Local Teacher Named To State Board

Prentiss County educator Laura Cartwright is one of four teachers in the state to have been appointed by Gov. William Winter to the newly created State Commission on Teacher and Administrator Education, Certification and Development.

Mrs. Cartwright teaches in the Vocational Business Education Department at the Prentiss County Vo-Tech School. She, along with 14 other appointees, will serve from July 1, 1983, through Sept. 1, 1984.

To take effect July 1, the commission will make recommendations to the State Board of Education regarding public teacher education and certification programs.

In addition to the four classroom teachers, the commission is composed of three members from each congressional district, three school administrators, one senior college representative, one junior college representative, one school board member from the local level, and five lay persons.

Lisso Simmons of Delta State University is the senior college representative on the commission and will serve as chairman. The other three classroom teachers on the board will be Mary E. Gates of Carthage, Gail Criss of Picayune and Troy Anna Ratliff of Hattiesburg.

Saturday Is Last Day To Register

Prospective voters who will be 18 on or before the general election on Nov. 8, can register to vote until noon on Saturday, July 2, to be eligible to vote in the August primaries.

Prospective voters may register to vote in the circuit clerk's office in the Prentiss County Courthouse.

Times Change On Remaining Rallies

The four remaining county district speakings will begin at 4:30 p.m. instead of the originally scheduled 1 p.m.

The Prentiss County Democratic Executive Committee decided to change the time of the speakings because of the extremely hot weather.

The second candidate speaking of the summer will be held Saturday, July 2, at 4:30 p.m. at Jumpertown City Park.

The candidates for constable are scheduled to speak first. Candidates for sheriff will speak last.

The first candidate speaking was held last Saturday at Thrasher School. It began at 1 p.m. and concluded around 4 p.m.

The county-wide rally held at the Booneville City Park will begin at 1 p.m. on July 30.

Rep. McCoy Named To Committee

William J. (Billy) McCoy, State Representative from Prentiss and Alcorn counties, has been appointed by House Speaker C.B. "Buddy" Newman to serve on the House Appropriations Committee.

The announcement was made last week from Newman's Jackson office.

"Rep. McCoy is a solid responsible member of the house and will perform outstanding service as a member of the important committee," Newman said.

Home Economist Selected For County

Patty Robinson has been named as Prentiss County's new home economist.

Mrs. Robinson, 36, a native of Lafayette County, will assume duties as home economist tomorrow.

Prior to coming to Prentiss County, Mrs. Robinson served as 4H Youth Agent in Union County for 12 years.

She and her husband, Larry, are the parents of two sons, Luke, 4 years old, and Matthew, 13 months old. Her husband is employed with Champion Building products in Oxford. They are members of Oxford University Methodist Church.

Mrs. Robinson is a graduate of Oxford High School and received her B.S. degree in home economics from the University of Mississippi in 1969.

"We are really excited about coming to Prentiss County," Mrs. Robinson said. "We are looking forward to getting involved in the community."

The position of home economist in Prentiss County has been vacant for a year since Claire T. Ross, Prentiss County's home economist for 19 years, retired last June.

Keeping Cool

Positions out of the sun -- under the shade trees or under the school awning -- were at a premium Saturday afternoon at Thrasher School when political hopefuls gathered for the county's first political speaking this summer. The Thrasher speaking began at 1 p.m. and lasted until 4. However, due to the heat, the remaining county speakings have been rescheduled for later in the afternoon when members of the local Democratic Executive Committee hope it will be cooler. Three speaking events of local interest will be held this weekend. A speaking will begin at Jumpertown City Park Saturday. Two other speakings will be held Monday, July 4, one at Jacinto and the other at Baldwin.

Legal Changes Complicate Election

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

This year's election is causing some problems not encountered in past elections.

Thanks to changes in the laws since four years ago, the county is having to print a number of special ballots -- some with certain offices and some without.

Four years ago all Prentiss County residents could vote in the election of the county superintendent of education. This year, because of a new law, those people who live within the boundaries of a separate school district cannot vote in the county superintendent's race.

This excludes those who live inside the Booneville and the Baldwin city limits.

Amended during the 1980 legislative session, section 37-5-71 of the Mississippi Code prohibits residents of a separate school district in Prentiss County from voting in the election of the county superintendent. That law took effect July 1, 1980.

Because of this, Circuit Clerk Travis Cox says there will be some ballots at each precinct including the superintendent of education and some not.

He said that, in those precincts which include the separate school districts of Booneville and Baldwin, voters will have to sign two books before they vote.

"This is the only way we can keep count of the ballots," he said.

Another change this year involves the election of Prentiss County's Justice Court Judges. Four years ago Prentiss Countians elected five -- one for each of the supervisors' districts.

This year, because of another new law, Prentiss County will elect only two Justice Court Judges -- one from the northern section of the county and another from

Eight Plead Guilty In Prentiss County Circuit Court

Eight men pleaded guilty to criminal charges this week during the June term of Prentiss County Circuit Court, according to assistant DA Richard Bowen.

Harold E. Green, 40, of Route 2, Tishomingo, pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny. This charge was in connection with a break-in at Candler's Chapel Church in Sept. 1982.

Steve Parker, 17, of Route

7, Booneville, pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny of a dwelling. The charge was in connection with a break-in at Opal Deaton Ford's home. Parker had been certified to stand trial as an adult.

Anthony Shinault, 22, of Route 1, Booneville, pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny of a vehicle. This charge stemmed from the theft of two guns from Danny Childer's pickup truck last November.

Benjamin King and Jerry King, both of Booneville, pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny. This charge was in connection with a break-in at the Thomas T.

Patton residence in May 1982.

4th of July Everyone Is Welcome At Local Community Parade

It began modestly nine years ago as a neighborhood Independence Day celebration. But over the years it has become a tradition involving almost the entire community.

And this year should be no different. Booneville's annual neighborhood Fourth of July parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Monday, come rain or shine.

Since the Fourth was on Sunday, last year's parade was held a day early, on Saturday, July 3. Parade organizers, Mr. and Mrs. Will George, felt many people would prefer to spend Sunday with their families, so the celebration was held early.

But this year, the parade moves back to its traditional time, July 4th.

The parade was first held nine years ago when the Georges' daughters, Cindy and Kristy, and two of their neighborhood friends, Claire Lamb and Lori Bolen, suddenly realized Booneville had no Fourth of July parade. They decided to organize their own.

The first one was low key, with just a handful of neighbors waving flags and marching through the streets of the neighborhood. But, the idea inspired others to join in the following year, and each year more and more people came. During the past two or three years approximately 100 people -- young, old and in-between -- have participated.

The parade route gradually expanded until about three years ago when marchers decided some of the younger or older participants might not be able to complete the parade comfortably if the route was any longer.

This year's parade will follow the same path it has for the last three years. Participants will line up in front of the George home on Seventh Street. Once underway they will go south on Seventh, turn west

READY FOR PARADE -- Retired teacher Sallie Kate Chase (left) was named as the neighborhood parade's first grand marshal last year. She will be on hand again this year, as will Kristy George (back) and Barkley Galloway (front) and two new participants, Barkley's new twin brothers James Andrew and William Brett. Barkley and his brothers are the sons of Bob and Camille Galloway.

COMPUTER TRAINING - Participating in a computer literacy course last week at the Prentiss County Vo-Tech school are (l-r) Lynn Corbin, Tammy Ryan, Jo Anne Potts, Carolyn Cartwright, Martha Grimes, Charlotte Deaton and Jane Allen.

Vo-Tech Offering Computer Course To All Area Teachers

In an effort to make all teachers - both elementary and secondary - computer literate, the Prentiss County Vo-Tech School this summer has made three courses in microcomputer literacy available to all teachers in the Booneville and Prentiss County school systems.

According to instructor Laura Cartwright, the class was made available to the teachers as a result of the tremendous support of local business and professional people to purchase microcomputers to be used in training in-school students, teachers and other interested individuals.

"It is believed that everyone should have the opportunity to be a part of the high technology training that is becoming increasingly necessary in today's society," Mrs. Cartwright said.

The Vo-Tech's 11 microcomputers and four printers are housed in the Vocational Business Education Department. The first microcomputer and printer was purchased through the State Department of Education, Vocational Division. Since that time, the state has matched each computer the Vo-Tech has purchased through local contributions.

According to Mrs. Cartwright, the teachers who participated in the training are now computer literate.

"They are able to do simple programming, including setting up the program and editing material," she said. "They understand that the five pound microcomputer is a word processor like unto an electronic typewriter, that it can be an electronic filing system, and that it can do general accounting."

"They further found that sitting down to the microcomputer can just be fun," she added. "Teachers can enjoy a bowling game and a session with 'Eliza,' the computer psychoanalyst who calmed their nerves at the end of the class."

