Voting Light

Less than five percent of Prentiss County's registered voters turned out for Tuesday's Democratic Primary, according to Circuit Clerk Travis Cox.

Cox said out of over 16,000 registered voters only 761 cast ballots.

County results on the three contested races were as follows:

U.S. Senate

Winter - 524; Gilbert - 87; Easley - 78; Taylor - 70.

U.S. Representative

Whitten - 705; Weathers - 56.

State Supreme Court Judge

Robertson - 477; Brown - 289.

Construction Ahead

Construction at Baptist Memorial Hospital is running ahead of schedule and most of the work on the new building should be completed by the end of June, according to hospital administrator John Tompkins.

The remainder of the work on the building cannot be completed until new equipment arrives and is installed.

"Target date of completion for phase one of the hospital has been set for Aug. 1," Tompkins said. "This date has been set in contingent with the arrival of new and very sophisticated equipment for the new building and inspection."

Claim Paid

A bonding company for former Alcorn County tax assessor-collector James William Crow Jr. last week paid $32,168.65 to the state attorney general's office.

Crow pled guilty in February 1983 to four charges of failing to pay over to the state funds received by him on motor vehicle taxes. He was fined $4,400 and removed from office.

The state auditor's office made a demand for repayment of $31,693.27. The check received by the attorney general's office last week represents this money plus three month's interest, the maximum collectable from the bonding company, according to assistant attorney general Pete Cajoleas.

Bogus Tax Appraisers

It has been reported to the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department that people posing as reappraisers for the Prentiss County Tax Assessor's Office have been going to some homes in the county.

The people who are really conducting the reappraisal for Prentiss County Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers will have identification showing that they work for the county.

The vehicle they are driving will have "Prentiss County Tax Assessor" on it and they will also carry proper identification, a spokesman for the sheriff's department said Tuesday.

"These people who are disguising themselves as reappraisers are up to no good," the sheriff's department spokesman said. "Mostly they have been going to the homes of elderly people. We think they're 'casing' the houses so they can return later to break into the homes."

Anyone who sees someone posing as a reappraiser should call the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department at 728-6232.

Break Down

A bridge located on a gravel road in Dry Creek Bottom near Jumptown fell in about 4 p.m. Wednesday of last week as Jeannean Wells (pictured at left) attempted to cross it in a truck loaded with 285 sacks of soybeans. Jeannean, the 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Wells, was driving the truck for her father to a field where the soybeans were to be planted. As a result of the accident, about 10 sacks of the soybeans were lost in the water of the creek. In the photo at left, most of the remaining sacks can be seen stacked in the road on the opposite side of the creek. Jeannean, who was alone in the truck at the time of the accident, was not injured. As of Tuesday, the bridge had not been repaired. It is expected that the entire bridge will have to be replaced.

Murder Trial Slated For June Term

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

A murder trial in which a Booneville man is charged with the shooting death of another Prentiss Countian is scheduled to be heard during the June term of Prentiss County Circuit Court.

James L. Stoop, 57, of 100 Price Lane, Booneville, was indicted for murder in connection with the Oct. 13, 1983, shooting of a New Site teacher, Charles Williams, 41, of Route 7, Booneville.

Stoop's trial is scheduled to be heard Tuesday, June 26.

Williams was shot once in the back with a 30.06 high powered rifle while he was in his pickup on Mt. Pisgah Road, law authorities said.

Stoop was allegedly in another vehicle on the right-of-way of Highway 4 -- which is only about a quarter of a mile from Williams' home.

Both vehicles were stopped when the shooting occurred, officers said. Two shots were fired.

The shot that struck Williams went through the pickup's tailgate, bed, back of the cab, and the truck seat. Although only one shot struck Williams, the shot fragmented, hitting him in two spots, according to James Horn of the North Mississippi Ambulance Service.

The other shot struck the left hand side of the back glass.

Williams was taken to the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo. He died Oct. 30.

Stoop reportedly turned himself in to the sheriff's department at midnight on the day of the shooting. Officers said the motive for the shooting was "a misunderstanding," but declined further comment.

The following cases are also scheduled to be heard:

Monday, June 25

Thomas T. Harris, burglary and larceny of a dwelling.

Bobby D. Stevenson, grand larceny of a vehicle.

Jerry Smith, grand larceny.

William Odell Agnew, burglary of a vehicle.

Ronnie Boren, grand larceny.

Rosie Marie Rogan, burglary and larceny of a dwelling.

Ranford Huguley, receiving stolen property.

Bobby McKinney, grand larceny. Lee Norris Barnett, grand larceny.

Benjamin (Benny) King, grand larceny.

Tuesday, June 26

James L. Stoop, murder.

O'Neal Turner and Linda Lawson, conspiracy to commit arson. Turner is also charged with arson.

Sidewalks Requested For Sunflower

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Two Sunflower Community leaders, Prentiss Harris and Lewis Ragins, attended the June meeting of the Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen Tuesday night to request sidewalks for their community.

Bro. Harris, pastor of the Spring Hill Baptist Church, pointed out that the area is without sidewalks making it dangerous for both children and the elderly walking in the community.

Harris said there have been several instances of people being hit by cars while walking along the edge of Sunflower's streets. He said Police Chief Bobby Lambert, who was present at the meeting, could verify this.

Lambert nodded his agreement.

"I want to know what I can do as a leader in the Sunflower Community," Harris told the board. "Do I need to organize the people? Do I need to help raise money to be used for the project, or what?"

Mayor Charles Crabb told Harris that a resolution had already been prepared for consideration of the board at the meeting. The resolution authorizes him to request a Community Development Block Grant for 75 percent funding on such a project.

Crabb said if the grant is approved plans call for the construction of sidewalks in the area bounded by Lake and Smith Streets on the east and west and Triplett and Church Streets on the north and south, plus Mimosa Drive and the subdivision behind the Park Lane factory.

"We do want your input and all the backing you can get us on this," Crabb told Harris. He said specifically he needed a letter from Harris describing the dangers created in the area by the lack of sidewalks.

"We will be holding a public hearing on the request at our next regular meeting on July 3. And it would be good if you could attend," Crabb said. "And, if we get approval, we will probably need your help in getting some needed easements."

Crabb pointed out that this was the second time such a grant has been requested. He said it was turned down in 1983. He said the project would cost between $140,000 and $150,000 with the city providing 25 percent of the money.

Harris pledged his assistance, saying he would write the letter and would be present at the public hearing.

Lewis Ragins, who accompanied Harris, told the board he would also help in any way he could. He said he had attended the meeting both to support Harris in his request and to

Friday Night Wreck Claims One Life

A 20-year-old Booneville man died Saturday from injuries he received in a one car wreck on Osborne Creek Road late Friday night.

The accident occurred around 11:08 p.m. June 1, when Terry John Morelock of Route 2, Booneville, apparently lost control of the 1969 Chevrolet he was driving. Morelock was alone when the accident occurred.

According to the Booneville Police Department, who investigated the accident, Morelock was traveling west on Osborne Creek Road (also known as College Street) at a "high rate of speed" when he lost control of the vehicle on a slight curve to the left.

"He left the road on the right hand side of the road and traveled 80 feet and came back in the road and went 103 feet across the road. He then left the road on the left side and traveled 80 feet and struck a tree and traveled 31 feet and struck another tree," the report states.

The car flipped over and went 73 feet before coming to a rest on the right hand side of the road, the report said.

Excessive speed was cited as the cause of the accident. Officers estimated that Morelock was traveling over 75 m.p.h. in a 35 m.p.h. speed zone.

Morelock died at the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo.

Services for Morelock were held Sunday, June 4, at 2 p.m. at McMillan Funeral Home chapel with Bro. Larry Hill officiating. Burial was in Blackland Cemetery.

He was employed at H&W Industries.

He is survived by his parents, John W. Morelock of Corinth and Mrs. Sandra Smith of Booneville; a half-brother, B.J. Smith of Booneville; two half-sisters, Penny Morelock of Corinth and Lori Smith of Booneville; and his grandparents, Sam Morelock of Corinth and Mrs. Irvin Strange of Booneville.

thank the board for appointing him to the city school board.

