Three Arrested

Three Prentiss Countians were arrested Sunday for attempted auto theft, according to the Prentiss County Sheriff's department.

Leland Ashcraft of Jumbertown and Charles Credille and Joel Credille, both of Booneville, were allegedly caught attempting to steal a 1982 Silverado pickup belonging to Roger Crowson.

The men were arrested by Deputy Dan Wilson and Third District Constable Bill Brasel.

Park Work To Begin

Work is scheduled to begin this week on the expansion of Baldwin's Latimer Park, according to Mayor Merle Rowan.

Though the city had planned to begin work on the jogging track last week, the work was postponed until this week, Rowan said.

"We had to get clearance from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to go ahead. We have to clear everything through them and that sometimes takes a while," he said.

Baldwin received a $73,000 grant to improve the facilities at Latimer Park. The money will be used to build a new jogging track, horse arena, concessions, restrooms and a little league baseball field, Rowan said.

No Texas

Car Tags

Prentiss Countians who buy cars bearing Texas license plates should remove the plates and purchase the proper license plates, according to Prentiss County Sheriff W.V. Horn.

"The dealer should remove the license plates, but sometimes he doesn't," he said Wednesday. "These tags aren't supposed to go with the car when they are sold through a licensed dealer but sometimes they do."

The sheriff's department has noticed that "quite a few" Prentiss Countians are leaving the Texas tags on the cars they buy.

"We will be checking this," Horn said, "and charge them with having an improper tag."

Dealerships

Close

Two auto dealerships, both owned by Baldwin residents, have ceased operations and their lots and showrooms are now bare.

Larry McKay Chevrolet Inc. in Baldwin and Gene McKay Chevrolet Inc. in Fulton have both closed their doors and their inventory has been hauled away by General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

Neither Larry McKay nor his father Gene has been available for comment since the closings and former employees of both companies consistently decline to comment.

Though representatives of GMAC confirmed that their company, which finances stock for dealers, had removed the inventory from both lots, they denied responsibility for the closings.

Drug Abuse In Prentiss County, Part 5

Immediacy Of Treatment Is A Problem

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

(This is Part 5 is a series of articles concerning the drug abuse problem in Prentiss County. The people described in these articles are composites of a number of actual present and former drug abusers and their families, and the incidents described are true. In many cases names and locations have been disguised to protect the privacy of those involved.)

Frank is caught stripping a car. He is arrested and taken to the Prentiss County Jail. Since he is a dilaudid addict he must be treated for his addiction while in jail and, somehow, admitted into a drug treatment center.

Joe's parents discover he is a dilaudid addict. Though he is not yet ready to ask for help himself, they decide to force him to get help. They ask the chancery clerk how they go about having him admitted to a drug rehabilitation program.

Jane "bottoms out." She realizes she is an addict and she wants to kick the habit. She goes to her family doctor and asks for his help in entering a drug abuse recovery program.

Frank, Joe and Jane all need immediate treatment. But chances are they will not be able to get any effective help for at least three weeks, if not longer. And, all three may be on the streets, once again feeding their habits, within that time.

"We don't have any real hospital drug treatment facilities in the area," said Dr. Dwight Johnson, who has attempted to help numerous Franks, Joes and Janes.

"North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo has their Belle Vista Unit," he said. "But it's primarily a psychiatric unit. It's not set up for drug treatment."

"Haven House (in Corinth) and Harbor House (in Tupelo) are about the only programs in our area. But they aren't hospitals, and they can handle only a limited number."

Dr. Johnson said, though both Haven House and Harbor House were originally set up for the treatment of alcoholics -- the most predominant form of drug abuse -- they now also treat other forms of drug abuse. "The treatment is virtually the same," he said.

According to Dr. Johnson, there is no such thing as emergency treatment for a drug addict. "About all I can do here is just kind of detox somebody and get them through the initial withdrawal or drying out phase."

"But, if they don't get intensive treatment and some sort of group therapy right away, they'll be right back on the stuff in a short time," he said.

"Or, if they are in jail, I have to put them on a methadone maintenance program, which doesn't cure their addiction. It just kind of keeps them on hold," Dr. Johnson said.

In regard to admissions to the state hospitals at Whitfield and Meridian, the two that will take addicts from this area, Sheriff W.V. Horn said, "They can go voluntarily or some member of the family can get a court order to send them. But, as of July 1, everyone goes on a waiting list."

He said the majority of commitments have been through the court. "That's the way we've been working here lately. And it was most productive because, when you

Mayor Refuses To Comment

Survey, Photos Requested On Sunflower Sidewalks

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

The city's grant consultant has requested surveys and Mayor Charles Crabb has requested photos of the Sunflower area, according to Bro. Prentiss Harris, pastor of the Spring Hill Baptist Church and leader of a drive to obtain sidewalks for the northeast Booneville community.

"Woody Samples, in Jackson had us do some surveys," Harris said. "They say if we can prove that we really need the sidewalks, it will make it easier for the city to get the grant to pay for them."

The city of Booneville has requested a Community Development Block Grant to finance 75 percent of what Mayor Crabb said will be a $140,000 to $150,000 project.

If the grant is approved, sidewalks will be constructed in an area bounded by Lake, Smith, Triplett and Church Streets in Sunflower, plus Mimosa Drive and the subdivision behind the Park Lane factory.

This is the second time such a grant has been requested by the city. The first request was turned down.

According to City Clerk June Hutcheson, Woody Samples, of Samples & Associates in Jackson, is the city's consultant on grant applications.

"From what I understand, he is sort of an advisor to all the municipalities in this area," Bro. Harris said. "We took some surveys and sent them into him. Now, there are some we are having to do over."

"That was partially our fault, and partially the surveyors' fault. And we are correcting those this week," he said.

Harris said Mayor Crabb had also requested pictures of the area and had been supplied with a selection.

The Banner-Independent was unable to reach Samples for comment because of a problem in obtaining long-distance directory service.

Mayor Crabb refused to comment, and refused to supply The Banner-Independent with the phone number of Samples & Associates.

"I don't have any comment to make," Crabb said. "I can't tell you anything. I told you about four or five months ago that you wouldn't get any more information out of me."

"Evidently, you can't hear good, or you've just got a problem," he said.

When asked if he could supply the phone number of Samples & Associates, Crabb said, "No. I don't have that information available to you."

According to Bro. Harris, sidewalks are badly needed for the Sunflower Community. He cited six pedestrian-auto accidents, including one fatality, that have occurred on the community's streets since 1965.

Four of the accidents have occurred on Sunflower Street alone, Harris said.

Three More Cars Found In Creek

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Three more stolen cars were pulled from the creek on the Prentiss-Alcorn County Line Road near Rienzi Wednesday of last week.

Two other stolen autos had been pulled from the creek July 5 by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department.

The sheriff's department was searching the creek because they had information a late model vehicle was recently put in the creek, Sheriff W.V. Horn said.

One of the stolen cars recovered last Wednesday was a 1983 Audi 5000 stolen from the Chicago Police Department June 17. The radio had been stolen from that car, according to the sheriff's department.

The other car pulled from the creek, a 1979 Buick Regal, belonged to Marty Woodruff of Booneville. That car was reported stolen from Corinth July 7. The windshield and radio were missing from that car.

The third car pulled from the creek was a 1976 Ford Elite. It is still unknown who owns that car.

Although two late model vehicles were recovered, Sheriff Horn said he "still didn't get what he wanted."

Horn said he has not decided if he will have the creek dragged again or if he will have it drained. He has been talking with Alcorn County Third District Supervisor Billy Brawner about having the slough drained.

THE CARS recovered July 5 were a 1977 Vega stationwagon and a 1977 Buick Regal. Both had been stripped.

The 1977 Buick Regal had been left at the creek after being pulled out because a summer rain shower forced searchers to leave.

When authorities resumed their search again, they found that three tires had been stolen from the car. Thieves would have had to have gotten in the water to have stolen the fourth tire.

Charles Garrett of Booneville used his wreckers to pull the cars from the water.

Divers James Horn, Kenneth (Bo) Stevens, Dwayne Metcalfe and Ralph Lauderdale hooked chains to the cars so they could be pulled out.

Ironically while Lauderdale was diving in search of stolen cars, a three-wheeler was stolen from his residence. The three-wheeler had not been recovered as of Wednesday.

When authorities arrived on County Line Road last Wednesday afternoon they found that a portion of the bridge had been torn out for repair by Alcorn County. The

Hearing On Family's Feud With Deputy Is Postponed

For the second time Booneville City Judge George Via has rescheduled a hearing in a case resulting from an altercation outside the city courtroom June 18.

The continuance was granted because all parties could not be present for a hearing Monday, July 16.

The parents of William Lawson allegedly assaulted Wayne County, Tenn., Deputy Sheriff John Tullis after Tullis testified against Lawson in a vandalism case.

Tullis claimed that Henry and Linda Lawson attacked him as he left the city courtroom. Booneville police officers, present at the scene of the fight, arrested the Lawsons and charged them with creating a public disturbance.

Tullis then attempted to file charges of assault against the Lawsons. But Judge Via allegedly refused, saying the Lawsons would only crossfile against Tullis.

Tullis then contacted The Banner-Independent and accused Via of

Ben Woods: Recalling Days Gone By

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

"I've never been without a job," 96-year-old Ben Woods says.

"People can always get work if they want to work. These people without jobs don't want them. If you want to work you'll get a job."

Woods, who will be 97 in three months, claims to have "done about everything in the book," when it comes to working.

Born in Rockwell, Texas, his parents moved to Itawamba County when he was three years old. (His brother, Walter, later served as sheriff in Itawamba County).

When he was 13, he went to Maude, Okla., and worked there seven years feeding cattle. He began buying cattle at age 18.

After World War I, he went to Detroit and worked in the Chevrolet plant for 14 years.

For 25 years he worked in a cresote plant in Louisville and later he began buying and selling farms in Mississippi.

Before Woods retired at age 65 and moved to Booneville he lived in Tupelo some 20 years.

RECALLING DAYS gone by is a pleasant pastime for Woods and his wife, Erva, 81. They have been married 14 years. "We never have a dull moment," he grins.

"I was here in Booneville in the early days -- buying cattle, mules and hogs. I knew all the old people who are no longer here. I like Booneville. But in the early days there were no factories."

When Woods was 23 he went to California with two other men and worked picking strawberries and grapes for about a year.

"It was so hot we had to put ice on the front of the motorcycle when we crossed the desert," he remembers.

"I've been everywhere and worked in all the states except North Carolina," he adds. "I've gotten into a lot of foolishness."

"I know how to farm," he continues. "They send after me now to see how old horses and mules are."