Tammy Rayan, a Math teacher at New Site High School, summed up the class when she said, "After this week, I'm really ready to teach my Math students with the microcomputer new year at New Site High School."

PAGEANT HOPEFUL - Sharon Gifford, Miss Prentiss County, will compete in the Miss Mississippi Pageant July 13-16 in Vicksburg. The winner of that pageant will represent the state in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J. Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gifford of Thrasher.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I have done some bad things in my life, which I won't mention at this time, but I am wondering about repentance. I am sorry for the things I have done but am unsure as to whether I have really repented-could you help?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: It is true that some people do not understand repentance. The word "repent" come from the Greek word metanoeo, and is a combination of two words: meta, after, implying change and meno, to preveire; or nous, the mind, the seat of moral reflections. Therefore, in the New Testament it always means a change of mind followed by a reformed life. If one changed his mind but refused to change his conduct this would not be repentance. Joseph Henry Thayer says in his lexicon on page 405 that repentance is to "Change one's mind for the better, hartily to amend with abhorrence of one's past sins." We are taught in 2 Pet. 3:9 that "God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." Paul said in Acts 17:30 "And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent." As to whether or not you have really repented you will have to decide. However, God knows and will hold you accountable.

City Plans To Apply For Jobs Block Grant

Booneville officials are considering applying to the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs for a Small Cities' Community Development Jobs Bill Block Grant.

A public hearing concerning the application will be held at 4 p.m. July 7 at the Booneville City Hall.

Mississippi has been allocated approximately $7 million that will be made available to cities and counties on a competitive basis to be used for eligible community development activities.

Under the guidelines, these funds must be used for one of three purposes: to benefit low and moderate income persons, to aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight, or to meet other community development needs having a particular urgency because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health or welfare of the community where other financial resources are not available to meet such needs.

Additionally, these funds must be used as rapidly as possible so as to quickly assist the unemployed and needy.

As much as possible, the funds are to be used in areas where unemployment is highest and has been high for the longest period of time.

They are also to be used for authorized purposes which have the greatest immediate employment impact and in a manner which creates the most employment opportunities for those who were unemployed at least 15 of the 26 weeks before March 24.

These funds may be used in the areas of public facilities and services and economic development.

More specific details of the grant application and requirements will be available at a public hearing at 4 p.m. at the Booneville City Hall July 7. The purpose of that hearing will be to obtain citizen input into the development of the application.

BARDIE AT WORK - It's a familiar site for most residents of Marietta to see 90 year old Bardie Moore hoeing in his half acre garden located across the road from the town hall and post office. (Photos By Angela Smith)

At 90, Hard Work Is Still A Way Of Life

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

HIS HALF acre garden is located in the heart of downtown Marietta across the road from the town hall and post office.

When 90-year-old Bardie Moore is hoeing his garden, friends and strangers alike stop to speak to him.

He's always hearing a steady stream of comments from passersby such as "Be careful - don't get too hot Bardie." Or, "you're gonna work those vegetables to death." But perhaps one of the most common remarks is "That's the prettiest garden I've ever seen."

Bardie Moore works hard. But then he always has. "He's proof that hard work won't kill you," says his daughter, Euella Farrar, with whom he lives.

He has been a farmer and sawmill operator most all his life in addition to raising dairy and beef cattle. He also served two terms as 4th district supervisor in Prentiss County in 1936-40 and 1945-48.

He was born in Tishomingo County but has lived most of his life in

BARDIE MOORE

Prentiss County. Moore attended Red Bud School in Tishomingo County and Caviness School in Prentiss County.

"SCHOOLS ARE a lot different now," he muses. "Then we only had one-teacher schools."

"I was lucky," Moore continued. "I never stayed in or got a whipping at school. I knew if I got a whipping at school I'd get one at home."

Moore and his first wife, Emma Pounds, were married for 53 years. They had six children, Hubert, Paul, Stanley, Gay Adams, and Euella Farrar, and the late Floyd Moore. Moore's second wife, Louise Doyle, died four years ago. He has 11 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Moore had a heart attack in 1979. His family told him he might as well forget about his garden. But his doctor had other advice for him. "My doctor told me to do anything I wanted to. So I came back and went to work in my garden," Moore said, with a wide grin.

HIS GARDEN is a source of pride for him. He takes much pleasure from growing cabbage, onions, tomatoes, string beans, corn, okra, watermelons, cantaloupes, potatoes, peas, butterbeans, peanuts,

Talk 'O The Town

QUESTION: Do you think the phone company is justified in increasing local rates?

E.B. McCOY of Route 1, Booneville: "No, I don't. It seems to me like everything is high enough now. All the phone bills are up what they're worth."

FRANCES ADAMS of 401 N. Smith St., Booneville: "No, certainly not. It's already too high. The rates have about doubled recently and it's outrageous to have another increase. If the rates keep increasing I'm going to have our phone taken out."

MILDRED HOPKINS of Baldwyn: "I don't think it's fair on the older people who have fixed incomes. It's looks unfair on everybody else, too. I think the rates are high now. I can see having an increase but not doubling the rates."

REV. PAUL DANIEL of Route 2, Booneville: "I think the rates are too high to start with considering the service. The phone company is caught in the middle because deregulation will cause them to raise the rates. The blame for the increase should go to the federal government not the phone company."

MYRTIE SARTIN of Marietta: "Not really because we are already paying enough. People will have their phones pulled if they keep going up on the rates."

LINDA NEWCOMB of Route 6, Booneville: "No, I don't. I think the rates are high enough. Everything is going up and our salaries are staying the same. We've already talked about it and if the rates keep going up we may have our phone taken out. A rate increase would really be bad on the older people who are on a fixed income."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

The first official candidate speaking has come and gone.

The sweltering weather combined with a lack of shade trees in front of Thrasher School made for some uncomfortable sitting and standing during the hours of 1-4 p.m. last Saturday.

Two of the most appreciated candidates appeared to be those who provided fans for those in the crowd.

Usually there is a big turn out for the first candidate speaking. But last Saturday there were probably only around 250 people and that was at the height of the speaking.

I arrived at 1 and stayed until 4. I sat underneath a pine tree as did many other people. I didn't move from my lawn chair the entire time.

At first there were so many people in front of me I couldn't see the speakers when they made their speeches. But as the afternoon wore on and the people wore out and left, I had a front row seat.

Although I was there for most of the entire speaking, I met very few candidates. The only way I would have met most of the candidates would have been if I walked over to them and introduced myself. Since I was not running for office, I did not do that.

I know some candidates don't want to make the mistake of giving people cards over and over again. But if I were a candidate, it's a chance I would take in case I missed someone.

Some people at the speaking reasoned that the candidates didn't politic a lot in the crowd because it was so hot.

But it looks like if there were some people willing to get out in the hot summer sun to listen to their speeches, the candidates could at least come by and speak to them.

I saw two candidates who really politicked over the entire crowd. Considering the small number present, it would have been an obtainable goal to speak personally with most everyone.

With 16 candidates for sheriff present (Edge was in the hospital, we were told) it would seem logical that I would have talked to all 16. But there were only six candidates for sheriff who asked for my consideration of their qualifications on August 2.

On Monday three candidates inquired why I wasn't at the speaking.

In previous columns I have mentioned the possibility of throwing rotten eggs and vegetables at the candidates.

At the speaking last Saturday it wouldn't have surprised me if the candidates hadn't thrown rotten eggs at the audience.

People talked constantly during the speeches. The lack of enthusiasm the audience showed was surprising. There were from 3-10 people who applauded each candidate following his speech. I believe I could have hissed and booed each candidate and no one have noticed.

I have heard less talk about the upcoming election than any election I can remember. It seems as if people simply don't care who is elected. I hope they wake up before it's too late. After all, these are people we will have to deal with during the next four years.

Since the time of the candidate speakings in each district has been changed from 1 p.m. to 4:30, perhaps the candidates and the audience will be more lively. If not, I don't think anyone is going to be elected.

Quality Education Is The Backbone Of Society

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - You can't go home again, they say. Don't Believe it. I just did, and it was a great inspirational experience.

The other night, my 1939 graduating class of Bogalusa High School, held a reunion back in the old home town in Southeast Louisiana, and I went, not really knowing how it would come off.

It was a delicious slice of Americana, made tastier by sharing the occasion with those who had been my colleagues at a critical time in my life, in all of our lives. This was an unusual group of people, as I always suspected.

The Class of '39, as you can well imagine, carried the scars of the Great Depression . . . some of us perhaps moreso than others. But if we were deprived, or handicapped in the pursuit of our goals, we didn't realize it.

Of course, the fact that we had been too poor back then to have a nice slick year book with individual photographs of each class member made us wish in June 1983 it had been different, so we could look back at our pictures and see how we've all changed.

