Roundup

No Decision Yet

On Post Office Site

There is still no definite decision concerning the site where the new Booneville Post Office will be built.

Although five additional sites were submitted after the postal service invited the public to submit bids for a second time, the postal service real estate engineering department has not yet looked at the new sites, Booneville Postmaster Jack Wright said Tuesday.

One of the five sites submitted was located outside the "preferred area" for site consideration, Wright noted.

Hopefully, Wright said, the officials from the real estate engineering department will be in Booneville either this week or next week to check on the new site submissions.

"The sites which were submitted along with the previous sites will be taken under consideration," Wright said.

The U.S. Postal Service invited the public to submit bids for the second time on possible sites for the location of a new post office after a number of local residents — mostly downtown businessmen and women — objected to the Postal Service's tentative selection of a site on U.S. Highway 45 adjacent to Kentucky Fried Chicken.

No Arrests Made

In Fish Market Fire

No arrests have been made yet concerning two arson fires at Timbes Fish Market on North College Street.

Both fires, one occurring on Aug. 7 and the other on Aug. 9, were ruled as arson because an accelerant was used to start both fires, according to Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming.

"Evidence has been sent to the state crime lab and we are waiting for the results," Fleming said Tuesday. "The case is still under investigation."

State Deputy Fire Marshal Mike Ivy was in Booneville Monday working on the case.

An insurance adjuster said damage from the first fire was $5,000. The building also received smoke damage from the second fire, Fleming said.

The building is owned by Keith Michael of Booneville.

Election Holders

Should Pick Up Boxes

Returning officers for the Democratic election holders should pick up ballot boxes at the Prentiss County Circuit Clerk's office in the county courthouse Monday, Aug. 22, after 2 p.m., according to Circuit Clerk Travis Cox.

Election holders should be at the polls Tuesday, Aug. 23, at 6:45 a.m., he said.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Garbage Schedule

Was Wrong Last Week

A typographical error in last week's Banner-Independent has caused some confusion about the city's new garbage pickup schedule.

It was incorrectly reported that garbage will be picked up on Thursdays on East Church Street, starting at the Kreme Kastle and going east. The article should have said garbage will be picked up in that area on Tuesdays.

As a result of the error in the paper, a number of people were not prepared for the sanitation department truck when it made its rounds Tuesday.

Another change in the pickup schedule was left out completely — for the area along Adams Street, between U.S. 45 and Third Street. The garbage will be picked up there on Thursdays.

The errors were made in a story explaining changes in the city's garbage pickup schedule. The following is the list of changes as it should have appeared:

— Starting at West College and Fifth Street, all of West College garbage will be picked up on Mondays. — On Washington Street between U.S. 45 North and Third Street, garbage will be picked up on Mondays.

— Starting at the Kreme Kastle on East Church Street and going east, on both sides, the garbage will be picked up on Tuesdays.

— On the Adams Street, between U.S. 45 North and Third Street, the garbage will be picked up on Thursdays.

— All downtown garbage will be picked up nightly.

The new schedule went into effect Monday. For those areas not listed above, the garbage collection schedule remains unchanged.

Water Association Receives $590,000

A total of $590,000 in federal funds has been awarded for extension and improvements of the Big V Water Association's water system, according to Congressman Jamie Whitten.

FHA funds made up of a $345,000 grant and a $236,000 loan will be used to extend the water system to include another 150 customers. The improvements will include a new storage tank, stand pipe and distribution lines.

When completed, the system will serve a total of 870 rural customers. Gordon Walden is president of the Big V Water Association.

Runoff Elections Are Tuesday

Prentiss Countians will have 15 decisions to make when they go to the polls to vote in the Democratic primary runoff election next Tuesday.

Winners of those 15 races, as well as those who won nomination during the first primary on Aug. 2, will face any Republican or independent candidates in the November general election.

In local races, voters will have to make choices in 11 races, those for the House of Representatives, sheriff, superintendent of education, justice court judge northern and southern district, supervisor in the fifth district, and constables in all five districts.

In other races, the Democratic nominees for governor, secretary of state, state auditor of public accounts, and northern district public service commissioner remain to be decided.

In the sheriff's race, voters will choose between former Highway Patrol officer Wallace Davis and former county supervisor W.V. Horn. Davis and Horn came out on top of a field of 17 candidates in the first primary.

Incumbent sheriff John McCauley was one of the 15 defeated the first time around. Davis led the ticket on Aug. 2, but Horn was only four votes behind.

For the superintendent of education post, incumbent Lex Cain will face challenger J.W. Greene. Cain led the ticket in the first primary, with Greene second and Johnny W. Browne third.

In the Justice Court Judge races, Willie Anderson will face Dexter C. Cadle in the runoff for the northern district of the county, while Dalton E. (Gene) Prentice will meet Billy Sartin for the same post in the southern district.

Cycle Crash Kills Baldwin Man

A Baldwin man died Sunday after he lost control of the motorcycle he was driving and crashed into a tree.

Thomas Wayne Hutcheson, 34, of Route 1, Baldwin, was killed in a motorcycle accident at approximately 5 p.m. Sunday on Ingram Road, according to Third District Constable Bob Glover.

Witnesses told officers that Hutcheson's cap had blown off and when he turned around to see where the cap went he lost control of the motorcycle "hitting the only tree on that road," Glover said.

The accident occurred about 100 yards north of Ingram Baptist Church. Hutcheson was only about 50-75 yards from his home, Glover said.

Hutcheson, who was self-employed, was a member of Ingram Baptist Church.

Services were held Monday, Aug. 15, at 4 p.m. at Ingram Baptist Church with Bro. Keith Clayton and Bro. James Wells officiating. Burial was in Ingram Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Billie Jean Hutcheson of Baldwin; a daughter, Tena Marie Hutcheson of Baldwin; two sons, Tim Hutcheson and Michael Hutcheson, both of Baldwin; his father, Bodell Hutcheson of Baldwin; a sister, Mrs. Joyce Alvarez of Chicago, Ill.; and a brother, Boyce Hutcheson of Booneville.

Waters Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

HARE'S STORE — Mrs. Ural Hare has operated a country store at Hill's Chapel for about 52 years. She says one of the best things about owning a country store is "being with people." (Photo by Angela Smith)

Ural Hare... From School Teacher To Store Keeper

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

WHEN URAL HARE was a little girl all she wanted was to be a schoolteacher, to own a pair of high top button boots and to have a sweetheart who drove a buggy.

She grew up as a teenager in the "Roaring Twenties" and by then high top button boots were no longer stylish and her fiancé, Allen Hare, drove a Chevrolet instead of a buggy.

But she did become an elementary school teacher after attending school at Blythe's Chapel, Hill's Chapel, Pisgah and Union University.

Her teaching career spanned two years in Arkansas before school consolidation cost her the teaching position she had.

She returned to Prentiss County where she and her father, the late Houston D. Breedlove, opened a store at Hill's Chapel near the gin and sawmill.

THAT WAS 52 years ago. Ever since then Ural Hare has operated a "country store."

She's 75 years old now.

"Everybody's tried to get me to retire," Mrs. Hare says. "But I wouldn't know what to do if I did."

What's one of the best things about owning a country store?

"Being with people," she says.

And since this is election year there have been many candidates who have walked across the wooden floor at her store.

But some of the candidates she may not see again... until another election year rolls around.

Election

All four candidates are presently serving as justice court judges. However, a change in state law since the last election four years ago has reduced the number of justice court judges in the county from five to two.

Incumbent fifth district supervisor William L. McKinney failed by only a few votes to win re-election in the first primary over his five opponents. He will face Floyd Dodds in the runoff Tuesday.

Incumbent District 3 Representative W.J. (Billy) McCoy will face Mike Chase in Tuesday's runoff. Glen Goodwin was eliminated from that race in the balloting on Aug. 2.

Also seeking re-election, incumbent Northern District Public Service Commissioner D.W. Snyder faces Roy Alexander Tuesday. Two other challengers were eliminated in the first primary.

Among statewide races, Evelyn Gandy is making a strong second bid for the Democratic nomination for governor against incumbent Attorney General Bill Allain. Miss Gandy, who was then Lieutenant Governor of the state, was defeated four years ago by present governor William Winter. In the Secretary of State race, John Ed Ainsworth and Dick Molpus are all that remain from a field of seven who faced off in the first primary.

Ray Mabus and F. Mason Shelby Jr. also survived the first round in the decision for a new State Auditor of Public Accounts. Murray Cain was third in the Aug. 2 balloting.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I have heard that the 120 as well as the apostles received the baptism of the Holy Ghost in Acts 2. Is this correct?

ANSWER: No, this is not correct. You will notice in reading your Bible that the pronouns which talk about the baptism of the Holy Spirit always refer to the apostles and not the 120. For example, in verse 7, the multitude said, "Are not all these which speak Galileans?" The apostles were known as "men of Galilee" (Acts 1:11) There is not evidence that the 120 were all from Galilee. The text says, "These men are full of new wine." The apostles were all men but the 120 consisted of both men and women (see Acts 1:14,15). Then, in verse 15, Peter stood up with the other apostles and said, "These men (apostles) are not drunken as ye suppose." From this we understand that if the 120 had been baptized with the Holy Ghost he would have stood up with the 120, instead of the apostles and would have said "These men and women are not drunk." Then in verse 37, the audience said, "Unto Peter and the apostles" not to the 120. You will note in the last verse of Chapter 1, Matthias was numbered with the eleven apostles. Then, the Bible says "THEY" (the apostles) were with one accord. I hope this will help you.

MARIJUANA CONFISCATED - Third district constable Bob Glover (right) confiscated two patches of marijuana in Prentiss County this week, adding up to a total of approximately 82 plants. The first batch of 32 plants was located northeast of Wheeler Sunday morning. The second batch of 50 plants were discovered about three miles east of Baldwin Monday afternoon, he said. No arrests have been made in connection with either incident, but Glover said he expects to make an arrest in a few days in connection with the marijuana found near Baldwin.

STOLEN VEHICLE - Booneville police officers Hubert Kitchens and Jess Chaffin are shown with a stolen 1980 Chevrolet Camaro Z28 they recovered last Thursday at the Town Motel in Booneville. Charles Patterson of Amory was arrested in connection with the theft. Kitchens said he spotted the vehicle parked at the motel and became suspicious when he noticed it had a Monroe County pickup tag on it. It turned out the car had been stolen from Clinton Rogers of Route 4, Tupelo. Patterson and the vehicle have been turned over to the Tupelo Police Department for further action.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR BALDWIN — A number of Prentiss County officials were on hand for recent groundbreaking ceremonies for a new industry to be located in the Baldwin industrial park. The Prentiss County Development Association and the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors played a large role in helping Liberty Diversified narrow their selection down to three towns in Northeast Mississippi — Baldwin, Booneville, and Pontotoc — and finally deciding on Baldwin. The Minnesota-based firm will manufacture plastic packaging and household goods through plastic injection molding. When completed, the new factory will initially employ 100-150 people. Operations should begin around the first of the year. (Photo by Scott McKinney)

Board Meeting

Renovation Projects Planned At NEMJC

If the State Building Commission gives their okay, renovation projects will begin at Holliday Hall and Anderson Hall on the Northeast Junior College Campus, according to NE President Harold T. White. During their Aug. 9 meeting, the Northeast Junior College board of trustees gave their approval to the building and grounds committee to request that the State Building Commission reallocate $105,238.20 for two renovation projects in Holliday Hall and Anderson Hall, White said. The renovations, if approved, would consist of changing space in classrooms and laboratories in those buildings, he said. The board of trustees also approved hiring two faculty members. Dr. Charles D.

Johnson of Booneville will become the director of dental hygiene and C. David Coln of Corinth was hired as a production machine operator instructor at the Northeast Extension Center in Corinth. They will assume their positions this fall, White said. The board also gave authorization to employ a third instructor of data processing technology. The board gave the go ahead to purchase through the Central Data Processing Authority 19 IBM personal computers and auxiliary equipment and software. "The software being purchased will allow instruction in five languages," White said. "The memory capacity of the equipment being requested is 128KB with additional disk drive storage."