Woods has also been a hunter of quail, squirrel and coon. "I had the greatest bird dog I thought in the world."

And since the Democratic National Convention is going on this week, it's only fitting that Woods talks a little about politics.

"I'm a Democrat," he says. "Roosevelt was my favorite president. We got a lot of favors from him. Hoover liked to have starved us to death."

Woods and his wife live on the "Big V Watertank Road." They always enjoy having their friends stop by and talk.

And they also like it when their friends from Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas call them.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

WARD HOGLAND

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, what does the Bible mean when it speaks of taking a dog by the ears?

ANSWER: I suppose the text you refer to is (Prov. 26:17) which says, "He who passes by and meddles in a quarrel not his own is like one who takes a dog by the ears." Some people feel they should be an arbitrator in every dispute in their community. Some dogs will bite when taken by the ears. Some people get hurt when they meddle into the affairs of other people. Even the Lord did not try to settle all the disputes of the world. In Luke 12, we are told, "Then one from the crowd said to him, "Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me." The Lord replied by saying, "Man, who made me a judge or an arbitrator over you?" There might be circumstances when one can help two people in a dispute. However, he needs to be invited by both parties. It seems when the church at Corinth was having problems about going to law over certain matters that Paul suggested one might be selected to arbitrate the problem. When Paul and Barnabas had their problem (Acts 15) over John Mark, it seems they settled it by parting company but both continued to preach the gospel. Their problem was not over a doctrinal matter but one which was personal.

attempting to intimidate him. He said he would get Justice Judge Dexter Cadle to file the assault charges.

Judge Via told The Banner-Independent he was only trying to keep the situation from "blowing out of proportion."

Though Tullis was unsuccessful in filing his charges through Judge Cadle, he did file them at the hearing on the public disturbance charges against the Lawsons on June 25.

The Lawsons filed counter-charges as Via had predicted and Booneville City Prosecutor Rick Moore requested a continuance.

Via then continued the case to July 16. And, when all parties were unable to attend, he granted the second continuance.

The case is now scheduled to be heard Aug. 6.

Although bridgework caused the water to be muddier than usual, the divers were still able to locate stolen cars.

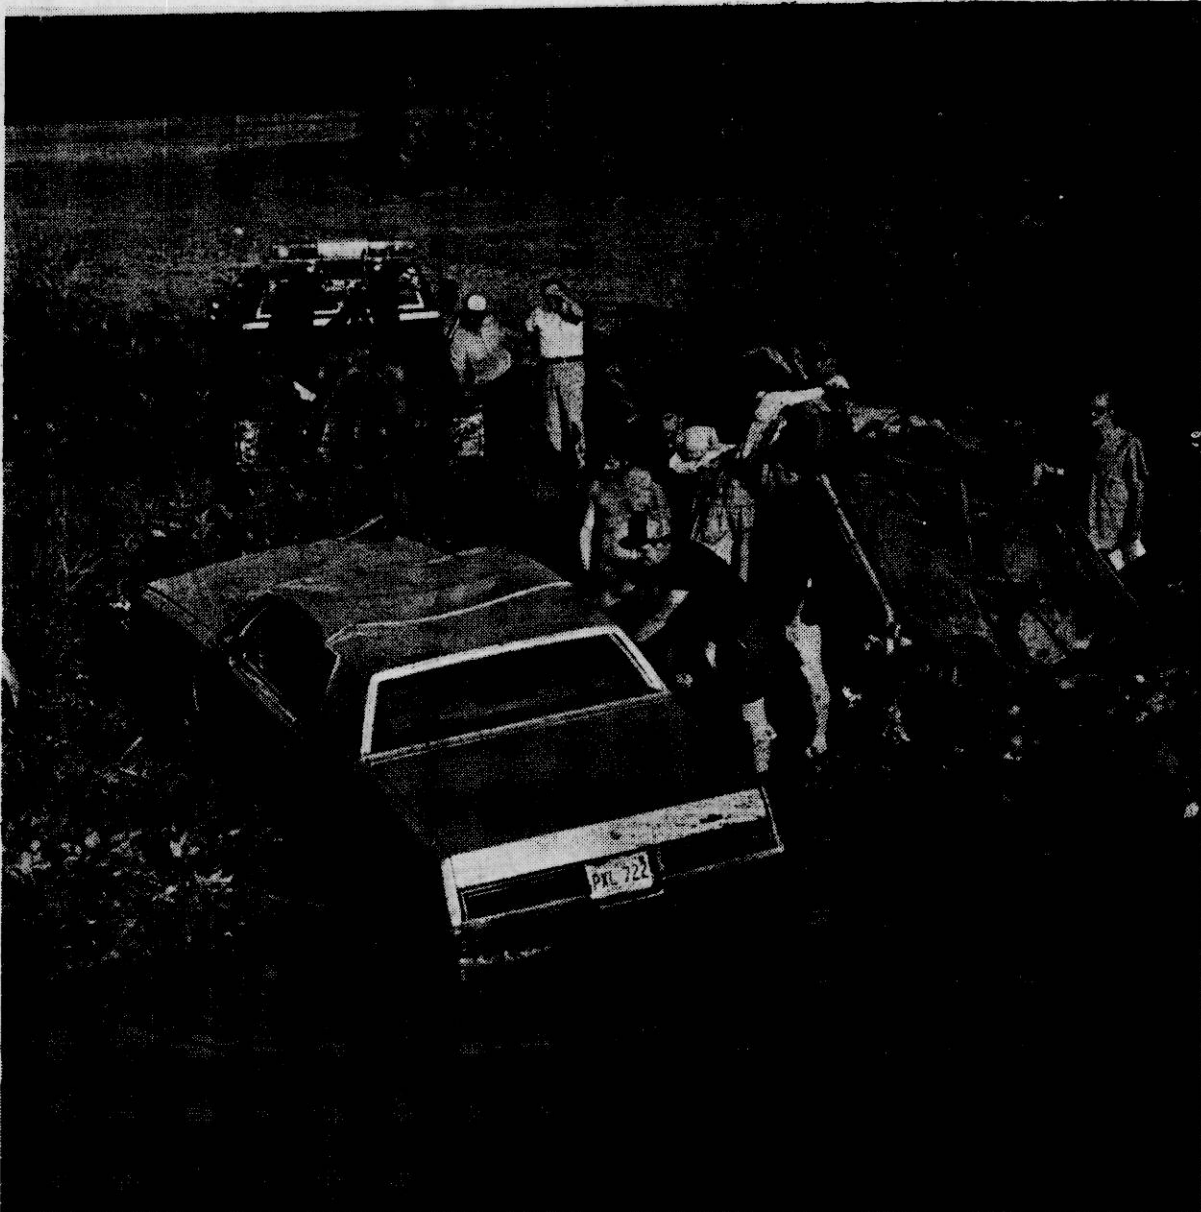

"It could be a coincidence," Horn said referring to the bridgework. "But it did make you wonder."

Alcorn County Sheriff Bill Gant and members of his department were among the estimated 75-100

Let The Bible Answer

Charles W. Leonard

Hill's Chapel Church Of Christ

ROUTE 5, BOX 271-BOONEVILLE, MISS.

IS SIN INHERITED?

There are those who believe that sin is transmitted from one generation to another. This belief is often referred to as: (1) the doctrine of Original Sin, (2) the Adamic sin, (3) the doctrine of Hereditary Total Depravity. Those who believe this doctrine say that "original sin is that state in which we are born as a result of the fall of our first parents, Adam and Eve." This doctrine as it is now understood did not find general acceptance until the third century, when such writers as Tertullian, Cyprian and others reduced it to a distinct formula. According to this doctrine, infants are born into this world with the sins of their parents upon their souls and are lost.

Some have tried to classify sin as original sin, actual sin, mortal sin and venial sin, but such classifications are not found in the word of God. The Bible teaches that sin is a transgression of God's law. (1 John 3:4) Sin is not inherited, but committed when we break the law of God. No one can commit sin for another or give an account of sin for another. (Ezekiel 18:20) It is our personal sins that separate us from God and not the sins of others. (Isa. 59:1-2)

If little children are sinners and lost, why are we taught to be converted and become as little children? (Matt. 18:3) If infants and little children are lost, isn't it rather strange that no plan of salvation is given for them in the Bible? The Bible teaches that we are the offspring of God (Acts 17:28-29). If we are depraved or lost at birth, then we received it from God because children are like their parents. Children do not inherit sin, but become sinners when they are old enough to know and break the law of God. Our children may inherit some of our characteristics and traits, but they do not inherit our sins or Adam's.

Talk 'O The Town

Street Opinion

QUESTION: What is your opinion of presidential candidate Walter Mondale choosing Geraldine Ferraro as his running mate?

SHIRLEY COPELAND of Anderson Street, Booneville: "I think it's just fine. It gives a woman the opportunity to show her talent and what women can do for equal rights. I believe Mondale has a good chance to win. I think more women will vote because of her."

LEE SORRELL of Route 3, Rienzi: "I think he made a good choice. More women will vote and probably more job opportunities will be open for women and minorities. I don't think Mondale will win the presidency but it will be a close race."

EDD MANLEY of Route 1, Booneville: "I wouldn't say she isn't qualified but I think he would have had a much better chance with Gary Hart. I don't think the majority of the American people are ready for a woman vice president. I think Mondale and Hart as a team might have beat Reagan."

NELL SIMS of Route 3, Rienzi: "I think it's too soon to elect a lady for vice president. I think Mondale would have had a better chance of winning had he selected someone else."

DOROTHY DENNIS of Kansas City, Mo.: "I'm for women's lib. I think a woman can do as well as a man if it's the right woman. I think Mondale has got a great chance of winning the election."

JOANN POTTS of College Street, Booneville: "I think it's a great idea. A woman can make a good vice president. I think it will bring him a lot of votes but I think Reagan will be reelected because he's a stronger man. I don't think any of the candidates can beat him."

(Editor's note: "Talk 'O The Town" is not intended as a scientific poll of public opinion. Rather, it is simply intended to give Prentiss Countians an opportunity to voice their opinions on particular issues and topics. Maybe we'll ask you next!)

Ponderings

By Angela Smith
Staff Reporter

Someone suggested that perhaps I should have been sent to San Francisco to cover the Democratic National Convention.

I think this was a subtle hint that maybe I should leave town.

But as you probably could guess, I wasn't sent to cover the Democratic National Convention. In fact, it wasn't even mentioned.

However, I did get to "cover" one so-called event twice -- dragging the creek on County Line Road.

One bystander commented that watching the stolen cars being pulled from the creek was more exciting than going to the World's Fair and a lot cheaper.

