Community Easter Service Planned

The Community Sunrise Service sponsored annually by the Prentiss County Ministerial Association will begin at 6:30 a.m. Easter Sunday in the Bonner Arnold Coliseum at Northeast Junior College.

The program will feature a combined youth choir, special music by the Larry Hill family, and a message by the Rev. Joe Pack Arnold of the Booneville Presbyterian Church.

Wade Irvin, Minister of Music at the First Baptist Church, will conduct the congregational singing.

"The area pastors and church leaders have planned a very inspiring program to celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ," said the Rev. Milton Koon, president of the Ministerial Association, in urging everyone to attend.

The Rev. Arnold is one of the newest ministers in the county. He moved to Booneville from Leland, where he was director of the Care Unit, an alcohol rehabilitation center at the Delta Medical Center.

Arnold is a graduate of Columbia Theological Seminary and Southwestern at Memphis. He also had a year of clinical pastoral education at South Carolina State Hospital.

Three Arrested In College Auto Theft

Three local men have been arrested in connection with the theft of a 1979 Pontiac Trans Am stolen from Yarber Hall at Northeast Junior College on March 7.

Benny King and David Holder, ages and addresses unavailable, were both charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft, according to Booneville Police Chief Bobby Lambert.

Ronnie Boren of Marietta has been charged with receiving stolen property, Lambert said.

The 1979 Pontiac Trans Am belonged to Randy Wall. The car was recovered by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department March 12 on the Old Free Will Church Road near the Altitude Community. The front cap and wheels were missing.

According to Lambert, the complete front cap, four wheels and tires, were found at Boren's shop on the old Marietta Road located about one mile north of Marietta Friday night of last week.

All three men are out of jail on $5,000 bond each.

Unemployment Hits 15.5% In February

Prentiss County's unemployment rate continues its upward climb, according to the latest figures from the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

The Prentiss County unemployment rate increased from January's figure of 14.8 percent to 15.5 percent in February.

Statewide, unemployment stood at 12.4 percent in February, up from January's 12.2 percent jobless rate.

The counties with the highest unemployment rates in February were Sharkey (26.6 percent), Tunica (24 percent); Winston (22 percent), George (20.8 percent) and Attala (20.5 percent).

Issaquena County, with 5.8 percent, had the lowest rate. Rankin was next with 6.8 percent, followed by Oktibbeha with 8.0 percent.

The national rate for February was 11.3 percent.

City Voters Reject School Bond Issue

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Round two of the fight for better school facilities in the Booneville Municipal Separate School district ended Saturday in an even greater defeat than did round one.

And, if there is to be a round three, chances appear remote that it will involve the same plan that voters have rejected twice.

Despite less than ideal weather conditions, more Booneville voters turned out

Saturday to vote against a $2,225,000 school bond issue than had voted against a similar bond issue when the city originally proposed it in December.

A total of 1,399 city residents voted Saturday. Of these, 731 voted against the bond issue and 664 voted for it. Four votes were disallowed due to improper marking of the ballots, City Clerk June Hutcheson said.

During the first election, in December, 1,337 voted, 679 for the bond issue and 654 against.

'We as school people can do no more than the public will support. . .'

Supt. Robert Griffin

Approval by a 60 percent majority is necessary for the bond issue to pass. In the first election, approximately 51 percent of the voters were for the bond issue. In Saturday's election, only 47.5 percent voted for it.

If it had passed, the bond issue, plus additional money from the state, would have been used to build a new Booneville High School to renovate the existing Middle School and Anderson Junior High School. The present elementary and high schools would have been closed.

City schools' superintendent Robert Griffin said Tuesday that he thinks the total cost of the project and the prospect of increasing taxes were largely responsible for the defeat of the proposal.

"I think there are some other things inherent in it," he said, "but the main thing is the cost, the taxes, the economic situation."

He said he thinks the issue might have had a better chance of passing if the 15.5 percent unemployment rate had been lower.

Griffin also pointed out that this concept is something new to the people of Booneville. "To my knowledge, the people in this area have never had a bond issue or never paid on school bonds for a school building," he said.

The city school board will not meet until April 12 to discuss what to do now. However, Griffin indicated he personally feels the bond issue as it stands is dead.

"I think the voters have

Arson Blamed For Fire At Jumpertown Store

Arson has been blamed for a fire early Saturday morning which destroyed all the merchandise in a grocery store in Jumpertown owned by Vera Ann Padgett and Jimmy Prentiss, according to Prentiss County Deputy Jim Ross.

State Deputy Fire Marshal Mike Ivey investigated the scene of the fire Sunday morning and ruled it as arson, Ross said.

Lacquer thinner is believed to have been used to start the fire, Ross said. The fire was ruled arson because three gallons of lacquer thinner which had not burned were found in the store, he said.

"Lacquer thinner had been poured in the southeast corner of the building where a fire had been started," Ross said. "The three full jugs of lacquer thinner were found in the northwest corner of the building. A fire had also been started there," the deputy said.

The fire had not been burning too long when firemen arrived, otherwise the other jugs of lacquer thinner would have exploded, Ross said.

A clock in the store stopped at 3:42. The fire was reported to the Booneville Fire Department at 3:57 a.m.

According to Ross, Mrs. Padgett said she was sure she had locked the store at closing time around 7:30 p.m. last Friday. However, when firemen arrived at the store, the door was unlocked, Ross said. There was no sign of forced entry.

Nothing was reported stolen from the store, he said.

The fire completely destroyed all the stock in the store. The metal building also received smoke and water damage, he said.

This is the third time a fire has occurred at the store, Ross said. The store was under different ownership at the time the other fires occurred.

Fire departments from Jumpertown, Booneville, Thrasher and Blackland responded to the fire.

No arrests have been made in the case.

Special Prosecutor Gives No Time Table For Investigation

New Albany City Judge Talmadge Littlejohn confirmed Tuesday that an investigation involving three Booneville policemen and a former policeman has been turned over to him.

"I'm working on the case and I have had turned over to me the basic information relative to the case that they (the city of Booneville) had available to them," he said. "In other words, the matter has been turned over to me."

The four men are being investigated for allegedly taking merchandise from the Win-Way store in Booneville one night in November 1979. One of the four reportedly found the door of the store unlocked while on routine patrol.

The case has been under investigation off and on for more than a year. State investigators presented evidence in the case to the Prentiss County Grand Jury in February. The Grand Jury reported that the evidence was not sufficient for indictments against the men on felony charges.

The Grand Jury ordered

District Attorney John Young to turn the evidence over to the City of Booneville for investigation into possible misdemeanor charges. The city hired Littlejohn as a special prosecutor in the case about two weeks ago.

The New Albany attorney said Tuesday that he does not know how long his investigation will take.

"All I can say is that the investigation is in progress. That's all. I don't have any time table or time frame to present at this point," Littlejohn said.

At Junior Auxiliary Event

Outstanding Citizen Named

Booneville's Nelwyn Murphy was named Prentiss County's Outstanding Citizen for 1983 Saturday night at the Junior Auxiliary's annual fundraiser.

A life-long resident of Booneville, Mrs. Murphy served as Prentiss County Superintendent of Education for 12 years. Prior to that, she was an elementary school teacher for six years, a high school English teacher for two years, principal of Booneville Elementary School for eight years and Prentiss County Elementary Supervisor for four years.

