Man Charged In Rape Of 13-Year-Old

A Prentiss County man has been arrested and charged after a 13 year old Booneville girl was allegedly raped Saturday night at her home.

Edward Hawkins, 23, of Route 1, Marietta, was charged with rape in connection with the incident, according to Booneville Policeman Bill Ingram.

The rape allegedly occurred around midnight Saturday at the girl's home, police said. Ingram said the girl's parents heard screams and thought their son was having a nightmare. However, when the mother went to investigate, she allegedly discovered her daughter being attacked, Ingram said.

According to police, Hawkins had been staying with the girl's family for several days. Hawkins is not a relative of the family, as far as police know.

Following the incident the girl was taken to the hospital and later released. Her hospital tests were taken to the state crime lab Tuesday.

Hawkins turned himself in to the police department Sunday morning.

A preliminary hearing for Hawkins has been set for Monday afternoon, March 14. He remained in the city jail on $10,000 bond as of Wednesday morning.

New School Board Member Named

The Prentiss County School Board has appointed Mackie Holder of Altitude to fill the vacancy on the school board left by the resignation of Edwin Brown, according to Prentiss County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain.

Holder was appointed to the school board Feb. 21, Cain said.

Holder, who is in his mid-30's, is employed as a salesman for a chainsaw company, Cain said. He has a child attending Hills Chapel School, Cain said.

The school board seat was vacated in February when Brown resigned because he felt the move was in the best interest of the board since his brother, Johnny Browne, is running against incumbent Lex Cain.

Holder will serve the rest of this year. An election will be held in November. The winner will have a one year term and then have to run for the regular term in November 1984.

Two Candidates Qualify For Office

Two candidates have qualified since Wednesday of last week to run for political offices in Prentiss County. There are now 57 candidates who have qualified to seek election to various offices in the August primaries.

Mackey Gann has qualified to seek election to the sheriff's post. He is the 9th candidate in the sheriff's race.

Edward Ray Flanagan has qualified for 5th district constable. He is the 3rd candidate in that race.

Board Votes To Re-Hire Principal

Jumpertown principal Jerry Kuykendall has his job for another year.

Last month, while voting on teacher contracts for next year, the Prentiss County Board of Education refused to vote to renew Kuykendall's contract. Supt. Lex Cain, who had recommended the Jumpertown principal be rehired, said none of the three board members at that meeting would make the motion to issue Kuykendall a new contract.

Apparently the school board members changed their minds Monday afternoon. According to Cain, the board voted unanimously to rehire Kuykendall.

"We discussed the (Jumpertown) situation in here Monday and I recommended Jerry Kuykendall to the Board of Education," Supt. Cain said Wednesday. "They thought it was the best for the children and the community at Jumpertown school and they voted to reinstate Jerry Kuykendall at Jum-pertown."

Cain notified Kuykendall of the board's decision by phone following the meeting Monday.

When the board refused to issue a new contract to Kuykendall last month, the Jumpertown principal stated his intentions of suing the board.

Kuykendall claimed the board was giving in to pressure from the local community trustees at Jumpertown. He said the local board wanted to make the decisions as to how the Jumpertown school is operated. By law, he said, they have only custodial powers.

Kuykendall has had several run-ins with the local trustees in his four years at the school. Two years ago he dismissed them.

After Kuykendall was denied a contract, a group of 50-60 Jumpertown citizens met with the county school board in a show of support for the principal. As a result of that meeting Kuykendall met with Supt. Cain and school board member Bill Wimberly to discuss the problem.

"I didn't really feel that anything came from that session," Kuykendall said this week. "We just more or less restated our positions. Maybe something did come from it, in retrospect. But I didn't think so at the time."

The board never told Kuykendall why his contract was not renewed, and, the Jumpertown principal says he does not know why they changed their minds.

"Having not ever received any reason for their first action, I can't say what the reason was for the second action," he said.

Kuykendall said he has consulted his attorney about the possibility of continuing the legal action against the Jumpertown community board of trustees.

"He said that since the county board took this action Monday, this means that they've ignored the recommendation of the local board," he said, "and that means no liability."

Decisions, Decisions

While students got the afternoon off, teachers from the Prentiss County School system picked new text books for some subjects Monday. The books selected by the teachers will be used at all county schools for the next five years.

Location Sought For New Post Office

After almost two years of delays due to federal budget cutbacks, the go ahead has been given for construction of a new Post Office in Booneville.

Advertisements for sites for the new post office are now being taken, according to Booneville Postmaster Jack Wright.

Construction plans were originally announced two years ago. It had been hoped that construction of the new post office building would begin in October 1981 with a projected completion date of October 1982. However, budget cutbacks placed the project on the backburner. The site the U.S. Postal Service plans to purchase is within the following area: bounded on the North by West Chambers Street; on the South by Stanley, Lafayette and East Church; on the East by North College Street to North Street to North Smith Street; and on the West by Second Street (Highway 45).

The site desired is approximately 200 feet x 250 feet, or approximately 50,000 sq. ft., Wright said.

Anyone who has property that meets these requirements and is interested in selling it should check with Wright for further information concerning submitting bids.

Requirements concerning the advertisement for sites will be posted in the Booneville post office, the Prentiss County Courthouse and Booneville City Hall.

Offers may be mailed or hand delivered by March 31 at the following address: William Deason, Realty Management & Acquisition Specialist Field Real Estate & Building Office, U.S. Postal Service, P.O. Drawer 3744, Memphis, Tenn., 38173-0744. (Telephone: 901-521-3131).

Supervisors Plan Storage Facility For Stolen Parts

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors gave approval this week to construct a facility to hold stolen items such as burned or cut-up vehicles recovered by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department. This facility will alleviate storing the items at local wrecker services.

The supervisors voted Tuesday to have the facility built on a half acre site in the 1st district in the Booneville-Prentiss County Industrial Park.

Engines, transmissions, and burned or chopped up vehicles found by the sheriff's department currently are being stored at Lee Kendrick's Wrecker Service and Charles Garrett's Garage. They would be transferred to the fenced-in area in the industrial park, according to J.P. Davis, president of the board of supervisors.

The items are currently stored at the wrecker service who gets the call to pick up the items, Davis said.

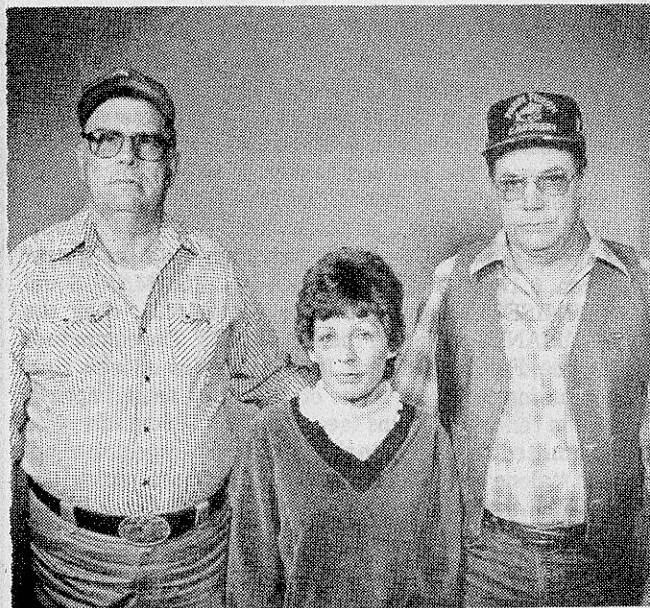

"The supervisors have been discussing this idea for the last 3-4 months," Davis said. "We have been taking a look at it to see if it was feasible to do it. We have come to the conclusion that it is."

"We expect this to save the county some money, plus we will have everything at one lot."

It costs from $2.50-$3 per day per item for outside storage at the wrecker services, Davis said. The fee is $5 and up per day (depending on the item) for (Please see Supervisors, Page 2)

Long Lost Brother, Sister Found

By ANGELA SMITH Staff Reporter

For over 40 years John A. Crawford, 59, of Jumpertown thought he only had one brother. But a year ago Crawford discovered he not only had another brother, but a sister as well.

On March 8, 1982, Crawford received a call from Billy Diamond, 50, of Hollandale, Miss., telling him that the two were brothers. (Several months later the two men were to discover they also had a sister, Jackie Pangburn, 43, of Pasadena, Texas).

The family might not have ever been united had it not been for the persistence of Billy Diamond and his family plus the fact "the Lord was willing and everything just fell in place," Crawford says.

Crawford was adopted when he was three years old by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Crawford of Jumpertown.

He was aware he had one brother, Eugene Paden of Memphis, who is three years his junior. Paden was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Paden. Crawford and Paden attended school together at Jumpertown.

Their natural mother, Blanche Stutard, died in 1939 at age 38. She had been married three times. Her children were put up for adoption because of her ill health and lack of income.

Diamond, who was born in Booneville, was adopted by a family in Hollandale.

Since he was 16 Diamond had tried to find information about his "natural" family. He had begun piecing information together after finding records indicating he had more family.

In 1981 two of Diamond's daughters, Linda and Cathy, came to the Prentiss County Courthouse and found records about his natural mother. They found she had a sister, Bessie Leslie of Golden.

Man Charged With Grand Larceny

Barron McKinney, 17, of Route 2, Booneville, has been charged with two counts of grand larceny in connection with two recent break-ins in Prentiss County, according to Prentiss County Deputy John Moore.
McKinney was arrested Monday by Deputies Moore and Charles Duncan. He is charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of guns from E.G. Lindsey of Route 7, Booneville, and Ricky Lambert of Booneville. McKinney has been certified to stand trial as an adult, Moore said.

