TVA Chairman Will Take Phone Calls

TVA Chairman C.H. Dean Jr. will answer telephone calls from the public on the agency's toll-free Citizen Action Line on Wednesday, Oct. 26, from 8 to 9 a.m.

The toll-free number for Mississippi residents is 1-800-251-9242.

TVA began the Citizen Action Line in October 1978 so the public could obtain answers to questions about TVA activities and offer comments and suggestions on agency programs.

Unemployment Falls To 11.3%

Mississippi's unemployment rate dropped to 11.3 percent in September, a decrease of one and one-tenth of a percentage point compared to August's revised jobless rate of 12.4 percent, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Cohen Robertson. Last year's September unemployment rate was 10.8 percent.

The 11.3 percent unemployment rate for the state was higher than the 8.8 percent national rate for September. MESC figures showed 120,800 unemployed and 946,900 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,067,700. The initial unemployment insurance claims totalled 12,948 in September.

Fifty-six of the state's 82 counties had unemployment rates of 10.0 percent or higher in September. Of that number, one county had an unemployment rate of 20.0 percent or above.

The counties having the highest unemployment rates in September were George, with an unemployment rate of 22.5 percent; Tishomingo, with 19.8 percent; Jackson, with 19.4 percent; and Jefferson, with an unemployment rate of 18.2 percent.

Rankin, Lafayette, and Issaquena counties had the lowest jobless rates in September. Rankin had a rate of 6.6 percent, Lafayette had a rate of 6.9 percent and Issaquena had an unemployment rate of 7.0 percent. Unemployment rates from August to September, while only eleven counties reported increases.

New Site Teacher Injured In Shooting

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

A New Site School teacher is in serious condition in intensive care following a shooting Thursday afternoon of last week.

Charles Williams, 41, of Route 7, Booneville, was shot once in the back with a 30.06 high powered rifle while he was in his pickup, according to Prentiss County Deputy John Moore.

James L. Stoop, 57, of 100 Price Lane, Booneville, has been charged with aggravated assault in connection with the incident. He is out of jail on $25,000 bond. Moore said charges against Stoop may be changed before the investigation is completed.

The shooting occurred around 4:30 p.m. Williams was in his pickup on Mt. Pigsah Road and Stoop was in another vehicle on the right-of-way on Hwy. 4 - which is only about a quarter of a mile from Williams' home, Moore said.

Both vehicles were stopped when the shooting happened, he said.

Two shots were fired. The shot that struck Williams went through the pickup's tailgate, bed, back of the cab, and the truck seat. Although only one slug struck Williams, the shot fragmented, hitting him in two spots, according to James Horn of the North Mississippi Ambulance Service.

The other shot struck the left hand side of the back glass, Moore said.

Stoop reportedly turned himself in to the sheriff's department at midnight on the day of the shooting.

Moore said the motive for the shooting was "a misunderstanding," but declined to comment further. He did say, however, that there were two witnesses to the shooting.

As of Wednesday morning, Williams remained in serious condition in the intensive care unit of the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo.

Williams taught driver's education and economics at New Site High School.

Beulah Price A College Student At 81

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

She's just like the other students in Dr. Clinton Boals Western Civilization class at Northeast Junior College.

She takes notes diligently and listens intently as the instructor explains names, dates and facts concerning the history of the United States.

PERHAPS THE only difference between Beulah M. de'Olive Price and her fellow students is her age. Mrs. Price is 81.

This is the fourth fall Mrs. Price has taken a class at Northeast. She has also studied professional writing, the history of art, and written articles for the college newspaper.

Some of the students are puzzled why Mrs. Price would return to school if it wasn't necessary. They think that she must really love history.

The reason is really quite simple. She likes the company she keeps.

"I look forward to coming down here and being with younger people," Mrs. Price says. "I think it's really helped me to be with them. I look forward to coming so much."

She lives in Corinth and drives to her class each

Tuesday and Thursday morning. Although she has a special parking permit, she parks on the college boulevard in front of McCoy Hall and then walks to Anderson Hall - for she doesn't want to take advantage of her permit.

Mrs. Price shares another common characteristic of students when it comes to tests. "I'm afraid I'm a last minute crammer," she smiles.

'I look forward to coming down here and being with younger people'

She didn't score as well on her first test as she wanted to, but she was pleased with her grade on the second test (95).

"I really enjoy the lectures. Dr. Boals leans over backwards to make things clear to understand," she says.

Dr. Boals teases Mrs. Price by saying that he constantly has to reprimand her for disrupting the class by talking. Mrs. Price just smiles at his teasing.

Mrs. Price carries a hickory stick but she doesn't need it to walk across campus. She says it's mainly a "bad dog stick," but it's really more than that. It's a memento of a walk in the woods with her husband, the late Richard Lewlyn Price, who cut the hickory stick for her some years ago.

Mrs. Price has many happy memories. If she wanted to, she could tell her fellow classmates some history, too. For she and her husband loved to travel. She has visited Europe, London, Paris, Rome, Argentina and various points of interest in the United States.

Once when she was in Santiago, Chile, she was "bumped" from a hotel where she had reservations, because President Dwight Eisenhower and his party arrived and had to stay there.

MRS. PRICE WAS an elementary teacher in Alcorn County for 16 years. She has two children, Mrs. Mark (Cecile) Alexander, a Baptist missionary in Argentina, and Richard Lewlyn Price Jr., a minister who lives near Ashville, N.C. She has three grandsons.

A native of Hattiesburg, she moved to Corinth in 1920. She is a member of the Mississippi Historical

Prentiss County School Board

Meeting Helps Defuse Thrasher School Problems

BY ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

A sometimes heated Monday afternoon meeting between the county school board, Superintendent of Schools Lex Cain, Thrasher School Principal Harrell Padgett, and Assistant Principal Neola Cleveland and a delegation of 15 Thrasher parents appears to have defused a potentially explosive situation at Thrasher Elementary School.

The parents, who had requested a meeting with the board two weeks ago, gathered in the court room at the Prentiss County Courthouse at 5 p.m. Monday to air their grievances to the school authorities.

Among the grievances presented by the parents were several complaints about a fifth grade boy who had reportedly made obscene gestures and exposed himself to girls in the first three grades at the school.

Both Padgett and Mrs. Cleveland said they were aware of the problem. Padgett said the boy had been punished on a previous occasion when he had been caught. But on another occasion the girl who had accused him had subsequently withdrawn her accusation.

He said the boy was being watched, but with over 200 children on the playground and too few teachers to watch them, it was not possible to observe the boy's every move.

Another mother told of a situation involving her son and another boy on the school bus. She said the other boy had repeatedly called her son "a dirty name" for several mornings straight. And, when her boy finally stood up to his tormenter, he was thrown off the bus, and eventually paddled by Padgett.

The mother said that, when she confronted Padgett about the situation, he became loud and abusive to her.

"He told me how he ran his school was none of my business," she said.

When Padgett denied the accusation, the mother said she had witnesses to the incident. "I didn't want to go over anybody's head. That's why I talked to Mr. Padgett," she said.

"You've already gone over somebody's head," Padgett replied.

The meeting became a shouting match between Padgett and several parents, culminating in an accusation that such things would not happen if Padgett would do his job.

"I am doing my job,"

Padgett responded.

Once Cain had calmed everyone down, Padgett admitted having lost his temper while talking with the mother about the situation and said he "might have said" what she quoted him as having said.

Cain assured the parents that the handling of such incidents at school was indeed their business. Supt. Cain also admitted it was illegal for a bus driver to eject a student from a bus,

'It's Hard To Get Anywhere... Without Math And Science'

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

"Mississippi's education package is being viewed as the best package nationwide. And everybody in the nation is looking at how Mississippi is going to implement all of the package's parts," said Baldwin High School Principal C.L. "Red"

Shelton.

"At least that's what the speakers were saying at a seminar I attended last summer," Shelton said.

And Shelton feels that the upgrading of math and science courses should be at the top of the priority list in the implementation of the package.

"It's hard to get anywhere today without math and science," he said, pointing out that some colleges have already started tuition free summer programs in math and science, and are offering advanced degrees in computer technology.

Agreeing that computers will be a way of life for most of the children now in his charge, Shelton said that the math would be needed to establish a logic background that would enable them to deal with computers.

"We have two computers, one in this office, and one in the gifted class. And I wish we had a computer lab," he said. "We need to have a computer lab because we are not doing these kids justice without one. When they come out of school and enter the job market, they're going to need some basic knowledge of computers.

"We have the space for one. We just don't have the money," Shelton said. "It would cost a lot of money. But, then again, it's not a whole lot of money when you consider the benefits.

"But there are too many people who have to be convinced of that," he said.

Asked what he feels is the cause for the erosion of the quality of education over the last generation, Shelton said, "You have these gurus...these education gurus who come around every now and then and come up with all these fancy ideas. And everybody jumps on the bandwagon. Then the idea doesn't work, and the kids suffer for it."

He explained this was how we ended up trying to train leaders while teaching them to conform.

"Now I'm not one of those," he said. "I wouldn't want to go overboard, and turn computers over to the kids, and say, All right. The teacher's here to help you. I wouldn't want to go whole hog, and just turn them loose with them."

"I don't believe the computer will ever take the place of a teacher. But, if a student missed a class, or if they had something they wanted to review, they could go punch in Lesson 27, and review it, or get caught up. I think the computer definitely has a place in school as a supplemental tool."

Shelton admitted that he could see the time when a student might carry a floppy disk, instead of a book, and do his homework on the computer at home. "As far as that goes, it might even be possible to pick up the phone, dial the school, and get help from the computer there if you run into a problem," he added.

Asked if he felt compulsory education might increase the problems of motivating students, Shelton said, "I really think in a lot of cases, it's not so much the kids who don't want to go to school, as much as it is the parents who don't encourage them."

But, he said, the stiffened college entrance requirements seem to be forcing students to concentrate more on self-motivation. "That has been one of the best things in the world, with them saying, 'Now, if you want to go to college, you have to have these courses.'"

"Students didn't use to start thinking about their futures until the second semester of their senior year," he said. "Now, they have to start thinking about it in junior high, or earlier."

"I had a kid come in a few days ago who graduated last year. And he said, 'Hey! I wish I'd listened to what you all said.' And I asked him what he meant. And he said, 'I just took the easy course in math. And, man, I'm in trouble up at Northeast already.'"

