J'town Gets Another New Town Marshal

For the third time in five months, a new town marshal has been hired at Jumpertown.

The Jumpertown Board of aldermen hired Russell Burdette, 48, of Booneville, on May 17, according to Jumpertown Mayor C.D. Windham.

The town marshal's post was vacated in April when Thomas Turner resigned.

Turner was hired as town marshal after John Moore resigned in February to assume a position as deputy at the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department.

Automobile Hits Local Grocery Store

Big Star Supermarket in Booneville received an estimated $1,000 in damage to its east wall when a car crashed into the building at about 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

According to the accident report, Ruthie Michaels, 52, of Route 7, Booneville, was turning off on West College Street onto North Lake Street when she cut through Big Star's parking lot to miss a traffic signal.

She lost control of the car and ran off the road on the right hand side onto the lawn of the Bank of Mississippi. The car then went back across the roadway and ran into the side of Big Star, the report states.

Ms. Michaels' 1970 Chevrolet car was totaled, according to the report.

She was issued a ticket for reckless driving.

Officer Eddie Miller was the investigating officer.

Beaumont, a native of Rutherford, Tenn., is not new to Booneville and Prentiss County. He is married to the former Virginia Jennings of Booneville.

CHARLES BEAUMONT

Beaumont comes to the Booneville hospital after serving for 15 years with the City of Memphis hospital. When he left City of Memphis, he was director of internal auditing.

At Baptist in Booneville, he will be over fiscal services, house keeping and dietary services.

Grand Jury Will Not Meet In June

The Prentiss County Grand Jury is not expected to meet during the June term of Prentiss County Circuit Court, according to County Attorney John Hatcher.

"It is customary that the Grand Jury does not meet in June," he said Tuesday.

However, the Prentiss County Grand Jury did meet last June because there was a heavy case load, he said.

Courthouse Will Close Monday

The Prentiss County Courthouse will be closed Monday, June 6, in observance of Jefferson Davis' birthday. The Booneville City Hall and the Booneville Post Office will remain open Monday.

Fifth District Constable's Race

Candidate Is Charged With Murder

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

A candidate for constable of the fifth district in Prentiss County has been charged with murder after a motorist discovered a body lying in the middle of a road this weekend.

According to Prentiss County deputy Jim Ross, the body of Gordon R. Buchanan, 24, of Route 6, Booneville, was discovered in the middle of Highway 365 south of Cairo, about 2.7 miles from the county line.

Ross said motorist Jeff Crabb reported the body to the Sheriff's Office at 5:58 a.m. Sunday. Crabb was on his way to work when he discovered the body, the deputy said.

Leonard (Leon) Moss, 41, a resident of East Prentiss County and candidate for fifth district constable, was charged with murder in the incident Tuesday.

Buchanan was reportedly employed by Moss, who operates a house-moving business.

When discovered, Buchanan's body was lying face up in the middle of the highway. He had a severe wound to the forehead and his left arm had apparently been run over by an automobile.

Coroner James Horn

speculated at the scene Sunday morning that Buchanan's body had been moved to that location from somewhere else. He said the condition of the body and the clothes on the body did not indicate the victim had been struck severely by an automobile.

An autopsy performed in Booneville Tuesday by a pathologist from Memphis failed to confirm or deny this suspicion. The autopsy revealed only that Buchanan died as the result of severe trauma to the head, Horn said.

However Horn said both he and the pathologist believe Buchanan was killed by something other than being hit by a car.

An investigator from the state crime lab in Jackson examined the scene and other evidence Tuesday and also told Prentiss County investigators that the car did not kill Buchanan.

"He had suffered a severe blow to the head before the car ran over him," deputy Ross said.

However, after further investigation, Prentiss County deputies say they now believe the death did occur at the site where the body was discovered.

Investigators have pieced together the following scenario:

Buchanan, Moss and Jerry Smith, 22, of Burnsville were partying and drinking in the front yard of a residence in a rural section of the county in the Cairo community.

residence, walking to his home in Burnsville, across the county line in Tishomingo County.

Deputies believe that after Smith left, Buchanan was struck in the head with some type of object, possibly the heavy end of a pool cue stick, resulting in his death. Exactly what precipitated the incident is still being investigated.

Ross said he believes the incident occurred in the highway at the spot where Buchanan's body was discovered.

After he collapsed in the highway, Buchanan's body was then run over by an automobile. Apparently Buchanan's left arm was all that the vehicle hit.

Unicyclist Tries To Break World Record

Booneville's Bill Loden, long known locally for his antics on a unicycle, is beginning to get wider exposure for his exploits.

Loden is now an apparent world record holder on the one-wheeled conveyance.

The record he may hold is for riding his unicycle the fastest and the farthest -- backwards!

A 21-year-old psychology major at The University of Mississippi, Loden recently pedaled his unicycle backward for 14.8 miles in two hours and 48 minutes. The feat came during Ole Miss' annual spring celebration.

What's the old world record?

"Well, nobody's ever done it before," Loden said. He is currently in the process of gathering the required documentation to send to the Guinness Book of World Records to make his backward effort official.

Loden's attempt to make history began around 12:30 p.m. April 21 at a convenience store on Mississippi 6, one of the main highways leading to Oxford.

Escorted by the Highway Patrol, he averaged about five and half miles per hour during his backward trek to the university.

Officials Warn Of Tougher DUI Laws

If you drink and drive -- Beware!

Drunk drivers in Mississippi will face at least a 90-day license suspension, a fine of no less than $200 and possible jail confinement under the amended Implied Consent Law which becomes goes into effect July 1.

The new law makes it illegal to drive in the state with a blood alcohol content of .10 or more.

And the amendment passed by the recent session of the legislature does not permit a driving under the influence (DUI) charge to be reduced to a lesser charge.

According to the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, first offenders' licenses will be suspended for a minimum of 90 days and the offender will be required to participate in a state driver safety program.

The new law permits a county or circuit court judge to hear a request for a hardship reduction of the license suspension after 45 days. The judge will be permitted to eliminate the suspension, place special restrictions on the DUI offender or reject the hardship plea.

First offenders will be fined $200 to $500, and they may be jailed up to 24 hours.

Second offenders within a five-year time span will be fined $400 to $1,000, have their licenses suspended for two years or at least one year with treatment and be jailed 48 hours or perform 10 days of community service.

Conviction of a third offense within five years will result in a fine of $500 to $1,000, a drivers' license suspension for three years or at least one year with treatment and being jailed 30 days to one year.

"Mississippi must get drunk drivers off its highways," said Roy Thigpen, the governor's representative for highway safety and director of the Governor's Office of Criminal Justice Planning. "The message is clear. Don't drink and drive."

"Drunk driving has a role in more than 62 percent of our state's fatal highway traffic accidents," he said.

Mississippi Towns

What's A 'Skillet' Without A 'Handle'

By BROOX SLEDGE

Have you ever heard of Mississippi cities -- well, towns maybe -- well, villages, then -- named Red Bone, Hard Cash or Foxtrap?