"Bones" Miller wasn't nearly as boney as he once was, and "Flop" Walker's ears didn't appear to be floppy anymore. His head had grown up around them in the meantime, he explained.

Petite Clara Schmalz had gone North and now had eight children . . . the champ of the class in parenting. She was there, still looking remarkably pert and vivacious, coming all the way from Pennsylvania to be present.

Good solid, silent Charles Wilson, now a petroleum engineer, had made the longest trek, from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, for the reunion. A number came from California, Texas, Florida, and we had a good contingent of grads now living in Mississippi.

One of our class members is a distinguished cardiologist and still teaches at Louisiana State University Medical School. Another is retired head of the chemistry department at a Louisiana institution higher learning.

Coming out of the shadow of the Depression as we did, the extraordinary thing about the Bogalusa High Class of '39 was that more than one half of the 131 graduates went on to college the following fall . . . most of us having to hold jobs on or off campus in order to pay our way. Eventually, virtually all had some college study.

There was another grim shadow on the horizon when we graduated . . . the onset of World War II which would affect all of our lives sooner than we could have even dreamed back then.

Of the 66 boys in our class . . . all at the age that made them prime prospects for military duty throughout the entire duration of the War, it is almost incredible that only one lost his life in service.

Whatever special quality there was about our class, I am convinced, was the imprint that was made upon us by an exceptional group of teachers.

Bogalusa was certainly not known for being a cultural oasis in the primeval forest out of which the town had been hacked the early part of this century. It was known as a sawmill town, as a papermill town.

But our great benefit, there had been collected there in the latter 1930s some of the most talented, dedicated school teachers you could find anywhere.

My own career as a journalist I owe to my high school English teacher, Miss Elanor Ott, a grand world-travelled person with a distinguished family background who died in 1978.

Imagine: in the years of 1937 and 1938, Miss Ott was providing newspapers such as the New York Times, the Miami Herald, the Atlanta Constitution and the Louisville Courier-Journal for us to read and broaden our perspective on the world.

She organized (or commanded, to be exact) us into the news essay writing team which for three years won a competition then sponsored by the New Orleans Times-Picayune for Louisiana and Mississippi high school students.

Only last week, another of the great Bogalusa teachers, Miss Florence Blanchard, who had first given me a firm understanding of what government meant, passed away, after her second career as a welfare case worker for the Mississippi Department of Public Welfare.

Still among us, and on hand for the reunion were teachers such as Marion Mills, who drilled Latin into our minds with the precision of a British school-master, and Lucille Sutton, the beauteous one, who made learning Spanish a special enjoyment.

Thinking back to those times when taking two foreign languages in high school was a standard course, it is horrifying to learn that in a good many of our high schools today no foreign languages are being taught.

There is a point in all this that remains quite pertinent in 1983 as it was in 1939: that quality public education is the backbone of our society in this part of the world.

And there can be no substitute.

Letters

Post Office Location Should Be Less Congested

Editor's note: The following letters were received by The Banner-Independent as having been sent to the U.S. Postal Service in Washington, D.C., voicing opposition to building Booneville's proposed new post office along U.S. 45.

U.S. Post Office Department
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sirs:

The post office building in Booneville, Miss., was constructed in 1939 on the corner of Main and Church streets and since that date has continued to serve its patrons at this location.

The present location is part of the downtown business section of Booneville and adjoins, or is within less than one block, of Booneville City Hall, Prentiss County Electric Power Association building, Booneville Gas and Water Department, and Mississippi Employment Security Office.

The present post office building adjoins land whose owners are agreeable to a sale of their property to the post office at a reasonable price. The adjoining land should be sufficient in size to accommodate the needs of the post office for the foreseeable future.

The present location of the post office building abuts the western boundary of Main Street which is 36 feet in width from curb to curb. Thirty feet on the east side of Main Street opposite the post office building is available for widening Main Street to 66 feet for additional parking at the cost of local government.

The present post office building is in an excellent state of repair and it appears that economics would dictate an addition to the present building instead of a new building at a different location.

If those in authority have any interest in saving money for the taxpayers, it would appear that the present building could be salvaged by constructing required space as an addition to this building.

The suggested location of a new post office on the west side of U.S. Highway 45, a four-laned street and highway, has been met with overwhelming opposition from patrons of the post office.

To locate the post office at the suggested site would increase the traffic hazards now existing on this busy thoroughfare and contribute an unnecessary risk to patrons of the post office.

In my judgement, a continuation of the post office at its present location would better serve its patrons than any other available location and also contribute to the stability of the central core of the city.

However, if wisdom should dictate a new location for the Booneville Post Office, a site should be selected in a less congested location than the one proposed on U.S. Highway 45.

I cannot conceive of any valid reason to construct a post office building at the proposed location of Highway 45. Patrons of the post office will be forced to avail themselves of its services wherever it may be located, and the only considerations for determining its location should be the convenience and safety of its patrons and employees and its accessibility by sufficient thoroughfares and streets.

The post office department should not make what appears to be an arbitrary decision in this matter.

Fairness and courtesy would dictate that before a final decision is made a public hearing should be conducted and all interested parties provided an opportunity to express their views and opinions.

Respectfully,
Donald Franks

Edward Tyes would like to express his sincere thanks to all the nurses and doctors of Baptist Memorial Hospital and all his friends who sent flowers, cards and came by during the death of his mother.

Mrs. Jessie Nunn has been a patient at Baptist Memorial Hospital but is at home now and doing better.

I had been ill last week but on Friday night I felt better so I went to church. When Dee and I returned home we discovered that we had had a visitor while we were gone.

They let themselves in through my window. When they moved my chair from in front of the window they forgot to put it back. They ransacked my house but I'm sorry to report that I have no money hidden there. That's why I work. I don't believe in free-loading. I believe in getting my money the honest way.

If only they had stayed until we got home, I would have cooked them something if they were hungry. If they just had to have money I might could have borrowed them some from someone.

But breaking in and stealing will never pay. Learn to ask for what you want. It will make life much sweeter for everyone.

It's really an unpleasant feeling to go home from church and discover someone came to see you when you weren't home. They even knocked the curtains down and left the window up.

I may never find out who broke into my home. But one thing for sure - the all-seeing eye, the rewarder of our work down here, whether it's good or bad - is watching you. And that's the one you have to give an account to.

A gospel singing will be held at the East Side Community Center Sunday featuring the Crowns of Harmony and other groups.

Happy birthday to Shirley Copeland, Renell Gardner and April Frair.

We send get well wishes to Mrs. Walden Harkey who is home from the Baldwin hospital. Our love and prayers are with her. We also send get well wishes to Fred Cook of our community who came home from Tupelo hospital Friday. We wish him the very best of health.

Nickie and Bobby Sandlin and Stewart Cockrell of Saltillo spent Saturday with their grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Baxter.

Mrs. Bettie Key's brother, Woodroe Cox of Wheeler, visited her Monday afternoon. Her granddaughter, Jennifer Key of Booneville, is also spending a few days.

Mark Cagle's birthday was Tuesday, June 21. His family gave him a motorcycle which he is very proud of. Visiting him for his birthday was John Criswell of the Hopewell community.

The Pause That Refreshes

cucumbers and hot pepper. His friends and neighbors reap the benefits of Moore's hard work because he shares his vegetables with them, too. Although his garden is lush now, he admits that he, like many local gardeners, planted over two or three times. Since Moore lives within easy walking distance of his garden, he takes a wheelbarrow with him when he hoes his garden. Then after hoeing a spell he can sit in the wheelbarrow - which is easier to get up from than the ground, he says. Moore also runs an 8 hp tiller in his garden. On Sept. 11, 1982, a Bardie Moore day was held in Marietta with some 150 people attending. Moore was presented a plaque from the Marietta Church of Christ where he has been a member for 67 years and an elder for 56 years. Marietta Mayor Jimmy Pharr also presented him a plaque which reads "To an inspiring citizen of the Marietta community." It is hard to believe, but the 90-year-old Moore has cancer. It isn't bothering him right now, he says. His philosophy is "You don't have to give up because you're ill." He says people often ask him what the secret is to living to be 90 years old. It's no secret really - more like common sense, he says, as he straightens the galluses on his Liberty overalls. "It all amounts to taking care of yourself, hard work, eating three meals a day and trying to get eight hours rest at night," Moore says.

