Roundup

Power Outage

TVA has not determined the exact cause of the power outage Wednesday, Aug. 8, 1984 which interrupted the power to all of Prentiss County Electric Power Association's members for 13 to 14 minutes.

According to Wayne Rixie from the Operations branch of TVA, three TVA employees were performing routine maintenance on one of the 46,000 volt circuit breakers in the TVA Primary Substation which supplies PCEPA members, when, unexpectedly, the entire Primary Substation tripped off.

The TVA employees could not get the power back on immediately, so PCEPA employees switched the Booneville and Baldwin substations over to alternate transmission lines to restore power to PCEPA members.

TVA is continuing to determine the exact cause of the outage.

Arrested In Corinth

Max C. Whittemore, Route 5, Booneville, was arrested by Corinth Police Saturday night and charged with pointing and aiming a gun, public drunkenness and creating a public disturbance.

Kenneth Sims, Tishomingo, told police he and his wife, brother-in-law and sister-in-law stopped at the Corinth Holiday Inn to have dinner. Whittemore allegedly came out of the motel lounge, pulled a .22 caliber pistol and pointed it at Sims while he was parking his truck.

Sims said he talked Whittemore into putting the gun away, then, had the motel clerk call the police after Whittemore returned to the lounge.

Tax Notices

Beginning next week, tax sale notices will be in The Banner-Independent.

Those names of the people who have not yet paid their 1983 city or county taxes will appear in the newspaper.

Saturday Fire

A fire early Saturday morning which destroyed 45 Carpet on Highway 45 is suspected as being arson, according to Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming.

"The owner of 45 Carpet, Betty Graves, seemed to think the fire was arson," Fleming said Tuesday.

The fire started in the southwest corner of the building.

Although Fleming and State Deputy Marshal Mike Ivey investigated the scene of the fire Monday he said they didn't find anything but that the case is still under investigation. There are no suspects at this time, he said.

Ivey was supposed to return to Booneville Wednesday to resume the investigation.

Firemen from Booneville, Thrasher and Rienzi responded to the fire which was reported around 2:28 a.m.

Correction

The story about the August meeting of the Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen in the Aug. 9, 1984 issue of The Banner-Independent stated that "Mrs. Mabel Cunningham" has offered to leave her house on State Street to the city.

The story should have said that the house is owned jointly by Miss Cunningham and her brother, Thomas Cunningham.

Over Impounded Corvette

Police Chief Vows To Fight Lawsuit

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Publisher

Booneville Police Chief Bobby Lambert faces a lawsuit for impounding a 1979 Chevrolet Corvette which several Northeast Mississippi law enforcement agencies agree is a stolen vehicle.

Billy Ray McEwen, apparently of Corinth, claims to own the black Corvette which is currently being held by the Booneville Police Department. McEwen, through his attorney David Coleman, filed the suit against Lambert Monday in Prentiss County Circuit Court.

According to Chief Lambert, the vehicle was originally stopped by two Booneville police officers on July 18 because it did not have a tag. However, the driver of the vehicle was subsequently charged with DUI and a female passenger was charged with public drunkenness.

McEwen, who claims to own the vehicle, was not the driver nor was he in the car when it was stopped in Booneville.

After the two occupants of the vehicle were arrested, Lambert said, it was discovered that the vehicle's identification numbers were either missing or mutilated.

McEwen was later arrested and charged with possession of a vehicle with mutilated identification numbers.

According to Lambert, the VIN number was missing from the car, there were no numbers on the rail (or frame) of the car, and the motor number had been chiseled or burned away.

A section of the car's frame where the numbers are normally located had been cut out and a new piece welded in its place.

"I have never confiscated a car more illegal than this one," Lambert said Monday night after learning that the lawsuit had been filed against him.

Ironically, this same Corvette was impounded and held for almost three months by the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department. It had only been released a short time before it was impounded by the Booneville Police Department.

"It is definitely a stolen vehicle," Alcorn deputy Delaine Stacy told The Banner-Independent Tuesday night. "You just can't prove it."

"I'm not saying Mr. McEwen stole it," the deputy stressed, indicating that McEwen may have just been caught in the middle.

In the lawsuit filed against Lambert, McEwen claims to have purchased the Corvette from Roy Dunn, Route 1, Box 156A, Ramer, Tenn. McEwen also claims that Dunn had a State of Tennessee Certificate of Title for the vehicle; that this title has been lawfully assigned to McEwen; and that McEwen has now applied for a Mississippi Certificate of Title on the vehicle.

Deputy Stacy said the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department found an identification number on the transmission of the Corvette and a number on a federal emission sticker on the door. Further investigation revealed that these two numbers belonged to a vehicle that had supposedly been wrecked and burned in Louisiana, the deputy said.

The vehicle was originally stopped by Alcorn authorities under circumstances similar to those in Booneville. Stacy said the vehicle was stopped for reckless driving and the driver was charged with DUI.

McEwen was not the driver at that time, either, he said.

The Corvette did have a tag and it had a VIN number when it was stopped, the Alcorn Deputy said. Both were "bogus" and the VIN number had been glued to the dash instead of braded as required by law, the deputy said.

Both the tag and the VIN sticker were removed from the vehicle before it was released to McEwen, Stacy said.

The deputy said the department was convinced that the vehicle was stolen, but that it was difficult to prove under the state's law. "And holding a vehicle on mutilated numbers is very weak," he said.

Under threat of a lawsuit, Alcorn Sheriff Bill Gant released the vehicle to McEwen after consulting with Alcorn County Attorney Danny Lowery. Lowery advised the sheriff

Prentiss Personality

Mrs. Mabel Nelson

Mabel Nelson

'I Tried To Live And Help Live ...'

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

It is hard to imagine the Prentiss County Health Department without Mabel Nelson. But now that is the case.

Mrs. Nelson retired Aug. 1, after working as a nurse at the Prentiss County Health Department for 40 years.

"It's amazing to compare back then and now. Young people would hardly realize what it was then," Mrs. Nelson said. "We had to compromise, beg, and borrow to buy what we could."

"When I started working in 1944 times were different. There were no polio vaccines. There were from 5-35 cases of polio every summer. When we received the polio vaccines that was one of the biggest changes."

"We would have 10-15 cases of diphtheria and goodness knows how many cases of scarlet fever. One time there was 95 cases of tuberculosis. When I first started working we didn't have any drugs for TB. The patients died waiting for them. Drugs for TB came out in 1954 and we were able to treat patients at home."

SHE TRAVELED around the county giving immunizations. "I've been lost in every corner of the county," she said.

"I'd have nothing to worry about if I had a nickel for every shot I've given," she smiled. "There's not too many Prentiss Countians I haven't given shots to at one time or another -- unless they're newcomers."

"There were at least 30-35 schools I visited. I would give typhoid immunizations three times every summer."

When she first began working, there were six midwives supervised by the health department. But that stopped several years ago, she said.

Her late husband, Hoyt, was a veterinarian. He was a native of Red Bay, Ala. Mrs. Nelson is a native of Ervin, Tenn.

There were many times when he would go out on calls in the county and she would go with him because he would be going close to a patient she needed to see.

The Nelsons moved to Booneville in June 1942.

"Donald Franks was Hoyt's first client. He has remained a very dear friend. I remember that Hoyt often called him asking him where people lived. Once Hoyt called Donald and asked him where the Elevation community was. Donald then asked him the name of the client and told him he lived in the 'Altitude' community," she smiled.

Her husband died 17 years ago. At that time Mrs. Nelson said her sister was worried about her remaining in Booneville by herself. "But Annie Lee Kemp told her I had a county full of friends. And those friends have helped me greatly all these years."

Mrs. Nelson has one daughter, Sarah Ann Cole of Memphis. She and her husband, David, have two children, Nelson and Karen.

When she and her husband first moved to Booneville, Mrs. Nelson taught student nursing at the old hospital, located where the Booneville City Hall is now.

"After I first started I thought I would work a while til we got on our feet. But by then it was in my blood -- so I kept working."

THE PRENTISS COUNTY Health Department opened in 1941, Mrs. Nelson said. "Genevieve Young has been secretary at the health department almost as long

Power Association Meeting To Be In NEMJC Gym

The possibility that a large number of members could turn out for the Prentiss County Electric Power Association's annual meeting for members on Aug. 31 has apparently prompted the association to secure the Bonner Arnold Coliseum at Northeast Junior College for the meeting.

In an advertisement appearing in today's Banner-Independent, the PCEPA announces that the meeting will be held in the NEMJC gym, beginning at 10 a.m. If 15 percent of the association's members are present at that meeting, balloting for the election of five directors will begin immediately after the meeting and continue until 5 p.m.

Since there are 10,402 members of the association, 1,561 of them must be present for the meeting and the election to be held.

PCEPA manager and board secretary Ronny Rowland said this week that only three members were present at the 1983 meeting.

This year is the first time in over 10 years that an incumbent board member has been opposed by a qualified candidate. Four of the five incumbent directors whose terms expire this year face opposition.

Area Number One, Post Number One director L.C. Wright is being challenged by Mrs. Marjorie Waters. City of Booneville, Post Number Two director Britt Barron is opposed by Jack Wright. City of Baldwin, Post Number One director James M. Jones faces opposition from Ronald Michael. And Area Number Five, Post Number Two director Edwin Brown is being challenged by Cecil Smith.

Area Number Two, Post Number One director Russell B. Hill is unopposed.

According to the association's bylaws, one-third of the 13 board positions expire each year. Four positions will expire in 1985, and four in 1986. The five positions which expire this year will expire again in 1987.

If a quorum (15 percent) of the members is not present for the annual meeting, according to the bylaws the incumbent directors are automatically re-elected for another three-year term.

According to the PCEPA ad in today's paper, "any person, firm, corporation, or body politic who owns a membership in the cooperative" and was in good standing at the close of business hours on Aug. 6, "shall be entitled to one vote per membership owned."

Rowland told The Banner-Independent that if a person owns more than one membership, he can vote once for each membership owned and he will also count as more than one member toward a quorum at the meeting.

Today's ad states that "memberships in the name of a person

Brown Workers Request TRA Benefits

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Three Brown Shoe Company employees plan to file a petition requesting benefits available under the Federal Trade Readjustment Act.

Brown Shoe employees David Hutchens, Gerald Pounds and Jim Wilson have asked Charles Smith, manager of the Mississippi Employment Service office in Corinth, to obtain the necessary papers for filing such a petition.

Smith informed The Banner-

Independent Tuesday that the men had notified him of their intention to file for TRA benefits. "I ordered the necessary papers and we have them now," he said.

"We are representing the union and all the employees here at Brown Shoe," Hutchens said. "We heard that the TRA Act was still in effect, and the plant is closing, to my knowledge, because of imports, so we thought the employees here should be eligible for those benefits."

Hutchens said he has been at Brown Shoe for three years, Pounds six years and Wilson over 20 years.

According to Charles Ballard, with the Employment Security Commission in Jackson, applying for TRA benefits is a relatively simple procedure, requiring only the signatures of three employees of the affected factory, rather than local government officials.

"The Trade Readjustment Act is still in effect, though there hasn't been as much activity as there was at one time," Ballard said, explaining that former employees of the defunct Pennsylvania Tire Company plant in Tupelo were the most recent in the area to receive TRA benefits.