Alderman R.G. Houston reported to the board on progress in the construction of the new football field.

He said he had an opportunity to obtain seating for the field at a special price, $48,000 for aluminum bleachers that would seat approximately 1500.

Houston said the seating would then be installed by the city. He said the amount would pay for everything but the press box, which would be extra, but said he felt he could get donations to pay for it.

Houston said he felt the seating could be paid for with proceeds from park concessions. He said this would leave only the fence and lighting to pay for.

Houston asked board attorney Eugene Gifford if it would be proper for the city to sell revenue bonds to pay for the fence and lighting.

Gifford said it would and it was decided that bonds in the amount of $40,000 would be issued, maturing in five years.

Houston said he felt sure they could be paid off in that time with proceeds from park concessions.

In other business, the board awarded a contract for construction of a sewer line to Tidwell and Associates. Tidwell's bid of $15,992 was the only one submitted.

Alderman Charles Steen announced that the police department has posted notice for a new patrolman to replace Officer Billy Stevenson, who has resigned to accept a job with Parker Hannifin.

Alderman Bluford Allen received approval to advertise for the purchase of a new trenching machine and trailer for the water and gas department.

The board approved a new policy for the gas department to stimulate the use of natural gas during summer months. According to the policy, any new gas customers who agree to use year-round service for such things as gas hot water heaters and gas ranges would receive free installation of gas service.

Adult Student College Workshop Planned At Northeast

When adults are debating on whether to return to college, it seems a multitude of "good excuses" for not returning crop up. But Northeast Mississippi Junior College has set up an Adult Student College Workshop program to try and minimize the number of "good excuses."

Scheduled for June 19-20, the workshop is designed to provide adult students with the skills necessary to be successful in the pursuit of higher education.

Director of Student Counseling J. Connie Drown said the overall purpose of the workshop is to help adults find that they can overcome any obstacle and be successful in college.

"What we try to do is bring them to campus and help them realize that with certain fundamental skills, they really can be successful here," Drown said.

Some of the skills Drown said the students can learn are how to study, take notes and prepare for exams, how to choose a college major suited to one's interests, aptitude and personality and how to change doubts into positive thoughts through self-affirmation exercises.

Perhaps the most important part of preparation for attending college for many students concerns financing their education. The workshop provides prospective students with complete financial aid forms and aid in filling them out properly.

"This is the third year we've had an Adult Student Workshop, and we've been extremely pleased with our previous results," Drown said. "All that have come through the program have been quite successful in college. Many were surprised to find what they could do. Our success rate with this program has really been significant."

And Drown added that adults thinking about enrolling in college need not feel alone. Northeast usually has approximately 500 non-traditional adult students enrolled.

Registration for the workshop will begin at 9 a.m. in Patterson Hall June 19, followed by the welcome address, a self-affirmation session and a career decision-making segment.

On day two, the workshop will begin again at 9 a.m. with a study skills session, followed by information on financial aid.

The workshop will end with college orientation and a tour of the campus.

The workshop is provided at no cost to those who wish to attend, and those who do attend will receive one continuing education unit.

For more information, contact the Counseling Center at Northeast Mississippi Junior College, Booneville, Miss. 38829, or call 728-7751, extension 235.

City Signs Contract For Garbage Service

According to an announcement this week, the city has finalized a contract with Refuse System Inc. of Corinth for residential and commercial garbage and yard trash collection within the city limits.

"We feel that this is a progressive move that will provide an equitable solution to an increasing problem, and we will greatly appreciate your cooperation during the period of the transition," the board says in an official statement to the public.

The contract with the Corinth firm was signed May 22 and will take effect July 1.

The board says that a detailed evaluation and analysis showed that the city is losing approximately $70,000 a year by using city trucks and crew to collect garbage. The board expected this loss to "vastly increase" over the next five years.

The analysis also indicated that it would cost the city approximately $250,000 to purchase new trucks and containers and pay for maintenance and labor if it continued to offer city garbage pickup.

Under the agreement with Refuse Systems, city service to commercial customers will be discontinued on June 15. Refuse Systems will contact commercial customers regarding containerized garbage service, a spokesman for the board said.

County WIC Program Now Serving 693

Some 693 Prentiss County women, babies, and children are already getting special supplemental foods and nutrition education through the WIC Program - others could be eligible, too.

WIC is the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children. Administered through the Mississippi State Department of Health, the Program provides dietary addition and nutrition education to Mississippi's most nutritionally vulnerable group: low-income pregnant and breast-feeding women, their babies, and children under age five.

On physician and self-referral, participants are certified at the county health department or independent health clinic as having economic and nutritional need. WIC clients pick up food packages each month at a centrally located food distribution center; recertification is done at six-month intervals.

Special supplemental food packages for women and children include iron-fortified cereal, fruit juice, eggs, and milk products. Youngsters up to 12 months get iron-fortified formula, iron-fortified infant cereal, and infant juice.

Congress created WIC because studies showed that women who suffer from malnutrition during pregnancy risk permanent physical and mental damage to their unborn children. The program is specifically designed to serve as an adjunct to good health care during critical periods of human growth and development.

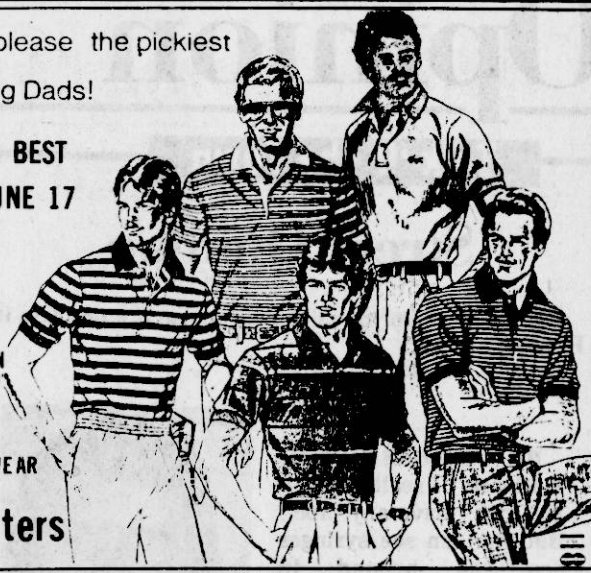

For more information about WIC or to apply for certification in Prentiss County, readers may contact the Prentiss County Health Department, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Let The Bible Answer

Charles W. Leonard

Hill's Chapel Church Of Christ

ROUTE 5, BOX 271 — BOONEVILLE, MISS.

CAN ONE JOIN THE CHURCH?

Many speak of joining the church as though they had selected and joined their favorite club. It is common for people to tell of being saved and then joining the church of their choice, but such is not taught in the Bible.

The Bible teaches that the Lord only has one church. (Matt. 16:18, Eph. 4:4, 1 Cor. 12:13, 20) One is not at liberty to join the church of his choice and still be right with God. One must be a member of the church of Christ's choice.

To be in Christ is to be in the church and only the Bible tells us how to get into Christ and the church. One is in Christ and the church only when he is baptized into Christ and into the church. (Rom. 6:3, Gal. 3:26-27, 1 Cor. 12:13) When one believes, repents, confesses Christ and is baptized, the Lord adds him to the church. (Acts 2:41, 47) No man or organization has the right to vote one into the church or to vote one out. Only the Lord can add people to His church, when they obey the truth. (Acts 2:47)

Any religious group which one can join cannot be the Lord's church, because the Lord adds people to His church. There is not a Bible example of anyone joining the Lord's church. When one obeys God's plan of salvation, the Lord adds him to His church. Acts 2:47 reads, "... praising God, and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved."

Obey the Lord and let Him add you to His church. He makes no mistakes.

Talk 'O The Town

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think drug abuse is a problem in Prentiss County?

