Build New Track

Baldwyn Mayor Merle Rowan announced last week plans for a jogging track in the new section of Latimer Park in Baldwyn.

"We have not done anything on it yet, except for some bulldozing. We plan to stake out the track today and start on it as soon as possible," Mayor Rowan said.

The length of the track has not been determined yet, but it will be open to anyone who wishes to use it.

Seeking Grant

The City of Booneville is considering applying to the Governor's Office of Federal State Programs, Department of Planning and Policy, for a Small Cities Community Development Block Grant.

The activities for which these funds may be used are in the areas of housing, public facilities and services, and economic development.

More specific details regarding eligible activities, program requirements, and the rating system will be provided at a public hearing at the Booneville City Hall on Tuesday, July 3, at 7 p.m.

Training Program

The Training Resource Project (TRP) which is funded through the Governor's Office of Job Development and Training will be in Booneville on Friday, June 22, to take applications for job openings in the Northeast Mississippi area.

Applications can be completed from noon until 5 p.m. at the East Side Community Center on Lake Street.

For more information, contact TRP at 130 S. Fillmore St., Corinth, MS or phone 287-8033.

Death Is Homicide

The death of a Baldwyn man who died from third-degree burns June 13 has been ruled as a homicide.

John-Man Nevels of Baldwyn received third-degree burns on his arms and chest on May 19. He was beaten unconscious by two Baldwyn residents who lit Nevels' shirt with a cigarette lighter, officials said.

He died as a result of the burns he received, according to the jury panel at the Lee County Coroner's inquest.

His body was found at a Guntown residence where he had been involved in a fight with another man and woman, officials said.

FmHA Loan Received

The Holcut-Cairo Water Association has received a $106,400 loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

Closing ceremonies were held June 12 at the FmHA District Office in Booneville with association president James McDougal, secretary-treasurer Bob Belue, Attorney William L. Smith and FmHA representative Marty Massey participating.

The money will be used to complete a new water treatment plant now under construction, which will enable the association to provide better service to its 642 customers, according to McDougal.

Drug Abuse In Prentiss County, Part 1:

Dilaudid Abuse Is A Major Problem

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

(This is the first installment in a series of articles concerning the drug abuse problem in Prentiss County. The people described in these articles are composites of a number of actual present and former drug abusers and their families, and the incidents described are true. In many cases names and locations have been disguised to protect the privacy of those involved.)

There is a drug and alcohol abuse problem in Prentiss County. A conversation with any law enforcement officer, educator or doctor will verify that conclusion.

County School Nurse Renata Eaton has said that the biggest obstacle she has confronted in instituting a drug abuse education program in the county schools is a refusal of parents to believe a problem exists.

Other counselors and authorities agree. But a refusal to accept the existence of a drug problem in Prentiss County does not eliminate the problem any more than the United States Government's refusal to diplomatically recognize Cuba makes that island nation cease to exist.

According to Prentiss County Chancery Clerk Philip Cole, of 20 commitments to Whitfield State Hospital since Jan. 1, 18 have been drug related. And all of three commitments still pending are drug related.

"Only a small percentage of drug abuse cases are being handled through the courts," Cole said. "If we have handled between 20 and 25 so far this year, the number of cases being admitted to private hospitals and treated by private doctors is probably close to 200."

And, Cole said, 90 percent of such cases currently involve the drug dilaudid.

According to Booneville physician Dr. Dwight Johnson, dilaudid is being used mostly by the "young adult" age group, those in their late teens and 20s.

He said he has treated 25 cases since the first of the year. "I assume this is because word spreads quickly in the drug community," Dr. Johnson said. "Just as addicts quickly learn what doctors are soft touches for prescriptions, word also gets around as to who will help them kick their habit."

Dr. Johnson said he considers dilaudid to be as dangerous a drug as heroin. "From the time you take your first hit of dilaudid, if you do not eventually receive help, you have a life expectancy of approximately seven years," he said.

"Dilaudid is a narcotic available in both tablet and injectable form," Dr. Johnson said. "But the form currently being abused in the area is the pill."

He said dilaudid is a small, yellow pill, similar in appearance to a birth control pill, usually stamped with either a "K" or a "4".

"They are known on the street as K-4's or D's. With a prescription from a doctor they can be purchased from a drug store for about 50 cents each. But they sell illegally on the street for $50 to $60 each," he said.

According to Dr. Johnson, users of dilaudid are "mainlining" the substance in much the same manner as heroin. "They crush the tablets and mix them with water, then inject them directly into a vein using an insulin syringe which can

Old Fashioned Way

Alvie (Skin) Deaton of Thrasher always plows his garden with his 1,500 lb. mare Pat. In fact, he has never used a tractor or garden tiller to work his garden. Deaton is no stranger to a plow stock -- he started plowing when he was seven-years-old. But his hard work pays off. He always has one of the earliest gardens in the county. He has already been enjoying tomatoes, squash, lettuce, onions, cucumbers, cabbage, beans, pepper and potatoes from this year's garden.

Tennessee Deputy Assaulted At Court

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

A former Prentiss County resident, now working as a deputy for the Wayne County, Tenn., Sheriff's Department, was attacked and mauled outside the city courtroom Monday afternoon.

John William Tullis said he had testified against William "Billy" Lawson in city court and was leaving the courtroom when Lawson's father, Henry Lawson, approached him.

The elder Lawson is reported to have said, "I'll meet you down the road."

Tullis replied, "Don't you threaten me," then said, "You know where I'll be."

According to Booneville Police Officers Randy Tolar and James Pennington, Lawson then attacked Tullis, grabbing him by the neck and wrestling him to the floor.

"I was the dispatcher and I had just turned around," Tolar said. "I was watching Tullis come out of the hallway and I was looking right at him when he walked by Henry Lawson."

"I didn't hear what Henry said, but I could read John Tullis' lips. He said, 'You know where I'll be,' then the fight was on," Tolar said.

"Henry grabbed him by the neck, they hit the ground and they started fighting," he said.

Tolar said the hall was "packed with people," and he ran to stop the fight. "We tried to separate them. Henry's wife (Linda Lawson) was scuffling, and trying to hit John and kicking at him. I got her back and the rest of them grabbed John and Henry and separated them," he said.

Pennington said he was with Tullis when he left the courtroom. "The Lawsons were lined up on the side of the hallway and as we passed Mr. Lawson he made the remark that he would see Tullis later...you know, down the road. When he did, Tullis stopped and they exchanged a few words. Then Mr. Lawson shoved him and they just got to scuffling," Pennington said.

"They were mostly just shoving and pushing. Both of them got kind of scratched up. And the boy ('Billy' Lawson) bit Tullis' thumb. I think that was about the worst injury," he said.

Tullis said after the fight was broken up and Chief John Lambert had taken the Lawsons into custody, he returned to the courtroom and informed City Judge George Via that he wanted to "swear out a warrant" against them.

National Guard To Train In M1 Tank

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Both the Booneville and Baldwyn National Guard units will soon begin training on the new Abrams M1 tank, according to Sergeant First Class Gary Chittom, training NCO at the Booneville armory.

Chittom said the new tank is "an amazing machine. It's just about self-sufficient," he said.

Data in the released specifications claims the M1 tank has a governed top speed of 45 mph and can accelerate from 0 to 20 mph in seven seconds.

The M1, which was designed to replace the M60, in use since 1960, has a lower silhouette and improved armor protection. It is compartmentalized so that, should it take a hit in the ammunition or fuel compartments, blow off panels would send the force of the explosion outward and none of the four crew members would be injured.

The M1 has a 105mm cannon and a 7.62mm machine gun. The cannon is aimed by a digital ballistic computer. It is also equipped with a miniaturized laser rangefinder and thermal imaging for night use.

The cannon is so accurate that all 20 reporters viewing the new tank last Thursday at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, were able to hit the target 2000 meters away after only basic instructions.

Eight units of the Mississippi National Guard, including Booneville and Baldwyn, will soon be receiving the new M1 tanks as part of the upgrading made necessary when they became the "roundout unit" for the 1st Cavalry Division at Ft. Hood, Texas.

According to Mississippi National Guard Lt. Col. Kermit Rushing, Jr., the men from the eight units, which also include Iuka, Nettleton, Cleveland, Indianola, Rolling Fork and Moorehead, will be trained to operate and maintain the new tanks.

Mississippi is the second National Guard state to receive the M1s, Col. Rushing said. He said North

BIBLE QUESTION BOX
QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, what does the Bible teach about acceptable prayer?
ANSWER: First, one must pray in FAITH. (James 1:5-7) says, "But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering." Then he said if one wavers "Let not that man think he shall receive anything of the Lord." One must also be RIGHTEOUS. "For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil" (1 Pet. 3:12). Then we are taught in (1 Jno. 3:7) "He that doeth righteousness is righteous." In (Prov. 28:9) we are told, "He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination." We are also taught pray according to his WILL. "And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:" (1 Jno. 5:14). We must also pray in the name of CHRIST. (Col. 3:17) and (Jno. 14:13, 14) teach us to pray and do things by the authority of Christ. We must also be willing to FORGIVE. In (Mark 11:29) we are taught, "And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses." One cannot expect God to forgive unless he is willing to forgive his fellow man. Then one must pray in an UNSELFISH manner. James says, "Ye ask and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts." If one prays in a selfish manner his prayer will not be answered.

The Banner-Independent Receives 11 Editorial Awards From Press Association

The Banner-Independent received 11 editorial awards last Friday at the Mississippi Press Association's annual summer convention in Biloxi, including three first place awards, three second place awards, and five honorable mentions.

Seven of the 11 awards presented to The Banner-Independent were for photography. The awards were presented as part of the press association's Better Newspaper Contest. In the contest, The Banner-Independent competed against the largest weekly newspapers in the state, those with circulations of 4,501 and greater.

For the second consecutive year, The Banner-Independent received first place for Best Front Page. The judges said The Banner-Independent won this category "for good content and photography."

Also a repeat of last year, publisher Ken Christian received first place for Best Pictorial Series in One Issue. His picture page on last year's reenactment of the Battle of Brice's Crossroads received the honor this year. "Easily the best in a high-quality category of competition. This spread is built around a beautiful dominant photo," the judges said of the entry.

Of the first place winner, the judges said: "Truly a delight! The unusually large image of the softball, the bespectacled little girl staring directly at it. Even the headless umpire behind her seems appropriate. This one will ring a smile from even the most jaded of readers."

Banner-Independent staff reporter Angela Smith received second place in the Best Feature Photograph category for her photo of chimney sweep James Moorman leaping off a chimney. "Photographer caught the subject with nice body language and with good timing. Good front quality - slight vignetting helped retain the subject," the judges said.

Christian also placed in the Best Feature Photograph category, receiving honorable mention for a photo showing Northeast Junior College's football trainer Bill Doidge attempting to remove a moth that had flown into the ear of referee Larry Riley during a football game last fall. The judges called it a "different, interesting moment."

Managing editor Ed Woodward received two second place awards in the contest for stories involving education in Prentiss County.

In the Best Investigative Reporting category, Woodward received second place for his story on overcrowding at the Thrasher School. His other second place, in the Best Series of Stories category, was for a series in which he interviewed high school principals in Prentiss County to get their views of the education system.

In the Best Feature Story category, Angela Smith received honorable mention for her feature on mail carrier Beebe McCuiston and his friendship with several dogs along his mail route.