Booneville Hires New Dogcatcher

Jerry Holder of Booneville has been hired as the city's new dogcatcher.
Holder was hired last Thursday on a temporary basis, according to Mayor Charles Crabb. He can be reached Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. at 728-7018 or after 4 p.m. at 728-3161.
The ordinance concerning dogs adopted by the mayor and board of aldermen will be carried out to the fullest extent, Crabb said.
It states that all dogs within the city limits should be vaccinated against rabies and should have a tag attached to their collar showing the year the dog was vaccinated.
The ordinance further states that no dog of vicious tendencies may be at large in the city or that no female dogs in heat shall be permitted at large in the city.
If any dog is found to be in violation of the ordinance, the dog may be picked up and impounded.
If a dog is impounded, it will be released to the owner only after the owner pays $2 to cover the catching the dog, plus $2 for each day the dog is impounded. If the owner of the dog fails or refuses to pay these fees within three days from the time the dog is impounded, the dog may be destroyed.

The cheese was distributed by the supervisors at the Prentiss County Courthouse. All the cheese and butter was given away by 4:30 p.m., Davis said.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, if I commit a sin and am sorry that I sinned, will I not go to heaven?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Your question is somewhat ambiguous. The "sorrow" itself will not save you. However, the Bible does teach that one must be sorry for his sins. In 2 Cor. 7:10, we are told that godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation. The sorrow you talk about must precede the repentance. You see one cannot go to heaven without "repentance" and since "sorrow" is not repentance, the answer to your question is "no." The Bible tells us that the power of God unto salvation is in the gospel (Rom. 6:17). That gospel had FACTS, COMMANDS and PROMISES. We must believe the FACTS, obey the COMMANDS and enjoy the PROMISES. The commands include, Faith in the Lord Jesus, repenting of one's sins, confessing the great name of Jesus and being baptized for the remission of sins (see Acts 2:38). Being sorry you committed sin is good in that it precedes repentance but that "alone" will not save your soul. Please study and obey all the commands of God.

School Bond Issue Is Up $190,000 Over Last Time

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Booneville voters are once again being asked to make a decision on the issuance of school bonds to build a new high school and to renovate two existing school buildings.

But, this time the ante has gone up. The original bond issue, defeated by 124 votes last December, was for $2,035,000. The issue before voters March 26 will be for $2,225,000.

The additional $190,000 will be used to build four classrooms not included in the bond issue the last time.

City school officials say the increase is the result of the statewide public kindergartens mandated by the Education Reform Act passed by the state legislature last December.

Complying with that law will require the addition of the four classrooms, according to Hale Aust and Robert Griffin. Aust, chairman of a parents' advisory committee, and Griffin, city superintendent of education, met with approximately 20 community members at Booneville High School last Thursday night to discuss the project.

Estimating an increase of 20 mills for a 20-year period, city officials said in December that property taxes for the average city property owner would increase about $6 per month (based on an average assessment of about $3,500).

Griffin and Aust said last week that the increase in the amount of the school bond issue this time will not cause a further increase in the millage rate.

If the bond issue receives voter approval, the school system plans to construct a new high school at the Middle School site. The present high school and elementary school buildings will be closed. The Anderson Junior High building and the Middle School building will be renovated.

In December, the plan called for grades 1-4 to be housed in the renovated Anderson building, with grades 5-8 at the Middle School. Grades 9-12 would be in the new high school which would be built onto the front of the Middle School.

Because of the public kindergarten law, this plan has been slightly altered.

As it now stands, if the voters approve the bond issue on March 26, the kindergarten classes and grades 1-3 will eventually be housed at Anderson, with grades 4-8 at the Middle School. The four new classrooms would be built at the Middle School site to handle the additional students.

The long range plan calls for all classes to eventually be housed at the Middle School site, once it is no longer feasible to maintain the Anderson building. However, Griffin and Aust pointed out, this would probably be 15-20 years from now.

The Education Reform

Act of 1982 requires the establishment of public kindergartens by 1986. Griffin said they could possibly be implemented in Booneville by 1985 if the building and renovation is completed. He said it would also depend on whether or not money is available from the state to help finance the kindergartens.

Baldwyn Cable System

By ED WOODWARD
Contributor

Last week's meeting of the Baldwyn board of mayor and aldermen produced a surprise for Heritage Cablevision officials.

Heritage representative Barney Bramlett discovered that his company has been using an outdated map to determine the Baldwyn city limits.

Heritage has the cable TV franchise in several Northeast Mississippi communities. The company has come under some criticism recently for, among other things, not providing service to all those in their franchise area who want it.

"They (Heritage) came in and said, 'We've got everything except 38 houses covered,'" said Baldwyn Mayor Merle Rowan. "And I said, 'There's more than that left.' And he said, 'Well, here's the map.' And I said,

"You're working from a map that went out of date in 1978."

"The outdated map was a little out of date, and a little their fault, too," Bramlett said later. "Merle had given us an older map, and he wasn't aware of it."

Rowan has since supplied Bramlett with a new map. "So, they now know where the city limits are," he said.

ALTHOUGH Bramlett admits the newer map takes in a larger working area, he said it does not greatly increase the number of homes to be served by Heritage.

"We can't extend the cable to an empty lot out there," he said. "That's unreasonable. But what we tried to do... was to arrange to add as many homes as possible."

Bramlett says expansion of the cable's service area will depend on the new franchise being negotiated by attorneys representing Heritage and the four cities of Booneville, Baldwyn, Saltillo and Guntown.

"But, we're trying to get all the sensitive areas taken care of now," he added.

Bramlett said that, according to the new map, there are approximately 61 homes in Baldwyn that do not have cable service.

"I had figured around 50," he said. "But we counted about 61. I left them (the Baldwyn board) a copy of the map and asked them to identify any areas we might have missed, because we've got to know what it's going to cost us."

He estimated it would take about 12½ miles of cable to service 61 homes. The cost, if the work were to be contracted, would be approximately $10,000 per mile, he said.

"A lot of the work we can do in-house, and do it cheaper," he said.

"And I feel like there are more than 61 homes," he added. "We've missed some down the line."

To help locate any who may have been missed, Mayor Rowan is asking those Baldwyn residents who want cable TV service but do not have it available to turn their names in at the Municipal Building in Baldwyn.

Heritage already has budgeted an expansion into two new areas of Baldwyn: Twitchel Hill, a 24-apartment complex, and the Jumper-Macon Road.

"We're getting with Prentiss County Power, getting all their approvals for the drops, and things like that," Bramlett said. "Both of those areas were already budgeted for 1983."

OFFICIALS from Baldwyn, Booneville, Guntown, and Saltillo met recently with Heritage officials from

Tips

The Energy Conservators 4-H Club are asking Prentiss County residents to help build energy management.

Some of the methods they suggest include:

- Conserve energy on the farm with no tillage planting, with proper engine maintenance, and with the use of automatic waterers for livestock.
- In good weather, hang clothes outside to dry instead of using a dryer.
- Wash clothes in the coldest water possible.
- Install storm windows and doors, or caulk or weatherstrip.
- Dress for the weather.
- Save gasoline by using good driving techniques, by combining trips, and by carpooling.

YOUR TROUBLE IS NERVES, JUST NERVES THAT'S ALL!!!

Nerves are too important to the body to be dismissed so easily. Nerves make possible all movements; nerves transmit all sensations to the brain. Nerves make possible sight, smell, taste and hearing. Nerves control blood pressure, stomach action, blood flow, speech and breathing. Nerves make the bowels move. Nerves make it possible to swallow. In fact, all functions taking place in the body are under control and coordination of the nervous system.

As a Chiropractor I work directly with nerves, and have outstanding results with conditions such as:

MIGRAINE HEADACHES, ASTHMA, SINUS TROUBLE, DIZZINESS, DIABETES, STOMACH DISORDERS, CONSTIPATION, IRRITABILITY, WHIPLASH INJURIES, SCIATICA, LEG PAINS, ARM AND SHOULDER PAINS, BURSITIS, ARTHRITIS, MENSTRUAL DISORDERS, HOT FLASHES, SHORTNESS OF BREATH, POOR CIRCULATION, NERVOUSNESS, DEPRESSION, SLEEPLESSNESS AND MANY OTHER CONDITIONS.

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think the second school bond issue will pass March 26?

LISA ROGERS of 200 Penny Lane, Booneville: "I hope it does because the school is in a really bad shape. We need a new one. I'm a senior at BHS and I think if more of the adults knew what we had to go to school in, I think they would vote for the bond issue."

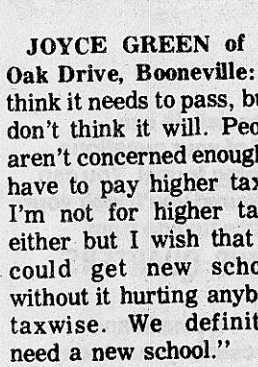

JAMES PERRY of 401 N. Independent St., Booneville: "I don't think it will go over, but I wish it would. I think we need a new high school. People won't vote for it because they think it will make their taxes higher."

MARY BETH TIDWELL of Tidwell Drive, Booneville: "I doubt it because it will raise taxes. I'd like to see it go into effect for our children's sake - but otherwise it would hurt us because it would automatically raise our ad valorem taxes."

TAMMIE WILLIAMS of Route 2, Booneville: "I think this time it will pass. Maybe the first time people didn't realize what it was all about. This time maybe they've got a little more knowledge about it from reading about it in the paper and hearing other comments from other people."

JOYCE GREEN of 112 Oak Drive, Booneville: "I think it needs to pass, but I don't think it will. People aren't concerned enough to have to pay higher taxes. I'm not for higher taxes either but I wish that we could get new schools without it hurting anybody taxwise. We definitely need a new school."

NORMA JONES of Route 3, Booneville: "I think it stands a good chance this time since it was so close the first time. People have had time to think about it and they're also thinking about the new school year. The new school year always brings about plans for the future."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

I should warn you. This is another one of my columns where you may want to hold your nose while you read it! Perhaps someone out there in newspaperland has a solution to a problem faced by one of the Banner employees.

