7-Year-Old Girl Struck By Automobile

A 7-year-old Booneville girl remains in serious condition in the Tupelo hospital after she was struck by an automobile Tuesday. She apparently stepped in front of the auto as she crossed the street.

Amy Campbell of 404 S. Second St., daughter of Roger Campbell and Jo Ann Campbell, was transferred to the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo following the accident. The incident happened around 5 p.m. Tuesday in the vicinity of the Town Motel.

According to Ed Darling of the NMMC, Miss Campbell has two broken legs, internal injuries and cuts and scrapes on her face, neck and thighs.

The driver of the 1977 Buick which struck Miss Campbell was Escar F. Lewellen, 76, of Booneville. No ticket was issued to Lewellen.

According to the accident report, Lewellen's vehicle was traveling north at about 25 m.p.h. on Second Street in the outside lane.

The report stated that Miss Campbell was standing on the sidewalk, looking north. She stepped into the roadway before looking south, and then stepped in front of Lewellen's vehicle. Before Lewellen could stop, his car struck her, the report states.

The cause of the accident was listed as "Pedestrian didn't see oncoming traffic."

Lewellen reported about $200 in damage to his car's front bumper, grill and hood.

Officer Eddie Miller was the investigating officer.

County To Get Youth Employment Funds

Prentiss County will receive $69,266 for 80 jobs as part of the Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP), according to Charles Smith, manager of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission office in Corinth.

Seventy-seven Mississippi counties, including Prentiss, Alcorn, Tishomingo and Tippah, are part of the SYEP which is designed to give young people an opportunity for actual on-the-job experience.

This area will be included in the Title II-B Employment and Training Program for Youth which is designed to give them working experience in various job positions.

The eight-week program, open to 14 to 21 year old youths, will provide them with 32-hour-per-week jobs at minimum wage in libraries, county offices and other public and private non-profit enterprises.

A job search assistance and job holding training program, lasting for about 6 weeks, will also be included for 16-21 year olds. An allowance of $2 is paid to the youths.

Alcorn County will receive $93,510 of the SYEP funding for 109 jobs; Tishomingo County will receive $48,487 for 56 jobs; and Tippah County will receive $62,339 for 72 jobs.

Bob Robert Key qualified Monday for the 5th district supervisor's race. There are now five candidates in the race.

The last date to qualify for an office is next Friday, June 3.

Phone numbers for the residence and business service centers are listed in the front of the current telephone directory, he said.

Smoke Pours From Burning Win-Way Building

Saturday Night Fire Claims Another Business

A fire in downtown Booneville Saturday night destroyed one of the city's long established businesses.

The Win-Way Store on College Street was totally destroyed by the Saturday night blaze. A passerby reported the fire to the Booneville Fire Department at 9:29 p.m.

The fire is believed to have started in the southeast corner of a storage room in the back of the store.

The building was owned by Carrol Yarber. Jerry Benjamin was the owner of the business which occupied the building.

Win-Way was located next door (across the alley) from the old location of The Growing Tree and The Rental Shack which were destroyed in a fire last October.

The Rental Shack has since reopened two doors down from Win-Way. Only minor smoke damage was believed to have occurred at The Rental Shack in Saturday night's fire.

Pany's Fashions, located adjacent to Win-Way, also received some smoke damage Saturday night.

Smoke pouring from Win-Way as it burned was so heavy that, for a time, it obstructed traffic in downtown Booneville.

Twelve Booneville

firemen fought the blaze for four hours to bring it under control and keep it from spreading to adjacent businesses.

The Win-Way store has been involved in recent months in a local controversy in which four Booneville policemen have been accused of taking items from the store when it was found unlocked one night in November 1979.

No charges were ever brought against any of the policemen in that incident. The accusations were not brought by the store owner, but other policemen within the department.

There is believed to be no connection between the fire and the alleged 1979 burglary of the store. At the time that incident is reported to have occurred, the business was under a different ownership.

State Deputy Fire Marshal Mike Ivy and Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming checked the remains of the store for the possibility of arson Monday.

"No evidence of arson was found," Fleming said. "The cause is listed as unknown."

The deputy fire marshal took no samples or any other evidence from the building for further examination, the fire chief said.

Area Unemployment Continues Downward Trend

Prentiss County's jobless rate is continuing to decline, for the second consecutive month.

Statistics from the Mississippi State Employment Service show that 12.7 percent of the county's workforce was jobless at mid-April, compared to 13.7 at mid-March and 15.2 at mid-February.

According to Charles Smith, manager of the MSES office in Corinth, mid-April's figures represent 1,380 people who are out of work. This compares with 1,480 unemployed one month ago and 1,080 one year ago.

The civilian labor force, a combination of employed and unemployed workers, was estimated to be 10,860 at mid-month, 90 below the previous estimate but 60 above that of one year ago.

The number of Prentiss County residents employed was estimated to be 9,480, only 10 above the previous estimated, but 240 below the

The total manufacturing jobs in Prentiss County registered 2,680, only slightly above the estimate for last month and 30 below that of one year ago. Non-manufacturing employment stood at 3,580, minimally above the March estimate and 50 below the April 1982 figure.

Smith said the civilian labor force for the four-county area of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah, and Tishomingo fell slightly to 46,300 at mid-April. This represents a decrease of 80 from last month and 1,440 below the figure reported for April 1982.

An estimated 39,510 persons were employed at mid-April in the four-county area, a decrease of 240 from March and 2,090 below the figure for April, one year ago.

There were 6,790 unemployed in the area, a rise of 160 over March and 650 over one year ago. This represents 14.7 percent of the civilian labor force unemployed, compared to 14.3 percent one month ago and 12.9 percent one year ago.

There was a total of 30,640 nonagricultural jobs in the four-county area at mid-April. This was a decrease of 120 from last month and a substantial loss of 2,580 from one year ago.

Manufacturing employment accounted for 13,890 of the nonagricultural jobs. This represents a drop of 250 from last month and a decrease of 860 from one year.

Nonmanufacturing employment at 16,750, experienced an increase of 130 from the previous month. However, a decrease of 1,720 was noted over the year, with primarily all categories contributing to this large decrease.

Spring Rains Take Their Toll On Area Roads

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors say heavy rains last week caused an estimated $1 million in damage to county roads and bridges.

"It's a disaster," according to J.P. Davis, president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors. "The board feels this flood is worse than the flood in 1973." The county received funds from a presidential disaster declaration that year, he noted.

The board of supervisors adopted a resolution Monday requesting financial assistance through the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency, Davis said.

County Engineer Don Eubanks is working on the actual cost estimate for each damaged site, he said. Ten inches of rainfall were recorded in the area from Wednesday night of last week until Sunday morning, Davis said.

The Booneville Police Department evacuated two families on College Street Wednesday night of last week because of flood water in their homes, according to Civil Defense Director Bill Prather Sr.

Last week's heavy rainfall is the fourth time since December that heavy rains have caused damage to county roads and bridges.

Consequently this will be the fourth time supervisors will have to repair some roads and bridges.

"We had gotten some roads repaired only temporarily from the last flood," H.B. Lindsey, 4th district supervisor, said.

In addition to damage to numerous abutments, headwalls, levees and culverts the supervisors reported the following damage in their districts:

First District Supervisor Larry Barron said the Earnest Gambill bottom road is closed due to a headwall being washed out.

The County Line road southeast of Rienzi has extensive damage due to a levee being washed away. However, traffic is traveling the road, he said.

Other roads in his district, such as the Sid Gilley Road and the Hatfield Bottom Road, received extensive damage, but are passable.

Second District Supervisor Jimmy Moore said that three roads in his district are closed. A bridge is out in the Bob Grisham Bottom. Other roads which were closed included the Oak Ridge Road and the Archie Saylor Road, he said.

