Blackland, Altitude To Be Reappraised

Reappraisers will be canvassing in the Blackland and Altitude communities next week, according to Prentiss County Tax Collector-Assessor Danny Childers.

The reappraisal information that will be requested from homeowners will include measurements of the house, number of baths, type of heat, floor materials (carpet or vinyl) and material on walls (paneling or sheet rock).

If the homeowner is not home when the appraisers arrive to get the information, the house will still be measured, and a pre-printed, stamped card will be left for the homeowner to fill out and mail.

Terry Cartwright, an employee in the local tax assessor's office and a certified appraiser, will be working in the Blackland community next week.

Kent Brown, who works for Donald Ford Inc., the firm handling the county's reappraisal, will begin working in the Altitude community next week. Brown will also be training two other employees, Childers said.

Those gathering the reappraisal information will have an identification card.

It will take the appraisers about 5-10 minutes to gather their information and it will not be necessary for the appraisers to go inside the house.

Discount For Elderly Offered By Druggists

Elderly citizens in Prentiss County will be eligible to receive a 10 percent discount on their prescription drugs at most drug stores in Booneville beginning Oct. 1.

The Public Affairs chairman of the Prentiss County Retired Teachers' Association approached the pharmacists in Booneville recently concerning the 10 percent discount, according to Macon Griffith, reporter for the retired teachers' association.

The 10 percent discount is to be made to all the elderly on prescription drugs on cash purchases or cash within 30 days, she said.

The 10 percent discount will begin Oct. 1 at the following pharmacies: Foodway Pharmacy; Hills Discount Drugs, Smith Drug Company, Davidson Discount Pharmacy; Booneville Discount Drugs; and Cox-Blythe Drug Co. Inc.

Welfare Department To Distribute Cheese

The Prentiss County Welfare Department will distribute cheese, butter and flour to food stamp and Medicaid recipients and low income persons who meet the eligibility standards Friday, Sept. 30, beginning at 7:30 a.m. at the Prentiss County Welfare Department.

Before a person can receive the commodities, he has to fill out an application at the county welfare department, according to Prentiss County Welfare Director Joe Hill. The worker will use the application to determine if he is eligible to receive the commodities.

To prevent confusion and long lines, an application for commodities needs to be filled out several days before the actual distribution of commodities.

Each family will receive one block of cheese, two pounds of butter and five pounds of flour.

The commodities will be distributed on a first come, first serve basis, Hill said.

Aquatic Center To Be Dedicated

The Gaye Roden Carr Aquatic Center will be formally dedicated during ceremonies on the Northeast Junior College campus, Thursday, Sept. 29, at 11:30 a.m.

Opened for student use at the beginning of the fall semester, the $200,000 plus facility was made possible by donations to the College Development Foundation in memory of the late Mrs. Carr, a 1965 alumnus of Northeast.

Contributions were made by Mrs. Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Roden of Booneville; her husband, Emmett Carr; their children, Melody, Jason and Rosemary; her uncle, Zane D. Roden; and affiliated enterprises of Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Roden.

The heated, eight-lane pool is 25 meters long and contains auxiliary space for dressing rooms, lockers, office space, restrooms and classrooms. It is located south of the campus tennis courts and northeast of Murphy Hall on College Street.

Public Hearing Set For City Budget

The City of Booneville will hold a public hearing Friday, Sept. 30, at 10 a.m. in the City Hall, 302 N. Main St., for the purpose of hearing written comments from the public concerning the proposed annual budget for fiscal year 1983-84 and the use of revenue sharing funds as contained in the proposed budget.

General revenue sharing (GRS) is a program of general fiscal support from the federal government to state and local governments with only limited federal requirements about how the money should be spent, according to City Clerk June Hutchison.

All interested citizens, groups, senior citizens and organizations representing the interests of senior citizens are encouraged to attend and to submit comments, she said.

Beer, Wine May Not Be

Liquor Question May Be On Ballot

BY ED WOODWARD
Staff Reporter

A petition requesting a referendum on the sale of alcoholic beverages, including liquor, in Prentiss County has been certified, according to 2nd District Supervisor Jimmy Moore.

"We (the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors) have passed it on to the election commission, and it will probably be on the November ballot," Moore said.

Tommy Comer, attorney for the petitioners, had told city officials he planned to withdraw a similar petition which was submitted to the Booneville board of aldermen on Sept. 6 requesting a referendum on beer and wine sales within the city.

However, according to City Clerk June Hutchison, Comer has since informed the city that the petition will not be withdrawn.

Regardless, Ms. Hutchison said it will not be possible to place the city referendum on the November ballot. "There will have to be a special election," she said.

"First, the election commission will have to meet, and purge the books, and certify that there are enough names on the petition. Then, it will be presented back to the board, and they will take action if there are enough signatures, and set the date for the election," Ms. Hutchison said.

She said that action will probably take place at the board's October meeting. "But there's no way it can be placed on the November ballot along with the county referendum," she said.

Hubert and Sukey Lambert, spokespersons for the petitioners, had told The Banner-Independent on Monday, Sept. 19, that they had no intention of withdrawing the city petition.

Confirming that he and his wife, Sukey, are heading up the group petitioning for both referendums, Hubert Lambert said that any questions regarding the placing of the city issue on the November ballot have been raised by city officials, and not by his group.

He also said such withdrawal would not be Comer's decision, as he is simply the legal advisor for the petitioners.

At the time the petition was submitted to the board, Comer had pointed out that one reason for the timing of that submission was the group's hope that the issue could be placed on the November ballot.

"The only reason Mr. Comer had said he might withdraw the petition at this time was the city board's feeling that the issue could probably not be put on the November ballot. But this is

Completion Date Revised

Local Hospital Construction Ahead Of Schedule

BY ED WOODWARD
Staff Reporter

The completion date for construction at Baptist Memorial Hospital has been revised, according to Administrator John Tompkins.

"Originally, the beds were to be available in January of '85. And the beds will now be available in October of '84," Tompkins said, adding that the new completion date is contingent on such things as the weather.

"We are ahead of schedule at this point. And the effort that has been put forth at this time is to get the building out of the ground, so to speak, so that construction can go on during the winter months," he said.

Construction plans at the hospital call for demolition of A and B wings, and construction of a new 3-story addition on the west side of the hospital between the remaining building and U.S. 45, followed by a complete renovation of the remaining structure.

At present, A-wing has been demolished, and construction of the new addition has begun.

The project, which is expected to cost between $5 and $5.1 million, is being paid for by Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis, which leased the Booneville hospital in 1981 for a 25 year period. No local tax money is involved.

In the process of the renovation, the hospital will lose 15 beds, lowering its capacity from a current 136 beds to 121 beds.

Recertification Approved For Planning & Development District

BY ED WOODWARD
Staff Reporter

After a review of information provided by its board of directors, recertification of the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District has been jointly approved by the state director of the Appalachian Regional Commission and the director of the state Office of Federal-State Programs.

According to Rich Haydel, interim director of the State Department of Planning and Policy, the decision was made Friday, Sept. 16, after the two directors had spent most of three days reviewing information provided by the District's board on Tuesday, Sept. 13.

The information had been provided by the board in response to an earlier letter from Ann H. Cook, director of the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs. Included in the information were the minutes of the board's Monday, Sept. 12, executive session meeting reported in last week's issue of The Banner-Independent.

At that meeting, the board had discussed criticisms of the district's handling of grant funds voiced by Ms. Cook and ARC Director of Finance and Administration Ken Shepard at a meeting in Jackson on Sept. 14.

The board had also accepted the resignation of Executive Director Charles Spearman, appointed Sadie Hardin as interim director, and voted to advertise for a new director.

Spearman had been the center of a controversy caused by an ARC audit of the district prompted by an anonymous letter received by the ARC last Spring.

That letter contained pages from a 1981 State audit which revealed that approximately $5,000 in money paid by the district to the duplicating department at NEMJC had never been received by the college, but had been placed in a special checking account by the department's head, Dr. James Rhodes, and funneled back to Spearman in various ways.

The subsequent ARC audit of the district uncovered approximately $15,000 in questioned expenses that must now be repaid to the ARC.

Haydel said the board's actions at last week's meeting were seen by the two directors as positive indications that the board realizes the seriousness of the situation, and is interested in providing better service to the district.

Haydel said a letter was prepared on Friday Sept. 16 informing board president J.M. 'Flick' Ash of the decision, and commending the board for its actions.

With the decision will come reinstatement of federal funds withheld by the ARC until the NMPDD had satisfied certain requirements, one of which was Spearman's resignation.

The district must now

not a dead issue. And if it can't be decided in the November 8th election, we do intend to push for a special election. We're not going to lie down and forget about it after our people have worked so hard," Lambert said.

The Lamberts said they not only collected signatures for both petitions, but members of their group had also compared the signatures with voter registration records. They claim to have between 600 and 700 verified signatures on the city petition, and approximately 1,800 on the county petition.

The signatures of 20 percent of the registered voters residing within the community are required to place an issue on the ballot.