Probably not, but those little places are there, or at least they were there. They had big ideas, high ambitions toward becoming a proper metropolis just like you.

They wanted paved streets, a mayor, bond issues and shopping malls, too but circumstance and happenstance dictated otherwise. A highway was re-routed, a railroad came through several miles away and "things just changed."

Many of them simply disappeared. Scattered over the face of an old map many communities with those friendly, amusing and thickly-nostalgic names seem to jump right out of the map and talk to you.

Some are geographic, like Atlanta in Chickasaw county, or Africa in Coahoma, or Brazil in Tallahatchie.

Some are short, sweet and rather curt, like Vex in Covington. Some make you sleepy, like Nod in Yazoo.

Some are belligerent, like Battlefield in Newton. Some are glamorous and romantic, like Bara Avis in Itawamba or Loch Lomond in Sharkey.

Some are utilitarian, like Robinson's Still in Jackson.

The one common denominator among these old communities is simply that each one seems to trigger some lost chord within us that brings a song from the not-too-distant past, echoing along the streams and gentle hills of that very special land -- Mississippi.

Come along with me through the following list (all of them are or were actual communities in the county named) and enjoy a royal tour down a Mississippi road perhaps forever closed:

Murder

pounded a car which they believe ran over the body. Blood, skin and hair were reportedly discovered on the vehicle, which is registered to Jim Moss, father of the man who has been charged with murder.
Leonard Moss has reportedly admitted to running over Buchanan, but claims it was not intentional and that Buchanan was already lying in the road.

Moss reportedly left the body lying in the road and did not report it to authorities. Deputy Ross said Moss claimed he did not report running over Buchanan because he was frightened and panicked.

Coroner Horn said the body was still limber when discovered by the motorist shortly before 6 a.m. He said the body could not have been there for more than 45 minutes when it was discovered.

Smith, who was picked up for questioning in the incident, is being held in the Prentiss County jail for parole violation. No further charges have been placed against him.

Deputy Ross said an additional arrest is expected and the investigation is continuing.

Unicycle

Escorted by the Highway Patrol, he averaged about five and half miles per hour during his backward trek to the university.
The trip culminated with three loops past the Ole Miss Union and the Lyceum. Loden said he could have gone further, except for problems with the university traffic.
For the record attempt, he put the unicycle seat on backward to keep the pedals from unscrewing. Although the pedals did not unscrew, a nut did come off, causing one of the pedals to flop around.
Still, Loden managed to finish.
Riding backward is not the only record Loden has challenged. He has also attempted to set records going forward.

While a senior at Booneville High School, he rode 86 miles in 13 hours. That wasn't good enough, however, since the record is 100 miles in around 9½ hours, he said.
Loden estimates his top riding speed at 15-18 miles per hour, but says "that's out of control."
Loden became involved with unicycling when he was in the third grade and saw a magician riding one in a school program. His interest was revived four years later when he saw a film about a school where everyone rode unicycles.
Although Loden's father,

Quitman, thought buying a unicycle would just be a waste of money, Loden took his chances at Christmastime during his seventh grade year. He purchased the unicycle with $20 given to him by his father to buy gifts for his friends.
"I told them that instead of buying each other little bitty gifts, why didn't we just keep the money and buy something each of us really wanted," Loden said.
With his money, he ordered a $13.95 unicycle from Sears.
It took him two 10-hour days to learn to ride it, about the average for learning the basics.
"The worst guy I ever saw took 28 hours to learn," he says.

The learning process is not without mishaps. While at Northeast Junior College, Loden tried to teach a friend to ride his "giraffe," a unicycle with a seat six feet from the ground.
His friend stood on a brick wall to get on the cycle, and steadied himself by putting a hand on top of Loden's head. Unfortunately, there were lamp poles in the practice area.
"He hit the poles so many times it loosened the screws holding the globe on," Loden says. "It finally fell off, but somebody caught it on the first bounce."
In his 11 years of riding, Loden says he has had no serious accidents. A small scar below his knee is the only evidence of his worst accident, which happened during his first semester at Ole Miss.

"I turned too sharp and caught the bumper of a parked car," he said.
Loden says unicycles are good exercise.
"There's no resting on a unicycle," he said, because the rider has to continually pedal. A rider cannot coast as he can on a bicycle.

There are also no brakes on a unicycle. To slow down or stop, the rider has to reverse pressure on the pedals. It works, Loden claims. "You can stop on a dime."
Loden uses the unicycle for transportation, as well as exercise.
"I'd rather ride it than a bike," he says. "On a unicycle, you can carry books or drink a Coke."

Library Board Trustee Steps Down After 25 Years

From National Jobs Bill

Rural Associations Will Benefit

More jobs will be created in Mississippi and rural communities will benefit by more water and waste disposal funding under the emergency jobs bill signed recently by President Reagan, according to John Arthur, Farmers Home Administration Acting State Director.

Arthur said that nationally rural water and waste disposal system assistance will be increased by $225 million in loans and $75 million in grant authority.

These new funds, combined with regular appropriations for fiscal year 1983, will give FmHA a much higher program level of $600 million in loans and $200 million in grants for this same period.

"In Mississippi, this translates into $6,429,000 for needed assistance to rural communities without adequate water and sanitary facilities," Arthur said.

The extra funds provided by the jobs bill "will provide further impetus to the economic recovery that is beginning to take hold," he said. "This boost is especially important in rural areas whose ability to borrow is traditionally more difficult than for urban areas."

Interest rates for water and waste disposal loans vary from 5 percent to a market rate (currently 9.125), depending on the income of the community and any existing health or sanitary problems.

Grant funds may be available to facilities serving the most financially needy communities to reduce their costs to a reasonable level.

Farmers Home Administration is the rural credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It helps farmers and other rural residents and communities without adequate credit finance farms, homes and essential community facilities such as water and waste disposal systems.

worked with the supervisors and other officials in establishing the Annie Spencer Cox Library in Baldwin.

When Mrs. Turner first began serving on the regional board 25 years ago, the library was located in one room of the old American Legion building which was across the street from the courthouse, next to the railroad.

Now, thanks to a donation from the estate of native son George Ed Allen and the work of people like Mrs. Turner, Booneville has a spacious modern library located on U.S. 45.

The board of supervisors this week presented Mrs. Turner with a certificate of recognition for her service on the library board.

While in the courthouse to receive the award, Mrs. Turner reminisced about the founding of the Booneville library.

It seems the library at one time was solely operated by the Booneville Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Turner eventually became a member.

The Woman's Club also owned a lease from the railroad to the property across from the courthouse and adjacent to the railroad.

Years ago, when the local American Legion decided they would like to construct a Legion building on that property, the Woman's Club agree to let them have the lease if they would let the club have one room in the building for a library.

This was agreed upon and that's how the library came to be in the American Legion building.

Later, the library was moved downtown to a location across the street from the current location of the offices of attorneys Joe Ray Langston and Bubba Lott.

