Roundup

Local Grocery Store Hit By Burglars

Some $1,500 in cash was stolen from Gordon McGee's Grocery in downtown Booneville Friday night of last week by two black men, according to Booneville Police Chief Bobby Lambert.

A cash register drawer had apparently been left open and the men simply took the money, Lambert said.

The store was full of people when the robbery occurred around 5:30 p.m., Lambert said. No one was hurt during the robbery.

No arrests had been made in the case as of Tuesday.

91 Candidates Qualify For Primaries

When the deadline to qualify for a political office came Friday, June 3, at 5 p.m. a total of 91 candidates had qualified to seek election to various offices in Prentiss County.

Ten candidates qualified since Wednesday of last week.

Two additional candidates qualified for the sheriff's race, bringing the total number of candidates in that race to 17.

Burnis Davis of Route 7, Booneville, and James Glover of Baldwin both filed qualifying papers June 3 for the sheriff's race.

Two candidates qualified last week to challenge Billy McCoy for the Representative Post 3 position. Glen Goodwin qualified Thursday and Mike Chase qualified Friday.

Leon Lauderdale and Bobby W. White both filed qualifying papers for the position of Justice Court Judge South. There are now ten candidates in that race.

J. W. Greene of Marietta has qualified for the position of Superintendent of Education. There are three candidates in that race.

Floyd Dodds is the 6th candidate to qualify for the post 5th district supervisor.

J.E. McClellon qualified June 3 in the 1st district constable's race. There are now six men seeking that office.

Dwayne Pollard qualified June 3 for the 5th district constable's post, becoming the 7th candidate in that race.

Independent candidates have until Sept. 9 to qualify for an office.

July 2 is the last day to register to vote in the August primary. Prospective voters may register to vote in the circuit clerk's office in the Prentiss County Courthouse.

Juveniles Escape From City Jail

Two juvenile girls, ages 13 and 15, from Kenosha, Wis., escaped from the Booneville Police Department Monday morning for about 10 minutes before being apprehended by law officers.

Officer Hubert Kitchens had booked the juveniles, and was getting the jail keys to lock the girls up when the two girls ran out the back door.

Officer Kitchens apprehended one of the girls a few moments later about a block from city hall. Prentiss County Deputy John Moore and probation officer Henry Williams apprehended the other girl about two blocks from city hall.

One of the girls is a runaway on probation for burglary, Booneville Police Chief Bobby Lambert said. Law authorities from Kenosha are supposed to transport the girls back there, he said.

The juveniles had been brought in for questioning because they were with John Hargett, formerly of Prentiss County, who police wanted to question concerning various charges, Lambert said. Since the girls with him were juveniles, they were also questioned by the police department, he said.

Hargett has been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and possession of paraphernalia.

Community Fund Reaches Halfway Mark

The Prentiss County Community Fund has reached the half-way mark in its effort to raise $33,000 for various community and welfare programs, according to Community Fund Chairman Opal Anderson.

Those who have already completed their portion of the drive include the education division, under chairman Lex Cain, and co-chairmen Louise Peeler and Robert Griffin; the merchant division, chairmen Helen White and Mary Cecil Thomson; the professional division, under Mrs. Billy Bonds, chairman.

Mrs. Anderson urges each division chairman to complete their list and report to the People's Bank each Friday afternoon between 4 and 4:30.

Murder Suspect's Attorney Claims His Client Was Denied Legal Counsel

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

A Prentiss County man arrested last week and charged with murder was denied his constitutional rights to see an attorney, according to the Booneville attorney hired to represent him.

Leonard (Leon) Moss, 41, of East Prentiss County, was charged last Tuesday with the murder of Gordon R. Buchanan, 24, of Route 6, Booneville.

Buchanan's body was discovered lying in the middle of Highway 365 near Cairo about 6 a.m. Sunday, May 29. An autopsy revealed that he had been killed by a severe blow to the head.

Buchanan was reportedly employed by Moss at a house-moving business. Buchanan, Moss and Jerry Smith, 22, of Burnsville, were reportedly drinking together at the scene of the death shortly before the alleged murder occurred.

Booneville attorney James N. Godwin says he was hired to represent Moss by the suspect's father, James R. Moss of Burton, and brothers, Bennie and R.B. Moss. Godwin says he was hired after Moss was picked up for questioning by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department last week.

Godwin claims that when he went to the sheriff's department and asked to speak with Moss as his attorney, Deputy Sheriff John Moore told him that "nobody is going to talk with him until we get through with him."

Godwin says he explained to Deputy Moore that he had been retained to represent Moss. He said he told the deputy that Moss needed to be told that he and Moss' father and brother were there and needed to see him so that Moss could tell the deputies that he agreed to let Godwin represent him.

Godwin says Moore then told him that neither he nor anyone else could talk with Moss until after Moss had told the deputies that Godwin was his lawyer.

Realizing that he needed witnesses to confirm that he was attempting to communicate with his client, Godwin says he asked two people who were standing in the lobby of the jail to act as witnesses while he again asked Deputy Moore to let him see his client.

According to Godwin, when he asked Moore for the second time to see Moss, the deputy "began directing profane, threatening and abusive language" toward the attorney and told him to get out of the jail and not to ask to see Moss any more because they were busy.

Godwin says that, believing his life to be in danger if he persisted in trying to see his client, he left the jail at that time.

ACCORDING to Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley, the suspect, Moss, never asked to see an attorney. "When we were talking to Moss," McCauley said Tuesday, "he said that he didn't know what he was going to do, that he couldn't afford to hire a lawyer. And, so far as we knew, he didn't have a lawyer hired."

"So far as I know, he has never requested to see a lawyer," the sheriff said.

Sheriff McCauley said that the suspect's father told the sheriff's department that Godwin had not been hired.

Deputy Jim Ross also told The Banner-Independent

Dramatic Rescue

A concerned Kenneth Chaffin (right) looks on as ambulance personnel, firemen and law officers remove his wife, Charlene, from the wreckage of her 1973 Buick. While she was stopped for a vehicle in front of her to turn off, a Bingham Leasing truck driven by Jerry D. White, 36, of Route 1, New Albany, rammed Mrs. Chaffin's vehicle in the side. According to the police accident report, the truck driver was attempting to avoid a head-on collision with another vehicle when he struck Mrs. Chaffin's car. Mrs. Chaffin, who was alone in the vehicle, was pinned in the car for about 20 minutes. Three wreckers were required to move the truck off the car and firemen cut the roof off of the Buick so that rescuers could get to her. Mrs. Chaffin reportedly received only minor injuries, and was taken to Baptist Hospital in Booneville for treatment. White was ticketed for reckless driving.

At City Board Meeting

Pharmacist Protests Post Office Move

Booneville pharmacist L.C. Wright met with the city's board of mayor and aldermen Tuesday night to discuss the U.S. Postal Service's plan to build a new post office in Booneville.

The tentative location for the new post office is on U.S. 45, adjacent to Kentucky Fried Chicken. Wright is opposed to that location.

He presented the board a packet containing what he said were 35-40 letters from people opposed to locating the post office outside the downtown area.

"We feel it is not a good move to take it out of town," Wright said.

Claiming that a large part of the post office's business is "walk-in" traffic, Wright said that moving the post office to the highway "would be a great expense for everybody who now walks to the post office," and that having to cross the highway would be an additional, unnecessary hazard to residents.

Wright said he does not favor any particular location for the Post Office.

"Where it is now is just fine, about the best location you could find," he said. "Up there (on the highway) is the worst."

"The post office is and should be a dignified place," he said. "It looks out of character to put it in line with fast food restaurants."

Wright said that moving the post office to the highway would inconvenience those people who try to combine shopping downtown with a trip to the post office.

"People that come to town to conduct any business will have to drive further," he said.

The post office could make better use of space available at its present location, Wright said.

Although the board took no official action as a result of Wright's statements, all three aldermen who were present at the meeting expressed their agreement with his argument.

Alderman R.G. Houston said that he feels the same way as Wright does about

Sheriff Berates Training Center

Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley says something needs to be done about the state's training academy for law enforcement personnel.

It too tough, physically, on older officers attempting to complete the training.

"Don't get me wrong," McCauley said. "I believe a fellow ought to have all the training he can get for anything he undertakes to do, especially in law enforcement."

McCauley says that older men are sometimes the only ones that small police departments and sheriff's offices can hire because of the relative low wages these agencies can pay.

"They cannot take that physical abuse down there and are coming back crippled," the sheriff said. "And you can't say it's all put on, because putting on doesn't make your leg swell up!"

State law requires all law enforcement personnel to successfully complete the training academy course within one year after being hired by a law enforcement agency. If he does not complete the course, he cannot continue to serve as a law officer.

