Cheese & Butter Give-Away Today

Cheese and butter is scheduled to be given to food stamp, Medicaid and unemployment compensation recipients today, Thursday, May 19, at the Farmers Market on North College Street from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m. In case of bad weather, the cheese and butter will be distributed at the courthouse.

Prentiss County will give out 300 cases of cheese and 109 cases of butter during this fifth cheese give away. Those eligible will receive a 5 lb. block of cheese and 2 lbs. of butter.

Recipients will be required to present their food stamp, Medicaid or employment service applicant identification cards to site workers before receiving dairy products.

Distribution will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Candidates 75, 76 Qualify For Election

Two candidates qualified Monday to run for political offices in Prentiss County. There are now 76 candidates seeking election in the August primaries.

Nelson W. Baldwin has qualified for the sheriff's race. There are now 13 candidates in that race.

Gerald Tennison has qualified for the 5th district supervisor's race. There are now four candidates in that race.

The last date to qualify for an office is June 3.

Couple Injured In Saturday Night Fire

A Burnsville couple were hospitalized after receiving burns Saturday night when a fire destroyed their home on Turnpike Mountain Road about four miles northeast of Burnsville.

The couple were identified as Lucie Garrett, who was taken to the Delta Burn Center in Greenville where she was listed as stable with burns on 20 percent of her body, and her husband, Aaron, who remained in the Tishomingo County Hospital with burns and various cuts about the face.

No details about the cause of the fire are known. Burnsville fire officials said the house was engulfed in flames when a unit arrived on the scene.

One of the Garrett's neighbors, Glen Cummings, who was one of the first to arrive on the scene, said Mrs. Garrett received some of her injuries when she attempted to rescue some household items from the burning house.

Alcorn Sheriff May Face Contempt Charge

Circuit Judge Fred Wicker may hold Alcorn County Sheriff Edwin Coleman in contempt of court as a result of his failure to incarcerate former deputy chancery clerk Billie Sue Cutchens.

Cutchens pleaded guilty to two counts of fraud before Judge Wicker in February. She was sentenced to two concurrent five-year prison terms for her role in the so-called "Penscam" case.

On May 6, the governor's office suspended Mrs. Cutchens' sentence in the case in which she was involved in the payment of more than $45,000 in county funds to a California firm for 73,000 ink pens and ink toner.

Sheriff Coleman declined to comment as to why Mrs. Cutchens was not locked up, other than to say that she had been hospitalized for a period of time, had received some psychiatric treatment and was "despondent" after sentencing in the case.

Although Wicker said he was awaiting a file on the case before deciding whether to take any action against Coleman, he added that the sheriff should have obtained permission either from the judge or from the Corrections Department before allowing her to remain free.

Corinth's ITT To Hire 235 Employees

Alcorn County's work force has been increased with the decision of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. (ITT) to hire 235 new full-time employees.

An improving economy and the fact that more people are buying phones for their homes instead of renting them in the conventional way were the main factors in the decision to increase production and manpower, according to Alva Dalton, general manager of the Corinth plant.

The new employees, will join a work force of more than 2,000.

A number of Prentiss Countians are employed at ITT in Corinth.

Fatal Plunge

A 17-year-old Dennis youth lost his life Sunday afternoon when the late model small Ford pickup in which he was a passenger left the road, ending up in Little Brown Creek in Southeast Prentiss County. The youth was apparently thrown from the truck on impact and swept downstream. Searchers did not recover the body until early Monday morning. In the

Area Youth Dies In Weekend Accident

Searchers recovered the body of a 17-year-old area youth early Monday morning in the waters of Little Brown Creek in Southeast Prentiss County after searching for about 15 hours Sunday night.

Ralph Jeffrey Moore, 17, of Dennis died after apparently being thrown from a late model, small Ford pickup which plunged into Little Brown Creek near Marietta on Siloam Road.

The accident occurred between 3 and 4 p.m. Sunday. The pickup was traveling north on Siloam Road when it left the road, collided with the metal guardrail leading to a concrete bridge, traveled down an embankment, and plunged into the rain-swollen waters of the creek.

The bridge is located approximately 3½ miles from Victoria Pharr's grocery at Pharr Flats.

Moore's cousin, Greg Mitros, 16, was reportedly the driver of the vehicle. Moore's 13-year-old brother, Scott, was also a passenger in the pickup.

All three were reportedly riding in the cab of the pickup. The elder Moore was said to have been seated between Mitros and his younger brother.

In its descent down the embankment, the top was apparently "peeled" back from the cab of the pickup.

Passersby who reportedly arrived at the scene within five minutes of the accident, said they found Mitros and the younger Moore brother standing up in the remains of the pickup's cab in the middle of the creek.

The elder Moore brother was apparently thrown from the vehicle on impact.

Bob Davis of Guntown was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the accident. He reportedly dove into the creek and searched under the submerged pickup and in surrounding brush for the missing boy, but to no avail.

The younger Moore brother and Mitros were taken by ambulance to Baptist Memorial Hospital in Booneville where they were treated in the emergency room and admitted.

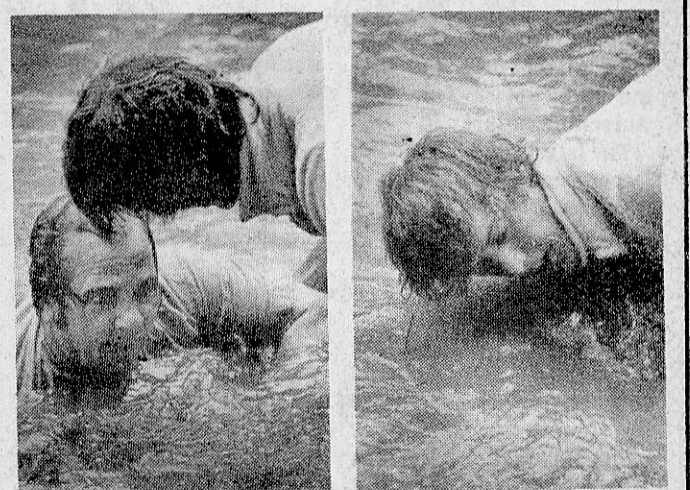

Moore was discharged Monday, but Mitros remained in the hospital in stable condition as of Tuesday afternoon, according to a spokesman for the hospital. The extent of injuries was not available.

Efforts to retrieve the wrecked pickup from the creek were hampered by the rapidly flowing waters of the creek.

Davis, Charles Garrett of a local wrecker service, and Prentiss County Coroner James Horn dived repeatedly into the cold waters of the creek to attach cables to pull the vehicle out.

Once the vehicle was out of the creek and it was firmly established that the missing boy was not trapped under the vehicle, the Prentiss County Rescue Squad was

Tentative Site Is Selected For New Post Office

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

The number one site being considered for the new Booneville Post Office is located on the vacant lot north of Kentucky Fried Chicken on Highway 45, according to Booneville Postmaster Jack Wright. A construction date for the new facility will be given at a later date Wright said.

"This particular site was the least costly as far as beginning construction," he said. "Other sites had buildings to be torn down."

The land is expected to be purchased in the next few weeks, he said.

An access driveway will connect the back of the lot to Third Street, he said.

"The property adjacent to the present building was not adequate to meet the needs of the building program," Wright added.

There is approximately 16,875 sq. ft. of space on the adjoining property. There is 11,500 sq. ft. of ground space at the present postal facility which added together would give approximately 28,375 sq. ft. The space requirements for now and the future is 50,000 sq. ft. to build a new post office building, he said.

The estimated cost of the entire project is approximately $800,000, he said.

Construction plans were originally announced two years ago. It had been hoped that construction of the new post office building would begin in October 1981 with a projected completion date of October 1982. However, federal budget cutbacks delayed the project.

The present post office on Main Street has served the people of the community since 1939. The postmaster says the city has outgrown the facility.

The new building will mean better service to the customers of the post office, Wright said.

The new building will be constructed to aid handicapped persons. Doors, lock boxes and vending

School Board Vs. Tax Assessor

Dismissal Motion Taken Under Consideration

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

The fate of a court case involving Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers and the Prentiss County Board of Education is once again in the hands of a judge.

Chancellor George Adams heard arguments for and against the dismissal of the case in a hearing last Friday in the Prentiss County Courtroom.

Adams said he would take the case under advisement and issue his determination as soon as possible.

The case Childers is seeking to have dismissed is the third such suit brought against him by county schools' superintendent Lex Cain and county school board members. The two previous suits were dismissed without going to trial.

All three suits have claimed that in 1980 Childers did not collect from the residents of Booneville $137,408 in taxes which should have gone to the Prentiss County School System.

The Booneville Municipal

Separate School District was formed in 1980, taking effect July 1 of that year.

The first suit brought by the school board against Childers was filed in federal court in Aberdeen. In March of last year, federal judge L.T. Senter Jr. dismissed that case before it came up for trial, ruling that his court did not have jurisdiction in the case.

In November of last year, Chancellor Adams dismissed a similar suit in Prentiss County Chancery Court. He ruled that Supt. Cain and the school board did not, as a public body, have the authority to bring the suit against Childers.

He also ruled that, if the school board members were attempting to bring the suit as individual taxpayers, then they did not meet certain criteria.

According to Adams' ruling at that time, the school board did not invite the public to join in the suit, did not show the suit to be in the interest of the entire public, and did not present to an officer (such as the district attorney) sufficient

Caution: Buried Cables

More and more telephone cables are buried underground now days and South Central Bell has asked farmers to exercise caution with subsoiling, disking or breaking ground.

Telephone cables are buried to protect them from the weather, as well as to keep an area attractive.

Cables usually are buried 36-inches deep, but over a period of time they can work towards the surface because of subsoiling or prolonged periods of wet weather.

Opponents Of Tenn-Tom Waterway Drop Out

"Today, May 9, 1983, marks the end of a saga..."