BILL STAGGS of Route 3, Rienzi: "I really think it is. I don't have any proof. But you can see syringes scattered around in various places. Yes, I think there's a drug problem."

DICK WHITE of Marietta: "I've only lived here since March. In talking to the people I've met, from teenagers to retirees, I really haven't heard drugs mentioned. So as a newcomer, I'd say no."

GERALD BENNETT of Route 7, Booneville: "Yes, I believe it is. According to the young people I talk to there's quite a bit of it in the schools."

DWIGHT LINDSEY of Route 1, Burnsville: "I believe there's a drug abuse problem everywhere. People need to be more interested in reporting it when they see it instead of turning their head and letting it go."

ANN RYAN of Route 2, Booneville: "Definitely. I know there's a lot more going on in the schools now than when I was there five years ago."

CLARA BENNETT of Meridian: "I think it's all over. I feel drug abuse is that way in each little town and city. I'm sure it's here, too."

(Editor's note: "Talk O' The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

I hope there is someone out there who can help my friend.

My friend, who wishes to remain anonymous, has a problem that even I cannot solve.

She has a snake in her house. As far as she knows, the snake is in the attic -- at least that's where he shed his skin. She discovered the snakeskin last weekend.

She fears the snake will not stay confined to the attic.

As you can imagine, a snake in the house (or anywhere) is really no laughing matter.

She went through this same ordeal last summer when another snake took up residence in her home. She didn't discover that snake until she stepped on it while it was stretched across her bedroom floor. It was a very unpleasant way to discover a snake in the house.

Luckily, a neighbor came to her rescue and killed the snake for her.

And now she finds herself in the same boat (with a snake) again. You can imagine how uncomfortable it is to think that a snake could be anywhere in the house -- somewhere where you least expect it.

She isn't really sure how the snakes are getting inside the house. It would be nice to think if this snake got in, he could get out. But there's no way to be sure of that.

Meanwhile, is there anyone who has a solution to getting the snake out of the house?

I've tried to think of some way to rid her house of the snake, but for once, I'm perplexed.

I suggested having a snake hunt in her house. But no one would go with me. Thank goodness.

Anyone who knows what my friend should do about getting rid of the snake, please call me so I can tell her.

I'll tell one more snake incident -- then I won't mention snakes anymore for awhile.

Some friends told me this weekend about a woman who was spending a few days in a house that had been closed up for awhile in Thrasher.

She had been sitting on a couch looking at some old pictures. After she finished looking at the photos, she began cleaning the house. When she moved the cushions on the couch, she discovered a snake.

By the way, for those of you who might be wondering who my friend is who has a snake in the house -- I'll give you two clues. (1) She works where I do. (2) Some skunks once took up residence under her house.

Cochran's Voting Record To Be An Issue

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. -- Thad Cochran will be the first Mississippi Senator in many years whose voting record in Washington will be a major issue in a re-election campaign.

In the past, Mississippians have not been really concerned about how their people in Congress have voted on particular bills because little information about voting records have been circulated down here.

Anyway, it's been sufficient for most folks that their man in Washington has acclaimed himself on the "right side" of civil rights the farmer, Social Security, Tennessee-Tombigbee and so forth.

It will be necessary in the upcoming battle between William Winter and Cochran that Winter roll out as much of the record as he can to put Cochran on the "wrong side" with the folks over things that can turn votes.

At the moment, it seems that Cochran may be enjoying some of the same magic that exists around President Reagan -- the perception that whatever may be going wrong is not his fault.

I got that impression the other day after going up to the Delta Council annual meeting and seeing how warmly Cochran was embraced by the major farming interests of the state.

Even though things don't appear to be going well for big agriculture, judging from the stories of Farmers Home Administration foreclosures and Federal Land Bank debts, the Delta farmers evidently don't blame Cochran.

An example of Cochran's seeming immunity to criticism on his farm record is the case of the adjustments made to the 1981 farm bill in a conference measure approved at the end of March.

While Cochran was supposed to be one of the conferees, his proxy was voted by Sen. Jesse Helms, the far-right North Carolina Republican, who heads the Senate Agriculture Committee, on some key points affecting the rice and cotton programs.

Some critics within the food and fiber industry contend that Helms, whose primary interests are in tobacco, used Cochran's proxy to defeat a move by Rep. Jerry Huckaby, a Louisiana Democrat, to help preserve deficiency payments affecting rice and cotton.

One leading rice grower, Penn Owen of Robinsonville, said he and his colleagues in Mississippi rice

'84 Maid Of Cotton Visits Mississippi

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

The sparkle in her blue eyes reveals that Valerie Bendall is getting a big kick out of her show and tell stint as an ambassador for the United States cotton industry.

The attractive and slender 21-year-old Auburn University senior in hospital administration, who took a year's leave of absence from her studies to serve as 1984 Maid of Cotton, was in Mississippi last week reporting to farm groups what is going on at home and abroad in the way of showing and telling the cotton story.

It has been a grueling half year for the Maid who has modeled her 'wears' in England, France, Germany, Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Japan -- and who soon will visit Canada for the purpose of cotton promotion.

Both at home and abroad it has been a busy, rich experience for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bendall of suburban Birmingham, who won county, state and national Maid of Cotton titles after being urged into the county contest by a relative.

And she admits to a little influence to compete as a family tradition since her mother, the former Pat Sample of Jackson, once entered the competition herself.

She was given the title following extensive screening by a panel of seven judges who interviewed and observed her for several days during receptions, dinners and parties which tested 16 finalists' competitiveness in poise, personality, communication skills and appearance.

Over two years of professional modeling experience was especially useful to Valerie when she went on the road to prove to the international fashion world that cotton has what it takes for a full range of utilization from comfortable leisure apparel to the most sophisticated fashionwear.

Valerie went to England earlier this year to participate in fashion shows, retail store promotions and courtesy calls. She visited Styal Mills in Manchester where America's first bale of export cotton was spun into fabric in 1784.

Taking her all cotton wardrobe across the English Channel, she visited France and attended embassy receptions to promote cotton garments. In Frankfurt, Germany, she participated in the largest fashion fair held in Europe.

The Maid followed U.S. lanes of cotton commerce to fashion shows and product promotion affairs in Korea, Japan, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

Asked about the difficulties she had faced along her rigorous schedule, she smilingly recalled a television interview in Washington when her interviewer deliberately departed from the subject she was prepared to discuss. She didn't let the incident bother her, however.

Probably the biggest challenge to her has been the daily pressure during her six months of travel of being constantly in the public eye. "It just means that you have to feel good everyday regardless of any aches or pains that you might feel from time to time!" she recalled with no malice.

With her title Valerie received a $3,000 cash scholarship, a free cotton wardrobe, and all of her expenses paid for six months of extensive travel over the world.

Yet, probably her greatest gift has been the opportunity to refine her communication skills with people on virtually all social, political and economic levels as she has demonstrated the amazing versatility of cotton for people of greatly varied stations in life.

None of Valerie's newfound skills, learned or improved upon during her Cinderella-like year, will apply to her degree at Auburn University next June. But it is a cinch that America's cotton industry has achieved a higher degree of market success because of the promotional steps this maid has made during her interrupted senior year.

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward

Managing Editor

I don't waterski, but I don't have anything against those who do...as long as they don't mess up my fishing. Unfortunately, waterskiers apparently never fish, or they would show more consideration for those who do.

At a weekly newspaper, you have to work on holidays that fall on Monday. So, Sara and I decided to celebrate Memorial Day on Sunday by spending the day at Lake Lamar Bruce.

The reason we chose Lamar Bruce was that we both wanted to fish. The fishing at both Bay Springs and Pickwick Lakes has been pretty bad lately because of the high water. And, though, according to Scott McKinney's column, the fishing has been fantastic at Sardis Lake, that's a little far to go for just one day...and you need a boat there, too; something that is not yet one of my material possessions.

But, the bank fishing is usually pretty good at Lamar Bruce, whether you're after bass, catfish or bream. So, we packed a picnic lunch and headed for Saltillo.