"It seems to me that we have proven by the signatures we have gotten that the people of this county and city, both, want this to come to an election where they would have the right to vote on it," Lambert said.

"We have proven that by the signatures. And we have gone to the trouble to verify those signatures to make sure they are legitimate. And it would seem to me that we have proven to the powers that be, whoever they may be, that the people do want to vote on it," he said.

"It's our democratic right to do that. And this is the only thing I know of in this country, or anywhere, that you have to go out and get signatures to be able to vote on it," Lambert said.

The Lamberts insist the issue is more an economic than a moral one to them.

"I know, in the past, there have been businesses that passed us up, motels and things like that," he explained. "There's a good tax base that could help us in this county."

Lambert also pointed out that prospective tourist business, such as travelers on their way to the upcoming New Orleans 1984 World's Fair are not apt to stop overnight in a dry county.

"We intend to produce figures showing the people of the city and county exactly how much tax money is involved, and where it might come from," he said.

"Years ago, there was a politician over in Tishomingo County who actually had his home in Red Bay, Ala. And his opponent drew a picture of a cow eating in Tishomingo County, and giving milk in Red Bay.

"We think that pretty well illustrates how we in Prentiss County feed the cow, and all the milk goes to Lee County," Lambert said.

"And that's what is happening. We're not going to stop people from drinking. If I thought we could stop people from drinking, I wouldn't even be for a referendum," he said. "If I thought it was a real moral issue, or if I knew for sure that nobody would drink because Prentiss County was dry, I wouldn't do this. But that's ridiculous. All we're doing is forcing them to use the highway if they want a drink"

Asked if they were not afraid championing a controversial issue might affect their business, Hubert Lambert said, "It already

Hospital

Tompkins said the renovation is planned in phases. "The first phase is all the new construction," he said. "Then, the second phase of the project will be to renovate the various other areas of the hospital."

"But, we first have to have the beds available, so that we can move patients who are currently on B-wing to the new area. Then, we will move the ancillary functions, meaning the laboratory, respiratory therapy, and other support services into B-wing, so that C-wing can be renovated, and all the work in that area done."

"B-wing will probably be the last wing to be torn down," Tompkins said.

Tompkins did not rule out additional future construction, though he said none is planned at the present time. "Every hospital has to evaluate their needs, and address those needs. And sometimes that means having construction projects going on a great deal of the time," he said.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, Jesus said, "Judge not that ye be not judged" when anyone criticizes or condemns another's beliefs isn't he judging that person?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: First, it must be understood that some "judging" is wrong and other "judging" is not wrong. In (1 Cor. 5:3) Paul said he had already "judged" with reference to the fornicator in the church. This kind of "judging" is approved but other types are not approved. For example judging motives is condemned (see Matt. 7:16). Another type of judging which is condemned is unjust and unfair judging (Jas. 2:13). Partiality and fault finding is prohibited (Jas. 2:1-13). However, testing doctrine is commanded. "Beloved believe not every spirit but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. (1 Jno. 4:1). If all "judging" is condemned in the Bible then the Lord was wrong in opposing the devil and religious leaders of his day. No person should take pleasure in exposing faults in his fellow man, however we must speak the truth in love (see Eph. 4:15). All of God's children must be set at a defense of the gospel.

ARC Memo Questions Duplicating Expenses

By ED WOODWARD
Staff Reporter

The majority of the Aug. 2, 1983, memorandum sent to the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District by the Appalachian Regional Commission is devoted to former Executive Director Charles Spearman's involvement in a situation revealed by a 1981 State audit of Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

The item receiving the most attention in the ARC memo was the duplicating expenses mentioned in the anonymous letter which prompted the ordering of the special audit by the ARC. The memo notes: "Subsequent to the completion of the audit, an additional charge of $1,800 for duplicating services was found. This brings the total questioned duplicating expenses to $5,003."

The memo then includes extensive background on the item in question: "The district's records indicate that it entered into three agreements with the Northeast Mississippi Junior College for the use of the college's Mag-Card Composer and/or copying equipment" for three succeeding periods with increasing rates.

During the first period, May 1, 1978, to April 30, 1979, the rate charged was $100 per month. But, during the second period, May 10, 1979, to April 10, 1980, the rate increased to $150 per month. And, during the third period, May 1, 1980, to Jan. 15, 1981, the rate again increased, to $200 per month.

"Under these agreements, the district paid the college a total of $4,700," the memo continues. "These charges were initially questioned because there was no evidence that any service was provided. A separate payment, $303, made to the college which was documented by an invoice showing the service rendered, was also questioned because of concern that the college did not receive the payment."

"In an unrelated effort, the State of Mississippi Department of Audit conducted an audit of Northeast Mississippi Junior College. This report revealed that the $4,700 paid to the college by the district under the above referenced contracts along with $150 from unidentified sources, had never been received by the college. Instead, according to the state audit, these payments were retained by the head of the duplicating department, Dr. James Rhodes, and were diverted to unauthorized uses including a $1,200 payment to Sears, $750 to Williams Electronics, and $2,900 converted to cash.

"After being apprised of the findings of the state audit, Mr. Spearman and Dr. Rhodes paid $4,700 and Dr. Rhodes paid an additional $150 to the college in July 1981.

"In March 1982, the State Auditor reported to a local District Attorney that he had reason to believe that public funds had been embezzled from the college. No action was taken by the District Attorney.

"Information developed subsequent to the state audit indicated that the check issued by Dr. Rhodes to Sears was credited to Mr. Spearman's Sears charge account and Dr. Rhodes gave at least $2,300 in cash to Mr. Spearman on two other occasions," said the ARC memo.

In a letter dated May 4, 1983, the district acknowledged that Spearman had received payments from Dr. Rhodes, and offered explanations for the incident.

The district claimed that: (1) the funds received by Mr. Spearman were gifts from Dr. Rhodes on behalf of the Junior College; (2) the payments received by Mr. Spearman were unrelated to the payments made by the District for duplicating services; (3) Dr. Rhodes made the payments to Mr. Spearman... "long after the funds had been disbursed..." by the District; and (4) Mr. Spearman used the money to buy kitchen equipment for the district's office, Christmas gifts and other unspecified expenses incurred by him... "in the best interests of the district and without personal gain..."

But, the response added, "since other grants had benefited from the duplicating services, only half of the total amount should have been charged to the ARC grants."

"The district provided no documentation to support the $3,203 in costs questioned in the audit or the additional $1,800 found after the audit was completed," the ARC responded. "Reducing the questioned costs to $1,601.50 by charging half of the initial amount questioned to other grants, does not alter the original basis on which the costs were questioned," the agency added.

The memo then continues: "With respect to the District's contention that the payments made to the college... were unrelated to the funds given to Mr. Spearman by Dr. Rhodes, the following is noted: (1) The state audit indicates that none of the District's duplicating service contract payments were ever received by the college. Two of the three checks received by Dr. Rhodes under these contracts were deposited in a checking account established by him, while the third check was cashed by Dr. Rhodes.

"(2) On April 11, 1980, the district paid $1,800 to the duplicating department for services under the second year of the duplicating agreement. This payment was not deposited in any college account but was diverted to a checking account maintained by Dr. Rhodes.

"(3) On April 30, 1980, nineteen days later, Dr. Rhodes issued a check to Sears for credit to Mr. Spearman's account in the amount of $1,200. This check was drawn on the account noted in paragraph (2).

"(4) On Feb. 9, 1981, the district paid $1,700 to the duplicating department for services under the third year of the duplicating agreement. This payment was likewise diverted from the college to an account personally maintained by Dr. Rhodes.

"(5) On Feb. 17, 1981, fourteen days later, Dr. Rhodes issued a check in the amount of $1,700 to cash. This check was also drawn on the account maintained by Dr. Rhodes.

"(6) The district acknowledges that it was aware that the payments being made to Mr. Spearman were... issued from a special account established only for the duplicating department..."

The ARC's conclusions continue: "The proximity of the payments by the district to the duplicating department with the payments made by Dr. Rhodes to Mr. Spearman, the district's acknowledged awareness of the existence of a 'special account' within the duplicating department from which Mr. Spearman received these 'gifts', along with Mr. Spearman's willingness to join with Dr. Rhodes to pay the college precisely the monies paid from this 'special account' upon the finding by the state auditor that public funds may have been embezzled from the college, do not support the position of the district that the duplicating service contract payments to Dr. Rhodes and his payments in turn to Mr. Spearman are simply matters of coincidence."

The ARC then enumerates what it calls "other areas of conflict" in the NMPDD's explanation of the matter. "By letter of May 4, 1983, the district indicates that the payment to Sears was made after the completion of the first duplicating service agreement on April 30, 1979.

"According to the state auditor, the check to Sears was dated April 30, 1980 -- a full year later.

"In the same letter, the District indicated that Mr. Spearman received two cash payments, one after the second year's agreement, which ended in April 1980, and another after the third year's agreement which is presumed to have ended in April 1981. (In a telephone conversation on July 1, 1983, Mr. Kermit Jones reportedly advised ARC Director of Finance and Administration Ken Shepard that, according to Mr. Spearman, the cash payments given to him by Dr. Rhodes were $1,200 in December 1980, and $1,100 in November or December 1981.)

