Trial Continued

The murder trial of James L. Stoop, who was charged with the shooting death of another Prentiss Countian, has been continued for the second time due to the absence of a witness.

Stoop's trial was scheduled for Tuesday in Prentiss County Circuit Court. But one of the doctors involved in the case was scheduled to be in California at a medical meeting, according to Assistant District Attorney Richard Bowen.

The trial was first scheduled during the June term of Prentiss County Circuit Court. That trial was also postponed because another doctor in the case could not be present.

"To insure we get our doctors next time, we have issued subpoenas. The trial has been set for Feb. 19," Bowen said.

Stoop, 57, of Price Lane, Booneville, was indicted for murder in connection with the Oct. 13, 1983, shooting of a New Site teacher, Charles Williams, 41, of Route 7, Booneville.

Time To Change

Daylight savings time for 1984 ends this Sunday at 2 a.m.

To avoid confusion, remember the formula "Spring forward -- Fall back."

This means that before going to bed Saturday night, clocks should be set back one hour.

More Out Of Work

The unemployment rate for Prentiss County climbed to 13.3 percent in September, according to figures released by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

The rate for Prentiss County was reported at 10.5 percent in August 1984, and was 11.8 percent in September of last year.

Court Action

Four people have pled guilty to criminal charges this week during Prentiss County Circuit Court.

Curtis Lee Gamble pled guilty to charges of burglary and larceny.

Charles A. Owens pled guilty to manufacture of marijuana.

Danny Hamm pled guilty to strong arm robbery.

James McGee pled guilty to two charges of grand larceny. He was sentenced to serve five years on one charge and seven years on the other charge. The sentence is to run concurrently.

Other sentencing is scheduled to be held Friday with Circuit Court Judge Fred Wicker presiding.

The trial of Terry Owens, charged with burglary and larceny and forgery, has been continued until the February term of court.

Merita Cooper, who was indicted for sale of hydromorphone, had requested a trial during this term of court. Her case was scheduled for Monday, but was continued to the February term of court because the State had not had time to properly prepare the case, according to circuit court officials. Ms. Cooper was arrested in what law authorities termed a "round-up of alleged drug dealers in Prentiss County," which has thus far resulted in 25 arrests.

A charge of burglary against Wayne Michael and Vance Michael has been termed "nolle prosequi," meaning the case will not be prosecuted because of lack of evidence. The Michaels still face charges of attempted arson on Wednesday.

Affects 223 Employees

'Temporary Layoff' For Blue Bell

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Beginning Nov. 1, 223 more Prentiss County residents will be out of work, according to Booneville Blue Bell Plant manager Joe Waterson.

"Blue Bell Inc. announced yesterday (Wednesday, October 17) that there will be a temporary layoff of 223 employees in the Booneville plant," Waterson said.

Reading from a prepared press release, he said the layoff is "due to a decline in product demand and a need to manage our inventory more effectively."

Waterson admitted that, when contacted at the time of the Brown Shoe Co. closing announcement in August of this year, he told The Banner-Independent his plant "had enough work to last through Christmas." But he said things "have changed since."

Doug Lambert, division manager of the Blue Bell's Tupelo Youthwear Division, said the layoff will actually affect approximately 700 employees at plants in Booneville, Fulton, Tupelo, Belmont and Tishomingo. He said present plans call for a 90-day layoff, but company officials will "determine our next step" by mid-January.

Asked if that included the possibility of closing the plant, Lambert said, "We have no present plans for closing."

Youthwear division personnel manager Kim Lassiter, said "We regret this decision. But we will be looking for ways to reopen the plants as soon as possible."

However, Lassiter admitted he was not sure the plants would reopen. "We certainly hope so. But I can't speak for corporate headquarters," he said.

He said "an uncertainty with retailers on interest rates and consumer spending" was responsible for the layoff decision because high interest rates have forced dealers to maintain smaller stocks.