Terri Robertson, instructor for a leisure learning class in gymnastics, was approved as supplemental personnel for July 1-Aug. 5, 1983. The board authorized a request to advertise for bids for the following items: Printing of college stationery; printing of View book; printing of curriculum cards; printing of Facts folders; welding supplies; and equipment for industrial maintenance program. The board ratified the tabulation on the following bids for basketball equipment and supplies: (women's basketball) All American Inc. of Memphis, $1,083.20; Hebbitt Sporting Goods of Florence, Ala., $564; Johnsey's Sporting Goods of Jackson, Tenn., $20.10; and Winner's Circle of Corinth, $17.15;

(Men's basketball) All-American Inc. of Memphis, $13,024; Johnsey's Sporting Goods, $590; and Winner's Circle, $54. Bids for dental hygiene supplies were accepted as follows: Dixie Dental of Jackson, Miss., $1,325.70; Saslow Dental of Jackson, Miss., $2,639; and Sherrer Laboratories of Dallas, $124. Bids for band equipment and expendable supplies were awarded to National Educational Music Co. of Summit, N.J., $12,406; Wichita Band Instruments Inc. of Wichita, Kan., $1,292; Marching Music Limited of Belleville, Ill., $980; and Wright's Music Co. of Jackson, Miss., $273.60. Bids for physical education supplies and tool and dye making equipment were opened. They will be tabulated and presented to the board at the September meeting at which time they will be awarded. During the meeting a plaque was presented to G.W. (Buster) Hines for his 35 years of service as a junior college trustee from the Mississippi Junior College Trustees Association. Board members present for the meeting were Alva Blakney and Bob Yarber of Tishomingo County; G.W. Hines and Hilton Richey of Union County; Troy Holliday and Eugene Taylor of Tippah County; Larry McCollum and Tony Parker of Alcorn County; Lex Cain, Mrs. Virginia Gordon, Roy Green, Thomas Keenum, Edward McCoy, and W.C. Williams of Prentiss County. Board member Sammy Dowdy of Union County was absent.

For Coming Year

City, County Schools Launch Assistant Teacher Programs

The Booneville Municipal Separate School District and the Prentiss County School District have launched their assistant teacher programs for the first grade for the coming year. Section 26 of the Mississippi Education Reform Act of 1982 requires that each first grade teacher have an assistant. The role of the assistant teacher is to work in the instructional program of the first grade. The assistant is to reinforce the first-grade teacher by working with individual children, working with small groups of children, and assisting the teacher during large group instruction. In addition, the assistant will share in the clerical duties of the teacher, freeing her to spend more time teaching the children. The Booneville and the Prentiss County districts recently combined efforts in providing a week of inservice training for the assistant teachers, first grade teachers, and principals. The week of inservice training began with consultant Dorothy Tennyson, assistant superintendent of West Point Schools, conducting training sessions for the assistants. They studied characteristics of the six-year-old, discipline techniques, readiness, manuscript writing, building background experiences for the child through language experience, reading to children, story telling, teaching the basic sight vocabulary, and working with the basal program. The inservice training continued with sessions designed to make assistants, teachers and principals aware of the assistant teacher program guidelines, roles of the principal, teacher and assistant teacher in the program, and administration aspects of the Assistant Teacher Program. These sessions were conducted by Garry English, guidance counselor, Prentiss County Schools; R.D. Griffin, superintendent, Booneville schools; and Martha Weatherford, curriculum coordinator, Booneville schools. The week-long session concluded with the assistant teachers receiving one-on-one training in individual schools with the first-grade teachers and principals.

Talk 'O The Town

Street Opinion

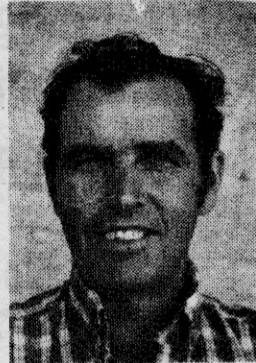

QUESTION: Why do you think there is usually a lower voter turnout for the second primary as compared to the first primary?

J.G. McCOY of Route 2, Booneville: "I guess a lot of times people lose the candidates they're interested in and lose interest in the second primary."

LORRAINE HURD of Route 2, Baldwin: "They just don't want to vote and some of them don't have time. The candidates they wanted might not have gotten in the second primary so they just won't go back to vote in the second primary."

CHARLES CLEVE-LAND of Route 7, Booneville: "Because there's less people running. People will vote for their close friends in the first primary and they won't vote for the ones they don't know if they get in the second primary."

LINDA RUTHERFORD of Route 2, Booneville: "Maybe because the candidates they were for in the first primary didn't get in the second primary and the ones in the second primary are not up to their specifications."

RICHARD SHELTON of Route 3, Booneville: "There's not as many people running in the second primary. They lost their votes in the first primary so they don't vote in the second primary."

ALFRED HARP of Adams Street, Booneville: "A lot of people won't go vote in the second primary because they didn't get their candidates to start with. Their man was left out so they don't think there's any need to go back and vote. There's where they look at it wrong. That's when they should want to vote."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

Everybody loses keys. Except me. Until the other day. Usually I keep my keys on my desk so I can reach them quickly because I never know when I will have to rush out for food for some hungry Banner-Independent employees.

Late one afternoon I discovered that my car keys were no where in sight.

I had looked in my purse, on my desk, and in my car. I knew I was in serious trouble because the keys weren't there. I knew what I had to do. I called in the "Lost Key Squad" - my fellow employees at the Banner.

We began searching the building again - even the garbage can. But our search turned up nothing.

We finally concluded that my keys were not in the building or in my car. The "Key Squad" then instructed me to call the people who had been in my office that day to see if they had possibly snatched my keys.

The first call went to former Banner photographer Tim Rowland. After all, anyone who is an accomplice to hanging my Papa Smurf doll was a likely suspect.

For once, however, Tim was innocent.

The only other prime suspect was a candidate who had been in my office checking his political advertisement.

I called him and inquired if he had pocketed my keys. He assured me he hadn't.

I was beginning to feel really discouraged by them. I asked him once more to please check in his pocket just to be sure.

And when he did, guess what he found - my keys. He claimed he picked them up accidentally and that he had no idea he had them. I believe him. Sort of.

But you know what that means. Whenever this particular candidate comes in the office now, we all hide our keys.

It Happened Again

When I returned from lunch Friday I discovered that my office had been Bannerized again.

This time there were streamers hanging from my florescent light. My desk drawer was also filled with packing material - little bits and pieces of paper. And a chain had been tied around my chair and desk.

But worst of all, my Papa Smurf doll was found hanging from the ceiling again. (Yes, he's still blue in the face.)

I can't prove it of course, but I believe the perpetrator to be the sports writer, Scott McKinney. I think he's been taking lessons from Cliff Long.

Eyes On Mississippi

Good Show For The 'Boys Of Spring'

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - The "boys of spring" did very well in the first Democratic Primary on Aug. 2. Now the question is: can they do as well in the runoff?

In case you haven't heard, the "boys of spring" are the bright young men in pin stripes with whom Gov. William Winter surrounded himself in the governor's office. They were given the "boys of spring" label by journalists back in 1982 when they marshalled Winter's public crusade for educational improvements.

That crusade - aimed at getting a favorable legislative response back in the spring of 1982 - failed initially, but eventually had its role in favorable results in the "Christmas miracle" special session of December 1982.

Two of the main "boys" on the Winter staff team - Ray Mabus, Winter's former executive counsel and federal-state programs director Dick Molpus - decided to get out into the front line of politics by seeking statewide offices.

To the surprise of many, Mabus led the ticket in the first primary for State Auditor, and Molpus managed to struggle out as the leader in a close five-way race for Secretary of State.

Both now face tough runoffs. Molpus must face former State Land Commissioner John Ed Ainsworth in the Secretary of State showdown for the Democratic nomination (Republican Jerry Gilbreath is awaiting the victor in November). Mabus must do battle with Mason Shelby, presently the chief deputy to State Auditor Hamp King.

That Mabus and Molpus did as well as they did in the Aug. 2 primary is credited by many to the relative popularity Winter is enjoying at this stage as an outgoing governor.

Winter had been accused in some political circles of fielding a "ticket" in the Aug. 2 primary that included Mabus and Molpus, as well as State Treasurer Bill Cole, a former chief administrative assistant to Winter, and topped by Mike Sturdivant, the gubernatorial third place finisher whom Winter was thought to favor.

At one point, this "ticket" was alleged to also have included Niles McNeel for Attorney-General. But McNeel was subsequently dropped from the printed cards distributed statewide by Bill Gilbert, the first round foe of Cole in the Treasurer's race.

Gilbert was believed to have printed several hundred thousand of the cards with the purported Winter "ticket" to get back at the Winter administration for some supposed grievance. One administration source said it was because he was not given a job by the administration.

At any rate, Winter stoutly denied he had any sort of a ticket, and his denials appeared quite plausible to close observers of the state political scene.

However, it remains to be seen if the cards distributed by Gilbert may yet take their toll in the political decisions still to be made by the voters.

Obviously it did not hurt Cole, Gilbert's chief target, because he was a runaway winner. However, Cole was an incumbent and had put distance between himself and Winter.

McNeel, who as a circuit judge until he resigned to run for Attorney General had opposed the Winter program for alternative sentencing of convicted felons, made a special effort and had his name taken off the second batch of Gilbert cards printed. He believed the original listing of his name on the "ticket" did hurt him.

Apart from the fact that Mabus polled far more votes in the first against a more seasoned political figure, than almost anyone expected, the former Winter assistant turned into a far different kind of campaigner than his ex-boss has ever been in his many statewide races.

While Winter was never good at going on the attack, and never really tried, Mabus came out with a hard-hitting offensive against the long-standing "hand-me down" system of picking State Auditors, charging the office has been "soft" on errant county officials, and slow in producing audits.

The runoff for Mabus shapes up as a battle against tougher odds. Generally, county supervisors and other county courthouse politicians around the state are believed to strongly favor Shelby because he poses far less of a threat to the status quo than Mabus.

Some observers say that the county courthouse pols underestimated Mabus' strength in the first primary, but they won't be caught napping this time.

The Molpus bid against Ainsworth provides no similar distinctions. It's a case of a bright young man who came out of business life to serve state government in an important appointive job, and doing it well, versus a former statewide elected official who helped bring about progressive change while he was in office.

Both Ainsworth and Molpus can lay claim to having done important things for public education - Ainsworth in pushing for the 16th section school land reform bill back in 1978, and Molpus in helping with the passage of the 1982 school reform act.

While polls show Winter enjoys exceptionally high public esteem for an outgoing governor, he also has a negative sentiment out there which may be fed by the emotions being raised in the gubernatorial runoff.

All this enters into the way Mississippians make their political decisions and it could have its effect on the "boys of spring."

Letters

Objects To Stray Pets Being Dropped In Neighborhood

Dear Editor:

I am asking that you please print this letter in your paper.

Within the last few months, I and my neighbors have been overrun by stray dogs. I live on Hwy. 364, between Altitude and Hwy. 30. Since my house sits between old 364 and the new highway, this has made it convenient for people to dump unwanted dogs and cats on us.

Since most are "eaten up" with mange, this creates a health hazard. These strays are sometimes around our hunting dogs and our children.

I take care of this problem the only way I can. But I did not create this problem, so it shouldn't be my place to solve it.

So, I am kindly asking the good citizens of this county to either find a home for these strays or destroy them. Our neighborhood is not a refuge for stray dogs.

Sincerely,
Rickey Taylor

Contributions Asked To Help Develop New Park Area

Dear Editor:

A few years ago the City of Booneville purchased 40 acres of land adjacent to the West Side City Park for future expansion of our park.

This past year the city has been working to develop part of this plot into a football field. The dirt work has been done and the field has been sodded with grass. We are now ready for stadium seats, lights and concession stands and we now need your help.

We desperately need to raise in excess of $200,000 for these items and we are asking our local industries, merchants, businessmen and the public in general to help us with this very worthwhile project.

Future plans for the remainder of the acreage include jogging trails and also nature trails. We hope that with these plans to be able to provide activities for all ages and groups in our park area.

Any and all donations will be greatly appreciated. Please help us with this endeavor.

Sincerely,
R.G. Houston
Alderman and Park Commissioner

Prepare Catch For Storage

By
PATTY K. ROBINSON
Extension
Home Economist

MAKE SURE YOUR CATCH IS SAFE AND TASTY

You've just spent a rewarding day hauling in some nice catfish, crappie, or bass.

You're ready to call it quits for the day, but before you do, make sure your catch will be safe to eat when you get it home.

If proper precautions are taken, almost any fish can be safely transported over long distance.

It is most important to keep the fish cold. The colder the temperature, the slower the spoilage. Fresh fish will keep for seven days, under proper conditions.

Handle your fish as little as possible. And dress only the large fish. With larger, dressed fish, pack the body cavity with ice, then smother the entire fish with ice. Extremely large fish should be cut to fit the ice chest.

With a well-insulated ice chest, ice and salt, you can superchill the fish. Begin by lining the chest bottom with three to four inches of flaked or crushed ice.

You can put a rack or tray in the bottom to keep the fish from lying in the water as the ice melts.