Shelton said, to an educator, current problems are future problems. "You've got to look down the road some, and figure out what these kids will need then. If someone is building a house, and he doesn't know the logical steps of what comes next, he's going to be in trouble," he said.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, doesn't the Bible say the Devil was at one time in heaven and was cast down?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: No, the Bible talks about the king of Babylon as Lucifer. Some people have the idea that (Isa. 14:12) teaches that the devil was cast down from heaven, but this is really not true. The text says, "How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning: how art thou cut down to the ground which didst weaken the nations." The same Lucifer in the septuagint, is translated "star" or "brilliant star." The star was represented as falling from heaven, which was the wicked king's place of dominion. The figure is about the same in (Rev. 9:1) when John said, "I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit." Actually, Isaiah tells us this same man (star) was boastful and tried to ascend into heaven and exalt his throne above the stars of God, and make himself like the most high. Of course, the king of Babylon was cut down as the Bible tells us. This Lucifer was cut down from his exalted place of rulership to the satanic plane of a perfidious leader of impious forces. When Jesus said (Luke 10:18) "I beheld satan fall as lightning from heaven." He was talking about the complete defeat of all the personified agents of satan.

Proper Use Of Crop Residue Is A Valuable Conservation Practice

By AL GARNER
Acting District
Conservationist
USDA, Soil Conservation Service
Booneville
Field Office

Are you utilizing your crop residue wisely? If not, maybe you should consider doing so.

Proper use of crop residue is a very valuable soil conservation practice. Many farmers in the county are using their crop residue incorporating them into the soil or leaving them on the each year. However, some are still neglecting this practice, and as a result, they are losing more and more topsoil during the winter months.

Crop residue use is defined as utilizing plant residues left in cultivated fields by surface during the part of the year when critical erosion periods usually occur.

The use of crop residue achieves four purposes: (1) it conserves moisture, (2) it increases infiltration, (3) it improves soil tilth and (4) it guards against excessive topsoil erosion.

On sloping cropland, the residue should be left on the surface of the soil after the crop is harvested. Leaving the residue in this manner, rather than removing it, will really help hold the topsoil during the winter - which is when your land is most susceptible to washing.

On bottom land, subject to overflow, the best way to handle crop residue is to disk it into the top layer of soil. This will prevent it from floating off during overflow periods.

Proper crop residue use is one of the most inexpensive - yet most effective soil conservation practices you can use on your farm. As simple and inexpensive as it is, it can really be valuable but Padgett insisted the boy had not been forced to get off the bus, but had volunteered.

"He was given the choice of sitting down or leaving the bus. And he left the bus," Padgett said.

After more, sometimes heated discussion, Padgett apologized publicly to the mother and agreed to speak with the bus driver to determine if he had heard the other boy taunt the mother's son. He also promised to admonish the driver about putting children off his bus.

"We can't have him leaving children in the middle of the road," Cain told him.

Another mother then said that her son had come home from school with a split lip and a loose tooth because a teacher had shoved him face first against a brick wall. She said charges were being filed against the teacher.

"She's talking about me," Mrs. Cleveland said.

Mrs. Cleveland then explained that she had had repeated problems of disobedience from the boy. She said that, when the classes were lined up at the drinking fountain, the boy refused to wait his turn and insisted on jumping the line, telling her he didn't have to wait.

Mrs. Cleveland said she had scolded the boy several times. And, on the occasion in question, she had jerked the boy away from the water fountain to scold him. When he jerked away from her, his mouth hit the mouthpiece on the water fountain, splitting his lip and loosening the tooth, she said.

"I did not shove him up against the brick wall. In fact, there were other children between him and the wall," Mrs. Cleveland said.

The next incident in question concerned a third grade girl who claimed she had been "attacked" by five boys who had "trapped her at the back of the room and felt of her," while classes were changing.

Padgett said the incident was still under investigation, but added that two of the boys the girl had originally accused had been exonerated by her on the following day. He explained that this was why those boys' parents had not been notified of the incident.

"She told me they were there. But they did not join in with the other boys," Padgett said.

Mrs. Cleveland was then accused of having made the statement in front of a group of people in her office that the little girl had been attacked "because her mother let her dress indecently." She had been wearing short shorts and a tie-up tank-top on the day in question, according to Mrs. Cleveland.

The question was raised as to how provocative such clothing could be on a third grade girl who was small for her age. Another shouting match ensued, with Mrs. Cleveland denying she had ever made the statement about the girl's dress to anyone but the girl's mother on the phone and the mother insisting that she had witnessed to the comment.

Once things had quieted down, Mrs. Cleveland explained that the incident had occurred during a class change while she was in the hall settling another disturbance.

As she finished her explanation, the girl's mother asked, "How long did it take you to memorize that story," but apologized for the question once the room had quieted down again.

All four incidents, and several other more minor incidents were discussed repeatedly during the 2½ hour meeting, with the parents eventually asking what they could do to help.

The formation of a Parent-Teacher Organization was suggested. Padgett pointed out that there had once been a PTO at Thrasher. But parents had lost interest and stopped coming to meetings. He said it was the PTO that bought the school's football uniforms.

The parents vowed to reorganize and seek funding for such projects as lockers for the elementary school and more water coolers to cut down on the present congestion at the two coolers currently in use.

Several parents volunteered their help in assisting teachers on the playground and in study halls.

Padgett said he would accept any help they offered and any money they could raise.

By the end of the meeting, tempers appeared to have cooled on both sides. And it was agreed by all concerned that, if the problems discussed at the meeting and any others that might arise, were not solved to the parents' satisfaction, another meeting would be scheduled for 6 or 6:30 p.m. on a board meeting night, instead of at the regular 5 p.m. meeting time.

Cain explained that this would give the board a chance to take care of regular business and place the meeting at a more convenient time when more parents could possibly attend.

At the request of Mrs. Lillie Russell, the meeting ended with a prayer.

NEMA's 'Eternal Egypt' Program To Feature 'Mummy Wrapping' Demo

On Saturday, Oct. 29, the Northeast Mississippi Museum Association (NEMMA) will hold its Annual "Eternal Egypt" Program at the George E. Allen Library from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The program includes a display on ancient Egyptian religion, writing names in hieroglyphs, a "senet" tournament for 9 to 14 year olds, and concludes with a demonstration of "mummy wrapping."

Anyone from the first grade up can learn how to write their name in hieroglyphs, according to Doug Fleury, NEMMA Director. "The writer picks the symbols for the sounds of their name, lines them up in a holder and traces the figures on a paper with a

'ren' printed on it. The 'ren' or name symbol is a long oval with a short line at one end. Every Egyptian name that appears on monuments is written in a 'ren,' he said.

The "senet" tournament is open to students age 9-14. The Hobby Shop of Corinth has contributed gifts certificates for games for the two top "senet" players. A "senet" practice will be announced next Thursday. The highlight of the afternoon will be the "mummy wrap." Jason Pounds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Pounds, will be the model. Jason will be wrapped with the final layers of bandages.

After bandaging, the bright yellow shroud will be tied in place. The "mummy wrap" will show the last steps in wrapping that were traditionally used in ancient Egypt.

The schedule for the free public program is: 1:30-4:30 p.m., Egyptian Religion Exhibit; 1:30-4:15 Write your name in Hieroglyphs; 1:45 p.m. Senet Tournament Begins; 3:45 p.m. Mummy Wrap begins; 4:15 p.m. Tournament Prizes.

No Matter What You Say Or How You Say It—

The ONLY Issue In A Local Option Election Is: ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

Let us remind ourselves that vile as the bootlegger is, he is not more vile than the tavern owner who under license, sells the same alcohol. It is not the bootlegger who kills on the highway, who destroys the home, who makes an alcoholic, but the stuff he sells - alcohol. And alcohol, whether it is bought in the alley or the tavern, is a killer. Keep that in mind, and our thinking will be a lot less muddy.

THIS ISSUE IS CLEARLY DRAWN BETWEEN THE CHRISTIAN GROUPS WHICH ARE OUT FOR A CLEAN, FREE STATE WHERE MEN, WOMEN AND YOUTH WILL NOT HAVE TO BEAR THE TERRIBLE WEIGHT OF FAILURE AND MISERY WHICH THE ALCOHOL TRAFFIC ENTAILS...AND THE ALCOHOL INDUSTRY, FIGHTING FOR ONLY ONE THING, PROFITS!

The phrase "LEGAL CONTROL" is misleading. "Control" regulates conditions of sale, and nothing else. It does not control drunkenness. It does not control bootlegging, and it does not control disastrous consequences of over indulgence. When we grant a person license for any other activity under the sun, we insist upon his being responsible, but when we license liquor sales, we throw caution to the winds, sow the seeds of bitter tragedy, and contribute to the degradation and death of millions of unfortunate people - Alcohol is as uncontrollable as quick-silver and as deadly.

Talk 'O The Town

Street Opinion

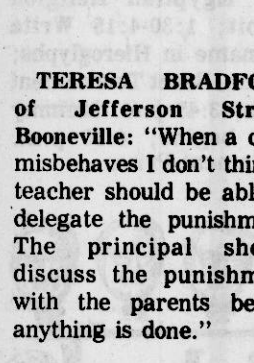

QUESTION: Should teachers be allowed to punish students who misbehave or should the administration handle it?

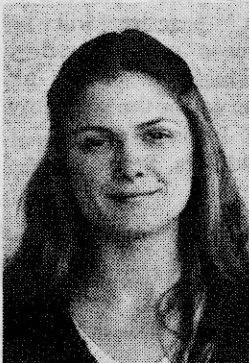

DWIGHT NICHOLSON of Cherry Street, Booneville: "I think the teachers should be able to handle it. If they're a teacher they're responsible enough and able to make the decisions."

TERRY TUCKER of Route 2, Hamilton, Miss.: "I think the teacher should because the teacher knows what the student has done and not the principal. Students should be punished if that's what it takes to get them to act right in class."

TERESA BRADFORD of Jefferson Street, Booneville: "When a child misbehaves I don't think a teacher should be able to delegate the punishment. The principal should discuss the punishment with the parents before anything is done."

PAULINE KING of Route 6, Booneville: "I think the teachers. When I was going to school they punished children. I think it would be right for them to punish them if they need it."

HAZEL WILBURN of Marietta: "Either one as long as they're punished. You should be punished if you do something wrong. I always said if mine ever got a whipping at school they got one at home. That is what's the matter with schools today - they don't have enough authority."

SHARON REAVES of Northeast Junior College: "I think the teachers because they are in charge of the children in their classrooms. The teachers know the children's actions. It takes pressure off the principal if the teacher takes charge of the punishment."

Ponderings

One of the sure signs of fall is when the aroma of peanuts roasting wafts through the house.

There is a correct way and a wrong way to parch peanuts. This is a story about the way NOT to parch peanuts.

There is really no secret to making good parched peanuts.