Lassiter also cited import competition as another reason for the layoff. Brown Shoe Co. blamed import competition for their recent decision to close several factories including the one at Booneville.

Lassiter said the plants might reopen by switching to Wrangler Menswear, Red Kap or other Blue Bell divisions. But he said there is "no reason" to think the layoffs are not temporary. "We are optimistic we will open again," he said.

The Menswear division manufactures blue jeans, coats, shirts and other items. Red Kap manufactures industrial work uniforms.

Blue Bell, a Greensboro, N.C., company has maintained factories in Northeast Mississippi since the late 1940s. The Youthwear division reportedly has an annual payroll of $8.3 million and employs 727 people in the area.

Lassiter said the layoff will also affect plants outside Mississippi, in Alabama, Georgia and Virginia.

According to Baldwin Mayor Merle Rowan, the Baldwin Blue Bell plant, which manufactures men's and women's shirts and blouses, is currently working six days a week.

Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb said, "We are certainly disappointed that the plant is closing. But, we feel it's probably a temporary layoff, as Joe Waterson says."

"I have hopes that the plant will reopen around Feb. 1. I certainly hope that it will because this is going to be the type of closing that will affect everybody. I don't know of anyone in the county who won't be affected," Crabb said. "Here, at the holiday season it's especially bad."

"This plant has been here for several years and it's helped us to meet our economic growth. And I'm very grateful for that. But I'm really disappointed. It was very much a surprise to me when the announcement was made."

"I think they will probably go into men's wear instead of ladies' wear now, if it does reopen," Crabb said. "What I understand is they will probably go to men's and boy's wear."

"I think sales have just dropped the reason they had to close. I think they were just simply overstocked, and if they change over, I think they can at least reopen and start anew here," he said.

"It's a sad day for us. But we've got a good group of people, the employees in Prentiss County are tops, as far as I'm concerned. And they just won't bury their heads in the sand like an ostrich and not try to do something," Crabb said.

He said, as far as he knows, the building housing the local Blue Bell operation is owned by Blue Bell Inc.

Testing The Shocks

Cheerleaders from the Baldwin Middle School crowded atop this sports car and used it for their float in last Saturday's Okeelala Homecoming Parade in Baldwin after their scheduled float failed to arrive in time for the parade. Shooting Wounds Prentiss County Man

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

A Prentiss County man is in stable condition following a shooting Saturday afternoon.

Clarence (Junior) Wingo, 40, of Route 3, Booneville, was taken out of intensive care Tuesday, according to a spokesman for the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo.

Wingo was reportedly shot Saturday, Oct. 20, around 12:20 p.m. by Dennis Eaton, 37, of Route 3, Booneville, according to Prentiss County Deputy Dan Wilson.

The shooting occurred at Eaton's residence which is located northwest of Jumpertown in the Dry Creek community, he said.

A witness told deputies that Wingo had thrown a concrete block through a window of a car parked in the carport at Eaton's residence.

"Wingo reportedly then threatened to kill the whole family, according to what the witness said," Wilson said.

From what deputies were told, Eaton allegedly asked Wingo to leave several times and then Wingo started to enter the house and Eaton closed the door.

Wingo then reportedly kicked the door in and the shooting occurred, Wilson said.

The sheriff's department said that the bullet entered the left side of Wingo's stomach and exited at the right side of his back.

A .38 Smith and Wesson handgun was the weapon reportedly used in the shooting, the sheriff's department said.

No charges had been filed as of Tuesday morning.

The sheriff's department said that the night before the shooting Wingo had damaged a pickup truck parked at the courthouse belonging to game warden Duane Rinehart.

But Wingo agreed to pay for repairing the truck and Rinehart did not press charges against Wingo, the spokesman said.

Indefinite Repayment Extension

Reprieve For Childers

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

The state attorney general's office has given Prentiss County Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers an indefinite reprieve on his repayment of funds State Auditor Ray Mabus claims he owes the county.