With those words Federal Judge William C. Keady began his order dismissing a seven-year-old lawsuit against the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway which at one time had gone as far as a petition to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The waterway is being constructed in Alabama and Mississippi by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Mobile and Nashville Districts. It will connect existing barge navigation channels on the Black Warrior-Tombigbee and Tennessee Rivers.

Keady, senior judge of the Federal court for the northern district of Mississippi, in a brief description of the massive project's litigative history, noted that it "has been almost continuously embroiled in Federal court litigation."

The suit Keady dismissed was filed by railroad and environmental groups in 1976. It challenged the 234-mile-long navigation project on environmental grounds and economic justification.

Keady said in his order, "We must leave to the verdict of history, which may probably not represent an informed judgement until the next century, whether the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway will prove to be the great economic boon and national treasure which its supporters, in and out of the Congress, have both vigorously and consistently claimed, or whether, as predicted by its foes, it will be a colossal injury to the area's environment brought about by wasteful expenditure of public funds."

"There are certain facts that no one may dispute," Keady said. "The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway is at this date 78 percent overall completed, and 86 percent completed on the navigation portion. The Army Corps of Engineers presently anticipates the entire project will be finished in September 1985."

The Congress of the United States has to this date funded construction of the Waterway with annual outlays aggregating $1,518,225,200.00, and the States of Mississippi and Alabama have thus far contributed approximately $159,000,000," he said. "The Waterway reportedly represents the largest single civil project ever undertaken by the United States Army Corps of Engineers in the continental United States."

"Disclaiming any power of clairvoyance as to what may be TTW's destiny, this court expresses understandable relief that the litigation has come to an end," Keady concluded.

Motion

facts to convince him that the filing of a suit was warranted.

The latest suit was filed in December of last year in Prentiss County Chancery Court. Childers and his attorneys are attempting to get it dismissed basically on two grounds.

First, even though the school board has attempted to meet the criteria set forth by Adams in his earlier ruling, Childers' attorneys still claim the board does not have the right to bring the suit against the tax assessor-collector.

Second, Childers' attorneys claim that as tax assessor and collector Childers can only assess and collect taxes based on the tax levy established by the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors. This is what he has done, they claim.

Since the supervisors did not include the residents within the city limits of Booneville in the tax levy for Prentiss County schools, Childers could not legally collect those taxes, his attorneys said.

In the closing arguments, Booneville attorney Bill Smith, arguing for Childers, said the school board in their budget request for 1980 did not ask the supervisors to include the residents of Booneville in their school tax levy.

"They're the ones that made the mistake -- if anyone did," Smith said referring to the school board. "They did not request the board of supervisors to levy (school) taxes on city property. The board of supervisors just did what they asked."

Earlier in the hearing, Supt. Cain testified that the school board had originally included tax money from city property in its budget request, but this budget was turned down by the State Department of Education. "They returned it to us and said leave the separate school district out of it,"

Cain said.

The school board then adopted another budget which did not include the property taxes from within the separate school district, he said.

"I had no alternative but to do what the state department of education told me to do in order to get minimum funding," he said.

The second budget was approved by the State Department of Education and was then submitted to the supervisors, he said.

The original budget which included taxes from within the separate school district was never submitted to the board of supervisors, he said, because it was useless to do so since the state had already rejected it.

In taking the case under advisement, Chancellor Adams said Friday that it "boils down to whether or not the tax assessor and collector did his duty to levy and collect taxes on the school district inside the city of Booneville for the Prentiss County School District, based on his authority from the board of supervisors, whose authority it is to levy all taxes."

Adams said he would study the documents and testimony in the case and give his decision as soon as possible as to whether or not the case should be dismissed.

Besides Supt. Cain, the only other witness to testify was board of supervisors president J.P. Davis, who identified the tax levy adopted in 1980 by the board.

Tupelo attorney Roy O. Parker represented the plaintiffs in the case -- Supt. Cain and current and past school board members, Edwin Brown, Larry Cosby, Gene Gray, Bill Wimberly, and Harold Woodruff.

In addition to Smith, Childers was represented by Booneville attorneys Thomas Keenum, Greg Keenum, and Eugene Gifford.

machines will be accessible to them, he said.

There will also be about 800 lock boxes installed plus space to install additional boxes if needed, he said. Currently all 492 lock boxes in the present facility are rented and if someone wants one, he must wait until one becomes available.

Customer parking will be "off street parking" on post office property, Wright said. This means there will be more parking spaces available for customers and employees, as well as ample dock space for loading and unloading mail trucks.

The new post office building is expected to have about 7,554 sq. ft. of interior floor space, more than twice the 3,200 sq. ft. in the present building.

summoned to help Horn, ambulance service personnel, Sheriff's Department personnel, and bystanders search for Moore.

The search lasted all night, with the body finally being recovered about daybreak, according to Horn.

The coroner said searchers finally dug a ditch to divert water into an adjacent channel, thus lowering the water in the creek. This led to the discovery of the body, Horn said.

The body was found about 300 yards downstream from the bridge where the accident occurred, he said.

It is not known if Moore died from injuries received in the wreck or if he drowned. Horn said no autopsy would be performed. Investigators from the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department had not determined what caused the pickup to leave the road and crash into the creek.

Funeral services for Moore were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Old Bethel Methodist Church with the Reverends Rodney Borders, James Smith, and Paul Stacy officiating.

Burial was in the church cemetery.

Moore was a student at Belmont High School.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore of Dennis; his brother, Scott, of the home; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Moore of Dennis and Mr. and Mrs. Waggle Steele of Golden.

Deaton Funeral Home in Belmont was in charge of arrangements.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I have heard it said that Simon, who used sorcery in Acts was never really saved. Is this correct?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: The case is found in Acts 8:9-24. According to the Bible Simon was really saved. The proof of this is in the text. In verse 13, it is said, "Simon himself believed also; and when he was baptized, he continued with Phillip." Emphasis is on the word "himself" and "continued." The pronoun "himself" identifies his faith and baptism with all the others who obeyed in Samaria. If Simon had never been saved, Luke the inspired writer of Acts would never have used this pronoun. If Simon was not saved then no person in Samaria was saved because his salvation is identified with all others. The Bible says he believed and was baptized. Furthermore, it is said that he "continued" with Phillip. This shows he was faithful for some time and then was tempted to sin. According to verse 19, he tried to buy the gift of God with money and was told by Peter to "Repent and pray." (see verse 22). This is an example of one being saved, falling from grace and then being restored under the second law of pardon.

Wrappers Collected For Burn Center

Don't throw away those old bread wrappers. They may help save somebody's life someday.

For every Wonder Bread wrapper turned in at local grocery stores, the Wonder bakeries will donate two cents to the Mississippi Firefighters' Memorial Burn Center in Greenwood.

According to Thelma McCrory of the ITT Continental Baking Company in Tupelo, boxes have been placed in the local grocery stores to collect the Wonder Bread wrappers.

She said Wonder is hoping to raise $20,000 for the burn center through this campaign. The drive began May 2 and will last for 13 weeks. Ms. McCrory said that if the response is good, the drive might continue even longer than the 13-weeks planned.

Physically connected to the Delta Medical Center, the Mississippi Firefighter's

Burn Center became operational in January 1982. Prior to that time, although Mississippi leads the nation in per capita burns, a 10-bed burn unit in Delta Medical Center was the only operational burn unit in the state.

In December 1975, Firefighters of Greenville initiated the project to build the center. Once word spread to other firefighters throughout the state, it was found there was a desire to build a totally new facility, giving birth to the concept for a 30-bed burn center.

A number of organizations contributed to the eventual opening of the center.

Future long range plans call for the addition of 14 beds, bringing total capacity of the center to 30 beds.

For further information on the bread wrapper campaign, contact Ms. McCrory at ITT Continental Baking Company, or Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming.

Changes In Laws For Bicycles

Laws affecting bicyclists were revised in the 1983 session of the Mississippi Legislature.

Lawmakers amended existing laws to give bicyclists the same rights of travel and responsibilities on all public streets and highways as motor vehicle traffic, according to the Department of Public Affairs.

"Although riders on bicycles remain excluded from being allowed to travel on the interstate highway system, they will be allowed to travel on all public streets and highways when the new law goes into effect July 1," said Sidney Berry, Commissioner of Public Safety.

The new law states that bicycle riders must not ride more than two abreast except on paths or parts of roadways set aside for their exclusive use. Also, bicyclists riding two abreast must use only one lane.

"The new law also prohibits opening the doors of an automobile on the side of roads and highways being used by traffic when it might be unsafe or when it interferes with the movement of other traffic," Berry said.

The Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol offers these tips for bicycle riders:

- Make sure the bicycle is mechanically sound.
- Obey all traffic laws.
- Ride with, not against, the traffic.
- Choose a bike that is the right type and size.
- When riding a bike: Keep your eyes on the road ahead; Lean forward slightly;

Pedal with the ball of your foot;

Steer with both hands;

Wear bright clothing, lace up shoes and long pants; and

Avoid long coats, full skirts, long scarfs or other loose clothing.

- Avoid heavy traffic.
- Signal before you stop or turn. Signal well in advance so you can use both hands when you make your turn.
- Beware of parked cars.
- Watch for pedestrians.

Thousands of bikes are stolen each year. Register your bike's serial number with your local police department.

New Penalties

For Food

Stamp Fraud

The Mississippi Department of Public Welfare will institute new food stamp fraud disqualification penalties in June 1983 as mandated by the federal government.

The food stamp fraud disqualification penalties are: six months for the first offense, 12 months for the second offense and permanent disqualification for the third offense.

Eligibility requirements and client responsibilities have not changed, only the penalties placed against the recipients for breaking food stamp rules, said a spokesman for the Department of Public Welfare.

During March 1983, 549,428 persons received $23,477,309 worth of food stamps in Mississippi. The average food stamp allotment per person was $42.73 a month.