She also served as a member of the Prentiss County Board of Education for six years and as secretary of the Northeast Mississippi Junior College board of trustees for 12 years.

One of the girls' dormitories at Northeast Junior College was named Nelwyn Murphy Hall in her honor.

When the city and the county schools split into two separate districts in 1981, Mrs. Murphy became the first chairman of the Prentiss County Vocational Board of Directors, which is composed of members from the school boards of both districts.

The Outstanding Citizen is picked each year from a list of nominees submitted by organizations and individuals in Prentiss County. Mrs. Murphy was nominated for the award by the Booneville Pilot Club.

She is a charter member of the Pilot Club, having served as president twice, as vice-president and in numerous other capacities.

She also served as the 1982 District Outreach Coordinator for Louisiana-Mississippi Pilot Club International, and was a nominee for second Lieutenant Governor of the Louisiana-Mississippi district Pilot Club in 1983.

Mrs. Murphy is also active in her church, the First United Methodist Church in Booneville. She is a member of the choir, is program chairman of the ladies' society of the church, and is church school superintendent.

The first Outstanding Citizen Award was presented in 1977 to former mayor Marion W. Smith by the Prentiss County Development Association. In 1978, the award program was turned over to the Booneville Junior Auxiliary, which has presented the award each year since.

The 1978 honoree was retired businessman Emmons Turner Jr. In 1979 the award went to county health nurse Mabel W. Nelson. Retired school teacher Louise W. Peeler received the award in 1980, and Booneville businessman Stewart Vail took the award home in 1981. Last year's winner was Mrs. Ruth Galloway.

Junior Auxiliary President Martha White presented the award to Mrs. Murphy Saturday night during the program in Haney Union at Northeast Junior College.

Local FFA Team Wins District Contest

The F.F.A. land judging team at the Prentiss County Vocational-Technical School won first place in the district land judging contest last week in Grenada.

According to Walter Sartin, instructor at the Vo-Tech, the Prentiss County team took first place over 17 other teams, scoring a total of 745 points out of a possible 900.

Sartin said land judging contests for F.F.A. members begin with F.F.A. chapters competing in county contests. The winner of each county contest then participates in a district contest.

Winners of the district contests compete for the state title. The state's top five teams will be eligible to participate in the National Land Judging Contest at Oklahoma City, Okla. That contest will be held during the first week of May, Sartin said.

Area teams participating against Prentiss County in the district contest included Biggersville of Alcorn County and Shannon of Lee County.

In land judging contests, participants judge characteristics of the land by determining surface texture, permeability, slope, surface runoff, depth and erosion. Using these criteria, the soil is classified as row crop, pasture land, or woodland.

Contestants then find the vegetative practices, the mechanical practices, and fertilizer and soil amendments needed for the field being judged, Sartin said.

State Troopers Are Certified In CPR

All "F" State Troopers in a ten county area are now certified to administer CPR and First Aid, according to Captain H.H. Waycaster, Inspector of Troop F, district four, Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

These troopers were certified by Master Sergeant Carl W. Pierce of Fulton, a 20-year veteran, and Public Affairs Officer Mancil Pruitt of Baldwin, a 15-year veteran.

These two troopers, along with two troopers from each of the nine troops in the state, were trained in cardiopulmonary resuscitation and multi-media first aid by the American Red Cross at the Red Cross Center in Jackson. They then returned to their respective districts to train their fellow troopers.

This is part of a state wide training program to have all state troopers qualified to render CPR and first aid, Waycaster said.

Miskelly Given Life Sentence

Mike Miskelly, 18, of Falkner was convicted last Saturday by a Benton County Circuit Court jury for the March 1981 murder of his classmate Steve Brown. Miskelly received life imprisonment, the mandatory sentence for murder.

The jury deliberated about an hour before returning the guilty verdict. About 300 spectators were on hand daily for the five day trial.

Prosecutors successfully argued that Miskelly's teenage infatuation for a girl in his class was the motive for Brown's murder during a hunting trip March 23, 1981. Testimony indicated that Brown had dated the girl, Tammy Glisson Nance, for about two years.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I have heard two different views on attending church. One is that I must attend all the services and the other is that this is a matter of judgement, and I can go at my own choice. Is there a passage which says I must go?

ANSWER: Actually, there is a passage which commands Christians to attend all meetings or services of the local church. That passage is Heb. 10:24 and 25. In KJV it reads, "And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more as ye see the day approaching." Now let us note how this passage is rendered by some of the translators. N.T. in basic English reads: "Not giving up our church meetings." The new Testament in language of today reads "let us not stay away from our meetings." The living N.T. reads: "Let us not neglect our church duties and meetings." Charles B. Williams reads: "Let us stop neglecting our meeting together." The Berkeley version reads: "Not neglecting our own church-meeting." You can see from this text that we are commanded to attend all services of the local church. I hope this answers your question.

After 30 Years' Practice

Vet Expects The Unexpected When He Makes A 'House' Call

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

After working as a veterinarian for 30 years, Dr. James Nelson of Baldwyn has had the occasion to treat animals on almost every farm in Prentiss County at one time or another.

But his practice hasn't been limited to Prentiss County. He's traveled to many farms in Tishomingo, Union, Itawamba and Lee Counties as well.

Dr. Nelson's father, the late W.O. Nelson, was a veterinarian for 38 years. The two were in practice together for two years before the elder Nelson died in 1955. (Nelson's mother, Alma Holly Nelson of Hills Chapel, died in 1975).

Nelson's Animal Hospital located behind Windham Ford in Baldwyn, was built in 1954 in a "bramble briar patch," he says.

The finishing touches are being put on a new addition to the clinic which when completed will be "the most modern large animal clinic in the area excluding the one at Mississippi State," Dr. Nelson says.

In 1973 Nelson sold his Booneville clinic to Dr. Harold Kirk.

The 59-year-old veterinarian has seen the popularity of certain pets come and go over the years. At one time many people owned shetland ponies. Now there aren't too many people who keep them, he said.

The number of grade A dairy farms has also diminished, Nelson notes. There was a time when much of his work dealt with grade A dairy cows. Now 75 percent of his work is treating small animals and horses while the other 25 percent involves treating cattle.

Dr. Nelson long ago learned when he goes out on a call to expect the unexpected — such as having to perform a c-section on a cow in a barnyard.

He is a member of the Mississippi Horse Council where he served as president of the organization for eight years.

He also actively participates in wagon trains. His interest in wagon trains began during the bicentennial in 1976 when he was the wagon master for the Mississippi wagon train.

The wagon train covered 376 miles in six weeks. "I've never enjoyed anything more in my life," he recalls.

Nelson uses a Canadian Mounty Saddle, (commonly known as a field trial saddle), that has been converted to western gear, when he rides in the wagon trains.

Last month he participated in the annual Dixie National Wagon Train where he served as coordinator of the three wagon trains participating in the event.

Nelson and Jerry Davis also have an annual trail ride in the summer beginning at Davis' barn in Blackland and going to Lake Mohawk. Anyone can participate in the trail ride but it is required that the horses have a negative Coggins test, Nelson said.