Sheriff McCauley was to attend a meeting of the Mississippi Sheriffs Association Wednesday and Thursday of this week in Greenwood. He said he planned to try to get a resolution passed by the sheriffs at that meeting in an

Ransacks Lawyer's Office

Local Man Goes On Rampage In Downtown

A Booneville man apparently went on a rampage in downtown Booneville Wednesday morning.

Police say that Clarence Wingo Jr. of Route 3, Booneville, apparently rammed his 1965 pickup into the front of Attorney Joe Ray Langston's office building on West Church Street around 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Officers said Wingo then apparently used a rock to knock out the glass of the front door, kicked in the door, and then ransacked the offices of Langston and Bubba Lott.

Extensive damage was reported at Langston's office including the destruction of lamps and other furniture. Several chairs had been piled on top of one desk. Books and files were scattered throughout the office. Walls in most of the rooms were also damaged.

Police say that Wingo may have used heavy rocks or a shovel to destroy furnishings.

No one was at the office at the time of the break-in.

When Wingo reportedly left Langston's office, he crossed the street, and took a jack stand from the back of Benny Davis' pickup. Witnesses told officers that Wingo then threw the jackstand through a window at Davis Barber Shop, located across from Langston's office.

Then Wingo apparently went to the Prentiss County Courthouse and kicked in the glass on the right side of the front door.

Murder

Tuesday that Moss had never asked to see Godwin or any other attorney.

Deputy Ross said that three days after Moss was arrested, Moss' father told Justice Court Judge William Anderson that "no one had hired James Godwin for an attorney."

However, the suspect's father told The Banner-Independent Tuesday that Godwin had indeed been hired to represent his son.

According to the elder Moss, Godwin was hired by his other two sons to represent their brother.

"You see, I didn't have the money," he said. "They had the money. They hired him. They got a receipt. James Godwin is a legal, hired lawyer."

"As far as them denying that he was hired," he said, "we've got a receipt showing that he was hired and has been paid."

"I HAVE never refused to let anybody's attorney talk to them, any time of the day or night," Sheriff McCauley said earlier. "At nearly every one of the other jails, they can talk to them only from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon."

"But I have never refused to let a lawyer talk to his client at any time he comes down here," he said. "I've had them come down here at 2 o'clock in the morning and want to talk to them, and I've let them."

The sheriff also gave a different version of what happened between Deputy Moore and attorney Godwin.

"He (Godwin) grabbed John Moore by the shoulder and turned John around to talk to him the other night and made John mad," McCauley said. "And John told him to 'either shut up or get out of here.'"

"There were several people who saw James get John by the shoulder and spin him around," the sheriff said. "It made John mad, and it would have made me mad, too."

ACCORDING to Godwin, after the run-in with Deputy Moore, he called the jail several times during the remainder of the day and asked for Sheriff McCauley or one of the other deputies, but were told that they were either unavailable or out of the office.

Godwin says he finally contacted Deputy Bob Glover by phone that night and asked if he could talk to his client. According to Godwin, Glover said, "I don't see why not. We have everything we wanted out of him," and told Godwin to "come on over to the jail" and he would let Godwin talk with his client.

Godwin says he then went to the jail and talked with Moss, who told him that he had given sheriff's deputies some sort of a statement that afternoon.

On several occasions during the proceeding,

STOLEN AUTOS RECOVERED - The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department received a tip last week that a 1973 Volvo and a 1975 Ford F350 truck were parked down a field road in a pine thicket near the Prentiss-Tippah county line. Deputies John Moore and Jim Ross located the vehicles and further investigation revealed the vehicles had been stolen in Corinth. They belonged to James Davis Motors in Tennessee. No arrests have been made in the case. Pictured are (l-r) Sheriff John McCauley and deputies Ross and Moore.

effort to change things at the academy.

McCauley said those running the training academy are trying to run it like the highway patrol school.

He said the highway patrol will not take a man over 32 years of age.

The sheriff said the training academy is run mainly by the highway patrol.

"It should be divided up between policemen, sheriffs' departments, the game and fish commission, and the other agencies," McCauley said.

"They're just not considerate of us," he said. "And, they're ruining us."

When Wingo went inside the courthouse, Prentiss County Circuit Clerk Travis Cox tried to talk to Wingo in an effort to calm him.

However, Wingo then reportedly slapped Cox on the side of the face.

Wingo left the courthouse and was apprehended a few moments later on the north lawn of the courthouse by law officers.

Wingo had not been formally charged at press time, but officers said he would face charges of breaking and entering and malicious mischief in addition to other possible charges.

Police said they had no motive yet for Wingo's actions.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, was there a Church of Christ in existence before the days of Alexander Campbell?

ANSWER: Yes, in Matt. 16:18 the Lord said, "I will build my church," and in Acts 2:47 "The Lord added to the church daily" and this was the Church of Christ (see Rom. 16:16). Then again there is a historical Marker at Revere, Massachusetts which says, "Church of Christ-1710. Meeting house of the Church of Christ in Rumney Marsh, erected in 1710. Thomas Cheever, the first settled minister. Died December 27, 1749, aged ninety one years." This was 53 years before Thomas Campbell was born and 78 years before Alexander Campbell was born! Then on a tombstone near Paris, Kentucky, "Here lies Nathaniel Rogers, who was born July 25, 1755. He was a member of the convention that formed the constitution of Kentucky in 1799. What is of more consequence, he was a member of the Church of Christ." This was five years before Alexander Campbell came to America! This shows the Church of Christ existed many years before Alexander Campbell was born. In Acts 20:28 Paul told the elders of the church at Ephesus to "Feed the Church of the Lord which he hath purchased with his own blood."

SWAPPED HAIRCUTS FOR 50 YEARS — Clarence Deaton (left) and Leon Lowrey, both of Thrasher, have swapped haircuts for the last 50 years. Deaton has been a part-time barber for 62 years. Lowrey was also a barber in the Thrasher area for many years until he quit about 15 years ago.

For News And Haircuts

Backyard Barber Attracts Crowds

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

He calls it his backyard barbershop. It's here that Clarence Deaton of Thrasher cuts customer's hair in his spare time and catches up on the latest news.

His backyard barber shop was built in 1943. The 12x12 room was built originally as a wash house, but it became his area to cut hair when he decided to stop cutting customer's hair in the living room.

The spry 77-year-old gave his first haircut when he was 15. A neighbor asked him to cut her son's hair, so he obliged and cut the boy's hair underneath an oak tree.

After that first hair cut, which looked "pretty good," he decided he could cut hair, he said.

Coming from a family of five brothers and three sisters afforded him plenty of opportunities to perfect his barbering techniques. "There were so many in our family someone had to cut their hair. So I just got at it."

When his brother's and sister's friends visited the Deaton home, their hair often fell prey to Clarence's hand clippers, too.

Although he gave his first haircut 62 years ago, barbering has just been a part-time job for him. He farmed all his life and cut hair on weekends.

When he first started barbering, he cut hair for free. Then people began giving him a dime for a haircut. As the years went by prices increased from a dime to $1.50, the present cost.

Years ago he even had women as customers especially when the "shingle bob" was stylish. His late wife, Ernestine, also was his patron.

The couple's two children, Jimmy and Sue, had their hair cut in the backyard barber shop, too, when they were growing up. Clarence still "practices" haircutting on four of his brothers' hair, Alvie, Ellzey, Claude and Leland.

Customers come from Piggah to Cairo to have their hair cut at his backyard barber shop.

"There's plenty of hair to cut if you want to work at it," he said. "But people don't get haircuts as often as they used to. Men and boys let their hair grow long. I cut very few heads every two weeks. Most go a month."

Who cuts the barber's hair?

For the last 50 years Clarence and Leon Lowrey of Thrasher have swapped haircuts. Lowrey was a barber himself for years. The two seldom go two weeks without a haircut.

It's been said that Clarence has saved a lot of farmer's money in the Thrasher neighborhood by cutting their children's hair for a dime to 50 cents.

Ever since he started barbering, he has cut hair on credit, especially for children. "I never lost much money on hair cuts, either."

Since he lives about a quarter of a mile east of Thrasher School, for years school boys would get the principal's permission to leave school and get a haircut at the backyard barber shop.

"Once on the last day of school a little boy ran down to get a haircut. He didn't have the money to pay for the haircut but promised he would later. On the first day of school the next year, that little boy came back to pay me the 50 cents he owed me."

Deaton doesn't confine his haircutting to his backyard barber shop though. If someone is sick and unable to come to him, he will go to them. "That's helping out those who can't do any better," he says.

