Berryhill Arrested

A 49-year-old Rienzi man has been arrested and charged with possession with intent to deliver dilaudid tablets, a controlled substance.

According to Mississippi Highway Patrol investigator David Huggins, Bob L. Berryhill of Route 3, Rienzi, was arrested and charged at the intersection of Highways 45 and 72 in Corinth at about 11:24 Tuesday morning.

"Approximately 350 dilaudid tablets were removed from his possession," Huggins said. These tablets would have a street value of in excess of $15,000, he said.

The arrest came as part of a cooperative investigation on the part of the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department, the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, and the Mississippi Highway Patrol, Huggins said.

The MHP officer said that bond for Berryhill was set at $50,000. As of Wednesday morning, Berryhill remained in the Alcorn County jail.

Alcorn County Sheriff Bill Gant and Investigator Huggins made the arrest after "our information led us to believe that there might be something going down," Huggins said.

Trial Continued

The murder trial of a Rienzi man charged with the murder of his father has been continued to the next term of circuit court in Alcorn County.

Michael Moore, 24, of Rienzi, was scheduled to face trial July 25 for the Dec. 31, 1983, murder of his father, Ernest Moore, 45, of Rienzi.

The trial was continued until the October term of court because the law firm of Smith, Ross and Trapp who represented Moore, requested the continuance due to a conflict with another case in federal court.

Moore is charged with shooting his father in the chest with a .22 caliber pistol after a family argument. The body of the elder Moore was found floating in the Tuscumbia Canal on Jan. 3.

Law authorities searched for Michael Moore two weeks before Moore finally turned himself in to the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department Jan. 14.

Rienzi Man Sentenced

A Rienzi man who reportedly robbed a Biggersville grocery store and stole a car for his getaway has been sentenced to serve 15 years in prison.

Carl Eddie Odom, 25, of Route 3, Rienzi, pleaded guilty to two charges of armed robbery. He was sentenced to serve 20 years with five years suspended on each charge with the sentences to run concurrently.

Odom reportedly robbed Benjamin's Grocery in Biggersville March 2 using a sawed-off shotgun and allegedly stole about $3,000. After the robbery, he reportedly stole a 1978 Ford Fairmont.

Mantachie Shootout

Sam Turner, 61, of Mantachie was shot and killed by two Itawamba County deputies near his Carolina Community home Tuesday afternoon following an 18-hour manhunt by law officers.

Turner was being sought by the deputies for the murder of a 28-year-old housewife, June Dill Payne of Shiloh.

Drug Abuse In Prentiss County, Part 6

A Physician & Former Addict Speaks

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Fulton physician Dr. Jerry W. Sheffield knows the agonies of drug addiction. He knows that drug or alcohol dependency can happen to anyone. And knows the ordeals of treatment.

He knows because he has been there himself.

"I got involved with drugs in 1976 when I was practicing in a small town in Alabama that was in one of these desperate physician shortage areas. And I had a more or less overwhelming practice," Dr. Sheffield said.

"It was much more than I could do, and much more than I should have been trying to do. And I innocently wandered off into pill taking in order to keep going... pills to put me to sleep and pills to keep me awake... whatever seemed to be appropriate to keep going."

Dr. Sheffield said his major dependency was on demerol, a drug he said is very comparable to dilaudid in both its effects and in the methods of treatment for addiction to it.

"I was naive, I guess, to the point that I felt like I would be able to control it and stop before I was dependant," he said, adding that a feeling of personal control is common among drug dependant people.

"But that's basically what happened. I just got deep into it before I realized I couldn't control it," he said.

Dr. Sheffield said, regardless of the addiction -- alcohol, hard drugs, smoking, or even gambling or overeating -- the treatment concept is the same: "Once an addict, always an addict."

"I just became unable to control it until I got into some appropriate treatment. And, since then, I've been pretty successful at avoiding drugs," he said.

For Dr. Sheffield, the "appropriate treatment" was at Ridgeview Institute, near Atlanta, which offers a program specifically designed for drug dependant physicians, coordinated by Dr.

Doug Talbott.

"The treatment, with very minor differences, is exactly the same, no matter what the dependency," he said. "And I would say that the largest difference is found within the first few days to two or three weeks, when you're actually getting the person off of his drug."

"The method of detoxing might be a little different for alcohol, say, than for heroin. You have different withdrawals, for example."

"DTs are a peculiar phenomenon of alcohol addiction. People who are on dilaudid, or heroin or other narcotics don't go into DTs. They have a withdrawal of their own," he said.

"The immediate first few days of getting the patient off a drug may be a little different. But the basic treatment...the psychological type of treatment...the long-term type of treatment is the same regardless of the addiction," Dr. Sheffield said.

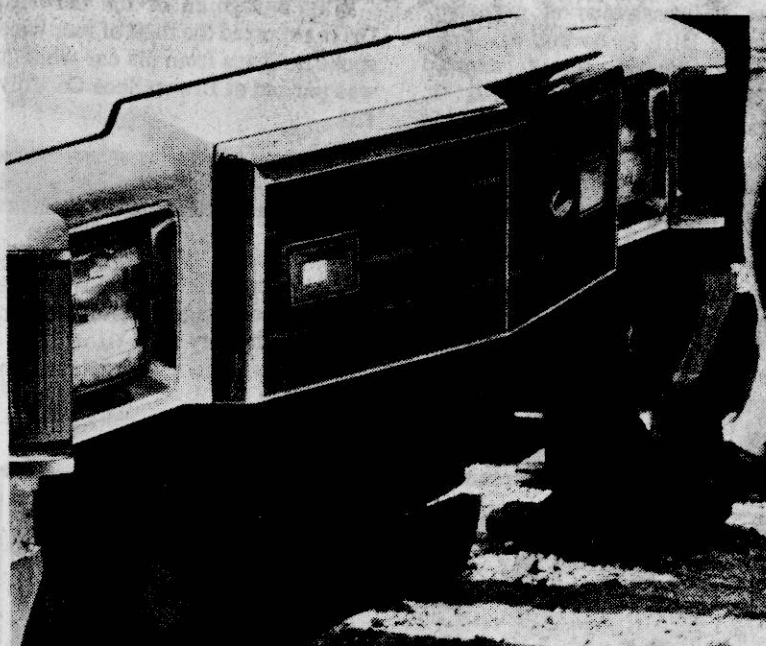

"The very first thing to do is get the person off the drug. And, usually, some drugs are required to be administered." He said this is easier to handle if a local facility -- a neuropsychiatric ward in a hospital or a drug abuse treatment clinic is available.

"There are different feelings about this," he said. "Some people will use the same drug the person has been using and taper the dosage

THE CHASE ENDS -- Two juveniles who apparently stole a car from the hospital parking lot led police on a high speed chase that ended Monday afternoon when the juveniles lost control of the car in a wooded area near Livingston's Store on Highway 4. During the chase, the stolen car and Police Chief's Bobby Lambert's car collided, tearing the bumper from Lambert's car and leaving a hole in the left rear of the stolen car. ## Two Apprehended After High Speed Chase On Highway 4

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Two juveniles, 16 and 17 years old, who apparently stole a car from the hospital parking lot, were apprehended Monday afternoon following a high speed chase by local law authorities.

The chase ended around 4 p.m. just north of Livingston's Store on Highway 4 when the juveniles lost control of the car in a curve and skidded into a wooded area.

The stolen car belonged to Mrs. J.R. (Pauline) Counce of Route 2, Booneville, who works as a volunteer at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Booneville. She reported to police that her 1976 Chevrolet Malibu was stolen around 3 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Counce's sister, Charlene Johnson of Wheeler, was at the Peoples Bank when she happened to see her sister's car go by. She knew her sister's car had been stolen and she immediately telephoned law authorities to tell them she had seen the car.

AROUND THE same time Police Chief Bobby Lambert spotted the car on Church Street near Wal-Mart

-- "and that's when the race began," he said.

"I noticed they had rubbed mud on the tag so we couldn't see the number," Lambert said Tuesday. "I saw the boys looking back at me and that they had the muddy tag -- that's when I commenced stopping them."

The police chief's car and the stolen car collided in front of OK Tire Store. The collision tore the front bumper from Lambert's car and damaged the left rear of the stolen vehicle. But the juveniles didn't stop.

Lambert pursued the stolen car approximately seven miles on Hwy. 4, just north of Livingston's Store, when the juveniles lost control of the car in a curve and went off in a wooded area, hitting some trees, he said.

The 16-year-old received a skinned knee from the wreck, Lambert said.

While the chase was in progress there were times when the speed reached 85 m.p.h., Lambert said. "Because of the curves on Highway 4, I was afraid there would be a bad wreck any minute. They ran

Booneville Man Charged With Local S&L Break-In

A 23-year-old Booneville man has been arrested and charged in connection with a break-in and attempted burglary at a local savings and loan association.