A family of skunks has taken up residence under my friend's home. As you can imagine, this is a delicate situation and a smelly one, too!

She said she wouldn't mind having skunks under the house except they're always raising a "stink" about something.

My fellow employee has tried numerous tactics to entice the skunks to find another home. But none of her ideas have worked.

I will list some of the things she tried. Memorize them. Don't make the same mistakes she did if this ever happens to you.

Rat poison doesn't work. Skunks aren't dumb. They didn't touch the stuff.

Moth balls didn't work either. While she doesn't have any moths under her house, she still has skunks.

Finally, in a last ditch attempt to get rid of the skunks, she went out at midnight and blew a fog horn.

I think the skunks are staying under her home just to see what my friend will do next.

I haven't told her yet, but I think I can solve her skunk problem. All she has to do is read my column to the skunks. Then they will leave faster than she can say "Goodbye skunkies."

By the way, I wish I could tell you which Banner employee has skunks under her house. But she told me if I used her name in my column again she would break the finger I use to type with.

But I think I'll live dangerously and give you some clues to her identity. (A) She works in the ad department. (B) Her name is not Sue Dillard. (C) She has been known to wash turnip greens in the washing machine.

Eyes On Mississippi

Mondale Regains His Lost Favor In Mississippi

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - The case of former Vice-President Walter Mondale being taken to the bosom of Mississippi's Democratic leadership this week may well prove that we do forgive and forget those once considered our enemies in the Democratic Party.

On two occasions where Mondale and Mississippi crossed paths in the distant past, there was certainly no love lost by state Democratic leadership of those times for the loquacious Minnesotan. Now he is an overnight guest in the governor's mansion and is toasted by the likes of Lt. Gov. Brad Dye and House Speaker Buddie Newnam, the latter having admitted in 1980 he hadn't voted for a Democratic presidential nominee in 30 years.

To refresh memories, Mondale first made an imprint on Mississippi's political history at the 1964 Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City. Mondale was then the youthful attorney general of Minnesota and a well known disciple of liberal Sen. Hubert Horatio Humphrey. He had been named chairman of the credentials committee at the 1964 convention, a spot traditionally handed out to give national exposure to rising Democratic figures.

Usually credentials squabbles are tempests in teapots, but 1964 in Atlantic City turned out to be the year of an historic credentials fight, with Mississippi right in the middle of it.

As usual, Mississippi's regular Democratic Party had sent an all-white delegation to the convention. It was challenged by a rag-tag delegation of the "Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party," a predominantly black group that had emerged from the heat of the civil rights summer.

The MFDP include such early indigenous black figures in the state as Aaron Henry, but in actuality, it was a Trojan horse assembled by the radical former New York schoolteacher, Bob Moses, to embarrass the National Democratic Party for having recognized segregated parties in the South.

On nationwide television, the MFDP case for unseating the Mississippi regulars was powerfully presented before Mondale's credentials committee by Mississippi civil rights figure Fannie Lou Hamer.

The impact of Mrs. Hamer's appearance so moved the Democratic powers that Mondale's committee was pressed to give the "Freedom Democrats" from Mississippi entry to the convention and put rigid conditions on the state's party regulars.

Out of the Mondale committee came the mandate that no Southern party organization would be seated in the future if its delegation did not have adequate black representation. That mandate issued in the Mississippi case would reshape the Democratic party structure in the South far more than anyone then realized.

Despite a warm invitation from Mondale to accept the conditions for being seated - a loyalty oath to support the convention nominee, and awarding two delegate-at-large seats to the MFDP, all but four of the regulars walked out and went home.

Moses persuaded the MFDP delegation not to accept the Mondale committee's offer of the two at-large seats because he claimed it was a hollow gesture.

In what became high drama backstage, Mose threatened to invade the Mississippi delegate seats with the full MFDP contingent the night President Lyndon Johnson addressed the convention. Johnson, as published accounts later confirmed, became so fearful a violent disturbance would result that he ordered FBI agents and Secret Service men to surround the Mississippi seats and repel Moses' invasion.

Mondale again appears on the scene as concerns Mississippi in 1970 when he was a U.S. Senator from Minnesota. It was after the tragic violence at Jackson State University in which state troopers and police opened fire on a girl's dormitory during a campus disturbance and two black youths were slain.

Over angry protests from the state leadership at the time, Mondale came down to the campus to conduct an on-the spot inquiry and hear students air their grievances. Certainly no state Democratic leaders in those days would be caught being nice to Mondale, although the Minnesotan was quite mild in his remarks.

Even when Jimmy Carter was campaigning for president in 1976 Mondale was not regarded as a hot pistol to be brought into Mississippi to speak for the party ticket. Democratic senatorial candidate Maurice Dantin in 1978 also had turned down an offer from Mondale to come in and campaign with him.

However, Mondale in a 1979 appearance before a group of Mississippi business leaders finally established a base of friendship here. He expanded on that as the keynoter for the 1981 Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner here, and began building what has become a warm friendship with Gov. Winter.

Winter, he says, can have any role in the Mondale presidential bid that the Mississippi governor decides to take.

Here Sunday night, Mondale said it was because of Winter's model leadership and the "spectacular" progress Mississippi has made that he decided to begin a Southern swing here.

While Mondale now must be regarded as the frontrunner for Mississippi's delegate votes, things could be quite different here in March of 1984 when the state's Democrats will have a new gubernatorial leader calling the shots in the delegate selection caucuses.

Historically, the candidate supported by the incumbent governor is the one who comes away with the lion's share of the delegates.

Who the next governor is going to be is something neither Fritz Mondale, nor most political observers can guess right now.

Legislative Report

Land Made Available For Local Wildlife Area

By REP. BILLY MCCOY
District III
Prentiss and Alcorn Counties

For the past three years Legislators from extreme Northeast Mississippi have worked to secure a large tract of land in our section of the state to be used as a wildlife management area.

The Wildlife Heritage Commission and the Department of Wildlife Conservation presently own and manage thousands of acres in various wildlife management areas in other sections of the state.

The acreage on the John Bell Williams Management Area in Prentiss and Itawamba counties is the only tract of public wildlife land available to Northeast Mississippians.

Last week Representatives Mack Wadkins, Archie Cates, and I were able to amend the appropriations bill for the Department of Wildlife Conservation.

This amendment will allow the Department of Wildlife Conservation to accept, manage, and maintain 19,500 acres of land presently owned by the Federal Government and located in Prentiss and Tishomingo counties in the divide cut area of the Tenn-Tom Waterway.

The Corps of Engineers has offered to give this acreage to the State of Mississippi for a wildlife management area. Along with the land, they have offered the eventual use of some very valuable structures for use as area headquarters and equipment storage.

In return the state must agree to the implementation of a sound management plan which will be used to develop a complete wildlife management area.

The amendment to the Wildlife Appropriations bill will provide the funds necessary to operate the area during its first year.

About 5,000 acres of the area are in disposal areas for placement of spoil removed from the waterway cut. Spoil acres are reclaimed by the Corps of Engineers by planting of grasses and trees on filled disposal sites.

The Bay Springs Pool located on the south end of the area covers approximately 6,700 acres at normal pool elevation.

It is estimated that non-consumptive uses such as water sports, camping, picnicking, and hiking will combine with the consumptive uses of hunting and fishing to provide about 400,000 use days annually by 1990.

The combined recreational opportunities offered on the Bay Springs Pool and on thousands of acres in a wildlife management area should be second to none.

The wildlife hunting area will function under a management plan designed to meet the increased demands for hunting opportunities in Northeast Mississippi.

The estimated cost of development and maintenance of the area during the first five years of operation is about $400,000. First year cost is $122,000 which includes purchase of farm tractors, pickups, radios, boats, motors, trailers, fuel tanks, etc.

The area will require two full time field employees for proper management and control.

The state will qualify for a 75 percent reimbursement from the federal government on approved project cost on the management area.

We are extremely grateful to the Corps of Engineers for making this land available to the State. We believe the Department of Wildlife Conservation can and will make this a model Wildlife Management Area.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Burress family. Your mother is your very best friend and it seems as though you have nothing left when she is gone but one thing for sure - Jesus said he would never leave us or forsake us.

Funeral services were conducted for Mrs. Perline Burress on Tuesday at noon. Our prayers have gone out to the family in this hour of bereavement.

On Sunday we spent the day praising God in song along with the precious word of God. After morning worship, the interdenominational choir went to Mt. Zion in Baldwin for a singing with many of the local churches participating on the program. Those who didn't listen to the broadcast really missed a treat. The first services of the Good Samaritan radio broadcast was held at Beckley Chapel.

It's amazing how the Lord moves in mysterious ways - the words in a song can bring healing to the mind, deliverance to the soul and the precious word can set you totally free from whatever that hinders. I praise God for that.

The Rev. Johnny Poole talked about the responsibilities of being a good Samaritan and how one has to sit down and count the cost. The Good Samaritan will stop along the roadside and help people along the way. He won't be the one who is always looked up to so highly but he will be the one who has said "Lord, I'll do what you want me to do."

The Angelic Choir of Mt. Olive will have their annual choir day on Sunday, March 13, at 2 p.m.

Beckley Chapel Mass Choir will have a Sacred Music time on Saturday, March 19. Many of the local church choirs will participate.

The Reuben Chapel C.M.E. will sponsor an inspirational spring concert on Thursday, March 24, at 6 p.m.

The Gospel Consolers of Corinth will be in concert at Reuben Chapel C.M.E. Church on March 27 at 3 p.m.

If anyone has news to publicize in my article, please feel free to contact me at any time.

Sunday night we were treated with another inspiring message talking about waiting upon the Lord. So you can see we just had a whole day of fellowship with God's people.

