Wheeler

Wins

The Wheeler Eagles were victorious Wednesday morning in their first game of the state tournament in Jackson, beating Mt. Olive boys 84-61.

Wheeler's Mike Chandler was high scorer with 34 points.

Wheeler is scheduled to play Benton, the number one team from the south half of the state, at 8:30 tonight. The winner of that game will play in the finals for the boys state championship Saturday afternoon at 3.

Unit System

Loses

A bill designed to force county supervisors in Mississippi to adopt a unit system of road maintenance in 1986 was blocked by a House committee Tuesday afternoon at the State Legislature in Jackson.

The House County Affairs Committee voted against the bill, 10-8.

Rep. James Price of Quitman presented the bill to the House Tuesday. Three years ago Price won approval of an amendment to a highway bill, requiring supervisors to take a public vote if they wanted to continue operating under the district system.

Price's latest proposal was even stronger, requiring the establishment of a unit system.

CDBG Grant

For Baldwin

Baldwin Mayor Merle Rowan has received notification that a Community Development Block Grant for work in the Charles M. Gordon Industrial Park has been approved.

According to Rowan, the grant money will be used to construct a water tower for the park and a rail spur to the new Southern Diversified Industries plant.

Rowan said he had not yet been informed of the exact amount approved but expected to receive details from Sen. Thad Cochran's office this week.

State Tax

Help

State tax assistance is being offered to Mississippians across the state by the Governor's Service Line.

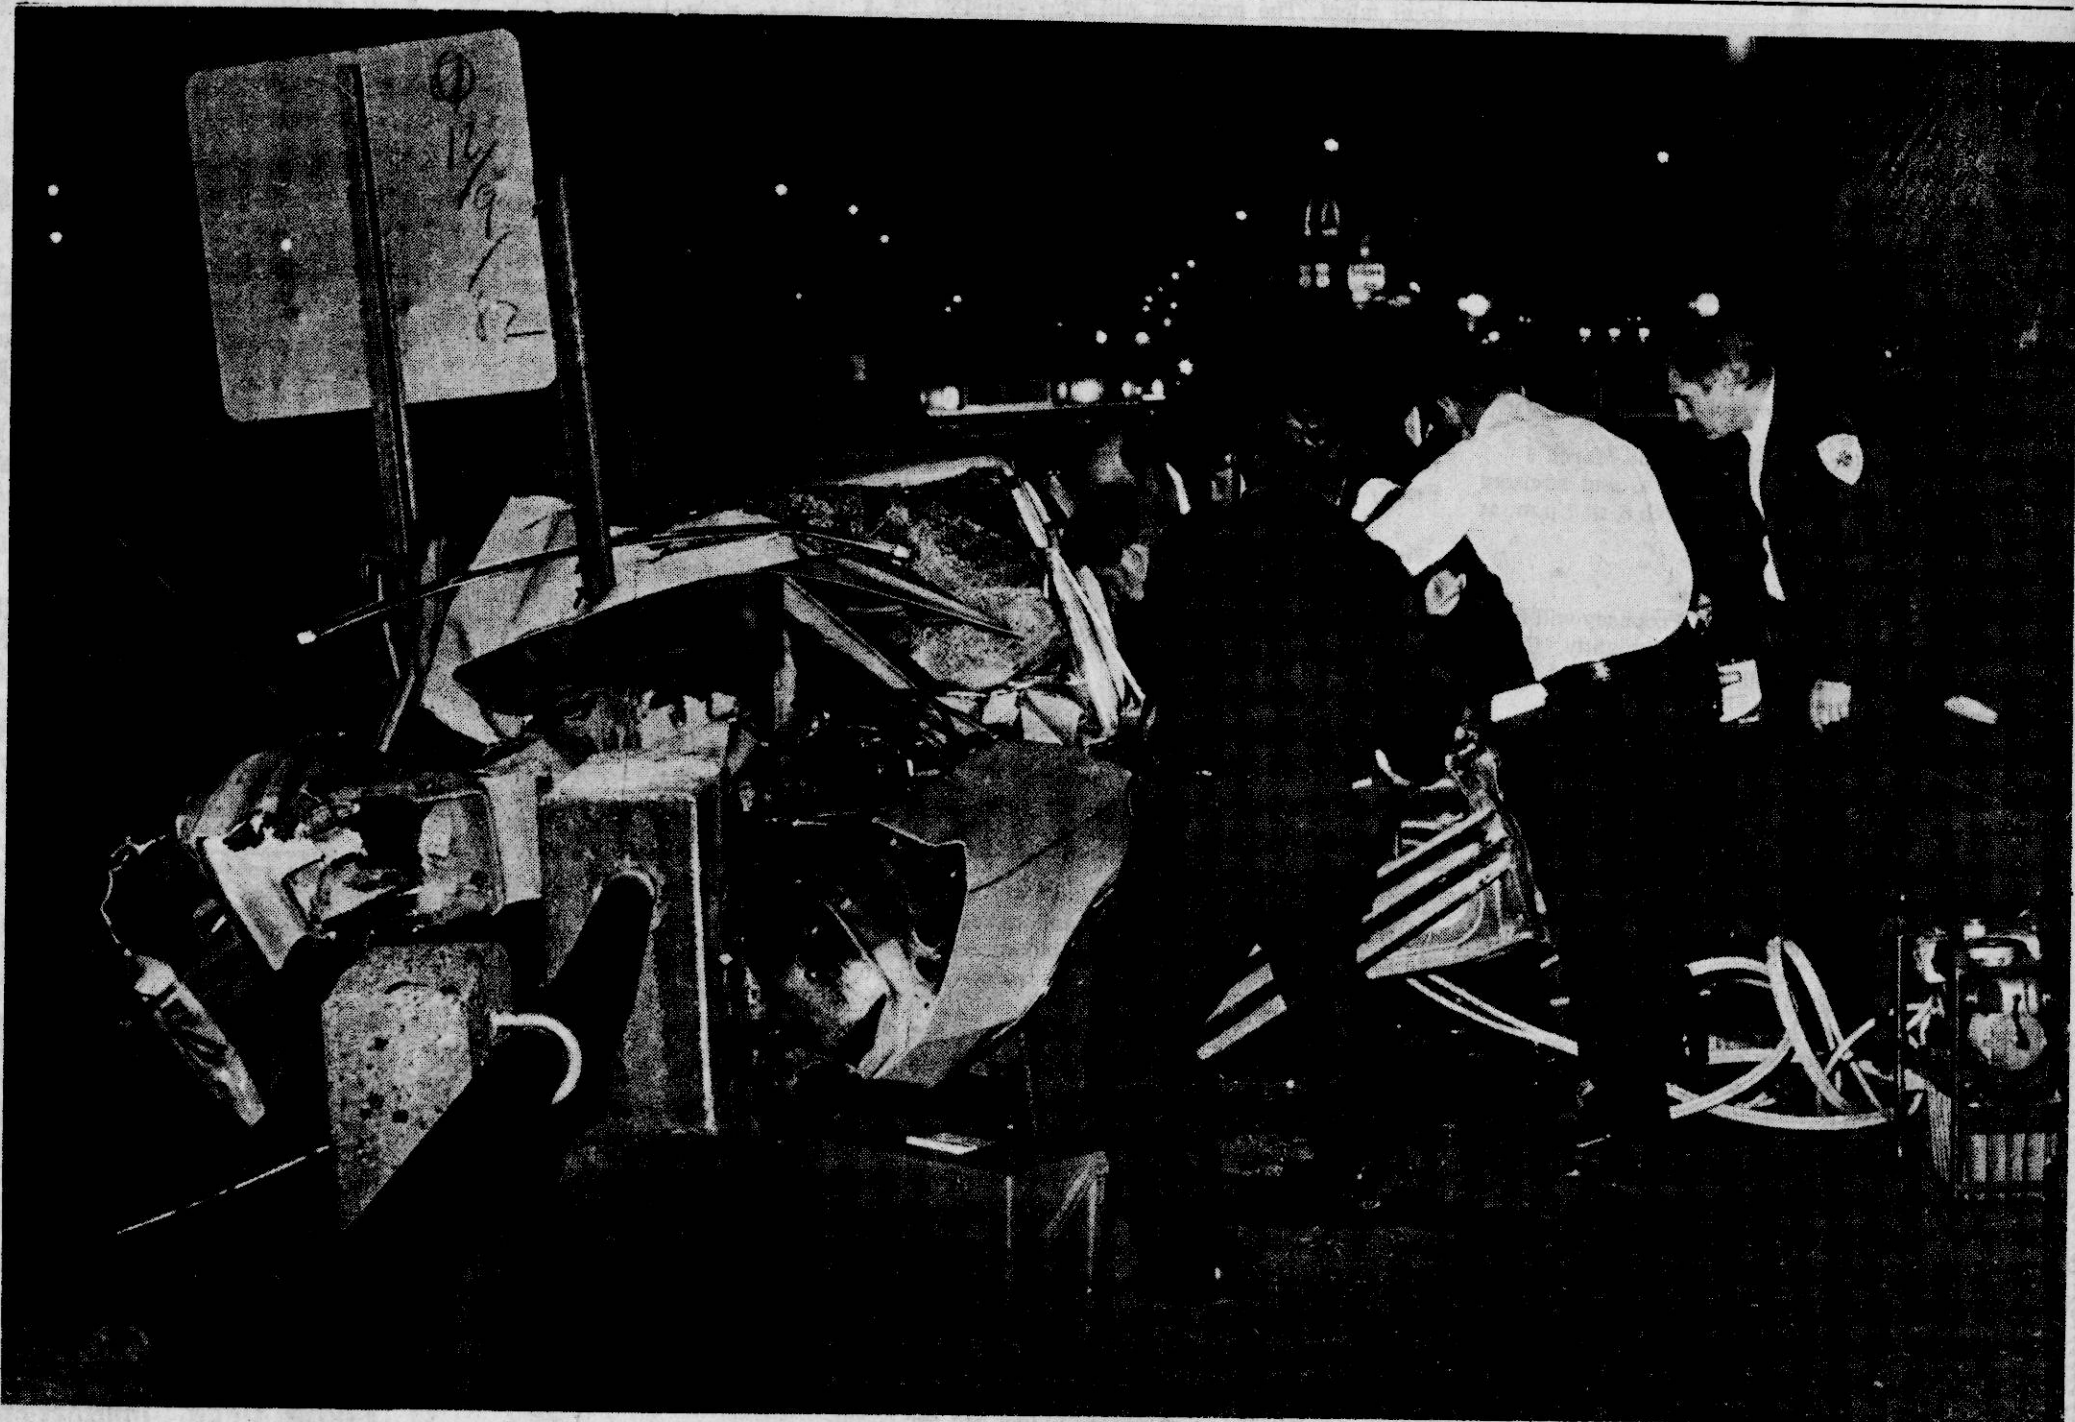

Provided in cooperation with the State Tax Commission, this service includes providing tax forms, answering basic state tax questions and referring callers to volunteer tax preparation services. Assistance may be obtained by dialing the toll-free number, 1-800-222-7622 or the Jackson number, 961-4042.

Last year, the Service Line served 764 Mississippians in the tax assistance program, according to Checky Herrington, director of the Program Information Division, Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs.

Public

Hearing

The first of two public hearings designed to gain input from citizens living in the state's Appalachian region will be held March 5 at 6 p.m. in the John C. Stennis Center of Tupelo's Natchez Trace Inn.

Friday Night Accident

Phillip R. Loveless, 15, of Route 1, Booneville, is in stable condition in the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo following an automobile accident Friday, Feb. 24, around 11 p.m. on Hwy. 45 near Cartwright Ford. According to the Booneville Police Department, a witness said he saw Loveless' 1980 Ford Granada go off the shoulder of Hwy. 45 causing the vehicle to go back onto the highway and hit the bridge "dead center." Loveless, who was alone in the car, was traveling north on Hwy. 45. Officials worked with the Jaws of Life equipment 12 minutes before freeing Loveless from the wreckage. Loveless suffered a ruptured spleen, a lacerated liver, lacerations of the right thigh, a fractured thumb, a broken right ankle, and a broken left arm, according to a spokesman at NMMC. Prentiss County Circuit Court

Former Resident Found Innocent Of Killing Brother

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

A Prentiss County Circuit Court Jury deliberated three hours before finding a former Prentiss Countian innocent in the murder of his brother.

Testimony in the murder trial of Walter Lewis, 47, of Fulton, began Thursday of last week and concluded Friday.

Lewis, a resident of Pharr Flatts until about six months ago, was charged with the Aug. 4, 1983, shooting death of his 36-year-old brother, Jerry.

The shooting occurred at Walter Lewis' residence, about two miles north of Pharr Flatts. The victim was reportedly shot in the right side of the chest with a single shot .22 rifle.

Testimony about blood samples taken from Walter Lewis following the shooting showed he had an alcohol content of 0.35. Blood samples from the deceased indicated 0.21 percent alcohol in his blood. The amount of alcohol present in the blood for a person to be charged with DUI is 0.10.

The defendant was unconscious when law authorities arrived at the scene of the shooting.

During the trial, Walter Lewis testified that his brother had beaten him several times.

"He whipped me up pretty bad the last time," Lewis said. "I stayed unconscious 30 minutes."