The break-in at the New North Mississippi Federal Savings and Loan Association, 101 North College Street, occurred at approximately 4:45 Friday morning, according to Booneville Police Chief Bobby Lambert.

Sylvester Nunn, 23, of the Sunflower Housing Project in Booneville, was charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny in connection with the incident, Lambert said.

According to the police chief, Nunn was apprehended inside the building. At the time of his arrest, Nunn had in his possession $2,299.60 which had apparently been taken from the savings and loan office, Lambert said.

The police chief said the money was taken from a light, fire-proof cabinet-style safe. Lambert said that, as far as he knew, all the money had been recovered.

Nunn was apprehended by Booneville Police officers Gary Spencer, Larry Duncan and Sam

McGee. Dispatcher J.R. Gray was alerted to the break-in by the company's burglar alarm and sent the officers to investigate.

Originally, it was thought that two additional suspects were involved in the break-in and police officers searched the area for them Friday morning. However, further investigation by the police department led them to believe that possibly only one person was involved.

Nunn has been released from jail on $25,000 bond, which was set Friday afternoon.

Fulton Man Charged With Mail Fraud

Jamie R. Thomas, 24, of Fulton, has been indicted on 28 counts of mail fraud by the Northern District Grand jury.

The charges are in connection with an advertisement that ran two years ago in three Northeast Mississippi Newspapers, including The Banner-Independent.

According to Assistant U.S. Attorney John Alexander, who is representing the government in the case, the indictments are the culmination of a U.S. Postal Service investigation.

"The 28 counts are for the number of people who sent money in response to the advertisements," Alexander said.

The ad, which offered "40 brand new towels for $9.95", ran in the April 29, 1982 issue of The Itawamba County Times in Fulton, the May 7, 1982 Northeast Mississippi Daily Journal and the July 1, 1982 issue of The Banner-Independent.

"We should know towel values, we've sold more than 80,000,000," the ad claimed, encouraging readers to send "$9.95 plus $1.00 postage and packaging to: JJ's Wholesale, P.O. Box 877, Fulton, MS 38843."

According to Ken Christian, publisher of The Banner-Independent, the paper received two or three phone calls regarding the ad several weeks after it's publication.

Alexander said 28 people from Booneville, Rienzi, Wheeler, Fulton, Mantachie, Tremont, Plantersville, Okolona, Mooreville, and Dennis, Miss., Kenosha, Wisc., Tampa, Fla., Cicero, Ill., and Decatur, Mich., plus an unknown number who may have been too embarrassed to report it, allegedly sent money for the towels but never received them.

Thomas has pleaded innocent to the indictments. He has been released on $5,000 bond on the condition he not leave the northern district of Mississippi. His trial is scheduled for Sept. 4 in Aberdeen.

Mail fraud carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine on each count.

Driver In '76 Sunflower

Accident Asks For Sidewalks

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Despite the fact she does not live in Sunflower, Mrs. James (Artisha) McDonald feels she has a personal stake in helping the community to acquire sidewalks.

Though the McDonalds live near Thrasher, their children attend Booneville schools. And they have a daughter attending Anderson School.

Every morning when school is in session, Mrs. McDonald drops the children off at her sister's house in Sunflower on her way to work. The daughter then walks to Anderson School, rather than riding the bus.

To get from her aunt's house to school she must follow Smith, Sunflower and Lake Streets, none of which has sidewalks.

Mrs. McDonald is especially concerned about her daughter walking on Sunflower Street because it was while driving on that street eight years ago that she hit a child with her car.

For this reason, she is supporting Bro. Prentiss Harris in his efforts to acquire sidewalks for Sunflower and she was one of the group that accompanied him to the July meeting of the Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen.

Mrs. McDonald said the accident happened at dusk. A car had stopped, letting the child out. Mrs. McDonald's car hit that child, Robert Hargett -- then four-years old, breaking his leg.

She said she did not even see the boy before hitting him. "It was dusk. I was just coming over a rise by Spring Hill Church and I heard something hit my fender," she said.

Mrs. McDonald said she feels it is fortunate she was not driving faster.

The accident occurred in November 1971. It is one of four such accidents to occur on Sunflower Street since Charlie C. Winston was fatally struck by a car on the three-block street in July 1965, and one of six to occur in the community during that time.

Mrs. McDonald said she thinks two things actually need to be done to make Sunflower Street, and the other streets in the community, safer for children, the elderly and other pedestrians using them to get to the Eastside City Park, Anderson School and shopping areas. Those things are the construction of sidewalks and the installation of better street lighting.

"If there were sidewalks, people wouldn't have to walk on the streets. And, after dark, unless the moon is out, the streetlights are so dim it's hard to see people walking," she said.

"If the light had been better, I might have seen the Hargett boy and not hit him. And if there had been a sidewalk he might not have been in the street."

Mrs. McDonald also cited the ditches along both sides of the streets, giving walkers, especially young children and elderly people, nowhere to go to avoid approaching vehicles.

"It's dangerous. I'm even afraid when I drive there," she said.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, what did David mean when he said, "Mark ye well her Bulwarks" over in Psa. 48?

ANSWER: The word "bulwark" could be defined as a fortress, stronghold or safeguard. The Jews were admonished under David to mark well her bulwarks, that is, the things which produced strength in Zion. From a spiritual point of view the strength of Israel was in her strict obedience to God's laws. When they mixed with other people and became idolatrous and spoke the language of ashdod they lost their strength and were taken into captivity. We do no violence to the text when we say the church of the Lord belongs to God. As long as the church follows the Bible, it has strength and is able to endure. It has marked well her bulwarks. However, when the church allows innovations and the world to slip in, God will remove the candlestick and it will not be regarded as Christ's bride. The church is spiritual Zion (Heb. 12:22, 23). "But ye are come unto Mt. Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels, to the general assembly and church of the first born, which are written in heaven." If we mark well the bulwarks today we will know the true strength of the church and see to it that we stay within the confines of God's word.

JOHN THE BAPTIST

"John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the country of Judea, and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins." (Mark 1:4-5)

How did John get his name? His father said, "His name is John." (Luke 1:63), but his work was that of baptizing. Just as one man was called "Elymas the sorcerer" (Acts 13:8), and another was called "Alexander the coppersmith" (II Timothy 4:14), so this John was called by his work, John the Baptist (Baptist).

Why did John come? He came to prepare the way for Christ. (Mark 1:2-6) John said, "He (Christ) must increase, but I must decrease," (John 3:30) Christ was the one who said, "I will build my church, (Matthew 16:18) and that church bore Christ's name. (Romans 16:16) John did not establish a church, and John's followers did not wear his name. John pointed to Christ, "Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world." (John 1:29)

Now the disciples of Jesus baptized even more than did John. (John 4:1) Yet the scriptures do not record that they were called after their work of baptizing as was John. That term was applied only to John personally and never to any other person, and never to the New Testament church.

The disciples of Jesus were called "disciples" (John 4:1-2) and "Christians" (Acts 11:26) They believed in the necessity of faith but were not called "Faithists," they believed in baptism, but were not called by that doctrine. The name that God gave to them honored Christ. "If any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed but LET HIM GLORIFY GOD IN THIS NAME." (I Peter 4:16).

Methodist Bicentennial Year

Methodists are celebrating 200 years of growing up with America this year, according to Bro. Charles Potts, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Booneville.

On Sunday, July 29, First Methodist Church will observe this historical event. The Bicentennial theme is: United Methodists Proclaiming Freedom and Grace, 1784-1984.

A special program is being planned for Sunday at 11 a.m. at Booneville First United Methodist Church, Bro. Potts said.

The Bicentennial Committee with Mrs. Louise Coggin and Mrs. Jane

Turner, chairmen, will establish a display of Bicentennial materials.

"It is no accident that America and Methodism grew up together," Bro. Potts said. "In the wake of its horseback riding ministers, the church was able to keep pace with the country's westward expansion.

"Dr. Thomas Coke and Francis Asbury were the forerunners who ignited the torch of faith that burns ever brighter on this occasion of the Bicentennial."

Bro. Potts and the congregation invite everyone to join them Sunday for the Bicentennial celebration.

Deciding Factor?

Miss Prentiss Loaned Nylons To Winner

By JUDY COLEMAN
Daily Corinthian
Staff Writer

This year's Miss Mississippi title might have had something to do with lucky legs. But at least one contestant believes the nylons were the deciding factor.

Twenty-year-old Lady Love Long, resting at her home in Iuka Tuesday after a rigorous week of pageant competition in Vicksburg, said moments before the pageant began Saturday night she loaned a pair of nylons to 22-year-old Kathy Manning of Drew. Miss Drew went on to capture the Miss Mississippi crown while Miss Long captured a select spot as a Top 10 finalist.