He's always taken pleasure from his part-time barbering, but now he says he enjoys it now more than ever since he has plenty of time to talk with customers.

Sometimes it gets crowded at the backyard barber shop. Just because Clarence finishes a customer's haircut doesn't mean the customer has to leave.

Usually they stay around and talk about the latest news, especially politics.

"Ernestine used to say, 'Ya'll have the best time out there.' And we did. Come to think about it, we still do."

Baldwyn Area Has New Veterinarian

BALDWIN — There's a new vet in town.

Dr. Don Rowan, son of Baldwyn Mayor Merle Rowan, has joined the McMillan Animal Clinic, which is owned by another Baldwyn native, Dr. William McMillan.

Rowan, 27, became associated on June 1 with the clinic which is located south of Baldwyn and west of Guntown. He received his veterinarian degree from Mississippi State University in May.

Rowan graduated from Baldwyn High School and also attended Northeast Junior College. He received a BS in Animal Science at MSU in 1979 then entered the college of veterinary medicine.

Rowan said he decided to become a veterinarian after having been around animals most of his life.

The McMillan Clinic has been at its current location for three years. Prior to that, McMillan practiced at another location in Guntown.

According to Rowan, he and McMillan have an agreement whereby he will buy into the clinic if everything goes well during an initial trial period.

The two veterinarians said they are hoping to build up their small animal practice — the treatment of dogs, cats, and other pets and animals. According to Dr. McMillan, the clinic's practice is currently about half and half large animals and small animals.

At the present time, Dr. McMillan plans to concentrate on treating the larger animals, with Dr. Rowan handling most of the smaller animals. However, both doctors are qualified and will treat all kinds of animals.

The two doctors pointed out that treating animals involves many of the same techniques used in treating humans.

Both stressed that they want to become more involved in preventive medicine, through regular checkups of the animals they treat.

"We would like to see dogs (for example) twice a year," Dr. McMillan said, "and older dogs as often as every 2½ months."

They said that, too often when an animal's owner brings it to the veterinarian, it is already too late to help the animal. "We hate to see distemper and other similar diseases when they can be prevented by simple vaccinations," Dr. McMillan said.

A preventive program is really the cheapest type of program, he said.

At the present time, the animal clinic can handle about anything that comes up in connection with the treatment of small animals — from vaccinations to surgery.

They plan to make some improvements in their facilities for handling larger animals.

"We hope in the next year to build an equine surgery room," McMillan said.

Now that there are two doctors at the clinic, one of them will be on call 24 hours a day. McMillan said that if any one calls the clinic after hours, they will get a recording giving two emergency numbers to reach the doctors.

Both doctors also have call forwarding on their private phones so that they can be reached where ever they may be.

'Talk O' The Town'

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Since 17 candidates have qualified to run for sheriff, why do you think so many people in Prentiss County want to be sheriff?

HUBERT LESTER of Route 5, Booneville: "My opinion is that some are unemployed and looking for a job. Others are retired are doing all right and they don't really need a job - they're just trying to be elected."

DIANE WEATHERS of Route 3, Rienzi: "Because the present administration isn't doing it's job the way it ought to be. If it was, there wouldn't be so many people running against the sheriff that's in there. I can't understand how the sheriff could fire two deputies for doing the same thing he's doing - campaigning."

J.P. SPARKS of Route 1, Marietta: "We've had too many sheriffs that didn't do any good. They probably think they can get a lot of money out of it."

WAYNE ISBELL of Route 7, Booneville: "I guess it's probably a job - a prestigious job. The unemployment conditions might also prompt more people to run since jobs are low. That's a good job."

CHARLIE GENO of Route 3, Rienzi: "They need a job and that's a good job. I guess they're running because they think they can clean up the county."

WOODROW W. ENGLISH of Route 3, Booneville: "For the money there is to it - that's what most of them are running for. And we have a bunch of young people who have a desire to get into public service."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

Staff Reporter

Seventeen candidates for sheriff. Not surprisingly courthouse officials say it's probably the highest number of people ever to qualify for sheriff in Prentiss County.

Ten candidates qualified for sheriff in 1979. Five of those candidates are seeking election again this year. One thing about it, since 20 candidates didn't qualify for that office, I'll get to keep the pair of boots we were going to give to the 20th candidate.

They'll come in handy, too. Not only does it get deep at candidate speakings, it also gets deep at the Banner, especially in my office.

Several candidates have already given speeches at some of the senior citizen centers in the county. The candidates will get another chance to polish their speeches Saturday when a candidate speaking is held at the Tuscumbia Community Center.

This speaking is in conjunction with a fund raising project for the upkeep of Smith Chapel Cemetery. The speaking is scheduled to begin around noon. In case of bad weather, the event will be rescheduled.

In addition to the candidate speaking, there will also be a greased pig contest.

I have an idea. How about greasing the candidates and letting the pigs catch them? Speaking of ideas, here's one from a reader:

"Dear Ponderer, Since you occasionally offer ideas to enliven candidate speakings, I offer you this idea. It occurred to me during all the publicity concerning the 100th anniversary of the Brooklyn Bridge.

"We could have a candidate speaking on the Overhead Bridge in Booneville. After a candidate makes a speech, if we don't like him, we toss him off the bridge. Signed, A Fellow Ponderer."

Tossing candidates off the Overhead Bridge is an interesting idea. However, it occurs to me that we might wind up with a stack of candidates higher than the Overhead Bridge.

I see another problem, too. Candidates might relish the idea of tossing a certain reporter off the Overhead Bridge.

Lost And Found

While eating lunch at the Tiger Den last Friday, my friends and I saw a little boy wandering up and down the sidewalk by the boulevard at Northeast Junior College.

He appeared to be lost and was oblivious to traffic. We decided we would try to find out where he lived and take him home. And if we couldn't find his home we would take him to the police department.

Although he told us he was four years old, he couldn't tell us where he lived.

But we figured he lived in the housing project near The Tiger Den. So we walked with him to the housing project and he soon spotted his home.

Since we had gone that far, we decided to see if anyone was supposed to be watching the child.

The boy's older brother, who was playing in the yard, told us their 14-year-old cousin was their baby sitter. He called her to the door and we expressed our concern about the four-year-old and how we had seen him wandering in the midst of traffic.

She didn't say much except she would watch him. Then she closed the door in our face.

As we left, the boy's brother thanked us for bringing his brother home. After we had walked up the street, he rode after us on his bicycle and thanked us again.

I Haven't stopped thinking about that little barefoot four year old. It probably wasn't the first time he had wandered around North College Street. And it probable won't be the last time. That's what worries me.

The next time he may not be so lucky when he darts in front of traffic.

Eyes On Mississippi

John Glenn: The Only Democratic Game In Town

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - The only Democratic presidential act in town right now seems to be the John Glenn show, which evidently is getting rave notices.

While former Vice-President Walter Mondale, thought to be the early frontrunner in Mississippi, has been virtually out of touch in the state since he came here two months ago, Glenn, the ex-astronaut and U.S. Senator from Ohio, has been making heavy inroads.

Ever since Maurice Dantin, the well-known former Democratic gubernatorial and senatorial candidate, was named Glenn's state campaign chairman, there's been a strong rallying around the Glenn presidential bid.

The nucleus of a statewide steering committee with some real heavyweights was formed at a meeting here a week ago Sunday and the Glenn forces are now in the process of completing their organization.

Shortly, the Glenn forces expect to announce that the Ohioan, who became a national hero in 1962 when he was the first human to orbit the globe, will visit the Neshoba County Fair in late July.

Glenn's appearance at Neshoba would be the first time a Democratic presidential hopeful has ever come to the historic political camp meeting. Four years ago, the fair broke its custom against political speeches on Sunday when Ronald Reagan, fresh from winning the GOP nomination, appeared at Neshoba.

Old Marine ties have been instrumental in building Glenn's forces in Mississippi. Retired Marine Gen. Lewis Wilson, who now lives in Brandon, is an old friend of ex-Marine Glenn from his days in Washington, D.C., as Marine Commandant.

Evidently Wilson, who had been active in the senatorial campaign of Sen. John Stennis last year, recommended Dantin, another former Marine, to head the Glenn campaign, and he (Wilson) would serve as Dantin's vice-chairman.

Several polls recently have shown Glenn overtaking Mondale as the Democratic front-runner nationally, with back activist Jesse Jackson in the picture.

Southern political observers have put Glenn ahead of Mondale in the South now for the past two months, and an Atlanta-based poll recently had shown Glenn beating President Reagan in the South 47 to 42 percent.

In Mississippi, Mondale was thought to be the favorite to take off the state's 43 delegate votes because he had the backing of Gov. William Winter and most of the State Democratic Party establishment.

