Larger Quarters

B&W Furniture Frames has moved into new facilities in the Booneville-Prentiss County Industrial Park.

The move will enable the 15-month-old company to double its production, according to co-owner Clyde Wilemon.

Wilemon, who owns the company with Billy Barnes, said "We've got a little over twice as much space than we had down next to the skating rink."

He said the move will enable the furniture frame manufacturing company to hire more employees. "It's going to be, probably, two or three weeks before we hire any more people because it will take that much time to get everything set up and going like we want it to," he said.

The company presently employs 16 people. "This move will take us up to around 30 or 32, maybe 35," he said.

The new facilities are in the Industrial Park, north of Prentiss Manufacturing Company.

The company began production on July 5, 1983.

Christmas Parade

Booneville's 1984 Christmas parade has been scheduled for 6 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 3.

The theme for this year's parade is "Christmas on Boone Hill," according to Mrs. W.M. Murphy, president of the Inter-Civic Council, sponsor for the event.

Float entries should be registered with Mrs. Murphy at 728-3511 or 728-5534.

Civic clubs must have their nominee for Christmas Queen submitted to, and approved by Thurston Davis, prior to the Inter-Civic Council meeting at 5 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 26.

The parade route will be announced at a later date.

Anyone needing further information on any aspect of this year's Christmas parade can contact Mrs. Murphy at 728-3511.

Recipes Needed

What's your favorite recipe? Why not share it with your friends who read The Banner-Independent?

The Banner-Independent is once again preparing its annual Holiday Cookbook to be published in November, just in time for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

If you have a recipe you would like to share with your fellow Prentiss Countians, please bring it by The Banner-Independent office or mail it to The Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, Miss. 38829.

The deadline to submit recipes is Friday, Nov. 9. Name, address and phone number should be included on each recipe.

The names of those who submit recipes will be included in a drawing for two $25 cash prizes. The winner of the drawing will be announced the week of publication of the Holiday Cookbook.

'Biggest Ever In County'

36 People Charged In Drug Roundup

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

What was described as the "biggest drug round-up ever in Prentiss County," occurred early Wednesday morning when state and local law enforcement officers began arresting alleged drug dealers in Prentiss County.

Lt. Charles W. Spillers of the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics said the operation resulted in 40 drug charges against 36 persons, including 4 juveniles.

The charges involved 32 sales of marijuana, 6 sales of hydromorphone, 1 sale of cocaine and 1 charge of manufacturing marijuana.

Hydromorphone is the chemical name for Dilaudid, a narcotic type drug favored by addicts, according to Spillers. One Dilaudid tablet can sell for up to $50 he said.

Five arrest teams, consisting of four men each, commenced raids about 5 a.m. Wednesday at various residences in Prentiss County, Spillers said. Some 20 people had been arrested as of 8 a.m. Wednesday.

These people were indicted by the Prentiss County Grand Jury Tuesday, Spillers said.

Those arrested and charged with sale of marijuana were Tommy Green, 29, of Route 5, Booneville; Willis Odell Agnew, 48, of Route 1, Booneville; Larry Young, 33, 402 Court St., Booneville (2 counts);

Ricky Barrett, 24, of 112 Terry St., Booneville; Boyd Houston, 306 Latimer St., Baldwin; David

McClellan, 19, of Route 7, Booneville; Charlie Williams, 24, of 110 Bell Ave., Booneville;

Mack White, 30, of Route 1, Sallito; Vernicia Copeland, 22, of 114 Anderson St., Booneville; Jessie Lewis Hurd, 33, of Route 1, Booneville (2 counts);

Ricky Stevens, 25, of Route 3,

Squirrel Causes Power Outages, Fires

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

A squirrel chewing through power lines was responsible for power outages and two house fires Thursday morning, Oct. 4, according to Prentiss County Electric Power Association general manager Ronny Rowland.

Rowland said the errant squirrel caused damage to a connector on a pole on North College Street near Steve's Furniture, was responsible for power outages in several areas north of Booneville and started fires at two homes on North 3rd Street.

"We received our first call from somebody down by Steve's Furniture (North College and Washington Streets) who said there was fire shooting off of a pole there," Rowland said. "And, in the meantime, we got two or three other calls from some of the factories north of town and from Thrasher School that they were out of power.

"So, we sent our men to Steve's and found a connector that had gone bad on the pole. We repaired that, but we still had a main feeder out from the TVA substation going on up to the north part of the county. We've got five main feeders coming out of that substation," Rowland said.

"So, we closed that back in and it immediately came back out. And that told us there was still a problem on the line," he said.

Rowland said he and his workers then started following the line in their trucks, searching for the problem. "But, in the meantime, I remembered that when I left out I had heard a fire truck. So I had my secretary call to see if someone had hit a power pole or something on Highway 45 North.

"But they told her it was just a house burning over on 3rd Street," Rowland said. "Then, they called back and asked us to disconnect the service wires to the house."

Rowland said the man dispatched to disconnect the house determined that the fire and the electrical problems were related. "So we traced it out and discovered it was where our main problem was.

His Miniature Mule Was A Big Surprise For Baldwin

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

He may be the most well known miniature mule in the state.

At least that's what the miniature mule's owner, Nelson Baldwin thinks.

"There's a story about this mule," Nelson says.

The story began almost a year ago -- when he purchased two Lilliputians -- miniature horses -- from Eureka Miniature Horse Farm in Germantown, Tenn.

Satin Doll, about 3-years-old, is 26½ inches high and Spiffy, about 4-years-old, is 27½ inches high.

It was his hope to raise more Lilliputians.

He knew when he purchased Satin Doll that she would soon be in foal but he was quite surprised at the outcome.

THE OUTCOME was a miniature mule.

Nelson called in Baldwin veterinarian Dr. James H. Nelson to help deliver the new addition in the Baldwin family.

Of course, Nelson was expecting the stork to deliver another miniature horse.

"But after the birth Dr. Nelson said that was the prettiest mule he had ever seen.

"I told him that it was supposed to be a miniature horse and Dr. Nelson said that when he used to plow them they were called mules," Nelson recalls, smiling at the memory.

To say the least, Nelson was "very surprised" when he found out his bouncing bundle of joy was a miniature mule.

But that was six months ago.

And now the miniature mule, named "Dr. Nelson," in honor of the veterinarian (but called "Cookie" by Nelson Baldwin's grandchildren) weighs a stout 13½ pounds and is 19 inches high.

Nelson made a return trip to the Eureka Miniature Horse Farm and told the owners about his miniature mule. They offered to buy him back -- but Nelson refused.

The miniature mule is too much a part of the family -- his grandchildren, Hope and Manny Geno, love the furry little animal.

And besides, the miniature mule gives Nelson something else to talk about to his friends -- in addition to the roses he grows for which he is so well known.

In the meantime, Nelson has purchased another Lilliputian named Oreo.

Both Oreo and Satin Doll will soon be in foal -- but this time the new arrivals aren't expected to be miniature mules.

A MINIATURE MULE -- In addition to the three Lilliputians (miniature horses) Nelson Baldwin owns, he also has a miniature mule. Sometimes miniature mules can be camera shy, as Baldwin's grandchildren, Manny and Hope Geno, found out. (Photo by Angela Smith)

Insurance Agents Organize To Fight Problems

A group of Booneville insurance agents met at the Tiger Den Monday morning, Oct. 8, in what was described as the first step in forming a local organization of insurance agents.

Local insurance broker Raymond Parker said the organization is being formed in an effort to find solutions to the difficulties in obtaining insurance for rural homes in Prentiss County.

Parker said Mississippi State Commissioner of Insurance George Dale spoke to the group about the reluctance of casualty insurance companies to write homeowners insurance in rural areas of Prentiss County.

"In the insurance industry we've had a lot of problems with fires and theft. And what's happened is that agents in different towns are forming organizations in order to help each other in combatting these problems," Parker said.

He said insurance companies are losing money by insuring rural homes. "And what they're doing is changing their underwriting rules and discontinuing the writing of business in the country...rural business."

Parker said such refusal to insure homes in certain high risk areas is legal. "On the other hand, for automobile insurance, the state does have the assigned risk program that enables high risk customers to obtain insurance."

But, he said, with the exception of the Gulf Coast area, no such program is in effect for homeowners insurance in Mississippi.

"One of the companies I deal with

NMHS To Conduct On-Site Hearing Tests For Industries

North Mississippi Health Services announces the establishment of a Hearing Conservation Program which will assist area industries who must comply with specific OSHA standards regarding safety in the work place.

The program involves a broad spectrum of services ranging from baseline audiologic tests and annual hearing checks to professional test evaluation, hearing protection guidelines, and the development of employee training materials.

The Health Services Hearing Conservation Program operates under the supervision of physician ear specialists who are specifically trained in industrial hearing conservation.

Conducted at the worksite of participating industries, the program is supported by a mobile audiological screening unit with state of the art equipment and is staffed with a certified audiologist and a certified hearing technician.

Surveys to determine workplace noise levels, audiograms to track potential hearing losses and employee education programs on hearing conservation will be conducted at the industry site.

Local industries will benefit from this service in two primary aspects. First, the program will allow the industry to comply with OSHA law in an economically and medically accurate manner. Secondly, unnecessary workmen's compensation claims related to hearing loss will be eliminated.

For further information call 841-3266.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: "FOR WHAT IS YOUR LIFE?" (James 4:14)

ANSWER: Life is many things to many people. Our value for life reflects the quality of life we have. James teaches us our life is brief, "it is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." James 4:14b)

JOHNNY RICHARDSON

The Psalmist writes, "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." (Ps. 90:12) His emphasis is to use our time wisely. Each day should be precious to us. Someone has said, "This is the beginning of a new day. God has given me this day to use as I will. I can waste it or use it for some good purpose. But what I do with this day is important because I have exchanged a day of my life for it. When tomorrow comes, today will be gone forever. I hope I will not regret the price I paid for it." The New York Times, several years ago printed a story of a man who observed his eightieth birthday. He looked at his life with a detailed diary. He had used 26 years 312 days, and 18 hrs. sleeping; 21 yrs. 85 days working; 5 yrs., 346 days eating; 228 days shaving; 26 days scolding the children; 12 days, 16 hours lighting cigars; he had laughed only 1 day, 22 hours." What would your life look like? This man had no time for God, worship, Bible study, the sick, etc. WHAT IS YOUR LIFE? Meet with us this Lord's day.

Murder Trial On October Court Docket

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

A murder trial in which a Booneville man is charged with the shooting death of another Prentiss Countian is scheduled to be heard during the October term of Prentiss County Circuit Court.

James L. Stoop, 57, of Price Lane, Booneville, was indicted for murder in connection with the Oct. 13, 1983, shooting of a New Site teacher, Charles Williams, 41, of Route 7, Booneville.

Stoop's trial is scheduled to be heard Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Williams was reportedly shot once in the back with a 30.06 high powered rifle while he was in his pickup on Mt. Pisgah Road, law authorities said.

Stoop was allegedly in another vehicle on the right-of-way of Highway 4 -- which is only about a quarter of a mile from Williams' home.

Both vehicles were stopped when the shooting occurred, officers said. Two shots were fired.

The shot that struck Williams went through the pickup's tailgate, bed, back of the cab, and the truck seat. Although only one shot struck Williams, the shot fragmented, hitting him in two spots, according to James Horn of the North Mississippi Ambulance Service.

The other shot reportedly struck the left hand side of the back glass. Williams was taken to the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo. He died Oct. 30.

Stoop reportedly turned himself in to the sheriff's department at midnight on the day of the shooting. Officers said the motive for the shooting was "a misunderstanding," but declined further comment.

The following cases are also scheduled to be heard:

Monday, Oct. 22

Terry Owens, burglary and larceny of the home of Sale Martin and storage building owned by Tommy Strange. He also faces a charge of receiving stolen property -- a shotgun belonging to James B. Christian.

Owens also faces a charge of forgery.

Lee Curtis Gamble, burglary and larceny of By-Pass Quik Stop on Jan. 22, 1984, and Nov. 24, 1983.

Charles A. Owens, manufacture of marijuana.

Jerry Lee Smith, grand larceny, in connection with the theft of a lawn mower belonging to Betty Jean Barnes.

Tuesday, Oct. 23

James L. Stoop, murder.

James McGee and Darrell Chambers, grand larceny, in connection with the theft of three batteries belonging to Tidwell and Associates Construction Company Inc.

McGee and Chambers are also charged with burglary and larceny of a building in connection with the same break-in.

Wayne Michael and Vance Michael face trial on charges of burglary of the residence of R.C. Green. On Wednesday, Oct. 24, they face trial on charges of attempted arson (the home of R.C. Green).

Wednesday, Oct. 24

Danny Hamm and Jimmy Hamm will face trial on a charge of strong arm robbery in connection with the theft of $1,400 from Ben Smith on March 12, 1984.

Lee Curtis Gamble, burglary and larceny of a building, in connection with the break-in at the home of James Bennett.

Thursday, Oct. 25

Henry Tyes, aggravated assault. Geneva Kay King, strong arm robbery, in connection with the theft of $1,400 from Ben Smith in March 1984.

James Arlie Davis and Anthony Jackson face trial on a charge of possession of more than an ounce of marijuana.

Wayne Prater, aggravated assault.

There are 13 civil cases scheduled to be heard during the first week of court, Oct. 15-19.

Circuit Judge Tommy Gardner is scheduled to preside during that week.

Circuit Judge Fred Wicker is scheduled to preside during criminal court Oct. 22-26.

Sentencing is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 26.

Rienzi; William Tidwell, 18, of Route 4, Booneville; Thomas Weyhrauch, 22, of Route 5, Booneville; and Samuel Hoard, 19, of Route 1, Marietta.

Those people charged with sale of marijuana are being held on $5,000 bond. Bond for Hurd was set at $10,000.

Tonya Applegate, 21, of 301 North Independent St., Booneville, was charged with delivery of marijuana. She is being held on $2,500 bond.