"IT HAD TO BE those stockings," Miss Long joked. "It wasn't until after the pageant that I remembered earlier Kathy had gotten a run in her stockings just before going on stage. I hurried to my dressing room nearby and grabbed an extra pair. Even though I'm a lot shorter than she is, she changed into them and managed to 'make do.' They must have brought her luck."

Miss Long represented Prentiss County in the pageant. It was her first time to compete on the statewide level in the Miss America preliminary.

After claiming the Miss Prentiss County title, Miss Long entertained at the Delta State College pageant and also at the Mid-Delta Pageant in Indianola.

Despite not winning the coveted title, Miss Long said she had never before experienced such a meaningful week. "It was one of excitement, fun, emotion," she said, describing the activities and the camaraderie which developed between the contestants.

Her roommate for the week was Judy Booth of Eupora. Miss Booth and Miss Long were both in the same competition division. "One thing we came to realize, we were not competing against one another but with ourselves," she explained.

The pageant presented an atmosphere for sisterhood, rewarding in that Miss Long said she realized she had 41 friends instead of 41 competitors. "I pulled just as hard for my roommate and was just as nervous for her as she was for me," she said.

A STUDENT of music, Miss Long chose for her talent presentation the song, "Without A Song" by Vincent Youmans.

A voice student of the late Joe Kincaid of Jackson, Tenn., Miss Long recalled how her concentrated pageant work had just begun when Kincaid died. "He was only 41 and a great talent. His loss is felt by many," she said.

She then went to Memphis where she began work on the arrangement with Bob Westbrook. Working with her on choreography was the sister of the late Mr. Kincaid, Debbie K. Gooch, who is a former Miss Tennessee and was overall talent winner in the Miss America Pageant in 1974.

Miss Long received early musical training from Pete Doles of Corinth, when she was an elementary school student, from Glenda Jones in Iuka and from George Martin at Northeast Junior College where she was a student.

She is involved in pursuing a music career. She is studying music education with an emphasis in voice and a minor in radio communications. "I hope to be a professional entertainer or do some type of broadcasting work or do backup singing for jingles.

"Right now I'm facing the decision of what school to attend," she said. The dark-haired young woman has received a $1,450 scholarship as a result of the Vicksburg pageant. She also has a combined $1,200 music-academic scholarship to Ole Miss and a Cheryl Prewitt $2,000 scholarship to Mississippi State.

Where she continues her education will have a bearing on her future plans to compete for the Miss Mississippi title.

"I am hoping for another shot at it," Miss Long said. "I want to represent one of the universities. Between now and the time the area preliminaries begin, I will spend my time working on my talent, keeping up with the current pageant looks and I will possibly take some courses concerning political and foreign affairs because knowledge in this area plays a tremendous part in interviews," she added.

Miss Prentiss County is pleased with her performance on the state level.

"I did the best I could do. My interview was good, my talent was also good. I will just try to work harder for the necessary degree of perfection between now and next year," she said.

AND WHAT ABOUT her feelings concerning the scandal attached to the Miss America title during recent weeks?

"The day the news broke about the 'Penthouse' magazine layout featuring Miss America, the Mississippi pageant officials called all of the contestants in for the announcement.

"We were disappointed because this had to happen the same week as the Mississippi Pageant, which is a preliminary of the Miss America event.

"I feel it is a shame so much publicity had to come through the Miss America system in such a negative way. It does not exemplify all the moral values and good character Miss America should represent."

She recalled an article printed in a television guide last year which "hurt the pageant. Now this year another situation has developed to add even more of a stigma.

"But, I know firsthand from my own experience after spending a week involved with the Miss Mississippi pageant, that this is a false impression that people have. The Miss Mississippi Pageant has the highest standards," she added.

Miss Long is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian R. Long of Iuka. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long of Red Bay, Ala., and the late Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Gilmer.

Talk 'O The Town

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Do you think the Sunflower community needs sidewalks?

OTIS GRIZZARD of 904 N. Lake St., Booneville: "Yes, we need them on this road real bad. The people walking can't stay out of the road. The road stays full all the time of people walking -- mostly children."

AMY MILLER of Route 1, Booneville: "Yes. A lot of these kids could get hit walking on the side of the road. There's always lots of people out in the road -- especially little kids."

ELDER LEON GASTON of 308 Sunflower St., Booneville: "Yes, it's too dangerous for children not having sidewalks. They pass by on bikes and walking and cars just speed by. I'm surprised nobody's gotten hurt so far. The sooner they get sidewalks the better."

JADA JUMPER of 101 Oak St., Booneville: "Yes. My brother, Eddie, got hit by a car last year while he was walking on Sunflower Street. I think we need sidewalks. I think his accident might have been prevented if we had had sidewalks."

JOE BURRESS of 605 N. Lake St., Booneville: "Yes, that would really be nice. It would be safer for children and people walking down the streets. It's just about too dangerous for children in streets with the people driving so fast. You can't put a price on a child's life."

PEARLIE PARKS CURLEE of North Lake Street, Booneville: "Yes, I think we need sidewalks because it would be more protection for the kids running up and down the road. It would really be safer for the children if we had sidewalks."

Eyes On Mississippi

Northeast Mississippi Key Area In Campaign

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. -- Was the journey of Mississippians across half a continent to San Francisco as representatives of the State Democratic Party a mere exercise in futility?

It is somewhat ironic now, after the many years I have observed state and national politics from a Mississippi base, that the Democrats are in the position of Avis politicians -- admittedly in second place, but trying harder. Or in the role of the Ole Miss Rebels, trying to regain the glory days, but definitely the underdog.

Yes, the Democrats are the underdogs now, both in the nation and in Mississippi. It doesn't mean they can't regain the White House, but the bookies will give you odds they won't.

I'm just back from San Francisco after watching the Democrats put on their quadrennial nominating convention. No matter what else you might say about the Democrats, they have the broadest tent in America to cover so many different kinds of people.

For Mississippi, it must be said, regardless of one's political persuasion, Mississippians should be proud of the quality, and the intellectual level of the delegation which represented the state.

Sure, there were some embarrassing moments, such as when Alvin Chambliss, the irascible civil rights attorney from Oxford jumped and led to booing of one of the most distinguished blacks in the country, Mayor Andrew Young of Atlanta, because Young argued against the minority plank on runoff primaries pushed by the Jesse Jackson forces.

But what is important is that even Chambliss was properly chastised and subdued by some of his fellow black delegates for his conduct.

Walter Mondale must carry the South (Florida possibly excluded) plus Texas to have any chance of winning the presidency. Mississippi, no doubt, will be one of his target states since Ronald Reagan won by only 1 per cent of the vote in 1980.

Historical perspective is important. Mississippi nationally is regarded as a one-party Democratic State. The real facts are that Mississippi has voted for a Democratic presidential candidate only once in the past six elections.

Because of the unique balance of the vote here as reflected in the past two presidential elections, it is not impossible for Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro to upset Reagan in Mississippi this time.

County School Report

County Has Purchased 11 Used School Buses

By J.W. GREENE
Prentiss County
Superintendent of Schools

At a recent meeting, the Prentiss County School Board adopted uniform salaries for lunchroom workers and managers. A variance in this pay had existed previous to this action.

Mrs. Akers, coordinator of the lunchroom program, and the school managers are now working on menus and food purchasing for the 1984-85 school term. They are also looking at equipment to purchase.

We expect to add $16,000 worth of equipment this year in excess of the approximate $22,000 presently being installed in some lunchrooms. Plans are being made to build storage rooms at two lunchrooms to meet requirements of the health department.

All our workers seem to be enthusiastic about the new lunchroom operation system and are looking forward to its implementation this fall.

The Prentiss County School Board and Superintendent of Education recently purchased 11 used school buses in St. Louis.

We had 16 men who volunteered to go to St. Louis and help drive the buses back. The group left Booneville at noon on a Friday and returned on Saturday evening at 7:00 p.m. with no major problems.

I want to thank these volunteers for their assistance. They are Mike Hollingsworth, Booneville; Charles Chism, Booneville; Kenneth Chism, Wheeler; Ricky Cox, Wheeler; James Stanton, Wheeler; F.C. Lowrey, Thrasher; Kenneth Harris, Marietta; Jesse Miles, Burton; Francis Whitley, Booneville; H.E. Moore, Marietta; Larry Cosby, Thrasher; Bill Wimberley, Jumpertown; Jim McCalla, Thrasher; Winfred Caldwell, Booneville; Larry Jones, New Site; and J.W.