All one has to do is preheat the oven to 450 degrees (some say 500 degrees). After the oven clicks off, the cook then cuts off the oven and places the pan of peanuts inside the oven where they are left for about an hour - until the oven cools.

When that time is up you will have a pan of perfectly parched peanuts.

Now I have a friend who has parched more peanuts than I probably ever will. But sometimes the unexpected can happen...even to the best of cooks.

My friend preheated her oven to 500 degrees, put the pan of peanuts inside and then left home for almost two hours.

When she returned home, it was with visions of sitting down and eating parched peanuts.

However, even before she opened the door she was greeted by the distinct odor of burned peanuts. After she opened the door all she could see was smoke. There was smoke in every room.

It seems she had forgotten to turn off the oven before she put the peanuts inside to parch.

Luckily a fire didn't start. Not surprisingly the peanuts were inedible. Tar colored peanuts are not appetizing.

As for the house, it took several hours for the smoke to leave.

As for my friend, she said she will save this column and keep it in her kitchen to remind her how NOT to parch peanuts.

Eyes On Mississippi

At 82, Stennis Still Not Faltering

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. --

Anybody standing in the wings waiting for something to happen to John Stennis' health so that there will be another Senate seat to fill, is apparently in for a long wait.

Without any public notice, Mississippi's senior United States Senator turned 82 in August, adding to his already established record of being the oldest person ever to hold a state or federal office from Mississippi.

Last year at this time, the Mississippi Republican Party was paying a lot of attention to John Stennis' birthdays because they were taking a one-shot chance of unseating him on the age issue.

The GOP's standard-bearer, Haley Barbour, who was born the same year Stennis was elected to the Senate - 1947 - was campaigning on a slogan, "A Senator for the 80's," to which the unprinted followup line was "and not in the 80s."

It's a matter of history that Barbour was swamped in that election, and aging John Stennis went back to Washington to begin another six year term.

Immediately, the speculation began as to how long Stennis would last on the term before illness or death would overtake him, and bring his long career to an end.

Since his re-election, Stennis has had a personal setback in the death of his wife of more than 50 years, "Miss Coy." This was long expected because she had been confined to a nursing home back in Mississippi five years earlier. Faithfully, the senator had come down from Washington almost every weekend to visit her.

Some had felt that once his wife passed on, Stennis could be so affected his remarkable constitution might begin to falter.

This writer checked in with one of Stennis' closest friends and confidantes the other day and found that the courtly senator has been doing extraordinarily well and is keeping himself in excellent physical condition.

Stennis for a long time has been a careful eater, even before his near-fatal shooting by a robber on a Washington street in January 1973 that took away part of his stomach.

Probably the hardest part about his having to go through a rather strenuous re-election campaign last year was how to handle fried Mississippi catfish and chicken, some of which he would dutifully devour at political rallies to please his hosts.

Stennis had sold his home in Washington, and moved into an apartment sometime ago. Recently, he has taken a new apartment a short distance from the capitol, and he walks back and forth every day as part of his exercise routine.

His staff never ceases to be amazed at the working pace the senator can still maintain on Capitol Hill, even though he doesn't have the burden of the Senate Armed Services Committee to worry about, as he did for years until the Republicans took control of the Senate three years ago. "He can still work longer than any of us," said one of Stennis' oldtimers on his staff.

If the Democrats win back the Senate next year, Stennis will be able to realize a goal that appeared to have eluded him - to become President Pro Tem of the Senate, the third highest ranking official in the United States.

Not only would Stennis move up to Pro Tem, he would also become chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee. Last year, Stennis, in something of a surprise move, had given up his seat as senior Democrat on the Armed Services Committee in order to move over to Appropriations, apparently to be in a better spot to look after the funding of his beloved Tenn-Tom project.

If Stennis wound up with Appropriations, that would give Mississippi an unbelievable lock on power in the Congress, since Rep. Jamie Whitten already heads Appropriations in the House.

Some who felt they had to support Stennis out of old loyalty in the 1982 race were shocked by how much the aging senator was out of touch with many of the realities of life in Mississippi, and the current state of thinking among blacks, women and young people.

He had been persuaded to hire his first black staffer, Ed Cole, onetime campaign manager for Charles Evers, and a highly respected figure in the Democratic party. Cole has remained on Stennis' staff in his Jackson office.

A couple of months ago, Stennis surprised woman's rights activists here by sending a bright young woman he had recently put on his staff to meet with a broad-based group of women regarding issues in which they were concerned.

Stennis' biggest break with the past had taken place early last year when he voted for the extension of the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

You remember the hot rumor that was going around this time last year that Stennis was going to resign right after he began his term so that William Winter could step into the seat?

That hasn't, or won't happen.

Traditional Farm Programs Are Now Obsolete

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi
Farm Bureau
Federation

More and more American farmers are getting the message that there no longer is a local anesthetic available in the traditional method of an often politically inspired national farm program which farmers may take in several forms to ease the throbbing pains of an ailing international economy.

Today the agricultural illness knows no geographic bounds. When surplus crops glut the American markets the repercussions are felt throughout the world. And when U.S. farmers try to exert self discipline through such voluntary compliance programs as PIK or other set-aside arrangements, the effects on the world market are no more effective in the long run than giving one dog a rabies shot and expecting all dogs to somehow show up with immunity.

A recent economic perspective on the history of U.S. farm programs prepared by the economic research division of the American Farm Bureau Federation points out the basic fallacies of trying to mend the problems, now reaching drastic proportions in American agriculture, through U.S. governmental programs when it simply cannot be done as before in today's world.

It is not facing up to reality, the report reveals, for U.S. farmers to ask the government to guarantee them commodity prices with a built-in profitability above the cost of production when the rest of the world is mainly concerned about their own economies.

For instance, when U.S. farmers cut their production in an effort to reduce world supplies and thereby brings about higher prices, then competing nations often increase their plantings in order to profit from our restraints. As a result, world supplies are not reduced, and world market prices are not enhanced.

The American Farm Bureau economic study points out that there is no justification to ask the U.S. congress to artificially create farm prices at a level determined by the cost of production plus a guaranteed profit, even though some farm groups have clamored for this to be done.

Today this nation stands at the crossroads of farm program policies. One option is to reject market realities and accept politically determined price levels, and a supply management program similar to that of the European Community.

And another more realistic but less popular alternative is to deal with market realities as they exist, and make adjustments in production methods, and costs to remain competitive in the world's farm markets.

Another option, quite recognizable, is to continue on the path followed since 1977 of talking about market orientation, and increasing participation in world trade, while operating price and income support programs totally inconsistent with market realities.

Supply management designed to achieve politically acceptable prices obviously will continue to pick up on all the problems of OPEC - the main one being that arbitrarily higher market prices would result in market losses and a need to idle even more farm acreages from production.

The study points out that most of America's agricultural exports to developed and developing countries where our customers simply slack off on their buying when prices get too high.

No federal law, agency regulation, or voluntary of self-imposed supply manipulation here in the U.S. can change that. Either we must charge a competitive price that they can afford, or they tighten up their belts and won't buy.

Crossing the crossroads in U.S. farm policy seemingly never has been a more thought demanding experience.

What If The Russians Attack Booneville?

By Ed Woodward
Managing Editor

The Booneville Board of Aldermen have cut the Civil Defense budget almost in half—from $10,760 to $5,942—in the City's 1983-84 budget. In effect, this is cutting the City's share of Civil Defense Director William H. Prather's salary by $150 per month.

Prather's reaction has been to announce his retirement. And this disturbs me. Who is going to watch the radar screen for IFOs, UFOs, and such, if Prather is not there to either do it, or teach someone else how to tell a true blip from what the TV weathermen call "ground clutter."

I mean, let's forget that taking care of the aftermath of one good tornado requires a special sort of expertise that Prather happens to possess, assuming said twister does not completely wipe us off the map in one swell foop.

What if Andropov decided it was in Russia's interest to have a cruise missile drop in on the science lab at Northeast Junior College?

Let's not think about the fact that Mr. Prather's radar equipment could give us advance warning of that tornado, or even just a severe thunderstorm. It could also warn us if a MIG was preparing to land at the county airport.

Naturally, the fact that the CD Office would have to take care of us if we had a bad flood, or if some nasty chemical, or some of that atomic waste they want to store at Richton would happen to be in an ICG freight car that decided to derail here, is of no consequence.

That probably won't ever happen anyway. And, if it does, the City Board can always worry about it when it happens by calling a quick executive session meeting and voting to evacuate themselves. Technically, they would be discussing personnel.

But we never know when an Aeroflot spy plane is going to pass over us on its way to photograph the Bay Springs Lock and Dam, and accidentally eject its 'ballast' over Booneville.

And, how does the City Board know Booneville isn't at the top of the Kremlin's Liquidation List in the event of WWII? Size means nothing. I grew up in a small Ohio town with a population of 9,000. But St. Marys was Number 20 on the German's list because of a local rubber factory. And Lima, which was 25 miles away, was near the top of the list because of a gigantic refinery.

How do we know the Russians don't think Heritage Communications is a branch of the CIA? Wouldn't that put Booneville on their list?

Let's face it. We need our Civil Defense Office, and its experienced director. Even if the Russians don't know about Booneville, there is always that stray tornado. And I think it would be extremely handy if we could hear about it before it gets here.

are Bernice Chase of Altitude has some recipes that you will want to try.

Crunchy Peanut Butter Cream Pie is a recipe some cooks may not be familiar with. But, Mrs. Chase says, it's become one of her favorite recipes. This was one of the special dishes she took to the Chase family reunion recently.

Mrs. Chase has always enjoyed cooking. She learned many of her culinary skills from her mother when they lived in Michigan City, Ind., on a dairy farm. Her mother was always baking bread, cinnamon rolls, and other baked goods, Mrs. Chase recalls. Strawberry shortcakes were another of her mother's specialties when strawberries were in season. Mrs. Chase's mother had plenty of practice cooking, because she had seven daughters and one son.

Mrs. Chase has followed in her mother's footsteps to a certain extent, because, she too, loves to have family dinners as often as possible.

She has two sons, Dr. Vernon Chase of Baldwin and Dr. David Chase of Booneville. Her daughters, Sharon McLaughlin and Barbara Johnson, live in Huntsville, Ala., and Booneville, respectively.

She has 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Mrs. Chase is the widow of Lester Chase.

Since Mrs. Chase likes to try new recipes frequently, she shares her surplus of good food with neighbors, which is always a welcome treat for them.

United Daughters Of Confederacy Hear About Gen. John Bell Hood

A program about Confederate General John Bell Hood was presented at the October meeting of the D.T. Beall Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The meeting was held in the Frank Haney Union at Northeast Junior College.