It remained there until the George E. Allen Library on U.S. 45 was dedicated in 1976, Mrs. Turner said.

Tax Refunds Set Record

Individual federal income tax refunds averaged a record $740 for 1982, up from $712 for 1981, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Tax-deductible contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) were apparently part of the reason.

At the beginning of 1982, everyone who works for a living became eligible to invest up to $2,000 a year in an IRA, and the IRS says about 11 percent of taxpayers cut their 1982 tax liability by doing just that.

Eventually, of course, taxes are paid on IRAs, but not until withdrawals begin - usually after retirement, when most people are in a lower tax bracket.

Until then, contributions and earnings can grow untaxed, which can make quite a difference in the size of a retirement nestegg.

(If you didn't put another penny in, a $740 tax refund check paying 10 percent a year for 30 years would grow to $12,913, according to the Investment Company Institute. The same amount placed in a taxable investment paying the same rate would grow, over the same period, to $5,633, for someone in the 30 percent tax bracket.)

President To Visit The State

President Reagan is expected to visit Mississippi on June 20 to attend a Republican Party dinner honoring Congressman Trent Lott, according to Ebbie Spivey, Mississippi Republican Party Chairman.

"We just received word from the White House that this event has been put on the President's schedule," Spivey said. "Of course, we are delighted with the news."

"It is certainly appropriate that the President be with us for this event, not only to honor Trent Lott but also to give us a boost in this important election year," continued Spivey.

The President will speak to the Republican Party's annual United Republican Fund dinner which this year will feature a special tribute to Congressman Lott, the Republican Whip in the U.S. House of Representatives. The event will be held in the Mississippi Coliseum in Jackson.

The United Republican Fund is a monthly contributors program involving almost 1,400 Mississippi families who allow the party to draft their bank account for continuous financial support. The average monthly contribution is just under $10.

"Our party operation is dependent on the support of these faithful Mississippians and that is why we have a dinner each year to recognize their efforts," Spivey said. "This year, URF contributors will be allowed to go to the dinner for $25 per person."

This is the first visit by President Reagan to Mississippi since he was elected in 1980.

'Talk O' The Town'

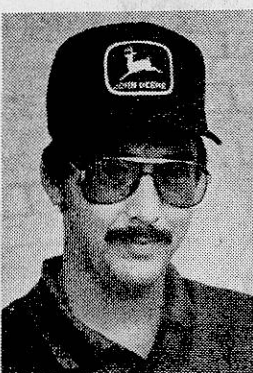

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think the 55 m.p.h. speed limit should be changed?

LAVERNE THOMPSON of Route 1, Booneville: "No. I feel like it's safer at 55 m.p.h. There aren't as many accidents. The speed limit should stay at 55."

BILLY STANLEY of Route 1, Marietta: "Yes, I do. It doesn't give you enough time to get where you're going. I think they should put the speed limit back up to 65."

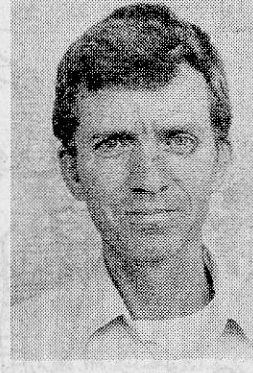

MAURINE COX of Route 1, Booneville: "No, not to a certain extent. On interstate I think it should be a little higher but on county roads the 55 m.p.h. speed limit is fine."

KAY COATS of Stanley St., Booneville: "No, not at all. It seems to me there's been less fatalities due to this and I know it saves gasoline consumption for all of us."

EDWARD McCOY of Route 1, Booneville: "No. It cuts down on accidents and saves gas. There's not nearly as many accidents on Highway 45 since the 55 m.p.h. speed limit. It's certainly safer driving 55 than 65 and 75."

GARY STRICKLAND of Penny Lane, Booneville: "I'd be in favor of changing to 70 m.p.h. on four lanes. But I think 55 m.p.h. is much safer on two lane roads."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith
Staff Reporter

Sometimes I'm accused of telling tales about everyone except myself. This week I am going to prove that I will write about anybody -- including me.

The following is a true, but never before published example of what once happened to me during an interview.

I am only writing about it now because my fellow employees hold this incident over my head. They have threatened to write about it if I don't. Better you hear my version than theirs.

The afternoon I interviewed Rose Cook began like numerous other interviews. All was going fine until Mrs. Cook began having difficulty breathing.

You know the sick sensation you feel in your stomach when you've been speeding, look in the mirror and see the patrolman behind you? I began having that queasy feeling when I saw she was having problems breathing.

She assured me she would be fine in a few moments. But she wasn't. So I suggested we seek medical help. (See children, watching TV medical shows pays off).

She hurriedly (but not as hurriedly as I wanted her to) packed a small suitcase and we left for the hospital. Since she lived in town we were supposed to arrive there in a few minutes.

However, on this particular afternoon Booneville High School's homecoming parade was in progress, which meant I had to detour around the parade route. I have never had such evil thoughts about a parade as I did that afternoon.

When we arrived at the overhead bridge my car went dead twice as cars are prone to do in extreme cases of emergency or when traffic is backed up as far as can be seen -- as was this case.

I'll be frank. I was not calm. On the other hand, Rose Cook, the woman gasping for air, appeared to be calm considering the circumstances. I could just imagine what she was thinking. "I can't breathe and I'm being driven to the hospital by someone whose car goes dead every two feet."

But even if she thought it she didn't say that. Instead, she laughed at me. "This will make a woman out of you," she told me. "I can think of other ways," I replied. But she assured me we would look back on this day and laugh.

When we finally arrived at the emergency room I was in such a state of panic that the nurse tried to put me in the wheelchair instead of Mrs. Cook.

After we straightened out who the patient was, I then attempted to get Mrs. Cook's suitcase out of my car.

When every part of your body is frightened, it's impossible to do anything -- especially like getting a suitcase out of a car.

Somehow the suitcase became stuck between the front and back seat of my car. It would have been simple to have moved the front seat forward. But I didn't think of that until two days later. I jerked and tugged at the suitcase until I thought the handle on the suitcase would come off. I don't think I would ever have gotten it out if the Lord hadn't taken pity on me.

Mrs. Cook spent several days in the hospital. I later learned that she had faced this breathing difficulty before we ever had our interview and has since our interview.

But she was right about one thing. We have discussed the events of that afternoon and we laughed about my antics.

Now everytime I leave for an interview, my friends at the Banner inquire, "Does this person have his doctor's permission for you to interview him?"

If one of the Banner-Independent employees had told you about this, they would have claimed that I was so scared following my interview with Mrs. Cook that I had to be hospitalized, too.

But I wasn't. However, I didn't conduct any more interviews that day.

Solons Remove Ethics From Ethics Bill

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

Jackson, Miss. -- One of the main chores of the 1983 Legislature was supposed to have been tightening the State Code of Ethics and clearing up the gray areas of what constituted conflict of interest violations.