Pete Cajoleas, assistant state attorney general, announced Wednesday, Oct. 18, that his office has indefinitely extended the Oct. 10 deadline Childers had been given on repayment of $32,083 in penalties Mabus' office claims he never collected on delinquent car tags purchased between January 1980 and March 1984.

Cajoleas said his office will delay any possible legal action to recover the money until it has completed a review of the report filed by Booneville accountant Kermit Jones, who was hired by Childers to audit his records.

According to Childers' attorney, Thomas Keenum, that report contains conclusions described as "certainly a different position than that of the (State) Audit Department."

"It is our position that he (Childers) collected as much, or more for the county than he would have if he did it the way the audit department said he should have done it," Keenum said.

"There will probably be more discussions with both auditors," said Pat Flynn, special assistant to Attorney General Ed Pittman. She said it was unsure how much more time would be needed to review the case before "we decide if we will file a lawsuit."

Mabus demanded return of the funds after his office performed "a routine audit" of Childers' records earlier this year. The original demand, made on March 16, 1984, was for $6,083 for the period July 1982 through August 1983.

On July 3, Mabus' office sent another demand letter covering the period January 1980 through March 1984 and increasing the amount to $32,083, including interest.

Mabus claims Childers failed to collect penalties assessed to individuals who failed to purchase car tags on time. But Keenum claims the law requiring those penalties was not in effect for the majority of the period in question.

Childers and Keenum have both repeatedly asserted that during the period in question, there were no specific guidelines for the penalty collections, which were handled differently from county to county.

Any repaid funds would be returned to Prentiss County by the audit department once the matter is settled.

City Schools Conduct Kindergarten Survey

R.D. Griffin, Superintendent of the Booneville City Schools, has announced that the city school district is conducting a survey of the community to determine interest in the institution of a kindergarten program for next year.

"The state will sponsor a pilot kindergarten program in each school district which meets the requirements and wants to have a pilot program for the 1984-85 school year," Griffin said.

He said the city school district will apply for one or more kindergarten classes if a large enough number of parents is interested in enrolling their children.

"Any parent having a child who will be five years of age before Sept. 1, 1985, who is interested in having that child attend a public kindergarten, should pick up a registration form and return it to the school district by Nov. 15," Griffin said.

He said the forms are available from principals of any school in the city district, the Prentiss County Health Department, the Prentiss County Welfare Office, the George E. Allen Library, private kindergartens in the area, election polling places inside the city, the Prentiss County Child Development Center on Bryant Street or at his office.

Griffin said that, if more students register than the state will finance, a public drawing will have to be conducted to determine eligible students.

He said anyone needing further information should contact him at 728-2171.

QUESTION: "Are not all men sinners?"

ANSERS: Yes, the Bible states, "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;" (Rom. 3:23). Some seek to justify themselves with this statement. That kind of rational is about like saying that all have a fatal disease, if untreated, so I am no worse than others. And yet there is no effort made to correct the illness. All are sinners, but there is a difference in sinners. SOME LOVE SIN OTHERS DO NOT. Jesus said, "and men loved darkness rather than the light, because their deeds were evil." (John 3:19) SOME CONTENT THEMSELVES TO LIVE IN SIN OTHERS DO NOT. The wise man will turn from his sin, knowing that he must repent or perish. SOME SEEK FORGIVENESS IN CHRIST OTHERS DO NOT. Jesus said, "and ye would not come to me, that ye might have life." (John 5:40) The one who obeys the Lord is promised the forgiveness of sins, others are not. The Hebrew writer declared, "he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;" (Heb. 5:9) The MOST TRAGIC difference is that the UN-FORGIVEN are traveling the road to HELL, the FORGIVEN the road to ETERNAL LIFE. Which road are you on?

Watch For 'Spooks' While Driving On Halloween Night

Halloween night, one of the favorite nights of the year for children, also can be one of the most dangerous, according to the Governor's Highway Safety Program.

