass had to be released back into the water.

The gap limit, which took effect July 1, 1980, became an extensive research project with the Department to determine the effectiveness of improving the numbers of largemouth bass in those lakes affected, according to fisheries chief Jack Herring.

"The program was a success on our four state lakes, but it was particularly impressive on Ross Barnett Reservoir," Herring said. "When the gap limit was imposed on Barnett, its bass population had declined from about 100 bass per acre to an all-time low of 33 bass per acre. Now bass numbers are back near the 100 level."

Herring said that fisheries biologists will continue monitoring largemouth bass populations on these waters. "If we find that bass numbers begin to decline again, we won't hesitate to reinstitute the gap limit."

Throughout the two-and-one-half year program, the Department received excellent cooperation and acceptance of the gap limit by anglers, according to Herring. "It may be necessary to set up a gap limit on some other lakes in the future if bass populations begin to decline."

Trustee's Notice of Sale

BY VIRTUE of a certain Trust Deed to me executed as Trustee on 3rd day of June 1981 by Jimmy Ray Downs and wife, Judy Downs to secure a certain indebtedness therein mentioned to the Peoples Bank & Trust Company, Inc. Tupelo, Mississippi (Booneville, Mississippi Branch Office) which is duly recorded in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Prentiss County, Mississippi, in Trust Deed Book 130 page 454 said indebtedness being past due and at the request of the Beneficiary therein, I will, on the 21st day of January, 1983 within legal hours at the Court House in the City of Booneville, sell to the highest bidder for cash the following described property, to-wit:

Part of the Northwest Quarter of Section 34, Township 5 South, Range 7 East, bounded as follows: Beginning at the Northeast corner of the Tule Wroten property as recorded in Deed Book 70, Page 394 in the Chancery Clerk's Office of Prentiss County Mississippi; thence go South along Highway No. 4, 175 feet; thence go West 247 1/2 feet; thence go North 175 feet; thence go East 247 1/2 feet to the point of beginning.

The title of said property is believed to be good, but I sell and convey only as Trustee.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC

Notice is hereby given that suit has been brought against Danny B. Childers, Prentiss County Tax Assessor and Tax Collector for failing to collect the taxes due the Prentiss County Board of Education from the City of Booneville, Mississippi property holders and his failure to collect said taxes in the sum of One Hundred Thirty-Six Thousand Four Hundred Eight Dollars ($137,408.00) has denied this amount of money to the Prentiss County school children. The Prentiss County Board of Education had to pay all of the expenses for the entire school year of 1979-1980 but the Booneville Separate School District which was not created until July 1, 1980, received the taxes on the property in the City of Booneville, Mississippi when the Prentiss County School System should have received said taxes. The Prentiss County Board of Education attempted to get District Attorney John Young to bring a Writ of Mandamus against Danny B. Childers requiring him to collect the taxes due the Prentiss County Board of Education for the 1979-1980 fiscal year, but District Attorney John Young failed and neglected to do his duty in this regard; therefore, it has become necessary for the taxpayers of Prentiss County, Mississippi, to sue Danny B. Childers and require him to collect and pay over the taxes due the Prentiss County Schools for the 1979-1980 school year. The following taxpayers of Prentiss County, Mississippi have brought suit against Danny B. Childers and his bonding company, United States Beginning and Guaranty Company for the payment of said taxes in the amount of One Hundred Thirty-Seven Thousand Four Hundred Eight Dollars ($137,408.00): Edwin Brown, Larry Cosby, Gene Gray, Bill Wimberly, Harold Woodruff, and Lex Cain. The above taxpayers invite all other taxpayers in Prentiss County, Mississippi to join in this case as a Plaintiff and also invite the general public of Prentiss County, Mississippi to join in this case as a Plaintiff in order to see that the money which rightfully belongs to the Prentiss County school children is paid over to the Prentiss County Board of Education for the use and benefit of the Prentiss County school children.

of an alligator? "I told them I never did ask an elephant if he was afraid of an alligator," Mrs. Duggar smiled. That answer seemed to satisfy the caller, she added.

The usual questions the librarians are asked concern the government and the salaries of officials, she said.

However, once someone called the library to find out what number Lou Gehrig wore on his baseball uniform. That question stumped Mrs. Duggar because she didn't know where to look for the answer.

Finally she asked her brother, Dennis Anderson of Ohio, who happened to be a sports fan. He supplied her with the answer.

Mrs. Duggar wanted to be a librarian because of her love of books. "I've always read everything under the sun," she says. "I read three or four hours every day of the world." Her favorite books to read are history novels.

The part she says she is going to miss the most about her job is her friends and patrons at the library.

"I've enjoyed all the patrons. I'll certainly miss them. The main thing I liked about this job was serving people."