The meeting room was decorated with fall chrysanthemums. Hostesses were Mrs. Frank Milton Jr., Mrs. Bernard Patrick and Mrs. W.W. Cunningham.

Mrs. A.L. Tidwell presided at the meeting and gave a report of the state meeting held recently in Tupelo.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson presented the program about General Hood. She noted that he was born in 1831 and died in 1879.

He gained fame as a brigade and division commander in General Robert E. Lee's army. He fought at Gaines Mill, the second battle of Bull Run (Manassas), Antietam (Sharpsburg), Gettysburg and Chancellorsville.

General Hood commanded a corp in the army of Tennessee and took command of that army with the rank of general in 1864. He fought General William T. Sherman in Atlanta but had to abandon the city. Hood then began a campaign in Tennessee but was beaten at Nashville.

Hood was born in Kentucky. He graduated from the U.S. Military Academy. After the war he lived in Texas and Louisiana.

Following her talk, Mrs. Johnson directed group singing of songs of that era which were "The Yellow Rose of Texas," "The Bonnie Blue Flag," and "Dixie." A brief historical sketch of the song was given before it was sung.

The hostesses then served refreshments.

BOONEVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

HISTORY OF THE BOONEVILLE CHURCH OF CHRIST

In a parable of Jesus, Luke 18:8, Jesus asked this question, "When the son of Man cometh shall he find faith on the Earth?"

The answer to that question is, yes, if his church is found fulfilling it's intended purpose of planting the gospel, the seed of the kingdom of Heaven into the hearts of honest and sincere men, women, boys, and girls.

From the beginning and through the ages men have loved the church with such love that they have labored, sacrificed, and even died for it's cause.

The first congregation of the Lord's church had it's beginning about 33 A.D., on the day of Pentecost, in the city of Jerusalem, with about 3000 additions the first day. (Acts 2)

The number became a multitude. At this time severe persecutions came upon the church which scattered it to almost all parts of the known world, but as Acts 8:4 states, "but they went everywhere preaching the word.

Through the influence of this scattered church and the evangelistic efforts of the apostle Paul, along with Barnabas, Silas, Mark, Luke, Timothy, Titus and others, the Bible says, "that every creature under Heaven had heard the gospel" Col. 1:23.

Many congregations had their beginning in the homes of devoted christians. The Bible mentions, Priscilla and Aquila, (Rom 16:5), Apphia and Archippus, (Phil. 1:2), Nymphas of Laodicea, (Col. 4:15) and Lydia of Phillippi, (Acts 16:15).

The church in Booneville, Mississippi had it's origin in much the same way. Through the efforts of three christian ladies, Clearcy and Fannie Wright, and Jessie Burns. The year was 1903.

A tent meeting was held with Price Billingsley and G.A. Dunn preaching the word. Through this effort a New Testament church was well under way in being established in this city.

In 1906, J.E. Wright moved his family to Booneville, adding strength, faith, and zeal to this small determined group. He readily opened his home to the church as it's meeting place. Brother Wright was a devoted and knowledgeable teacher of the word. He taught from his bedside before his death. Following Brother Wright's death, the church began meeting in a rented building on Church Street.

In 1919 the church bought property on Main Street, and in the summer of 1920 erected a frame meeting house, which was used until 1950.

A Preacher's home was built in 1937. Early visiting evangelist who helped the cause of Christ were A. G. Freed, N. B. Hardeman, A. E. Emmons, W.W. Heflin, and G. C. Brewer.

Early families of the church were the Coxes, the Chambers, the Deans, the Felkers, the McCullars, the Mortons, the Lees, the Carters, the Williams, the Wrights, the Pharrs, the Keys, the Dunns, the Brumleys, Mattie Glenn Beatty, Tina Gilley, the Kizers, and others.

The first elders of the church were Frank Chambers, Frank Felker, and P.G. Wright.

From 1920 to 1936 the church did not have a full-time minister. The preaching was done by P.G. Wright, Paul Murphy, Edgar Massey and ministerial students from Freed-Hardeman College.

In 1950 the frame structure was torn down and a beautiful brick building was erected in it's stead.

The building was large enough to supply our needs for a very long time, but soon we out-grew these facilities.

The property was sold and a choice five acre plot on Highway 45 North was purchased.

We built and began using our present facilities. in 1961.

In 1936 W.A. Black was employed as the church's first full-time minister. Brother Black served for two years. He was succeeded by a younger brother, V.P. Black who served the church from 1938 to 1942.

Other ministers who have worked with the church here are; Athelson Crowson, J.W. Evans, W.R. Ward, Joe K. Alley, Jimmy Powell, J.A. Thornton, and Bill Huggins.

J.W. Archer served several years as an associate minister.

Our present minister is Doug Greenway. Other young men who were influenced by this congregation to preach the gospel were Ronnie Sartin, Lee Cole, Frankie Cole, Jimmy Olive, Winston Wileman, Jimmy Bates, and Mike Eaton.

The Booneville church of Christ presently has 450 members, with approximately 100 actively involved in the teaching program.

Peace and harmony dwells among us. Additions are frequent, attendance records continue to be broken.

We have an active and long standing 31-year old radio program on WBIP from 12:15 to 12:20 each week-day.

Our property and facilities are debt free, with room for expansion when needed.

Our great joy is doing mission work. A large percentage of our contribution is going into this field.

God has been so good to us and has blessed the church in so many ways during these past 80 years.

Sunday, October 30, 1983 will be our 80th anniversary. A homecoming is planned with a special invitation to those who were once a part of the congregation here. All the local community is invited.

The order of the services on Sunday, October 30 will be as follows:

Most all of the Sunday school classes will meet in the auditorium at 9:45 to hear a message from Brother V.P. Black.

Brother Black will also be the speaker at the 10:35 worship service.

An old fashioned dinner on the ground will be served in the annex from 12:00 to 1:00.

We will assemble in the auditorium again for a period of singing, and a message from Brother Black which will conclude our activities for the day.

A hearty welcome awaits you, our dear friends!!

On November 8, you are to vote in the general election concerning liquor in Prentiss County.

What are you voting to do?

To come out from under the local option is to allow the sale, distribution, and possession of alcoholic liquor in

- Hotels or motels with separate dining rooms and having 20 furnished and separate sleeping rooms.
- Restaurants where more than 50% of the revenue is derived from the sale of food not beverages.
- Clubs which have a promotion of common object and maintained by membership through the payment of annual dues.
- Licensed package stores in municipalities of Booneville, Jumpertown, Marietta and Baldwin.

What does a vote against mean?

THE VOTER IS NOT WILLING to give his approval to have in his community a liquor store, or outlet of any kind, as visible evidence to his son or daughter, or his neighbor's son or daughter, that the community has approved the sales with all their possible bad consequences as shown in the local paper or discussed on the street corner.

STATEMENT OF POSITION

The pastor, Board of Deacons, and membership of the First Pentecostal Church, 206 North Lake Street, Booneville, MS, would like to urge everyone to vote against the legalization of alcoholic beverages in the up-coming election. To legalize it is in effect to approve of.

As a preacher and pastor for over 20 years, I have always taken a firm Biblical stand against drugs and alcohol in any form. I am not acting out of panic now, it has been a practice of mine to preach and teach from the pulpit the dangers involved. Alcohol is a killer, a robber and a destroyer. Please don't make it easier for a person to get it. Some will purchase and drink it regardless, but why make it available to them and let it be out in the open where our children will have to face it and be subjected to it everyday.

The subject has arisen that this is a moral issue. I declare it is more than a moral issue. The consumption of alcohol is sinful. It violates the very foundation of the teaching of God's word.

I have spent countless hours praying with and assisting people that have had their lives destroyed with drugs and alcohol. It is heart-breaking to see good people destroyed by something that doesn't have to be. This upcoming election is a chance for you to take a Christian stand and say no -- I do not want beer and alcohol legalized and put openly on the streets and roads of our county. After all, this is one of the few things left that we still have a chance to make known our feelings.

Please let me urge you not stay home on election day. Do not take for granted that everyone else will vote and my vote won't matter. Your vote is needed and for the sake of my 8 year old boy, that I am proud to raise in Prentiss County and all the children alive now and those to be born in the future, let's give them a good clean county to live in.

Remember, the lowest Christian standards of this generation, will be the highest Christian standards of the next generation.

Thank you for your time to read this article, and I urge you to pray and do everything you can to hold back this destructive issue. The answer to this issue and many others facing us today, is for all Christian people to get back to the basics of the old-time Bible standards and preachers to get in their pulpits and without fear preach and enforce the Word of God.

FIRST PENTECOSTAL CHURCH
BOONEVILLE, MISSISSIPPI.

Tell us about your heroes, ages 12 to 18.

We want to give our outstanding young people an award for their achievements and a cash savings account.

First Bank Young Citizen Awards.

It's our second annual First Bank Young Citizen Awards, and it's our way of saying thanks to the local young people who, again and again, go that extra mile.

Young people ages 12 to 18 who live in any First Bank county are eligible. And you can nominate them. All you do is pick up a nomination form, and tell us why, in your own words, you think the young person is especially outstanding. Why you respect him or her so much.

The boy or girl next door.

Maybe your nominee will be a young neighbor who spends his afternoons caring for and loving his elderly grandmother. Maybe he or she is the team captain or club officer who inspires others to give their all. Or maybe the youngster who excels in school and helps with family finances. Or maybe a dedicated volunteer at the local hospital.

With so many fine young people in our communities, the possibilities are almost endless. Feel free to nominate more than one.

Awards. Cash. Banquet.

Awards will be given in four categories—Leadership, Responsibility, Achievement-Plus and Service. And there may be as many as six awards in each category.

First place winners in each category receive a gold award and a $400 savings account. Second place winners receive a silver award and a $300 savings account. Third place winners receive a bronze award and a $200 savings account. Other finalists in each category will receive a $100 savings account. All winners and finalists will receive certificates of achievement.

Plus all finalists, their parents or guardians, and the persons who nominated them will be guests at a special awards banquet.

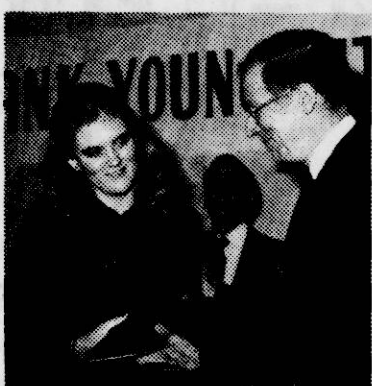

Award winners will be selected by a panel of local citizens made up of teachers, ministers, homemakers and mothers, and business and professional men and women.

Nominate now.

Nomination forms with complete details are available now at all First Bank offices, or call us at 728-9468 to receive your forms in the mail. The deadline for this year's nomination is December 15, 1983.