Next add salt and mix with the ice. Finally, add a layer of fish. Now continue alternating layers until the cooler is full. Use one-half pound of salt to five pounds of ice.

Whole fish can be layered unwrapped, but dressed fish, steaks or fillets should be wrapped in clear plastic wrap.

When the cooler is full, top it off with a generous supply of ice and close the lid.

If you're traveling for several days, drain off water at overnight stops and add ice. Don't remove the fish until you arrive home.

One last tip provides the secret to freezing the fish when you get home. Use a protective glaze of a 5 percent salt solution before you wrap and freeze fish steaks and fillets.

To make a 5 percent salt solution, use two thirds cup salt to one gallon of water. Dip the fish and drain it thoroughly. Pack it tightly in moisture-vapor resistant wrap.

Plan on keeping lean fish, such as flounder, snapper, trout, bream and bass, no longer than six months and fatty fish, like catfish, not more than three.

Girl Scouts Visit National Center

Several local residents were among a group of 46 girls and adults from the Prairie Girl Scout Council who visited the Juliette Gordon Low Girl Scout National Center in Savannah, Ga., on Aug. 5.

The Prairie Council encompasses a 19-county area in Northeast Mississippi. More than 5,500 similar groups have visited the center since the 1956 dedication of Girl Scouting's national memorial to its founder.

The center is located in the Regency townhouse in which Juliette Gordon ("Daisy") Low was born on Halloween in 1860.

The house, which was purchased by Girl Scouts of the USA in 1953 and restored to reflect the period of Daisy's childhood, was designated as a National Historic Landmark by the U.S. Department of the Interior in 1965.

Girl Scout groups from all parts of the USA make scheduled visits to the Center. After a slide orientation and a guided tour of the parlor floor, they explore the house on their own and learn about activities that were part of girls' lives a hundred years ago.

The group left on Aug. 1, traveling by bus to Atlanta where they spent two nights at Dobbins AFB. After a day at Six Flags over Georgia they proceeded to Charleston, S.C., and spent two nights aboard the aircraft carrier USS Yorktown. They also spent a day and a night in Savannah. They arrived back home on Aug. 6.

The trip director was Mrs. Beverly Burcham of Booneville. Others in the group included Angela Burcham, Kim Cole, Shannon Jackson, Amy Pharr, Amy Tyra and Kathy Wheeler, all of Booneville.

PRENTISS COUNTY DISTRICTS 1-2-4-5
ALCORN COUNTY - RIENZI PRECINCT

Ladies and gentlemen, the facts have not changed since the first primary. I continue to ask you to consider to return BILLY McCoy to the Mississippi House of Representatives.

FOUR MAJOR REASONS

★ Performance in the House of Representatives:

Billy McCoy is known by his fellow Representatives as a hard working law maker - a man whose word is his bond. He has played a key role on major bills on Education, Highways, and Penal Reform.

★ Gaining his District a fair share of the state resources:

Billy McCoy spent many days securing additional funds for the John Bell Williams Game Management Area and the new Divide Cut Game Management Area.

Billy McCoy was a leader in the establishment and funding of a high technology training program at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Billy McCoy has been a leader in the effort to increase state funds for our State Aid Road Program and School Transportation System.

★ Committee assignments which will be retained:

Billy McCoy is a member of five important committees: Appropriation, Education, Elections, Highways, and Penitentiary.

The Appropriation Committee starts the funding process for all departments. Prentiss and Alcorn will gain from this very important committee position. Only 33 men and women serve on this committee.

The committees on Education, Elections, Highways and Penitentiary all are of great importance to the growth and safety of our district.

★ Personal Service to the citizens of Prentiss and Alcorn Counties:

Billy McCoy is perhaps best known for his intense desire to serve his fellowman: To help a young college student secure a scholarship. To aid the unemployed in their search for a meaningful job. To help the handicapped and disabled in their effort to overcome the difficult situations they must daily face.

Billy McCoy has successfully handled hundreds of such situations during the past four years.

Mr. And Mrs. Mark Prichard

Miss Morgan Weds Mr. Prichard

Miss Bronzanna (Bronzie) Morgan and Mark Prichard were married in a candlelight ceremony Saturday, June 18, at 6 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Booneville.

Dr. Bill Duncan, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Prichard, all of Booneville.

Miss Connie Murphy presided at the bride's registry table.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Glenda Wheeler, pianist; Mrs. Dawn Davidson and Brad White, vocalists; Mrs. Mary Gault Nabers, organist; and Mrs. Sherry Vernon, clarinetist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal wedding gown of white chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a Victorian neckline and a sheer scooped schiffli embroidered yoke with a berth ruffle. The yoke was sprinkled with translucent sequins.

The full skirt, which fell from a fitted waist accented with venice lace, featured four wide lace tiers and flowed into a full castilian train. Her circled fingertip veil of pure silk illusion fell from a bandeau caplet of chantilly lace encrusted with tiny seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of pure white hybrid perpetual roses and butterfly orchids intermingled with baby's breath, stephanotis and greenery.

Miss Greta Morgan served as maid of honor and Mrs. Janet Gray served as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Debra Morgan, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Robin Michael, cousin of the bride; and Miss Lisa Prichard, sister of the groom. Miss Amy Prichard, sister of the groom, served as junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore suede rose formal gowns of lustrous taffeta and they carried bouquets of a dozen miniature sterling silver roses and lilac daisies.

Little Miss Michelle Ledbetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ledbetter and cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

R.B. Prichard attended his son as best man. Groomsmen were Steve Eaton, Steve Morgan, brother of the bride, David Spain and Jan Prichard, brother of the groom. Greg Morgan served as junior groomsman.

Kenny Claunch and Jimmy Blassingame served as ushers and alcoholytes.

Master Paul Comer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Comer, served as ring bearer. He carried a hand-made white satin pillow with the names of the bride and groom and the wedding date cross-stitched on the top which was a gift to the bride from Mrs. Robert Jones.

Mrs. Morgan, mother of the bride, wore a designer's gown of cotton blue silk chiffon over poi de soi. Mrs. Prichard, mother of the groom, wore a mauve georgette crepe designer's gown. Both mothers wore corsages of double royal bouquet white orchids.

Mrs. Glenn Strange, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a bright rose dress. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Mooney, wore a pale pink dress. Mrs. Vivian Taylor, maternal grandmother of the groom, wore a pale lilac dress. Each grandmother wore a single white royal bouquet corsage.

Mrs. Larry Morgan directed the wedding with Mrs. Harold Eaton assisting.

The Reception

Immediately following the ceremony the reception was held on the decks and beside the pool at the home of the bride's parents on Brewer Street.

Mrs. Jane Cole and Mrs. Barbara Prichard, sister-in-law of the groom, presided at the bride's table and served a four-tiered white wedding cake.

Mrs. Ann Prichard and Mrs. Agnes Taylor, aunts of the groom, served the three-tiered chocolate groom's cake.

A variety of finger foods were served by Mrs. Carolyn Downs and Mrs. Pat Carnell. Punch was served by Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. Joyce Michaels.

A band played wedding music during the reception. Rice girls were Christie Cole, Amanda Miller and Kathy Wheeler.

Floating hostesses were Mrs. Jean Gaines, Mrs. Wanda Ashmore, Mrs. Linda Ledbetter, Mrs. Ruby Tittle and Mrs. Christine Scott.

The couple went to Florida for their wedding trip.

Out-Of-Town-Guests

Guests attending the wedding from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Simmons, Tupelo; Mrs. Mary Spain, Daniel and Amanda; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, Counce, Tenn.;

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Williams, Corinth; Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Taylor, Grenada; Mrs. Pearl Morgan, Joliet, Ill.; Mrs. Joyce Micheal, Robin and Bob, Joliet, Ill.; T.A. McCabe, Joliet, Ill.; Miss Lorraine Glagmann, Joliet, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Scott, Agusta, Ga., and Miss Danielle Prichard.

Rehearsal Dinner

On the eve of the wedding following the rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Prichard, parents of the prospective groom, entertained the wedding party and special guests with a poolside patio buffet dinner at their home in Foster Park.

The couple chose this time to present gifts to their attendants and those assisting with the wedding.

Miss Sheila Smith Weds Mr. James Stennett

Sheila Tucker Smith and James Austin Stennett were married Friday, July 29, at 7 p.m. in a candlelight ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. Pete McCoy officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. L.J. Tucker of Booneville and Mrs. Austin Stennett of Marietta and the late Mr. Stennett.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Weaver of Tupelo and Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Tucker of Pontotoc.

The groom is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Bullard and the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stennett.

The bride wore a formal gown of ivory satin. The modified empire bodice was embellished with alencon lace featuring a high Victorian neckline. The satin skirt was bordered in lace and extended into a chapel train.

Martha Lanita Glidewell, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a formal-length gown of blue chiffon.

Rose Lynn Jackson, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Joey Hughes, nephew of the groom, served as best man.

Dana Bowers, cousin of the bride, presided at the guest registry.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mark McCoy and Alicia Simmons entertained with songs.

After a wedding trip to

Mr. And Mrs. James A. Stennett

Texas, the couple are residing in Marietta. The bride is employed at Hair Cutting Center Beauty Salon in Booneville and the groom is self-employed in the trucking business.

Miss Windham And Mr. Morgan Wed

Miss Cherri Laree Windham and Gary Herschel Morgan were married on Sunday, June 5, at 4 p.m. in a candlelight ceremony at Baldwin First Baptist Church.

The Revs. Leo Barker and Tom F. Rayburn officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Loreda Windham and Kenneth Windham of Baldwin. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff of Wheeler and the late Mr. and Mrs. Percy Windham of Jumpertown.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel F. Morgan of Booneville. His grandparents are Mrs. E.E. Padgett and the late Mr. Padgett and the late E.M. Morgan and the late Mrs. Samantha Morgan Rinehart, all of Booneville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silkened organza. The molded bodice with Queen Anne neckline, was appliqued with pearly hand-clipped blossoms of Brussels, French Alencon and guipure lace which was also used on the modified bishop sleeves with petal-point cuffs.

The skirt, which flowed in a cathedral train, was bordered with cascades of French-pleated ruffles under bands of scalloped brussels lace. The skirt train featured bouquets and garlands of lace. Her cathedral-length veil was applied and edged with laces to match her dress and was secured to a pearly lace cap.

The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses, daisies, stephanotis and baby's breath which had white and teal stain love knots and streamers.

Tammy Prather of Baldwin served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Stephens, sister of the bride; Penney Hill, sister of the bride; Vicki DeVaughn, all of Baldwin; Tina Powell of Brookhaven; Becky Golden, Mickie Knight and Lori Turcotte, all of Clinton.

They wore gowns of singapore teal taffeta and carried bouquets of fresh cut flowers.

Carmon Holland of Booneville, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

Herschel Morgan of Booneville served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Mitch Morgan, brother of the groom; Bill Deaton, Jim Gooze and Ed Calvert, all of Booneville; Billy Morgan of Tupelo; Bud Gardner of Birmingham, Ala.; and Tim Wright of Jackson. Ushers were Tony Stephens, Keith Hill, both of Baldwin; James Knight of Clinton and Terry McCoy of Memphis.

Matthew Morgan of Tupelo, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of tropic turquoise taffeta. The mother of the groom wore a gown of peach silk jersey. The grandmothers were attired in afternoon dresses. They all wore white orchid corsages.

Mrs. Linda Chaffin of Booneville presided at the guest register. Heather Oaks of Booneville and Martha Ellen Smith of Saltville handed out programs.

Instrumental music was provided by Mrs. W.C. Sansom, organist; Mrs. Bobby Smith, pianist; and Wade Irwin, who played the flute and the saxophone. Special music was sung by Curt McLemore and Becky Butler, both of Corinth, Diane Smith of Saltillo, Doug Holland of Booneville and Becky Golden of Clinton.

Mrs. Crystal Morgan of Tupelo directed the wedding.

A garden reception around the pool followed at the home of the bride. Music was provided by Doug Holland at the piano and Eddie Wood on the drums.

After a wedding trip to Charleston and Hilton Head, S.C., the couple are residing in Jackson, Miss., where the bride is employed with The Starecase and the groom is a third year medical student at UMC.

Pre-Nuptial Parties

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Windham at Baldwin First Baptist Church March 27.

The home of Mrs. John Haynes of Baldwin was the setting for a kitchen shower and rice bag party on April 10. Several ladies assisted Mrs. Haynes in entertaining.

Mr. And Mrs. Gary Morgan

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian
George E. Allen Library

"Webster's New World Dictionary of Computer Terms" may be helpful to you if you are involved or interested in this technology. Another recently acquired self-help book is "The Money Market Fund Primer."