Evidently, the former Vice-President believed he had Mississippi in the bag when he made his sweep through here in March. But things have apparently changed since then.

For one thing, Winter's support of Mondale has evidently softened somewhat. Winter has already indicated to the Glenn leaders that he has no intention of doing anything for Mondale before he goes out of office next January, if then.

For one thing, Winter's support of Mondale has evidently softened somewhat. Winter has already indicated to the Glenn leaders that he has no intention of doing anything for Mondale before he goes out of office next January, if then.

Meanwhile, the Mondale contact man in the state is supposed to be David Crews, Winter's press secretary, who has plans to leave the Winter administration soon, apparently to go to work for Mondale.

But the word meantime is that Mondale is giving very little attention to Mississippi, and efforts to set up a steering committee for him here are making little headway.

Mondale may have not understood the Mississippi political situation when he lavished attention on Winter the early part of this year...

that Winter will be out of office next March when the statewide Democratic precinct caucuses are held.

Historically, the precinct caucuses are pretty well dominated by the choice of the incumbent Democratic governor in Mississippi. Ex-governors, once out of office, quickly lose their influence.

So it would be rather unlikely that Winter's clout for Mondale, assuming he tried to use it, would be able to deliver the bulk of Mississippi's delegates to the Minnesotan, should the then governor have another favorite.

None of the leading Democratic gubernatorial candidates have expressed any preference of Democratic presidential hopefuls. However, this column has learned that one of the three frontrunners for governor on the Democratic side is virtually committed to back Glenn.

Of course, the whole scenario would change should Republican Leon Bramlett capture the governor's office in November.

Having no incumbent governor to be titular head of the State Democratic Party, as is the custom, would certainly be a new experience for Mississippi Democrats.

In that case, possibly Winter could exert more influence, but, in all probability, the presidential candidate who is best organized in Mississippi would pick up most of the marbles.

Certainly, the momentum now is with Glenn.

Yazoo Farm Boy Walks In Grandfather's Footprints

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi
Farm Bureau
Federation

This is the story of a Yazoo county farm boy whose grandfather commanded the 18th Mississippi Regiment at Gettysburg until his death on the battlefield - and how this young lad subsequently became a unique military legend himself two generations later as "the soldier with nine lives."

Perhaps it was the family heritage immortalized by Confederate Col. William Henry Luse before he died at Gettysburg that influenced this young Mississippi grandson two generations later to upstage his notable grandfather.

Or maybe it was the pluck and alacrity of young John E. Luse in his own right. He had been an athletic standout at Benton high school and Holmes Junior College before he entered the army on April 5, 1943, at Fort Benning, Ga., and commenced an unbelievable military sojourn.

Sgt. Luse should have been maimed and dead many times over before a jeep overturned at night on a mountainous road in Germany during war games about the time of the Kennedy assassination in 1963. He died - belatedly - the night following the jeep wreck. And this is his uncanny story.

Shortly after entering service young Luse was assigned to the 506th Parachute Infantry regiment, 101st Airborne division, where he served during World War II. He made the famed nighttime jump on the eve of the Normandy invasion to help knock out the German coastal defenses. He was uninjured.

In September 1944, Sgt. Luse was in the midst of the Allied airborne assault on Rhine bridges at Arnheim and Nijmegen. He was captured by the Germans, but escaped from a POW camp nine days later by befriending a Polish guard who joined him in the escape. Sgt. Luse found his way back to U.S. lines in Holland.

In the bloody 'Bridge Too Far' involvement Sgt. Luse crossed the Rhine River in a rubber boat to direct artillery fire which destroyed about 35 German tanks.

While fighting in Holland, his company was destined to stand off and wipe out an attacking German regiment. Following the war he recalled the incident to his brother-in-law Jack Pepper, engineer with the Mississippi Bureau of Natural Resources, water division.

He tearfully described the misguided German attack during which they blindly continued their charge until they were wiped out.

The next major battle involving the legendary soldier was at Bastogne where he lobbed hand grenades into German tanks until he suffered a bayonet wound and frost-bitten feet.

Physicians at the field hospital decided to amputate his feet, but Sgt. Luse was nowhere around when it became time for the operation, and Luse hiked back to his unit and the exercise apparently restored circulation to his feet and saved them.

After World War II he used those same nimble feet to try out for the Little Olympics at Nurnberg, Germany, and he ran the 100 yard dash in 9.5 seconds while attired in army fatigues and GI shoes. General Maxwell Taylor gave him the nickname "Jackrabbit."

Back in the States in 1947 fate came dramatically his way again. During a parachute jump both of his parachutes failed to open. He plunged 1,200 feet into a shallow creek, embedding himself in mud.

He survived but was put in a full-length cast for six months. But he emerged from the hospital for more duty.

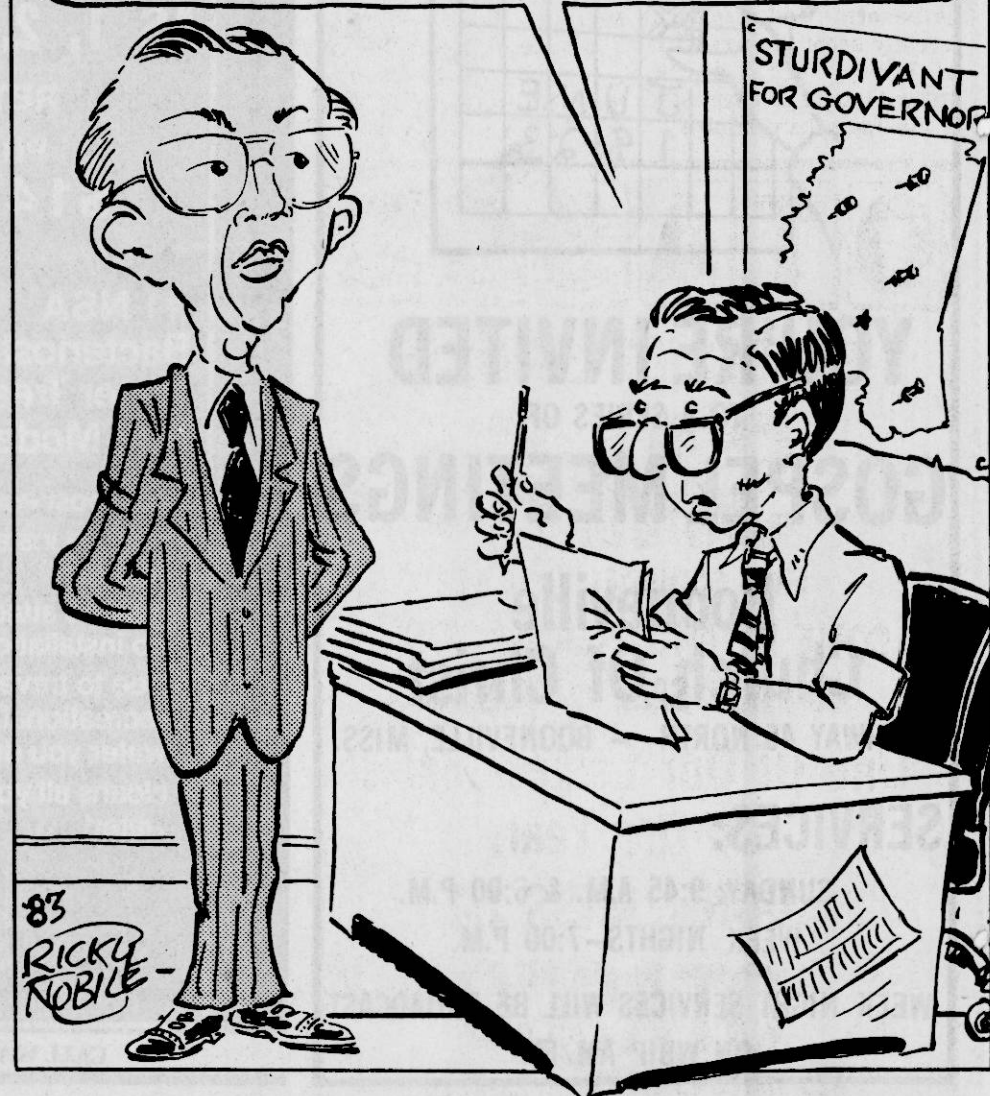

Also at Ft. Benning, Sgt. Luse fell from a catwalk at the top of the 250-foot high parachute jump tower. He fell 30 or 40 feet before grabbing a supporting crossbar which stopped the fall. Again, the Vaughn native survived.