Nelson and his wife, Lois, have three children, Kenny of Austin, Texas, Karen of Tupelo and Jamie of Baldwyn. They have one grandchild, Lauren.

Dr. Nelson and his daughter have six horses. His prize pet is his four-year-old dachshund, Gretchen.

"I'm very fortunate," Dr. Nelson says. "I enjoy being a veterinarian. It's always what I've wanted to do. I'll practice as long as I'm able to continue."

'Talk O' The Town'

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think the school bond issue election should be held a third time?

WALTER VANDER-GRIFF of Route 3, Rienzi: "I don't think so. They've already had it twice. Evidently the people don't want it."

CHRISTINE WHITE-HEAD of Route 4, Booneville: "I think they should have it again. The third time should be the charm. We should have already passed it."

CAROL CROWE of Route 2, Booneville: "If I lived in the city I would want them to try again. I don't know how much the bond issue would raise taxes but if they need a new school it would be worth it."

JOY ARNOLD of West Church Street, Booneville: "Absolutely. We need the schools. My son is in elementary school and I know it's in disrepair. I think we need to keep trying until the bond issue is passed."

ANNETTE FLOYD of South Smith Street, Booneville: "Since the election has been held twice and it's failed, they aren't going to get it right now. But if they try having the election again after jobs open up and more people are working, the bond issue might be voted in."

BECKY KELLY of Parkwood Garden, Booneville: "Most definitely. I think it's disgraceful that it didn't pass. I think they should try again."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

The Easter Bunner Bunny hopped by The Banner-Independent Wednesday morning to wish the Banner Bunch an early "Happy Easter." He left my co-workers candy and stuffed toy rabbits. All he left me was a picture of a possum.

However, he promised he would leave a basket of candy in my yard on Easter morning if I would allow him to write part of my column this week.

Since it isn't every day that a celebrity offers to write a few words for my column, I decided to comply with his wishes.

The following words are from the Easter Bunny.

Easter greetings to all my friends in Prentiss County (except Charles Steen, who had a rabbit trap set out for me in his yard last Easter).

I am writing this in response to the Easter column that the staff reporter wrote last year in reference to the Easter Possum.

I would have responded sooner to that column, but I decided to wait until this Easter and pay her a personal visit.

The idea of having an Easter Possum instead of an Easter Bunny is ludicrous. If there was an Easter Possum, he would be run over by a car the first time he tried to cross the road carrying his Easter candy.

But the main reason there is no Easter Possum is because no one would want to find chocolate possums in their Easter basket.

After typing those words, the Easter Bunny then hopped away to finish his Easter shopping. He left rather hurriedly, come to think about it, when the Banner Bunch began talking about lunch. He may be just a bunny, but he isn't dumb.

Beebe's Letter

Last week I wrote a story about city carrier Beebe McCuiston and the dogs in Foster Park who follow him while he delivers the mail there. The day after the story appeared Beebe received the following letter.

"My dear Mr. Postman: I am Hobo, who as you know lives at 507 Adams Street.

"I have just heard that your picture, along with some Foster Park mutts, appeared in the county paper. I was upset to learn that you have been consorting with these pooches.

"Nothing would make me happier than to trail you on your daily rounds up Adams Street and down 3rd Street but the folks I live with forbid me to walk in the streets.

"Now and then I see your little jeep parked at Marion Smith's house and sometimes I see you through the cracks of our fence as you stride from one neighbor's house to another. And once in a great while when I'm hunting for the bathroom in our front yard I will see you coming around the pecan tree toward our house.

"You've no idea what a joy it is to see you and have you stoop down and pet me. After all, we dogs live for these moments of affection and we do our best to give back as full a measure of affection and love as we get.

"So for now I'll suppress my feeling of jealousy realizing that Foster Park mutts expect and deserve your affectionate attention as much as your little pal on Adams Street. I'll continue to look for your rounds in my neighborhood but next time I'll expect an extra dose of that affection for which the mutts who live on your route have come to expect. Your friend, Hobo Grisham."

At the bottom of the letter was Hobo's little paw print.

Is Mounger Losing Clout In GOP?

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. — Good old Billy Mounger, the bulldog of the Republican right. He's back snapping at the heels of the present State GOP leadership which he considers hopelessly liberal.

This has produced a recent spate of Moungerisms, those deathless bits of prose that sound like they came out of the lexicon of Spiro Agnew, occasioned by the Jackson oilman's displeasure with the State Republican executive committee for expanding its membership to add some blacks.

Such a move, Mounger recently wrote to State GOP chairman Ebbie Spivey and members of the committee, would be "egregiously abhorrent," and smacked of "transparent todayism that would be so odiously oblivious that you would deserve unrelenting derision."

But against Mounger's wishes, the GOP executive committee the other day proceeded to fill three of five added seats with blacks, giving black Republicans their first representation as full executive committee members.

The young black professionals who have been active in the Mississippi Black Republican Council weren't altogether pleased with the selections nor the process of having five whites from each Congressional district make the selections, but overall the move seems to be viewed as opening another door to black participation in the GOP.

As reported here previously, the impetus for expanding the committee to add black members had come from Sen. Thad Cochran, who is carefully seeking to build a broader black voter base for his re-election campaign next year.

Incidentally, this column learned that a Lance Tarrants poll done for the National Republican Party several weeks back showed Cochran had only a 25 percent name identification among blacks in Mississippi, indicating that he still has much work to do in that area.

The episode involving the Mounger letter has underlying meaning in where the Republican Party is now headed in this state, showing that the former bankroller of GOP candidates no longer has the clout he used to have in party affairs.

Mounger was thought to be indispensable to the state party as the perennial finance chairman for both presidential campaigns and individual Republican candidates for state office.

A public outburst in 1976 by Mounger aimed at Gil Carmichael, the two times GOP gubernatorial standard-bearer, revealed that Mounger considered he bought total personal loyalty of any candidate for whom he raised money.

When Cochran made his successful race for the U.S. Senate in 1978, he purposely put distance between himself and Mounger, relying on others for his primary fund-raising.

Gradually, the party leadership eased Mounger out of the picture as the chief finance man, replacing him with Julius Ridgway, a friendly, low-keyed type who also had independent wealth from oil and gas. Ridgway has proved to be a more effective fund-raiser than Mounger, according to GOP insiders, and doesn't make anyone mad.

Mounger, however, evidently still has visions of regaining his place as the chief elephant rider in Mississippi and tossing out the forces allied with Cochran, and former state GOP chairmen, Clarke Reed and Mike Retzer.

But the heavy-handed move Mounger engineered with the aid of Rep. Trent Lott after the 1980 presidential election to throw out Reed and Retzer ended in disaster, and helped to further draw the lines within the party between the Cochran and Lott camps.

Interestingly, freshman Republican Rep. Webb Franklin seems to have allied himself with the Cochran faction within the State GOP although he is walking a tightrope so as not to alienate his House colleague, Lott.

Cochran, meanwhile, is busily trying to keep the party unified, while at the same time pulling over as many Democrats as he can to support him in 1984, and possibly head off any major Democratic opponent.

A few more letters from Billy Mounger, however, could change all that.

Are School Kids Just Tax Deductions To Parents?

Dear Editor,

As of today, the Booneville Municipal Separate School District has proposed a bond issue twice and each time the citizens have rejected it.