Glenda Stewart, 22, of Route 5, Booneville, was charged with sale of cocaine. She is being held on $10,000 bond.

Jerry Wayne Michael, 35, of Route 2, Rienzi and Merita Cooper, 20, of Route 4, Booneville, were both charged with sale of hydromorphone. Their bond was set at $10,000 each.

Eddie Cooper, 24, of Route 3, Rienzi, was charged with two counts of sale of hydromorphone. His bond was set at $20,000.

Steve Berryhill, 20, of Route 3, Rienzi, was charged with three counts of sale of hydromorphone. He is being held without bond.

Those arrested are being held in jails at the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department, Booneville Police Department, and Alcorn County Sheriff's Department, Prentiss County Sheriff W.V. Horn said.

The juveniles, also from Prentiss County, are ages 16-17, Spillers said.

The other 16 people had not been apprehended as of 9 a.m. Wednesday, but the arrest teams were still out, according to Spillers.

At least two of the subjects are living out of state and several have moved out of the county, "but eventually we expect to get everyone," Spillers said.

"In addition to those we are seeking, we expect to lodge charges against additional suspects in the future as investigations related to the drug operation are completed. Eventually the operation is expected to result in charges against a total of 45 to 50 persons," he said.

These arrests capped a six-month undercover operation conducted jointly by the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department, the Mississippi Highway Patrol, and the Booneville and Baldwin Police Departments, Spillers said.

The arrest teams consist of law enforcement officers from those departments, Spillers said.

The drug investigation began shortly after Sheriff Horn took office in January, Spillers said.

"There have been drug round-ups before in Prentiss County, but none of the others have been this size. This is the biggest drug round-up ever in Prentiss County," Spillers said.

He said that the months-long investigation demonstrates that close cooperation among law enforcement agencies is the key to success in the fight against drug trafficking. He praised the Sheriff's Department for its commitment to the investigation in terms of time, manpower, as well as money.

Sheriff Horn said that the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors specifically allocated $1,000 several months ago to help fund the drug operation.

"This shows how strongly the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department is committed to getting something done. The citizens are fortunate. The sheriff is committed to drug enforcement and he is backed up by the board of supervisors. You don't have that everywhere," Spillers said Wednesday morning.

Sheriff Horn said that during the past year the availability of diluadid had become a serious problem in Northeast Mississippi -- particularly in the Prentiss County area.

"We look for these arrests to dry up a lot of sources for diluadid," Spillers said.

"I'm pleased with what we've done," Sheriff Horn said. "But there's a lot more I'd like to do. And we'll do it sooner or later. We're trying to catch all the drug dealers we can."

Squirrel

"We went to the house, and from there we traced the problem to a transformer on Highway 45 at the new post office site," Rowland said.

"What had happened was a squirrel had climbed up the power pole and got on top of the transformer that serves the houses on North Third. We found the squirrel dead on top of the transformer.

"He had gotten into the high voltage line, and it had burned the high voltage line in two. It fell down on the neutral (ground wire), which goes back to the substation and into the houses on North 3rd and caused a surge," Rowland said.

According to Booneville Fire

Chief Frank Fleming, the power surge set fires at the first two houses north of Heritage Cablevision on North 3rd Street, the homes of Mrs. Matty Beatty and Mrs. Douglas Dollison.

"When it first went out, that caused the fire at Mrs. Beatty's," Rowland said. "It burned water pipes in two, burned a hole in the gas meter and set the leaves in the rain gutter on fire.

"So, when we turned the power back on, that's when the problem happened at Mrs. Dallison's house. And, when that happened, she had two switch boxes in there, and it just physically blew one up. It actually blew the fuses out on the floor," Rowland said.

Fire Chief Fleming said both houses received various kinds of damage. "At Mrs. Beatty's (504 N. 3rd St.), it burned some holes in the aluminum siding, it burned the line that goes to the gas meter...it ignited...And it burned several water lines in two.

"We didn't really have any fire in the house there. But it did catch the leaves in the gutter on fire, and the gas meter caught...That could have been a problem," Fleming said.

"At Mrs. Dallison's (600 N. 3rd

St.), it ran in and blew up the main switch box and it started a fire in the closet where the hot water heater was."

ACCEPTABLE WORSHIP

Many people worship God who are not really aware of what they are doing or why they are doing it. God has requirements for acceptable worship and will not accept just any kind of worship. Webster defines worship as "act of paying divine honors to a deity; religious reverence and homage," "to pay divine honors to; to adore; venerate." To please God one must worship God; therefore, he needs to know how to intelligently and scripturally worship God.

Our worship cannot be acceptable unless we have the right object of worship. Man is not the proper object of worship because the apostles refused to accept worship. (Acts 14:10-15; Acts 10:25-26). When John fell at the feet of an angel to worship him, the angel told John not to worship him, but to worship God. (Rev. 22:8-9). The Bible clearly informs us that God is to be the object of our worship.

Different kinds of worship are mentioned in the Bible. It is possible for one to worship ignorantly as the Athenians and Jews. (Acts 17:22, 23; Romans 10:1-3). Worship based on the doctrines and commandments of men is described as vain worship; empty; unavailing. (Matt. 15:8-9). True worship is in spirit and in truth. (John 4:23, 24).

All should be concerned about true worship and what it means to worship God in spirit and truth. Acceptable worship is not with "men's hands," but from the heart. (Romans 6:17; Acts 17:25). To worship God in spirit means to worship God with the right attitude or frame of mind. To worship God in truth is to worship according to truth. It is possible for one to worship in spirit and not in truth or worship in truth and not in spirit. Is your worship in spirit and according to truth or is one of these missing in your worship? Acceptable worship must be in spirit and in truth.

Street Opinion

QUESTION: Which candidate do you think did the best in the presidential debate Sunday night?

BILL BEAN-BLOSSOM of Route 2, Booneville: "I think it was a draw. I don't think Mondale or the President helped themselves any. Mondale had everything to gain. I don't think he did as well as they're saying he did on TV. Right now I'm for Reagan. The economy is good."

L.A. TIGRETT of Route 3, Rienzi: "I didn't see it but from what I heard Mondale made a strong showing and now I'm undecided who to vote for."

EDDIE CARROLL of Route 2, Booneville: "I think it was pretty well a draw. I'm for Reagan he hasn't done too bad. Why turn it back the way it used to be?"

WILLIAM R. PUTT of Guntown: "I think Mondale did the best according to what the news media said Monday morning. I'm a Democrat. I'm for Mondale."

TERESA PANNELL of Route 1, Booneville: "I think Reagan did the best because Mondale is backwards on his talk. I believe if Reagan is re-elected he will help out the country."

JANICE JUMPER of Route 3, Booneville: "Reagan. I felt like he answered the questions the best for the pressure he's under. I'm for Reagan. There's more people working and interest rates have gone down -- he's helped in these areas."

Ponderings

By Angela Smith
Staff Reporter

This is a story about someone I have written about in my column before.

She graciously requested that I refrain from using her real name in my column -- because she fears public humiliation. As many times as I've written about her, one would think she would be used to it by now.

I have already told one falsehood in my column today.

She did not graciously request that I not use her real name. She said if I did use her name, I would be sorry.

So with those threats still ringing in my ears, I will proceed with my story.

Some of you might recall that in April I took the plunge and finally mustered up enough courage to get my ears pierced.

At the time my friend (who also works here -- she didn't tell me not to mention where she worked) said she would get her ears pierced if I would. She even assured me that her word was good.

But the months flew by and my friend never seemed to get around to getting her ears pierced -- no matter how often those of us who work here would remind her.

It took awhile, but some member of The Banner Bunch finally had the idea to top most of the ideas we've ever had.

For my friend's birthday she was presented with a gift certificate at Goddard's Jewelry to get her ears pierced. She was also given a pair of earrings. (In addition to those nice presents, she was also given a bullet to bite on).

I expected a show of jubilation from my friend. Instead, what was shown might more aptly be described as horror...terror...or possibly apprehensiveness.

For a week she put off getting her ears pierced. Then finally on Sept. 27, the day of reckoning came.

Three of us accompanied her to Goddard's. We called ahead of time and had Donnie clear everyone out of the store.

When we arrived at the jewelry store, my friend stretched out on the floor and another co-worker fanned her in an effort to revive her.

Finally Donnie coaxed her into the office and began the task of piercing her ears.

My friend forgot to bring the bullet to bite on, so she had to chew on a pen.

Everything turned out well. Donnie didn't seem a bit nervous -- even though I was making pictures of the event the entire time.

My friend...well, that's another story. She was a teensy bit nervous but she did pretty good. Until she passed out. I'm only kidding.

Now that the ear piercing ordeal is over, my friend is doing fine and that includes her ears, too.

However she did say, "Right now I'm desperate for new earrings. If they have some they want to give me that would be nice."

Eyes On Mississippi

Burglary By Ex-FmHA Director Uninvestigated

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. -- This column has learned that an incident in which a former director of the Farmers Home Administration was found inside the agency's offices in the downtown federal building on a Sunday night here last month has gone uninvestigated by proper federal authorities.

It involves Pete Perry, the FmHA director who was fired 14 months ago after Sen. Thad Cochran, who initially appointed him, received numerous complaints about the way Perry ran the agency which administers millions of dollars in farm and rural housing loans.

Perry was found inside the agency's offices around 10:30 p.m. Sunday

Sept. 9 by a career employee of the FmHA who had gone to his office to pick up some materials he would need the next several days working in the field.

Don Barrett, who had succeeded Perry as FmHA director in August

1983, confirmed that he had been informed the following day after the incident by Neddie Winters, a 15-year loan specialist. Thus far, Barrett said he had declined to call in investigative authorities because "I don't think it was necessary." Barrett said he had confronted Perry over the telephone as to why and how he had gotten into the agency offices and Perry said he was admitted to the building and offices by

Medical Researchers Deserve Recognition

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

Among the unsung heroes of the ever strengthening battle of mankind against disease are the dedicated research people whose patience, persistence and knowledge constantly have made it possible for humans to live longer and better.

Occasionally from this field come names that live on in history because of their noteworthy discoveries -- such as Pasteur, Currie and Salk. These and scores of others have made the world safer and healthier.

Their ongoing work continues fortunately so that each year new discoveries by these medical pioneers in widely scattered medical laboratories around the nation and world are made which help to stamp out or lessen the effects of many diseases which kill, maim and impair millions of people annually.

One of the best methods of testing theories, illnesses and remedies is the use of animals of a lesser order than humans.

Yet, a short time ago misguided, emotionally-charged animal rightists-activists raided a medical research facility at the University of Pennsylvania and destroyed years of medical research as they stole research animals from the medical lab in an extreme sense of devotion to the cause of animal rights.

The tragedy is that these raiders interrupted research dealing with head injuries, and this interference reportedly means that 700,000 people who are said to suffer annually from extensive head injuries have been cheated out of receiving potentially new treatment. The raiders also took 30 videotapes representing years of research.

That incident gives rise to some reminders of the role of research animals as major contributors to human health progress through years of medical achievement and history.

Survival rates of children with certain types of cancer have risen sharply as a result of new treatment made possible through chemotherapy developed through animal research. Once, victims of

Dear Editor:

The Booneville City School District participated in the National School Lunch Program. Since 1946 this program has made it possible for schools throughout the nation to serve wholesome and nutritious low-cost lunches to students every school day. These lunches make an important contribution to good nutrition, which is vital to your child's mental and physical growth.

Across the United States, schools will be celebrating National School Lunch Week from Oct. 14-20, 1984. The theme for this year's National School Lunch Week celebration is "Champions of Nutrition." During this week we will be serving the Universal Menu -- Marathon Spaghetti, Maestro Tossed Salad, Blue Ribbon Fruit Choices, Honor Roll, Honey-Oatmeal-Raisin Cookie, and TLC Milk. This menu is the same lunch being served in more than 90,000 schools this week across the United States.

To help parents and members of the community learn more about the school lunch program, we invite you to join their students for lunch during National School Lunch Week. Guests will accompany their students through the serving line and pay the regular price for lunch (Student lunches $1.80-90; Adult Lunches $1.25). Our school lunchrooms are more than just filling stations for empty stomachs. Student participation in the school lunch program is important because it not only supplies one-third of your child's daily nutritional requirements, but also introduces your child to new foods, teaches your child better food choices, and helps your child maintain a strong body and an alert mind.

High participation in the school lunch program is the only way the program can provide free and reduced price lunches where needed and low prices for the rest. People who treat lunch at school as a "convenience" -- to use or not to use -- are partly responsible when a price increase is necessary.

Please join us for lunch during National School Lunch Week. Find out from your child what time he or she eats lunch so that you can have lunch together. Reservations must be made by 9 a.m. We are looking forward to having you join us for lunch!

Sincerely,
Cafeteria Managers and Workers, Willie Via

Dear Editor:

Since you are the editor of The Banner-Independent and the spokesman for Pigskin Pete, I will address this letter to you. I am also sending a copy to Pigskin Pete.

For the past few weeks, Pigskin Pete has been criticizing me on my prognosticating. But in the past few weeks I have either tied or beaten him.

In last week's edition of the "Sports Plus," dated September 27, he wrote "By the way, did you notice that I again won the prognosticator's race last week?" Then in the next paragraph he wrote, "I did tie with Doug Jumper and Leighton Miller last week. But they were just lucky and probably won't have another week like that for the rest of the year."

Mr. Woodward, it sounds to me like Pigskin Pete is contradicting himself. But then since he has spent time in South America, that's understandable. I bet his bananas come from Colombia where they are pollinated with pollen from the Cannabis plant.

Sincerely,
Leighton Miller

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward
Managing Editor

As many of you may know from previous columns, I am a cat person. I prefer cats to dogs and, sometimes, to people.

During my four years in New York City I learned numerous ways to avoid human panhandlers, but I am a sucker for a cat with a hard luck story...which explains how we acquired Rags.

When I moved to Booneville, I had a gray, tiger, tabby cat named Donna. We were extremely fond of each other. But she was so possessive that Sara was often tempted to name her as correspondent should she ever decide to divorce me.