Instead, what the lawmakers seem to have done is let the gap down on ethical practices to the point that public servants would have a field day in doing business with governmental entities.

Common cause, the public interest lobby, thinks the 1983 act purporting to spell out conditions of ethical conduct contains so many loopholes that it would wipe out the gains made since the Legislature enacted the first Code of Ethics in 1979 and created the State Ethics Commission.

In a word, Common Cause charges the new law, slated to become effective July 1, actually would attempt to legalize practices recognized in the past as conflicts from being "directly or indirectly" interested in any contract authorized by any law or action of the legislature or public body during his term and for one year afterwards.

This is the provision under which former Sen. Nap Cassibry of Gulfport was found guilty in 1979 for receiving money from a $369,500 contract with a group that was to conduct a program for children with learning disabilities.

The Cassibry case has been haunting lawmakers since it was upheld in 1981 by the State Supreme Court in an open-ended decision that apparently makes a legislator subject to a conflict violation whether or not he voted on act or appropriation from which he benefits in his private business.

The Ethics Commission had recommended a basic proposal for a new law defining what constitutes conflicts that sought to clear up the gray areas. But when the lawmakers got through with it at the 1983 session, they tacked on so many exceptions that the Ethics Commission no longer supported the bill.

Primarily, the changes put into the measure by the lawmakers opens the way for lawmakers and other public servants to be a contractor or sub-contractor, or do business in other ways with any government entity other than the one in which he serves.

As long as as a legislator was not doing business directly with the Legislature, therefore, he would be exempt from the law.

Common Cause will make a pitch to the Ethics Commission when it meets next Friday to take legal steps to prevent the exceptions written into the new act from becoming effective until the law can be tested as a violation of Section Four of the constitution.

The public interest group will ask the Ethics Commission to make use of the new civil procedure rules that permit a Chancery judge to issue a declaratory judgement suspending certain portions of a law or the entire law.

How the Ethics Commission reacts will be a strong indication of how much political independence the body really has.

Reportedly, the commission in an informal vote several weeks ago decided to take a course similar to the one requested by Common Cause.

But this is an election year, and if the Ethics Commission makes a move before the August primaries it could be politically detrimental to lawmakers running for re-election.

On the other hand, some public officials who may be contemplating taking advantage of the loopholes in the new law could find themselves in hot water later on should the law be held in conflict with the State Constitution.

Letters

Law Enforcement Should Be Fair, Impartial, Just

Dear Editor,

I am writing this note to let the citizens of this fair county know the type of law enforcement they have elected.

I would like to let these people know the purpose of having law enforcement.

I would say first they should be of the quality to rate the job to start with.

The law official should be fair, impartial and use just decisions when he has to make an arrest. He should consider that a man is innocent until proven guilty instead of the other way around.

I also believe the law official should live by the same rules he is elected to enforce.

I'm not saying all law officials fit into the category I'm about to describe. Some are decent people, but, to tell you the truth, the system is not run like it is on CHIPS and Adam 12.

The majority of the law officials I have known or have dealt with are the kind of people that will not work. Most of them want to be something important but do not have the brains for it.

So they join the police department and become the cronies of local God-fearing folks who allow one part of town to sell anything and do anything they want and catch the other side going to the place and coming from it, mostly coming from it.

Counting from 1 to 10, I would say Prentiss County would rate a 10 in this category.

I have a brother who some would consider a rowdy person because he has been know to drink and raise a little hell. But he is fair and, as long as he is treated that way, will treat you the same.

He was raised, as I was, to believe one person is as good as the next because we're all sinners and the pot has no right to call the kettle black.

This man was arrested for being drunk, by your standard a no-no unless you're a member in good standing with local big wheels, banks, civic clubs, churches, etc.

While being arrested by your law officials, one of them slammed the back door on this man's leg, crushing the bone between the knee and the ankle.

Instead of taking this man to the hospital, he was taken to jail, thrown in a cell and left there for 42 hours before he could get medical attention.

Some of the people who I would say are the true backbone of this county tried in vain to help this man, but were refused.

I'm not saying this man should not have been arrested if he was in the condition they say he was in.

Accidents will happen. People can get bones broken.

But if I had a mangy dog and he ate my chickens, I wouldn't be very proud of him, but I wouldn't break his legs and treat him the way your fine elected officials treated this man.

Everyone Pays Crime's Costs

Whether a member has been a victim or not, crime costs the average family of four about $63 a week.

That assessment comes from criminologist Dr. Georgette Bennett, consultant to the Insurance Information Institute and author of "A Safe Place to Live" -- a management manual to help communities plan crime prevention programs.

"The cost of crime is paid indirectly through taxes that support police, court systems and prisons and through insurance premiums that reflect crime losses," Dr. Bennett said.

"It's also tacked away in higher prices for products and services . . . the extra pennies, for example, paid for a can of tomatoes to cover store pilferage," he said.

Nationally, the overall cost of crime in property losses is estimated at $40 billion a year.

That number may be somewhat surprising because conventional property crimes are largely crimes of opportunity and, consequently, among the most readily prevented.

This is the area where individual and community action can play a key role, said Dr. Bennett. Each member of the community is a potent -- and largely untapped -- force for deflecting property crimes.

Measures to prevent crime can take several forms:

- Target hardening -- making it harder for criminals to victimize potential sites, such as by installing better locks.
- Environmental design -- creating secure and "defensible" spaces by the design of buildings, lighting, common areas, etc.
- Social action -- deterring crime through group projects, such as neighborhood watches
- Criminal justice improvements -- undertaking changes in the criminal justice system that help prevent crimes, such as using police decoys or monitoring actions of local courts.

Copies of "A Safe Place to Live" are free to groups working with police on community crime prevention programs; for others the cost is $4.95 per copy.

Copies may be obtained from the Insurance Information Institute; 1001 Howard Ave.; New Orleans, La. 70113.

Chocolate Covered Strawberries

They're Easy To Make, Easy To Eat

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

If you're tired of eating your strawberries plain, or with sugar and cream, or in cakes or pies, perhaps you should try chocolate covered strawberries.

Chocolate covered strawberries are a delicacy but are as easy to make as they are to eat.

After Leon Lauderdale of Booneville tasted some chocolate covered strawberries, he devised his own recipe, deciding he could make them himself at less expense.

Not only does Lauderdale make chocolate covered strawberries, he also makes chocolate covered cherries. Both are good, he says, but he prefers the chocolate covered cherries.

Mostly he prepares the chocolate covered confections for special occasions. But when strawberries are in season, he turns out numerous batches of the chocolate covered strawberries to share with friends and family. "They eat them as fast as I can make them," he says.

Lauderdale, who serves as first district justice court judge in Prentiss County, cooks in his spare time.

"I always wanted a bakery, so I settled for making all this," Lauderdale said, as he pointed to plates heaped with sweet-smelling chocolate covered strawberries.