Yard Full Of Irises
Is Showcase Of Color

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

This is the time of year when Mrs. Lorene McGee's yard in the Gaston community is a showcase of color. The stars of her yard are rainbow hued irises of velvet soft colors.

The exact number of irises growing in her yard is unknown. She lost count somewhere along the way when they began multiplying.

But suffice it to say, Mrs. McGee probably has more irises than most people.

Most of them are planted underneath pine trees on the north side of her home on Dogwood Stand Road. Five long rows are composed of irises blooming in shades of deep blues, light blues, purple, yellow, lavender, white, maroon and variegated mixtures.

At the south end of her home she also has about six short rows of irises. These are some of her "special" ones. Here grow dainty irises of purple and white, yellow and white, and burgandy orange, plus others.

But it's in a flowerbed next to her house where her favorite plant is located - a large maroon and yellow iris given to her by her friend, Irene McCreary of Booneville.

Mrs. McGee worked at Prentiss Manufacturing for 30 years before her retirement. She attends Booneville Church of Christ on Hwy. 45 North.

She and her late husband, Jack, have three children, Mary Jane Nicholson, Jackie Sue Koon and Charles McGee. She has two grandchildren.

Although the irises are her favorite flowers in her spacious, tree-filled yard, she has only been growing the irises for about eight years.

Mrs. McGee purchased many of the plants. But she has also added to her collection by swapping irises with friends.

"Irises are not hard to care for," Mrs. McGee says. "The iris bulbs should be planted just deep enough to cover the roots." Since most of the varieties multiply rapidly it is best to reset them every 3-4 years," she said.

Mrs. McGee said that the irises are not blooming as profusely as last year - possibly because of the weather.

However, people seeing her many varieties of irises that are blooming may find it hard to believe they could be any lovelier.

TREASURE YOUR IRREPLACEABLE EYES

"Don't take your eyes or your family's eyes for granted."

That's the admonition of the Commission for the Blind and Visually Handicapped of the New York State Department of Social Service.

A person has no control over being nearsighted, farsighted or astigmatic; eyeglasses or contact lenses offer a practical solution.

Visual problems can stem from many, apparently non-related conditions. They range from heredity, congenital diseases; dietary insufficiency, and infections to diabetes.

The Commission recommends that an examination by a vision specialist could mean the difference between good vision and serious eye problems--or even blindness.

Don't take your eyes for granted. Let your eye-care professional help you take good care of them.

'Talk O' The Town' Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think losing a county agent, 4-H youth agent and home economist at the same time will hurt the extension service program in Prentiss County?

ATHEL SMITH of Route 2, Booneville: "Yes, I do. It seems to me like we need them all. I deal with the county agent more than the others. He helps us answer some of the questions that arise in farming."

BARBARA McNUTT of Route 2, Baldwyn: "I'm sure it will. There will be no one in command of anything. The county agent, home economist and 4-H youth agent are needed because that was a reason they got the jobs in the first place."

DOROTHY OZBIRN of Route 2, Rienzi: "I think it would be a disaster. For instance, the 4-H program means so much to boys and girls. They get training there that they don't get anywhere else. We learn so many shortcuts from the home economist and the farmers can go to the county agent for help. We need all three. They all work together."

RUBY STOREY of Route 3, Rienzi: "Really it seems to me like it would make a big difference losing them all at the same time. There are so many things we go to the county extension office for. The information they give is a big help."

NOLAN WHEELER of 206 Main St., Booneville: "Definitely. They have contributed not only to the community but as individuals. The home economist, county agent and 4-H agent have meant a lot to the community in every way. I think it would be a big loss if we didn't have them."

ERLINE SMITH of Central Drive, Booneville: "Yes, I think it would hurt because with their experience you probably wouldn't be able to replace all three of them at once. I think all three are really important to the county because different people use their services."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

Staff Reporter

In my vast journeying across Prentiss County, I am finally hearing quite a bit of talk about "politics."

Speaking of vast journeyings, I got lost in Pisgah last week when I went to interview Mrs. Robert Baygents. This is noteworthy because it is the first time I've ever gone to do an interview and gotten lost. And I've worked here nearly three years - so that's pretty good for someone who stays in Thrasher most of the time.

Thanks to Kent Geno, who was good enough to give me directions to the right road, I was only 15 minutes late for my interview. Usually I'm later than that even when I'm not lost.

Now, let's think about the Prentiss County political scene for a moment.

There's about two weeks left to qualify for political offices. Does anyone think there will be 20 candidates in the sheriff's race?

We won't know for sure until June 3, the last day to qualify. But it's fun to play psychic and predict how many candidates there will be. There are already 13 candidates in the sheriff's race plus the usual whisperings that several more will qualify.

Someone has suggested we give a prize to the 20th candidate to qualify for sheriff. I think a pair of boots would be an appropriate prize. After all, there is a saying that "it gets deep at political speakings."

I am still sticking by my original decision not to run for the sheriff's post . . . even if I am the only person in Prentiss County who isn't a candidate.

Have you noticed the candidate posters going up around town? That's one of the good things about election year. There will be a lot of candidate posters to put in gardens.

So far there are 76 candidates in all. In the last county election there were 94 candidates vying for various offices.

No doubt there will be a lot of decision making in the next two weeks about whether "to run or not to run."

If you cannot decide whether to run for a political office, take this test. This is an easy and simple way to determine whether you are candidate material.

Do you have a clammy handshake?

Does the thought of making speeches before your friends, enemies and strangers make you nauseous?

Do you chew tobacco?

Will most of your relatives vote for you or at least pretend they don't know you?

Are you good at talking without actually saying anything?

If you answered "yes" to any three of these questions,

Eyes On Mississippi

State Income Continues Below National Average

By BILL MINOR Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. -- Are the odds insurmountable for the average Mississippian to gain economic parity with his counterpart in most states of the nation?

It would seem so from comparisons of average incomes in Mississippi's 82 counties and that of the average American.

We have tried such ideas as "75 by 75," the slogan that we could achieve 75 percent of the nation's per capita income by 1975, and other promotions to raise our hopes that we are gaining on the rest of the country. But the figures keep coming back to haunt us: we're standing still.

And Gov. William Winter has observed, we've got to run faster than the others, just to keep up. The closest we ever got to the national average per capita income was 71.5 percent in 1977 and we've lost ground since, dropping back to 68.8 percent in 1980 and holding on at 71 percent in 1981.

Meantime, the dollar gap between Mississippi's per capita income and the nation's has widened from $1,819 in 1975 to $3,086 in 1981.

Recently, the Economic Analysis Division of the Mississippi Research and Development Center secured the 1981 per capita income figures for each of the state's 82 counties, which show that only Hinds County equalled the national per capita income average. Hinds stood at 102 percent of the national average.

Seven counties -- Carroll, Greene, Holmes, Issaquena, Kemper, Marshall, Noxubee -- had per capita income which was only 50 percent, or less, of the average national income. Thirty-six of the state's counties had incomes not over 60 percent of the U.S. average which in 1981 amounted to $10,495.

In dollars, the top five counties in per capita income were Hinds, $10,721; Warren, $9,056; Lee, $8,621; Adams, $8,488 and Lauderdale and Jones tied at $8,367.

The bottom five in terms of dollars were Issaquena, $4,271; Carroll, $4,298; Greene, $4,649; Marshall, $4,860 and Kemper, $5,040.

The following is where each county stood percentage-wise with relation to the average per capita income nationally in the 1981 figures:

Adams, 81; Alcorn, 73; Amite, 55; Attala, 54; Benton, 52; Bolivar, 57; Calhoun, 55; Carroll, 41; Chickasaw, 65; Choctaw, 54; Claiborne, 61; Clarke, 67; Clay, 67; Coahoma, 65; Copiah, 61; Covington, 62;

DeSoto, 73; Forrest, 79; Franklin, 57; George, 55; Greene, 44; Grenada, 68; Hancock, 58; Harrison, 78; Hinds, 102; Holmes, 49.

Humphreys, 55; Issaquena, 41; Itawamba, 62; Jackson, 74; Jasper, 66; Jefferson, 62; Jefferson Davis, 54; Jones, 80; Kemper, 48; Lafayette, 59; Lamar, 58; Lauderdale, 80; Lawrence, 56; Leake, 61; Lee, 82; Leflore, 66; Lincoln, 64; Lowndes, 75.

Madison, 57; Marion, 60; Marshall, 46; Monroe, 69; Montgomery, 52; Neshoba, 62; Newton, 70; Noxubee, 50; Oktibbeha, 65; Panola, 57; Pearl River, 66; Perry, 60; Pike, 63; Pontotoc, 60; Prentiss, 59; Quitman, 54; Rankin, 71; Scott, 60; Sharkey, 55; Simpson, 65; Smith, 58.

Stone, 71; Sunflower, 57; Tallahatchie, 51; Tate, 64; Tippah, 66; Tishomingo, 70; Tunica, 55; Union, 69; Walthall, 55; Warren, 86;

Washington, 72; Wayne, 58; Webster, 67; Wilkinson, 60; Winston, 58; Yalobusha, 59; Yazoo, 71.

Perhaps what tells the most about personal income in Mississippi is the fact that transfer payments -- federal government payments such as Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, Food Stamps, Unemployment benefits, Aid to Dependent Families and Children -- are the biggest single source of income in 43 counties. At least, that is the way it was in 1980 report of the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis.

Among them were Amite, Attala, Benton, Bolivar, Carroll, Coahoma, Copiah, Covington, Franklin, George, Greene, Holmes, Humphreys, Issaquena, Jasper, Jefferson, Jefferson Davis, Kemper, Lamar, Lauderdale, Leake, Leflore, Madison, Marion, Marshall, Montgomery, Newton, Noxubee, Panola, Pearl River, Perry, Pike, Quitman, Sharkey, Sunflower, Tallahatchie, Tate, Tunica, Walthall, Wayne, Webster, Wilkinson and Yazoo.