My first residence here was an apartment, and the landlord did not allow cats. So, I had to find a new home for Donna. I wrote a sneaky column that was actually a free classified ad looking for a home for her, and she ended up living with a family in Baldwin.

Though not long afterwards I moved into a house, we were still catless for almost a year...until we found Rags.

Sara and I went to McDonalds for breakfast one morning about a month ago. And, sitting next to a trash can as we went in was a weebegone, bedraggled, decrepit looking, gray and white kitten.

His tail had been broken, and it stuck out at a right angle from his bottom, resembling a hand crank on a model-T. His left eye was infected and swollen. And he was filthy. I have seen more prosperous looking winos on the corner of Bowery and Bleeker.

Sara and I both fell in love with him immediately. We discussed his possible adoption over breakfast. And, when we left, he went home with us.

We named him Rags for reasons which should be obvious. Nothing could be done for his askew tail. But the eye did respond to treatment. Rags is blind in it, but it is no longer infected. And he does not appear to miss it.

I, too, have gone through life with one eye, suffering nothing but an inability to participate in sports that require the catching of small, round objects traveling in my direction at a great rate of speed. So Rags and I have some common ground.

There is one more thing about Rags, besides his tail and eye, that makes him unusual. Possibly it comes from bumming around McDonalds at an early age; we are not sure. But he has a strange appetite.

To put it bluntly, Rags is a junk food junkie. He turns his nose up at cat food. But he is crazy about snack food. He loves potato chips, pretzels, Cheetos, peanuts and french fries (preferably from McDonalds, of course.)

But there is one thing he would probably kill for if he had to...something even stranger than Garfield's love for lasagna. Whenever Sara is packing Jason's or Bubba's lunch, or making lunch for her Gremlins, if she is preparing this particular delight, she must also make one for Rags.

I have told Angela about it. But she thinks I made it up. It's...No...You won't believe it, either...Has anyone out there ever seen a cat eating a peanut butter and jelly sandwich?

Miss Kendrick Becomes Bride Of Mack Wayne Garner In July Ceremony

Miss Terecia (Teri) Kendrick and Mack Wayne Garner were united in marriage July 21, at 6:30 p.m. at the First Freewill Baptist Church in Booneville.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kendrick of Booneville and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wayne Garner of Wheeler.

The Rev. Luther Gibson officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Linda Bearden of Booneville and Mrs. Marla Turner of Tupelo assisted in registering the guests.

Jim Pounds and Mitchell Garner, brother of the groom, served as acolytes.

Nuptial music was presented by Bud Davis, organist, Miss Nan Lawrence, flutist, Dean Lawrence, vocalist, and Mrs. Rubye Lawrence, pianist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk venise motifs on silk organza, featuring a portrait neckline and short cap sleeves with hand sewn seed pearls. The cathedral-length train fell from the fitted drop point waistline. A Juliet cap of matching silk organza secured the cathedral length mantilla of Belgian net with silk venise appliques. She wore sheer white ruffled gloves and white lace shoes, both accented with pearls. Her garter, a gift from Ms. Gloria Horton, was cross-stitched with the couples initials and wedding date.

Designed by the bride, the bouquet featured white fuji mums, cascaded with sonia roses, stephanotis, baby's breath, dendrobium orchids, and ivy.

Miss Jennifer Jones served as maid of honor. Mrs. James Jelks Jr., nee Donna Denson, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Ms. Gloria Horton of Memphis, Mrs. Kim Waters and Mrs. Lisa Mosley of Meridian, Miss Gretta Morgan of Booneville, and Miss Monte Garner of Wheeler, sister of the groom.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns in peacock blue. They carried white baskets of sonia flowers and streamers.

Miss Tara Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thomas of Booneville, was flower girl.

Joe Wayne Garner attended his son as best man. Groomsmen were Larry Duncan and Steve Fleming of Wheeler, Paul Eaton and Randy Hill of Booneville, cousins of the groom, Jim Pounds of Madison, and Mitchell Garner of Wheeler, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kendrick chose a floor-length gown in peach and a corsage of white gladiolias. Mrs. Garner chose a teal blue floor-length gown and wore a corsage of peach gladiolias.

Reception

The reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

Greeting the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Walden, Mrs. Claire T. Ross, Mrs. Marjorie Franks, Mrs. Dolye Hodges, and Miss Earline Woods.

Piano music was provided by Bud Davis.

Distributing sonia rosettes in white umbrellas were little Misses Krissy Eaton and Kim Anderson. Tea girls were Miss Cherie Walden and Miss Melanie Green.

Floating hostesses were Miss Terry Coggins and Mrs. Eloise Kendrick.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Mary Joyce Jones and Mrs. Becky Baxter. At the groom's table were Mrs. Robin Smith and Mrs. Sheila Smith. Mrs. Debbie Lauderdale and Mrs. Susan Pounds served punch.

Serving hors d'oeuvres were Mrs. Julie Jordan, Mrs. Paula Ward, Mrs. Katie Lindley, Mrs. Gilda Walden, Mrs. Betty Denson, and Mrs. Madene Boren.

Mrs. Martha Eaton directed the wedding.

For her wedding trip to Charleston and Kiawah Island, S.C., Mrs. Garner wore a peach bastite dress with a smocking design created by Mrs. Anne Caver and Mrs. Claire T. Ross. Mrs. Ruby Garner added matching lace and freshwater pearl buttons.

The couple are residing in Wheeler.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wayne Garner entertained the wedding party with a rehearsal dinner at the Northeast Junior College in the Frank Haney Union on the eve of the wedding.

Teas And Showers

Mrs. Dudley Horton and Ms. Gloria Horton hosted a bridesmaid luncheon on the day of the wedding.

The First Freewill Baptist Church of Booneville hosted a miscellaneous shower in the fellowship hall May 16.

A bridal tea was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Ellzey on June 9. Hostesses were Mrs. Donnie Goddard, Mrs. Martha Eaton, Mrs. Pat Thomas, Mrs. Betty Denson, Mrs. Claire T. Ross, Mrs. Mary Joyce Jones, Mrs. Gilda Walden, Mrs. Billie Morgan, Mrs. Theron Pounds, and Mrs. Ellzey.

The UMW of Carolina Methodist Church of Booneville honored Miss Kendrick with a miscellaneous shower in the church fellowship hall June 24.

The administrative personnel of Internal Medicine Associates of Tupelo, Ltd., hosted a miscellaneous shower June 12.

The Young Adult Class of First Freewill Baptist Church hosted a linen shower in the home of Mrs. Luther Gibson and Lisa on June 16.

The Wheeler Baptist Church was the setting for a miscellaneous bridal shower July 10.

Sons Of Revolution Meet At George E. Allen Library

Incidents involving the Ezekiel Slocumb family of North Carolina was the subject presented by H.H. Daws, program chairman, at the October meeting of the William Gray Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The meeting was held at the George E. Allen Library Oct. 1.

Daws said that while Ezekiel Slocumb was away with the American troops, his home and farm were occupied by Col. Tarleton and about 1,100 British troops. Forced to prepare food for the troops, Mary Slocumb feared that her husband would return and not knowing that the British were there would be captured.

She sent one of the servants to take corn to the mill, but with the real purpose of warning Ezekiel. Slocumb, Mary's brother who was only 13 at the time, and others were then seen pursuing some of the British on horseback.

Daws said the servant was able to call out a warning, but every avenue of escape appeared to be cut off. The American party, galloped straight toward the house, sped on by into the woods back of the farmhouse and escaped into the woods in back.

Daws also recounted other events, which he had found in his genealogical research, during which he learned that he is a direct descendant of Ezekiel and Mary Slocumb.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. Webster Cleveland Jr., President, and Dr. John Maddox of Kossuth gave the invocation.

Thomas Wallis of Baldwin led the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Hospitality chairman Gaines Griffin of Tishomingo extended a welcome to the guests.

The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 5.

Men over 18 who are lineal descendants of someone who contributed to the Revolutionary War effort are invited to inquire about membership requirements by contacting one of the members.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY -- Mrs. R.H. Kelly of the Blackland community celebrated her 85th birthday Oct. 5. Mrs. Kelly has 10 children, 30 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Five Kindergarten Workshops Scheduled

Mississippi school districts will soon be receiving help in filing applications needed to implement kindergarten programs.

The State Department of Education has scheduled five workshops in October designed to help districts in making the program application necessary to implement kindergartens. "The application procedure will be explained and participants will be advised on the mechanics of completing the procedure," said Dr. Cathy Grace, SDE early childhood coordinator.

The Education Reform Act mandates that all school districts shall have kindergarten programs by the 1986-87 school year.

The workshop for this area will be held at the Oxford High School auditorium from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Oct. 30.

Okeelala Festival To Feature Pet Show

If it squeaks, squawks, hoots, hollers, barks, brays, crawls, ambles, or just plain walks on two to four legs (eight for a tarantula), it's welcome to participate in the annual Okeelala Festival pet show at Latimer Park in Baldwin, Saturday, Oct. 20, at 2 p.m.

Registration begins at 1 p.m. although animals do not have to be registered or purebred, all pedigreed or not - are invited to compete.

The format of the show this year has been adjusted to accommodate past exhibitor interests. There are six classes: large dogs, small dogs, cats, and unusual pets which are for children only; a class for dogs exhibited by adults only; and an obedience class for dogs in which children or adults may compete.

There will be ribbons to third place in each class. The first place winner in each class will then compete for the best-in-show trophy. Entry fee for each class is $1.

All entries must have current vaccinations and dogs must have current parvo shots for their own protection. Water must be provided by the owner and animals must be under control of their handlers at all times. Participants will be judged on appearance, presentation, and obedience.

For more information call Charlene Gilliland at 365-5578 or Kay Frederick at 728-5444.

October 11, 1984

Friends,

We just want to take this opportunity to thank you for helping make our first year in Booneville a successful one. Without your support and continuous patronage we could not offer you the highest in quality and style.

Since our opening we have added several well-known gift items. We now have the Hummel figurine collection along with our other beautiful figurines. Also we have just up-graded our brass selection with the famous Baldwin Brass. Our selection of Lenox china entitles us to buy the beautiful Deep-cut Lenox crystal and ivory china accessories. These make lovely gifts for any occasion.

To accompany those special gifts or for any occasion. We have extended our gift shop to accommodate a full line of Hallmark cards, Christmas ornaments, candles, and party accessories. We also have Hallmark albums and stationery. All of the new items are combined with our regular selection of gifts to better meet your needs.

We want you to accept this as a personal invitation to come shop and prepare for the upcoming holidays. Our anniversary sale will start on October 11. We will look forward to seeing you.

Sincerely,

Grace Barber

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

There are a number of steps that can be taken to reduce winter injury of ornamentals in the landscape: Select only plants that are known for their winter hardiness. Winter hardiness is a genetic factor. It cannot be chemically or culturally increased for a prolonged period of time over and above the inherited genetic hardiness. In areas where plants are to be fully exposed in adverse, stressed locations, select only species that have a long history of hardiness.

Architectural structures like buildings, walls and mounds drastically alter environmental conditions. Reflected light from walls and reflected heat from masonry add stress to evergreen plants during cold, sunny winter days. Placing broadleaf evergreens under such conditions other results in death or in injuries from scorch or desiccation.

Scorch is a combination of excessive transpiration caused by high light intensity, heat and the inability of the plant to translocate sufficient water through the stem to the foliage because of freezing temperatures. In such locations, deciduous plants and certain narrowleaf evergreens with adequate winter hardiness and drought resistance are more suitable. If less winter-hardy species are desirable, plant them on the northern and eastern sides of walls, building and mounds. These architectural structures will provide some winter protection from scorch.

Late summer irrigation has been reported to be an effective means of minimizing winter injury. Providing adequate irrigation during the months of August, September and October is most important. Watering the plants thoroughly just before the ground freezes also assures an ample water supply and delays freezing of the soil. Roots in soil are much more resistant to freezing than a dry soil.

Contrary to beliefs, fall fertilizing with nitrogen can help reduce winter injury to broadleaf and narrowleaf evergreens and improve spring growth. In nitrogen-deficient soils, many broadleaf evergreens (such as azaleas, rhododendrons and hollies) often drop their lower leaves during winter months. Fall fertilizing with slow release nitrogen after a frost seems to be effective. However, the fertilizer application should be delayed until after the first killing frost and should not be applied on plants that are exhibiting fertilizer stress.

Although the natural tendency is to mulch in the spring, mulching should actually be done in the fall. Fall mulching takes advantage of the insulating value of organic mulches. Loosening existing mulch or applying a fresh layer of mulch will help insulate and keep the soil warmer. A good layer of fresh mulch will also help minimize the depth at which the soil will freeze.

However, for those growing hybrid tea or floribunda roses, mulching the graft union with soil should be delayed until just before the ground freezes. Mulching roses too early causes a de-hardening of the graft union and makes the canes more susceptible to cold injury.

Exercise caution when mulching slopes that face south or west and landscape plantings near structure facing west or south. A heavy mulch in these areas will prevent the ground from thawing rapidly in later winter, when the moisture needs of the plants are increasing.

Avoid over-mulching. Over-mulching of landscape plants is becoming a serious problem. It causes suffocation of the original root system and encourages new roots to grow into the mulch layer for those species that are able to root readily. Because the mulch layer is elevated and does not retain water well, roots developing into this layer are extremely susceptible to minimum root-killing temperatures. Many over-mulched plants were lost during the winter of 1976-77 and 1983-84 because the majority of their roots had developed into the surface mulch layer.

For more information concerning winter injury to ornamentals come by the county Extension office, or call 728-5631.

Home Economist's Notes

By PATTY K. ROBINSON
Extension Home Economist

Financial pressures created by the rising costs of energy, housing, food and transportation can really put the squeeze on available clothing dollars. Guidelines are essential for planning expenditures and obtaining greater satisfaction from clothing purchases when cash flow dwindles.

