Beer, Wine Sales Nixed By City Voters

Booneville voters defeated an alcohol referendum Tuesday.

There were 903 votes against and 229 votes for the sale of beer and wine within the city limits.

There were 2,773 registered voters in the city. A similar referendum was also defeated in the county in the November general election.

Courthouse Will Close On Saturdays

The Prentiss County Courthouse will be closed on Saturday beginning Jan. 7, but will remain open on Wednesday afternoon.

However, the Tax Assessor's office will be open on Saturdays until noon during the month of January.

Section C of Rule 77 of the Mississippi Rule of Civil Procedure states: "The Clerk's office with the Clerk or a Deputy in attendance shall be open during business hours on all days except Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays."

"The Chancery Clerk, Circuit Clerk, and Tax Assessor and Collector feel that the law must be complied with. Thus beginning Jan. 7, 1984, these offices will remain open on Wednesday afternoons and be closed on Saturdays," according to Chancery Clerk Phillip Cole.

Two Arrested For Destroying Mailboxes

Two juveniles have been arrested in connection with the recent rash of mailbox batterings, according to Booneville Police Capt. Hubert Kitchens.

"They've been going around destroying mailboxes, bending them up with a club," Kitchens said. He said they had also destroyed several plastic delivery boxes belonging to an area daily newspaper.

"They went around on George E. Allen Drive, through the neighborhood over there, and back over on Wheeler Drive and Hatchie Street," he said.

Kitchens said the two would be charged in youth court.

Fatal Fire Cause Still Unknown

The cause of a house fire in which an elderly Prentiss County couple died is still undetermined.

Clee Sanders, 79, and his wife, Verlon, 81, of the East Prentiss community, died in a house fire Tuesday night of last week. The fire was discovered about 2 a.m. Wednesday of last week by people on their way to work.

State Deputy Fire Marshal Mike Ivy investigated the scene of the fire Thursday of last week. Although it was determined the fire started in the living room, the exact cause of the fire was not determined, Fire Chief Frank Fleming said.

Nothing was found at the scene to indicate that the fire was anything other than accidental, he said.

Groundbreaking Ceremonies Thursday For Parker Hannifin

Auto Parts Manufacturer To Locate In Booneville

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

A new industry is coming to Booneville.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Thursday, Dec. 8, for a new manufacturing plant to be built here for Parker Hannifin Corporation, a Cleveland, Ohio, based worldwide manufacturer of fluid-power components and automotive parts.

According to Thomas Bergeron, division general manager for Parker Hannifin, the plant will become part of the company's automotive connectors division, and, initially, will manufacture air conditioning hose assemblies for domestic and import car manufacturers.

Bergeron said Parker Hannifin supplies 50 per cent of such components used by General Motors and 100 per cent for such Japanese car manufacturers as Toyota and Honda.

The division also has plants in Batesville, Trumann, Ark., and Arlington, Texas, making similar parts. But the Booneville plant will be the company's "only permanent location in the fluid division," Bergeron said.

The new plant is expected to be operational by May 1, 1984, with 80,000 square feet allocated for manufacturing and approximately 2,000 square feet for offices.

Bergeron said that the Booneville plant will provide the division with increased manufacturing capacity.

Initial employment of 75 is expected. Maximum employment may reach 250. The division presently employs more than 700 in its three manufacturing locations, plus its Cleveland headquarters.

Bergeron said Parker Hannifin is the world's leading supplier of fluid power systems and components in industrial, automotive, aviation, space and marine markets. Sales in fiscal 1983, ending June 30, were $1.04 billion with net income of $29.5 million, he said.

At a luncheon held after the groundbreaking ceremonies in the Frank Haney Union at Northeast Mississippi Junior College, Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb said, "It is an important day when we have a company like Parker Hannifin locate in Booneville."

Crabb said the city's acquisition of the company's new factory proved that through the cooperation of the Prentiss County Development Association, NEMJC, the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors, the Booneville Board of Aldermen, and other political and civic organizations and individuals, the community was able to show there was something "inspirational and good" to attract this new industry.

"We're not going to forget Parker Hannifin," Crabb said, pledging continuing cooperation. "We'll remain at your side to make this one of your most successful moves. We're happy to be a part of your world-wide organization."

"I guess today proves that, through cooperation you can do anything," said Prentiss County Board of

Altitude Couple's Plants Bring Christmas Cheer

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Poinsettias are growing in Altitude.

Mackie Holder and his wife, Janice, grow some 1,500 poinsettias in their greenhouse.

Their children, Lenena, 14, Gary, 12, and Sam, 9, also help with the care of the plants.

The 100 x 30 foot greenhouse was built ten years ago. At that time the Holders grew tomatoes.

But six years ago they started growing Christmas poinsettias after a friend told Holder that the plants grew and sold well.

They buy their cuttings in Montgomery, Ala., and put them in pots about Aug. 15.

Around Sept. 10 they pinch the top out of the plant, which gives the plant its shape.

Next while the plants are growing, the Holders water and fertilize them. The poinsettias are also sprayed once or twice to keep away insects and diseases.

It takes two hours to water all the poinsettias, Holder said.

The poinsettia is native to Central and South America. For them to bloom in the northern hemisphere it is necessary for the plants to have 14 hours of darkness and 10 hours of light.

The first week in October is their photosynthesis period when the plants set up blooms. When the moon is too bright it retards them -- putting them about a week behind.

But when the Christmas season approaches, visitors to the Holder greenhouse would never notice that as they glance over a sea of red poinsettias.

Poinsettias stay in bloom until the summer. It is possible for them to bloom again at Christmas if given the proper care -- 14 hours of darkness and 10 hours of light.

The majority of poinsettias the Holders grow are red but they also have white ones. Last year they raised pink and even variegated types, but they found they didn't sell quite as well.

The Holders sell their poinsettias to florists and wholesalers.

Flim-Flam Men Pose As FBI Agents

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Two Birmingham, Ala. men who allegedly posed as FBI agents are now in Booneville City Jail, according to Capt. Hubert Kitchens of the Booneville Police Department.

The two men, Vincent Casey and Dwight Cook, allegedly posed as FBI agents checking for counterfeit money, and asked that money be turned over to them for checking.

According to Kitchens, the money was then placed in an envelope, and the victims were given a receipt. But when the envelope was returned to the victim, it contained only strips of newspaper.

Kitchens said the two men allegedly approached an elderly Booneville woman on Oct. 20, and persuaded her to withdraw money from several saving accounts in Booneville and Aberdeen.

"They got her to cash a check for $120 in Aberdeen. Then, they stopped at a branch bank on the north side of Aberdeen on the way back, and tried to cash two more checks. But the branch had already got a call from their main office advising them not to cash any checks for them," Kitchens said.

He said the two men allegedly returned to Booneville Tuesday, Dec. 6, and approached another elderly woman. "They told her that her money was counterfeit, and they needed to see it. But she told them she didn't have any money."

"She had already heard about the first woman. So, when they left, she called the police department. And I got behind them at Highway 45 and Adams Street, and stopped them by Freds. We already had their tag number from the deal that happened at Aberdeen. And I went ahead and placed them under arrest," Kitchens said.

Kitchens was assisted in the arrest by Chief Bobby Lambert, Capt. Bob Jones, Lt. Sam McGee, Sgt. "Tip" Norris, Officer Joe Shackelford and State Trooper Perry Lansdale.

Kitchens said the two men have been charged with conspiracy to defraud, and impersonating a federal law enforcement officer. The men were arraigned in City Court on Monday evening, Dec. 12. Bond was set at $50,000 each by Judge Billy Sartin.

Tupelo Attorney James Oliver Ford subsequently filed writs of habeas corpus on behalf of Casey and Cook, requesting that their bonds be reduced. However, Judge

$4.4 Million EPA Grant Awarded For Sewer

The city of Booneville has been awarded a grant of $4.4 million by the Environmental Protection Agency, according to Mayor Charles Crabb, who said the money is to be applied toward construction of a new waste water facility and rehabilitation of Booneville's existing sewer system. "I have a letter dated Dec. 9 from Mr. Charles R. Jeter, the regional administrator for the EPA, telling me that the EPA is offering a federal grant in the amount of $4,438,500 to us for construction of our waste water treatment facilities," Crabb said.

"Of course, the board will have to adopt a resolution accepting the grant, giving me the authority to sign for it," he said. "I have a contract to sign, and I'll have to include a resolution along with it."

Mayor Crabb said the EPA grant is 75 of a total contract for the project.

"We are borrowing $889,600 from FHA. This has been confirmed for our matching part. And we're getting a state loan for $554,320. And we have an application pending with the Appalachian Regional Commission for $250,000," he said.

Crabb said the only thing delaying the start of construction on the $6,132,420 project had been final approval on the EPA grant.

He said Booneville is extremely fortunate to receive the grant. "This money from EPA is our portion of a $20.8 million allocation for the entire state of Mississippi. We got about a fourth of that. The Gulf Coast gets 50 automatically. Jackson gets 25 of it. And the other 25 is allocated throughout the entire state.

"So, it's a thing that we've been working on for about six years. And I feel we're

Drunk Driving Awareness Week Proclaimed

Gov. William Winter has proclaimed Dec. 11-17 as Mississippi Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week. The proclamation corresponds with a joint congressional resolution designating Dec. 11-17 as National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week.

Winter said that "drunk and drugged driving is the most serious problem encountered on Mississippi streets and highways," and that "there is a particular need to focus our attention during the Christmas holiday season on responsible and safe driving as our citizens travel throughout the state to visit their families and friends."

Drunk and drugged driving has a role in more than 62 percent of Mississippi's fatal highway accidents and many of its injury accidents. In 1982, at least 365 Mississippians were killed in accidents involving drunk and drugged drivers.

Recognizing the severity of the drunk and drugged driving problem, the Legislature passed a tough drunk driving law which became effective on July 1. The new law makes it illegal to drive in Mississippi with a blood alcohol content of .10 or more, and it does not permit a driving under the influence (DUI) charge to be reduced to a lesser charge.

First offenders' licenses will be suspended for a minimum of 90 days, and the offender will be required to participate in a state driver safety program. First offenders also will be fined $200 to $500, and they may be jailed up to 24 hours.

Second offenders within a five-year time span will be fined $400 to $1,000, have their licenses suspended for two years, or at least one year with treatment and be jailed 48 hours, or perform 10 days of community service.

Conviction of a third offense within five years will result in a fine of $500 to $1,000, a driver's license suspension for three years, or at least one year with treatment, and being jailed 30 days to one year.

"A 'get tough' attitude toward the drunk and drugged driver prevails across Mississippi," said Roy Thigpen, the governor's representative for highway safety and director of the Governor's Office of Criminal Justice Planning.

"Law enforcement officers, judges and others concerned with getting drunk and drugged drivers off our highways are determined that the new law will be strictly enforced.

"The public also can have an important role in eliminating drunk and drugged driving," Thigpen said. "The most obvious step is not to drive if you've been drinking alcoholic beverages or taking strong drugs. The individual citizen also can work with local civic groups to educate the public on this problem. And don't ever fail to report any driver who appears to be drunk or drugged. You could be saving this person's life and the lives of others on the highway.

"Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week is an ideal time," he said, "for every citizen who's old enough to understand the problem to be involved in getting drunk and drugged drivers off our streets and highways."

New Industry

Supervisors President J.P. Davis.

"We're proud and happy to be here," said Bergeron, admitting that the unofficial decision to locate in Booneville had been made three months ago, though the official decision was not made until recently. "We're pleased with everyone we've met. Everyone has been very helpful. And everything has been more than satisfactory," he said.

NEMJC President Harold T. White described the building of the new Booneville plant as something that "will improve the quality of life in Prentiss County."

John Tompkins, administrator of Booneville

Baptist Memorial Hospital, said "This is a real plus for the hospital." Tompkins said, not only would the new factory provide employment for Prentiss County, "it will provide us with added incentives to offer in recruiting physicians."

Bergeron said the fluid division of Parker Hannifin manufactures fluid power, hydraulic and pneumatic components. He said the company's aerospace division in Irvine, California, had manufactured 75 parts for the space shuttle.

"And they're still working," he quipped.

He said one of the reasons for building a new factory was that all the other plants in the division are presently working seven days a week to keep up with orders. "We need another plant. And we're glad to be in Booneville," Bergeron said.

He added that the Booneville plant would be a "universal plant," and would probably eventually be manufacturing "a little bit of everything in our automotive connector line."

The new 80,000 square foot plant will be located on a 20 acre plot in the Booneville-Prentiss County Industrial Park.

Sheriff's Report

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department reports a total of 11 arrests during the period of Dec. 6-13. Charges placed by the sheriff's department during that period include:

Destroying public property, 2; public drunkenness, 4; possession of beer, 2; grand larceny, 2; DUI, 2; mutilation of motor vehicle identification number, 1; false pretense, 2; reckless driving, 2; speeding, 1.

A break-in was reported at Marietta School Dec. 12. Some $70 was taken. The school was ransacked, the drink box was vandalized, the glass was broken from the office door, and the Christmas tree was destroyed.

George Dodds of Route 2, Booneville, reported the theft of a 1980 Olds Cutlass

Dec. 9. The car was found burned in Hatfield Bottom in Thrasher.

A break-in was reported at the Ida Frances Eaton residence on Route 2, Rienzi, Dec. 8. Items reported stolen included a stereo, radio, record player, camera, and jewelry.

L.E. Barnett of Rienzi reported the theft of three batteries and various tools. Anthony Bowen of Route 1, Booneville, reported the theft of two guns Dec. 8. The guns were later found hidden behind his residence.

Lisa Gibson of Booneville reported the theft of a 1980 Pontiac Firebird Dec. 7.

Tommy Lowery of Route 1, Booneville, reported the theft of a 1973 Olds from the Airport project Dec. 12. The car was found Saturday night in Sunflower.

Grant

very fortunate in getting this amount. This is based on need. And it's a long, drawn-out process. But it's been very rewarding," Crabb said.

He said construction on the project will probably start in January. "We would hope that construction would begin shortly after the first of the year. And projected completion is for April 1985.

"And we were hoping that, in February of '84, we would be able to start construction on our sewer system rehabilitation plan," he said. "Some of our sewer lines will have to be rehabilitated along with the new treatment facility. And we're hoping that completion will be in the Spring of '85."

Crabb said the new sewage facility would be a plus in enticing industry.

"We have been hindered in a lot of different ways as far as the overloading of our system. And this will alleviate a lot of our problems," he said.

Flim-Flam

Sartin declined to reduce the bonds, and advised Ford to file the writs in circuit court.