"Basically, the way it works is, any group of three or more workers who have lost employment as a result of foreign imports can fill out a one-page petition form which our office forwards to the Department of Labor in Washington."

"Our local Employment Service offices have the forms. I got a call from the Corinth office last week, and I understand that several of the Brown Shoe workers are coming in there to file one of these petitions," Ballard said.

"Once the petition gets to the Department of Labor, they will notify us that they have received it. Then they will do an investigation," he said.

"They usually either call or go to the plant, but I think they do it mostly over the phone, get information from the plant officials and the individuals who have filed."

"The Department of Labor certifies individual plants...In other words, they would certify the individual plant at Booneville. It not to take the case to court because the law involving mutilated numbers is so weak, Stacy said.

However, Booneville Police Chief Lambert vows to fight his case in court. "I'm not afraid of lawsuits," Lambert said Monday night. "That car is illegal to be on our streets or anyone else's."
"As far as I'm concerned," Lambert said, "it belongs to the city of Booneville. If the car is given back to McEwen, it will be the court that does it. There's not a car around here that's more illegal."

Lambert said that he has been working in law enforcement in Prentiss County since 1976 and this is the first time he has been sued.
Although the suit does not specify a specific amount of money, McEwen is asking that the court return the vehicle to him; award damages against Lambert "for the wrongful detention" of the vehicle; reimburse McEwen for any damages to the vehicle while it has been in custody; award damages "for the false arrest and imprisonment" of McEwen; award punitive damages; and pay court costs, attorney fees, "and any other relief as the court deems just and proper."

If a jury trial is held, Lambert said, "I don't believe the people of Prentiss County would have anything to do with turning a car loose in the shape this car is in."

Lambert said Monday night that he had not discussed the case with other city officials, but he said he feels they will back him in the lawsuit.

If Lambert wins the court case, the vehicle will belong to the City of Booneville and will be sold. Lambert said the state licensing bureau can put vehicle identification numbers on the car so that it would then be legal to own. The money from the sale would go into the city treasury.

"I had every right in the world to confiscate the car," Lambert maintains. "If a fellow can't uphold law and order, then I don't want the job."

Deputy Stacy said the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department is behind Lambert "100 percent."

Benefits

takes a separate petition from each plant (Brown Shoe Company has announced the closing of two other plants beside Booneville, in Humboldt and Selmer, Tenn.).
"But, once they certify a particular plant, they notify us in writing. Then we have to determine each individual case," Ballard said.
"The individual workers would have to file claims to receive anything from it."
Ballard said affected workers can receive two types of benefits from the TRA. "One is, if they meet TRA criteria, they're potentially eligible for training in another field if there are no jobs available in the field they are presently trained for," he said.

"Then, on the unemployment insurance side of the house, which is my department, the benefits that are available can be extended from 38 weeks to up to 52 weeks while the worker is retraining," Ballard said.

Asked how long approval of TRA benefits for a plant usually takes, Ballard said in the past it has varied from six weeks to three months.

"But there's not as much activity in that area as there was at one time. So, it shouldn't take long at all once a petition has been filed," he said.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX
QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I have a good argument to justify the use of instrumental music in worship. You see the Bible says in (Eph. 2:20) that the church is built on the apostles and prophets. If that be true since David was a prophet and used instruments of music, we may use them today because the church is built on such men. What do you think?
ANSWER: It would matter very little what I think but your argument has two erroneous ideas. First, the text does not say the church is built on the prophets. It says, "The foundation of the apostles and prophets." There is a vast difference in the "foundation of the prophets" and the "prophets." The foundation of John Doe is not John Doe! The apostles and prophets laid that foundation by preaching CHRIST. You can read about that foundation in (I Cor. 3:11), which says, "Other foundations can no man lay than that is laid which is Jesus Christ." So the real foundation is Christ and it was laid by the apostles and prophets. Your second error is thinking the prophets were prophets of the Old Testament. They were the prophets of the New Testament (see Eph. 3:5). These prophets were living when Paul wrote his letter. Furthermore, if this would justify what you claim, we could burn incense in worship because David did this and we could also have more than one wife because he had eight and took more (See 2 Sam. 5:13). Would this justify polygamy?

Attorney General Gives Prentiss Tax Collector 30 Days To Repay Auditor

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

State Auditor Ray Mabus has referred his file on Prentiss County Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers to State Attorney General Ed Pittman for collection.

Pittman's office has written Childers, threatening court proceedings against the county official if he does not settle with the state on Mabus' demand for $32,083.22 plus $4,727.12 interest within 30 days.

The state auditor is holding Childers responsible for uncollected auto license tax penalties in that amount, and has repeatedly demanded settlement.

According to Deputy State Auditor Jere Nash who has been overseeing the audit of Childers' files, the 30-day period Mabus gave Childers to settle the matter has expired. He said Childers' file was turned over to Pittman last week.

Letters to Childers, his attorney Thomas Keenum and his bonding company advising them of the 30 day deadline were mailed Friday, according to Assistant Attorney General Pete Cajoleas.

Childers confirmed receipt of his letter to The Banner-Independent on Tuesday, but declined comment.

Though state law contains provisions for declaring a county tax collector in default for not properly accounting for county funds, Mabus reportedly decided against such a procedure after discussing the Childers case with Gov. Bill Allain in May.

Mabus alleges that Childers failed to collect tax penalties from persons who did not renew their motor vehicle licenses on time. He claims Childers is liable for those delinquent taxes, amounting to more than $30,000.

His investigation, which began as a routine audit, holds Childers accountable for taxes uncollected since his term of office began January 1980.

After completion of his audit in July, Mabus issued three separate demand letters to Childers for the unpaid taxes.

The time periods, and demands specified in those letters included $20,483.94, plus $3,691.13 interest for the period Jan. 1980 through June 1982; $10,717.39, plus $911.05 for July 1982 through Dec. 1983; and $871.89, plus $24.80 interest for January through March 1984.

Not included in those amounts is a 0.5 percent interest penalty, amounting to $102.41, $53.64 and $4.36 respectively, to be added for each month the claims against Childers remain unsettled.

Childers had reportedly agreed to repay Mabus' original demand for $6,000, but changed his mind after learning that the auditor planned to investigate further.

He has claimed throughout

Mabus' audit that every county tax collector has his or her own methods of handling late license renewals and insists that the actual problem lies with interpretation of state law.

Attempts to reach Childers attorney, Thomas Keenum, before press time were unsuccessful. Keenum has insisted in the past that Childers should not be responsible for repaying the money.

Nelson

as I've been there."

For the last two years Mrs. Nelson has served as nurse coordinator. She still continued to see a few patients on Saturday -- but now that job is mostly taken care of by home health nurses.

"They have a group of great nurses at the department," she said. "It's left in great hands."

"For a long time I couldn't see anything I had accomplished," Mrs. Nelson said, recalling her early years at the health department. "But little by little I did see some things. A lot of people aren't happy in their work. But I was. It was hard work -- but satisfying."

"I tried to live and help live. A lot of times I spent every dime I made on the patients. It was hard to walk away from someone who was hungry and had a sick child.

"I always wanted to be a nurse," she added. "When I was a student nurse at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis one of the instructors said for us not to take our patients' problems home at night. But I took Prentiss Countians' problems home. When they bled, I bled."

"Sometimes I just wanted to shake some patients. Other times I would tell them how wonderful they were. There were some people who didn't appreciate anything and some who were so grateful."

"I've had a lot of honors that I didn't deserve," she said softly.

"The Hills Chapel RCDC had a 'This Is Your Life' program for me and so did the Pilot Club."

In 1979 she was named the third recipient of the Outstanding Citizen award presented by the Junior Auxiliary.

When a local newspaper held a contest to name the ten most outstanding citizens, Mabel Nelson was the only woman in the list. "That made me feel humble. I felt there were other women more outstanding than me."

"But of all the honors, those that really mean more than anything, are when someone tells me how much they appreciate me."

Now that she has retired, Mrs. Nelson says she will still be busy. She loves to read and she has 10 tables of flowers in her shady yard and over 200 African violets in her home to care for.

"I HAVE MIXED feelings about retiring," she said. "On my last day I had said I wasn't going to cry. But when Vera and Woodrow Aldridge brought me a quilt top and a cake, it really touched me."

"I don't know of a better group of people than there are in Prentiss County. Those people are what I will miss the most about my job. It's been a pleasure working with the people."

"If I had my 40 years to live over again I don't think I'd do anything any different. I did all I could. There is no place I'd rather be than Prentiss County. To me it's the greatest place on earth."

may be voted only by the person owning such membership." A membership owned by a business may be voted by any authorized representative of that business.

Members will be allowed to vote by proxy, Rowland said. Proxies may be picked up at the PCEPA office, he said.

Board candidates may also pick up proxies and distribute them to members, but the member will have to return the proxy vote to the PCEPA in person for the vote to count, Rowland added.

Proxy votes will not count toward a quorum at the Aug. 31 meeting, he said.

All four challengers for the expiring board posts appear confident that a quorum will be present and an election will take place on Aug. 31.

The four met informally Monday night at Mrs. Waters' home to get acquainted and compare notes.

During the meeting, Ronald Michael told the others, "I think the members are tired of being Tonto. 'Whit Abernethy has been The Lone Ranger, both officially and unofficially, for a long time and it's the members' turn now.'"

Mrs. Waters agreed. "I think everybody should get to work, make phone calls and visits and circulate the good news that power association members finally have an opportunity to vote," she said.

"I've had many people ask me why I would want to be on the PCEPA board," Jack Wright said. "I just felt it was an opportunity for me, if elected, to be a director who would serve the members in a more efficient way."

Cecil Smith, who like the others had related difficulties he had personally experienced with the power cooperative, said, "I am determined to see that enough people turn out that we can have a quorum at the meeting and force the power company to give its members an opportunity to voice their opinions and cast their votes...things they haven't been able to do in over a decade."

Though The Banner-Independent attempted to contact the five incumbent directors for statements, four declined to comment and Brib Barron could not be reached.

Ponderings

By Angela Smith
Staff Reporter

The glory of gardening. Purple thumbs. Wintertime is definitely the best time to garden. It doesn't take much energy to turn the pages of a seed catalog and plan which vegetables to plant. That's how I garden in the wintertime. My neighbors probably say my summertime gardening isn't much different. As long as someone prepares the garden for me, I love to plant seeds and decide where I want all the different vegetables to be located. Planting the seeds is certainly much easier compared to picking beans, butterbeans and peas. I love to eat those good 'ole peas and butterbeans but nothing is much worse than having to pick butterbeans. Whew! And shelling purple hull peas is a fate worse than washing a car. I really don't mind picking peas. But please don't call me to come and help you pick your peas. However, I'd rather pick peas than shell them. I've tried to make myself scarce around the house since all our peas are ready to be picked. It's not that I'm lazy, I just want other folks to have the pleasure of shelling those purple hulls.

BECAUSE OF ALL the rain, "my" garden looks very lush. Which is another way of saying my garden resembles a hay patch. When all the plants were first coming up, I kept the garden hoed pretty good, if I do say so myself. But as the rains came, the morning glories and other grasses had contests to see who could outgrow the vegetables first.