Greene, Marietta. We feel that we will have sufficient transportation for the 84-85 school term and hope to be able to purchase some new buses before too long. This year we will operate 50 buses, 11 using gasoline and 39 using propane.

Our school buildings are badly in need of repairs for the operation of the 84-

Letters

Dear Editor:

In the decade in which I was born my mother, along with millions of other mothers in America, could not vote. While these mothers could be entrusted with the birth of children, their care and nurture, these mothers could not, by law, be entrusted with the ballot. Mothers and women were free to go to the mail box but not to the ballot box. The denial of the ballot to women was a myth that lingered from the primitive past. It is also a servile example of how myths defer and postpone the intellectual maturity of a given society.

Armed with the ballot, women and mothers began seeking political office. Their success is to be found in every state in the Union from the lowest office to almost the highest. Beyond political office women have succeeded in the various professions such as law, medicine, judgeships, bankers, industrialists, writers, newspaper and television reporters, school and college administrators, indeed, women have succeeded in almost every human endeavor. Thus the myth that so long haunted and disenfranchised women has almost been swept away -- but not quite.

Recently a mother of three children, a lawyer, a three term Congresswoman was chosen as the vice-presidential nominee of the Democratic Party. And although Mrs. Geraldine Ferraro's considerable credentials and experience qualify her for vice-president, already the myth about women has surfaced as it once did when women sought the right to vote.

And strange is the irony that the first to offer criticism of the selection of a woman as a vice-presidential nominee are women. How can one boast on America as being the foremost democracy in the world and at the same time deny a citizen of the United States the right to succeed to the second highest office simply because she is a woman?

Do Americans trust their competent and capable women less than the citizens of India where Mrs. Indira Gandhi is Prime Minister? Are our trained and talented women to be less trusted than the late Prime Minister of Israel Golda Meir? Are Americans less trustful of a woman who is skilled and proficient in the processes of government than the citizens of England who have as their Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher?

Mrs. Ferraro's sex should not be at issue. And she should be heard before she is condemned. Otherwise an ancient myth remains to haunt us all.

Milton Grisham

Dear Editor:

First, I would like to congratulate you on your scholarly, professional report concerning drug abuse and its relationship to the theft problem in Northeast Mississippi. I have not read a better investigative report in my life. I take The Banner-Independent, but I did not keep some of the parts. I would appreciate your duplicating this series of articles and mailing them along with your statement for the cost to our school district.

I would like to have these as part of our ongoing drug abuse program. My informal investigation and experience with the drug problem in Northeast Mississippi confirms all the major statements you made in your article.

Again, congratulations on a scholarly investigative report.

Sincerely yours,
Jerry Clay Stone, Ed. D.
Superintendent

Dear Editor:

I am prone to swift criticism of things I don't like while failing to acknowledge positive acts. For once, I would like to reverse the process.

At approximately 9:15 p.m. Monday, July 16, 1981, I was eastbound on the Hwy. 4 and Hwy. 30 by-pass, between College and Lake Streets when I was stopped by a City of Booneville patrolman. He asked for my operator's license and said that I was driving with an expired license plate. Somewhat shocked, I insisted he must be mistaken but found, after checking carefully, that he was absolutely correct. On July 16 I had a license plate which had expired Jan. 31, 1984.

How or why we missed the renewal date is of no consequence. The point I wish to make is that this officer, whose name I do not know, was a model of courtesy, concern and professionalism.

Fortunately, my experience with law officers at any level has been limited, so I cannot speak for them as a group. However, I'd like to thank that unidentified officer for his sensitivity to a tired -- probably irritable -- driver. If this young man is representative of the City of Booneville Police Department, I commend Chief Lambert on his choice of personnel.

Sincerely,
Bobbie George

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward

Managing Editor

Anyone who regularly uses North Lake Street knows that driving through Sunflower can be an adventure. And walking in Sunflower can actually be a harrowing experience.

There is currently an effort being made to acquire sidewalks for that Northeast Booneville community. And, even if you have never driven or walked on Lake, Sunflower or Smith Streets or any of the streets within those boundaries, it would be difficult not to see that history indicates a definite need for them.

In the last 19 years there have been six pedestrian-auto accidents in Sunflower. Four have occurred on one three-block street, Sunflower Street. And one was a fatal accident.

Walking on Sunflower Street is similar to the old Indian tradition of running the gauntlet. The street, which runs east-west connecting Smith and Lake Streets, is barely wide enough for two passing cars. And anyone attempting to walk there is in danger if he or she encounters even one vehicle because there is nowhere to go.

Both sides of the street are flanked by ditches which are almost flush with the berm. And, if one jumps the ditch, in most places, there is nowhere to land on the opposite side, only a steep embankment.

To add to the adventure, there are hills on Sunflower Street which make it difficult for motorists to see pedestrians until they are almost on top of them, and vice-versa.

It would be especially difficult to see a small child on the opposite side of one of these hills. And it is equally doubtful a two to three-foot tall child could see an approaching vehicle before it topped the hill.

The child would then, probably, have the options of being struck by the vehicle or jumping into a ditch too wide to leap across. A rainy spring or fall could even add drowning to the list of options.

Lake Street is equally dangerous. Though it is wider, it, too, is flanked by ditches. It also has several blind hills and a couple of blind curves. And the traffic is extremely heavy.

Because of its use as a shortcut to the Highway 30-4 Bypass and the industrial park, North Lake Street qualifies as a major thoroughfare. I don't know what the traffic count is on the street -- I don't even know if the city has bothered to check it. But I would guess the traffic volume to be equal to that on North College Street (Which could also use sidewalks).

Add to this traffic volume the fact that residents of the Sunflower Community must use North Lake Street to get to the Eastside City Park or activities at Anderson School, and it is not only amazing that only six people have been struck by vehicles in Sunflower in the last 19 years, it is also amazing that the majority of those accidents have not been on North Lake Street.

There are other areas of Booneville that should be placed on the future sidewalk construction list. They include Third Street, North College Street and South Lake Street.

But the area with the highest potential for disaster due to the combination of heavy traffic and a high concentration of pedestrians -- especially little children -- is definitely Sunflower.

The city has requested a Community Development Block Grant to help pay for sidewalk construction in Sunflower. But such a request has been denied in the past. So, alternative methods of funding should be considered in the meantime so that construction can begin as soon as possible, even if the grant is not approved.

What about the money the city is now saving by no longer picking up garbage. In addition to relieving the city of the responsibility for that money losing service, I believe RSI also relieved them of several employees.

And, knowing how governments operate, the mayor and board are probably already trying to find some other way to spend that money.

Making Sunflower a safer place for its residents would seem to be one of the best ways to invest it.

Senator Tells Pilots Why He Decided To Run

Sen. John White was the guest speaker at the July 19 program dinner meeting of the Pilot Club of Booneville.

The meeting was held at Antillon's in Baldwin.

Dr. Neola Cleveland, president, presided at the meeting. She welcomed the Pilots, Sen. White, guests Miss Karen Ann Cole and Mrs. John White and a new member, Mrs. Becky Kelly.

The patriotic program was under the direction of the Patriotism Area Chairman, Mrs. Quay Michael. Mrs. Dollye Hodges, the club's chaplain and area member, gave the invocation. Miss Earline Woods, area member and Internal Affairs Assistant Coordinator, led the pledge of allegiance to the American flag.

Mrs. Nelwyn Murphy, area member and Fund Raising co-chairman, led the group in singing "America the Beautiful."

Mrs. Ortha Long was named Pilot of the Month by Mrs. Murphy.

Sen. White chose as his subject, "Why I Chose to Run for Public Office."

Dr. White, a Booneville and Baldwin optometrist, traced the beginning of his entering the political arena to a conversation with Prentiss Grimes of New Site.

Grimes had asked Dr. White if he had ever noticed the direction of Mama Eagle atop the capitol building. He said she was facing a southwesternly direction watching over her Mississippi children, but that in his estimation, she could not see those children residing in northeast Mississippi. Dr. White said he followed Thomas Edison's philosophy of not complaining about the darkness but did something about it, so he entered politics.

He said that in 1979, he ran hard on Tuesday, had his feelings hurt on Wednesday, and on Thursday, he started running for the 1983 election. He said he learned a valuable lesson and now listens to what people say and want, and that he tries to think of constituents first.

Sen. White related a humorous story of caring for a constituent, Mrs. Quay Michael, when she visited in Jackson for the governor's inauguration.

He related results of recent accomplishments of the legislature. He felt that good results will have been accomplished over the passage of the Ethics Bills, the Homestead Exemptions Bill, the Hospital Bill which enables supervisors to borrow money at a lower rate of interest to be used in the Baptist Hospital's building program, the Dual Registration Work which will encourage voting and the exercising of citizens' constitutional rights. He said that the Drinking Age Bill will appear next year.