Attempts to contact Ford for comment were unsuccessful as of press time.

Kitchens said the "scam" had been reported by police departments all over the state. "We've gotten calls from Meridian, Jackson, Amory, Aberdeen, Tupelo and Corinth. And we sent pictures of the men to several different police departments that have had scams going on in their city where people are posing as FBI agents and telling people their money is counterfeit."

He said one of the men in custody is suspected of having been involved in the scam in several other cities. "And there are probably going to be around seven or eight more people tied up in this."

"It's mostly old people they're hitting," Kitchens said.

"People need to be aware of this. And if anybody does come to their house asking them any questions, they need to notify the police department so we can check it out," he said.

"This was the second time that I know of that this has happened here in Booneville. And it's happened in other cities around the area. These old people don't think all that much about what's going on. And they're pretty easy to deceive sometimes," he said.

Kitchens said area police are still searching for another man who was reported to be with the two Birmingham men in Aberdeen. "He has a record of prior convictions on forgery, burglary and larceny. And we're pretty sure he is the leader of all this."

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland where does the Bible talk about Christmas?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Actually, the Bible does not talk about Christmas. It does talk about the birth of Christ but we do not know exactly on what date he was born. Most people think Jesus was born at "zero" B.C. but this is really not so. Henry Halley gives this explanation: "When Christ was born time was reckoned in the Roman Empire from the founding of the city of Rome. When Christianity became the universal religion over what had been the Roman world, a monk named Dionysius Exiguus, at the request of the emperor Justinian, made a calendar, 526 A.D. reckoning time from the birth of Christ, to supersede the Roman calendar. Long after the Christian calendar had replaced the Roman calendar it was found that Dionysius had made a mistake in placing the birth of Christ in 753 A.C.U. (from the founding of Rome). It should have been 749 or a year or two earlier. Christmas may be enjoyed as a national holiday but if you are looking for this day in the Bible you will be disappointed. It is not known at what time of the year Christ was born.

City School Board Condemns BHS Auditorium

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

The auditorium at the Booneville High School has been closed until further notice, and an area along the south wall of the building has been roped off and declared dangerous.

"The Board of Trustees at their meeting Monday night (Dec. 5) condemned it. It's not to be used by the public, or by the school for any activity which involves students," said BHS Principal Mac Curlee.

A large crack separating bricks has appeared at the southeast corner of the building. Curlee was asked if this was the result of the recent rains undermining the building's foundation.

"We don't know exactly what has caused it," he said. "We had a structural engineer at the school Wednesday (Dec. 7). He looked at it, and he said he'd have to make his report to Dr. Lovell, who's head of the state Education Finance Commission. But he said that it was definitely dangerous and quite unsafe."

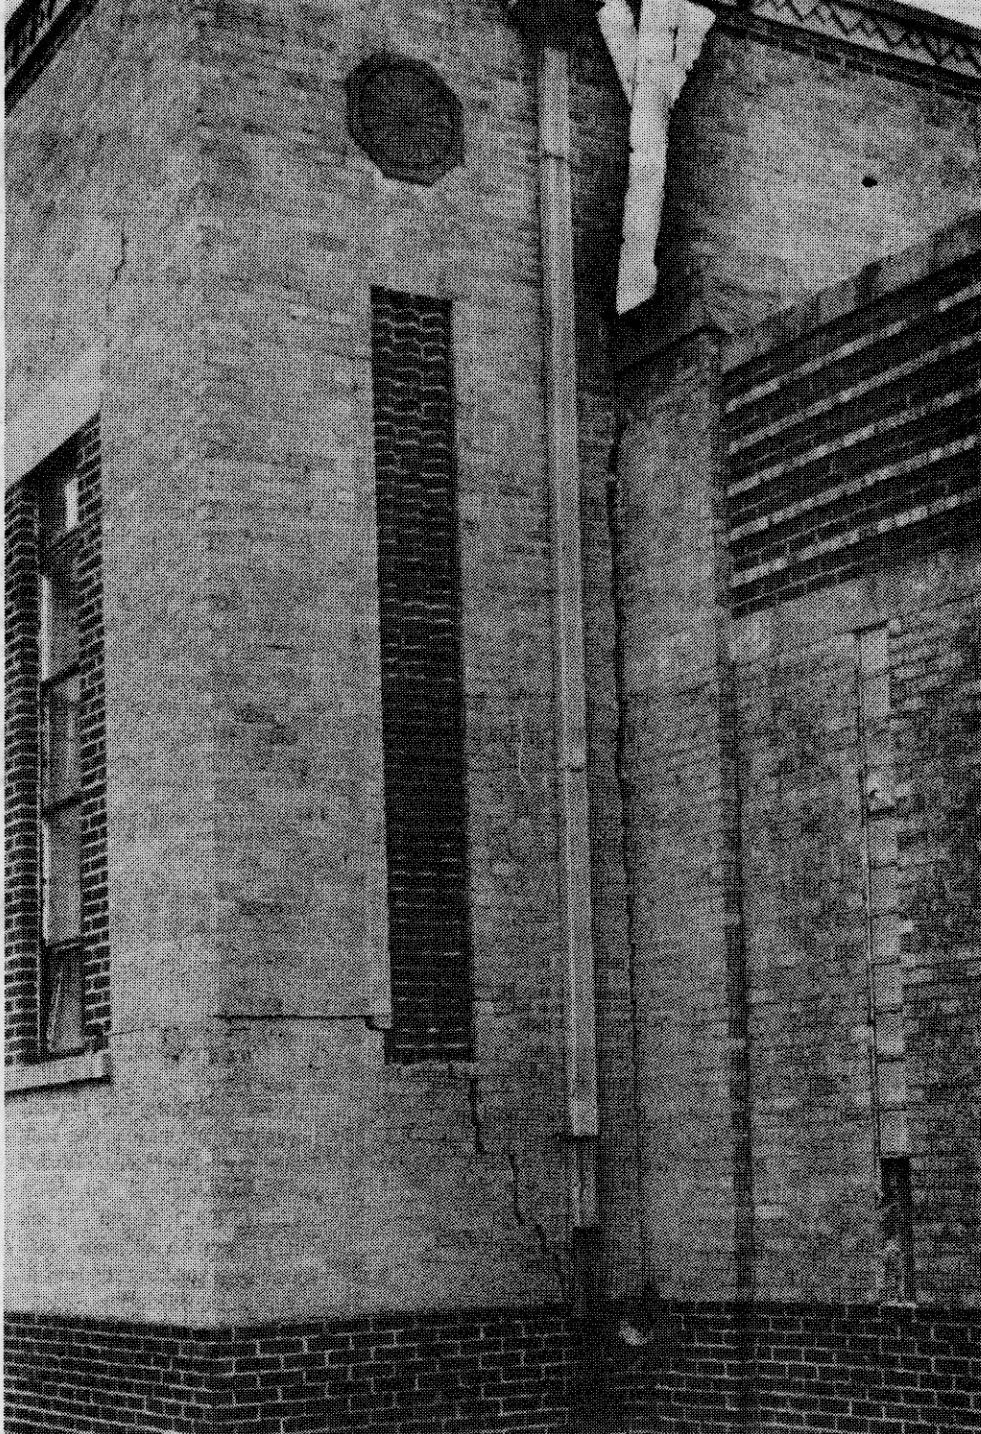

City Superintendent of Schools R.D. Griffin said there is no way he can predict at this time if and when the high school auditorium might be reopened.

Griffin said there would probably be no more student assemblies for the remainder of the school year, with the possible exception of "pep rallies held in the gym."

He said, in addition to the crack in the outside wall the south wall itself appears to be separating from the floor on the inside of the building.

Griffin declined to comment further until a report has been received from the structural engineer or Dr. Lovell's office on the actual condition of the building, and what can be done to either repair or replace the structure.

Some Insurance Companies Not Fair To Rural Customers

According to State Commissioner of Insurance George Dale some fire insurance companies may be discriminating against rural residents. Dale said he is taking steps to prohibit this from happening in the future.

"We have discovered that some companies are not renewing the coverage of property owners in rural areas after filing only one fire claim," Dale said. "These companies are eliminating business with potentially high risks to hold down the cost of paying claims."

An insurance company must prove to the Mississippi Insurance Commission that it has made a profit in the last two years in order for the company to be granted a rate reduction.

"If a company is paying a large number of losses in areas which do not have fire protection, it can not justify to the commission the need for a rate decrease," Dale said.

"We are going to monitor the complaints filed with our office to determine whether a trend is being set by a company," he stated. "If we discover this is occurring, we are going to recommend to the Mississippi Insurance Commission they take action against this company which would force them to change their policy."

The commission is a three member board with appointments by the governor, attorney general, and commissioner of insurance which approves rates and policy forms for all fire and casualty insurance companies doing business in the state.

"We can not allow any insurance company to continue this practice or the other companies would quickly change their underwriting procedures just to keep up with the competition," he said.

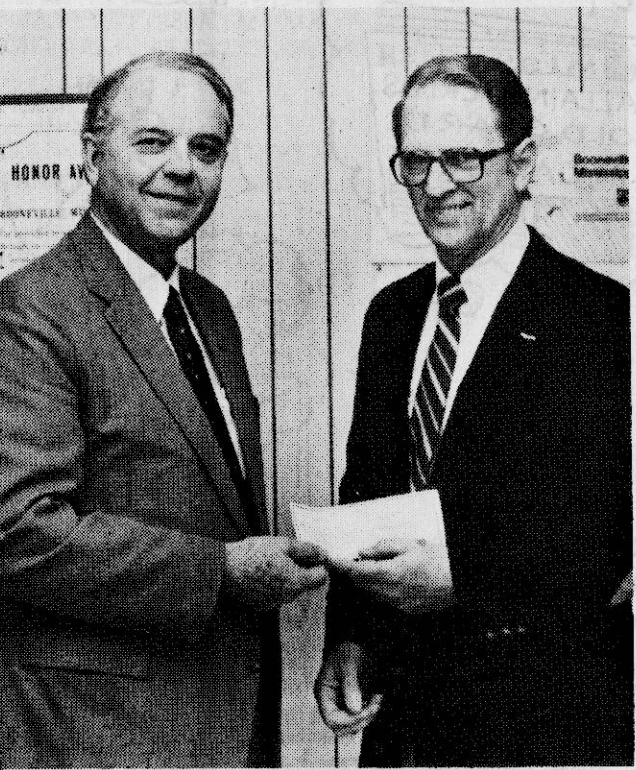

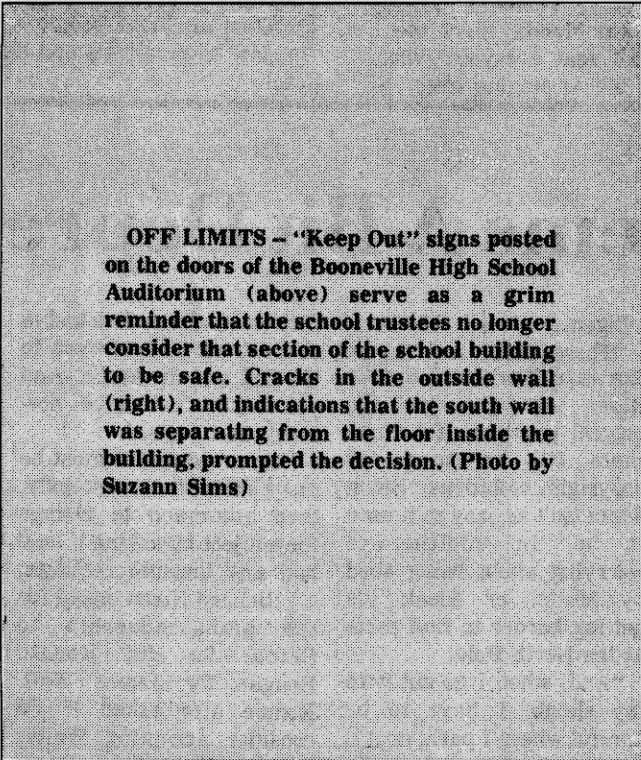

The commission gave the first across the board rate increase on homeowners to all insurance companies last year for the first time in eight years.

"In exchange for the approval of this rate increase, the companies gave a commitment that tight underwriting guidelines for rural property would be eliminated," Dale said. "This would make it easier for unincorporated areas to purchase fire insurance coverage."

The commissioner noted that he was not asking the companies to write coverage on property where there had been a question of arson.

"Arson is a problem which affects everyone's fire insurance rates, and we can not penalize a company or its policyholders if coverage is denied," he said.

EYE OPENERS By Dr. Walter C. Simpson

WHY SOME KIDS NEED BIFOCALS

Bifocal lenses are usually prescribed for older patients whose eye lenses have lost their elasticity. But there are occasions when an eye doctor will prescribe them for teenagers.

When a young person has difficulty focussing both eyes, one moment on a chalkboard in the classroom and the next moment on the textbook on the desk, he or she may benefit from wearing bifocal lenses.

Or, when one eye tends to cross, even occasionally, bifocals can help to keep the eyes looking straight.

Usually, this prescription is recommended when the patient is undergoing visual therapy.

In other cases, bifocals may be prescribed for a child who has progressive nearsightedness to reduce the effort the patient must make to focus the eyes. The vision specialist can determine whether conventional eyeglasses or contact lenses should be worn.

New Sales And Service Numbers For Phone Co.

Mississippi telephone customers with Bell equipment in their homes or businesses are now being served by new sales and service centers. Customers may get assistance with billing, repair or service by calling toll-free telephone numbers.

Home telephone customers who have questions about leasing, purchasing, repair or billing for their telephones should call toll-free 1-800-555-8111.

Business owners or managers who need information about leasing, billing, installation or transfer of either existing or new telephone equipment should call 1-800-437-0240.

Responsibility for Bell telephone equipment sales and leasing transfers from South Central Bell to AT&T on Jan. 1, 1984, when all 22

Bell telephone companies are separated from AT&T as part of an anti-trust lawsuit settlement.

Customers who now lease telephones from South Central Bell will have three options when AT&T assumes responsibility for telephone equipment on Jan. 1:

- they may continue leasing their equipment for AT&T,
- they may purchase the phones they now lease, -- or they may purchase new telephones.

Telephone customers are not required to make any decision regarding these options at this time, however. All home telephone customers will be mailed a detailed explanation of the changes in responsibility and the options before the end of the year.

Interest Rate Unchanged For USDA Farm Loans

Commodity and farm storage loans disbursed in December by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation will have a 9% percent interest rate, according to CCC Executive Vice President Everett Rank.