"Cooking is interesting and rewarding," he said. "You can create a lot of different dishes. I always wanted to cook because I enjoy it."

"Men have had the idea that their place wasn't in the house. But in-between times when I'm not at the sheriff's office, I cook and clean house.

"It would be a good idea for men to try housework and cooking," he said. "It would make them appreciate their wives more."

Lauderdale's wife of 15 years, Iline, no doubt appreciates his cooking endeavors -- most of the time -- especially since he does the majority of the cooking plus canning vegetables and making jelly.

However, there was a time when he tried to "help" with his wife's cooking and it wasn't appreciated.

"I had tasted her chicken and dumplings and decided they needed some pepper. She wasn't in the kitchen, so I added some pepper. When I did, the top of the pepper can came off, so the entire can of pepper spilled in the chicken and dumplings.

"When she saw what I did, she was hotter than the chicken and dumplings," Lauderdale grinned.

Leon's
Chocolate Covered
Strawberries

Ahead of time, wash and cap strawberries. The berries should be dry before coating with chocolate.

Mix together one 12 oz. bag of semi-sweet chocolate chips, 1 TB. parafin, 1 TB margarine, and 2 TBS.

confectioner's sugar. Add a little water to make mixture thin enough to work.

Heat above ingredients on low heat. (If cooked too hot, it will make candy). It takes about 15-20 minutes to melt chocolate. Stir occasionally. Mixture will be thin when it is at right temperature.

Use toothpicks to dip strawberries in chocolate.

Chocolate Covered
Cherries

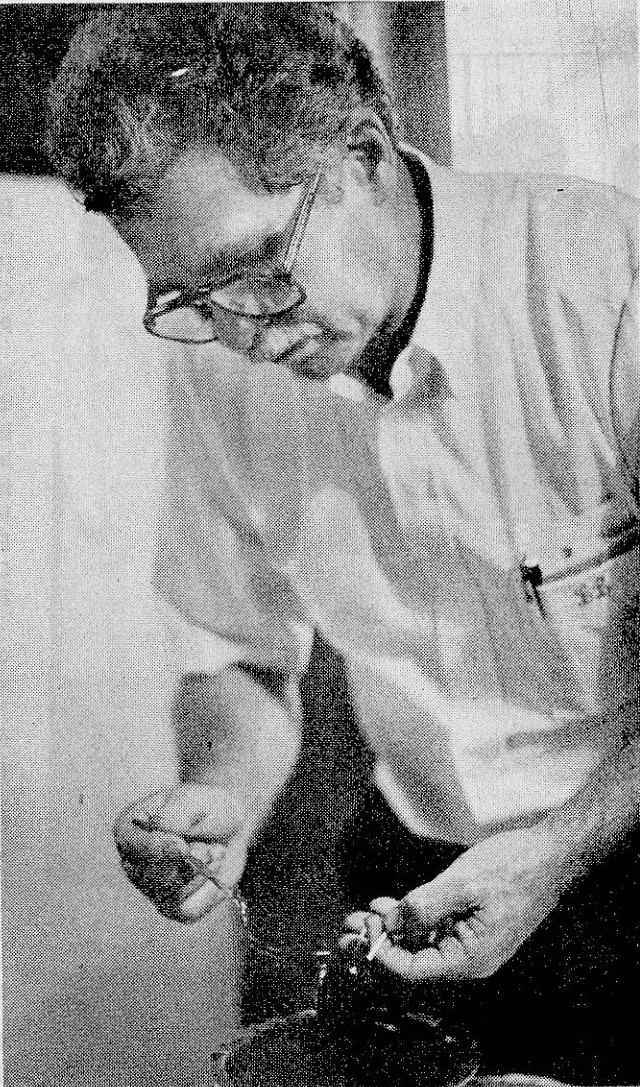

1 can maraschino cherries (drain juice and reserve for flavoring chocolate)

Make the following mixture -- but do not cook: 1 box confectioner's sugar, and enough Pet evaporated milk to make a stiff paste. Coconut (optional). Paste should be firm.

Take a teaspoonful of paste and put around cherry.

Make chocolate according to above recipe except use cherry juice instead of water to make mixture thin.

Place toothpicks in cherry and dip in chocolate.

Mrs. Hurst Honored With Shower

Mrs. Hurst wore a white cotton dress featuring white eyelet and pink, ribbon trimmed ruffles.

The hostesses presented her with a corsage of pink rose buds.

The fellowship hall was decorated with arrangements of roses from the gardens of Nelson Baldwin, Pete Morgan and Mrs. W.V. Kemp.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. Louise Coggin and Mrs. Barbara Braudis.

Mrs. Carolyn Jackson and Mrs. Helen White presided at the registry table which was covered in white lace and a hand crocheted lace cloth made by Dr. Galloway's mother.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Ruth Galloway, Mrs. Joseph Hurst, Miss Louann Hurst and the honoree.

Mrs. Linda Eubank, Mrs. Linda Duckworth and Mrs. Marie Wright served the guests an assortment of finger sandwiches, hors d'oeuvres, cookies, and candies which were made by the hostesses.

The tea table was covered with a white satin cloth and had a centerpiece of roses and Queen Ann's lace.

Mrs. Elaine Hatfield and Mrs. Margaret Floyd served punch from a crystal punch bowl.

Mr. Dena Ellzey and Mrs. Laura Cartwright circulated among the guests as they viewed the shower gifts which were displayed in the fellowship hall.

Pilot Club Installs New Officers

The Pilot Club of Booneville met for their installation service on May 19 at the Holiday Inn in Corinth. Eudora Kemp, president, presided.

The evening's program was under the direction of the membership area with Bertha Yarber as area leader. Other members include Ortha Long, Dollye Hodges, Ann Prichard, Billie Morgan, Sara Pounds, Clarene Goddard, Annie Lee Kemp and Louise Peeler.

Sara Pounds, club chaplain, gave the invocation. Mary Gault Nabers, patriotism area leader, led the group in the pledge to the flag.

Members and guests were seated at a u-shaped table covered with green and gold tablecloths. The head table was decorated with roses flanked with candles and side tables adorned with spring flowers.

Ann Prichard recognized Eudora Kemp, outgoing president, as Pilot of the Month.

Susan Cartwright sang "I Believe."

Louise Peeler, internal affairs coordinator, conducted the installation. After recognizing the outgoing club officers, she challenged all members to venture into new Pilot service in 1983-84.

Mrs. Peeler described the duties of each officer, who in turn expressed her willingness to accept her responsibilities. Each officer was then presented flowers and asked to place her name tag on the Pilot Wheel symbolizing her commitment to her duties for the following year.

This was followed with a request to all club members to pledge their cooperation for service.

Pilot Club officers for 1983-84 are Louise Peeler, director; Neola Cleveland, corresponding secretary; Mary Robinson, recording secretary, Sara Pounds, first vice-president; Clarene Goddard, treasurer; Robbie McDaniel, director; and Eudora Kemp, director.