I even had two rows of gladiolas. They are probably still there, but now I can't find them because I let them grow up in grass. The last time I saw the gladiolas they were blooming and looked very pretty. That was a month ago.

Because this seems to be such a good year for gardens, everyone probably should put up extra food. Because often when the vegetables are plentiful one year, they will not be the next year.

So I'm really not complaining about having all these peas and butterbeans to shell. I'm glad we are having them. There's nothing better to eat than fresh vegetables and cornbread.

I guess the reason I'm thinking about food is that it's close to lunchtime.

This same time last week I was writing my column and the electricity went off.

I hadn't saved my column on the computer, so when the power went off I lost my column.

The bad part was I only liked several paragraphs being finished with the column when the lights went out.

I'll have to admit, that when this has happened before and my fellow workers have lost a story on the computer I might have giggled just a little.

But I didn't giggle last Wednesday when I lost my story.

I don't know why the electricity went off, but it was probably just to teach me a lesson -- to get my column typed earlier than Wednesday.

Unfortunately I'm a slow learner, because here it is Wednesday again and I'm just now writing my column.

But I have a reason for being late with my column this week. And I have my purple thumbs to prove it.

Eyes On Mississippi

Most State Blacks Rallying Around Cochran

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. -- A week or so ago, 40 blacks from around the state who are influential back home gathered here in the interest of a political campaign. Among them was one who had worked in nine counties for Jesse Jackson.

Automatically, you would assume that since all blacks are supposed to vote Democratic, they were here to promote some Democratic candidacy. Wrong.

They had all come together for the purpose of re-electing Republican Sen. Thad Cochran.

This gathering of blacks was a manifestation of the strong bid Cochran is making for the black vote, which he knows is a critical factor in his race with former Governor William Winter, his Democratic opponent.

Most political observers agree that Winter must have virtually a solid black vote in a heavy turnout, if he is to win. Every black vote that Cochran gets in effect, is worth two votes against Winter.

The difference between Cochran and just about every other Republican candidate in Mississippi is that he has been able to attract black support in the past through effective personal relations with blacks who are not highly visible in the political leadership of the black community.

He had been the first Mississippi Congressman, in 1972, to hire a black staffer, and in the past couple of years, he has had a black receptionist in his Senatorial office in Washington.

Right now, his campaign headquarters in Jackson is well-stocked with both male and female blacks, and one, Lynn Johnson Shelton, former journalism teacher at Tougaloo College, is among the top four persons in the campaign organization.

Since before Easter, Cochran has been running radio spots in the black community prepared by Bethel Nathan, a very talented black political advertising man from Baton Rouge, whose services are in demand in several states. Some of Nathan's spots are being used by white stations as well as black stations.

The Cochran people are making sure that blacks are included in their campaign committees in every county, and they insist that they are going after black voters "the same way we're going after white voters."

A recent Robert Teeter

poll made for Cochran showed the Republican Senator at this stage of the campaign has almost 25 percent of the black vote, a figure that could be devastating to Winter's chances if it is valid, and holds up until Nov. 6.

Pollsters are generally skeptical of polling figures in the black community in Mississippi, however, because blacks tend to withhold their true intentions to telephone interviewers.

Still, the Cochran forces are evidently shooting for that 25 percent figure and now believe it is a realistic goal, despite the fact that President Reagan's black support in Mississippi is practically zero.

The Winter people know that if Cochran gets anything over 15 percent of the black vote, their task of winning would be virtually impossible.

There are even rumblings now that a black independent candidate may still get into the Senate race, even though black Democratic leaders have been discouraging such a candidacy because of the damage it might cause to the black-white Democratic coalition.

Many white Democrats still believe that Charles Evers' independent candidacy in 1978 is what cost the Democrats the Senatorial seat Cochran now holds.

But it is known that some hard-core Jesse Jackson supporters, still angered by the failure of the Democratic National Convention to give more recognition to their concerns, may use an independent against Winter to demonstrate their dissatisfaction with the party.

Victor McTeer, the staunch Jackson leader from Greenville and one of the leading critics of the party, has given assurances, however, that he would not run as an independent in this year's Senate race. However, McTeer will not rule out the possibility of someone else running.

Winter, meantime, has not been able to generate the enthusiasm among blacks that could be expected for an ex-governor who devoted much of his administration's efforts to involving more blacks in government and pushing an education program which will substantially benefit blacks.

He is finding that the old political adage: "what have you done for me lately?" may be more realistic than he imagined, especially since his opponent has an incumbency, and he doesn't.

Transplanted Farm Families Thriving In Mississippi

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

Covington county, Mississippi, today is benefitting from the agricultural practices of about 40 farmers of a nearly common German Baptist heritage who over the past decade have settled in the gently rolling hills of this farming region to take up commercial production of a variety of vegetable, fruit and livestock enterprises.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Neff were among the first of this distinctive group to arrive, as Neff responded to a doctor's advice to go to a warmer climate for his health.

Neff and his wife came to a 100-acre-plus site about eight miles northeast of Collins in February, 1977, and began to adjust their lives and farming practices to this peaceful rural area where they noticed less people and more churches than in their native Ohio.

In time, others from Ohio and several other states learned of the Neffs' migration into Mississippi and of the opportunities here, and a steady trickle began of these stolid folk of conservative religion and life-style. They came from California, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Florida, until today there are about 40 in Covington county and some have spilled over into the edge of Smith county.

Last week we visited several of their farms and related businesses to interview these farm people who prefer to avoid publicity. I was accompanied by Covington County Agent Fred Baker Jr., and Covington County Farm Bureau president Shelby Shows.

The Farm Bureau official had a special interest in these settlers for several reasons that he pointed out as we drove from farm to farm. Shows' name, he pointed out, was changed from a German spelling when his ancestors came to America from Germany. Some of the land the German Baptists bought was earlier owned by the Shows family.

But, more importantly, Shows appreciates the group's ideals and dedication to good husbandry. They are introducing enterprises

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward

This appears to be a good year for the ladies. The Democrats have picked a woman for their vice-presidential candidate, the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that women can join the Jaycees. And the credibility of the Miss America Pageant has suffered a setback.

I don't think I'll say much about the latter, which certainly spotlighted the hypocrisy of the pageant and its swimsuit competition, if nothing else. Just about everything has already been said.

And, in regard to the Democrat's choice of Geraldine Ferraro, I think it's about time. I was exposed to liberated women long enough ago that, if I ever had any hangups about the idea, they have eroded away to nothing.

I have worked with women. And I worked for women over 20 years ago in an Air Force hospital. And I have never found one to be any less capable than a man would have been in the same capacity. I have financed a date, and I have been out with women who picked up the tab. And never once did I feel my masculinity threatened.

I remain neutral on the ERA, mainly because most liberated women I have known have been secure enough to feel they didn't need it. So, since that issue affects the opposite sex, I'll leave the decision to them, too.

I do sometimes wonder if the Democrats wouldn't stand a better chance in November if their ticket were reversed, though. Don't you?

On the third point, I am a member of one local civic club, which doesn't happen to be the Jaycees; I'm about 10 years too old for them.

And, though the Court's ruling specifically affected the Jaycees, I would assume it would actually apply to any previously all-male civic club, and vice-versa.

If the Jaycees have to let women join, then, presumably, so do the Lions, all those other organizations named after animals, plus the Rotary, the VFW and the American Legion (Nurses, at least, would be eligible for those two, wouldn't they?)

As for the vice-versa, wouldn't the ruling also mean we men can now join clubs like the Pilots, the Junior Auxilliary, the Junior Women's Club and the Daughters of the Confederacy and the American Revolution?

Of course, the latter three will probably have to change their names. How about the Junior Persons Club and the Offspring of the Confederacy and the American Revolution.

It's an interesting question, though I, personally, have no real urge to join another club, no matter which gender dominates it.

I once managed to get overinvolved in Fulton. So, when I moved to Booneville, I decided I would join only one civic club. I figure, with PTO and Band Boosters -- organizations I have no choice but to be involved in, one other club would be plenty.

One did invite me, and I joined it. So I really have no urge to join anything else, be it Elks, Masons, Pilots, Junior Auxilliary or whatever.

But, I suppose it would be nice to know I could if I did want to.

Former SMU Dean
Will Address NEMJC
Faculty & Staff

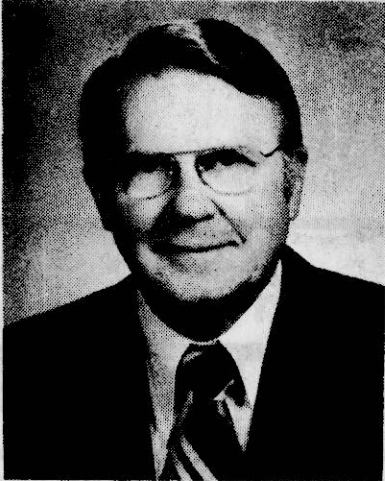

Jumpertown News

"Twelve Attributes of a Great Teacher" and "A Checklist for More Effective Administration" will be the topics addressed during inservice workshops Aug. 16, for Northeast Junior College faculty and staff. The inservice workshops, conducted by Dr. John M. Claunch, mark the beginning of the school's 37th year.

Former Dean of Southern Methodist University and past president of George Peabody College for Teachers, Dr. Claunch describes his presentation on good teaching as "down to earth."

A firm believer in the positive effects that can be gained both locally and regionally through a nucleus of outstanding teachers, he cites a direct correlation between the quality of teaching and the school's retention rate.

In the segment devoted to effective administration, Dr. Claunch stresses the "responsibility of those involved in management or administration for the effective and efficient management of personnel, program, plant, property and time to maintain an overall image that will warrant continued public and private support in times of inflation."

In addition to his tenure as college dean and president, Claunch served as education officer for the AAF Training Command and president of the Kentucky Council of Economic Education.

Tenn-Tom Construction Could Be Completed Before January 1985

Mid-America's newest passageway to the Gulf of Mexico - the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway - is racing toward completion much faster than projections based on surveys and studies by the Corps of Engineers, say Tenn-Tom officials.

Dedication ceremonies for the 234-mile two billion dollar barge canal are scheduled in Mobile and Columbus next June 1. But, Administrator Don Waldon of the Waterway Authority said the way may actually be open to barge traffic as early as January, 1985. It would mean that primary corridor states like Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee would have a new, direct water route to the Gulf.

Waldon said he cannot guarantee that the waterway will be carrying barges from end to end the first week in January, "but if everything keeps falling into place the way it has, it's entirely possible."

Sam Green, public affairs officer of the Corps of Engineers in Mobile, while not confirming Mr. Waldon's prediction of a January opening, agrees that the project is moving well ahead of schedule.

"All I will say is that construction is going might, mighty well," Green said. He said the contractors have had some big breaks in the weather and their progress is partly a reflection of that.

Studies and surveys have resulted in a Corps of Engineers' estimate of 28 to 30 million tons of cargo moving on the Tenn-Tom in its first full year of operation.

Traffic on completed portions support the projections said Green. Columbus Lock and Dam reports 541 lockages this year and the Gainesville Lock and Dam on the south end of the project has moved 130,000 tons.

"These figures are impressive," he said, "but they're only a drop in the bucket compared to what we are going to see."