Another brother, Bob was also present at the time of the shooting. He, too, testified that he had been drinking.

WALTER LEWIS told the jury that his brothers had been arguing. "I told them, 'Boys, you're going to have to quit arguing.' But they went back to arguing and I reckon Jerry got madder at me. Jerry grabbed a whiskey bottle or a beer can -- I was scared -- I couldn't tell which -- and he said he would whip me."

"I told him I loved him a whole lot. But he started after me and I didn't have anywhere to go. He was between me and the door."

"I just grabbed my gun and he was right on me. It was either me or him. I didn't have anything else to defend myself with. I knew he had whipped me before and he could do it again."

"I didn't mean to kill him," Lewis continued. "If I had, I'd have stuck the gun right between his eyes."

Bob Lewis, 41, testified that Walter and Jerry were arguing about their wives before the shooting occurred. Bob Lewis said he heard Walter say he was going after his gun.

"I told Jerry if he did, we would take it away from him. One of us stood on each side of the door. Walter stuck the gun out and Jerry stepped in front of him. He reached for the gun and Walter shot him."

Magalene Lewis, the widow of Jerry Lewis, testified that the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department had been called three times the day before the shooting because of a disturbance at the residence of Bob Lewis involving Bob and Walter. She said the sheriff's department did not come to the residence.

Lewis was represented by Victor Bishop of Fulton. Prosecutors were assistant district attorneys Richard Bowen and Sam Reedy. Circuit Court Judge Neal Biggers presided.

Heritage Asks To Use PCEPA Poles Outside City Limits

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

At a Feb. 23 meeting of the Prentiss County Electric Power Association board of directors, Heritage Cablevision requested permission to use PCEPA poles outside the Booneville city limits to extend service to such areas as Jumpertown, Thrasher and Rienzi.

Heritage regional manager T.I. "Tal" Crosby told the directors his company gets repeated requests from residents of those areas desiring service. He said such extension might be possible if the PCEPA's existing poles could be used.

Heritage sweep technician Rex Newborn explained that the cable could be extended to the areas in question at a minimum cost of $7,200 per mile using existing poles, and allowing for no unusual circumstances, such as crossing a highway or a river. But, if the company were forced to bury its cable, that amount would take them no farther than six-tenths of a mile.

He said the minimum cost for such an extension is $320 per home. But other factors generally make the cost higher.

The directors agreed to consider the request and notify Heritage of their decision.

Crosby later explained Heritage's request to The Banner-Independent.

"We are trying very hard to extend our services throughout the county where it's economically feasible," Crosby said. "... a very rough terrain, or low terrain like a swamp bottom is sometimes impractical for burying cable."

"We prefer to use poles where possible because that is the most cost-acceptable method," he said.

"We have always had an agreement with the Prentiss power association to get on the poles here in the city," Crosby said. "We are under very stringent requirements here because the requirements are not written. Each time we make a pole request, it is on a case-by-case situation, rather than a written contract."

Crosby said such a system is actually more expensive for both companies. "We never really know how we can make the hookup until each case comes up."

"But, with South Central Bell, for instance, we have an explicit contract that tells us exactly what we can and can't do. Everything is spelled out in it. And this gives us a guideline so we know how to figure costs and make preparations and plans without ever talking to them," Crosby said.

He said what Heritage is requesting from the PCEPA is a similar written contract that would do away with the necessity for case-by-case approval.

"We approached them about two things. One was a county-wide agreement to get on their poles so we can make these extensions and go ahead and serve these customers. The other was a written description of the type of work we can do on their poles so we don't have to go on a case-by-case basis."

10.6% In January

MSES Reports 'Slight Rise' In Unemployment

According to Charles Smith, Manager of the Mississippi State Employment Service, statistics just released revealed a slight rise in the number unemployed in Prentiss County at mid-January. The rate of unemployment rose to 10.6 percent, eight-tenths of a percent higher than the December figure, but 5.8 percent below the estimate for January, one year ago.

The current rate of unemployment represented 1,210 persons unemployed. The county's civilian labor force was estimated to be 11,430 at mid-January, 310 below the previous estimate and 250 below the figure one year ago. Approximately 10,220 Prentiss County residents were employed at mid-January, compared to 10,590 in December and 9,770 in January 1983.

Overall establishment based employment, consisting of manufacturing and non-manufacturing employment, totaled 6,880, 80 below one month ago but 420 above the figure for one year ago. Manufacturing employment totaled 2,970 at mid-month, 40 below the previous estimate and 180 above the estimate for one year ago. Non-manufacturing employment totaled 3,900, which was 50 below the December estimate but 240 above the January 1983, figure with most all categories experiencing increases.

Smith also noted that in the four-county area of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tishomingo and Tishomingo the civilian labor force totaled 45,260 at mid-January. This reflects a loss of 350 from the December estimate, and a significant loss of 1,610 from January one year ago. The civilian labor force is a combination of employed and unemployed persons.

Cable

On a case-by-case basis, Crosby said, it costs twice as much to install cable at a new location. A technician must visit the location, draw a diagram of the installation situation and take it to the power company for approval. The power company then sends a technician to look at the location before issuing approval for the installation. And only then can the Heritage technician return to the location and install the cable.

"Our average cost per call, figured to include, man-hours, the truck, insurance, etc., runs approximately $32," he said, explaining that getting approval on each individual hookup makes the installation cost $64, even though the customer pays only $15 for installation.

Crosby also said Heritage is paying the PCEPA $5 per year for each pole it uses. "Our rental last year was over $9,000." He said his company pays much less to other utilities, $2.96 per pole to South Central Bell, for instance.

"We are dealing with over 15 different utility companies in the state of Mississippi. And at least five of those are cooperatively owned units like the PCEPA. And this is the only location where we have no written agreement and must operate on a case-by-case basis," Crosby said.

"This has been going on for years. It did not just now start. And we have been discussing it with them and trying to get it worked out for some time. That's why we met with their board and asked them to consider a written agreement. And that's where we are now," Crosby said.

"We understand there are poles we will not be able to get on because of transformer banks, bad clearance problems... that sort of thing," Crosby added.

PCEPA Manager Ronnie Rowland said there are several reasons for his company's preferring to work with Heritage on a case-by-case basis.

"We have no particular major objection to their using our poles. It's just that in the area where they are wanting to run cable now we don't generally feel like our power line is built high enough and with strong enough poles to handle their additional cable," Rowland said.

"What we have asked them to do is get their main cable up to the area... like from Booneville to

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, does the word "soul" in the Bible mean that part of man which will live in eternity?

ANSWER: The word soul as you know comes from psuche and means breath of life but is used in different ways in the Bible. It does mean (in some cases) that which will live in eternity as you indicated in the question. Permit me to give you some scriptures where it is used: (1) "And so it is written, the first man Adam was made a living SOUL." (1 Cor. 15:45). (2) "In your patience possess ye your SOULS (Lk. 21:19). (3) "And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the SOUL." (Matt. 10:28). (4) "What will a man give in exchange for his SOUL (Matt. 16:26). (5) "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all they SOUL, and with all thy mind." (Matt. 22:37). (6) "My SOUL is exceeding sorrowful." (Matt. 26:38). (7) "Now is my SOUL troubled." (John 12:27). (8) "Every SOUL which shall not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed." (Acts 3:23). (9) "But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the SOUL." (Heb. 10:38). (10) "Tribulation and anguish, upon every SOUL of man that doeth evil." (Rom. 2:9). (11) "Receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your SOULS" (James 1:21). (12) "Seeing ye have purified your SOULS in obeying the truth." (1 Pet. 1:22). These passages should help you to understand the word "soul."

ICG To Become G&M

Foster Plans To Invest $14 Million To Update And Rehabilitate Railroad

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

The L.B. Foster Co., prospective new owners of 713 miles of Illinois Central Gulf Railroad lines in East Mississippi, plans to invest $14 million over the next five years to update and rehabilitate the railroad.

The plans were announced by L.B. Foster President Warren Kearns at a press conference Monday in West Point.

Kearns also said 210 workers will be hired from ICG's current personnel to operate the new railroad, which will be known as the Gulf & Mississippi Railroad Co. once the sale has been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Foster has hired Kyle Railways Inc. of San Diego, Calif., to operate the G&M. Kyle is currently a holding company for 13 shortline railroads operating in nine states and has 27 years of railroad management experience.

According to a recent article in Progressive Railroading, by the magazine's editor, Carl H. Wesselman, Kyle has an "impressive record" of making formerly unprofitable railroads profitable.

"The G&M will be a locally managed, shipper-oriented railroad," Kearns said Monday. "It will be responsive to the needs of East Mississippi. We plan to make this railroad an instrument that will help attract new business to the area and thus generate new jobs."

Kearns said he expects the G&M Railroad to be profitable after the first year's operation and projects a steady increase in revenues over the next five years.

He also said he will be visiting shippers and leaders of communities along the G&M's route over the next several days to explain details of Foster's plans for the railroad's operation.

Though both Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb and Baldwin Mayor Merle Rowan have said they believe that Foster plans to actually operate the railroad, some mayors and shippers along the route have expressed concern because, in the past, it has been Foster's policy to buy up railroads and salvage them.

But since the January 12 announcement of Foster's plans to purchase the ICG lines, Kearns has repeatedly insisted that his company does not plan to dismantle the tracks. "We're here to do business...to operate a railroad," he has insisted.

According to Kearns, Foster and Kyle executives have been touring the ICG lines, talking with shippers and municipal officials and

Letters

Dear Editor,
I hope you can find room in your paper for this introduction to our wonderful friends who we hate to lose:

Dear Booneville,
May we introduce our dearest friends, Richard and Marvella Mullen, who have recently moved to Dogwood Stand Road in your town.

Marvella is a lovely person with many homemaking and gardening skills, has been active in her church, and excels in nearly everything she attempts. She was raised in Virginia and graduated from Mary Washington College with a B.A. in History. Marvella's abundance of friendships include elderly and children. She is a warm person well worth meeting.

Dear Editor:
In the absence of some other idiot's being willing to comment publicly on the new plan for handling the county's garbage, let me be the one to do so. I have asked a number of individuals what they thought of the new plan and the most common comment has been to the effect, "If the county had been regular in their pickup of garbage from the dumpsters, the dumpsters wouldn't have been set on fire in the first place. If they couldn't or wouldn't maintain a consistent schedule for a few dumpsters how do they hope to maintain a consistent schedule for many, many times as many stops for garbage in bags?"

This caused me to stop and think, and sure enough -- I realized how many times I have passed by dumpsters loaded to overflowing -- only to see them smouldering and stinking the next time I went by. Imagine how it can be with the new plan!

The schedule will call for a pickup on a given day. Joe Citizen will dutifully haul his garbage -- packaged in expensive plastic bags -- out to the street before going to work. In our case, this means haul it over the hill to the highway. Shortly after the garbage is out the local dogs will converge -- they will learn the schedule better than we will -- joyfully raid the bags for all those goodies, and strew the inedible portions up and down the road. Some they will take home to chew over and decorate their owners' yards. Dogs love garbage, it appeals to their primitive instinct to hunt and kill, I guess. In any case, they seem eager to leave a free meal in order to devour garbage and drag the remainders away to play with.

So the garbage crew will work along its route and -- assuming they are on schedule -- find themselves faced with some garbage in bags at each stop, but much of it strewn along the roadside. Now they will have a dilemma. What should they do? Take time to clean up the mess and fall hopelessly behind schedule or take the bags which are intact and leave the rest? Being human, knowing they will have to face an irate Supervisor if they take three or four days to complete one day's route, I expect they will take the bags and leave the rest.

What about the citizens? How will they respond to finding a litter of garbage in front of their homes when they return from work? Well, we're human too. In this situation we are likely to lose our tempers, perhaps blue the air with a few well chosen remarks expressing our opinions of Supervisors and their new garbage plan -- and, maybe, maybe, rake up the mess.

If citizens have been too impatient to wait for delayed pickups of the dumpsters, resorting to fire to empty them -- isn't it likely that they will also decide to 'eliminate the middle man,' and save the expense of garbage bags -- and strew their garbage directly along the roadside themselves? We already see some of this. I am afraid we will see a great deal more of it if this plan goes into effect. Prentiss County could soon begin to look like one giant garbage dump.

If you are concerned about this potential problem why don't you tell your Supervisor while there is still time to keep the good plan we have -- and urge him to try to maintain a better pickup schedule for the dumpsters. I don't envy the Supervisors their jobs and have a lot of respect for the quality of their performance, overall. But I believe they would be wise to think again about the problem of garbage disposal and how to control its cost -- before they find themselves with an enormous Excedrin headache.

Ponderings

Staff Reporter

Several weeks ago I mentioned that we now have a microwave at The Banner. At that time all we knew how to do was warm water in it.

But now we have acquired various microwave skills.

For instance we have learned how to make popcorn in the microwave. In fact, I think we've had popcorn every afternoon this week. However, let me point out that we never, never have popcorn until we finish all our work for the day. (Is the sky falling yet?)

When we make popcorn in the microwave, several of us gather around the microwave. We really can't see anything happening but we can hear the popcorn popping. And sometimes while we're gathered around the microwave we will pretend we are watching TV instead of a microwave. Sometimes we pretend we are watching "Days of Our Lives."