The amount spent for clothing should be proportional to the time the item will be worn. A successful wardrobe reflects your lifestyle.

Identify reasons why specific garments are seldom worn. Try to avoid these pitfalls on future purchases.

A yearly plan for clothing purchase may prove helpful. Plan not only what items will be needed but consider when and where they will be purchased. Garage sales, discount and outlet stores often provide a reasonable alternative to regular retail stores.

Home sewing can be a productive alternate to purchasing ready-to-wear; however, do consider the investment of equipment, cost of notions and personal time. Home sewing often produces greater benefits in workmanship, quality of fabric and fit.

Dates to remember: Nov. 12 - Blazer Class - Learn speed tailoring techniques - Classes begin Nov. 12, must pre-register by Nov. 1, call 728-7092. Sewing experience required. Class will be offered at 1:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the County Extension Office.

Oct. 25 - 1:30 p.m., County Extension Office, Seminol Patchwork - Learn the basics of Seminol Patchwork. This is for a strip piecing developed by the Seminole Indian women.

Oct. 18 - George E. Allen Library, 7 p.m. - Diabetic and Special Diets - A program designed to help people understand the importance of their special diet and receive help from trained dietitians concerning their diet.

You can find answers to your questions about energy, clothing, nutrition, family relationships and lots of other subjects. You will be kept up-to-date on programs, lessons, exhibits and workshops being offered. This information is sent to you through the Extension Home Economics Newsletter.

If you wish to receive free copies of the newsletter, send your name and complete mailing address to the Prentiss County Extension Office, P.O. Box 151, Booneville, Miss.

ASCS News

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

We will begin accepting applications for the 1985 farm programs on Oct. 15. Secretary of Agriculture John Block recently announced acreage reduction programs for corn, grain, sorghum, barley, oats, rice and cotton. The wheat program was announced in June.

In a continued effort to avoid overproduction and low prices, the farm programs call for a 25 percent reduction in rice, a 30 percent reduction in wheat and upland cotton, and a 10 percent reduction in feed grain and extra long staple cotton acres.

As a part of that reduction, program participants will receive payments for diverting 10 percent of their wheat and upland cotton acres, or for diverting 15 percent of their rice acres. At signup, farmers may request one half of the land diversion payments, and one half of the projected 1985 deficiency payments for upland cotton, feed grains, wheat and rice. Farmers who accept the payments and fail to comply with program provisions must refund the amount of the advance payment with interest.

To protect land removed from crop production, farmers will be required to place it in an acreage conservation reserve (ACR). ACR land must have been devoted to a row crop or small grains in two of the last three years. For summer fallow acreage, the cropping requirement is one of the last two years.

The ASCS official said acreage reduction program contracts are binding and liquidated damages will be assessed for failure to comply with program requirements.

For additional program details, farmers may contact the county ASCS office at 105 College St., telephone 601-728-3541 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

SINCE THE U.S. Department of Agriculture does not require participation in production adjustment programs as a condition of eligibility for soybean loans, all producers of 1984 soybeans are eligible for price support loans on the crop. Soybeans are ineligible for any reserve program or for storage payment, however.

The loan and purchase rate for Prentiss County's 1984 soybean crop is $5.08 per bushel, the same as last year's rate. The loan rate is based on the national average loan level of $5.02 per bushel, and applies to soybeans graded No. 2. Soybean prices are expected to average between $5.75 and $7.25 a bushel for the season.

Local farmers placed over 30,000 bushels of 1983-crop soybeans under price support loan. The program enables farmers to obtain operating cash and hold their crop for possibly higher prices later in the year.

USDA's September crop production report shows that soybean production in the State could total 87,750,000 bushels this year. The 1984 forecast is more than 1983's 56,425,000 bushels.

Mississippi farmers expect to harvest 3,250,000 soybean acres and realize an average crop yield of 27 bushels per harvested acre.

U.S. soybean production is forecast at 2.04 billion bushels, 30 percent more than the 1983 crop. Farmers planted 68.2 million acres of soybeans in 1984, about 150,000 more than previously expected.

Pumpkins On 'Farmweek'

The Farmweek television series has a colorful pre-Halloween treat for viewers at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 15, on Mississippi ETV.

Pumpkin production in Mississippi is the topic, and the Farmweek team goes to Yalobusha County for the story. Yalobusha County farmers grow more pumpkins than farmers in any other Mississippi county.

Market prices and analyses, along with farm news, a calendar of upcoming events of interest to farmers, specific timely production advice, feature stories and weather forecasts are included on all Farmweek programs.

The series is co-produced by Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

to the low consumption of milk during the teen and young womanhood years. The eating of cheese is an excellent way for these poor milk drinkers to increase their calcium.

The daily intake of calcium from birth to old age influences the amount of calcium stored in the bones. The greater the bone density at age 35, the less the risk of developing osteoporosis in later life.

The 1,064 4-H'ers enrolled in the 4-H dairy foods project are discovering more and more ways to use cheese, milk and dairy foods for greater nutrition.

Yet a recent survey on consumption found that the use of cheese did not appear to be affected by the weight or cholesterol issues. No doubt too, cheese has made some inroads in serving as a meat substitute because of its high nutritional values. The pizza parlors and burger places have increased the use of cheese. At 10 pounds of milk needed for each pound of cheese, this requires a large amount of America's milk for cheese making.

Many teenage girls are very poor milk drinkers. Osteoporosis — a thinning of the bone is a serious problem in women which is linked

Final 1984 Crop Soybean Loan Rate

The final loan and purchase rate for 1984-crop soybeans will be $5.02 per bushel, the same as the preliminary rate announced earlier and the minimum permitted by law, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said all producers of 1984-crop soybeans will be eligible for loans and purchases, since USDA does not require farmers to take part in production adjustment programs as a condition of eligibility.

The fall season means colorful leaves, football, back to school and believe it or not, a great increase in cheese consumption. The summer months seem to be big for ice cream with fall the big time for cheese.

The type cheese most popular with American households is natural cheese which represents about 70 percent of the market. Next in popularity is American processed cheese. The cheese spreads and cheese foods follow next in popularity.

Popularity of cheese by regions shows the north central and northeast U.S. first and second with the south last in regions for consumption. However, recent years have shown an increase in consumption in the south.

The National Dairy Promotion and Research Board has just approved the spending of $24 million on the promotion of cheese. This promotion has already begun.

Per capita consumption of milk fat has been declining for 20 years or more mostly because of substitutes, weight control, and diet-heart concern.

BOONEVILLE MUSICIAN HONORED — Nan Lawrence (left), a senior at Booneville High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lawrence of Booneville, has been nominated to the 1984 McDonald's All-American High School Band. She was nominated for the All-American Band by Booneville High School band director Greg Fant on the basis of her musical honors and solo contest ratings. "It's a pleasure for us to see motivated young people get the recognition they deserve," said Ed Weeks, who operates the McDonald's restaurant in Booneville. "We're proud of Nan because only the best high school musicians in the country are nominated to the All-American Band." Also pictured is David Underwood, general manager of McDonald's in Booneville.

Elementary PTO Plans Carnival

The Booneville Elementary Parent-Teacher Organization meeting was held Oct. 8.

The meeting was opened with the invocation by Wade Oaks.

President Ronnie Sweeney welcomed the group and recognized David Bolen for remarks concerning the Compulsory School Attendance Law. He explained the "Explanation of Student Absence" forms.

President Ronnie Sweeney opened the discussion concerning the Halloween Carnival. He explained the details of the carnival as suggested by the officers and volunteers.

Sweeney briefly discussed possible projects for this year. He mentioned a copy machine, a concrete slab to later support a physical education building, and the construction of a physical education building.

Principal Bolen announced that the PTO would not meet in November.

Marietta Gamefield Walk Dedicated

The Wells Fargo Gamefield Walk at Marietta Park held its dedication Friday, Oct. 5 at the park.

The Gamefield walk is a health fitness program.

Those that were instrumental in getting the walk were Kenneth Wilburn, Carl Yearber, H.B. Lindsey, fourth district supervisor and the Lions Club members working with Eddie Forester, associate administrator of North Mississippi Medical Center, Tupelo;

Gary Daily in charge of fitness programs, North Mississippi Medical Center, Mayor Jimmy Pharr and Board of Aldermen and Frank Cable, director of plant operations.

Special recognition was given to Jack Hughes and Boyd McGlaun for the upkeep of the park and walk.

MARIJUANA CONFISCATED — Law authorities arrested Beulah Leach Anderson of 806 N. Lake St., Booneville, Oct. 3, and charged her with possession of controlled substance for resale. Officers confiscated about 11 ozs. of marijuana at her residence. Some of the

PARKER HANNIFIN DONATION — Dick Mullen (second from right), plant manager at Parker Hannifin presented checks to the Booneville Fire Department and Police Department Monday, Oct. 8, from the Parker Hannifin Foundation. The contribution was made to the two departments because the company wanted their contribution to benefit the community as a whole, Mullen said. "This was a generous contribution," Mayor Charles Crabb said. "It shows the community spirit Parker Hannifin has." Pictured are (l-r) Fire Chief Frank Fleming, Mayor Crabb, Mullen, and Police Chief Bobby Lambert. (Photo By Angela Smith)

2,500 Signatures Collected

Petitioners May Take PCEPA Board To Court

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Prentiss County Electric Power Association members may go to court in their attempt to oust the present board of directors, according to Booneville attorney Ed Jenkins.

"We are still looking at the possibility of filing suit, and the several different avenues...different types of suits we can file," Jenkins, whose law firm partner Thomas Comer, is spokesman for the members group that has been circulating two petitions, said.

One petition calls for a special members meeting at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3 for the purpose of "voting for removal of all directors and election of new directors."

The second petition lists the 13 directors along with charges against them and demands that they be removed.

"I think everybody is still interested in something happening, and a suit is what we're looking at,"

Jenkins said.

The group began circulating the petitions after the PCEPA board refused to call a quorum for the regular annual members meeting Aug. 31. Though 1,398 memberships were present at the Bonner Arnold Coliseum, this was short off the 1560 required by the cooperative's by-laws.

At the time the members began circulating the petitions, the by-laws required only the signatures of 20 percent of the members to call a special meeting. But the board passed new by-laws, which became effective Sept. 12, which add new requirements.

Each signature must now be exactly as the member is registered with the cooperative and include the date and individual account number.

Comer has said since most members do not have such information readily available, such petitions would be virtually impossible to complete.

Comer told The Daily Corinthian on Friday, Oct. 5, that 2,500 signatures had been collected (20 percent of the PCEPA's 10,400 members would be approximately 2,080) and the petitions would probably be presented to the board within the week.

"Since they changed the rules in the by-laws on us on those petitions, even though we've got a bunch of names, that just indicates that the people want some changes, and the power company is just refusing to make them," Jenkins said.

"They're bordering on depriving us of constitutional rights, and we're going to look at that aspect and a couple of other avenues as far as what sort of lawsuit to file," he said.

Jenkins said the odds are "definitely in favor of the members taking the issue to court."

Agents

would at one time write in the country on houses worth $30,000 and on up," Parker said. "But, over a period of years, they've changed their rules and regulations to where, now, they write only in the city, it has to be a $50,000 house, or better, plus it has to have central heat.

"In the rural business there is a lot of what we consider lower value houses...$20,000, $25,000, $30,000 or $35,000 value frame and brick homes. And these are the type of business the insurance companies are losing money on," Parker said.

He said this was mainly because of the likelihood of total destruction in the event of fire. "One of the most common types of fire is a kitchen grease fire. And, in the city, if a person has a grease fire, the fire department gets there in time to hold the damage to between $4,000 and $7,000.

"But, if the home is five to 10 miles out of town, by the time the pumper gets there, that grease fire has a good start. And, about the time it looks like it's under control, the pumper runs out of water.

"In that case, you end up with $30,000 to $40,000 damage," Parker said.

He said there have been several recent instances of insurance companies becoming insolvent from writing too much high risk business. He cited State Security Insurance Co. as an example.

Parker said, though a larger insurance company usually absorbs the insolvent company's holdings, there is no guarantee the new company will be able to honor the old companies obligations. And, in that case, the company's customers will lose money.

Parker said one of the goals of the new agents organization was to search for solutions to these problems locally. The organization will meet for breakfast at 7:30 a.m. on the second Monday of each month, and all Booneville agents are urged to attend, he said.

an FmHA employee who invited him down to "talk about some personal and professional problems."

However, Perry declined to identify the employee, inferring that he preferred for the FmHA staffer to confirm the fact himself to Barrett. Perry had also told Barrett that he had turned in his keys to the building and office to the proper staff persons when he departed in August, 1983.

Barrett admitted to this writer that he had questioned all the agency employees who work out of that office and none said they had brought Perry into the office that night.

Also, staff members who are in charge of the keys said that Perry had never turned in his keys when he left the agency.

Winters told this writer he had gone to his office that Sunday night to make photocopies he would need in his work outside the office the next several days. Thinking he was alone in the partially lighted suite of offices, Winters was startled when he heard a clicking noise that sounded like a brief case being closed.

Going into the hallway to see where the sound had come from, Winters said he saw a man with a brief case moving quickly away from the section where farmers loan records are kept, and down the hallway towards double doors leading out of the FmHA suite.

When he recognized the man as Perry, Winters said he called Perry's name. Perry hesitated a moment, turned his head and spoke to Winters. The man continued on until Winters heard the outside doors click shut.

"I didn't ask him what he was doing there. I just spoke to him," Winters, a black man, declared. The veteran federal employee said he did not see anyone else with Perry. "I might have seen a shadow when I first looked, but I don't know," he added.

Barrett refused to confirm information received by this column that a file found open on a desk in the farmers loan section was that of P.L. Blake, the large-scale agricultural operator from Greenwood who has been the target of recent national investigative news stories about his multi-million dollar loan dealings with FmHA.

Perry, who headed the state FmHA agency from April, 1981 until being fired in 1983, was, according to informed sources, very much at odds with Blake.