Books on the best-seller list are usually in demand and not on the shelf when you look for them. The library will place your name on a list desiring to be called when the book is available. Our lists are kept in the order in which we receive your requests. Best-sellers on this week's list which are available to you are: "The Little Drummer Girl," by John le Carre; "Heartburn," by Nora Ephron; "Voice of the Heart," by Barbara Taylor Bradford; "Return of the Jedi," adapted by Joan Vinge; "The One-Minute Manager," by Blanchard and Johnson; and "How to Live to Be 100 - or More," by George Burns.

Books are checked out for two weeks and normally can be renewed by phone for another two weeks. Best-sellers are an exception since others are waiting to read most of them, and they should not be held a month by the same person.

Many library users are not aware that a volume of an older set of encyclopedias can be checked out. Other reference material that is updated regularly can also be checked out in an older edition. Magazines of which the library has two copies may be checked out, too. Since these are always gift copies, they are likely to be older issues, but they are often useful for term papers or for extended reading.

"The Readers Guide to Periodical Literature" is an index of articles published in magazines that will make your search easier. This and other aids to research are often overlooked. Ask for help from our library personnel and let us introduce them to you.

Fighting and Winning For A Better Mississippi Future

Attorney General Bill Allain has an action plan to build a better future for Mississippi. His battles against unfair utility rates, against dumping nuclear waste in Mississippi, and against legislators' serving on State boards and commissions have shown the type of Governor Bill Allain will make for Mississippi. He will always stand up for the people.

As your Governor, Bill Allain will fight for:

- Education: Bill Allain will work for a strengthened vocational education system, for an education trust fund, and for better teachers' salaries. He will appoint strong, pro-education people to the new Lay Board of Education.
- Jobs: Bill Allain will set up a job bank and seek new and expanded industry to provide jobs for unemployed Mississippians.
- Law Enforcement: Bill Allain wants more staff in the State Bureau of Narcotics and a drug education program in our schools.
- Farmers: Bill Allain has proposed a low-interest equipment loan program for farmers, processors, and seafood fishermen.
- Fair Utility Rates: Bill Allain's record against unfair utility rates is clear - he won't stand for it. He has already pledged to fight the phone company's plan to double your rates.
- Senior Citizens: Bill Allain will establish a senior citizen discount program with local merchants.

Bill Allain has fought and won for you before. Let's keep him winning for all Mississippians. Vote on August 23 to make Bill Allain your fighting Governor.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIFTH DISTRICT

I want to express my appreciation to the voters who made it possible for me to enter the second primary for supervisor. Also, I wish to thank the other candidates for the manner in which they conducted their campaign, and I earnestly solicit their vote and influence in the August 23rd Primary.

Most people think of a supervisor as one who only maintains the roads in his district. It is important for the voters to know what authority and responsibilities they give the man they elect. What are some of the duties and responsibilities of a supervisor? Besides maintaining the roads of his district, he has the authority to set the tax rate, float bonds and bring new jobs into the county. As I stated previously in other political announcements, this county is scheduled for reappraisal this year. This reappraisal was purposely delayed until after the August primaries. Also, we pay more property taxes and our car tags cost more than our neighboring counties while the average income in Prentiss County is quite less. I believe these things can be changed, and if I am elected I intend to do what I can to bring about these changes.

My plans for the maintenance of the roads will be to pull the ditches on an annual basis, more often if needed. An entire road will be gravelled if necessary. Priorities for paving roads will be determined by population and traffic flow. The road with the largest number of houses per mile and the most traffic will be first in line for paving.

I have tried to contact every voter in the district but as you know this is not possible in such a short period of time. I want to apologize to you that I missed and solicit your vote and influence in the coming election. If you want to see improvements in your district in the coming four years go to the polls on August 23rd and elect Floyd Dodds supervisor of the 5th District.

Thank You,
Floyd Dodds

By MARY EDDIE TYUS
Correspondent

Those visiting Mrs. Verda Mae Stubblefield last week were Mrs. Mary Lou Purvis, Ann and Cathy McCostlin, Mrs. Betty Sue Hutcheson, all of Baldwin and Mrs. Mary E. Tyus of the community.

We had a great day at our church Sunday. At the 11 a.m. worship service Bro. Wallis preached a message entitled "A Self Life or a Christ Life." He will finish this message next Sunday. We had a baptismal service Sunday night.

Clifford Glover visited his daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Eston Stevens of Booneville on Saturday.

We send congratulations to the Rev. and Mrs. Jimmy Glover. They are the proud parents of a baby daughter. She was born July 29 and weighed 6 lbs. 5 ozs. She has been named Jimma Ann. She was welcomed home by her brother, Billy, and sister, Jane. She is also welcomed by her community.

We send get well wishes to Mrs. Kimberly Hughes who is in the Methodist Hospital in Memphis. Our love and prayers are with her.

Guests of Mrs. Mary E. Tyus last week were Mrs. Jane Taylor and Beth Simpson of New Albany, Mrs. Corinne Ball of Amory, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bonds, Mrs. Juanita Shearon, Vicki and Jennifer of Booneville, Mrs. Lois Morris and Mrs. Martha Cagle, Sharon and Mark of the community. Mrs. Tyus visited Mrs. Quay McCord of Wheeler on Tuesday.

Mrs. Mildred Baxter and Jason spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Glover of the Wheeler community. Also Mrs. Baxter and Frankie Hendrix of Wheeler visited overnight Saturday with their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Perry and their sister, Mrs. Jessie Gist of Fulton.

Visiting Mrs. Bobbie Nell Jenkins last week were her grandson, Richard Davis of Aberdeen, Mrs. Christine Huddleston of Booneville and Mrs. Coy Gardner of Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. McElroy of Booneville and Mr. and Mrs. Vardaman Boren of Marietta surprised their sister, Mr. and Mrs. W.H. DeVaughn with a fish fry on Saturday night. The McElroy's brought the fish and the Boren's brought the trimmings. The food and fellowship was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Peggy Tolar and Allison and W.D. Pruitt spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hughes and Shannon of Memphis. Shannon returned home with them.

Supper guests of Mrs. Bettie Key Sunday night were Mrs. Jo Anne Sides and Mary, Mrs. Joyce Chism, and Mrs. Irene Wallace, Sandra and Nancy.

Mrs. Mary Jane Harling and Mrs. Essie Merryman visited Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Floyd of Wheeler on Sunday afternoon.

Farmers participating in the 1983 programs to designate Conservation Use Acreage are required to clip or bushhog the area designated if it has been designated for two years or more.

Other Conservation Use Acreage may be mowed, clipped or other means taken to control weeds at the option of the producer.

If the Conservation Use Acreage is to be maintained in a clean tilled condition throughout the growing season a request must be filed at the County Office and approved by the County Committee.

Exchange Of Grain Stocks

The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) will issue an announcement for the Exchange of Grain Stocks under Payment-in-Kind Announcement No. KC-PIK-831 and PIK Exchange Program Invitations to request offers to exchange corn and sorghum stocks with CCC.

The exchange program will enable CCC to fulfill its obligations under the Payment-in-Kind (PIK). All warehousemen having an approved Uniform Grain Storage Agreement or PIK Handlers Agreement with CCC will be sent the announcement and invitations.

If a warehouseman or handler interested in submitting an offer does not receive a copy of the announcement and invitations from the Kansas City Commodity Office (KCCO) within a few days following the scheduled mailing date he should contact the State ASCS Office, telephone number (601) 960-4300.

The following schedule shows the mailing date for the announcement and invitation to Mississippi warehousemen and handlers and the closing date for receipt of exchange offers:

Aug. 5 - KCCO mails announcement and invitation for the exchange of corn to cover Mississippi needs.

Aug. 19 - Closing date for receipt of offers in KCCO to cover corn and sorghum obligations for Mississippi.

Milk Deduction Increases

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block recently announced the U.S. Department of Agriculture will increase the deduction from proceeds of sale of all milk sold commercially

Sept. 1, 1983 through Sept. 30, 1984 by 50 cents to a total of $1 per hundredweight. Deductions will be remitted to USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation to help offset the cost of the milk support program, he said.

Producers who reduce their commercial milk marketing for Sept. 1, 1983, through Sept. 30, 1984 (the last month of the 1982-83 marketing year and the whole 1983-84 marketing year) by 8.4 percent from the average of the two marketing years that began Oct. 1, 1980, will receive refunds of the second 50 cent deduction.

Block also announced that the price support level for manufacturing grade milk (3.67 average fat content) will continue at $13.10 per hundredweight for the marketing year beginning Oct. 1, the minimum level of support authorized by law.

Both the deductions and the minimum support price level are authorized by last year's amendment to the Agriculture Act of 1949. These actions have been taken to reduce milk production and to reduce costs of the dairy price support program, according to Block.

CCC is authorized to deduct 50 cents if the government expects to purchase annually in excess of 5 billion pounds (milk equivalent) of dairy products.

An additional 50 cent deduction is authorized if government dairy purchases annually are expected to exceed 7.5 billion pounds and there is a refund program in place. CCC expects to purchase more than 16 billion pounds of dairy products in the year ending Sept. 30 and more than 11 billion pounds during the 1983-84 marketing year.

Cotton Purchase Program Revised

Beginning Aug. 8, the U.S. Department of Agriculture will offer to acquire 1980, 1981, and 1982 crop upland cotton from farmers who have cotton pledged as collateral for outstanding Commodity Credit Corporation price support loans, according to Block.

The new purchase program, which is authorized by recent legislation, will allow CCC to acquire cotton to fulfill obligations under the payment-in-kind program, he said.

Farmers with cotton pledged as collateral for a CCC loan may submit offers to sell their cotton to CCC Aug. 8-24, at the county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service where the loan was obtained. The offer must specify the quantity of cotton the farmer offers to sell to CCC and the number of bales of cotton CCC must pay the farmer as in-kind compensation.

Offers to sell cotton to CCC may be submitted without regard to any maximum bid percentage of the total quantity of cotton offered for sale to CCC. CCC will accept all zero bids.

The factors in determining bid acceptance include the date the bid was offered, the bid percentage, the crop year of cotton offered (1980, 1981 and 1982-crop cotton will be reviewed and evaluated separately) and the quantities needed to satisfy PIK obligations.

Producers who have previously submitted bids to sell 1982-crop cotton to CCC which were accepted under the previous cotton purchase program may submit a new bid, Block said. The new bid will nullify the previous bid.

The previously announced requirement that some producers obtain loans on the 1983 crop cotton production has been suspended, Block said. However, if a sufficient quantity of cotton is not acquired under this cotton purchase program to satisfy PIK obligations, producers may be required to obtain a loan on their 1983 crop production for PIK purposes.

The suspension of the "harvest for PIK" requirement combined with the new purchase program will delay the PIK availability for some producers, since CCC cannot determine how much cotton will be available until after the bids have been evaluated, Block said.

The processing of the purchased cotton into CCC inventory will also result in some delay, he said. These delays should not affect producers with whole base bids or producers with sufficient cotton to satisfy PIK from loans, according to Block.

Northeast Registration

Aug. 22-23

Registration for Northeast Junior College's 1983 fall session will be Aug. 22-23 on the Booneville campus. Classes will begin Aug. 24.

Returnees and new students who have not pre-registered should report to Patterson Hall on either Monday or Tuesday according to the following schedule: A-F - 8:30 a.m.; G-K - 9:30 a.m.; L-Q - 10:30 a.m.; and R-Z - 1:30 p.m.

At those times, students will meet with faculty advisers to plan class schedules, pay registration fees, have student I.D. pictures and student yearbook pictures made.

Residence halls will open Aug. 21. Students whose last names begin with A-M should report to the Office of Student Affairs in Estes Hall at 1:30 p.m. to receive dorm assignments, while those whose last names begin with N-Z should plan to arrive at 3 p.m.

The business office will be open for residents to pay their fees prior to checking into the dorms Sunday afternoon.

Students who choose not to register on the regular registration dates will register in the Office of Admissions in Estes Hall no later than Sept. 6.

For additional information about fall registration, contact the Office of Admissions at 728-7751, ext. 239.

THANKS

From my heart I thank you for being so nice to me and especially those who supported and voted for me.

We ran and we voted as free men have a right to do. Let's continue to do this that we may remain free-no pressure, no deals and no obligations except to God and our neighbor:

"For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" Matt. 16:26

Again I thank you all.

MUSHROOMS ON TREES MAY BE SIGN OF DECAY

If you've ever been in the woods in summertime, you can probably recall having seen "conks" -- called mushrooms by many -- growing on old logs and stumps.