"There's Phoenix!," Suzann says. "I think Phoenix is Stephano," I say. "No, Phoenix is Mickey," Norma argues.

By then the popcorn is popped, and we happily munch popcorn.

I hate to admit this, but the best microwave cook around here is Rex. (Rex is the person who assists Cecil in making up the ads).

When he heats up his lunch, all the Banner Bunch flock around him to see what goodies his wife has prepared for him. I can attest to the fact she prepares him some mouthwatering meals. But we probably ruin his lunch by begging for crumbs.

But Rex isn't the only one here who has become a proficient microwave cook.

Shirley prepared lasagna for lunch Wednesday. It was probably a success because I assisted her. I cleaned the microwave after she finished cooking the lasagna.

For some reason, no one would help us eat the lasagna. They evidently thought I prepared it.

Perhaps you are thinking, "Those fatsos. All they do is eat. I wonder why the publisher lets them get away with that."

Well, it's like this. The publisher is usually so busy that he doesn't notice how much time we spend around the microwave. And it's safe for me to tell you what we really do, because he informed me this morning that he didn't read my column. Actually he said he and a lot of other people didn't read my column, but that's beside the point.

It might have also occurred to you that the reason we don't have street opinion this week is because I was too busy eating.

I know you had rather have street opinion instead of excuses, but the real reason there is no street opinion is because I didn't want to get out in the snow flurries Tuesday.

Of course that doesn't explain why there wasn't a street opinion the week before but by now you probably know why.

Legislative Report

Committee Work Dominated Last Week

By REP. BILLY MCCOY

Legislative action last week focused largely in committees where we will finalize bills before bringing them to the floor of the full House for final consideration.

The House Constitution Committee met with the Mississippi Ethics Commission to review proposals for resolving one of the chief legislative issues of the 1984 session. The two committees are studying methods of developing a workable conflict of interest provision for elected officials.

Presently, the Mississippi Constitution contains a very limited provision that would prohibit many people from holding public office because of the potential for conflicts of interest between the State and their business. The deliberations of the Constitution Committee and the Ethics Commission are aimed at finding a method for allowing all qualified persons to hold public office without fear of conflicts, but still restricting any possible intentional or unintentional conflicts.

I am confident that the House will resolve this very serious matter during this session and that the solution will come in a manner that will protect the interests of the people of Mississippi, while still allowing anyone interested in serving to run for public office.

Another House committee last week began working on legislation to implement the recent Mississippi Supreme Court ruling that states that members of the legislative branch cannot serve on boards and commissions that are identified as being in the executive branch of government. The House committee is reviewing each of the boards involved to determine if the boards should be reorganized or rearranged to remove the potential for overlapping of branches of government.

The House unanimously approved a bill that transfers the State bond advisor from the Governor's Office to the State Treasurer's office. This legislation was recommended by Governor Bill Allain who said the transfer would assist the state financially by moving us toward a consolidation of all the state's money matters into one office. The legislation also reorganizes the Bond Advisory Commission to include more financial experts among its membership. All these changes are designed to assist the State as it issues bonds to help with our financial concerns.

Local communities can be assisted in a bonding matter through the second bill approved by the House.

This legislation clarified the duties of the Mississippi Equipment Financing Authority. The bill allows 14 local hospitals to purchase expensive equipment at lower than market interest rates. It enables these hospitals to buy modern equipment that they might not otherwise be able to afford and to better serve their patients and improve the quality of medical care across the state.

Both these bills now move to the State Senate for action.

This week the House County Affairs Committee will consider legislation to establish county unit systems, an issue that has been controversial in recent years.

As action occurs on legislation that will have an impact on Northeast Mississippi, I will keep you informed. In the meantime, if you have any questions or recommendations for me, please do not hesitate to contact me at 948-7321.

The Ayes Have It

Some Bills Were Debated & Passed In Senate

By SENATOR JOHN WHITE

At the end of the first two months of the 1984 Session, Legislators had nearly 1,700 bills and over 100 constitutional amendments awaiting consideration. Last week saw the first deadline of the session. All general bills were required to be introduced by midnight Feb. 22.

While much of our time has been spent in committees studying bills and deciding whether or not to send them on to the full Senate, we did debate and pass several bills on the Senate floor during the week. Some of these included:

- a bill to continue the Department of Corrections and State Parole Board for two years. This bill included an amendment to hire a Superintendent for the State Penitentiary at Parchman instead of a Deputy Commissioner of Institutions. The Superintendent would be the chief executive and operational officer at Parchman and would be required to live there.

- on Wildlife Conservation. Those favoring the bill saw a savings to the state by consolidation of agencies.

Issues which are expected to be discussed by committees or by the full Senate this week include:

- a bill requiring students to comply with draft registration for scholarship or loan eligibility.
- a bill to eliminate dual voter registration. Currently, citizens must register at city hall to vote in municipal elections and at the courthouse to vote in all other elections.

- bill dealing with trespassing laws.

- bills dealing with involuntary commitment procedures for mentally ill, mentally retarded or chemically dependent persons.

I would like to hear your views on any proposed legislation. You may call me at 948-7321 or write to the Mississippi Senate, P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, Miss. 39205. My home number is 365-2181.

Currently, the warden has the duties of the Superintendent, but many Senators believe that the warden does not want or need this complete authority. Senators favoring the amendment wanted one person in charge rather than the current system with a number of persons in charge. Senators against the amendment said that the warden should be required to fulfill all of the duties.

- A second amendment, which also passed, allows any county in which there is a penal institution operated by the state with inmate population of 500 or more to have a representative on the State Board of Corrections.

- a bill to set 8.5 acres of state land in Jackson to the Girl Scout Council. -- a bill to increase the membership of the Commission of Wildlife Conservation from five to nine. Senators favoring the bill noted that a bill to be introduced later will put the Wildlife Heritage Commission, which purchases land, under the Commission

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward

Managing Editor

Most people get paid every week, and on Friday. Those who don't are out of step with the world, and I'm one of them, although I've been accused of that for other reasons, too.

I've had more than my share of jobs that did not pay on the universally recognized payday. One, of course, was my stint in the Air Force, where we got paid on the 15th and the 30th regardless of what day they fell on.

One hospital I worked for paid every two weeks and mailed my check, which meant I was also at the mercy of the U.S. Postal Service and every time a legislated holiday came up my check was at least two days late.

During my two-year stint as a New York City taxi driver I had a really strange payday -- Wednesday. And I was really out of step with the world. First of all, Wednesday was my day off. So, I had to take a subway uptown, then walk through the "Combat Zone" to the garage to get the check, then walk to the specific branch of Citibank on which the check was written because no other branch would cash it.

Then, since I got paid in the middle of the week, I was generally broke before the weekend even arrived -- a really bad state of affairs in NYC.

Fortunately, I usually made about $20 a night in tips, and I was able to live from day-to-day on that.

I have also had sales jobs where I got paid several times a week -- each time I made a sale -- or not at all if I didn't make any sales. In that kind of job it is possible to make $700 in one day, but not make any more for three weeks. Sales is no job for a married man.

And, when I was working as a freelance writer, I got paid whenever a check showed up in the mail for work I mailed, and usually on delivery for work I had carried to the assigning paper.

Now, my official payday is Monday...every other Monday. But most of the time the checks don't show up until Tuesday. And I have discovered that public utilities are making a fortune off those of us who get paid every 14 days.

I invariably receive my utility bills on the day after I have received my check, deposited it and written checks to pay the bills I have received since my last check. That means it will be 13 days before I can pay another bill.

The catch is the new bill usually increases by 10 percent if it is not paid within 10 days. So, because I get paid every other week, my utility bills are generally 10 percent higher than those of people who get paid every week.

And I'm really in trouble if I forget to pay a utility out of that next check. My December electric bill got lost in the shuffle of Christmas bills, and I didn't realize it until I received the late notice on... You guessed it... The day after I had paid bills.

And the electric company manager, though he claimed to be sympathetic, refused to hold off four more days before turning off my power.

It was the first time I had lived by candlelight since my starving writer days in New York. And there is absolutely nothing romantic about being discriminated against simply because you don't get paid on the same schedule as most everyone else.

There is something frustrating about it, though.

developing a basic operations plan, which with all the necessary documentation, will be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Kearns said he plans to submit Foster's application for managing and operating the railroad to the ICC this week. By law, the ICC must review the plans before approving the sale.

"We are confident that the sale of the railroad lines and our plans to manage and operate them effectively are in the best interest of East Mississippi's long-term economic growth, and that our application will receive ICC approval. With prompt ICC action, we could begin operation of the G&M by year end," Kearns said.

Kearns said one of the G&M's first priorities will be rehabilitation of the track. He said the company expects to invest $14 million over the next five years to upgrade the railroad, using local financing when possible.

Kearns said the G&M will hire 210 personnel from the ICG's current work force. "Discussions with labor union leaders representing local employees have begun," he said, adding that the G&M's ability to successfully operate will require a "flexible and efficient work force."

He said operations will be headquartered at a central hub located in East Mississippi, but the location has not yet been chosen.

In addition to the 210 hourly workers absorbed from the ICG, 10 salaried personnel, including a general manager, general superintendent, two train masters, a traffic manager and a roadmaster, will be hired, Kearns said.

He said, besides the central office, the G&M will maintain other operating hubs, as well as service agency offices along the route.

"The G&M will improve freight movement on the line by working closely with customers to define their shipping requirements and provide a cost efficient transportation shipment," Kearns said.

"The ICG has committed, as part of the agreement, to work closely with the G&M to maintain and encourage competitive shipping for rail traffic in East Mississippi.

"G&M will work closely with state, regional and local industrial development organizations to attract new businesses so that the economic outlook of the area can be continually improved. And the G&M will also work closely with local communities to strengthen relationships between the railroad and individual communities," Kearns said.

"A partnership must be formed among G&M, its employees and leaders of government, business, labor and communities serviced by the railroad. We must join together and work as partners to create for all of us a good business environment that will breed growth and prosperity," Kearns said.

He said too many railroads have failed because of the adversary conditions that have developed among the various interested parties. "We cannot let this happen in East Mississippi. L.B. Foster Co. and the G&M Railroad will do everything possible to work as a partnership with all involved," Kearns said.

He said the G&M marketing approach will be structured to meet the shipper's transportation needs.

"This will position the new railroad system as an aggressive competitor to other transportation systems in the region," Kearns said in an apparent reference to the almost completed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, which the ICG attempted to stop prior to its decision to sell lines paralleling the barge canal.

"A recent survey of shippers in East Mississippi indicates a preference for rail transportation of freight," Kearns said.

He said a new sales organization, centered around "transportation specialists who will identify and fulfill customer needs," will be set up by G&M. And freight service will be increased from three to six days a week to make the best use of track time, rolling stock and other equipment.

"The overriding goal is to provide quality and consistent day-to-day service to customers and communities all along the line," Kearns said.

Thrasher... either on their own poles or underground so we wouldn't have to go through a big reconstruction. Then, once they got there, we could look at each individual location," he said.

"It's a lot different from pole to pole," he said. "We do the same thing with telephone companies."

Rowland said he did not know if it was true that PCEPA was the only utility company requiring approval on each individual installation. "That may be true. I don't know," he said.

Asked if the board had discussed Heritage's request, Rowland said, "Yes. We are going back to them (Heritage) and asking them to give us more details on exactly what they want to do. Then, we're going to have our engineering staff look at each individual pole and location and see what is going to be involved.

"If there's more money involved in them having to pay us to make our lines strong enough to handle it, then I'm sure they're not going to want to go that way.

"But, what we'll do is just look at everything they want to attach to. We're willing to work with them. But we need a lot of information, and it's going to take quite a bit of time to check out each individual thing," Rowland said.

SCB To Introduce Charge-Card Phones

South Central Bell will soon introduce public telephones that allow customers to use major charge cards to make long distance calls.

"We're excited that South Central Bell and Southern Bell are the first local operating companies in the country to announce this service," said J.N. McGowen, vice president for South Central Bell's Mississippi operations.

By following instructions on the phones, customers can use any available long distance company for the call, whether or not they have an account with that company.

Once a caller has selected a long distance company, he slides his credit card down through a slot in the phone. A built-in magnetic reader instantly records the encoded number in the card's magnetic stripe. The caller can then dial his call normally. Billing information goes automatically to the charge card company and appears on the monthly statement.

McGowen said callers can still punch in their South Central Bell Calling Card number -- as they do with Charge-A-Call phones -- to use the new card-reader phones to make long distance calls.

"Our research shows this will be a popular service," he said. "Major credit cards are moving us toward the cashless society, and it makes sense to use them to charge phone calls."

McGowen said prior to South Central Bell's recent court-ordered separation from AT&T this multiple-carrier service wasn't appropriate.

"Now, instead of competing with the long distance companies, we're working with them," he explained. "These card-reader public phones are an example of how our customers benefit from that."

"We're determined to be the leader in providing telecommunications products and services that most completely meet our customers' needs," he said.

Mr. & Mrs. Rod G. Houston

Miss Biggs Becomes Mrs. Houston In Michigan Wedding

Miss Mala Biggs and Rod G. Houston were married Jan. 28, at 7 p.m. at the First Congregational Church in St. Joseph, Mich.