For Best Spot News Photograph, Ken Christian received honorable mention for a photograph showing a demolished Ford pickup being dragged from creek while on-lookers watched from an overhead bridge. A young man had lost his life moments earlier when the vehicle left the road and crashed into the creek.

Christian also recieved honorable mention in the Best Sports Feature category for his story about 14-year-old Thrasher gymnast Jennifer Anderson.

Let The Bible Answer

Charles W. Leonard

Hill's Chapel Church Of Christ

ROUTE 5, BOX 271 — BOONEVILLE, MISS.

CAN A CHILD OF GOD FALL FROM GRACE?

Once in grace always in grace has been and continues to be a common plea of some churches. They believe that once a person is saved he cannot be lost. This same doctrine is also referred to as "eternal security of the believer," and "the impossibility of apostasy." This is an man-made doctrine and is not based on the word of God.

Many warnings are given in the Bible to keep children of God from falling from grace. We do not warn our children of things which cannot happen but of things which can and may happen. Read the warnings God has given to his children. (II Peter 1:10, I Cor. 10:12, Heb. 6:4-6) Why should God warn us of something which cannot happen? All should realize from these warnings that it is possible for a child of God to fall from God's grace and be lost. Paul, the apostle, said that it was possible for him to become a castaway. (I Cor. 9:27).

God not only warns us to keep us from falling but he also gives us an example of some who did fall. Twenty-three thousand of the Jews fell in one day. (I Cor. 10:8). Paul calls some of the Galatians children of God, but said to those who go back under the law "ye are fallen from grace." (Gal. 3:26-27, Gal. 5:4). Paul did not tell these people they might fall, could fall, or would fall, but he used the present tense and said ye are fallen from grace.

Those who believe and teach that a child of God cannot fall from grace are teaching from creed books and not from the Bible. The Bible warns us to keep us from falling and tells of those who did fall. Isn't it rather strange that the writers of the Bible knew nothing about some of the modern philosophies of our day?

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think the city should hire a full-time park director?

DAVID PRESLER of 703 N. Jefferson St., Booneville: "I sure do. The games aren't organized and the things happening over here aren't organized. They're leaving it all up to the people working over here."

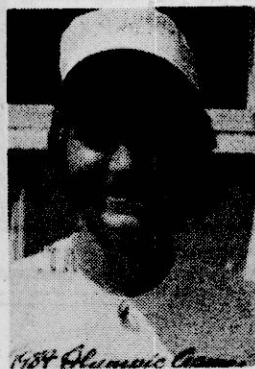

JIMBO GODDARD of 210 College St., Booneville: "Yes, I believe they do. I believe they need one because of all the confusion they have at the beginning of summer. By the time they get it all squared out, the summer is gone."

TRACY LAWSON of Route 1, Booneville: "It does because there's only baseball and swimming going on. There's nothing to do all day. We need some tennis tournaments and basketball -- other activities besides baseball or softball."

TRENT HUD-DESTON of Route 1, Booneville: "Yes. Then there would be more activities and more people competing."

DAWN WILHITE of 100 Sartin St., Booneville: "No, because the park is not open full time. It's closed during the fall and there are no activities."

JENIA PIKE of Route 1, Booneville: "Yes. Kids would have more fun up here. I think there would be more people at the park."

Ponderings

By Angela Smith

There's something about homecomings I like. Besides the food that is.

I've really only ever attended one homecoming -- and that's the one at Thrasher. I don't think I've missed one of those in ten years.

There are two churches in the Thrasher community -- one Baptist -- one Methodist. Last year the homecoming was held at the Baptist Church -- so this year it will be held at the Methodist Church. I think it's nice that they take time about.

Thrasher's homecoming will be this Sunday, June 24, beginning at 11 a.m.

This will be the 25th homecoming. It will probably be similar to those in the past.

People will gather at the church and there will be a short devotional. There will be singing and then the program will be turned over to the speaker.

This year's speaker will be Robert Moore. He served as dean at Arkansas State College for 34 years. He is a 1936 graduate of Thrasher High School.

After his talk, everyone will go to the school cafeteria for lunch.

I won't deny that the food is always good or that there is plenty of it.

But to me, the very best part of homecoming is hearing people reminisce about Thrasher -- and the times that are no more. I like to listen to the stories about Thrasher -- its people and its times.

The homecoming is a good place for that. I remember other speakers talking of the founding families of Thrasher -- the things they did -- the way they shared and helped each other and made their community a good place to live.

I think everyone in the community, even if they didn't attend Thrasher School, would enjoy the homecoming. But usually there's more people that don't come than do.

Sometimes it seems that the most people who attend Thrasher's homecoming are the ones who no longer live in Thrasher. Perhaps those of us who still reside in Thrasher take the homecoming for granted.

Many people can't attend Thrasher's homecoming because of other events.

For instance, there will be homecomings at Jones Chapel Freewill Baptist Church, Pisgah United Methodist Church, and Allen Line on Sunday, too.

But for those who will be able to attend, I think they will enjoy it.

New State Team Getting Tough With Local Officials

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss -- It's no secret that many county officials in Mississippi for years have played fast and loose with laws governing how they use public funds because nobody was keeping a close check on them.

If they don't already know it, they're in for a rude awakening.

Mississippi now has, finally, a tough one-two punch at the state level to make county and local officials stay honest and comply with the laws concerning expenditure of public funds... or, face the consequences.

The new team on the field is managed by State Auditor Ray Mabus and Attorney General Ed Pittman. So far it is batting .1000 in recouping taxpayers dollars which have been mis-spent by officials charged with the public trust.

Just in the past four months, Mabus' office, with the legal backup of the AG's office, has collected $155,000 in illegal expenditures from county and local officials and put it back into the treasuries of the counties involved.

And there are a half dozen other pending cases of misappropriated funds turned up by audits that will soon hit the griddle.

The State Auditor's office for years has had the power to make demand upon county officials and their bonding companies for repayment of expenditures made not in compliance with law, and, if settlement was not made, to turn it over to the Attorney General to file a civil lawsuit for collection.

The trouble was, Hamp King, who was Auditor for the past 20 years, had no consistent, clear-cut policy and procedure to crack down on the malingering public officials for payment. There

Tenn-Tom Waterway Opportunities Already Beginning

Tenn-Tom Commerce Developing

Those who foresaw promising economic opportunities in the development of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway are beginning to have their day. And these early entrepreneurs are putting together economically feasible enterprises utilizing the efficiency of water transportation along this shortest route between mid-America and ports across the Atlantic Ocean that holds considerable potential for the future. With this inland waterway not yet officially opened, commerce is proceeding steadily along its banks among both large and small corporate interests.

Possibly leading the list of big corporations getting ready to stake out a claim on the banks of the waterway is the 85-year-old Weyerhaeuser company and its subsidaries which last year did nearly a $5 million business in forest product sales with about one-fifth of those sales going abroad.

Weyerhaeuser, whose Mississippi and Alabama regional office is at Columbus, has obtained a 90-day option to purchase a 43-acre tract on the waterway at Amory. The site is under construction for a proposed $10 million wood chipping and truck and barge reloading facility.

When operational in mid-1985 the new Weyerhaeuser facility would produce up to 600,000 green tons annually of pine and hardwood chips for shipment by barge to customers in the midsouth and gulf coastal areas.

Whether the Amory site is chosen or not, Weyerhaeuser is looking to having a port facility on the waterway fully operational by July 1985, to coincide with formal opening of the Tenn-Tom.

Last week this writer interviewed several business leaders with plans already announced or functional on a portion of the waterway.

After first visiting Weyerhaeuser's Columbus office we next called at port facilities about 25

Letters

Dear Editor:

I do waterski, along with my husband and three sons. I also fish. Fortunately, I was taught to be considerate of all people.

Being a working woman, I only have Saturdays and Sundays off. I would certainly enjoy waterskiing for a whole day at Lamar Bruce, instead of only one half day. We own a cabin on Lamar Bruce, and are allowed only Thursday afternoon and Sunday afternoon to waterski. We have to pay a fee to even park our boat on the bank below our cabin -- while on the other hand any "one day fishermen" are allowed to park there and fish from daylight until dark, seven days a week. In order for our family to have a full daylight to dark ski outing, we must drive to Alabama.

Yes 12:00 noon -- The time local skiers wait for all week. Skiers are forced to abstain until 12 noon (to allow fishermen their daily fishing time). I am sure you did see an influx of boats. Why do you begrudge a water skier his enjoyment? Fishermen already monopolize the lakes in Mississippi -- why be so selfish? With a 7 (days) to 1 (day) ratio, why not share freely? Strange -- the more some people have -- the more they want.

As for the speed of ski boats, if you were a knowledgeable fisherman, you would be aware that bass boats are equipped to run much faster than ski boats nowadays.

You might consider the poor fish in the Lake. The water skiers are the people who allow the fish two half days rest from the million lures cast at them. Thank goodness for the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission ruling the limit of fish and their request to release smaller ones, or we might find bass extinct.

Did you pause on your day off to wonder how many water skiers were out for their enjoyable celebration Sunday afternoon? Skiers earn and deserve their pleasures too.

Yes, people who waterski do indeed fish also. Many outdoor people are diversified. If one enjoys water and boats, usually one utilizes one's boats for all water sports.

Concerning your quandry over the "fellow at Lamar Bruce who spent the whole afternoon pulling a skier with a beautiful fiberglass bass boat equipped with all the extras," he was probably spending one half day with his family after spending all day Saturday fishing with his buddy. Your statement was "what a horrible waste." We should hope for more men to "waste" a half day out of seven with his wife and children.

You might -- for your information -- conduct a survey on how many family fishing outings you see in a two (2) seater bass boat as compared to a family outing in a six to eight (6-8) seater ski boat.

I am sorry, if on your holiday, the world did not stop and allow you and your wife to enjoy your fishing. We Southerners are known for our warm hospitality; so, if you announce in advance your next day off, I'm sure everyone will attempt to accommodate you and relinquish their activities for that day.

Fun Fishing,

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward

Managing Editor

After driving the new M1 tank last week at the Aberdeen, Maryland, Proving Grounds I wished I had had one when I was driving a taxi in New York City. I would have had no trouble with traffic jams.

Twenty of us from several Mississippi newspapers and TV stations got to fire the M1's cannon and the gun on the new Bradley M2 personnel carrier and drive both the M1 and the M60 tanks, courtesy of the Mississippi National Guard.

Naturally, the idea was to generate publicity for the new tank, which will be part of the equipment used by the local NG unit beginning in October.

In an effort to demonstrate the ease of use and the accuracy of the M1's 105mm cannon, each of us got to fire a round at a target 2000 meters away.

We were given quick basic instructions. It's just a simple matter of looking through a viewing sight and squeezing grips to aim, then squeezing buttons to fire -- not so different from the old pre-computer penny arcade games.

Every one of us hit the target, which was made of 12-inch sheet steel, and most scored bulls-eyes.

We also got to fire the 25mm gun on the Bradleys -- 10 shots apiece, five single and five rapid -- and all scored well on a target at 700 meters.

Though it seemed so easy a chimp could do it, hindsight tells me that it might be a bit harder when the tank and the target are both moving.

I have driven everything from a motorbike to an 18-wheeler. But driving a tank was a new experience. I was surprised to find that tanks don't have steering wheels; they have handlebars.

I drove the old M60 first. That's the model parked out at the armory now. The idea was for us to actually experience the improvement from the M60 to the M1; a difference similar to the one between a station wagon and a Porsche.