General James V. Edmonson, commander of the 17th U.S. Air Force, said, "I've never known a soldier with so many outstanding qualities as Sgt. Luse." The general escorted the sergeant's widow and two children at his funeral as German paratroopers presented Mrs. Luse with a plaque commemorating their esteem for the late sergeant.

During the Korean War Sgt. Luse went back in service with the Army, and was standing in formation during an inspection by General Maxwell Taylor. The general recognized Luse's face and ordered him to report to him later. He made Sgt. Luse a member of his staff.

Today, Sgt. John Luse's widow and two children still reside in the vicinity of Fort Benning where Mrs. Luse works for the base post office. Son John Jr. lives in nearby Columbus, Ga., where he works and is raising his family. Daughter Cindy today has a growing family and lives close to her mother.

For Her 'Grandchildren'

Good Food... And A Big Smile

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

There is a saying at New Site High School, "If you want a big smile, run to the lunchroom."

That's because lunchroom manager Beatrice Isbell Holley and the lunchroom staff always have plenty of smiles for students and teachers, not to mention plenty of good food!

Mrs. Holley has worked at the New Site lunchroom for 19 years. This has been the first year she has not had a grandchild attending school there, so she claims the New Site student body as "grandchildren."

Mrs. Holley and her husband, Voyd, who live in New Site, celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary June 3. Their two children, Johnny Holley and Joyce Johnson, also live in New Site. They have five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Holley is past matron of the Booneville Eastern Star. The Holley's attend Little Brown Free Will Baptist Church. The ladies at her church are currently compiling a recipe booklet which will include their favorite recipes.

Her hobbies are growing flowers, especially potted plants, and crocheting. She also uses a daisy hand loom to create beautiful pillows and tablecloths.

However, cooking remains her number one hobby. "I love to cook," Mrs. Holley says. "It's been my life."

Some of the recipes people frequently ask her for include recipes for yeast rolls, chocolate cake, sugar cookies, spaghetti and meat sauce and fried apple pies.

These are some of the same recipes which she used in the lunchroom at New Site.

Her recipe for spaghetti and meat sauce is the same one that's used when spaghetti suppers are held at the school.

Her recipe for sugar cookies is the "old timey sugar cookie recipe," she says. "The kids at school love these cookies. They had rather have these than bought cookies."

When making the chocolate cake, remember that cool whip is not spread on top of the cake - that's where the cherry pie filling goes. If cool whip is placed on top of the cake, the cherry pie filling will slide off.

Fried apple pies are always a hit. Mrs. Holley recently made a batch for the annual meal held during Decoration Day at Little CHOCOLATE CAKE WITH CHERRIES - Mrs. Beatrice Holley's recipe for chocolate cake has an added ingredient that makes this cake stand out from most other chocolate cakes - it's topped with cherry pie filling. The cake is frosted with Cool Whip.

Brown. Needless to say, there weren't any fried apple pies left over!

LONGNIE C. JOHNSON

He has a degree in Agricultural Education and a minor in Business from Mississippi State University. He is a past President of Ag Association at MSU. Johnson is also a lifelong Baptist.

Lonnie C. Johnson Is In Favor Of And Supports:

★ Strong free enterprise system

Our country and Mississippi has become great because people love the right to work and make a profit without government interference. I will oppose any attempts that threaten the free enterprise system.

★ A well planned and long range highway program

Our highways and transportation system must be improved to attract new industry. The farmers and the seafood industry must have dependable transportation. Having served on the Highway Committee in the Mississippi Legislature gives me the experience to implement the needed legislation.

★ Improved Vocational Education

The sciences, improved teacher qualifications, improved teachers compensation, better discipline and prayer in our public schools.

★ Strong Support for local government

Courthouses and city halls of Mississippi have done an outstanding job and I am a firm believer that local government is the BEST form of government we have. I will continue to fight for strong local government in Mississippi.

Lonnie C. Johnson doesn't mince his words with political double talk.

★ Against Any Tax Increases

I favor progress but only what we can afford to pay for!

★ New Constitution—No

Our present state constitution is fine and if it needs changing, we can do it by the amendment process!

★ Against Massive School Consolidation and a $500,000,000 kindergarten program
Vocational training, the sciences and improved teacher compensation pay are the top priorities in public education. I did not and will not support the forced closing of over 40 high schools that is contained in House Bill 4. Most of these schools are in Northeast Mississippi...

TO THE PEOPLE OF PRENTISS COUNTY

WALLACE DAVIS

I would like to announce my candidacy for Sheriff of Prentiss County. I am fifty-four years old, am married to the former Martha Franks of Frankstown. We have three children and seven grandchildren. I am the son of Mrs. Winnie Smith Davis and the late Ray Davis of Baldwin.

I have been an active member of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol for the past nineteen years as a trooper, serving seventeen of those years in Prentiss County. I am a member of the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Association and the Mississippi and Tennessee Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association. I have extensive training in all phases of Law Enforcement. I have attended, completed, and received certificates in all courses that are required by law for Sheriff's and Peace Officers.

If elected your Sheriff, I will work with all law officers, City and County, State and Federal Officials in order to reduce crime in our County. There is a need to work with students, parents and teachers in our school systems to establish programs on drugs and drug abuse. Community organizations such as Neighborhood Watch Programs will help to prevent theft in our County.

It is my belief that the law should be respected and upheld by each of us as citizens, just as each of us should be treated with courtesy and respect. If you want a full-time, working Sheriff that is honest, hardworking, dependable, and qualified, vote for Wallace Davis on August 2nd.

Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

A special apology to all my readers about last week. I did write my column but I just didn't find the opportunity to take it to the Banner.

Hazel Hooper is a patient at Baptist Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Christine Tye is also a patient at Baptist Memorial Hospital. Remember her and her son, Edward Tyes, and Hazel in your prayers.

A special happy birthday wish is extended to Ashley T. Gaston from her parents, Howard and Stella.

Also special birthday wishes are extended to Mr. Minnie Hurd from Grady, Lorraine and all the Hurd girls.

I experienced a great illustration of real love being put into action this weekend.

A young mother visited our plant whose baby had been critically ill. A portion of the child's brain had been removed and the baby had lost two pounds during its lengthy stay in the hospital.

But the part that impressed me was the mother's positive attitude toward the child. The doctors had said that they had all they could do and it was left up to the mother, child and the Lord.

I personally believe that the mother's faith in the Lord along with her positive attitude and love toward the Lord has brought the child this far and is continually carrying it on. I believe that there is no hurt that love can't cure. I think that love helped keep this child alive.

The Return of the 12 Tribes of Israel will be June 18, at 7 p.m. at the East Side

The Good Samaritan Radio broadcast is aired every Sunday at 6 p.m. on WBIP-FM.

If you know anyone in need of clothing, contact Mrs. Ada Christian or Mrs. Elizabeth Chambers. Those wishing to donate money or food can contact the Good Samaritans. This organization helps anyone in need.

The Beckley Chapel family will host the 66th books of the Bible at 7 p.m. July 30.

Do pray for the sick and shut-ins, the lonely and those who feel unloved. God loves you just the way you are and he wants to make a difference in your life.

Happy birthday to Shirley Copeland.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

from the office of:
JOHN R. WHITE, O.D.

COLOR DEFICIENCY

Color deficiency is a vision or multi-colored wiring, for condition in which people have difficulty distinguishing colors. The term "color blind" is sometimes used but normally is not correct since only a small number of people cannot identify any colors.

The exact cause is not known but the condition is usually inherited. Color deficiency also can result from disease, injury or the natural aging process. In fact, it is an early symptom of an eye disease such as glaucoma.

Color vision is important in many daily tasks. Confusing colored traffic lights example, can be dangerous. Color vision also is important since color-coded learning materials are used extensively in the primary grades. If undetected, it may cause a child to be mistaken for a slow learner or a behavior problem.

Most color-deficient individuals are unaware of their deficiency. A thorough optometric examination is recommended for an accurate diagnosis of color deficiency.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRENTISS COUNTY

Bennie Eaton

Bennie Eaton, a candidate for Tax Assessor and Collector of Prentiss County, issues the following political announcement:

To the people who do not know me, I am 49 years old, a resident of the Lebanon Community, and have been a property owner in Prentiss County for 17 years. I attended Dry Creek and Pine Grove public schools and Northeast Junior College. While serving in the United States Army, I had many courses in leadership. I am a member of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church in the Geeville Community. My wife is the former Evelyn Palmer and we have five children. My present employment is with Dixie Oil Company of Meridian.

I enjoy people and my desire is to serve you, the people of Prentiss County, as Tax Assessor and Collector for the next four years. Being a former member of the Baldwin School Board has given me a greater insight of the tax problems of the county.