Pastor Philip K. Smith of Cement City Baptist Church in Cement City, Mich., officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Robert and Roberta Biggs of Platteville, Wis., and R.G. and Betty Houston of Booneville.

The bride wore a pleated chiffon scoop-neck gown with an embroidered lace bodice accented with sequins and a long chiffon train. She wore a lace and sequin tiara and carried a bouquet of white roses accented with ivy.

Mrs. Deborah Smith of Cement City, Mich., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kay

Whittenburg of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Sue Nawatil of Normal, Ill.

R.G. Houston of Booneville served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Grisham of Atlanta, Ga., William Scott of Booneville, Mark Biggs, brother of the bride, of Palo Alto, Calif., and Tony Blankney of Jackson, Miss.

A reception was held in the First Congregational Church in St. Joseph, Mich.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple are residing in St. Joseph, Mich., where the bride is employed as a home economist for the Whirlpool Corporation in Benton Harbor, Mich., and the groom is employed as sales promotion manager for the Whirlpool Corporation in Benton Harbor, Mich.

President Dawson conducted a business session on the by-laws of the club, fund-raising activities, and committee nominations.

Following the meal, the club was dismissed in prayer by Past President Ewell Wright.

Those present were Martha and Bill White, Mildred Lauderdale,

Mr. and Mrs. Eston Stevens and Monica, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Barnes; Martha and Doug Miller, Ygondine and Robert Baygents, Ewell Wright, Nelwyn and W.M. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wiseman, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Joe Cosby, and Winford Dawson.

Altitude News

By BLINDA DUNAWAY
Correspondent

Everyone around Altitude was disappointed to see the snow and colder temperatures move into our part of the country earlier in the week. After having enjoyed such pleasant weather over the past days, we were all sure that old man weather was sending us an early spring, at least that was what we were hoping for. Apparently, it was not to be so.

Mrs. Bernice Chase entertained with a dinner on Saturday, bringing together several members of her family for the gathering. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McLaughlin, Tatia and Lora of Huntsville, Ala., Mrs. Liz Chase, Scotty and Timmy of Baldwyn, Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Johnson, Cassandra Moorman, Dr. and Mrs. David Chase and Tara of Booneville.

Mrs. Shirley Few and Sherry of Jasper, Ala. visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ides Rutherford. It has just come to my attention that Mary Glenn Rutherford suffered a broken ankle some time ago. I hope that she will soon be recovered from it.

Visiting in the community recently were Mr. and Mrs. Odell Buckhalter and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Buckhalter from Dennis.

Milton Mathis is in the local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Harling attended a birthday celebration in Hackleburg, Ala., on Sunday honoring Mrs. Liddy Partain, mother of Mrs. Harling.

Sunday evening visitor of Mrs. Lena Thompson and Mrs. Nena Holder was Mr. Hassell Holder of Cairo.

Enjoying the noon meal in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dunaway and family on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Newborn, Myrtie Cole and Marie Burns.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lambert were Mr. and Mrs. J. Hue Hendrix of Chicago, Roy Newborn of Berryville, Ark., Mr. Marvin Newborn of Hellenville, Ark., and Roy Lambert of Tennessee. Joining them all for Sunday dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lambert, Marty and Jennifer, Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Rickey Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lambert and children, all of Booneville and Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Smith of Jackson, Tenn.

A surprise birthday dinner was held for Mauvelene Hughes at her home in Jumpertown on Sunday.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Brumley, Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Taylor, Jason and Brandon. Herlon Taylor of Greensburg, La., was to enter the hospital there for surgery this week.

Myrtie Cole entered the hospital in Tupelo on Tuesday to have some tests to determine if she needs surgery.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. David Lambert on the birth of a son.

Mrs. Estelle Taylor and her grandson Jeff were visitors of Mrs. Wilodene Windham in Thrasher on Sunday afternoon.

Bunice Phillips was released from the local hospital on Monday following his recent heart attack.

Funeral services were held for Ernest Phillips on Thursday at McMillan Funeral Home with burial in Sardis Cemetery. Sympathy is extended to his loved ones.

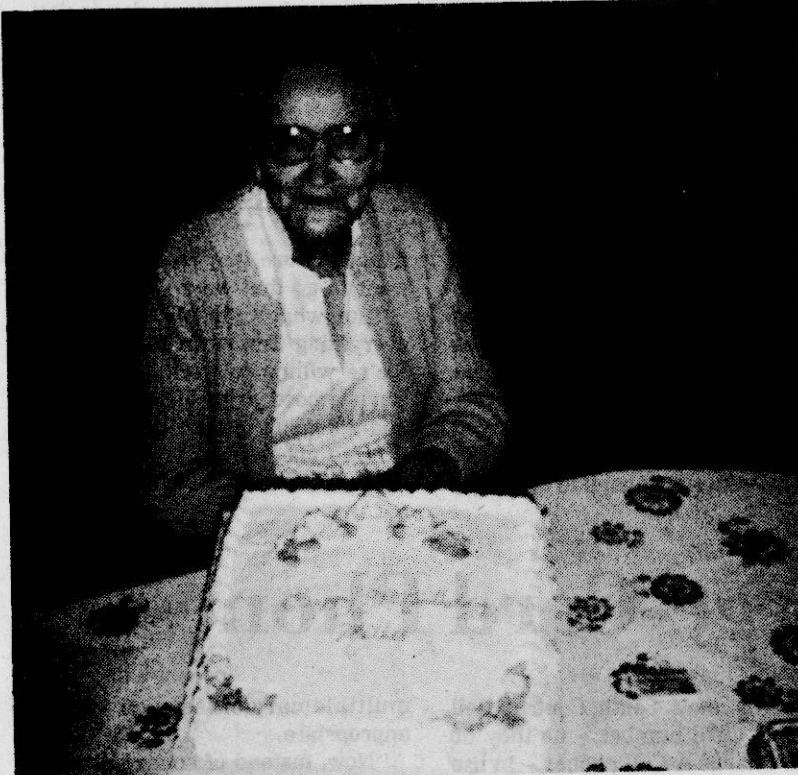

Clyde Davis recently had heart surgery in Memphis. Reports are that he is doing well.

Judy Jackson was home with her family Mr. and Mrs. Tulon Jackson from Ole Miss over the weekend.

Lucille Hare visited on Sunday with Mrs. Alma Jackson, who has not been well. Several members of Mrs. Jackson's family had been visiting her also.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Puckett, Mike and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald, Matt, Joe, and John all of Iuka, Pam Penna and J.K., Mr. and Mrs. Larry George and Desi, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Foster and Susie.

Lee Cole visited on Monday with Myrtie Cole and Edith Foster.

Mrs. Autie Ward Henry

Autie Henry Celebrates 80th Birthday With Party

Mrs. Autie Ward Henry celebrated her 80th birthday with a party given by her children on Feb. 5, in her home.

Family and friends that were able to attend were Dot and Berry Neal Davis and Ralph Lee of Waynesboro, Anthony Morrell of Fayette, Ala., Floyd and Flo Henry, Georgia and Lisa, all of Belmont;

Norman Williams of Red Bay, Ala., Mark and Donna Henry of Clarksdale, Miss., Neal and Latase Henry, Dana and Eddie, Pam Trimble, all of Rienzi;

Jack and Maxine Ward of Memphis, Dayton and Cleo Ward, Newel Ward, Cecil and Betty Smith and Deana, Durelle Alexander, Tammy Prentiss, Malinda Prentiss, Alan and Cathy Prentiss, James and Lylia Prentiss, all of Booneville.

Later that week Mrs. Henry also received a letter from President Ronald Reagan wishing her a happy birthday. She and the President share the same birthday -- Feb. 6.

IS SIN INHERITED?

There are those who believe that sin is transmitted from one generation to another. This belief is often referred to as: (1) the doctrine of Original Sin, (2) the Adamic sin, (3) the doctrine of Hereditary Total Depravity. Those who believe this doctrine say that "original sin is that state in which we are born as a result of the fall of our first parents, Adam and Eve." This doctrine as it is now understood did not find general acceptance until the third century, when such writers as Tertullian, Cyprian and others reduced it to a distinct formula. According to this doctrine, infants are born into this world with the sins of their parents upon their souls and are lost.

Some have tried to classify sin as original sin, actual sin, mortal sin and venial sin, but such classifications are not found in the word of God. The Bible teaches that sin is a transgression of God's law. (1 John 3:4) Sin is not inherited, but committed when we break the law of God. No one can commit sin for another or give an account of sin for another. (Ezekiel 18:20) It is our personal sins that separate us from God and not the sins of others. (Isa. 59:1-2)

If little children are sinners and lost, why are we taught to be converted and become as little children? (Matt. 18:3) If infants and little children are lost, isn't it rather strange that no plan of salvation is given for them in the Bible? The Bible teaches that we are the offspring of God (Acts 17:28-29). If we are depraved or lost at birth, then we received it from God because children are like their parents. Children do not inherit sin, but become sinners when they are old enough to know and break the law of God. Our children may inherit some of our characteristics and traits, but they do not inherit our sins or Adam's.

YOUTHFUL EYES

There's a lot of truth in the old saying that you're only as young as you feel. In many ways, it's also true that you're only as young as you see.

Good vision is necessary to help older people enjoy active, independent and productive lives. It enables them to drive, to read, to watch TV, to work, to be active in community affairs, and to take pleasure in the world around them.

Yet good vision is threatened by conditions that occur with greater frequency in older people. Presbyopia, glaucoma, and cataracts are the most common of these. Senile macular degeneration and retinal degeneration also have a greater chance of occurring as people grow older, due to poor circulation.

Happily, vision conditions that once robbed the mature citizen of sight, can now be successfully treated if detected early. Periodic, professional optometric care is very important in keeping the natural vision problems of aging from becoming major visual handicaps.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, call

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

If you don't have a yard or if your yard can't support a garden, there is still ample opportunity for gardening through the use of containers. You can turn patios, balconies or even apartment roofs into gardens this way. Pots, wooden and plastic tubs, barrels and plastic bags can all be used to make creative, attractive container gardens.

Containers not only make gardening possible for many, they can extend the gardening season. The containers can be prepared and sown much earlier in the spring or longer into the fall than garden plantings. When the weather gets cold, you can just move your "garden" inside.

Although container gardening is much like traditional gardening, you'll need to make a few adjustments. Common mistakes made by container gardeners are using containers that are too small, planting flowers or vegetables too close together, and not fertilizing adequately.

An easy way of determining the proper size container is to make it approximately one-third of the height the plant will be when it reaches maturity. It is better, however, to use tall rather than short containers, because the soil won't dehydrate as rapidly in taller ones. The smaller and shorter the pot, the more frequently it will need to be watered.

Too many plants to a pot often arises because containers look more attractive with a thick mass of plants. The rows and generous spacing of a garden simply don't lend themselves to a container, so you'll usually want to space plants more closely than the seed packet instructions indicate. But if you space too closely, you'll find that your plants will begin to deteriorate just as they should be hitting their peak, because they're competing with one another for the limited soil, nutrients and water available in the container.

In many cases, root damage results because there is just not enough room for them. Plants should be close enough so that they fill in the container space at six weeks to two months; if they fill it in before, they are too close together and should be thinned.

Though most anything will grow as well in a container as in the ground, high-yield varieties are best adapted to containers because they allow you to make the most of your limited space. High-yield vegetables include short types of carrots, lettuce, radishes, snap peas, and tomatoes.

Regular fertilizing is important to ensure healthy growth for your plants. Always follow the fertilizer label directions for application.

Like the garden plants, container grown crops will need the proper amount of sunlight. Follow seed packet recommendations for each crop.

For more information concerning gardening come by the Extension office, or call 728-5631, or 728-7092.

ASCS News

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block extended the sign-up period for 1984 cotton, feed grain, rice and wheat programs by three weeks, through March 16.

Block also said he has changed fallow rules so that the requirements would be the same as they were in 1983 and previous programs. Prior to this action, acreage designated for the 1984 programs could not have been land intended for summer fallow in the current year. Other provisions of the 1984 programs will remain unchanged, he said.

Block said he took these actions to clear away some of the obstacles which made it difficult for farmers to make sound decisions about the programs. Also, many farmers have not been able to finalize crop operating plans including financing and lease arrangements. Since producers must sign a binding contract in the 1984 acreage reduction programs, with liquidated damages for failure to comply, they are reluctant to sign up until their operating plans are more complete, he said.

"Both USDA and private sector analysts say that when most farmers compare these programs with their own operating plans, they will find participation is to their advantage," Block said. "This extension will give producers the time needed to weigh the benefits of participation against the risks of no price protection which they would otherwise face."

Block encouraged farmers to avoid a last-minute rush to USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services county offices so that they can better serve each farmer.

USDA PEANUT LEVEL FOR 1984 UNCHANGED; USDA SALES POLICY SET

Peanut farmers will receive a national average support level of $550 per short ton for 1984-crop quota peanuts and $185 per ton for 1984-crop additional peanuts, Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said recently.

These are the same price support levels in effect for 1983-crop peanuts.