The rate for this month is the same in effect during November and reflects the interest rate charged CCC by the U.S. Treasury in December, Rank said.

Talk 'O The Town Street Opinion

QUESTION: Would it cause you any inconvenience if the courthouse was closed on Saturday?

TINA ROBINSON of Jefferson St., Booneville: "No. I don't think it would cause anyone any inconvenience because most of the other places like banks, and some lawyer's offices are closed on Saturday anyway."

LEXIE MCGEE of West College St., Booneville: "No. Why shouldn't the courthouse close - the banks close. But those who don't have transportation often might be inconvenienced."

CECIL SMITH of Route 6, Booneville: "No, not really. I'm self-employed. But for factory workers it's detrimental. I also think that on Saturday the banks should be open on a rotating basis until noon at least."

CURTIS RICKETTS of Broad St., Booneville: "I don't think so. I don't think it will inconvenience most people because most everybody has adapted to a five day routine."

JAMES FREEZE of Route 4, Booneville: "Not a bit in the world. When I come to town I can tend to my business just as good one day as another one. It'll be inconvenient for the people that's working."

SYBIL CHILDERS of Baldwin: "I think they should close on Saturday to give the employees the weekend off. But I think the tax office should stay open til noon on Saturday during the tax season."

I saw my first "Singing Christmas Tree" Monday night.

The indoor "Singing Tree" was presented by the First United Methodist Church in Booneville. It was a "first" for Booneville.

Church pastor Charles L. Potts estimated that some 400 people attended the performance Monday night. He said the church seats about 350. There was one extra person sitting in each pew, plus extra chairs placed in the isles, and the balcony was full.

One woman sitting on our pew told us that she had wanted to see the singing tree Sunday night, but had to go back home because there wasn't a place left to sit when she arrived at church.

Some people had to be turned away Monday night, too, because the church just couldn't seat everyone who wanted to see Booneville's first indoor singing tree.

But to help people's feelings, the church said they would present an unscheduled performance Tuesday night in addition to the other three performances.

I really enjoyed the "Singing Tree."

I am amazed at how much work went into the design, construction and decoration of the tree. The tree is 21 feet tall and 18 feet wide and is composed of 1,250 bolts, 900 board feet of lumber, and 1,250 lights.

And just think - after the tree was designed by Hal Willcoxon, it was built by Dennis Meeks' students at the vocational technical school at Northeast Junior College. After the tree was assembled at the college, it had to be disassembled there and then reassembled in the church sanctuary.

Then all those people who decorated the tree with cedar, bows, angels and lights. What work they had to do!

Exclusive Interview

Santa Seems A Bit Depressed This Year

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

After deciding the logical person to interview for this issue was the jolly old fat man himself - No. Not "Tip" O'Neal; Santa - I set out in search of him, and found him soaking his feet at a motel in Baldwin.

I asked what he was doing in such an unlikely place, and so far from his workshop at the North Pole, right in the middle of his busiest time.

"I've been making a final check with my elves to find out who's been naughty and nice, and make sure my lists are all up to date," he said.

I asked what made him decide to stay in Baldwin.

"I thought it was the last place anyone would look for me. But no matter where I hide, you always manage to find me. How do you do it?"

I told him I also have my trade secrets, and asked what his most requested item is this year.

"This year, instead of dolls that do everything, everybody wants that one that doesn't even say, 'Mama.' And, boy, are they causing me problems. I've even had to stoop to kidnapping them. It's put an extra load on all my intelligence elves," he said.

"Those dolls, and things like Star Wars and Knight Rider toys give me the biggest problem. If I make them I'll be sued for copyright violations. Being Santa isn't as easy as it used to be. In addition to worrying about being sued by Mattel or Ideal, it's getting harder to find parts at the North Pole.

"And, when I go out with my sleigh, I have to be careful where I park, or it'll be towed away. Even in Booneville, they don't pay any attention to my honorary sheriff's sticker. I get ticketed anyway."

"It's getting harder to find a working chimney nowadays. And if I do find one, there's a woodburner at the bottom of it. I singed my eyebrows so badly last year they still haven't grown out right," he said.

"It used to be fun making my annual trip," Santa said. "But, now, I spend six months just getting the necessary FAA clearances."

He stopped to blow his nose. I noticed his eyes were red, too. Finally, he continued.

"Then, there are the labor problems. My elves have organized. And even Smurfs and Ewoks are honoring their picket lines. I've had to subcontract a lot of work to the CIA and the Mafia. And you wouldn't believe how much that costs."

I observed that it must be more difficult to look jolly, then attempted to change the subject by asking if he'd had any unusual requests.

"Richard Nixon asked for the ambassadorship to China. So did Ronald Reagan...for James Watt. Ronnie also asked if I'd consider accepting Walter Mondale as ambassador to the North Pole. And Mondale asked if I'd accept John Glenn. Glenn requested two tickets for the Nov. '84 shuttle flight. He said he wants to give them to Reagan and Mondale."

I asked if he'd had any requests from this area. He pressed some buttons on his pocket computer.

"Well...Mayor Crabb wants Jimmy Carter's smile. Charles Steen wants Mayor Crabb's smile. Sheriff McCauley asked for several friendly juries. And Keith Shackelford wants a copy of The Complete Bill Allain Joke Book," he said.

He thought a moment.

"Oh, yes. Bill Allain said he wants a copy of The Complete Keith Shackelford Joke Book. And I got some strange requests from The Banner Bunch, too.

My Ears perked up as I asked him to elaborate.

"Kay Parr wants a pair of stilts. Sue Dillard wants a filter mask for Kay so she can wear her favorite perfume. Norma Micheal asked for a new pair of dancing shoes. Angela Smith wanted to know if I had an editor-proof lock for her office. And Ken Christian asked for a copy of the burning of Atlanta sequence from Gone With The Wind..."

"Oh, yes. And Shirley Burns said something about bug spray. I didn't quite get that one."

"Suzann Sims asked if I could get her a job photographing centerfolds for Playgirl. Cecil Brandon said he'd be satisfied with a private office. Scott McKinney wants an autographed picture of Howard Cosell. And Greg Shook wants an official press pass." Santa paused for breath.

He began to look glum again. It was disturbing to see him so depressed.

"You know...I may even have to look for a new location soon. The North Pole is getting too popular," he said. "It all started with that darned Fortress of Solitude that idiot in the blue tights had built. Then, after I gave permission for that, Gulf and Western wanted to build a shopping center and Exxon wanted to build an underground storage facility. Then William Winter called to ask if I'd have room for some atomic waste the EPA wants to dump on him."

"It was bad enough with all the radar bases the US and Russia put up here. I've already been crowded into the suburbs. There are times when I don't know where my next ho-ho-ho is coming from."

I wondered how Clement Moore would describe his "jolly old elf" now. I decided it was time to end the interview because it was beginning to depress me.

I wished Santa a merry Christmas, and he gave me such a dirty look I left in a hurry and forgot to tell him what I wanted for Christmas. So, Santa, if you happen to be reading this, please bring me a publisher for one of my finished novels, complete with a movie rights contract, signed and notarized, and a good spot on the New York Times Best Seller List.

That Yankee From Yonder

Mini-Lights Should Be Labelled 'Disposable'

By Ed Woodward

Managing Editor

My most unfavorite part of the Christmas season is decorating, which is why I did not help Angela and Shirley with the tree here at the office.

That may sound Scrooge-like - at least Angela thinks so. But I do have a practical reason for feeling that way (Sara says that's one of my biggest problems. I always have a practical reason...)

I remember Dad used to grumble, growl and cuss a lot when it came time to decorate the tree. But his problems were a lot different.

First of all, we used a live tree when I was a kid. And this meant Dad usually had to cut off some of the trunk. Then, he had to get the tree to stand straight in the tree stand.

I remember he finally solved that problem by making his own tree stand from a thick metal plate and a piece of inch-and-a-half galvanized pipe. Not only were our trees straight after that; that tree stand was so heavy, if a tornado had flattened the house, the tree wouldn't have moved.

Once Dad had the tree firmly installed in that pipe, he still had to string the lights, which had been removed from last year's tree by an ancestor of Rubik. They were usually so tangled that part of the job took at least three hours. And I always learned a few new words while I waited for the lights to be installed on the tree.

Modern technology has solved many of Dad's problems. Now, when it's time to put up the tree it comes down from the attic in a large box; the bottom third of the trunk installs easily into the stand; and the entire operation takes less than 15 minutes.

There is no sawing to shorten the trunk, and I don't have to worry about a crooked trunk or any bare spots. That was all taken care of in some factory in Taiwan.

I don't even have to worry about the lights being tangled. I solved that myself by notching pieces of cardboard to rewrap the lights on when I take the tree down.

My biggest problem is finding a last year's set of mini-lights that still works. They are designed to self-destruct between Christmases. Even if they worked fine right up until the last time they were unplugged last year, when you unpack them and plug them in this year, nothing will happen. They will just lie there, dull, listless and unlit.

But, this year's experience has convinced me to treat them as a disposable item from now on - "Use one Christmas, then discard (Place In A Designated Receptacle...Give A Hoot - Don't Pollute)," it should say right on the box, because that is exactly what I intend to do from now on.

This year, Bubba put up the tree. And, since Sara and Jason usually handle the hang-on decorations after I string the lights and the tinsel garland, I thought I had it made.

Things even appeared to be going well with those !!! mini-lights for a change. Every box I unpacked and plugged in lit...until I had them all strung on the tree and plugged them in.

Then, and only then, did the two strands at the top remain dark. Obviously the self-destruct mechanism on that particular brand had a time-delay switch. And that is why I am not going to wait until the mini-lights I use this year self-destruct on their own.

So, if you are interested in taking a chance with some slightly used tree lights next year, you will find them in the galvanized receptacle behind my house on the morning of January 2, 1984. And you're welcome to them.

East View Extension Club Members Enjoy Christmas Party

The East View Extension Club ushered in the holiday season with their Christmas party Dec. 6, at the home of Mrs. Mary Sue Jones.

Marking the driveway entrance were two lighted, black-wrought iron lamp posts adorned with large cranberry velvet bows.

A wooden reindeer with a velvet bow and tree branch antlers stood on the front lawn. Other outdoor Christmas decorations included a door wreath of pine cones, berries, and greenery in different shades of frosted pink and cranberry, and silk poinsettias in grapevine baskets on either side of the door and walkway.

Upon entering the house, the hostess greeted the guests and invited them to place their gifts under the Christmas tree. The blue spruce tree was adorned with white non-blinking lights, strands of popcorn and cranberries, glass Christmas ornaments, and was topped with a white velvet angel.

A basket of red wooden apples intermingled with red and green plaid ribbon made a striking table-top arrangement, along with an assortment of glowing brass candlesticks in different sizes and shapes.

The aroma of "Christmas Scent" filled the air as a spiced mixture simmered on the kitchen stove. In the background Christmas carols were played softly. Mrs. Cecil Holley read the Christmas Story from the second chapter of Luke.

Prentiss County Home Economist Patty Robinson showed the club members how to make a Christmas wreath using boxwood and also how to make Christmas bows with streamers.

During the club meeting, members exchanged gifts. The president, Mrs. Peggy Cleveland, presented Mrs. Robinson with a gift from the club in appreciation for her help and support.

Mrs. Cleveland also presented each member with a pine cone door decoration trimmed with ribbon, cedar and a jingle bell.

Highlighting the dining room, was a large hanging basket of red silk poinsettias with numerous bows and streamers of Christmas red and green ribbon.

The dining room and kitchen windows were decked in a red checked print with green holly leaves. A matching table-runner and napkins complimented the dining room table along with two glowing red candles.

The menu consisted of chicken and dressing with giblet gravy, baked ham, country fried chicken, cream style corn, creamed potatoes with cheese, butterbeans, strawberry salad, cranberry salad, homemade rolls, coconut pie, red velvet cake, coffee and tea.

Deadline Extended For County Family History Book

Approximately 400 families have reserved space for their family histories to be published in the new Prentiss County History book.

Because of the response to the call for family histories locally as well as nationally, the publication committee has persuaded the publisher to extend the deadline for submitting family stories to Feb. 1, according to a spokesman for the Prentiss County Historical Association.

However, this will be the final deadline for getting family histories published in the book.

There are still a few places left for family stories and they will be granted on a first call basis, according to the association.

To reserve one or several of the places, call the George E. Allen Library at 601-728-6553.

The publication committee is encouraging Prentiss Countians to make sure each school, church and community history is submitted. There is no cost to submit these stories and pictures of each.

What's going to happen to my phone service?

As of January 1, 1984, South Central Bell and other local Bell telephone companies will be separated from AT&T.

After divestiture, there will no longer be a Bell System as we know it today. But South Central Bell will still be your phone company. As part of a holding company called BellSouth, we'll continue to provide dependable service. For your home. And for your business.

Some things won't change.

Although there will be many changes, you'll notice very few unless you choose to change your existing home or business phone service. You'll still call on South Central Bell to order or change a phone line, to ask billing questions, to get local calling options and services and to obtain repair of phone lines. At the time of divestiture you'll still dial long distance calls the same way. And at first, you'll still get a single monthly bill.

Some things will change.

Even though you'll dial calls the same, using the South Central Bell local network, South Central Bell will actually provide only a portion of your in-state long distance service. For other in-state and out-of-state long distance calls you can choose a primary supplier of long distance service from a variety of companies.

- As part of the many pricing changes brought about by competition and divestiture, local phone rates are likely to go up, and long distance rates will probably come down.
- Phones you currently lease will become the property of AT&T (you'll lease from them) and they will be responsible for repair of those sets.
- Responsibility for repair will be split between South Central Bell (for phone line problems) and equipment suppliers (for equipment and set problems).

Booneville Emergency Drivers Given Defensive Driving Training

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

The big red truck maneuvered around the orange pylons, first forward, then in reverse, then shot forward into an "alley" marked by more pylons and backed into yet another "alley," stopping just short of knocking over still more pylons.

The scene was a defensive driving course for drivers of emergency vehicles held Dec. 1 in the parking lot of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on George E. Allen Drive.

All fire truck drivers for the Booneville Fire Department and ambulance drivers for North Mississippi Ambulance service were given the opportunity to test their driving skills.

Booneville Fire Chief

Frank Fleming said the defensive driving course is not actually a requirement. "It's just some extra training to help the men do their job better," he said. "It's not mandatory. But it's good to have it."

Chief Fleming said there was no such thing as passing or not passing the course. "You have a certain amount of time -- five minutes with the truck -- to drive the course without hitting any pylons. And everybody did a real fine job on it," he said.