The great American dream continues to elude most Mississippians, but hope springs eternal here that economic salvation may be on the way.

Note: It was called to the attention of this column by Marshall Lusk, candidate for attorney general, that a recent reference to his departure as attorney for the Mississippi Association of County Supervisors was not accurate.

While he was "not on the best of terms" with certain supervisors as stated, Lusk said on the whole his departure was an amicable one, and he is still called upon by the Supervisors Association for legal advice.

Letters

New Post Office Should Be Conveniently Located

Dear Editor,

Current rumors indicate that a decision has been made to locate Booneville's new post office on Highway 45 North. If so, I cannot believe that all aspects of the move have been considered by the decision makers.

Except for price, the arguments given by the postmaster in his recent letter to the editor of The Banner-Independent are valid for ANY new location -- not just The location on Highway 45.

For instance: A new postal facility in any location should adequately serve ALL customers just as well as the "preferred and/or proposed location" on Highway 45. A new facility in any location should be designed to afford better service to the handicapped, should offer more boxes, working space, ramp and parking space.

If these things can't be done for ANY location other than the preferred one on Highway 45, we need a new architect as much as we need a new post office.

And what about traffic congestion?

The preferred location would certainly relieve the congestion in front of the present post office, but what would it do to heavily-traveled Highway 45?

This is the main traffic artery for through traffic, and is also heavily traveled by local traffic.

Some two dozen or more of the area's heaviest mail users are located within walking distance of downtown Booneville. These heavy mailers include three churches, three banks (probably the area's biggest mailers), six insurance agencies, 17 lawyers' offices, six accountants, Prentiss County Electric Power Association, several doctors' offices, all city and county offices, plus an assortment of federal governmental offices.

All of these -- and many others -- who could continue to walk to a location nearer downtown, will be forced to drive to the Highway 45 location. This will double, maybe even triple or quadruple, the traffic that now causes congestion at the post office.

Hopefully, adequate off-street parking will be provided. But what happens when all this additional traffic starts making left turns, right turns and U-turns amidst the already heavy traffic on the city's major traffic artery?

Maybe the city can widen the street, add turn lanes, and install traffic-activated signals. And MAYBE this won't cost any more than a more expensive, but more practical, location.

And just MAYBE it will work.

The postmaster's statement that it is anticipated a site will be selected from those submitted, seems to indicate that it is not mandatory that only a submitted site be considered.

Would it not be possible to seek a location other than a submitted one?

If not, I understand there is a possibility of obtaining one or more of the submitted sites at less than the original asking price. Could this possibility be investigated?

If, as rumored, the decision has already been made, who made it? It's a shame to build a fine new facility at a site that will be more convenient for less than a half dozen people, but much less convenient for everyone else -- including practically all of its heavy users.

And if price is the only consideration, let's build it a few miles further out.

Maybe somebody would even consider donating a few acres five or ten miles out of town just to have a post office nearby.

It wouldn't do much for convenience, but it would sure cut costs.

in New Albany. No invitations are being sent. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the wedding and reception.

Members Hear Club History

The history of the Booneville Woman's Club for 1982-83 was prepared and planned by Mrs. L.W. Peeler to be given at the club's last meeting.

The year's events were set to music, and while Mrs. Merrill Cartwright recounted what had happened, Doug Holland and Stephanie Lindsey played the piano and sang appropriate music.

Dr. Neola Cleveland was in charge of the business session. Mrs. Lee Davis gave a report on the Summer Library Reading Program and Mrs. Sam

Galloway have a report from the Constitution Resolutions Committee.

Mrs. Bill Duncan acted as secretary and Mrs. Charles Brown gave the treasurer's report.

A Millionaire Pie and coffee was served prior to the meeting. Hostesses were Mrs. W.B. White and Mrs. Bill Duncan.

Local UDC Club Meets

Mrs. John M. Curlee was the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the D.T. Beall Chapter, UDC held in the club room at the Different Drummer Restaurant May 11, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Leland Billingsley and Mrs. George Via were hostesses for the occasion.

An arrangement of spring flowers lent a "party atmosphere" to the setting of the chapter meeting.

Mrs. A.L. Tidwell, chapter president, presided at the meeting. The ritual was observed and Mrs. Allie Miller led the pledge of allegiance and the salute to the Confederate flag.

Mrs. Curlee's topic was "Blockade Runners." She gave many interesting facts about this subject and made the UDC members aware of circumstances forgotten or unknown that took place during the era of the War Between the States.

From the review of her material, she related that president Lincoln proclaimed a blockade five days after the evacuation of Fort Sumter April 19, 1861. The states affected were South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and Texas. Eight days later he extended the blockade to include North Carolina and Virginia.

Mrs. Curlee said that newspapers pointed out that it was impossible to enforce a blockade and that the whole thing was an empty threat. The anger of most Southerners turned to disdain and mirth.

Europe's statesmen were puzzled by the very use of the word to see a nation blockade its own ports since blockade is a recognized agency of war only between indepent nations. Much blame was placed on William H. Seward, secretary of state.

As time passed, Mrs. Curlee said, the public in general was aware of the evils of blockade running and realized making a law was one thing but enforcing it was difficult.

President Davis in 1863 warned the public of the evils of blockade running as a private enterprise but in 1863 the Confederacy had four steamers purchased and run by the Ordinance Bureau for the Confederacy.

The Northerners also entered into the practice and in 1864 had 671 warships in service against the Confederates, Mrs. Curlee said.

In 1865 Fort Fisher guarding Wilmington, the most important port for blockade runners, fell. Three months later, the War Between the States was history.

During the social hour, the hostesses served cake and coffee to the 12 members attending the meeting.

"Amnesia is the best word for describing what afflicted this nation sometime in the Seventies. Americans by and large simply forgot that teachers are the heart of any nation's life ... that children are any nation's passport to the future. Unless a national reawakening to these basic facts soon occurs ... there might not be much of an American future." Copied students received instruction in the maintenance of stock records and the procedures necessary to receive, store, issue and ship supplies and material.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Charles L. Potts

Dear Lord... Thank You For Leading

Ps. 23:3 - "He Leadeth Me..."

The 23rd psalm has dried many eyes, and supplied the mold into which many hearts have poured their peaceful faith. A song of perfect faith. It shows how God leads us into joy. "He makes me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters." This is typical of the kindness of God... ever leading us to pleasant pastures.

Someone has called this God's place of joyful retreat for his children. God's kindness is much more evident than his severity. Because our sorrows weigh so heavily on us, we are likely to exaggerate them.

Our sorrow can never be as great as God's joy, born in our hearts through the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ.

God is also forever leading us into righteousness. "He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness." A holy purpose runs through his providence and that is to make us righteous. Therefore, the Good Shepherd leads us into the straight and narrow way.

The paths of right are not always attractive. Often they are hard and steep. Oh, but, dear friend we do not travel alone! Our Leader and Deliverer is with us! When we faint his grace will sustain us, and when the way is too steep for human strength he will set our feet on higher ground.

He leads us through sorrows. "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death... thou art with me..." We know that through every dark valley into which the path of life may dip, God is with us. No trial is too hard if he is there to comfort us with the rod of his grace.

Catch the beauty of the following refrain:

Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire,
and lighten with celestial fire;
Enable with perpetual light
The dullness of our blinded sight
Anoint and cheer our soiled face with the abundance of thy grace;
Keep far our foes; give peace at home;
Where thou art guide no ill can come.

At The Baygents

Barbecue And Catfish—Specialties Of The House

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Barbecue season has arrived. Ygondine Baygents and her husband, Robert, of the Pisgah community are experts at the art of cooking outdoors.

Each June the Baygents host the annual Prentiss County Shrine Club fish fry at their cabin at Lake Mohawk. The Baygents have cooked this fish feast for the Shriners for the last ten years.

When it's time to prepare the food for the Shriners' supper, her husband cooks the fish, chicken and hushpuppies.

She prepares the side dishes which include, slaw, potato salad, baked beans, homemade bread, ice cream and coconut cake.

The Baygents celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary in January. They have two sons, Jimmy and Billy and attend Gaston Baptist Church. Mrs. Baygents taught school for 28 years.

These are several of the recipes the Baygents serve at the Shrine Club's annual cook-out.

Place half of flour in plastic bag. Combine remaining half of flour with salt, pepper and paprika. Beat egg and milk and pour into shallow dish. Working with a few pieces of chicken at a time, shake in bag to coat. Dip into egg-milk mixture and roll in seasoned flour. In skillet, heat about one inch of oil. Cook chicken uncovered over medium heat for 10-15 minutes, browning evenly. Drain well on paper towels. Place chicken skin side up in shallow baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Drain again if necessary.

Strawberry Ice Cream
4 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 T. vanilla
½ pt. whipping cream
2 cans condensed milk (Eagle Brand)
Approximately 1½ qts. dairy milk
3 cups of strawberries
Combine all ingredients except dairy milk in blender and blend for one minute. Pour into freezer can and add dairy milk. Freeze. Place can in freezer for approximately 30 minutes. Serve.

Special Baked Beans
2 lbs. dry navy beans (4 cups)
water
ham bone
2 cups sugar
½ cup molasses
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup catsup
Wash and pick beans. Cover beans with water, bring to boil and boil 2 minutes. Cover and let stand one hour.

Add ham bone and return to heat. Simmer 1½ hrs. or until beans are tender, but before skins burst. Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Drain beans, reserving liquid. Put beans in a 4 quart bean pot or baking dish. Combine sugar, molasses, salt, mustard, ginger, pepper, catsup and 1 cup hot bean liquid. If necessary add just enough bean liquid to cover beans. Cover and bake in oven for 2 hours. Uncover, bake 1 hour longer to brown on top. Freezes very well.