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian
George E. Allen Library

Why do mystery stories have such appeal? Here are some considered opinions from experienced critics:

People read mystery stories for a variety of reasons. Some read them to put themselves to sleep, others to keep awake; some to solve the puzzles they present, others for the excitement of the chase. But nearly everybody reads mystery stories today for one prime quality - they are good entertainment.

Perhaps the most striking illustration of the place the "whodunit" has come to occupy in modern life occurred in London during the great blitz of 1940. Nightly, at the entrances to the fetid underground shelters, portable "raid libraries" were set up to supply - by popular demand - mystery stories and nothing else.

I like, too, the suggestion of a distinguished mystery story addict, Somerset Maugham, who feels that modern readers have turned in such numbers to this form of fiction because here alone can they always be sure of a novel which tells a story. And it was another famous English writer, Phillip Guedalla, who was quoted by Dorothy Sayers as calling the detective story "the sport of noble minds."

Certainly the mystery story has never lacked for eminent readers. Presidents Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, General George C. Marshall, and Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin are just a few of the heads of state who have turned to mysteries for relaxation and stimulation in hours of stress and crisis. In fact, the first famous mystery "fan" was no less a person than Abraham Lincoln, who was a staunch admirer of Edgar Allan Poe, the father of the Detective Story. In an early biography, published in 1860, William Dean Howells wrote that Lincoln "suffers no year to pass without a perusal" of Poe's tales of detection.

Today, of course, the mystery story is infinitely more varied than it was in Lincoln's or even Woodrow Wilson's time. Howard Haycraft.

Several years ago I wrote a book dealing with what was at that time a novel adaptation of scientific principle. My publisher, fearing there might be some inaccuracies, asked one of the most noted scientists in the country to check certain pages, and sent him the entire manuscript.

The scientist was "up to his ears" in war work. The letter which he sent was a classic.

He said he had started to read the first page of the manuscript, had become interested, had dropped everything else, and didn't realize the passing of time until two and a half hours later when he finished the last page of the manuscript. Then he turned out the light and had the first uninterrupted, blissful eight hours of repose he had had in years. He awakened the next morning refreshed and eager to tackle the problems which confronted him. The mystery had been exciting enough to drive the problems right out of his mind.

Quite by accident that scientist had learned the secret of perfect mental repose.

Which is why the modern mystery story is selling like hot cakes to the more intelligent class of reader. It is no accident that mystery stories have been in the White House for the last twenty-five years. The "intelligentsia" may speak disparagingly of the mystery, but the best minds in the world are reading them. From Earle Stanley Gardner

Allen Library readers have their own favorites, of course, such as Agatha Christie, Victoria Holt, Ross McDonald, and Stewart Sterling.

Victoria Holt has a string of best-sellers to her credit. She has also written historical novels that reached the list and for these she uses another pen name.

Agatha Christie created her famous Belgian detective, Hercule Poirot in her first detective novel published in 1920. Spinster sleuth, Jane Marple, is another of her popular characters. Dame Agatha (she was made Dame Commander in the Order of the British Empire in 1971) traveled extensively with her archaeologist husband. She, too, used a different name for her stage plays and other writings.

Ross McDonald was born near San Francisco in 1915. He was educated in Canadian schools, traveled widely in Europe, and acquired advanced degrees and a Phi Beta Kappa key at the University of Michigan. In 1938 he married a Canadian girl, now well known as a novelist Margaret Millar. Macdonald (Kenneth Millar in private life) taught school and later college, and served as Communications Officer aboard an escort carrier in the Pacific. For several years he lived in Santa

Cheerleading & Drum Corps Competitions Telecast This Saturday On ETV

Competition is the name of the game on Mississippi ETV Saturday evening, Aug. 18.

"The 1984 National High School Cheerleading Championship" will begin at 7:30, followed at 8 by "The 1984 Drum Corps International World Championships."

This year the DCI championships will be broadcast live at 8 in a two-hour program from Grant Field in Atlanta. The program will feature the last five corps in competition and the announcement of scores.

The annual summer drum and bugle corps activity is made up of young men and women under 21 years of age who dedicate their entire summers to marching and music.

Among the 10 finalist cheerleading teams featured at 7:30 is the squad from Southaven High School in Southaven. The squads are judged on projections, skills including gymnastics, group technique and appeal and overall effect.

Five hundred squads representing 30 states participated in events throughout the year that led to regional tournaments. The competition was taped at Seaworld in Orlando, Fla., last March.

Booneville High School Class Of 1941 Holds Its First-Ever Class Reunion

The Booneville High School class of 1974 held its first class reunion on June 30.

The reunion was organized by James P. Smith of Encinitas, Calif., who began his search for his classmates eighteen months earlier with the help of Charlie Shinault of Gulf Shores, Ala.

They located 38 members of the class. Seven class members were deceased.

As a result of queries he sent out, Smith compiled a book of biographical sketches for each class member.

Free time was allowed in the afternoon for sightseeing and visiting with special friends.

At 10 a.m. on the day of the reunion, 27 members assembled at the school for a nostalgic tour of the buildings.

At 6:30 p.m. class members, along with their spouses and guests, arrived at the Holiday Inn in Corinth, for the evening meal.

Special placemats on the tables featured copies of clippings of class news from 1940-41 issues of the HI Boone.

Musical selections from the forties were played during the meal.

After dinner the group sang school songs, accompanied by Mildred Perry Coleman. An impromptu sharing of memories from school days at B.H.S. followed.

Plans to reunite in 1991 were announced and a plaque of appreciation was presented to Mr. Smith by Mr. Nicholson.

On Sunday morning a number of class members attended church services at First United Methodist Church where their baccalaureate sermon was delivered 43 years ago.

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

Home gardens have been heavily infested with insects in Prentiss County this year.

Late planted gardens may have higher infestations of insects this fall. It is almost, if not absolutely, necessary for home gardeners to use some type of insect control measure to raise a decent garden crop.

Several insecticides are available for garden insect control. Most have restrictions involving days from last insecticide applications to harvesting vegetables. A listing of these restrictions of insecticides commonly used by home gardeners are as follows:

Bacillus Thuringiensis (Dipel, Bactur W, Thuricide): Broccoli, brussel sprouts, collards, kale, turnip greens, spinach, mustard, lettuce, cucumber, melons, potatoes and tomatoes. Apply up to day of harvest.

Carbaryl (Sevin): Beans, cantaloupe, carrot, corn, cowpea, cucumber, eggplant, okra, pea, pepper, potato (foliage only), squash, tomato, and watermelon. No time limitation.

Strawberry - one day.
Beet, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, head lettuce, radish and turnip. Allow three days before harvest.

Collard, beet and turnip tops, kale, leaf lettuce, mustard and spinach. Allow 14 days before harvest.

Diazinon: Use for ant control as a preplanting soil application only.

Diazinon: Peas - No time limitations as to days. Tomatoes - Allow one day before harvest. Cantaloupe and watermelon - Allow three days before harvest. Broccoli, cauliflower, pepper, and strawberry - Allow five days before harvest. Beans, cabbage, cucumber, and squash - Allow seven days before harvest. Carrot, collard, kale, lettuce, onion, radish, spinach and turnip - Allow 10 days before harvest. Potato - Allow 35 days before harvest. Mustard - Do not use diazinon on mustard as foliage spray.

Dicofol (Kelthane): Cantaloupe, cucumber, pepper, squash, strawberry, tomato and watermelon - Allow two days before harvesting. Beans - Allow seven days before harvesting. Note: Do not use on eggplant.

Endosulfan (Thiodan): Beans - Do not use more than three applications per season. Do not use emulsifiable concentrate formulation on lima beans. Do not use on lima beans that are to be processed. Allow three days before harvest.

Cabbage, broccoli and carrot - Allow seven days before harvest. Corn (sweet), cucumber, watermelon, cantaloupe, peas (English), Potato, pumpkin and squash (summer and winter) - No time limitation.

- Do not apply to sweet corn to be processed. Eggplant and tomato - Allow one day before harvest. Peas (field peas) - Allow three days before harvest.

Malathion: Potato and sweet potato - No time limitation. Beans, cantaloupe, cucumber, squash, tomato and watermelon - Allow one day before harvest.

Broccoli, cowpea, eggplant, onion, peas, pepper, strawberry and turnip - Allow three days before harvest. Beet, cabbage, carrot, cauliflower, collard, kale, mustard, radish and spinach - Allow seven days before harvest. Lettuce - Allow seven days before harvest on head lettuce, 14 days on leaf lettuce. Okra - Do not apply after pods form.

Methoxychlor: Potato and sweetpotato - No time limitation. Beans, cabbage and cowpea - Allow three days before harvest. Beet, cantaloupe, carrot, cauliflower, cucumber, eggplant, mustard, onion, peas, pepper, radish, squash, tomato, turnip (roots) and watermelon - Allow seven days before harvest.

Broccoli, collard, kale, lettuce, spinach, strawberry and turnip tops - Allow 14 days before harvest.

Read all label precautions when using any insecticides. Contact your county Extension agent for further information.

For more information on garden pest control come by the county Extension office on 404 East Church St., or call 728-5631.

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

The U.S. Department of Agriculture issued a preliminary loan and purchase rate of $5.02 per bushel for 1984-crop soybeans. This is the minimum permitted by law and is unchanged from 1983.

The loan rate is set by law at 75 percent of the simple average price received by farmers during the past five years, excluding the high and low years, according to Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. That law also requires USDA to issue a preliminary loan and purchase rate not earlier than 30 days before Sept. 1, the beginning of the soybean marketing year.

Rank said USDA would issue a final 1984 soybean loan and purchase rate no later than Oct. 1, by which time USDA will have figures on prices received by farmers for the 1983 crop.

All producers of 1984-crop soybeans will be eligible for loans and purchases since USDA does not require participation in production adjustment programs as a condition of eligibility, he said. Soybeans are ineligible for any reserve or farm storage payments, Rank said.

FINAL DETAILS for the Area IV (Northeast) Mississippi HOT Field Day August 23 are rapidly falling into place. Finishing touches are being put on the James Creek Ranch near Aberdeen, the site of our Field Day. There will be many interesting and practical soil and water conservation practices demonstrated on this farm. Equipment and educational exhibits will also be set up. In addition, there will be a very interesting program at noon.

All in all, a visit to this special conservation demonstration farm will be well worth the time of any farmer or landowner to attend. We will be there - hope to see you there, too, on August 23.

PRENTISS COUNTY FARMERS have certified that they planted 17,215 acres of program crops and devoted 1,415 cropland acres to the acreage conservation reserve (ACR). The ACR is cropland removed from production by the 1984 acreage reduction programs.

Final certification results as of Aug. 10, 1984, showed that 5,876 wheat acres, 2,402 corn acres, 5,635 acres of sorghum, 57 acres of oats, 3,245 acres of cotton, and 45,165 acres of soybeans were reported planted for harvest in 1984.

To be eligible for program benefits, farmers had to enroll in the program during the sign-up period and plant within their base minus acreage conservation requirements. Benefits are based on their certified acreage instead of intentions.

The acreage certification on participating farms means that these farmers are eligible to obtain price support loans and deficiency payments. Wheat program participants are also eligible for land diversion payments, and those who diverted an additional 10 to 20 percent of their base eligible for a payment-in-kind.