What is it going to take to make the citizens of Booneville realize how badly new facilities are needed? If the voters took some time and toured or visited, our school, they would realize the situation.

Booneville High School sponsors an "open house" at the school every year, but so few parents and citizens attend the open house, the program could be discontinued.

Maybe, if something drastic should happen, our citizens would change their minds. Maybe, someday, when the high school is having an assembly program, the walls will begin to crack, more than they already have, and the roof will fall, killing almost 200 students and injuring the rest.

Is that what it is going to take?

If the people who attended

Booneville High School many years ago would speak up and tell others about the condition of our school, maybe the vote would change.

If our citizens wouldn't worry about paying more, and worry about the safety and education of our students, maybe the situation would change.

In other words, our parents and fellow citizens need to think about others and stop being so selfish! They should try to help the young people and respect them.

Someday, they will be drawing social security and we will be paying for it. Why don't they ever realize that kids are people, too? They only think of us as tax deductions!

It's time for our citizens to set their priorities, and to stop being selfish. We are the future leaders. We need good, quality education and good facilities.

The adults had better realize who will be supporting them in the future! They are going to need us, but, we'll remember how we were treated when we were young!

Just remember, adults, if you want to keep your social security and other benefits when you're older, you'd better make some provisions for the youth today.

Thank you,
Scott McKinney

Natural Ingredients Make Great Egg Dye

Dear Editor,

With Easter near, you can find many egg-coloring kits on the market, but you can have more fun making your own natural Easter Egg dye from ingredients in your refrigerator or pantry.

Just add one teaspoon vinegar and one of the following ingredients to uncooked, whole eggs in a sauce pan: beet juice for red color; onion skins (in water) for yellow; cranberry juice for pink; strong coffee for brown; red cabbage leaves (in water) for blue.

Simmer eggs until hard-cooked (about 15 minutes). If you use store-bought dye, don't ruin your bowls or cups. Pour dye into clean, empty vegetable cans. When you are done, just throw the cans away.

Sincerely,
Ross A. Scott

Northeast To Present 'The Music Man'

The Department of Art, Music, and Speech at Northeast Mississippi Junior College have selected Meredith Willson's "The Music Man," for their annual spring production, according to director Murphy Jones.

Set during the turn of the century, "The Music Man," is based on the story of a travelling salesman who hoodwinks the citizens of River City, Iowa, with the "think system," Jones said.

The production will require the efforts of approximately 40 to 50 performers, 30 backstage crewmen and a pit of approximately 20 musicians.

The two-act musical will be presented April 21 and 23 at 8 p.m. in Seth Pounds Auditorium. Tickets are $4 per person and may be purchased in the college business office.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT
from the office of:
JOHN R. WHITE, O.D.
Soft Contacts And Better Sports

It's wonderful to see so many people out there exercising and improving their health, especially those who have been inactive for years. Naturally, it's important for them to have a physical check-up before embarking on any rigorous program of exercise.

They must also consider which sport is right for them, according to their physical condition and life-style. And they should consider which equipment — footwear, clothing, etc. — will maximize their performance while minimizing the stress and chance of injury.

In the same way, someone resuming sports after an absence or taking it up for the first time, should consider switching to soft contact lenses. Eyeglasses can slip down, fog up, or fail to provide peripheral vision. Unlike hard contact lenses, soft lenses are so pliable that they're usually comfortable right from the start. And there's no worry over lenses popping out — even during the most rugged activities.

Whether you're taking up a new game or picking up an old one, you should decide which are the right lenses for you.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office.

GUEST SPEAKERS AT PILOT-BPW MEETING - Dr. Jorga Turnipseed (2nd from left) and Dr. Roy Sollie (2nd from right) were the guest speakers at the March joint meeting of the Booneville Business and Professional Women's Club and the Booneville Pilot Club. Also pictured are Mrs. Eudora Kemp (left), Pilot Club president and Mrs. Pam Crossett (right), BPW president. (Photo by Norma Michael)

The annual joint dinner meeting of the Booneville Business and Professional Women's Club and the Pilot Club of Booneville was held at 6:30 p.m. on March 24 in the Frank Haney Student Union Building at the Northeast Junior College with the Pilot Club serving as the host club.

Mrs. Eudora Kemp, president of the Pilot Club, presided.

The tables were adorned with arrays of spring flowers, brightly colored ribbons, honey-comb tissue, umbrellas in pastel shades and Easter decorations all depicting the theme of "Easter and April Showers."

Mrs. Louise Peeler was in charge of the decorations.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Linda Eubank and the pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Mrs. Mary Gault Nabors.

Mrs. Eudor Kemp welcomed the guests and Mrs. Pam Crossett, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, responded.

Miss Lori Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Smith and a senior at Booneville High School, was recognized as the Good Citizenship Girl by Mrs. Nelwyn Murphy, second vice-president of the Pilot Club.

Mrs. Kemp introduced Mrs. Billie Morgan as the pilot of the month. Mrs. Morgan is currently serving as the International Relations Area Leader.

The guest speakers, Dr. Jorga Turnipseed, professor of Music Education and Dr. Ray Sollie, professor of Sociology at Mississippi State University, were introduced by Mrs. Quida Jumper, Leadership Area Leader and Mrs. Eudor Kemp.

Dr. Turnipseed spoke on Leadership. She began her talk by focusing on the theme of "Be something more today than you were yesterday."

She discussed leadership through motivation and emphasized that a leader has to be the energizer and the motivator in order to inspire others to get a job done. She also discussed the different areas of management skills.

Dr. Sollie continued the discussion on motivation. He brought out that there is no magic formula on motivating people however the motivation of people is no more than the practice of good human relations.

Special guests included Mrs. Josie Smith, mother of the Good Citizenship Girl and Mrs. Ruth Hail, a former Pilot member.

Door prizes were distributed by Pilot members.

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

USDA ISSUES COUNTY LOAN, PURCHASE RATES FOR 1983-CROP CORN, WHEAT AND SORGHUM

Prentiss County loan and purchase rates for 1983-crop corn, wheat and sorghum were issued today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said some adjustments of county and state rates have been made to reflect such factors as prices received by farmers, production and consumption trends and transportation costs.

Rank said county rates for corn are based on the national average loan and purchase rate of $2.65 per bushel announced earlier. The 1983 national rate for corn is 10 cents per bushel above the 1982 level, he said.

Premiums were eliminated for corn with low moisture content, with a low percentage of broken kernels on foreign material. The discount was increased for heat damage and discounts for moisture now start at 14.01 percent moisture.

These changes were made to bring premiums and discounts for corn into line with market conditions, Rank said.

Rank said the rates for wheat are based on the national average rate of $3.65 per bushel which is 10 cents above the 1982 rate and are based on No. 1 grade wheat.

The rates for sorghum grading No. 2 or better are based on the national average loan and purchase rates of $4.50 per hundredweight for sorghum announced earlier. The 1983 national rate for sorghum is 18 cents per hundredweight higher than the previous year, Rank said.

Rank said copies of the rates are available from the cotton, grain and rice price support division, USDA-ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Prentiss County loan rates are $2.82 per bushel for corn, $4.52 per cwt for grain sorghum and $3.60 per bushel for wheat.