It rained on July 5 while they were pulling two cars out. Guess who got wet. Really wet as in looking like a drowned rat. People have always said I didn't know enough to come in out of the rain and it's true.

LAST WEDNESDAY there were at least 75 people at the bridge watching the cars being dragged from the creek.

There aren't 75 people who attend my church on Sunday night or sometimes even Sunday morning.

There were so many people at the bridge that I couldn't leave until some cars moved -- that was around 8:30. I arrived about 4 p.m.

After staying that long you get to the point of feeling like "if you've seen them pull out one car, you've seen them all."

I heard one person comment that since so many law officials were at the bridge it would be a good time for the thieves to take advantage of it.

I guess some of them did. Because while Ralph Lauderdale was diving for stolen cars, someone stole his three-wheeler from his residence.

Another ironic (that's one word for it) event occurred, too.

Law authorities pulled a stolen car out of the water July 5, but had to leave it because it started raining.

When they later returned to the bridge, three tires had been stolen from the car. The other tire was hanging over the water, or they would have probably gotten it, too.

Five stolen cars have been recovered from the creek in the last two weeks. And of course, there is no telling what else is in there.

Now authorities are talking about the possibility of draining the creek to find more cars. There is also talk of eventually putting rails on the bridge to, hopefully, keep thieves from dumping stolen cars there.

Thieves would probably steal the rails.

Letters

Dear Editor:

I appreciate this opportunity to respond to Mr. Oren Hare's letter printed in last week's paper dealing with electric rates at the Prentiss County Rescue Squad building.

When I read Mr. Hare's letter I realized that he had some figures that we talked about mixed up, and he did not understand that, since Prentiss County Electric Power Association buys the power from TVA, we must apply the same rate structure as all the other 159 local electric distributors of TVA power.

After finishing Mr. Hare's letter, I gathered some facts and figures together and called Mr.

Hare and asked if I could stop by his home for a few minutes Thursday morning to do a better job of explaining the rates to him. Mr. and Mrs. Hare were very gracious to invite me into their home and also to show me the Rescue Squad building and the equipment which they used during rescue operations.

Mr. Hare told me that he could not remember reading the front page article about electric rates in the June 23, 1983, Banner-Independent, so I left him the xerox copy that Ken Christian had made for me. In that article I explained in detail the rate structure that TVA would be implementing as of July 2, 1983.

TVA allows Prentiss

County Electric Power Association to offer two rate schedules. The "Residential Rate" shall apply only to electric service to a single-family dwelling and its appurtenances, where the major use of electricity is for domestic purposes, such as lighting, household appliances and the personal comfort and convenience of those residing therein.

The "General Rate" applies to all other customers who do not qualify for the Residential Rate, such as commercial, industrial, governmental, churches, clubs, fraternities, orphanages, nursing homes, rooming or boarding houses and like customers.

A customer charge is applied to each customer on either rate schedule to help recover fixed costs, such as transmission lines, generators, distribution lines, transformers, meters, etc. The customer charge for PCEPA customers is $1.80 for residential and $7.00 for general customers. Customers of the other 25 distributors of TVA power in Mississippi pay higher customer charges because their rates are higher.

The State Tax Commission requires utilities to collect six percent sales tax from the customers unless that type customer is exempted by State Law. Residential customers are exempt, and several types of general customers pay only one percent tax.

After talking with Mr. Hare, I called the Tax Commission and they told me that the Rescue Squad should continue paying six percent. He also said they might get this reduced if they wrote a letter to the State Tax Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Hare plan to write TVA and the State Tax Commission to get help for the Prentiss County Rescue Squad.

Sincerely,
Ronny Rowland, Manager
Prentiss County Electric Power Association

Dear Editor:

Boy! Oh! Boy! Am I sticking my neck out!!? Ronald Reagan will be a "shoo-in", not because he has been a good president, not because he has a lot of charm, not because he is of the "Moral Majority" and not even because he is the incumbent.

The real reason he will get the nod is because the USA is not ready for a woman to hold the office of vice-president. This will be Mondale's undoing. But people are reluctant to admit this, as it tends to make us unpopular.

We project one viewpoint. But, once we are in our voting booth with the curtain pulled, we do some sincere thinking. We are very serious people, and we come out looking like the cat who swallowed the canary.

But, let me never forget: the Democrats hold the key simply because, if they choose to come out of the "woodwork," and the "cordwood," they can have their way.

Now count me in with the "cordwood voters." I don't allow no lowdown hangin' around. The only woman in my lifetime who could have gotten my vote was an English teacher who could make Shakespeare as interesting for me as "Twas the Night Before Christmas" is to a first grader.

Russia and Cuba would have been putty in her hands. Watergate would never have been. SALT I and II would have been totally unnecessary.

I am persuaded that "Miss Geraldine" does not have these plusses going for her. She puts me on the defensive just by virtue of her short-sleeved dresses. How dare she embarrass all womanhood by such a gesture? No nobility in that.

I am very close to being a "bleeding-heart liberal." If I can go inside my voting booth, grit my teeth and dare to vote Republican, just think how thrilling it will be for the "middle-of-the-roads" when they smile and bow and say how wonderful it is that history is being made, when they step inside that little secret booth and do their "thing."

Being a loyal Democrat in the past, I feel a little bit like a Benedict Arnold. But, nevertheless, I must do what I have to do -- "Bite the bullet."

Why did those campaigners not listen to that sweet, sincere, bold George McGovern and leave that mudslinging out? Then, and only then, would we have had a winning ticket. Mondale-Hart would have been what we needed.

But, after having seen so much mud and dirt, it would have been foolish for those two men to have tried to pass themselves off as compatible.

Miss Piggy and I are not happy because we know Fritz could have done better. But, as long as Bert Lance and Jimmy are around, the lady VP nominee won't have to worry. The defeat will be put on the backs of those poor unfortunates.

Eloise Garner Webb

P.S. Oh! It is getting more difficult for me to sleep nights.

Dear Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone for their part in making Booneville's Neighborhood Annual 4th of July Parade a huge success.

A special thanks to Ken Christian and Suzann

Sims for their coverage and pictures capturing those wonderful moments and showing the true spirit of Americans, young and old, celebrating our freedom and being proud to wave our American flag.

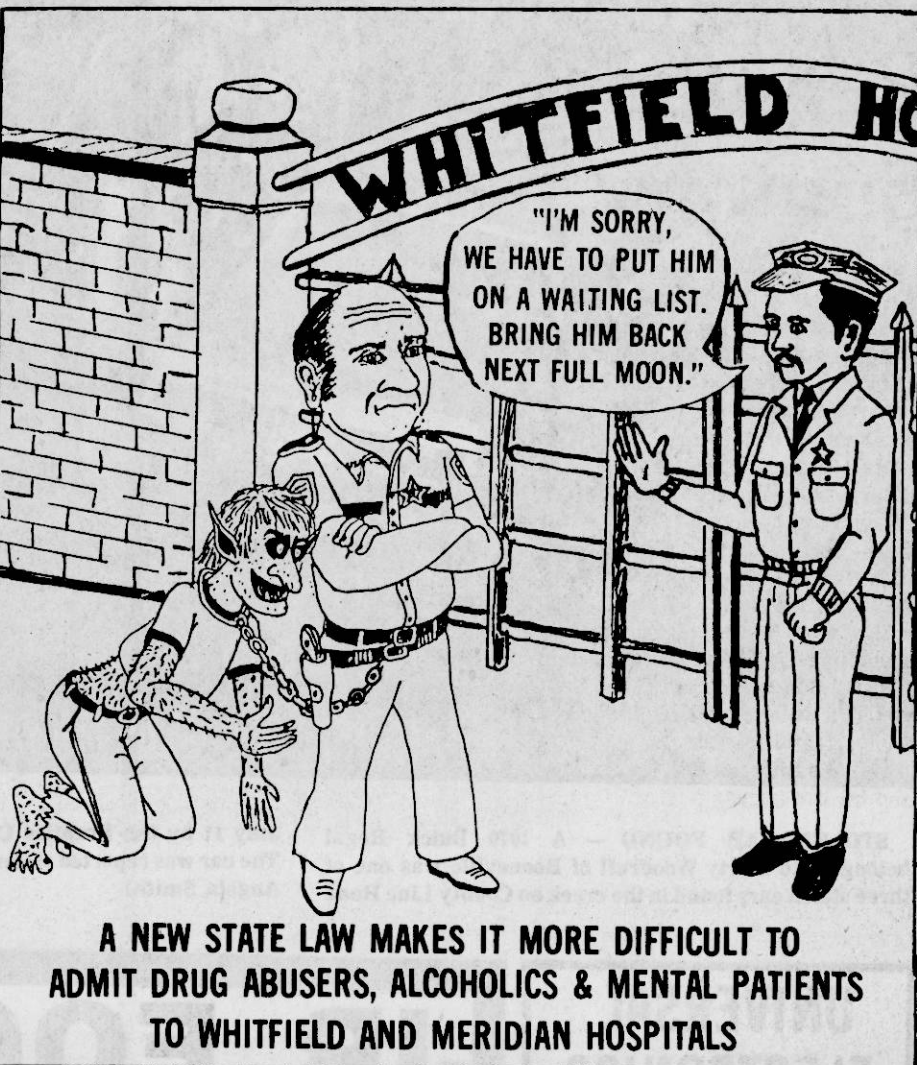

The parade, consisting of over 200 people, was filmed by Channel 9 and featured on their 6:00 and 10:00 news.

It was evident to all, whether you came to be in the parade or just came to watch, that it was a great way to celebrate the 4th of July.

See you next year!

A NEW STATE LAW MAKES IT MORE DIFFICULT TO ADMIT DRUG ABUSERS, ALCOHOLICS & MENTAL PATIENTS TO WHITEFIELD AND MERIDIAN HOSPITALS

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward
Managing Editor

This is sort of a birth announcement. I say "sort of" because though I have officially become the father of a son, the son in question will soon be nine years old.

Jason has been my stepson for almost five years. He was never really a son to his biological father because he was still a baby when Sara and his father separated and the father moved out of state for three years soon after.

So, I am the only father he has ever really known. Conversely, I have never had a real son. My biological child is a daughter, Andrea, who lives in Ohio and is now 18. And I have not seen much of her in the last 10 years.

The adoption was actually Jason's idea. He has emulated me for quite some time, pretending to do interviews and write articles and asking his mother to proofread what he "writes." And he has a vivid imagination.

He likes to dress like me. And he wants to have the same hobbies, including fishing. He even has my cultural tastes, enjoying movie, new and old, and noticing technical points, enjoying ballet, and liking to listen to jazz and classical music, as well as rock and roll.