Happy birthday wishes go out to Norris Grizzard and Vera Crump.

John Luther (Uncle Luke) and Zephia (Ma Zephia) both are home from the hospital. We are very grateful for that and we continue to ask everyone to remember them in your prayers.

Happy birthday to Rosella Shumpert and Delema Shupert.

He is involved in youth activities at First Baptist Church, where he is a member, and works as a carrier for the Southeast Missourian newspaper.

Local U.D.C. Meets At Northeast

In a recent meeting of the U.D.C., Louise Peeler detailed the life and career of Lt. Gen. Jonathan "Stonewall" Jackson.

She told about this general who was of English and Scotch-Irish stock, of his independent spirit, his devotion to family, and his sense of duty.

Mrs. Peeler related how, though beginning at the bottom of his class at West Point Military Academy, Jackson rose to near the top of his class.

One of the rules Jackson lived by was "You may be whatever you resolve to be." Too, he had the mottoes, "Through life let your principal object be the discharge of duty. Disregard public opinion when it interferes with your duty. Sacrifice your life rather than your word."

Jackson, Mrs. Peeler said, gave God credit for all his victorious battles.

On Aug. 4, 1853, he married Elinor Junkin, who died 14 months later in childbirth. Later he married Mary Anna Morrison.

A stern disciplinarian, Jackson inspired devotion in his men born from respect. His soldiers, Mrs. Peeler said, would have followed him to the end of the earth.

His successes at Manassas, Fredericksburg, and Cedar Creek were crowned by his support of General Lee at Chancellorsville. It was at Chancellorsville that he was shot by his own pickets, mistaking him for the enemy. He died a short time later from pneumonia.

Mrs. Peeler was introduced by Mrs. Eudora Kemp.

Hostesses for the meeting, which met in the Alumni Room of the Frank Haney Union at Northeast, were Mrs. Annie Lee Kemp and Mrs. Quay Michael.

Forestry News

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

"Planting is the Cadillac of reforestation; direct seeding is the Ford. It's not as glamorous and fancy, but it costs much less and works just fine."

That's the way a fellow forester once explained reforestation options to a landowner looking for an inexpensive way to get a good crop of trees started on his property.

He went on to explain that direct seeding - sowing pine seed directly onto the ground, often from a low-flying helicopter - has many advantages over planting: less intensive site preparation is needed, it's less expensive, and it's quicker.

Cut-over areas are usually planted by hand - one seedling at a time. Machine planting works well on abandoned farm land, but stumps and other debris will not allow its use on cut-over land.

In order for these mechanical tree planters to thoroughly cover an area, it must be reasonably clean, with no brush piles, briars, etc., to impede their progress.

Site preparation for planting is often done with a bulldozer, and may consist of crushing or chopping logging slash, or piling the material into windrows, which are burned.

This can be an expensive procedure (frequently costing over $150 per acre) and can cause erosion on hilly land.

Direct seeding only requires that residual hardwood trees be deadened and a sufficient amount of mineral soil be exposed.

This is usually accomplished by carefully controlled burning. It is much cheaper than the intensive methods discussed above, usually costing about one-third as much.

Site preparation is usually the most expensive part of the job. Planting seedlings at an average cost of $54.00 per acre is a bargain, but direct seeding is much cheaper, usually costing less than half this amount.

Speed is an important consideration when choosing a regeneration method. Mississippi's private landowners will reforest over a hundred thousand acres this year, and this work must be done in a planting season lasting only 3½ months.

An area that would take a 10-man crew a whole week to plant can be direct seeded in less than an hour by helicopter.

Direct seeding is the answer to many landowner's reforestation needs, but it is certainly not the entire solution. It does have some disadvantages.

For instance, it won't work on all sites. Low-lying sites in stream bottoms generally can't be direct seeded. Vegetation growing on these moist, fertile soils will quickly overtake and smother out the newly sprouted pine trees, but transplanted nursery seedlings have a head start, and can compete favorably for available nutrients and light.

Tree seedlings can be planted in straight, evenly spaced rows, but a direct seeded forest resembles a natural stand - trees are randomly spaced.

As mechanization comes to the forest, "tree combines" (mechanical harvesters) can work more efficiently among the straight, even rows of a tree plantation, and eventual logging costs will be lower.

With several million acres of private land in need of regeneration in Mississippi, we foresters and the landowners we serve are playing "catch up" ball, so to speak. Direct seeding is one "play" we can use to help even the score.

Interest in this regeneration method is increasing yearly. Thousands of acres in the state were direct seeded last year.

If you're interested in giving this more economical regeneration method a try on your land, get in touch with me and let me look your situation over and advise you on it. Our office is located at 103 West College St. The phone number is 728-6835.

Teachers' COMP Tests To Be Given April 9

All students planning to enter a professional teacher education program at one of the eight public universities in the state this fall must take the COMP test on April 9, 1983. This is the first official testing date for the administration of the College Outcome Measures Program (COMP).

A policy passed in November 1981 by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning requires that all students entering teacher education programs in the fall of 1983 first have successfully completed the COMP.

Serious concern for a higher level of educational achievement led the Board to make this decision a spokesman for the board said.

The COMP is a measure of a student's general education knowledge and that student's ability to speak and write effectively. The COMP will help to guarantee that those individuals who seek teacher training in Mississippi public universities will be competent individuals the spokesman said.

Teachers have been required to take the National Teachers Examination (NTE) since 1971 when the Legislature mandated its requirement. The cutoff score of 850 has been raised to 915 by the State Board of Education. Teachers will be required to achieve the new scores beginning this spring.

bargaining power, for example, if the company should go to a bank to borrow money to upgrade the system."

"They'll look at that," he said. "But they're not going to loan you a penny on a five-year contract."

He added that, even with a long-term contract, there should be an amendment clause.

"There are new channels coming out," he said. "And the city should demand a lot of things."

Bramlett also said that Heritage is working on other specific complaints raised by the mayors in their meeting with Heritage officials.

"I have asked all four mayors to start sending complaints on to me," he said. "So, hopefully, we'll start getting these things and we'll be able to take care of them sooner."

Power Rates Should Be Lower In April

Consumers of TVA power should pay about 5 percent less on their monthly electric bills from April until at least October following the recent approval of a reduction in power rates by the TVA board of directors.

The reduction means 2.8 million consumers of TVA power will pay between 4.7 and 5.2 percent less, depending on their size and type of power use, for power than they paid on February bills, a TVA spokesman said.

"TVA sets its rates to cover our operating expenses and financial obligations," said Hugh Parris, TVA Manager of Power. "This mid-course correction in our rate schedules should prevent us from collecting more than we need."

Residential consumers who use 1,000 kilowatthours per month will pay $2.32 less -- a reduction of about 4.9 percent. Small industrial users will pay about 4.7 percent less, and the largest directly-served industries will save about 5.2 percent.

Under the most common residential rate schedule used by distributors of TVA power, the bill for 1,000 kilowatthours will be $45.26.

The reduction would apply to electric meters read after April 2, and would stay in effect for the remainder of the fiscal year which ends on Sept. 30. March power bills already are subject to a one-time 10 percent revenue credit from fiscal year 1982 operations.

On Feb. 15, Parris

reported that under rates established last August TVA would collect $125 million more than required to meet operating expenses and other financial obligations. This is primarily because TVA's operating and interest expenses will be lower during fiscal year 1983 than originally estimated, he said.

The new estimates show that operating expenses will be down due to lower than expected power sales and economies in operating budgets. The lower interest expense projected for fiscal year 1983 reflects the cancellation and deferral of nuclear construction projects as well as lower than expected interest rates.

The estimates incorporate four months of actual operating experience for the current fiscal year.

State Tournament

Winning Is Easy; It's The Losing That's Difficult!

Pain and disappointment prevail for the moment. Falling short of winning a State Title brings these feelings to the forefront.

But time will pass for the Jumpertown Cardinals and Thrasher Rebels. As it passes, the pain and disappointment will fade away and the brilliant accomplishments of the 1982-83 season will overshadow any shortcomings.

What a season it was for the Prentiss County entries in the 1983 State Tournament. Individually, the clubs placed three men on the All State Tournament team: Perry Perrin and Ricky Burress from Jumpertown; Calvin Davis from Thrasher. The latter two performers will return next season to entertain the local fans.

Collectively, there is no way to measure the amount of pleasure the teams gave to their enthusiastic fans. Both clubs achieved heights nobody thought possible before the season began. That is, nobody but the players and coaches themselves.

JUMPERTOWN

As far as the best records can tell, this year's Redbird club set a school record for victories in a 36-7 season. No other club in District One won as many ballgames as Jumpertown did this season.

Of the 25-plus teams in District One, the Cardinals were the last survivor in the State Tournament. No other club advanced as far.

Hickory Flat, from District Two, won the State B title, and played their toughest game of the District, North Half, and State Tournament against Jumpertown. That's how close the Redbirds came to winning all the marbles.

Post man Perry Perrin and Point guard Kevin Simmons became the most obvious weapons in the Cardinal attack. However, the 1983 Redbirds will be remembered for their superb offensive balance, tenacious man-to-man and pressing defense, along with the biggest intangible: 'chemistry.'

"We had outstanding balance all year," reaffirmed Guyton Wilkerson, who could reap Coach-of-the-Year honors in some circles. "Any of our starters was capable of having a big offensive night."

As teams began to take

Perrin and Simmons out of the Jumpertown offense, they found themselves getting burned by wingmen Ricky Burress or Billy Wayne Prentiss, or postman Bently Green.

"Our bench people (Glen Wilson, Charlie Durham, Barry White) played well when we called on them, too," added Wilkerson.

"This team could hurt you a lot of ways. Burress got more confidence as the season went along and had some big games for us. Prentiss and Green made all kinds of big plays when people started keying on Simmons and Perrin," he explained.