Moore noted that during the last flood, water went over the Dry Creek Channel Bridge "and it never has before that I know of."

Third District Supervisor J.P. Davis said a 55-foot bridge across Casey Creek near Travis McCarter's home has been washed into a creek. South of that near James Reynolds' home, both abutments have been washed out of that bridge, he said.

The Troy Bryson Road near the Union County line has had 16 feet added to that bridge and is now open to traffic, he said.

The Duane Wallis Road is closed because a 30-foot bridge is out. "This road will be closed for some time," Davis said.

The Keb Wallis Road received major damage but is open to light traffic.

District Four Supervisor H.B. Lindsey reported bridges out on three roads in his district: the Buddy Smith Road, The Tom Cartwright Road and the Moore's Mill-East Prentiss Road.

Fifth District Supervisor William L. McKinney said no bridges were washed away in his district during the last flood. However, a bridge has not yet been repaired over Clausel Creek which was damaged by a previous flood.

Three roads are temporarily closed in the 5th district: the Nicholson Road across Martin Creek, the old Chase Road and the Crabb Bottom Road.

"Almost every place where a road crosses a creek will have to be repaired," McKinney said.

The supervisors said that, depending on good weather, the roads should be repaired well enough in about a week so that they can be traveled safely. However, it will take much longer for the roads to be fully repaired, they said.

House Explosion Shakes Up Firemen, Resident

Two Booneville firemen and a local resident escaped serious injury last Wednesday afternoon when a fire of unknown origin resulted in an explosion at a house on Third Street.

According to Fire Chief Frank Fleming, Danny Yates was asleep at his rented residence at 305 N. Third Street last Wednesday afternoon when he was awakened by what sounded like someone pounding on the door.

The house was filled with smoke and Fleming said Yates was only barely able to make it outside. Just as Yates exited the building, an explosion rocked the house, reportedly throwing Yates to the ground.

At the same time Booneville fireman Hoyle Lambert was preparing to enter the house by a rear door and fireman Ronnie Cole was in the carport.

The explosion, which was apparently concentrated in the attic over the carport, threw Lambert into a bush in the back yard and threw Cole into a hedge along side the house. Neither were seriously injured.

Yates, dazed and shaken, was transported to Baptist Memorial Hospital in Booneville in a police car by patrolman Willie Anderson.

The explosion blew the roof off the back section of the carport, bucked up the roof over the main portion of the house and knocked a brick chimney off the roof. The fire department has not been able to determine the cause of the fire. However, Chief Fleming speculated that the fire, which started in a rear closet, had been smoldering for some time before it was reported by a passerby.

Heat and gas probably built up in the attic, he said. When fireman Lambert opened the back door and Yates opened the front door, oxygen entered the building, causing the explosion.

Other firemen who responded to the fire included Jerry Wallace, Barry Lane, Paul Kennedy, Bobby McKay, J.D. Gahagan and Oscar McGee.

Hal Hughes of Booneville is the owner of the house.

BHS Band Director Resigns For Similar Position At IJC

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Since August 1980, Band Director Sherry Vernon's life has revolved mainly around the Booneville High School Band.

But when school resumes in the fall, Mrs. Vernon's life will be revolving around another band -- the Itawamba Junior College band. At IJC she will be an assistant band director in charge of flags and rifles and will also teach woodwind majors.

Looking back over the three years she has served as band director at BHS, Mrs. Vernon says she has accomplished her main goals.

"I wanted to increase the size of the band and build a strong foundation for the band in the lower grades," she said.

Twenty-five students showed up at her first band rehearsal here. Still, she managed to have 45 band members on the field. Her recruiting has paid off and now the band boasts about 125 students in grades 6-12. Greg Fant, assistant band director, who has been in charge of the junior high band, has been named to replace Mrs. Vernon as high school band director. His assistant has not yet been named, Mrs. Vernon said.

During the three years under Mrs. Vernon's leadership, the BHS band received superior ratings in every area in all the marching contests they participated in.

This year in the state contest held in April at Hinds Junior College, approximately 150 bands participated and Booneville was one of 25 bands receiving superior ratings.

She counts this year's contest as one of her happiest memories of the BHS band.

"Since Booneville has a tradition of making superior ratings in the state contest, they worked a little extra harder. This has been an exceptional year," she said.

Music has always been an important part of Mrs. Vernon's life. Her father, David Sandidge is band director at Gulfport High School.

Mrs. Vernon became a band member in the fourth grade, playing clarinet. Her father was the only band director she studied under until she began college.

She graduated from Clarksdale High School and Northeast Louisiana University in Monroe, La. She began her teaching career at Caledonia High School where she taught for one year. She has also been assistant band director for two years each at Bay Springs High School and Forrest High School.

Mrs. Vernon and her husband, Mike, will continue to live in Booneville. He works at his family's grocery store, Piggly Wiggly.

Since she will still be living here, she expects to watch the Blue Devil band perform at football games from time to time.

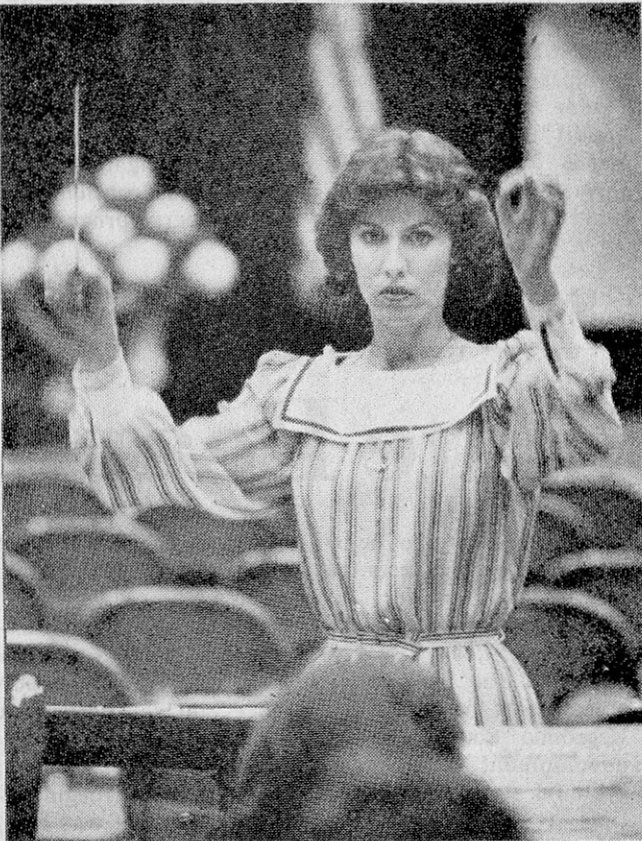

"The last time I met with the band, I told them I wanted to see all of them on the football field at the next ballgame."

"Whenever I hear the song, 'You'll Never Walk Alone,' I'll think of the Booneville band," Mrs. Vernon said.

"That was our closing number on the football field.

We worked to play our music from the heart and we always had a saying to 'shoot for the sky and never be satisfied with less.' "I've enjoyed working with the students in Booneville more than anywhere else," she says. "I've enjoyed teaching them. They mean a lot to me."

QUESTION: Are you satisfied with local law enforcement?

LULA MAE HUTCHENS of Route 1, Booneville: "No, I'm not satisfied. The city police don't do their job."

TOMMY WRIGHT of Route 4, Booneville: "I've only been back here a year. I really haven't had any personal complaints about any part of the law enforcement agency. But I know some things that happened to friends of mine - but that probably had to do with the courts and not law enforcement. I wouldn't say I'm satisfied. I think it can always be improved."

CONNIE CAIN of Route 7, Booneville: "I am. As far as I know they're doing a good job. Stealing is going on everywhere, not just in Booneville. So far as much stealing going on, they're doing a good job."