He even exhibits acting talent, emoting while telling stories.

He approached Sara and asked her if she thought I would adopt him. And he announced to me before we moved to Booneville that he intended to begin calling himself Jason Woodward in the new town.

I didn't object since, by law, you can call yourself anything you want as long as it is not for felonious purposes, and I actually already considered him my son anyway.

So, Sara approached Jason's father, pointing out that Jason actually considered me his father. And he agreed to give his written permission for the action.

The hearing was held Friday morning and, pending a formality or two that only lawyers understand, I now have a son. Jason Turner has become Jason Woodward.

And how does Andi feel about no longer being an only child? She's ecstatic. When I told her I was adopting Jason, she said, "That's great! I've always wanted a little brother."

So, we would like to officially announce the "birth" of Jason Ray Woodward...now legally my son, though he already considered himself such anyway.

Observations

Jaycee.). As for the other candidates, Gary Hart rounded out the week with a series of last minute fund-raisers in Atlanta, New York and Chicago. With a four million-plus campaign deficit, well does he realize that, once the Mondale nomination is official, Hart - unlike the Reverend Jackson - can't go on passing the plate.

Incidentally, Jesse Jackson blames the Jews for his not being considered for the number two spot. Somehow, it seems never to have occurred to him there was no way Mondale could have tried the glass slipper on the Jackson foot while Jesse had it in his mouth.

But, despite the sorely-needed charisma Geraldine Farraro brings to the Democratic ticket, the Republicans still have a prayer (It goes "Lord, keep the Reverend Jesse Jackson in good voice, at least through November sixth!").

San Francisco --The Day Before: So far this thing has been more showbiz than substance. On Sunday the streets were gridlocked with parades and demonstrations by 150,000 union members, 100,000 Gays and lesbians, and the good Lord knows how many delegates to a National Convention of Prostitutes. (Self-proclaimed the "Scarlet Harlots", they obviously are convened for business, as well as pleasure, depending on the time of day.)

But for all the colorful extras in the cast of characters, the plot thus far leaves the audience yawning. There was an off-again, on-again flap which the boob-tube contingent blew all out of proportion in their quest for conflict.

The Manatt, Lance fiasco was reminiscent of the old Abbott and Costello "Who's on first, What's on second" routine.

Lance, who somehow always lands upright on his ample bottom, emerged blooded but unhorsed, and Manatt remained national chairman until further notice (which could be in the weekend mail).

San Franciscans who had never given a damn for Los Angeles's Manatt suddenly developed a great affection for him once Mondale wielded the ax. Hence the street corner signs: "Boil the Lance!"

(Not the least of Lance's appeal to Mondale is Bert's demonstrated ability to communicate with the recalcitrant Jesse Jackson, as well as to translate Mondale to other Dixie denizens.)

Gary Hart, the never-said-die candidate, gives every indication of fighting not only down to the wire, but also right on to 1988. But then so does New York's Governor Cuomo, who keynoted prime time last night.

(Hart brags he doesn't know the meaning of the word "quit" - "Defeat", maybe, and "deficit." But "quit"...never!)

San Francisco -- Opening Day: The quadrennial Democrat's mad house officially gets underway tonight with a speech by ex-President Carter.

"In bridge, on the other hand, one usually leads from strength."

Carter? Surely you remember "four years in a revolving door Carter."

(Billy's brother.)

At any rate, after getting the Jimmy thing behind them, the delegates will hear the keynote address by New York Governor Cuomo.

(Cuomo reportedly turned down Walter Mondale's offer of the number two spot on the ticket, after which it was accepted by Empire State Congresswoman Geraldine Ferraro, thereby proving once again that the female of the species is more daring than the male.)

Speaking of the late and unlamented Carter administration, Griffin bell, who served as attorney general therein, said he's wearied of people at Georgetown asking him, "Is there anybody left in Georgia?"

And so, he came up with an answer: "Yeah, the smart ones."

One delegate from Georgia yesterday was wondering why, if Mondale wanted a woman running mate, he didn't come up with Rosalyn, who has on the job experience.

"She made a pretty good president," he opined, "considering what she had to work with."

Incidentally, the Georgia delegation is staying at the Four Season Hotel where the rates start at $200 a day and not, as some first surmised, including meals.

Thus, already developing as one of the major issues of the campaign: "inflation...has Reagan really got it under control?"

Important Energy Saving Available With Sunscreens

Restricting the sun's energy can be as important in energy conservation as making full use of it. This is especially true during the hot summer months when cool air, rather than the sun's heat, is desired.

Sunscreens, either commercial or homemade, can block as much as 70 percent of the sun's heat that is normally transferred through windows in direct sunlight.

Mrs. Sarah Nell Smith, receptionist with the Lee County Cooperative Extension Service, has first hand knowledge about the value of sunscreens.

"The Extension reception area faces the late afternoon sun through the building's front door," she said. "This creates a greenhouse effect in the room, making it hard to cool in the summer."

The problem was resolved recently when a sunscreen was installed on the door. Other sunscreens were installed on four west facing and two south facing windows in the building.

The sunscreen idea got off the ground recently in a brainstorming session between Charles Twitty, county agent, and Mrs. Pauline Goree, associate Extension home economist. Mrs. Goree had recently helped the Tupelo Homemakers Club with a TVA-sponsored sunscreen workshop.

Results was a workshop where sunscreens were built for the Extension building. Mrs. Goree also installed three sunscreens on the west side of her home.

The tightly woven fiberglass materials used to make sunscreens must be installed outside the glass window panes. The sunscreens still permit a view to the outside and allow some daylight into the room.

Mounted in wood or metal frames, they are easily removable for the winter when sunlight is desired. Sunscreen material cost about $10 to $15 for an average window for a build-it-yourself project.

A follow-up workshop conducted by Mrs. Elaine White, Extension employee, resulted in 71 screens constructed by 13 people from the Camp Creek Homemakers Club.

For more information on making sunscreens, contact your local county Extension office.

Mrs. Thomas Griffin Jr.

Miss Chatham And Mr. Griffin Exchange Vows In Hattiesburg

HATTIESBURG, Miss. -- The wedding of Miss Caren Michele Chatham and Thomas Weaver Griffin Jr. was solemnized Saturday, June 9, at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Hattiesburg.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Vern Edward Easterling and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weaver Griffin Sr., all of Hattiesburg.

Dr. Peter McLeod officiated at the ceremony.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Maurice McWhorter, organist; Mrs. Gary Stringer, pianist; and Miss Lila Noonkester, vocalist.

The bride chose for her wedding a designers gown of candlelight slipper satin. Re-embroidered French Alencon lace sculptured the fitted drop-waisted bodice and traditionally pointed sleeves.

The fullness of the skirt was caught up at the basque buttoned back, ending in a full cathedral-length train. The hemline of Alencon lace was traced with seeded pearls and luster sequins. Seed pearls etched the lace pattern of the entire gown.

She wore a cathedral-length mantilla veil of imported silk illusion held by a French cap of re-embroidered Alencon laces etched with pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of bridal white roses and phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, and sprengeri fern carried on the Bible carried by her mother at her wedding. Tucked in the bouquet was an heirloom handkerchief which belonged to her great-grandmother.

Catherine Chatham, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Carson of Marks, Miss., Miss Nona Cleghorn of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Kenny Duff of Jackson, Miss., Miss Patrice Stevens of Jackson, Miss., Miss Christy Townley of Oxford, Miss Caroline Cook of Hattiesburg, and Miss Pam Proctor of Atlanta, Ga.

They wore gowns of daphne rose tissue taffeta and carried cascade arrangements of pink rubrum lilies and sprengeri fern.

Thomas Weaver Griffin Sr., father of the groom, served as best man.

Groomsmen were Wesley Reid Griffin, James L. Bean III, Monte Manuel Manguno, Todd Ivy, Gary McClure and Scott Phillips.

The Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Kionioa Hall at the church.

Serving the bride's cake were Mrs. John M. Curlee Jr. of Aberdeen, Mrs. Gwendolyn Cleghorn of Atlanta, and Mrs. Forrest Michael of Booneville, aunts of the bride.

At the register were the grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. E.W. Reid of Hattiesburg and Mrs. Nolen B. Michael of Booneville.

Rice bags were distributed by John Curlee IV and Martha Elizabeth Curlee of Booneville, nephew and niece of the bride.

The couple are residing in Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. Billy Martin

Miss Horn Weds Mr. Martin By Candlelight

Miss Denise Horn became the bride of Billy Martin at the Martin Hill Church in an evening candlelight ceremony Saturday, June 2.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W.V. Horn and R.W. Martin and the late Mrs. Betty Clark Martin, all of Booneville.

Wedding music was presented by Clint Carroll, pianist. Vocalists were Miss Ladye Love Long of Iuka and Dennis Horn, brother of the bride.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Bro. Winston Wilemon, of Mobile, Ala., uncle of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white Chiffonette with a bateau neckline adorned with a Schiffli embroidery. The English net bodice and natural waistline was enhanced by beaded and sequined Alencon and Venise lace. The long tapered sleeves of applied English net ended in lily point cuffs.

Denise lace bordered the hemline and encircled the chapel-length train.

Her veil of illusion fell from a wreath of white flowers, lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of white and purple dendrobium orchids, baby's breath and springerea centered with a large cattleya orchid.

Miss Regenia Newman of Winter Park, Fla., served as Maid of Honor. Mrs. Mickey Hannon served as Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Vicki George, Becky Dodds, both of Booneville, and Ellen Martin, sister of the groom, of Sherman, Texas.

They wore tea-length fuchsia silk gowns and carried cascading bouquets of purple dendrobium orchids.

Little Miss Angelia Ozbirn, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ozbirn of Baldwin, and little Miss Kim Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gray of Marietta, served as flower girls. Master Justin Massey, nephew of the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Massey of Gulfport, was ring bearer.

R.W. Martin served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Jimmy Martin of Mobile, Ala., brother of the groom, Dennis Horn, brother of the bride, Dwain Brown and Paul Eaton of Booneville. Ushers were Mitch Moore and Paul Martin, brother of the groom, of Booneville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Horn chose a tea-length dress of rose lace over satin. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ellis Woodard, grandmother of the bride, wore a chiffon tan and beige dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Joe Clark, grandmother of the groom, wore a beige dress with matching jacket. Both grandmothers wore orchid corsages.

Miss Lisa Woodard, cousin of the bride, and Miss Carla Newman presided at the register table.

Mrs. Vicki Gray directed the wedding.