RECIPES TO KEEP - Ygondine Baygents and her husband, Robert, of Pisgah, have hosted the Prentiss County Shriners' annual fish fry at their cabin at Lake Mohawk each June for the last ten years. Her husband is in charge of cooking the chicken, fish and hushpuppies and Mrs. Baygents prepares the tasty side dishes for the yearly feast.

Potato Salad
2 cups diced, cooked potatoes - Salted to taste
1 chopped bell pepper
½ cup chopped onions
4 tablespoons pimento pepper (mashed)
¼ cup chopped celery
4 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon mustard
3 hard boiled eggs (mashed)
¾ cup chopped sweet pickles
Cook and cool potatoes. Mix with remaining ingredients. Sprinkle top with paprika. Chill.

Slaw
3 cups green shredded cabbage
1 cup red shredded cabbage
¼ cup chopped onions
Salt to taste
1½ cups mayonnaise
Mix and chill.

Ribbon Salad
First Layer
1 pkg. lime jello
1 cup boiling water

1 large can crushed pineapple (including juice)
Dissolve jello in boiling water. Add pineapple. Congeal.

Second Layer
1 pkg. lemon jello
2 cups boiling water
18 oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 cup chopped pecans
Dissolve lemon jello in boiling water. Add cream cheese and beat with electric beater until thoroughly dissolved. Add chopped nuts. Pour on top of layer one. Congeal.

Third Layer
1 pkg. strawberry jello
1 cup boiling water
1 large can fruit cocktail
Dissolve jello in boiling water. Add fruit cocktail including juice. Pour on top of second layer. Congeal.
To serve: Cut in squares and serve on iceberg lettuce leaves topped with mayonnaise. (I use homemade)

Mayonnaise
1 egg yolk

½ t. dry mustard
¼ t. cayenne pepper
½ t. sugar
¼ t. salt
2 T. lemon juice or vinegar
1 cup olive oil or salad oil
Place all ingredients except oil in blender. Turn blender on and gradually add oil. Blend for 2-3 minutes. Chill before placing on salad.

French Bread

¾ cup water
¼ cup corn meal
¼ t. salt
¼ cup cold water

2 pkg. dry active yeast
½ cup hot milk
1 T. sugar
5-5½ cups flour
Heat ¾ cup water to boiling. Mix corn meal, salt, and ¼ cup cold water. Pour corn meal mixture into boiling water, stirring constantly. Cook until thick. Cover and cook 10 minutes longer over low heat. Set aside to cool. Put yeast in ½ cup warm water; mix with sugar, salt, and warm milk. Add cornmeal mush. Cool to lukewarm. Blend in flour to make a soft dough. Beat for

2 to 3 minutes. Place in well greased bowl and let rise until double in size, about 1 hour. Punch dough down and let rest for 10 minutes. Form into long thin roll on greased baking sheet. With a sharp knife cut diagonal ¼ inch deep slits about 2½ inches apart across the top. Brush top of loaf with salt water (1

T. salt in ¼ cup water). Cover, let rise until double. Place a pie plate filled with water on bottom rack of oven. Bake bread at 400 degree for 15 minutes, reduce heat to 300 degrees and bake 30-35 minutes longer. Baste with salt water about 5 minutes before bread is done.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

WHEREAS, on the 21st day of February, 1980, Garry R. Adkins and wife, Charlotte Harling Adkins, mortgagee, executed a certain deed of trust whereby they conveyed to me as Trustee therein the hereinafter described real property to secure a certain indebtedness mentioned in said deed of trust owing to Fidelity Federal Savings and Loan Association, Corinth, Mississippi, which deed of trust is recorded in the land records of Alcorn County, Mississippi in Trust Deed Book No. 125 at page(s) 108-111; and

WHEREAS, said indebtedness has matured in its entirety and is now past due, unpaid and in default; the provisions of said trust deed have been broken by said grantors and have not been cured; and said beneficiary, the present holder of said indebtedness has requested the undersigned to foreclose said deed of trust pursuant to the provisions thereof to enforce payment of said debt;

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned trustee on the 3rd day of June, 1983, at the front doors of the Prentiss County Courthouse in the City of Booneville, Mississippi, within legal hours for such sales, will offer for sale and sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder for cash the said property conveyed to me by said trust deed, described as follows:

Situated in the County of Prentiss, State of Mississippi, to-wit: 12 acres in the form of a square in the Northeast Corner of the Northeast Quarter of Section 10, Township 5, Range 4 East, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the Northeast corner of the Northeast Quarter of said Section, run thence West 723 feet along the northern boundary of said Section; thence South 723 feet; thence East 723 feet; thence North 723 feet along the eastern boundary of said Section to the true point of beginning.

LESS AND EXCEPT 1.76 acres, more or less, deeded to Mississippi State Highway Commission dated October 19, 1974, as recorded in Deed Book 107 at page 13.

I will sell and convey only such title as is vested in me by said trust deed.

SIGNED, POSTED AND PUBLISHED on this, 12th day of May, 1983.

Timberline

Pines Suggested For Uplands

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester
Mississippi Forestry Commission

Whether I'm talking to civic clubs or to individual landowners, I often stress the importance of growing the proper species of trees on the proper sites.

I especially emphasize that upland sites should be converted from hardwood to pine. Pine trees are worth more than hardwoods, and they grow faster.

People are often justifiably concerned about the effect this stand conversion will have on wildlife, especially squirrels.

Now, we at the Forestry Commission like squirrels and other animals as well as anybody, and we aren't about to suggest that we make them an endangered species.

Notice that I recommend converting upland sites to pine. By this I mean the upper slopes and tops of ridges and hills. Stream bottoms, drainages, and coves will grow good quality hardwood trees, and they are expensive to convert to pine. Hardwoods are probably the proper species for these sites.

By following this system of timber management, you can increase your timber income, and at the same time make your forest more attractive to a wider variety of wildlife.

Some animals that don't like open hardwood forests are attracted to the brushy conditions that exist in young pine plantations. Examples of these are rabbits, quail, many songbirds and, to some extent, deer.

Wildlife biologists tell us that many animals are attracted to the areas where different stands meet. This is called the "edge effect." The system of timber management described here will produce much of this.

There are many other things you can do to improve wildlife habitat on your land.

You might try supplemental feeding. Small open areas can be planted with game food, and firelanes and woods roads can be planted with a green cover crop.

This will control erosion and also improve their fire control effectiveness, as well as supply food for animals.

Here's another trick you may want to try: Drive a large nail about one inch deep into an old tree that will not be sold. File the head end to a sharp point, and stick an ear of corn on it. Replace the corn when all the grain is gone. Your squirrels will love you for it!

Maintain natural food and den trees - When deadening hardwood trees to prepare a site for planting pine seedlings, leave a few large hardwood trees that show evidence of heavy wildlife use. Don't leave too many. The shade will stunt your pine seedlings. Maintain fruit and nut trees around old house sites.

Use forest management techniques that benefit wildlife - Prescribed burning and thinning of pine stands encourages the growth of grass and food-bearing shrubs.

Good timber management is often good wildlife management. It is possible to increase your timber income and make your woodlands more attractive to wildlife. It just takes a little planning.

NE Offering Medical Laboratory Program

Northeast Mississippi Junior College is now accepting applications for its medical laboratory technology program, according to Kenneth B. Floyd, director of admissions.

Students accepted to the program will begin classes in the fall.

The two-year program is designed to prepare qualified men and women to work in a medical laboratory under the supervision of a medical technologist or pathologist.

During laboratory training, students perform routine procedures in the areas of hematology, bacteriology, blood banking, chemistry, parasitology, serology and urinalysis.

In addition to the college's regular admission requirements, MLT applicants must score at least 15 on the American College Test, must be interviewed by the program director at Northeast and must submit an application to the medical laboratory technology program and a completed physical examination form.

For additional information, or to secure application forms, contact the Office of Admissions by calling 728-7751, ext. 239.

Computer Basics Class Scheduled

Computer basics, introduction to programming, business and industrial applications of computers and hands-on laboratory experience will each be featured in one of the five class meetings of Computer Literacy for Executives offered by the Division of Continuing Education at Northeast Junior College beginning May 30.

The five-session class is designed to build a basic understanding of computers and to instill confidence in managers who must deal successfully with the computer age, Opal Melvin, course facilitator said.

Participants will learn basic terminology and simple programming so they can communicate effectively with computer and systems personnel in order to get the information they need, she added.

Because the class is limited to only 30, participants must pre-register by Monday, May 23. Registration fee is $40 per person. Continuing Education Units for 15 contact hours will be awarded to successful participants.

Class meetings will be from 6 to 9 p.m. each Monday evening, May 30-June 27, in Room 122 of Gordon Hall.

For additional information, or to pre-register, contact Mrs. Melvin at 728-7751, ext. 303.

Completes Training

Marine Pfc. Danny M. Hare, son of Clifton Hare Jr. of Route 5 and Betty C. McVey of 105 Eudora Heights, both of Booneville, was graduated from Basic Aviation Ordnanceman School.

During the nine-week course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn., students received an introduction to aviation ordnance fundamentals and the weaponry contained in Navy and Marine Corps aircraft units.

They studied aircraft guns, bombs and missiles plus the procedures and safety precautions for the storage and handling of aviation ammunition

Miss Hurd Awarded Scholarship

Gladys Hurd of Booneville has been awarded a Max C. Fleischmann Foundation Scholarship from the United Negro College Fund.

The $1,000 scholarship is to be used to help defray her tuition, fees and living expenses for the 1982-83 academic year.

Gladys is the daughter of Mrs. Ruby Hurd of Route 1, Booneville, and the late Willie Henry Hurd. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lidge Chambers of Booneville and Bruce Hurd of Rienzi.

GLADYS HURD

TO THE VOTERS OF PRENTISS COUNTY

BOBBY BURRESS, JR.