was indicted with the Kings on the same charges, were retired to the files, according to Attorney Bowen. "The Kings (Jerry and Benjamin) stated that Jimmy had nothing to do with the theft," Bowen said. Alvin Junior Nichols, 33, of Baldwin, pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge and aggravated assault. James Leach, 20, reportedly died from head injuries he received when a car driven by Nichols ran over him as he walked along the shoulder of the road. Leach's companion, Ricky Chandler, 18, also received injuries from the accident which occurred on Airport Road on Aug. 6, 1982, according to officers. Shelton Ray Godsey, 44, of Route 7, Booneville, pleaded guilty to one count of aggravated assault. This charge was in connection with a shooting which occurred at the residence of Grady Allday of Forrest Lee Drive in Booneville on Jan. 27. William Chandler, 20, of Sunflower St., Booneville, pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny. This charge stemmed from the January break-in at a storage building owned by Roy Crawford. The trial of Jerry Shook, 28, of Route 3, Booneville, charged with simple assault on a law enforcement officer, has been continued. The case was set for Wednesday, June 29, but was postponed because of the absence of a witness for the state, Bowen said. An arson case set for today, June 30, involving Roe Daniel "Pete" Murphy, 37, of Lee County and O'Neal Turner, 33 of Pontotoc County, was reportedly going to be continued because the trial could not be completed in one day. Sentencing is scheduled for Friday, July 1, with Circuit Judge Fred Wicker presiding.

the southern section. Once elected both Justice Court Judges will have full jurisdiction over the entire county. However, voters in the northern half of Prentiss County will not be able to vote for the judge from the southern half of the county and vice versa. The northern judicial district is composed of the complete second and fifth supervisors' districts, plus the northern half of the first supervisor's district. The southern judicial district includes all of the third and fourth supervisors' districts, plus the southern half of the first supervisor's district. According to the circuit clerk, the dividing line for the first district will be the Highway 30 Bypass and Chambers Street. Those people in the Booneville precinct who live north of the bypass will vote for the Justice Court Judge in the northern judicial district, while those who live south of the bypass will vote in the southern judicial district. This race will also require separate ballots at some of the polls. Cox said it will greatly speed up voting on election day if residents in the first district will note prior to the election whether they live in the northern or the southern judicial district. They can then tell the election holders which ballot they should receive. Voters should also be prepared to tell the election holders whether or not they live inside a separate school district so they can be given the proper ballot in the election for the county superintendent of education. According to Cox, this will be "strictly an honor system." Absentee ballots are available for those county residents who are handicapped, who live or work outside the state, or who live in the county but work 50 miles or more away. Those voters who fall within the latter category must come into the circuit clerk's office to vote by absentee ballot. Those who live or work out of state may come into the clerk's office to vote or they may vote by mail, as may handicapped voters. Cox is urging all those who are eligible to vote by mail to do so. However, he said someone from the courthouse can bring an absentee ballot to a handicapped person if that person cannot vote in any other way. Regardless of whether the absentee ballot is handled by mail, at the clerk's office, or at the resident's home, it must be notarized and witnessed before it can be counted as a valid ballot in the August election, Cox said. Absentee voting will begin July 16, 15 days prior to the election, Cox said. Absentee votes can be cast at the clerk's office through noon July 30, the Saturday preceding the election. Ballots received through the mail can be accepted through noon Monday, Aug. 1. The circuit clerk pointed out that the laws make no provision for absentee voting for those who will be away because of vacations.

-ELECT-
GLEN GOODWIN
Representative District 3

Glen Goodwin, 49, was born and raised in Prentiss County. He is the son of Mrs. Harold Goodwin and the late Harold Goodwin, who was circuit clerk of Prentiss County for several years. Goodwin is the father of two children: Dr. Ken Goodwin and Liz Goodwin Phillips. Both are graduates of the Northeast Mississippi Junior College and the University of Mississippi. Goodwin has farming, timber, and vineyard interests in Prentiss County.

Goodwin, while working with the Appalachian Regional Commission, was Director of the Northeast Mississippi Health Planning Council, office of the Governor in Tupelo. He was director of the Mississippi Health, Planning and Development Agency, office of the Governor in Jackson, and assisted the Advisory Committee to the Regional Director of HEW in Atlanta in composition of the Health Planning and Resource Development Act (Public Law 93-641) and in writing Appalachian Regional Commission Federal Legislation.

Goodwin developed the first State Health Plan and the first Rural Health Plan for the State of Mississippi, working with all Planning and Development Districts as well as several state agencies.

For the past nine years, Goodwin has been Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Prentiss County. He has been a member of the Yellow Creek Port Authority Board of Directors for nine years and was Chairman of the Board in 1979. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Tombigbee River Valley Water Management District. Until the present time, he was Director of the Yellow Creek Watershed Authority.

Goodwin is a Baptist, a 32 degree Mason, a Shriner, a veteran of the Korean War and a member of the American Legion. He is a past member of the Health Planning and Development Advisory Council, the Southern Institute for Human Resources for the Southeast United States, the state Manpower and Training Council, and was Ex-Officio member of the Board of Directors of the Mississippi Health Systems Agency.

Goodwin is adamantly opposed to increased taxation, especially during a recession and to increases in utility and telephone rates. As a veteran of many different levels of State and Federal Government, he is able to cut through red tape and get the job done in the most efficient manner possible.

As a representative, Goodwin's number one priority is to provide local individuals with jobs paying better salaries. He strongly believes that legislators should work together to insure that residents of District Number Three derive their fair share of economic benefits from the Tenn-Tom Waterway.

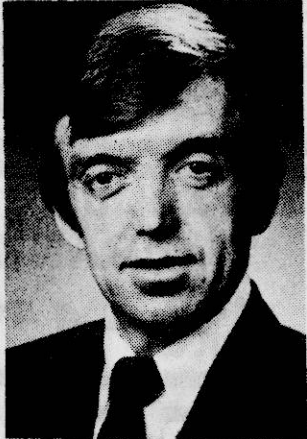

"If the representative and senators of this area don't get together and create some high paying industries around the Tenn-Tom, all we're going to hear are the boat whistles going past," he says. "You have to know how to horse trade when you're dealing with those people in Jackson. When they cut the pie up, I intend to see that the people of District Number Three get their fair share."

Enforcement Of New DUI Law Starts Friday

Alcohol and drug abusers who drive under the influence can lose their driver license on the spot when a new law goes into effect July 1.

This action, says Col. Donald Butler, chief of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, has both immediate and long-range affects.

Butler said the law allows the arresting officer to immediately confiscate the license of the driver arrested for DUI if chemical testing of person's breath indicates the blood alcohol concentration was .10 percent or if the driver refuses to submit to a chemical breath test.

"How long the license is suspended by the Department of Public Safety depends on how many times the driver has been convicted for DUI," Butler said.

He said first offenders will have their licenses suspended for 90 days provided they attend a Mississippi Alcohol Safety Education Program school for a minimum of 10 hours.

Hardship defenses for driver license reinstatements may be made only by first offenders and only after 45 days of the 90-day suspension have elapsed.

First offenders electing not to attend a MASEP school will lose their licenses for one year. First offenders are to be fined $200-$500 and may be sentenced to 24 hours in jail.

"Each successive DUI offense brings stiffer fines, penalties and mandatory jail sentences," Butler said. "For example, any driver whose second DUI offense occurs within a five-year period face a mandatory jail sentence of 48 hours to one year, a fine up to $1,000 and a two-year license suspension. The jail sentence may be suspended only if the offender performs at least 10 days to one year community service work."

Butler said the third time a person is convicted of DUI in a five-year period the offender will spend a minimum of 20 days or a maximum of 365 days in jail.

The three-time offender may be fined up to $1,000 and lose his license for three years.

There is no alternative to spending time in jail for the person convicted of DUI three times in a five-year period.

Those suspected of DUI who refuse to take the breath test will have their licenses suspended for 90 days and will be fined up to $1,000. Those with a previous DUI conviction who refuse to take a breath test, lose their license for one year.

Butler said serious financial problems can confront violators convicted of DUI after July 1.

"Working people who lose their driver licenses may be faced with employment problems especially if they do their own driving to and from work," he said.

"Our troopers will enforce the new DUI law to its fullest extent. Fifty to 60 percent of all fatal highway accidents in Mississippi are alcohol-related.

To The Citizens Of District 3:

Tenure or succession in office has been made an issue in the race for State Representative, District 3, if tenure in office is the success factor in state government, why then are Mississippi governors limited to one four year term? Furthermore, if tenure in office is so important in determining progress and prosperity, why is Mississippi, which has a history of public officials serving long terms, at the bottom of the list of the 50 states, as measured by all standards of comparison in services rendered to its citizens?

If tenure in office is the cure-all it is claimed to be, we could expect those counties whose legislators have served lengthy terms to be among the top counties in the state in prosperity. Yet Issaquena County remains last in the state in per capita income, despite being represented by a man who has served continuously in the Legislature for 36 years, part of that time as Speaker of the House. Tenure in office has not benefited the citizens of Issaquena County, although it has handsomely benefited their Representative. Bolivar County is served by the President Pro Tempore of the Mississippi Senate, a man with 20 years tenure, yet is near the bottom in per capita income. Sunflower, Carroll, and Amite Counties are served by legislators with tenure, but all are in the bottom third in the state in per capita income. The list goes on. It is not how long one serves but how well one serves that makes the difference. Ability, not seniority, gets results.