"However, according to the state auditor, Dr. Rhodes cashed two checks, the first was the $1,200 duplicating service payment made by the district to the college in May 1979 and the second was a $1,700 check in February 1981, and drawn on the... 'special account...' which Dr. Rhodes established. Thus it appears that either (1) Mr. Spearman is wrong about the timing of the payments; or (2) Dr. Rhodes cashed one check (in May 1979) nineteen months before he made the first payment to Mr. Spearman and cashed the second check (in February 1981) nine or ten months before he made the second payment to Mr. Spearman; or (3) there is yet another 'special account' from which Dr. Rhodes made funds available to Mr. Spearman."

The ARC memo then points out another discrepancy. "In the May 4, 1983 letter, the District stated that 'the payment on Spearman's Sears account 'was made, in part, as reimbursement for the kitchen equipment purchased for the district's office -- yet the check was issued on April 30, 1980, while the kitchen equipment was purchased in December, 1978 -- seventeen months earlier.

"Taken together, the various explanations provided by the district concerning the duplicating service contract transactions are unconvincing, sometimes contradictory and serve to raise more questions than they answer," the ARC concludes.

The memo relates that the district "concurred" with the disallowances of the other questionable charges. And no attempted justifications are related.

It was as a result of the memo quoted above that NMPDD executive director Spearman first was placed on annual leave, and subsequently submitted his resignation. (That letter of resignation was officially accepted by the board on Sept. 12, 1983. See story elsewhere in this edition.)

In the memo the grant award for the period beginning July 1, 1983, was approved pursuant to five conditions:

"(1) All legal services charged to ARC grants must be limited to interpretations of law, contract preparation, and the like; related to the purposes of the grant; and charged on a fee for service basis.

"(2) Charges for Mr. Spearman's annual leave are eligible costs against ARC grants only to the extent they represent the Commissions's share of the current value of his annual leave earned through June 14, 1983, in accord with the district's published personnel policies and net of any annual leave used.

"(3) Mr. Spearman will have no association whatsoever with the administration of ARC grant funds nor any authority, influence, or control over those who do.

"(4) The commission and the district must agree on a repayment schedule for balances owed to ARC through June 30, 1982, by Sept. 30, 1983.

"(5) The district will provide a staffing plan adequate to meet the program requirements of the district by Sept. 30, 1983."

The ARC memo then explains that Condition Number 5 reflects the agency's feeling that the NMPDD is not well-enough staffed to fulfill its responsibilities.

"This concern is reinforced both by the district's recent performance in the competition for Community Development Block Grant funds (Where Northeast qualified for only $240,000 in grants while Three Rivers and Golden Triangle shared approximately $5.5 million in grants) and by their recent submittal of project applications for ARC funding for programs not even eligible for funding," the memo explains.

The ARC memo concludes: "While representatives of the district blamed their poor showing on 'politics' at the state level, ARC program staff indicates that it is reflective of the generally inadequate performance on the part of the district's staff which has existed for some time."

Talk 'O The Town

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think there is more emphasis placed on sports or academics in the schools?

BLUFORD ALLEN of Route 4, Booneville: "On sports. Instead of planning a curriculum around student's studies that they need, they plan around sports. Too much emphasis is put on good ball playing and not enough on good grades."

SHIRLEY COLE of Route 5, Booneville: "I think they encourage both sports and academics. They need sports to keep interest going at school and they encourage good grades to keep the athletes on the team."

HARVEY VEST of Route 1, Booneville: "I still think most of the stress is placed on academics. First of all the students spend more time in the classroom than in the gym. There's just more time devoted to academics."

WANDA McDOUGAL of Independent Street, Booneville: "At New Site I think it's based on academics. Both sports and academics are stressed but academics more."

SUE KEENUM of Route 3, Booneville: "Sports. I have two children that graduated from Booneville and the emphasis has always been more on sports. That's the most important thing to everyone in the area. That's why the bond issue wasn't passed. People don't want to consolidate because of the competitiveness of sports."

JERRY MORGAN of North Second Street, Booneville: "I think more emphasis is placed on academics at Booneville. The teachers want students to study and make good grades so they can get a good education and get a good job."

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward

As we enter the computer age, and technological progress comes faster and faster, there appears to be one product that is moving in reverse in quality.

Recently I went to the local discount store and purchased two four-packs of name brand light bulbs. This week I had to purchase another four-pack because three of the bulbs I purchased three weeks ago had already burned out. In fact, it seems that every time I flick a light switch, there is a flash, I hear a "plink!" and another bulb goes dark.

Currently, there is one bulb out in my office, one in the boys' bedroom, one in Sara's and my bedroom, two in the living room, one in the kitchen, and three in the chandelier in the dining room. The bathroom is well-lit this week because the darkness in there was the reason for buying more bulbs the first of the week.

But, the bulbs you replaced this week were not the same ones you replaced three weeks ago, you say. Not true. One of those in the bathroom was. And one of those now burned out in the dining room was. And, I'm not sure, but I think one in the kitchen was only three weeks old.

At first, I thought we might have a wiring problem. Our house was originally built by some wierdo who bought everything from Sanford and Son Building Supply. Every time something breaks or conks out we learn from the repairman that a replacement part is not available because the toilet, or the water heater, or the built-in appliance that went haywire is a brand that was made by a company that went out of business 12 years ago. This is interesting since the house is only 10 years old.

And, as for the wiring, it is only eight years old, because it was redone in 1975 after the previous tenants had a fire. Of course, at that time, the remodeling was done by a fire chaser who cut corners almost as badly as the original contractor.

Our living room has a stone wall with a stone hearth and fireplace. The remaining walls have paneling halfway up, and very busy French-provincial wallpaper the rest of the way. The carpet is burnt orange and brown shag. And, until we changed it, the ceiling light was bright yellow and Danish modern. That's why the living room lights are the last ones I bother to replace.

But, anyway, the wiring turned out to be okay. And we began discussing our light bulb problem with friends and relatives. It turned out they were also getting less and less mileage from their light bulbs.

And, maybe it's my imagination, but the problem seems to be worsening at a preceptible rate. I am prepared to swear on a copy of Thomas Edison's biography that, as recently as a year ago, when I was purchasing a four-pack of light bulbs for $1.38, that those bulbs were burning for at least six months before flashing, and going "plink!" And it seems to me that it is only since the price went up to $1.48 that they have been plinking at a more rapid rate. I am currently in the process of surveying friends and relatives on that phenomenon. I expect the results to be enlightening.

And, maybe it is simply an illusion similar to the one that makes everything look smaller when you return to the place where you grew up. But it seems to me that, when I was a child back in St. Marys, Ohio, light bulbs were a little dimmer, and had a yellowish color, but they lasted a lot longer.

And, since I have left myself completely open for wise retorts by supplying an irresistible straight line, I will point out right now that I did not grow up during The Dark Ages.

But, if the quality of bulbs continues to decline, it is possible that our children might.

Eyes On Mississippi

Winter Appointment Question May Split Board

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. — The decision which the State College Board will have to make on whether or not to name Gov. William Winter chancellor at Ole Miss apparently is threatening to split the board more than anytime in its 39-year history.

It's a strange twist of history that the College Board, which was made a constitutional body and insulated from politics back in 1944 to protect the state's institutions of higher learning from gubernatorial interference, now will consider a governor to head one of those institutions.

The board has survived some perilous times in the last 20 years or so, especially during the James Meredith crisis when it was badgered by Gov. Ross Barnett into submission to his course of defiance. Threatened with being jailed by the federal government, the board made a quick about face and left Barnett standing on the sidelines. Even then, however, there were a few holdouts who pandered to Barnett's wishes, trying to stop Meredith's graduation. Few governors have lived up to the high ideals in the constitutional amendment creating the College Board to appoint "only men or women . . . of the highest order of intelligence, character, learning and fitness for the performance of such duties. . . ."

There have been some instances in which appointees to the board weren't even college graduates or could not construct a grammatical sentence. Once a governor tried to put two hayseed legislators on the board. In recent history, highest marks for seeking able people to appoint the board have gone to Winter and Bill

Waller. Currently, the 13-member board is constituted of four Waller, four Cliff Finch and five Winter appointees.

Therein lies the seeds of the impending split.

The Finch appointees, which include Dr. John R. Lovelace of Batesville, the current president of the board, take the position that when the issue of naming Winter as chancellor at Ole Miss comes up, the Winter appointees should abstain from voting. Some others on the board may also share that view.

This the Winter appointees have no intention of doing.

It's too early to tell, but the whole issue could come down to a legal battle within the board over whether or not the Winter appointees would have a conflict of interest if they voted on hiring him.

One other provision in the constitutional amendment creating the College Board provides that members shall perform their duties "uninfluenced by political considerations."