"What kind of man does it take to be a good sheriff?" Twenty years ago when I ran for this office, I was too young and too inexperienced in dealing with people to answer that question. After twenty years of working with you, talking with you, and being friends with you, I can now answer that question. You want a man who is knowledgeable, experienced, reasonable and hard-working.

It takes a man who understands the job he will be doing. A large part of the sheriff's responsibility is investigating. I have nearly fifteen years of investigative experience with insurance companies. Good investigators get all the facts before making a decision. In fourteen years of handling claims for Farm Bureau Insurance, I was only in court one time. I learned how to settle claims out of court by doing complete investigations, knowing people and knowing how to get along with people. I know I can do just as good with the duties of the sheriff's office because it is also dealing with people and investigating.

It takes a man who has experience in handling a large budget and supervising people. For two years I was Deputy Director of the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission and for two years I was Chairman of that commission. Our budget was over four million dollars and there were over 300 employees under me. Never during the four years did our department exceed its budget and we maintained a good relationship with our employees. It takes good leadership and teamwork to get any job done, and I will provide good reasonable leadership as your sheriff.

It takes a man who understands the court system, both adult and youth court. I was a member of the State Probation and Parole Board for four years. I gained a valuable insight into the workings of the courts in that capacity. My wife, Deanna, also worked four years for the Probation and Parole Board and four years with the county Youth Court. We have shared many experiences of both adults and youths and this knowledge will be of great help to me as your sheriff.

It takes a man who can identify with our young people. I firmly believe that if our young people respect the law enforcement officers who serve them, they will make an effort to obey the laws. I plan to spend a lot of time working with our youth in an attempt to get them to respect the job we will be doing. I plan to work with our local school systems arranging programs on drug abuse and the pitfalls of crime. If we can help some young people by our efforts, it will be worth all the time it takes. Our youth are the future of our county and country. The leadership we provide for them now will help determine the type adults they will become.

It takes a man who will be on the job when you need him. Waiting a few hours to answer a call may be too late. Rapid response and action by your law enforcement officers can many times stop trouble before it really starts. I will always be there when you need me and will always be around if you need to just talk about a problem.

I know what kind of sheriff you want. I know I will be that type sheriff. I need your support in this race. In return I will give you four years of hard work and good reasonable leadership.

Eggs Are Economical, Nutritious

By WANDA L. ROBINSON
4-H Program Assistant

You can serve eggs more often and help your budget. Eggs are one of the few items for which you're paying less now than a year ago.

Even at much higher prices than you're now paying, eggs are one of your best food bargains. They're excellent sources of iron and vitamins and a consistently economical source of animal protein. They rival heat-and-eat foods in ease of preparation and minimum waste.

Not only do egg prices fluctuate throughout the year, but the size that offers the best value varies with seasons. In late August and early September, small or medium eggs are likely to offer the best value on a cost-per-pound basis.

By mid-winter, large, extra large and jumbo sizes are most plentiful and likely to be better values than the small eggs. Egg prices vary with both grade and size. However, since most eggs are either Grade A or

AA, size accounts for more variation in price than grade.

Usual egg sizes are small (18 ounces to the dozen), medium (21 ounces to the dozen), large (24 ounces to the dozen), extra-large (27 ounces to the dozen) and jumbo (30 ounces to the dozen). When prices for the different sizes are near the same, the largest size available is generally the best buy, except when a special price is offered for a particular size.

Like most shoppers, you probably buy better eggs than you serve. Eggs are an uncooked protein food, yet you wouldn't think of treating fresh poultry or meat as carelessly as you sometimes treat eggs. Leaving eggs at room temperature damages their quality in a hurry. This happens first when you delay storing them after you buy them and repeatedly as you use them. A good practice is to remove the egg carton from the refrigerator only long enough to remove the eggs you need.

The carton in which you buy eggs provides adequate protection in the refrigerator as long as a week. If you keep eggs longer they need to be in a tightly covered container.

You may enclose each carton in a plastic bag for extra protection. Egg shells are porous, allowing those that are refrigerated unprotected for several days to lose quality in two ways. The eggs may absorb odors from other foods and moisture evaporates through the porous shells, causing a more rapid quality loss than is necessary.

Since eggs are so quick and easy to prepare they can compete, timewise, with more expensive convenience main dishes. They're also a basic necessity in general cooking. Eggs serve as a leavening agent in sponge cakes, as a binding agent in meat loaves or patties and as a coating agent for fried food. They also contribute to flavor and texture of numerous types of cakes, cookies and breads.

Besides being a necessary ingredient for many dishes, eggs qualify as a good source of protein and other nutrients. Two eggs constitute the recommended adult servings, providing approximately 1/4 lb. (4 oz.) of food. Even at todays prices these cost only pennies per saving.

When you shop for eggs, look for quality. Buy graded eggs from refrigerated cases. The grade tells you that the eggs were a specific quality at the time of grading. Proper care is necessary to maintain that quality. So, keep them covered and refrigerated at home, and enjoy them often.

Soil Conservation News

By DON JONES
Soil Conservation Technician
USDA - Soil Conservation Service

During the past few years the problems of aquatic vegetation in Mississippi has been brought more and more to the attention of landowners. These nuisance plants interfere with fishing by providing too much shelter for small bream. The bream overpopulate since their natural predator, the bass, can't find them in the heavy vegetation. Aquatic vegetation also distracts from the lake appearance, presents problems in fish management, and when the weeds die off, the decomposition causes an oxygen shortage that may kill fish.

Prevention is the best control. The pond should be constructed in a site free from pollution and excessive water drainage. Proper fertilization is the next step to prevention of water weeds. If a pond becomes too clear, sunlight may reach the bottom and submerged weeds begin to grow. Once fertilization is started, it should be continued as long as weed prevention is desired.

Lowering the water level is the most effective control for weeds and at the same time is the least trouble if the pond is constructed properly. A drain pipe should be installed during construction. The fall and winter draw down exposes the roots to drying and freezing and this helps to eliminate vegetation around the edge.

If aquatic weeds are established in the pond and presenting a problem, the pond owner may be forced to use chemicals as a means of eradication. Chemicals are available to control almost any problem weed but are expensive to use. Because of high cost, it is very important that the proper chemical be applied at correct rates, time of year, and manner of application to assure optimum results.

A less expensive method of weed control has recently been introduced to the south in the form of the grass carp. These fish feed on pond vegetation and preliminary studies have indicated they can successfully control aquatic weeds without detrimental effects to the ecology. Pond owners should always check with state laws and fishery biologists before introducing exotic fish species to Mississippi waters.

For more information on water weed control, contact the Soil Conservation Service at 107 College Street or phone 728-3544.

Prosecutors Attend Conference

Attending the recent Spring Conference for Mississippi Prosecutors in Biloxi were R. Michael Bolen, Booneville city prosecutor, and John Ferrell, Jumpertown city prosecutor, both of Booneville.

The Governor's Highway

Safety Program joined with the Mississippi Prosecutors College, a division of the Court Education Program at The University of Mississippi School of Law, in presenting the first day's program on the new DUI legislation.

Busy Summer Planned For Club

By
EDWARD L. MCWHIRTER
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

PRENTISS COUNTY 4-H'ERS PLANS FOR THE SUMMER

This is the time of year that 4-H'ers start planning for activities and events for the summer months.

A County Visual Presentation Contest will be held May 31 at 9:30 a.m. at the West Side Community Center.

The County 4-H Talent Show will be held May 31 at 7:00 p.m. at the West Side Community Center.

The Fontana Resource Conference will be held June 1-10.

The District Contests for 4-H'ers age 9-13, will be held June 15 at Mississippi State University.

State Contests for 4-H'ers age 14-18 will be held on June 21, 22, and 23 at Mississippi State University.

The Northeast Mississippi Resource Conference will be held June 28, 29, and 30.

The Washington Focus will be held July 23-30.

The District Horse Show will be held July 8-9.

The State Horse Show will be held July 14, 15, and 16.

LEARN FROM REPORTS, REPORTS REPORTS ...

When 4-H records are mentioned, most people think of 4-H records as competition. But, competition is only one reason for keeping records. Keeping records for competition has a short-term effect - winning a specific award.

The basic objectives of overall record keeping are:

- to help a member learn how to keep a record of accomplishments.
- to help a member realize how much has been accomplished and how much growth has occurred.
- to help a member learn how to figure details (hours, energy and money) and the art of compiling achievements.
- to help a leader determine how great a challenge a member needs to assume.
- to help leaders and the Extension agents realize what members have learned during the year to determine the next program steps.

As a 4-H leader, you have an important role to play in helping 4-H'ers develop a positive attitude toward record keeping. Your enthusiasm and skill will be needed to help the 4-H'er make record keeping an important part of the 4-H project. The following tips may be helpful:

- Well begun is half done. Emphasize getting off to a good start. Include in the club and project program a plan for record review, and list due dates.
- Discuss reasons for record keeping with the 4-H'ers. People accept tasks best when they understand their values.
- Keep a sample record. This could be used at club meetings to show how to keep the book up to date and how to complete it. Your county office has a completed copy of the annual report, accumulative report, financial reports, and project-program outlines for applying for state awards.
- This might also be used at special meetings to which parents are invited.

Have regular record book inspection. Check records at meeting periodically and on project visits or tours.

- Mention records in some way frequently. Youngsters need reminding. Emphasize importance, be enthusiastic, yet do it casually.
- Recognize good jobs of record keeping, particularly by members making progress, even though not the greatest.
- Watch out for an over emphasis on records; make records seem a regular and normal part of 4-H.
- Lend a personal hand when needed, or help a parent do so.
- Have older members help those who are just beginning a record.

PIK Restrictions Are Outlined

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF
PIK ACREAGE

Participants in the Acreage Reduction Program (ARP) and the Payment-In-Kind (PIK) Program continue to raise questions concerning the grazing and harvesting restrictions on conservation use acreage.