Assisting with the installation service were Co-Pilots Harold Morgan,

Hubert McDaniel, W.M. Murphy and E.E. Salts. The service was concluded with the "Pilot Code of Ethics."

After the presentation of the president's pin to Anne Prichard and the past president's pin to Eudora Kemp, the meeting was adjourned with the singing of the Pilot Song, "Sail on International."

HOW PRISMS "BEND" LIGHT RAYS

The dictionary defines a prism as "a transparent body bounded in part by two plane faces that are not parallel and used to deviate or disperse a beam of light." In the language of vision specialists, a prism is a "lens element which does not change the focusing of light, but rather changes its direction."

If that sounds complicated, here's a clarification:

Even though your eyes do not point at the same object simultaneously, there's a prism component in your prescription lens that can CHANGE THE DIRECTION OF THE LIGHT entering your eyes so that a similar image goes to each eye. Because of the effect of the prism's changing of direction of the light, your eyes can see AS IF they were pointing in the same direction.

Next time you visit your eye specialist, ask him to show you how prisms "bend" light -- and help you to see more comfortably.

Presented as a public service by Dr. Walter C. Simpson, Optometrist, 113 Main St., Booneville, Ms., phone 728-4853.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS

A puppet show! A favorite of the young and the not-so-young, a puppet show staged and directed by members of the Woman's Club of Booneville will be the featured attraction of next Tuesday's Summer Reading Program session.

The stage and the puppets may be old friends of our boys and girls because they are on loan from the Junior Auxiliary. Young people between the ages of three and 14 are invited to come to the George E. Allen Library at 10:30 on Tuesday, June 7, for the fun.

The following Tuesday, the 7-14 year-old group will make sack puppets and present them in a vaudeville.

Something fun to do, to see and hear, light refreshments and the company of friends make a pleasant hour open to our young readers for each of the next four Tuesdays.

Our "Reading Rainbow" is a promise of a happy time but it, too, brings a treasure, its pot of gold. The joy of reading, and its basic need for formal or informal education, make reading an indispensable tool in our society. Young people who read during the summer begin the next school year with improved skill.

A record of each participant's summer reading will be kept and given to the child or its next teacher.

Our emphasis is on the pleasure of reading this summer, but it can become a lifetime treasure.

William J. (Billy) McCoy

ANNOUNCES FOR State Representative

William J. (Billy) McCoy, present State Representative for Alcorn and Prentiss Counties, House District 3, announces that he has qualified as a candidate for re-election to this position.

Billy is a native of this legislative district. He and his wife, the former Edith Leatherwood of Kossuth, and their two children, Sam and Kim, live on their farm in the Thrasher Community. As farmers, they are producers of beef cattle and hay. Billy also works as a vocational teacher at the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School when the Legislature is not in session.

Billy McCoy makes the following statement in announcing his bid for re-election: "My family and I wish to express our sincere appreciation to the citizens of Alcorn and Prentiss Counties for their support and encouragement these past four years. Representing you in the Mississippi House of Representatives has been a high honor and privilege.

"I have kept a most solemn promise during these four years -- that being to remain honest and sober, to work as hard as my talents and energy permitted each day, and to retain open communication with the voters of Alcorn and Prentiss Counties, informing them at timely intervals concerning Legislative actions and the effects of these actions on their individual well-being, and on the state as a whole.

"I have been your personal Representative. I have tried to personally answer every telephone call and letter. I have responded to hundreds of major requests and have given daily attention to seeing that these requests are given due consideration.

"I truly believe the actions of the Mississippi Legislature during this period will be recorded in Mississippi History as one of the most productive and progressive. We have met the needs of our time despite the trying economic circumstances facing our state and nation.

"Mississippi has all the ingredients for a bright and productive future -- a future that will see her citizens in the mainstream, and in many areas, the forefront, of American political, social, educational, and economic life. I hope to be an active part of that future.

"My one and only political desire has been to serve my fellow citizens in the most important position of State Representative. Please allow Billy McCoy to continue as your voice in the State Legislature."

Over 30 farm ponds will be constructed in 1983 by Prentiss County landowners. These ponds can serve as an excellent source of water for livestock, wildlife, and fish production - provided they are properly located prior to final design and construction.

Site topography should be considered first and can help reduce construction costs and provide for more effective management. Locate the pond where the largest volume of water can be obtained with the least amount of earthfill.

A good site is usually one where a dam can be built across a narrow section of a valley, the side slopes are steep, and the slope of the valley floor permits a large area to be flooded. Such sites also minimize the area of shallow water. Large areas of shallow water should be avoided because of excessive evaporation and growth of undesirable aquatic plants.

Avoid sites with existing or potential sources of pollution and health hazards such as feedlots, industrial wastes, pesticides, excessive silt and power lines.

The water supply should be adequate but not excessive and may be provided by springs, wells, or surface runoff. In most North Mississippi ponds where surface runoff is the main source of water, the contributing drainage area should be large enough to maintain a suitable water level during dry periods. However, the drainage area should not be so large that expensive overflow structures are needed and water exchange occurs too frequently.

The amount of runoff that can be expected annually from a given watershed depends on so many factors that no set rule can be given for its determination. Physical characteristics that directly affect the yield of water are: relief, soil infiltration, plant cover and surface storage. Normally a pond site in Mississippi should have a minimum of five acres of drainage area for each surface acre of water.

Soil suitability is one of the primary factors in selecting a site for pond construction. The soil should contain a layer of material that is impervious and thick enough to prevent excessive seepage. Clays and silty clays are excellent for this purpose.

Sandy clays are also usually satisfactory. Soil suitability can best be determined by making soil borings at frequent intervals. If adequate soil is not available consider another site.

Anyone planning to build a pond can obtain free technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service in evaluating pond sites. Cost-sharing assistance for pond construction may also be available from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Soil Conservation Service personnel can provide information on what funding is available and how to apply for financial and technical assistance.

Robinson Announces For Highway Commissioner

I am Harmon Robinson of West Point, candidate for Highway Commissioner of the Northern District of Mississippi.

I am fifty-eight years of age, married to the former Peggy Colbert. We have five children and have nine grandchildren.

We are active members of the Siloam Baptist Church in Clay County, where I am Sunday School Director and a Deacon, and a member of the Gideons.

In seeking this office of trust and asking for your confidence, I do so with the desire to continue my life of public service to the people of Mississippi.

I have spent my entire adult life, except for 2½ years of military service, in public office working for the people of this great State, and I am deeply grateful to have had this opportunity.

I have served twelve years as Clay County Tax Assessor, at the end of this year, I will have served twelve years as Clay County Chancery Clerk. From 1976 to 1980 I served as State Senator from Clay, Chickasaw and Lowndes Counties, making a total of twenty-eight years in public office, all as a Democrat.

I stand on my record of 28 years in public life as evidence of my Honesty.