FARMERS REMINDED TO REPORT FALL-SEEDED CROPS

The signup period for the 1983 wheat, feed grain, upland cotton and rice programs ended March 11. Farmers will now be preparing to report their crop acres. Prentiss County farmers have until May 11 to report the acres and intended uses of their wheat, oats, barley, rye and other small grains to the ASCS office, however farmers are requested to report by April 1, if possible. Small grain crops which are not reported by the deadline will be ineligible for program benefits.

Some farmers reported their small grains when they signed up for the 1983 acreage reduction and land diversion programs, and some other spring-seeded crops.

ASCS randomly checks farms to verify that the acreage reports are accurate and also provides aerial photographs for farmers to identify their fields. The acreage reports are used to determine compliance with farm programs and also serve as a basis for the 1984 program base acres for farms.

To be eligible for price support loans, target prices and commodities under the payment-in-kind program farmers who participate in the 1983 programs are required to report the actual planted acreage. Farmers who did not sign up for the programs could benefit also by reporting their planted acres because the reported 1983 acreage may be used in establishing the 1984 base acres.

Farmers who have not reported their fall-seeded crops are urged to do so by April 1. The local ASCS office is open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

PEANUT SUPPORT LEVELS, CROP REGULATIONS ISSUED

Farmers participating in the 1983 peanut program will be eligible to receive a federal support price of $550 per ton for quota peanuts, the same as last year, and $185 per ton for additional peanuts, $15 per ton less than a year ago.

USDA estimated that 1982 peanut production costs actually declined from those of 1981, so no increase in the national support level for quota peanuts was necessary. Price support rates on additional peanuts are set as the secretary of agriculture deems appropriate, taking into consideration the demand for peanut oil and meal, the expected prices of other vegetable oils and protein meals and the demand for peanuts in the foreign markets.

This rate must be set at level estimated to ensure no government loss on additional peanuts.

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

Although forests have long been proclaimed a renewable resource, our colleagues at the U.S. Forest Service who have taken a hard look at our urban forests are concluding that these special forests may not be renewable after all. Why? Because the same adverse living conditions which bring about the demise of existing trees in developing areas also preclude reestablishment of trees in most cases.

There are things we can do to save our urban forests, but maintaining a healthy forest requires effort. Manpower and some money are needed to keep trees healthy and vigorous, and there's more to it than keeping the trees looking good. The fact is, poorly maintained trees become liabilities to city governments.

It is encouraging to see that some of Mississippi's cities and towns beginning to recognize the value of trees and are taking steps to improve the condition and management of their urban forests. They are doing this with ordinances protecting trees and with training for city maintenance employees in tree care methods.

They are also finding out when and why some trees need to be replaced and what species of trees should be established in their place. The Mississippi Forestry Commission is currently working with several towns to help them with urban tree programs.

Mississippi has just celebrated Arbor Day, a tree-planting day set aside by all states at one time or another during the year to commemorate the importance of trees in our environment. Arbor Day ceremonies have a special meaning for our modern urban environment, because when a city official holds a ceremony and plants a tree, he acknowledges the value of trees and the commitment necessary to maintain city trees.

He can't do it alone, however. He needs your support and the support of many citizens if he is to be successful in saving your city trees. If you care about the trees in your community, let your local officials know that you are a friend of the special forest around you.

First Baptist Choir To Present Easter Program

The adult choir of the Booneville First Baptist will present an Easter musical,
"The Day He Wore My Crown," on Sunday, April 3, at 7 p.m.

"The Day He Wore My
Crown," is a musical by David Clydesdale about the later life of Jesus Christ including the crucifixion and the resurrection.

The musical contains songs by composers such as Dallas Holm, Tim Sheppard,
Bill Gaither and Lanny
Wolfe.

Soloists for the musical include Jan McGreger, Jim Lamb, Marshall Dickerson,
Mike Steen, Sarah Rhodes,
Dawn Davidson and Pam Crossett. The 35 member choir is under the direction of Wade Irvin.

The choir will be accompanied by a 16 piece orchestra, which includes strings.

The program will be narrated by Dr. Bill Duncan, church pastor.

The setting of the musical begins about 2,000 years ago in the crowded streets of Jerusalem during the Passover season, according to Dr. Duncan.

The people are excited about the presence of Jesus, a prophet from Nazareth. He was only 33 years old, but many people had watched him grow up in Galilee, observed his miracles and been fascinated by the wisdom of his teachings, he said.

The religious leaders, feeling threatened by this
"prophet from Galilee," began plotting to take his life. The praying of Jesus in the garden of Gethsemane was interrupted when Judas arrived with armed soldiers to betray him, he said.

After being tormented and bound in chains Jesus was sent to Pilate, the Roman governor, who finding no fault with Jesus, yielded to the will of the angry crowds allowing Jesus to be crucified, Duncan said.

Three days after the death
by crucifixion, Jesus arose and went to Galilee where he visited with his disciples.
When he had finished talking with the disciples, he was taken up into heaven, where he sat down at the right-hand of God, he said.

Dr. Bill Duncan and the congregation invite everyone to attend.

Northeast Offering Computer Courses For Executives

Beginning Monday, April 18, Northeast Mississippi Junior College will offer a five-week class entitled Computer Literacy for Executives. The class is being offered for the third time because of the tremendous public response to the two previous sessions, Continuing Education officials explained. The new class will meet from 6 to 9 p.m. in Room 122 of Gordon Hall each Monday evening through May 16. Participants will learn basic terminology and simple programming so they can communicate effectively with computer and systems personnel to obtain the types of information they need. They will also gain insights into the total requirements for automating or computerizing operations. Consultants with expertise in computer basics, programming, business and industrial applications of computers will conduct the sessions. During the final class meeting, participants will complete hands-on exercises using the computers. The class is limited to 30. Participants must pre-register by April 14. The registration fee is $40 per person. Continuing Education Units (CEU's) for 15 contract hours will be awarded to those who successfully complete the course. For additional information, contact Opal Melvin, course facilitator, at 728-7751, ext. 303.

Soil Conservation News

By TINA LORENTZEN
Soil Conservationist
USDA Soil Conservation Service
Booneville Field Office

Conservation tillage is catching on fast in Prentiss County and for several good reasons. The purpose of conservation tillage is to minimize soil erosion, help develop and maintain good soil tilth, and provide a desirable water infiltration rate. Conscientious farming of this type relies, for its worth, on how a farmer manages his cropping system. Currently, the talk of Prentiss County farmers is a conservation tillage practice known as no-till. This system involves no tillage, obviously, and results in impressive savings of fuel, labor, time, and valuable soil. When no-till management is performed, organic matter accumulates on the soil surface. This organic matter consists of crop residues and-or native winter vegetation. This cover protects the soil surface from erosion and increases organic matter. High organic matter encourages good pore structure in the soil for air and moisture storage. Double cropping is a tillage practice which conserves soil and provides additional income, too. Many farmers in Prentiss County and elsewhere have found that no-tilling soybeans behind wheat is quite satisfactory in results. When that warm spring weather arrives, many farmers become anxious to get out in the fields and break ground three or four weeks before planting. While breaking ground early may be beneficial to preparing the seedbed, the spring rains are very damaging to bare, tilled land. For instance, in a Prentiss County sandy loam with a 2 percent slope the management system consists of many practices: no fall plowing, crop residue remains, native winter cover permitted to grow a maximum of two cultivations and soybeans conventionally planted. Other conservation practices that have proved very successful are contour farming, diversions, and terraces. By running the crop rows along the contour or lay of the land, contour farming discourages large volumes of rainfall runoff from draining down the slopes and thereby causing erosion that results in rills and gullies. Diversions and terraces are also constructed on the contour so that runoff water is safely carried away, minus your good topsoil. Contact the SCS in Booneville for additional information about conserving soil and other related resources.