ANN FISHER of Route 1, Booneville: "I think they do pretty good but there's a lot of things they could look into better on some cases. But as a whole I think the city police and the sheriff's department does a pretty good job."

ESTHER COOK of Route 4, Booneville: "We had several items stolen from us last spring. We reported it to the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department but no one ever came to check on it although they promised they would. It doesn't seem like they want to catch the thieves. They don't try to protect the people."

EDITH YARBROUGH of Route 3, Baldwin: "Yes. I think they are doing a good job. They have a bigger job than they used to have because people seem to be a lot meaner than they used to be. We used to think crime happened somewhere else but now things happen everywhere. They have their hands full and I think they're doing a good job."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Eyes On Mississippi

Focus Is Still On The Governor's Race

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, MISS. - Heber Ladner occupied the secretary of state's office in Mississippi so long that a whole generation of Mississippians grew up not realizing the state post was an elective one.

When Ladner had the wisdom to step down at age 72 four years ago, Ed Pittman had an easy time stepping from the office of state treasurer over to secretary of state with little opposition.

But since Pittman has decided to give it up after four years and try for attorney general, secretary of state has become the most popular state office from the standpoint of the number of aspirants.

Some had thought the list for the post was closed as of last week with six Democrats and one Republican already in the fold. That's not the case, this column has learned.

One more will get in the race (of course, there could be others) on the day for the qualifying deadline on June 3. He is John Ed Ainsworth, the former state land commissioner, who ran unsuccessfully for lieutenant governor in 1979.

Ainsworth's entry is bound to juggle the race which already was a scramble that defied any projection as to a possible winner.

All the others running are relatively unknown from a statewide standpoint. Ainsworth, having made two statewide races, winning one and losing the other, will have the distinct advantage of being the candidate with best name identification.

Also, the 39-year-old ex-farmer from Glen Allan, will be the first name on the ballot, always a vote-getting bonus in a race with a number of unfamiliar names.

To refresh the memory of anyone who has not closely kept up with all the hopefuls who have announced for secretary of state, Ainsworth will join the following Democrats: State Rep. Dennis Dollar, 29, of Gulfport; Pat Griffin, 36, a CPA now working for the State Budget Commission; Lanier Hurdle, 27, a Holly Springs attorney; Dick Molpus, 33, former Philadelphia businessman who served the last three and a half years a federal-state coordinator in the Winter Administration; State Sen. Charles Pittman 34, of Grenada; John Voss, 36, a Jackson attorney and lobbyist for the State Employees Association of Mississippi; and Republican State Rep. Jerry Gilbreath, 34, of Laurel.

Most have some redeeming reason for seeking the office. Dollar, for instance, has been something of a legislative reformer and was the key backer of the new State Open Records Law. Griffin has experience in several departments of state government.

Molpus administered supervision over millions of dollars in federal funds and won high marks from Gov. William Winter for his ability and integrity, as well as his help in getting the Educational Reform Act of 1982 passed.

Hurdle comes from a well-known family in Northeast Mississippi politics and is considered a bright comer in state democratic Party affairs.

Pittman likes to be known as the "singing senator," and he is obviously trading on the fact his name is the same as the present occupant of the secretary of state's office.

Voss hopes to rally state employees behind him, which, if possible, would be a strong asset. Gilbreath is waiting down the line to meet the surviving Democrat in November. His strong point is that he has been successful twice in winning election as a Republican to the State Legislature, continuing his successes in campus politics at Ole Miss.

Ainsworth, however, can legitimately claim that he is the only one with experience in statewide office, and that he advocated the abolition of his job as state land commissioner, which was combined with the secretary of state's office beginning January 1980.

In the 1979 elections, Ainsworth opted to go for the lieutenant governor's job, but ran into the better known Brad Dye, who had run for the job before and also had held previous office as state treasurer.

Ainsworth instituted the Peter Hart poll in February 1979 which later turned out to be the key factor in William Winter's decision to make another try of governor. Because Ainsworth had cooperated with Winter in the poll, it was expected that jovial, round-faced Ainsworth would just about be able to name his own job in the Winter Administration.

However, there were evidently no offers forthcoming from Winter and Ainsworth apparently did not push to collect on his I.O.U. The past three years he left his farm in Washington County and became a petroleum landman in Jackson.

What those who seek in the secretary of state's office will soon realize is that 90 percent of the voters' attention is focused upon the governor's race, and getting people to think about lesser state offices is quite difficult.

Still, there is a good cast of prospects for the job, and that is important.

Education Is For People Of All Ages

By FORRESTWOOD
Philosophy and Religion
The University of Southern Mississippi

(The following article is the result of funding by the Mississinnoi Committee for the Humanities to the Mississippi Press Association. The opinions expressed are those of the author and not those of either organization, nor of this newspaper.)

For people who thought that life was work, what do you do after you've quit working? For people who thought that life was for making money, what do you do after you stop making money?

The folks had said, "Go to college so you can get a job."

But colleges do a lot more than provide job training, and a lot of Mississippians more than 40 years old, even older than 65, know this.

The University of Southern Mississippi had 190 students older than 45 during the fall of 1982.

Millsaps College had more than 1,000 persons enrolled in their Community Enrichment program last year.

In fact, each of the state universities has had to create a position in the Student Services office just to help these adult students.

Some of these students "audit" courses, which means that they pay the normal tuition fees and complete the same assignments as regular students, but they don't receive a grade. Others just pay $10 for a "listener's permit" to visit whatever classes they choose.

The Millsaps Community Enrichment classes cost $25-$50, last from 4 to 8 weeks, and meet in late afternoon (for persons who don't get out after dark) and at night.

There are no age limitations in these classes. Teen agers mix with grandparents in design, music, writing classes.

Millsaps has also just begun a degree program for persons with full time jobs or other obligations that precludes their enrolling in a regular degree program.

To enroll in their Bachelor of Liberal Studies program, a student must be at least 25 years old and complete an introductory seminar, Introduction to Liberal Arts. From that point on, the student works with faculty members in a series of independent study courses.

Right now 68 persons are enrolled. The oldest person is 69 and the average age of the entire group is 40.

Why are these people doing this?

Perhaps the hurry to get a job or to start a family previously prevented a formal education. Perhaps these persons realize that there is a richness to life to be found in philosophy, history, literature, and art that can be missed in the pursuit of a career.

One thing is for certain: these students know that they have missed something. They know that the passions of the mind stimulate us and keep us alive even when they confuse us, torment and bedevil us.

These students are not empty and directionless, their instructors report. They are pursuing the great ideas of civilization to enrich their lives, to enhance their understanding, and encourage their communication with others.

Philosophy requires self-reflection. Is what I know true? How is the evil me related to the good me? Why do I have the values that I have? How should religious experiences be understood?

History puts the world in context. How did we get here? Why are things the way they are? How else might things be done?

Literature helps us to understand people. We encounter an old man like we never thought of. Or a boy who was me. Or a gambler who frightens and a prostitute who was kind.

Art provides insight. It shows us something we never thought of before. Or something we have seen a thousand times, but never noticed.

There's no way for a person who is learning to live too long. There's no limit to the age of persons in college today.

Time To Get Started

Make State Beautiful For Fair Traffic

From the Mississippi Economic Council

The first days of summer always bring reminders of tourist travel and efforts to expand the economic benefits of tourism. And, with the New Orleans World's Fair just 12 months away, increased emphasis is being placed on the preparation for the onslaught of visitors to and through Mississippi.

What better time than now to begin housekeeping chores necessary to enjoy maximum benefits from the increasing number of visitors expected in Mississippi.

One of the long-range objectives of the Mississippi Economic Council is the development of a more beautiful state. Now is the time to take steps for achieving that objective.