"We have no reason to believe anything is missing from our files," Barrett told this column. He said that none of the loan files, which contain extensive financial information about loan applicants, are kept locked.

Barrett said it was not until several days after the incident that he had informed his national office, and, as of the end of the past week he had not called in the Agriculture Department's Office of Inspector General that conducts investigations.

"If nobody comes fourth shortly and says they were with Perry up here that night, I will have to turn it over to somebody else," Barrett declared. Meantime, a magnolia-scented Watergate could be brewing.

Ag Affairs

childhood leukemia faced almost certain death, but today have a complete remission rate of about 90 percent due to effective experiments with animals.

Polio, a dreaded crippler of the 1930's, was conquered following research on cats, dogs and rhesus monkeys by Dr. Jonas Salk. As a result the widespread use of immunization sprays with an obnoxious yellow medicine so prevalent over Mississippi during those times are today only unpleasant memories for those of ages beyond 50 years.

High blood pressure was nearly uncontrollable until hypertension drugs were developed in research labs aided by animal testing procedures.

When the world was both shocked and thrilled by announcement of Dr.

Christian Bernard's first human heart transplant in 1967 few people realized the years of organ transplant that had preceded that event here in Mississippi.

Dr. James Hardy, head of the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, had begun research using animals for transplant purposes shortly after the center opened in 1955.

Dr. Hardy headed a surgical team that in 1964 implanted the heart of a chimpanzee into a hopeless heart patient who had been a stand-by for a human heart if one had been available under the rigid medical requirements of that period.

The heart functioned for over an hour following implantation as the world's first heart transplant, and the medical world thrilled to a new era of vital organ transplant possibilities.

Dr. Hardy also pioneered lung implantation.

There still are diseases yet to be conquered or controlled such as multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, cystic fibrosis and Alzheimer's disease.

Intensive biomedical research is ongoing to help discover cures and relief from these crippling ailments. Much of this work largely depends on lab animals utilized in lieu of humans.

In their thoughtless rush to see that animals are not treated cruelly, those devoted unreasonably to animal welfare should look at the role of animals as contributors to human health before trying to take matters into their own unwitting hands with a result that all humanity must pay in many ways for their folly.

BHS Insights

By KIMI DROWN
BHS Journalism Student

It's the Germlins; it's the "V"; no, it's just Homecoming Week at Booneville High School!

This has been a fun, spirit-filled week for the Booneville students. Each day almost everyone has dressed in different costumes.

Monday was "Fifties Day," in which students brought back the poodle skirts, rolled-up jeans, and letterman jackets.

On Tuesday, "Halloween Day," Dracula, pirates, and even Bugs Bunny haunted the BHS halls.

Wednesday, on "Kiddie Day," school was filled with diapers, bottles, blankets, and stuffed bears.

"Twinkle Day," two or more students dressing up alike, was a new day added to the BHS Homecoming Week. Also, on Thursday, a bonfire will be held to cheer the Devils to victory.

On Friday, the final day of Homecoming Week, students will support the Devils by wearing all 'blue and gold.'

SEVERAL OTHER Homecoming

activities will occur Friday. The weekly pep rally will be held Thursday night at the bonfire.

At 3 p.m. a parade will be held which will include the Homecoming court, BHS band, cheerleaders, and class floats. That night the Devils will scramble against the Baldwin Bearcats, which promises to be an exciting game.

The pre-game show will include BHS's Homecoming court. Later that night, BHS students will "jam" at the Homecoming dance concluding Homecoming Week.

Other maids, not listed in last week's column, are Dawn Wilhite and Rosemary Friar, football maids; Cammie Sweeney, 12th grade maid; and Collette McGee, homecoming maid.

The Homecoming court escorts are Paul Saylor, 8th grade; Jonathan Davis, 9th grade; Matt Latch, 10th grade; John Lindsey, 11th grade;

Mark Duncan, 12th grade; Jim Caver, queen escort; Mike Jones and Eddie Jumper, football escorts; and Sammy Tynes, homecoming maid escort.

J'Town Welcomes Exchange Students

Jumpertown High School began a new school term with two new faces, Mika Taniguchi from Sapporo, Japan, and Hiroshi Tsubota from Kyoto, Japan.

Mika is alternating semesters with Mr. and Mrs. K.B. Robinson and Cindy and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Lauderdale, Craig and Rhonda.

Hiroshi is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Norman English.

A welcome party was given for the exchange students Sept. 15, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Lauderdale.

Serving as co-hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Norman English, Mr. and Mrs. K.B. Robinson and Dot Wagon.

As guests approached the Lauderdale residence, a flashing neon sign beckoned from the driveway bearing the greeting "Welcome Hiroshi and Mika."

THE PATIO carried out a Japanese theme. Refreshment tables with matching cloths were decorated with easels holding Japanese fans and umbrellas, given as favors.

Japanese food was also served, complete with chopsticks and an assortment of American party snacks.

A variety of cakes, along with birthday cakes for two classmates, Brent Mauney and Lori Green, were served.

Planned activities for the guests included volleyball, pool, and ping-pong.

Some 76 guests called during the appointed hours.

Snack tips for healthy teeth:

1. Have one hearty snack instead of several small snacks.
2. Eat raw vegetables
3. Eat fresh or canned fruits in natural juice as "sweets"
4. Brush teeth after snacking
5. Select sugar free gum

Snacks that harm the teeth:

1. Foods that stick to the teeth
2. Soft, chewy or hard, slow melting candies
3. Sugar sweetened foods or drinks
4. Frequent or continual snacking.

Booneville School Menu

National School Lunch Week will be observed Oct. 14-20 across the nation. The theme for this year is "Champions of Nutrition."

Monday, Oct. 15

Chicken nuggets with sweet and sour sauce, whole potatoes with cheese, green peas or buttered broccoli, buttered hot roll, jello pudding pop, milk.

Tuesday, Oct. 16

Hamburger or cheeseburger,

Two Local People Recognized In National Awards To Mississippi ETV

Mississippi ETV has won the First Place Award for Most Outstanding Effort in the 1984 National Promotion-Utilization Contest sponsored by the Agency for Instructional Television (AIT). AIT is a national agency that distributes instructional television programs to local stations and networks.

"We have come a long way since the days when ETV first signed on the air almost 15 years ago," said F. Lee Morris, executive director of Mississippi ETV, "and progress is continuing with 83 percent of Mississippi schools utilizing television in their classrooms." Mississippi ETV won the first-place award for its efforts in promotion and utilization of instructional television in schools. ETV's utilization branch was cited in the competition as well as the other departments at ETV that are directly involved in helping schools to best utilize educational television: art, public information, programming, production, engineering and education.

ETV's utilization branch, a part of the education division, is composed of specially trained educators, called utilization

NEMJC Introduces New Cultural Program Format

After consideration by the cultural arts committee at Northeast Junior College, activities usually confined the traditional Cultural Arts Week will be spread throughout the year. Committee chairman W.T. Rutledge was supported by the committee when he suggested the change and Dean Joe Childers released a schedule of events that Rutledge said had been worked on during the summer.

The theater department's fall contribution to the arts will be a dinner theater featuring "The Man Who Came to Dinner." The play will be presented to students Monday, Nov. 5 and faculty, staff and the general public Tuesday, Nov. 6.

The art department will sponsor a workshop featuring world renowned artist Bill Baggett of the University of Southern Mississippi. The workshop is scheduled for Oct. 25-26. Baggett is known for his works hanging in embassy buildings all over the world. John Maxwell, who performs the show entitled "Oh Mr. Faulkner - Do you Write?" will appear Nov. 16 compliments of the Northeast English Department.

The music department will sponsor several performances for students. It will also host a one-hour clinic and 45-minute program by classical guitarist John DeChairo of USM Thursday, Nov. 8.

Music department instructors Wade Irvin and Shirley Taylor plan a recital with Irvin on woodwinds and Taylor on keyboards. Also, students who participate in the Jazz Band, Country & Western Ensemble and the group The Blue Grass Boys will play for students some time during the semester.

More information about specific programs will be released as scheduled dates grow near.

First-Line Management Course At Tupelo

A first-line management training program is scheduled to start Oct. 24 at the Tupelo branch campus of the University of Mississippi. This is a six-week seminar meeting once a week for three hours per session on Tuesday afternoons.

This program is a segment of the national model for technical career development, more commonly referred to as the Tupelo model. The Tupelo model is a joint civic effort to upgrade professional skills in response to industry's stated needs.

The cooperative efforts involve the public school systems, the junior colleges and universities and industry. The inspiration for the joint venture is being provided by Tupelo's Community Development Foundation and the Tennessee Valley Authority who adopted the Tupelo model earlier as a research project.

During the research phase, supervisor and manager training was identified by representatives from industry as being one of the most important considerations the model needed to provide.

The supervisory management seminar is a part of management development training series and was developed in response to this earlier identified priority.

"The supervisory management seminar addressed itself to the role of the supervisor, effective communications, motivating employees for job performance, leadership, performance appraisal, coaching and counseling and constructive employee discipline," said Ed Younk, Director of the Tupelo branch.

"Attendance at the seminar will be limited in order that the participants may achieve greater learning effectiveness. It is intended that this seminar will be presented on a quarterly basis so that companies may phase their personnel, in an orderly fashion, through the program without disturbing their production schedules," Younk said.

Band Searches For Former Members

The reunion of old friends and the start of a new tradition will become part of the homecoming festivities Nov. 3 at the University of Southern Mississippi.

The new tradition is the Pride of Mississippi Alumni Band, announced USM Associate Director of Bands and "Pride of Mississippi" Marching Band Director Kelly Love. It will perform during half-time of the 5 p.m. homecoming game against Northwestern Louisiana.

The only source of names of former Pride members, Love said, is taken from the USM Alumni Association rolls. Alumni are asked to contact former Pride members or to let USM know how to contact them.

Respond by contacting the USM Alumni Association at Southern Station Box 5013, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406. Additional information may be obtained from Love at Southern Station Box 5032 or by calling 266-4990.

Bell & Big Plays Beat Booneville Blue Devils

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Ripley running back Jimmy Bell rushed for 190 yards on just nine carries and scored on runs of 77, 76 and 42 yards to power the Ripley Tigers to a 33-13 victory over the visiting Booneville Blue Devils last Friday night.

Bell's big plays proved costly to the Blue Devils, who had otherwise completely stopped the Ripley attack.

Booneville coach Wayne Jones agreed that the big plays by the Tiger runner were the difference in the game. "Those three big runs of his for scores really killed our chances," Jones said.

"We just had a breakdown with our defensive backs and he poured on the steam once he got out in the open. But, anybody can run into the end zone once they get as open as he was. All it took was just getting out there. And after that it was just a matter of how long it was going to take," Jones said.

Bell showed everyone on the first play of the game, however, that he was no fluke. The Ripley runner started inside, then cut outside and found open field.

Seventy-seven yards and eleven seconds later, the Tigers had their first score of the game. Charles Childers' extra point gave the Tigers a 7-0 first period lead.

On the Tigers' next possession, Bell swept right and went almost the same distance, 76 yards, into the endzone. The speedy runner had already gained 153 yards on just two carries, and the night was still young. Childers' second PAT gave Ripley a commanding 14-0 lead.

Bell pulled off the hat-trick only moments later in the period when he scooted 42 yards to paydirt. But, Booneville defensive end Alan "Bulldog" Tollison blocked the extra point attempt to keep the score at 20-0.

Although the Devils couldn't manage a score in the first half, the Booneville defense held the Tigers to only Bell's three big plays.

Linebacker Kevin Eubank was named the defensive player of the game after gaining 10 solo tackles, 7 assists and causing a fumble.

His efforts, Tollison's, that of defensive end Rodney McVey, who left the game in the early going with a hurt knee, and the contributions of linebacker Dal Stell allowed Booneville to remain somewhat more equal to the Tigers than the final score would indicate.

The Tigers came back out in the second half and added 13 points to their lead to take full control of the game.

John Ray went into the end zone from eight yards out for the first Ripley score in the quarter. And once Chris Lewellen had plunged into the end zone from a yard out for the second touchdown, the Tigers had built a comfortable 33 point lead with only a quarter remaining.

But the Devils fought back and showed some pride in the final stanza as they prevented the shutout. Running back Buddy Bartlett broke loose for 185 yards on just eight carries to prove that Bell wasn't the only one who could get the long scoring run.

Bartlett, who was named the offensive player of the game, broke loose on a 68 yard reverse early in the final period to give the Blue Devils their first score. Booneville's try for the two-point conversion failed, leaving the score at 33-6.

Minutes later, Bartlett went 55 yards on the exact same play for his and Booneville's second touchdown. Fullback Jimbo Goddard plowed into the endzone for the two-point conversion to end the scoring for both teams.

Both of Bartlett's scores came off of the wing reverse. But he gave all the credit on the scores to the linemen, not himself.

"Kevin (lineman Eubank) and Rob (lineman Rogers) really gave me a couple of great blocks out there," Bartlett said. "Also, Jimbo (fullback Goddard) and Jeff (wingback Williams) made great fakes in the line. They had everybody fooled."

Coach Jones said he was pleased with the performance by Bartlett, even though the Devils lost the game. "We knew he was capable of this type of game and we have been expecting it all year," Jones said. "Maybe this will give him some confidence for the rest of the year."