"They have always had a good attitude and they have always worked hard," complimented Wilkerson. "I think we played as well as we possibly could this year. All of our starters graduate, except Burress, and we are really going to miss them. They accomplished an awful lot in a short time."

Next year? "It couldn't have hurt these younger players to get down to Jackson this year. That had to have helped. I know they will be a hard-working bunch, too."

Wilkerson warned, "It will be slow getting started, but I believe we can be good team by the time the new year comes around."

THRASHER

Jacky Rowsey's crew finished the campaign at 24-17, an impressive mark considering the competition. "We played people like Jumpertown, Wheeler, Ashland, and Ingomar right off the bat," recalled Rowsey.

The struggling start didn't discourage the young team. "They began to find out what their roles were. The leaders emerged and they all grew up a little bit."

As a result, Thrasher lost only five games over the last three months of the season. "I know the record wasn't as good as other people's record," admitted Rowsey. But, we knew we had played a lot of good people and we are proud of it. We will play a tough schedule next year, too."

Of the seven players participating in the State Tournament, only one: Keith Trimble, graduates, "He gave us steady play, just like a senior should, all year long," praised Rowsey. "Just getting to the State Tournament was a real help to us," admitted Rowsey. "We have football next year and that should keep a lot of our players busy during part of the fall. I don't think people will put too much pressure on them early, because I believe the players know what they want to do."

Rowsey will counter with Danny Ramsey and Calvin Davis at the guards.

"If they continue to improve, I don't know if anybody will have as good a pair of guards," admitted Rowsey. "But, they will have to improve, though."

"Paul McCutchen shot the ball real well for us this year and that helped Bill Windham on the inside," explained the young coach. "Our two players off the bench in the State Tour-namment, Roy White and George Leslie, can really help us, too."

Things are looking up in Thrasher, one of the youngest clubs to make the State Tournament

"If they improve as much next year as they did during the season this year, then we could have another good team," figured Rowsey.

After long last, the curtain has fallen on the 1983 roundball season in Prentiss County. The joy will remain, long after the disappointment fades away.

These teams have become the standards of excellence which judge future clubs at their respective schools. Jumpertown and Thrasher are Champions in every sense of the word. The results of one game will never change that.

LOOKING FOR RECEIVER -- Jumpertown's Barry White looks for a receiver in action against Bogue Chitto last week in Jackson. The Cardinals prevailed, only to have their hopes dashed by Pelahatchie in the semi-finals.

After Beating Bogue Chitto

Jumpertown Loses Championship Bid To Pelahatchie In Semi-Final Matchup

Close, but no cigar.

"They are a great bunch of boys," smiled Guyton Wilkerson, praising his Jumpertown Cardinals. "I couldn't have asked for any better boys than these."

Wilkerson's boys gave everything they had in quest for a State B Title. Jumpertown bumped a good Bogue Chitto club, 74-70, on Wednesday afternoon, but ran out of miracles against Pelahatchie in the semifinals, 69-57, Friday night.

"Our players were sick," revealed Wilkerson. "But, that sounds like you are making excuses and we don't do that. We got beat by a good team after we beat a good team."

DESPITE their physical limitations from bouts with colds and flu, the Cardinals rallied for the upteenth time to drop Bogue Chitto. Unfortunately, against Pelahatchie the Cardinals simply ran out of gas. "The effort was there, but they just couldn't go anymore."

But, don't shed any tears for the Cardinals, finishing the season with a 36-7 sheet. "They kept surprising me all year long," admitted Wilkerson. "I believe they got the most out of what they had."

Jumpertown needed their best effort to get past a talented, and powerful Bogue Chitto club on Wednesday. Compounding the Cardinal problems was the Bobcat's superb 6-5 forward, Greg Cameron, who burned the nets for 24 points from every spot on the floor.

To make matters worse, the Cards blew an early lead and found themselves trailing 56-44 late in the third quarter. Jumpertown's best offensive weapon of the day, junior swingman Ricky Burress, was nursing a tender ankle, too.

Nevertheless, Jumpertown flourished in the face of such adversity in 1982-83.

"We got beat by a good team after we beat a good team."

Burress, who took scoring honors with 25 points, continued his torrid shooting pace of 11-13 from the field. The Cardinal duo of forward Perry Perrin and point guard Kevin Simmons began to control the tempo.

Seniors Billy Prentiss and Bently Green clamped down on defense and filled their offensive roles. Sure enough, the gap began to tighten up until the count was knotted at 64-64 with two minutes left.

THE CLUBS swapped a pair of buckets until the ever-present Burress hit a bomb out of the corner to give the Redbirds a 70-68 bulge with :43 left.

After Perry Perrin swatted an upcourt pass out of bounds, the big-play senior knifed in on the in-bounds play to force the game's biggest steal. After Simmons slapped the loose ball around, Green came up with the sphere and fired it back to Simmons.

Forced to foul, Bogue Chitto sent Simmons to the line with :12 left. The tiny court leader nailed both shots to give the Cards an insurmountable edge. Billy Prentiss added another pair of charity tosses at the buzzer for the final margin.

"They just outthusted us," praised Bogue Chitto's gracious coach, Don Presley. "I played against them when they won the State back in 1971 and they did the same thing to us back then."

Following Burress' sterling offensive performance was Perrin and Simmons with 17 points apiece. Perrin pulled down a game-high eight boards, while Simmons handed out a game-high six assists.

Friday night's matchup with Pelahatchie proved the humanity of the Cardinals. After climbing so many mountains all year, the Redbirds were simply unable to reach down for anything extra when they needed it.

Murphy's law certainly applied to Jumpertown. The semifinal featured the worst shooting performance of the season for the Cardinals, hitting a paltry 24-80 shots from the field. The free throw line, so valuable in the win over Bogue Chitto, yielded a mere 9-17 against Pelahatchie.

Despite the adversity, Jumpertown actually led early in the second half, 32-31, before the clock struck midnight on the Cinderella Cardinals. Over the next six minutes, the Cards could hit only 2-15 from the field, while Pelahatchie hit the Cards with a 17-4 scoring blitz that decided matters.

Shannon King, Pelahatchie's fine 6-4 center, took advantage of Jumpertown foul trouble inside to free himself for 24 points and 20 rebounds. The Cardinals, trailing as much as 20 points early in the fourth quarter, cut the margin to nine points with three minutes left. At that point, King reasserted himself to squelch any comeback hopes.

"I KNOW Jumpertown didn't play well," admitted Pelahatchie's mentor, Bill Gray. "That's what worried me. We weren't that far ahead and I was afraid they might snap out of it in time. We were happy to beat a good time."

Wilkerson knew his club couldn't snap out of it.

After they cooled off at halftime, it was almost impossible for them to get it going again under the circumstances. They tried, but they just couldn't."

In his final performance, Perry Perrin poured in 21 points and grabbed 14 boards to pace the Redbird attack. Ricky Burress added another 14 points and 10 boards. However, the Cardinal backcourt, so brilliant all year, could manage only 6-33 field goal attempts and four assists. However, Perrin and Burress were named to the All-State Tournament team.

"We were disappointed, of course," reflected Wilkerson. "But, these boys came so far and they know how proud I am of them. I couldn't ask for any more."

Wheeler 8th Graders Take County Junior High Title

Wheeler's 8th grade boys battled from behind to beat Booneville, 61-59, in the final minute of the final game at Thrasher to capture their second consecutive Prentiss County Junior High title.

The Devils led much of the game and held a 38-33 half-time edge.

Booneville would not relinquish its lead until the one-minute mark when Wheeler went ahead on Lonnie McKee's free throw.

With five seconds remaining, Clay Johnson had a chance to tie the score with a free throw, but he did not connect and the Eagles came away with the rebound.

Booneville was forced to foul. Keith Star made a free throw to put Wheeler ahead for good.

Johnson and Tim Jumper combined to score 57 of Booneville's 59 points. Johnson got 34 and Jumper 23.

Wheeler's scoring was more evenly balanced. Todd Swinney and Brad Richey were tied for high scorer at 15 points each. McKee scored 13, Anthony Gamble 12, and Tony Friar 5.

The finals at Thrasher were the fourth time this season that Wheeler and Booneville 8th grade boys have met, with Wheeler winning all four games. Wheeler's overall record is 28-2.

Both teams are competing this week in the Five County Junior High Tournament at Northeast Junior College.

In the county tournament last week, Wheeler also took the 'B' team title, downing Baldwyn 27-25.

Bigger, Stronger East Marion Douses Thrasher's Hopes

"We just couldn't get a break when we needed it," began a reflective Jacky Rowsey, Thrasher mentor. "When you get to the State Tournament, the team that gets the big break at the end is usually going to win."

Unfortunately for the Thrasher Rebels, it was the bigger, stronger, and older Eagle team from East Marion that got the breaks. As a result, the Rebels made a quick exit from the 1983 State Tournament, falling in a 76-70 heartbreaker.

"We played a good game," complimented Rowsey, recalling the details of the game. "We shot well from the field and the free throw line. But, it was a physical game and that always hurts the smaller team."

ON PAPER, the Rebels didn't seem to have a prayer. The South Mississippi club featured a front line that resembled the Appalachian Mountains: 6-7, 6-6, and 6-3. The backcourt wasn't tiny either: 5-11 and 6-0.

What the Eagles didn't figure on was the quickness of the Thrasher mini-backcourt 5-7 duo of Calvin Davis and Danny Ramsey. At the same time, the Rebels fought tooth and nail for every rebound, loose ball, and position on the court.

But, in the end it wasn't enough.

"I thought for a minute we were going to make it," smiled Rowsey. "When we got that three-point lead late in the game, I thought we were in good shape. But, we didn't get a break the rest of the way."

Thrasher had scrapped to a 64-61 lead with 2:44 left in the contest when the roof fell in. In the next 90 seconds, East Marion ran off 11 unanswered points to take control of the contest.