Integrity and Ability to work with other people. I want to put this depth of experience to work for the people of North Mississippi in the office of Highway Commissioner. Our Highway Commissioner must be an effective Administrator, one who can work with all areas of State and County Government. My experience in the Legislature and in County Government has proven that I can perform the job of being a responsible Administrator. I sincerely want to serve as your next Highway Commissioner, and give North Mississippi better Highways through proper planning and Good Administration.

I urge you to examine each of the Candidates, their record of public service, their qualifications, their dedication to serve the public and then make your choice for Highway Commissioner.

I ask for your vote and support to elect me as your Highway Commissioner and if elected, I will continue to serve you with an open door policy to the office of the Highway Commissioner and make myself at all times available to listen to, and help solve the Highway problems that are in existence and that may come about during the next four years.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By Larry E. Hill

II Corinthians 9:7 "Every Man According As He Purposeth In His Heart, So Let Him Give; Not Grudgingly, Or Of Necessity: For God Loveth A Cheerful Giver."

True giving has always been a matter of the heart. In the preparation of the tabernacle, Moses asked an offering from those of a 'Willing Heart.'

"Take ye from among you an offering unto the Lord: Whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the Lord; gold, and silver, and brass." Exo. 35:5.

God has always given the power and the means by which His people can accomplish the mission or task He has assigned them.

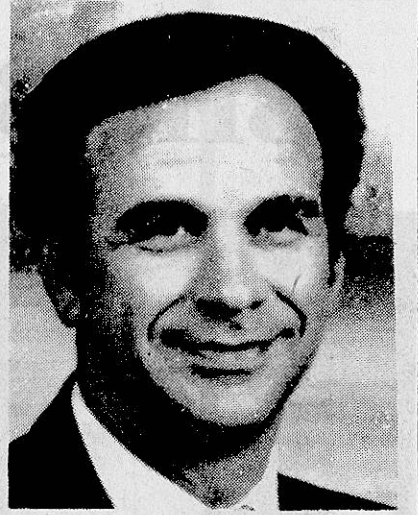

The children of Israel brought free-will offerings unto Moses every morning. The workers spoke unto Moses, "The people bring much more than enough for the service of the work, which the Lord commanded to make." Exodus 36:5. These people were certainly an example to the New Testament Church of today in their readiness to give. When Moses finished the tent, a cloud covered the tabernacle and the glory of the Lord filled the sanctuary. Men who give willingly of themselves -- their time, strength, and finances -- will certainly be blessed of God.

A complete dedication of the members of the early church brought about a great revival. Apparently, the glory of the early church can be credited to the liberal spirit they manifested. They gave themselves, their time and their means.

There are actually four areas of giving. As Christians we are called upon to share our time, talents, our treasure and our testimony. Giving should never be discussed in terms of money alone. God wants our all, and that entails each of these four areas.

When the mission of reaching every person with the gospel message becomes the objective and heartbeat of the local church, surely the glory of the Lord will fill that place. This is the secret of revival!

Cheerleader Camp Starts July 6

Approximately 500 cheerleaders from the Northeast Mississippi area are expected to participate in the annual NCA Superstar Spirit Camp July 6-9 at Northeast Junior college.

Founded in 1943 by L.R. Herkimer, the National Cheerleader Association trains nearly 100,000 students each year and conducts nearly 400 camps in 47 states, Canada, Puerto Rico and Europe.

The NCA staff who will be conducting the week-long camp were selected from university and college cheerleading squads across the nation.

Participants of this year's camp are promised an exciting, challenging and fun-filled week. In addition to individualized instruction of the latest crowd-pleasing cheers and chants, the cheerleaders will learn unique pom pon and dance routines choreographed to music, several different sideline 8 counts, creative and safe pyramids, jumps, tumbling and partner stunts.

Special classes dealing with leadership and communication will also be offered to help participants deal with intersquad problems. Another attraction of this year's camp is the special style show which features the latest in cheerleading fashions.

Total cost for instruction, dormitory housing and meals is $89 per person for campers and $59 per person for advisers. Commuting students and commuting advisers will be charged $39 and $10 respectively.

For additional information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at Northeast Junior College by calling 728-7751, ext. 296.

'Magnum P.I.' Star Attends Volleyball Tourney

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

Most sports fans in Prentiss county consider ourselves pretty well learned in most of the major pastimes of our nation.

With a little luck we can pick the pennant winner in each division, the Super Bowl champion, and the basketball world champs.

But what about the Golden Masters champ in the USVBA? No?

Well two Prentiss County residents could probably pick this winner with ease.

By the way, USVBA stands for the United States Volleyball Association. Two very active members in the association are Bob and Jane Morgan, of West College St. in Booneville.

The Morgans were the tournament directors of the 1983 USVBA National Championships held in Memphis recently.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Morgan hold some prestigious positions with the USVBA.

Bob's titles include positions on the championship committee, special events committee, and the board of directors. He is a National referee, National Scorekeeper, and a college referee.

Morgan's only pay comes from officiating college matches. The rest he just "enjoys."

He was also the first commissioner of the Delta region, which includes the state of Mississippi.

Mrs. Morgan is a national scorer, chairman of the Women's All-American Selection Committee, chairman of the Annual Awards Luncheon, an international scorer, regional referee, and state college referee.

Because she is an international referee, Mrs. Morgan could get to officiate in the 1984 Olympic games.

All this could probably be better related if the men remember all the ladies turning to the Memphis news stations an awful lot recently.

Television star Tom Selleck of the Magnum P.I. series was a player on one of the men's teams from Hawaii in the Memphis tournament.

Mrs. Morgan said that Selleck drew a crowd each time his team played.

"I admire him. He plays hard and keeps his concentration when people stand shout at him and trying to take his picture."

Selleck plays for the Outrigger Canoe Club from Honolulu, Hawaii. His team won the Senior Men's Division this year and Selleck was named All-American.

Mrs. Morgan, who first met him two years ago at a similar volleyball tournament, admits she wasn't familiar with Selleck at the time.

"I thought I had seen him somewhere, but I thought he was just another player."

The Morgans describe Selleck as "a really nice guy." Although volleyball is not a popular competitive sport in this area, it is a major event in beach states such as California and Hawaii.

This was the main reason for the Morgans bringing the tournament to Memphis.

The Morgans bid on tourney at the 1982 meet in Hawaii.

"The main reason we wanted to have the tournament at Memphis was to expose this part of the country to volleyball," said Mrs. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan is determined not to let the people of this area get the wrong idea about volleyball.

"Some people think of volleyball as going out in the back yard and hitting the ball," he said. "We have men and even some women whose spikes have been clocked at over 100 miles per hour."

The Morgans explained that people like Selleck bring attention to the game, and the game itself keeps them coming back.

The Delta region donated $1,000 to the U.S. Olympic Volleyball Team in Selleck's name. Selleck is the honorary captain of the team.

Mrs. Morgan told the story of one of her relatives who wanted to see Selleck in action.

"She came all the way from Knoxville to see him and when the tournament was over she was asking where the next one was because she enjoyed it so much."