Here are reminders and suggestions that can be helpful in preparing for our guests:

--Local chambers of commerce can place special emphasis on beautification projects over the next 12 months.

--Local governments -- city and county -- can use their resources to assure more attractive local communities.

--The State Highway Department can begin now to trim rights of way along the interstate highways and other entrances into the state.

--State parks can be refurbished as needed.

--The news media -- state and local -- can focus on the need for improvement, promote the benefits of beautification.

--All Mississippians can commit themselves to a more beautiful state and accept personal responsibility for assisting in the effort.

Local Seventh Grader Gets High Score In Talent Search Testing

Tommy J. Hoard Jr., a student at Hill's Chapel school, was one of 53 Mississippi seventh graders who scored at the college freshman level or better in standardized tests given by Duke University.

The tests, given with the cooperation of the State Department of Education, were conducted by Duke University's Talent Identification Program.

Tommy took the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) as a participant in Duke's Talent Search.

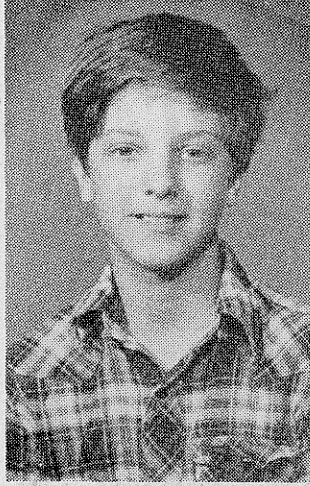

More than 700 Mississippi students participated in the Talent Identification Program this year. They took the SAT and the Test of Standard Written English along with college-bound high school seniors.

Only those seventh graders who score at the median level or better in comparison with college freshmen are selected for Talent Identification awards.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian
George E. Allen Library

Almost all readers are acquainted with the name of author Agatha Christie and have read one or more of her mysteries.

They have been translated into a total of 103 languages and have outsold all other modern fiction writers.

As a young girl she wrote poems and short stories, though this activity didn't keep her from an active social life.

"The Mysterious Affair at Styles," published in 1920, introduced that much loved detective, Hercule Poirot, but several of her characters appear in series.

Under the pseudonym, Mary Westmacott, Mrs. Christie wrote some general novels and for the theater. "The Mousetrap" established her as a dramatist in 1952. It ran for 2,239 performances and is still playing in London theaters from time to time. It was given as a performance in sign language for a deaf audience in 1981. This author, whose life rivalled her writings in interest, was made a Dame Commander of the British Empire in 1972.

"The Life and Crimes of Agatha Christie" is a 1982 publication new at the library.

Author Charles Osborne has compiled a 'professional life' of Agatha Christie, providing authoritative information on individual books, their background in the author's life, and their contemporary critical reception.

A reminder to young people from ages three through 14 -- we hope to see you at our first Summer Reading Program session on Tuesday, May 31, at 10:30. Come have fun at the library!

Computers At The Vo-Tech

And Now There Are Eight!

Last summer the Vocational Division of the Mississippi Department of Education provided one microcomputer for the business department of each secondary level vocational school in the state.

After approximately 40 people expressed interest in taking a computer course at the school, business teachers Laura Cartwright and Willie Frances Rutherford decided one computer was not enough.

So, they set out on a fund-raising campaign. The school secured a promise from state vocational people that the state would provide an additional computer for every computer the vo-tech could purchase through funds raised locally.

By mid-January the Prentiss County Vocational School had raised enough money locally to purchase three more computers. And the state department lived up to their promise and provided two more, for a total of six.

Now - four months later - there are eight, with three more on the way.

Earlier this month, the Prentiss County Vo-Tech purchased two more computers with locally-raised funds - and the paperwork is underway to secure three more microcomputers from the state.

In January the Banner-Independent published photographs of those who had contributed to the computers up to that point.

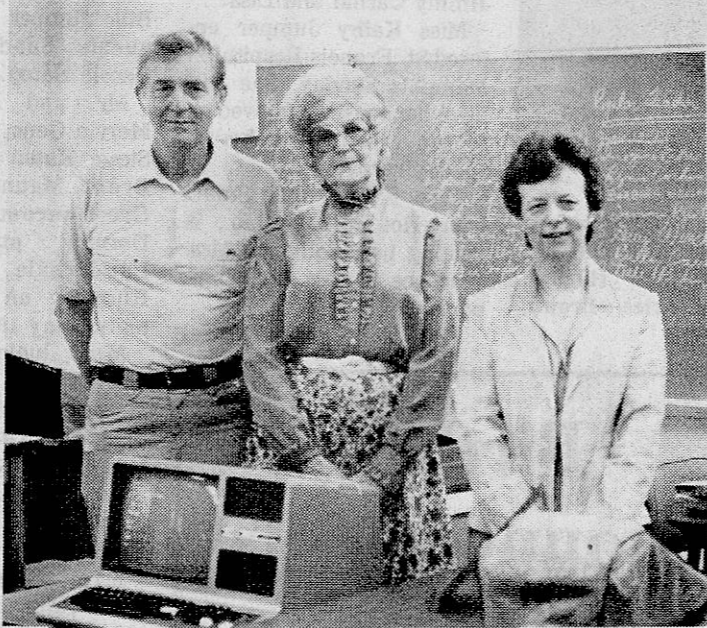

The photos below are of some of those who have contributed since that time.

Others who have contributed, but were unavailable for photos, include Dr. John R. White, optometrist; Marshall Dickerson, Dickerson's Furniture; Tommy Comer and Ed Jenkins, Booneville attorneys; L.J. Tucker, Schweiger Industries; Dena Gaines; and Dr. David Budlowe.

Banner-Independent publisher Paul Miller (left) presents a $2,000 check from The Banner-Independent and its parent company, The New York Times Company, to Prentiss County Vocational Technical School Director Merrill T. Cartwright for the purchase of a microcomputer for the school's business department.

State Rep. Billy J. McCoy (left), and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Putt were contributors to the computer fund.

Mrs. Ouida Massengill of Massengill Properties and McDonalds owner E.W. Week watch as a Vo-Tech student demonstrates one of the computers they helped to purchase.

SERVICE IS WHAT WE SELL

TO MY FELLOW CITIZENS OF PRENTISS COUNTY

I would like to announce my candidacy for the office of sheriff of Prentiss County. I have lived in Prentiss County for 35 years and have been associated with Prentiss Manufacturing Company since its founding in 1948. As a businessman, I have learned to work with and supervise people. From my many years of business experience, I feel qualified to assume the responsibilities of the office of sheriff.

I want to make it clear that I am not looking for a job. I left a very good job at Prentiss Manufacturing Company. But I feel led to run for sheriff to make Prentiss County a place that we can be proud of and one in which we can feel safe to rear our children.

If elected your sheriff, there are several top priorities to which I will give my primary attention. First and foremost, drug trafficking and abuse has become a major problem in our county. I promise to do my utmost to bring this problem under control for the welfare of the fine youth of our county. Secondly, crime in our county is growing worse every day. I plan to organize and supervise a community and neighborhood watch because I feel that we should join hands to help prevent crime before it begins. This system has been successful in other communities. Together, we can maintain the proud tradition of our county and make it the kind of county that we all want and need.

I hope to see and meet as many of you as I possibly can in the months ahead to hear your views and discuss the problems that you feel are most important. All of your views are important to me because a sheriff can only be effective with the backing of the citizens. I promise to be a fair, honest, and hard-working sheriff that you will all be proud of. Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

Thank You,
Nelson W. Baldwin

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

from the office of:
JOHN R. WHITE, O.D.

PROTECTING "HARD" CONTACTS

Hard contact lenses can be scratched or damaged if mishandled. The following tips are intended to help you protect your lenses and your investment.