Since she has retired, Mrs. Duggar plans to do volunteer work and help her friends. And of course she plans to catch up on her reading. But, "I'll have to watch out for over-due library books," she smiled.

Adult Night Classes To Start Jan. 10

Adult Night Classes will begin at the Prentiss County Vocational School on January 10, Monday night, at 6 p.m. Registration will be the first night of the classes.

Courses being offered in the Business and Office Department will be Typewriting, Office Machines, Bookkeeping, and ABC Shorthand, provided there are sufficient numbers to take the particular class. The computer will be taught in the Typewriting and Office Machine class; the five computers will be used as they are available.

Cake Decorating will be taught if there are enough people who want the course. If you are interested, call Mrs. Corbin at 728-9259, and ask her to put your name and telephone number of that particular list immediately.

Courses that will be taught in the Trade and Industrial and Agricultural area are: Farm Mechanics, Basic Housewiring, Welding, Machine Shop, Automobile Mechanics, and Radio and TV Repair.

Other classes will be offered on demand. Be at the Prentiss County Vocational School, Monday night, Jan. 10, at 6 p.m. if you are interested in one of these Adult Night Classes.

Retired Teachers Meet At Allen Library

Mrs. Paul Dobbins presided at the December meeting of the Retired Teachers Association which was held in the George E. Allen Library.

Hubert Sumners read the Christmas story followed by Brown McCutcheon leading the group in Christmas carols.

Reports were given by Mrs. Elmer McCoy, secretary, and Mrs. Omar Jones, treasurer.

Mrs. Lurline Davis was appointed to collect state dues.

Brown McCutcheon and Bro. Luther Gibson then sang special Christmas songs.

Sumners introduced the speaker, Mrs. Jean Holley Jacobs, a Baptist missionary, stationed in Barbados and Trinidad.

Mrs. Jacobs, wearing a native dress of the Islanders, spoke about the contrasting manner of the

Forestry Report Being Prepared

A record-setting year of accomplishment in the protection, management and utilization of the State's forest resources is reflected in the annual report of the Mississippi Forestry Commission for fiscal year 1982.

The report is currently being printed and will be available in early January, according to State Forester Sid Moss.

Wildfire occurrence was well below a five-year average, according to the Commission report. Only 7,878 fires required suppression by Commission crews during the July 1981-June 1982 period.

More than 96,000 acres were damaged or destroyed in these fires, but that was considerably less than the annual average of 120,000 acres burned. Average size of wildfires (12.2 acres) was about two acres below the 5-year average.

Insects and diseases continued to plague Mississippi's timberland during the reporting year, but good cooperation in a concentrated salvage effort by all segments of the forestry community held net losses down.

Southern Pine Beetles were again the most troublesome timber destroyer. They multiplied to epidemic proportion in eight Southwest and Central Mississippi Counties.

By LADY BLUE SURF

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Cain is not doing well. She has been moved to room 298. Twitty Bird and Chipmunk have both had the flu. Ole Blue is still battling sore gums. We hope everyone is soon lots better.

We hope that all of you had a nice and safe New Year's. Let's try to make this year the best ever.

Our sympathy goes out to the Bushel Man and family in the death of his mother, Mrs. Cora Bishop.

Congratulations to J.Q. and Lady J.Q. on the arrival of Candace Renwee weighing 7 lbs. Proud grandparents are Big Q and Lady Q.

There are no club birthdays on the calendar this week but I would like to wish my Dad a happy birthday on Jan. 5 and my mother happy birthday on Jan. 8. Hope both of you have a nice day and enjoy many more.

An officers meeting will be Thursday, Jan. 13, at 7 p.m. A business meeting will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 7 p.m. at the Booneville community center. Everyone please attend this first meeting of the new year.

Untu next week, stay well, be happy and attend the church of your choice.

MRS. DUGGAR RETIRES - Mayor Charles Crabb presents Mrs. Zera Duggar (center) a plaque in honor of her ten years of service at the Booneville Library. Mrs. Duggar retired Dec. 31. She was librarian for four years at the library when it was located at West Church Street and was assistant librarian for six years at the George E. Allen Library. Terraces Prevent Soil Loss During Heavy Rains

By JIM CROUCH
Agricultural Engineer
Soil Conservation Service, USDA

Most of Northeast Mississippi has recently been drenched with heavy rainfall with total precipitation reaching more than 10 inches in three days in some areas.

The rainfall for the month of December exceeded 19 inches in many areas of North Mississippi. This high intensity of rainfall causes severe flooding problems, as you are well aware.

It also causes other problems that you may not be aware of.

Did you notice the color of the flood water or the sediment that it left behind as the waters receded? This sediment or soil comes from unprotected land. Soil loss from sloping cropland can easily exceed twenty tons per acre per year if the soil is not protected. This sediment that was left behind was valuable topsoil which has washed from fields because of erosion due to lack of conservation practices.