Some 234 farms in the county are enrolled in the 1984 wheat, feed grain, and cotton acreage reduction programs.

PRENTISS COUNTY FARMERS are putting their cropland idled by the acreage reduction programs to good use. More than 1,415 acres, or 17 percent of the county's wheat, feed grain, cotton and rice acres were taken out of production and put in an acreage conservation reserve (ACR).

To protect this land from wind and water erosion, some farmers have planted approved cover crops such as tifton bermuda grass. Others are establishing such conservation practices as alfalfa.

This land is referred to as acreage conservation reserve to emphasize the importance of saving soil and water. The protection being established on these acres is not only preserving the soil, it is also providing food and cover for wildlife.

Keeping the land free from weeds, insects and rodents is very important, and as much of a program requirement as planting a cover crop or establishing a conservation practice on the land. If the normal control measures for such conditions are found inadequate, additional control measures will be required.

County Forester

Several people have asked us lately about what to do for lightning damage to a tree.

Unfortunately we know very little about lightning and even less about predicting the outcome of a strike on a tree. We do know that some trees survive these strikes despite real serious damage. The factors of weather conditions, moisture content of the tree, wetness of the bark and soil, and health, species and form of the tree can possibly influence the effects of a lightning strike.

Tall, single-stem trees such as pines tend to die more frequently from lightning strikes than spreading, multi-trunk trees such as live oaks. Normally if lightning has caused lethal damage to a tree it will be apparent within a month or so.

It must, if the tree survives the initial strike, then battle the effects of massive decay caused by the large open wounds usually present after a strike, and this is where the owner can help.

The tree heals wounds by growing new wood, called callous tissue, over the exposed wood. Because healthy, fast-growing trees heal more quickly than sick or sluggishly growing trees, it is important to promote good health and growth rate through fertilization, soil aeration and watering.

Initially it may also be necessary to control a variety of insects attracted to the lightning wounds, preferably by periodic application of an approved insecticide. Lightning tends to strike the taller trees, thus many owners would rather call in an arborist or tree surgeon if the wound is high in the tree.

The application of tree wound dressings (i.e., tar) alone has been found to be of little benefit in preventing insect attack or decay infection.

It is important to clean all dead bark and wood splinters from wounds. This promotes proper development of the callous tissue and makes it harder for insects to find a place to set up housekeeping.

Eventually some parts of the tree may die or become so weak as to be hazardous and thus should be removed.

Even the strongest tree never fully recovers from a massive lightning strike because of the decay problem, and it may become a casualty to the strike many years afterward. But timely attention can help maximize the life of the damaged tree.

Lightning rods are placed in some high value feature or historic trees, but this is a rather expensive preventive procedure for the average residential tree. However, if installed properly, rods can prevent lightning damage.

If your favorite tree is struck, don't panic. There is nothing you can do to alter the immediate damage. Just don't cut it down until you are certain it cannot be saved.

4-H Youth Agent

Packing for college can be an agonizing task for the inexperienced packer. To eliminate so many suitcases and boxes, 4-H'ers enrolled in the clothing project learn how to get more in their luggage by packing efficiently.

Place heavy and bulky articles on the suitcase bottom, resting on the hinges.

Group clothing into three sections: sportswear, dresswear and nightwear. Put night clothes on top because they will probably be used first after reaching your destination.

Be careful not to place the thickest part of one folded garment immediately over the thickest part of another.

Distribute weight evenly from side to side. This makes it easier to carry your suitcase.

Fold large items of apparel so they will fit within the length of the suitcase.

Arrange sweaters, blouses, shirts, slacks and skirts with a minimum of folds, keeping them as flat as possible.

Pack jackets and coats cushioning folds with tissue or soft plastic bags.

Fill in small spaces with folded or rolled articles, such as underwear, hosiery, socks and scarves.

Place toiletries in plastic bottles or inside a leakproof plastic bag.

Pack each suitcase tightly, especially when using soft-sided luggage, but do not cram the suitcase so the hinges and locks are strained. Tight packing prevents clothes from shifting and sliding around, thus preventing wrinkles.

Remember to save some rarely used items to take later. Not everything has to go at one time and it can provide an excellent excuse for going home a weekend in the near future.

For more information on the 4-H clothing project, contact the county Extension office.

‘Progressive Farmer’ Regional Editor To Be Keynote Speaker At HOT Field Day

A leading southern farm editor Earl Manning, manager, Memphis Office, Progressive Farmer magazine, will be the keynote speaker for the Northeast Mississippi (Area IV) HOT (Hold Our Topsoil) Field Day at James Creek Ranch, near Aberdeen Aug. 23.

Manning, a native of Desoto County, Miss. where he grew up on a farm, is well known for his writings in Progressive Farmer on issues and technical articles relating to southern agriculture.

Following graduation from Mississippi State University, Manning was employed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service as an assistant county agent and has worked as a district representative of the feed division of Quaker Oats Company.

He was employed by Progressive Farmer in 1968 as associate editor, and was promoted to his present position in 1976.

"In addition to Mr. Manning's address, an exciting day of activities is planned for the HOT Field Day, beginning with educational tours at 9 a.m.," said Dalton Garner, area IV vice president of the Mississippi Association of Conservation Districts.

Garner is also chairman of the HOT Steering Committee, the overall sponsor of the Field Day. Many local, State and Federal agency representatives are also cooperating in planning and conducting the field day, which is part of the Statewide HOT program initiated in 1983 to reduce Mississippi's erosion losses by 50 percent in five years.

"Transportation from the headquarters area will carry visitors to six interesting stops on this ranch where farmers will see first-hand practical ways to reduce soil erosion losses on their own farms without reducing crop yields," Garner added. "Topics at the stops will include discussions on soil productivity, terraces, forestry and wildlife, conservation tillage, pastures, and water quality.

"Professional agricultural workers and farmers at each stop will explain the practices and answer questions," he said.

The last tour will leave the headquarters area at 11 a.m. and arrive back in time for the platform program which begins at 1 p.m.

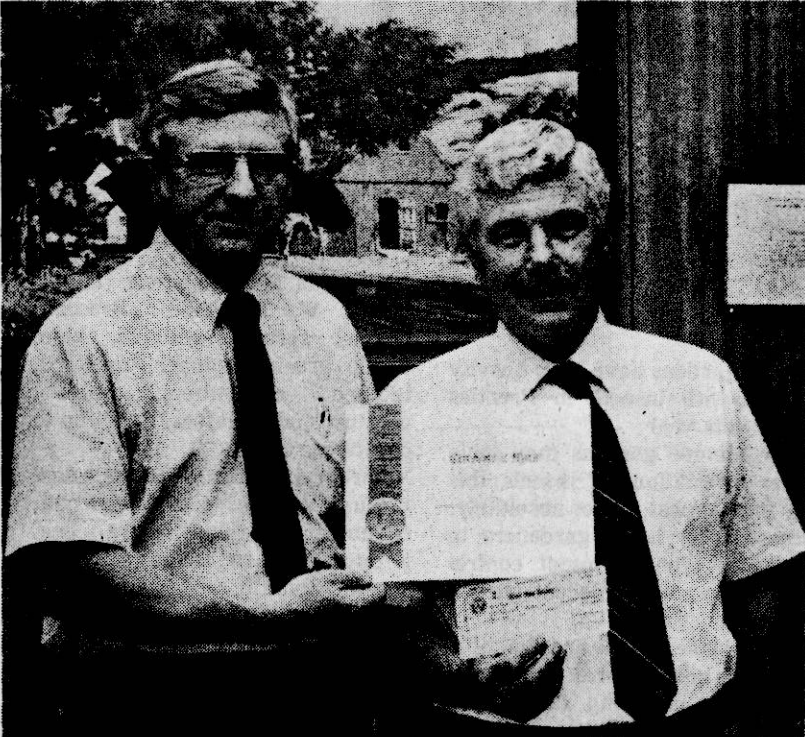

In addition, commercial and educational exhibits will be located near the headquarters area for visitors to view. Lunch will be available at the headquarters site.

"This conservation field day is an important event to all North Mississippians," Garner said. "Soil Conservation Service officials tell us that two-thirds of the topsoil on Northeast Mississippi farms is already gone. It was swept away by soil erosion.

"We're losing an average of 11 tons per acre per year from our cropland in this 12-county area. That figures out to about 12 million tons annually, worth about $96 million," he said.

To reach the James Creek Ranch, go about one mile north of Aberdeen on Highway 45 past the National Guard Armory, turn left at Mrs. Mac's Grocery store, then follow the HOT Field Day signs that mark the route to the ranch.

Home Economist's Notes

By PATTY K. ROBINSON
Extension Home Economist

Rotation of mattress and box spring foundations can prolong the life of bedding by at least 25 percent. To be fully effective, however, rotations must be made in the correct sequence.

There are two basic benefits from the rotation of innerspring mattresses. The first is to provide comfort by preventing or minimizing lumps. Do this by turning the mattress over so the irregularly compressed layers of padding along the surface may regain their uniformity.

Rotation also extends the life of the mattress and box springs. To prevent premature breakdown, wear should be distributed evenly. To do this, the mattress should be turned over left to right one time, then head to foot the next time. The cycle should be repeated. This is the only sequence of rotation that will assure maximum comfort and uniform wear.

A slip of paper as a model mattress will demonstrate the wear pattern. Mark its first position to indicate head and foot. Now turn it over, left to right, then over again, head to foot. The orientation is now reversed. After two more similar rotations, the marks reappear in their original position.

This simple experiment illustrates two important points. First that during the four step cycle each portion of the mattress receives equal exposure to wear. Next, the sequence must be followed to extend the potential life or comfort of the bedding. These points show the need for a consistent program of rotation.

Box spring foundations should also be rotated for many of the same reasons. Although they are not intended to be turned over, their head and foot positions should be exchanged periodically. Check the bed frame to be sure it fits correctly and is providing adequate support for the foundation.

Bedding use should determine how often rotations are made. In hospitals and nursing homes, beds may be occupied almost continuously. They are also subject to concentrated loads and bending in the same area. Such mattresses should be rotated monthly.

In hotels and motels, where service is less severe, it is usually sufficient to rotate every three months. The box springs should be turned on alternate rotations.

WINS TVA AWARD - J.C. Young, left, of Prentiss County has received the 1984 farm management award presented by the Tennessee Valley Association of Test Demonstration Farm Families. The award is given annually to a farm family in northeast Mississippi taking part in a farm management program sponsored by the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. Young was cited for farming practices which led to more profitable farming and better family living. Presenting the award is Dr. Joe Schmidt, an Extension Service economist who works with the TVA association in Mississippi. Young and farm families from other TVA states were recognized during the association's 31st annual meeting held recently in Booneville. (Extension Service Photo)

"We have one of the finest junior colleges in the nation."

Charles Edward Walden should know. He attended Northeast Mississippi Junior College and then went on to receive his Bachelor of Science degree in education from Mississippi State.

"I would put NEMJC up beside any community college found in America. Not only in facilities and atmosphere, but also in academic programs."

Instead of following an education career, however, Walden enjoys wearing two hats—one hard and one soft. Those of residential construction and of real estate.