The M60 sits like a station wagon. The accelerator is on the floor. It has manual brakes. And, like a forklift, you have to turn the opposite direction from where you want to go. Its acceleration and top speed are nothing to brag about, either.

The M1 sits like a sportscar. You recline with your legs straight out. The brakes are power and very touchy. The accelerator is on the handgrips like a motorcycle, and you pull back on the left grip to go left and back on the right grip to go right.

It also scoots out like a scared rabbit, moves fast enough to scare you and will even do a four-wheel drift through a corner.

The general complaint was that we only got to drive each tank one mile, around an oval track, and that wasn't enough. If I had a spare $3 or $4 million, I'd love to buy a couple and use them for an amusement park ride because the things are really fun to drive.

I have just one question, though. I am 5'7" and weigh about 158, and it was a tight squeeze getting into the driver's seat in both tanks. Yet, in the movies, people the size of John Wayne and James Garner are always driving the things.

What do they do, remove everything from the inside first? There just ain't no way anybody that size could get inside a tank otherwise.

New Industry Training Employees At Northeast

Northeast Junior College, through funds from the State Department of Vocational Education, recently completed an industrial training class on shop math, blueprint reading, instrumentation reading and statistical process control for Parker's new automotive connectors division plant in Booneville.

Duane Bullard, industrial services coordinator at Northeast, said 25 employees took part in the classes taught by Richard Houck and Dwight Lemmon. Bullard said Plant Manager Dick Mullen and Lonnie Waterman also played major roles in setting up the training program.

Northeast provided office facilities for plant personnel while the plant was under construction as well as training, auditorium and storage facilities. Employees of Parker attended four three-hour classes each week for three weeks.

Mullen wasn't shy in expressing his gratitude to Northeast for its part in the establishment of the new plant and the training of its employees.

"Industrial services provided by NEMJC were instrumental in the success of the class," Mullen said. "The training received by the participants will help to improve production and quality in the new Booneville plant and thereby strengthen Parker's position in the marketplace."

Bullard added that NEMJC's Industrial Services Division last year trained between 2,000 and 2,500 workers in the five-county area in similar programs.

Drugs

be bought in most drug stores without a prescription," he said.

Dr. Johnson said addiction to dilauid is very rapid, usually after only one or two doses. "As with heroin, as the person uses the drug more and more, he builds up a tolerance. By the time I see them, they are usually up to four or five hits a day. That means a $200 to $300 per day habit," he said.

And how does a person support a drug habit that is costing $1,000 or more a week? According to law enforcement officers, the addict usually resorts to crime.

"I asked a reformed addict how he had been able to support a $1,000 a week habit," said Prentiss County Sheriff W.V. Horn. "He told me it had been easy."

"He said all he had to do was steal two or three cars a week. He said he would make approximately $5,000 from the cars and spend $1,000 of that on dilauid," said Horn.

Dr. Johnson said dilauid is seldom prescribed by local physicians now, and drug stores do not normally stock it. He said he thinks it is being "imported" from somewhere else.

"Pushers intentionally get locals hooked on dilauid, then get them to resort to criminal activities like burglary, car theft or prostitution to pay for their habit," he said.

According to Dr. Johnson, the average dilauid abuser is young, middle class and usually white. Possibly more than 50 percent are female.

He said the youngest dilauid abuser he has treated so far has been 18, but most are in their 20s.

At least one committed suicide while high. Another was killed while committing a crime. More will probably die.

But, one way or the other, according to Dr. Johnson, dilauid abuse is a terminal illness.

Booneville Artists Organization To Exhibit Work On Square

SAM, a group of Booneville artists, will have their second art exhibit on court square on Saturday, June 30, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

SAM was organized in April 1981 and is composed of five members.

Gerald Bennett serves as president of the organization and Grace Counce is vice president.

Bennett teaches private art lessons and also teaches lessons for SAM. He works mainly with acrylic, pastels, water colors.

Bennett, who has always been interested in art, was not able to take art courses until college. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in education from Delta State.

Grace Counce is a "self-taught" artist who began painting after retiring from factory work. "Painting fills my time - day and night," she says.

Mrs. Counce has won various awards for her work in oils, pastels and acrylic. Her work has won third prize at Iuka and Belmont; and first prize at Tishomingo State Park. She recently had a two-day exhibit at Parker's Cross Roads which is located between Lexington and Huntington, Tenn.

Mayme Forrester, another member of SAM, formerly worked as a commercial artist in Flint, Mich. She works with water colors and pastels.

Oneta Cole, another Booneville resident, specializes in painting portraits. She also works with watercolors, pastels and oils and has illustrated books.

Last year she won Best of Show and Best in Painting at an art show in Belmont. Her work won second prize in Iuka this year.

Lourine Gullett, an elementary teacher in Booneville, is another member of SAM. She works with pastels and water colors.

Bennett invites other local artists to exhibit their work on the lawn of the Prentiss County Courthouse Saturday, June 30. However, he stresses that the work must be original arts and crafts.

Paintings by members of SAM are also on display at Bennett's studio on Highway 4 East.

Those interested in more information concerning the art exhibit should contact Bennett at 728-6560.

Lions Club Fish Fry & Auction Nets $2,500

According to Booneville Lions Club President Richard Coggin, this year's annual fish fry and auction, held Friday, June 8, in the pavilion at the Westside City Park, was the most successful in the club's history.

Club Treasurer Raymond Parker said, though final figures on proceeds from tickets for the fish dinner are not yet available, total proceeds from the fundraiser will be approximately $2,500.

"We took in $1,935 at the auction, and it looks like we will end up making about $500 from the dinner," Parker said, explaining that not all members had turned in their ticket money yet.

Parker estimated that approximately 200 people enjoyed the dinner of deep-fried catfish, potatoes, cole claw and hushpuppies.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

'Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my rock and my Redeemer.'

A Meditation from The Upper Room

Copyright The Upper Room

By Lynn E. Chapel

Several years ago, I participated along with six other pastors in a joint Good Friday service in a large church. The service went well, and there was a sizable attendance; but when it was over, I had the feeling that my contribution had been far from satisfactory. Later that day I learned, to my great consternation, that the microphone we used had been placed there not just for the congregation but to broadcast our messages. Whatever mistakes I had made, whatever my message lacked in clarity or in personal conviction, had been communicated to an unseen audience of hundreds. Then I thought of the words of the psalmist.

How many people are going to hear the words we speak today? Probably more than we think. Like the feathery seeds of the milk-weed pod borne on the wind, our words may be carried far and wide. Will we try to make everything we say pleasing to the Lord?

PRAYER: God in heaven, give me the grace to shape my speech to glorify Your name and to inspire my hearers. In the name of Your Son, Amen.

The Thought for the Day: My words, which reflect my inmost self, have lasting effects.

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

Those of you who were fortunate enough to plant early should have some garden vegetables ready for harvest. The rest of June will be a busy time for gardeners.

If you do have vegetables ready for harvest, harvest on time for peak quality. Then prepare the same space to make room for more vegetables.

Spray or dust sweet corn silks every three or four days to control corn earworms. Sweet corn needs 17 to 21 days from first silk to maturity. Harvest is not so critical with the newer, sweet hybrids.

As soon as corn is harvested, chop the stalks and turn them under to add organic matter to the soil. Prepare the area for planting winter squash and pumpkins in early July, or cauliflower, cabbage and beans in late July and early August.

As Irish potatoes mature, the vines will begin to yellow. Don't mistake leaf diseases for maturity.

Spray with a fungicide to keep the leaves healthy until they yellow with maturity.

Dig potatoes in the cool part of the day and shade them from the sun. Don't wash potatoes to be stored unless they are muddy. Let them dry in a well-ventilated, dark place for several days and then store in a cool, dark place. Don't try to keep potatoes in the ground after the vines die. They will rot if not dug.

Tomatoes will continue to need care and attention, including suckering, spraying for worms and diseases and mulching.

Tifton 78 Available

The new hybrid bermudagrass, Tifton 78, is now available for Mississippians at several nurseries across the state.

Increased availability, the ability to establish the grass quickly and improved yields should make the new grass a popular forage among Prentiss County growers.

Tifton 78 is a cross between Tifton 44 and Callie bermudagrasses that roots quickly from the nodes of stem cuttings in the field or in a greenhouse propagation bed.

Compared with Callie, the hybrid bermudagrass produces more rhizomes and is immune to rust. Tifton 78 is also more winter-hardy than Callie and establishes faster than Tifton 44.

Tifton 78 produced 25 percent more dry matter than Coastal. It also produced 30 percent more steer grazing days, 36 percent more liveweight gain per acre and 13 percent better average daily gains.

For more information on obtaining Tifton 78, come by the Prentiss County Extension office on 404 East Church St., or call 728-5631.

Crop Certification Explained

Now that the signup period is over for all 1984 acreage reduction programs and farmers have planted crops, the next program requirement is crop certification.

USDA official Milton J. Hertz explained the reason for acreage reports and reviewed the certification procedure. "We ask farmers to report the sizes and intended uses of their crops to determine whether they are eligible to receive the different benefits under the programs we offer."

"The reports are necessary to determine program compliance and to document crop acreages for future programs," he said.

Before farmers can receive price support loans, deficiency payments and other program benefits, they are required to report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve.

When farmers report to the county ASCS office, they can review aerial photographs of their farm and pinpoint the fields in which the crops are grown. This information is then recorded and serves as documentation for program compliance and crop acreage bases.

In addition to history purposes, the reports are also necessary to prove crop yields.

Hertz said crop certification is most important to farmers who are participating in the 1984 programs because, without an acreage report, farmers are not really participating.

"They must give us an acreage report in order for us to determine the level at which they are eligible for program payments and other benefits," he said.

Hertz said certification is particularly important to producers of quota crops such as tobacco and peanuts. In addition to these crops, all other crop acreages should be reported. These include corn, wheat, barley, grain sorghum, rice, upland cotton, extra long staple cotton, oats, soybeans, and vegetable crops.

In Prentiss County, the final certification date for program crops is July 15, 1984.

Hertz said acreage reports need to be as accurate as possible. "We do have a spot check program to check on the accuracy of these reports. So the more accurate the report, the less trouble the farmer has to qualify for program benefits."

The USDA official said that producers not participating in the 1984 programs should report their crop acreages to insure the opportunity to fully participate in future farm programs.

Warm Weather Causes Insect Growth in Stored Grain

Since warm weather creates ideal conditions for rapid insect development, farmers are reminded to make careful and frequent inspections of their farm-stored grain, whether it is under regular loan or in the reserve program.

Farmers need to be particularly alert to storability problems when inspecting their grain during the spring, summer and early fall, and should increase spot checks during these months if the normal checks indicate the need.

The market value of infested grain may be substantially reduced if the number of insect-damaged kernels is sufficient to lower the grain quality.

When determining the eligibility of grain for the reserve program or price support loans, ASCS considers the condition of both the storage structure and the commodity stored within the structure.

Once the grain is approved for loan, any loss in the quality or quantity caused by insect infestation or rodent damage is the farmer's responsibility.

Mississippi Winter Wheat Production Forecast at 21,850,000 Bushels

Mississippi winter wheat production is forecast at about 21,850,000 bushels, up from 20,400,000 bushels in 1983, according to the USDA's May crop production report.

The season-average price for wheat is forecast to range between $3.20 and $3.50 per bushel.

The national winter wheat harvest is estimated at 1.98 billion bushels, only one percent lower than in 1983. USDA officials say less acreage will be idled in 1984 than a year ago, which will increase prospective harvested acreage.