When not wearing the lenses, always keep them in the case and in soaking solution.

Do not leave the lenses where they will be subjected to extremes of heat. Such conditions can cause the lenses to become warped.

When removing the lenses cup the hand underneath the eye to keep them from falling to the floor. However, if you do drop a lens, pick it up with a wet finger. Scrapping it across a surface to pick it up may cause scratches.

When you place the lenses in the case make certain they are centered and flat. Otherwise, they may become warped in the closed case.

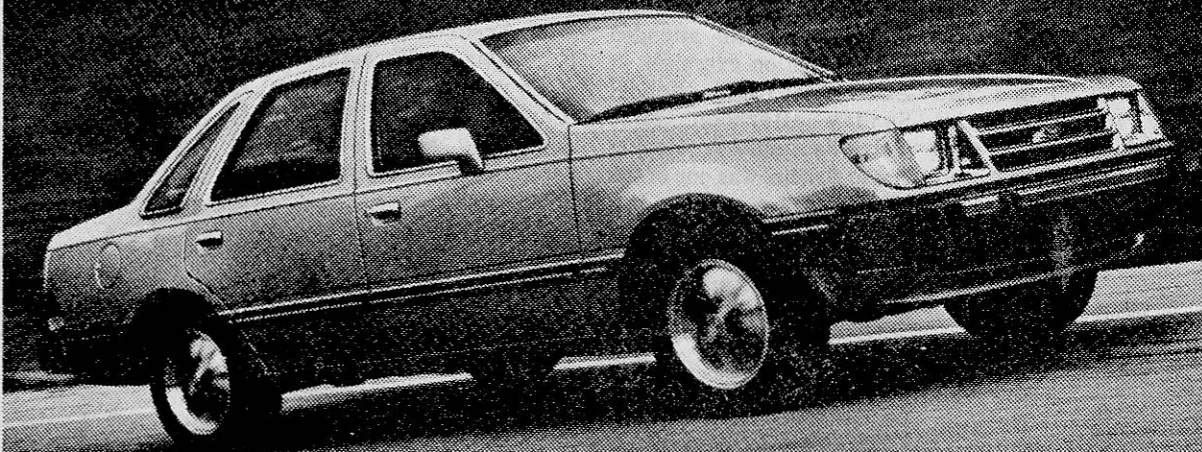

When cleaning the lenses always rub them gently so as not to warp or scratch the surfaces. Always wash your hands to remove any dust or dirt that might scratch the lenses.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office.

Rain, rain go away. Come again another day! I can imagine how hard it is for the farmers and the ones whose gardens have been washed away by all the rain. Still, we are thankful for the things we have.

Sunday was a very busy day for us. The Holiness Church traveled to Plantersville for fellowship services held at Faith, Hope and Charity. The Rev. Archie Miller was the guest speaker. Dinner was served after church.

The Interdenominational Choir was the guest choir at St. Paul C.M.E. in Smithville where the Rev. Jerry L. Christian is the pastor.

Happy birthday wishes are extended to Marie Hall. Congratulations to all local seniors who graduated from high school. This is only a beginning for them. Don't settle for less than the best.

If all high school graduates could be allowed to see the future, I believe that they would make better decisions for their lives and families. I pray that the Lord will bless and instruct everyone to make the right decision. It's not enough to just start and stop, but complete the task that is set before you no matter how hard it gets or rugged the road seems. Finish what you've started.

Hopewell M.B. Church, Rienzi, Pleasant Hill M.B. Church and Wolf Creek are in the midst of a revival at 7 nightly.

Sis Myrtle Shumpert from Tennessee will be the guest speaker at Beckley Chapel on May 27 at 7 p.m. Many of our local youth choirs will also be there.

The Development Club is making plans for the tenth annual Ms. Talented Teen Pageant, for ages 14-18 to be held on Saturday night, June 4, at Northeast Junior College. Participants will be judged on appearance, personality, achievement, talent and interview. Practice sessions will be held at 2 p.m. on May 28 at the East Side Community Center.

Beckley Chapel C.M.E. family will be sponsoring all the books of the Bible on July 22. For more information contact Sis. Ada Christian or Sis. Odessa Perrin. This will involve 20 different churches.

The Junior Home Missionary Society of Pleasant Grove M.B. Church in Rienzi will present a song festival on Saturday, May 28, at 6:30 p.m. The Rev. Johnny Poole will narrate the evening worship.

The Tupelo District will host their annual 5th Sunday meeting at Beckley Chapel on May 29. Sunday school will be at 9:30 a.m. Morning worship services will be at 11 a.m. The services will be in appreciation of presiding Elder Eddie L. Jumper Sr. Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. Educational worship will be at 1:30 p.m.

The Interdenominational Choir of the greater Notheast Mississippi will host an afternoon of gospel music at Reuben Chapel C.M.E. located on Airport Road in Frankstown on Sunday, May 29. Bro. Sam Bell is chairman.

The Tupelo District Missionary Convention is to be held at City Road C.M.E. in Corinth on Saturday, June 11. Sis Stella Carter, missionary president, will preside.

The Rev. Eddie L. Jumper graduated from Memphis Theological Seminary Friday, May 20 and received his doctorate of divinity major in Christian Education, Magna Cum Laude.

A youth program sponsored by Sis Gennett McGee will be presented June 3 at 7:30 p.m. The theme will be "He Wants To Use You While You're Young." Guest speaker will be Sis Linnette Miller of the Holiness Church of Deliverance.

The 12 tribes of Israel will again be presented on June 18 at 7 p.m. at the East Side Community Center.

Leadership training school for the states of Mississippi and Louisiana will be held at Gramblin State University in Gramblin, La., Sunday, June 26-July 2. For more information, call Elder Eddie L. Jumper at 728-6504.

Special congratulations to Orpheus Triplett, who graduated from Howard University in Washington, D.C. with a doctorate dental surgery degree. He will be working in Jackson, Miss. We are all proud of him.

If anyone needs clothing for family or friends, please contact the Good Samaritans by calling Sis Ada Christian, Elizabeth Chambers or Theresa Frair. We welcome the Rev. Prentiss Harris back to Spring Hill M.B. Church. He's been to New York to I.B.M.

Little Tony Moment has transferred from Baptist Memorial to Tupelo hospital.

Burning Bush Church of God in Christ will celebrate their church anniversary Sunday, May 29, at 3 p.m. Elder Walter Griggs will be the guest speaker. Elder Leon Gaston is pastor.

I have enjoyed seeing the beautiful flowering plants around the area. The roses, azaleas, irises and other early blooming plants add splashes of color amid the greenery, giving the great outdoors a whole new beauty.

I love a beautiful lawn and hope someday to have one. Each year I try to make a couple of improvements, adding new plants here and there. But it seems that I never choose the right spot, because the following year I usually move them somewhere else disturbing their growth.

When I see the beautiful lawns around the area, I get the gardening fever, but of course by this time it's too late to have much of anything. I can never seem to learn that to have nature's spring display, one must prepare and do a lot of hard work before Spring.

So far I have had one lonely iris bloom, while others just have bouquets of them. But I was proud of my one bloom. I just have no luck at all or maybe it's the gardening experience that I lack.

For Mother's Day, I received a new rose bush. As my husband carefully set it in the ground, I added a silent prayer for its health knowing that I would need all the help I could get. Watching it closely I found that a bud had soon appeared standing straight and proud. Everyday I would take a look at it. Watching it's progress.

As usual the puppy is underfoot hoping for some attention. In his excitement, he lands on the rose bush snapping the fragile stem supporting the precious bud. So now I'm watching for signs of a new bud while shooing the puppy away. But he's just like me - He never learns!

wear a leg cast for a while. Chris Wroten of Tupelo is spending a while with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burns.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRENTISS COUNTY

Hubert Kitchens

I am Hubert Kitchens, candidate for sheriff. Once again I ask for your vote and support on August 2nd.