Winter provides a special case in that he has become something of "Mr. Education" in Mississippi, although he operates in the political arena. He unquestionably has brought education to the position of top priority in the minds of the people, even though some legislators might not yet recognize that.

Education led to the defeat of more lawmakers and the election of others, as well as some other public officials outside of the Legislature, than any single issue this year.

The most unique aspect of the movement of put Winter at the helm of Ole Miss is that it is being backed by 80 percent of the University's faculty members. Never has there been an odds-on favorite of a college faculty in contention for a presidency in Mississippi.

The thinking of Ole Miss professors pushing for Winter is that he would be the ideal candidate to take charge immediately and clear out the deadwood collected by Porter Fortune.

Their idea is that Winter would bring in his own right-hand man such as Dr. Jim Meredith of the Mississippi Research and Development center to carry out reorganization of the University. Significantly, Winter would only have four years in the job, because he would face mandatory retirement in 1988 at age 65.

But those backing Winter believe in four years he could restore the institution's prestige and add to his own national stature in both the fields of education and politics.

Justification for taking a highly regarded political figure straight from the governor's chair, or some other political office to head an institution of higher learning has been found in the experience of Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina, who went to Duke, and more recently former U.S. Rep. John Brademas to New York University.

Ironically, Brademas, who once attended Ole Miss under the Navy V-12 program, has some support for the chancellorship at the Oxford campus.

There evidently is a strong belief in some higher education circles that a premium should be put on administrative talent rather than glowing academic credentials in choosing institutional heads. But a powerful opposition in academe resists that view.

That fight evidently will reverberate around the Winter appointment come this December. Right now, some insiders say Winter has an 8-5 vote to get the job.

Stick around. It should be interesting.

Pearl Harbor Fascinating To Both Japanese & Americans

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi
Farm Bureau
Federation

A camera-laden crowd occupying two decks of a Honolulu harbor cruise vessel listened intently to the carefully chosen words of a retired U.S. navy captain whose narration recalled the break in U.S.-Japanese diplomatic relations in the late 1930's. Against a backdrop of blue-green sea and cloud ringed mountains the handsome little ship responded to its rudder and veered sharply to starboard and entered a narrow 60 foot deep channel into Pearl Harbor — one of the best natural harbors in the Pacific Ocean.

Most of the passengers aboard the tour vessel appeared to be Americans on a significant pilgrimage to the setting of Japan's early dawn attack on the U.S. Navy's Pacific fleet headquarters there on December 7, 1941. On that peaceful Sunday morning 42 years ago, strangely unsuspectingly, was anchored the mightiest Navy armada of all times like ducks in a row. The writer, a World War II Navy veteran myself, had especially sensitive feelings as I learned against a forward bulkhead close to a group of Japanese tourists whose leader held a Japanese-language, illustrated guidebook and frequently pointed to a picture of the USS ARIZONA shrine as she spoke to her group in Japanese.

It was obvious that the Japanese visitors huddled in front of me were intensely interested in what they saw and heard. Time and again the guide's index finger lingered over an illustration of the ARIZONA which today serves as a shrine and tomb for over 1,100 U.S. Navy seamen who went down with her eight minutes after being hit by five torpedoes and a 1,000 pound bomb, among others.

This was another Sunday morning in another generation, Sept. 11, 1983. Over the ship's public address system came a recording of President Roosevelt's radio address which declared the day of the surprise attack as "a date that will live in infamy."

Hickam airfield slipped past to starboard. Then, beautifully flowered residential lawns where the Navy community lived. There was the Officers' Club, then the site of the hospital — now gone — and the uniquely ornate concrete water tower, still standing in defiance of time and events. To port in West Loch was the marker where the wounded battleship NEVADA floundered into the shallows to avoid blocking the narrow main channel and bottling up our fleet.

Rounding Ford Island in the middle of the harbor we saw the old Navy airfield which today looks its age with some of its old riddled and fire razed hangars long since repaired and still standing. The landing strips were yet visible, but obsolete in today's jet age with their short runways.

The mountains on two sides of the harbor appeared changless in their mantles of dark rainclouds and misty precipitation — silently rebuking the sun which gleamed brightly on blue choppy waters inside the harbor.

Anid Battleship Row the white USS ARIZONA shrine appeared with an American flag furling vigorously in the breeze. Both Americans and Japanese sprang to their feet aboard the tour vessel to fully view and photograph the scene. As the vessel slackened its speed, we could observe that the flagpole was attached to the rusting superstructure of the battleship while nearly the entire ship rested on the bottom — her outline clearly visible from the surface on clearer days.

The narrator explained that the Navy was forced to abandon its efforts to bring the more than 1,100 dead seamen from the ship after two divers lost their lives trying to negotiate steel tangled passageways of the its large complement of men lost there December 7th.

With that explanation, a flower lei was tossed into the blue water and it drifted submerged ship. The Navy decided to keep the ARIZONA in commission — as an underwater tomb for slowly toward the floating shrine hovering over the massive tomb. The bugle notes of 'taps' in echo broke the pilgrimage silence.

Nearby a woman wept quietly to herself. Many eyes were tear dimmed. That's Pearl Harbor today.

County History

Deadline Extended

The deadline for reserving places in The Prentiss County History book has been extended to Oct. 15.

According to a committee spokesman for the Prentiss County Historical Association, the deadline was extended because of the continual mechanical problems with the telephone recorder in the office.

However, the reserved places for family histories in The Prentiss County History book are quickly being filled and those wishing to be included should not delay because there are not many places left, the committee says.

Daws, Walter Nunley or Avanel Cunningham. Baldwin residents may call Thomas Wallis.

Those who are eligible to submit a family story are those who are presently residing in the county, those who have resided in the county or those who had ancestors residing in the county.

People wishing to may write a free story about their mother's and father's side of the family and include one single column photo 2 1/2 inches wide free for each family story.

Pilots Hear About New DUI Law

Members of the Pilot Club of Booneville met in the Alumni Room of the Frank Haney Student Union Building at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College, Thursday evening, Sept. 15, at 6 p.m. for a program dinner meeting. Mrs. Anne Prichard, president, presided.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Ouida Jumper. Mrs. Aynell Cunningham led the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Jo Henderson, Safety Area leader, introduced the guest speaker, Mancil Pruitt, Public Affairs Officer of the New Albany District of the Mississippi Highway Patrol. Pruitt chose as his subject, "The Drunk Driver."

Pruitt is a graduate of the Baldwin High School, the Itawamba Junior College, and the Mississippi State University and has been with the Mississippi Highway Patrol for 16 years. He told through the showing of original slides the story of the drunk driver from the time he was arrested until he was released from jail.

When the driver registers .010, on the intoxilizer he is considered to be too drunk to drive. Pruitt explained the DUI law which went into effect July 1, 1983, by stating the monetary fine for the first offense of the drunk driver is $200.

At this time the driver has the choice of losing his driver's license for one year or have it suspended for 90 days and attend the Masap School for one night a week for one month. The monetary fine for the second offense is $400, and the offender's driver's license is lost for 2 years, on the third offense the fine is $500, and the driver's license is lost for 3 years. A jail sentence is compulsory for the second and third offenses.

In closing Pruitt said, "The lawmakers have given the troopers a tough law that they can work with and really crack down on the drunk driver."

The program was planned by members of the Safety area who are Mrs. Susan Cartwright, Dr. Neola Cleveland, Mrs. Aynell Cunningham, Mrs. Darlene Fulper, Mrs. Annie Lee Kemp and Mrs. Henderson, area leader.

Club projects sponsored by the Safety Area include the annual presentation of patrol flags to all members of the School Bus Safety Patrol in the city and county school systems and the monthly "Safety Tips" that are announced over the local radio station as public service announcements.

Miss Debbie Garvin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.H. Garvin and a senior at the Booneville High School, was introduced by Mrs. Carolyn Jackson, Patriotism Area Leader, as the Good Citizenship Girl of the Month. Miss Garvin is the President of the Booneville High School Anchor Club.

Mrs. Mabel Nelson, Fund Raising Area Leader, was named the Pilot of the month. She was presented by Miss Sherry Bowen, local Pilot International Foundation Representative.

Mrs. Velma Garvin, mother of Miss Debbie Garvin, was a special guest of the club.

Booneville's newest employer, Park Lane Inc. officially opened on Friday, Sept. 14, with a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Park Lane, a locally-owned and managed furniture manufacturing business, is located in the old Kellwood building on Third Street.

"Park Lane has been formed by a group of people from north Mississippi who have experience in the furniture industry," said Vic Etheridge, president of the company.

"We have had excellent response to our products as far as sales are concerned. And we're on the track as far as what we think we should be doing, and moving forward. And we hope that within the year 1984 that we will be able to become a major employer in Prentiss County," he said.

Etheridge said he and his associates especially wanted to thank the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors, the Booneville Board of Aldermen, Bank of Mississippi, and the Prentiss County Development Association for their assistance in getting Park Lane "off the ground."

He said the factory is currently employing 25 people. "And we think, by Christmas, we will be up to 50."