Please put your thinking cap on now, and make a list of all the deserving young people you know. They work so hard every day to lead, to achieve and to give. Saying thanks is the least we can do.

SUNGLASSES OVER CONTACT LENSES?

People who wear contact lenses may want to protect their eyes from glare - at the beach, ski slope, tennis court - or even at night baseball games.

Regular contact lenses normally heighten the wearer's sensitivity to light, especially bright sunlight. That's why wearers of hard lens contacts are generally more comfortable in the sun with "plano" (non-prescription) ground sunglasses over their contacts.

Soft contacts, in graded tints, may help lower sensitivity. Conversely, they might increase sensitivity when light reflects off the water content in the lens or a film deposit on it.

Anyone who wears eyeglasses, conventional or contacts, should consult a vision specialist if they expect to be exposed frequently to glare, whether natural or artificial.

Presented as a public service by Dr. Walter C. Simpson, Optometrist, 113 Main St., Booneville, Ms., phone 728-4833.

The Oktoberfest, as it was billed, was held Sunday, October 9, at Girl Scout Camp Tik-A-Witha. Adults attended the 37th Annual Meeting, after which all registered Girl Scouts were invited to the Oktoberfest in celebration of the July, 1984, 25th World Conference of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts to be held in the United States.

The Annual Meeting was opened with an impressive international flag ceremony performed by the Tupelo Girl Scouts. The meeting was conducted by Nelson Jones, president of the Board of Directors, from Starkville.

Jean Ellis of Tupelo, chairman of the Nominating Committee, presented the slate of officers and Board members for the coming year. These persons were elected unanimously, and were installed in a ceremony led by Louise Godwin of Tupelo, past president of Prairie Council.

A highlight of the afternoon was the recognition of volunteers for special services. Executive Director Becky Cook presented retiring Board president Nelson Jones with a plaque of appreciation for his dedicated service. Certificates of appreciation were also presented to District Chairmen Marie Anderson of Corinth, Sharon Hart of Tupelo, and Mary Ann Arnold of Starkville.

Pins which recognize years of membership in Girl Scouting were presented to several persons. Jean Ellis of Tupelo, Yvonne Jeanes of Ripley, and Vicki Kitchens of Corinth all received 10-year pins. A 15-year pin was presented to Elsie Croft of Starkville and Julie Ledbetter of Starkville received a 20-year pin.

Appreciation pins, which recognize dedication and devoted service, were awarded to Nelson Jones, Starkville; Beverly Burcham, Booneville; and Barbara Howell, Louisville.

The Thanks Badge, which recognizes outstanding service significantly beyond that required by positions held in Girl Scouting, was awarded to Beverly Jones of Starkville. Mrs. Jones has directed several international trips for girls, and has directed a state-wide Girl Scout event in Jackson. She has served as a Prairie Girl Scout troop leader, Board member, committee member, and trainer. Among her most recent honors are her receipt of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Juliette Low World Friendship Medal, and her election as second vice-president of the Prairie Board of Director.

Other persons elected to serve Prairie Council as officers were President Allegra Brigham, Columbus; First Vice-President Jan Batchelder, Starkville; Third Vice-President Toy Tucker, Tupelo, Secretary Joe Haggerty, Tupelo; and Treasurer Herman Gray, Corinth.

Persons who will serve as members-at-large of the Board of Directors include Marie Anderson and Marty Butler, Corinth; Dorene Branning, Kosciusko; Bob Dendy and Marion Fox, Houston; William Donald, Barbara Howell, Larry Howell, and Leisa Garrett, Louisville; Nutie Dowdle, Columbus; Eller Givhan and Joan Short, Pontotoc; Dottie Holman and Helen Siegel, Amory; Mary Lou Howell, Julie Ledbetter, Gary Miller, and Jennifer Jenkins, Starkville; Grace Long, Iuka; Jean Magee, Jerry Sparks, and Anna Williams, Tupelo; Merlinda Mays and Marianne Smith, Macon; Merle Norton, Ripley.

Members of the Nominating Committee are Mary Pedigo and Carol Taylor, Ripley; Gloria Williams, Corinth; Toy Tucker, Tupelo; Marianne Smith, Macon; and Nelson Jones, Starkville.

During the Oktoberfest members enjoyed international cuisine, and viewing booths with international themes, which were provided by Girl Scouts.

County Agent's Report

TURF AND LANDSCAPE MAINTENANCE

October and November are ideal times to take soil samples from the lawn and shrub beds. The recommended lime, phosphorus and potassium can be applied during the following winter months when gardening chores are at a minimum. Recommended nitrogen should be withheld until active growth begins in the spring.

What's This About Potash and Winter Protection?

Potash is a nickname for potassium - an essential nutrient for proper plant growth. Potassium is unique since it is a free floating element in the plant sap. It doesn't combine or hook up with other things and is a good buffering agent. It lowers the freezing point of the sap in plants. It is sometimes called the plant "antifreeze."

Maintaining adequate levels of potassium and reducing the amount of nitrogen during the fall months will help growth become more woody and less succulent. This is what horticulturists refer to as "hardening off." Potash is equally important in turf growth as ornamental plants. Winter hardiness of all the southern warm-seasoned grasses can be improved by maintaining adequate levels of potash.

Potash levels should be monitored by annual soil testing and also by keeping adequate records of the potash which is applied during the growing season.

Winterizing Warm-Season Turfgrasses in Home Lawns

For all warm-season turf: Maintain adequate levels of potassium. Take a soil test and make necessary applications of potassium prior to frost.

For all warm-season turf: Reduce nitrogen fertilizer during September and October.

For St. Augustine: Raise mowing height to 3" for greater winter protection. Never burn off St. Augustinegrass.

For Centipedegrass: Lower mowing height of Centipede to 1 1/4" in early fall for increased winter hardiness.

Never dethatch warm-season turf during late summer or fall.

Do not overseed St. Augustine or Centipede lawns with temporary cool-season grass for winter color.

Winterizing Landscape Shrubs and Trees

Last year the extreme winter damaged many shrubs and trees throughout the state. Those damaged were suffering from the drought of 1981 and most were not adequately protected for winter. Here are a few simple tips that will help protect shrubs and young shade trees.

Maintain adequate levels of potassium (potash) through regular soil testing. Remember that potash is a very strong fertilizer material and can easily burn trees and shrubs. The recommended rates for 0-0-60 (muriate of potash) are as follows:

For ground covers and solid planted shrub beds: 3 ounces per 100 square feet of planting bed area.

For small dwarf shrub specimen: one-half teaspoon loosely scattered over the shrub and shaken through the foliage allowing the material to reach the soil and mulch beneath.

For medium shrubs (waist high to seven feet): 2 teaspoons scattered loosely beneath the shrubs.

For large shrubs over seven feet and small shade trees: 2 tablespoons scattered loosely and broadly beneath the shrub and within the limits of the canopy of foliage.

Mulch heavily with a four-to-six-inch layer of organic mulch. Don't burn those fall leaves and pine straw. Save them and use as mulch. A mulch acts as a thermal blanket to protect roots from extreme fluctuations in temperatures. Mulches also help maintain soil moisture and reduce watering expense.

There is no need to remove the old mulch or existing mulch prior to adding the new mulch. However, if specific root rot disease organisms have been identified as a problem, old mulches are sometimes removed prior to treatment and remulching. Mulching should be an annual chore for the home gardener since our hot humid weather rots mulch rather quickly.

Don't forget to water during the dry fall months. Most home gardeners lose interest by fall and neglect watering shrubs and trees during dry weather. It is especially critical on young, newly planted trees and shrubs. It is also important for established plants which have suffered from drought.

Fortunately, this summer provided adequate rain, but it has been very dry in some areas of the state

ASCS Report

County Executive Director

STATUS OF COMMODITIES

Corn and oats in all farmer-owned grain reserves and sorghum entered in the reserve from Oct. 6, 1981, through June 30, 1982, will remain in release status through Oct. 31, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture official.

Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said the decision on the three reserve commodities was made following a review by USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation of their average market prices Oct. 3, as reported by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, adjusted to reflect the market price received by farmers.

On Oct. 3, the adjusted price for corn was $3.39 per bushel, above the release levels for reserves IV and V of $3.15 and $3.25, respectively. The adjusted price for sorghum was $5.41, above the reserve IV release level of $5.36. Oats had an adjusted price of $1.65 per bushel, the same as the reserve release level.

CROP SOYBEAN LOAN
Basic county loan and purchase rates for 1983-crop soybeans grading No. 2, were issued by Everett Rank, administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Rank said the basic 1983-crop soybean rates are based on the national average loan and purchase rate of $5.02 per bushel.

Changes in the area-to-area relationships, prices received by farmers, trends in production and results of the loan and purchase program resulted in the following adjustments from 1982 rates:

Louisiana and South Carolina were increased 3 cents per bushel.

Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia were increased 2 cents per bushel.

New Mexico and Nebraska were decreased 2 cents per bushel.

Arizona was decreased 1 cent per bushel.

No changes were made in the discount schedule, but low moisture premiums are discontinued for 1983 soybean loan rates to be in line with current market practices.

CONSERVATION EMPHASIZED

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announced a 10 percent acreage reduction for "acreage conservation reserve purposes" for the 1984 feed grain program. Program sign-up period will be Jan. 16-Feb. 24, the same as for the 1984 wheat program.

"I am referring to the 1984 program as an acreage conservation reserve to give special emphasis to the administration's objective," Block said. "We want to encourage farmers to place their more erosive land into conservation uses while continuing to balance supply and demand during 1984. The current payment-kind program accomplished this, and our goal in 1984 is to encourage a continuation of this very important conservation practice."

Block said participation in the 1984 program is a way in which farmers can control over-supply situations similar to what they have just faced. "It will also provide a degree of insurance for farmers against price fluctuation and adverse weather conditions," Block said. "The point is, it is not always in the farmer's best interest to plant fence row to fence row."

Regular Commodity Credit Corporation price support, loan and purchase rates, per bushel, will be: corn, $2.55; sorghum, $2.42; barley, 2.08; oats, $1.31; rye, $2.17.

Other 1984 feed grain program provisions include:

To be eligible for price support benefits, a producer must agree to limit corn, sorghum, oats and barley acreage planted for harvest to not more than 90 percent of the farm's feed grain base and devote to an acreage conservation reserve an acreage of eligible cropland equal to 11.11 percent of the 1984 planted acreage. As under the 1983 program, two bases will be established, one for corn and sorghum and the other for barley and oats.

The 1984 acreage base will be the average of the acreage planted and considered planted to feed grains in 1982 and 1983.