Justice Court
Judge

Northern District
Prentiss County

I am Dexter Cadle, candidate for Justice Court Judge of the Northern District of Prentiss County. I have served two terms as judge in District 2 of this county.

I wish to take this means to thank the people for their confidence and support given me in electing me each time I have made the race for this office. I have worked hard and sincerely tried to do the job for the people.

To those of you who do not know the kind of judge I have made, I urge you to ask about me. I have been fair and have mistreated no one. I have based my decisions on the evidence in each case, regardless of who it was, where they lived, or who they were kin to.

I have attended the seminars at Ole Miss and Northeast Junior College to better acquaint myself with the new laws of the Justice Court Judge System. I have helped the people collect their bad checks and bad debts. I have always tried to be reasonable and make decisions which a judge must be able to do, because you don't get this ability out of a book.

If you see fit to support and elect me, I will continue to work hard and make you, the people, a Judge whom you will never have cause to regret or be ashamed that you voted for. I ask for your help on August 2.

Thank you for your vote and support

Service Charge Made For Soil Testing

A $3 service charge will be made for all soil samples tested by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratory.

In announcing the service charge, Dr. James R. Carpenter, Extension Director, said the fee is necessary to partially offset the cost of new equipment to be used to upgrade lab services demanded in today's competitive agriculture.

The director said Mississippi is one of only two states in the nation not charging for soil testing.

"Oklahoma charges $6, Alabama $3 and Tennessee up to $11, of which $3 is for organic matter alone.

"The fee will in no way cover the total costs of the sophisticated tests that will be made beginning July 1," Carpenter said. "It will help replace some of the expensive equipment in the lab as it wears out."

The Extension director said he also was strongly encouraged by the Mississippi Legislature to look for ways of recovering some costs for special services.

"I want to emphasize that at this time we will not charge for nematode analysis or for plant tissue analysis," he continued.

"Our soil testing laboratory is one of the best in the nation," Carpenter said. "This $3 fee help the lab. Our soil testing laboratory is one of the best in the nation," Carpenter said. "This $3 fee will help the lab continue to provide the kind of technical help Mississippi farmers and homeowners deserve and demand."

Dr. Freddie Rasberry, leader, Soil Testing Department, cited reason for increasing the complexity of tests made by the lab.

"We have always given soil pH, lime, phosphate and potash tests," he said. "To upgrade recommendations needed today, we need a soil textural consideration to help determine if the soil is sandy loam, silt loam, clay loam or clay. The addition of tests for calcium and magnesium will help estimate soil texture and should make recommendations more accurate."

The specialist added that the testing procedure will be able to evaluate some of the minor elements, such as zinc and manganese. These elements are required on crops such as pecans, corn and cotton.

"Beginning July 1, we will also test all soil from cultivated crops for organic matter as a routine test.

The soil specialist said a new report form is being prepared that will contain recommendations for three years on agricultural crops.

Beginning July 1, two recommendations will be made for lime needs; one to raise the soil pH to 6.5 which is considered a five to seven year recommendation; and one to raise the pH to only 5.5, for the use primarily by renters who have one to three year leases.

"About 25-30 percent of the soils in Mississippi have a pH below 5.5; these soils need lime badly," Rasberry continued. "These same soils also are low or very low in phosphate and potash. Without adequate lime and fertilizer, they cannot produce economic yields. Soil testing is the only way to locate these soils and correct the problem."

Rasberry said that based on about 403,000 samples tested over the past five years, about 50 percent of the farmers in the state bought fertilizer of a different ratio than they really needed.

Research reported by the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station indicates that for each .5 increase in soil pH above pH 5.0 in a soybean field, yields usually increase five to seven bushels per acre.

Traditionally, lemonade and other refreshments will be waiting for the marchers at Foster Park.

Will and Judy George stress that the parade is not just for residents of the Seventh Street area. Everyone is welcome to participate -- or just watch.

There is nothing formal about the parade. Participants dress as they wish. Some bring musical instruments, many bring flags, and some bring nothing but themselves and their patriotism. But they all come to have a good time.

"Anyone who wants to show their patriotic spirit" is welcome, the Georges' say.

The parade usually lasts for about 1½ hours.

Historical Group

Sponsors Seminars

The Prentiss County Historical Association is sponsoring free seminars on "How to Write and Publish Your Family History."

The seminars will be held at the George E. Allen Library every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. through Aug. 16.

According to a spokesman for the Association, the purpose of the seminars is to show how to write family histories. These family histories will be published free of charge in the "Prentiss County History," a book being prepared by the Historical Association.

"Often we do not realize how important it is to preserve our family and county heritage for future generations," the spokesman said. "New county histories are very important to historians, genealogists and libraries as research tools, but the book is more important to the families whose history is included in the book."

PIK Can Affect SS Payments

Many farmers in the Northeast Mississippi area are apparently confused as to how the 1983 Payment-in-Kind (PIK) program relates to Social Security, according to Hugh Tigrett, Social Security district manager in Tupelo.

Under the PIK program, a farmer agrees to set aside part or all of his land previously used to produce a crop in exchange for receiving surplus federal commodities of the same crop at the usual harvest times. Commodities involved are wheat, corn, grain, sorghum, rice, and upland cotton.

In general, payments under the PIK program are treated the same as other federal agricultural program payments, Tigrett said. They are included in the farmer's gross income.

Since the PIK payments are in the form of certificates of ownership, they are not includable in gross income for 1983 until they are converted to cash for purposes of Federal Income tax and the Social Security self-employment tax.

How the PIK payments affect receipt of Social Security benefits depends on when the farmer became entitled to those benefits, Tigrett said.

If the farmer started getting Social Security benefits before 1983, PIK income can be excluded from gross income for purposes of the annual earnings test because it is income not attributable to significant services performed after the year in which benefits began.

In this case, PIK income would have no effect on the receipt of Social Security benefits.

However, if the farmer starts getting Social Security benefits in 1983, PIK income is included in the farmer's net earnings for purposes of the annual earnings test. But in this first year of retirement, a self-employed person can receive a benefit for any month he or she does not perform substantial services in self-employment regardless of total income for the year.

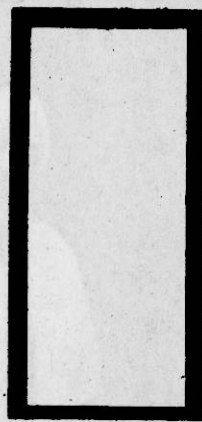

Generally, a farmer is not considered to be engaging in substantial services if he or she works 45 hours or less a month in the farming operation.

More information about how income under the PIK Program affects Social Security benefits can be obtained in the Tupelo Social Security Office, located at 1248 West Main Street. The telephone number is 842-6211.

A Daring Rescue!

When Lana Tapp and other employees of the Community Action Agency looked out the window of their office on the second floor of the Prentiss County Courthouse Tuesday morning, they noticed a small kitten in one the trees on the courthouse lawn. That was about 8 a.m. When the kitten was still there later that afternoon, they decided he was stuck and called the fire department for help. After the firemen arrived Jerry Smith, a trusty at the Prentiss County Jail, climbed the ladder to retrieve the kitten. In the photo at right, Smith hands the rescued kitten to Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming and fireman Harmon Laster. (Photos by Tim Rowland)

Three-Wheeler Owners Issued Warning

Col. Donald Butler of the Mississippi Department of Public Safety has issued a warning to owners of three-wheeled motorcycles that the vehicles cannot be legally operated on streets, roads and highways in Mississippi.

"We have issued orders to our troopers to write tickets to the operators of any three-wheeler on the highways and told our officers to take reasonable measures to get these vehicles off the roads," Butler said.

The Highway Patrol crackdown comes in response to reports of increased accidents involving the vehicles and the recent deaths of two children who were operating three-wheelers.

"These vehicles are not designed for or suited for use on a street, road or highway," Butler said. "They do not meet the requirements a road vehicle must meet under state law."

"We are receiving a greater number of complaints from the motoring public and from physicians about the use of these off-the-road cycles on highways, and we are taking firm action against them."

Three-wheeler drivers may be cited for operating a motor vehicle without a license, operating a vehicle without a safety inspection sticker, operating under the minimum speed limits, speeding, operating without a license plate or operating without a helmet, depending on which charges are applicable.

Butler said three-wheelers are classified under state law as motorcycles and are required to satisfy several standards. "None of the units on the market today meet these requirements."

"These vehicles are dangerous in the hands of young people who have no driver training," the colonel added. "Doctors reported treating 92 injuries in 1982 at one hospital alone caused by riding three-wheelers."