Sen. White added that after 60 years, Mississippi will now allow women the right to vote. He said he had recently learned that suffrage may be returned to a person so he had introduced a bill enabling a Wheeler voter the return of the right. He said that this individual's show of appreciation to him for this is one of the reasons he has run and to continue to join the man in "thanking God for America."

After announcements, door prizes were distributed by the Patriotism Area members already named and Mrs. Mary Gault Nabers, Mrs. Robbie McDaniel, Mrs. Avenell Cunningham, and Mrs. Carolyn Jackson.

Teachers Study Proper Flag Use

The Prentiss County Retired Teachers Association met in regular session on Thursday, July 19, at the George E. Allen Library at 10 a.m.

The president, Mrs. Mary Dobbins, called the meeting to order with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. Dobbins then introduced the Rev. Johnny Sherrill, pastor of Little Brown Baptist Church and a former principal of Booneville Elementary School, who brought the devotional message on "Love."

Using First John Chapter 7:7-21, he pointed out the many kinds of love mentioned there.

He dwelt on one that would make America great: "We serve God by the proper treatment of our fellowman."

He closed his remarks by reading a poem on love by John Greenleaf Whittier.

Mrs. Verlon Honeycutt gave an explanation on the meaning of the pledge of allegiance in its original form and noted the changes made by additional words to make it all inclusive. The author of the original was Francis Bellamy.

A quiz on the proper use of the U.S. flag consisted of 25 questions read by Mrs. Prentiss Crabb and answered by members.

Brown McCutchen led in singing "America" and "America the Beautiful," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eva Garner.

Roll call was made and minutes were read and approved.

It was announced that A.A. Alexander, state president of the Retired Teachers Association, will be at the September meeting.

The treasurer's report concluded the program.

Mrs. Ruby Inman asked the blessing on a bountiful, covered dish luncheon.

Counseling and Pre-registration Conferences for entering freshmen and transfer students serve as an orientation to campus life and also allow students to register for the fall term.

New Orleans Baptist Seminary Accepting Applications For Fall

Applications are being accepted for the fall semester of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary center in Tupelo, according to Center Director Dr. Ken Anderson.

The Tupelo center is a branch of the seminary's School of Christian Training and is a degree-granting institution.

Students who complete 68 hours of study at the center earn an Associate of Divinity Degree in Pastoral Ministry.

The Tupelo center conducts classes for four hours Friday nights and four hours Saturday morning in order to accommodate students' schedules.

The Tupelo center, which has been in operation more than four years, just had its first two graduates last semester.

The coursework at the center includes instruction in various aspects of preaching, both Old Testament and New Testament interpretation and courses in the work of the pastor.

The purpose of the program is to equip persons, who have felt the call to ministry and have acquired a certain maturity and experience, with the basic knowledge, skills and attitudes necessary for their calling.

Admission is limited to persons who have completed high school or its equivalency, but who have not completed a baccalaureate degree.

Students must be at least 25 years of age and complete the normal application procedure required by the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

Fees vary with the number of courses taken. Four courses are offered each semester, two in each eight-week quarter of the semester.

Classes for the Tupelo center are conducted at Calvary Baptist Church in Tupelo.

Dr. Anderson urged students interested in the program to apply immediately in order to be fully registered by the start of the semester.

For further information, contact Dr. Anderson at First Baptist Church, P.O. Box 163, Salltillo, Ms., 38866.

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

Keep young pecan trees free of grasses and weeds which can rob your small trees of moisture and soil nutrients.

Brace young grafted shoots to prevent damage from winds and birds. Nail a 30-to 36-inch narrow strip of wood to the stump for good support from winds. Birds will often choose the brace as a perch instead of young shoots that might break from a bird's weight.

Water recently transplanted trees through the summer.

Most figs suffered extensive winter damage in December 1983. Regrowth in most cases is now obvious. To encourage regrowth, water and fertilize throughout the summer. In mid-July and mid-

August, apply one-third pound 8-8-8 fertilizer to 1- to 2-year old trees.

Keep strawberries free of summer grasses and weeds. Since roots and runners may be easily cut, be careful when hoeing around plants.

It is not too early to think about fruit tree varieties you want to plant this fall.

July and August are the hottest months. Be prepared to water flowers, pot plants, and shrubs. Do not sprinkle plants with small amounts of water. This encourages roots to cluster near the soil surface and endangers plants during droughts. Thoroughly soak the soil once each week when there is no rain.

In addition to watering, a thick layer of organic mulch, such as pine straw, pine bark, or rotted sawdust, will aid in conserving soil moisture. A 3- to 5-inch layer around flowers and in shrub beds will retain soil moisture and reduce need of watering. In addition, mulching helps control weed problems in planting areas.

For continued colorful blooms, replant a second crop of summer annuals. Mid-July is the ideal time to plant seeds of summer annuals for later summer and fall flowering. Try marigolds, zinnias, Cosmos, and nasturtiums. Pinch young plants to encourage branching. Fertilize, using 1 pound of 8-8-8 fertilizer for each 100 square feet of planting area.

Late summer is the ideal time to divide irises, day lilies, Campanula, foxglove, and daisies for new plantings. Dig and divide clumps of plants into small sections with a piece of root or thickened underground stem and a cluster of leaves. Plant sections and keep moist during reestablishment. Mulching will aid in conserving moisture and in weed control.

In early August, plant the seed of many perennials so that you will have good-sized, established plants that can survive the winter and will flower next spring and summer. Included in this group are gerber daisies, perennial holly-hock, Dianthus (sweet-williams), daisies, baby's breath, carnation, yarrow, foxglove, Campanula, and Oriental poppy.

Tip cuttings can still be taken from many landscape shrubs. Among those that root easily during July and August are Abelia, hollies, Ligustrum, Azalea, Photinia, Euonymus, evergreen viburnum and Sasanqua. Make cuttings 3 to 5 inches long and remove the bottom one-third of the foliage. Stick cuttings in sand and keep moist and shaded until cuttings are rooted (about 4 weeks).

By July most roses have stopped blooming. You can encourage terrific fall blooms with a little attention during August. Plants should be moderately pruned about the middle of August. Do not prune them as drastically as you would in late winter. Apply 10 pounds of 13-13-13 fertilizer per 100 square feet of planting area. Replenish mulch since fall months are usually dry. Keep plants watered well during dry fall months ahead. Soak thoroughly each week there is no rain. Insects and diseases will be rampant during fall months unless a diligent spray program is followed.

For more information on fruits and nuts, and flowers come by the county Extension office at 404 East Church St., or call 728-5631.

ASCS News

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Incentive payments to Mississippi's milk program participants totaled about $2,361,670 for the first three months of 1984. Prentiss County dairymen received about $58,980 for the same period.

The diversion payments are almost entirely funded by a 50-cent per hundredweight USDA assessment on all milk sold commercially between Dec. 1, 1983, and March 31, 1985.

The milk diversion program offered dairy producers an incentive payment of $10 per hundredweight for reducing their commercial milk sales from 5 to 30 percent during the period Jan. 1, 1984, through March 31, 1985.

Mississippi's dairy farmers enrolled 4,353,248 hundredweight of their milk bases and diverted 1,112,477 hundredweight to achieve the required reduction in milk sales. They contracted to reduce their fluid milk output by 111,247,700 pounds.

Nationally, milk diversion payments totaled just over $136 million for the first quarter of 1984. USDA officials said milk production gains have ceased following almost five years of monthly gains over year-earlier levels. Production on a daily average basis for January through May was down about 1.9 percent from a year earlier.

THE LOAN and purchase rate for Prentiss County's 1984 corn crop is $2.71 per bushel.

The 1984 oats rate is $1.44 per bushel.

The rates are based on national loan and purchase rates of $2.55 per bushel for corn and $1.31 per bushel for oats. The rates vary from county to county to reflect production and utilization patterns and historical prices received by farmers.

The schedule of premiums and discounts is unchanged from 1983.

The county's corn loan rate is for corn grading No. 2 or better. The oats loan rate is for oats grading No. 3 or better.

Price support loan programs are administered by ASCS. The loans provide operating capital and allows farmers to hold their crop off the market and benefit from price increases that often come after harvest. Although the program does not guarantee participating farmers a profit, it does guarantee a minimum price.

Farmers who have questions concerning the 1984 loan and purchase rates should contact the local ASCS office at 105 College St., Booneville, or telephone 728-3541.

FARMERS WITH surplus hay or other roughage for sale are urged to write or call the ASCS office.

This information will be made available on a state-wide basis to persons needing to buy feed.

We will need your name, telephone number, tons of feed for sale, size bales and price per bale and-or ton.