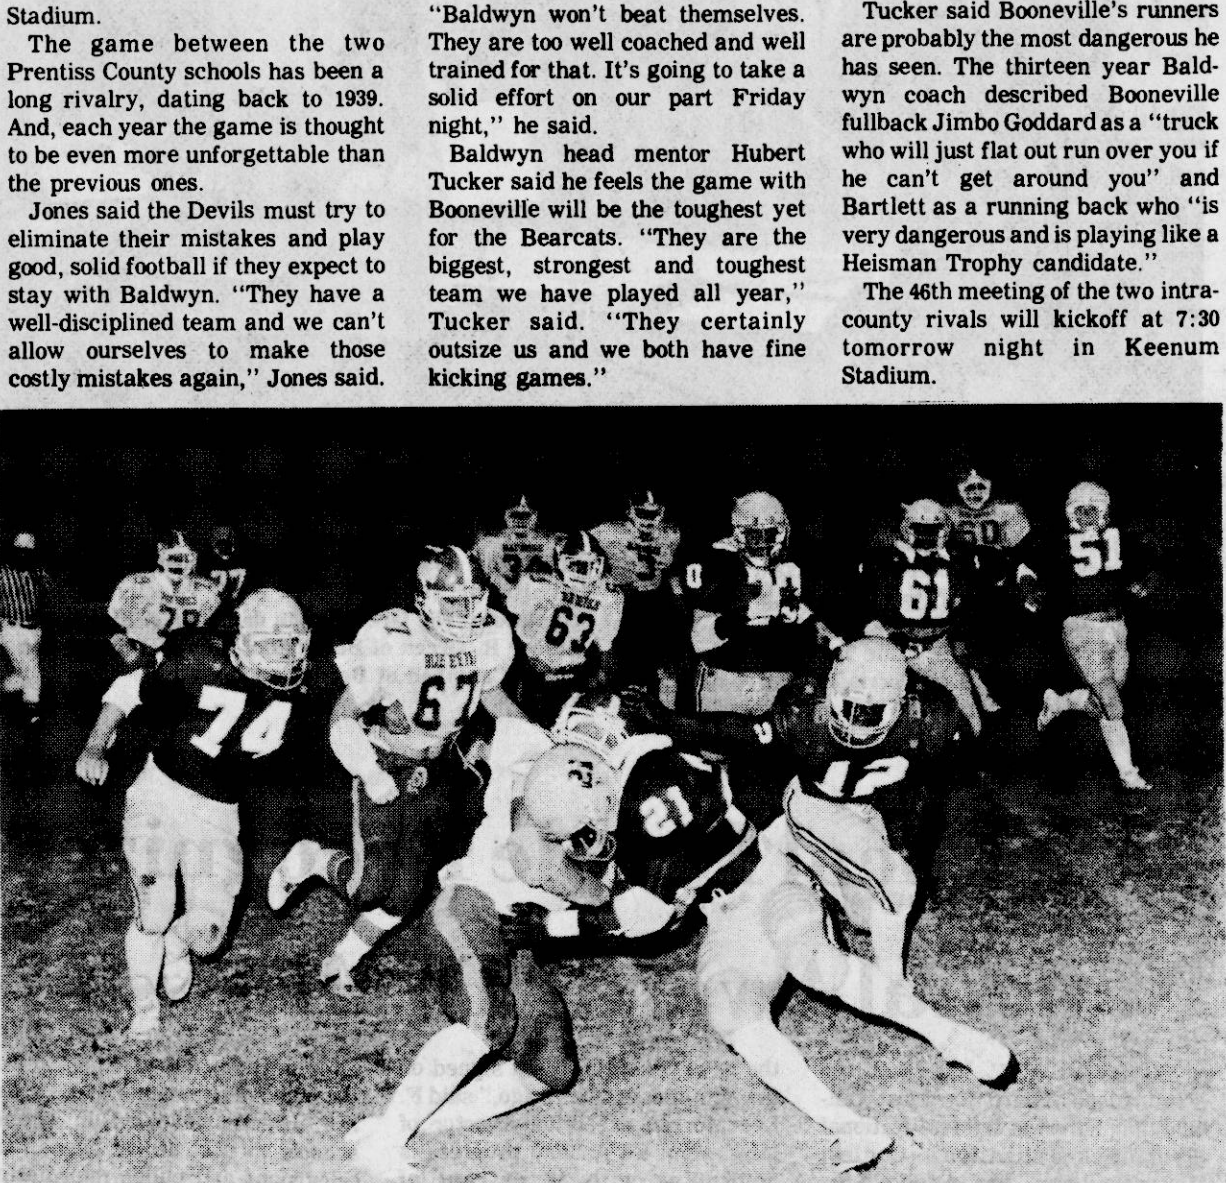

Bartlett said Monday the reason he had done so poorly all year was his attitude.

"I didn't really have a good attitude about anything at the start of the season," Bartlett said. "But, now, I really feel good about myself and the team, and I just want us to win. I have gotten everything worked out and I'm ready to play."

Bartlett and the rest of the Blue Devils will find out tomorrow night how ready they actually are when they host the undefeated and fourth-ranked Baldwin Bearcats in the Devils' homecoming in Keenum Stadium.

The game between the two Prentiss County schools has been a long rivalry, dating back to 1939. And, each year the game is thought to be even more unforgettable than the previous ones.

Jones said the Devils must try to eliminate their mistakes and play good, solid football if they expect to stay with Baldwin. "They have a well-disciplined team and we can't allow ourselves to make those costly mistakes again," Jones said.

GODDARD ON THE MOVE -- Booneville runner Jimbo Goddard appears to be stopped after a short gain by a Ripley Tiger during the Devils' recent game against the Tigers. Rob Rogers (67) and Dal Stell (63) move in to aid Goddard.

Tigers Lose Sixth Straight
On Rain-Soaked Field

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

After some debate and confusion on whether the game would be played at all, the Itawamba Junior College Indians slipped and slid to a 29-14 victory over rival Northeast Tigers in a downpour at Keenum Stadium Saturday night.

A steady rain had fallen all day, making the field less than ideal for playing football. But, 30 minutes before game time, the bottom fell out and the rain came in buckets the rest of the night, causing turnover after turnover for both teams.

But Northeast coach David Carnell said the weather was not the biggest factor in the game. "It was just as wet for them as it was for us," Carnell said.

"We probably would have thrown the ball a little more if the weather had been better. But, I don't think the weather hurt us any more than it did them."

The Tigers remained in the North Division cellar after suffering their sixth consecutive setback. IJC snapped a four game losing streak and pulled one game ahead of Northeast in the division.

The Indians opened the scoring in the second period after both teams failed to accomplish much in the opening stanza. With Northeast facing fourth down deep in their own territory, IJC put the rush on Tiger punter Mark McCreary of Booneville and blocked the punt attempt.

IJC's Dee Troup scooped up the ball in the end zone for the six points, then added the PAT for the Indians. Itawamba held their 7-0 lead and took the advantage into the dressing room at halftime.

Northeast came back in the third period to get the equalizer when quarterback Lamar Keith hit Corinth's Marion Brown in the end zone.

The pass had been deflected by Tiger receiver Andy Brown and Marion Brown pulled in the stray for the score from 20 yards out. Mike Dooley's extra point knotted the score at 7-7.

IJC went ahead for good on their next possession when quarterback Mitch Eubank passed to Pat Smith from seven yards out. Troup added the PAT and IJC led 14-7.

Indian Glenn Ivy ran into the end zone from 21 yards away for the next IJC score, as the Indians built a comfortable lead. Troup's third PAT gave IJC a 21-7 lead.

The Tigers mounted a threat in the final period before the Indians put out the fire. Running back Vonnie Howard scored the Northeast touchdown with Dooley adding the PAT. Northeast had closed the gap to within seven at 21-14.

Tiger Johnny Cox gave Northeast a final chance to tie the game when he recovered an IJC fumble on the Indian 34 yard line. But, the IJC defense stopped the Tigers on a fourth down effort from the 10-yard line and preserved the win.

"I felt that when they stopped us down there and we were unable to get that tying score, that was the turning point in the game," Carnell said. "We just couldn't get back up after that."

IJC added another score on a touchdown run by A.Q. Brownlee and a safety later in the game to give them their margin of victory.

This week Northeast faces another team that has had its share of ups and downs, the East Mississippi Lions. The Lions are currently 2-4, but Carnell said, "they have a tough team and the Tigers must be ready to play."

Kickoff is set for 7:30 in Scooba for the North Division rivalry.

Roundball Roundup

Girls' Tourney At Jumpertown

Jumpertown High School girl's basketball coach Bill Ward announced Tuesday that the school will host an all girl's tournament Oct. 17-20.

The round-robin affair will feature Jumpertown, Burnsville, Blue Mountain and New Site all battling for the top spot.

The opening round of action is set for Oct. 17, with Burnsville and Jumpertown doing battle at 6:30, while Blue Mountain and New Site are featured in the nightcap. Jumpertown and Blue Mountain open play the next night with Burnsville and New Site following. The final night of play is set for Oct. 20, with Burnsville and Blue Mountain starting at 6:30 with Jumpertown and New Site going in the finale.

J'Town & Pine Grove Split Opener

The Jumpertown Cardinals opened their 1984-85 basketball season by splitting a pair with Pine Grove in Jumpertown.

In the opening game the Pine Grove girls prevailed over the Cardinals 72-51.

Holly Bullock led the floor attack for Pine Grove with 20 points. Bullock was aided in the scoring by teammate Vivian Spires with 12. Myra Green compiled a total of 14 points to lead the Cardinals.

The Lady Panthers led at the half 41-26.

In the boys' action the Cardinals took a 64-49 victory over the Panthers.

Craig Lauderdale put his name in the double-figure column by tallying 14 points. Panther Alan Smith hit for 10 points in the Panthers stats.

The Cardinals played the Tremont Eagles Tuesday night. Scores were not available at press time.

Only 2nd Loss For Thrasher

Chieftains Over Rebels 33-12

By GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

The Okolona Chieftains gave the Thrasher Rebels their second loss in District 1-AA football last Friday by dropping them 33-12 in Okolona.

"We played pretty good football the first quarter," said Rebel head coach Willie T. Jackson. "And our second team came in and did a great job in the fourth quarter to give us two touchdowns." Jackson added.

The Rebels stopped the Chieftains cold on their first possession of the game as Rebel end Bill Windham dropped Chieftain quarterback Mike Davis for an eight-yard loss, forcing the Chieftains to punt.

Thrasher received the punt on the Okolona 37-yard line and started toward the endzone. The Rebels picked up three first downs as they marched to the Chieftains 17, but were stopped there by the Chieftain defense.

With fourth down and 10 yards to go for a first, the Chieftains sacked Rebel quarterback Robert Shumpert for a 10-yard loss, giving Okolona control on their own 47 yard line.

But the Chieftains had the ball for only five seconds before fumbling. Rebel defensive back Alan Fugitt recovered the fumble on the Chieftains' 45 yard line to give the Rebels a second chance at a touchdown.

But the Rebels were only able to drive five yards before being forced to punt. Okolona then blocked the Rebel punt, thanks to a low snap from the center, and took over on their own 21 yard line as the first quarter came to a close.

To open the second quarter the Chieftains marched 16 yards before the Rebels forced them to punt. The Rebels received the punt on the 20 yard line, but they were not able to go anywhere either.

The Chieftains jumped on the board when Danny Aldridge received the Rebel punt on the 50 yard line and returned it all the way for six points. The PAT by Ashley Stevens was good, putting the score at 7-0 Okolona.

The football then changed hands three time before the next score by the Chieftains.

The Chieftains controlled the ball on the Rebel 48 yard line when fullback Wayne Foster broke loose for a touchdown. Stevens PAT once again was good, moving the score to 14-0.

Thrasher was not able to set up a drive for the rest of the second quarter leaving the score at 14-0 at the half.

The Rebels received the ball in the opening of the second half, but controlled it for only two plays before Alan Fugitt fumbled on the Rebel 22 yard line.

The Chieftains took the ball for a loss on the first play. But, on the second play, Davis found split end Anthony Floyd open in the endzone from 25 yards out. Stevens' PAT was good, upping the Chieftains lead to 21-0.

The Rebels took the kickoff to their own 21 yard line, then lost 16 yards before punting away.

The Chieftains then took the ball in three plays and scored from 25 yards out on a passing connection from Davis to Bobby Johnson. Stevens' conversion attempt was no good, leaving the score at 27-0 Okolona.

A fumble by Dwight Shinault on the second play of the Rebels' next drive gave the Chieftains another score, when Wayne Foster picked up the ball on the Rebel 18 and carried it into the end-zone. A try for a two-point conversion failed, putting the score at 33-0.

The Rebels finally broke loose in the last two minutes of the fourth quarter when back-up quarterback Lamont Harvey took the ball 90 yards for a touchdown. The PAT attempt by Jeff Deaton was no good, making the score 33-7.

After two quarterback sacks by Delema Shumpert, the Chieftains were forced to punt. Thrasher quarterback Shumpert then took the ball from the Chieftain 45 yard line to the Okolona two on one carry with only 0:58 left on the clock.

Shumpert then scored from two yards out. A faked kick for the two-point conversion attempt failed.

Thrasher's Ellis Long intercepted a Chieftain pass with only 0:22 seconds left in the ball game. But Thrasher was unable to take the ball any where as the game ended.

Leading the Rebels on offense was back-up quarterback Lamont Harvey with a total of 108 yards rushing. Robert Shumpert followed with 51 yards and Dwight Shinault tallied 37. This totaled the Rebels running game at 196 yards.

On the defensive side, Phillip Grizzard tallied nine solo tackles, six assists and two quarterback sacks. Paul McCutchen contributed six solos with seven assists, and Tracy Lawson added five solo tackles and eight assists.

The Rebels will be on the road next week against the Alcorn Central Golden Bears. Game time will be at 7:30 p.m.

Booneville-Baldwyn Rivalry Is Now In 46th Year

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Tomorrow night's matchup between the Booneville Blue Devils and the Baldwyn Bearcats will be the 46th game in a traditional rivalry between the two Prentiss County schools, and this year's game promises to be just as exciting as those in the past.

The Bearcats hold a 29-16 lead in the series, dating back to 1939. Baldwyn has also won five of the last six games, including the 46-0 shutout of the Devils last year in Latimer Park in Baldwyn.

The rivalry has provided some unforgettable games with most of the battles resulting in fairly close final scores.

Northeast Junior College athletic director Bill Ward, a former coach at Booneville, is the only Devil coach to compile a winning record against the Bearcats. Ward won four games and lost three during his seven years at Devil High.