"Parents should be cautious before allowing a youngster to operate one of these vehicles and should warn them to never take the three-wheeler onto a street, road or highway," Butler said.

At a Northeast Mississippi hospital an emergency room administrative employee said that on Father's Day in 1982 a minister's son was killed when the three-wheeler he was driving crashed into a tree. The boy was nine-years-old.

"I wish they would outlaw them," the hospital employee said. "I didn't realize the dangers involved in the use of three-wheelers until I started working in the trauma unit here. I see how frequently people are injured as a result of pure carelessness."

Three-wheeler accident information at many medical facilities is combined with records kept on motorcycle accidents, making it difficult to obtain accurate statistics.

An assistant administrator of a Gulf Coast hospital cited a case in 1982 of a 70-year-old man whose driver license had been revoked. Since he couldn't drive a car without his license, the man used a three-wheeler to get around.

According to the assistant, the man was in the woods on his three-wheeler when it turned over backward and landed on top of its driver. The man spent several nights in the neuro-intensive care unit with severe head injuries.

"Skull, neck and back injuries are mainly what we treat as the result of three-wheeler accidents," the assistant administrator said.

A quick, random survey of hospitals throughout the state showed frequent emergency room treatment is administered to farmers involved in three-wheeler accidents.

A hospital facility spokesman in the Mississippi Delta said last year an area farmer was killed when the three-wheeler he was driving flipped over. He said the hospital often treats small children injured when they are thrown off while riding as passengers.

A west Mississippi hospital administrator said his facility treats between 10 and 15 three-wheeler accident victims each year with the majority occurring during the summer months.

He said one person died as a result of injuries received in a three-wheeler accident in his area last year.

In classifying the extent of injuries produced in three-wheeler accidents, the administrator said, "They range from minor bruises, abrasions, lacerations and broken bones to loss of limbs and death."

The director of emergency nursing services at a south Mississippi hospital said they treat from four to six three-wheeler injuries a month. She said the patients are usually in their late teens.

"One weekend about three weeks ago we treated four three-wheeler injuries in one day," the director said.

"These vehicles can be operated safely and can be both fun and beneficial to farmers and land owners with large acreage to cover but they have no business on a street, road or highway and should be used with care anytime," Col Butler said.

The Following Is FARRELL BRUMLEY'S Statement Of Candidacy

I am a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Prentiss County, MS.

"I won't have to fill over half my term learning the ropes in disorganized, trial-and-error fashion filled with costly mistakes and blunders. I think you know by now, just being a good man does not always make a good sheriff.

"Vote for a man who knows what the program is and who the players are. I am big enough, experienced enough, and man enough when I am forced to be to get the job done.

"I am a 43 year old married man with three children. I have lived in this county all of my life and have the desire; four years of experience as deputy sheriff; the youth; the good health and energy to put in the long hours necessary to make Prentiss County the kind of sheriff you want and deserve.

"When I am elected I will consider the Sheriff's office as a four (4) year journey, and not just a destination. I will be more concerned with using my job than I am in just holding it.

"I am not a conscientious objector in the war against crime or from that school of thought that teaches the victim is more responsible than the aggressor. You know my record proves it. Furthermore no group or individual will control my career, and when I am told to tilt I won't have to lean in the direction any man or group of men suggest.

"I pledge to you that I will take all the profit away from this handful of would-be big time thieves, dope peddlers, beer and whiskey dealers and other criminals running around loose. And you can be assured that I will not become their captive after the election.

I will not be bought off or intimidated by the thieves, dope peddlers, beer and whiskey people and other criminals and they know it. Just listen and find out for yourself. Because people of this stripe and their friends are after me now because they and their friends know that I will be after them after the election.

Don't you know that before we can do anything about these people breaking the law we will first have to do something about those in authority letting the law be broken.

People of Prentiss County, I would like to make it clear at this time that I have not hired, promised or bargained in anyway to anyone a job for their support and influence.

Ladies and Gentlemen the only fair way is to hire a deputy from each district of the county. At this time, we have four deputies, but by January 1st we will try to have five. I feel that this would be an asset to me and to the People of Prentiss County.

"You will have to take the first step, and when you vote for Brumley on Aug. 2nd you will be doing just that. Vote for Farrell Brumley and sleep easy on August 2nd knowing you have voted for a man who will not put his hand in the cookie jar and for a man who is not afraid to get in the ring and slug it out with this handful of irresponsible ingrates running around loose in Prentiss County.

Sincerely yours,

Farrell Brumley

Pd. Pol. Adv.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIFTH DISTRICT:

I am William L. McKinney announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of Supervisor of the Fifth District of Prentiss County. I am 37 years of age, son of Houston and Delma McKinney, Grandson of Elvia Moorman and the late L.B. Moorman and the late Shelton and Bessie McKinney. I am married to the former Zela Livingston. We have two daughters, Rhonda age 15 and Latricia age 12. I am a member of the Church of Christ at Hills Chapel, a life long farmer and have served for the past 3 1/2 years as Supervisor of the Fifth District of Prentiss County.

I appreciate very much the good vote I received during the last election enabling me to be elected Supervisor of the Fifth District and serve as a member of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors.

Thanks to you I have gained a lot of experience and knowledge about the office of Supervisor and about the operation of County Government and maintaining roads and bridges that I didn't have before being elected Supervisor. I told you when I was first seeking this office that I had no experience in this type of work. I promised that I would work, learn, and try very hard to make the fifth District a Supervisor you could be proud you elected. I promised to be honest in managing your tax money and try to spend every dollar of your tax money wisely. I promised that I would make you a full time Supervisor and I would work with the road crew at every opportunity I had. I have kept these promises. I knew I could keep these promises when I made them because they are about myself and about things I knew beyond any doubt that I could do. I never promised anything before nor can I promise roads, jobs, political appointment or anything else during this election, just to gain votes, that events in the future may make impossible to keep. No man knows what tomorrow may bring.

I do have a long range plan to improve our roads and pave more roads, but it is just a plan. The Fifth District is in a better financial position now to make plans than it was when I took office. I do have the experience needed to do more for the Fifth District.

I asked for the job of Supervisor because I honestly and sincerely believed that I, with your help, could make a difference, for the better, in the physical and financial condition of the Fifth District.

I ask you to check my record for yourselves. I have nothing to hide and a lot I want to show and talk about. Check the conditions of the 150 miles of roads that the Fifth District maintains, even after three major floods since December. Check the financial condition of the Fifth District. Check the condition of your equipment, every truck, grader and tractor I received 3 1/2 years ago is running more and costing less now than it did then. That's a sign of good management. Also, the Fifth District owns a backhoe loader, paid as of June 15th. The Fifth District owns a Diesel truck and trailer, a 65 horsepower tractor bush hog and grader blade, and two miles of county paved roads without borrowing a penny of money. That also is a good sign of good financial management of your money. Also the Fifth District has about 5.5 miles of State Aid Roads that have been overlaid during my 3 1/2 years as your Supervisor.

I can honestly say, "I have done all I could do, with the circumstances and conditions, and time that I have had as your Supervisor." As I said earlier I have a long range plan to pave several miles of county roads, but first I have to continue to be elected Supervisor and have the time to build these roads. We have about 130 miles of gravel and dirt roads in the Fifth District. Surely I cannot be blamed for all these miles for being Supervisor for just 3 1/2 years.

A gravel road is just a gravel road. Dusty or muddy you can put more gravel on it and it's still just a gravel road, dusty or muddy.

The answer to having more paved roads is this: Money. Good management of that money, a Supervisor that's willing to put his political future in danger by planning and paving roads, and voters and tax payers that is willing to be patient and continue to support and re-elect that Supervisor.

You have a limited amount of money, you have a good manager of that money, you have a supervisor that's willing to pave all the roads I can. The question is: Do I have your support, trust and vote on August 2nd?

I have tried to the best of my ability to be a Supervisor for all the people of the Fifth District regardless of race, religion, financial position in life, or past political ties. If re-elected that's the only way I will continue to serve.

I hope to see all of you before election day but this will probably be impossible because my time to campaign is limited. I ask you now to vote for a man that honestly and sincerely wants to serve the Fifth District and Prentiss County. Support. Vote and Re-elect, William L. McKinney Supervisor District 5.

William L. McKinney

Soil Conservation News

By DAVID SUMMERS
USDA-Soil Conservation Service

Post-emergence weed control in no-till soybeans will often be the key in obtaining good yields. Even though a good pre-emergence herbicide program was used at planting, it is usually necessary to apply one or more post-emergence herbicides in order to obtain good weed control.

Some of the weeds that normally cause the most problems in no-till soybeans include cocklebur, morning glory and johnsongrass. Other weeds that can be a problem in no-till soybeans under certain conditions include common ragweed, smartweed, hemp sesbania and sicklepod.