Additional loan collateral peanuts from the 1984 crop will be sold by USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation for export edible use at no less than $425 per ton, Block said.

Current law requires the national support price for 1984 quota peanuts be the 1983 quota support level, adjusted for any increase in the average cost of production, excluding any rise in the land costs for 1983. This increase cannot be more than 6 percent.

However, Block said, USDA has estimated 1983 peanut production costs declined from those of 1982, so no increase is necessary.

Additional peanuts are those grown in addition to a farm's poundage quota or those grown on a farm without a poundage quota.

Price support rates on additional peanuts are set as USDA determines appropriate to ensure no loss to the Commodity Credit Corporation from same or disposal of such peanuts placed under loan. This determination takes into account factors such as the demand for peanut oil and peanut meal, foreign demand for U.S. peanuts and expected prices for other vegetative oils and protein meals.

Information on the peanut program is available at the county ASCS office.

Timberline

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

Among employees of the Mississippi Forestry Commission there is a group of individuals who comprise our County Forestry Crews and operate our fire detection system. These men and women not only detect and suppress thousands of forest fires each year but they are often also engaged in the task of reforestation and otherwise tending to the forestry treatment needs of our timberland.

ting bar or ride a bone-jarring tractor or tree planter all day setting out trees; or jam a heavy tree injector into hundreds of trees to rid the forest of weed trees and make room for the better ones. Many times they are called out in the middle of the night after a long hard day to fight a forest fire.

This job is not for everyone, but for these select men and women, it is a satisfying career they take pride in, and all of us in forestry are proud to be associated with such a fine group of people who care as much and work as hard as these people do.

In Prentiss County we are especially proud of our forestry crew. They are: James Vanderford, dispatcher; Tunney Hughes crew leader; Ed Wilson, secondary towerman; Minor Swinney, crew member; Jamey Holcomb, crew member; Eugene Coker, crew leader; Paul Clark, crew member, Tulon Coker, crew member.

Who are the people who make up this unit? They are your friends and neighbors, your relatives, perhaps. They attend the same churches as you, their children attend the same schools as yours, and they are concerned about the same day-to-day problems that concern you.

When do they fight fires and perform these other forestry jobs? Commission Forestry Crews on the ground and their counterparts who man the fire towers are available to fight forest fires at any time, day or night, under any fire conditions. When they are not actually fighting fires, you'll usually find them readying their equipment in order to be able to respond instantly to a fire call or (depending on the time of year) planting trees, plowing firelanes, conducting prescribed burns, deadening cull trees, etc.

Why do they work at such a hard and dangerous job? They, like all of us, have jobs in order to support their families of course. But for these individuals, it goes beyond a mere "job." These men and women care about the people in their community; they care about the woodlands they fight so hard to preserve and protect, and they care about the lives and property of their neighbors. They care about our precious forest heritage that must be maintained so that future generations can enjoy it and benefit from it as have we.

It takes a special person to go into the thick, hot smoke of a wildfire where visibility is often limited to a few feet and plow a fire line or set a backfire to extinguish an onrushing blaze. At times the smoke is so thick that only a forestry pilot can direct the firefighters, via radio, from his airplane to escape routes the firefighters must take in order to avoid being trapped by the fire.

It takes a lot of stamina and dedication to operate a tree plan-

Severe Weather May Cause Forage Shortage For State's Cattle Producers

Freezing rains and ice storms have deprived Mississippi cattle producers of their primary source of winter forage, according to H.W. Essig, beef cattle professor with Mississippi State University.

"Severe winter weather burned back small grain and fescue pastures to the point where there wasn't any green left above the ground," Essig said. "The grass contains very little nutritional value, and it's doubtful pastures will provide cows with enough forage for an adequate diet until they revive in late March."

Many operators, as a result, have had to depend on their hay supplies as a source of roughage for their brood cows. And Mississippi's hay crop was reduced sharply by last summer's drought, he said, adding that many cattlemen are now having trouble finding additional hay to purchase.

"Cattle producers will use what hay is available and, in some cases, won't provide anything else until the grass comes back," Essig said. "Consequently, many cows may emerge from the winter in poorer condition than usual."

However, operators should try to provide their cows with adequate nutrition during calving season because a cow's requirements increase significantly during this critical conditioning period, now in full swing, Essig said.

He advised cattle producers with inadequate hay reserves to stretch their supply by providing alternative sources of roughage and by practicing good herd management. "For example, brood cows should be grouped according to their stage of production," Essig suggested. "This allows them to be fed according to their nutritional requirements. Cattlemen can't afford to overfeed forage this winter, nor can they afford to provide a cow with less nutrition than it needs to stay in good condition."

But operators with tight hay supplies and nutritionally deficient pastures will also have to provide either grain or commercial supplements, Essig added, if they want their cows to be in the proper condition to meet such production goals as a calf-per-cow-per-year.

Price Outlooks To Be Discussed On Farmweek

The 1984 price outlook for soybeans, cotton and rice in Mississippi will be discussed by experts on "Farmweek," the television series about Mississippi agriculture, at 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 5, on Mississippi ETV. The interviews are shown as part of the coverage of the Agri-Marketing Conference held in Greenwood of Feb. 28.

Included on every "Farmweek" program are weather forecasts, farm news, market reports, advice for producers of various commodities and a calendar of upcoming events in the state. The series is co-produced by Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Program Signup Period Extended By USDA

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block today extended the sign-up period for 1984 cotton, feed grain, rice and wheat programs by three weeks, through March 16.

Block also said he has changed summer fallow rules so that the requirements would be the same as they were in 1983 and previous programs. Prior to this action, acreage designated for the 1984 programs could not have been land intended for summer fallow in the current year. Other provisions of the 1984 programs will remain unchanged, he said.

Block said he took these actions to clear away some of the obstacles which made it difficult for farmers to make sound decisions about the programs. Also, many farmers have not been able to finalize crop operating plans including financing and lease arrangements. Since producers must sign a binding contract in the 1984 acreage reduction programs, with liquidated damages for failure to comply, they are reluctant to sign up until their operating plans are more complete, he said.

"Both USDA and private sector analysts say that when most farmers compare these programs with their own operating plans, they will find participation is to their advantage," Block said. "This extension will give producers the time needed to weigh the benefits of participation against the risks of no price protection which they would otherwise face."

4-H News

By WAYNE LAND
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Teenagers make decisions everyday that will have lasting effects on their future. Whether to get an after-school job, go to college, play a school sport or study for an exam can be greatly determined by a teenager's peers.

One of the most important decisions a teenager can make about his health is whether to smoke cigarettes. Peers can pressure their friends to smoke with common excuses like:

- Cigarette smoking is harmful only if a person inhales.
- Cigarettes low in tar and nicotine can't harm your health.
- There's nothing wrong with smoking cigarettes as long as you don't smoke too many.
- It's okay for teenagers to experiment with cigarettes if they quit before it becomes a habit.
- Teenagers who smoke regularly can quit for good any time they like.

Teenagers make decisions everyday about their health. They may eat junk foods and neglect their teeth. Others may seem extremely health conscious and exercise regularly. But whether teenagers are health conscious or not, parents are still puzzled when their teenagers smoke cigarettes.

Many boys start smoking cigarettes because most of their friends smoke or they want to be popular. Many girls start smoking cigarettes to try to attract boys. Overall, teenage smokers think they are grown-up but they really aren't.

Through the 4-H health project, teenagers learn to make wise decisions about their health.

- They learn that:
- not starting is easier than stopping.
 - one-third of all home fires are caused by smoking.
 - tobacco smoking is habit-forming.

For more information about the 4-H health project or teenage smoking, contact the county Extension office at 404 East Church St., or call 728-5631.

A New Age Of High-Energy Recovery Is Dawning In The Natural Gas Business

The natural gas business is changing.

It isn't the same old blue flame.

Like many other natural gas transmission companies we are contributing substantially to research holding the promise of increasing energy derived from natural gas, thus lowering the cost of this vital energy.

This effort has been so successful that a new age of high-energy recovery is dawning in the natural gas business.

It means many benefits for the consumer, and more than anything else, it means natural gas will remain our premium fuel well into the next century.

It is well known, for example, that it costs three times as much to heat water with electricity. And now, research is producing end-use appliances for both cooling and heating that save as much as 20 to 40 percent in gas bills. Even vehicles that run on natural gas are being developed with an objective of reducing fuel costs by 15 to 20 percent.

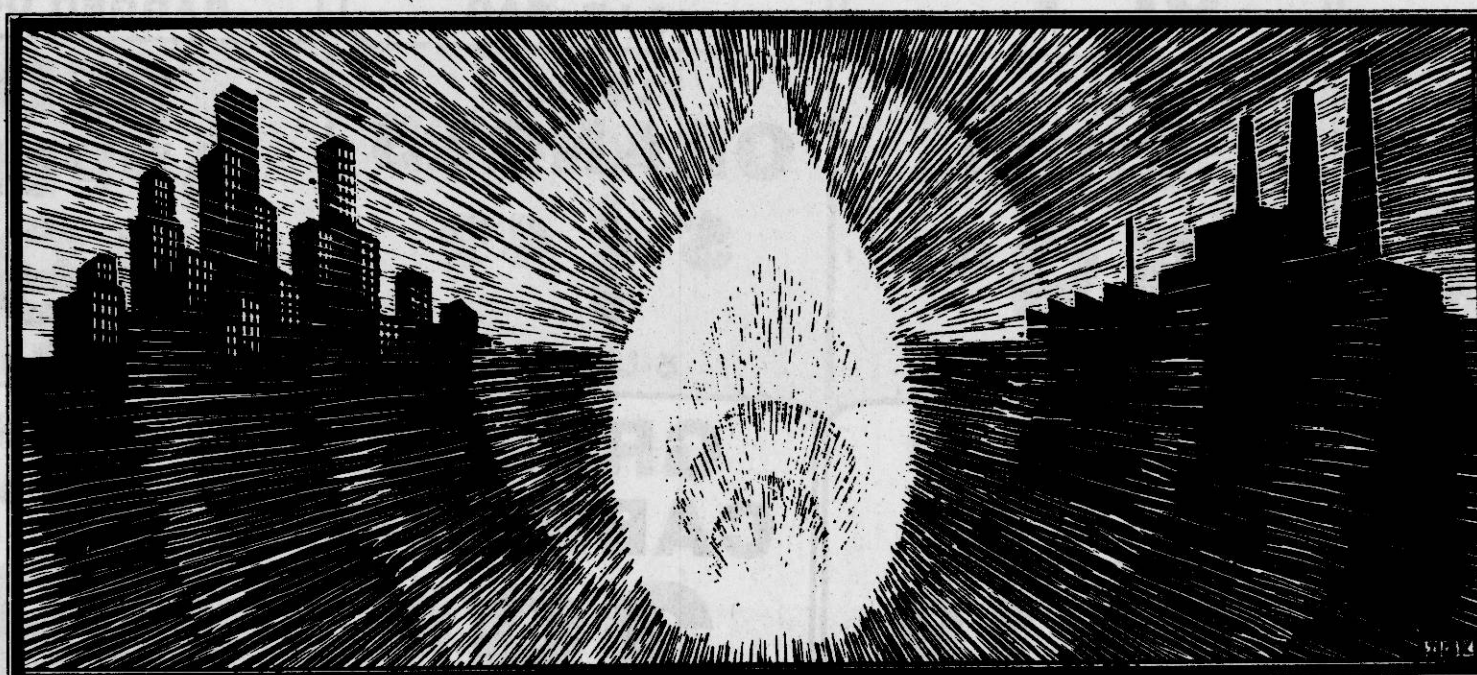

Natural gas has always been our best fuel, the most efficient energy ever produced by man or nature. At United Gas we're making it serve you better.

Mike Vernon & John Cook

The Vocational Business Education Department of the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School this week spotlights Mike Vernon and Piggly Wiggly, and their student-employee, John Cook from Booneville High School and the Cooperative Vocational Office Training Program.

Mike Vernon is Store Manager of the newly remodeled Piggly Wiggly Store in Booneville. He is a graduate of Booneville High School and attended Northeast Mississippi Junior College and Mississippi State University. He and his wife, Sherry, attend the First Baptist Church.

John Cook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cook, and is a junior at Booneville High School. He is a member of the First United Pentecostal Church, and a member of the Prentiss County FBLA Chapter.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Homer Green and Grady on Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Smith of Baldwin and Taylor Smith of Ripley.

Little Lanny Prentiss spent Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Prentiss and attended a cub scout meeting.

Mrs. Ernestine Murley was a visitor Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis.

Friday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis were Mrs. Lena Bullock and Mrs. Callie Anderson.

Lanny Prentiss spent Friday night with Bill and Chris Davis.

Saturday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everette Davis were Mrs. Jewel Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wolfe and Lanny.

The Country Blue Grass show on Saturday night at the community center was well attended. Remember to join us on the 2nd and 4th Saturday nights.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Alexander Tuesday night for supper were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Christian and Dale.

Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Alexander and Donna were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hall and boys and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Kelton.

Having Saturday night supper with Mrs. Gladys Wingo were Darvis, Tammy and Brandy Eaton of Booneville.