"We got some good shots and we went to the free throw line," recalled Rowsey. "But, we just couldn't get them to fall in for us. We shot well during the game, but they wouldn't go in when we really needed it. On defense, we set up to draw charging fouls, but we didn't get the calls."

In the game's final minute, Thrasher's lightning-bug guards: Davis, Ramsey, and Roy White pulled the Rebels within four points, but could get no closer.

East Marion's twin towers, 6-7 Demitris Abram and 6-6 John Brown hit for 26 and 23 points, respectively, while teaming for 19 rebounds.

"They were just too big and too many of them for us to handle on the boards," admitted Rowsey. "But, our kids gave it all they had."

THRASHER led at intermission, 36-34, before the taller Eagles turned the tide in the third quarter. East Marion exploded to a 55-46 margin before the gutty Rebels turned it on for the final time.

Paul McCutchen, Thrasher's smooth shooting forward, began to heat up from the outside for most of his 18 points, while inside Bill Windham began clearing the boards, despite his foul troubles.

McCutchen's two free throws gave the Rebels their biggest lead of the contest, 64-61, with 2:44 remaining, setting the stage for East Marion's heroics.

Flashy Calvin Davis led the Rebel attack with 20 points and a team-high nine rebounds. Time after time the charismatic guard challenged East Marion's bigger players for crowd-pleasing baskets.

"I'm very proud of all of them," smiled Rowsey. "I can't fault their effort. It was a matter of us not getting any big baskets, or big calls, when we needed it."

While Davis and McCutchen carried the bulk of the offensive load, Windham and Ramsey chipped in with 10 points apiece to give Thrasher balanced scoring. From the field, Thrasher hit 30-56 shots, while burning the free throw line with 10-13 for the night.

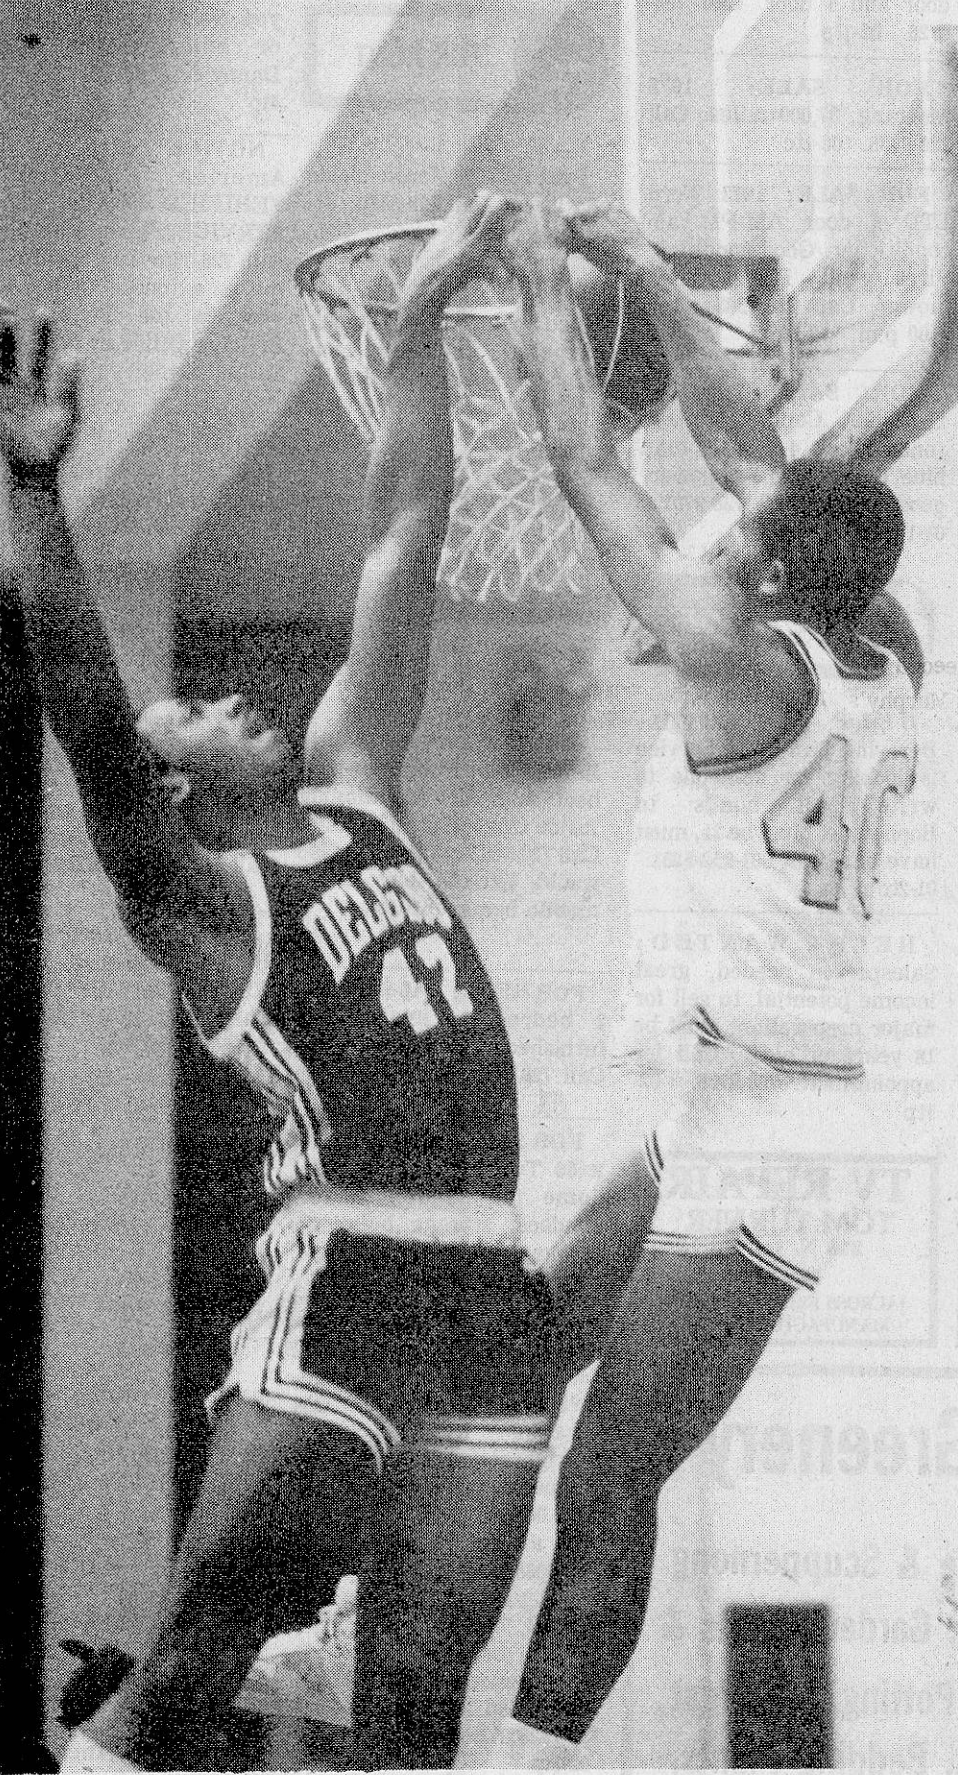

For his trouble, Davis was named to the All-State Tournament team. Ironically, Davis was the only guard in the 'BB' class selected to the prestigious squad.

"This year a case of a young team growing up as the season went along," figured Rowsey. "Getting to play here this year really helped us."

Next year, it could be the Thrasher Rebels that get the big breaks.

Tournament Losses End Season

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

Both Northeast Junior College Tiger basketball teams ended their respective seasons last week with semi-final losses in the region 23 tournament.

The men's tourney, which was played at Northeast, was won by Copiah-Lincoln, and the Ladies' tourney, at Northwest, was won by the Northwest Lady Rangers.

The Lady Tigers won their first-round game over Holmes, 70-63. Led by Brenda Mayes with 22 points, Northeast was able to get the offensive edge on their opponent.

Dianne Harris and Tina Gardner were good for ten points each in the game.

Against Northwest in the semi's, the Lady Tigers "were intimidated" in the final minutes according to coach Ricky Ford.

Northeast had a one-point lead at the half, but in the fourth quarter Northwest was able to go ahead and eventually pull away.

The Lady Rangers won the game, 84-68 to end the Lady Tigers 1982-83 season. Mayes had 27 points, Harris 15, and Ann McBrayer 10 in the game.

The Lady Tigers finished the season an impressive 27-8 record, but one that Ford isn't satisfied with.

Ford, traditionally a perfectionist with his ball teams, says plainly that his team "didn't reach the goals it had set."

Ford said that these goals were to win the state championship (which the Lady Tigers lost in the semi's) and to advance to the national tournament (which they failed to do last week).

Coach Ford admitted that he "thought we would do better. Our record was good, but their is only one state champion."

Ford did say, however, that he was very pleased with his team's attitude and effort they put into the entire season.

He is also very optimistic about next season.

IN FRONT OF a large hometown audience Wednesday night, the Tigers defeated Delgado Junior College out of New Orleans in a battle of the offenses.

The Tigers won in the end, 112-109.

Coach Richard Mathis

admitted that his team couldn't stop Delgado's offense, but of course the Tigers kept up and stayed ahead in a game that Mathis said he wasn't sure about until the final buzzer.

Northeast leading scorer Anthony Anderson paced the Tigers with 45 points while Raphael King had 31 and Marlon McGaughy 21.

Friday night the Tigers were victims of high percentage shooting by Gulf Coast Junior College's guards.

Gulf Coast defeated

Northeast, 88-80.

Anderson had 26 and King 19 in the game.

Mathis said he was very pleased with his season as a whole.