Maundy Service At First Methodist

In observance of Maundy Thursday, the First United Methodist Church will have a special holy communion worship service Thursday, March 31, at 7 p.m. Maundy Thursday is that period in the Holy Week when Jesus celebrated the Passover with his disciples, according to church pastor C.L. Potts. The Rev. W.T. Dexter of Baldwin will be the speaker. Other pastors in Prentiss County will also be participating in the special service. Combined United Methodist choirs from across the county plus the girls ensemble from Pisgah Methodist Church will present special musical selections. Doug Holland will be in charge of the music. Bro. Potts extends a welcome to the community and Prentiss County to attend this service.

The Invisible Pipeline Connection

Imagine 9000 miles of steel pipe between hundreds of natural gas fields and Gulf South distribution points.

Imagine it because you can't see it. It's buried underground, virtually invisible. But it represents a billion-dollar investment that has made natural gas a way of life in the Gulf South.

It's our pipeline connection. But it doesn't connect our natural gas to you. We don't drill or produce oil or gas so everything we deliver we buy under contract from others.

We buy trillions of cubic feet of natural gas for our customers and we try to buy on the best possible terms, for the present and for the future. But the price of gas has risen steadily for the last 20 years and particularly over the last five.

It's the biggest problem we have because we're only the pipeline connection between those who sell and those who buy. Price concerns us as much as it does you.

And as natural gas grows more valuable, the need for conservation grows more imperative. Conserve. The economic future of our region depends on natural gas. What we save today will be needed tomorrow.

HERE IT COMES -- Thrasher's Junior Warren puts the boot to a punt during a spring practice session this week at Thrasher High School. The Thrasher Rebels will compete in high school football for the first time next fall.

Thrasher Is Preparing For First Football Season

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

To the surprise of many skeptics in the area, Thrasher High School will have a varsity football team next year.

The senior high Rebel team, headed by the able coaching of Willie T. Jackson, will play a full District 1-B schedule.

Of course there are still some holes in the program, such as lack of a playing field and sufficient equipment, but Jackson along with principal Harrell Padgett and the entire Thrasher community is working to solve these problems.

Jackson said there was a possibility that a playing field could be completed toward the end of the season next year.

Thrasher, however will be playing most of their game away from home next year.

As for the finances, there have been various means of money-raisers, including a benefit basketball game coming up April 4-8.

Jackson said he has spent $3,500 on equipment just for the spring, and that more equipment will be purchased later.

But, these details were obviously not on Jackson's mind very heavily at a recent practice.

Jackson showed the excitement of beginning a new team as he paced and watched and directed and taught.

... the tough 10-game schedule next year will be one most first-year teams would fear ...

Spring training began for the Rebels on March 22 with some 45 boys participating. Jackson said the first few practices have gone "exceptionally well."

"These boys have shown a whole lot of interest," says Jackson, who is equally interested in his players. Jackson's young team is not totally new to the sport. Last year's junior high team, who proved they could play with anybody, only lost one game through the entire season.

Jackson said his team will basically run a power-I formation, which casts two running backs and a wingback in the backfield. The two leading rushers on from the junior high team will both return in their roles in the backfield.

Pete Wicks and Tracy Lawson, both weighing in at around 165 lbs., will be the strength of Jackson's ground game.

Jackson's quarterback spot is still questionable as not less than five people are candidates for that position. Most skeptics are doubtful that Thrasher will have adequate size in the trenches.

Jackson answers doubts with a point of his finger at his front line.

This offensive line should hold no disadvantages in the size category, displaying five linemen near, at, or above the 200-lb. mark.

Thrasher will be in the north division of District 1-B. Their district games include Baldwin, Biggersville, Belmont, Okolona, and Burnsville.

will be tested in a different sport.

Thrasher's tough 10-game schedule next year will be one which most first-year teams would deftly fear, but Coach Willie T. Jackson and his Rebels have convinced themselves that they can be competitive.

And whoever convinces them otherwise will have to be exceptional.

On Basketball, Religious Mission

Instant Fame Greets Brian White In Paraguay

The biggest surprise for Brian White came when he stepped off the airplane in Asuncion, Paraguay, and was greeted by TV cameras. He and eight other Mississippi basketball players; their coach, Ole Miss BSU director Keith Cating; and the Rev. Bill Causey of Parkview Baptist Church in Jackson were treated as celebrities for the week they spent as basketball missionaries in Paraguay.

Not only did the press treat them as celebrities, but the president of the country treated them to breakfast at his home and presented them presents on the day they left to come back to Mississippi.

As they traveled around the country, basketball was the drawing card the Mississippians used to get people in to hear them speak of their religious convictions.

White lives in Marietta, Ga., but is a freshman at Northeast Junior College in Booneville, attending on a basketball scholarship.

He first learned of the missionary trip to Paraguay when he returned to Northeast after the Thanksgiving holiday. NEMJC Baptist Student Union director Joe Cobb gave him a questionnaire that had been sent out by the Baptist Mission Board in Jackson.

Like the other members who eventually made up the team, White had to go to Jackson to try out for the team. He tried out at the beginning of the Christmas break, just before going home for the holidays and was told in February that he had made the team.

The amount of time to practice before leaving was limited. But, throughout February, team members met each weekend at Clarke College in Newton and got to know each other before heading for Paraguay on March 11.

The team arrived in Asuncion, the capital of the small South American country, on Saturday. Paraguay is a Spanish-speaking country, so the team was met at the airport by interpreters.

On Sunday, each team member was assigned a church. Through the interpreters, some preached at their assigned churches.

All shared their beliefs with those who came to hear them.

Also on Sunday, the team held a camp for the Asuncion Christian Academy.

Monday night the basketball team played their first game, against a local team at the Club International. They won the first game, but, in a repeat match the next night, the Paraguayan team bet the Mississippians by five points.

An outdoor game scheduled for Wednesday was rained out, and Thursday was set aside for tour day. On Friday the Mississippi team lost their final game by two points in the last second of the game.

But basketball was not what the trip was really about. At half time of each game, the players would sing "Amazing Grace" and one of the team members would give a testimonial. Then, after the game, team members would share their religious convictions with the people in the gyms.

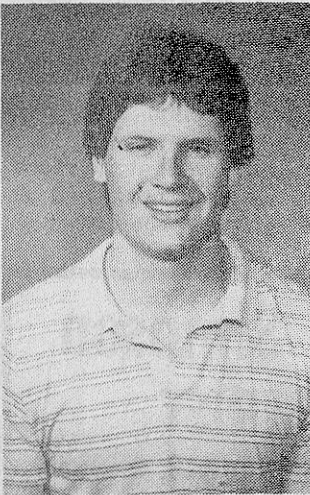

"Basketball was an attention getter," White said. "By week's end, 40 people had prayed to receive Christ."