John Pannell, Darrell Stroupe and Ronny Davis visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Hall at Hightown.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bullock of Baldwin visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Buch Olive and Mrs. Addie Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Bullock spent Friday night with Mrs. Orilla Jumper in Memphis. Raymond Sterling, brother-in-law, is seriously ill in the hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Bullock were in Corinth on Tuesday evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dillinger and Mrs. Lela Green.

Mrs. Debbie Lewis, Maria and Bubba went to Iuka Sunday to get Mrs. Mattie Hickman home after a stay in the hospital.

Mrs. Rachel Pannell, Mrs. Deanna Davis, Mrs. Mamie Davis and Mrs. Elsie Gifford went to Memphis to see their sister Mrs. Elvie Smith at the Baptist Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Bullock called on Mr. and Mrs. Everette Hurt Thursday night.

Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wolfe and Lanny was Mrs. Lois Hughley. Mrs. Jettie Yates visited in the afternoon.

Mrs. Rachel Pannell, Deann Davis, Sandra Strobe visited Mrs.

Bell Tapp and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bullock in Baldwin last Sunday afternoon.

It was good to see Bro. Burleson back in the pulpit Sunday.

There was a good turn-out on Monday night for the T.C.D.C. meeting. Looks as if a neighborhood watch is being put into being.

There seems to be a lot of sick folks in our community: Mr. and Mrs. Buck Olive, Holland Jumper, J.D. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Green, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Ford, Mrs. Sandra Stroupe, Bubba Lewis, Kenneth Morgan, Mrs. Mandy Payne, and Mrs. Addie Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Fuller are both patients in Booneville hospital.

Mrs. Gladys Wingo was a Sunday afternoon visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Olive Hurt.

Mrs. Sue Reed, was Friday lunch guest of Mrs. Sue Davis and Rod.

Jacinto News

By ROBERT L. CHASE
Correspondent

There are a lot of people in our community that are sick with the flu. They include Buddy Alexander, Matthew and Mark Chase, and myself. Mrs. Mimie McCoy is in the Corinth hospital with pneumonia.

Jack Richardson, Mark Chase, Jimmy Wigginton and myself along with another friend attended the Prentiss County Beekeepers Association meeting last week. We had an enjoyable time. The next meeting will be Tuesday, March 20, at 7 p.m.

Jimmy Gardner of Rienzi was an overnight guest of Matthew Chase.

The regular meeting of the Jacinto Neighborhood Watch will be held tonight, March 1, at 7 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Visiting Mrs. Vistia Rinehart recently were her son, Loyd Rinehart of Booneville, and her daughter from the Snowdown community.

Those who have news to report in the Jacinto community are asked to call 462-7475.

Summer Vendor

Registration

Deadline

Food service management companies which plan to act as vendors for USDA's 1984 summer food service program for children in Mississippi must register with the state on or before March 15, 1984.

The summer food program provides nutritious meals to children from areas of economic need, without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap, at qualified public or private non-profit, nonresidential institutions or residential camps during the summer months.

Regulations require that companies providing food for the summer food program must be reputable and able to meet the terms of their contracts. In addition, under USDA's rules, food service management companies must provide states, at the time of registration, with detailed information on their operation for the past two years.

Companies wanting information on the summer food program or applications for registration in Mississippi should contact: John H. Walker, Assistant Director; Administration and Finance; State Department of Education; P.O. Box 771; Jackson, Miss. 39205. Telephone: (601) 352-8480.

CB Club News

By LADY BLUE SURF

Our business meeting was held Tuesday night. Roll call sheets were redone. Lots of you will have new unit numbers. We have new lists for everyone to pick up.

Double R resigned as vice-president because of his business. Brass Monkey was elected to fill his place.

Club members who need tickets for the jamboree should contact Double R at Carter Insurance.

Lady Double R's aunt is in the Corinth hospital in critical condition. Yellow Dog's father is better and home. Spunkin is doing fine after surgery on Thursday. She is in room 216 at Baptist Memorial.

Silver Dollar Queen, Round Lady and Lady Sidekick all have not been feeling well.

Happy birthday to Bull on March 1.

Happy anniversary to Hauler and White Girl on March 1 and to Double R and Lady Double R on the 2nd.

Our social will be Saturday night, March 3, at 7, at the West Side Community Center. It will be pot luck so everyone come and bring a well filled basket and lets enjoy the food and fellowship.

Each unit will be expected to bring two or three items for the grocery baskets. These need to be brought at the March 20 business meeting.

The public is invited to attend the jamboree Saturday night and Sunday, April 14 and 15 at the West Side Community Center. No alcoholic beverages will be allowed. Tickets may be purchased from any club member or at the door.

Until next week, stay well, be happy and attend the church of your choice.

County Church Histories Wanted

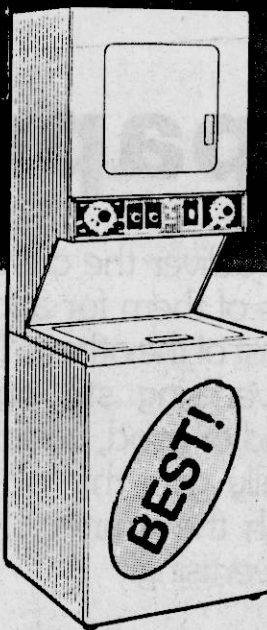

A number of Prentiss County Church Histories have come in since the last request went out, but many churches have not responded. The history of every church in the county should be in the forthcoming History of Prentiss County.

"We are, therefore, asking that some person or some persons in each church, that has not already responded, write a brief history of their church and get it to us right away," said H.H. Daws, coordinator of church histories. The closing date, for receiving these histories, has been set for March 15, 1984, Daws said.

The church histories may be left at the George E. Allen Library or given to some member of the Prentiss County Historical Association. They should be in duplicate copies, typed and double spaced, or legibly hand-written in black ink.

"Please respond regardless of denomination or church size," Daws said.

Volunteer Chaplain's Program To Begin At Baptist Hospital

An organized Volunteer Chaplain's program involving local ministers will officially begin on Monday, March 5, at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Booneville. Chaplain Charles McKnight of the Baptist Medical Center in Memphis has worked with John Tompkins, local hospital administrator, in establishing the program. There have been several training sessions led by Chaplain McKnight to set up this ministry.

The Chaplain of the Week will begin in the hospital available Monday 10 a.m. until noon; Wednesday, 3 p.m. until 5 p.m.; and Friday, 10 a.m. until noon as well as being available for call when needed. Long range plans will include a Sunday School class for patients and family at 9-9:30 a.m.

The Rev. Charles L. Potts of the First United Methodist Church will be the first Chaplain of the Week, March 5-11.

The steering committee for the program is the Rev. Joe Pack Arnold, Dr. Bill K. Duncan and Chaplain Charles McKnight.

Not All Teaching Happens At School

By NORINE BARNES
Child and Family Development Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Children go to school to learn their ABC's. They learn to read them and write them, to put them together into words, sentences and stories. New worlds are opening to them as they acquire these "building blocks" of intellectual development.

But there is another set of building blocks that is fundamental for development. These are the social skills of caring, cooperating, being friendly and appropriately assertive. These qualities are already developing in children before they go to school and are more likely to be taught by parents than by teachers.

The opposite of these desirable social skills is aggressive behavior, characterized by a tendency toward hostile, cruel, injurious or destructive behavior. Almost all children exhibit aggressive behavior in some form when they don't get their way. What parents consider an acceptable level of aggressive behavior will vary from family to family.

The general consensus is that ours is a violent society. Where do successive generations learn this aggressive behavior? Lately much of the blame has been laid on TV. Yet the parental model, not TV, is the number one influence on the child.

Children from families where parents are angry, hostile, dissatisfied and unaccepting of the child tend to be more aggressive. Parents who are themselves violent or aggressive are likely to have aggressive children. Children are clearly more impressed by what parents practice than by what they preach.

Ironically parents often think they can stop their children's aggressiveness by beating it out of them. By slapping, hitting or beating them, parents show children an even clearer model of aggression.

Although severe punishment can temporarily inhibit aggressive behavior in the parents presence, it does nothing to correct the problem the rest of the time.

A child must be taught to be assertive, not aggressive, and to handle frustration appropriately. When parents react to frustration constructively, rather than aggressively, they provide a positive role model for the child.

Also it is helpful if the parent explains the negative consequences of hostile behavior while suggesting positive options. Discipline that is reasonable, firm, consistent and administered in a positive atmosphere is best.

A child who is allowed verbally to express his anger, frustration or hurt to an accepting adult is not likely to act out these emotions in an aggressive way.

March ETV Specials Of Varied Interest

It's "festival" time once again, and Mississippi ETV has scheduled many specials and documentaries during March to increase viewer awareness of public television.

Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn reprise their Broadway roles in D.L. Coburn's "The Gin Game" on "American Playhouse" at 9 p.m., Tuesday, March 7.

Ingrid Bergman is remembered in a documentary about her life and career, "Ingrid," at 9 p.m., Wednesday, March 7.

"The Best of Live from the Grand Ole Opry" at 9 p.m., Saturday, March 10, features such outstanding performances as those of Bill Monroe, Barbara Mandrell, Minnie Pearl and Roy Acuff.

Woody Guthrie is paid tribute by his son and friends on "Woody Guthrie: Hard Travelin'" at 10:10 p.m., Saturday, March 10.

Sir John Aspinall's private nature park in England is the scene for an hour-long documentary, "A Passion to Protect," at 9 p.m., Sunday, March 11.

The beloved Broadway musical "Purlie" starring Robert Guillaume, Melba Moore and Sherman Hemsley is staged for "Great Performances" at 8 p.m., Monday, March 12.

Louis Rukeyser hosts an "Investment Primer," a special edition of "Wall Street Week," at 9 p.m., Friday, March 16. ("Wall Street Week" also can be seen at its regular time that evening at 7:30.)

Cyd Charisse and husband Tony Martin host a salute to big band-ragtime-cabaret-pop music on "Sentimental Journeys" at 9 p.m., Saturday, March 17.

Medicines Don't Mix With Each Other

Your doctor knows which prescription drugs to prescribe for you that work together. But when you mix them with certain over the counter drugs, foods, alcohol, or old prescriptions, you're running the risk of undesirable side effects.

Some medicines must be taken at special times or in special ways. Some even though you may not feel sick, and some even after you feel better.

The Mississippi Pharmacist Association reminds you that that's why you should tell your doctor and your pharmacist about all your medicines, even non-prescription drugs. If all your medicines come from the same pharmacy, you'll probably have a permanent record of everything you take.

If you have questions about your medicine, ask your pharmacist. You'll find out what mixes with what - and what doesn't. Your pharmacist will help you get your money's worth from your medicines by keeping you in the know.

AMERICAN LEGION PARTY - The American Legion Levi B. Morton Post 123 and the Ladies Auxillary had their Christmas party at the Legion Building with some 65 members and guests attending. One of the guests was First District Commander Jerry Smith. Commander Robert S. Jones gave each of the officers of the post a plaque in appreciation for their services and support.

So you tried a few different ways to spend your advertising money and now your sales curve has dropped completely off the chart.

Isn't it about time you started using the effective one... your local newspaper?

There are a lot of ways you can spend your hard-earned advertising dollars and some of them can be very glamorous and quite exotic. But that's not what your business needs! You need results... and your local newspaper can still deliver the customers and lots of them for a lot less than most of the others. Newspaper advertising still provides the kind of good, basic selling that really gets the job done. Go with the winner... newspaper advertising!

School Update

For Intensive Business Students

Entrepreneurship Taught At Vo-Tech

The Prentiss County FBLA Chapter recently sponsored a unit on Entrepreneurship. Students in the Intensive Business Training and Vocational Office Training classes at the Prentiss County Vocational-Technical School recently took part in the classroom series.

Each student took original ideas and opened their own business. Class instructors Laura Cartwright and Willie Frances Rutherford stressed throughout the study the importance of correctly opening a new business.

After deciding on a type of business to open, students began finding prominent locations in the Booneville area to locate their business. They next found costs for every phase involved in opening the business, from utilities to extra decorations and employees' salaries. All expenses were then calculated into one basic start-up fee.

Eddie Wood from the People's Bank and Trust Company spoke to each individual or group. The members within discussed the possibility of obtaining a business loan. Though the discussions were not factual, both Wood and the students carried out the meetings as would any new business owner.

Wood felt that the study has enhanced the students understanding of the entrepreneurship world.

"Because of these interviews and discussions, the students are well prepared to get a business loan," Wood said. "This study really helps the student learn about starting a new business."

Class instructor Cartwright also added her comments to the project. "Our kids really have learned a lot about entrepreneurship and the basic things they need to know in starting one," she said. "I'm really pleased at the way they have carried out this project."

"They were as excited as if they really were going into business," she said.

Four From BHS Speech Club Compete

By MICHELLE DOWNS

Today, BHS students appear capable of achieving extremely high goals. They understand that hard work now pays off for their future, and they realize the importance of striving to do their best ever.

Feb. 11, 1984, four members of the Speech and Drama Club entered the Mississippi High School Activities Association State Platform Events Contest. Receiving superior ratings, Amy Goddard and Eddie Jumper proved that their eleven years of labor paid off. Scott McKinney and Jimmy Torrence achieved excellent ratings in their categories, where no one gained a superior mark. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Snell, Drama Club sponsors, accompanied these students and returned with proud, smiling faces.