Conks are the fruiting bodies of fungus, and they denote decay, for they are, by definition, the "fructification of a wood-destroying body." These organisms of decay are important in nutrient cycling and thus are very beneficial to the forest.

There are other fungi that live in the outer bark of a tree and use the tree only for support. These are in no way detrimental to the tree.

However, there are several additional fungi that may enter the inside of a living tree, through wounds to the trunk or to the roots, and cause decay, which in turn, can structurally weaken the tree to the point that it becomes a casualty in a wind storm. Still other fungi have been known to slowly kill a tree.

If you have a tree with fungus fruiting bodies of any kind on it -- and this is the time of year they are likely to show up -- it would be a good idea to have an arborist or forester take a look.

Meantime, to avoid the likelihood of harm from decay organisms, be careful to protect tree trunks and surface roots from damage from vehicles, mowers, axes and string-type weeding devices -- or any other type of wound.

ELECT MIKE CHASE REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT 3

The most important duty of a legislator is the enacting of laws. A Representative should be constantly seeking to develop and introduce legislation to benefit the people of his district and state. One who introduces legislation can design it for maximum benefits to his district. One who lets others do the introducing is often left in the position of trying to amend bills to minimize harm to his district.

MIKE CHASE HAS PLEDGED TO INTRODUCE THE FOLLOWING LEGISLATION:

- Repeal of unfair tax increases on consumers
- Increase in oil and gas severance tax
- Initiative and Referendum
- Legislation to reduce the powers of the Speaker of the House
- Constitutional amendment to guarantee the right of citizens to elect their county school board and county Superintendent of Education
- Repeal of a provision of the Education Reform Act which gave the Education Finance Commission absolute power to order school consolidation
- Legislation implementing a five-point plan for educational improvement
- A loan guarantee program to help farmers threatened with foreclosure
- A freeze on telephone rates to elderly and disabled persons on social security
- Comprehensive legislation to control phone rates
- Legislation to prevent Mississippi from becoming a graveyard of nuclear and chemical wastes from other states
- Strong, tough ethics laws for public officials
- A program to help locate doctors in small communities and towns

THE PRESENT REPRESENTATIVE HAS

Lagging Prices And Insects Continue To Plague Farmers

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi
Farm Bureau Federation

Mississippians, be nice to your neighborhood farmers. They need it!

After taking it on the chin for nearly a decade now - hoping that things would really click for them for a change - state farmers are entering what is normally the mid-season period several weeks late with most of their crops, insects taking liberties as virtually never before, prices generally still stagnated, and hope for autumn profits practically non-existent.

A pessimistic outlook? You bet.

Recently agriculturalists came together in Jackson through the auspices of the Association of Mississippi Agricultural Organizations to hear specialists with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service paint an ugly picture for the 1983 crop year.

The cold wet spring following a long mild winter was not what the insect doctor ordered, according to Extension entomologists. Chewing insects are on standby in the fringe of fields waiting for farmers to put on their annual picnic spread.

Only this year it was worse. With no bone-chilling hard freezes to freeze many of them to death during the winter, the resident population of boll weevils, bollworms, budworms and various other prsts survived the rigorless winter.

And with more field residue than usual because of the federal Payment-in-Kind crop set-aside program, insect pests had more places to colonize through the winter.

Entomologist Bob Head told the farm gathering that Mississippi is experiencing a large build-up of insects that in some counties is ten times greater than a year ago. The weevil head count is ascertained through 300 miles of weevil trap lines located through the delta country.

Head reported that his agency is utilizing the services of a Texas computer to monitor the destructive activities going on in Mississippi cottonfields which peaked in many counties the first week of July.

And if cotton pests are not enough, this state is reeling from stinkbug attacks in south Mississippi in alarming proportions. These pests are invading wheat-fields in such numbers, Head reports, that farmers have been forced to stop and clean their combines of their gummy little carcasses.

One delta cotton grower has reported a destructive raid on his fields by a sphinxworm - an ugly long creature that looks like a tomato hornworm but whose appetite is less epicurean.

Dr. George Mullendore reports that Mississippi's '83

cotton crop is faring poorly in many places because of the lateness of the season, cool nights, and too much moisture. He believes the best state growers can hope for is an average crop. Average temperatures for May and June were the second lowest on record.

Cotton crops are generally too grassy because of the weather conditions, which will affect yields.

Grain crops specialist Wayne Jordan gave no better prediction for wheat, grain sorghum and corn. Wheat was planted too late because of the weather and is being harvested late - too late for optimum double cropping results with soybeans. Further, rains have caused some maturing wheat to sprout in the stalk. Wheat yields are down into the mid-30-bushel-per-acre range in too many areas.

Grain sorghum on approximately 200,000 acres over Mississippi is looking ragged following aphid attacks. Corn has similar problems and will need August rain to make a decent crop.

About the only crop that got a fairly good report was rice which is looking pretty good despite its lateness and more grass in the fields than usual.

To make matters worse, ag weatherman Gene Wrench of the Stoneville weather station reports more weather for the next 3 months that likely will be cooler and wetter than usual.

For City And County Schools

Free Meals Program Announced

The Booneville and Prentiss County school districts have announced their policy for free and reduced price meals for children served under the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown on the accompanying chart are eligible for free or reduced price meals.

Application forms are to be sent from the schools to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the office in each school.

The information provided on the application will be used to determine eligibility, and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or program officials.

For school officials to determine eligibility, the household must provide the following information listed on the application: names of all household members, social security numbers of all adult household members or a statement that the household member does not possess one; amount of total household income; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct.

Households are required to report increases in household income of over $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children and wishes to apply for such meals, it should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy, the principal at each school will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the decision of the principal, he or she may discuss it with that principal, or may make a formal appeal.

In the city school district, a request for an appeal hearing should be made either orally or in writing to Superintendent R.D. Griffin, Booneville Municipal Separate School District, P.O. Box 387, Booneville, MS 38829. Appeals in the county school system should be made to Superintendent Lex Cain, Prentiss County School System, P.O. Box 147, Booneville, MS 38829.

The policy on file in each school and in both superintendents' offices contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If, during the year, a family member becomes unemployed or if the household's size changes, the family should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for additional benefits, if the household falls at or below the levels shown on the chart.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only to determine eligibility and to verify data.

All children are to be treated the same, regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child is to be discriminated against

Child Find Program Now Underway

The Booneville Municipal Separate School District is currently involved in its Child Find Project.

This project is concerned with locating children within the community who are in need of, but not receiving, services from some type of special education program.

These include children who are mentally retarded, visually handicapped, hearing impaired, speech handicapped, learning disabled, physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed, or developmentally delayed.

The purpose of locating these children is for future planning for their individual needs. The school district needs help in locating these children. They are asking the public to refer to them any child from the age of birth through 21 with any handicapping conditions. Referrals should be made by contacting the District Child Finder, Martha Weatherford, at 728-6863, or P.O. Box 387, Booneville.

It is the responsibility of the "Child Finder" to make the public aware of the kinds of handicapped children and their right to a free, appropriate education and to receive handicapped child referrals.

The "Child Finder" sees that a follow-up is made to determine the child's educational needs. Following evaluation the child will be placed in an appropriate special program if necessary.

All records are confidential and will be maintained at the administrative office of the school involved. If the child is not in school, his records will be kept confidential in the district's central office.

Parents or guardians have the right to inspect all data collected on their handicapped child, and if they so desire, to appeal its accuracy.

Office Stress Seminar Held At NE

Members of the Northeast Mississippi Association of Educational Office Personnel hosted their annual summer workshop and luncheon June 21 in the Mississippi Room of Frank Haney Union.

Workshop leader Dr. Joe Ed Morris addressed the topic "Coping With Office Stress" while placing emphasis on stress management as it relates to secretaries and office personnel.

Dr. Morris has conducted stress management seminars throughout the Southeast. In addition, he has written numerous articles for professional journals and has served as consultant to school systems in Northeast Mississippi.

Newly elected officers of NMAEOP were installed during the luncheon. Mrs. Jeanette Graham, president of the Mississippi Association of Educational Office Personnel performed the installation ceremony. Officers of the local association for the upcoming year are Reba Hughes, president, NEMJC; Lori Comer, first vice-president, Booneville High School; Diane Hodges, second vice-president, Tippah County

Schools; Linda Burnett, secretary-treasurer, Alcorn County Schools; Janice Smart, reporter, NEMJC; Shirley Eaton, historian, NEMJC.

STATEMENT OF
W. V. HORN
CANDIDATE
SHERIFF

I am grateful for the vote I received in the first primary as a candidate for Sheriff of Prentiss County. Being one of the two top candidates out of a field of 17 is quite an honor. To the ones of you that voted for one of the other candidates in the first primary, I ask you to honestly consider me as your choice on August 23 when the race for Sheriff comes to a close.

You the people of Prentiss County on August 23 will make the final decision on what type of law enforcement we will have in Prentiss County for the next 4 years. All the law enforcement officers that serve in Prentiss County are important, but the Sheriff, as the head of the Sheriff's Department will set the tone for what type law enforcement we will have for the next 4 years. As your Sheriff, I plan to run an efficient, courteous but firm Sheriff's Department, treating all people the same regardless of who you are or what part of the county you live in. I will work with the highway patrol and other law enforcement agencies leaving their responsibilities to them, as it is the Sheriff's Department responsibility to see that law and order prevails throughout the county.

We all know that the major problems facing our county are the thefts of our homes and personal property and the drug traffic within the county. As your sheriff, I plan to make it unprofitable to the criminals that are dealing in drugs and to the criminals that continue to break into the homes of our citizens and once the profit is removed, the criminal element will look for other territory.

To have law and order, a Sheriff must have common sense and the ability to work with people. I understand how county government works, having served before as a Supervisor of the 5th District. I will be firm enough to get the job done without being overbearing. I will treat everyone the way I would expect to be treated by the Sheriff or any other law enforcement officer.

The serving of court papers is a very important function of the Sheriff's office and from time to time in the past, there has been a problem, and I will assure you that all process of the Courts of Prentiss County will be handled in an efficient manner as soon as they are delivered to the Sheriff's office by the Clerks of the County, so that all matters can proceed in an orderly fashion through the Courts.

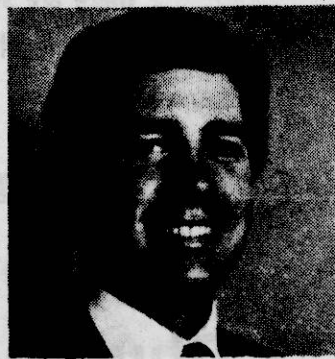

I will cooperate with the prosecuting attorneys to obtain convictions after the arrest is made. It is one thing to make arrests and have a picture put on the front page of the paper, but unless the criminal is convicted, our County is not any better off.

I sincerely solicit your vote and support on August 23, and I promise you that the Sheriff's Department with W. V. Horn as Sheriff for the next four years will be one that you can be proud of and not have to apologize to yourself and to your neighbors for voting for me.

Thank you.

ELECT
REPRESENTATIVE

THE CASE OF THE LAME DUCK APPOINTMENT

My opponent emphasizes his appointment to the appropriations committee as a reason for his re-election. Let's examine some of the facts about this appointment.

First, the appointment came in late June, after the Legislature had completed its last regular session. The appointment served no real legislative purpose.

Second, the appointment to the appropriations committee came only after your Representative was challenged by two opponents. It was one of several committee appointments handed out to legislators seeking re-election. No appointments went to Representatives who had no opposition. It is clear that if your Representative had not been opposed, he would not have been appointed to this committee.

It is apparent that the appointment was given for only one reason - to enhance the prestige of the incumbent and improve his chances for re-election. In other words, in giving this appointment, House Speaker Buddie Newman was trying to interfere with and influence the outcome of this election.

Third, the committee assignment will expire when the present legislative term expires. All committee positions will have to be reassigned in January when the new Legislature convenes. THERE IS NO GUARANTEE that Mr. McCoy would be appointed to this committee in January.

Finally, a position on the appropriations committee does not guarantee progress and prosperity. At least 10 counties with representatives on the appropriations committee are still among the poorest counties in the state.

Let's send a message loud and clear to Buddie Newman and his political friends - that the voters of this district will not tolerate outsiders interfering in their elections and trying to hand-pick their Representative for them.

ELECT MIKE CHASE ON AUGUST 23rd.

OTTO ENGLAND

Store

But that doesn't matter. The election has given her regular customers much to talk about as they sit around Hare's Store.

Her regular customers -- the ones she sees often -- those are the people she enjoys being with so much. Friends, neighbors, relatives and occasionally even someone she doesn't know -- they're all welcome in Mrs. Hare's store.