"We have a mid-range priced product. And we think that we are offering exceptional value at our price," Etheridge said. "We have some qualities in our furniture that only higher priced manufacturers offer. And we think that we'll be able to produce that efficiently, and keep our price down in order to be competitive in the market."

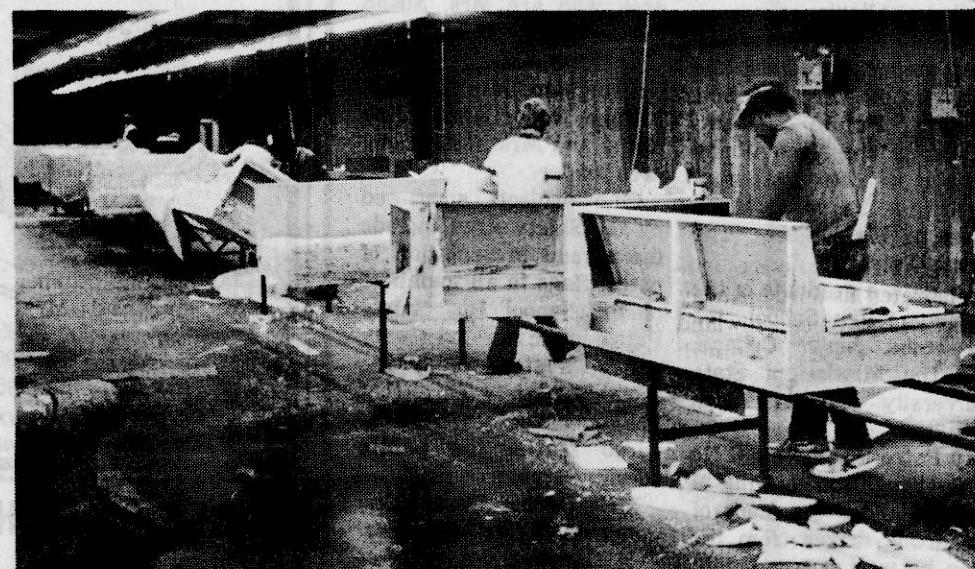

The Park Lane management group includes Etheridge, Tommy Green, vice-president of finance and administration, Tom Forrester, vice-president of marketing, Bob Clement, vice-president of manufacturing, and Phil Jones, vice-president of customer service and inventory control.

Prentiss County Pig Chain Helps 4-H'ers Get Experience

The 4-H Clubs of Prentiss County are involved in a project to better the swine in Northeast Mississippi. There are four youth now working with this project. Each youth receives two gilts to begin their project. One gilt from the first litter will be returned to the pig chain from the first farrowing to further the chain.

This project facilitates the involvement of youth in the pork production for profit and experience and also it improves the quality of hogs.

The general outline of the program is to supply youth with good swine breeding stock. These youth will maintain the swine and redistribute to other youth a gilt from each sow.

This project should help 4-H youth gain experience in pork management, bookkeeping, financing, showmanship and responsibility, and to understand all the different responsibilities of raising livestock.

This project is the combined efforts of the Cooperative Extension Service and the Big Ten Association. Funding for the project is supplied by the Booneville Banking Association, Federal Land Bank and Production Credit Association.

Clyde Isbell and son of Rienzi donated the boar to be used in this project.

4-H PIG CHAIN - Members of the 4-H Clubs in Prentiss County are currently involved in a Pig Chain. In this project youth gain experience in pork management, financing, showmanship and responsibility in raising livestock. Blackland Resident Grows 15-Foot Tomato Plant

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

When Ernest L. Walker of Blackland picks tomatoes he sometimes has to use a ladder to reach them.

That's because Walker has a tomato plant 15 feet tall.

This isn't a running tomato vine. It's a German tomato, beefsteak type, that produces pink tomatoes.

The tale of this unusually tall tomato plant began last October, says Walker, who is minister of Oak Ridge Church of Christ.

Walker's wife, Sybil, had the tomato plant growing in a flower bed when Walker accidentally ran over the plant with a garden tiller.

After doing so, he cut off a foot-long sucker from the plant, put it in his strawberry bed where it rooted.

Before frost, he moved his tomato plant into the house where he watered and cared for it through the winter.

When it came time to set out the tomato plant after the last frost warning in April, the plant had grown to five feet tall.

The tomato plant began blooming in January. By mid-May the plant had tomatoes and ripens ones the first of June.

The secret to raising vigorous tomatoes is giving them plenty of water, Walker says. He usually waters his plant with 2½ gallons of water now.

In addition to providing juicy tomatoes, Walker's 15-foot-tall tomato vine is a conversation piece.

When he tells people about his tomato "tree" they look incredulous and don't believe it, he said.

Unfortunately, the tomato vine has grown too tall to be taken inside for the winter. But Walker plans to take several suckers from the plant to care for this winter.

And who knows. He may have to use a ladder again next summer when he picks tomatoes.

A TALL TOMATO VINE - Ernest L. Walker, minister of Oak Ridge Church of Christ, stands in front of his 15-foot-tall tomato plant. Walker cared for the plant all winter and it grew to a height of five feet before it was set out in his garden this spring. He plans to take a sucker from the plant and care for it this winter. Booneville Happenings

By MRS. GORDON MCGEE
Correspondent

Sorry to report that George Dillon is back in the hospital in Memphis. Let's remember him in our prayers.

The Senior Citizens of the Prentiss Baptist Association met last Thursday, Sept. 15, at the Fairview Baptist Church. Troy Inman, director, presided. Bro. Pete McCoy, pastor of Fairview, brought the devotional. Bro. Dave Smith of Thrasher Church led in the Bible study. Coy Stutts directed the share time. They all enjoyed a good meal and are looking forward to the next meeting at Ingraham Baptist Church on Thursday, Oct. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Floyd and boys, and Tommy Floyd and family of Tupelo recently visited with Mrs. Myrt Floyd and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ford and Shea.

Mrs. Eunice Hewlett recently went to Memphis and attended the 70th birthday of Highland Heights Baptist Church. Some 1,200 people attended.

Wednesday, Sept. 14, Mrs. Irene Goodin, Mrs. Clyde Beasley, Judy Beasley, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beasley and Mrs. Essie Storey attended the funeral of Mrs. Annie Spencer. Short in Memphis.

Last week Mrs. Euna Rhoades and her sister, Mrs. Leland Stacey, visited their sister, Mrs. O.P. Hicks in Longview, Texas. They then traveled on to see another sister, Mrs. Lula Dobbins in Wynnewood, Okla. This was a good week of chit-chat for these four sisters.

Here's a correction for an item in Booneville Happenings on Sept. 8. Greta Morgan of Ole Miss (not Miss. State) visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan and Greg. Thursday, Sept. 15, the Retired Teachers Association met in the George E. Allen Library for their regular meeting. Mrs. Mary Dobbins, president, presided. Herbert Sumners is the vice president and adds to the meetings with his humor and help with the programs.

Brown McCutchen gave a poem that he had written for Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Crabb for their 60th wedding anniversary. He then led in a round of songs. Mrs. Lexie McGee gave the devotional and her Christian testimony.

The guest speaker was the newly elected county superintendent of education, J.W. Greene. He brought an informative message on better schools for Prentiss County.

He emphasized that everyone should pull together to bring this about.

Mrs. Elmer McCoy, secretary, gave the minutes of the last meeting, followed by the order of business.

The group then enjoyed a covered dish meal and fellowship together. All of our teachers are to be appreciated for they have and are making a great contribution to the lives of our children.

John Floyd of Mississippi State University visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Floyd and Jim over the weekend.

John took Jennifer Robinson of Northeast Junior College to Memphis on Saturday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Robinson.

Sorry to report Mrs. Barbara Sue Young of Batesville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lester, is in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis. It is our prayer that she will have a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Dana Swan of Toccoola and Mrs. Elizabeth Streets, Ellen and Jim of Memphis, visited with their father and grandfather, Travis McCharen over the weekend. Friends hope that Mrs. McCharen will soon be able to return home after a rest in the hospital.

Last week I had a good report about The Banner-Independent when Mrs. Lessie Crane of Killeen, Texas, called me. Her subscription had expired and she was afraid the paper. She says when she receives it each week that everything stops until she has read not just the Booneville Happenings but the entire Banner-Independent. This was kind of her. Mrs. Crane is formerly of Booneville.

Friends of Mrs. Dovie McCutcheon are glad she was able to return home last Friday from the Booneville hospital. Her daughter, Mrs. Maxine Neal of Tuscumbia, Ala., has been at her bedside. She also visited with Mrs. Ilene Nixon and Ava Ruth McCutcheon while here.

Ed Denson is in the Baptist Memorial Hospital here. We want him to know he is in our prayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weston of Leland, parents of Mrs. Joe Pack Arnold, visited with the Arnolds recently to help celebrate the birthdays of Mrs. Arnold and Katie Arnold.

Little Blue Wave caught the school bus Monday morning to go to headstart. He is really looking forward to being with other kids.