Ward said the Booneville-Baldwyn matchup game was probably the biggest game of the year during his coaching days.

"It was really a big rivalry back then in 40s and 50s," he said. "I can remember one game when I played at Booneville in 1948 when we beat them 19 to 7. Pascal Box was our coach and Babe McCarthy was their coach. It was probably one of the best games I've seen."

Ward said that, as a coach, his games in 1958 and '59 were probably the biggest. "They beat us real bad down there in 1958. But, we turned around and beat them 59-6 the next year, which was sweet revenge for us."

"Of course, we had some fine athletes, too. George Oakley and William Dallison were big parts of that team," Ward said.

He recalled that in 1957 the game was called off because the Baldwyn team was hit by a flu epidemic. It was the Booneville homecoming and the Devils had to find another opponent.

Former Booneville athlete James Stanley Long said the most memorable game for him was the one in 1955. "It was my senior year and we were both undefeated at 7-0 going into the game."

"They beat us pretty bad and knocked us out of the Tombigbee Conference championship. After that we lost the next two games. But, I feel that we would have won those games if we had beat Baldwyn," Long said.

Both Long and Ward agree that the game is not as big a rivalry as it was 30 years ago. "The rivalry is not as intense today," Ward said. "There is still that sense of community rivalry that helps some. But, it's just not like it was back then."

"I think when they eliminated the Tombigbee Conference, they eliminated a lot of the rivalry between the two schools," Long said. "The game meant something more than just neighbors playing neighbors back then. Usually whoever won the game would win the conference championship."

Booneville currently has a four-game losing streak and a win over Baldwyn could raise some depressed Blue Devil spirits. Baldwyn is currently undefeated, ranked fourth in the state and trying to keep their perfect record intact.

"I haven't really been here long enough to really get involved in the rivalry part," Booneville Coach Wayne Jones said. "But, I can sense in our dressing room from the kids that this is a big game. But, with us, every game is a big game."

Hubert Tucker, the Baldwyn coach, has been involved with the matchup for thirteen years and knows very well about the rivalry. "It is a very important game and has been for a long time," Tucker said. "Although there is no more conference and we are in different districts, the game is still a big game for both teams."

Bearcats Slaughter Troopers

By GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

The Baldwyn Bearcats sidetracked the Mooreville Troopers 44-0 Friday night in Mooreville to move their perfect record to 5-0 on the season.

Tracy Grice opened the scoring for the Bearcats from five yards out. The PAT by Stan Scott was good. The next Bearcat score came when Scott dropped the Mooreville quarterback in the endzone for a safety.

Baldwyn scored once more in the

Squirrel & Rabbit Seasons To Open

On Saturday, Oct. 13, thousands of state hunters will take to the woods as squirrel and rabbit season open.

The daily bag limit is eight and the possession limit is 16.

During the 1983-84 hunting season, state game biologists estimate that hunters harvested almost 2.5 million gray and fox squirrels, for an average daily take of about two squirrels.

Rabbit hunting is another popular sport with many Mississippi hunters. State wildlife figures indicate that over 103,000 hunters took well over 1.2 million cottontail and swamp rabbits last year in the state.

The bag limit on rabbits is eight per day, and the possession limit is 16. The rabbit season ends Feb. 28.

first half when quarterback Greg Tucker connected to Scott from 20 yards out. Scott's PAT was good, putting the score at 16-0 at the intermission.

Greg Lominick scored next for the Bearcats after catching a Tucker pass from 15 yards out. The extra point by Scott was good, moving the score to 23-0.

The next Bearcat touchdown came when linebacker Ted Trollinger picked-off a Trooper pass and returned it 45 yards for a touchdown. The PAT by Scott was good.

Tucker connected to Scott for another Bearcat touchdown this time for a total of 65 yards. Scott's PAT was good. The score stood at 37-0 Baldwyn.

The final Bearcat touchdown came when Fred Harvell went in from 10 yards out. Scott came in once again to connect on the PAT.

The Bearcats will be in Booneville tomorrow night. Game time is set at 7:30 p.m.

FINAL TOUCHES - Bert Hill of Booneville, a geology student at the University of Southern Mississippi, puts the final touches on grinding down a thin section slide of volcanic rock. The university's Geology Department recently received an $8,000 grant from the Mississippi Minerals Resources Institute to investigate subsurface minerals in the Delta.

Mississippi Phone Users Will Soon Have A Choice Of Long Distance Companies

Some 24,000 South Central Bell customers in Jackson will be the first in Mississippi to be offered a choice of long distance companies for many of their "1 plus" or "0 plus" calls, Vice President J.N. McGowen announced recently.

Each eligible customer will be given a chance to select a "preferred" long distance company to carry his "1 plus" and "0 plus" long distance calls to places outside the South Central Bell home service area.

The change will take effect for customers served out of the downtown Jackson central office beginning December 17, 1984. More cities will be added in 1985.

South Central Bell will continue to handle "1 plus" and "0 plus" calls inside its home service areas.

choice" of a "preferred" long distance company if they make their pick within six months of the date the changes are effective. After that, South Central Bell will charge $5 for each change. To choose, the customer should contact the company he prefers.

Regardless of which company the customer chooses, any "1 plus" or "0 plus" call within a defined home service area will be carried by South Central Bell. The Jackson home service area includes all of Mississippi except the Gulf Coast area.

Until now, all "1 plus" and "0 plus" calls have automatically been routed through either SCB or AT&T Communications. To use another company, the customers usually had to dial 20 more digits.

company other than their "preferred" carrier will be able to do so by dialing a five-digit code. Each long distance company is being assigned a code on a nationwide basis so that it will be the same in each part of the country.

Five companies have indicated they plan to offer long distance service in Jackson. They are AT&T Communications, MCI, GTE Sprint, The CommuniGroup, and TelaMarketing Communications of Mississippi, Inc.

"A customer may choose to have accounts with more than one long distance company. Then he could use a company other than his preferred carrier by dialing that company's five-digit access code," said McGowen.

"It's up to the customer to shop for long distance service the same way he would shop for anything else - by comparing prices and services offered," said McGowen. He said South Central Bell will offer no recommendations.

Any customer who does not select a "preferred" company will continue to have calls outside his home service area routed through AT&T Communications when he dials "1 plus" or "0 plus."

It's The Time Of Year To Be Alert For Harvesting Equipment While Driving

By DANNY REED
Farm Safety Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Several serious collisions have occurred recently between farm machinery and automobiles on Mississippi public roads.

Because of an increase in farm machine traffic on roadways during the fall harvest season, drivers should be alert for slow moving wagons, tractors and wide combines or cotton pickers moving on both state highways and other public roads.

The usual slow speed and road blocking width of these vehicles is dangerous both to vehicles coming up from the rear and those passing in the opposite lane.

When a driver recognizes a vehicle as a farm machine, such as a harvester or tractor or pulled wagon or disk, he or she should instantly brake and reduce speed until they can successfully judge the machine's size and speed.

A tractor may be pulling a wide tillage tool or a tool bar and could have axels extending into the oncoming lane. The large tractor may be seen easily, but these steel beams that protrude are difficult to see because of their small appearance and often dusty covering. These tool bars, axles and disks can rip through oncoming vehicles and break into or upset the tractor or farm machine that also may be passing.

Dusk and dawn hours are the most dangerous because of poor visibility. Drivers should look for flashing tractor lights, reflectors, the red-orange, triangular shaped Slow Moving Vehicle emblem on the rear of a machine, a lead car or truck with flashing lights or flagging tied to the protruding parts of the equipment.

Drivers who pass or meet farm vehicles and keep up highway speeds are risking a serious accident.

At night, flashing lights may be on an oncoming farm vehicle with parts that extend into an opposite lane or extend into the passing lane.

The driver should immediately slow down to a very low speed and make certain no obstruction is there.

Unfortunately, sometimes deadly obstructions that do not comply with safety measures are present on our public roads, whether they be farm, forestry, construction or personal vehicles or loads. Drivers should always be on the lookout for these, and should report them to law enforcement authorities as well. Such reporting can help avoid accidents and perhaps save a life.

New Tax Law Contains Several Major Revisions In Tip Reporting Requirements

In response to data indicating that more than 80 percent of tip income is not reported on federal income tax returns, the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 has instituted new reporting requirements designed to reflect accurately income of workers in service industries, according to Sylvia Wren, the Internal Revenue Service Director for Mississippi.

Food establishments where tipping is customary and that normally employ more than 10 employees are now required to annually file a calendar year information return with the IRS, listing, among other information, the establishment's gross receipts, charge receipts, tips shown on charge receipts, tips reported by the employees and tips allocated to the employees, if any. Tip allocations are made only to employees who receive tips directly from customers.

The new law represents a change in reporting requirements for the establishment, not for the employees, Ms. Wren stressed. Tips have always been regarded under the law as taxable earned income subject to Federal Income Tax.

Reporting requirements for employees in service industries remain the same. Employees are required to maintain a record of tips received and report them as income on their federal income tax returns.

Also, unchanged is the requirement that employees who receive tips of $20 or more each month must report the total amount of tips to their employers by the tenth day of the following month so that income and social security or railroad taxes can be withheld.

The reports required of food and beverage employers will be used to more accurately judge whether employees have been reporting all tip income. The employer will be required to compare the total of all reported tips with eight percent of the establishment's total gross food and beverage receipts, excluding carryout sales, state or local taxes, and sale on which there was a service charge of 10 percent or more.

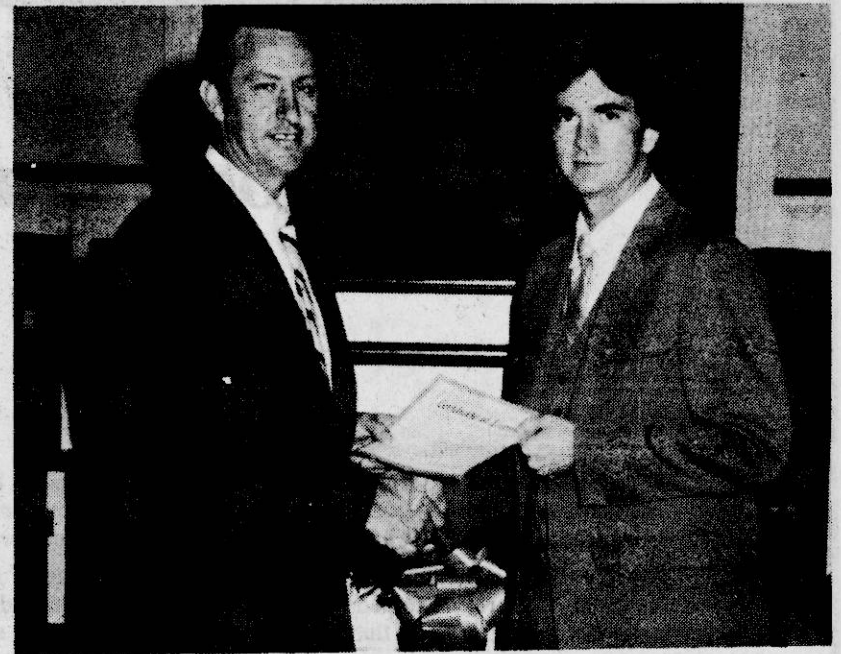

If records show that the total tips reported by employees fall below the eight percent figure, the employer will be required to report the difference to the IRS and allocate it among tipped employees. No allocation is made to an employee who reports to the employer tips equaling eight percent or more of that employee's share of the establishment's gross receipts.

IRS said certain employers may reduce the eight percent allocation to as low as five percent, depending on normal tipping practice at their establishment, if they can establish that the tipping rate is normally lower than the eight percent standard. Such a reduction requires advance written approval from IRS.

The law generally does not apply to fast food and cafeteria style operations where tipping is not ordinarily done, Ms. Wren explained.

More information on the reporting requirements for food and beverage service employers may be found in the free IRS Publication 539, Employment Taxes, available by writing to the IRS.

LICENSED TO PREACH - Mike Hatfield (right) was recently licensed to preach by the Gaston Baptist Church. Municipal Audit Seminar Conducted

The Mississippi Society of Certified Public Accountants conducted a one day seminar on Sept. 11 in Jackson on Municipal Accounting. The speakers were Keith Winfield, CPA, Starkville and James Grayson, CPA, Department of Audit, Jackson. Kermit V. Jones Jr., CPA, David W. Jones, CPA and Lou Ann Counce all of Booneville attended the seminar.

A revised Mississippi Municipal Accounting and Auditing Guide was introduced to the group. The Guide establishes a set method that Cities in the State must use to report their finances to the State Auditor. Certified Public Accountants prepare the Municipal Audit at year's end for the city.

CPAs in the State have been assisting the State Department of Audit in completing some County Audits, Hospital Audits and College Audits. These areas were touched on briefly at the Seminar.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

God's Care Is Constant And Dependable

By C.L. Potts, Pastor

First United Methodist Church

Today let me tell of a friend . . . not personal, for she has not known me. My knowledge of her comes through the twenty three books on theology under her name. Doctor Georgia Harkness almost lost her life by drowning when she was at Cornell University. It happened one day during a picnic above Fall Creek Gorge. She tells of falling twenty five feet into deep water. There was total darkness in the gorge and surrounded by large rocks. She could not swim, and it seemed that her chances for survival were slight. In that moment . . . through prayer, God told her what to do in order to hold on . . . "to hold her breath under water and breathe in quick gasps as she came up each time." In due time a brave rescue effort saved her life. Let me quote her on this matter. "My life has been relatively uneventful, but I have constantly felt God's sustaining power. In critical decisions He has always guided me. When on occasion I have felt a lack of physical or spiritual energy, He has supplied it. He has given me a useful work to do, many friends to enrich my life, and so many blessings that truly "my cup runneth over." Thanks be to God for His care is constant and dependable." We understand that Dr. Harkness recently moved to "dwell in the house of the Lord forever" . . . following a beautiful career as Professor of Applied Theology, Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, Calif. - Our tribute to her faith . . . and to God Be The Glory.