I realize that running the sheriff's department is a great responsibility. Having a working knowledge of the responsibility and duties of this office, I feel I can provide you with the best protection and service possible.

You, the people of Prentiss County, work hard to pay tax dollars that provide you with law enforcement and I will see that those tax dollars work hard for you.

I have two year's experience in law enforcement and graduated from the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Training Academy where I was trained in criminal law, drug abuse, search and seizure, crime scene investigation and many other subjects I feel will be a valuable asset to me as your sheriff. Also I will set up meetings with citizens in each community to establish an effective Neighborhood Watch Program throughout the county in an effort to crack down on burglaries.

I will work with our officials and students in our schools to establish a drug abuse program and show films on drug abuse as well as have state narcotics agents talk with them at some of these meetings.

On Jan. 31, 1983, I was fired from my duties as a deputy sheriff because of my desire to run for this office. I still have that desire to serve you, the people of Prentiss County. So I ask you on August 2nd, vote for a man who will work hard to provide you with results and not excuses.

ASCS Report

Diverted Acres Must Be Protected

By C.E. CALVERT
County
Executive Director

Good conservation management of land withdrawn from production is a requirement of the 1983 farm programs. The diverted acreage must be protected from wind and water erosion throughout the year.

Farmers may want to consider devoting these acres to a permanent vegetative cover or conservation practice such as terraces, sod waterways, trees, filter strips and windbreaks. These practices are especially effective on fragile, erosive soils.

If a permanent cover or practice is installed and maintained, the land will be acceptable for designation as conservation use acreage in any future diversion through 1985. The cost for installing permanent conservation practices will be shared with farmers through the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Other protective covers approved for conservation use acreage include annual, biennial, or perennial grasses, legumes, small grains, volunteer stands other than weeds, and crop residue from use of minimum till or no till practices. Upon approval, the residue or stubble from other program crops also may be used.

The diverted acres can be devoted to properly designed wildlife food plots or managed habitat. Landowners creating wildlife plots can obtain technical assistance through the local Soil Conservation District or Cooperative Extension Service. Local wildlife or environmental groups may also offer assistance to interested farmers.

We encourage farmers to consider the soil and water conservation benefits, protection of wildlife, and the long-term nutrient returns from a well-chosen cover crop, when deciding on the cover and proper control measures for their conservation use acreage.

USDA OFFICIAL EXPLAINS CROP CERTIFICATION

USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service has asked producers to certify their farm program acreage. Clarence L. Tardy, Deputy Administrator for State and County Operations, explained the reason for the acreage report and reviewed the certification process.

"Certification is the opportunity we give the farmers to report to us the acreages of crops planted on their farms to determine whether they are eligible to receive the different benefits under the programs we offer," he said.

When the farmer reports to the county ASCS office, he can review the aerial photograph of his farm and pinpoint the fields in which the crops are grown. This information is then recorded and the report serves as documentation for crop acreage bases and program compliance.

Tardy said certification is particularly important to producers of quota crops such as peanuts, tobacco and extra long staple cotton. In addition to these crops, all other crop acreages must be reported. These include corn, wheat, barley, grain sorghum, rice, upland cotton, oats, and soybeans.

"Certification is also very important to farmers who are participating in the acreage reduction, paid land diversion and payment-in-kind programs because without an acreage report, they really are not participating," Tardy said. "They must give us an acreage report in order for us to determine the level at which they will be eligible for the various program benefits."

He said the acreage report needs to be as accurate as possible. "We do have a spot check program to check on the accuracy of these reports, so the more accurate the report, the less trouble the farmer has to qualify for the benefits."

In Prentiss County, the final certification date for program crops is July 15, 1983.

The USDA official said that growers not participating in the 1983 programs should also report their acreages since these acreage reports can affect eligibility for future programs.

1982 CROP COMMODITY LOANS AVAILABLE UNTIL MAY 31

Price support loans on 1982 corn, sorghum, cotton and soybeans will be available until May 31.

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

Many of us who live in town are fortunate to have a street tree in front or to the side of our house provide the pleasures of shade and beauty.

A "street tree" is a tree growing on public property, often between a sidewalk and street. Many street trees were planted by private citizens, though the site may be public property - or at least an easement of the city or a utility company.

So who takes care of street trees - residents of adjacent property, the city, or the utility company?

Some municipalities have ordinances that spell out ownership and responsibility for trees. Ordinances differ from town to town, some assigning responsibility to the city, others to adjacent property owners.

Not surprisingly, a homeowner often will claim it's "my tree" if the tree is healthy and attractive. If the tree becomes a liability or expense, however, ownership reverts to the city.

The sad truth is that with hard-hitting inflation and current governmental cutbacks, neither homeowners nor city officials feel they can afford proper street tree maintenance, and trees suffer the consequences.

Although all passers-by enjoy the benefits of trees, the property owner generally receives the greatest benefits in terms of environmental and aesthetic enhancement and, in most cases, considerably higher property value.

Street trees need a lot of care because of the stress created by their crowded growing conditions between street, sidewalk and utility installations. If you care about the trees shading your yard, you can use your own initiative to boost their health and long life.

There are several things you can do to help the trees that won't be too costly. A few dollars' worth of fertilizer applied every year or two in the root area of a tree (which usually extends a little farther out than the tree's branches) will go a long way in helping tree health. Adequate watering during dry spells can also make a big difference. A slow, thorough soaking is needed.

And if the tree is not too large and if it's not growing in power lines, you may be able to do a little pruning to remove deadwood, low-hanging branches and broken limbs. Simple pruning in these cases discourages decay and helps maintain structural strength. In cases of large dead trees or limbs, you really should contact city officials, however, because the job will be too hazardous for a non-professional.

As in most things, there are right ways and wrong ways in tree care. The Mississippi Forestry Commission has information on the right ways for fertilization, pruning and other tree-care tips. Contact our County Office here at 103 East College Street or write the State Office at 908 Robert E. Lee Building, Jackson, Ms 39201.

Erosion Problem Great In North Mississippi

By DAVID SUMMERS
Conservation Agronomist
USDA-Soil
Conservation Service

North Mississippi is located in one of the highest rainfall areas in the nation. Consequently, North Mississippi farmers and landowners are faced with a tremendous erosion problem on sloping cropland.

Most sloping cropland fields are losing approximately 1/4 inch of topsoil per year. At this rate, the topsoil from these fields will be greatly reduced in twenty to twenty-five years.

You may ask the question, why is topsoil so important? Topsoil is the life giving portion of the soil. The organic matter in the topsoil is largely responsible for the loose, easily managed condition of productive soils.

Also, it is a major soil source of phosphorus and sulfur, and essentially the sole source of nitrogen. Organic matter also increases the amount of water available for plant growth.

Another undesirable effect of soil loss is the loss of applied fertilizers, lime, and chemicals. These soil amendments, when applied to the soil become attached to soil clays and soil humates. The soil erosion process removes clay particles and humates thus removing a portion of applied fertilizers, lime, and chemicals.

If you own or farm sloping cropland that has an erosion problem and want to do something about this problem, contact the Soil Conservation Service at 107 College Street in Booneville or phone 728-3544.

IT'S REALLY A SHAME,
I HAVEN'T THE TIME

I love my country, I'm telling you, and I know there's a lot of work to do. To keep this land where men are free. The way our forefathers meant it to be.

Paul Moore
Graduates

Navy Gunner's Mate Seaman Apprentice Paul A. Moore, son of Arnold A. and Phyllis J. Moore of Route 3, Baldwin, has graduated from basic Gunner's Mate School.