We arrived around 8 a.m. The water was calm and so clear you could stand on the bank and watch both bass and brim flitting around beneath the surface.

I had a decent sized bass on the bank within ten minutes. And other fishermen within sight appeared to be reeling in more than just their lures.

Things were fine until noon. Then, suddenly, there were boats everywhere, pulling skiers and stirring up the water until it was actually foaming when it reached the bank.

Lamar Bruce is a fairly narrow lake. And all it takes is one boat going fast enough to keep a skier on the surface to stir things up on both banks. And, in this case, there must have been at least 20 boats pulling skiers back and forth before the afternoon was over.

And, by 4 p.m., that beautiful clear water was opaque and muddy, and the fish had either lost interest, headed for another lake or simply couldn't see a lure through the mud.

Now, I'm sure the skiers at Lamar Bruce did not realize what they were doing to the fishing and how many people they were angering. At most area lakes, there is enough water for all of us. The skiers stay in the middle and don't bother anyone fishing in the inlets or on the banks.

But Lamar Bruce just isn't large enough for both activities, even when the skiers stay in the middle.

I have been fishing in a boat at some of the larger lakes in the area and had skiers actually swoop into my inlet and skim past within 25 feet of my boat, then wonder why I threw that soda can at them. And that's why I wonder if people who waterski ever fish. If they did, they would know better.

I am still wondering about that one fellow at Lamar Bruce, though. He spent the whole afternoon pulling skiers with a beautiful fibreglass bass boat equipped with all the extras.

What a horrible waste!

Miss Phifer Becomes Mrs. White In Candlelight Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Paula Joyce Phifer and William Steven (Bill) White was solemnized in a candlelight ceremony on March 31, at 6:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Booneville.

The Rev. Eugene Tennison, assisted by the Rev. Buford Harper, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James D. Phifer and Mr. and Mrs. W.B. White, all of Booneville.

Wedding music was presented by Doug Holland, pianist; Dan Warmbrod, organist, and Ronald Bennett, trumpeter. Vocalists were Miss Elizabeth Thurmond and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bennett.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white coin-dot net over taffeta. The Victorian bodice was styled with a high neckline and sheer v-shaped yoke outlined with silk venise lace motifs and deep double ruffles extending over the long, puffed sleeves.

Her full skirt, which formed a cathedral train, extended to a pyramid of lace and satin-finished chantilly lace ruffles at the hemline. She wore a fingertip-length, tiered, rolled veil, which was secured to an embroidered tiara trimmed with pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, fuchsia, and baby's breath surrounding a white cattleya orchid, and also two handkerchiefs, belonging to each of her maternal great-grandmothers.

Miss Candy Cleveland served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Gay Armstrong, Mrs. Stan Bowles, Mrs. Vernon Bobo, Miss Melissa Chase, Mrs. David Horton, Mrs. Mark Keenum, Ms. Judy Overall, sister of the groom, Miss Jerri Overall, niece of the groom, and Miss B.J. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Phifer wore a floor-length pastel blue georgette-over-taffeta gown. The mother of the groom wore a floor-length mauve sheer crepe gown. They wore corsages of white orchids.

Mrs. Ken Goodwin presided at the guest registry.

Dr. Neola Cleveland directed the wedding.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Nears Goal

Prairie Girl Scout Council's capital fund drive has topped the $200,000 mark in its climb toward the $300,000 goal which will fund the proposed Prairie Girl Scout Council Center in Tupelo, according to Booneville Girl Scout leader Judy Overall.

"We're very pleased with our progress at this point," said Jo Mark, capital fund director. While most of the council's nineteen counties are still working to reach their quotas, Northeast Mississippi counties have reached and surpassed their quotas.

Specifications for the building which will include a library, conference room, large multi-purpose room and office space for the 10-member council staff will be submitted to the Board of Directors at their June 14 meeting.

"The delivery of the Girl Scout program will be increasingly effective with a center of this type and the entire council will benefit," said Mrs. Mark.

Prairie Girl Scout Council directs the Girl Scout program in 19 counties in Northeast Mississippi for 4800 girls and adults.

For its ongoing operation and program expense, the council is supported by the United Way allocations, council campaigns, and Girl Scout product sales.

Rebecca Cook is Executive Director.

"Specializing In Nerve And Spine Rehabilitation"

SHOULDER & ARM PAIN

CHIROPRACTIC CAN HELP NATURE RELIEVE AND HEAL SHOULDER AND ARM PAIN

It should thus be quite apparent that shoulder and arm pain may indicate a more serious condition. But whether the problem is related to other parts of the body or not, the pain can become very debilitating, as those who suffer from such problems well know.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic readily understands the problems involved in a painful shoulder or arm condition. He or she is eminently better qualified to correct these types of conditions than any other kind of doctor. If nerve interference is the basic or contributing cause of your problem, your chiropractor will institute necessary measures to help nature correct and heal the condition.

The chiropractor's minimum of six years of college education plus practical experience have been especially directed to just such problems—problems which involve the spine, nerves, muscles, and joints of the body.

Today's Doctor of Chiropractic first seeks to give you immediate relief from pain, but education and experience always cause him or her to search out the underlying source of your problem and then correct it. This prevents the need for you to take pain pills for relief month in and month out.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

A Meditation From 'The Upper Room'

By Harry Moore
Auckland, New Zealand

"My food," Jesus said to them, "is to obey the will of the one who sent me and to finish the work he gave me to do." (John 4:34)

On my daily walks, I sometimes recover a lost coin lying on the road. And I often think how the coin as it lies there is not fulfilling the purpose for which it was made. All things have a purpose. Jesus would have us know that human life has the greatest purpose, with a far greater value than flowers, birds or accumulated riches. The purpose of Jesus' life was to know and to do the will of God, the course of which led Him into misunderstanding, conflict and suffering, and ultimately, the cross. Christians are called to live with this one increasing purpose -- to know and to do the will of God. While this may sometimes lead us into unusual fields of service, doing God's will may also mean simply doing routine activities at home. If our life conforms to God's will for us, we find joy in God's companionship and fulfillment in God's service.

Prayer: Dear Lord, help us to know and to do your will, that we may find fulfillment of purpose and joy in your continuing presence. Amen.
The thought for the day: I will seek to do God's will in every activity of my life.

Summer Camps Announced At Ole Miss

Three brand new camps for young people scheduled at The University of Mississippi during July will offer the opportunity for sharpening abilities in three different styles of communication.

The July 8-14 Media Camp will give aspiring young communicators an opportunity to study all phases of broadcast journalism -- interviewing techniques, news gathering, story writing and editing.

Hosted by the Ole Miss Department of Journalism, the program will feature hands-on experience with portable TV packs, and interface with on-going radio and TV productions.

Participants will also produce their own shows, and prepare themselves to participate actively in the electronic media age.

The "Arts Group," scheduled July 8-13 and July 8-20 (one or two-week session) by the Ole Miss Department of Art, will promote creative expression in the various media: portrait and landscape painting, wood and clay construction, pencil drawing and other art forms. Both beginners and advanced students may participate in this program.

The new Forensics Institute scheduled July 15-21 by University faculty and chapters of professional speech organizations will offer a double-track session in speech preparedness.

One track will introduce beginners to the fundamentals of individual events competition; the other will help experienced debaters find and cut materials for tournament competition, as well as polish individual delivery styles.

Climaxing the Forensics Institute will be a mock tournament, which will prepare students to compete in the Third Annual William Faulkner Invitational Speech and Debate Tournament, scheduled for this fall on the Ole Miss campus.

Further information about all three camps may be obtained by writing or calling the Division of Continuing Education, The University of Mississippi, University, Miss. 38677; telephone (601) 232-7282.

SPOTS IN FRONT OF THE EYES

Many people complain of seeing spots in front of their eyes. Though it may not interfere with their vision, it is nonetheless a disconcerting symptom.