AND THEN there are the customers who have traded with her for around 45 years or more such as Chester Moss and Elton Smith.

Mrs. Hare's first store was located just up the hill from her present location in Hill's Chapel. The store was near the gin and sawmill -- which made it the perfect location for "loafers from the gin" to come to, Mrs. Hare fondly recalls.

She married Allen Hare in 1931. (She first met her husband at the store). They ran the first store with her father for about a year and then he sold it to them. They stayed in that location for 22 years.

The electricity was turned on at their store on Aug. 16, 1935. In fact, their first store was the second member of the Prentiss County Electric Power Association, she said.

Her present store was built around 1954. It was called "Hare's Store and Service Station" because her husband was a mechanic and serviced cars there.

Her husband died in 1967. They had two children, John Houston, and Phyllis Partin of Orange Park, Fla. Her son was killed in an automobile accident in 1958 while returning from college. She has two grandchildren, Bonnie Jean, 12, and Craig Allen, 9.

Mrs. Hare has been a member of Candler's Chapel Baptist Church since 1928 where she taught a training union class there for a number of years.

SHE HAS seen many people come into her store over the years. People such as Senator Pat Harrison, Senator John Stennis and Representative John Rankin just to name a few.

And if some of her "regular" customers are in the store, they will be happy to tell about the time former governor Cliff Finch kissed Mrs. Hare on the cheek.

But this incident didn't happen in her store -- it happened at her cousin's funeral. But her customers haven't let her forget it.

Mrs. Hare takes their ribbing good naturedly. About all she will say is that if Evelyn Gandy is elected governor she wants Miss Gandy to kiss her customers who enjoy teasing her about Cliff Finch.

The store is open six days a week from 8:30 a.m. until noon and from 1:30-6:30 p.m.

"There's never a time I don't want to open the store," Mrs. Hare says. "If I'm sick I'd rather be here walking the floor than at home."

IF THERE'S a product a customer needs, Mrs. Hare probably has it in her store. Tobacco and cigarettes are some of her best selling items. She even sells snuff. She sells a lot of Lion gasoline, too, and will even pump it for customers if they want her to.

Of course, prices have gone up some over the years. Soft drinks used to be a nickle and gas sold for 20 cents per gallon. Cigarettes, which are now 80 cents a pack, used to be 15 cents a pack.

Prices aren't the only things that have changed, she says.

"Younger people don't seem to have as much inner pride. Some do, of course, but many just don't care what happens. Those who do are just good as solid gold."

Perhaps the one thing that hasn't changed is how much Mrs. Hare enjoys seeing her customers. But after all, as she says, that's one of the best things about having a country store -- being with people.

"Hurry back," she calls after customers as they go out the screen door.

And they usually do.

Northeast Now Offering Associates Degree In Tool And Die Program

Advances in the curriculum of the former tool and die vocational program at Northeast Junior College have allowed the program to be reclassified as technological, according to the college's director of vocational technical educational P. Hale Aust.

"Students who enter the two-year program this fall receive the Associate in Applied Science degree upon successful completion," Aust said.

In the past, students received a certificate of completion from the clock-hour vocational program.

A primary reason for the classification change from vocational to technical education is to meet the demands of high technology in industry, according to J.T. Cartwright, instructor for the tool and die program.

Nationwide, the demand for trained tool and die machinists is on the upswing because of both natural attrition and the creation of new jobs, Cartwright explained. "It has been projected that by the end of the decade, thousands of tool and die machinists will be employed."

Approximately 75 percent of the classes offered in the new curriculum are relative to the tool and die subject matter. Students will gain shop skills in the laboratory while they learn the theory of tool and diemaking in the classroom.

The remainder of the college credit is academic, which is pertinent to the success of the student.

In addition to the curriculum changes, more sophisticated equipment has been purchased for the laboratory, Cartwright said. Among these is the computerized numerical control milling machine, valued at $40,000. The movements of the CNCM are controlled and dictated by programming a computer, which produces a precision made produce while reducing the actual hands-on labor previously required.

Another innovation is the special process of electrical discharge machining. Described as a space age machining process, the EDM makes it possible to electrically machine any complex shape.

Graduates of the two-year program will hold the equivalent of an advanced apprentice, Cartwright said.

For additional information about the new tool and die program, contact the Office of Admissions at 728-7751, ext 239, or J.T. Cartwright at ext. 382.

Booneville Happenings

By MRS. GORDON McGEE
Correspondent

Here's a correction in last weeks paper on the item about Dr. Richard Shanks and his family visiting Mrs. Shanks' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Bennett. Mrs. Shanks and children came on the 23 of July. Dr. Shanks joined them on the 30 and they attended church at First Baptist Church Sunday, July 31, returning to Houston Texas Aug. 6 where Dr. Shanks is a minister in evangelism.

Don and John Cunningham of Nashville visited recently with Miss Mable Cunningham and Tom Cunningham. Friends will be glad to know Miss Mable is doing much better.

Wednesday, Aug. 10, Mrs. Edd Ledbetter had as her dinner guests Mrs. Nell Dilworth, Wayne Brawner, and Jim Tice of Corinth. Ella Tice from Pisgah, Birdie Gleen Dobbins, Mary Lee Spencer, Sudie Loveless, and Lucas Ledbetter. They all enjoyed the meal and the fellowship.

Mrs. Reuben Magers of Baldwin has been a recent visitor of her sister, Mrs. Betty Lee Bryant.

Mrs. Martha Bryant Davis of Memphis was a guest of Mrs. A.L. Bryant last Saturday and Sunday.

Glad to report L.C. Wright is home again from Tupelo Medical Center. Best wishes and prayers for his recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Copeland of Avon Port, Fla., visited Mrs. Carrie Copeland on Aug. 7. Mr. and Mrs. King also surprised Mrs. Copeland with a visit and they all drove up to Gaston to see Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Copeland and they all enjoyed the day together.

M.Sgt. and Mrs. Jamie Rowens and sons Jamie III and Michael Googe of Minat, N. Dakota are guests of Mrs. Anne Googe Windham and Sheila Sheperd, Tupelo and Mrs. Clayton Strange of Booneville.

The Owens are formerly of Booneville and both attended North East Miss. Junior College. Mrs. Owens is the former Martha (Marty) Down. Googe Windham, daughter of Anne Windham and the late Clinton W. Windham Sr., granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Windham Sr. and late Mr. Windham and the granddaughter of the late Howard and Allen Pharr Googe of Marietta.

The Owens have recently returned from the Phillipine Islands where they lived 7 years. They will be leaving in Oct. for Upperhaves, England where they will make their home for the next four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Kelton and Wanda Dale McDougal recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kruhn and daughters Kendell and Carey in Sara Sota Fla. The group went to Disney World and Abcot Center and other points of interest. The Keltons reported a great time seeing the sites, enjoying the sun and the beach.

Mrs. Tom Bailey and Mrs. Millie Livingston of Tupelo visited last week in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Downs.

Wilford Dean Spencer of Birmingham, Ala., came last week for Mrs. Eula Mae Brown's funeral and visited with relatives and friends before returning home.

Sympathy is expressed to the family of Mrs. Mary Bolton who died last Wednesday, Aug. 10, and was buried Saturday in the Booneville Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stephenson entertained with a creole dinner in their home on George Allen Drive in honor of their niece Marty Owens and Goodson, Jamie Owens III. Among the guests were Mrs. Gaye Weeks, Mrs. Charlene Strange and Anne Windham.

Last week Mrs. Peggy Johnson of Huntsville, Ala., and Mrs. Mariam Bomar of Corinth visited their aunt, Mrs. Mamie South who is home from the hospital here in town. It's our prayer that she will continue to improve.

Among those who attended the Gaston Baptist Church's Centennial Sunday Aug. 14 were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pilgram of Jackson and weekend guests of Mrs. Coy Stutts. Mrs. Mary Adair and daughter Doris of Tupelo and weekend visitors of Mrs. Jessie Adair. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Deaton of Corinth, Billy Dowdy of Mid-America College, Memphis, Mrs. Brookie Laney (wife of deceased Rev. John B. Laney) and son of Tupelo, Mrs. Lawson Still of Memphis;

Mrs. Maxine Grenhaw of Columbus and weekend guests of Mrs. and Mrs. Frances Olive, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Wheeler of Savannah, Ga., and son and visited with Mrs. Christine Wheeler and Mary Jane, Wheeler. Mrs. Euple Lee Greenhaw of Detroit, Mich., and Miss Syble Adair of Memphis. This was a memorial day for the large crowd that came to help celebrate their 100th anniversary. Bro. Milton Koon is the pastor of this great church.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Thomason have been her great niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Steve McClain, Will and Rob of Newbern, Tenn., Will and Rob remained for a weeks visit. Mrs. Rachel Keas, niece of Mrs. Thomason and also from Newbern, accompanied her daughter to get the boys.

Mrs. Marion Duncan of First Baptist Church is away at Garagwa this week teaching in the leadership training week for Womens Missionary Camp. Bro. Duncan and sons John, Mark and david accompanied her to Jackson for a visit with Mrs. Duncans parents Mr. and Mrs. Duckworth.

In Bro. Bills absence the Rev. George Stevens, the New Baptist Chaplain at North Mississippi medical Center in Tupelo brought the 11 o'clock message.

In the evening service Dr. Jeff Johnson member of the church led in the 7:00 worship hour. Carla Bonds sang beautifully a solo "We Shall Behold Him."

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Robert Criswell had as their visitors their children, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Criswell - Lewis is director of music at Baring Cross Baptist Church Little Rock, Ark., Dr. Bruce Criswell to Ft. Walton, Fla. and is in the U.S. Navy. And each of the sons was accompanied by his family. While here they attended the funeral of their Uncle Edd Criswell in Okolona who was Editor of the Okolona Messenger. They also visited their grandmother, Mrs. Douglas Dallison who was a patient in the local hospital.

Mrs. Eunice Johnson has as her guests this week her daughters Allie Mae and Ray Lee Ryan from Flint Michigan and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Grenhaw of Detroit, Michigan.

The Hershel Thomasons spent the weekend of the 6th in Dyer, Tenn. with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Griffin. On Saturday the Thomasons had a reunion, the first in many years, and the day was spent in reminiscing, and picture taking. It was the first time some of the cousins had ever seen each other so it was also a time of getting acquainted. Jamie Thomason of Olive Branch

Miss. came home with his grandparents for a weeks visit. He returned home on Sunday, Aug. 14. Hershel's mother, Mrs. Flay Thomason went for a visit with her daughter this week - Mrs. Jeff Owens in Clinton, Ky.

Why we should elect MASON SHELBY State Auditor of Public Accounts

Mason Shelby . . . candidate for State Auditor of Public Accounts is concerned about several things in this campaign . . . first . . . the State Auditor's post is not, and should not, become a staging arena for people who have their eyes on higher office.

The State Auditor's office should, and I would recommend to the Legislature, be held only by a QUALIFIED degreed accountant with audit experience. The auditing of government accounts should not be entrusted to just anyone who walks in off the street and pays his money to qualify.

The State Auditor of Public Accounts . . . like the position of Attorney General . . . should be held by a person qualified in the field. We now face the position of an individual seeking this office who has no accounting background . . . either through training or experience.

I have worked for nearly thirty years in the audit field and have an accounting degree. Yet, I find myself facing an opponent who is untrained in this field.

I fail to understand how anyone without accounting qualifications can come in and manage an office which has 130 CPA's and graduate accountants and is responsible for auditing public officials and agencies which administer millions of dollars.

A non-accountant will not be able to control nor manage the department. He would be a paper shuffler, watching others do accounting work.

The State Auditor of Public Account's position should not be used as a political stepping stone.

The recent session of the Legislature authorized additional, and, I might add, badly needed audit staff.

Qualified personnel will be hired for these positions and I feel comfortable in telling you that audits of government agencies will be updated and handled more rapidly as a result of these additional personnel.

General Interest Classes Offered On Weekends

General interest classes which are required for a number of different college majors will be made available this fall through the weekend college program at Northeast Junior College, according to Dr. Eugene Doran, director of the school's Continuing Education Division.

The weekend college program has been readily accepted by the non-traditional student, he said.

"The concept of offering Saturday classes for those who are employed on a full-time basis has proved successful in the past, and we expect this success to continue," Dr. Doran said.

The weekend classes are an excellent beginning for many who wish to enroll in college, but are hesitant about relinquishing their present job security, he added.

Course offerings for the fall term include English composition I, child psychology, microbiology, anatomy and physiology I, physical science survey I, general physics I-A and U.S. history I.