Land designated for acreage conservation reserve use must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in two of the last three years except for a summer fallow farm. In the case of summer fallow, acreage conservation reserve use acreage must be land that would have been planted to small grains or row crops in 1984 in the absence of the 1984 feed grain program. The land must be protected from wind and water erosion throughout the year.

Offsetting and cross compliance will not apply to the 1984 program.

No advance deficiency payments.

Haying will not be permitted on the conservation use acreage. However, the acreage may be grazed except during the six principal growing months. As in the 1983 program, waxy corn will be included, but not popcorn or sweet corn.

Malting barley will not be exempted from the program.

There will be no immediate entry in the farmer owned reserve for the 1984 crops of feed grains. Further, USDA intends to review the size of the reserve before regular price support loans for the 1984 crops reach maturity.

A ceiling may be placed on the size of the feed grain reserve at that time which will effectively preclude entry of the 1984 crops in the reserve. Any 1984 feed grains entering the reserve will be at the same loan rates as for regular CCC loans.

Contracts signed by program participants will be considered as binding and will provide for liquidated damages for failure to comply with program requirements.

DAIRY FARMERS REFUNDS

Milk producers who reduced their commercial marketings by 8.4 percent in September may apply for a refund of the second 50-cents-per-hundredweight deduction from their milk checks since Sept. 1, 1983. The same percentage will apply for the 1984 milk marketing year.

Refund applications may be filed at the ASCS office from October 1 until December 31, 1983.

To qualify for refunds, dairy farmers are required to reduce their commercial marketings from the base period, which is the average of the two marketing years that began on Oct. 1, 1980. Milk producers may establish their base marketings at the county ASCS office by submitting payment receipts or statements from milk handlers. Those who sell milk directly to consumers should have sales records and cancelled checks as proof of marketings and the amount paid to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

September is the only base needed for determining a 1983 refund. However, bases for all months may be computed at the same time so that producers will know how much reduction is needed to qualify for a refund during the 1984 marketing year.

The deadline for filing for a 1983 marketing year refund is Dec. 31, 1983.

SECTION 2. That a public hearing with respect to the issuance of the Bonds in the amount and for the purpose aforesaid shall be held by the Governing Body at its usual meeting place at the City Hall in the City of Baldwin, Mississippi, at the hour of 7:00 o'clock P.M., on November 1, 1983, in order to provide a reasonable opportunity for persons with differing views on the issuance of the Bonds and the location and nature of the proposed Project to be heard.

Most banks tell you how long to invest your money—91 days, six months, three and one-half years. At First Bank, you tell us. With our new First Bank Investment Certificates, you name your term—anywhere from 32 days up.

$1,000 minimum.

The minimum investment is only $1,000. And the sky's the upper limit. The longer you invest your money and the more you invest, the higher your interest rate. But you always earn current market interest.

Earn more interest.

Let's say you're planning a major expenditure in two months—a new kitchen or school tuition perhaps. Order up a 61- or 62- day Certificate and you'll earn guaranteed high interest up until the very day you need your money. A lot higher interest than if you kept your money ready and waiting in your checking or regular savings account.

Wheel and deal. No risk.

Because First Bank Investment Certificates put you in control, you can put together a solid investment portfolio. Invest some money short-term, so you're ready to take advantage of an upswing in interest rates. And invest some long-term, as a cushion in case rates do fall temporarily. Anyway you want it.

First Bank Certificates are safer than stocks, bonds, oil wells, and many other investments because your money's insured safe by the FDIC.

Compare rates.

First Bank Investment Certificates let you maximize your earnings. Because the more you invest and the longer the term, the higher your rate. Rates change weekly. And, as with all CD's, there is a substantial penalty for early withdrawal.

14-6 Over Hilltoppers

First Minute TD Primes Blue Devils' First Win

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Junior quarterback Michael Blalock romped 68 yards on the first play of the game last Friday night for a touchdown against the Houston Hilltoppers and later connected on another scoring strike to widen receiver Carlos Hastings to lead the Booneville Blue Devils to their first victory of the 1983 season, a 14-6 win over the Hilltoppers. Booneville had won the toss and elected to receive the opening kick-off. Jimbo Goddard returned the kick-off to the 32-yard line and one play later the Devils were on the board. Booneville coach Wayne Jones said he felt the Blalock touchdown run really got his team excited. "That was probably the biggest play we've had all year," Jones said. "Our momentum really was great throughout the game and for the first time all year, our kids wanted to win this game." Blalock's touchdown sparked the rest of the team and the Booneville fans. "I just cut inside and saw that the field was wide open. I couldn't believe it! Our line really blocked well,"

Blalock said. Blalock's 68-yard jaunt gave Booneville the early lead and Rod Coggin's extra point made the score 7-0. However, the Hilltoppers came back in the second quarter when Todd Uhren hit Tony Griffin on a 60-yard scoring strike, but the extra point was missed and Booneville maintained its one-point advantage. The Blue Devils added an insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter when Blalock threw deep for receiver Carlos Hastings. Hastings made a spectacular catch between two Houston defenders and went into the endzone from 65 yards out for the six-pointer. Again, Coggin added the point-after-touchdown to help preserve the Blue Devil victory. Statistically, Houston picked up 9 first downs to Booneville's 5, but the Blue Devils rolled up 249 total offensive yards to the Hilltoppers 233. Coach Jones felt his team really wanted this game against Houston. "Last week, we practiced in the rain and that got everybody fired up and ready to play," Jones said. "Tonight, our line played well and we felt we could run against them and we did."

Cardinals-Royals Split Opener

The Jumpertown Cardinals opened their 1983-84 season on a positive note last Friday night as they downed county rival New Site in the boys game 70-53. But the Lady Royals took the opener from the Lady Cardinals 66-44. Tammy Thornton paced the New Site girls with 16 points, followed by Patilda Cartwright and Rhonda McKinney with 10 each. Myra Green hit 12 points and Michelle Lauderdale 10 for Jumpertown, who had led 40-22 at the half. Glen Wilson paced the Cardinals in the nightcap with 21 points as Rickey Burress added 19 points and Charlie Durham 13. Jumpertown led 33-20 at the half. Mark Barnes paced New Site with 20 points in a losing effort.

Wheeler-Tremont Divide Doubleheader

The Wheeler Eagles and the Tremont Eagles split a doubleheader basketball matchup last Friday at Tremont as the Wheeler boys beat Tremont 79-41 and the Tremont girls upset the Wheeler girls 49-45. Rebels Thrash Biggersville With 2nd Half Rally

By BUTCH CALDWELL
Sports Writer

Two second-half touchdowns, and a rock-hard defense gave the Thrasher Rebels their third win of their premier season in an 18-8 thrashing of the Biggersville Lions Friday night, Oct. 14. After a scoreless first quarter the Rebels scored on a 60 yard pass interception by Marvin Dillworth with 12 seconds left in the first half. The conversion was good for one more. And Thrasher led 6-0 at the intermission. In the third quarter

William Warren went around left end for 59 yards, giving the Rebels a 12-0 lead with 8:49 remaining in the quarter.

But, this time, Biggersville retaliated, driving 49 yards in nine plays, thanks to a pair of penalties. Then, Halfback Pruitt went over the goal on a one-yard plunge to put Biggersville on the scoreboard. Pruitt also earned the two-point conversion, cutting the Rebel margin to only four points at 12-8.

Then, in the fourth quarter, William Warren intercepted a Ray Mayes pass. And on second down with 22 yards to go, Dwight Shinault broke down the right sideline for 64 yards to increase Thrasher's margin to 18-8 with only 3:24 left to play. Biggersville was unable to move the ball again, and they were forced to punt. The Rebels then lieusurely carried the ball as far as the Lion's 30 before running out the clock. "We had a team effort tonight to win the game," Coach Willie Jackson said in the locker room. "The turning point was William Warren's long touchdown run," he added proudly.

Tiger Homecoming Marred By Loss To Bobcats

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

A festive homecoming weekend was spoiled last Saturday night for the Northeast Tigers as the Jones Junior College Bobcats beat the Tigers 23-12 at Keenum Stadium.

However, this loss doesn't count on the North Division record as the Tigers maintain their perfect 4-0 mark in division play with an overall mark of 4-3.

Bobcat tailback Lonnie May paced the Jones running attack with 157 yards rushing and three touchdowns as the Bobcats took to their ground game against Northeast. Of the 53 offensive plays run by Jones, 43 were on the ground.

Northeast coach David Carnell said it was hard to stop Jones because they held possession of the ball for long periods of time without giving the Tigers a chance to catch up.

"We couldn't make our own breaks, and they did," Carnell said. "They did a good job of controlling the football."

Tiger quarterback David DeGroat gave Jones their first opportunity to score when he and wide receiver Lonnie Smith couldn't get their directions straight and Jones's Todd Magnam picked off the errant pass. Later in the Bobcat drive, quarterback David Hooper connected with Curtis Pray for a 29-yard scoring strike with 10:50 remaining in the opening quarter.

However, the Tigers came back as DeGroat stepped into the endzone from 14 yards out for the score. The extra point attempt was wide and Jones held the lead at 7-6.

May scored the first of his three touchdowns on a 57-yard scamper in the second quarter and Magnum added a 28-yard field goal to give the Bobcats a 17-6 halftime lead.

Northeast finally got a break in the third quarter when Jones' punt returner Leo Shelby was fooled by a Larry Mackin booming punt and the Tiger's David Canto recovered the loose ball on the Jones five-yard line.

DeGroat got his second score of the night when he went over from the two-yard line three plays later. The attempt for a two point conversion failed, leaving the score at 17-12.

The Bobcats took the preceding kickoff and marched 75 yards in 10 plays with May scoring the six pointer on a one-yard run and Jones extended their lead to 23-12.

Canto made another brilliant defensive play for Northeast in the fourth quarter as he intercepted a Bobcat pass and returned the ball to the Bobcat 22-yard line, but the Tigers failed on a fourth down attempt and Jones had earned the victory.

Jones rolled up 289 total yards, 231 of those on the ground, while the Tigers had 248 total yards, 171 rushing and 77 passing.

Northeast's perfect 4-0 North Division record sets up an encounter with last year's National Junior College Champions, Northwest, Saturday night at Keenum Stadium. Northwest is currently ranked close to the top of the junior college polls.

The Tigers must work hard to prepare for Northwest this week, Carnell said.

"We'll really have to have a good week of practice this week in preparation for them," he said.

Kickoff for the North Division battle is set for 7:30 Saturday night at Keenum Stadium.

WHAT A DRAG! - A Jones Bobcat defender drags down Northeast quarterback David DeGroat during Saturday night's Tiger homecoming game in Keenum Stadium. The Bobcats spoiled the Tigers' festivities by beating them 23-12 in the out-of-district matchup.