Most likely the spots are "floaters." These are due to tiny specks of dead tissue - no more than a few cells - which come away from the lining of the eyeball and float about in the fluid with which it is filled. These appear to the person who has them as flecks, or motes of dust. Generally speaking, they are of no significance at all, though they can be annoying.

On the other hand, if they increase greatly over a short period of time, they should be checked. They may be a sign of inflammation at the back of the eye, or just possibly a threatened detachment of the retina.

In a few cases, people with high blood pressure get this sort of visual disturbance as well. Also excessive use of alcohol or use of certain medicines can cause spots.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, call The Booneville Vision Clinic.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE PROBLEM OF THE DISPOSAL OF SOLID WASTE IN BOONEVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

For the past eight months, the Board of Mayor and Aldermen have made a detailed evaluation and analysis of residential and commercial garbage collection problems in the City. As a result of this analysis, the City is annually losing approximately $70,000.00. The projected loss over the next five years would have aggregated a minimum of $350,000.00.

The purchase of automated trucks and containers, normal maintenance and labor, would have required an expenditure of approximately $250,000.00. The Board, after careful consideration, concluded that the disposal of solid waste could be handled much more efficiently and at a much smaller cost through contracting with a reputable contractor adequately bonded to fully take care of this problem. Accordingly, on May 22, 1984, a contract was signed between the City of Booneville and Refuse Systems, Inc. of Corinth, Mississippi, for the collection and disposal of all residential, commercial garbage, and yard trash commencing July 1, 1984. Under the agreement, City service to large commercial customers will be discontinued June 15, 1984. Refuse Systems, Inc. will be contacting these customers as soon as possible regarding containerized garbage service.

Principal factors entering into our decision were (1) our collection equipment has reached its seven-year life expectancy, and replacing this equipment with automated high performance equipment would require the above expenditure of approximately $250,000.00, (2) the annual loss the City is sustaining and the projection that this loss will vastly increase over the next five years, and (3) a more equitable method in the amount paid being in more direct proportion to the amount of garbage generated by each account.

production don't find any fault with Cochran on his farm stance.

"We realize there were certain adjustments that were going to have to be made in the farm bill enacted in the Carter Administration," Owen said.

Owen added that it was his feeling "everybody depends upon Thad," in the Delta farming community.

Apparently Cochran's people are prepared to contend that the Mississippi Senator wasn't present for the votes in the Joint Conference Committee because he was at that time chairing a sub-committee on Appropriations which was considering a Rural Electric Power measure.

Despite Reagan's continued relative popularity in Mississippi, the one area where he seems to have some vulnerability is among the elderly who have become frightened of Reagan's policies on Social Security. Doubtless, Winter will seek to tie Cochran to any votes which could adversely affect Social Security benefits.

Cochran is known to have gone along with the Reagan program in 1981 which reduced survivors benefits for educational purposes, a notch in the law that caused hundreds of youngsters in junior colleges and colleges around Mississippi to have their SS payments cut the past three years.

This may explain why Cochran is putting heavy stress in news releases recently emanating from his office on every type of federal educational grant coming into the state.

It's already evident from a recent fund-raiser letter put out by Cochran that the Senator is going to paint Winter as some kind of "liberal" and himself as a conservative.

"While I can't ignore Governor Winter's popularity, one look at his record in office shows he tried the typical left-wing solutions to our state's problems and they failed miserably," Cochran says in the letter.

Remarkably, Cochran speaks of Winter as a governor running up "record budget deficits for the state by increasing spending for unnecessary government programs."

In view of the astronomical federal deficits which have occurred during the Reagan years, Cochran is not apt to press that point very much.

No doubt Cochran will also be put on the carpet by the school forces to explain what "unnecessary" programs were instituted during the Winter years.

There apparently has already been some shifting of perception of the Senate race among the electorate which has tipped the race more to Cochran's side. When Winter initially made up his mind to run, it was on the basis of a Peter Hart poll that showed Cochran with a 45 per cent favorable rating.

Cochran's favorable rating has now gone up as high as 58 percent in the highly respected Robert Teeter poll, and 56 percent in a Mississippi State University poll.

Some informed observers see Winter trailing as much as 20 percent, which means he has a lot of catching up to do between now and November.

STATE HOUSE PAGES - Lori Smart, 15, and Christi Barnett, 14, both of Booneville, recently served as congressional pages in the Mississippi House of Representatives. They were chosen to serve by Third District Rep. Billy McCoy. The two girls served from April 30 to May 5 running errands and delivering messages for congressmen during the 1984 Legislative Session. In the process, they learned a few things about how the state legislative system operates. Pictured (left to right) are Rep. McCoy, Miss Smart, Miss Barnett and House Speaker C.B. "Buddy" Newman. Miss Smart is the daughter of Billy and Janice Smart. Miss Barnett's parents are Willard and Judy Barnett.

Vaccination Proof Required For State College Admission

Graduating high school seniors who plan to enter one of Mississippi's four-year state-supported colleges for the first time this fall must present proof they are immune to measles and rubella before they can register for classes.

College students have become recognized as a high risk group for measles and rubella, as demonstrated by outbreaks of both diseases in several states.

In an effort to prevent outbreaks in Mississippi, the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning approved the Mississippi State Department of Health's recommendation that proof of measles and rubella immunity be included in admissions requirements for students registering for classes at state-supported colleges for the first time.

This requirement begins in the fall, 1984, and will only apply to students born since 1956.

Students born since 1956 should get an immunization for measles or rubella if they have never been immunized, are uncertain about their immunization history or were immunized before their first birthday.

Private physicians, local health departments or local health clinics can give any immunizations that are needed and/or approved from stating that they are immune. The "blue slip" certificate of compliance on file for graduating high school students will not be accepted for college registration.

The Mississippi State Department of Health recommends that college students get the required forms before August to avoid the long lines which usually form at local health departments and clinics when younger children prepare for school registration.

For more information, readers may contact their local county health department, community health clinic, or private physician.

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

June is Dairy Month and a time to salute the Prentiss County Dairy Industry valued at $3,192,750 in 1983, but we also salute dairy in Mississippi and throughout the United States. This is the 48th year milk and milk products have been emphasized during June.

This year, however, has been a trying time for dairy producers, as there have been many changes to take place within the industry.

Price supports, dairy compromise, milk diversion programs, oversupply are just a few among many words that have been in the forefront in the dairy industry recently.

There have been several legislative changes that vastly changed the dairy industry. Faced with an oversupply of milk and high government expenditures under the Commodity Credit Corporation for manufactured milk products, legislation was formulated. Dairy producers were assessed as much as $1 per hundredweight on all milk marketed at one point during the past year. Presently they are assessed 50 cents per hundredweight to finance a milk diversion program and another 15 cents for a National Dairy Promotional Program.

There have been changes in consumer demands. The per capita sales of cheese, low fat milk, fluid cream and ice cream have increased. During the same period non-fat dry milk, evaporated and condensed, fluid whole milk, sherbert, cottage cheese, ice cream and butter have declined.

There have been changes in packaging, too - from glass, paper to plastic. Container size also has changed. The quart at one time was most popular, then the half gallon and now the gallon.

Last year we spent 16.1 percent of all our income on food - the lowest of any nation. Roughly two percent of the total spent for food goes to dairy products.

The real measure of a product is the amount of time required to work to purchase the product. The amount of labor required to purchase dairy products have been declining. For example, last year the average worker had to work only eight minutes to buy a half-gallon of milk. Ten years ago it took 11 minutes to purchase the same half-gallon. So milk and milk products still remain a good food buy for the consumer.

Dairying, however, continues to be a major contributor to the agricultural economy of Mississippi. The farm value from the sale of milk amounted to $126 million and ranked seventh as a source of agricultural income.

There are somewhere around 69 firms engaged in the processing and distributing of milk in the state. These firms employ about 1,700 people with an annual payroll of $241 million. The economic activity generated by the industry has been estimated at over $380 million.

So, we salute the dairy industry with "June Dairy Month" and with the industry great success in the future.