The Reception

Mr. and Mrs. W.V. Horn hosted a reception following the ceremony in the fellowship hall.

Distributing rice bags were Misses Melisa Ozbirn, Karla Jackson, Kelly Keeton and Karla Inman.

Mrs. Shirley Moreland served the bride's cake. Mrs. Becky McKinney presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Joyce Keeton served hor d'ourves. Mrs. Teresa Massey, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Janet Martin, sister-in-law of the groom, served the groom's cake and coffee.

Also serving as hostesses were Mrs. Ruby People, Mrs. Reba Glover, Mrs. Opal Reece, Mrs. Fay Lester, Mrs. Carolyn Jones, Mrs. Norma Inman, Mrs. Betty Warren and Mrs. Wynette Kelley.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday evening, June 1, Mrs. Reba Glover, Mrs. Shirley Moreland, Mrs. Joyce Keeton, Mrs. Opal Reece and Ms. Ruby People entertained the wedding party and guests with a rehearsal dinner in the fellowship hall of Martin Hill Church. The invocation was given by Bro. Winston Wilemon.

Agriculture

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD HAMPTON
County Agent

Herbicides perform an important service to agriculture by controlling weeds that compete for crop yields. The safe use and application of these materials is everyone's concern.

Ill-advised application methods or failure to clean application equipment before making later herbicide applications can have a disastrous effect on crops sensitive to the materials.

Cotton, for example, is highly sensitive to phenoxy herbicides such as 2, 4-D and other similar herbicides. While these herbicides have great value in controlling weeds in many crops, misapplication can result in serious damage to cotton.

Precautions relating to the safe application of phenoxy herbicides are outlined by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce Division of Plant Industry. Individuals applying these materials by aerial application are required to have a license.

Many factors should be considered before applying phenoxy or any other herbicides. Timing, wind velocity, temperature, equipment settings and other factors are critical in applying phenoxy materials safely.

For aerial application, 2, 4-D esters should not be applied between April 1 and Sept. 30. No application of any 2, 4-D formulation should be made within one-half mile of commercial plantings of cotton and grapes, according to regulations.

These materials should not be applied under "dead calm" conditions or when the wind velocity exceeds 5 miles per hour. Winds of less than 2 mph indicate conditions are right for a temperature inversion, which means the potential for herbicide drift is great. Also, work downwind of sensitive crops.

Applications of phenoxy materials also should not be made when temperatures are greater than 90 degrees F, relative humidity is below 50 percent, or when conditions are foggy or overcast, the regulations state.

Application equipment should be maintained carefully and calibrated on schedule. Check equipment regularly for leaks. Testing the spray pattern is recommended highly.

Again, cleaning equipment after application is essential. Failing to do so before making subsequent applications to crops sensitive to the materials can have serious consequences.

While these same general precautions for aerial application also are good advice for ground application, no regulations other than those on the product label are currently in effect for ground application of phenoxy herbicides.

Of course, the mentioned precautions do not include all precautions in applying sensitive herbicides. Read the label carefully in applying any herbicide. Above all, use good judgment, and if conditions are questionable, delay application pending more favorable conditions.

For more information concerning herbicides come by the county extension office on 404 East Church St., or call 728-5631.

ASCS News

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Prentiss County residents are invited to help develop the 1985 feed grain program by submitting ideas and recommendations to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Before announcing the program, USDA will study public comments received by Aug. 6, along with current data on domestic and world feed grain crop conditions.

Program decisions to be made include whether next year's program should contain a voluntary reduction percentage, acreage reduction, set-aside or land diversion program provisions.

the program provisions were eligible for deficiency payments and price support loans.

Other 1985 program decisions are whether barley should be determined eligible for payment under the program, whether malting barley should be exempt from any acreage reduction provisions, whether program contracts should be binding after sign-up and whether loans and purchases should be made available to producers who cut their corn for silage.

Comments on the 1985 program should be mailed to Dr. Howard C. Williams, Director, Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, Room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

flooding and other adverse weather conditions.

Lyng said the measures include expanding the emergency feed assistance program, allowing haying and grazing on land taken out of production in 1984 farm programs, and assisting livestock producers in locating hay or roughage.

"A special U.S. Department of Agriculture fact-finding team which toured affected areas in the Midwest last week reported that excessive rain has created some serious conditions for producers," Lyng said. "There also is extensive damage in the Northeast and spotted areas in some western states."

insufficient feed available to preserve their foundation livestock.

About 10.3 million bushels of U.S. No. 4, 5 and Sample grade corn are available for sale. This corn is stored in Colorado (79,000 bushels); Iowa (58,000); Kansas (29,000); Maine (2,000); Minnesota (1.5 million); Missouri (10,000); Nebraska (2.5 million); North Dakota (200,000); South Dakota (100,000); and Texas (5.8 million).

The cost to eligible producers will be 75 percent of the 1983 basic county loan rate in the county where the corn is stored. Producers will be responsible for transportation costs in moving the corn to their livestock. The emergency feed assistance will be available to eligible producers for a feeding period of 90 days or until feed would be normally available.

Comments should include a recommended level for these requirements. Current law stipulates that if USDA estimates the quantity of corn on hand in the United States on Sept. 30, 1985, will exceed 1.1 billion bushels, a cash land diversion program of not less than 5 percent must be provided and an acreage reduction program may be provided.

Peanut Price Levels Set

The average federal support price that farmers can expect for a ton of 1984 crop peanuts is $537.30 for Virginia; $537.30 for Valencias in the Southwest suitable for cleaning and roasting; $555.19 for Runner; and $532.57 for Spanish and all other Valencias.

The actual support levels for an individual lot of peanuts depends on the percent of the various sizes of kernels in each ton and on other factors. For each percent of sound mature and sound split kernels, the support level per ton is Virginia, $7.979; Runner, $7.823; Spanish, $7.862; Valencia in the Southwest suitable for cleaning and roasting, $8.064; and all other Valencias, $7.862.

Lyng said many counties nationwide are already eligible for the emergency feed assistance program due to the 1983 drought. Producers may use current growing season loss of hay and grass or a combination of 1983 drought and current growing season losses in determining eligibility.

Counties where one or more producers have suffered 40 percent or greater losses of haying and grazing due to adverse weather this spring will also be considered for the program. Payment-in-kind feed grain will not be counted as feed on hand in determining eligibility unless the producer still has it on hand or sold it since June 1, 1984.

Lyng said the haying and grazing privileges announced will only apply to cropland taken out of production in the 1984 farm programs. In general, to be eligible, producers must show a 40 percent loss of haying and grazing in the current growing season.

"I have directed the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service to give these requests highest possible priority with a turnaround time of no more than 48 hours."

County ASCS offices will also maintain updated lists of producers who have hay or other roughage available for sale in each state. Lyng said producers should contact their local ASCS office for additional information concerning any of the expanded emergency measures which were announced.

Comments are also requested on the provisions of the grain reserve, appropriate loan and purchase levels, the target price, the national program acreage, whether haying and grazing should be allowed on acreage conservation reserve land, and whether offsetting compliance should be required if an acreage reduction or set-aside program is necessary.

The 1984 feed grain program contained a 10 percent acreage reduction program provision. All farmers with an established base who planted feed grain could participate in the voluntary program. Those who complied with Prentiss County will have representation in Washington, D.C. this summer.

Peter Bullard will attend Citizenship-Washington Focus, July 22-28. He will be among 92 Mississippi 4-H'ers and volunteers and 4-H agents to attend this special program at the National 4-H Center.

4-H'ers were chosen for their contributions to their club and community through good citizenship activities.

Ten states will be represented during the same week, providing the opportunity for youth to share with 4-H'ers from across the nation.

The program focuses on what being a citizen means, on how 4-H members practice citizenship in different states and towns, and how our government works.

The delegation will tour such historic sites as Capitol Hill, the Kennedy Center, Mount Vernon, the Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, Arlington Cemetery, Washington Cathedral, and the Smithsonian Institution. The specific objectives are for 4-H'ers to develop a greater understanding and appreciation of American Heritage.

They will also learn the basic functions of national government, gain an appreciation of the international aspects of citizenship, and affirm their commitment to democracy.

It is hoped they will return with a more practical attitude and desire to practice and teach citizenship in day-to-day living.

Home Economist's Notes

By PATTY K. ROBINSON
Home Economist

Okra has long been the Southern Belle of the Vegetable kingdom. It's favored in the South where it grows during the hot summer months.

Today Mississippians enjoy the unique taste of the small, green vegetable cooked in many foods.

The plant is a native of West Africa. It is close kin of cotton and is widely cultivated in tropical countries. The soupy dish known as gumbo is also the Bantu name for the okra fruit or pod.

It was so named in England and used frequently in soups because of its thickening properties.

Okra is grown in many lands, especially South America and the Southern United States where the warm climates nurture its growth.

The round brown seeds of fully ripened okra pods can be ground and used as a coffee substitute. It is claimed that the beverage is quite pleasant.

Okra is available all year to some degree. Peak season in Mississippi is July and August.

The best quality okra is a small pod which may be green or a whitish green in color. Most of our okra is green. These pods, usually between 2 and 4 inches in length, may be long and thin or short and chunky. The outside of the pod may have ridges or be fairly smooth.

When choosing okra, pick pods that snap easily or puncture on slight pressure. This indicates freshness and tenderness. Since you should not puncture the okra in the market, try instead to avoid limp pods. Remember small pods are best. The larger ones are usually tough and woody.

Okra is a fragile vegetable, so handle it gently on the way home from the store.

When you bring okra home from the store or garden, wash and drain it. Then put it in a plastic bag and refrigerate for no longer than one week. Actually it's best to use it immediately or freeze, can or pickle it for later use.

Boil pods of okra in a small amount of water for approximately ten minutes and serve as a dish by itself. Season with salt and butter. One pound of okra equals about four servings, or perhaps you'd like to try it in a way that's a favorite with many Southern cooks.

Simply slice the pods, crosswise, dip them in cornmeal and fry in hot fat. This method will prevent the pastiness some people would rather avoid. And, always, okra is a "natural" partner for tomatoes.

The old-fashioned Southern custom of boiling whole okra pods on top of butter beans or field peas has merit, according to nutritionists. The flavorful combination retains the water-soluble vitamins and minerals that would be lost if the excess water were drained from the boiled okra.

In cooking, okra acts as a thickening agent. This helps make it a success in the famous chicken or seafood gumbo of creole cooking. Try it also in soups or pickled for the relish tray.

Small immature pods of okra offer the highest food value. The young pods are a good source of vitamin C and also contain Vitamin A, Niacin, Calcium and Iron.