This season, winter wheat farmers seeded nearly 65 million acres, 2.4 million more than last year. An estimated 52 million acres will be harvested and will yield about 38 bushels an acre. For spring wheat, program participation will be around 75 percent of base acreage, compared with over 85 percent in 1983.

Although total 1984 program enrollment was smaller than in 1983, Department officials say it increased after program modifications, and rose to 61 percent from the earlier 53 percent of the total wheat acreage base. Total 1984 wheat production is forecast at 2.55 billion bushels, up five percent from 1983.

USDA Announces 1985 Wheat Program

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block recently announced provisions of the 1985 wheat program, including a 20 percent acreage reduction and a 10 percent paid land diversion.

Signup for the program will be Oct. 15 through March 1. The cash land diversion payment will be $2.70 per bushel with 50 percent available at signup. The program also includes a $3.30 per bushel national average loan rate and a $4.38 per bushel target price.

To be eligible for program benefits, producers must limit 1985 wheat acreage to no more than 70 percent of the farm's wheat base. They must also dedicate a certain amount of their eligible cropland to an acreage conservation reserve.

The amount to be placed in this reserve must be equal to at least 28.57 percent of the farm's 1985 planted wheat acreage plus 10 percent of the farm's wheat base.

Land designated for an acreage conservation reserve must have been devoted to a row crop or small

SHOULDER & ARM PAIN

CHIROPRACTIC CAN HELP NATURE RELIEVE AND HEAL SHOULDER AND ARM PAIN

It should thus be quite apparent that shoulder and arm pain may indicate a more serious condition. But whether the problem is related to other parts of the body or not, the pain can become very debilitating, as those who suffer from such problems well know.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic readily understands the problems involved in a painful shoulder or arm condition. He or she is eminently better qualified to correct these types of conditions than any other kind of doctor. If nerve interference is the basic or contributing cause of your problem, your chiropractor will institute necessary measures to help nature correct and heal the condition.

The chiropractor's minimum of six years of college education plus practical experience have been especially directed to just such problems—problems which involve the spine, nerves, muscles, and joints of the body.

Today's Doctor of Chiropractic first seeks to give you immediate relief from pain, but education and experience always cause him or her to search out the underlying source of your problem and then correct it. This prevents the need for you to take pain pills for relief month in and month out.

THE "EXTENDED-WEAR" ADVANTAGE

There are some people who express initial skepticism about the new "extended-wear" contacts. After years of removing contacts and cleaning them daily, it's hard for them to accept the fact that there are, indeed, a new class of contacts which can be worn for up to two weeks without having to be removed.

How can they be worn so long without discomfort? How do they stay clean during all that time? The answer to these two questions are related. Because of the water content of these new lenses, they are able to transmit substantially more oxygen to the eye. The eye can "breathe" more normally. This allows them to be worn comfortably longer.

Also, because they can stay in the eye longer, they do not have to be cleaned as often. One does not remove contact lenses to clean them; one cleans them because one has had to remove them. A soft contact lens that remains in place on the eye is simply not exposed to most contaminants.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, call The Booneville Vision Clinic.

A PUBLIC NOTICE

Regarding the change over in garbage and yard trash collection for the City of Booneville.

On May 22, 1984, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen entered into an agreement with RSI (Refuse Systems, Inc.) of Corinth, Mississippi, to collect and dispose of all residential and commercial garbage and yard trash in the City of Booneville.

RESIDENTIAL COLLECTION

RSI will begin residential service on Monday, July 2, 1984. Service will be provided to each residence once per week and will include both household garbage and yard trash collection. Your regular pick up day will remain the same at this time.

Based on the new city ordinance the following requirements should be noted:

- (1) All household garbage must be put in an approved plastic bag(s) and placed within 5 feet of the street, accessible to RSI employees, outside any fence or other property enclosure. If desired, garbage bags can be placed at the street inside suitable garbage cans. However, garbage must be bagged.
- (2) Yard trash must be placed in a uniform manner along side household plastic garbage bag(s) and must meet certain requirements for collection.

a. Yard trash will be picked up along with household garbage on your scheduled pick up day.

b. Yard trash, trimmings, leaves, etc. will be accepted in plastic bags or suitable disposable containers or cardboard boxes.

c. Tree limbs and trimmings must be bundled in lengths not to exceed 5 feet in length.

d. No single item can exceed 75 pounds in weight.

(3) RSI will not be responsible for picking up debris resulting from construction, remodeling, demolition, etc. or waste resulting from professional tree trimmers or landscapers. It will be the responsibility of the contractor to dispose of said debris, or to contact RSI for removal at a negotiated rate.

(4) Waste material of a hazardous nature will not be collected or disposed of by RSI.

The monthly charge for residential garbage on yard trash collection and disposal will be $4.00 per residence and billed on your City Utility Bill.

COMMERCIAL COLLECTION

Commercial collection will consist of businesses, offices, apartments, etc. and will have two categories: Light Commercial and Heavy Commercial.

(1) Light Commercial Customers, those establishments generating 1½ cubic yards (300 gallons) or less of trash per week will be serviced by RSI with two (2) pick ups per week.

a. Trash will be collected in acceptable plastic bags or disposable containers, placed outside the establishment near the street or at an acceptable alternate location easily accessible to RSI's truck.

Light Commercial Customers will be billed $8.50 per month on their City Utility Bill.

(2) Heavy Commercial Customers, those business establishments, offices, apartments (8 units or more) generating over 1½ cubic yards (300 gallons) per week will be contacted by RSI and provided a commercial front-end loader container(s) and serviced on a scheduled basis by RSI.

Monthly rates for Heavy Commercial Customers will vary according to the size container and frequency of pick up. A service agreement is required. Monthly billing will be on the City Utility Bill.

Home Economist's Notes

By PATTY K. ROBINSON
Extension Home Economist

History - Milk's importance in the human diet has been recognized since prehistoric times. American settlers moving West found the dairy cow was a mobile food factory. Since that time, dairying has become a highly technical, mechanized industry. Single dairy herds consist of hundreds of cows milked mechanically. Milk is stored in hygienic refrigerated tanks, processed, sealed in sanitary containers and delivered to doorsteps or supermarket dairy case, only coming in contact with air as consumer opens carton. This modern technology has given milk a 7 day shelf life.

Nutritional Value of Milk and Cream - Milk and milk products, including cheese, cottage cheese, yogurt and ice cream are key factors in well-balanced diets. Daily milk requirements: Children - 3 or more cups; teenagers - 4 or more cups; adults - 2 or more cups; pregnant or nursing women - 4 or more cups.

Milk's Nutrients Have Many Important Functions - Of the 4 basic food groups, the milk group is the most dependable source of calcium. You need calcium every day to develop and maintain bones and teeth, help clot blood and regulate the heart beat. Milk proteins contain all the essential amino acids. The body uses these proteins to build, maintain and repair body tissues and help build resistance to disease. The vitamin A in milk helps keep your skin clear, soft, smooth and helps prevent infection.

Types of Milk and Cream: Whole Milk - Contains more than 8 percent nonfat milk solids, the source of the proteins, mineral and most of the milk vitamins. Low Fat or 2 percent Milk - Contains 1.75 percent or 2 percent milk-fat. Most is fortified with added nonfat milk solids, vitamins A and D. Skim Milk - Most of the milk fat has been removed and so is 99 percent and fat free. Usually fortified with added nonfat milk solids and vitamins A and D.

Chocolate Milk - Whole milk with added chocolate syrup or cocoa and sugar.

Chocolate Drink - Skim or partially skimmed milk with added chocolate syrup or cocoa and sugar. Cultured Buttermilk - Originally a by-product of churning butter, now made by adding a special culture of bacteria to fresh fluid skim milk which produces acid flavor, rich body. Evaporated Milk - Whole milk from which enough water has been evaporated, under vacuum, to reduce its volume by half. Sweetened Condensed Milk - Fresh whole milk to which sugar is added, then 60 percent of the natural water removed under vacuum.

Terms: Certified -- A milk available in some markets produced under the supervision of the Medical Milk Commission and handled according to rigid sanitary regulations which are incorporated into many state and local laws. Fortified - Whole, partially skim or skim milk, enriched with added amounts of one or more essential nutrients normally present in milk.

Homogenization - A blending process which reduces the size of milk fat globules and distributes milkfat evenly throughout, keeping cream from rising to the top. Pasteurization - The process of heating raw milk to destroy any harmful bacteria then cooling before packaging. Does not change the flavor or food value. Raw - Milk in its natural state which has undergone no treatment but cooling. Little is marketed.

Cooking Equivalents: 1 cup sour milk equals 1 cup cultured buttermilk or 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar plus enough milk to make 1 cup. Let stand 5 minutes. 1 cup light cream equals 3 tablespoons butter plus 1/4 cup milk. For cooking only.

1 cup heavy cream equals 1-3 cup butter plus 1/4 cup milk. For cooking only, not whipping.

1 cup whole milk equals 1/2 cup evaporated milk plus 1/2 cup water or 1 cup reconstituted non fat dry milk plus 2 1/2 teaspoons butter. 2 cups whipped cream equals 1 cup whipping cream.

Storing Milk Products -- Refrigerator Storage: Fresh Fluid Dairy Products are perishable foods which should be kept refrigerated at 40 degrees F. to protect flavor and freshness. At this temperature milk will keep for a week or more. Pasteurization prevents normal souring of milk or cream. An opened container should be resealed to prevent absorption of other food flavors. Exposure to light destroys flavor and riboflavin. The acidity of Buttermilk increases during storage affecting its smooth body and texture. For best flavor use within 3-4 days. Unopened cans of Evaporated Milk should be stored in a cool, dry place. After opening, evaporated milk should be given the same care as regular milk. Store in original container, cover and use within 3-5 days.

Packaged Instant Nonfat Dry Milk stores well even at room temperature for 6-8 months. For flavor improvement store it overnight in the refrigerator after mixing. Sweetened Condensed Milk can be kept in the unopened can for approximately 6 months in a cool, dry, dark place. Because of the high sugar content, sweetened condensed milk stays sweet and safe for several days if covered and refrigerated.

Milk is nature's most nearly perfect food... Have some every day!

We Sell The Nation's Most Efficient Fuel — Natural Gas.