Tuesday, Feb. 21, all students acquired a notification that all public and private education facilities for grades twelve and under contained chrysotile asbestos materials. BHS gym indicates 50-75 percent of these materials present. All three Booneville school buildings showed a range of 14-18 percent of asbestos, according to the Hall-Kimbell Environmental Services, Inc., of Oxford. Copies of these findings may be found in the superintendent's and the principals' offices at each school.

Monday, Feb. 27, school dismissed at 12:30 p.m. because of the new AIM program. All teachers used this time to complete requirements for the third phase of instructional management. Having to do a great amount of work, these teachers should be commended.

Mrs. Linda Clifton, guidance counselor at BHS, announced that California Achievement Tests, to be held in April, will include the eighth and tenth grades. She encouraged all students to do their best and score as high as possible. These tests show the students' academic achievements; parents may ask to see their children's scores.

This year BHS students have already shown their talents and definitely intend to continue their progress and achievements.

LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION

The Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, Mississippi, took up for consideration the matter of issuing General Obligation Bonds for Prentiss County, Mississippi, to raise money for the purpose of financing the reappraisal of all taxable real and personal property located within Prentiss County, Mississippi. After discussion of the subject, Supervisor, Jimmy Moore, offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

RESOLUTION DECLARING THE INTENTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO ISSUE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, IN THE MAXIMUM PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND ($200,000.00) DOLLARS TO RAISE MONEY FOR THE PURPOSE OF FINANCING THE REAPPRAISAL OF ALL TAXABLE REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY WITHIN PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, AND DIRECTING PUBLICATION OF NOTICE OF SUCH INTENTION.

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, in the State of Mississippi (hereinafter referred to as the "Board"), acting for and on behalf of Prentiss County, Mississippi, does hereby find, determine, adjudicate, and declare as follows:

1. That it is necessary and in the public interest to issue General Obligation Bonds of Prentiss County, Mississippi, in the amount of Two Hundred Thousand ($200,000.00) Dollars for the common purpose of financing the reappraisal of all taxable real and personal property within Prentiss County, Mississippi.

2. That the assessed value of all taxable property within Prentiss County, Mississippi, according to the latest completed assessment for taxation is Twenty-five Million Nine Hundred Forty-three Thousand One Hundred and Four ($25,943,147.00) Dollars that the outstanding bond indebtedness, subject to the 10 percent debt limit prescribed by Section 19-9.5 of the Mississippi Code of 1972, in the amount of Four Hundred One Thousand Four Hundred Sixty-two ($401,462.00) Dollars, and outstanding bond indebtedness and floating indebtedness subject to the 15 percent debt limit prescribed by Section 19-9.5 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 (which amount includes the sum set forth above subject to the 10 percent debt limit), in the amount of Four Hundred One Thousand Four Hundred Sixty-two ($401,462.00) Dollars; that the issuance of the bonds hereinafter proposed to be issued, when added to the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the County, will not result in bonded indebtedness, exclusive of indebtedness not subject to the aforesaid 10 percent debt limit, of more than 10 percent of the assessed value of the taxable property within Prentiss County, Mississippi, and not resulting in indebtedness, both bonded and floating, exclusive of indebtedness not subject to the aforesaid 15 percent debt limit, in excess of 15 percent of the assessed value of taxable property within Prentiss County, Mississippi, and will not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation upon indebtedness which may be incurred by Prentiss County, Mississippi.

3. That the Board is authorized by Section 27-39-325, Mississippi Code of 1972, to issue the bonds hereinafter proposed to be issued for the purpose hereinafter set forth, for which purpose there are no other available funds on hand.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, Mississippi, does hereby declare its intentions to issue bonds in the principal amount of Two Hundred Thousand ($200,000.00) Dollars, for the purpose of financing the reappraisal of all taxable real and personal property within Prentiss County, Mississippi.

SECTION 2. That said Board of Supervisors proposes to direct the issuance of all or any portion of the bonds in the amount and for the purpose aforesaid at a meeting of the Board to be held at its regular meeting place in the County Courthouse in the City of Booneville, Mississippi, at 10:00 a.m. on the 12th day of March, 1984, or at some meeting held subsequent thereto. If 20 percent or Fifteen Hundred (1,500), whichever is less of the qualified electors of said County shall file a written protest with the Clerk of the Board against the issuance of the bonds on or before the aforesaid date and hour, then the bonds shall not be issued for that County in which a written protest was presented unless authorized at an election on the question of the issuance of the bonds in the County so affected by the written protest, such election shall be called and held as provided by law. If no protest is filed, then the bonds may be issued for the County without an election on the question of the issuance thereof at any time within a period of two years after the date above specified.

SECTION 3. That this resolution shall be published once per week for at least three (3) consecutive weeks in the Banner Independent, a newspaper published in the City of Booneville, Prentiss County, Mississippi, having a general circulation in the County, and qualified under the provisions of Section 13-3-31, Mississippi Code of 1972. The first publication of the Resolutions shall be made not less than twenty-one (21) days prior to the date fixed herein for the issuance of the bonds and the last publication shall be made not more than seven (7) days prior to such date, said Resolution being published on February 16, 23 and March 1 and 8, 1984.

SECTION 4. That the Clerk of the Board shall be and is hereby directed to procure from the publisher of the aforesaid newspaper the customary proof of said publication of the Resolution and have the same before the Board on the date and hour specified in Section 2 hereof.

Supervisor Larry Barron seconded the motion to adopt the foregoing Resolution, and the question being put to a roll call vote, the result was as follows:

Management Training Program Offered At UM Tupelo Branch

A first-line management training program is scheduled to start March 13, 1984, at the Tupelo branch campus of the University of Mississippi. This is a six-week seminar meeting once a week for three hours per session on Tuesday afternoons.

limited in order that the participants may achieve greater learning effectiveness.

For additional information, inquires should be directed to the University of Mississippi, Tupelo branch, Route 2, Box 33, Tupelo, MS 38801, or call (601) 844-5622.

This program is but one segment of the national model for technical career development (more commonly referred to as the Tupelo model). The Tupelo model is a joint civic effort to upgrade professional skills in response to industry's stated needs. The cooperative efforts involve the public school system, the junior colleges and universities, and industry. The guidance and inspiration for this joint venture is being provided by Tupelo's community development foundation and the Tennessee Valley Authority who adopted the Tupelo Model earlier as a research project.

During the research phase, supervisor and manager training was identified by representatives from industry as being one of the most important considerations which the Model needed to provide. The supervisory management seminar which is starting in the month of March is a part of a management development training series and was developed in response to this earlier identified priority.

The supervisory management seminar addresses itself to: the role of the supervisor; effective communications; motivating employees for job performance; leadership; performance appraisal, coaching and counseling; and constructive employee discipline. Attendance to the seminar will be

Sorrell And Teammates To Graduate

End Of An Era In BHS Girls' Basketball

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

The Kunshinge Sorrell era at Booneville High School is over. The two-time all-state performer and her teammates ended their season last week when New Hope's Lady Trojans defeated the Devilettes in the opening round of the North State Tourney.

Finishing the 1983-84 season at 25-7, the Devilettes, under the direction of coach Mickey Wood, have compiled several impressive seasons during the past few years.

A 27-2 record and a trip to the state tournament two years ago was the most impressive. And last year the Lady Devils finished at 26-6 earning another berth in the state playoffs.

Leading a team to 78-15 record over a three year period is not shabby, especially if you happen to be a girl leading a girls' team. But Sorrell has done just that while posting a personal scoring average of over 24 points per game.

Though sought after by many schools, according to Coach Wood, Sorrell is leaning toward NEMJC or, perhaps, Mississippi State.

But Sorrell hasn't been the only factor in the past success at Booneville. Another impressive Devilette has been Sovenia Harris, also now a senior. Harris, known as Booneville's Ms. Rebound, averaged 10 points and over 15 rebounds per contest.

Harris turned in a key performance against Alcorn Central, scoring 18 points and grabbing 23 rebounds. She also cleared 19 rebounds against Biggersville earlier in the year.

The 5'10" center is considered by Wood to be one of the team leaders this past season.

Michelle Young also played a key role for Booneville this season, as did Kelly Scott. Young, whom Wood calls his "steadiest player," played consistently throughout the year and led the Booneville ladies defensively.

"Michelle can play defense, handle the ball and shoot well," Wood said. "She is also easy to coach and very team-oriented."

Scott, a 5'7" forward-guard, was thrust into the point guard position for Booneville this fall. A good rebounder and a hustler, Scott is considered by Wood to be the best fundamental player on the team. Playing tough, hard-nosed defense is one of Kelly's characteristics.

Daphne Harvey stepped into the Booneville lineup this year and really made a key contribution to the team. The 5'9" center-forward led the Booneville full-court press in the District tourney, what probably put Booneville into the North Half.

Wood believes Harvey really added hustle to the team and said she always played with emotion.

Tori Smith, a 5'5" guard, played with injuries throughout this past season. However, when the fiery player was in the line-up, she added her deadly outside shot to the Devilettes attack. Smith is also credited with last year's win over Hollandale-Simmons; the win that sent Booneville into the second round of the North State tourney.

Wood said Smith also showed good hustle throughout the year.

Two other seniors, Tammy Jones and Dale Williams, rounded out the Devilette squad. Although they only saw limited action, they played a key part in the Booneville attack several times during the year.

Wood credits the two as being team leaders and really making the others work extremely hard in the practices.

"Both Tammy and Dale gave fine efforts during the year," Wood said. "They mean as much to our team as the starters." All the above does not necessarily indicate that the Lady Devils will not have a good team next year. But it will always be hard to match the talent and leadership that this team has shown.

Kunshinge Sorrell

"They really came together this year, and it will be tough to replace them next year," Wood said.

"Actually, it will be impossible to replace such talent as we had this year," he added.

Lady Tigers Hosting Tournament

The Lady Tigers of Northeast Mississippi Junior College will play hosts to the Mississippi Junior College Women's Basketball Tournament Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 29 and March 1 in the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

Under the direction of coach Ricky Ford, the Lady Tigers hustled to two wins over Holmes and Northwest in the first two rounds of the North Division Tournament at Coahoma Junior College. However, a meeting with Mississippi Delta proved too much for Northeast in the finals held Saturday, Feb. 25 in Clarksdale.

A defeat of the Lady Bulldogs of Holmes set up a head-to-head contest between Northeast and Northwest in Friday night action Feb. 24.

The Lady Tigers came out on top of the Lady Rangers 81-78 after ending the half four points ahead. Dianne Harris led the Lady Tigers with 21 points while Vanessa Groves followed closely with 20 of her own. Trina Bullock added 16 points and Valerie Beasley contributed 13. The win catapulted Northeast into the finals with Mississippi Delta, a team that was destined to become the North's top contender for the state crown.

The Lady Tigers took early dominance of the game, leading the entire first half. However, as the clock sounded ending the half, the Lionettes tied the score at 48. East Mississippi went on to take the 96-90 heart-breaker from the women of Northeast.

Dianne Harris was again the top Tiger scorer with 29 on the night. Valerie Beasley had 18, Ruby Tyes came through with 17, Vanessa Groves scored 14 and Amy Wheat delivered 10.

The 18-6 Lady Tigers will take on Copiah-Lincoln at 6 p.m. Wednesday with the East Mississippi Lionettes scheduled to take on Utica, the South's number two team, at 7 p.m. The two winners will square off for the State Championship at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Football Jamboree At NEMJC Tomorrow

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Northeast Mississippi Junior College's Keenum Stadium will play host to a football jamboree for five local high schools tomorrow night as the teams wrap up their spring workouts.

Booneville, Kossuth, Baldwyn, Corinth, and Fulton all plan to field teams in the event scheduled to get underway at 5 p.m.

Each team will play each of the other teams for one twelve minute quarter. A total of twenty quarters will be played with the five teams participating. There will be no kick-offs of field goals, only punting.

Each team starts at the thirty yard line and marches from there. Mississippi High School Athletic Association officials will referee the scrimmages to give them a "game-like" atmosphere.

Booneville coach Wayne Jones said he feels the jamboree will be beneficial to all the teams, especially his young Blue Devils.

"Our kids are young and need the experience," Jones said. "This jamboree will give our kids that playing time they need."

Jones said he and his coaching staff plan to use the scrimmage to evaluate the players, especially the young players who will get a good looking over by the coaching staff.

Jones and his squad have been conducting workouts for several weeks with the jamboree scrimmage closing out the spring session.

However, each Mississippi high school is allowed twenty days of practice and Booneville still has six extra days.

"If we don't look good in this jamboree, we'll use those extra few days and continue to work," Jones added. "It all depends on how we do in the scrimmages whether we'll extend the workouts."

The jamboree will give Booneville a chance to gain some revenge over two opponents, Baldwyn and Kossuth. Both teams soundly beat the Devils last fall.

Admission for the "spring spectacular" is $2.00 for everyone.

Spring Bass Tournaments Scheduled

By GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

Recent warm weather had area fishermen out on the lakes trying their luck. Many people may not know the Booneville area has several fishing clubs that are organizing tournaments for both serious fishermen and those who simply fish to relax.