Chief Fleming said the course was a first for the Booneville Fire Department. But he hopes to make it an annual thing. "I don't believe any of us have ever done this before," he said.

The course is offered by the Mississippi Department of Firefighting and sponsored by Volunteer Firemen's Insurance Services, Fleming said. Driving the obstacle course measures the skills of emergency vehicle drivers.

The course is designed to duplicate situations in which a driver's skill, judgement and knowledge of the limitations of his vehicle are required for effective maneuvering.

The situations encountered in the course include driving forward and backward through narrow clearances, around obstacles and through situations with diminishing clearances, such as crowds.

Drivers negotiating the course were monitored and timed by George Frazier, an instructor with the State Fire School, Fleming said.

"I was very pleased with the results," Fleming said, adding that he had 100 per cent participation from his firemen. "Everybody did real well. And I'm proud of them," he said.

RUNNING THE GAUNTLET -- Both Booneville city firemen and North Mississippi Ambulance Service drivers put their vehicles, and themselves through the paces at the defensive driving school held last week. Drivers had to negotiate their vehicles forward and in reverse through an obstacle course within a required length of time. Running over or knocking over a pylon meant an automatic 10-second penalty. ## Unemployed Veterans Eligible For Training

President Reagan signed legislation on November 14, 1983, appropriating $75 million for the first year of a two-year job training program to aid unemployed Vietnam and Korean Conflict veterans. The Emergency Job Training Act of 1983 provides financial incentives to employers to hire and train veterans.

"This is a major undertaking, and it underscores the nation's special commitment to those who have served in the military," Administrator of Veterans Affairs Harry N. Walters said.

The joint Labor Department-Veterans Administration effort will be administered by the VA. The program will fund 50 percent of each eligible veteran's starting hourly wages. Payments will be made to the employer. And the total amount payable on behalf of each veteran cannot exceed $10,000.

It will provide a maximum of 15 months of training for certain veterans with service-connected disabilities, and up to nine months for other participants. It also will allow employers to enter into agreements with educational institutions to provide vocational instruction.

To be eligible for participation in the program, a veteran must have been unemployed for at least 15 of the 20 weeks immediately preceding the date of his or her application. Eligible veterans will be furnished a certificate of eligibility by the VA to be presented to an employer offering a job training program that meets specified requirements. This certificate will be good for a period of 60 days and may be renewed.

Veterans and employers wishing to take part in the program are urged to contact the Jackson VA Regional Office or local Job Service Office. Approval of training programs will be made by the VA. Assistance under the program is prohibited for those veterans receiving education or training benefits for the same period under the GI Bill or the Post Vietnam Educational Assistance Program.

Employers who are receiving assistance under the Labor Department's Job Training Partnership Act or a tax credit under the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit Program are also prohibited from participation.

For additional information on the Jobs Training Act you may contact the Jackson VA Regional Office toll free at 1-800-682-5270.

First Citizens National Bank customers who have "First Aid" automated teller machine (ATM) cards can now obtain their funds at more than 2,000 locations throughout the nation, according to First Bank President Lewis Whitfield.

The electronic hookup of the network allows access to checking, savings and credit card accounts through ATMs in 47 states from New York to California, including Alaska and Hawaii.

"System tellers are located at many U.S. airports and at key vacation spots. Customers can withdraw cash from their checking, savings, and credit card accounts, obtain balances on deposit accounts, and transfer funds between accounts if they are linked," Whitfield said.

Food Prices Remained Stable In October

The consumer price index for food in October rose 0.1 percent from the September level (before seasonal adjustment), according to the monthly consumer price index released by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Prices for food bought in grocery stores in October declined 0.1 percent from the September level, and were only 1 percent above October a year ago. In contrast, prices for restaurant meals and snacks rose 0.5 percent in October and were 4.2 percent above a year earlier.

According to Assistant Secretary of Agriculture William Leshner, "Food prices are likely to remain stable during the next several months due to large supplies of meats. But upward pressure on food prices will develop in 1984 from further increases in marketing costs, stronger consumer demand and smaller meat supplies in the second half of next year."

Food prices next year are expected to average 4 to 7 percent higher than this year, he said.

Prices for meats dropped 0.8 percent in October. Beef and veal prices fell 0.7 percent, reflecting large supplies, as producers continued to reduce cattle inventories. Pork prices declined 1.5 percent in October, and were 11.3 percent below a year earlier.

Poultry prices dropped 2.4 percent in October, due to increased production that lowered chicken prices. However, retail prices of eggs rose in October and were 13.8 percent higher than a year ago.

Fruits and vegetables prices dropped 0.3 percent in October. Fresh fruit prices declined 3.9 percent, led by apples (down 15.1 percent) and oranges (down 11.3 percent), due to increased supplies of most fresh fruits.

Retail prices for fresh vegetables rose, however. Tomato prices were higher, due to reduced supplies, while potato prices were lower, due to increased supplies.

Prices of fats and oils continued to increase, reflecting higher soybean prices resulting from the summer drought.

Watch for Us!

These markers show the location of our natural gas pipelines. As part of our vigorous safety program, we regularly patrol the pipelines by plane and by foot to look for signs of possible leaks. As an added measure, we would like for persons who live by or travel near our pipelines to know how to spot a possible leak and where to report suspicious conditions.

Signs of a possible leak:

1. A blowing sound on or near the pipeline right-of-way.
2. Dirt being blown into the air.
3. Water bubbling or being blown into the air at a pond, creek or river.
4. Fire coming from the ground or burning above ground.
5. Grass and other plants turning brown in areas of otherwise healthy vegetation.
6. A peculiar, pungent or unfamiliar odor.

What to Do:

1. Put out cigarettes, stop all engines, put out pilot lights and extinguish any other source of ignition.
2. Leave the area and prevent others from entering.
3. Notify the pipeline company and local police and fire departments.

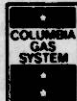

If you plan to dig, probe or blast near one of our pipelines, please call Columbia Gulf before you do. The markers shown above indicate the vicinity of the pipeline, but you should know the exact location before disturbing the area. Give us a call and you'll get help fast.

ASCS Report

The Banner-Independent

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Eligible wheat farmers soon will receive an estimated $735 to $765 million in deficiency payments on their 1983 crop, barley farmers will get about $35 to $40 million, and oats farmers about $7 to $10 million, according to Everett Rank, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Rank said deficiency payments are required under the 1983 wheat, barley, and oats programs because market prices received by farmers during the first five months (June through October) of the marketing year were below established target price levels of $4.30 per bushel for wheat, $2.60 for barley, and $1.60 for oats. The deficiency payment rate is based on the difference between the established target price and the higher of the national weighted average market price for June through October or the loan rate. National weighted average market prices were $3.51 per bushel for wheat, $2.39 per bushel for barley, and $1.49 for oats. Thus, eligible producers will be paid 65 cents per bushel for this year's barley, and 11 cents for oats, based on the national weighted average market price. Deficiency payments will be made to wheat, barley, and oats farmers who participated in the 1983 acreage reduction programs. Rank said the payment checks will be issued through local ASCS offices as possible after Dec. 9. Producers participating in the acreage reduction programs were eligible for advance deficiency payments at a rate of 32.5 cents for wheat, 20 cents for barley, and 7.5 cents for oats. Final deficiency payments will be reduced by payments advanced to the producer for the respective crop. A total of $344 million has been paid in advance deficiency payments for wheat, $27 million for barley and almost $2 million for oats. ELECTION RESULTS Results of the Dec. 5 election of the ASCS community committee persons for 1984 were announced today. Out of a total of 2211 farmers who were eligible to vote, 409 votes were cast. Farmers elected to the committees were: Community A - Jumbertown and Pisgah - Max Lauderdale, Chairman; Tommy Garner, Vice Chairman; Bud Green, Regular Member; J.C. Holley Jr., 1st Alternate; and Thomas Deaton, 2nd Alternate. Community B - Blackland and Baldwin - Athel J. Smith, Chairman; Charlie Rowland, Vice Chairman; Billy O. Spain, Regular Member; Jack Greenhill, 1st Alternate; and Mack Williams, 2nd Alternate. Community C - Wheeler and Marietta - Joe Wayne Garner, Chairman; Edward Stacy, Vice Chairman;

David Hill, Regular Member; James Barron, 1st Alternate; and Mike Huddleston, 2nd Alternate. Community D - Thrasher and Cairo - Jesse O. Sims, Chairman; Billy Joe Moss, Vice Chairman; Leon Tidwell, Regular Member; J. Carey Pike, 1st Alternate; and Harding Burcham, 2nd Alternate. Community E - New Site and Burton - Bill Breedlove, Chairman; Ken Martin, Vice Chairman; L.C. Taylor, Regular Member; Waymon Slack, 1st Alternate; and Ralph G. Smith, 2nd Alternate. The county ASCS convention will be held on Dec. 16, at 9:30 a.m. in the ASCS office where community committee persons will elect by ballot farmers to fill vacancies on the county ASCS committee. The convention delegates will also elect a county committee chairman, vice chairman, regular member and two alternates to the committee for the coming year. The recently-elected ASCS

community committee chairman, vice chairman and regular member automatically become delegates to the county convention. ASCS county and community committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm program as Agricultural Conservation Program, Forestry Incentives Program, Payment in Kind, Cotton, Feed Grain and Wheat Programs. Last year over 1,000 farmers about 85 percent of all farmers in the county took part in one or more of the programs administered by ASCS committees. CHANGES IN SUPPORT PROGRAM Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, Richard Lyng recently said that effective Dec. 1 the support price for milk would be reduced from $13.10 per hundredweight to $12.60. This action is provided in the Dairy and Tobacco Adjustment Act of 1983 signed into law yesterday by President Reagan. The support price of $12.60 is for milk with a milkfat of 3.67 percent - the national average - and compares with $12.31 per hundredweight for milk with a milkfat content of 3.5 percent. The $12.60 support price will remain in effect until Sept. 30, 1985. However, USDA may reduce the support level to $12.10 on April 1, 1985, if it estimates that net purchases of milk and milk products by USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation will exceed 6 billion pounds milk equivalent in the succeeding 12 months. On July 1, 1985, USDA may reduce the support 50 cents per hundredweight if it estimates net purchases of milk and milk products will exceed 5 billion pounds, milk equivalent in the succeeding 12 months. The new law also requires that from Dec. 1, 1983 through March 31, 1985, USDA will deduct 50 cents per hundredweight on all milk produced in the 48 contiguous states and marketed by producers for commercial use. The funds collected as a result of the 50-cent deduction will be used to partially offset the costs of the program. This non-refundable deduction replaces the two 50-cent deductions, which apply to milk marketed through Nov. 30, 1983 and will be collected in the same manner as those two earlier deductions. Other details of the dairy program, including provisions governing the paid diversion program are as follows: A. Producers may contract to reduce their milk marketings between 5 and 30 percent from their base period marketings for either calendar year 1982 or the average of calendar years 1981 and 1982 at producer's option. B. Producer will be paid $10.00 for each 100 pounds contracted reduction during the 15-month contract period of the program January 1 thru March 31, 1985. C. Contract sign-up will be

January 1 thru January 31, 1984. D. Before signing a contract producers must establish their base period milk marketings. Monthly sales receipts or check stubs or computer printouts showing production for each of the 24 month base period may be used instead of sales receipts or check stubs. If a computer printout is used it must be certified as accurate by the milk handler and monthly receipts for March and September 1981 and 1982 or a 1981 and 1982 calendar year summary presented to check the accuracy of the computer printout. E. Marketing bases should be established between now and the middle of January. F. Also before the signing of a contract the producer must furnish a plan describing how the reduction in milk marketings will be achieved. The ASCS office will assist in preparing the plan. G. Payment may be made at the end of each 3-month period.

County Agent's Notes

By
CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

The most common measure of firewood volume is the cord. A standard cord can be described as a well-stacked pile of logs 4 by 4 by 8 feet. Since few people burn wood in 4 or 8 foot lengths, most sales are a "face cord" or a "tier" that is, a 4 by 8 foot face, cut into desired lengths. A "face cord" of 16-inch-long pieces is really one third of a standard cord. To determine the volume of firewood in cords, the wood must be first properly stacked. Then measure the dimensions of the stack in feet. Multiply the width by the height by the length to obtain the total cubic feet. Then divide this figure by 128, which is the number of cubic feet of wood in a standard cord. For example, if you purchase firewood in 16-inch (1.33-foot) lengths and find that after you stack it tightly, it forms a pile 4 feet high and 8 feet long, you have one-third of a cord: 1.33 x 4 x 8 feet equals 42.6 cubic feet; this divided by 128 equals .333 cord. In some parts of the country firewood is more commonly sold by the ton. A ton of air-dry, dense hardwoods (such as oak, hickory, maple) is equal to approximately one-half of a cord. If you buy your wood by weight instead of volume, look for the driest wood. Don't pay for extra water. Logs are sold in different lengths and thicknesses. The sizes you buy should depend on the size of your fireplace and the amount of time you want to take to get your fire going. Purchase logs that will fit when laid across your grate. Logs too large to burn readily may be split. Short lengths are generally easier to split than longer logs; straight-grained knot free wood is easier than crooked grain. Green or wet wood splits more readily than seasoned wood, and softwoods usually split more readily than hardwoods. Elm, blackgum, and sycamore are so difficult to split that they are rarely used as kindling. When kindling is needed, short lengths of straight-grained cottonwood, aspen, fir, and pine will split readily and prove most satisfactory. Small twigs and branches found in your yard, and wood wastes found around saw-mills are also good as they often do not have to be split and dried. When you buy wood, request a mixture of wood species and diameter sizes. Although the wood should be generally sound, don't worry about small pockets of rotten wood you may find in the logs. Most wood species will not burn if freshly cut, so the wood you purchase should be reasonably dry, or "seasoned." The surest way to have dry wood is to purchase it several months prior to using it. Splitting logs hastens drying. Split logs or small round logs should be stacked outside under a roof for 6 to 10 months before burning. Choosing a kind of firewood to burn in your fireplace is much like selecting a favorite, since each wood species can offer something different in aroma or heat value. The fuelwood connoisseur will want to choose his wood carefully and weigh his needs and tastes before building his fire. Softwoods, like pine, spruce, and fir, are easy to ignite because they are resinous. They burn rapidly with a hot flame. However, since a fire built entirely of softwoods burns out quickly, it requires frequent attention and replenishment. This characteristic softwoods can be a boon if you want to quick warming fire or a short fire that will burn out before you go to bed or before you step out for the evening. For a longer lasting fire, add the heavier hardwoods such as ash, beech, birch, maple, and oak. These dense species burn less vigorously than softwoods and with a shorter flame. Oak gives the most uniform and shortest flames and produces steady glowing coals. When you have several oak logs burning in your grate, you can settle back for a steady glow. For more information on firewood come by the County Extension office or call 728-5631 or, 728-7092.