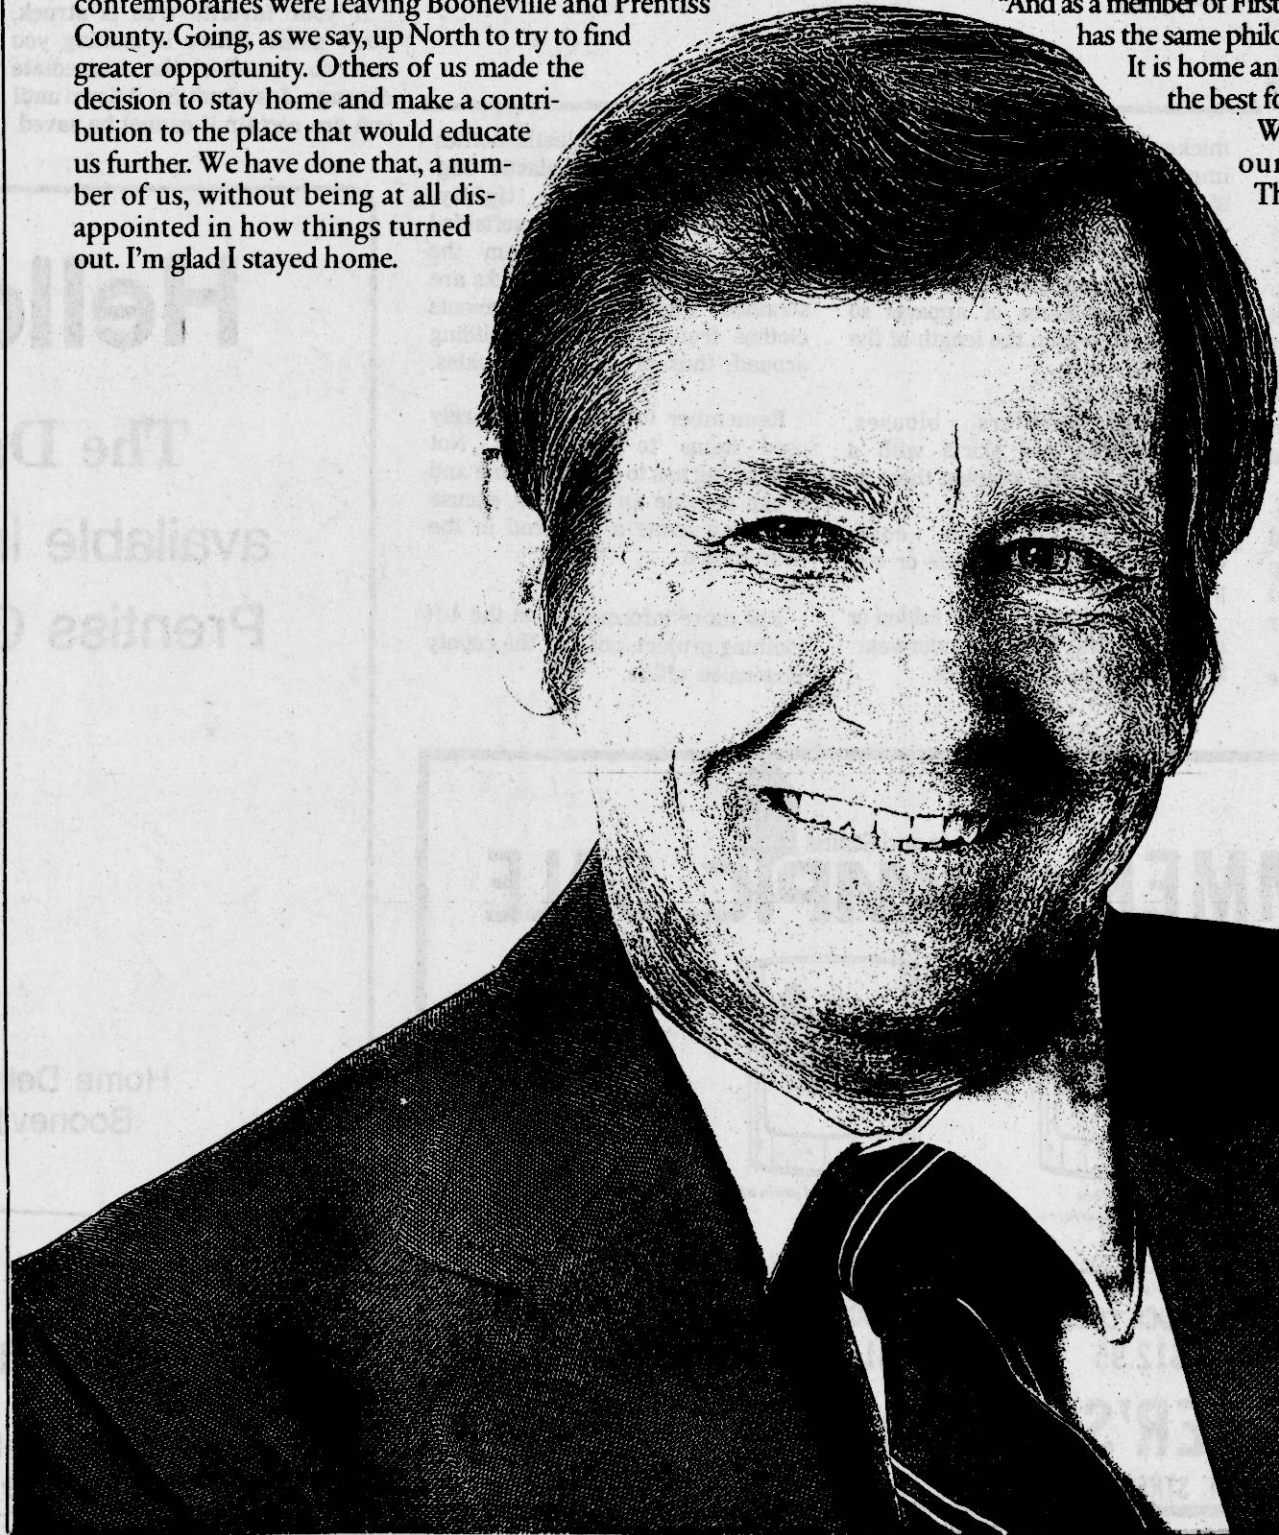

"This keeps me in touch with the people of Prentiss County and that's really why I'm here. Walden goes on to explain, "In the mid 50's when I graduated from high school, a number of my contemporaries were leaving Booneville and Prentiss County. Going, as we say, up North to try to find greater opportunity. Others of us made the decision to stay home and make a contribution to the place that would educate us further. We have done that, a number of us, without being at all disappointed in how things turned out. I'm glad I stayed home."

"Here I find a real spirit of what I call small-town conservatism. I enjoy that kind of atmosphere. It's not hurried, but at the same time it's progressive enough to be enjoyable. It has things that make for the quality of life I find most acceptable. Family ties, moral codes, attitudes in common—these are the real strengths in this county."

"Here's an example: I worked for several years trying to organize the Prentiss County Development Association, which is a county-wide chamber of commerce. We had a choice of forming a Booneville Chamber of Commerce or making it county-wide. And we chose to go county-wide because we found a similar spirit throughout Prentiss County—both city and county."

"And as a member of First Bank's board, I feel First Bank has the same philosophy I do about Booneville. It is home and always will be. And I want the best for it and for Prentiss County."

We couldn't have said it better ourselves, Charles Walden. Thank you.

Free & Reduced Price School Meal Guidelines

The Prentiss County School District and the Booneville Municipal Separate School District has announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children served under the National School Lunch and School Breakfast programs.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the office in each school.

The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility, and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or program officials.

For the school officials to determine eligibility, the household must provide the following information listed on the application: Names of all household members; social security numbers of all adult household members or a statement that the household member does not possess one; total household income or food stamp case number; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct. Households are required to report increases in household income of over $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals, it should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy, the building principal at the Booneville Municipal Separate School District and the County School Principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the decision of the determining official, he or she may wish to discuss it with the official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to R.D. Griffin, Supt., P.O. Box 387, Booneville, Miss., or J.W. Greene, County Supt. of Education, Booneville, Miss. 38829, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If, during the year, a family member becomes unemployed or if the household's size changes, the family should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for additional benefits, if the household income falls at or below the levels shown. The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age or handicap.

Those believing they have been discriminated against should write to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Each school and the superintendent's office has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

TREASURE HUNT.

The William Teller® $3,000 Treasure Hunt is on! It's the biggest and best treasure hunt ever in Mississippi. There are several ways to win, so get started now.

A separate Treasure Hunt will be held in each of the five William Teller® counties: Lee, Pontotoc, Monroe, Prentiss and Clay. In each county, a certificate redeemable for $500 has been hidden somewhere on public property. Please note that it is not necessary to dig, overturn or deface any property to find the treasure.

Clues, Bonus Clues and Surprise Cash.

Clues specifically written for each county will be posted at The People Place offices in those counties. But they'll appear sooner on William Teller® transaction receipts. A new clue will be added each week until the treasures are found. An additional bonus clue will be given each week whenever you show three William Teller® transaction receipts from the same week but with different dates. The more you use William Teller®, the better your chance to receive notices of Surprise Cash, in $1, $5 or $10 denominations, printed at random on various receipts.

So the best chance of finding your share is to get a William Teller® card and start using it. You can use it 24-hours a day to make deposits, loan payments, cash withdrawals, transfers between accounts, or to find out your account balance. If you don't have a William Teller® card, get one now. Fill out an application at any People Place location. It's not necessary to have a William Teller® card to participate in the $3,000 William Teller® Treasure Hunt, but there are more ways to win if you do.

Join the William Teller® $3,000 Treasure Hunt. And join the thousands of other Mississippians who use William Teller® for 24-hour convenience.

All Kindergarten & 1st Grade Students Must Have A Blue Certificate

Mississippi school children have begun the annual back-to-school countdown.

Those who start kindergarten or first grade for the 1984-85 session must have a blue Certificate of Compliance for proof of immunization and a birth certificate.

The immunization compliance forms and birth certificate application forms are available from the county health department. Private physicians and other health care providers also offer the Certificate of Compliance.

Only children enrolling in school for the first time - kindergarten, first grade, or from a non-Mississippi school system - will need the Certificate of Compliance.

Currently enrolled students in grades two through 12 already have valid certificates on file.

Birth certificates may be obtained by writing the State Department of Health, P.O. Box 1700, Jackson, Miss. 39215-1700. Parents may request the short form birth certificate which meets the school requirements and costs half as much as the long form.

Written requests with the $5 fee should include the child's full name, date and county of birth, the mother's maiden name, and the father's name.

Checks or money orders should be payable to the State Department of Health.

IRS Delays Forms Issue

Sylvia Wren, Director of the Internal Revenue Service in Mississippi, said the IRS will delay issuing Form 2290, "Federal Use Tax: Return for Highway Motor Vehicles," containing the rate schedule for the heavy vehicle use tax for periods beginning July 1, 1984.

With the delay in issuing Form 2290, the due date for filing the return and paying the tax has been extended from August 31 to September 30, 1984. The IRS will mail Form 2290 to taxpayers who filed a return last year.

Ms. Wren said state governments have been informed that they may register vehicles between July 1 and December 31, 1984, without verifying payment of the use tax. However, as provided by the Highway Revenue Act of 1982, states must verify payment of the use tax as a condition of vehicle registration beginning January 1, 1985.