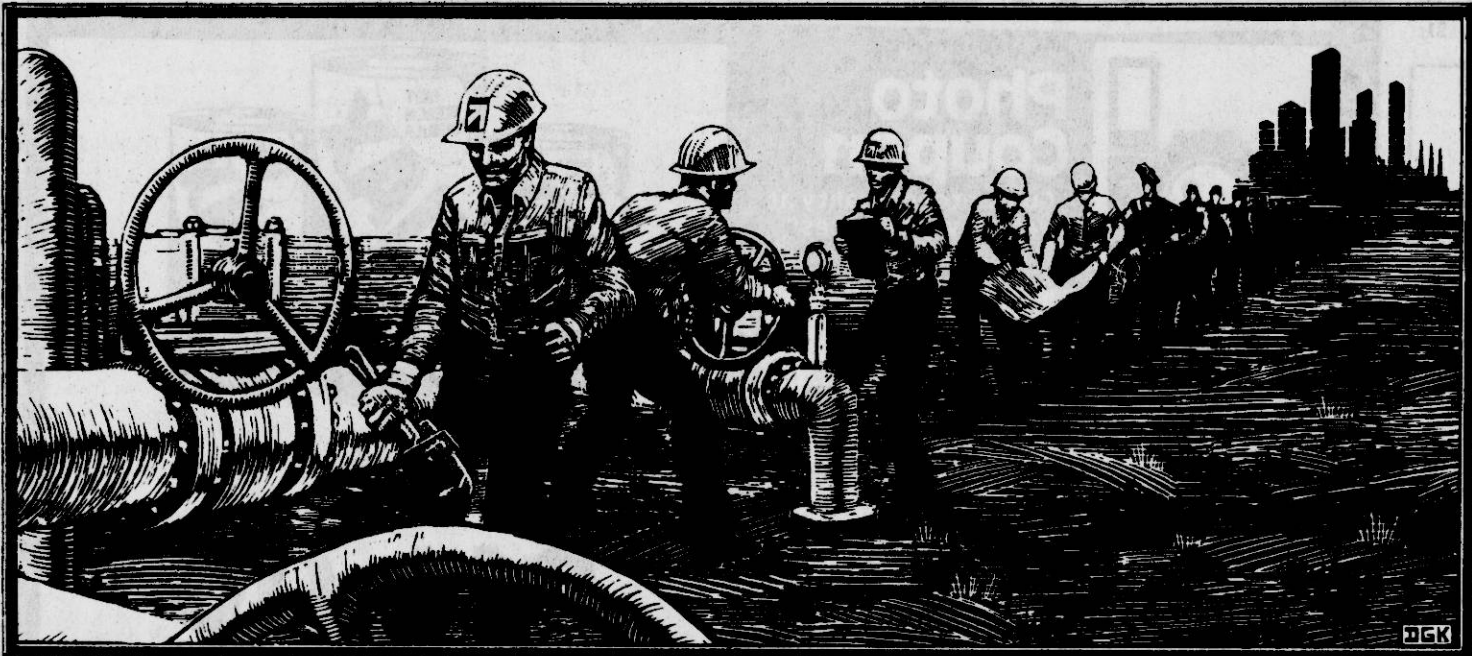

We know natural gas.
It's our business.
We know that great changes are coming to this vital energy source. We know about the new end-use technology that is increasing energy recovery from the same old BTU content.

We know about it because we're part of it.
Time doesn't stand still. Neither does United Gas.
We manage the most strategic delivery system in the Gulf South. This company has crossed rivers and swamps and met the challenge of the Gulf of Mexico. We've laid more than 9000 miles of pipeline underground and undersea.

Our personnel comprise one of the most experienced organizations in the natural gas business. More than 50 years ago this company first brought natural gas to the Gulf South. In the process it has met and solved one problem after another. Now, with the same spirit and determination, we're working to lower costs and increase energy efficiencies.
Times are changing, but no matter how they change, some things remain unchanged: natural gas remains the nation's premium fuel, clean, efficient, non-polluting, the best energy you can buy. And United Gas remains the Gulf South's prime energy supplier.

Eyes

also was poor coordination with the Attorney General in seeing that good cases were prepared and suits were filed. Very often cases dragged out indefinitely or fell through the cracks.

When Ray Mabus came into the Auditor's office, he laid down strict procedures that demands on public officials and their bonding companies be promptly filed when an exception is taken to expenditures. Once filed, the demand must be satisfied within 30 days as provided by law. No longer is there an open-ended invitation to let the demand go unanswered.

Immediately after the 30 days is up and repayment is not made, then Mabus turns it over to the AG, and the clock starts running again.

Mabus's office has a close working arrangement with Asst. Atty Gen. Pete Cajoleas, who is in charge of cases involving public officials, to see that a strong case is prepared in event it goes to trial.

On the day he receives the notice of non-payment of a demand from the Auditor, Cajoleas notifies the official by letter that if payment is not made in 30 days, suit will be filed to collect the money, plus interest.

"General Pittman has told me this means 30 days, not 31 or 32 days," the dark-haired young assistant AG says.

In the past week, the teamwork between the two state offices has brought in $54,000 from two former and one present supervisor in Jackson County who were among four against whom Cajoleas had filed suit less than a month ago. The three decided not to fight the case in court.

Still left in the lawsuit is well-known former Jackson County Supervisor Edward A. Khayat, who had been forced out of office three years ago in a crackdown on county corruption by Dist. Atty Mike Moore of Pascagoula.

Former Alcorn County Tax Collector James

William Crow tested the will of the AG's office by delaying any response to a threatened lawsuit until the eve of the 30th day. When he found that Cajoleas already had the lawsuit typed and ready to be filed, Crow came in the next day and paid off the full demand of $32,800.

The Auditor's office has evidently cracked open one of the most sacrosanct local institutions around the state - the regional and county hospitals - which have been audited by privately employed auditors.

This has come about since Mabus' office sent auditors into the Southwest Medical Center in McComb to look into questionable expenditures following complaints by a member of the hospital board. The inquiry by state auditors, started a little over a month ago, resulted in resignation of the hospital director, the board president and repayment of some $27,000 in improper expenditures.

Since the McComb hospital case, the Mississippi Society of Certified Public Accountants has established a special task force to draft specific compliance procedures for hospital audits. From now on, such audits will be reviewed by the Auditor's office to see if compliance is followed.

The one weapon that neither the Auditor nor the Attorney General has been given by the Legislature is the power to subpoena records, bank documents and other papers which can be used in an investigation of suspected corruption by public officials.

Ironically, the Legislature's own PEER committee has subpoena power, as do some other agencies, including the Board of Nursing Examiners.

Maybe you can't legislate honesty of public officials, but somebody keeping watch at the state level could have the same effect.

The New Abrams M1 Tank

Carolina received their new tanks 18 months ago.

"As I understand it they will be coming into the state during the month of October. So, we should be getting them soon afterwards," said Sgt. Chittom.

The Mississippi units must be trained on the M1 because it is the tank used by the 1st Cavalry Division. In the event of war, they would be working together, using the same equipment, Rushing explained.

National Guard Bureau Public Affairs Officer Joe Hanley admitted this would also mean the Mississippi units would be among the first to be called to active duty.

Hanley said NG makes up 46 percent of the Army's combat strength, and each unit has a mission. It is that specific mission which determines what units would be called, in what order, during wartime, he said.

"Because of the type of equipment that the Mississippi units have been assigned, the probability that they would be among the first units called would be high," Hanley said.

"Surprisingly, most of the (Booneville) men have not given any negative comments at all," said Chittom when asked about the reaction to being a "first-called" unit.

"We've had the usual one, or two or three that have said something about it. But, overall, we're just well pleased with the reaction so far," he said.

"I'm sure some of the wives are not going to like it," Chittom admitted.

Camp Shelby will be receiving a total of 126 new M1 tanks. Fifty-six armed crewmen from each of the eight units will be trained to operate them during three-week training sessions there, Col. Rushing said, adding that units from each city would take their training during different periods to cut down on employer problems.

Sgt. Chittom said he thought training for the Booneville unit would be sometime in March or April 1985. "It will be an earlier type camp," he said.

Chittom said he did anticipate objections from employers about men being gone three weeks, rather than the traditional two. "I'm sure there will be some who just won't go along with it at all. And there's nothing we can do about that. We try to work with the employers any way we can, and we hope that they will do the same for us and work with us as much as they can."

"We'll have some problem with it, but it won't be a great problem I don't think," Chittom said.

Chittom said he would be training on the M1 in July. "We go to camp July 7, and the week after we get back I'll be going to Fort Knox for a period of a month. And, during that period of time I will transition train..."

"In other words, I'm trained on the M60 that we have now. And they will incorporate that along with the new stuff on the M1 into a training program. And I'll go through that during the month of August."

"Then, once I come back, the training NCOs like myself will be going to Camp Shelby to start the transition training for the units," Chittom said.

Col. Rushing said the M1s will initially remain at Camp Shelby because of a lack of local training facilities. But eventually each of the eight units will be assigned 14 tanks.

He said two tanks each will also be assigned to the Amory and Greenville units, 10 will still remain at Camp Shelby and 14 will be moved to Camp McCain.

Sgt. Chittom said that with the acquisition of the new tanks and the unit's new "first-called" status a recruiting drive is planned for the near future.

"It will probably be right after summer camp because we would like to be above strength when we start this training. We realize we are going to lose some men because of the long camps, and the long weekends and the idea of being first to go."

"So we would like to be at least 110 to 115 percent by October 1," Chittom said.

Waterway

miles due east of Macon at Aliceville, Ala., where barges have commenced transporting soybeans and wheat from a west bank elevator with the corporate name of Tom Soya. The name rhymes with Tom Sawyer of Mississippi River fictional fame and designates a company owned by Mississippians Jimmy Bryan of West Point and Ray Lucas of Macon.

Bob Johnston, president of the Aliceville River Terminal, reported that port developments are taking place on both sides of the waterway at Aliceville. He stated that the Erie Company, owned by Mike McQueen of Houston, Texas, already is shipping wood chips from Alabama and Mississippi forests by barge from Aliceville to Mobile where they are assembled at Erie's facility on Blakeley Island for international shipment to Scandinavia.

Another shipping corporation now operating at Aliceville is Tombigbee Bulk Commodities, owned by Larry Sloan of Aliceville and Moses Vernon of Macon.

A short distance upstream, between Aliceville and Columbus, two port facilities are under construction at Pickensville. Here long uncut logs are barged to the Scott Paper mill at Mobile while return tows bring in fertilizer and gypsum rock for cement.

Near Aliceville we visited the Aliceville Lock and Dam where it takes approximately one hour for a tugboat and its barges to enter the lock and change elevation by 27 feet at this point on the waterway.

As we watched with the manager in the control tower overlooking the facilities, two fishing boats came in. The lower gates were closed, 15 million gallons of water filled the lock in just under seven minutes, and moments later the two boats were motoring upstream from the lock.

The magic of water transportation feasibility is an awesome thing as it utilizes a free flowing natural resource. The manager of the lock pointed out that one tugboat with its string of eight barges carries the same cargo as a train 1½ miles in length containing 120 freight cars.

Or, when measured against 18 wheelers on the open highway, one tow carried the same freight volume as 480 18-wheel tractor-trailer rigs.

But there's something else worth considering. Both water and rail transportation relieve highway systems of much traffic congestion and roadway depreciation.

And while considering safety implications among various modes of transportation, another aspect of the Tenn-Tom system that hasn't been talked much, as I recall, is the safety of shipments on the relatively tranquil waterway with its periodic locks and dams when compared to the Mississippi River.

The Tenn-Tom offers a safety factor and stream stability that the mighty Mississippi cannot touch with a ten foot, or 1.8 fathom, pole, and which might well be measured in decreased costs and lowered risks for insurance purposes.

For some shippers this may well be the hinge point of decisions on whether to ship via the Mississippi or Tenn-Tom when other factors are about the same.

Deputy

"I went in there with the other officers, and I told him I wanted to go ahead and take the papers out on them," Tullis said.

"But, he (Judge Via) kept saying, 'Well, we don't really want to do that. I was hoping we could get by without doing that.' And I said, 'The man assaulted me, an officer from out of state. I came down here to testify in the behalf of other officers and he assaulted me,'" he said.

"Then he told me if I signed a warrant against them, they would probably sign one against me...He tried to intimidate me not to sign a warrant by using the fact that they would sign one against me. And I didn't like that at all," Tullis said.

"He refused to let me sign a warrant against them."

Tullis told The Banner-Independent that, though he finally went along with Judge Via's reluctance to issue a warrant, he intended to get Justice Judge Dexter Cadle to issue one.