One of the best erosion practices on sloping cropland is terraces. Some people may argue that terraced fields are "difficult" to farm. These same people may find that gullies are "difficult" to farm also.

Once gullies are formed and most of the topsoil is gone, the field becomes "difficult" to farm for economic reasons.

Terraces of the "80's" are not that difficult to farm. Many fields are suited to parallel terraces where terraces can be constructed parallel to each other with an equal number of rows between them. Point rows are virtually eliminated and the terrace is designed to fit the landowners equipment. Underground tile outlets are designed to drain the water from the terraces eliminating the need for waterways across a field.

For more information or assistance on terraces or other conservation problems, contact your Prentiss County Soil Conservation Service.

Some of the ways to do business with us are changing.

But we're still as close as your phone.

The telephone industry is changing - reorganizing. That means more options for you. And some changes in the way you do business with us. If you've done business with us lately, you may have gone to one of our retail outlets. Now, if you need help with phone service, call us first.

Call a South Central Bell service representative if you want to:

- order new phone service.
- change your existing service.
- disconnect your service.
- ask a question about your bill.
- exchange or return sets purchased or leased from South Central Bell. (We cannot exchange or take back sets purchased or leased from other suppliers.)

Call South Central Bell's repair service if you have trouble with your service or with a phone set that is leased from South Central Bell. (For service or repair of phone sets that you own - whether they came from South Central Bell or another supplier - you should follow the warranty instructions or other maintenance arrangement made at the time of purchase.)

You'll find the phone numbers for your service representative and repair service in the front of the South Central Bell phone book. When you call us, in many cases we'll be able to complete your business or solve your problem while you're on the phone. In other cases, we may offer to mail equipment or parts to you. Or you may be referred to a phone company service center to complete your transaction. If so, we'll tell you where the nearest one is and when it's open.

Some things won't change. During 1983 South Central Bell will still provide you with dependable local and long distance phone service. We'll continue to be responsible for phones that residence and business customers now lease from us. And we'll continue to lease telephones (and to sell some selected phones) as long as they're available from inventory. (With regulatory approval, we do plan to offer single-line residence and business customers the option of buying telephones that are now leased from us.)

There'll be more changes in the telephone industry in the coming year or so as South Central Bell and other Bell operating companies are separated from AT&T and reorganized into regional companies. This change in organization, to take place in 1984, will affect significantly how you get and use telecommunications services.

But no matter how things change, South Central Bell is committed to seeing that certain things remain the same. We'll still have good, dependable people and the same goal: providing you with the best, most advanced telephone service at reasonable rates.

We'll keep you informed. But in the meantime, if you have any questions about the changes in the industry or about how to do business with us now, call 1 800 555-5000, toll free, 10 a.m.-11 p.m., Central Time, Monday through Friday. Or write for a free brochure, "Let's Talk About Change."

Let's Talk.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Charles L. Potts

Dear Lord ... Please Put Mama On The Line

Psalms 1:1

The first psalm begins. . . "Blessed is the man. . ." Are you a blessed or happy person? As the sands have run through the 1982 hour-glass of time we come to that place where we must give attention to what we do, and what we are, in the days ahead. We joke about "Bear" needs to speak to mama about this season for Alabama; however, we know it runs much deeper. What we are stretches way back . . . back to mama and papa. Some of us need to "go back" . . . to remember those teachings so quickly put aside when they tend to hinder our so-called "fun." Someone has suggested that in '83 we will need to "PACK A FULL BAG. . . IT COULD BE A LONG HARD TRIP." We may indeed not realize to whom we speak these words and the possible import of their meaning. As 1983 is born we face an element unknown. It is a somber thought that during the coming year some of us will die, some will suffer sickness and great sorrow, some will feel the foundations of their faith shaken. There is no way that all of us can escape from it being "A LONG HARD TRIP." As 1982 takes its place on the granite throne that stretches down the dark pathway of the past we need, once again, to talk with mama.

Please, Lord, put mama on the phone so I can learn again what "blessedness" is all about. For some the path will be filled with sunshine. Some of the young folks will be married. Little babies will be born into homes to brighten and bless their happy parents. Other young people will go away to college. . . where what they believe now will either be strengthened or shaken. . . or lost. We cannot always shape our destinies. . . but there is much we can do ourselves as the first psalm suggests.
We can hear the "echoes" of good mamas and papas. . . "delight in the law of the Lord" and renew our faith daily by devotion. We can remember that God forgives sin, answers prayer and grants strength for the journey. WE CAN DO THAT!
. . . and thank you Lord. . . it was good to hear mama as we begin 1983.

Lack Of Water Could Become Economic Roadblock For Area

By JIMMY BONNER
Writer-Editor
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

An official with the Tennessee-Tombigbee (Tenn-Tom) Waterway project is warning that lack of water could become a major roadblock to plans for future economic development.