Agriculture Secretary Block Will Speak At Holly Springs HOT Field Day

Secretary of Agriculture John Block will be the featured speaker at the Hold Our Topsoil (HOT) field day at the North Mississippi Branch Experiment Station near Holly Springs on August 2.

Block will address the problem of soil erosion and the need to improve water quality.

Mississippi has the third worst erosion rate in the nation, losing more than 10 tons of topsoil per acre annually.

The HOT program also will include the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding between USDA-TVA and the seven Tennessee Valley states signaling a new era of cooperation in reducing soil erosion, improving water quality and progress with other agricultural programs.

Billy Ross Brown, Soil and Water Conservation District Area III vice president, said the HOT field day is expected to be the biggest agricultural event ever held in north Mississippi.

"Not only are we expecting a large number of people from Mississippi, but people from Tennessee, Louisiana, Arkansas, Alabama, South Carolina and possibly other states," Brown said.

"We are indeed fortunate to have the Secretary of Agriculture visit an agricultural event in north Mississippi," Brown said. "Senator Thad Cochran also is expected to participate in the event."

The HOT field day at the branch experiment station is one of seven being held in the state - one in each Soil and Water Conservation District.

R.G. Houston, chairman of the HOT Steering Committee, said the HOT field day will include activities to interest everyone.

"We will have two tours that run about 45 minutes each, an exhibition area with about 40 exhibits, and a special program for the handicapped," Houston said.

The agricultural tours will include a visit to the ARS research plots that measure water runoff from different cropping systems, showing soil loss and water quality.

Four groups can view different types of tillage systems for row crops, such as no-till, minimum-till and conventional tillage. Another stop will illustrate cropland treatment with parallel tile outlet terraces.

Participants can view the proper way to treat sloping land with grasses and how to stop erosion on sloping land with pine trees. All stops will include secondary uses for wildlife.

"The HOT field day will not be a climax to conservation efforts in the region, but a catalyst in our fight to reduce soil erosion and improve water quality," Houston said.

Plans are to expand HOT field days to every county in Mississippi in 1985.

'Farmweek' To Focus On Vegetable Farming

More Mississippi farmers have begun to consider raising vegetables as a viable farm enterprise in recent years.

In examining this trend, Farmweek reporters will travel to south Mississippi for a visit with James Ford, owner of a Taylorsville vegetable farm, at 7:30 p.m., Monday, July 30, on Mississippi ETV.

Reporters will interview Ford about his methods for competing successfully in the vegetable market.

Weather forecasts, farm news, market analyses, advice for farmers and a calendar of upcoming agricultural events are included in each edition of Farmweek, which is co-produced by Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

SHOULDER & ARM PAIN

CHIROPRACTIC CAN HELP NATURE RELIEVE AND HEAL SHOULDER AND ARM PAIN

It should thus be quite apparent that shoulder and arm pain may indicate a more serious condition. But whether the problem is related to other parts of the body or not, the pain can become very debilitating, as those who suffer from such problems well know.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic readily understands the problems involved in a painful shoulder or arm condition. He or she is eminently better qualified to correct these types of conditions than any other kind of doctor. If nerve interference is the basic or contributing cause of your problem, your chiropractor will institute necessary measures to help nature correct and heal the condition.

The chiropractor's minimum of six years of college education plus practical experience have been especially directed to just such problems—problems which involve the spine, nerves, muscles, and joints of the body.

Today's Doctor of Chiropractic first seeks to give you immediate relief from pain, but education and experience always cause him or her to search out the underlying source of your problem and then correct it. This prevents the need for you to take pain pills for relief month in and month out.

IRS Offers 'Understanding Taxes' Course For High School Students

After 30 years of modifications to reflect changes in the tax system and the changing needs of teachers and students, the "Understanding Taxes" program is better than ever, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

"Understanding Taxes" is a free course that teaches high school students how the Federal tax system works, and their emerging role in it as citizens.

In 1983 nearly five million students throughout the U.S. and in schools for American students abroad used the materials.

The free materials include a student course book, a teacher guide book and other special training and visual aids.

The course is set up in a modular format so it can be taught in its entirety or portions of it worked into math, history or economics classes, the IRS said.

Recognizing that students and young adults need skills and knowledge to be responsible and informed consumers, many teachers and school systems have used the "Understanding Taxes" program to fulfill their commitment to tax awareness, the IRS added.

For many of the students the course has immediate practical value since they have income from part-time or summer jobs and need to file a return.

Not only does the course help young working adults meet their yearly responsibilities to file a tax return, but it also provides insight into the rights of taxpayers and the process by which out tax laws are created, the IRS said.

School administrators, teachers and other interested persons wanting information about the Understanding Taxes program and how to participate in it should contact IRS at 1-800-424-1040 or write Taxpayer Education Coordinator; Internal Revenue Service; 100 W. Capitol St., Suite 504, Stop 30; Jackson, Miss. 39269.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

Seven Days Without Prayer Makes One Weak...

By Zetta Green

Prayer is a Christians duty and privilege. God talks to us through his word, and the only way we can talk to God is through prayer. God desires that we pray to him. 1 Tim. 2:8, "I will therefore that men pray every-where, lifting up holy hands without wrath and doubting." Luke 21:36, "Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the son of man."

He gives us numerous promises in his word that He will answer our prayers. Mark 11:24, "Therefore I say whatsoever things ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye shall receive them and ye shall have them." However there are conditions we must meet before our prayers are answered. John 9:31, "Now we know that God heareth not sinners, but if any man be a worshiper of God and doeth his will him he heareth." We are to ask in the name of Christ John 16:23, "Whatsoever ye shall ask the father in my name he will give it you."

We have many examples of prayer. Christ the perfect Son of God found it a very necessary part of his life on earth. On the night of his betrayal prayed, "Oh my father if it be possible let this cup pass from me. Nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt." We should pray that whatever we pray for should be in accord with God's will, because he knows what we have need of before we ask.

We see the example of Daniel praying three times a day, even after the king had signed a decree that anyone praying to anyone other than the king would be cast into the lions den. Prayer to God was very important to Daniel, and so it should be to us. 1 Thess. 5:17 Pray without ceasing. We should always have an attitude of prayer.

Chase

several people off the road by passing on curves and hills. But I couldn't hold back and let them get away with a stolen car," Lambert said.

Police apprehended the 16-year-old at the scene. But the 17 year old ran into the wooded area. Police searched the woods for an hour or longer but did not find him.

The 17-year-old was later apprehended in the Meadowview Subdivision by Lambert and Deputy Jeff Jackson around 10:30 Monday night.

Both juveniles were from Booneville. Lambert said that the 17-year-old is originally from Dallas, Texas, and the 16-year-old is from Ohio.

"The 17-year-old has been in trouble in Dallas," Lambert said. "I'll talk to the juvenile court judge before releasing them to their parents."

They are both charged with grand larceny auto theft. The 17-year-old is also charged with failing to stop for an officer, and no driver's license.

MRS. COUNCE thinks her car may be totaled. Although mechanically the car may not have received a lot of damage, she said the body of the car did.

"I had kept my car in 'like-new' condition," she added. "I had even kept the seats covered."

When Mrs. Counce went to the hospital to do her volunteer work around 11:30 a.m. Monday, she parked the car by the sidewalk at the back of the hospital.

She didn't lock the doors and left the windows partially down because it was such a hot day.

"I had to carry a lot into the hospital that day," she recalled. "I had a lot in my hands. In the midst of getting everything together that I had to carry with me, I just forgot my keys. It's possible I dropped the keys in the car or beside the car. I just don't believe I left the keys in the car because I didn't hear the buzzer when I got out," she said.

Mrs. Counce said the juveniles apparently "cleaned out" the car pocket. One can of oil is missing from the trunk, and two bank deposit books from Pleasant Grove Baptist Church she had in her car are also missing.

Mrs. Counce said that she hopes the juveniles will be certified to stand trial as adults for the theft of her car.

Northeast First Rung On Student's

Ladder To Successful Career

From NEMJC Public Information Department

Bill Brasfield is no ordinary person. It was obvious when he broke the rigid barriers that separate a traditional woman's career field from a man's career field in his early days at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

As the first young man ever to enter Northeast's fashion merchandising program, Brasfield displayed undaunting courage and perseverance and for him that never-say-die attitude is paying off.

Two years in the program at Northeast prepared him to create displays in some of the finer department and specialty stores in Memphis. But after his stay in Memphis, the 20-year old Aberdeen native decided to searcho out more challenging experiences. That search led him to the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York, an institution that has trained such film greats as Grace Kelly and Robert Redford.

Though Brasfield is planning to join the elite and talented few at the academy this summer, he hasn't forgotten the first few rungs of his ladder of success and who helped him hand on through those difficult times. Even now, he claims his springboard and sounding board still resides at Northeast.