During the 16-week course at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., students received an introduction to the weaponry currently installed aboard Navy warships.

They studied the operation and maintenance of missile and rocket launching systems and naval guns, including the electrical, mechanical and hydraulic systems of each.

Additionally, they studied the use and safe handling of ammunition, fuses and pyrotechnics.

I keep so busy with things to do - All of us face this problem, it's true.

My friends are saying that we really must Get behind a program we can really trust.

One that will set our country free

From the dangers that threaten our liberty.

They need more volunteers you say?

Must be plenty around - must be some way

To interest people in American's work:

That's something no one has a right to shirk.

I'd like to help, I really would.

But working all day, I don't think I could.

All my friends I know are interested too.

But with the kids and all, they've so much to do.

We need someone, it's clear to me,

To preserve our freedom and liberty.

Someone who feels the way I do,

That our country comes first and our freedom too.

Well, I hope they find someone who's willing today

To interest the people in surely a crime:
the American way. It's really a shame I
This complete disregard is haven't the time.

Computer Class Offered

Northeast Mississippi Junior College will offer a repeat of its class in Introductory Programming in BASIC beginning June 9, according to Opal Melvin, course facilitator.

Mrs. Melvin cited the tremendous response to the first class as the reason for the College's decision to repeat the 18-hour course.

The BASIC class will meet one night per week for six weeks in Room 103 of Gordon Hall. Participants must pre-register for the class prior to Friday, June 3, Mrs. Melvin said. Total cost per person, which includes registration and class materials, is $60.

A computer programming language that uses both English words and symbols to give instructions to the computer, BASIC is the primary language used in micro-computers and is probably the most widely used language with the mini-computers.

Participants will learn to write simple short and moderate-length programs for their own use with computers. Continuing Education Units for 18 contact hours will be presented to all successful participants.

The six-session class will be taught by Anthony Ferrara, who has taught BASIC programming extensively at Blue Ridge Technical College in North Carolina.

For additional information, or to pre-register, contact Mrs. Melvin on the Northeast campus by calling 728-7751, ext. 303.

New Coach Says

Players Must Set Goals, Have Dreams

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

As we reported last week, Booneville High School has a new leader in the pigskin ranks.

Wayne Jones, of Mississippi State football fame, was called on by the Booneville School Board last week to head the Blue Devils in their tough district slate next year.

Jones was in town last Friday for the first time to talk to his 1983-84 team, who lost 12 seniors to graduation from last season's squad.

Jones' initial meeting was brief, but to the point.

In a friendly and likeable tone, he told his players what would be expected of them.

"I expect to win every game. I don't coach to lose."

This is not to say he thinks he is going to win every game, he said, but his point was that every game should be played to be won regardless of the competition.

Jones began his speech by telling of his personal career from high school football, through his college days at State, to his brief career in professional football.

The point of his story, he said, were the goals he set for himself from high school to play college and eventually pro football.

"I want you to have dreams and set goals for yourself and your team next season," he told his players.

"I'm excited about being here."

Jones, who was an assistant coach at Pearl River Junior College last season, said he wants to get back on the high school level because of the enthusiasm.

He said that the enthusiasm in high school football was much more present than in his previous rank.

Jones closed by telling his team that practice would begin on Aug. 10, but June 6 would be the beginning of the summer weight program that all the players will be on.

Jones said he is a strong believer in weights because of the help they give a player, both in strength and speed.

Finally Jones told his players where he would be living when he gets here in June, and that anytime one of them has a question to "drop by anytime."

He has a wife and two baby twin girls.

After the meeting, Jones told The Banner-

Independent he knows about the tough teams around our area. He also knows of the talents of some of the Blue Devil players.

He said that from what he had heard, the Blue Devils are and will be a good team but lacking in depth.

"An early injury would hurt us badly," he said.

Commission Should Set Seasons, Bag Limits

The Commission on Wildlife Conservation says it should have full authority to set hunting seasons, dates, and bag limits in Mississippi.

At a meeting of the five-member board in Jackson on April 22 the Commission adopted a policy statement which says in part that, "it is in the best interest of the state's wildlife resources, the protection of sport hunting, and the people of Mississippi," that the authority to set all seasons, dates, and bag limits be vested in the Commission.

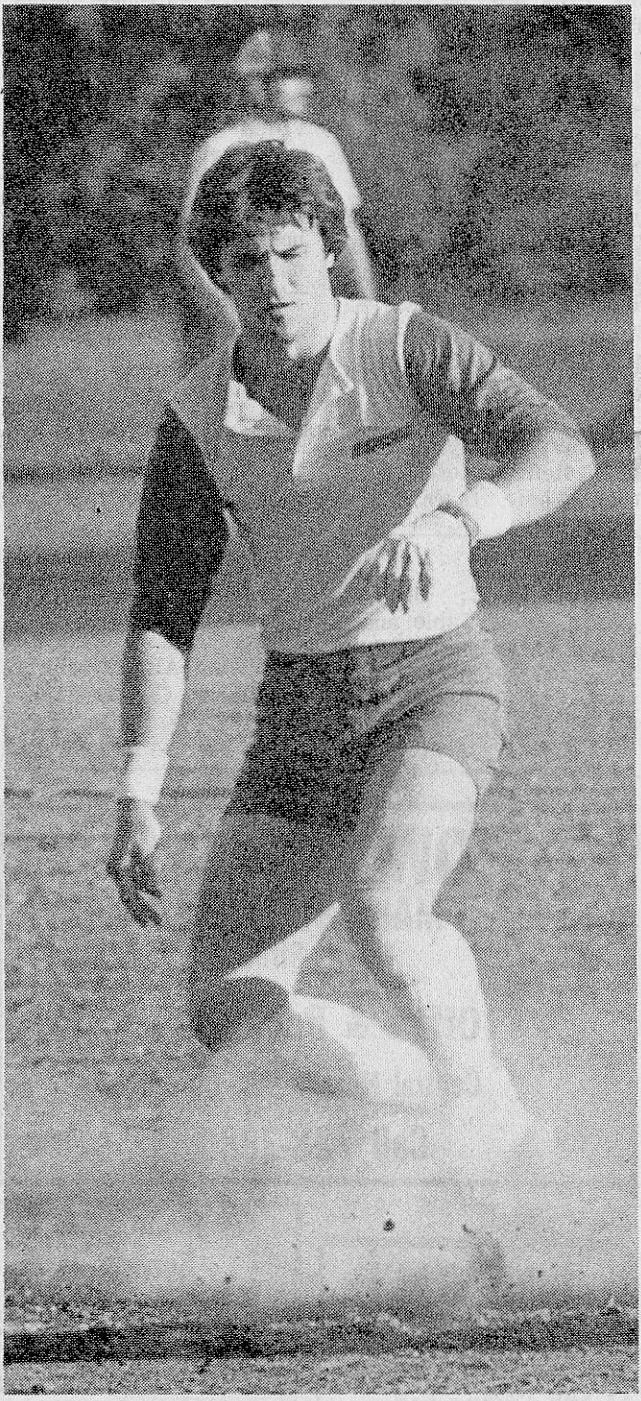

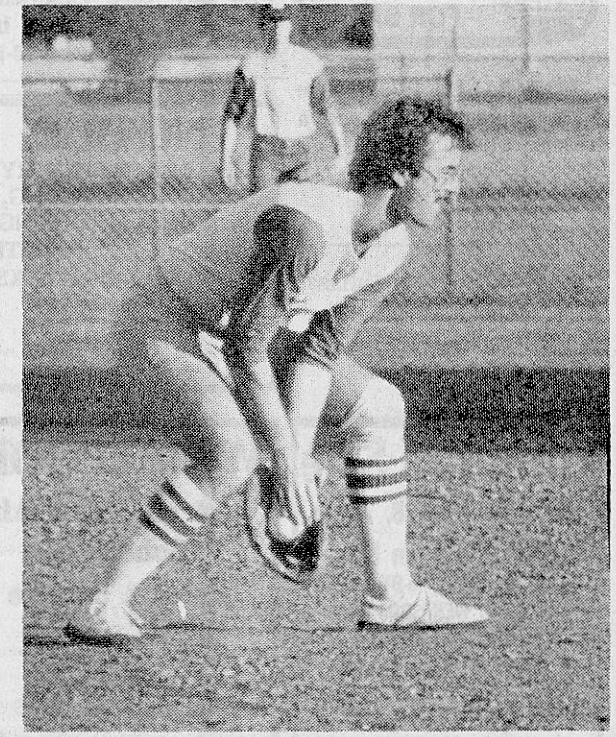

Commission said that the Department of Wildlife Conservation employs a highly technical staff, "and clearly is the most reliable and competent agency in the state for efficient management of game and fish populations."