When contacted by The Banner-Independent and informed of Tullis' accusation that he had refused to issue a warrant against the Lawsons, Judge Via said, "That's not true. I told him it would suit me if nobody filed any charges. But I did not refuse to let him sign an affidavit."

"The police had already charged the Lawsons and I didn't see any reason for another affidavit," Via said.

Via confirmed that he had told Tullis he would prefer not to issue any warrants, and that he had suggested that the Lawsons would file one against Tullis if he filed one against them.

According to Booneville Police Chief John "Bobby" Lambert, Henry Lawson was charged with creating a public disturbance. Mrs. Lawson was charged with creating a public disturbance and using profane language in public. Lambert said both were released on bond.

CB Club News

By LADY BLUE SURF

It seems everyone is gardening early in the morning and staying under the air conditioner in evening. But no one can talk much for that fella in California or Texas.

An officers meeting was held Thursday night at East Side Community Center on Mimosea Street. Lots of items were discussed to be brought before the club Tuesday night at business meeting.

Termite, Lady Termite, Butterbean Lady and three little gators traveled to Waco, Texas Wednesday a week ago. Termite is visiting their son and daughter-in-law in Waco. Butterbean Lady was picked up there by her sister and brother-in-law and journeyed on to San Antonio, Texas, for her visit there.

Double R traveled to Birmingham, Ala., Sunday to pick up Lady Double R and her mother who have been staying with Lady Double R's aunt who had four bypass surgeries last week. He said it sure was hectic when your water pump decides to take out on side of the road in 90 degree weather, and it takes four hours to fix it. Sure hope the aunt continues to do O.K.

Happy birthday to J.Q. on June 19th, and to Early Bird on the 21st.

Buffalo I says it pays to watch where you are going. He glanced off and wound up running into the back of an 18 wheeler! He was not hurt, but his pick-up received severe damage.

Remember at the July business meeting there will be the time for nomination of officers for another year. Election will be in August and they will take office Sept. 1. Review your person or persons and think about who you want for the job next year.

Until next week, stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice.

Houston 'Hilltoppers' Assistant Coach

New Girls' Basketball Coach Named For Booneville HS

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Booneville High School Principal Mac Curlee has announced that Carlos Smith, an assistant coach at Houston High School, has been named head girl's basketball coach at BHS.

Smith was chosen after Mickey Wood resigned earlier in the year to pursue a career in business.

Coach Smith is originally from San Diego, Calif. He attended college at Itawamba Junior College and the University of Mississippi. He received his B.S. degree from Ole Miss in Physical Education and Social Studies in 1978.

He also served as a basketball manager for the Rebel basketball team for three years under coach Bob Weltlich.

Smith's first tour of duty was with Pine Grove High School in Tippah County, where he served as assistant boy's and girl's basketball coach for two years.

He then accepted a similar position with Houston, where he has served the past three years.

Thus far, Smith has always been a part of a winning program. In his brief five year career his teams have won 85 percent of their games.

"My first year at Pine Grove we went 29 and 4. My second year we were 44 and 2," he said. "But, we had some great kids who were really dedicated."

At Houston, Smith's teams were equally successful. His Lady Hilltoppers won 78 games during his three year tenure.

Smith feels that the BHS program could be just as successful. "Booneville has a real good reputation for their girls," Smith said. "Just because they lost a lot of players from last year's team doesn't mean that they can't have a successful program. All it takes is dedication."

Smith said he expects good things for the Booneville program within the next few years. "I know that we will have several girls who did not get to play much last year on the team. And we will probably just have to feel things out for the first few weeks. But I believe we can be winners if we really want it bad enough," he said.

"Also, I understand we will have a lot of young players on the team. If we do, then we can really get some kids some experience for the future," Smith said.

Smith is coming into a program that lost a girl some say is one of the greatest basketball players in the state -- Kunsinghe Sorrell.

Though he admits that Sorrell will not be easily replaced, he said her absence need not affect the play of the other girls.

Coach Smith said that one of the reasons he accepted the Booneville position was because of the top-knotch competition in the Prentiss County area.

Central and Kossuth should also be tough.

One problem that worries Smith is the lack of support for high school basketball he has encountered in the past. "I'm sure we'll be well supported by the students and the people of Booneville. But, the pressure is on us to give them a team that they can be proud of," he said.

Smith plans to hold his first team meeting Tuesday night, June 26, at 6 at the BHS gym. He has asked that all interested girls and their parents attend this meeting.

Fishing Roundup

Sardis Getting Better Again

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Although the weather has been hot and humid of late, the fishing has started to pick up again - especially at Sardis Lake.

According to Booneville semi-professional angler Barney Bramlett, some of the fish caught at Sardis have been very large. "Michael Wright, Tom Cook and myself went over to Sardis last week and caught three limits of bass," Bramlett said. "Some of those fish weighed up to five pounds."

Currently at Sardis, the best place to fish is anywhere there is clear water. Around Graham Lake and north of that area has produced some great fishing.

"The bass are schooling more at Sardis now," Bramlett said. "However, most of them are under two pounds."

The best bait to use there this week should be deep water crank bait or plastic worms.

The bream are also picking up at Sardis. According to Bramlett, the bream are bedding up, which will make for some great fishing. "I would say that in another week or two, the bream fishing at Sardis should match that of Bay Springs," Bramlett said.

Red worms and crickets have been the best bait for bream at Sardis.

The Crappie at Sardis have moved into very deep water, around 10 feet, and they have almost quit biting. However, some fishermen are still catching a few crappie with jigs and minnows.

BAY SPRINGS - The bream fishing at Bay Springs continues to be the hottest around. Area anglers are catching in excess of 200 bream on each trip out.

The bream are currently in six feet of water at Bay Springs, with red worms and crickets the best baits. Most of the bream being caught at Bay Springs are being caught on the South end near the dam.

Not many catfish are being caught, but the outlook is better. The catfish are on the bottom of the lake and trot liners should drop their lines very deep and continue dropping them as the water level goes down.

The bass at Bay Springs are also in deep water. A deep crank bait should be the best bait this week for that fish.

FISHING TIP - This week's fishing tip comes from semi-pro fisherman Bramlett. According to Bramlett, the Catawba worm, a worm found mainly on a catawba tree, is an excellent bait for bream and catfish. Anyone that has the chance to get any of these worms should have no problem catching any fish.

WEATHER OUTLOOK - There continues to be no relief in sight from the hot and humid weather. Forecasts this week call for more of the same pattern - hot and humid days with the temperature in the 90's, a slight chance of widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers and warm, muggy nights with lows in the 70's.

TOURNAMENT NEWS - The Tenn-Tom Bassmasters Association Invitational Tournament is scheduled for June 23 at Pickwick Lake. Fishing hours will be 5:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and participating pros should meet at the Goat Island Ramp.

You may pick your own partner. Entry fees are $20 per boat plus $5 for the Big Fish Contest.

Fifty percent of the money goes to First Place and 30 percent to Second Place. All other money taken in will go to the Big Fish contest winners.

For further information, contact "Doc" Gullett at 728-8385.

Remember, if you have a question or a tip for our area anglers, feel free to write us and "drop your anchor." (My editor thought I should come up with another line to replace "without a hook").

Address your mail to Fishing Roundup, The Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, Miss., 38829.

Until next week, good fishing!

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

The Brown Shoe Little League team and the Sonic Little League team are currently tied for first place with 2-0 records as play enters the third week.

The T-Ball team from Marietta presently leads the T-Ball league with a perfect 4-0 record. Rotary and Civitans are following close behind.

In T-Ball action this past week,

Marietta downed Civitans 22-19; New Orleans Famous Fried Chicken beat Rotary 24-13; Marietta downed the Jaycees 30-12; Rotary beat Civitans 21-18; Marietta defeated NFC 24-13; and NFC beat Bank of Mississippi 28-18.

Brown Shoe kept a tight hold on first place Monday night as they beat First Bank 6-4.

Sterling Yearber pitched a one-hitter and struck out 6 to pick up the victory for Brown Shoe. Jason Nix was charged with the loss for First Bank.

Yearber and Milt Morgan led the hitting attack for Brown Shoe with 2 hits each. Also, both players scored two runs. Rickey Maness got credit for the only First Bank hit on the evening.

Sonic pulled a major upset Monday night as they beat last year's champions, People's Bank, 6-4.

Bryan Fisher picked up the win for Sonic as he gave up only 3 hits and struck out 4. Brent Wilson was charged with the loss for People's Bank.

Todd Jones and Darren Hughes paced Sonic at the plate with two hits and two runs scored each. Kelly Huddleston doubled home two runs for People's Bank in a losing effort.

Play was scheduled for Tuesday night, but results were unavailable at press time.

Only Girls' T-Ball In Prentiss County At East Side Park

The action is underway and already hot and heavy at the East Booneville City Park, according to Park Director Willie T. Jackson.

Little league, boy's and girl's t-ball, Dizzy Dean baseball and boy's and girl's softball are all providing plenty of exciting action.

There are three teams in the little league division. The Cats are currently in first place with a record of 3-1. The Bees are in second with a 2-2 record, and the Jets are third with a 1-3 record.

Two t-ball teams are also involved in some exciting games at the park. Triplett's battled Rowland's to a 20-20 tie in the only game thus far this season.

The East Side Park is presently the only Prentiss County park to offer a girl's t-ball league. The TLC's and the PYT's are currently tied for first with a 1-1 record.

Jock Calamese directs the park's 10 to 15 year-old girl's softball team. Calamese said that the team is presently looking for games to play with other teams. Anyone interested should contact Calamese or Jackson at the East Side Park.

In the women's softball league, Danny's Dolls are presently in first place. The Magic Ladies are in second place and Miller's team is in third.

Coach Leroy Brooks has been guiding the 13 and 14 year old Dizzy

Dean team at the park. Reports show that the team is faring well in North Mississippi Dizzy Dean play. However, Brooks was unavailable for comment before press time.

Jackson said the park would be sponsoring a men's and women's softball tournament next month. The dates for the event are July 24, 25 and 26. Anyone interested should contact Jackson or tournament director Danny Groves at the park or by calling 728-2245.

Role reversal...

Contrary to popular mythology, men are eager to marry, too

When it comes to marriage, popular mythology has it that women want it desperately, while men are "captured," dragged into it kicking and screaming all the way. This myth needs a bit of updating, says an article in a recent issue of Bride's Magazine.

In an ironic reversal of roles, men today are eager to marry, so eager in fact, they often find they're the ones doing the dragging.

The 1982 figures from the U.S. Bureau of the Census reveal that about 70 percent of American men today are or have been married. And, the much-touted playboy life aside, says the article, of those men not married, approximately 80 percent wish they were.

Evidence of concern

Marriage counselors also have evidence that men place a new value on marriage. When a marriage is in trouble, they say, the husbands are at least as concerned with seeking help as their wives are.

This is a big change from 15 years ago when, according to Dr. Ray Fowler, Marriage and Family Therapist in Claremont, California, "less than 20 percent of the visits to therapists on a national basis were initiated by men."

What happened? Why, just as women are proclaiming their independence and postponing marriage in favor of a career are men deciding that marriage and family life are really important after all?

Effect of change

It's precisely because women have changed that men have changed too, says the article. As Dr. Tilla Vahanian, a New York City marriage counselor and psychotherapist puts it, "Women have discovered that they don't need men as much as they thought they did."

Men are finding that their need is greater than they were willing to admit." It's like an elaborate dance that must be kept in balance. If one sex says "no" the other has to take over saying "yes."