Soil Conservation Report

By DON JONES
Soil Conservation
Technician

Now that most of our crops are harvested, you might want to take some time to think about what projects you want to undertake to improve your farm. Look around your fields and see those washed out places, the ones that you had trouble crossing because they were washed out much deeper than last year. One way to repair these washouts is to install a grass waterway. A grass waterway is a natural or man made waterway shaped to required dimensions and vegetation for safe disposal of runoff from a field, diversion, terraces or other structures. Your first thoughts of a grass waterway may be that you do not want your fields cut up with this permanent grass. But crossing a well constructed waterway with gently sloping sides is much easier than trying to cross those gullies that if left alone will only get larger and larger.

Not only is it an essential part of the soil and water conservation treatment of your farm, but you can use it for pasture and hay production. It can also be used for wildlife habitat, homes for quail, rabbits and other small animals.

Your waterway will need special attention while the grass is getting started. After each rain look it over and fill and smooth all washed places. Do not run equipment over the waterway any more than is necessary, and keep out livestock until the grass is well established.

Good grass waterways are very important in controlling erosion of farms in Prentiss County. If you would like more information about the grass waterways with technical assistance in selecting the vegetation and designing the waterway, contact the Soil Conservation Service at 107 College St. or call 728-3544.

A grass waterway is not a wasted area in your field.

Drought Will Have Little Effect On Food Prices

The worst drought in half a century, which devastated crops in key production states, should have little impact on food supplies and prices for the rest of the holiday season. Most food supplies will be plentiful and prices reasonable for the holidays, according to Ann Rushing, a marketing specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. Only sweet potatoes are in short supply and will be more expensive, Mrs. Rushing said.

Turkey supplies are plentiful and retail prices have been near the wholesale level because retailers use turkeys almost as loss leaders. "Demand will tend to push turkey prices up, but competition from plentiful port supplies should keep prices down," she said. "Pork should cost less than last year." Consumers also should find bargains with apples, canned tomato products, broccoli and potatoes. Frozen vegetables are a bargain because supplies are large while demand has been slow. Cranberries are in good supply for the holiday season, as U.S. producers harvested a record crop this year. Onions are in fairly good supply, despite a smaller crop than last year. Celery, lettuce and carrot production is off from 1982, while sweet corn and cauliflower supplies are ample. The drought has increased the price of margarine made from soybean and corn oil, Mrs. Rushing said.

More than 196,000 acres were reforested in Mississippi in 1982... an area larger than one-half of the total area that the U.S. Forest Service reforested in 1982 on all the National Forests in the U.S.A! The 1982 acres reforested total was also a new one-year record high for Mississippi.

Holiday Recipes

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Christmas is a time for sharing - especially good recipes.

Lila Presley Johnson of Jackson, Tenn., recently sent some of her favorite Christmas and holiday recipes to share with her friends.

She writes that she has used the recipe for Orange-Date-Nut Loaf for 25 years. "I think it's the best," she says.

Orange-Date-Nut Loaf Cake

1 c. butter
5 eggs
2 c. sugar
4 c. plain flour
2 Tbs. grated orange peel
1 c. chopped nuts
1 1/2 pkg. dates (8 oz. pkg.)
1/4 c. buttermilk with 1/2 tsp. soda
Pinch of salt

Cut 4 or 5 oranges - squeeze out juice and strain. Take rind and grate 4 Tbs. Into juice add 2 cups sugar. Set aside for sauce.

Cream sugar and butter. Add eggs one at a time. Beat in flour, salt, and buttermilk alternately. Add orange peel. Fold in dates and nuts (do not flour them). Pour into large stem pan that has been greased and floured. Cook at least 1 hr. 15 minutes at 325 degrees or until done. Take from oven. Put small holes in cake with ice pick and pour sauce over cake. Set for 24 hours before taking from pan.

Crunchy Milk Chocolate Fudge

2 c. milk chocolate chips
1/4 c. crunchy peanut butter

1 (14 oz.) can sweetened condensed milk (not evaporated milk)

1. In top of double boiler, over hot - not boiling - water, melt milk chocolate chips and peanut butter. Remove from heat; stir in sweetened condensed milk. Mix well.

2. Spread evenly into wax paper-lined 8-inch square pan. Chill 2 hours or until firm.

3. Turn fudge onto cutting board; peel off paper and cut into squares. Store loosely covered at room temperature.

Slush

7 c. water
2 c. sugar
Bring to boil and cool

2 c. water
4 tea bags
Bring to boil and cool

12 oz. can frozen orange juice
12 oz. can frozen lemonade
2 c. (Phillips) Brandy

Mix all ingredients and keep in freezer in plastic bucket. Makes 1 gallon plus.

Put 1 scoop in each glass. Mix with Mountain Dew, Seven-Up or Ginger Ale.

Christmas Pickles

12 large cucumbers, peeled and sliced thin.

1 red sweet pepper or 1 small jar pimentos
1 green sweet pepper
1/4 c. pickling salt
Mix well and let stand 2 hrs.

(Pour off juice and press on colander)
2 c. white vinegar
2 c. sugar
Pour over cucumbers and seal.

Refrigerate - keeps well. Makes 4 pints plus.

Chicken And Rice Casserole

1 fryer (about 2 lbs.), cooked and diced
1 lb. rice - cooked according to directions
Saute in butter: 1/2 c. diced onion, 1/2 c. diced celery, 1/2 c. diced green peppers
Add these to all other ingredients plus 1/4 c. diced pimentos (for color), 1 small can cream of chicken soup, and 2 small cans cream of celery soup.

If the casserole is too stiff, add some broth left from the cooked fryer. Put in greased casserole dish. Top with layer of shredded cheddar cheese; then layer with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in 350 degree oven for 45 minutes or until it bubbles a while.

Makes 8-10 servings.

Shoe Peg Corn Casserole

1 can French style beans (drained)
1 can Green Giant shoe peg corn
1 can cream celery soup
8 oz. sour cream
1/2 c. grated sharp cheese
Salt and pepper to taste
Mix all of the above.

Saute: 1/2 c. chopped onion, 1/2 c. chopped green pepper
1/2 c. chopped celery
Mix together with other ingredients. Top with 1 stack ritz cracker crumbs and 1 stick oleo melted.

Jam Cake

2 c. sugar
2 c. butter
1 c. buttermilk
6 whole eggs
4 c. self-rising flour
2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. allspice
2 c. jam (can use strawberry or blackberry)

Cream butter and sugar. Add buttermilk. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Next add flour, spice and jam. Mix well. Bake in slow oven at 325 degrees for 20-25 minutes. This will make a 5 layer cake.

FROSTING: This is easier to make if you make it in 2 cookings.

4c. sugar
1 green pepper, chopped
8 whole eggs
Cream butter and sugar. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add 2 c. milk and cook slowly, being sure to stir often. (It burns easy so be sure to watch it.) Cook until thick. Remove from heat and add 2 c. coconut, 2 c. raisins, 2 c. chopped nuts. Spread on cake. This cake freezes nicely.

Party Bits

1 box Cherrios
1 box Rice Chex
1 box Wheat Chex
1 box pretzels
1 can peanuts
2 cans other nuts
Mix those ingredients together.

2 sticks oleo
1 tsp. salt
4 tsp. hot sauce
1 tsp. garlic salt
4 tsp. worcestershire sauce

Heat and pour over first mixture
Cook in oven 1 1/2 hours - 2 hours at 225 degrees. Stir often.

Potato Casserole

10 large baking potatoes, peeled, diced and boiled
1/2 lb. American cheese, grated
1 onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 small can pimiento, chopped
1/2 c. mushrooms, chopped
1/2 c. celery, chopped
1 c. milk, heated
1 stick butter, melted
1 c. crushed cornflakes

Layer ingredients in buttered casserole, starting with potatoes. Pour milk over ingredients, then melted butter.

Top with crushed cornflakes. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 40 minutes. May be made a month ahead and frozen.

The poinsettia is a beautiful flower for gift giving and one that we love to have in our homes during the holidays.

Here are a few tips that will be helpful in the care of your poinsettia.

Place the poinsettia in a sunny window or the brightest area of the room without letting it touch cold window panes. The temperature should be 65-75 degrees F. at night. Do not place on top of a TV set. Temperatures above 75 degrees F. cause root rot. Move plants away from windows at night.

Examine the potting soil daily. When it becomes dry to touch, water the plant with lukewarm water so some water runs out of the drainage hole, then discard the drainage water. Poinsettias do not like "wet feet." Repotting is not necessary during the winter.

Buy plants that have clean, healthy, dark green leaves and colorful bracts free of insects. Be sure to look at the underside of the leaves for insects. Avoid those that have no lower leaves or that have bruised, broken, or spray-damaged leaves. Plants shedding yellow pollen are over-mature. Healthy, long lasting varieties are worth the extra price.

On a cold day, wrap the plant and pot in paper for the trip home and purchase at the end of the shopping trip. Even a slight chill or draft can cause leaves to drop later on. Unwrap the plant as soon as you get home and place it in bright light away from cold or hot air drafts. Pierce the foil at the bottom of the pot for drainage.

Reputable dealers sell only the best varieties of the new long lasting flower types. Many of these plants hold their blooms until May when they can be cut back and set outdoors.

As days lengthen and light intensely increases in March, side shoots often develop below the bracts. If the old leaves have fallen and the bract have faded, the old stems may be cut back to six inches above the soil.

The plants may also be repotted at this time with a commercial potting soil or a mixture of 2 parts soil, 1 part sphagnum peat, and 1 part sand. If there is more than one plant in the pot, the plants can be divided and potted individually. Reduce watering frequency in proportion to the amount of foliage removed from the plant.

Poinsettias can be grown indoors as foliage plants in summer or moved outside.

PRESERVE YOUR CHRISTMAS TREE

To preserve your Christmas tree, water during the holidays with the following solution to keep fresh.

Cut trunk off 1 1/2 inches, plunge in luke warm water for 6-8 hours. Drain, then put in a solution of 1 T. sugar, 2 gallon water, and 1 aspirin until you are ready to put tree in stand. Water tree with this solution throughout the season.

Reserve Campsites Now

Campers at Mississippi state parks will be assured of a camping space under a new policy to go into effect Jan. 1, 1984. Reservations for camping pads will be accepted at all the parks that have camping facilities.

Aubrey Rozzell, director Bureau of Recreation and Parks, said camping reservations were started on an experimental basis last year at Buccaneer, Paul B. Johnson, and Percy Quin State Parks. "It was such a success at these parks that we will extend the service to include all parks after Jan. 1," Rozzell said.

The campgrounds at most parks are divided into two sections. One will be utilized on a first-come, first-served basis; the other section will be available for reservations.

To reserve a camping space, a $12 non-refundable deposit is required. This $12 pays for the first day of camping. Subsequent days are at the regular rate.

Reservations can be made in person at the park or by telephone. Telephone reservations require payment by Visa or MasterCard.

For a list of all state parks, facilities, addresses, and telephone numbers, write Parks, Box 20305, Jackson, MS 39209, or telephone 961-5014.

'Tournament Of Champions'

Lady Bearcats & Eagles Capture Top Honors At Baldwyn Matchup

By GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

The Baldwyn "Tournament of Champions" got underway Dec. 5 with 10 schools participating.

The Baldwyn Lady Bearcats earned top honors in the girls' division by defeating the Booneville Devilettes in over-time 35-33.

This was the third time this season the two teams have met, and Baldwyn has won two out of the three meetings.

The game was a showdown between Baldwyn's Tricia Nelson and Booneville's Kunshinge Sorrell with Sorrell leading all scoring in the game with 24 points -- not enough to give Booneville the victory. Nelson connected for 16 points, and was the only Lady Bearcat in the double-figure column.

Booneville led at the half 14-12.

The Wheeler Eagles were named tournament champs in the boys' division after defeating Okolona 69-61. Wheeler jumped out in the first half with a 20 point lead, but did not hold it for long. Okolona came back to close the gap, and was behind only 36-29 by the half.

After a very close third quarter Wheeler realized they would have to turn the "hosses" loose. Willie Miller fouled out, bringing Mike Chandler, who was on the bench getting some rest, back into the battle zone. Wheeler began pulling ahead in the fourth quarter, ending up with the championship.

Chandler led the scoring for Wheeler with 21 points. Willie Miller put his name in the Eagles' high scoring column with 10. Rickey Hill, with 21 points, and Orlando Moore with 15 were the leading scorers for the Chieftains.

In first round action on Tuesday the Shannon Lady Red Raiders defeated Hickory Flat's Rebelettes 46-42.

In the second game the Lady Bearcats faced the Okolona Lady Chieftains, and won the game by a healthy margin-- 80-51. Renita Speck led Baldwyn with 19 points. Teena Bender added 17 to the final tally. Sarah Blanchard connected for 20 points for Okolona.

In the boys' first round of play on Monday Okolona defeated Baldwyn 59-51. Rickey Hill put 25 points on the board in the Okolona victory. For Baldwyn, Anthony Price and Jim Palmer connected for 15 points each.

In quarter finals on Tuesday Booneville's Devilettes beat the Biggersville Lady Lions 46-37. Kunshinge Sorrell had 32 points to lead Booneville in their win. Phyllis Stafford was high scorer for the Lady Lions with 15.

In the second game Wheeler attacked Booneville early in the game and built up a 60-47 final margin. Wheeler's attack was set up by Mike Chandler, who contributed 15 points. Clay Richey made a showing with 14 and Willie Miller added 10 to the final score. Clay Johnson took charge for Booneville with 12 points. Tim Jumper was second with 10.

In the night's final game Okolona beat Saltillo in a blow-out 80-48.

In Wednesday night's opening round game

Biggersville defeated Mantachie 76-54.

In the girls' game New Hope defeated Shannon 51-36.

In the opening game on Wednesday the Baldwyn girls won a top-heavy victory over the Saltillo Lady Tigers, 90-15. Teena Bender had 21 points and Sherry Micheals had 15 for Baldwyn.

In the second game Mantachie's Lady Mustangs beat Wheeler's girls' 61-55. Ann Boudry had 20 points for the Lady Mustangs. For the Lady Eagles it was Tangie Miller leading the low-flying attack with 30. Pam Johnson added 11.

In the final game Okolona defeated Biggersville 60-52.