"The main thing we did all year that I was most pleased with is that we played hard."

When asked if he expected to have the season he did, Mathis laughed and said "If you had told me at the first of the year we would have this record, I would have questioned your right to walk on the street!"

Coon Hunters Plan Friday Night Meet

The Northeast Mississippi Coon Hunters Association will have a trophy and night light hunt Friday, March 11, at 7:30 at the club. Entry fees will be $3 for the trophy hunt and $8 for the night light hunt.

Devils To Compete In Kossuth Jamboree

The Booneville Blue Devil football team, led by coach Charles 'Doc' Gullett, will complete their spring football training with a spring jamboree tonight at 5:30 at Kossuth High School. The Blue Devils, in preparing for their 1983-84 football season, have been back to the basics for the last few weeks.

In the jamboree the Devils will match their talents with four other area high school teams which have been through their own training programs.

Teams participating include: Booneville, Baldwyn, Kossuth, Ripley, and Biggersville.

Each team will play one quarter apiece with each of the other teams until the round robin is complete.

NOTICE

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Booneville, Mississippi, took up for consideration the matter of submitting to the qualified electors of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District a certain proposal for the issuance of general obligation bonds of said District to raise money for the purpose of erecting, repairing, equipping, remodeling, and enlarging school buildings and related facilities, including gymnasiums, auditoriums, lunch rooms, and libraries. After a discussion of the subject, Alderman Houston offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

RESOLUTION CALLING AND PROVIDING FOR THE HOLDING OF A SPECIAL ELECTION WITHIN THE BOONEVILLE MUNICIPAL SEPARATE SCHOOL DISTRICT PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI.

WHEREAS, the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Booneville, Mississippi (hereinafter referred to as the "Governing Body"), acting for and on behalf of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District, Prentiss County, Mississippi (hereinafter referred to as the "District"), does hereby find, determine, adjudicate and declare as follows:

2. The Governing Body is authorized and empowered by the provisions of Sections 37-59-1 through 37-59-5, Mississippi Code of 1972, to call an election on the proposition hereinafter set forth and to issue the hereinafter described bonds if at least three-fifths (3/5) of the qualified electors of the District who vote in such election shall vote in favor of the issuance of such bonds.

3. The assessed valuation of taxable property within the District, as ascertained by the last completed assessment for taxation, is as follows:

Real Property, $10,005,137.00;

Personal Property, 2,668,730.00;

Public Utilities, 780,717.00; Motor Vehicles, 151,873.00; TOTAL, $14,946,457.00.

4. The District now has no outstanding bonded indebtedness.

5. The amount of bonds of the District hereinafter proposed to be issued, to-wit, Two Million Two Hundred Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($2,225,000), will not result in the imposition on any of the property in the District of an indebtedness for school purposes of more than fifteen percent (15 percent) of the assessed assessed valuation and will not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation of indebtedness applicable to the District.

6. The purposes for which the proposed bonds are to be issued, as hereinafter set forth in the body of this Resolution, are purposes authorized by Sections 37-59-1 through 37-59-5, Mississippi Code of 1972, and the Governing Body is authorized to call an election to be held in the District for the purpose of submitting to the electors thereof the proposition hereinafter set out.

Don't do your taxes without your $2,000 deduction.

Quick, before you file your 1982 federal income taxes. Stash away up to $2,000 in a First Bank IRA Tax Shelter, and you can deduct every penny. In a 50% tax bracket, that could save you $1,000 on taxes, $600 in a 30% bracket. Plus, you don't pay taxes on the interest until you withdraw your money.

Working couples can put in up to $4,000 from their joint income, and save twice as much. For couples with one spouse working, the maximum contribution is $2,250.

Save thousands on taxes.

The big tax break is why a First Bank IRA is better than almost any other investment. Other investments may pay you as much or more interest. But they don't give you the tax break which, over the years, can save you thousands and thousands in taxes. See the chart to get an idea of how much. You'll be amazed.

Almost everybody's eligible.

You can contribute to a First Bank IRA Tax Shelter even if you have retirement or profit-sharing plans at work. The only requirement is that you earn the money you contribute.

Hurry for '82 deduction.

To take the IRA deduction on your '82 taxes, you must make your contribution before April 15, 1983. You do not have to put in the full $2,000. Stash away any amount up to your maximum — $500, $1,000, whatever.

Your First Bank IRA Tax Shelter money is absolutely safe because it's insured to $100,000 by the F.D.I.C.

Contribute monthly for '83.

Tough to come up with a big lump sum? At First Bank, you can contribute to your IRA Tax Shelter monthly. And now's the time to start for 1983. Start in January, and you'll only need $166 a month for $2,000 by the end of the year. Or you can put in less every month. We can automatically withdraw your monthly IRA payment from your First Bank checking account.

Don't let a big tax deduction slip through your fingers. Visit any First Bank location now to make your '82 contribution, and to start your automatic monthly contributions for '83. You can save a bundle on taxes.

Tax break and a small fortune for retirement.

Start at this age and contribute the maximum each year until you are 65.	Total contributions at $2000 every year to age 65.	An individual contributing $2000 a year could have this amount by age 65.	Amount of Taxes deferred on interest earned by age 65 in 30% bracket.	Total tax deductions in 30% bracket.

* Based on an assumed interest rate of 9% a year. The actual amount accumulated will be determined by how much you contribute and existing interest rates between now and age 65.
Penalties for early withdrawal are forfeiture of an amount equal to six months' interest and 10% tax in addition to regular income tax on amount withdrawn.

For Out Of State Students

UNA Reduces Tuition

The University of North Alabama in Florence has taken steps which will make it easier for students from neighboring Mississippi and Tennessee to attend the university.

The UNA board of trustees, in a special meeting Feb. 25, lowered the out of state fee by 54 percent. The fee, which had been $435 per semester, has been reduced to $200 per semester effective with the fall semester 1983.

"We are pleased with the board's action," said UNA director of admissions J. Hollie Allen. "This step will reduce significantly the financial burden on those students in Tennessee and Mississippi who plan to attend UNA next fall."

A sizable percentage of UNA's enrollment has traditionally been composed of students residing in neighboring counties of the adjoining states, he said. Complete information concerning costs, courses available and enrollment may be obtained by writing the Director of Admissions, University of North Alabama, Florence, Alabama 35632. Telephone (205) 766-4100, extension 318.

STRONG PIK PROGRAM PARTICIPATION IMPORTANT

The current situation of large supplies and weak prices could be reversed if the payment-in-kind (PIK) program goal of a 23-million-acre reduction in wheat, feed grains, cotton and rice is reached.

The PIK sign-up is under way and will end on Friday, March 11.

This will be achieved, however, only through large numbers of farmers participating.

By further reducing 1983 plantings of these crops from the previously announced acreage reduction and land diversion programs, PIK will bring substantial reductions in surplus stocks and crop production, put agriculture's supply more in line with demand, and create an improvement in market prices.

For participating in PIK, farmers will receive a certain amount of the commodity that he or she would have grown on these acres.

Farmers can receive 80 to 95 percent of their established farm yield by participating in the program. PIK commodities will come from CCC loans, farmer owned reserve and government-owned stocks and will be distributed to farmers during the normal harvest period.

The payment-in-kind will be in terms of no. 1 wheat, except no. 2 for soft red winter wheat, no. 2 yellow corn, no. 2 grain sorghum, and the historical area average quality for cotton and rice.

Farmers entering PIK with outstanding reserve or regular price support loans must make the commodities under loan available to the extent of their PIK, to the Commodity Credit Corporation for use in the program in return for liquidation of their loans.

They cannot forfeit or redeem their commodities under loan and then draw additional commodities from CCC stocks. Loans which mature before producers receive their payment-in-kind will be extended and storage will be paid from maturity until receipt of the PIK.

USDA officials estimate that PIK will reduce total wheat, corn and sorghum production by 10 percent; cotton by 20 percent and rice by 15 percent. When excess supplies are reduced to a level which is more in line with demand, the program will go out of existence.

USDA TO ISSUE DATA ON ACREAGE REDUCTION, PAYMENT-IN-KIND PROGRAMS

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service will issue a special report March 22 at 3 p.m. detailing farmers' sign-up in the 1983 acreage reduction and payment-in-kind programs.

According to agency administrator William E. Kibler, the report will include data on the number of farms with base acreages and the number of farms enrolled, as well as total base crop acreage and the number of acres enrolled for feed grains, rice, wheat and upland cotton.

He said the release will carry both national and state totals for each of the four program commodities.

PIK TAX RELIEF LEGISLATION ADVANCES IN CONGRESS

"Farmers considering participation in PIK who are concerned about the amount of income tax due on the PIK commodities they would receive can be assured Congress has begun to act to remedy the problem" according to Everett Rank Administrator of the Service. "That first and all-important step was taken with Sub-committee approval of new Legislation on Feb. 23."

Rank was commenting on unanimous approval of a bill by the Sub-committee on Select Revenue Measures of the House Committee on Ways and Means.

"The bill the Sub-committee passed authorizes payment of taxes on the value of the PIK commodity received until it is sold," Rank said. "While the provisions of this bill apply only to land withdrawn from production during the 1983 crop-year for participation in the 1983 PIK program, it does contain all the other changes the Department of Agriculture is seeking."

Rank cited testimony before the Sub-committee by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury for Tax Policy, John E. Chapoton, who covered the questions on taxes surrounding the PIK program.

Chapoton said that "The Treasury strongly supports Legislation which would remove any disincentives in current tax Law to farmers' participation in the PIK program."

Chapoton summed up Treasury's overall position: "We believe that farmers who receive PIK payments should be treated for all purposes of the Code as if they had grown the received commodities and that participation in a Department of Agriculture program should be treated as a farming activity. We support legislation that will remove any impediment to the PIK program which current tax law may create."