Mississippi Weather The Wierdest

By PIGSKIN PETE
Sports Columnist

I just can't believe it! I want to know what is going on with this weird weather you North Mississippians have been having. When I was in Booneville for the Blue Devil-Pontotoc football game a couple of weeks ago, I nearly froze my bananas off. So, I decided to go to Florida for a couple of days and try to thaw out. Well, I came back into North Mississippi last weekend and went to Oxford to see the Ole Miss Rebels battle the Auburn Tigers. And, folks, I nearly drowned! I was so wet when I got home that my wife, Broomhilda, had to wring me out like a wash cloth for almost 30 minutes -- a chore she seemed to enjoy immensely. Why, while I was at the game in Oxford, several fans floated by my seat.

And if I hadn't had an anchor in my back pocket, I'd still be sitting along, probably somewhere in western Lafayette county. Anyway, when I got back home Saturday afternoon, I had thoughts about going to the campus of the Northeast Mississippi Junior College to watch the Tigers and JUC Indians do battle. But, when I saw some old fellow on the side of the road on my way to the game loading animals into a big, wooden boat, I decided that was enough and went to the treehouse instead.

I called several reliable weathermen in the area, but they said they couldn't explain the cold-hot-dry-wet weather that has been going on.

Back in Scandinavia, my hometown, the weather is never like it has been here. Why, if it was, what would we do with our rock crops. (Scandinavia is the top rock-producing state in the world).

All kidding aside, the weather has been kind of unpredictable lately. Maybe its got something to do with the way some of our area football teams are playing. I had thoughts that somebody upstairs was trying to tell the Northeast coaches something Saturday night.

Hey, I heard that Leighton Miller was really mad at me. Banner-Independent managing editor Ed Woodward sent me a copy of a letter than Leighton had sent to the editor.

Well, Leighton, I'm sorry that I have upset you. But, look at it on the bright side. You certainly got better at picking football games after I talked about you. I've

Saylors And Miller Tied For

First Place In Prog Race

Maunfred Saylors, the defending champion in The Banner-Independent's prognosticator's contest, picked 12 of 14 games correct last week to capture the weekly contest, and the Leighton Miller for the league lead.

Saylors and Miller are tied with 53 of 81 games correct after five weeks of play. Both men are picking at a 65 per cent rate.

Miller fell one game off the weekly pace last week, picking just 11 of 14 games correct. The one game difference between the two men last week was just enough for Saylors to pull into a tie with Miller.

Doug Jumper and Bill Ward finished third last week with 10 of 14 games correct. However, Jumper has a one game lead on Ward in the yearly totals. Jumper has picked 52 of 81 games correct for a 64 per cent average, while Ward has picked 51 of 82 games correct for a 62 per cent mark.

Last week's guest picker, Ralph Stults closed out the race with only 8 of 14 games correct. The guest spot continues to suffer through the football blues this season as it holds down last place. For the season, the guest spot has picked 45 of 81 games correct for a 55 per cent average.

Pisikin Pete remained in second place in a tie with Jumper after picking 11 of 14 games correct last week. Pete has picked 52 of 81 games correct for the season, a 64 per cent picking average.

This week's guest picker is Baldwin High School football coach Hubert Tucker.

Ole Miss Rebels Offer Something Different Every Time

By RONNIE CALDWELL
Mississippi Sports Page

They say that college football is an unusual game. Some football fans claim that you can watch numerous football games and witness something different each and every time.

If those opinions are true, then the Ole Miss Rebels should be voted the team with the most unusual happenings.

Since the regular season finale against the Mississippi State Bulldogs last fall in Jackson, Ole Miss has experienced more of the strange and unusual than the whole state of California. The Rebels would even stretch "Ripley's Believe It Or Not."

The craziness really began on Nov. 19 last year when Mississippi State placekicker Artie Cosby watched a straight and true field goal become a boomerang in a 40-mile-per-hour windstorm. The freak event preserved a 24-23 win for the Rebels and a spot in the Independence Bowl.

The Independence Bowl itself in Shreveport, La. was not without the unusual, either. Once again the weather was right out of a horror movie as lightning jarred the metal stadium and rain poured in barrel-sized quantities.

As the Rebels prepared for this football season, they must have made a firm commitment to continuing the unusual.

In the season-opener against Memphis State, Ole Miss "earned" five first downs as Tiger linemen jumped off-sides. One Rebel assistant coach after the 22-6 victory said that nothing out of the ordinary happened. Nothing out of the ordinary for the high-flying Rebels, perhaps.

But, the strange happenings took place the following week in Little Rock. It was the first time in 31 meetings that the two rivals tied. But, even more bizarre was the fact that Arkansas held the Rebels at bay in the fourth quarter by using 12 men.

Memphis State had used 12 men against Ole Miss, but the officials caught the violation and awarded the Rebs yardage in penalties. Against Arkansas, however, the referees missed the infraction.

It was detected on film by the Hog defensive coordinator, who telephoned the Ole Miss staff to say that it was not an intentional violation. While not intentional, the use of 12 defensive men did hamper the Rebel drive in the

Get Out And Cheer

decided that I'd better be quiet if I expect to win this prognosticator's race. So, good luck Leighton. (You'll need it! ha ha ha...)

Let's get down to the business at hand, picking football games.

I really don't know what to say about Coach Wayne Jones and the Booneville Blue Devils. The Devils have been playing tough all year, but have been coming out on the short end of the scoreboard. But, don't count BHS out just yet.

I know that Coach Jones and his staff will really work hard this week preparing the Blue Devils for their battle with the Baldwyn Bearcats tomorrow night. But, Booneville should automatically be fired up playing the Bearcats. And it is even the Devils' homecoming. What else do they need to get ready for a football game?

But, don't forget about the 'Cats. Coach Hubert Tucker has his team fired up and looking good all the time. Baldwyn is undefeated and ranked number four in the state. And, most of the result of the actions of the "Dynamic Duo", quarterback Gregg Tucker and receiver Stan Scott. These two could give the Booneville defensive backs fits before the night is over.

Again, don't expect the Devils to roll over and play dead. Folks, this one is going to be a "doozy" and it's a tough one to pick. But, since Baldwyn is undefeated and ranked so high, and Booneville is suffering through the blues, I have to go with the favorite.

Baldwyn 30 Booneville 22

After suffering a tough loss to the powerful Okoloma Chiefs last week, the Thrasher Rebels should be ready to rebound this week against the Alcorn Central Golden Bears.

Both schools have been known in the past for their top-notch basketball programs and the football programs are finally gaining some respect. The Bears have been on a roll as of late and the Rebels have already equalled their win mark of last year.

It'll be one tough battle tomorrow night in Baldwyn when these two teams meet. But if your a betting man, place your money on the Rebels to win and earn victory number four.

Thrasher 19 Alcorn Central 14

What can you say about the Northeast Tigers? They have played well all year, and like the Booneville Blue Devils, they have come up short when the final horn sounds. But, Coach David Carnell and his staff don't plan to give up now. There is still a tough schedule ahead and the Tigers have a good chance of finishing off the 1984 season with a flourish.

However, the East Mississippi Lions may have something to say about that Saturday night when the Tigers travel to Scooba. I expect a hard-nosed football game from both teams. Northeast has nothing to lose and you had better believe that this bunch of Tigers will give 110 per cent.

But, East Mississippi will prove too powerful for the Tigers to stop.

East Mississippi 42 NEMJC 13

Although the Ole Miss Rebels lost a tough one last week to the Auburn Tigers, don't think for a minute that they'll just give in this week when they travel to Athens, Ga., to face the Georgia Bulldogs.

Coach Billy Brewer and the boys from Rebel Land will be aiming for sweet revenge over the Dawgs, who have beaten Ole Miss every year for the past seven years. And, this might be the time and the place where the Ole Miss offense and defense begins to click at the same time.

The Bulldogs are tough "bet-ween the hedges," so count on coach Vince Dooley's troops giving the Rebs all they can handle. But, this one will be the upset of the week in the SEC, just wait and see.

It will be homecoming in Starkville Saturday afternoon as the Kentucky Wildcats come to town. The 'Cats have been surprising everyone this fall and don't think that they won't give the MSU Bullies a rough way to go.

Coach Emory Bellard will have his Bullies mean and lean when Kentucky rolls into town and quarterback Don Smith will continue his record-setting pace on the way to becoming one of the premier passers in the SEC.

But, Jerry Claiborne, coach of the Wildcats, promises that his squad is for real and opponents should be on the lookout. Claiborne and the Cats had better be the ones on the lookout Saturday in Moo town.

The Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles will be trying to bounce back from a tough loss at the hands of Mississippi State this week when they travel to New Orleans to battle the Tulane Green Wave.

Tulane has had their share of the blues this season, as have the Eagles. But, when these two meet Saturday afternoon, you can throw everything else away. These two teams will be working for a win, something that has been hard to come by.

Coach Jim Carmody's Golden Eagles will probably give Tulane all they want and more Saturday afternoon. But the Green Wave will give the "Nasty Bunch" an official Louisiana welcome and then a rough way to go.

Sorry Leighton, but as an announcer said one time, "things don't look good."

In other selected games next week, Amory will beat Ripley by 3; Pontotoc will down Kosuth by 15; Satillo will beat Shannon by 6; Penn State will beat Alabama by 17; Florida State will beat Auburn by 1; Florida will down Tennessee by 4; LSU will beat Vanderbilt by 5; Texas will down Oklahoma by 9; and Ohio State will beat Illinois by 8.

Ah...choo!! Excuse me. But, after staying out in this wacky weather all week, I have a terrible cold. I have tried my granny's old home remedy, banana soup, but all I got out of that was a belly ache.

I think I will return home and visit the good, ol' neighborhood witch doctor. I'm glad there are some things you can depend on, such as my doctor. The weather sure hasn't done me any favors! See ya next week.

Bulldogs Pluck Eagle Feathers In First At-Home Win In 7 Years

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

After suffering for seven years each time the Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles came to town, the Mississippi State Bulldogs finally got their revenge Saturday in Jackson as quarterback Don Smith led them to a 27-18 victory.

quarter runs of 84 and 56 yards to push the Bulldogs past the Golden Eagles in front of a crowd of 50,136 in Mississippi Memorial Stadium.

The victory gave State a 3-2 record.

MSU coach Emory Bellard said the game really meant a lot to his squad. "Who's to say about streaks," Bellard said. "We may get about five or six going our way now. You never know."

The Bulldogs opened up to a 24-3 lead before the Golden Eagles began to close the score in the final minutes.

Smith had a hand in State's first score when he connected on a 56-yard pass to former Shannon High School star Louis Clark in the first period. Artie Cosby's PAT put the Dawgs ahead 7-0.

USM closed to within four in the second period when Eagle kicker Rex Banks booted a 26-yard field goal. But State responded when Cosby kicked a 31 yard field goal, giving the Bulldogs a 10-3 halftime advantage.

In the fourth period, Smith scampered 84 yards for his first score. And, on State's next possession, the sophomore signal caller jaunted 56 yards for another score as the Bulldogs opened up their lead.

Mississippi State returns to Southeastern Conference business next Saturday in Starkville in a homecoming match with Kentucky. Southern Mississippi will be trying to pull out of its three-game losing skid in a road game with Tulane.

Ole Miss Loses Heartbreaker In Defensive Battle With Auburn

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

The Ole Miss Rebels played hard Saturday afternoon, but came up short on the scoreboard as the Auburn Tigers beat them 17-13 in the Rebels' first SEC game of the season.

"We played about as well as we can play," defensively and offensively," Ole Miss coach Billy Brewer said. "But, in the end, Auburn demonstrated again what kind of team they are and what kind of power they possess."

Eighteenth-ranked Auburn, 3-2 overall and 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference after their third straight win, could not shake the 3-1-1 Rebels with tricks or traps. The Tigers needed good, old-fashioned ball control offense to capture the win over the Rebels.

"In the second half, I thought we did a much better job and showed a lot of class near the end of game," Auburn coach Pat Dye. "We did what we needed to win the game, which I guess is what counts."

Ole Miss started the day by honoring the 1959 Sugar Bowl champions, the team that was also voted the SEC Team of the Decade because of their tough style of play. And, in the early going of the game Saturday, both teams showed the same type of rough, physical play.

Jon Howard's 42-yard field goal gave Ole Miss an early lead and it looked as if an upset might be in the making. Howard's scoring boot came after Rebel punt returner "Wee" Willie Goodloe returned an Auburn punt 58 yards to put Ole Miss in business.

But, the Tigers bounced right back when Robert McGinty kicked a 26-yard field goal. The first period ended in a 3-3 deadlock.

Ole Miss started the second quarter with an 82-yard, 13-play drive, converting the march into a score when quarterback Kent Austin, who was 16-29 passing for 157 yards, tossed nine yards to receiver Timmy Moffett.

Howard's PAT with 11:43 left in the half gave the Rebels a 10-3 lead. However, Collins Campbell powered Auburn to their second score moments later, as the Tiger running back plunged into the endzone from one yard out.

McGinty's kick gave the Tigers a 10-10 tie with Ole Miss. Auburn drove again and seemed destined to gain another score before the end of the second period. But Bruce safety Johnny Armstrong picked off Tiger quarterback Pat Washington with just a few seconds left.

Possibly the most critical play in the game occurred in the third quarter when Auburn was faced with a third down and seven situation from the Ole Miss 15 yard line.

After being held for no gain on two consecutive plays, Washington found receiver Trey Gainous open in the end zone for the score. McGinty's second PAT helped Auburn open a 17-10 lead.

Ole Miss then drove 38 yards in six plays, but had to settle for a Howard field goal with just 7:37 left in the game.

Though the Rebels had a chance to get the football back late in the game and try for the winning score, the Auburn offense played ball-control football and would not allow it.

Things won't get any easier for Ole Miss this week. The Rebels are faced with traveling to Athens, Ga. to battle the Georgia Bulldogs "between the hedges" in a SEC tilt.