The tournament in Memphis was a serious one consisting of men's and women's open and senior divisions (35 and over) and men's Golden Masters (over 50).

Mr. Morgan was responsible for keeping 10 courts ready to play on from 8 a.m. to 12 midnight.

There were 120 matches played in one day during the tourney.

The Morgans were seldom able to get more than four hours sleep for more than a week.

Mr. Morgan is a retired Navy man who moved here recently from Millington outside of Memphis.

He is currently teaching electronics at Northeast Junior College.

Morgan, who has been involved in volleyball for over 30 years, is interested in bringing more interest in volleyball to this area or "spreading the word."

The couple both come from athletic families, according to Mrs. Morgan, but volleyball seems to be the sport that has stuck to them and they to it.

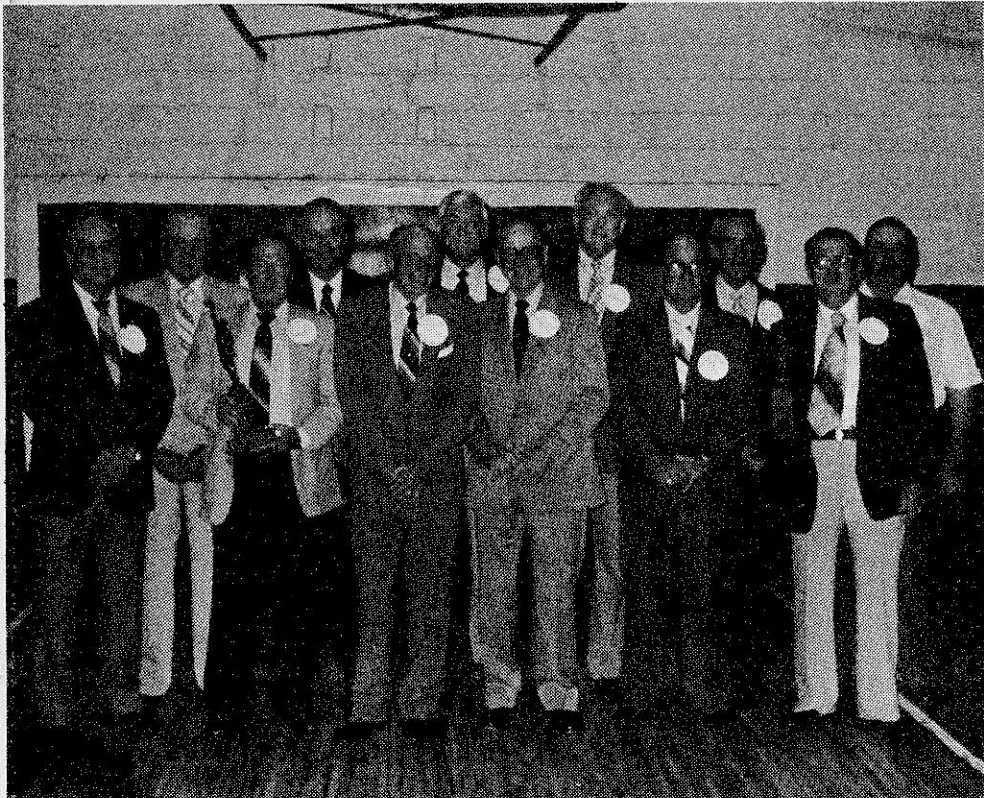

It is of concern to the Morgans that there wasn't one team from Mississippi out of 144 in the national tournament although a few had invitations.

Mrs. Morgan did say however that Ole Miss' girls' team was very competitive, and that some high schools have teams, Tupelo being the closest in this area.

Mr. Morgan hopes people will see the importance of the game because of the teamwork involved.

"More teamwork is involved in volleyball than any other sport, because if one of the six players isn't doing his job, the whole team is in trouble."

Catch a volleyball game sometime and notice the skill and athletic ability involved. See also how much fun the game could be.

New Site's 1945-46 State

Basketball Champs Honored

The 1945-46 state champs were recently guests of honor at a benefit basketball game at New Site High School.

With an outstanding record of 40-3 in 1945 and 43-0 in 1946, these men won the state title for New Site before the schools were divided into classifications.

At the recent benefit game, the champs enjoyed a reunion and were honored with a spaghetti supper.

At halftime, the teams were recognized and were again presented their original trophies.

Some of the team members proved they haven't lost their touch - especially Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb who sank his first shot from center court.

Proceeds from the benefit game will be used to build additional classrooms at

New Site. Approximately $18,300 in cash and pledges has been raised toward the goal.

For Your Child

College Education Saving Should Start Early

By BONITA BRIDGES
Area Consumer
Management Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

The tab for sending children to college is a nightmare for many families. College education is one of the largest expenses a family encounters.

The average tuition for an in-state student at one of Mississippi's public universities is about $995 for the 1983-84 school year.

Preparing for college expenses means setting goals and laying plans years before the money is needed.

Securing investments and savings, at as little risk as possible is the most important goal for most families.

Along with avoiding risk, families should be concerned about reducing or eliminating taxes on earnings of the college nest egg.

Some of the options families might consider in building a nest egg for college education are:

- Clifford Trust. This device permits parents to lend money to their child or children interest free for 10 years. Income from the invested money is taxed to the child.
- The child would be taxed at a lower rate than the wage earner. Ask banks and brokerage firms about this trust.
- Uniform Gift to minors Act. Basically, a parent would establish a custodial account giving the child money with the parent serving as custodian. The child must have a Social Security number.
- The parent is in charge of managing the investment of the funds. The funds may be a variety of instruments such as mutual fund or long-term certificates of deposit.
- Withdrawal of any funds must be well documented to show that they have been used for the child. The uses for the child must be legitimate.

When funds are withdrawn, income on interest is reported that year. The child would be in a lower tax bracket than parent.

The advantages of this arrangement are flexibility in investing the funds, their early withdrawal when needed by the child, deduction or elimination of tax on interest and the donation is free of federal and estate taxes for the parent. The disadvantage is that the money now belongs to the child.

Check with banks, other financial institutions and brokerage firms on details.

-- Zero Coupon Bonds. Zero Coupon Bonds can be taxable or tax-free. They offer repayment at a stated maturity value. Zero Coupon Bonds differ from other bonds in that no interim interest payments are made to the bondholder.

The bonds must be held to maturity to realize the stated maturity value. The advantage of Zero Coupon Bonds is that they pay a fixed rate of return.

The bond belongs to the child who earns no other income and the interest is not taxed. The interest has to be deducted each year although it is not paid.

This would involve the parent filling out an income tax return for the child each year. Check with brokerage firms for information on Zero Coupon Bonds.

A Zero Coupon Bond bought today for $377.50 would earn 10.1 percent interest and be worth $1,000 in 1993.

Building a nest egg for college means families should begin a saving-investment program early, preferably before the child is 10 years of age.

Invest regularly and use discipline to continue investments. Don't sacrifice the college funds for anything except a dire emergency that could not be handled with normal cash flow.