Bearcats Roll On Toward Undefeated Season

The Baldwin Bearcats continue to roll in the District 1-BB North Division race as they completely manhandled the Burnsville Mustangs last Friday night in homecoming festivities in Baldwin 51-0.

The Bearcats are now 7-0 in the year with a 3-0 mark in district play. The shutout of this week's opponent meant it was the fourth opponent in a row that the Baldwin team had shutout.

Coach Hubert Tucker's team rolled up 397 yards of total offense while the scored in all four quarters.

Fullback Jimmy Earl Tyes, who rushed only four times and picked up 111 yards and three touchdowns, opened the scoring in the first quarter with a 53 yard burst from the line of scrimmage, then later added a five-yard scoring run in the same quarter.

Baldwin completed a 21-0 first period lead when quarterback Gregg Tucker connected with his favorite receiver Stan Scott on a 46 yard scoring strike as Scott got all three extra points.

Tyes got his final score on the night when he scampered 49 yards in the second quarter, and Scott added the extra point to give the Bearcats a 28-0 halftime lead.

Baldwin's Pat Young contributed to the scoring attack in the third quarter with a 19-yard scoring run, and later he added a 39-yard field goal.

Willie Howell got in the scoring parade with a 25-yard run in the fourth quarter and defensive ace Fred Harrell recovered a Mustang fumble in the endzone for the other Baldwin tally.

Harwell also aided in the Bearcat victory by picking up 93 yards on 9 carries and Tucker completed 3 of 6 passes for 100 yards and the one touchdown to Scott.

Baldwin will travel to Hatley next week to try and improve their record to a perfect 8-0. Currently, the Bearcats and the Belmont Cardinals are tied for the district lead. The two teams meet later in the month.

Jackson: Thrasher Program Is Now A Success

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

After Thrasher High School had won it's first ever football game this season against the Mooreville Troopers, coach Willie T.

Jackson felt that he could have a successful program this season if his team could win three games.

That feat was accomplished last Friday night when the Rebels beat the Biggersville Lions 18-6 to improve their record to 3-4 overall and 2-2 in the district race, with three games left in the season.

After the opening victory, Jackson said that two or three victories would be considered as a successful program. "I really don't know what our future holds here, but I'll say we'll be successful if we can gain experience and pick up maybe two or three victories," Jackson said.

Both teams had trouble getting things going in the first quarter, but Thrasher took an early second quarter lead and never looked back.

The Rebels added some insurance to their lead in the fourth quarter when Dwight Shinault broke loose on a 64-yard touchdown run as the score stood at 18-6.

The Rebels will travel to Waterloo, Ala., Friday night in an interstate battle.

ON THE LOOKOUT - Tiger defenders double team a Bobcat carrier in action Saturday night in Keenum Stadium.

The Northeast Tigers will face The Northwest Rangers in action this Saturday in Booneville.

LET'S GO TO MARKET

What's the world's best-loved and most versatile fruit? The apple, of course! Few things are as good as biting into a crisp, juicy apple. The apple remained popular in marketplaces since ancient times which is evident by the many varieties that are cultivated worldwide.

Six apple varieties account for more than three-fourths of the apples that we eat. Of those six, the Red and Yellow Delicious varieties are first and second in popularity. Favorite all-purpose varieties are McIntosh, Rome Beauty, Jonathan, and York Imperials.

Both Red and Yellow Delicious varieties are popular for fresh eating, for desserts, and for salads. They hold their shape in cooking, hence are sometimes chosen for apple preserves. In this case, added lemon juice provides a flavor pickup to preserves made from them, since Delicious varieties are naturally more sweet than flavorful. Both delicious varieties are less round than other apples, having an almost slender shade.

Five knobs on the blossom end are characteristic of Red Delicious apples. The flesh of the yellow Delicious variety darkens less after peeling than that of other apple varieties but Delicious varieties discolor quickly in bruised areas.

All-purpose apples are rounder in shape and less sweet in flavor than the Delicious varieties. They cook quickly and are popular for pie making, baking and making into applesauce. McIntosh apples are two-toned red and green. They're mildly tart and mellow. Rome Beauty is a large, firm apple, excellent for baking. Jonathans are likely to be somewhat smaller than other all-purpose apples. They are very rich flavored and make excellent pies. Yorks are two-toned red and green, top-sided fruits. They're excellent choices for any use.

Of the leading apple varieties, Delicious, Jonathan, and McIntosh are most plentiful at this time of year. Supplies of Rome and Yorks will be within the next few weeks. Winesaps will be available in time for Christmas baking. Pippin, a lesser-known variety, is a greenish yellow apple with a pink blush. It is a tart crisp, apple, good for cooking.

In grocery stores, fresh apple prices vary widely with type of pack and size. Price per pound is most always lowest for apples in pre-packed bags and highest for large, fancy ones from bulk displays. From open markets, it is possible to buy standard to fancy quality apples in bushel (48 pounds) or half-bushel baskets. Such quantity purchases can save apple money if you can store or process them for later use.

You usually do not see a grade mark on fresh apples or their containers, so you choose them on the basis of variety and use. Soundness and crispness are better guides to apply to quality than size or color. Small crisp apples are likely to taste as good as large ones, but decay spots and shriveled areas mean extra trimming loss and usually poor flavor. Bright red color sells apples of any size, though less colorful ones can be equally flavorful and are sometimes lower priced.

Freedom from bruises is a quality characteristic expected of large fancy apples. Expensive packaging is required to prevent bruising during shipment, which partially accounts for the difference in cost of standard and fancy quality fruits.

While the apple season is here and you're enjoying fresh apples, don't forget applesauce and apple juice for quick ideas at meal or snack time.

Guardsmen Not Happy With German Weather

The one thing the Mississippi National Guardsmen who traveled to Germany for the 21 day REFORGER (Return of Forces to Europe) exercise can agree on is that they did not like the damp, chilly autumn weather in Germany.

Otherwise, the members of the 198th Armored Battalion from Northeast Mississippi who made the trip all have different backgrounds, different interests, and different occupations.

Tank Commander 1st Lt. Augustus Collins, Booneville, works with the State Employment Commission. Sp4C Sidney Perry, Booneville, is "between jobs." Sp4C Willie Joe Dooley, Tishomingo, is a gas station attendant. And Sp5C Mark Farris, Florence, Ala., is a furniture maker.

The four men rarely see each other except for monthly weekend drills, or annual training at Camp Shelby. But, together, they made one of the top tank crews in the giant German staging area where men and machines participated in this year's REFORGER exercise.

The crew of 1st Tank, First Platoon, Charlie Co., based in Iuka, were among 17,000 US troops, including 72 from Booneville, who traveled to Germany from posts, reserve centers, and National Guard armories across the United States last month to take part in the massive annual NATO exercise.

REFORGER, in its 15th year, is designed to demonstrate US ability to quickly reinforce Western Europe in the event of a crisis, according to National Guard sources.

"We just do what has to be done. We take care of business," Farris said.

Taking a more psychological approach, Lt. Collins said, "Maybe seeing each other so little is to our advantage. We're never around each other long enough for problems to develop."

While in Europe, Lt. Collins and his crew of Mississippi Guardsmen were faced with a familiar situation for part-time soldiers - a lot to get done in a limited amount of time. Their REFORGER training involved bridge construction, crossings of two rivers at night, simulated air attacks, and various other tactical maneuvers.

REFORGER marked the first time since the early 1950s that the 198th had been sent overseas. And, though the men worked hard, they did have time for personal thoughts.

Perry searched for souvenirs to bring home to his family. Collins spent time looking at the European forces participating in the exercise. And Dooley concentrated on surviving three grueling weeks of field training.

And all are glad to be home, and warm.

SCB Asks For New Long-Distance Charges

South Central Bell has filed with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in Washington, D.C., its plans for recovering, through flat charges to all customers, dollars it will lose in January 1984 because traditional long distance subsidies are being phased out.

If approved by the FCC, the charges would begin on Jan. 1, 1984.

J.N. McGowen, vice president of South Central Bell's Mississippi operations, said for many customers the increased charges will be offset by decreases in state-to-state long distance rates. AT&T recently announced it had filed tariffs proposing a $1.75 billion decrease in interstate long-distance service rates.

South Central also joined in an industry filing proposing charges to long distance carriers for the use of the company's lines and switching equipment in providing long distance services. These charges will continue to include some subsidy to local rates. And the company filed proposed charges to long distance carriers for billing and collection services.

McGowen said the company was concerned about attempts by Congress to delay the implementation of the new charging plan.

"This is a complicated matter," he said. "The FCC has spent several years designing a solution to competition in long distance, and just about any individual or group with an interest in the subject has been involved. Now Congress wants to rush in with a quick change. We think the FCC plan deserves a chance to work. If a change is indicated after the plan has gone into effect, then Congress could consider making the change."

"Long distance has become highly competitive," he said. "That's obvious from the many advertisements in newspapers and on television. Under these conditions, federal regulators have recognized we can't continue the practice of relying on long distance revenue to help pay the difference between rates for local service and its actual costs."

"These first-year charges replace only some of the long distance subsidies," said McGowen. "The amounts will gradually increase until 1990, when customers will pay the bigger part of these costs. Until then, the remainder of these costs will be paid by long distance carriers."

In Mississippi, charges to one-party residential customers would increase $2 per line per month. Single-party business customers in Mississippi would pay an additional $6 per line per month. Charges for party-line customers would be less.

USDA Adopts New Sorghum Color Standards

Following a review of sorghum standards, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has adopted a final rule that will permit more white-colored sorghum to be classed as "white."

The regulation makes the definition of the class white sorghum less restrictive by permitting white-colored sorghum with dark spots covering 25 percent or less of the kernel to be considered white sorghum.

"By easing the color restrictions, more sorghum will be available for buyers who prefer to use white-colored sorghum for food, feed and industrial uses," said Kenneth A. Gilles, administrator of USDA's Federal Grain Inspection Service.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

'This Is The Victory That Overcometh The World, Even Our Faith'

- 1 John 5:4

By Larry E. Hill

Man tends to interpret victory simply in human terms. Many true victories, however, are not readily apparent to the human eye. What may seem to be utter defeat may indeed in God's economy be a tremendous victory.

Faith is the Christian's lifeline to God. It is that element which has so often caused people to go beyond themselves in their efforts for God. Without Faith Peter could not have preached his masterpiece on the day of Pentecost. Without Faith, John could not have given us the mysterious but beautiful drama we call Revelations.