"Children, caught up in the excitement of this night, often become careless when crossing highways, streets or roads," said Roy Thigpen, the governor's representative for highway safety.

He suggested that children have reflective tape on their costumes to help ensure that approaching drivers can see them and that their costumes allow them to walk without tripping.

Thigpen also suggested that children remove their masks when crossing roadways because "a mask that even slightly impairs the child's ability to see oncoming vehicles could lead to the child's death or injury. Teenagers and others who drive motor vehicles should never use these vehicles in Halloween pranks of any kind," Thigpen said. "Operating a motor vehicle is a very serious act, and using it for an 'innocent prank' could result in a tragic accident."

He also cautioned adults who drink at Halloween parties "never to drive if you've been doing a lot of drinking. Hosts should be sure that guests do not drive if they show any indication of being drunk. Alternative transportation, such as taxicabs or the use of designated drivers, could save a person's life. "As most of us know, a person who's drunk often resists attempts to provide the individual with alternative transportation," Thigpen said. Taking keys to a vehicle away from this person certainly is unpleasant, but it's far better to take away the keys than to let this person have a chance to take away the individual's life or the life of another person on the highway.

"The host might also consider giving the drunk person a ride home or inviting the individual to 'sleep it off' at the host's home," Thigpen said.

"So often, what was intended to be an evening of fun, turns into an evening of tragedy because either a child or an adult was careless," he said. "A happy Halloween must be a safe Halloween."

Let The Bible Answer

Charles W. Leonard

Hill's Chapel Church Of Christ

ROUTE 5, BOX 271—BOONEVILLE, MISS.

JOHN THE BAPTIST

"John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the country of Judea, and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins." (Mark 1:4-5)

How did John get his name? His father said, "His name is John." (Luke 1:63), but his work was that of baptizing. Just as one man was called "Elymas the sorcerer" (Acts 13:8), and another was called "Alexander the coppersmith" (II Timothy 4:14), so this John was called by his work, John the Baptizer (Baptist).

Why did John come? He came to prepare the way for Christ. (Mark 1:2-6) John said, "He (Christ) must increase, but I must decrease," (John 3:30) Christ was the one who said, "I will build my church, (Matthew 16:18) and that church bore Christ's name. (Romans 16:16) John did not establish a church, and John's followers did not wear his name. John pointed to Christ, "Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world." (John 1:29)

Now the disciples of Jesus baptized even more than did John. (John 4:1) Yet the scriptures do not record that they were called after their work of baptizing as was John. That term was applied only to John personally and never to any other person, and never to the New Testament church.

The disciples of Jesus were called "disciples" (John 4:1-2) and "Christians" (Acts 11:26) They believed in the necessity of faith but were not called "Faithists," they believed in baptism, but were not called by that doctrine. The name that God gave to them honored Christ. "If any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed but LET HIM GLORIFY GOD IN THIS NAME." (I Peter 4:16).

QUESTION: How do you think the closing of Blue Bell will affect the holiday economy?

FRANCES SCOTT of 204 Hatchie St., Booneville: "I think it's going to affect it greatly. I'm an ex-Brown Shoe employee and I know how it feels. Both plants closing will affect the economy because they've been landmarks. I hope the stores aren't overstocked because I really think this will hurt."

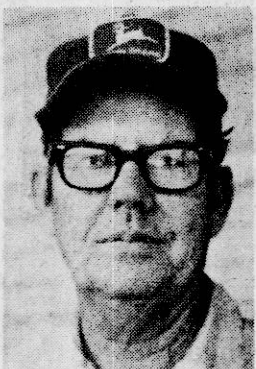

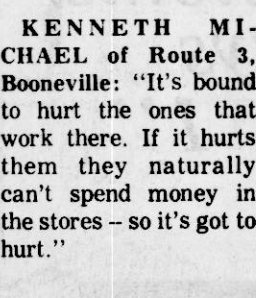

JACKIE JONES of Route 7, Booneville: "I think it's going to hurt. They've already closed Brown Shoe. I was surprised that Blue Bell is closing. I knew one person who was laid off from Brown Shoe and went to work at Blue Bell. I thought they were doing good."