As the pods get larger and more mature, vitamin C content decreases. Vitamin C is also lost when okra is held at room temperature after harvesting. So use it as soon as possible.

Low in calories, ten three-inch pods have only about 30 calories.

Freezing Okra

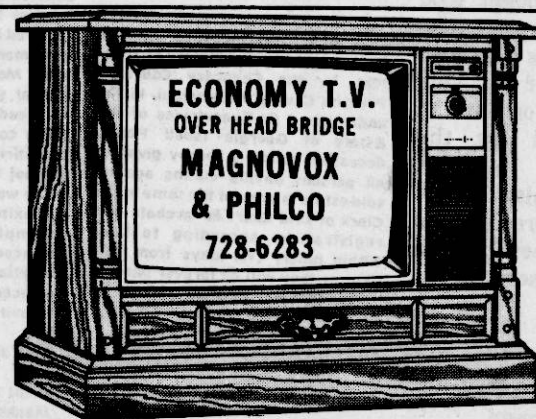

Freezing Whole Okra - Wash, remove stems. Do not cut or break the pods. Blanch 3 to 4 minutes. Chill. Pack into containers, leaving ½ inch headspace. Seal and freeze.

Freezing Okra for Frying and Soups - Slice okra crosswise. Place on baking sheet in the oven at 350 degrees F. for about 20 minutes. Stir occasionally. Cook and pack in containers and freeze.

Note: You may toss okra with cornmeal before placing in oven if you are planning to use within three months. Otherwise, toss with cornmeal when preparing and place back in oven to complete cooking before serving. Grease pan lightly.

Soil Conservation News

By CHARLES E. COWAN
Soil Conservation
Technician
Booneville Field Office

Through the years your trees have protected the soil from erosion and increased the value of your land.

Properly thinned plantations continue to protect your valuable watersheds while returning needed dollars. If the trees in your pine plantation are just now getting big enough for pulpwood, don't cut them all at one time. It isn't smart business. Your trees are just starting to put on volume and make money for you.

You can make more money this way:

"When to thin?" Is your plantation too thin? That depends on two things (1) How big your trees are and (2) How many trees you have. Some of your trees might be big enough to make pulpwood but there might not be enough of them to make a deal with a pulpwood buyer. As a rule, he needs to cut six or seven cords per acre to come out with a profit.

If you don't have this much, you will have to wait a few years before doing any thinning. Suppose you had enough trees big enough to make a deal, but the dealer would have to cut them all to come out with a profit. Here again, you would have to wait a few years and let the trees grow bigger.

Remember, an eight inch tree has twice as much volume in it as a six inch tree. Here is how you find out when your plantation is ready to thin.

Step 1. Take an everyday yard stick and thumb tack with a 2 inch by 2 inch squared cardboard at the end.

Step 2. Take the yardstick, (with the square attached) and with paper and pencil walk 20 steps into your plantation and stop. You are standing on your first sample point.

Step 3. Now hold the yardstick so you can sight down the edge of it. Aim at the tree about 4½ feet above the ground.

Step 4. You're now ready for business. Sighting down the edge of the yardstick, rotate around and take a sighting on every tree you see. In each case, line up the left side of the cardboard with the left side of the tree. If the tree sticks out past the right side of the cardboard count it, if it's pulpwood size or larger. Otherwise, don't count it. After you have come around a full circle write down the number of trees you have counted at that sample point.

Step 5. Now walk 50 or more steps farther into your plantation - stop and take another count. Keep going until you have taken 20 sample points - well scattered through your plantation.

Step 6. After 20 sample points - add up all the trees you counted. If you counted less than 115 trees - your plantation is not ready for thinning. If you counted more than 115 trees - your plantation is ready to be thinned.

For more information on harvesting or thinning your woodland, please call or come by the Soil Conservation Service office at 107 College St.

SHOULDER & ARM PAIN

CHIROPRACTIC CAN HELP NATURE RELIEVE AND HEAL SHOULDER AND ARM PAIN

It should thus be quite apparent that shoulder and arm pain may indicate a more serious condition. But whether the problem is related to other parts of the body or not, the pain can become very debilitating, as those who suffer from such problems well know.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic readily understands the problems involved in a painful shoulder or arm condition. He or she is eminently better qualified to correct these types of conditions than any other kind of doctor. If nerve interference is the basic or contributing cause of your problem, your chiropractor will institute necessary measures to help nature correct and heal the condition.

The chiropractor's minimum of six years of college education plus practical experience have been especially directed to just such problems—problems which involve the spine, nerves, muscles, and joints of the body.

Today's Doctor of Chiropractic first seeks to give you immediate relief from pain, but education and experience always cause him or her to search out the underlying source of your problem and then correct it. This prevents the need for you to take pain pills for relief month in and month out.

Drugs

got that court order, they had to take them. But the law has changed.

"Even then it took time," Sheriff Horn said. "You had to serve them process and that had to be three to five days. Then you had to get it (the court order) whenever your judge was here. So you were talking about a week-and-a-half to two weeks."

It was pointed out that Dr. Johnson said an addict needed to be admitted to a program as soon as possible after being detoxed.

"Right. And that gives us quite a problem," said Sheriff Horn. "We don't have anyplace to keep them. If they're just going through the paperwork process they stay with their family."

"But, if they get violent, we have to pick them up. Then, when we do, we've got to have them under medical treatment until we get them to the state hospital."

"And, if they admit themselves, the hospital staff will not make them stay. They can walk off anytime. And some of them, if they don't stay so long, they might as well not have gone," Sheriff Horn said.

Chancery Clerk Phillip Cole must process both voluntary and involuntary commitments to the drug programs at Whitfield and Meridian. There are forms to be filled out and procedures that have to be followed, even before the addict is placed on the hospital's waiting list, he said.

If the addict is going voluntarily, someone - spouse, parent, child, a friend or relative or the county health officer - must file a petition with the chancery court requesting the commitment.

Then, unless it is waived by the addict, a hearing must be held before the judge will order the commitment.

The person must then be delivered, usually by the sheriff, to the hospital between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on a weekday, or the hospital will not admit them.

And, according to both Cole and Sheriff Horn, by the time an order is signed, it is virtually impossible to travel the distance between Booneville and either hospital before 4 p.m.

If the commitment is involuntary, there is a time schedule to be followed as well as the paperwork and procedures. After the petition is filed there is a mandatory wait of five days before the hearing, and the person to be committed must be served with a citation at least three days before the hearing.

And, if the hearing cannot be scheduled within 20 days of the petition's filing, the procedure must be started over.

The judge may also require that the addict be examined by a doctor before he will sign the commitment order. And, according to Cole, that doctor will probably be required to testify that he gave the addict a thorough physical.

The law provides for a total payment to the doctor of $15 for his time and trouble.

And, if the addict should waive the hearing, the commitment then becomes voluntary and he cannot be forced to stay at the hospital after admission.

But, according to Cole, either way, the addict will probably then have at least a three week waiting period between commitment order and admission.

Cole said a commitment for drug abuse, whether voluntary or involuntary, is a headache for all concerned. "You first have to determine which form to use. You have to determine whether they need mental help or help for drug or alcohol abuse," he said.

"You have your guidelines to go by. And with the new laws that took effect July 1, once you go through all the procedures and get everything ready to go, you have to call and put them on a waiting list for a bed."

"Then, if it's an involuntary commitment, we have to take the person into custody because they become the responsibility of the state at the time the judge signs the order," Cole said.

"Once the court has ruled that they do need help, whether mental or for drug or alcohol abuse, we have to do something with them."

"The mental cases, we are automatically referring to Timber Hills Mental Health Center. But with the drug cases, I don't know where we are yet because that hasn't come up since July 1."

"And when we have a drug addict or an alcoholic in jail and they go into withdrawal, we have to get them medical attention."

"But the involuntary procedure is usually about the only way we can go," Cole said. "And, to start with, if there are any charges pending, I can't even take my pen out of my pocket and start writing."

That's the first question I've got to ask. And if the answer is yes, Whitfield will take them in extreme emergencies. But, normally, they have to go to Meridian. And, if they will go voluntarily, I can get them in eventually," he said.

"Recently, I came in on a Monday morning at eight o'clock and I had an alcoholic, a drug addict and a mental patient...three families," Coles said.

"I talked to all of them, and it took me until 12:15 to just say, 'I can't do anything right now,' to three different families."

"And, if the patient gets violent, the only thing we can do is put him or her in jail. Or, you have to carry them to the hospital and hire a full-time deputy to go over there and sit with them," he said.

"It's a problem for all the doctors. It's a problem for law enforcement. It's a problem for the courts. It's a problem for the addicts' families. And it's a problem for me."

"But nobody seems to have an answer for it," Cole said.

Hill's By-Pass Takes 2nd At Tourney

Booneville's Hill's By-Pass placed second in the Dizzy Dean Northern District Baseball Tournament held last week. Corinth took the first place spot in the double-elimination tournament.

In the first game of the tournament Corinth dropped Saltillo 11-1 in six innings. In the second game it was Prentiss Mfg. losing to Baldwin 13-12.

Prentiss led off in the first inning but went scoreless while Baldwin scored four runs. In the second inning Prentiss got on the scoreboard with one run and held Baldwin to none.

Prentiss then rallied in the third scoring four, but Baldwin came back to score two more. In the fourth Prentiss once again went through a scoreless inning, and Baldwin managed to score two adding to their lead.

In the seventh inning Prentiss pulled back with three runs, which tied the game at nine all, then scored three more to apparently win the game.

But Baldwin came back with four runs on two base hits and two ERAs by the shortstop to win the ballgame.

In the final game on Monday night Belmont took a 6-3 win over the tough Hill's By-Pass nine.

Hill's opened up in the first with a 2-0 lead, but found they could not hold it for long. Belmont came back to score one run in the second and three in the third to take the lead, then added one more run in the fourth and another in the fifth to win.

In the losers' game, Tuesday night, Prentiss knocked Saltillo out of the tournament by a 4-2 margin.

Prentiss scored two runs in the first and two in the fifth. Saltillo's scoring came in a one run third inning and a two run fifth.

In the second game on Tuesday Corinth bumped-off Baldwin 11-3 to give Baldwin their first loss.

The final game featured Hill's By-Pass and Prentiss. Hill's won 6-4.

Hill's scored one run in the first and four in the third to jump out to a 4-0 lead. Prentiss scored one in the fourth to put the game at 4-1.

Hill's scored one more run in the sixth, while Prentiss was rallying for three runs...not enough to win.

In one game on Thursday night Corinth whipped Belmont 23-0.

The final game of the tournament featured Corinth, undefeated in the tournament, and Hill's By-Pass for the championship. Corinth won the game 11-2.