If elected, I promise that each person will be treated fairly and with respect when transacting business. I will be present for any tax problems you may have and will be glad to discuss them with you.

I want to meet as many of you as possible, but if in some way I cannot, I ask you to consider this as my request for your vote and support. Any consideration will be greatly appreciated.

DAIRY CALVES-Milk and dairy products do not just appear on the grocery shelves. They begin on the farm as dairy calves. The dairy farmer must continuously raise dairy heifers to maintain an adequate supply of fresh milk from his farm.

PASTURES-The farmer converts the forage that he grows into high quality feed for dairy animals. The dairy cows utilize this food in producing nature's most perfect food-milk.

FEED SUPPLY-Local feed industries such as Prichard Farm Supply, provide feed additives and supplements to get maximum milk production from their dairy cattle.

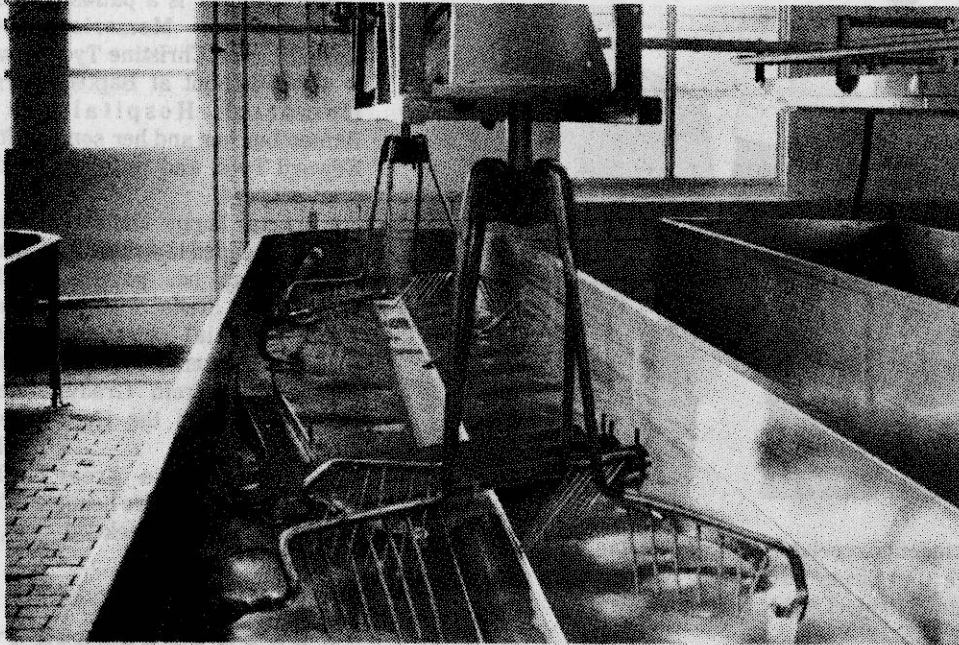

MILK PARLOR-Local dairymen utilize high efficiency, modern milking machines and dairy parlors to collect milk from their dairy herds.

MILK HAULERS-Kenneth Green and other milk haulers collect milk in tank trucks to be carried to the different milk and dairy processing plants.

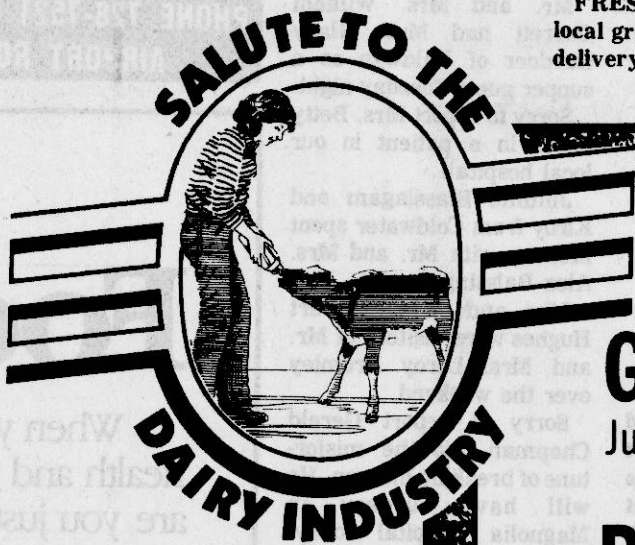

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

PROCESSING TANK-Milk is processed into useable dairy products as in this processing tank at McClendon Cheese.

FRESH MILK-After processing, milk and dairy products are distributed by truck to local grocery stores. Jim Arnold of Alexander Dairies prepares refrigerated truck for delivery.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am the son of Ena Oakley Elder and the late Roy Elder of Booneville. I am a native of Prentiss County, a Methodist and a Thirty-Second Degree Mason. I am 45 years of age, married with one daughter. I have approximately 13 years experience in law enforcement as a deputy sheriff, a Mississippi highway patrolman, special agent for Frisco Railroad, and inspector for Holiday Inns, Inc. I have eight years experience in the administrative field as an Inn Keeper for Holiday Inns, Inc. I am a graduate of Wheeler High School, Northeast Mississippi Junior College, Mississippi State University, Mississippi Highway Patrol Academy, and Finger Print Technology School with the FBI.

I would like to talk to you about what to me is the most important profession in the world, law enforcement. Without law enforcement we would have no need for teachers, preachers, merchants or professional people. Everything would revert to survival of the fittest. You, the people of Prentiss County, deserve the very best law enforcement available.

You, the people of Prentiss County, deserve the right to go to work without having to worry that your home will not be intact when you return; that your possessions that you worked long and hard for will still be there!

You, the people of Prentiss County, deserve the right to leave your car and expect it to be there when you return.

We, the people of Prentiss County, deserve the right to send our children to school without having to worry about the abundant availability of drugs and how easily our children could be introduced to them.

You, the people of Prentiss County, deserve the right to expect your sheriff to be there if you need him, no matter what time of the day or night it may be.

You, the people of Prentiss County, deserve the right to be able to reach and be able to talk to your sheriff and seek his advice and help at any time.

Ladies and Gentlemen of Prentiss County, I would like more than anything else in this world to be your sheriff. I realize it is impossible to stop every break-in, but I give you my word that I can slow them down to the point that a break-in in Prentiss County will be a rare thing.

I also realize that it is impossible to stop all drug traffic, but I give you my word that I can slow it down to the point that drugs will be extremely hard to find in Prentiss County.

My friends, I give you my word that anytime you call me, whether it be the middle of the day or 3 o'clock in the morning, I will be there as fast as is humanly possible; and I further pledge that everything that can be done will be done to protect you, your rights, and your property.

Ladies and Gentlemen, I promise you but one thing, the very best law enforcement possible; and if elected as your sheriff, I will ask but one thing, your help. Together we can make Prentiss County an extremely good place to live, and one heck of a good place to raise our children.

Summertime High-Risk Period For Motorists

Playing ball in the streets, darting from behind parked cars and riding bicycles, children across the country have begun their summer escape from the nation's schools, reminds the American Automobile Association.

"Unfortunately," says Bob Fry, director of public affairs for AAA Central Gulf, "the joy and excitement of summer vacation too often turns into tragedy. When our roads and streets are used as playgrounds, the unwary driver is exposed to sudden and, sometimes, fatal risks.

The end result is something we don't like to contemplate... something we will never erase from our minds if it occurs."

AAA calls on drivers to beware of the increased need for caution during this high risk period. This need is particularly acute when driving in the vicinity of playgrounds, recreational areas, in residential neighborhoods, at intersections where visibility is poor and when making turns at corners or on curves.

Fry notes certain time periods may also be more dangerous than others such as when you can expect children to be returning home for lunch or at dusk when vision is impaired.

Parents are also asked to encourage their children to be extra careful during the vacation months. Taking time now to warn youngsters of potential dangers in the area where they live could mean the difference between a carefree summer and days or weeks of recovery... or worse. AAA offers the following hints to help parents when counseling their children:

-- One of every four pedestrian fatalities is a youngster 15 years old or younger.

-- One of every two pedestrian injuries comes from the same age group.

-- Children from four to seven years old are the most likely to be involved in a pedestrian accident, with those aged five at greatest risk.

-- Boys are more accident prone than girls.

-- One out of three of such accidents are "dart-out" accidents, when the victim suddenly appears in the street at locations other than intersections.

-- Most occur on residential streets within a short distance of the home.

-- Traveling street vendors, such as small ice cream trucks, encourage boys and girls to run across streets.

-- One good method to instruct children is to point out safe and unsafe pedestrian habits while the youngsters are riding with you in your car.

-- If children will be walking to play areas or other locations, help them plan the safest route.