The 1984 acreage reduction program for wheat, feed grain, cotton and rice guards against soil erosion through the installation and maintenance of protective cover crops and conservation practices on the land taken out of production.

A study of the conservation benefits of last year's acreage reduction and payment-in-kind programs showed a 20 percent reduction in soil erosion on cropland removed from production. Soil loss on the land was reduced on an average from 7.4 to 5.8 tons per acre per year, for a total soil savings of 121 million tons.

The study also showed that nearly 60 percent of the land in the programs had adequate protection from erosion - about one-fifth more than would have occurred without the programs.

To emphasize the importance of saving soil and water, the 1984 acreage reduction program designates the idled land as acreage conservation reserve (ACR). "Conservation management is part of the acreage reduction program contract."

As soon as possible after spring planting, program participants must devote ACR to annual, biennial or perennial grasses and legumes, volunteer stands other than weeds, small grains and crop residue from use of no-till or minimum-till practices, or other approved conservation practices that prevent wind and water erosion. They may also devote the land to a permanent vegetative cover or practice such as trees, sod waterways, filter strips and wind-breaks.

Farmers are reminded to make sure that their ACR is eligible land that meets size and width requirements and has been planted to row crops or small grains in two of the last three years.

Acreage Reports
Due July 15

Farmers who have planted cotton, corn, grain sorghum, soybeans, peanuts, vegetable crops, and orchards are reminded that now is the time to report the sizes and intended uses of their 1984 program crops.

Crop certification is necessary before the farmer can receive deficiency payments, price support loans and other program benefits.

Farm program participants are required to report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve. Non-participants need to certify their crops for future programs. In addition to history purposes, the acreage reports are also necessary for proven yields.

To be certain that crop acreages are accurate, farmers may request measurement service, from ASCS. For a reasonable fee, a producer can request that his or her planted crops be measured prior to reporting acreages. This is a valuable service not only to farmers participating in the acreage reduction programs, but to any farmer who desires an accurate acreage measurement for any reason.

Acreage reports may be filed Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., at the local ASCS office. Prentiss County farmers are encouraged to certify crops well in advance of the July 15 deadline.

The most common way to maintain your ditches is by clearing and snagging. This can be done by removing the sediment and trees that slow the flow of water.

A dragline is generally best for larger ditches. It can be equipped with a bucket designed for sediment removal or a bucket specially designed for clearing and snagging operations. For smaller ditches a backhoe can be used.

Loss of blow capacity occurs when logs, trees, and other debris clog a stream. For example, willow trees growing on side slopes can reduce blow in a small ditch by as much as 60 percent.

The most common way to maintain your parallel terraces after construction is to apply up to a double rate of lime, phosphate, and potash on them, especially where deep cuts were made. Then bring the rest of the field up to soil test recommendations.

If corn is planted the following season, apply a double rate of nitrogen. Once you get some humus built back, the field usually is in pretty good shape. Then it's just a matter of maintaining the pH fertility needs of whatever crops you grow.

To keep small animals from being trapped and plugging your outlet pipe, always cap each outlet with a metal disk mounted on an old barn door hinge. The hinge is attached to a short length of metal pipe joined to the plastic pipe.

It is important to maintain the original height of the riser. Silt, as it accumulates in the terrace channel, can reduce the height. Also note that in the fall, vegetation should be removed from around the base of risers to keep from attracting mice which will gnaw through the plastic pipe.

If you have any questions concerning maintenance of conservation practices, contact the Soil Conservation Service at 107 College St.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the host of friends and relatives who showed their love & respect during the recent illness and death of our loved one. A special thanks is due to Doctor's Chase, Greenhaw, and Madara of Booneville, and Doctor Hall of Corinth, and to all the staff of the Intensive Care Unit at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Booneville who worked so long and hard to sustain his life.

In writing the obituary for the newspaper, one item of importance was left out due to our grief. He stated many times that when his obituary was written to simply say that he was a Christian. Even though he did not attend church services regularly, he knew within himself that God doesn't look upon the words that are on the sign outside the church building, but on the inside of man's heart, where the true church is. He told us many times while in the hospital not to worry where he was going, and to be good to one another. So, beyond our sadness and grief we have the assurance of where he will spend eternity, an assurance that no man can dispute.

4-H News

By WAYNE LAND
4-H Youth Agent

June is Dairy Month and a time for great eating. The 4-H dairy foods project offers girls and boys special training instruction on a big family of great foods. These foods are dairy products.

The family of dairy foods includes milk itself, which may be purchased in a number of different forms. It may be milk which has been only pasteurized and bottled, but it may also be homogenized.

It may be flavored with chocolate or strawberry or a number of other flavors. It may be evaporated or condensed milk. It may be milk which has been powdered, or milk powdered after removing the fat. Other major products of milk are butter and cheese - of which there are some 800 different varieties. Ice cream has become the favorite American dessert, and the number of flavors continues to grow every year. Milk, as food, may be purchased in liquid, semi-liquid and solid form.

Of course, milk also serves industrial purposes, and the most important of these is in the use of casein in such industries as papermaking.

One quart of milk, or its equivalent in other dairy foods, supplies the daily nutritive requirements of an average man in these percentages: 100 percent of the needed calcium; 82 percent of the riboflavin; 67 percent of the phosphorus; 49 percent of the protein; 30 percent of the vitamin A; 22 percent of the thiamin (vitamin B); 22 percent of the calories; 19 percent of the ascorbic acid; 6 percent of the niacin; 3 percent of the iron.

Over 125 different components of milk have been identified through years of research, and today there continues a great deal of research into the elements of milk and their functions in serving the human body.

Join Prentiss County 4-H'ers during the June Dairy Month celebration.

If you are going to wash feather bed pillows, read and follow the instructions for the washing equipment you intend to use.

Wash two pillows at a time for balanced washer action. Choose slow agitation and spin speeds, if possible. Check any special care instructions that may be attached to the pillows.

The following suggestions for washing feather bed pillows are based on maximum precautions.

- To prepare the pillows for washing, rip one or two inches of the ticking and loosely overcast the edges or run a safety pin through the edges to prevent them from unraveling further. These small openings permit air to circulate through the pillow and prevent billowing and matting of the feathers.

- If the present ticking is old, sew the pillow into a pillowcase before washing it in a machine because the mechanical action could cause the pillow to burst and create a mess.

- If the feathers are to be transferred to a new ticking after washing, dump them into a sturdy pillowcase and overcast the edges before washing. The feathers will dry faster in the case than in the old ticking.

- Machine wash pillows in a water temperature of about 105 degrees Fahrenheit (warm) for five to 10 minutes using a light-duty detergent for fine fabrics. Immerse pillows in the sudsy water until the feathers are completely wet.

- Dry pillows in a dryer using an air fluff setting without heat or a low-heat setting. They should dry in about two hours. You also can dry pillows outdoors. Do so on a warm, breezy day and hang them on a line in the sun. Frequently shake and fluff them to insure prompt drying. Delayed drying can result in mildew and musty odors in the pillows.

- Protect clean pillow ticking from soiling with washable slip on covers.

Four Prentiss Youths Attend 4-H Resource Conference

Four Prentiss County youth are among the 250 young people who studied resources at Fontana Dam, N.C., June 4-8 at the 29th annual 4-H Regional Resource Development Conference.

Majestic mountains and clear streams made an appropriate setting for Peter Bullard, Mark Johnson, Teresa Shinault to learn about resources. Brenda Williams will also join the group as one of Mississippi's two returning delegates.

Wayne Land, Extension 4-H youth agent for Prentiss County, accompanied the state's 18-member delegation to the conference.

The event is held annually to help 4-H youth age 14-19 to be aware of and appreciate natural resources. They learn to identify and analyze important problems affecting resources and how they can solve these problems.

During the conference, the 4-H'ers will explore career opportunities in natural resources and meet and share ideas with delegates from Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

The week-long event includes study sessions on the atmosphere, soils, minerals, energy, forestry, wildlife, water, human resources and leadership.