New Sweetener Tastes

Like Sugar-Less Needed

Aspartame, the sweetening ingredient in several new low calorie soft drinks, actually contains as many calories per gram as a carbohydrate.

Calorie reductions are afforded by the small amount of aspartame needed to achieve sweetness.

"It (aspartame) does have calories, the same number per gram as carbohydrates but you only need one-two hundredth the amount you would need if you were sweetening with sugar," said Dr. Charles Shannon, food technologist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Another benefit of aspartame Shannon mentioned is that it is not a fermentable carbohydrate such as sugar. Thus, even if an individual drank 200 soft drinks in order to equal the caloric intake of a one sugar-sweetened soft drink, there still would be no danger of tooth decay from the acids formed when carbohydrates ferment.

Aspartame was finally approved for use in the United States in 1981. Since then further tests have been conducted to assure its suitability for use in soft drinks.

The Food and Drug Administration approved aspartame for use in soft drinks on July 8, 1983.

Aspartame differs from previous sweeteners in two major respects. The ingredients of aspartame are already in the diets of almost all humans, and it has no bitter aftertaste.

"It's a combination of two amino acids that occur naturally in foods we already eat. The only people in whose diets the amino acids would not occur are those with an inborn error of metabolism - an allergy to phenylalanine," Shannon said. These people would be on special diets to avoid this particular type of protein.

Phenylketonuria, as the allergy is known, manifests itself upon the first feeding of an infant. In fact, most states, Mississippi among them, test infants for PKU at birth, before that first feeding.

George E. Allen Library

The George E. Allen Library will resume its bi-monthly story hour for preschool children Thursday, Sept. 22, at 10:30.

Young library partons will be very welcome guests to half an hour of stories, films, and activities. Following that, if they so choose, they will be helped in the selection of books and recordings.

"The young child who is read to regularly will want to read - the child bombarded with words on TV, billboards, boxes and labels wants to read them. Parents and teachers who exploit this early interest and curiosity can create lifelong readers and writers. Where to start? How to do it? What book to choose? How to keep teenagers reading in an electronic age? These questions and more are answered in a convincing and practical way - in this guide."

This is part of the jacket blurb of a new edition of "A Parent's Guide to Children's Reading." The first edition came out in 1958 under the sponsorship of The National Book Committee and nineteen national organizations concerned with youth.

In 1959 it won the Edison Foundation Award as an outstanding contribution to education.

Author Nancy Larrick was awarded the IRA Citation of Merit and the Drexel University Citation for her contribution to children's literature. This book, now in its fifth edition, was an outgrowth of her doctoral dissertation at New York University. She holds honorary degrees from Goucher College and Lehigh University where she teaches. Her great interest in poetry for young readers young readers her resulted in her editing fourteen anthologies.

Lists of favorite books on every age level through junior high are offered along with tools for book selection and building a home library.

A chapter entitled "Let's Look it Up!" begins, "The key to learning question," and goes on to contend that unless genuine answers are forthcoming, a child soon begins to stifle the urge to inquire. When you try to formulate an answer, you find yourself short of facts because the questions increasingly point to areas and topics that are new to adults.

When you reach for a dictionary or other reference book, you are making it clear that you are taking the child's question seriously, and that you, too, want to extend your information. Parents are the major influence. The first four years of life are called the peak learning years, but by no means are later years "too late."

The Woman's Club of Booneville is sponsoring a "Reading is Fundamental" program starting in October. Originally this was a federal program supporting efforts to improve or extend reading ability. It involves parent interest and participation, and each child is to choose at least two books toward a personal library. The government is no longer furnishing funds for their purchase and the Lion's Club has contributed toward this purchasing fund as have several individuals. More details and further plans will be published later.

DR. JIM DAVIS, D.C.

I'm Arthur Arthritis. I hang out in joints and cause trouble.

I'm probably responsible for more constant suffering than any other ailment.

And, frankly, I get credit for more pain than I actually cause.

You may read that I'm responsible for making 12 million Americans miserable.

You may hear that a majority of people, after reaching age 40, can expect to encounter me in one form or another.

You'll be told that there's no cure for me. What if the pain actually is arthritis?

Well, I shouldn't be broadcasting this, but Doctors of Chiropractic seem to have my number.

Like people say, I get around a lot and I spread a lot of pain and anguish.

But you'd be surprised how many joints chiropractors get me kicked out of.

GOING FOR A LAYUP? - Except for the football uniforms, this photo of Thrasher and Mooreville players attempting to pull in a pass could pass as a basketball photo, a scene more familiar to most Thrasher fans. For years Thrasher has been a local power on the basketball court, but this is their first year for high school football. Thrasher's Danny Ramsey (84) and Marvin Reece (87) were on the scene Thursday night for this play. (Photo by Scott McKinney)

Bearcats Remain Undefeated

The Baldwyn Bearcats used powerful running of Pat Young and a tough defense to beat the Houston Hilltoppers 21 to 7. Coach Hubert Tucker's young squad improved their record to 3-0 in the early season, the only unbeaten team in Prentiss County. Young led the Bearcats with 84 yards rushing as Baldwyn took the lead early and never trailed. Young scored the first Baldwyn touchdown on a 28 yard run as the extra point was no good and Baldwyn led 6-0. However, Houston managed a touchdown on the next series when James Graham crashed over the goal line from 1 yard out and the score stood at 7-6. Baldwyn retaliated as Houston tumbled and defensive end Fred Harvell scooped up the ball and rambled 25 yards for the score. Baldwyn quarterback Gregg Tucker hit Mark Michaels for the two point conversion and Baldwyn led 14-7.

The Bearcats managed an 80-yard drive in the fourth quarter and cashed it in for a touchdown when Jimmy Earl Tyes scored from one yard out.

The victory put Baldwyn at 3-0 for the year as they prepare to travel to Okolona.

Thrasher Victorious In First-Ever Effort

By SCOTT MCKINNEY Sports Writer

Coach Willie T. Jackson described it as a game that he'll never forget and as one that stands out as one of the best in his 30 years of coaching.

The Thrasher Rebels used a strong defense to win its first ever high school football game, a 8-0 shutout of the Mooreville Troopers.

Jackson was exuberant after the game, giving credit to players and coaches for the victory.

"Our kids have worked so hard for this, they really deserve it," he said. "Also, I give a lot of the credit to my coaches. They do the work, I just stand here."

Jackson ranks this game as one of the three best games he ever remembers.

"When I was a coach at Wick Anderson, we had never beaten Corinth. We got new uniforms and went to Corinth and beat them 13-0," he said.

He also recalled an experience where his Anderson team had never beaten Tupelo," he added.

Thursday night, Thrasher did have something new on when they played Mooreville and got the win. The Rebels had put numerals on their helmets for the game with the Troopers, but Jackson believes the new helmets played no part in the victory.

"I doubt that had anything to do with our win," Jackson said, "but you never know."

Both teams played a scoreless first half that was marred by 15 penalties. Thrasher had one touchdown called back due to one of the penalties.

Thrasher's defense scored all 8 points to preserve the win for the Rebels.

Thrasher's first score came when Mooreville quarterback Andy Puckett dropped back and lofted a pass intended for Greg Cryder, but Rebel Roy White stepped in and intercepted the pass and scooted 53 yards for the touchdown. A try for two points failed.

Thrasher added two points when the Mooreville punter lost the ball out of the endzone for the safety and the Rebels led 8-0.

Mooreville mounted one last threat late in the game and drove deep in Rebel territory, but the though Rebel defense put a halt to the drive.

Rebel defensive back William Warren said he felt the defense was one of the stronger points on the team.

Thrasher managed considerable yardage, all gained by Warren, Shumpert, White, and Dwight Shinault, while Mooreville used powerful running by Puckett, Cryder, and Rusty Boren.

The Rebels, now 1-2 on the year, will travel to Burnsville Friday night.

Northeast Loses In Last Quarter Heartbreaker

By SCOTT MCKINNEY Sports Writer

The East Central Jr. College Warriors scored the go ahead touchdown with 1:24 left in the game and held on to defeat the Northeast Tigers 14-10.

Northeast led throughout the game but the Warriors managed the final score after an 49-yard drive.

Northeast kicked off to East Central to start the game, but the Warriors tumbled on the first play from scrimmage and the Tigers recovered.

A David DeGroat to Daryl Rogers 23-yard pass set up Ricky Johnson's one yard touchdown dive. Jeff Dilworth added the extra point to give Northeast a 7-0 lead.

Northeast's defense played extremely well throughout the night as on the next East Central drive, Jack Duffy intercepted a Warrior pass to halt a promising drive.

Both teams exchanged punts on the next series until Northeast added another three points on the board in the first quarter. DeGroat connected on a 36 yard pass to Metry McGaughy to set up Dilworth's 25-yard field goal to put Northeast up 10-0.

Teams again exchanged punts on several series as both defensive teams played hard. East Central, however, managed to score before the half when Al Walker crashed into the endzone from three yards and Luke Parkes added the extra point to bring East Central within three at 10-7.

Both teams failed to score in the third quarter as the defense stayed tough.