Registration for these classes will be 6:30 p.m., Aug. 22, in Patterson Hall. Meeting from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., the classes will begin Aug. 27 and continue each Saturday through Dec. 17. The cost is $25 per semester hour plus a $10 registration fee.

New Football Field Will Not Be Ready

By SCOTT McKINNEY
Sports Writer

The only thing holding up the completion of Booneville High School's new football field is money, according to city alderman R.G. Houston. The new football field is located in the West Side City Park annex, a 40-acre plot of land purchased by the city several years ago for future expansion of the park.

Eventually, this area is expected to also have additional baseball and softball fields, a jogging trail and a nature trail.

The project to build a football field in the annex was begun last year. For many years now, BHS has played their home games on the field at Northeast Junior College. Due to the rising cost of rental fees for that stadium, the high school has been forced to build its own - with help from the city.

West Side Park director Freddie Loveless told The Banner-Independent that the football field could be completed this fall if enough money is raised.

"If we had the money and could put it (the field) on contract, it could be completed in time for the first game," he said.

However, when asked about the situation, BHS principal Mac Curlee said the BHS football team would not play any games on the field this year.

"The field still needs the stands, concession stands, press box, dressing rooms, and parking places to be completed," he said.

Thrasher High School is also in the process of completing their field.

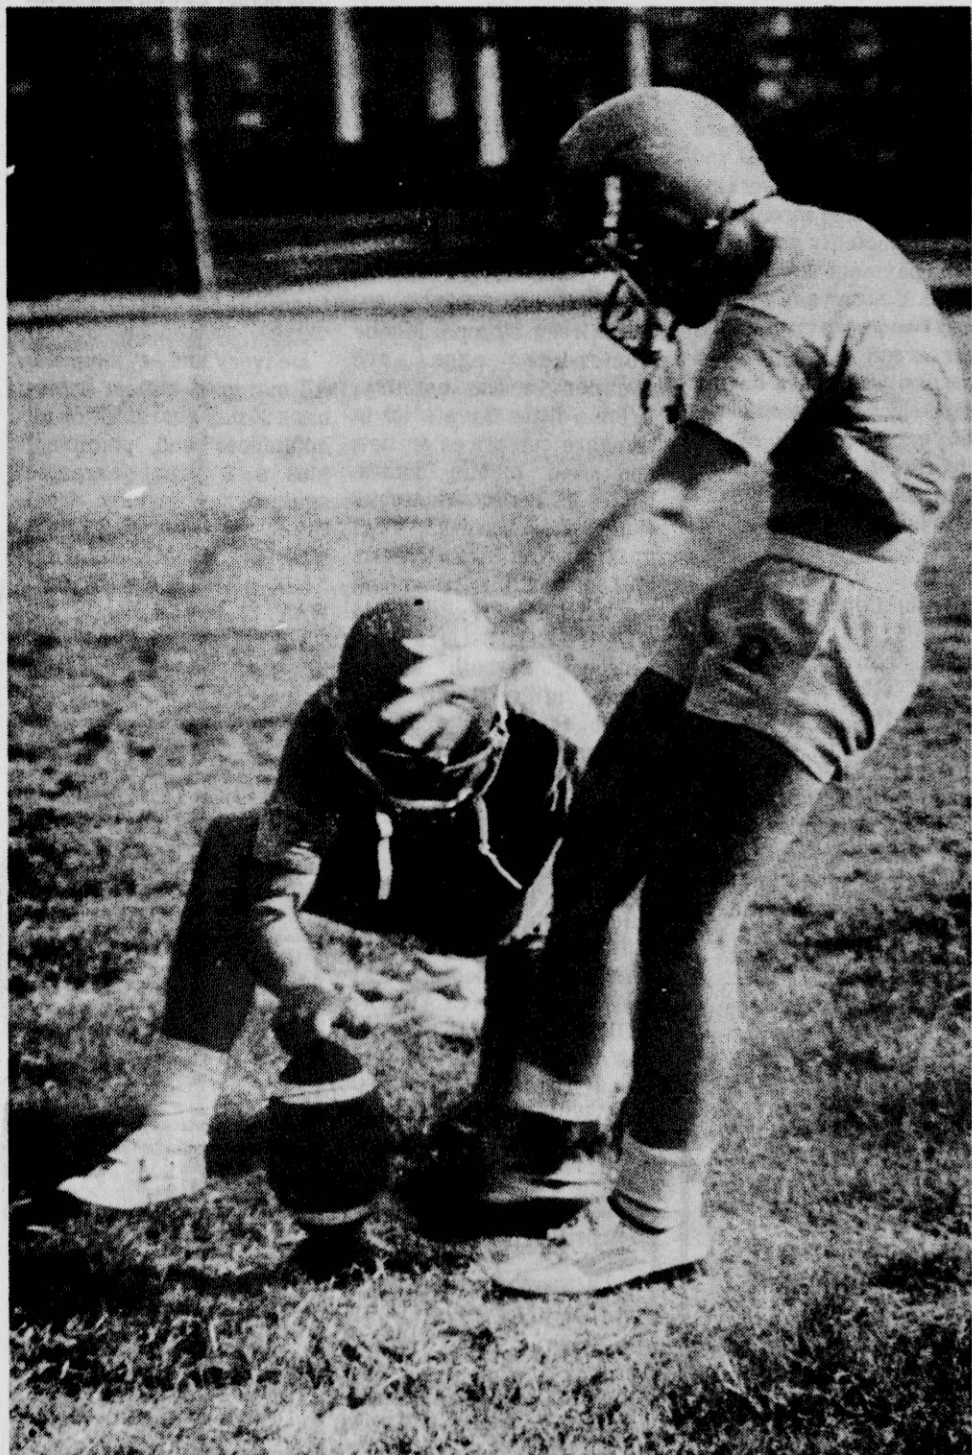

Thrasher custodian Dick Lowery told The Banner-Independent that Thrasher's field is about as far along as Booneville's.

"It is just a wait and see program now," he said.

Thrasher will probably use Northeast's Keenum Stadium for several games this year, according to Coach Willie T. Jackson.

The only problem facing both schools in completing their fields is raising the money.

Football Practice Begins For Area Teams

By SCOTT McKINNEY
Sports Writer

All area high school and college football teams have hit the practice fields in preparation for the upcoming gridiron season, which promises to be very exciting.

In the high schools, preseason drills are called for twice-a-day until school starts and then most schools will go to one session per day.

Northeast Junior College is currently working out three times a day.

Booneville Coach Wayne Jones and his staff have a young, fresh crew to work with this fall. BHS lost 18 starters to graduation this past season.

"We'll be young and small, but competitive," Jones told The Banner-Independent.

Booneville's season opener is at Faulkner.

Thrasher High School is new at the football program, this being their first year of competition on the high school level.

However, their coach, Willie T. Jackson, is not new to the scene, having served as a football coach for many years at Booneville.

Coach Jackson said that, like the Booneville team, his team will be young and small, as well as inexperienced.

Northeast began workouts this past weekend with a full slate of three practices per day on the schedule. Coach David Carnell and his staff are on the ball in preparation for the Tiger's opener at home against Gulf Coast.

All area teams will be featured in The Banner-Independent's special football edition to be published prior to the first of the season.

Registration Saturday For LL Football

The final Saturday of registration for Little League football will be this coming Saturday morning from 9:30 to noon at the West Side City Park.

A fee of $15 must be paid at registration and a photocopy of the child's birth certificate must be presented. Players 7-9 years old will compete in the junior division and ages 10-12 will be in the senior division.

The final day of registration is Aug. 27, with Sept. 1 the cutoff date. Practice will begin the week of Aug. 28, with games starting the week of Sept. 20.

Registration for Little League cheerleaders will also be held Saturday from 9:30 to noon at the park. Girls must be between the ages of 5 and 12.

A $10 registration fee will be required for each cheerleader. Aug. 27 is the final day to register.

Fish Tales

BIG CAT (right photo) - Booneville fireman H.A. Thornton displays a huge catfish he caught early Sunday morning. Thornton estimated that the fish weighed in at about 50 pounds. He said he caught it between 7 and 8 a.m. Sunday at Steel Bridge, and admitted that he had to have help to land the fish.

CB Club News

By LADY BLUE SURF

News is short, so until next week, stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice.

Happy birthday to Grasshopper on the 15th, Blue Lady and Telephone Kid on the 21st, and Telephone Lady on the 22nd. Hope each of you have a nice day and enjoy many more.

We are glad to report that Buffalo II is home from the hospital and slowly improving. Wilaway is still a patient in Big M.

Butterbean Lady hopes to go home on Tuesday if all her tests are okay. Kingfish is waiting for an appointment to have some skin grafting done on his legs. We sure hope everyone is doing fine by our next write-up.

The annual Morgan reunion was Sunday afternoon at the community center. Dr. Cartwright let Butterbean Lady check-out for two hours to attend. Her sister and husband from San Antonio, Texas, were present and a niece from Montana whom she had not seen for 13 years. That sure made her feel better.

By next week's write-up we will have a new set of officers for next year. Our meeting will have been on Tuesday night.

How do children learn money doesn't grow on trees? By making it grow in a savings account. ☐ At First Bank, we think that's such an important lesson, we'll take the time to teach it. Bring your children to open a savings account and we'll explain all about interest. Even help them work out a budget for a new teddy bear, a bicycle or a college education. Rienzi News

By VIOLA PRESLEY
Correspondent

Patsy and Dale Jackson, of Kanabe, Utah, are vacationing here with the Weatherbee family. Sunday 45 members of the family met at the home of Mrs. John Weatherbee for a late afternoon picnic supper.

Recently the Rienzi Public Library completed the Summer Reading-Summer Fun Program, which began July 5 and ended Aug. 2. Ten children from ages 7-12 enjoyed the theme and projects of the reading program.

During this time the young people enjoyed stories, story telling and crafts.

Mrs. Mary McCord, Librarian, expresses thanks to each of the young people who came and enjoyed the programs. Appreciation is also given to Mrs. Helen Isbell and Miteb for the use of their vehicle on the last day outing and to Mr. and Mrs. John Lorick. A special thanks for providing treats on Aug. 2 for the reading group.

The following boys and girls received reading certificates for achieving their reading goals: Mitch Isbell, 36 books; Jana Johnson, 28 books; David Huggins, 19 books; Vincent Johnsey, 14 books; Kyle Johnsey, 8 books; Shelby Huggins, 8 books; Stacy Benjamin, 6 books; Holley Benjamin, 6 books; Burton Benjamin, 6 books and Sherra Richardson, 2 books.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Jacobs and daughters, Jamie and Jana of Linden, Ala., were guests this week of Mrs.

Edith Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eldridge and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan attended the Eldridge family reunion at the Jacinto Courthouse Park Sunday.

Members of the Rienzi Baptist Church WMU met Tuesday night in the Fellowship Hall. Devotional and the call to prayer was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Johnsey, director. The August Royal Service Program was directed by Viola Presley. Mrs. Polly Morgan was hostess for the meeting. Sandwiches, chips and dip and carmel pie was served.

Others present and assisting on the program were Mrs. Jolene Perry, Mrs. Mildred Perry, Mrs. Mable Smith, and Mrs. Sandra Williams.

Todd Rickman of Selmer, Tenn., has spent this week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E.M. Furtick.

Family and friends of Ned Johnsey are happy to have him at home following a stay of several weeks in the Medical Center, Tupelo.

County Agent's Notes

Know When, How To Apply Insecticides

By
CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

KNOW YOUR
SOYBEAN INSECTS

The soybean looper occurs in large numbers more frequently in areas that grow both soybeans and cotton than in areas that grow soybeans only. The looper is often controlled by disease organisms.

The larva (worm stage) displays a characteristic looping-movement when crawling. It is light green with thin white lines running the length of the body on the sides and top. The body tapers toward the head. The larva has two pairs of prolegs near the rear.

The green clover worm larva has the same looping-movement as the soybean looper and is similar in appearance. It is uniformly pale green with white stripes running along the sides. However, it has three pairs of prolegs and its body is not tapered.

When disturbed, this insect becomes very active. It is attacked by a number of predators, parasites and diseases, and rarely requires chemical control.

The velvetbean caterpillar larva varies from light to dull green with white lines running the length of the body. The lines on the sides of this larva are usually much broader than those on the green clover worm or looper. It has four pairs of prolegs and is about 1½ inches long when full grown. When knocked to the ground, it becomes very active and wiggles about like the green clover worm.

The bollworm, the same insect found on cotton, is commonly referred to as the "podworm" in soybeans. It varies from light green to pink, dark brown, or rust colored with pale lines running the length of its body. It has four pairs of prolegs and is about 1¼ inches long when full grown. The worm usually curls up when knocked to the ground.