Corinth scored two runs in the first, then two more in the second. Hill's could only score one run in the two innings, then scored their last run in the third.

Corinth scored five runs in the fourth and two in the fifth to "put the icing on the cake."

Corinth will now advance to the state tournament next week.

Despite Loss To Sonic

Brown Shoe Still On Top

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Despite suffering a 7-4 loss to second place Sonic last week, the Brown Shoe Little League Team remains in first place through the seventh week of play.

Darren Hughes struck out four and allowed only eight hits, as Sonic knocked off Coach Howard Barry's undefeated troops. Milt Morgan was charged with the loss for Brown Shoe.

However, Sonic sent ten batters to the plate in the bottom of the inning and five went directly to go, crossing the plate. Doubles by Hughes and Josh Tollison were the key blows in that inning.

Brown Shoe scored two more runs in the fourth, as Jamie Michael and David Kirk led the way at the plate. But they were only able to pull within one run of the leaders.

Sonic added two more runs in the fifth inning and was still batting when the time limit expired.

BHS Installs
Sprinklers At
Practice FieldBy SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Booneville High School Head Football Coach and Athletic Director Wayne Jones announced this week that a new sprinkler system has been purchased and installed at the school's practice football field.

Jones told The Banner-Independent that most of the materials were donated by local industries, which defrayed the expenses.

"H & W Industries donated the pipes and Heritage Cablevision dug the pipe trenches for us at no charge," Jones said. "Also, our booster club bought the sprinkler heads, which was a big help."

Jones said that the school would like to thank everyone who donated the materials for work on the field, which is the only practice field, separate from a game field, in North Mississippi to have such a system.

Jones also said school electrician and engineer Pete Scott was a big help in the installation of the system.

Fishing Roundup

All Area Lakes Hot

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

According to Baldwyn semi-professional fisherman Danny Comer, the fishing at all of the area lakes is "red hot".

"The black or largemouth bass are biting at an unbelievable pace," Comer said. "I don't know what caused them to start on this feeding spree, but I'm glad they did."

Three lakes have really been hot spots for area anglers this past week. Enid, Sardis and Grenada Lakes have all produced some great results for fishermen.

One report from Sardis last week said that one angler caught 20 fish totaling 84 pounds.

Most of the bass are hitting three-inch balsa bees. But, worms have also been a good bait to use, Comer said. Most of the bass are being caught at depths of between three and 11 feet.

Hurricane Point, at Sardis, is still one of the best areas to fish, according to Comer, who said the fishing at Bay Springs has also been very good.

The bream are still biting very well there and the bass are starting to pick up. Catfish fishermen are also reporting better luck. However, most of the catfish are being caught on trot lines.

The bream at Bay Springs are biting mostly crickets and worms, though some brave souls like myself are apt to try other baits.

Jackson's Camp, Wilson Point and in the lock are some of the better areas at Bay Springs.

Pickwick has also been a good area to fish over the past few weeks. Although there have been no sudden outbursts of fish, the fishing at Pickwick has been consistent. The bass, buffalo and carp are all biting well. Shad guts and worms are some of the better baits to use there.

FISHING TIP -- Semi-pro Comer offered two fishing tips this week. First, bass fishermen should try to fish the areas where there are points and green bushes. Green bushes seemed to be the key to all of the good fishing last week.

Second, if you are using a three-inch balsa bee as bait, Comer said that there is a particular motion that you should use to get the best results:

After you cast, crank down and reel in at a medium speed. Work through the brush tops and keep the same pace. When the balsa bee comes off the brush tops it appears to be wounded and this causes fish to attack.

FISHING TALES -- Almost every day I hear someone talk about the fishing equipment they use. But, personally, it really doesn't matter to me whether you use a $100 rod and reel combo or a $10.97 "red light special".

I was always told the key to fishing was the way you held your mouth. I like using a good, sturdy cane pole, myself. And though I don't get to use one too often, I still think you can't beat a good one.

Anyway, my grandfather and my dad always told me that I wasn't holding my mouth right when I wasn't catching any fish. And, if I would happen to get one and have it fall off before I got it on shore, then they would tell me that I changed the expression of my mouth.

After 13 years of wondering, I know realize that the whole mouth business was either just something to keep me patient or something for my grandfather and my dad to amuse themselves with.

But, I was told by a five-year-old kid last week that I wasn't holding my mouth right. So, I guess it's either the truth about the mouth business or a worldwide conspiracy against me.

TOURNAMENT NEWS -- Phillip Edwards of Saltillo turned in a total of seven fish weighing 19.5 lbs. to capture first place in the Tupelo Bass Club's Annual Tournament at Enid Lake.

David Webb of Plantersville took second place with 10 fish weighing 16.5 lbs. and Phil Faulkner finished third with five fish that totaled 10.5 lbs.

Edwards also won the Lunker award with a fish weighing 5 lbs. 7 oz.

WEATHER UPDATE -- Finally, the weather has broken to some degree. The threat of late afternoon and evening thundershowers has increased due to a cold front that is approaching the area. The fishing should pick up even more this week, thanks to the weather, and fishermen should try to plan their fishing around afternoon showers.

Remember, if you have any questions or comments, feel free to send me your mail. Address your mail to the Fishing Roundup, The Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, Miss. 38829.

Until next week, good fishing!

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian
George E. Allen Library

Biographies are popular subjects for our readers.

Especially is this true for books about people now in the limelight, but stories about historical figures in the arts, the sciences and political life in the past have appeal.

We identify with other persons in areas of our own interest. We learn about personality and character growth. They are one of the best forms of history study if the writing is done to present truth rather than to gain attention.

By the same reasoning historical novels, though imaginative, flesh out dry facts into interesting ideas.

There are reference books and periodicals to help you find the particular person or historical period about which you want to read.

The Allen Library has a volume entitled Guide to Historical Fiction, compiled by Leonard Shaw, which is arranged first by area of the world and then by date. Each book listed is described very briefly. There is an author and title index.

Also World Historical Fiction Guide, by Daniel McGarry is another helpful source.

Biography Index, of which the Allen Library has only gift copies, is published on a regular basis and contains references to both books and articles about persons.

Our constant standby, Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, contains some of all these helps listed previously along with the locations of book reviews.

The best seller list contains a fictionalized biography called Lincoln by Gore Vidal, and The

Kennedy's: an American Drama, by Collier and Horowitz. First Lady of Plains, an autobiography by Rosalynn Carter is on the list as is Eudora Welty's One Writer's Beginnings. Past Imperfect is by and about Joan Collins of television fame.

These are all recent publications but older proven literature may interest you just as well.

Let the Library staff help you find the ones you have meant when you said, "I want to read that sometime."

Join the biggest and best treasure hunt in Northeast Mississippi history: The William Teller® $3,000 Treasure Hunt.

Beginning August 1, five separate $500 treasure hunts will be held—one in each of the five People Place counties: Lee, Pontotoc, Monroe, Prentiss and Clay. Clues for each county will be posted at The People Place office in those counties. But they'll appear sooner on William Teller® transaction receipts.

Just by using your card, you'll not only get clues that direct you to where the treasure is hidden, but we'll also give you a bonus clue when you show us three of your William Teller® receipts dated within the same week but with different dates. You may also win Surprise Cash, which is another $500 in $1, $5 or $10 denominations when you use your William Teller® card. The amount will be stamped on receipts at random.

Get your card now so you'll be ready for our $3,000 treasure hunt and for making 24-hour banking transactions. Look for clues and Treasure Hunt details soon. It's not necessary to have a William Teller® card to participate, but there'll be more ways to win if you do. It's the card you'll treasure in many ways.

Thirty-five Northeast Junior College sophomores, more than in any other junior college in the state, were recently awarded academic scholarships by the University of Mississippi.

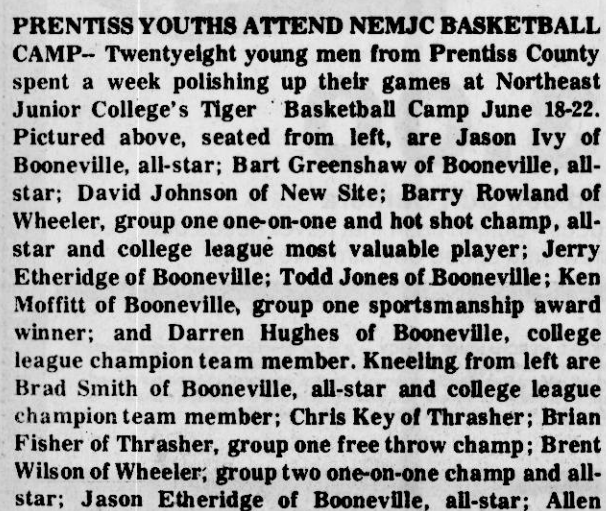

Earning the scholarships by maintaining a grade point average of 3.5 or above, the students transferring to Ole Miss will receive $2,500 over the next two years and an additional $300 if they are Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society members.

Jack Adams, UM junior college liaison, visited Northeast recently to inform qualifying sophomores of NEMJC Director of Student Counseling Connie Drown said Ole Miss is not only to be commended for its recognition of Northeast's quality students, but that the students themselves should be commended for the standards of excellence they have set and lived up to at Northeast.

"I think through the quality instruction these students have received at Northeast and through their own diligent efforts these students have been able to qualify for highly-sought scholarships like this," he said.

Students who have qualified for the University of Mississippi scholarships are: Dennis Bynum, Grace Carman, Ginger Dickerson, Steven Downs, Abby George, Candy Gunn, Susan Johnson, Leanne Kay, Kevin Martin, Tim Mask, Micheal Medlin, Tammy Monroe, Nickey Raines, Tim Stephens, Ronda Taylor and Karen Walker. Others are Nick Alexander, Nathan Baldwin, Lisa Bell, Tami Clark, Sherri Davis, Melony Floyd, Anita Gaines, Jeff Green, Patti Lee, James Nabors Jr., Jethlynn Potts, Michael Robinson, Ann Stacy, Amy Thomason, Deanna White and Brenda Worley.

The boys were instructed in fundamentals and given tips on how to improve their games.

Superintendent Jim Bainbridge has announced the schedule of interpretive programs and activities for the summer visitor season along the Natchez Trace Parkway.

Bainbridge said that at Mount Locust, located 18 miles north of Natchez, Mississippi, at milepost 15.5 on the parkway, visitors are invited to participate in the scene portraying the history and life styles of the Old Southwest.