"The first legislative step has been taken," Rank concluded, "and it is a very important step," he said. "Producers should know that the Administration and, as indicated by the Sub-committee's action, the Congress, are working to resolve this very crucial issue as quickly as possible."

"House and Senate leaders have promised prompt action on this issue, and the probability of its being resolved by the final PIK sign-up date has improved considerably," he said.

MARCH 31, LAST DAY FOR WHEAT LOANS, GRAIN RESERVE

Prentiss County farmers are reminded that March 31 is the final day to obtain price support loans or enter their 1982 wheat, oats and barley in the farmer-owned reserve.

Loans for corn, sorghum, cotton and soybeans and entries into the farmer-owned feed grain reserve may be made until May 31.

Many farmers use the commodity loan program to obtain interim operating capital or to hold their grain for future delivery. Increased loan levels and low market prices have had some impact on the amount of participation in the program.

As of March 7, local farmers had obtained federal price support loans on more than 151,805 bushels of their 1982 grain crops. County loan rates per bushel are: wheat $3.50, oats $1.44, corn $2.74, sorghum $4.31 per cwt and soybeans $5.08.

Ordinary loans have a nine-month maturity date with variable monthly interest rates.

To be eligible for price support loans, farmers need to participate in acreage reduction and land diversion programs.

The primary function of the price support loan program is to offer farmers a tool for marketing their grain.

Historically, during harvest time our market prices are generally less than what they are during other times of the year, and the loan program does provide farmers with an opportunity to take advantage of any possible increase in market prices at a later time.

Prentiss County farmers interested in obtaining loans or entering their 1982 small grain crops in the reserve should contact the local ASCS office before the March 31 deadline.

For Justice Court Judges

Extensive Training Necessary

Come Jan. 1, 1984, Mississippi's 415 Justice Court judges will be reduced to 195 - a thinning of the ranks brought on by a federal court ruling and a subsequent major overhaul of the system by the Mississippi Legislature.

To Bob Doyel at the University of Mississippi less means more. The law requires extensive training for the new judges before they can even hear a case, then an annual training program to keep them abreast of new judicial knowledge.

It means a lot of work before the November elections, compiling 32 hours of curriculum which the elected justices will study before taking office Jan. 1, and setting up 18 hours of study for each succeeding year in a full four-year sequence of continuing education.

It means some concerns about money too. Doyel, associate professor of law and director of the University's Court Education Program, is in charge of the training operation through one of the four parts of the program - the Mississippi Judicial College. Even while beginning to work hard on developing the study courses, he wonders how it will all be financed by the state.

Last year the Court Education Program was created by the Legislature and funded by a $1 per case filing fee in the state courts and with federal grants. This year, the grants aren't available and Doyel hopes the $1 fee collections will cover his operating costs.

He thinks the total Justice Court training package could cost an additional $30,000 to $40,000. This includes the courses for the new justices, as well as another mandated program for their clerks.

But, confident that the money will be provided to meet the dictates of the new law, Doyel is heading a team of lawyers who are already underway with the work.

Training the justices is nothing for the University or the Judicial College, but in the past it has been strictly voluntary. The new law makes it mandatory.

It will result in a much-improved Justice Court system, Doyel thinks, and will round out an overall Mississippi training program that he considers to be among the best in the nation.

"Mississippi is a leader in judicial education," said Doyel. "Maybe only one or two other states devote more resources to training its judges and prosecutors. This new program should really enhance the dispensation of justice in the Justice Courts because the training is now required, and the amount will be increased substantially."

Doyel explained how the Justice Court system came to be overhauled in Mississippi.

The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in the Brown vs. Vance case in 1981 that the defendant had been denied his constitutional rights because of the manner of operation of the Mississippi Justice Courts, specifically that they collected fees based on the number of cases handled which could adversely affect their administration of justice.

The court ruling prompted the Legislature to re-vamp the system, setting up salaries rather than fees for Justice Court judges, specifying the training requirements, allotting for each county a clerk to orderly assign case loads to each of the county's Justice Court judges, and reducing the number of judges significantly, partly to finance the new salaried operation.

Doyel expects all of the 192 justices to be on hand for the post-election training, barring illness, since they can't legally function without the 32-hour course. It will likely be a week-long seminar held in Jackson.

The law makes no distinction in qualification. An experienced trial lawyer or judge takes a training course the same as a novice. But Doyel and his associates are addressing the issue of different types of training geared to the different educational backgrounds and experience of the participants. This is strictly in the "thinking state" at present.

Under the current system, there are five Justice Court judges in all counties except Hinds, which has 10. The new system allows for five in Hinds and Harrison, four in Lauderdale, Jackson and Washington and two or three in the remaining counties. Each county will have one clerk.

Cattle Feed Needs Attention

By TINA LORENTZEN
Soil Conservationist
USDA - Soil
Conservation Service
Booneville Field Office

Just as children need to eat nutritious foods to grow and thrive, so do livestock. For optimum growth potential, cattle need their tall fescuegrass pastures properly maintained.

Proper maintenance begins with proper fertilization. Since fescue pastures are grown two ways (fescue only or fescue and legume mixture), their nitrogen needs are different. Straight fescue pastures, in lieu of a soil test, need 66 pounds nitrogen per acre (200 pounds ammonium nitrate) about March 1, and nothing else as long as phosphorus (P) and potassium (K) were applied last fall. If no fertilizer was applied last fall, spread out 500 pounds of 13-13-13 instead.

In a fescue-legume (red or white clover or both) system, the nitrogen needed is a different story as long as 40 percent or more of the stand is in clover. Interestingly, red clover can produce up to 110 pounds of nitrogen per acre per year and white clover up to 180 pounds. When both clovers are grown, they produce nearly 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre per year. Therefore, no nitrogen needs to be applied to legumes, and only P and K if it was not put out last fall. If nitrogen is mistakenly applied to your fescue-legume stand, the clover will stop producing nitrogen and use what is put out. Furthermore, the fescue will likely shade out the clover.

Also for good management, both straight fescue and fescue-legume pastures may need one to two tons of lime per acre to ensure a soil pH of between 6.0 and 7.0. An optimum pH is 6.5. It is best to refer to a soil test analysis for your liming needs.

Another facet of good management is the prevention of overgrazing. Do not allow cattle to graze the pasture to less than 3 or 4 inches. Rotate cattle between pastures to give the grass a chance to reach about 6 inches in height, then graze again.

Just by using a little forethought in pasture management, you can reap large rewards. More information on tall fescuegrass management can be obtained at the Soil Conservation Service office in Booneville, or call 728-3544.

Industry Created 7,000 Jobs In 1982

Capital investment of $215,381,453 in new and expanded industrial plants during 1982 resulted in 7,556 new jobs in Mississippi, according to data released this week by the state Department of Economic Development.

From Jan. 1 through Dec. 31 capital investment in 62 manufacturing plants totaled $68,558,000 statewide. With 4,039 jobs created by these new locations, the number of 1982 plant locations was slightly lower than 1981 plant start-ups.

During the past year,

$146,823,453 was invested in the expansion or improvement of 235 existing manufacturing facilities. This resulted in the creation of 3,517 additional jobs.

The 60 Mississippi counties that realized this industrial growth saw increases in manufacturing categories such as, lumber and wood products, apparel manufacturing, plastics, transportation equipment and electrical machinery equipment.

Some of the major new industry locations during 1982 include: C.A.E.

Plastics, Inc., an injection molding plant in Greenwood; Grain Fed Fish, a catfish processing plant in Indianola; King Seeley Thermos Company, a Batesville plant which produces outdoor living products; and Pilliod of Mississippi, a furniture manufacturer in Meridian.

Major expansions during the year include: Kerr-McGee Chemical Corporation, a chemical plant in Hamilton; Chata Enterprises, a wiring harness manufacturer in Philadelphia; and Callon Petroleum Company in Natchez.

Commenting on the 1982 totals, William T. Hackett, Jr., executive director of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development, says "This is not where we want to be by any means, but given the depressed economy we are experiencing nation wide, I feel we have made progress in Mississippi in 1982."

"Moreover, I believe that with the programs we have in place we will see greater economic growth in Mississippi in 1983," he said.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Charles L. Potts

Dear Lord... Please Help Me Cope With Death

John 11:25, Jesus Said, "I Am The Resurrection, And The Life . . ."

We know all too well how much the death of a loved one or friend really hurts. . . and the more we have invested emotionally in the lost person, the more threatened we feel. "Lord... we feel so helpless. . . our power to be ourselves and just to be normal is on the skids." With the help of God, the family, and good friends we feel that maybe we can make it. For some the feelings persist until reassurance comes from a counselor or other professionals. People express grief in various ways. . . they try to cope with the painful loneliness they feel for the lost one. And while Jesus assures us that he is "the resurrection" . . . our rituals of mourning becomes a vehicle of healing. The emotional acceptance of death must not be blocked by stoically going on "with things as usual" . . . as if to deny what has happened. Grief should not be "blocked" or "delayed" by substitutes, such as alcohol or pills. Such hinders the normal course of grief. . . and all too often outcrops later in unexplained emotional disturbances. Jesus saw the value in this approach, "Blessed are they that mourn". . . not "they that grieve." Grief is the "hurting" for which "mourning" . . . properly ritualized through funerals and memorial services. . . becomes the "healing" process.

This writer can give personal witness to the value of viewing the body after death. One of the most difficult emotional experiences that comes to the family of one lost in war is the memorial service without the presence of the body. Often pictures and other memorabilia were used in efforts to "substitute" for the body. Normal grief deferred or prolonged can cause so much irrational behaviour such as guilt, anger, uncontrollable tears, a lack of sleep and general health problems. Learning to cope with the crisis of death will never come easy. . . but it comes. "Thank you, Lord, for helping us to know the truth of death and resurrection."