However, most all of these weeds can be controlled if the right herbicide is applied at the right time and rates. For best control, post-emergence herbicides should be applied while the weeds are still young and actively growing. Control of large weeds are usually very difficult and expensive.

Such weeds as cocklebur, common ragweeds and smartweeds can be controlled with Basagran over the top, while Blazer over the top does a good job of controlling morning glory and hemp sesbania. Since all of these weeds are often found in the same field, Basagran and Blazer are often applied in combination. As post-directed spray, metribuzin or Lorox plus 2,4-DB will give good control of all of these weeds.

Johnsongrass can be controlled by using Poast or Fusilade over the top or by using Roundup in a rope wick applicator. Sicklepod is possibly one of the most difficult weeds to control with post-emergence herbicides. The best approach to sicklepod control is to use a metribuzin compound as a pre-emergence. However, sicklepod can be controlled with a post-directed application of metribuzin or Lorox plus 2,4-DB if a height differential can be established between the soybeans and sicklepods.

If you need help in weed identification or herbicide selection, feel free to contact your Soil Conservationist at 107 College St., Booneville, or phone 728-3544.

Timberline

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

Few forest pests have gotten publicity in Mississippi in recent years that can rival that given to the Southern Pine Beetle. This beetle deserves all the attention it is getting -- and more, because it is the single most destructive pest in our southern forests.

Many forest landowners are asking "Should I beat the beetle to the punch by harvesting timber now before it is wiped out? Is there something I can do to lessen the likelihood of beetle attack?"

Thanks to some important forest research in recent years, there are now answers to these two questions. The first is answered by "NO," the second by "YES."

We now know that the single most effective prevention measure is to keep timber stands healthy and vigorous. Dense stands containing many slow growing and weak trees are favorite targets of the hungry beetle. By carefully thinning out the smaller trees until the remaining trees have adequate space for expansion of their crowns, the possibility of a successful attack will be greatly reduced.

Trees that are growing well usually have enough flow of resin up and down the trunk to "pitch out" any beetles that could get through the bark and enter the tree. Weak trees are more easily overwhelmed by attacking beetles. Mature and overmature trees seldom respond to thinning and consideration should be given to harvesting and replacing them with younger trees.

Damage to the remaining trees during logging should be controlled as well. It also helps to manage for good hardwood species that may occur along drains because they act as a buffer against the beetle's movement as it progresses through an infested pine stand.

The odds of your property experiencing a Southern Pine Beetle attack are small. However, by applying the above management practices, the odds are greatly reduced in your favor. The key is to keep your pine stands well-managed and growing.

We can help you identify areas that are high risk as far as the Southern Pine Beetle is concerned. Give us a call

Willie Anderson Announces For Justice Court Judge

I am a candidate for the office of Justice Court Judge of the North Half of Prentiss County. In seeking this office of public trust, I need and solicit your help.

I am qualified to serve you as Justice Court Judge. I believe I have the knowledge, experience and temperament to give you the type of service you want and deserve.

I am 42 years of age, married and have three children. I am a graduate of Prentiss County schools. I graduated from the Mississippi Law Enforcement Academy in Jackson, and am also a graduate of the Judicial College at Ole Miss.

Being in law enforcement in Prentiss County over 12 years, I believe you know that Willie Anderson has always treated everyone justly and fairly, regardless of race. I have served Prentiss County as Chief Deputy Sheriff and Policeman. For the past 3 1/2 years, I have served the people of the 5th district of Prentiss County as Justice Court Judge.

I am a black man, but I deeply feel that the people in this election are looking more to the color of a person's thinking than they are to the color of his skin. The color of my thinking will be treating people as I would want to be treated under the same conditions and circumstances.

I will welcome advice and criticism, good or bad, and I will take time to council with anyone at any and all times. I will assist the people in every possible manner. I will always make myself available to carry out the duties of this important office when the need arises.

I will work with other officials and the people of the North Half in order to make Prentiss County and our great state a better place to live.

In making this appeal for your support, I will endeavor to justify every consideration that you give me by returning to you faithful, honest, and just service.

THEOCRACY or DEMOCRACY?

Will Prentiss County have a Theocracy like Iran, where a minority of religious zealots govern, and arbitrarily decide the conscience and morality of the majority, or as loyal Americans, will we insist on Democracy and the right of the governed to vote on important social issues, such as the legalization of alcohol?

Why would any loyal American, object to, or urge others not to sign, the Local Option Election Petition, which seeks only to put the issue before the voters? Why are some churches opposed to the American Election Process, and your American Right to vote for or against?

Protect your American Heritage and your right to vote. Help bring the issue to the voters and let the majority decide - It's the American Way!

Local Dizzy Dean All-Stars Are Named At West Side Park

The older boys' and girls' baseball and softball teams had a busy schedule last week. Prentiss Manufacturing and Colleague girls both played at Blackland this week. Both lost to teams from Jumpertown. Buddy Jones heads Prentiss' girls, while Bobby Johnson is the coach for Colleague. The 13-14 boys' baseball teams, Pizza Hut and Prentiss Manufacturing, met each other in a final game last week. In a highly offensive game, Pizza Hut won, 20-14. All-Stars from the two teams were named to play in the district Dizzy Den tournament. These players are Mike Horn, Jeff McKinney, Mit Latch, Jody Pitts, May Michaels, and Mike Cos from Pizza Hut, and Davi Downs, Rickey Nanne, Matt Smith, Steve Gaine, Britt Purvis, and Bo Eubank from Prentiss.

Action Heating Up In Local Church League

Although no one has touched the Independent Christians, church league action is heating up and the championship is still up for grabs. There are three hard luck teams, however, that are still looking for their first win - County Line, Crestwood, and East Booneville (who lost two extra-inning games last week). Last Tuesday night Concord gave the Baptists from First Church more than they could handle with an 18-4 win to Concord's favor. The Mormans beat East Booneville 13-10 in a game that lasted into eight innings. In the nightcap, First Methodist defeated County Line, 15-9. On Thursday night Concord won again, this time with a 12-9 win over Tuscumbia. Tuscumbia came off the loss to defeat Crestwood, 18-11 in their second game of the night. Monday night gave East Prentiss the easiest possible win of any game. First Baptist failed to show up. As a result East Prentiss upped their record to 5-1 without breaking a sweat. Gaston defeated First Methodist 16-3 in the second game to make their record 5-1, also. The Methodists are an even 3-3 to date. East Booneville lost their second tough game of the week, going 10 innings with Calvary, but finally losing by the same score as last time, 13-10.

Local Family Serious About Dirt Track Competition

By CLIFF LONG Sports Writer

What we see on television on Sunday afternoons is probably the extent of most Prentiss Countians' knowledge of the sport of automobile racing.

At least one area family, however, is very serious about the investments they have made in stock car racing.

No...not races like the Daytona 500 or the Michigan 400, but much shorter dirt track races without names such as Petty, Unser, and Allison. Lake City's Lee, Eddie, and Junior Burns have invested not only money, but much time on the project that began as a hobby and is getting more serious year after year.

Last week in Verona marked the team's first win ever in the circuit.

Seventeen-year-old driver Junior Burns was proud of the victory, which was a preliminary or "heat" race that gave him poll position in the feature race. Burns won the preliminary with a blown head gasket.

A blowout in the eight lap put the Burns' team out of the feature race.

The Burns' compete in the slowest class in the circuit, the street class which is followed by the super street and, finally, the modified class.

Next year the Burns would like to move up to the super street class and get much more serious about their racing. But, they say this isn't possible without a sponsor.

Goodyear and STP are not exactly fighting for the chance to sponsor the Burns'.

Junior said he is looking for someone in the area who would be willing to invest his money and his name into a race car.

Junior's car now has about $1,500 invested in it, plus about $40 a week upkeep.

Prize money doesn't exactly cover these expenses.

Junior has won no more and no less than $20 total this year.

The Burns team races every Saturday night with only the three of them as the crew, except for Ken Glover who set up the balance of the car.

Junior's car is made up of a '57 Chevy frame, a '68 Camaro body, and 300 horses under the hood.

The car will reach speeds of about 65 miles per hour and is never taken out of second gear because of the strain of the RPM's on the engine.

The Burns will be racing for two more months before the season is over and Junior is hoping to win a special award given annually at the track - the hard luck award.

The Burns think they deserve it. Before this week and after six weeks of racing, the Burns have had some sort of problem to put them out of about every race.