Parents who are members of organized groups such as churches or neighborhood associations can contact Fry to arrange for the loan of films and materials that will help build awareness of the problem.

Address inquiries to Bob Fry, American Automobile

Association, 3445 North Causeway Blvd., Metairie, LA 70002.

Davidson Heads MEC Membership Drive

A local business leader has been named to direct a special effort of the Mississippi Economic Council in this area.

The Council, the state's largest association of business and professional leadership, will be involved in a statewide effort to expand its membership over the next six weeks.

Howard Davidson of Booneville has been named to head the effort in Prentiss County.

John Lovorn, a Tupelo business executive, is chairman of the statewide program; and Charles Sewell, a Jackson bank executive, is general Chairman of the Council.

"The Council is celebrating its 35th year of service to Mississippi and to Mississippians," Sewell said. "We believe this is an appropriate time to invite other businesses and other business leaders to become involved in our work."

The Council, which has some 3,000 members statewide, is involved in efforts to improve the state economically, specializing in areas as education reform, taxation, labor relations, resource development, and free enterprise education.

"All Mississippians interested in the advancement of our state are invited to join us in this work," said

Sewell. Individuals and business firms interested in MEC membership may contact Davidson, or the MEC office in Jackson at telephone (601) 969-0022.

Timberline

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

Deciding whether now is the time to sell your timber is a tough decision.

Chances are if the sale is postponed, the value of your timber will increase. A pulpwood size timber stand might increase in value as much as five or six times if left to grow to sawtimber. And timber, like other real property, increases in value at a rate greater than inflation.

The question of whether a fair price has been offered can be answered by finding out what the timber is actually worth on the open market. This can be achieved through the competitive bidding process. With this process, market price is determined by what buyers are willing to pay.

You can assume the person who needs it most and can make the highest value-use from you timber will pay the highest price. The competitive bidding process involves preparing and distributing a bid notice, conducting the bid opening, finalizing a sales contract, and then, administering the sale during the harvest to see that all contract conditions are met.

The bid notice should include sale conditions, maps, timber inventory, bid reply form, and a copy of the sale agreement. Anything you do to reduce the prospective buyers expense or which gives a positive impression to your sale will be to your advantage.

For example, a timber inventory helps you to accept or reject bids. By including your inventory in the bid notice, you substantially reduce the buyer's expense and hopefully attract more buyers. Other things which might make your sale more attractive include: written easement for right-of-way access to public roads, sale volume equal to or greater than 3 cords or 1,000 board feet per acre; logging restrictions kept to a minimum, and allowance of at least 12 months for removing the timber.

A request for sealed bids to be opened at a specific time, date, and place is another important aspect of the competitive bidding process. With this method, competitive bidding works to your advantage. The actual bids determine the value of your timber and no one will know exactly what that price is until the day you open the bids.

For assistance in preparing and distributing the bid notice, and establishing the sale conditions, contact your local county forester with the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

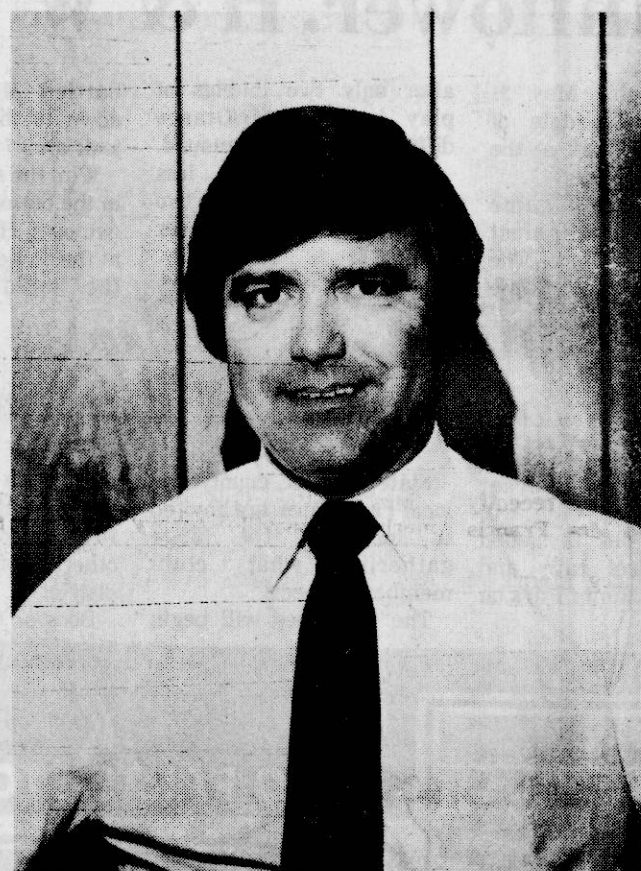

Don't forget, the final issue on "Selling Timber" in next weeks' "Timberline."

MIKE CHASE ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR DISTRICT 3 STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Mike Chase has formally announced that he is a candidate for State Representative, District 3.

Mike is a native of Prentiss County. He and his wife, the former Cathy Whitley, are members of Martin Hill Free Will Baptist Church.

He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Mississippi and is presently completing a master's degree in government. In 1980 he worked as a research assistant in the Institute of Government at the University of Virginia. For the past three years Mike has been a teacher at New Site High School.

In announcing his candidacy, Mike states, "I believe that my views on government and the political issues of the day correspond with those of the citizens of this district. I am alarmed at recent actions taking power from the people and I am committed to reversing this erosion of democracy and increasing the voice of the citizen in his government."

Paid Political Announcement

Being given an endorsement term as Chancery Clerk is the greatest honor that I have ever received. Your faith and confidence in me will always be appreciated and remembered. My staff and I will continue to work to make the Chancery Clerk's office not only a place of service, but also a source of pride for Prentiss County.

Only by working together can citizens and elected officials be assured that our county will continue to take great steps forward to make Prentiss County a great place to live and work.

Thank you again for your support.

Sincerely,

Phillip Cole

Sunflower, H & W Win Openers

Tuesday night, May 31 was the opening date of Junior Girls Softball at the West Side city park. The opening game featured Otasco against Sunflower Food Store. The game was called for time after only two innings of play because of Otasco difficulties on the mound. Otasco pitched no less than five pitchers in the two inning game that Sunflower won, 26-6. On Thursday night Rotary battled H&W Industries down to the wire as H&W took an 8-7 win. With the score tied at 7-all in the bottom of the last and two outs, H&W had runners at the corners. A base hit up the middle scored the winning run for coach Caryn Manley's team. The second week of action will be played tonight at the park with Sunflower facing H&W at 6 and Rotary taking on Otasco at 7:30 in the nightcap.

In Season Opener

Brown Shoe Suffers First Loss Since 1981

By CLIFF LONG
Sports Writer

Recent evidence shows that summer is officially in full swing as parking places and seats are hard to find on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays at the city park.

Familiar sounds include splashing at the swimming pool, laughing at the playground, and most evident, the cracking of a bat on one of the three baseball fields.

Week one of both T-ball and Little League action has been completed and now the coaches are back on the drawing boards trying to get the kinks out.

In the T-ball ranks each of the six teams had played one game each before Tuesday night.

On Tuesday night, May 31, the Civitans beat New Orleans Fried Chicken, while Marietta defeated Bank of Miss.

The Jaycees defeated the Rotary Club in the battle of the clubs in the only Thursday night game.

On Tuesday night New Orleans defeated Bank of Miss., 25-19, while Marietta kept the winning going by beating the Jaycees.

The Little Leaguers began on the 31st also as Brown Shoe took on Cox's Best Way and Peoples Bank met Kentucky Fried Chicken.

Brown Shoe lost their first game since 1981 in a loss to Cox's, while People's Bank gave the Colonel more than he could handle.

On Thursday night Sonic Drive-In beat the new team on the block, Bingham Systems.

Bingham should come on strong later though with the competent coaching of Wally Davis, Rod Coggins, Michael Blalock, and Jody Presley of Booneville baseball fame.

In the nightcap Pizza Inn lost to Kentucky Fried Chicken and proved that Scott McKinney wouldn't face another 15-game losing streak as was the case last year.

Little League games which were scheduled for Monday night, June 6, will be made up tomorrow night Friday, June 10, when Brown Shoe plays Bingham at 6:30, followed by Peoples Bank vs. Sonic at 7:30.

So far each game has been competitive and action packed with each team showing enthusiasm and sportsmanship. Chances are, life at the city park will be exciting this year if the behavior stays the same.

After First Week

Gaston, Independent Lead Church League

Booneville's men's church softball league for 1983 got underway May 24 with four games played.