Because many women are finding satisfaction in other pursuits and are no longer solely devoted to getting married, marriage for men is no longer the buyer's market it once was.

With men having to pursue marriage, they've come to have a greater appreciation of its worth. There's also a greater acceptance of emotion in society as a whole. Men today can acknowledge their need for closeness without feeling like traitors to manhood.

The desire to be a father is also a major motivator for some men to marry. Carrying on the family line was always important to a man, of course, but today's looser sex roles encourage him to get much more involved in the day-to-day raising of his children.

New satisfactions

In the process, men have found deep new satisfactions. Concludes the article: "... men have discovered that marriage is an opportunity to experience the gentle, nurturing parts of [themselves] that have been denied for too long."

From This Day Forward

Most newlyweds start their future together on a tight budget. They quickly learn that budgeting their time and money is important.

Great tips for weight loss before the 'big day'

Time flies all the more rapidly when you are planning a wedding. Your anxiety level increases as the last month approaches, especially when you are still fighting those last few pounds you promised yourself you would lose.

To get yourself to a winning start why not plan a 'Getaway' devoted entirely to you. Here is a simple, refreshing way to help get yourself ready for an exciting time in your life.

The perfect quick weight loss getaway

Plan a weekend with a close friend shortly before your wedding date. It's best to plan your 'Getaway' with a friend so that you can offer encouragement to each other. You don't even need to go away. Agree to keep phone calls and outside distractions to a minimum.

Set your goals

Be specific about what you want to accomplish. Work with your friend to define at least three goals you want to accomplish. Write your goals down. Review them several times a day.

And, don't hesitate to expand them. Think about the habits you want to break. Use your 'Getaway' as a stress-free way to initiate all kinds of good things for your new lease on life.

Nothing will do more for your morale than losing weight. It is the first step to a new you.

Changing your eating patterns by reducing your calorie intake by your choice of foods and paying attention to quantities will be one secret to successful weight loss.

Whatever method of weight loss you choose, make sure that you feel confident about maintaining your health as you lose weight. Too frequently, improvised or fad diets rob you of key nutrients.

One recommended way of taking the hassle out of the weight loss portion of your 'Getaway,' is to take a calorie controlled meal replacement such as Slim-Fast, the milkshake meal-in-a-glass.

There are no calories to count (each shake has 190 calories), no portions to weigh or measure and there is no need to worry about sacrificing nutrition.

You can replace Slim-Fast for breakfast and either lunch or dinner because its scientifically balanced formula provides all of the recommended daily allowance of vitamins, proteins, carbohydrates and minerals you need to take weight off.

Exercise

Combine aerobics with stretching or yoga. Maintaining a vigorous exercise routine will give you the muscle tone you want to show off your new shape.

Indulge yourself

The secret to making your 'Getaway' a success is to enjoy it. Use your 'Getaway' to pamper yourself. Soak in oil enriched bath water.

Massage baby oil into rough elbows and ankles at night before bedtime. Treat your hair to a deep conditioning treatment and your skin to a soothing mask.

In three short days you can make a major difference in how you look and feel. Without leaving home you'll feel like you've had a week away.

And the most exciting part — just one weekend can make all the difference in how you feel when you walk down the aisle. It's all the incentive you need.

Helpful hints for selecting engagement, wedding rings

The first major decision facing the newly-engaged couple is the selection of an engagement ring, usually shortly followed by a wedding ring.

Jewelers of America (JA), the national association representing more than 12,000 retail jewelers across the country, offers some tips that are designed to help a couple pick the rings that fit the future bride's finger and future groom's budget.

Engagement rings

According to National Jeweler, a trade publication, today's engaged couples continue the tradition of solitaire diamonds, but they are combining them with romantic contemporary settings.

Round stones still lead in popularity, but the use of "fancies," such as marquises and pears, followed by ovals and emerald-cut stones, is increasing.

Style ideas

The bigger the stone, the simpler the setting should be. Conversely, the smaller the center stone, or solitaire, the more elaborate the setting can be.

Some of the smaller fancy-shaped diamonds, in openwork freeform settings, give the illusion of a bigger stone and a more important ring, while keeping price levels down.

Wedding rings

All-yellow gold remains the favorite, but new finishes and color combinations are making fashion news. Two-tone textural treatments . . . combining mirror finishes with sand-blasted, florentined, brushed and pebbled surfaces, are all available.

THE DIAMOND SOLITAIRE in every shape and size is the overwhelming favorite with 69 percent of those lucky brides who receive a diamond engagement ring. Clockwise from top: the oval diamond; the pear diamond; the marquise diamond; the round diamond; the emerald-cut diamond. In the center: the heart-shaped diamond. A new item: refined nugget designs, offering the rich coloration of gold with an irregular surface.

Younger couples prefer romantic designs, featuring hand-cut flowers and leaves, continuous hearts, braided and love knot motifs. Interlocking sets of engagement and wedding rings which can be worn separately or as a unit, look most appealing with softer, more flowing lines.

Couples embarking on their second trip to the altar frequently eliminate the traditional engagement ring in favor of a more costly wedding ring, often embellished by diamonds.

For this most important choice, it is vital to deal with a local jeweler who not only offers a wide selection of styles and price ranges, but is also an expert who can give you advice and service.

For example, if you have a ring or piece of jewelry from a parent or grandparent, a jeweler can make it into a "today" style for you.

If the stone has been damaged over the years, he can re-cut it and set it in a ring that you will be proud to wear . . . in fact, your taste will play an important role in the new design.

Finally, the jeweler who has become your advisor will also be around in the future for service. You can return to him for repairs, or, as the years pass, you may want to hand your ring down to your newly-engaged child. Your jeweler will be there to help.

To learn more about fine jewelry, you can receive JA's free brochures by sending a self-addressed stamp envelope to Jewelers of America, Dept. MNS, 1271 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10020.

Pre-wedding planning can be stressful, too

As anyone who has gotten married can tell you, the months leading up to a wedding can be a time of stress as well as happiness. There's just so much to think about and do!

You need to find ceremony and reception sites, to choose just the right clothes, to make sometimes touchy decisions about who will be in your wedding, to furnish a complete home for your life after the wedding — and all this while you're having the inevitable doubts about getting married in the first place.

Calming the jitters

While wedding jitters are about as common as weddings, there are ways to make sure the anxiety doesn't get out of hand. BRIDE'S Magazine has these commonsense suggestions:

- Don't be afraid to admit you're upset. Tell your partner what's bothering you, whether it's a serious question about your relationship or a relatively trivial worry that you'll go blank when it comes time to say your vows.

- If you try to keep the stressful feelings to yourself, you'll only transfer them to something else, getting overly irritated at a late train, or a run in your stockings. Take positive action whenever possible: Sign up for a pre-marital workshop. Practice reciting your vows in front of a willing friend.

- Share the wedding responsibilities. If you're the bride, don't assume you have to do everything yourself. This idea is old-fashioned, as well as exhausting. Ask your fiancé to join you in picking out a catering hall and registering for gifts. He can write a share of the thank-you notes, handle all the honeymoon arrangements.

- Keep a calendar of everything you have to do. This kind of master plan gives you the secure feeling that you're not forgetting something crucial.

- Also gather any business cards, fabric swatches or magazine clippings you accumulate all together in one place — either a wedding planner made for this purpose or a simple manila envelope. Organization has the magical effect of reducing anxiety to a manageable level.

- Have a system for each task. Say you're doing your invitations. First, see if the task can be broken down into steps. (You have to address the envelopes, stuff them, seal them, and stamp them.)

Then, decide how you'll tackle each step: how long it should take and who will do it. Next, set a completion date (invitations should be mailed six weeks before the wedding). Finally, take action by setting a time and a place to begin.

- Pace yourself — don't plan to scout for reception sites the same day you have a report due at work. You'll make it through those pre-wedding months if you promise yourself you won't tackle more than one major job a day.

- Guard your health. Don't let a hectic schedule keep you from eating right, or often enough. You'll feel even more jittery from the weakness that results from a drop in blood sugar. Be sure to get enough rest and exercise too.

Sleep-inducers

Did you know that exercise increases the body's level of norepinephrine, a substance that gives you a feeling of calmness and well-being? If sleep eludes you at night because you have too much on your mind, try the time-tested soothers: a hot bath, warm milk, or a back rub.

Make-up tips for the blushing bride

Looking your best on your wedding day doesn't mean a trip to the ladies room every 20 minutes.

With all the kissing, crying and eating, the last thing a blushing bride needs to worry about is wilting in the middle of the wedding festivities.

With some advanced planning and carefully chosen cosmetics, you can be sure to look your prettiest on your special day.

The experts at Hazel Bishop Cosmetics suggest the following make-up tips for your wedding day that are sure to keep you beautiful and confident about your looks:

- To keep your lips "kiss-proof" and looking their best, be sure to wear a no-smear lipstick that doesn't leave traces on people's faces.

From sealing your vows with a kiss to kissing everyone goodbye as you leave for your honeymoon, a long-lasting, no-smear lipstick will stay on your lips and keep them looking their "kissable" best.

- The ceremony is a teary time for every bride, so it's important that eye make-up stays in place. Hazel Bishop's no-smear, waterproof mascara won't run or smudge across your face when you're fighting back those tears.

And, an added bonus, the mascara's special formula lengthens and thickens lashes for a wide-eyed look in all your photographs.

- Your family and friends will be admiring your new wedding ring, so you'll want your hands to be at their prettiest. A do-it-yourself manicure will look like the real thing if you take the time to do it right.

Start with a base coat to make your nails more resistant to breakage and to increase the longevity of your manicure; it also serves as a smooth base for your polish.

Then, apply chip-proof nail polish in a color shade that complements your bridesmaids' dresses. Be sure to apply two coats for a smooth look and even color.

Lastly, apply a top coat to protect your nails from unexpected chips and a professional finished look.

- A powder eyeshadow rather than a creamy one is the best way to keep your eyes sparkling for all those flashing cameras.

For an extra shimmering effect, add a touch of iridescent shadow. Or, add touches of blue in the corners to make the whites of your eyes look brighter.

- Remember to add a touch of blush high on your cheekbones to maintain your radiant glow. To light up your whole face, apply a gentle sweep of blusher to temples, earlobes, chin and the bridge of your nose. For oily and combination skin types, powder blushes are best.

Suggestions ease challenge of selecting the right wedding gift

What do today's brides and grooms want as wedding gifts? It used to be that every couple needed a toaster, or a salad bowl.

But now, with so many young people living on their own or living together before they marry, and with so many marriages re-mariages, this isn't necessarily so. To pick a perfect gift these days, a guest needs the power of ESP combined with an active imagination — or some help.

According to Bride's Magazine, this is exactly what wedding gift registries are for. Registries work by providing a clearinghouse where couples can record the items they'd like and guests can look over the list and choose the gift that suits their taste and budget. Over 65 percent of today's brides and grooms register for gifts.

What's new about wedding gift registries is where they're turning up. They started in the 1930's in jewelry and department stores, but now they've expanded to furniture stores, gourmet food shops, liquor stores, luggage shops and bookstores. You'll even find them in museums — the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City opened one a year ago.

What if a guest can't or doesn't want to use a wedding gift registry? "It's still possible to sort through the options and find a present that will please," says Alecia Beldegreen, Gifts Editor of Bride's.

First, it's a safe bet that anyone can use extra blankets, towels, linens or breakable items like wine glasses. Second, there's a whole category of out-of-the-ordinary gifts that aren't likely to be duplicated, such as:

1. A gift certificate to a class that the couple can take together — anything from cooking or exercise to photography or ballroom dancing. Busy newlyweds often don't schedule enough time together and such a present can provide an incentive.