The Tiger defense snuffed out several Warrior drives as Mike Roach sacked the Warrior quarterback on several occasions and James Jones picked up several quarterback sacks to lead the Northeast "sack exchange" defense.

Scott Mills, Andy Brown, and Pat Pate also made key defensive plays for the Tigers. But the defense had been on the field most of the second half for Northeast and they begin to wear down.

East Central quarterback David Pleasant led a last minute drive of 49 yards in 13 plays for the winning score. A facemask penalty and a pass interference penalty kept the drive alive for the Warriors and with 1:24 left in the game, East Central's Al Walker scored his second touchdown on a 3-yard run to give East Central the win.

Northeast, now 1-2, plays Coahoma tonight at Keenum Stadium with kickoff set at 7:30.

Kossuth Aggies Deal Devils Third Loss

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Kossuth quarterback Pat Mathis completed 12 of 24 passes Friday night, scored two touchdowns, and passed for another score to pace the Aggies past the Booneville Blue Devils at Keenum Stadium 23 to 13.

Booneville, trailing 21 to 7 at the half, used a tenacious defense to keep the game close as lineman Tom Cook, Greg Shook, Robby Rogers, Kevin Eubank, and Dal Stell all led the defense that caused Mathis some trouble early in the game.

Kossuth got on the scoreboard first when Mathis scored his first touchdown on a one yard plunge and Mike Hancock added the extra point. However, the Blue Devils took the preceding kickoff and turned it into a score.

Morgan Blassingame hauled in the kick and rambled 69 yards to the Kossuth 6-yard line where quarterback Michael Blalock scored the touchdown and Rod Coggin added the extra point to tie the score at 7-7.

Teams exchanged punts for the next couple of series until Mathis dropped back and found split-end Reggie Alexander open in the endzone from 21 yards out for the score. The extra point was no good.

Kossuth added another score before the half when Mathis scored his second touchdown, again on a one-yard run as Mathis threw to Strachan for the two point conversion and the Aggies led 21-7 at the half.

A determined Booneville team came onto the field after the half only to go back into the dressing room, short 10 points.

Booneville did manage to score again - the first points scored in the second half - when Blalock threw 20 yards to Coggin for the score on a diving catch. Coggin's extra point attempt was blocked and the score stood at 21-13.

Teams did nothing but exchange punts the rest of the game and Booneville had the best field position throughout the half, but they could never reach paydirt in the final quarter.

Kossuth did add a safety to the score in the 4th quarter when Rod Coggin dropped back to punt and a bad snap went out of the endzone to give the Aggies the 23-13 lead.

The Booneville coaches said their offense could never get things going in the second half. Booneville halfback Rod Coggin said he felt if the offense had got going, Booneville would have won the game.

Kossuth piled up 12 firstdowns to Booneville's five. Kossuth rolled up 278 yards while Booneville could only accumulate 67 total yards.

Booneville quarterback Michael Blalock completed only two of three passes for 25 yards and one touchdown, a drastically reduced number from the previous two weeks. Buddy Bartlett and Jimbo Goddard led the Blue Devil rushers with 31 and 28 yards, respectively.

Booneville, now 0-3, will travel to Pontotoc tomorrow night to face the Warriors in a district game.

MOVING IN - Kevin Eubank closes in on a Kossuth ball carrier during Friday night's game in Keenum Stadium. Despite a noticeable improvement over the previous weeks' play, the Blue Devils lost their third game in as many outings. Booneville plays at Pontotoc tomorrow night.

Coggin Brothers Are Adversaries In Aggie-Devil Battle Friday Night

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

The Booneville Blue Devil-Kossuth Aggie football game this past Friday night had more meaning to a Booneville family than just coach Jim Drewry coaching against his old team. To the Richard Coggin family, this game meant a family feud.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coggin witnessed their oldest son Rick, now an assistant coach at Kossuth, in head to head competition with their youngest son, Rod, who plays for Booneville.

However, the Coggins showed no mixed emotion about the situation. "We wanted Booneville to win the football game all the way," Mrs. Coggin said. "We really wanted Rod to win because he still plays and Rick is coaching," she added.

Mrs. Coggin said this game was special because of the fact of both of their sons participating.

"It seemed strange to see Rod playing and Rick coaching against him. I would catch myself looking at Rick during the game and still it seemed hard to believe," she said.

However, Mrs. Coggin said that no hard feelings were shown by the brothers.

"Rod has a lot of respect for Rick, and Rick is really proud of Rod. They help each other all they can. They have a special relationship," she said. "If Rod ever has any trouble, he calls Rick for advice, and Rick tries to help Rod all he can."

Rod, a junior at Booneville, said it was odd to look at one sideline and see his team and look across to the other sideline and see his brother.

"He's given me so much advice, I didn't know whether to go to him or to our sidelines," Rod said.

Rod felt that no hard feelings would come between him and his brother. "I don't think he'll brag about it that much. We didn't talk about it much the Sunday before the game," he said.

Mrs. Coggin said she had told Rick on Sunday that she hoped Booneville won, while Rick returned by saying he hoped Kossuth won.

Rod said that he really wanted to win that game more than any others. "It meant a lot to beat him, but I guess I'll have to wait until next year," he said.

Rick attended Booneville High School where he played under coach Drewry. He then went to Northeast and later to Millsaps. He played football at both schools. He earned his Physical Education Degree from Millsaps, where he graduated with top honors.

The older Coggin then stayed at Millsaps where he was an assistant coach to Harper Davis for the football team. He is in his first year at Kossuth.

Rod has been a three year starter at Booneville and handles all of the kicking chores for the Devils, as well as playing wingback and quarterback.

Abraham Lincoln once said, "A house divided, can not stand." But the Coggins are standing tall with two sons competing in the football world, and on opposite sides.

Anyway you look at it, the Coggins came out a winner.

BROTHER ROD - Rod Coggin grimaces as one Booneville manager massages a leg cramp while another wipes the perspiration from his forehead during Friday night's game against Kossuth.

Three-way Tie In Prog Chart

Leighton Miller, Doug Jumper, and Bill Ward have all moved into a tie after this past week of action for second place in The Banner-Independent's weekly prognosticator chart, while Manfred Saylor continues to stretch his lead.

Miller and Saylor both correctly picked 12 of 14 games this past week, an 86 percent outing.

Guest picker Sandy Fisher and Doug Jumper, both picked 11 of 14 games or a 79 percent rate for the week.

Bill Ward dropped this week, picking only a 71 percent clip, or 10 of 14 games.

Saylor continues to lead the yearly totals with 81 percent of games picked correct, while Jumper, Ward, and Miller all are picking at a 73 percent rate.

This week's guest picker is Dan Arthur, manager of the Booneville Pizza Hut.

Education Bill Will Force Decisions, Commitments

The mandates from House Bill 4 can cause education in Mississippi to sprout wings and fly, or they can be just one more distraction for educators to deal with and one more political "hot potato" for factions to debate. Good arguments can be made for various prescriptions for our educational ailments, however, we may lose the patient if we do not pool our energies into making the plan we have work.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

'... And He Is A Good Neighbor ... Go, And Do Thou Likewise.'

-- Luke 10:30

Charles L. Potts, Pastor
First United Methodist Church
Booneville, Miss.

A certain man moved into a new community. He did not fall among robbers who both stripped and beat him . . . and departed leaving him half dead. He just moved in. And by chance a certain neighbor was going by this man's new home, and when he saw him . . . he passed by on the other side. He thought . . . "I'm almost late now for my meeting at the church . . . if I stop to visit I'll miss the opening prayer, and I do hate to be late. Besides, the pastor probably already knows about him." And in like manner also another neighbor . . . when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side, saying, "So, they want us to visit new neighbors such as this one . . . well, I don't believe in giving the impression that I'm a fanatic on religion. I'll just wait until the subject casually comes up some day, and I'll say . . . "Pardon me, and please don't think I'm the type who goes overboard about such things, but if you ever get a chance, you might like to visit our church some Sunday when you feel like it and the children are not sick and you don't plan to go out of town, or have company, and you get up in time." But a certain neighbor, as he journeyed that way, came to him and courteously welcomed him to the community, and appropriately brought up the matter of his church life. He even offered to come by for him the next Sunday if he needed a way. So the following Sunday . . . he brought him to the Superintendent of Sunday School and said, "take care of him during this hour by helping him to find a class, and I will meet him so that we may sit together during worship. And whatsoever service I may be . . . I will be glad to render. Which of these three do you think proved to be a true neighbor unto him who moved into the community? (Now let's say that community is Booneville . . . neighbor.)

One Of The B-I Staff's Favorite Cooks

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

To say Pat Fugitt is a good cook is an understatement. Just ask anyone at The Banner-Independent.

Pat worked in the advertising department here in 1980. And since then she has filled in from time to time when called upon to help out in the front office.

No matter how busy she is Pat always found time (and still does) to make delicious foods for the Banner bunch.

"Probably one of the most popular foods that Pat has ever made for her friends here is 'Turtle Candy.'"