The Tennessee-Tombigbee Bassmasters' Fishing Club will meet March 4 to set tournament brackets and to consider new members. The meeting will be at the home of Charles (Doc) Gullett, 204 Foster Park, Booneville.

Membership fees are $15. Tournament entry fees are $10 per tournament, with 90 percent of the money returned to tournament winners. The Tenn-Tom Bassmasters Club sponsors 10 tournaments a year, with the 10th being the "classic" that determines the club's top fisherman. The site for that tournament will be announced at a later date.

Gullett, an active club member, said, "I really love to fish because it's real relaxing to me. There really is nothing better to me than bass fishing."

Another fishing tournament held in the area is the America Cancer Society's annual tournament. This year's tournament, the ACS's fifth, will be held at Pickwick Landing. The sponsor will be Coca Cola Bottling Company of Tupelo and Corinth.

All proceeds go to the American Cancer Society. The entry fee is $25. The tournament winner will receive a check for $5,000. There will be other cash prizes.

Last year the tournament netted $7,200 for the American Cancer Society.

Tournament chairman Larry James said, "We think this is a real good way to help the fight against cancer."

Anyone interested in participating or desiring information on the tournament should contact James in Corinth at 286-2201.

For information on the Tenn-Tom Club, contact Gullett at 728-

8385. cording to enthusiasts, some of the hot spots this year are the new Bay Springs Lake and Sardis Lake.

New Pastor Arrives For Oak Hill Baptist Church

The Rev. Dwight Massengill is the new pastor at the Oak Hill Baptist Church.

Bro. Massengill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Massengill of Rienzi.

Prior to accepting the position as pastor at Oak Hill, he served as pastor of the Powhatan Baptist Church in Powhatan Point, Ohio, since 1981.

He is a graduate of Biggersville High School, Northeast Junior College, and Blue Mountain College. He received a Master of Divinity degree from the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth Texas in 1981.

In 1981 he was recognized by the Jaycees in Powhatan as one of the Outstanding Young Men of America.

His career has included Texas Alcohol and Narcotics Education, representative, Dallas; pastor of Friendship Baptist Church, Ripley; Home Mission Board Summer Missionary of the Southern Baptist Convention, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

He was Training Union music director, Training Union youth teacher, and Sunday school music director in 1970, 1971, and 1972, respectively at Rienzi Baptist Church.

In 1976 Bro. Massengill made an evangelistic tour of earthquake stricken Guatemala and in 1979 made a tour of Israel to acquaint himself with geography, history, customs, and archaeology of the land.

Bro. Massengill resides at 407 Hatchie Street.

Music & Talent Association Benefit March 10 In Tupelo

A benefit for the Mississippi Music and Talent Association will be held Saturday, March 10, at the Civic Auditorium in Tupelo, according to Nina Taylor.

The association is a non-profit organization created to help promote music in the state, she said.

There will be two separate events on March 10, Mrs. Taylor said. The benefit show will begin at 7 p.m. and artists may have songs videotaped beginning at 2 p.m.

The videotapes will be shown at Fanfare in Opryland in June and various TV shows, Mrs. Taylor said.

The videotaping is free to members of the Mississippi Music and Talent Association. Membership is $25 a year, she said. There are presently 78 members in the association.

For more information concerning the benefit show, phone Mrs. Taylor at 728-8713 or write her at P.O. Box 668, Booneville, MS 38829.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

PRAYING FOR OTHERS WILL HELP US IN OUR OWN PAIN

Is Anyone Among You Suffering? Let Him Pray — James 5:13 (RSV)

Adapted From The Upper Room

I entered the hospital for tests to confirm my illness. Fearing the worst, I waited until the last minute to check in and was appalled when they told me the only bed they had left was in a four-bed ward. I have been in the hospital many times but had always had a private room. Could I endure being with three other sick women? I left orders for a transfer as soon as possible.

From my bed I began to observe the other patients. The woman across from me had had a stroke, paralyzing one side of her body. I smiled at her and some communication passed between us.

The ailments of the woman next to her were unknown to me, but when her doctor asked her brusquely if she would go to a nursing home when he dismissed her, she began to cry. She lived alone and was unable to care for herself. The woman next to me was very ill, awaiting an operation. We shared our sufferings.

I found myself praying for them, asking God to heal them. Others, too, lived with pain. My loneliness and self-pity disappeared, and I canceled my request for a private room.

NEMJC BAND CLINIC - These Prentiss County School band students recently participated in the Northeast Band Directors' Clinic, held at NEMJC Feb. 17 and 18. High school students auditioned for places in the high school band. Junior high students were selected from lists submitted by their directors. The high school clinician was Dr. James Simpson, University of North Alabama. The junior high clinician was David Willson, band director at Columbus Caldwell H.S. The two bands performed in a concert with the NEMJC Symphonic Band Saturday night, Feb. 18. Prentiss County students attending the clinic were (left to right) Nina Moorman, Mitzi Cosby and Ron Williams - Thrasher; Tammy Owens - Jumpertown; Tina White and Kim Armstrong - Hills Chapel; and Katrina Akers - New Site. Commissions For Doctors & Nurses

USAF Offering Scholarships To Attract Medical Personnel

The Air Force is offering more than 200 scholarships that can ease the financial strain for those interested in pursuing a health care occupation and allow students to concentrate more on studies, according to Sgt. John T. Maxwell of the Tupelo Recruiting Office.

The four-year Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarships pay full tuition plus the cost of books, fees and laboratory expenses and more than $550 per month for living expenses, Sgt. Maxwell said.

"To be eligible, a student must be a U.S. citizen accepted for enrollment in an approved school of allopathic or osteopathic medicine," he said, adding that participation is based on competitive selection.

Sgt. Maxwell said there is a two-year Air Force service obligation for the first two years a student is in the program. Thereafter, there is a six-month obligation for every six months or less participation. Students without prior military service must serve a minimum of three years, he said.

Students serve 45 days annual active duty as an Air Force 2nd lieutenant, drawing full pay and allowances for that grade. And, during this time, they perform limited clinical duties or attend an Air Force orientation course, he said.

"The training period is designed to provide meaningful military and professional experience appropriate to educational level and abilities," Sgt. Maxwell said.

The recruiter said the Air Force is also looking for registered nurses and more than 70 already trained physicians in critical specialties during fiscal year 1984.

"Currently, the Air Force needs physicians with specialties in orthopedic surgery, general surgery, otolaryngology, obstetrics-gynecology and psychiatry," he said.

Qualified physicians entering the Air Force receive direct commissions in the grades of captain to lieutenant colonel, depending upon their previous experience and education, Sgt. Maxwell said.

Physicians can choose their initial base, provided a vacancy exists, and are provided assignment details prior to obligation. After commissioning, the Air Force assigns them to medical facilities ranging in size from out-patient clinics, similar to professional municipal clinics, to large teaching centers like the 1,000 bed Wilford Hall USAF Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas.

Registered nurses joining the Air Force also become commissioned officers, Sgt. Maxwell said.

"The Air Force offers many challenging opportunities for personal and professional growth,"

"You must initially agree to a three-year obligation, but you will know where you will be assigned before taking the oath of office," Sgt. Maxwell said.

While Providing Energy & Protein

Nutritional Extenders Can Help Stretch Your Food Budget

By ANN O. RUSHING
Extension Marketing Specialist

Macaroni foods are fine budget stretchers because they help extend more expensive foods. They are nutritional "extenders" providing important energy and vegetable protein.

When combined with small amounts of meat, eggs, cheese or fish, they provide appetizing, economical, and nourishing main dishes for a pleasant change after the rich holiday foods.

Best quality macaroni produces, (spaghetti, macaroni, noodles), are made from Durum wheat. This is a spring wheat, grown chiefly in Minnesota, Montana, and the Dakotas, and is relatively high in protein and low in starch. When milled, Durum breaks into granules about the size and texture of salt.

The granula substance is called semolina. In making macaroni foods, water is mixed with semolina to make a stiff dough. After all the ingredients are blended, kneaded, and cut in the desired shapes and lengths -- the macaroni foods are dried, not baked.

The amber color of the wheat is reflected in the rich cream color of the finished products, which are hard and brittle.

Noodles are made from the same mixture of semolina and water, but differ from their macaroni cousins in that they contain egg yolks.

Vegetables such as spinach, tomatoes, beets, carrots, or parsley may be added to macaroni products. The name of the vegetable is included in the name of the product. Spinach egg noodles are an example.

Most macaroni foods are enriched with iron and B vitamins. Enriched products must be labeled "enriched" and the nutrients listed on the package.

Spaghetti, macaroni and noodles are made in wondrous and exciting designs. In fact, these good foods are available in more than 150 different shapes. The supermarket has a large variety of shapes and sizes, and a visit to an Italian delicatessen or grocery store will acquaint you with many more interesting variations.

Macaroni is generally short and tubular. Spaghetti and vermicelli are longer and rod-shaped. Noodles are flat and are usually formed into ribbons.

There are the elbows and rods -- and there are shells, bows, stars, alphabets, spirals, corkscrews, little pipes and turbans. There are straight ribbons and curly ribbons, fine noodles, medium noodles and wide noodles.

Lasagna is a popular food these days. It looks somewhat like a broad noodle, but contains no egg. Vermicelli is a thinner version of spaghetti.

Glamorous shapes usually cost a little more than the usual shapes, but the extra eye-appeal may sometimes justify the extra cost.

Generally speaking, all macaroni foods may be used interchangeably. Just substitute them weight for weight. The small shapes are best in soup and the larger varieties have a better appearance with sauce. Some shapes are particularly suited for holding sauce. Others can be stuffed with a meat or cheese mixture.

All of the macaroni products will almost double in volume when cooked. One ounce of uncooked macaroni makes an average serving, but many prefer to cook an ounce a half per person to allow for "seconds." Families with teenagers should allow about two ounces uncooked macaroni per serving.

Some like macaroni products rather chewy and firm. Others like them quite tender. There is one don't; never overcook to a soft, mushy stage.

Macaroni, spaghetti, or noodles are done when a piece "pressed" gently with a spoon against the side of the pan cuts cleanly. Follow the general cooking directions on the manufacturer's package. Cooking time varies with the product. Give the budget a boost with macaroni products.

Goal Of Extension Service's "War On Ugliness" Is A More Beautiful Mississippi

Dr. Bob T. Chapin, coordinator of the Land Use Center of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, launched a spring offensive in the War On Ugliness on Thursday, Feb. 9.

"Sixty enthusiastic people from all over the state enlisted to continue the battle in Mississippi and to prepare brightspots for the 1984 World's Fair," Chapin said. He reported that, in 1983, 22 counties fought the War On Ugliness in Mississippi.

Gerald Barber, Canton landscape architect, explained how to develop a community brightspot. He stated that it takes the right people to get a project done. "A brightspot also needs the right spot -- where people can see it and maintain it," said Barber.

Jim Perry, horticulturist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, and Charles Scoggins, assistant coordinator of campus landscape at Mississippi State University, spoke on how to have year round brightspots. Proper plant selection and soil preparation help decrease the amount of maintenance needed. Regular watering and spraying to prevent disease and insects will reduce plant loss and injury.

George Parsons, professor of architecture at MSU, explained the Mississippi Main Street program, which is designed to improve the appearance and economy of downtowns. "Both public and private sectors must be involved and committed for a Main Street program to succeed," Parsons stated. "It is basically a return to community self-reliance."

Mrs. Linda Shepard, manager of the Leake County Chamber of Commerce, demonstrated how to develop a community beautification program through people and publicity. She cited a beautification project in Leake County that was a "blooming success." "Residents have planted more than 15,000 dogwood trees in Leake County since 1981," Mrs. Shepard said.

Robert Roark, community specialist with Tennessee Valley Authority, explained how community appearance affects tourism. "The degree to which Mississippi communities gear up to impress world's fair visitors with their hospitality, beauty and variety of activity will have a great deal to do with whether these visitors return to Mississippi," Roark said.

"Litter destroys the beauty of our environment," said Bob Kochtitzky of the Jackson Recycling Center, "and also costs the Mississippi State Highway Department $500,000 a year in cleanup costs." Kochtitzky explained two solutions to the solid waste problem: (1) recycling, and (2) deposit laws, commonly called "bottle bills."

Ralph Ballew, leader of the MCES Information Department, told participants how to use the press, radio and TV to improve community appearance. "Invite media representatives in your community to serve on community appearance committees," said Ballew. "Know what information and assistance your media people need to get the best coverage. Help them and they'll be glad to help you," he said.

Proceedings of the War On Ugliness Workshop are available from the Land Use Center. "We also have a handbook listing 13 different operations to improve community appearance," Chapin said. Send $5 for each item to the Land Use Center, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, Box 5405, Mississippi State, Miss. 39762.

POSTER CHILD - Seven-year-old Samatha Bordages, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel T. Bordages Jr., of Lakeshore, has been selected as the 1984 Mississippi March of Dimes Poster Child. Sam was born without part of both arms and legs and functions remarkably well, with or without her prosthesis. She represents the more than 3,000 children born each year in Mississippi with physical or mental damage. Sam will be traveling throughout the state encouraging Mississippians to support the March of Dimes in its fight to prevent this nation's most serious child health problem - birth defects.