The general rule is that the land must be out of crop production during the year. The following specific points concerning use of this acreage are listed as a means of answering some of the questions:

- 1) Grazing is not permitted during the period May 1 through Oct 31, 1983. (This nongrazing period is considered to be the normal cropping season.)
- 2) Harvesting of a crop from the acreage is not permitted. (There are some exceptions as noted in 3 below.)
- 3) As a general rule harvesting of crops from conservation use acreage is prohibited. There are some exceptions such as:
 - a. Harvest of honey from bee colonies located on this acreage is permitted.
 - b. Harvest of fish is permitted except during May 1-October 31, 1983.
 - c. Noncommercial recreation is permitted.
 - d. Winter vegetables could be harvested prior to February 28, 1983, with COC approval.The farmer is responsible for seeing that the grazing and harvesting restrictions are complied with. The participant must maintain the acreage in an approved conservation use to protect the land from erosion, insects, weeds and rodents.

The participant is also required to clip or bushog as necessary to control weeds and bushes.

Any participant who has a question concerning conservation use requirements or grazing and harvesting restrictions, should contact the local ASCS office.

FARM PROGRAM
GUARDS AGAINST SOIL
EROSION

The 1983 acreage reduction, land diversion and payment-in-kind programs guard against soil erosion through the installation and maintenance of protective cover crops and conservation practices on the land taken out of production.

To qualify for program benefits, farmers are required to establish a vegetative cover or practice on conservation use acres. The approved cover and practices recommended for these acres must be sufficient to protect the land from soil and water erosion.

The protection must be approved by the county ASC committee and also by the district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

Conservation use acreage consists of diverted acreage for which payment is made, payment-in-kind program.

Cover crops approved for these acres include annual biennial or perennial grasses and legumes, volunteer stands other than weeds, small grains and crop residue from use of no-till or minimum-till practices.

Other cover or plantings, particularly those benefiting wildlife, may be developed as long as the practice meets erosion control standards.

Farm operators are expected to use normal control measures for erosion, insects, weeds and rodents on conservation use acreage. If these measures are found inadequate, additional control measures will be required.

As much as 82 million acres of cropland may be withdrawn from production by the 1983 farm programs.

In deciding on the cover and control measures for their conservation use acres, program participants are encouraged to consider the soil and water conservation benefits, protection of wildlife, and the long-term nutrient returns from a well chosen cover crop.

USDA REPORTS ON AGRICULTURAL LAND
OWNED BY FOREIGN
INVESTORS

Foreign investors reported owning 13.5 million acres of U.S. agricultural land at the end of 1982, 1.0 million acres more than in 1981, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The reports indicate foreign owners plan to keep 92 percent of their acreage in agricultural production.

Representing a little over 1 percent of the nation's agricultural land, the 13.5 million acres includes 424,000 acres that had been acquired before 1982 but were filed after last year's cutoff date.

Of the foreign-owned acreage reported, 55 percent was in forest land, 13 percent in cropland, 27 percent in pasture and other agriculture and 5 percent in nonagricultural and unreported uses.

Corporations own 83 percent of the foreign held acreage; partnerships, 9 percent; and individual, 6 percent. The remaining 1 percent is held by estates, trusts, associations, institutions and others.

Here in Mississippi, foreign-owned agricultural land totaled 336,661 acres for 1982.

We had a wonderful day at our church Sunday although it was raining. Bro. Wallis preached a great message at the 11 a.m. worship hour entitled "How Big is Your World?" The Sunday night service included a congregational singing and a good message.

Mrs. Dessie Tolar of Baldwin spent a few days last week with Mrs. Chessie Prentice. Visiting on Monday were Mrs. Mildred Baxter and Mary Tyus.

Mrs. Jane Taylor of New Albany spent Monday night with her sister, Mary E. Tyus. Mrs. Tyus spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Quay McCord of Wheeler.

We send congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker of Tupelo. They are the proud parents of a daughter. Mr. and Mrs. James Meadows are the grandparents.

We also congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Larrie Boutwell who were married on Monday of last week. We wish them a long and happy life together.

Mrs. Jettie Pruitt and Mrs. Peggy Tolar and Allison visited Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hughes and Shannon of Memphis on Sunday.

Guests last week of Mrs. Verda Mae Stubblefield were Mrs. Rachel Hall of the Pleasant Grove community, Mrs. Catherine Shook of Booneville and Mrs. Sandy Holland of the Thrasher community. Mary E. Tyus and Mrs. Bettie Sue Hutchenson and children of Baldwin visited Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodroe Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Barnett enjoyed a fish supper Friday night at Malone's in Tupelo. Later they enjoyed the school play, "The Sound of Music." Lynn Barnett, their granddaughter, was in the play.

We send get well wishes to Mrs. Effie Kesler who is in the Tupelo hospital after she fell and broke her hip. We also send good wishes to little Jamie Gray who isn't feeling well.

Clifford Glover visited his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eston Stevens of Booneville Saturday and enjoyed a delicious supper with them.

RAY FROST ANNOUNCES FOR
5th DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

My name is Ray Frost and I am a candidate for the 5th District Supervisor. I am the son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Frost and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Oaks.

I have lived in Prentiss County all my life. I attended school at New Site and I have worked in construction work for about six years.

I feel I am well qualified for the position and I would like to serve the people of the 5th district as I would like to be served. If I am elected I will be willing to help the people of the 5th District at anytime.

I would like to encourage everyone to go out and vote on August 2nd. Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

THANK YOU,
RAY FROST

Booneville Happenings

By MRS. GORDON McGEE
Correspondent

In last weeks column there was a mixup in the layout for the printing. Corrections are: Mrs. Joyce Michael, Bob and Robin and Mrs. Pearl Morgan of Lockport Ill., came down to help celebrate Mrs. Minnie Morgan Mauney's birthday. Mrs. Pearl remained for a visit with Mrs. James West and the Morgan family.

The Rev. C.L. Potts preached at the Southaven United Methodist Church recently for the Rev. Huey Wood. He had the privilege to administer the rite of baptism to the Potts' infant grandchild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Potts of Southaven and members of the Rev. Wood's church.

Friday May 6 Mrs. Hattie Dillworth celebrated her 96th birthday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Inez Mahaffey. Many friends came during the day and were served cake and coffee by the hostess. The rest of this item was clear in last week's paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Quitman Loden, Mr. and Mrs. John Vassar attended the Lions Convention in Natchez May 6, 7 and 8.

United Methodist Women of Booneville First United Methodist Church had their closing session on May 10. Mrs. Emmons Turner had lead the group study, with the help of group members. Next meeting will be a luncheon meeting on May 24.

Mrs. Ruby Mims is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ruth Wilson in Ripley, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Byrd (Christine Perry) of Jackson were guests last week of Clay Perry.

Mrs. Neola Nicholson, Mrs. Theota Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spencer attended the funeral of Little Brandon Hall in Walnut last Friday.

Last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Quitman Loden attended his uncle's funeral in Fulton.

Mrs. Alice Bonner of Jackson has been a guest recently in the home of Mrs. Lillian Moore.

The WMU of First Baptist Church met in the fellowship hall May 2 for their regular Royal Service program. Avery Lester led the study on "How we can better minister to missionaries and their families." Marion Duncan and Mildred Anderson gave a skit on the WMU Special Day Program. Inez Mahaffey, Eunice Dickerson and Lexie McGee were speakers.

The skit and speakers discussed needs in Mississippi, Nevada, and Recife Brazil. This gave the WMU a special opportunity to help meet some of these special needs. The group exceeded the goal offering.

John (Doc) Lindsey was discharged from the hospital here in town and returned to the Aletha Lodge Tuesday, May 10. We hope Mr. Lindsey continues to improve.

John Duncan of N.E. La. University of Monroe La., is home for the summer with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Duncan, Mark and David.

Harry Daws of Ackron, Ohio, came down and spent most of last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Daws. Also Mr. and Mrs. Fred Daws of Centerville Ala., came for a visit and attended graduation exercises at Northeast Junior College where Mr. Daws was being honored for 35 years of service. He has been a teacher since the opening of the college and the only remaining teacher since 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stennett of Hattiesburg were recent visitors in the home of Mrs. Cullen Stennett.

Last Wednesday, May 11, Kay Davis, youth director of First Baptist Church and a large group of young people from the church gathered in the home of Bryan Rowland for a lengthy visit. They sang songs, read scriptures, offered prayers and had a good hour of worship, fellowship and refreshments together. They were a bundle of cheer which Bryan and his mother, Mrs. Gladys Rowland enjoyed very much. Bryan is coming along nicely from his accident some weeks ago.

Mrs. Eloise Maddox was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Teeter of Corinth on the weekend of May 8.

Mrs. Eula Mae Brown is in the Hill Crest Manor Nursing Home in Aberdeen. Friends are glad to know she is gradually improving. Her address is Hillcrest Manor Nursing Home, Aberdeen, MS 39730.

The youth of the First United Methodist Church had their "Rock Rock" on May 13 to help fund their trip to Washington, D.C. The time is drawing near for them to open "The Year of the Youth" on the steps of the "White House" in Washington D.C. We wish for them a safe and fun trip. The youth musical will be presented at 7 p.m., May 21 at First United Methodist Church.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Howell Wright and Daniel of Corinth, Mr. and Mrs. Print Daniel, and Beth and Don Carter of Tupelo.

Miss Kim Cooper from San Diego, Calif., is here for a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Wingo and also her grandmother, Mrs. Ruby Cooper. United Methodist Women - don't forget the "Day Apart" at Tippah Lake May 21 at 10 a.m. Bring lunch to share.

May 29-31 the Rev. C.L. Potts will be in a revival at Becker, MS., at the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Frances Walden visited friends in Corinth last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Walden attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Sandra Umfress at the Bellevue Baptist Church in Memphis last Saturday night. They came back by way of Senatobia and spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Clastie Umfress.