"I really believe the person I'd have to thank most for any success I might achieve is Mrs. Vaughn," Brasfield said. "Mrs. Vaughn, her program and the people at Northeast who encouraged me to go after what I really wanted and helped me get where I wanted to go."

Donna Vaughn is Northeast's director of the fashion merchandising program, and the care with which she handles her charges is evident when students, like Brasfield, go on to apply what they've learned.

"Mrs. Vaughn's program is the most wonderful thing that ever happened to my career," Brasfield continued. "She didn't subject us to a lot of unrelated junk, but she gave us practical advice and skills.

"For example, when I started to work for Goldsmith's, a job Mrs. Vaughn played a part in my getting, they took for granted that I didn't know what they were talking about. I remember someone said the vignette in housewares needed changing, and they said 'Oh, I'm sorry, you don't know what a vignette is, do you?' But thanks to what Mrs. Vaughn had taught us, I said 'Yes I do.'"

After working at Goldsmith's, Brasfield left to dress windows and set up displays for a Beale Street developer. However, he became ill, and decided to return to Aberdeen to recuperate. It was during that recovery period he "littered the country side with applications and resumes."

"I like what I was doing, but I just got bored with it," Brasfield admitted. "After all, you can only do so much, and dressing and undressing dummies all day isn't much fun after a while."

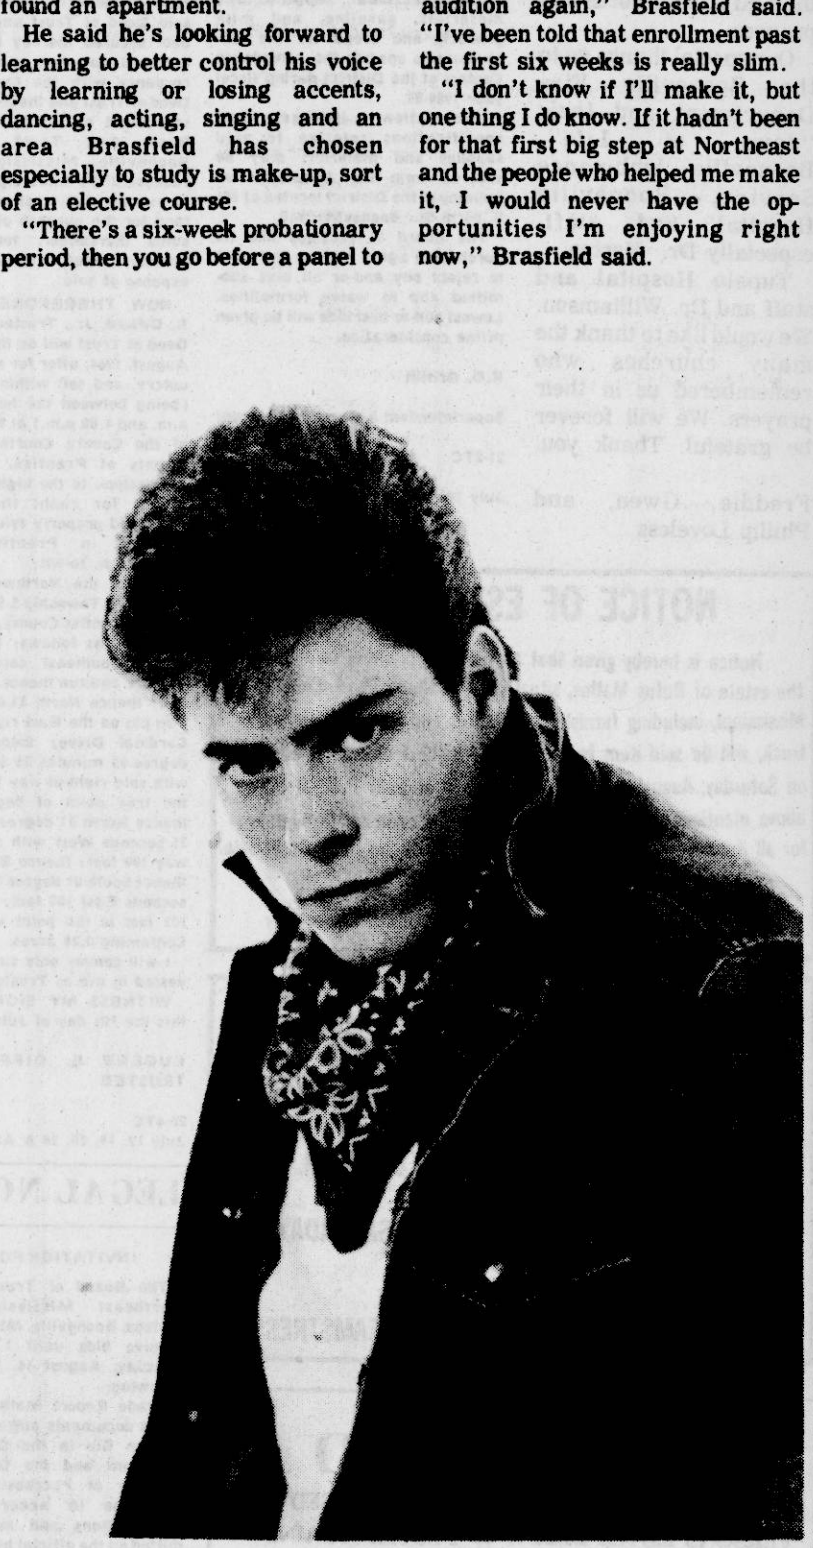

Brasfield said he had almost forgotten having applied at the academy and sending in a required essay when he got a phone call.

"The man said they were impressed with my essay and wanted me to come to New York for an audition. I told him I couldn't, and he asked me if I could meet him in Memphis. Naturally I said I could," Brasfield said.

In Memphis, Brasfield was asked to perform two stage monologues in front of a picture window. One was to be serious and the other comedic.

"I had never done any acting before, only some modeling. Each monolgue lasted about two minutes," Brasfield said. "Looking out the window, I told my mother I was doing the audition to the City of Memphis."

Brasfield said he was honest with the auditioners, telling them that he wasn't looking for a career in acting, but that he'd rather stay in merchandising. He was accepted anyway, and through New York's Columbia University, Brasfield off over a few days. Others will use a substitute, like methodone.

"But, basically, the idea is to detox them by withdrawing them over a few days time." He said the detoxification time can vary from three or four days to two or three weeks.

"How rough it is depends on the kind of drug you're dependant on, and how much you've been taking," Dr. Sheffield said, adding that the portrayal of "cold-turkey withdrawal" in movies and TV is inaccurate.

"This really isn't true. Narcotics like dilaudid, heroin and demerol are medically benign. Almost nobody dies during withdrawal from them. Almost nobody has really severe medical complications.

"It's uncomfortable," he said. "It's not the sort of thing you'd want to go through every day. But, the writhing around on the floor, screaming, TV kind of thing is really overdone. It's really not that way. And, with a little medication, it can be not a terribly bad thing at all.

"The worst drug withdrawal is from alcohol," Dr. Sheffield said. "People do die with the DTs. There is a significant mortality rate. Alcohol withdrawal, if the person has been an alcoholic for a long time, is a real medical emergency.

And alcoholism is a drug addiction.

"But, as far as withdrawal goes, for that first few days, I'll take drugs over alcohol anytime," he said.

"Once detox is over and you are off all medications, that's where the real work starts. The psychological addiction is much more powerful than the physical addiction. Though your body no longer needs the drug physically, you still have this psychological need.

This is the big problem when you then enter the next phase of treatment, which generally lasts anywhere from three or four weeks to three or four months," Dr. Sheffield said.

"I was in treatment for four months and it's hard to describe. I really can't describe it in one word or one sentence," he said. "In a lot of ways it's very painful because you are asked to examine parts of your life that you have maybe been shoving back for a long time, things that you don't want to look at or don't really want to think about.

"You're asked to look at those things real hard. And it can be really painful. It can be bruising because, at the same time, you are involved in this with other people who are involved in the same thing and are going through the same things you are.

"Nobody is being judgemental," Dr. Sheffield said. "There's nobody sitting up on a throne talking down at somebody else. Therefore, you can be mutually supportive of each other.

"In this phase, the person tries...with a lot of help...to reorient his entire being almost," said Dr. Sheffield. "He has to learn how to live without drugs. And though it sounds simple, it's very difficult.

"Most addicts, for example, don't know what to do with free time. A person has to learn to be recreationally oriented. He's got to learn some recreational off-time skills. He has to learn to occupy his time and to enjoy life without drinking or using drugs.

"And he has to learn to handle stress...to cope with job pressures and what-not without relying on drugs," he said.