2. The foundations of a home library. An encyclopedia, for example, is something people often don't get around to buying for awhile. Depending on the couple's interests, a beautiful art book or a lavish cookbook also make special gifts.

3. A Telephone Company gift certificate. More and more couples are buying their own phones and this present lets them choose the one that matches their taste.

4. An evening out to a gourmet restaurant. What could be more fun than receiving a gift after all the other gifts are in? This special night could be planned for the week the couple get back from their honeymoon, perhaps.

5. Additions to their bar. Possibilities are a few good bottles of wine in a wine rack, or champagne to toast the special occasions in their first year together.

"Serving You Is A Privilege We Appreciate"

Wedding traditions are blend of old and new

Today, more than ever, traditions are what weddings are made of. Yet, in the 1980s, tradition takes on a whole new meaning. Not only is it a sense of retaining the customs of the past, but also one of incorporating the values and ideals of the present, thus blending traditions in the making with traditions of old.

Though the days are past when Early American newlyweds drank a brew of sack posset and hot spiced milk to give them energy for the night ahead, also gone are the wedding ceremonies of the 1960s and '70s when time-honored customs and values were tossed to the wind.

Young couples of the '80s have found a comfortable place somewhere in between. While keeping what they find best and most beautiful of past traditions, they add to their weddings personal touches that express their individuality.

For example, today many brides have both father and mother walk them down the aisle so that both parents may enjoy the pleasure and the privilege of "giving away" their daughter.

Other changes in the typical "old-fashioned" wedding include changing ritual phrases such as "love, honor and obey" and "man and wife" so as to be more in keeping with today's ideal of equality.

In present-day ceremonies you'll more often hear "love, honor and cherish" or "husband and wife."

Today's ideas of equality are also bringing the groom more into the limelight. Until recently, all eyes were focused on the bride on her "big day" with the groom himself often feeling like a spectator.

Today's groom, however, is taking on all sorts of new responsibilities such as helping to pick the wedding site, choosing china patterns, addressing invitations and writing thank-you notes. Some men even wear engagement rings and have showers thrown in their honor.

The question of who pays for the wedding has also been affected by the present day attitude towards equality.

Traditionally, the bride's parents took on most of the expense, but now there is a definite trend towards the groom's family sharing a larger portion of the bill.

Though some of this chipping in reflects the economy, it is also a sign of our times. We no longer consider the bride's parents to be "marrying off" their daughter. Instead, the wedding is seen as a celebration of the joining together of two people.

With fewer of the old-fashioned "rules" of etiquette applying to today's weddings, creative additions to make the occasion unique are unlimited.

They range from substituting carrot cake for the traditional white sponge cake, to honoring the bride or groom's heritage by serving slices of Italian cheesecake or Irish fruitcake.

YOUR BLUEGRASS DEALER

For the bride, groom: good advice on advice

How to handle a never-ending stream of advice from family and friends is a challenge all marrying couples face, according to an article in a recent issue of Bride's Magazine.

"It's not good for a marriage if a wife makes more money than her husband," the bride's mother might say. "You really should buy a condominium instead of renting," the groom's uncle will insist. Everyone is eager to help a bride and groom adjust to their new roles.

The only trouble with all this help is that it can be so overwhelming that the couple end up feeling confused and pressured. Which advice should they take? How can they turn down a piece of advice without hurting a loved one's feelings?

Coping in advance

In order to deal with this situation, the couple must know what they want, says Bride's. They should sit down together before the wedding and ask: "Where do we want to live?"

"How important will our careers be?" "How do we hope to spend our free time?" Pre-marital counseling — available through churches, universities, and psychological associations — can help by providing a framework for these talks.

The answers the couple arrive at should be as specific as possible — for instance, "We'll try to start a family within three years," or "We'll plan to spend one weekend a month alone, just the two of us."

When the couple disagree, they should push to find a compromise rather than one or the other simply give in, since "easy" solutions often lead to anger and resentment.

Once a couple feel secure in their decisions, says Bride's, they'll be able to react calmly to the advice coming their way.

Determine reasons

First, they should determine if there's an underlying reason why a person is so eager to offer advice. If a bride finds her mother-in-law-to-be taking a little too much interest in the wedding, she should stop and examine what's going on: maybe the woman always wanted a daughter of her own.

The bride can then respond on this level instead of with anger and perhaps think of ways to get her fiancé's mother more involved.

Second, the couple should realize that all the advice they get won't be useless — especially when an advice-giver has experience in the area.

A harried bride and groom may feel that yet another opinion on where they should go for their honeymoon is the last thing they need, but if it's coming from a cousin who has traveled all over the world it could prove invaluable.

Finally, the bride and groom must know how to stop listening and turn down unneeded advice. Since most advice-givers mean well, it's only kind for the couple to let them know that they do value their opinions even if they can't use all of them.

But, at the same time, they should make it clear that they are rejecting the advice: "We've thought about what you said, but it's just not right for us," or "Thank you, but we've already decided on another plan." In the end, a couple must be able to say, "We did it our way."

Ancient wedding customs

Today's wedding ceremonial traditions are a unique blend of many national customs, some dating back from centuries ago.

Today, a bride may sign an ancient marriage contract originally devised by Anglo-Saxons. She may walk down the aisle in a Gothic Cathedral to Richard Wagner's Lohengrin.

The bride may wear a medieval veil, a Jewish coronet made of Pagan orange blossoms and her wedding ring may be of Roman descent.

During the ceremony, if she kneels at the altar, she will be following the custom of ancient Egyptian brides.

The following are a few more explanations of the rituals we follow today and their origins.

- According to the ancient Romans, weddings are held in June, partially because of the warm weather, but more importantly because May was considered an unlucky month.
- Today's tradition of exchanging wedding bands is a throwback to the medieval times when people wore signet rings to put their seal on agreements.

- When the newlyweds depart after the wedding celebration they still pretend to flee, as though the irate brothers and fathers were still chasing after them.
- During the most primitive times, men acquired their wives by stealing them, and then hiding them until the families anger was lessened by the passing moons. This time when the couple was in hiding was sweet, which is why the period after the wedding is still called the honeymoon.

Tips on watching the wedding costs

- Know what the average wedding costs in your area are—if your friends will tell you. Though we can give a national figure, prices vary tremendously.
- Talk openly about the possibility of both families sharing expenses. Then, get everyone's idea of how much they think the wedding should cost.
- If cash is limited and your guest list enormous, scale down visions of prime ribs and an open bar, rent a hall big enough for everyone and serve cake and punch

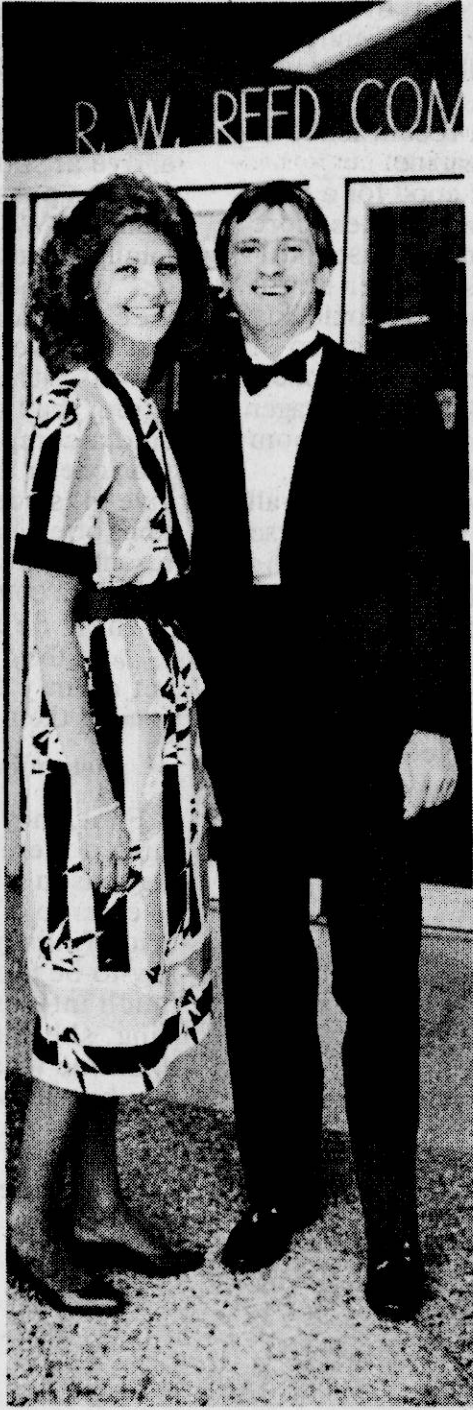

instead. (The punch can still be spiked!)

- Consider wedding packages that may save time as well as money—packages where flowers, cake, liquor, etc. are included.
- Do work with a budget, but leave a portion of money unmarked to deal with all the little things that come up (cake boxes for the groom's cake?).
- If you must pare the guest list, agree on a formula that's arbitrary. For instance, no first cousins; no business clients. Apply the rule to both families.

- When working with the bridal shop or salon owner, the florist, the photographer, etc., be very clear about what you want and don't want.
- Don't forget things like tips for the banquet manager, the minister's fee, any church or temple rental, etc. "Nice guys" expect to be paid for their work too!
- Ask how much things will cost; find out answers to the "what-if's" too: What if we want the band to play another two hours? A dozen more four-color prints made?

Women's cosmetic preferences

A new survey shows the savvy woman of the '80s can get along without her lipstick if she has to, but her blush and eye makeup are essentials. Ask any bride!

The '80s woman doesn't spend hours in front of the mirror but she does use many more cosmetics than women of earlier decades. Most say their eyes are their best feature.

The survey focussed on the cosmetic preferences and makeup techniques of trendsetting women and was conducted by Amy Greene of Henri Bendel's Beauty Checkers for the makers of Q-tips, the country's best selling brand of cotton swabs.

A high percent of the 25 million Q-tips swabs produced each day are used for eye makeup application and removal.

If the '80s woman has time to apply just two cosmetics, she reaches for her blush and her mascara. In the survey, 48 percent opted for blush; 46 percent for mascara. Lipstick/gloss was just a runner-up.

The popularity of eye makeup and lots of it appears to be the cosmetic signature of the '80s woman.

In response to a query about the use of eye makeup products, 91 percent say they use mascara, 84 percent use eye shadow and 67 percent use eyeliner. Kohl is favored by 18 percent.

Seventy-nine percent of the women use black mascara, but their choices of eye shadow colors vary. Lavender, with 43 percent, was the color favorite. Brown, beige and gray each received 30 percent of the vote. When eyeliner is worn, 31 percent choose black; 29 percent use blue.

When applying their eye makeup, more than half (53 percent) of the women surveyed report using Q-tips cotton swabs with their mascara; 48 percent use them to blend eye shadow.

More than half blend two colors of eye shadow; 47 percent avoid messy colors by using cotton swabs as applicators when more than one color is applied. Even more use swabs to remove eye makeup. When a soft, clean eraser is needed, 62 percent opt for cotton swabs.

And do these savvy brides spend hours in front of the mirror? Almost never. In response to the survey question, "How much time do you give to makeup application for street wear?" 61 percent of these busy women said 15 minutes.

Just two percent said an hour. Most, 41 percent, touch up makeup once during the day, 30 percent touch it up twice, seven percent often — but 20 percent never give it a touch up.