Computer Class Deadline May 23

Monday, May 23, is the deadline for participants to pre-register for an 18-hour course in Introductory Programming in BASIC, according to Opal Melvin, course facilitator at Northeast Junior College.

The class will meet one night per week for six weeks beginning May 31 and concluding July 5. Class time is 6 to 9 p.m. in Room 103 of Gordon Hall. Total cost per person, which includes registration and class materials, is $60.

BASIC (Beginners All-Purpose Symbolic Instruction Code) is a computer programming language which uses both English words and symbols to give instructions to the computer.

BASIC became the primary language used in micro-computers during the 1970's and is probably today's most widely used language in the world with the mini-computers. Almost all micro-computers use BASIC as the main programming language.

Participants will learn to write simple, short and moderate length programs for their own use with computers. Continuing Education Units for 18 contact hours will be presented to all successful participants.

For additional information, or to pre-register, contact Mrs. Melvin on the Northeast campus by calling 728-7751, ext 303.

Miss Smith Teaching Award Winner

Mary Nell Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernell Smith of Booneville, is the recipient of the Nabors Elementary Teacher Award at Blue Mountain College.

Mary Nell is a senior majoring in elementary education.

The Nabors Elementary Teacher Award is offered annually by Euna and Grady Nabors to be presented to a senior who, in the opinion of the Education Department, manifests integrity, progressiveness, scholarship, a love for children, and a sincere interest in becoming an elementary teacher.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian

George E. Allen Library

The Summer Reading Program at the George E. Allen Library will begin on Tuesday May 31, at 10:30. Other meetings will follow for five consecutive weeks at the same hour each Tuesday in June.

The state theme this year is "Reading Rainbow." All kinds of activities are being centered around this.

Stories, handwork, games and other fun things to do fit into the literal and figurative meanings of rainbows.

Again this year there will be separate sessions for those too young to read for themselves and those more advanced. Ages usually are 3-6 and 7-14. Ability to read and to listen is a better determining factor.

Again also, we at the library will keep a record of each participants reading during these weeks for personal use and for school use.

Light refreshments will be served. The Woman's Club of Booneville helps in this way to brighten summer fun.

Club members also do volunteer work with the program itself. Their plans make us eager to start the new "Summer Reading Program" and we hope many young people will share this pleasure with us.

With Loss To Pontotoc

Devils Eliminated From Tourney

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

Booneville High School finished their 1982-83 sports activities last week after the elimination of the Blue Devil baseball team from the district tournament by Pontotoc's Warriors.

Booneville had a "bad day" against the Warriors, according to Coach Ken Shackelford.

The Blue Devils were blown out, 11-3, in a game which Booneville had "already lost after the first inning," said Shackelford.

This game was only time in the entire season that the Blue Devils were blown out. The largest losing deficit prior to last week's game was three points.

Mark McCreary was the losing pitcher in the game for Booneville. McCreary finished the season with a fine 9-3 record.

Booneville's only other pitcher for the season, Rod Coggin, finished the year at 5-5.

The 1983 Blue Devils had a complete record of 15-8-1. Fifteen games is the most ever won by a Blue Devil baseball team, and 24 games is the most ever played.

More Blue Devil "mosts" were the teams' combined 29 homeruns and Greg Oakley's 12 homeruns.

Shackelford, along with coach Riley Presley, has led this Booneville to the semi-finals of the district playoffs and the Tombigbee Conference Tournament.

Shackelford said that he was "very satisfied with the season" his team has had. "More good things have happened than bad, and winning 15 is quite a feat," the coach said.

Shackelford does indeed have reason to be proud of his team, but optimism for next year is questionable.

Ten of Shack's 15 players are seniors, and seven of his nine starters are seniors.

The two returning starters are sophomore pitcher Rod Coggin and junior catcher

Carlos Hastings.

Michael Blalock, a backup outfielder and pinch-hitter this year, is the other returning sophomore.

Two freshmen, Chris Hughes, an outfielder, and Jon Oakley, a catcher, round off the returnee list.

About next year Shackelford says, "It will definitely be a rebuilding year."

Other Teams Start May 31

Church Leagues Kick Off New Season Tuesday

Registration for T-ball for 6-year-olds will continue through June 3 at the Booneville City Park, but the deadline to register for all other summer park programs passed Monday, according to park program director, Mike Cartwright.

Cartwright said an umpires' meeting will be held Saturday, May 21, at 2 p.m., at either the park pavilion or at the community center.

On Monday, May 23, he will meet with city church league coaches and the pastor of each church involved.

Tentative scheduling calls for church league action to begin Tuesday night, May 24, Cartwright said.

Little League, T-ball and girls' softball will begin possibly the following Tuesday, May 31, he said.

Little League, T-ball and girls' softball teams will play on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays on a random schedule, he added.

New members of the various teams will be hearing from their individual coaches soon, Cartwright said.

During summer park program registration 370 applications were given out. Practically that many have been turned back in for participation, Cartwright said.

Meeting Thursday At Jumpertown Park

There will be a meeting Thursday, May 26, at 7 p.m. at the Jumpertown Park to choose teams for T-ball, girls' softball and boys baseball, according to Steve Goldman, park director.

Anyone interested in coaching a team should be present for the selection of teams, he said.

Those who have not paid the registration fee of $5 may do so at this meeting, Goldman said. This will be the last chance to register to play ball this summer, he said.

For further information, contact Goldman at 728-9740 or 728-5203.

Changes Made In Summer Camps

The summer sports camp schedule at Northeast Mississippi Junior College has been altered this summer to accommodate an increased number of summer campers, according to athletic director Bill Ward.

Week-long camps for junior and senior high boys and girls basketball players will headline the first three weeks of June, he said.

The senior high boys camp is set for June 5-10; the junior and senior high girls camp will be June 12-17; and the junior high boys camp is slated for June 19-24.

Boys camps are under the direction of Northeast Tiger Coach Richard Mathis, with Lady Tigers Coach Ricky Ford directing the girls camps.

The camps, according to Ward, are designed to teach skills in fundamentally sound basketball and to improve abilities in the finer points of the game.

Instruction for each of the camps will be provided by outstanding area coaches and players from throughout the Northeast Mississippi area. Campers will be divided into specific age groups for instruction and competition purposes.

Camper awards will be given in each age division for most improved, one-on-one competition, most valuable player, best free throw, hot shot, sportmanship and all-star game.

Each of the camps is designed to accommodate both overnight and day campers. Overnight campers will be housed in White Hall (men campers) and Murphy Hall (women campers) and should plan to arrive between 3 and 4 p.m., the Sunday prior to their camps beginning date.

Day campers should arrive at 8:30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Tuition fees are $100 per person for overnight campers and $80 per person for day campers. A $20 deposit must be mailed with a completed application form to Northeast Junior College Basketball Office prior to May 27, to insure a place in the camp of your choice, Ward said.

For additional information, campers may call Coach Mathis or Coach Ford at 728-7751.

THRASHER VARSITY CHEERLEADERS 1983-84 -- The Thrasher Varsity Cheerleaders for 1983-84 are (front, l-r) Angie Christian, Tammy Steadman, Anita White, Paula Lauderdale, Angie Gardner; (back, l-r) Jenny Eldridge, Kim McCoy, captain; Becky Sanders, and Beatrice Doggett, co-captain.

With 23-5 Record

Northeast Girls Have Outstanding Season

The Northeast Junior College's girls' softball team had an outstanding season this year, advancing all the way to the NJCAA tournament in Culman, Ala., on May 9-10.

With an overall record of 23-5, the girls, under the leadership of coach Millard Lothenore, placed second in state competition earlier in the season, losing only to Meridian on their home turf.

Lothenore's girls tangled with Meridian once again on their home field in the finals of the Region XXIII tournament. But this time Northeast came out on top, taking the Region XXIII championship and advancing to the NJCAA tournament in Cluman, Ala.

Unfortunately, the lady Tigers' luck did not hold. The softballers won only one of three games in the tournament before returning home.

Consistency was slated as Northeast's greatest asset in advancing as far as they did. Lothenore said the chemistry of hitting and fielding, teamed with consistency of play helped the Lady Tigers achieve their winning ways.

"We had a good combination of good defense and good hitting throughout the season," he said. "There were some games that we won 3-2 and 2-1, and there were times we won 20-0. It was a consistency of playing good by the girls that helped us win."

Prior to the state tournament, Kim Wilson claimed the top batting average for the Lady Tigers at .447. She was followed by Tina Gardner with a .360 percentage.

Cindy Tackett and Emily Teague shared .346 averages.

Teague and Brenda Mayes teamed up to provide a winning pitching combination for the Northeast girls. Teague sported a 10-1 won-loss record, and Mayes, an 8-2 record.

Baseball Camp Set At Ole Miss

Individual conditioning and development and a lot of hard work await boys attending the 1983 University of Mississippi Baseball Camp, according to Ole Miss Head Baseball Coach Jake Gibbs.

"We plan to stress the basic fundamentals and essential skills of the game, along with instruction in the techniques of throwing, hitting, running and fielding," Coach Gibbs said.

The two sessions of the camp will be held on the Ole Miss campus.

The first, for boys ages 10 through 13, is scheduled June 5-9. The second, for boys ages 14 through 1984 high school seniors, will be June 12-16.

Both are being coordinated by the University's Division of Continuing Education.

Participants may be registered either as resident campers or as day campers. Resident camper fees are $150, with a $50 deposit required with pre-registration and balance due the first day of camp. Day camper fees are $80 ($30 deposit) and include no meals or housing.

In addition to calisthenics and conditioning skills, all campers will receive individual and group instruction, and will study theory, rules, play situations, game films, leadership and sportmanship.

Openings are still available for the camps. More information on the baseball camps is available through the Division of Continuing Education, The University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677, telephone 601-232-7282.