In the first game of the night, Gaston Baptist Church beat Calvary Baptist Church, 13-3.

In the second game, East Booneville Baptist Church played the Booneville Church of God. The final score was 16-6 in favor of the Church of God.

The third game saw the Mormons play First Methodist, with the Mormons winning 17-7.

In the nightcap, County Line Church played the Independent Christians in a fairly close game. The final score was 7-2 in favor of the Independents.

TUESDAY, MAY 31

In the first game of the evening on May 31, Gaston played East Booneville Baptist. Gaston opened an early lead by pounding out 15 runs in the first inning. They went on to win the game with a final score of 25-2.

In the second game, East

Prentiss was matched against the Mormons. After the dust settled at the end of seven innings of play, the East Prentiss men came out on top with a score of 13-12.

In the third game, two power teams, the Independent Christians and Concord Baptist, came face to face in an early showdown. As the showdown began to slow down in the final innings of play, the Independents never looked back as they took the 9-3 victory.

In the final game of the evening, County Line Baptist took on Christ United Methodist. The first inning proved to be the deciding factor as Christ United Methodist defeated County Line 17-6.

THURSDAY, JUNE 2

The first game last Thursday matched First Baptist against Tuscumbia Baptist. For Tuscumbia, the second inning proved to be the edge that was needed as they went on to defeat First Baptist 14-10.

The second game matched

Crestwood Baptist and First Methodist. The game was close throughout the match-up, but when the bats stopped swinging and the softballs were bagged up, the score was First Methodist on top 8-6.

In the nightcap, the Church of God took on Calvary Baptist. In this game, the teams battled to a 4-4 tie in the fifth inning. At that point, Church of God's men scored three runs and took a 7-4 lead.

But the men from Calvary battled back in the last inning and, as the aluminum sounded and the runs added up, the final score was 11-9 in favor of Calvary.

MONDAY, JUNE 6

All of Monday's games were canceled due to rain. They have been rescheduled as follows:

At 6 p.m. today, East

Booneville will play East Prentiss prior to the first regularly scheduled game, set for 7:15. After the final regular game of the night, the Independent Christians will play Christ Methodist at 9:30.

On Tuesday, June 14, Christ Methodist will play

Tuscumbia at 6 p.m.

Next Thursday, East Prentiss will take on Crestwood at 6 p.m.

On Tuesday, June 21, Concord will play First Baptist at 6 and on Thursday, June 23, Concord will play Tuscumbia.

Cards Of Thanks

I would like to thank everyone, family, friends and neighbors, that befriended my brother, Grady Pardue, during his lifetime and at his death. Being completely deaf all his adult life was a cross not all of us are asked to bear. I thank all for their prayers, visits, flowers and words of comfort at his death.

Ross Named Campaign Head

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Agriculture and Commerce Commissioner Jim Buck Ross has been named by Governor William Winter to head up a special educational campaign aimed at increasing farmer and general public awareness concerning the State's severe soil erosion problems and to promote better management of Mississippi's natural resources.

The intensive statewide educational effort, to be known as the Hold Our Topsoil ("H.O.T.") campaign was officially launched with a press conference held today (Friday, June 3) at the Robert Mashburn farm near Bolton, one of several adjacent sites selected for a massive public conservation field day and demonstration scheduled in October. Among those on hand were members of the "H.O.T." committee, including T.M. Barron, State Executive Director of the Mississippi Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and other USDA agency heads in the State.

Commissioner Ross told print media, radio-television reporters and others gathered at the demonstration site that the Magnolia State was currently ranked third in the Nation behind only the States of Tennessee and Missouri in terms of topsoil losses from cropland each year.

"The shocking fact is that 120 million tons of our priceless Mississippi topsoil is washing away and clogging our streams and lakes with sediment each year!" Ross emphasized. He told reporters that the average annual topsoil loss per acre was 10.6 tons, with highest erosion losses amounting to about 30 tons per acre from brown loam and prairie soil areas in a 50-county band from Northeast to Southwest Mississippi.

Two-thirds of our topsoil is already gone from many of the most eroded fields that have been cropped continuously," Ross explained. "We've simply got to get serious about this problem and get busy with doing something about it on a farm-by-farm, individual-by-individual basis," he said.

Here in Prentiss County one of the chief areas of concern this year is getting conservation practices established on land diverted from production on the Acreage Reduction Program and Payment-in-Kind Program. Jerry Floyd, Chairman of the Prentiss County ASC Committee, said that 3700 acres of cropland in Prentiss County is idled this year under these programs. This represents about five percent of the entire cropland in the County.

He said that personnel in all USDA agencies and other leaders are actively encouraging every participating farmer to establish this land in a protective cover. He advised that framers contact the County ASCS Office, the Soil Conservation Service, or the County Agent for recommended practices.

CCC LOAN INTEREST RATE LOWERED TO 8-3/4 PERCENT

Commodity and farm storage loans disbursed in June by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation will carry a 8-3/4 percent interest rate.

The new rate, down from 9-1/4 percent, reflects the interest rate charged CCC by the U.S. Treasury in June.

USDA EXTENDS OFFER PERIOD FOR THE 1982-CROP UPLAND COTTON TWO MORE WEEKS

The U.S. Department of Agriculture today extended by two weeks - until June 16 - the period during which farmers may offer their upland cotton to the government for use in the payment-in-kind program.

The offer period was to expire June 6.

The cotton originally had been pledged as collateral for USDA Commodity Credit Corporation price support loans. The portion of the offered quantity retained by the farmers for compensation will be free and clear of the loan principal, interest and all warehouse charges, except compression charges, through the date title passes to the farmer.

According to CCC Vice President Hoke Leggett, normal spring planting activities, combined in some areas with uncertain weather conditions, have reduced farmers' opportunities to study their options under the bid offer. Also, Leggett said, "there appears to be a misunderstanding by many farmers regarding how bidding works, their possible levels of compensation and other technical aspects of the offer."

"We want to give framers who have 1982-crop upland cotton under loan every opportunity to offer their cotton to CCC," Leggett said. "We want to avoid requiring farmers to obtain CCC loans on their 1983 crop for PIK purposes, if possible."

No other provisions of the original offer announcement are being amended, Leggett said.

Great Opportunity To Improve Soil

From The
U.S. Department
Of Agriculture
Soil Conservation Service
Booneville Field Office

Farmers have an unparalleled opportunity this year to improve their soil and water conservation systems, says Peter Myers, Chief of the USDA's Soil Conservation Service.

Under the Payment-in-Kind (PIK) program and other acreage limitation programs, farmers in Prentiss County are taking 11,656 acres out of production. One-fifth of the nation's cropland is pledged to the program and now farmers can put a great deal of soil and water conservation on the ground.

Some of the erosive and less productive acreage will be taken out of annual crop use and planted to grasses and legumes as cover crops. This has the potential for saving soil and water resources as well as building up natural fertility.

Myers said this is also a good time for planning ways to fit no-till or other conservation tillage methods into the farm operation.

On more erosive acres, permanent conservation practices such as terraces, grassed waterways, windbreaks and other enduring practices can be installed without interrupting cash crop production.

On the most erosive or other marginal land, farmers are encouraged to discontinue use of those acres for crop production. Those acres may be best suited for permanent grasses, trees, or wildlife habitat.

The 1983 programs offer farmers a rare opportunity to balance their short-term cash needs with their longer conservation and productivity goals said Myers.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Of Dots And Doughnut Holes

Bless The Lord, O My Soul, And Forget Not All His Benefits. Psalms 103:2

Adapted From Our Daily Bread By By Richard W DeHaan

As a minister was addressing a group of men, he took a large piece of paper and made a black dot in the center of it with a marking pen. Then he held the paper up before the group and asked them what they saw. One person quickly replied, "I see a black mark." "Right," the preacher replied. "What else do you see?" Complete silence prevailed. "Don't you see anything other than the dot?" he asked. A chorus of noes came from the audience. "I'm really surprised," the speaker commented. "You have completely overlooked the most important thing of all - the sheet of paper." Then he made the application. He said that in life we are often distracted by small, dot-like disappointments or painful experiences, and we are prone to forget the innumerable blessings we receive from the hand of the Lord. But like the sheet of paper, the good things are far more important than the adversities that monopolize our attention.

This reminds me of a bit of verse which, though I admit is somewhat trite, does express good practical advice. Someone has written: "As you travel down life's pathway, may this ever be your goal: - Keep your eye upon the doughnut, and not upon the hole!"

Yes, rather than concentrating on the trials of life, we should fix our attention upon its blessings. Let us say with the psalmist, "Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits" (Psalm 68:19).

If we keep praising Him, we won't be distracted by dots and doughnut holes.