White said the biggest problems he encountered in Paraguay was adjusting to the food and facilities and remembering to speak in short sentences for the interpreters.

White said he and the other team members felt a great sense of responsibility. "Not only were we representing Mississippi, but also the U.S.," he said.

Missionary trips are not new to White. He said he has been on several such trips before, but this was the first one outside of the country.

This summer, he and other students at the Northeast Baptist Student Union plan a trip to Oakland, Calif. They will be there from May 11 to June 1 to help build a church, he said.

As for his trip to Paraguay, White says he hopes he can return sometime.

"The people were very receptive and want us to come back," he said.

The young basketball player also said he would like to go back sometime as the coach of a missionary basketball team.

Record Now 5-3

Booneville Wins Home Opener

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

Three weeks into their season, Booneville High School's baseball team has compiled a win-loss record of 5-3.

Although the Blue Devils have not started their district schedule, each game has been important and each loss a tough one.

The Blue Devils had four games last week, winning two and losing two.

On Monday Rod Coggin picked up a 4-1 loss to a strong Pontotoc team.

Coggin held the Warrior offense to four runs, but Pontotoc pitching did the job of virtually shutting down the Blue Devil offense.

Greg Oakley was the only hitter to phase Warrior pitching. Oakley went 3-for-3 and hit a solo shot which accounted for Booneville's only run.

At Biggersville on Wednesday, Steve Loveless struck out 13 Biggersville Lions to help Booneville take a 5-4 win.

In their first home game of the season, Booneville demolished Biggersville behind the pitching of Mark McCreary and Rod Coggin.

Booneville won the game 13-2 behind the consistent hitting of Ray Holloway, who went 2-for-2 with a home run, and Greg Oakley, who went 2-for-3 also with a homer.

Mark McCreary picked up a 6-5 loss to Mooreville to round out the week and give the Blue Devils a 5-3 record to date.

The Blue Devils' district schedule begins today at the Corinth city park at 3:30 against Kossuth.

Then on Friday Booneville will face Pontotoc at 2 p.m. in a home game at the city park.

Continuing His Education

49'ers Jim Miller Is Now Enrolled At Northeast

By BOBBY PEPPER
NEMJC Journalism
Student

People around Northeast Junior College wonder why someone who has been in the limelight of professional sports, such as Ripley's Jim Miller, would want to return to school even though he has been through four years at a major university.

The bottom line to the question is that Miller has been wanting to return to school to get something that will last longer than all those records and honors he has achieved in such a short time during his illustrious career - a college degree.

And that is why the 25-year-old Tippah County native, who punts for the San Francisco 49'ers of the National Football League, decided to return to College.

He started by enrolling this semester at a school he feels is much like home to him - Northeast.

Although he went four years at Ole Miss (1978-79), a change of majors from physical education to law enforcement in his junior year, as well as worrying about the NFL collegiate draft, resulted in his leaving Oxford without a diploma.

But since then, he has had thoughts of returning and after completing his third year in the NFL, he found the opportunity to enroll at NEMJC to complete his unfinished education.

Often asked why he returned to school, Miller gives a simple honest answer as his reply.

"Many people have asked me what I'm doing back in school, and I tell them that I've got to get my schooling," he said while taking a break between classes.

"I realized that I needed to get my education because if I was out of football today, I wouldn't have a degree to fall back on. If I had a degree in something it would make things a lot better for me."

Instead of going to Ole Miss, an hour's drive from his home in Ripley, Miller decided to enroll in neighboring Northeast, where he feels more at home with the area folks.

"There's a lot of good people here at Northeast. I know a lot of people from Ripley that go here, and I've met other people as well. Everyone's just real nice. They make you feel at home."

And home is a very important place for Miller, who is single and still lives at home with his parents.

"I drive back and forth to school from Ripley," he added. "I just didn't want to get into driving back and forth or staying at Ole Miss because I've been away from home for six months (because of the football season)."

"I'm a home boy and I just want to stay around the house," he continued. "Even when I was at Ole Miss, I would come home on the weekends, even after the ball games. Ole Miss is close, but it's nothing like Northeast."

The decision to catch up on his education was always a desire for him. He even planned to return to school last year, but the hoopla of the 49'ers winning Super Bowl XVI took up his time, thus delaying his entry then.

But this year, he finally got the chance, after the 49'ers, with a 3-6 record in the strike-torn 1982 season, failed to make the playoffs.

"It was hard on me last year because we went to the Super Bowl and it wasn't until the last of January before I got home (to Ripley). By that time school had already started. This year, I timed it just right, and I made up my mind that I was coming back."

His major, law enforcement, has always been a fascination of Miller's, with his older brother having a big influence.

"My brother, Randall, went to school at Northeast for two years. Then he went on to Ole Miss for two years and now he's a game warden. I'd like to get into something similar to that, maybe become a highway patrolman or a game warden, whatever."

Like any other student who has been out of school for awhile, as in Miller's case nearly three years, it takes time to get back into the swing of things scholasticwise. But he feels he's gotten used to the knack of going to classes and studying again.

"It feels pretty good now," he replied. "It's been three years since I got out of Ole Miss, and it felt pretty strange at first but not much like what I thought it would.

There's not really any differences between Ole Miss and Northeast. The classes are almost the same; but you know home people here at Northeast and that makes it better."

Even though Miller is a member of a world-championship football team and a former consensus All-American punter, he tries to elude the "big head" syndrome, of all his glories here at Northeast. He just wants to be known as Jim Miller, the student, instead of Jim Miller, the star athlete.

"I don't want to be treated any different from anybody else," Miller stated. "There are some people who like that kind of stuff and it goes to their head. I'm not that way. I just want to be treated as just another person."

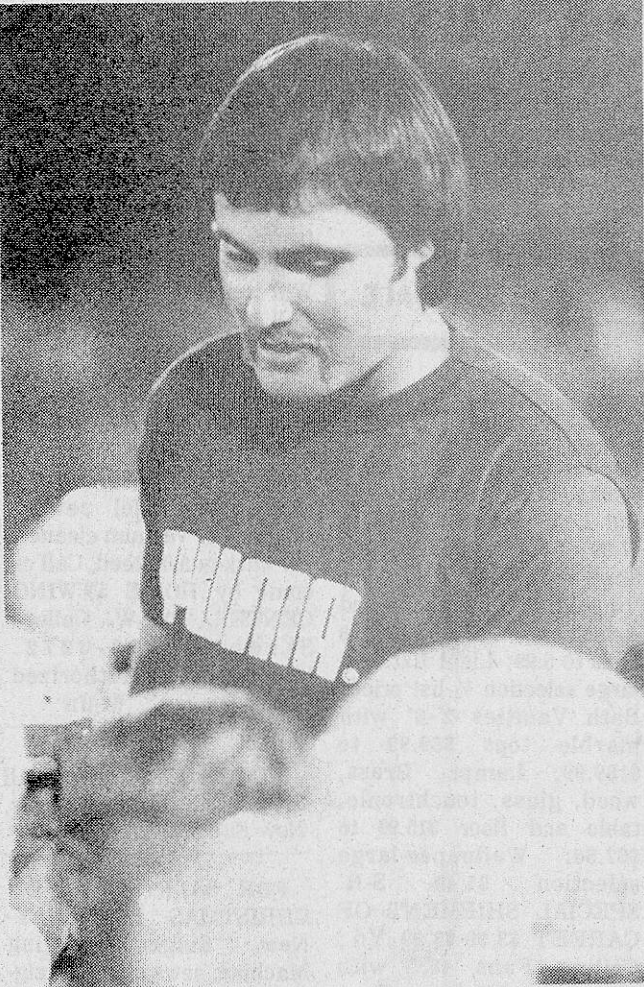

When the spring semester is over, he will begin preparations for his fourth season with the 49'ers, but for now he wants to get down to work and concentrate on his studying.