Take Faith from the Christian and you have robbed him of that characteristic which pleases God. Without Faith, God would be far removed from a personal relationship and the Bible would be a meaningless book.

As Faith brought the Hebrew fathers to great heights in God, so Faith can and will bring the present-day church to the place where revival fires burn to warm areas not yet reached.

Mountain-peak experiences are blessed, but the Christian knows that his walk with God does not always lead him to the mountain top. There are times when one must walk through the valley.

When the times come that the child of God cannot feel the Lord's presence, Faith will take hold of his hand and be his guide. In the depths of his despair, Job remembered that God still loved him, for he said, "But He knoweth the way that I take; when He hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold." Job 23:10. When he reached the place where there was inward feeling, Job had to walk by Faith. The world says, 'Seeing Is Believing,' but God says, 'Believing Is Seeing.'

When answers do not come with the rapidity desired by human nature, we need not despair; but we can let Faith take control. God knows where we are and has promised He will never leave us nor forsake us.

New Basketball Coach Says

DSU Will Not Be Contender For Title

Delta State's newly named men's basketball coach Ed Murphy says his team "will not be contenders for the Gulf South Conference championships this season because we have too far to go, but we'll be moving in that direction."

Murphy, who inherited the reins of the Statesman cage program last June, came to Delta State after five highly successful seasons at GSC foe Livingston University. He inherits a team virtually set, since there was only one senior on the 1982-83 squad at the end of the season. Former coach Mel Hankinson had signed seven prospects to grants-in-aid before leaving.

"I feel like I know the situation here pretty well from playing against Delta State in the past," Murphy said. "There is some good talent on the squad. I feel going to take any shortcircuit, and I hope we have a winning season," he said. "We want to be competitive in the league, win at home, and get out of the conference cellar. We want to be respectable against the better conference teams."

Among the returning starters are two-year lettermen Mark Easley and James Swinney, both juniors, sophomore point guard Carl Brown and senior forward John Hall. Easley is a 6-7 stalwart who led the team in scoring with 11.2 points a game. Swinney, a former Thrasher High School standout, played at a "swing" position, averaging 10 points. Brown, who started every outing as a freshman, scored 8.9 points, grabbed 4.7 rebounds and passed out almost five assists. Hall hit 8.5 points and led the team in rebounds with 5.7 a game. Jason Case, a 6-0 guard who missed the last 10 games with a broken left hand, is back with a 9.1 scoring average. Others who came off the bench are 6-4 senior forward Dwight McWilliams (2.7 ppg, 5-9 rebounds) and 6-3 sophomore guard Aaron Smith (3.1 ppg) and 6-3 sophomore guard Brian Luke (5.3 ppg).

Key newcomers are 6-9 freshman center George Clark (17 ppg, 12 rebounds), freshman 6-6 forwards Walter Williams (13.6 ppg, 10 rebounds) and Houston Williamson (15.6 ppg, 10.8 rebounds), 6-7 freshman forward-center Tommy Boyd of Ingomar (20.2 ppg, 9.2 rebounds) and Holmes Junior College transfer 6-6 forward Mark Clark (9 ppg, 9.2 rebounds).

Williams and Williamson both played in the Mississippi High School All-Star game in August.

Murphy said he wants to establish a way that Delta State plays. "There's been too much variation in the past. We need to establish a reasonable pace that Delta State plays."

The Statesmen once again have their Statesman Classic Tournament to open the season, plus 14 games against tough GSC opposition. Division I-AA foe Mississippi Valley State is on the schedule for a pair of games.

Dupree

However, after Dupree's first season in the Sooner uniform, rumors of his disability to get along with recruited athlete ever and the pressure that was put upon him surely was unbearable. He made his decision to go to Oklahoma State plays."

Heisman Trophy winner as trouble began to brew. Why does everyone want to put so much pressure on Dupree? He's only human! What did he ever do to hunt anyone else? Maybe if everyone could remember their senior year in high school, when they had to make the decision on work or college, or on what college to attend, then they would realize what Dupree must be going through. The pressure is great and it probably seems unbearable at times to the 19-year-old personality. If everyone would understand what Dupree has experienced and what he is experiencing now, then they would not bother the young man and everything would be in a better situation.

Let Marcus Dupree be potential pro prospect and he certainly has a good future ahead of him. Why ruin his life by criticizing him and questioning his integrity?

Why Not Let Dupree Be?

By SCOTT McKINNEY
Sports Writer

The biggest sports news item since the signing of former Georgia Bulldog star Herschel Walker into the United States Football League has just recently come to light. It is the decision of Oklahoma football coach Barry Switzer to drop runningback Marcus Dupree from the Sooners team and the decision of Dupree to transfer from Oklahoma to another school.

The news media has blown the whole situation out of proportion as nearly every newspaper reports countless problems that Dupree and Switzer continue to have at Oklahoma. What people do not realize is that Marcus Dupree is just a teenager who is going through probably one of the toughest times of his life.

I myself am an 18-year-old teenager, a year younger than Dupree. The hardest thing I've done up to this year is deciding where to go to eat dinner. This year I must decide what college I will attend and what my major will be, decisions that will affect me the rest of my life.

Delta State Falls To Troy State

Troy State University scored two quick third period touchdowns and held off a fourth quarter Delta State rally to beat the Statesmen 26-21 and spoil their homecoming.

Delta State jumped out to a 7-0 lead when running back Manuel Grays plunged into the endzone from the one yard line, but Troy State came back to tie the score and later pull ahead of the Statesmen to preserve the victory.

Statesman quarterback Scott Butler had an outstanding afternoon as he completed 22 of 41 passes for 358 yards and a touchdown, but he was also intercepted three times. Delta State could only manage 88 yards of rushing on the afternoon.

Troy compiled 21 first downs to Delta State's 26 while the Trojans had 374 yards of total offense and the Statesmen had 451.

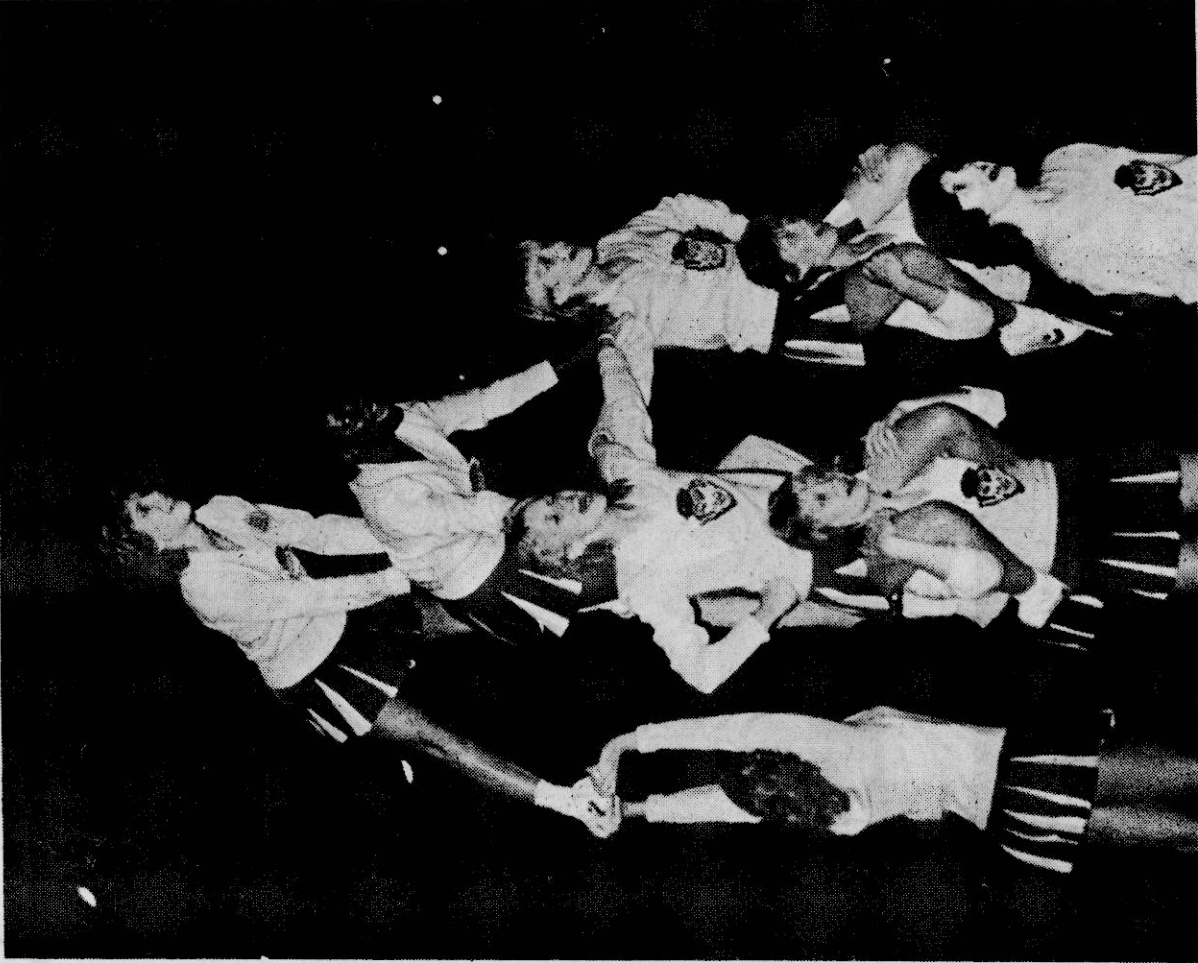

The loss dropped Delta State to 4-2 overall and 2-2 in the Gulf South Conference.

Ole Miss Defeats TCU

The Ole Miss Rebels improved their "Southwest Conference Record" to 2-0 last Saturday with a 20-7 victory over Texas Christian University.

Ole Miss had already beaten Southwest Conference team Arkansas earlier in the year for it's first victory.

The Rebels used powerful running by fullback Nathan Wonsley, who picked up 99 yards on 25 carries, and not by leading ground gainer Buford McGee to gain the win in Fort Worth Texas.

TCU jumped on the board first early in the game, but the Rebels came rolling back after Bob Blakemore recovered a Horned Frog fumble and Buford McGee scored from three yards out as Ole Miss took a lead that they would never lose.

Fieldgoal kicker Bill Smith added two field goals later in the game from 23 and 25 yards out to stretch the Rebel lead.

Ole Miss got it's final score when quarterback Kent Austin hit Wonsley from 17 yards out for the score to give the Rebels the 20-7 win. The final score was set up after returner Timmy Moffet raced 28 yards with a TCU punt to the Horned record.

Frogs 22 yard line.

Vanderbilt comes to Oxford this Saturday for homecoming as the Rebels try to improve their 2-5 record.