Bank Announces Earnings Increase

Bancorp of Mississippi officials have announced a 27.6 percent increase in earnings for the first two quarters of 1984 to $1.58 per share on 930,649 shares.

Chairman J.C. Whitehead said the Tupelo-based North Mississippi bank holding company has an increase of 13.1 percent in assets and deposits increase of more than 12 percent. Assets June 30, 1984 totaled $556,339,021.

Net loans increased 19.5 percent and reflects 57.2 percent of assets, Whitehead said.

Bancorp's capital account exceed 6.5 percent of assets, Whitehead said, and pointed out that the capital-asset ratio has increased this year in the face of 13.1 percent asset growth, a 14 percent increase in case dividends and the acquisition in May of the Louisville banking facilities of First United Bank of Meridian.

that are not new, but almost have been forgotten here in modern times. And they pursue other business opportunities to help spur their farming investments along.

Neff and his good natured wife, for example, operate an upholstery shop on their farm where they specialize in blueberries, fingerling catfish, and bahia grass hay. The blueberry harvest this year from June 15 to August 1 was their first, and since it is intended primarily as a U-Pick operation, they are optimistic about this venture. Much of their production this year has been frozen for sale throughout the year. But U-Pick customers came from as far away as Hattiesburg and Jackson.

A series of seven small fishponds border a hillside where Neff has about 175 pairs of brood catfish which produce about a million fingerlings annually. He also has stocked a pond with a superior strain of bream. His stock is available to farm pond owners who he reaches through advertising.

At another farm operated by a young couple we visited still another U-Pick fruit and vegetable enterprise. As the young farmer guided us through his crops we observed a peach orchard, muscadine vineyard, strawberry patch, and irrigated rows of tomatoes, eggplants, carrots, peas, cucumbers, okra, squash, and other vegetables. The farmer's wife was canning vegetables as we visited.

Wildlife Conservation Department Warns

New-Born Fawns Are Not Abandoned

Some Mississippians are at it again. They are picking up fawn deer in the wild, thinking they have been abandoned by their mother.

"Wrong thing to do," says the Department of Wildlife Conservation.

"Right now, we are in the peak time for doe deer to be dropping fawns," said game division chief

Seth Mott.

"And we are having somewhat of a problem with people picking up these new-born fawns, thinking the mother has left them. But this is not what is happening in the majority of the cases."

Mott said that when doe deer have fawns they leave them and come back at random time intervals to feed them. Then the parent leaves again, only to return and feed. Most of the time the mother is not far away.

"Young fawns have almost no scent, and this is their main way of avoiding predators," Mott explained. If the mother stays around a fawn for too long a period, she may attract a predator because of her scent, he said.

"Besides," Mott said, "It is very difficult to raise a deer. As it approaches one year of age, they become hard to handle and can hurt someone untrained in dealing with wild animals."

Rumors Of Fights, Police Action Not True

Little League Tourney Gets Underway Again

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

After rumors of fights and police invasions, the city park's annual Little League tournament is finally underway.

After one night of play in the regularly scheduled bracket, several coaches and parents protested that the First Bank team had an ineligible player.

After much discussion and debate, but no fights and no arrests, the tournament was rescheduled and restarted last Thursday. The reported ineligible player was allowed to play.

In the opening game of the tournament, Brown Shoe shut-out Prentiss Manufacturing, 11-0.

Milt Morgan earned credit for the victory for Brown Shoe. Jason Etheridge suffered the defeat for Prentiss.

Shane Martin and Jamie Nanney led Brown Shoe at the plate with two hits each. Bronson Tabler and Jason Livingston both had two hits for Prentiss.

Sonic also got a first-round win as they beat First Bank 8-0.

Darren Hughes pitched a no-hitter to gain the victory and aided his own cause by hitting the first pitch of the game over the fence for a homerun.

Sammy McVey was charged with the loss for First Bank.

Bryan Fisher and Benji Houston also contributed homers to help Sonic to victory. Tim Stolz and Jason Nix led First Bank with two hits each.

Johnson's Lumber collected an opening round victory when they knocked off Peoples Bank 9-8.

Joey Clark got credit for the victory for Johnson's. Brent Wilson was charged with the Peoples Bank loss.

Bill Sparks and Clark had two hits each to pace the winners. Chris Chism and Jason Carr had two hits each for Peoples.

Pizza Inn then beat the Johnson's Lumber team in the second round 5-4.

Jimbo Laster earned the victory for Pizza Inn. Joey Clark was charged with the loss for Johnson's. Michael Hisaw, Marty Southern and Marty Dacus all led Pizza Inn with two hits each. Bill Sparks, Robert Botts and Clark all had three hits to pace Johnson's.

Darren Hughes struck out six to earn the victory as Sonic slipped past Brown Shoe 1-0.

Milt Morgan was charged with the loss for the Cobblers.

Hughes also provided the game winning RBI as he blasted a solo homerun. John Bolen and Brad Hill had two hits each for Brown Shoe.

Brown Shoe retaliated in their next ballgame beating First Bank 9-3.

Milt Morgan struck out eight as he picked up the victory. Jason Nix was charged with the loss for First Bank.

Shane Martin belted a grand slam homer for Brown Shoe to pace the winners at the plate. Sterling Yearber and Brad Hill chipped in two hits each.

Sammy McVey connected on a solo homerun for First Bank in a losing effort.

The finals of the tournament will take place tonight at the city park.

Girls Softball Tournament

Rotary Girls Leading After Second Round Of Action

BY GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

Rotary has captured two wins thus far in the Girl's Softball Tournament at the Booneville City Park.

They took their first win from Ethridge Auto Supplies, 23-2. Ethridge was eliminated Tuesday night by H & W Industries, 3-1. Rotary's second win was over Otasco Tuesday night, 23-7.

Also in Monday night's action, Otasco put H & W Industries in the losers bracket with a 15-14 win.

In the Rotary-Ethridge game on Monday night, Rotary had a rare scoreless first inning while Ethridge managed to find two runs in their half of the first.

The second inning became a field day for Rotary as they scored eight runs, holding Ethridge to zip.

The third inning became the last as Rotary scored 15 runs. Ethridge had no chance as Jill Johnson and company retired their first three batters.

Johnson was given the win on the mound for Rotary, while Shawn Starling was credited with the loss.

Top hitters for Rotary were Kim Scott, 4-4, Christie Cole, 3-3, and Johnson and Darla Dallison, both going 3-4.

In game two on Monday night H & W started things off by scoring four runs in the first. But, things were not as easy in the first inning for Otasco.

The second inning featured a come back by Otasco. They scored five runs after hits by Laticia Mathis, Leigh Carol Jackson, Becky Sanders and Nancy Crawford. But, H & W came right back in the bottom of the second to pull out three runs of their own and move the score to 7-5.

Otasco was not able to take the lead after a complete inning until the fifth, when they managed five runs. Despite a three-run rally, H & W was only able to pull up to a 15-14 loss.

Valiera Wright took the victory from the mound while Leigh Ann Stewart suffered the defeat.

Leading Otasco batting was Becky Sanders, 3-3, and Leigh Carol Jackson, Valiera Wright and Lisa Bearden all going 3-4.

In the Tuesday night game between Ethridge and H & W Industries both teams played a fast moving game, keeping things scoreless until the bottom of the fourth when H & W scored three runs on base hits by Leigh Ann Stewart, Amy Nanney, Chasity Johnson, Jodi McKinney and a sacrifice by Holly (Rover) Bonds.

In the fifth inning, Ethridge did their best to tie the game or win, but, with the bases loaded, they could manage only one run.

Leigh Ann Stewart took the win while Shawn Starling suffered the loss.

Top hitters were Chasity Johnson, Jodi McKinney, Leigh Ann Stewart and Amy Nanney all going 1-2 for H & W. Wendy Micheal and Shawn Starling both went 1-2 to lead hitting for Ethridge.

Rotary took a early 9-3 lead after the first inning against Otasco. Then in the second inning Rotary scored eight, while Otasco managed only one. In the third and final inning Rotary batted first, scoring five runs. This left Otasco needing 19 runs to tie and 20 to win, but they managed only three runs and the loss.

Jill Johnson took the win from the mound while Valarie Wright took the loss.

Top hitters for Rotary were Jill Johnson and Keta Stevens both going 3-4, while on the other side it was Patty Crawford and Valarie Wright both going 2-2 to lead Otasco.

The finals of the tournament will be played tonight starting at 6:00 p.m.

Sports Opinion

Olympic Boycotts Not New

By GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

Though boycotting the Olympic games seems to be a new thing, history shows it is not new at all. There may not have been an official cheeseburger, car, airline, beer, camera or candy bar, but politics has always played a role in the Olympics — even back in 456 B.C.

History records an Olympic boycott in 456 B.C. Rome boycotted the games because they claimed their opponents were using illegal competitors.

Two-thousand four hundred years ago governments were preventing their athletes from competing just as the USSR did this year and the USA did in the 1980 summer games.

The U.S. won a final total of 83 gold, 61 silver and 30 bronze medals in the 1984 Summer Olympiad. And, though medals are great to win, I think the athletes would enjoy the glory much more if they had stiffer competition.

In the recent past, Russia provided that competition at the games. So, who knows what it would be like if the games were not boycotted by governments like ours and Russia's.

The United States government gives only very limited support to it's Olympic athletes. So, if it would prevent the Olympics being boycotted, I think that the American people would gladly give the money to back our athletes.

The American people already give the U.S. athletes almost all their support through private donations, so why not go all the way with the money.

Would Greg Louganis have won the gold in diving competition if the Communist countries had competed? Would Mary Waytla have captured the gold medal if the USSR team had been there? Would Carl Lewis have been able to keep his promise of winning four gold medals in the events he competed in? We will never know.

I am very proud that the United States has captured those medals. But they could have much more meaning if politics were kept out of the games.

Carl Lewis was expected to win the gold medal in the long-jump and many other track and field events. But was there a Russian athlete who could have competed on the same level?

I personally don't think anyone could have beaten Lewis. But that unknown Russian athlete might have given him a very good race.

We need to see the best in competition in the Olympics, not just "so-so" competition.

There was good competition this year. For example, the 200 meter butterfly-style swim competition with Micheal Gross of West Germany winning in the last ten meters of the race over United State's Pablo Morales by a margin of only one-thirtieth of a second.

But, what if the USSR had been there?

I have a perfect game for the governments of the world. It is called the Peace Game, and it is a game each government could play in its own country.

The object of the game would be to see who could keep peace the longest. And all people could benefit from the prize, which would be "Peace, Love and Happiness."

I think that would be a great prize. And best of all, no one would lose.

Fishing Roundup

Fishing Starting To Pick Up

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

With the "dog days" of August in full gear, the fishing at all area lakes is starting to get better than it has been in the past few weeks.

According to Baldwin semi-professional angler Danny Comer, all of the lakes are producing some good results. "The bass, bream and catfish are all really starting to bite well," Comer said. "They are all getting back to their regular feeding habits."

Fishermen can also expect to fish a little deeper than usual in the next few weeks. The hot summer sun is causing most of the dark, dingy water to clear and the fish are moving into the cooler, deeper waters.

BAY SPRINGS— Bay Springs Lake has been about the only consistently good lake in the area all summer.