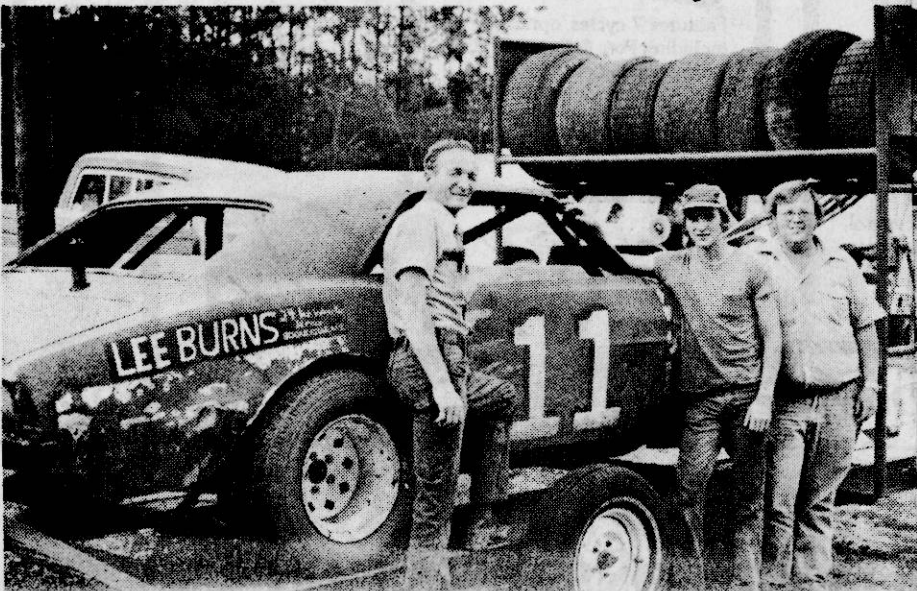

As for the safety of the car, there are no windows, only a steering wheel, a very small seat, and a fire extinguisher.

The driver is completely enclosed in the roll bar and the danger is "slim to none."

"You could get hurt, but no more than every day out on the street", says Lee, Junior's father who doesn't seem to worry about his son at all.

Although now they think the kinks are out and maybe they can finally start winning, the hope of finding a sponsor is still heavy on their minds.

Junior says he does have the ambition to be a big racer someday, but right now he is just taking it one step at a time and having fun.

Divide Wildlife Area Expected To Open In Fall

Northeast Mississippi hunters will soon be enjoying a new 20,281-acre wildlife management area, according to the Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Officials from the Department met Thursday, June 16, in Burnsville with representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers'

Nashville District to sign a 25-year lease agreement on what will be known as the Divide Section Wildlife Management Area.

The largely shoestring-shaped area begins just north of the Bay Springs Lock and parallels on both sides the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway through Prentiss and Tishomingo counties and ends at the Scruggs bridge over Yellow Creek on Highway 25 north of Iuka.

Lon Strong, executive director of the Department of Wildlife Conservation, signed the lease agreement on behalf of the state, and Col. Lee W. Tucker represented the Corps.

The land, which is expected to be open this fall and winter for limited hunting, amounts to most of the area known as the "Divide Section" of the Tenn-Tom Waterway, with the exception of several recreation areas.

The Divide Section WMA will be open to small game hunting and some upland bird hunting this fall. However, the Department of Wildlife Conservation has closed deer hunting on the area for at least three years in order to allow the deer population to increase to huntable numbers.

"In addition to the wildlife area, the Department was given the work facilities at Holcutt, which is worth at least $295,000," District Biologist Bobby Wilson of Smithville said.

Wilson said the facilities there include a laboratory, a maintenance shop, a main building with 2,000 square feet of living space, all protected by a cyclone fence.

In addition, the Department will receive on July 1 the facilities at Turnpike Hill in Tishomingo County which include a double-wide trailer, maintenance shop, and several storage buildings.

According to Strong, the Corps will retain title to the land, but the area and its timber resources will be managed for fish and wildlife.

EYE OPENERS

By
Dr. Walter C. Simpson

Why Some Kids Need Bifocals

Bifocal lenses are usually prescribed for older patients whose eye lenses have lost their elasticity. But there are occasions when an eye doctor will prescribe them for teenagers.

When a young person has difficulty focussing both eyes, one moment on a chalkboard in the classroom and the next moment on the textbook on the desk, he or she may benefit from wearing bifocal lenses.

Or, when one eye tends to cross, even occasionally, bifocals can help to keep the eyes looking straight. Usually, this prescription is recommended when the patient is undergoing visual therapy.

In other cases, bifocals may be prescribed for a child who has progressive nearsightedness to reduce the effort the patient must make to focus the eyes. The vision specialist can determine whether conventional eyeglasses or contact lenses should be worn.

Presented as a public service by Dr. Walter C. Simpson, Optometrist, 113 Main St., Booneville, Ms., phone 728-4853.

ASCS Report

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block today said it will be necessary to require wheat producers who do not have sufficient quantities of wheat pledged as price support loan collateral to meet their payment-in-kind requirements to obtain loans on their 1983-crop production.

Producers who have no 1983-crop wheat planted for harvest or who do not have sufficient wheat planted for harvest to meet their PIK requirements will receive payment-in-kind from other wheat in Commodity Credit Corporation inventory, he said.

Block said all producers who signed a contract to participate in the 1983 PIK program agreed to obtain a loan on their 1983 production for PIK purposes to satisfy program needs if required by CCC. USDA decided to exercise this option after determining there is an insufficient quantity of wheat currently available to CCC to meet PIK needs, he said.

CCC has developed special provisions to permit producers to use their 1983 wheat production for PIK purposes even though they do not have warehouse or on-farm storage available, Block said. The producer must certify to the local county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service that the required quantity was harvested from an eligible farm and has not been sold prior to the certification.

The producer can obtain the loan, redeem the loan collateral and sell it to CCC. The producer then will be eligible to immediately receive the payment-in-kind from CCC inventory. However, these producers will not receive the proceeds of the sale of the wheat to CCC until their PIK availability date, Block said.

Producers with eligible 1983 crop stored in an approved structure on the farm or in a warehouse covered by a uniform grain storage agreement may receive a regular price support loan for the wheat and earn storage payments for up to five months beginning on the PIK availability date.

STUDY COMMITTEE ON COTTON PREMIUMS AND DISCOUNTS TO MEET JULY 6 AND 7

A cotton study committee will meet in room 4960 of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's South Building July 6 and 7 to consider methods of establishing premiums and discounts for the 1984 and subsequent crops of upland cotton.

The meetings, which will begin at 9 a.m. both days, are open to the public, but public participation will be limited to written statements submitted before the meeting.

Written statements should be sent to Charles V. Cunningham, deputy director, analysis division, USDA-ASCS, room 3741-S, P. O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

JULY 15
THE FINAL
CERTIFICATION DATE
FOR SPRING
PLANTED CROPS

Program participants are required to report crops and acreage planted on a field by field basis and the uses to be made of these crops and cropland acres to be devoted to conservation uses. Failure to report by July 15 deadline will result in loss of program benefits. Farmers planting program crops who are non-participants need to certify their crops for future programs. In addition to history purposes - the acreage reports are necessary for proven yields.

ASCS will randomly check farms to verify that acreage reports are accurate. To be sure of planted acres farmers can request measurement service. Measurement service can be provided at a very reasonable cost and will assure compliance with planting requirements and/or conservation use acres.

This is a valuable service not only to producers participating in the acreage reduction and payment-in-kind programs, but to any farmer who desires an accurate acreage measurement for any reason.

Acreage reports of all spring seeded crops including soybeans should be filed as soon as planting is completed to avoid having to wait to file the report. As the final reporting date approaches the line becomes longer and will therefore necessitate that you be delayed at the office in filing your acreage report.

Ghosts from the past

Like ghosts from the past, soldiers dressed in blue and gray clashed on a hillside about six miles west of Baldwin Sunday afternoon.

The reenactment of the Battle of Brice's Crossroads drew several hundred spectators to a field across the road from a national monument erected to commemorate the battle.

Authentic-looking costumes and weapons gave spectators a realistic view of what a Civil War battle must have really been like.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A Meditation From The Upper Room

By Esther M. Bailey

I was sitting in the waiting room of a doctor's office with several other patients when a man entered. "Is this suite 115?" he asked. No one seemed to know. I shrugged my shoulders; and the others remained silent.

His eyes focused briefly on each person in the room. "Not a one of you knows where you are," he said as he turned away to look for suite 115.

People who truly lack discernment of their own whereabouts are usually in trouble -- sometimes big trouble. When the children of Israel feared to take the land of Canaan, they lost their way and wandered in the wilderness for forty years. Persons who stray from course on an adventurous expedition often end up on a casualty list.

The most serious aspect of the inability to recognize our current dwelling place, however, is in the area of spiritual matters. Not knowing where we stand spiritually is bewilderment of the worst sort.

God is eternal, forever constant. When God seems far away, it is not because God has changed or moved -- it is because we have. The human heart needs the Holy Spirit to keep it where it belongs.

PRAYER: O God, let us not be enticed by those desires and ambitions that would draw us apart from You. Amen.