"Turtle candy is very similar in taste to 'Millionaire Candy' that is so expensive to purchase. Turtle candy is delicious anytime but it is really a festive candy to serve during holidays - especially since it's easy to make."

Pat makes so many good things to eat that it's often hard to call one special dish a favorite but her daughter, DeAnna, an eighth grader at Hill's Chapel, says one of her favorite recipes her mom makes is "Granny's Sugar Cookies."

And speaking of favorite recipes, the Banner employees were treated to another of Pat's specialties Monday - a red velvet cake. Pat made the cake in honor of Kay Parr and Shirley Burns, who both celebrated birthdays this week.

Pat's husband, Dickie, is a construction inspector at the Farmer's Home Administration. They attend Liberty Methodist Church.

PAT'S RECIPES

Turtle Candy
1 pkg. Kraft caramels
2 1/2 Tb. milk

2 cups chopped pecans
1 pkg. semi-sweet chocolate chips (12 ozs.)
Melt caramels and milk in double boiler. Remove from heat. Beat until smooth. Add pecans.

Drop by spoon onto buttered cookie sheet. Refrigerate until cold. Melt chocolate pieces and 1/2 block of parafin together. Dip candy in chocolate.

Egg Custard
4 eggs
one and three-fourth cups sugar
1/2 cup flour
Mix all ingredients together. Add two cups milk 1/2 stick butter (melted) 1 teaspoon vanilla Pour in glass pie pan. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

Granny's Sugar Cookies
Cream together: 1/2 cup butter and 1 cup sugar
Blend in: 1 egg
Sift together and add to mixture:
2 to 2 1/4 cups all purpose flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Divide dough in two parts. Chill 1 to 2 hours so dough will be easy to handle.

Roll dough, one part at a time, to 1/8 inch thickness and cut with cookie cutters. Keep other part of dough chilled until ready to roll. Transfer to cookie sheet and bake in preheated oven at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes.

Makes approximately 2 dozen cookies.

Glaze, if desired, with confectioners' sugar - water glaze.

Confectioners' Sugar Water Glaze

Blend together 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar and 5 to 6 tsp. water. Add food coloring, if desired. Brush glaze over cookies while still warm. (Makes good holiday cookies).

Chocolate Pie
4 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 Tbs. flour
3 Tbs. cocoa
2 Tbs. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups milk
Mix all dry ingredients together. Add egg yolks. Mix well again. Add vanilla, butter and milk. Cook mixture until it is thick. Pour in baked pie shell and top with meringue.

Almond Crescents
1/2 lb. butter (or 2 sticks), soft
1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 1/4 cups plain flour
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 to 1 cup chopped nuts
Cream all ingredients together. Shape into balls by hand. Put on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes. Let cool. Roll in confectioners' sugar.

Hamburger Casserole
1 1/2 lbs. hamburger meat
1 celery stalk
1 medium onion
1 can mushroom soup
1 cup cooked rice
1/4 cup shredded cheddar

cheese
Cook meat until brown. Drain. Cook rice and set aside. Chop celery and onion. Mix all ingredients together. Top with cheese. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

Peppered Steak
1 round steak
1 pkg. Lipton Onion Soup Mix
1 large bell pepper
Cut steak into bite size. Cook until tender. Add a small amount of water to make gravy. Add onion mix and sliced peppers and let simmer about 15 minutes. Serve with rice or mashed potatoes.

New DED Director Optimistic About State's Future

By BARRY W. JONES
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Everything William Hackett touches in his work in Mississippi these days has the word "new" written on it.

Hackett is executive director of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development and he believes the state has entered a new era of economic development with a long slate of new development programs.

"The glass in Mississippi today is half full instead of half empty," Hackett tells audiences he speaks to in Mississippi and elsewhere.

He told a convention of the Mississippi Feed and Grain Association in Biloxi recently that he wants to hear people all over the country saying, "I didn't expect that from Mississippi" instead of "That's what I expected from Mississippi."

Hackett believes a long list of new legislation and development programs enacted and available in Mississippi has set the stage for a new economic era in the state.

"We've got new education and new vocational education packages in Mississippi, and education is totally necessary if this state is going to help itself," Hackett said.

He said the state has a new small business package and a new distressed area program under development to help those areas of the state exceptionally hard hit economically.

"Something has to be done in an unusual way to help the economically distressed in our state," he said.

Hackett said Mississippi has a new high technology program that will aid in promoting research by tying the private sector to universities within the state. He also cited new programs to develop ports, tourism, exports, quality of life and product marketing.

"I can assure you the programs are in place in Mississippi to meet these challenges," Hackett said. "Now is the time to move Mississippi ahead and be innovative."

"Let's have no more of this 50th talk in Mississippi. Let's go the head of the line."

MUW Enrollment Up

Enrollment for the fall semester at Mississippi University for Women is up more than 20 percent, said Registrar Jayne Perkins.

Fall semester enrollment this year stands at 2,276. Last fall's figure was 1,894. "We have 20.1 percent more students than last fall," Miss Perkins said.

Sept. 8 was the last day students could enter classes and receive credit for fall-semester courses. Of the 2,276 students enrolled this fall at MUW, 12.5 percent or 284 are men, the registrar noted.

MUW's enrollment report shows an increase of 12.9 percent in female students. Preliminary reports also indicate retention has improved, although figures are not available at the present time.

Miss Perkins also indicated that the full-time-equivalency (FTE) count is up approximately 300 over last year's figure, based on preliminary reports.

EYE OPENERS

By
Dr. Walter C. Simpson

Dust In The Eye?

Few things are as annoying as getting a speck of dirt into the eye. Sometimes, the tears stimulated while washing out the speck. But if they don't here's a first-aid procedure--

If you can see the foreign object on the eye's inner surface, you can use the corner of a moistened tissue to lift it out.

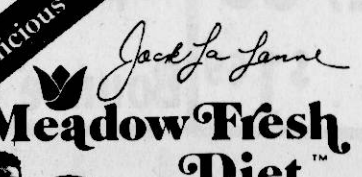

If you can't find the speck, hold the upper lashes while looking downward, and gently pull the upper lid away from you and down over the lower lid. This will usually "sweep" the speck down to the lower lid, where it can be removed easily. Blow your nose. This sometimes helps the speck drain. At any rate, it will make you feel better.

If you still can't find or remove the speck, STOP. Don't try more difficult procedures yourself. Cover the eye with a clean handkerchief or a dry sterile dressing, and consult an eye doctor.

Presented as a public service by Dr. Walter C. Simpson, Optometrist, 113 Main St., Booneville, Ms., phone 728-4853.

ABOUT THE COVER PHOTOS:

Football Walkons Face

Incredible Odds

At State Colleges

Jamie Holder can truly appreciate success. He certainly earned it the hard way.

Holder is a remarkable success story. The Ole Miss wide receiver played high school football in Bay Springs. He desperately wanted to continue playing the game he loved on the collegiate level, but major college recruiters were nowhere to be found.

Holder faced a tough decision. He could accept an offer from a smaller school to play football or he could perform his pass-catching feats on the junior college level. And, of course, there was another avenue available, but only the tremendously dedicated would even venture that alternative. Holder could try to walk-on at a major college and earn a scholarship the hard way.

Holder elected to try the hard way. He ruled out walking-on at Mississippi State even though his father was a graduate there. He thought that the Bulldogs would not pass enough to give a wide receiver walk-on a good chance because of their wishbone offense.

Two years ago Holder simply walked-on the Ole Miss Rebel football team. His fate was like those countless other players who have attempted the difficult feat. Countless hours were spent practicing and taking the brunt of the punishment from the regular players. And for the hard work he did not suit-up for a single game and as a result he never caught a pass in varsity action.

Those two years running with the scout team were really depressing," said Holder. "I still didn't have any doubts even then that someday I would get a chance to play."

When Ole Miss hired Billy Brewer as the new head football coach, Holder had his chance. Brewer's pass-oriented offense was ideally suited to wide receivers and Holder knew that his big chance was forthcoming. "I worked extremely hard this summer because I knew that I would finally get a chance to play under coach Brewer," explained Holder. "I caught about 200 or 300 passes every day this summer."

The walk-on's dedication paid handsome dividends. Out of a group of 38 walk-ons this fall, Holder was the only survivor. His talent and hard work earned him a starting berth at the Rebel wide receiver position. It also earned him the respect of Brewer.

"Jamie is one of the more consistent players that we have right now," said Brewer. "He is a fine athlete that has worked very hard and he will see a lot of action for us this season."

In the Rebels' season-opener against Memphis Vanderbilt by 14, Auburn will beat Tennessee by six.

Georgia will whip South Carolina by 10. LSU will upend Washington by six. Louisiana Tech will beat Lamar by seven. Louisville will edge past Cincinnati by two. Notre Dame will fall in an upset to Miami by five. Navy will topple Lehigh by at least 17 points.

Wake Forest will clobber Richmond by 16. Rice will pick up a win by nine over Southwestern Louisiana. SMU will trounce TCU by 17. Kentucky will beat Tulane by three.