The warning applies to Mississippi where an underground reservoir covering a large portion of the northeastern part of the state is rapidly losing water which threatens economic growth in the area.

John Mitros, executive director for the Tenn-Tom Project Area Council, issued the warning during a conference on water policy in the South recently in Memphis.

In addressing the relationship of water to economic development, Mitros said the two are so closely interrelated that it is impossible for one to exist without the other.

"Just thinking about water is difficult for most people because plenty of water always has been taken for granted," Mitros said. "The thinking always has been that water exists, we use it and nature recycles it. If we use too much, we run out."

Mitros said that philosophy, which may have worked in earlier societies, doesn't fit in today's advanced society where economic development depends directly and indirectly on more and more water.

The council which Mitros heads is working toward economic development during construction and operation of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway which includes portions of Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Kentucky.

Mitros said the facts about water and economic development are known to a handful of educators and environmentalists, but are mind-boggling to politicians, economists, businessmen and others whose work and decisions affect worldwide economic conditions.

The Tenn-Tom official said increasing population and more demands for water are conflicting with less water available in many areas. Clouding the water picture and economic development are reports that indicate:

- water use per person in the Southeast is doubling roughly every 10 years while the population is increasing. The world's population is expected to double in the next two decades.

- in Mississippi, an underground reservoir that covers much of the northeastern part of the state is being depleted at a rate that will soon exhaust its water supply, threatening the economic growth of Tupelo and the surrounding area.

- the Ogallala aquifer, a major underground reservoir which includes five mid-western states, is being depleted of water each year at a rate that may be equal to the flow in the Colorado River.

"Only a dribble of rainfall in the region recharges the reservoir," Mitros said. "Scientists say it took millions of years to charge the aquifer, and we may pump it dry in a hundred."

- the public's don't care attitude toward water supply problems coincides with a view that the rising demand for water must always be met based on peoples' economic needs and not the finite supply of water.

- the cry for "more" behind the push for economic improvement is never considered in the context of the limitations of the water ecosystem.

Mitros said modern culture, technology, agriculture and civilization call for more and more water for people, processes and products at a time when the nation's supply of readily available water is shrinking.

"The water problem has been described as being as great as the energy problem," Mitros said. "It is far too complex for any group of hydraulic engineers, environmentalists or a panel of governors to handle."

Mitros said complicating the water supply issue in parts of the four-state region are reports describing a plentiful water supply and at the same time telling of record soil erosion and rapid depletion of underground reservoirs.

The Tenn-Tom official suggested that water problems in the next 30 years will be as much a cultural and philosophical problem as a technical, hydraulic and environmental one.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY SELLING TO THE GOVERNMENT

(U.S. Government, Prime Contractors and the State of Mississippi)
Wednesday, January 19, 1983 and Thursday, January 20, 1983
Mississippi Trade Mart, Jackson, Mississippi

Vice President George Bush

A conference designed to match small businesses interested in selling their goods and services to state and federal government agencies, prime contractors and large corporations. The Speaker for Wednesday's luncheon will be Vice President George Bush.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE MONEY FROM THE GOVERNMENT?

If so, this conference is for you.

The purpose is to stimulate small business growth and activity by making known to small businesses the numerous procurement and technology opportunities available from federal and state governments and their prime contractors.

Opportunities for services, commodities, technical and consulting contracts will be presented. Continuous workshops and films will enable participants to learn more about available government purchases and current business opportunities.

Conference sponsors include:

- The U. S. Small Business Administration, Jackson District
- State of Mississippi, Department of Economic Development, Marketing Division

Co-Sponsors are:

- The Mississippi Congressional Delegation
- The Mississippi Commission of Budget and Accounting
- Mississippi Planning and Development Districts
- Mississippi Industrial Development Council
- Tennessee-Tombigbee Construction Assistance Center

- Mississippi Municipal Association
- Mississippi Manufacturers Association
- Mississippi Economic Council
- Mississippi Association of Supervisors
- Delta Council
- Mississippi Research & Development Center
- Centre South
- Mid-Mississippi Development District
- North Mississippi Industrial Development Association

WHAT CAN YOU LEARN IN TWO DAYS?

IN JUST TWO DAYS...

- HOW to make sales calls on the nation's largest buyers of goods and services - the U. S. Government.
- HOW to make personal contact with government procurement officials and with purchasing representatives from national firms.
- HOW to learn bidding requirements and procedures necessary to receive government contracts.
- HOW to prepare a bid for a government contract.
- HOW to find available financing opportunities for small businesses.
- HOW to find sub-contracting opportunities with large firms that receive government contracts.
- HOW to keep current on legislation enacted for or affecting small businesses.
- HOW to sell to state junior colleges and universities.
- HOW to sell to state, county and municipal governments.