The bream have been biting well and so have the bass. And, now the catfish are starting to bite.

Crickets and worms have been the best baits to use for bream, while worms have been producing good results with bass. Shad guts or liver have been the best catfish baits of late.

Anglers should fish four to six foot deep during August.

SARDIS LAKE— Sardis, too, has been a consistent lake all summer. The bass are still biting well in the backwater areas of the lake. The Hurricane Creek area has also been producing some great results for area anglers.

The best bait at Sardis for the past few weeks has been worms and three inch balsa bees.

GRENADA LAKE— Although the fish have been biting well at Grenada, they have slowed down over the past week.

However, the warm weather should cause the fish to return to their normal feeding habits. August and September are usually good fishing months at Grenada.

The fish being caught at Grenada are averaging around three pounds each. Many anglers have been catching 10-20 fish each trip out.

PICKWICK— Despite the fact that the fishing at Pickwick has been slow all summer, several reports show the fishing is starting to get better.

Bream, catfish, buffalo and carp have all been biting well during the past two weeks. Most of the fish are being caught in the dam and lock area.

TOURNAMENT NEWS— The Mississippi Bass Association will be hosting a tournament Aug. 19 on Sardis Lake. For information contact Danny Comer at 365-5811.

Remember, if you have a question, tip or comment you would like to share with other readers, don't hesitate to send us letter at: Fishing Roundup, The Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, Miss. 38829.

Until next week, good fishing!

T-Ball Tournament Results

F&MB Beats Civitans For '84 Championship

The Farmers and Merchants Bank T-Ball team from Marietta beat the Civitans squad, 18-12, Friday night to capture first place in the city park's annual T-Ball tournament.

The Marietta team won three games in the tournament to boost their record to a perfect 12-0 for the summer.

The Civitans jumped out to an early 7-0 lead after half an inning. But, Coach Ronnie Johnson's F&MB team worked their way back and led 9-7 after three innings. The Bankers had built their lead up to 18-10 going into the fifth and final inning.

Marietta earned their berth in the final game by defeating Bank of Mississippi and New Orleans Fried Chicken in the early rounds of the tournament.

The Civitans had a harder time of it, having to work out of the loser's bracket. They beat Rotary in the tournament opener, then fell to New Orleans in the second round.

The Civitans beat Bank of Mississippi and New Orleans in a rematch to gain their berth in the finals.

New Orleans finished third in the tournament. Bank of Mississippi placed fourth.

T-BALL Final Summer Standings, Including Tournament Games

Farmers and Merchants	12-0
New Orleans Chicken	8-5
Civitans	8-6
Rotary	5-7
Bank of Miss.	3-9
Jaycees	2-9

All Area Gridders Have Begun Practice

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

All of the area's high school and college football teams have started their fall workouts in preparation for the upcoming gridiron season.

Northeast Mississippi Junior College began their fall practice schedule last Thursday. The Tigers will undergo three-a-day practices as they prepare for their home opener September 1 against Hinds Junior College.

NEMJC Coach David Carnell said his team is "looking better each day on the practice field."

"I have to admit that we look better than we did our first day," Carnell said. "But, we still have a long way to go. We have less than three weeks to get ready, too."

Currently, there are 58 gridders in the Tiger camp.

Booneville and most other area high schools started their workouts Monday.

Coach Wayne Jones will guide his troops through two-a-day workouts as the Blue Devils prepare for their home opener against last year's Class B champion, Falkner.

"Coach (Joe) Horton always has a fine team over there," Jones said. "They proved how good they were last year when they won the state championship."

Jones and his staff have a group of over 40 to work with this fall.

Thrasher High School also started workouts Monday.

Coach Willie T. Jackson will guide the Rebels in their second year of competition after an impressive 3-7 first season last year.

Jackson had only 26 to show up for the first practice. But, none of the seniors were there because of a commitment to make senior portraits.

Jackson said he expects the Rebel camp to be in full swing for the rest of the fall. "We are just going to work on fundamentals this week and next," he said. "We'll just let the kids get their rhythm and the feel of the football at the start."

Thrasher will open their fall schedule September 7 against Blue Mountain in Baldwin.

All of the area teams, along with bands and cheerleaders will be featured in the special "football section" to appear in The Banner-Independent later this month.

No Football This Year For Wheeler

By GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

Wheeler principal Kenneth Chissom announced Monday that his school will not field a junior high football program this fall.

Chissom told The Banner Independent, "We will not have a football team this year."

"So far, we haven't had any grievances and calls about it. I don't think it will be a big problem due to the lack of interest from the students and the parents here."

Earlier this year, Prentiss County Superintendent of Education J. W. Greene told The Banner-Independent, "If Wheeler wants to have a football team I will back them on it all the way. However, it will be up to the principal whether they have a team or not."

Wheeler has usually hosted a top basketball team. Several students have reported that Wheeler is inclined more to a basketball program than to other sports.

ETV Offers Variety Of Credit Courses In Fall 1984 Telecourse Schedule

A new televised college credit course introducing computer literacy is included in Mississippi ETV's fall 1984 telecourse schedule.

Telecourses are offered by 16 Mississippi colleges and universities for persons who want to study at home while earning college credit or teacher recertification credit or while preparing to take a General Educational Development test.

"The New Literacy: An Introduction to Computers" provides a comprehensive overview of computers - what they are and what they can do. This course is approved for teacher recertification credit as well as college credit.

"Understanding Human Behavior" is an introductory psychology course offered for college credit.

Two more courses are approved for teacher recertification. "Teaching Writing: A Process Approach" provides teachers at all grade levels with up-to-date writing theories and practices. "Dealing with Social Problems in the Classroom" looks at ways teachers can deal with student illiteracy, school violence and other problems.

"The GED TV Series" assists persons who plan to take the GED test to earn a high school equivalency certificate. The series helps students brush up on math, reading and English skills. No college registration is required for the course.

For more information, students may call ETV toll-free at 1-800-922-9698, or in the Jackson area, at 982-6280. Plans should be made soon since most colleges hold registration in mid- to late August.

Colleges and universities offering the courses are Alcorn State University, Delta State University, East Central Junior College, Hinds Junior College District, Itawamba Junior College, Jackson State University, Meridian Junior College, Mississippi College, Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College (Gulfport and Gautier branches), Mississippi State University, Mississippi Valley State University, Northwest Mississippi Junior College, University of Mississippi, University of Southern Mississippi and William Carey College.

All lessons in each of the courses are approximately 30 minutes long.

"The New Literacy: An Introduction to Computers" has two weekly lessons, at 1 and 1:30 p.m., Saturdays, beginning August 25. The lessons are repeated at 10 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"Understanding Human Behavior" has two weekly lessons scheduled at 2 and 2:30 p.m., Saturdays, beginning August 25. The lessons are repeated at 3 and 3:30 p.m., Sundays.

"The GED TV Series" airs at noon, Mondays and Fridays, beginning September 10, with repeats scheduled for 3 and 3:30 p.m., Saturdays.

Booneville School In Child Find Project

The Booneville Municipal Separate School District is currently involved in its Child Find Project.

This project is concerned with locating children within the community who are in need of, but not receiving, services from some type of special education program.

These programs include children who are mentally retarded, visually handicapped, hearing impaired, speech handicapped, learning disabled, physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed, or developmentally delayed.

The purpose of locating these children is for future planning for their individual needs. The school district needs help in locating these children.

They are asking the public to refer to them any child from the age of birth through 21 with any handicapping conditions.

Referrals should be made by contacting the District Child Finder, Imogene Eaker, at 728-8225, or P.O. Box 387, Booneville, Miss. 38829.

It is the responsibility of the "Child Finder" to make the public aware of the kinds of handicapped children and their right to a free, appropriate education and to receive handicapped child referrals.

The "Child Finder" sees that a follow-up is made to determine the child's educational needs. Following evaluation the child will be placed in an appropriate special program if necessary.

All records are confidential and will be maintained at the administrative office of the school involved. If the child is not in school, his records will be kept confidential in the district's central office.

Arbor Day Foundation Offering Ten Free Shade Trees To New Members

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving ten free shade trees to people who become Foundation members during August 1984.

The free trees are part of the Foundation's effort to promote fall tree planting throughout America.

A Sugar Maple, Weeping Willow Red Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, Silver Maple, Tuliptree, European

Mountainash, and Red Maple tree will be given to members joining during August.

The six to twelve inch trees will be shipped this fall at the right time for planting between October 15 and December 10. They will be sent postage paid with enclosed planting instructions.

These trees were selected because they provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes, and fall colors, according to John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director. They are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting. The Foundation will give the ten free trees to members contributing $10 during August.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to SHADE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by August 31, 1984.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

Part II: The Greatest Force In The World!

By Dwight R. Massengill

We continue our brief analysis and explanation of I Corinthians 13:4-7 this week with the reminder from last week that true love is patient, kind, and is not jealous.

May I drop one extra comment before I go on? Amy Carmichael in her precious little book titled IF, commented: "If a sudden jar can cause me to speak an impatient, unloving word, then I know nothing of Calvary love." She has a footnote on that thought which says ("For a cup brimful of sweet water cannot spill even one drop of bitter water however suddenly jolted"). Bless that thought to our hearts, Lord Jesus.

As we press on, we learn that true love does not brag! (Love "vaunteth not itself." v. 4) True love will always be far more impressed with its own unworthiness than its own goodness. After it has been patient, and kind, and has done its beautiful work, goes back into the background and says nothing about it.

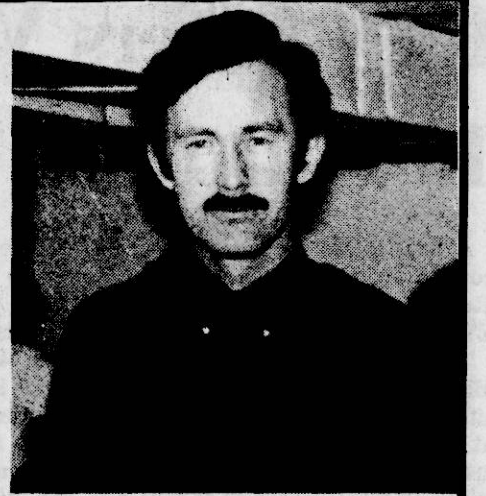

Not only that, but true love is not blown up with its own importance! (v. 4 Love "is not puffed up"). The really great people of this world never thinks of their importance. When I think of something being puffed up, I think of a frog that swells itself out of proportion before it croaks. Let us not be frogs of this world who are swelled full of pride.

Paul goes on to say that true love does not behave without grace and decency! (v. 5 Love "doth not behave itself unseemly"). Another way of saying it is true love is not mean; nor does it have bad manners. A follower of Jesus who is controlled by God's love in his life is the best-mannered person in a crowd. Jesus was a perfect gentleman. How we need to return to well-mannered actions in our churches and in our communities!

True love always senses how far is too far in any relationship. It does nothing out of place or at the wrong time. (At this point, I feel that we need to be reminded of God's love for us and how great His mercy is; for many good relationships have gone wrong, and there are many broken hearts. Yes, it is amazing that our Lord Jesus loves us still! Just bring Him your burden.)

We will continue this marvelous study of love next week! Best wishes in Him!