Sessions were taught by Cooperative Extension Service specialists and professors from land-grant institutions within the Tennessee Valley states.

The conference was sponsored by the Tennessee Association of Test Demonstration Families, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Cooperative Extension Services in the seven Tennessee Valley states.

'Farmweek' On Pond Management

Farmweek takes a look at effective and creative farm pond management at 7:30 p.m., Monday, June 11, on Mississippi ETV.

Farmweek reporters Artis Ford interviews Don Eddins of Vaiden, farm manager of the U.S. Cattle Corporation, about how he has transformed an ordinary farm pond into a recreational area and a popular employee fringe benefit item.

Ford also interviews Tom Wellborn of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service and Jack Herrin of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation about how they assisted in the implementation of the farm pond management project in Vaiden.

Viewers will be informed as to how they also might stimulate the production of game fish in their own ponds.

FmHA 'Going Extra Mile' With Farmer Borrowers

According to Don Barrett, Farmers Home Administration state director, FmHA foreclosures have not reached great proportions in the last year. He said his agency has a policy of "going the extra mile" with its borrowers.

"FmHA is a lender of last resort," Barrett said. "The agency can lend only to farmers who cannot get a loan from a bank or other lending institution."

He said that, as a result, FmHA makes loans to the "highest-risk" farmers, those who have been turned down by others.

According to Barrett, the 266,500 FmHA farm borrowers account for only 11 percent of all the farm credit outstanding in the country.

"Despite hard economic times and predictions of massive foreclosures, FmHA was able to stay with over 97 percent of its farm borrowers the last fiscal year," Barrett said.

"Entering fiscal year 1984, 65,022 borrowers were still in business because FmHA went the extra mile in working out deferral, rescheduling and subordination agreements," he said.

Barrett did not specify whether he was quoting figures representing FmHA dealings on a state or national level. And an attempt by The Banner-Independent to obtain figures applicable to Prentiss County was unsuccessful.

According to FmHA County Supervisor Marion Mills, Barrett will not allow local officials to release any information other than that released by FmHA on the state level. Mills said he was not allowed to comment on local FmHA dealings or add to or alter in any way information released by Barrett.

The figures released by Barrett indicate that during the first seven months of fiscal year 1984, FmHA "deferred principal and/or interest payments for 1,642 farmers and rescheduled or reamortized loans for 18,477 borrowers.

"FmHA subordinated its security for 18,674 borrowers to enable them to obtain loans from private lenders," Barrett said. "In addition to these servicing actions, FmHA was continuing with the 36 percent of its borrowers who were delinquent at the end of the first seven months of the fiscal year."

Barrett said that 1.6 percent, or 4,306 high-risk FmHA borrowers went out of business for financial reasons during the first seven months of the fiscal year. "Of this total, 2,485 were voluntary conveyances or outright sales for financial reasons," he said.

Breaking it down further, Barrett said 310 were transfers with assumption of title to other borrowers, 690 were bankruptcies, and "foreclosures by other lenders - loans in which FmHA was the junior, or secondary, lienholder - were 592, or .2 percent.

"Foreclosures by FmHA were 229, or less than .1 percent," Barrett said, pointing out that "the total of such financial failures were 353 fewer than in the same period of fiscal year 1983.

"FmHA will continue its policy of going the extra mile with its borrowers during 1984," Barrett said. "We will assist farmers, on a case-by-case basis, even if they are behind in payments due to circumstances beyond their control, provided they have kept their agreements with FmHA, are using acceptable management practices and have properly maintained secured chattel and real estate.

"FmHA expects to stay with most of its seriously delinquent borrowers again in 1984, provided that the borrowers' Farm and Home Plans show that loans advanced for annual operating purposes can be repaid," Barrett said.

Oak Hill Opens Church League Play With Two Wins

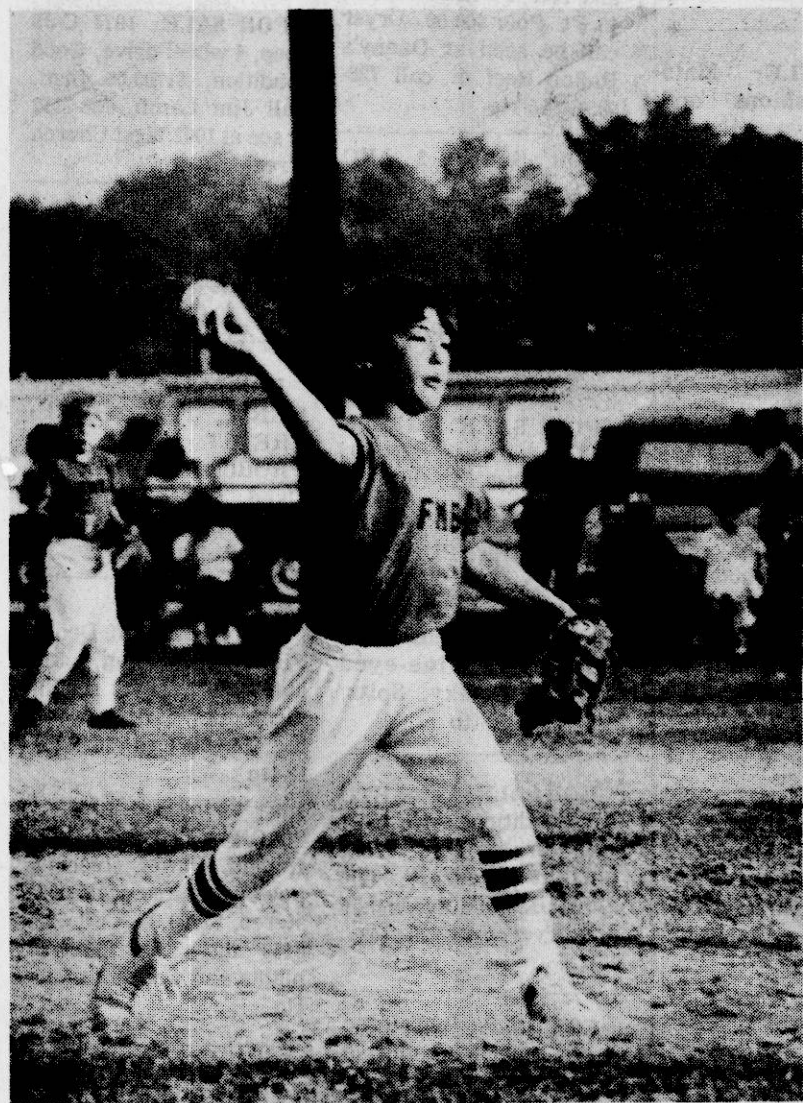

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Oak Hill Baptist Church has opened up the summer church softball league with two consecutive wins to put them on top of league standings after one week of play. Oak Hill beat Christ United Methodist 12 to 8 to open the season last week and then downed East Prentiss Monday night 12 to 1. Jim Davis, Greg Downs, Joe Downs and Steve Eaton all led the Oak Hill hitting attack against Christ United Methodist. Eaton,