In semi-final action on Friday the Baldwyn girls succeeded to the finals with a 60-40 win over Mantachie. Sherry Micheals led the assault on Mantachie with 22 points. Teena Bender contributed 17.

In the second semi-final game Wheeler defeated Shannon with a substantial 74-57 victory. The Eagles were led by Mike Chandler with 19 and Willie Miller with 18 points. Bernard Smith led Shannon with 21.

The final game pitted the Booneville Devilettes against New Hope, with the Devilettes winning 49-43. Kunshinge Sorrell led the heated attack for Booneville with 28 points. Soveina Harris put another 12 on the board for the Devilettes. Valeria Rushing led for New Hope with 14 points.

Variety Of Hunting Seasons In December

Mid-December is a time for the opening and closing of seasons on many of Mississippi's favorite game species, according to the state Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Thursday, Dec. 15 will be an important day for waterfowl and deer hunters. The second duck season and the last coot season begin that day and end Jan. 31. Dec. 15 also marks the beginning of the second statewide season for taking geese other than Canada geese. It ends Jan. 20.

Dec. 15 will be the end of this year's primitive weapons season. However, Friday, Dec. 16 marks the opening of the second regular gun season for buck-only deer without dogs. It will continue through Dec. 23. However, on Dec. 23 hunters will be able to harvest doe deer in addition to bucks, since that day is the date for this year's statewide either-sex hunt which is open in all counties (but including only Bucatunna and Chickasawhay wildlife management areas).

As with the opening and closing of any season, conservation enforcement authorities remind hunters to know the regulations for any wildlife management area or greentree reservoir they may hunt on.

Waterfowl hunters should remember to have their shotguns plugged and incapable of holding more than three shells at any one loading.

Duck and goose hunters 16 years of age and older must purchase a $7.50 federal duck stamp. In addition, hunters between 16 and 65 must have a $2 state duck stamp, to go with their regular valid hunting license.

High Water Displaces Game

The excessive rainfall and flooding that has wreaked havoc with many homes in the Mississippi Delta is running many species of wildlife from their homes across the state, according to the Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Conservation enforcement authorities report that flood waters are forcing deer and other animals from their habitat.

Officials are reminding hunters that Mississippi law forbids hunting any game species forced out of its natural habitat by high water until it has been permitted to return by receding water.

Roundball Roundup

JUMPERTOWN vs. WALNUT

Jumpertown took two games from the Walnut Wildcats Tuesday night at Jumpertown.

The Jumpertown Cardinals won their first game of the season by a score of 54-53 over the Lady Wildcats.

Jumpertown controlled much of the game until a shaky fourth quarter. Walnut had possession of the ball with 10 seconds left in the game at their end of the floor, but when a last-second shot by Walnut failed, Jumpertown was handed the victory.

Jumpertown's Angela Welch had 18 points to lead scoring. Susan Smith put 13 on the board while Michelle Lauderdale made 10 in the final tally, all for Jumpertown.

Suzanne Jackson led the Lady Wildcats' scoring with 14 points. Carol Edgeston had 12.

In the boys' game, the Cardinals flew high over the attacking Walnut Wildcats with a 77-63 win.

Jumpertown's Rickey Burress had only three points in the first half, but came out in the second half to score 25, with 22 coming in the fourth quarter. Burress also made a spectacular showing on defense with 15 rebounds.

Julius Perrin added 15, while Tim Grizzard made 12 and Glen Wilson 11 to round out the Jumpertown scoring.

The Wildcats were directed by Tim Harddir with 21 points and Willie Prather with 19.

WHEELER vs. WEST UNION

The Wheeler Eagles made a firm stand at home Tuesday night against West Union by taking both games.

In the girls' game, the Lady Eagles won over West Union girls, 75-70.

Tangie Miller hit 38 points for the Lady Eagles while Pam Johnson had 14.

Wheeler's boys won 97-57 over West Union.

Mike Chandler had 19 to pace the Eagles, followed by William Lowery with 18 and Todd Swinney with 17.

Ronald Holden led West Union scoring with 20.

THRASHER vs. PINE GROVE

The Rebels of Thrasher took two away from Pine Groves' Panthers Tuesday by a score of 45-44 in the girls' game and 82-67 in the boys'.

Pine Grove's girls led at the end of the first half 25-14, but this did not stop Thrasher and their march.

Marie Miller put 18 points on the board for the Rebelettes, while Seleta Hamlin added 17 more to the final tally.

For Pine Grove, Pat Stroup led with 16 points, followed by Vicki Glover with 13.

In the boys' action, James (Bond) Leslie hit 24 to lead a winning Rebel charge. Paul McCutchen made 22 in the battle while Calvin Davis hit 14 and Roy White 11.

Tim Flake made 28 points and Chris Mauney 16 as high scorers for the Panthers in the lost effort.

BELMONT vs. THRASHER

Belmont's Cardinals took a recent roundball doubleheader from the home-standing Thrasher Rebels in Prentiss County basketball action.

Thrasher's Lady Rebels lost command of a 29-27 lead at halftime against Belmont and the Lady Cardinals pulled out a victory, 56-52.

Sherry Slayton pumped in 18 for Belmont, as Christina Henley added 13 and Susan Taylor 10. Ann Chambers scored 18 points in a losing effort for Thrasher. Team-mate Marie Miller chipped in 17.

In the boys' contest, Thrasher again lost control of a halftime lead to give Belmont the 75-72 victory.

Greg Sparks poured in 28 points to lead Belmont, while Robbie Solomon and Phil McCreary added 18 and 11 points respectively.

Rebel Paul McCutchen matched Sparks performance of 28 points for game-high honors. Calvin Davis added 18 and Roy White 14.

Says Coach Mathis:

NEMJC's Goal 'Steady Improvement'

"Steady improvement" has been the goal of NEMJC men's head basketball coach Richard Mathis since the beginning of the season. And he and his Tigers seem to be sticking to his game plan. After coming off a tough loss to division rival Northwest, Northeast claimed road wins over East Mississippi Dec. 5, and Northwest Alabama Dec. 8.

The Lady Tigers, under the direction of coach Ricky Ford, dropped their game to East Mississippi, but came back to soundly defeat Northwest Alabama in the next contest.

In the opening game at East Mississippi, the Lady Tigers were defeated only in the final minutes of the game by a score of 82-76. Northeast commanded a 35-32 halftime lead. But a physical East Mississippi offense scored more consistently in the second half to take the win.

Dianne Harris led Northeast scorers with 30 points, followed by Valerie Beasley with 17 and Amy Wheat with 14. Harris also grabbed 11 rebounds while Ruby Tyes had eight.

In men's action, the Tigers controlled offensive and defensive boards on the way to their 79-63 win over East Mississippi. Taking the scoring lead for the Tigers was guard Terry Ball with 22 points. Just behind Ball was Marlon McGaughy with 20 points and strong forward Calvin Fields with 16. Roosevelt Combs added 12 points and 10 rebounds, while Fields contributed six rebounds, Ballard and McGaughy four each and Ball three.

Northeast's intention of dominating the court became obvious early in the game when the half ended with the Tigers on top, 41-27.

"The team is just starting to play to their potential," Mathis said. "Calvin is playing steady basketball for us, and Roosevelt really did well. Also, I'm really impressed with the way Kevin Simmons has come along. Even though he's just a freshman, he's shown a lot of poise and has really settled the team down."

Simmons proved his value when the Tigers traveled to Northwest Alabama in their 80-69 defeat of that team. Playing a virtually air-tight defense, Simmons held Mike Evans, who scored 32 points against the Tigers in their first homegame, to only four points.

"If Evans had gotten his normal scoring, Northwest Alabama would have beaten us," Mathis said. "Kevin did an excellent job in holding him, and the rest of the team gave me a good floor show, as well."

Floor show was the right word for Calvin Fields, as he grabbed the spotlight with 30 points on the night. Going 13-for-16 from the field and four-for-seven from the line, Fields grabbed 20 rebounds and a great deal of hard-earned praise from his coach.

"Calvin is getting better with each game," Mathis said. "His scoring and rebounding is obviously improving steadily, and he's playing better man-to-man defense and putting more pressure on the opposing offense."

Roosevelt contributed five points and nine rebounds, falling a bit short of Mathis' expectations.

"Roosevelt is improving a little bit, but what he needs is more playing time," Mathis said. "We need double-figure scoring and rebounds out of Roosevelt."

Other scorers were outside shooters Marlon McGaughy with 12 and Terry Ball with 10 points.

In the women's contest, a 90-64 thrashing of Northwest Alabama helped lift the record, and spirits, of the Lady Tigers. Dianne Harris led the Northeast offense with 27 points while Valerie Beasley added 19, and Ruby Tyes and Diava Dean had 14 each.

At the half, Northeast led 44-33.

Northeast's men and women will take on Jackson State University this Thursday, Dec. 15 in only their third home stand so far this season. Tip-off time for the Lady Tigers is 6 p.m. with the men's game scheduled immediately after.

Gaston Baptists Undefeated In Church League

After four games, Gaston Baptist Church remains undefeated to hold the top spot in Prentiss County church league basketball.

East Prentiss Baptist Church, also undefeated, is in second place, since they have only played three games to Gaston's four.

Oak Hill and East Booneville are tied for third place with records of 2-1 each. First Baptist, 1-3, is in fourth, followed by the Church of Christ, 0-3, and First Methodist, 0-4.

East Prentiss defeated the Church of Christ, 69-44 in Monday night's opening game. Gaston then beat First Baptist, 43-29, followed by an East Booneville defeat of First Methodist, 64-43.

In the first game, Carl Shackelford, with 20 points, was the high scorer for East Prentiss. Tim Floyd dropped in 13 for the Church of Christ.

Darrell Hatfield's 15 points led the scoring for Gaston in the next game. Giles McDaniel scored 9 for First Baptist.

Denson Scott made 16 points in the night cap for East Booneville. With 13 points, Stan Gaines was top man for First Methodist.

IAHS Downs New Site For Tourney Honors

Fulton's Indians recently captured top honors in the Iuka Tournament by downing New Site's Royals 50-44 in the tournament's finale.

The Lady Royals bowed out of the competition earlier in the week.

Fulton held a slim 20-18 lead at halftime and managed to hang on for the hard fought victory.

Paul Jones paced the winners with 21, while David Vaughn added 15. Richard Shook led New Site by pouring in 17 points and Scotty Moore chipped in 12.

The Indian defense completely shut down New Site's leading scorer, Mark Barnes, holding him under double figures.

Fulton's Lady Indians took top honors in the girls' division.

Thrasher's Windham:

'There's still a lot to be accomplished'

The Banner-Independent begins a new feature this week, Ask The Players.

Each week one of our sports writers will interview a player from a Prentiss County team to get a personal view of their team's performance.

This week we feature Bill Windham, 6'7" junior forward for the Thrasher Rebels, who is currently on the bench because of a bleeding ulcer suffered at the start of the season.

"I think Thrasher is doing well, but there is still a lot to be accomplished this season," Windham said.

"We have not been playing the kind of ball that we should be playing. But, of course, it could be the fact that this was the first year that we have had a football team at Thrasher."

"Our boys have usually been practicing basketball since the start of school," Windham said, adding that he thought they were improved over last year. "I think as the season progresses our team will improve even more."

Bill said he expects to return to the line-up after the Christmas holidays.

Area Schools Fired Up For Northeast Tourney

Thrasher High School's head basketball coach Jackie Rowsey called it right when he recently made the statement, "whoever wins the NEMJC Tournament will have a lot to brag about."

Thirteen area high school teams have already committed to play in the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Five-County Invitational Tournament scheduled for Dec. 26-31 in the Bonner Arnold Coliseum. Those teams are Alcorn Central, Biggersville, Corinth and Kossuth from Alcorn County, Baldwin, Jumpertown, New Site and Thrasher from Prentiss County, Burnsville and Tishomingo from Tishomingo County and Blue Mountain, Falkner and Ripley from Tippah County. "I think it will be a very competitive tournament," Rowsey said. "Just look at the teams who are already in it. That should tell you the kind of basketball people will see."

Jumpertown Coach Guyton Wilkerson said NEMJC would be hosting a "tough tourney with some awfully strong teams in it." Baldwin, 4-5 so far, is led by coach Gary Miller. His starting squad consists of 5-11 forward Anthony Price, 5-9 guard Jim Palmer, 5-8 guard Stan Scott, 5-9 guard Barry Prather and 6-1 center Mark Michaels.

Backing up those starters are 6-0 sophomores Rod Pippen and Greg Lommineck at forward and 6-0 junior Mike DeVaughn at forward.

"Because of football, we got a late start, so it won't hurt us to get in a few more games," Miller said. "By the same token, I kind of hate to miss the Christmas break, giving my team a chance to rest."

New Site Coach Mackie Smith sees the tournament as a chance for his troops to improve on their 6-9 record before regular season play resumes in January.

Representing New Site are 6-0 center Mark Barnes, 5-9 forward Richard Shook, 5-7 guards Scottie Moore and Doug Taylor and 6-0 forward Ronald Clark.

"We do a good job defensively, and at certain times offensively we get the ball to where we want it," Smith said. "Our outside shooting hasn't come through for us, but we hold our own on the boards."

"Barnes is one of the best forwards in our area," Smith continued. "Our strongest point will have to be our determination. That's what we've won our games on."

Jumpertown sports a 9-6 record so far this season with an impressive 36-7 mark from last year. Leading the attack for Jumpertown are 6-2 forward Glen Wilson, 5-10 forward Charlie Durham, 6-1 forward Rickey Burrell, 5-6 guard Tim Grizzard and 5-7 guard Julius Perrin. Burrell, Durham and Wilson are seniors and Grizzard and Perrin are juniors.

"We rebound well and have a balanced scoring attack," Wilkerson said. "We hope to do well against a strong field of competitors lined up for the Northeast Tourney."

Finally, Thrasher is ahead at this point in the season with an 8-5 record. Coming off a 24-17 record last season, Rowsey said quickness is his team's greatest ally.

"We're pretty quick this year. We'll average about 10 to 11 steals a game," Rowsey said. "That and our balanced scoring help. We'd like to have Bill back, though."

Bill Windham is a 6-7 junior who, when healthy, adds muscle under the goal to Thrasher's other qualities. Windham, however, has been troubled by ulcers and Rowsey is hopeful he can return after the holidays.

Currently hitting the floor for Thrasher are 5-7 guard Calvin Davis, 5-10 forward Danny Ramsey, 6-2 forward Paul McCutchen, 5-7 guard Roy White and 6-2 center

James Leslie. Kevin Bullard, a 6-0 guard-forward, also sees a lot of action.