Beet armyworms prefer to feed on foliage of seedling soybean plants. However, if they are present during fruiting, they will feed on bloom buds, blooms, and small pods.

The adult has a black spot on each side on the second body segment, has four pairs of prolegs, and is about 1¼ inches long when full grown. The worms curl up when knocked to the ground. The larvae vary from grayish-green to near black with pale lines running the length of their bodies.

OTHER INSECTS

The bean leaf beetle is about ¼ inch long and may have three or four pairs of black spots along the inner edge of each wing cover. The outer margin of the wing cover is banded in black. The color patterns of the adult will vary, but typically they are reddish to yellowish.

Adults spend the winter in or near old bean fields. In the spring they feed on weeds and move to soybeans soon after they emerge. The adult beetle damages the plant by chewing holes in the leaves and occasionally feeding on stems and pods.

The immature stage is slender, white larva about ½ inch long with a dark brown area at each end. Larvae feed on roots just beneath the soil surface.

The adult stink bug is about ½ inch long and may be either green or brown, depending on the species. This insect overwinters as an adult. During spring and early summer, it feeds and reproduces on weeds in home gardens. It will not seriously damage soybeans until after pods set. Stink bugs damage the crop by piercing the pod hulls and sucking juices from the developing beans. Feeding of this type can result in unfilled pods, severely shrunk seed, or discolored seed at the puncture site. These malformed seed cause a lower grade (less profits) and usually have low germination and viability qualities.

Young stink bugs, called nymphs, are typically orange and black. However, colors vary considerably before the adults develop. The late nymph stages (4th and 5th instars) can be as damaging as the adults.

The adult three-cornered alfalfa hopper is green, triangular-shaped, and less than ¼ inch long. Young hoppers or nymphs are light brownish, wingless, and can be found girdling or feeding around the stems of the young plants at the ground line. Young seedling plants may lodge from their girdling near the base of the ground. When bean pods are set, the maturing plants may break over from the early seedling damage.

WHEN TO APPLY
INSECTICIDES

Leaf-Feeding - Soybean plants can withstand as much as 35 percent foliage loss through the blooming period. After blooming, when the pods begin to form and fill out, any foliage loss over 20 percent will decrease yield. After the beans are mature, a 35 percent loss of foliage will not usually reduce yield.

It requires four or more foliage feeding worms ½ inch long or longer per foot of row to cause 20 percent defoliation. It requires eight or more foliage feeding worms ½ inch long or longer per foot of row to cause 35 percent defoliation. Apply insecticides when worm populations are at or above the number required to cause defoliation equal to the defoliation levels listed above for each development stage of the plants.

Once fruiting begins, the soybean plant does not add new leaves. Existing leaves expand some. Therefore, if plants are near the fruiting stage, do not allow more foliage to be removed than will be replaced by the plants which will bring the total defoliation down to 20 percent during pod-set and pod-filling. Apply insecticide if these defoliation levels have already occurred and larvae populations are present.

Pod-Feeding - Bollworms will damage soybeans from the end of blooming until pods have matured. They can be a major pest in fields where the foliage canopy has not closed at the time of bloom. This condition usually occurs in the late planted beans. Apply an insecticide when you find two or more bollworms per foot of row.

Most stink bug damage tends to occur around the edge of the fields, coming from weeds into the beans, or in grassy beans. Apply control when you find one stink bug per foot of row.

For more information and identification, contact the County Extension Office on 404 East Church St. or call, 728-5631.

LEX CAIN

County Superintendent of Education

I am Lex Cain, your County Superintendent of Education. I am the same Lex Cain that you have elected and I still stand for our community schools and quality education.

Let's join together and continue the progress we are making in education throughout the Prentiss County school district by letting experience work for you.

If it is not possible for me to see each of you before August 23rd, I take this opportunity to ask for your support and vote for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Education.

D.W. SNYDER
NOW MORE THAN EVER

Thank you more than 105,000 voters who gave us the good lead we enjoy in our campaign. We appeal to those who voted for one of the other candidates to now join our winning effort.

We promise to stand up to the utilities and oppose their unreasonable rate increase requests.

My experience enables me to do more for the consumer. You know D. W. Snyder. It's not the time to take a chance now.

Please vote for me on August 23.

For Six, Seven-Year-Olds

Ed Bill Requires Attendance

Mississippi's children aged 6 and 7 who are medically able are required to attend school this fall under the state's new compulsory attendance law.

Parents of children of these ages who are not able to attend because of medical problems must present sufficient documentation such as a physician's statement. Other children aged 6 and 7 must be enrolled in a private, public or parochial school or a home instruction program.

A certificate of enrollment must be filed with the clerk of the youth court in the county of residence by Sept. 15 for all children enrolled in non-public schools and who have attained age 6 but not age 8 on or before Sept. 1.

Enrollment certification forms are available in city halls and county courthouses.

Children attending public schools will be accounted for through the school systems.

"All parents who have not enrolled their children or whose children are unlawfully absent will come to the attention of the attendance officers hired throughout the state," said Budd Hughes, executive director of the Governor's Commission for Children and Youth (GCCY).

"The attendance officer will make every effort to help each family in overcoming problems which are hindering the youngster's enrollment in school," he said. "When all attempts fail, the parents will be subject to prosecution."

According to Hughes, a parent, guardian or custodian of a 6 or 7-year old child not in compliance with the law is guilty of educational neglect, and, if convicted, would be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisoned up to one year or both.

The new law is being implemented on a staggered basis. Each school year after 1983-84 one year of age will be added to the age of pupils required to attend school. In the 1989-90 school year, every child 6 years of age through 13 will be required to attend school.

"Compulsory school attendance is among several approaches Mississippi is taking to improve the education of our children and youth," said Hughes.

"Gov. Winter's 'educational package' which resulted in the Education Reform Act of 1982 has gained national attention for its contribution to better education," he said. "In addition to compulsory attendance, the act also mandates immediate implementation of reading improvement programs in the first grade as well as implementation of statewide kindergartens beginning in the fall of 1986, school consolidation for more efficiency, teacher upgrading and better school financing."

Prior to the act's passage, Mississippi was the only state without an enforceable attendance law and state funding for kindergartens.

"For many years, Mississippi has been plagued by serious education deficiencies," said Hughes. "Our state has next to the highest illiteracy rate in the nation, and Mississippi has the second lowest graduation rate for high school students. Our state also has the highest school dropout rate in the nation and the nation's highest military rejection rate."

"A good education is an important investment in a child's future and the future of our state," he said. "We hope that parents will want to have their children get the best education they can, but when this is not the case, the new law will be there to help."

Further information on the Education Reform Act of 1982 may be obtained from the Governor's Service Line by dialing, toll free, 1-800-222-7622.

WAL-MART'S ADVERTISED MERCHANDISE POLICY - It is our intention to have every advertised item in stock. However, if due to any unforeseen reason, an advertised item is not available for purchase, Wal-Mart will issue a Rain Check on request for the merchandise to be purchased at the sale price whenever available, or will sell you a similar item at a comparable reduction in price. We reserve the right to limit quantities.

Basic Safety

- Cross streets only at crosswalks.
- Walk on sidewalks wherever possible; walk facing traffic where there are no sidewalks.
- Don't accept rides with—or even talk to—strangers.
- Go directly home after school.
- Behave properly on the school bus. Learn the rules for school bus riders.

Insurance Policies

Check For Proper Coverage

It's bad enough being victimized by burglars, but don't set yourself up for a double loss by not making sure your insurance is up to date.

According to the Insurance Information Institute, most homeowners policies cover possessions for an amount equal to 50 percent of the coverage on the home.

If you suffer a large loss, such as being cleaned out by burglars, this amount of coverage may not be enough. To check, make an inventory of your personal possessions. The list should include a description of the item, the date it was purchased and its cost. It's also a good idea to take photos of unusual or hard-to-describe items.

Also be aware that the homeowners policy limits the amount you can collect on certain possessions. For example:

- $100 on money, bank notes, gold, silver, coins and medals
- $500 on securities, deeds, passports, tickets and stamps
- $500 on boats, including their trailers and equipment
- $500 for loss by theft of jewelry, watches, furs, precious and semi-precious stones.

Some policies also limit the amount that you can collect for trailers not used with boats and for silverware, goldware and guns (if they are stolen).

You should be aware that if you lose items in the same category, such as a fur and a diamond ring, you will be able to collect only $500 for both items -- not $500 for each.

You can increase the overall amount of your coverage on your property or the amount of coverage on selected classes by an endorsement to your policy.

In cases of large or unusually valuable items -- a yacht, for example -- you would need a separate policy to insure them properly.

Finally, you can purchase a "personal articles floater" to cover property such as jewelry, furs, fine arts, cameras, golfer's equipment, musical instruments, silverware, postage stamps, and rare and current coins.

The floater protects your property on an itemized basis -- so there's no question about its value if its lost -- and against loss from almost any cause. Some companies give a discount on your premium if you store your valuables in a safe-deposit box.

YOU WILL LOSE YOUR LICENSE

You're Drunk.

Under Mississippi's new Implied Consent Law, if you are driving under the influence of alcohol you're just asking to have your license suspended, for a minimum of 90 days.

After July 1 if you're on the road drunk, it won't be for long.

Don't Drive Drunk.

Governor's Highway Safety Program

For Area Farmers

Field Day Scheduled At Verona

MISSISSIPPI STATE -- Interested farmers are invited to a field day on August 23 at the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station at Verona.

The field day includes a discussion of various topics related to conservation farming and a tour of research demonstrations, said R.C. "Pete" Albritton, superintendent at the MAFES Verona Branch.

The field day will emphasize conservation farming through the use of no-till practices and other topics important to farmers in northeast Mississippi, according to Albritton.

The field day begins at 9 a.m. with registration. Two concurrent tours are included, one from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and another from 1:30 to 3 p.m. The field day ends at 3 p.m. following the second tour. Lunch is provided.

Kenneth W. Lee, associate director, agricultural bank division with the American Bankers Association in Washington, D.C., will speak following lunch.

Time for informal discussion will be provided so producers can get information on specific questions about their operations.

An upland tour will include a review of pre-emergence weed control in no-till narrow row soybeans by Dr. Normie Beuhling, MAFES agronomist at Verona. Dr. W.F. Jones, MAFES professor of agronomy at Mississippi State University, will talk on grain sorghum response to residual clover nitrogen.

Also on the upland tour will be a no-till equipment demonstration by David Summers, district agronomist with the Soil Conservation Service. R.C. Albritton and Dr. C.P. Hegwood, horticulturist at the MAFES Crystal Springs Branch, will discuss vineyard weed control and variety research.

In the bottomland tour, Dr. F.D. Whisler, MAFES professor of soil physics at MSU, will give the effects of winter cover crops on soybean growth and yield. Johnsongrass control in till and no-till systems will be covered by Dr. Laura L. Whatley, MAFES weed scientist at MSU.

Dr. Wayne Jordan, leader of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Agronomy Department, will give the latest research on cyst nematode rotation. Dr. Charles Baskin, MAFES agronomist, will discuss no-till corn rotation.

The no-till equipment demonstration by Summers will also be presented during the bottomland tour.

The field day is sponsored by the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station, the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, and Big Ten Development Association.

All interested farmers are invited to attend. For more information, contact R.C. Albritton at the MAFES Verona Branch or the county Extension agent.

Conflict Can Be Avoided In Clothes Selections

It is possible to combine the preferences of both parent and child when shopping for those back-to-school clothes. It may not always be the "perfect" outfit in everyone's estimation, but if shopping is done together and if each person is aware of the other's wants and needs, a little give and take can produce a satisfactory back-to-school wardrobe for all.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A Meditation From The Upper Room

By Susan Whitehead

"Can we rake your leaves for a nickel a bag?" two five-year-old neighborhood boys asked eagerly.

"That would be wonderful! Here's the rake and some bags. Shall I show you how to do it?" I asked.

"No! We know all about it," they said importantly, and ran to the back yard.

In a few minutes they were back, each holding two corners of an unopened plastic bag heaped high with leaves. "Now what do we do?" they asked. I showed them how to open the bag and put the leaves inside. "Oh! That's much easier!" they said, using their small hands to stuff the leaves into the bag. I suggested that using the rake might make be faster. "No, we do it better this way," said one with certainty.

How long will God smile patiently when we make one mistake after another as we rush about, filled with our own importance? Admitting we may not know the best methods and checking with God first makes our way smoother. It is more than an act of courtesy to ask God how the work of the kingdom may best be done. It is essential.

PRAYER: Lord, forgive us for ignoring You as the source of all wisdom. Open our minds to Your mind. Amen.