"The Department of Wildlife Conservation also conducts public hearings around the state each year and open monthly meetings of the Commission provide ample opportunities for private citizens to have their views and opinions made known," according to the statement.

Cards Of Thanks

Our gratitude could never be expressed adequately in words, nor our appreciation shown with ample feelings during the illness and death of our Daddy, Wilburn Lambert.

To our relatives, and to the host of friends and neighbors that each of our individual families hold dear, we can only say we love you for each gesture you rendered.

Your sympathy and concern made our burden lighter. We shall always be grateful to the Baptist Memorial Hospital staff, Dr. Ellzey, and McMillan Funeral Home for your professional services. To the Rev. Glen Jones and Rev. Robert McCoy and the Jones Chapel Singers for the comforting service and inspiring music.

Each of you shall always hold a special place in the hearts of each of us. May God strengthen you with blessings is our prayer. The Family of Wilburn Lambert

Troopers To Be Out In Force Over Holidays

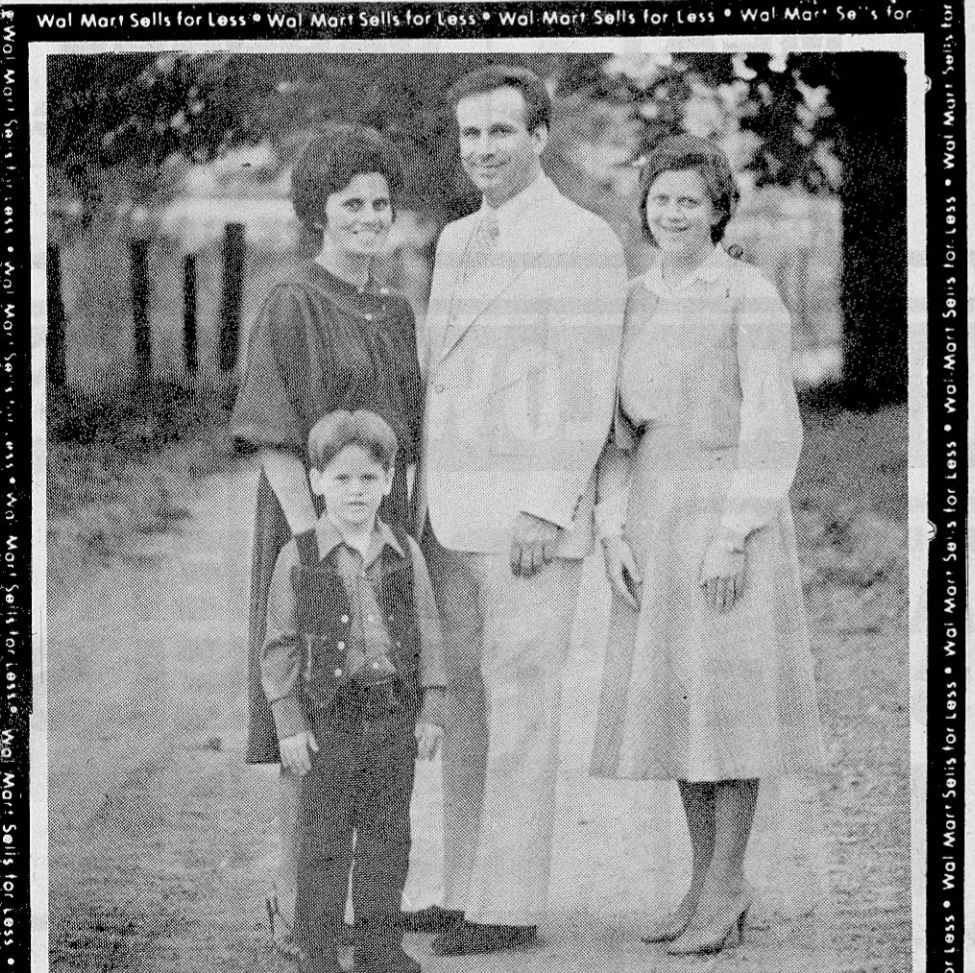

The chief of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol has issued a warning about the upcoming three-day Memorial Day observance.

"Our troopers will be out in full force to assist motorists and to enforce traffic laws during the 78-hour period," Colonel Donald Butler said.

"Drivers breaking laws on the 10,000 miles of highway under the patrol's jurisdiction should expect to be ticketed." The holiday observance

Moore Retires After 36 Years In Temporary Job

Thirty-four years ago Robert Moore left Northeast Mississippi to start an extension program at what was then Arkansas State College.

When he arrived at the college in Jonesboro, he found that the dean of students had been fired. The college president asked Moore to consider carrying out those duties "temporarily."

Now, 34 years later, the college is called Arkansas State University and the 65-year-old Moore is finally retiring from his "temporary" position.

In looking back on his 34 years as dean of student affairs, Moore memories are mostly of people.

"I see them as they start out, some from small towns, big shots from high school," he says. "College is a pretty traumatic experience. Things go wrong. I'm in a position to help these guys, turn them around."

Moore, thought to have the longest tenure of any student services administrator in the nation, was born in Booneville and graduated from Thrasher in 1936. He holds degrees from Mississippi College and the University of Mississippi.

His mother, Mrs. Lillian Moore, still lives at 508 W. Adams in Booneville.

MEMORIAL DAY

A nation that sustains the course of history's great struggles owes its' existence to the people who protect it — the men and women who stand ready to fight for it. America can be proud of those who have served in the armed forces throughout the past, and sadly, mourn those who gave their lives. Memorial Day is a time to remember, and a time to honor, the very people whose greatest sacrifice contributed to the strength and growth of this nation. May their heroic deeds never be forgotten.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By C. D. Edge

Inside Jonah—Inside The Fish

I Will Pay That That I Have Vowed. Salvation Is Of The Lord. Jonah 2:9

Most people that read the book of Jonah are so taken up with the fish that they forget God's miracle.

Some Bible critics insist that some whales have such small throats that they can't swallow anything larger than an orange.

Some believers counter by saying that adult sperm whales have a mouth 20 feet long, 15 feet wide, and 9 feet high and sometimes swallow large animals. They tell of the sailor named John Bartley who was swallowed by a whale and found alive inside the harpooned whale the day after he had been ingested.

I can't vouch for this, but I can vouch for the miracle that happened inside Jonah. This man was in rebellion and he was disobeying God. But INSIDE JONAH INSIDE THE FISH OUR GOD PERFORMED THE MIRACLE. That change is what God wants in your life.

The old verse says —

BECAUSE THE FATHER'S HEART IS GRIEVED
EACH TIME WE GO ASTRAY —
HE OFTEN APPLIES HIS CHASTENING HAND TO HELP US FIND THE WAY.