Because of prior commitments, Booneville and Wheeler couldn't compete in the tourney.

Coaches will meet Thursday, Dec. 15, at 10 a.m. on the NEMJC Campus to draw up brackets and set schedules. The meeting will be followed by a luncheon compliments of Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Coaches from the five-county district who have not yet entered their teams in the tournament may do so until or at the meeting Thursday.

For more information, contact Athletic Director Bill Ward at 728-7751, extension 240.

Tigers-Lady Tigers Looking To Improve

Northeast Mississippi Junior College's Tigers and Lady Tigers will be looking to improve on an already winning season when they clash with Jackson State University Thursday, Dec. 15 in the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

Coach Richard Mathis' Tigers could raise their record to 9-3 with a win over JSU, while Coach Rickey Ford is hoping his Lady Tigers will break for the holidays with a 7-2 mark.

Defeats by IJC and Northwest in regular season games and a loss in the IJC Tournament have accounted for the blemishes on the Tigers' record, but those losses came earlier in the season, and Mathis hopes the team's latest outings are signs of things to come. Northeast claimed a two impressive wins last week against East Mississippi and Northwest Alabama with the point-spread ending up in double-figures.

Mathis gives credit to his forward from Friendship, Tenn., Calvin Fields, and freshman guard, Kevin Simmons from Jumpertown. Against East Mississippi, Fields scored 16 points and grabbed six rebounds, but he really shined in the Northwest Alabama game where he scored a season high of 30 points.

"Calvin is the steadiest player we've got right now," Mathis said. "He knows what we expect of him and he delivers. He's also improving on his man-to-man defense, putting more pressure on his man."

Mathis has at least as much respect for Simmons, especially after his effort against Northwest Alabama. Simmons held Mike Evans, who scored 32 points against the Tigers earlier in the season, to only four points.

"Kevin played a superb defensive game for us," Mathis said. "He's also helped to calm the team down and has done a good job directing the team. I just couldn't ask him to play any better than he is right now." Mathis added that such good play from Simmons also frees up his shooting guards Marlon McGaughy and Terry Ball to search out better scoring opportunities. Generally, McGaughy and Ball are good for double-figure scoring, while both contribute heavily to the excellent rebounding abilities of the Tigers.

Alternating at strong forward are Wheeler's Terry Ballard and Roosevelt Combs of Melrose High in Memphis. Both players get their share of rebounds and points, but Combs has the edge on the boards. Despite being the number six man off the bench in high school, he was Tennessee's number-one rebounder when his team won the state championship. He continues to muscle down rebounds for the Tigers, setting up the fast break and crucial second and third shots. Ballard has the market cornered on hustle, though, as Mathis calls him perhaps the hardest worker on the team.

Though the game against

JSU is not a conference contest, it's still an important one.

"This game might not help us out in the division, but it will help keep our momentum up, which could help us to a divisional win later on," Mathis said.

Mathis is hoping those divisional wins will come against Coahoma, scheduled for Jan. 14, and Holmes Junior College at Northeast Jan. 16.

The Lady Tigers are pretty much in the same boat, coming off a 90-64 rout of Northwest Alabama. That game was their chance to make up for a disappointing loss to East Mississippi earlier in the week.

Surfacing as team leaders for the Lady Tigers have been Dianne Harris, who led scorers in the last game with 27 points, and Valerie Beasley, who had 19 in that game as well. But don't get the idea that Harris and Beasley don't have help. In the rebounding department, Beasley had 13, while Ruby Tyes and Diava Dean had 11 each.

Nagging injuries have changed the line-up for the Lady Tigers several times, as Melissa Harvell has had to miss action. But Tyes and other willing substitutes have demonstrated their ability to fill first-stringers' shoes when the need arises.

Tip-off time for the JSU game is set for 6 p.m. with the Lady Tigers playing the opener and the Tigers taking the night-cap.

Players Of The Week

Players of the Week for Dec. 15, chosen by The Banner-Independent sports writers, are Kunshinge Sorrell and Mike Chandler. Sorrell is a 5'9" senior guard for the Booneville Devilettes. She leads the team average in scoring with a 24.0 season average. Kushinge is second in rebounds with a average of 9 per game.

She had an average of 24.1 points in three games during last week's Baldwin Tournament. And she compiled a average of 10 rebounds over the three games.

Devilettes coach, Mickey Wood said, "Sorrell has played better the last few games than she has all season. She has been working much harder."

When asked how she felt about this years season Kushinge said, "We are not doing as well as we should. We are having a lack of team work, but I feel we will start coming on strong now since we have lost three games. I think we will have a good shot at the State Tournament this season in Jackson."

Mike Chandler is a six foot sophomore guard at Wheeler High School. He is the leading scorer for the Eagles with a 21.9 season average.

Mike has a 10.0 rebound average this season. He compiled an 18.1 scoring average and a 10.0 rebound average in the three games Wheeler played in last week's Baldwin Tournament.

"We have been winning this year because of hustle, defense and most importantly, team work," Mike said. "We have the team that can beat the bigger schools in this area such as Tupelo, Alcorn Central, New Albany and Oxford."

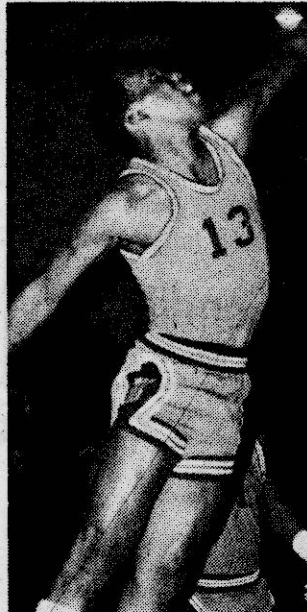

Wheeler Coach Sam Richey said, "Mike has shown that he can hit from outside, which will pull the defense out, and leave the middle open."

Two-Year Driver License Phased Out

December 31, 1983 marks the final day a two-year driver license will be issued in Mississippi.

Capt. Sam Richardson, director of driver license examining for the Department of Public Safety, said only the four-year color photo license will be issued in Mississippi beginning January 1, 1984.

"Anyone whose driver license expires after the new year begins must visit one of the 93 examining stations in the state to have it renewed. All driver licenses issued after Jan. 1 will be valid for four years and contain a color picture of its owner which will be taken at the examining station by our testing personnel," Richardson said.

He advises that anyone applying for a driver license for the first time should take their birth certificate and Social Security card with them for the testing personnel to see.

By the end of 1985 only those Mississippi license bearing a color photo of its owner will be valid.

During the past two years since the color photo driver license law has been in effect, approximately 860,000 four-year licenses have been issued.

Richardson said the four-year color photo regular license cost $13.00. Four-year color photo commercial licenses are $21.00. He said a check, money order or cash will be accepted by driver license examiners and testing clerks at the time of issuance or renewal of a license.

Prentiss County Soil Conservation District Commissioner Eugene Gifford (right) was named MACD's Area IV "Outstanding District Commissioner" for 1983. Area IV MACD vice-president Dalton Garner (left) presented this award to Gifford and his wife, Betty. The ten commissioners and deputy commissioners give freely of their time to direct a soil and water conservation program in Prentiss County.

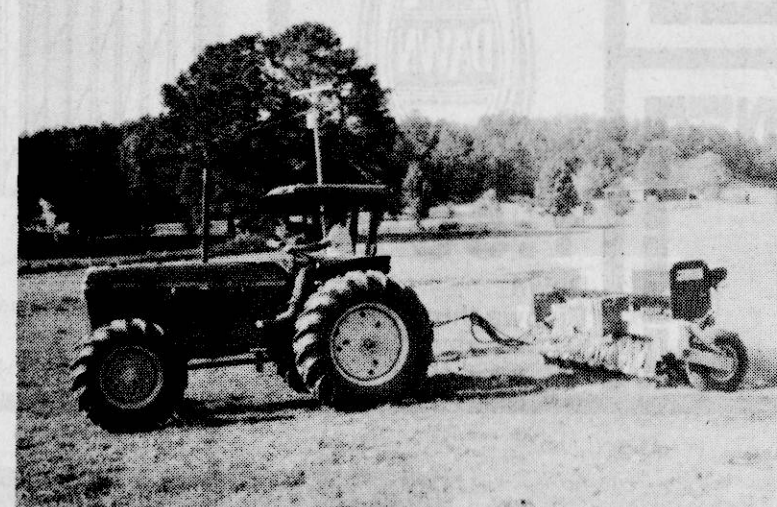

This group of Prentiss and Tippah County landowners attended the No-Till Crop Production Field Day at Milan, Tennessee this past July. No-till farming increased again this year in Prentiss County with twenty nine farmers planting about 2000 acres of crops using this tillage method. No-till farming saves soil, fuel, time and labor as well as helps retain moisture for the growing crop.

Joe Wayne Garner (left), Prentiss County soybean producer, answers questions from Jimmy Bonner, MCES, during the August No-Till Tour. Seventy five people attended this tour with six stops on control of erosion, weeds, insects, diseases and other no-till management needs. The tour concluded with a program emphasizing cooperation among agencies and cooperators in establishing a successful no-till program in Prentiss County.

Tim Traugott, Area Extension Forester with Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, discussed environmental and economic reasons for timber production on a stop during the HOT field day at Bolton this past October. Over 2500 people attended this event with 12 landowners attending from Prentiss County. Peter Myers, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, was the special guest speaker encouraging more cooperation between agencies and landowners in solving conservation problems.

Harold Prince is shown above using the district's new no-till drill to plant fescue and white clover. This drill was purchased by TVA in cooperation with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service and assigned to the conservation district for a three year demonstration period. Thirty farmers have planted over 900 acres with this drill including soybeans, wheat, ryegrass, fescue and white and red clover.

David Hill, Deputy Commissioner, is shown presenting bundles of pine seedlings to county school children during Tree Planting Week this past year. Over 2350 school children received trees to plant during this occasion. During 1983 district cooperators applied forestry management practices on 529 acres of woodland. Seven hundred and ninety one acres of poorly stocked and cut-over land was established to loblolly pine.

This county bridge on Martin Creek at the fourth and fifth district line was damaged by December 1982 flooding and repaired with a Soil Conservation Service grant of $16,135.80 through the Emergency Watershed Protection (EWP) program. The county experienced three major floods between December 1982 and May 1983 that caused over two million dollars in damages to farmland, drainage systems, conservation structures, and roads and bridges.

Attending the Conservation Awards Banquet and receiving recognition for outstanding conservation accomplishments during 1982 were (front row, left to right): Jamie Nelson, Grassland Conservationist; Bill Breedlove, Wayne Breedlove, and Wyatt Breedlove, cooperators of the "Lazy B Farm," Prentiss County's Outstanding Cooperator; Dalton Garner, Master of Ceremonies; (back row, left to right) Gerald Tennison, SWCD Chairman; D. The holiday season is potentially a very dangerous one. Precautions against fire and adherence to general safety rules are of the utmost importance when Christmas preparations are being made, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association.

Fire is the greatest single contributor to Christmas tragedy. The dangers of fire in the home are compounded during the holidays due to the presence of trees, trimmings, lights, candles, and paper decorations which would not normally be in the home.

The primary causes of home fires during Christmas are lighted candles, fireplaces, trees which become too dry, and faulty electrical connections. Common sense and adherence to a few basic safety rules can drastically reduce the number of home fires. The following guidelines should be used to assure a safe and merry Christmas:

Christmas:
Make an emergency plan to use if fire breaks out.
Have telephone numbers of fire and emergency squads handy.

Keep matches, lighters, and candles out of reach of children.

Never burn candles near evergreens or in drafts from open windows, heating or air conditioning systems.

Never burn candles in the

According to Hugh Tigrett, District Manager of Social Security in Tupelo, there are 48,245 people on Medicare within the Tupelo district. The district is made up of 13 counties covering the Northernmost counties and the Northeast section of the state.

In 1982, Medicare paid almost 45 million dollars to the hospitals in this area and over 17½ million dollars for doctor bills and related expenses. This is an average of $933 for each Medicare beneficiary for hospital payments and $367 in medical payments for 1982.

Tigrett said that this does not represent the total hospital and medical expenses for this Medicare group. They were responsible for the first $304 for a period of confinement in the hospital, and if they were in the hospital for more than 60

middle of dried flower
arrangements, cut pine,
balsa or holly.

Never burn evergreens in a fireplace, as dry greens burn like tinder and can flare out of control, sending sparks flying about the room.

Special precautions should also be taken with the Christmas tree because chemical coatings or sprays cannot be relied upon to flame-proof it. A fresh tree will stay green longer and be less of a fire hazard than a dry one. A fresh tree is green. Its needles are hard to pull from its branches and do not break when bent between your fingers. Its trunk is sticky with resin, and a shower of needles does not fall to the ground when it is shaken.

A tree should be placed away from fireplaces, radiators, and other heat sources. It should also be out of the way of traffic and not block any doorways.

The tree, after two inches of its trunk is removed, should be mounted in a sturdy, water-holding stand with wide-spread legs and fastened to the walls or ceiling with thin guy wires which will be nearly invisible. The base should be kept full of water while the tree is indoors because heated rooms dry trees out rapidly, creating fire hazards.

days, they were responsible for $76 a day from the 61st through the 90th day.

Medical expenses have a $75 deductible that must be met each year before Medicare pays anything. After this is met, Medicare pays 80 percent of the reasonable cost of the medical procedures involved. This means that each Medicare beneficiary paid the first $75, plus 20 percent of the allowed charges, plus any amount above the allowed charges.

Tigrett pointed out that the rising cost of hospital care, as well as medical costs, will require adjustments in Medicare costs in 1984. The hospital deductible will be increased to $356 and the monthly premiums for medical insurance will be increased from $12.20 to $14.60 a month.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

What Will Your Christmas Be About?

By V.J. Edner

Pastor, Ruben C.M.E. Chapel    Airport Road    Frankstown, Miss.

Between Thanksgiving and Christmas lies the most intense period of commercial hype of advertising tug-of-war known to the American public. The materialism of the most materialistic society to ever have lived is at its highest at Christmas. Consumption is the name of the game. Credit cards will reach their limits and beyond. Debts will be incurred like at no other time during the year. Banks will offer "Christmas Loans" and stores will offer "easy financing terms available." You see, the name of the game at Christmas is not giving but buying. Is this what it should really be all about?

Christmas for many means a higher rate of alcoholic consumption and the groping for some holiday spirit or season high. Drunks will fill the highways and accidents will abound like at no other time during the year? Is this what it should really be all about?