He thinks he has learned a lesson about overlooking his education at Ole Miss, and hopes to make up for that here at NEMJC. As for advice to student-athletes, he stresses the importance of studying in school for an education instead of athletic honors.

"Everyone should get their degree while they're in school," he said. "You might not think about it now, but you'd definitely need a degree later on in life because you're not going to play football the rest of your life. You've got to have something to fall back on. I didn't realize that at Ole Miss, but I guess the older you get the wiser you get, and I realize it now."

Bank Of Mississippi Announces Promotions

Three local employees of the Bank of Mississippi have received promotions, according to an announcement this week from Bank of Mississippi chairman J.C. Whitehead.

Michael L. Sappington, president of the Booneville branch of the bank, has been promoted to senior vice-president. Sara Marjorie Franks and Finnon L. King, also employed at the Booneville branch, have both been promoted to assistant vice-presidents. As senior vice-president, Sappington will be responsible for all retail banking operations in the community banks served by Bank of Mississippi.

Sappington has been with the organization since he began with the Commercial Lending Division in 1977. Since that time, he has also served as president of the Bank of Mississippi in Olive Branch, as well as the one in Booneville.

An Ecru native, Sappington received a degree in banking and finance and an M.B.A. degree with emphasis in finance from Mississippi State University.

Prior to joining the Bank of Mississippi, Sappington was a bank examiner and, later, a bank investment officer.

He is married to the former Gail Howell of Pontotoc and they have two children, Abigail Lee and Raegan Elise.

Mrs. Franks joined the Bank of Mississippi in Booneville in 1954 as a bookkeeper. She has worked as a teller, in commercial and installment lending, new accounts and investments.

A Booneville native, she graduated from Wheeler High School, Northeast Mississippi Junior College, and the Memphis School of Banking.

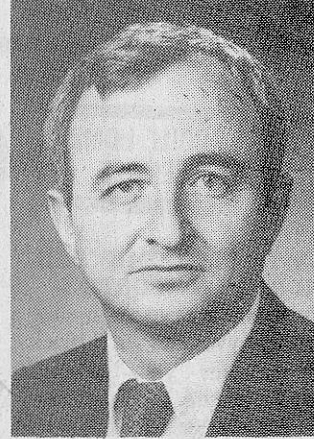

She is married to Jesse D.

Franks of Booneville. They have four children.

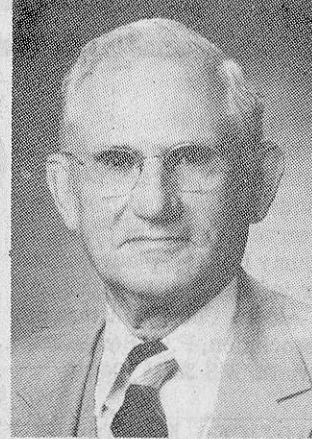

King joined the Bank of Mississippi staff in 1968 as collection manager. He has also served as loan officer in Booneville.

A Baldwin native, King graduated from Wheeler High School and has participated in American Institute of Banking continuing education courses.

King is married to the former Alvie K. Chittom of Booneville. They have two children.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Aline Jones Russell and her family during the loss of her brother, Albert Pope of Seattle, Wash.

Special birthday wishes are extended to Teddy Pierce from Dee and I.

Our inspirational Sunday School lesson was a treat for all Sunday. The lesson was about Phillip and how the spirit of God directed him to the right place at the right time.

The Good Samaritan

Broadcast will be aired live from the sanctuary of Beckley Chapel C.M.E. each Sunday at 6 p.m. on WBIP FM. A variety of testimonies will be given and choirs will be featured each week.

As we approach Easter Sunday let us set aside a special time to thank God and worship him - not by buying the most expensive suit, dress or shoes but with our hearts.

Sunrise services will be held at the Holiness Church of Deliverance at 5:30 a.m. Sunday. The Easter program will be at 11:30 a.m.

Passion Week, March 28-April 3 will be observed. Monday, Wednesday and Friday night services will be at Reuben Chapel. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night services will be at Beckley Chapel. The Rev. Larry Lawrence Reddick III will be the evangelist. Services begin promptly at 7 p.m.

On Easter Sunday morning the Rev. Prentiss Harris and the Springhill M.B. Church family will host sunrise worship services at Beckley Chapel.

Rosie Lee Sorrell was involved in a serious accident on Saturday. She blacked out and her car hit a house and burned up. She is a patient at the Baptist Memorial Hospital. We pray that she will recover soon.

"With a family and a part-time job,
I'm busy all day.
How can I possibly make regular IRA deposits?"

With a little help from The People Place.
The People Place will automatically make your IRA deposits from your checking or savings account, in any amount you choose. All you have to do is deduct the deposits at tax time.
Individual Retirement Accounts give you tax-deductible contributions, and interest that's tax-free until you withdraw it at retirement—as early as age 59½.
You can open an IRA at The People Place even if you already have a pension plan where you work.* The maximum annual contribution has been raised, too—to $2,000 for individuals, $2,250 with a non-working spouse, and $4,000 if you and your spouse both work.
Don't let your schedule keep you from two money-making tax breaks. Just leave it up to the people who know. At The People Place.

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal of funds from an IRA. Also, the Internal Revenue Service imposes a 10% penalty on the amount withdrawn, and the amount withdrawn must be included in taxable income.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By C. D. Edge

Prayer Is For Your Benefit

God doesn't learn one new thing when you pray, BUT YOU DO. Think of the therapy that's involved when you pray. You say, "I never thought of that before," but you said it during your prayer and now you realize what you need to do. Oh, the importance of personal prayer.

When did you last pray for your mate? I heard that question asked not too long ago and at once I came under great personal Holy Spirit conviction. I realized all the little NIT PICKY THINGS I had said to my loved one. Little criticisms that were so unnecessary. The Holy Spirit really got after me, and I realized that I had not really prayed for her as I should have. I stopped and went right then to our Lord in prayer. I said, "Lord, forgive me" and then I prayed diligently for the one I love so dear.

Afterwards, I felt my spirit witness with the Holy Spirit that I had done the right thing. I received very personal benefits through prayer.

WHEN DID YOU REALLY PRAY FOR YOUR MATE?

Philippians 4:6 tells us - IN EVERYTHING BY PRAYER AND SUPPLICATION WITH THANKSGIVING LET YOUR REQUESTS BE MADE KNOWN UNTO GOD.