"Then, another big part of the treatment is association with other people who have the same problem you have," Dr. Sheffield said, citing organizations like Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous for addicts and AlAnon, AlaTeen, NarAnon and Families Anonymous for those associated with addicts as examples.

"Nobody really understands why these things work like they do. But they do work," he said. "And the learning of these coping skills and the interaction with the group, these kinds of things...Generally, a month or so of that will set the addict on the road to recovery...if they are ready to be helped."

He said the exception, one that unfortunately occurs frequently among addicts who have resorted to crime to support their habit, is the sociopathic personality, the person who truly cannot distinguish right from wrong and has no concern for the effect of his actions on other people.

"I know of no one who is effectively treating sociopaths right now," Dr. Sheffield said. "Though Straight Inc. is working with them on a long-term program."

Dr. Sheffield said his recovery is progressing successfully. "You have bad days just like people who aren't addicts have bad days. And the whole object of treatment, I guess, is that you learn to handle these bad days the way people who are not addicts learn to handle them, too.

"You take it one day at a time. And, depending on your personality, you may need to blow up occasionally, or do some other things to cope. But you don't use drugs or drink.

"The pressures are always there. You just do your best not to yield to them," Dr. Sheffield said.

Army Offering Enlistment Bonuses , Advanced Promotion

Army recruiters have been authorized to offer advanced promotions to Private E2 and enlistment bonuses of up to $8000.

"Both of these programs," according to Lt. Col John H. McCalla, commander of the Army's Jackson Recruiting Battalion, "will be available to qualified high school diploma graduates who score in the top half of the Armed Forces Qualification Test."

McCalla is responsible for Regular Army and Army Reserve recruiting in Mississippi - with the exception of the four coastal counties, Western Tennessee, Eastern Arkansas, 10 southern counties in Kentucky and Massac County in Illinois.

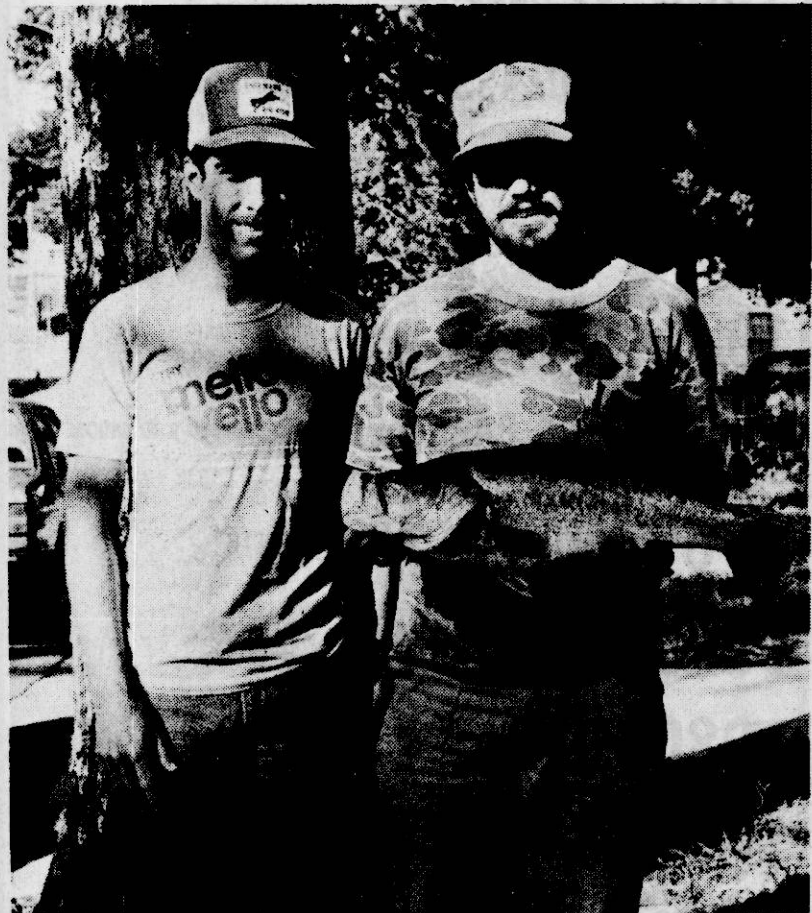

"Advanced Promotion' to Private E2 is available to young men and women who contract up through September 30," McCalla stated. "The new soldiers have the option of going directly into the Regular Army or entering the Delayed Entry Program, where they have up to 365 days to report for active duty."

"Both of the military occupation specialties in the $8000 enlistment bonus package are from the electronic warfare and cyptological operations career management field," said McCalla. "A total of 12 different military occupation specialties have been made available to receive bonuses from $5000 to $6000. The enlistment must be for a four-year period in the Regular Army in one of the specified occupation specialties."

"Our recruiters can also offer a $4000 bonus for three-year plus training enlistment into selected COHORT units," McCalla said. "A COHORT unit, similar to the British regimental system, allows a group of recruits to train together and then is deployed either in the United States or overseas as a unit."

"The introduction of the advanced promotion program and the expansion of the enlistment bonus packages is in addition to some very exciting existing programs," he concluded. "We can offer qualified young men and women the Army College Fund, where the young soldier can accumulate up to $20,100 for continuing education; a two-year enlistment option, and training in a particular skill and in many cases a station or unit of choice guaranteed in writing before enlistment," McCalla said.

Sonic Leads Little League And F&MB Is First In T-Ball

By SCOTT MCKINNEY

The Sonic Little League team and the Farmers and Merchants Bank T-Ball team are in first place in their respective leagues. Sonic is currently sporting a 5-1 record and F&MB is still unbeaten with a record of 7-0. In T-Ball play last week, the Civitans closed out their regular season, beating the Jaycees 17-9. And F&MB remained perfect as they beat New Orleans Chicken 21-10.

In Little League play, Peoples Bank picked up an easy win as First Bank was forced to forfeit because of too few players. Sonic pitcher Bryan Fisher scattered four hits through five innings as his team held on to beat Johnson's Lumber 8-4.

Golf Not A Boring Game After All

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

After years of suffering on Saturday and Sunday afternoons because I had to watch golf on television, I have finally cured my disease. This past weekend, I caught myself watching the British Open on television and enjoying every second of it. And to all who complain about it, you are obviously not well acquainted with the sport. Almost three months ago, a couple of my friends asked me to play golf with them. Too embarrassed to admit that I had never played, I agreed. I later found out that I wasn't the only rookie in the group. After nine holes, and the most fun I ever had, I realized I was hooked. Most of the credit goes to Coach Ken Shackelford. He allowed me to ride with him during the Booneville Country Club's first tournament of the summer and pick up a few pointers. But, most of the pointing we did that day was at the other players who came close to hitting us with golf balls. Recently, I took several of my friends to play. They had never played before and I thought it would be a good opportunity to win my first game. However, one of my friends experienced beginner's luck and beat me by one stroke. I vowed never to take him with us again. But, perhaps the most fun playing golf happens on the driving range. There you don't have to worry about the narrow fairways or losing balls in the woods. You just tee-up the ball and hit it as far as you can. (I hope the man who was driving the tractor at the driving range last week is doing better. Actually, sir, it was Jody Presley that did it. I had nothing to do with it.) Rob Rogers, Presley and myself have all become golf experts since our recent outing. I even tried giving pointers to Coach Richard Mathis, one of the better players at the BCC. But he quickly adjourned our meeting. Rob and I plan to practice our driving at the city park from now on. (Beware if you are driving in the park in the next few weeks!) It all proves that once you play golf, you can never stop. It is an obsession that will never end. In fact, I have become so obsessed with the game that, while I was warming up for a softball game last week, I yelled "fore" when the softball went over my head and was heading toward another player. Some call it an obsession. I call it dedication. But, whatever it is, it is with me for life.

BHS Cheerleaders Win Awards At Ole Miss Camp

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

The Booneville High School varsity cheerleaders recently took several awards at the Universal Cheerleading Association Camp on the campus of the University of Mississippi.

The squad has been in the Technical Development Division in past years. But the UCA instructors advised the girls to move up to the Advanced Competition and Evaluation Group this year.

Despite moving up to the higher and tougher division, the group earned several awards.

The squad earned four Superior awards and one Excellent for the nightly competitions. They also won a Superior award for Overall Excellence, the Championship Gold Ribbon Award for Most Improved Group in the Advanced Division, two dorm trophies and three spirit sticks.

Captain Jennifer Jones said she was pleased with the overall performance of the group.

"The girls really learned a lot of new material that will really be helpful to us in the fall," Ms. Jones said.

The squad also sported the youngest cheerleader in the camp. Three-year-old Candice Eaton made the trip with the team. Candice's mother, Mrs. Barbara Eaton, served as sponsor for the squad for the entire week at camp.