Recent studies have shown that despite all the trappings of the "joyous season," for many it is a time of deep melancholy and depression. Feelings of guilt for not being able to meet the high financial demands of a materialistic Christmas, feelings of alienation in the midst of large scale social festivities and superficial holiday joy, feelings of inadequate self-discipline in the midst of over-abundant food and liquor all make the Christmas season a prime-time for depression and even suicide. Is this what it should really be all about?

No, Christmas should be about Christ and that would really be a far cry from the materialistic, liquor-soaked, depression-ridden, anxiety-producing celebrations which have become the common lot. But please, don't go mugging every department store Santa now because the perversion of Christmas has suddenly struck home. Rather, start a counter-culture Christmas celebration which takes advantage of the season but implements the spirit of Christ in place of the spirit of the age.

Take advantage of the holiday season to reach out to people. Spend time rather than money. Give yourself as a Christmas gift by words and actions that build bridges and portray the openness and accessibility of your christian personality to needs of others. Write notes rather than signing checks. Tell a friend how much they mean to you. Express your love. Donate money to the poor and starving on behalf of someone else and tell them what you've done in their behalf and while thinking of them. Bake honey cookies and give them with a message of cheer and a hug. Be a friend. Be a Christian. Then when you say "Merry Christmas" this year someone might really believe you.

Four MSU Players Make All-SEC Team

Mississippi State joined Alabama, Florida, and Ole Miss in placing four players in the first team, Academic All-Southeastern Conference, announced by a league official.

Offensive tackle Ken Leikam, safety R.J. McKenna, punter Tim Cutts and linebacker Billy Jackson were Bulldogs on the team.

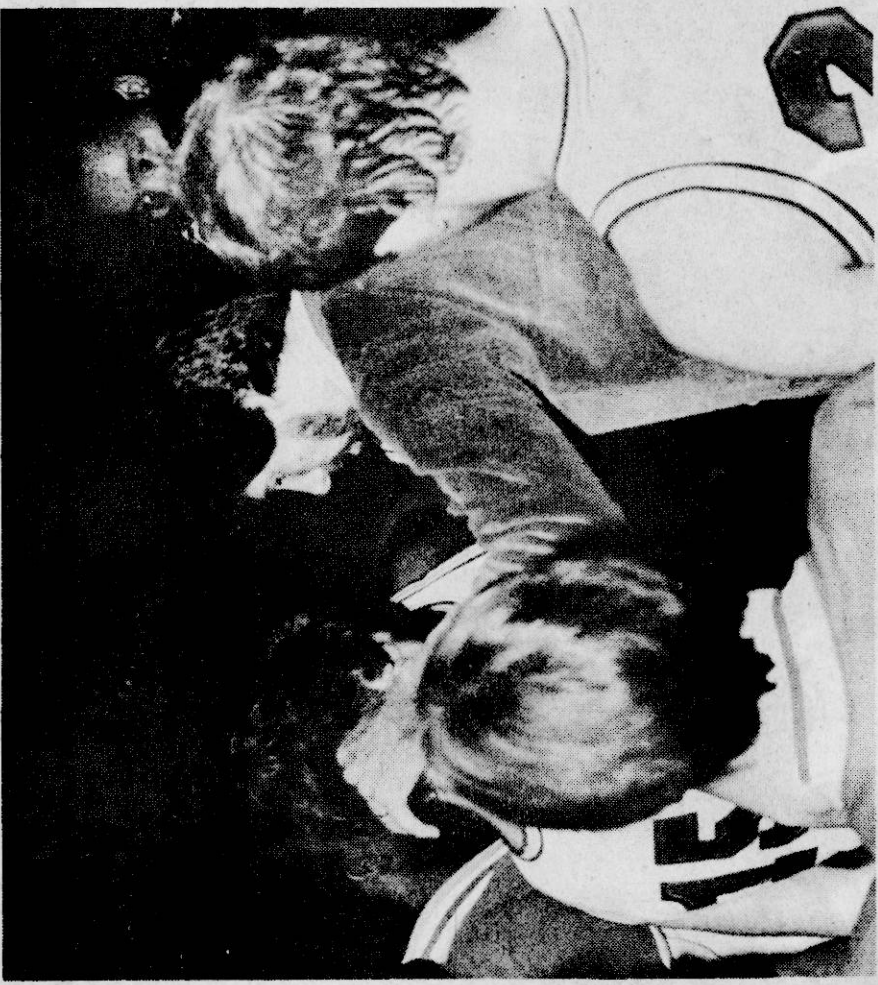

Ole Miss players who made the team are quarterback Kent Austin, runningback Steve Hendrix, defensive lineman Benton Reed, and linebacker

Bulldogs and an accounting major, averaged 41.4 yards per punt to rank fourth in the conference.

State's four man contingent on the All-Star unit for classroom-field excellence ties the 1988 and 1971 teams for the most players named to the Academic All-SEC group in a season.

Leikam started all 11 games for the Bulldogs at right tackle while McKenna moved into a front line position at free safety in the season.

Ole Miss

The Air Force Academy used three field goals by Sean Pavlich to capture a hard-fought 9-3 victory over the Ole Miss Rebels in the Independence Bowl last weekend in Shreveport, Louisiana.

Rain hampered the play of both teams as the wet stuff had poured all day and throughout the game causing the field to turn into a large reservoir and mud slide.

Pavlich's field goals were from 44, 39, and 27 yards as the Falcons celebrated their second bowl victory in as many years.

Ole Miss' Neil Teevan booted a 38-yard field goal to pull the Rebels close, but quarterback Kelley Powell's two interceptions kept the Air Force ahead of the Rebels.

"We played hard all throughout the game," Rebel Coach Billy Brewer said of his team's performance. "We never did give up, we were always in the game."

Defensive lineman Andre Townsend, a standout all-SEC player from Aberdeen, Miss., captured defensive Most Valuable Player Awards for the Rebels, who finished the season at 6-6.

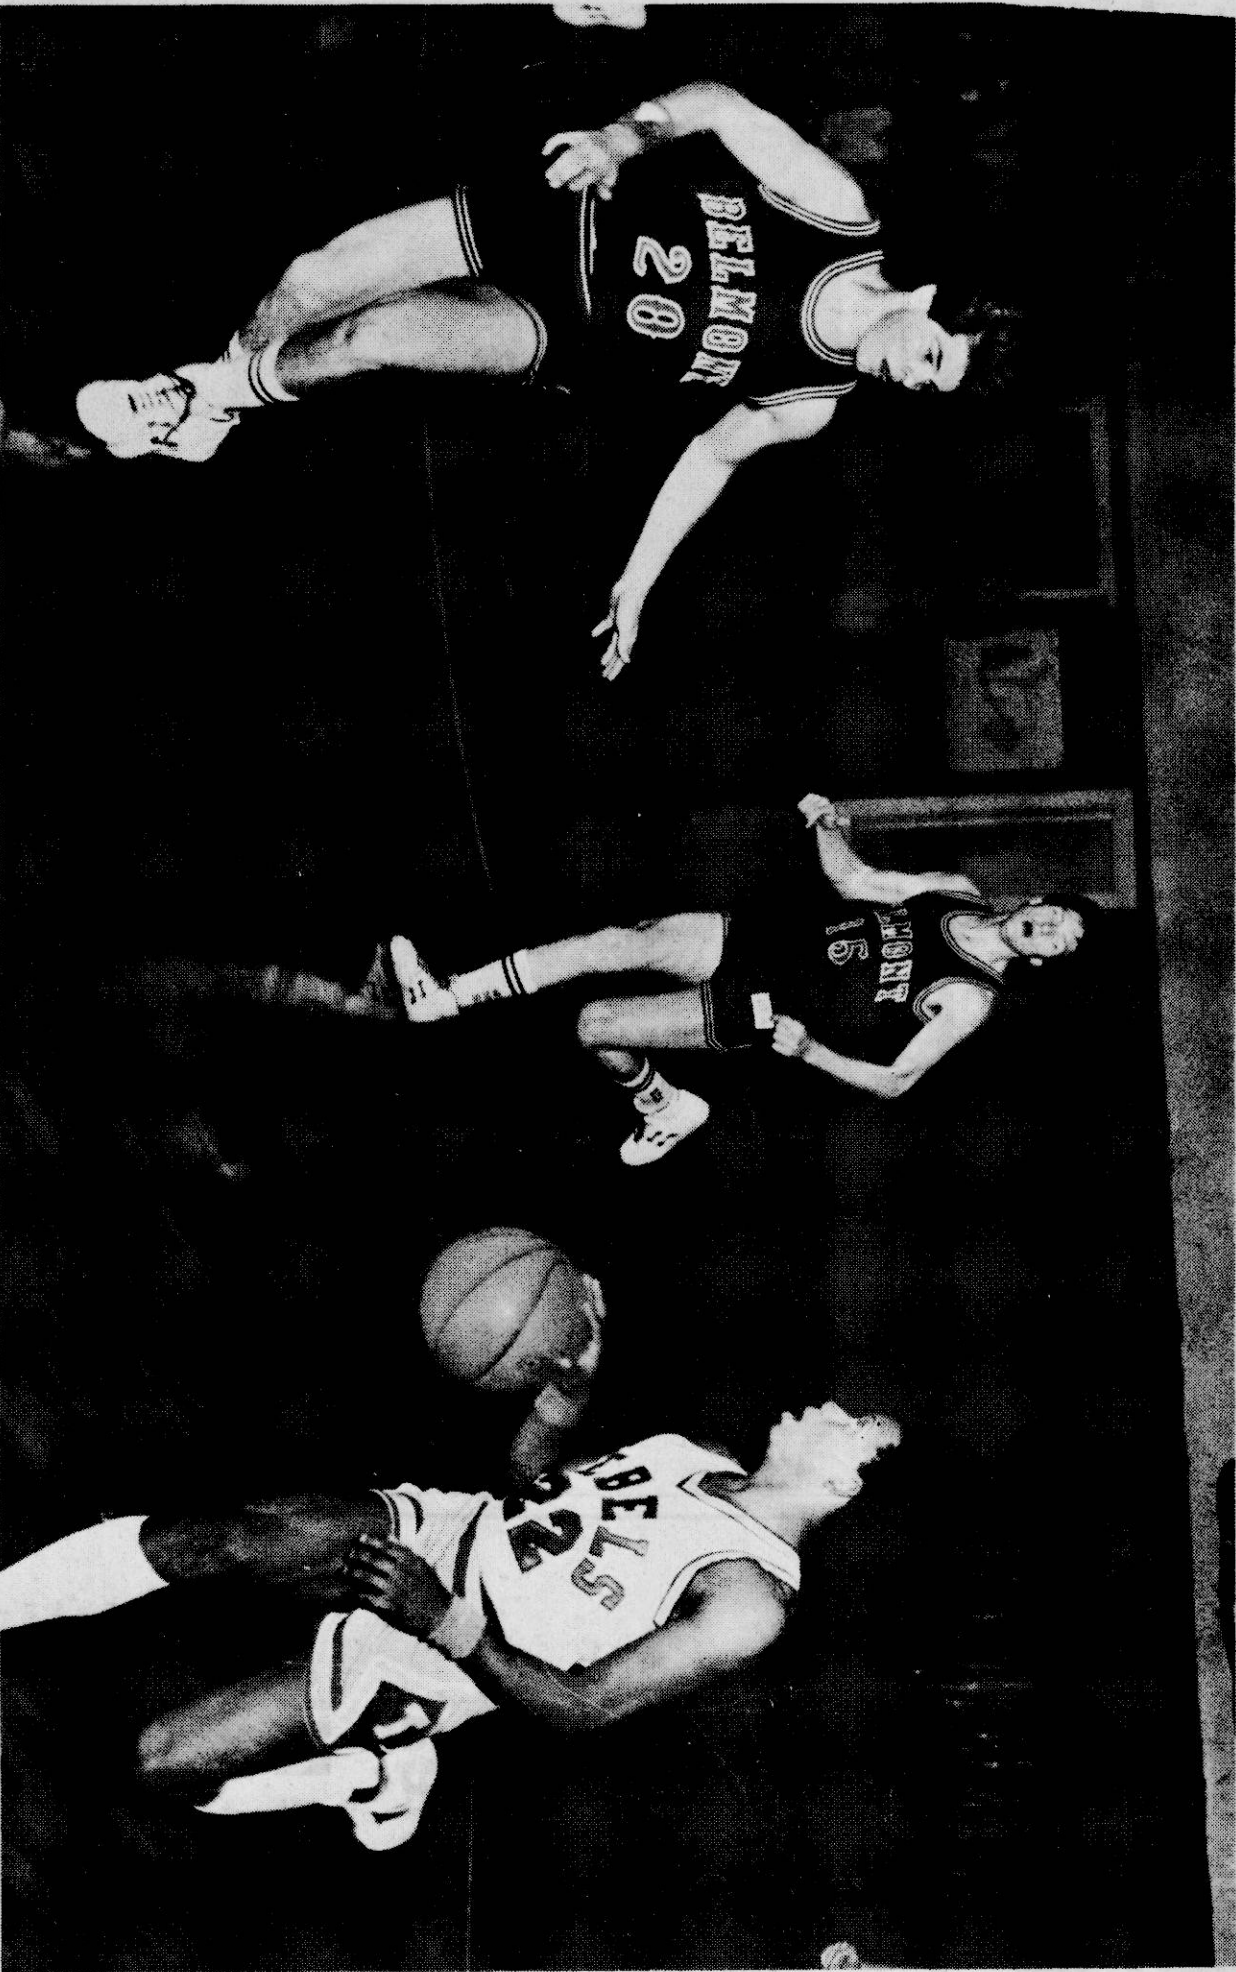

Buford McGee rushed for 111 yards on 22 carries, one of his best performances the entire season for the Rebels. Brewer has guided the Rebels to a winning season and a bowl game in his first year at Ole Miss and optimism is good for next year for the Rebels.

Bulldogs' Slow Pace Helps Defeat Tigers

Mississippi State's bay, including All-America Bulldogs used a slow-paced Keith Lee, who was tempo to beat the fourth- averaging 23 points per game until Saturday. The ranked Memphis State Bulldogs held him to eight. Tigers last week in Memphis Junior College transfer the game the Bulldogs had Kevin Hildreth paced the Bulls with 16 points, but 12 of those came on free throws. Mississippi State shot over 20 free throws on the night while Memphis State shot only one. That one free throw by Tiger Andrea Turner gave Memphis State their only lead of the night. Ken Harvey added 13 points for the Bulls as they moved their record to 3-2 on the year. The Tigers fell to 4-1.