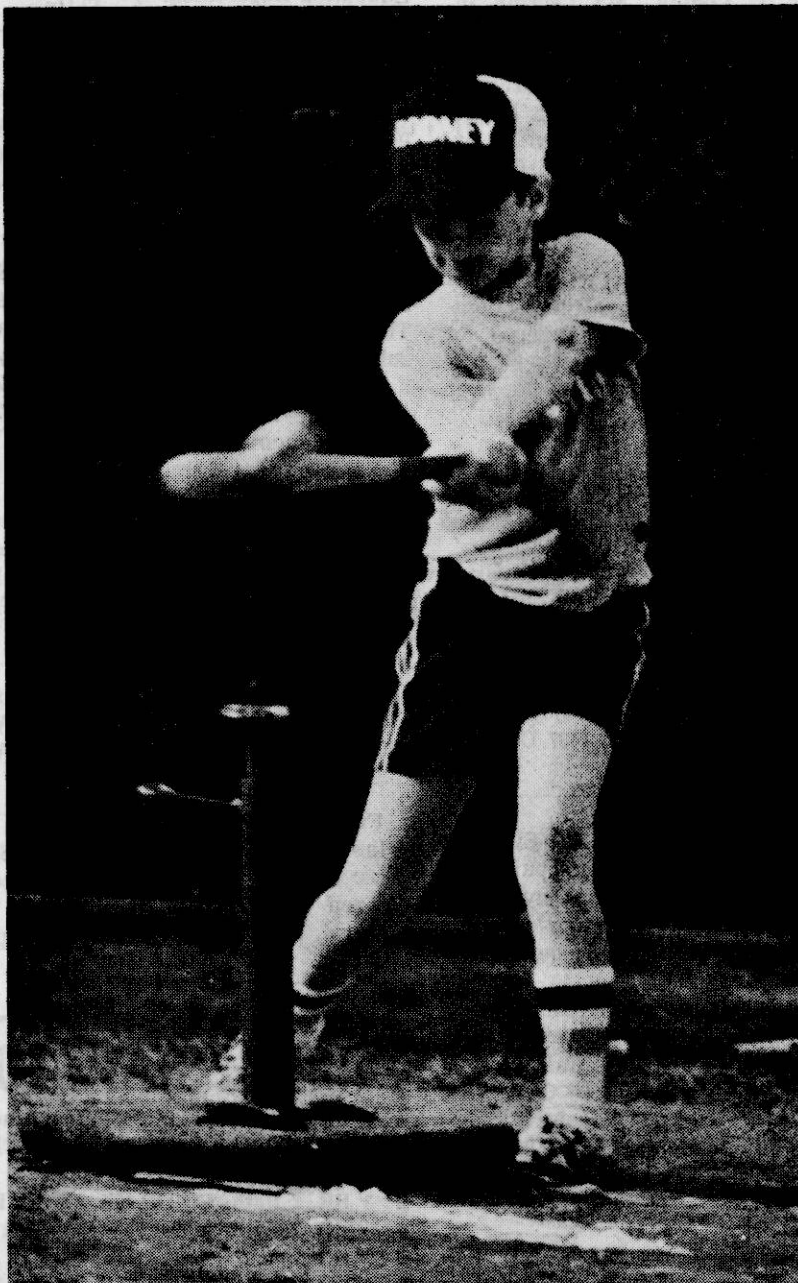

Davis, Joe Downs and George Rowland led the attack against East Prentiss. Five teams are tied for second place with 1-0 records. Concord, First Baptist Church (Red team), Gaston, Independent Christians and Tusculumbia are all tied for second. East Booneville Baptist Church is currently third with a 1-1 record. Calvary, County Line, Crestwood, Christ United Methodist and East Prentiss are all tied for fourth place with 0-1 records. Gaston Baptist Church opened their season with an impressive 31-1 victory over Crestwood last week. Terry Hurt, Stan Howell and Carlton Calvert all blasted homeruns to lead the Gaston attack. The First Baptist Red team come from behind in their season opener to defeat East Booneville 11-10. Wayne Jones and Greg Oakley led the First Baptist hitting attack, while Mark Cartwright, Mike Cartwright and Don Horn paced East Booneville. However, East Booneville gained revenge by defeating the First Baptist Blue team Monday night 19-14. Mark Cartwright, David Wesson, Robert Dodson and Rickey Hannon all led the EBBC hitting attack. However, Bobby Jones blasted two homeruns that proved to be the margin for East Booneville. In other action last week, Tusculumbia beat County Line 12-7, while Concord defeated Calvary 13-4. Also, Independent Christians dropped the First Baptist Blue team 30-5. Games were scheduled for Tuesday night, but the results were not available at presstime.

Fishing Roundup Fishing Improves In Area Lakes

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

The weather is starting to really warm up and the fishing in the area lakes has been great. Reports are coming in every day of fishermen having good success at Bay Springs, Sardis, Pickwick and other area lakes. According to semi-professional angler Danny Comer of Baldwin, the warm trend in the weather may cause the fish to move to deeper water. "Now that the weather has caused the temperatures to move into the 90's, the fish will probably move out in the deep, cooler water," Comer said. "Fishermen should now fish about 8 to 12 feet deep when the temperatures are high." Comer also added that the fish will tend to bite better during the early morning and late afternoon hours. "The fish feed during the period of sunrise to 10 a.m. and from 2 to sunset. The mid-day period is usually the worst time to fish," he said. LAKE OUTLOOK - Bay Springs continues to be the hot spot for bream fishing in North Mississippi. Area anglers are usually catching anywhere from 15 to 150 bream each time out. And Comer feels that the bream will continue to bite at the lake. "Bay Springs has been unbelievable for the bream fishermen," Comer said. "The bream are still bedding up and this makes for some fantastic fishing if you can get into their beds." Crickets are still the best bait to use at Bay Springs. Red worms can also be used for some good results. Also, the bream are being caught about 8 to 10 feet deep. The bass and the crappie have almost quit biting at Bay Springs. However, several catfish are being caught on the set lines. A 16 lb. and 12 oz. catfish has been reported caught on one line at the lake. Sardis Lake will remain the hot spot for bass fishing for the next few weeks. According to Comer, "worlds of fish" are being caught at Sardis. The river and the river bends have been the best place to fish at Sardis. Also, black and red have been the best colors. Fishermen should use a top water bait for the best results. Devil's horse and buzz baits have produced the best results. Comer also said that anglers should try to fish the ledges of the water where the level drops off. "Fishing has been the best at the points where the level drops from 7 to 20 feet," Comer said. WEATHER OUTLOOK - Temperatures will continue to be in the low 90's for the remainder of the week, making for good fishing. Also, there will be a slight chance of afternoon thundershowers which could enhance the fishing activity. Comer said that fishermen should try to fish before the afternoon showers for the best results. "Fish get very active before a thundershower or before a front moves through," Comer said. "You might not have a bite all day, but they will pick up before the weather changes." FISHING TIP - Semi-pro Comer said that area anglers should try fly fishing at Bay Springs since the bream have been biting so well. "The fishermen in this area could produce some great results if they would try popping bugs and fly fishing," Comer said. "Also, have a little patience when you start fishing. Not everyone will catch a fish minutes after casting into the water." TOURNAMENT NEWS - The Tupelo Bass Club tournament was held last weekend at Tupelo on Aliceville Lake, which is on the Tombigbee Waterway. J.D. Stephens took first place with a total of 9 lbs. Comer captured the second spot with a total of 5 lbs., 2 ozs., and Freddy Gilmore took third with a 4 lb. total. The Red Man Operation Bass tournament will be held June 17 at Pickwick Lake. Anyone needing more information should call Comer in Baldwin at 365-5811. Remember, if you have any questions, tips or comments, drop me a line (without a hook). Address your mail Fishing Roundup, the Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, Miss. 38829. Until next week, good fishin'!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK!

CHINESE-STYLE BEEF

- | | | | |
|----------------------------|------------------------|------------------|------------------------------------|
| 2 lb. chuck or flank steak | 1 tsp. salt | 1/4 c. soy sauce | 2 tomatoes, quartered |
| 2 Tbsp. olive or salad oil | Dash pepper | 1/2 tsp. sugar | 1 c. (1 lb.) bean sprouts, drained |
| 1 clove garlic, crushed | 1/4 tsp. ground ginger | 2 green peppers | 1 Tbsp. cornstarch |
- Slice beef, across grain, into thin strips. In hot oil in large heavy skillet, saute beef with garlic, salt, pepper and ginger until browned all over-5 minutes. Add soy sauce and sugar; cook, covered 5 minutes. Remove seeds and ribs from peppers. Cut peppers into 1 inch strips; add with tomatoes and bean sprouts to beef. Bring to boiling; cook, covered and over high heat 5 minutes. Meanwhile, make a smooth paste of cornstarch and 1/4 c. water. Stir into beef mixture; bring to boil, stirring. Serve at once with rice. Makes 6 to 8 servings.