Bainbridge said the scene is completed by two National Park Service employees, one portraying a "Kaintuck" boatman returning homeward, and the other an innkeeper's wife, who help to create a historically accurate scene of the economic, social, and cultural life of pioneer days of the early 19th century Natchez District, especially as it related to travelers using the Old Trace.

The living history program is presented daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. through October. During November the program will be presented from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Thursday through Monday.

At the Rocky Springs cam-ground near Port Gibson, milepost 54.8 on the parkway, Mr. Bainbridge said evening campfire programs and guided walks are presented every weekend.

Illustrated talks about the human and natural history of the Old Trace and the region are presented at 8:30 p.m. through August, and at 8:00 p.m. during September and October, on Saturday nights in the campground amphitheater.

On Sunday two conducted walks are presented. At 10:15 a.m. the Town Site Walk leads to the Rocky Springs Townsite, once a thriving rural community of over 2,600 inhabitants and now deserted except for the still standing Methodist Church and adjacent cemetery. At 1:15 p.m. the Sunken Trace Walk leads visitors over a short section of the sunken Old Trace.

At the Mississippi Crafts Center at Ridgeland, milepost 102.4 on the parkway, weekend craft demonstrations are presented by the Craftsmen's Guild of Mississippi, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. both days.

The Crafts Center is in full operation seven days a week from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. with sales and exhibits of Mississippi handicraft items.

At the Tupelo Visitor Center and parkway headquarters, milepost 266.0, exhibits and a 12-minute orientation program help to provide the visitor with a more comprehensive understanding of the Old Trace, and its more modern counterpart, the Natchez Trace Parkway.

Visitor Center hours during the year are from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily, with the exception of Christmas, when the building is closed.

Bainbridge urged all parkway visitors and users to take advantage of the numerous and varied interpretive activities that are scheduled along the parkway for the summer months and on into the fall.

He said a complete schedule of 1984 activities can be obtained free of charge by writing to the Chief Park Interpreter, Natchez Trace Parkway, Rural Route 1, NT-143, Tupelo, Miss. 38801.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

By C. D. Edge

Things Are Not Always As They Seem

There is a church near Montgomery, Ala., that is a beautiful New England style building with a big steeple, all painted and perfect. From the outside, it looks like a great church, but when you walk inside, you find that it has NO PEWS, NO CHAIRS, NO PULPIT, NO FURNITURE, NO ALTAR, just a flat plain floor with stripes painted to make a basketball court with baskets on each end. When you ask about it, you'll find that a few years ago the local factory built the church for the people of the community. There was a wonderful dedication service. The manager of the factory stated, "Friends, we have built this church for you. We make only one requirement for it - THAT YOU NEVER TAKE UP AN OFFERING." The people applauded him. How wonderful; the factory would pay the pastor, pay for the building, pay for the upkeep. It would do it all. That day the church was packed with people. In six months the church was half empty. Within a year it was totally empty. The people went to a church where the plate was passed. They wanted to give. It is natural and right for each of us to want to DO WHAT WE CAN FOR OUR CHURCH. To be selfish is to wreck the church. God blessed the GENEROUS CHURCH and its GENEROUS CHRISTIANS.

HE WHICH SOWETH SPARINGLY SHALL REAP ALSO SPARINGLY: AND HE WHICH SOWETH BOUNTIFULLY SHALL REAP ALSO BOUNTIFULLY. II Cor. 9:6

Northeast Plays Role

In Alumni Success Stories

BOONEVILLE — Bill Brasfield is a 20 year-old display designer headed for New York's American Academy of Dramatic Arts. Joy Lambert Phillips at 28 years, is a successful Jackson attorney. Hudson Hickman is 34, an associate producer at Aaron Spelling Productions and still moving up.

What do these three people have in common? They are all alumni of Northeast Mississippi Junior College and readily admit that Northeast played a big part in their ongoing success.

Brasfield, the first male student to successfully complete Northeast's fashion merchandising program, took what he learned under instructor Donna Vaughn to Memphis where he stunned display designers at Goldsmith's with his practical understanding of the business and his creativity.

"Mrs. Vaughn's program is the most wonderful thing that ever happened to my career," Brasfield said. "She didn't subject us to a lot of unrelated junk, but she gave us practical advice and skills. That, plus the personal attention and support she gave me, is exactly what I needed to get ahead."

After working at Goldsmith's, Brasfield left to dress windows and set up displays for a Beale Street developer. However, he became ill and returned home to Aberdeen to recuperate. It was during that recovery period he "ittered the country side with applications and resumes."

Shortly afterward, Brasfield was called to New York to audition for acceptance to the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, the same institution that trained film greats such as Grace Kelly and Robert Redford. Instead of going to New York, the auditioner met Brasfield in Memphis for a couple of two-minute monologues. Brasfield was accepted, saying the toughest part is still ahead as his tasks of learning or losing accents, dancing, acting and singing lie before him. He's chosen to study make-up as a specialty.

"There's a six-week probationary period, then you go before a panel to audition again," Brasfield said. "I've been told that enrollment past the first six weeks is really slim.

"I don't know if I'll make it, but one thing I do know. If it hadn't been for that first big step at Northeast and the people who helped me make it, I would never have the opportunities I'm enjoying 'right now,'" Brasfield said.

Starting A Law Career At Northeast

Joy Lambert Phillips finished high school at Thrasher slightly ahead of her time. When she graduated in 1972 at the tender age of 16, she set out to obtain her degree in law, and though she had to claw her way through, she got it.

Now an attorney with the Jackson law firm of Daniel, Coker, Horton and Bell, Phillips was graduated with honors at Ole Miss majoring in political science with minors in English and history and was graduated from Ole Miss' Law School with honors, finishing in the top ten of her class of '80.

"I had special problems, especially in the area of financial aid," Phillips said. "But the people at Northeast really made a special effort to work with me on getting help."

After spending two years at Northeast, Phillips went on to Ole Miss and in 1975

Looking For A Quality Education?

Find It At. . .

Northeast Mississippi Junior College was ranked fourth behind the state's three largest universities in a recent survey of graduates to determine their future plans for attending college.

The 325 graduates surveyed were honored by the Mississippi Economic Council for having earned the highest American College Test score at their respective schools.

"To be included in the ranks of such highly respected learning institutions and to be chosen by some of the finest graduates in the state, Northeast has to be doing something right," veteran administrator President Harold T. White said.

Since the school first opened its doors in 1948, growth and improvement have been the ongoing objectives. Today, the results of strong leadership, community support and an innovative faculty are evidenced as the College continually expands its physical facilities and curricula in academic, vocational and technical disciplines. Presently, the 93-acre campus boasts in excess of 40 modern buildings and approximately 100 different majors or careers in both two and four-year programs.

The success stories of Northeast graduates are countless, and varied as they may be, the similarity found in each involves the student's recollection of the individualized attention he received from a specific instructor. With a student/faculty ratio of 1-18, the personal atmosphere of Northeast makes it a college interested in the individuality of all its students.

"My personal goal," White said, "is that every student who enters Northeast leaves with the feeling that he or she was important because at some time, somebody cared about them and took the time to let them know."

Through the years Northeast has been the answer for many high school graduates desirous of furthering their educations, but not quite ready to take the plunge into a major university setting. Today's enrollment of 2,300 full-time students provides for a campus atmosphere which is large enough to serve you whatever your needs, but small enough that you gain a feeling of closeness.

Following the national trend, some 500 students presently enrolled at Northeast are returning to the classroom after some years of absence. A welcome group on campus, statistics indicate that the success rate of the non-traditional student is quite high.

Much of the success of Northeast students can be attributed to the assistance they receive from academic advisers and counselors during registration and career decision-making workshops.

At Northeast, each student is assigned an academic adviser who assists with schedule planning and registration to insure successful transfer of all credit. For the student who has not yet made a decision about his college major, the Counseling Center has a wealth of information concerning specific careers and their future job market status as well as diagnostic tests to determine the student's interests and aptitude. All of these services are available upon request and are free of charge.

Once the student has selected a major and enrolled in the course of study necessary to complete the curriculum, assistance can be had through the Special Services Student Tutorial Program. Last year alone, some 150 students received tutorial assistance in approximately 12 different subject areas. In addition, 300 more received assistance in laboratory settings.

A major concern of most students and their parents is the expense of a college education. At Northeast, approximately 80% of the students enrolled last year received financial assistance in the form of Pell Grants, Federally Insured Students Loans, the College Work-Study Program and scholarships provided by local businesses and individuals. Assistance of this type, coupled with the relatively low tuition, makes Northeast both attractive and affordable.

An added incentive for the parent-turned-student is the on-campus child care facility. This unique service allows parents to leave their children with well-trained and qualified individuals during the time they attend classes.

Aside from being recognized for its outstanding degree programs, Northeast is noted for its many extracurricular programs and activities. Student life at Northeast offers a challenge in learning beyond the realm of books and study. Whether you fancy special interest clubs, organized sports activities, body building or swimming, Northeast has it all.

Looking for a quality education? Look no further.

"My personal goal is that every student who enters Northeast leaves with a personal feeling that he or she was important because at some time, somebody cared about them and took the time to let them know."

Harold T. White
President

"Having several older brothers and an older sister, I've had to look really hard to find the most affordable education. My family and I have found Northeast to be the answer, and when you combine this with its wide range of course offerings, high standards and easy accessibility, Northeast adds up to the best educational value around."

Harry Holliday
SGA President
Engineering Major
Ripley

"Since I'm going to continue my education in Florida, naturally I was concerned about what would and wouldn't transfer from Northeast. But I've had no problems at all, even transferring from one state to another."

LaShana Jinnar
Pre-Law Major
Iuka

"Northeast's summer orientation helped me get acquainted with the campus and make friends early. I remembered how important that experience was in my first year, so when I was asked to be a student counselor in my sophomore year, I didn't hesitate in saying yes."

Renee Grimes
Textiles and Clothing Major
Houston

"Dorm life at Northeast is something special. Besides the fact that the dorms are a lot nicer than most of the four-year schools I've seen, it's just the best way to make new friends and know exactly what's going on around the campus. And now I can see that some of the friends I've made at Northeast are going on to my senior college so I won't feel so lonely when I transfer."

Ronda Taylor
Pre-Pharmacy Major
Cornish

"My two years at Northeast have prepared me for senior college in a way no other junior college could top. The friendly atmosphere and the concerned staff have given Northeast an excellent reputation known throughout the state. If given the choice of any junior college in the South, I'd choose Northeast."

Glenn Storey Accounting Major
Booneville

"What stands out most about Northeast to me is the personalized attention that you get from the faculty and staff. They all seem to know your name and if you have a problem there is always somebody you can talk to. At Northeast, you're not just a number."