KENNETH NICHOLSON of Route 6, Booneville: "It's going to hurt the economy with so many working there. It's got to hurt the economy."

JERRY FREDERICK of Route 5, Booneville: "It's going to hurt the economy. Since Brown Shoe closed and Blue Bell, places to get jobs around here are at a minimum."

KENNETH MICHAEL of Route 3, Booneville: "It's bound to hurt the ones that work there. If it hurts them they naturally can't spend money in the stores -- so it's got to hurt."

GEORGE L. SCOTT of Baldwin: "I'm sure it will hurt the economy. Any time people lose jobs it effects the purchasing power of the economy and therefore, the economy is going to suffer."

Local pilot Eugene McCarthy probably didn't realize it -- but he helped make history Thursday, Oct. 18.

It probably wasn't such a historical event for someone who has been flying since 1942, but for my co-worker Shirley Burns and myself it was something we will always remember.

That was the day McCarthy took us up in his airplane and we had a bird's eye view of Prentiss County.

In August Shirley and I took our first airplane flight when we went to the World's Fair in New Orleans.

Since we survived that, we decided our next adventure would be flying in a small plane over Prentiss County.

When we arrived at the Booneville-Baldwyn Airport around 11 a.m. we were fairly calm to be so terrified.

Although we had previously flown to New Orleans, we knew, deep down in our quivering hearts, that we were far from being seasoned flyers.

But when we arrived at the airport McCarthy was ready and the little blue and white plane was ready. And, deep breath, Shirley and I were ready.

We climbed into the plane and I encountered my first problem. The seatbelt.

I haven't been on a plane yet that I was able to fasten my seatbelt without fumbling around with it for five minutes. I think this is my subconscious way of delaying takeoff.

The flight was wonderful. The sun was shining (and the wind was blowing) and from that height we had a lovely view of the different fall colors on the trees.

As soon as we took off, we flew above several ponds. McCarthy said straightfaced, "See that water? That's Bay Springs."

"Really!" Shirley and I chimed. Then our pilot laughed and we knew it wasn't Bay Springs.

But soon we were above Bay Springs and it was breathtaking. It looks even larger when viewing it from the air.

The next place in Prentiss County we particularly wanted to see was Altitude -- and Shirley's home. (Keep in mind, that during the flight I was taking pictures the entire time).

When we found Shirley's house, McCarthy circled the house four or five times so I could take pictures. The reason I lost count of how many times we actually circled is because after the first circle I began feeling very queasy.

However, queasy or not, I was able to get a terrific picture of the shingles on Shirley's house. And everyone knows how practical it is to have pictures of shingles -- just in case they're ever stolen.

Our next important place to fly over was Thrasher -- to see my house. By the time we found my house, I was really feeling the affects of 'circling.' And to top it off, I only had two shots left on my film.

The good news is we landed safely and I stopped feeling queasy two days later.

But, all in all, it was a wonderful experience. And if our pilot is willing to take us up again, we will go. Shirley told another one of our co-workers, Janet Yates, about our flying experience. Janet couldn't believe that we actually went.

Then Shirley told Janet I got sick. Janet believed that.

Eyes On Mississippi

Former Democrat Could Be '87 GOP Candidate

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss -- Mississippi Republicans have won over another well-known Democrat who could become the GOP's horse in the 1987 governor's race or a U.S. Senate race if a seat should come open in the meantime.

Jim Herring, the former Canton district attorney who made a strong showing in the 1975 lieutenant governor's race and was a major contender for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1979, made the switch to the Republican Party earlier this year without any fanfare.

The fact that he had made a permanent change to the GOP didn't actually become known until after Herring was questioned by this column after he appeared on the platform when President Reagan spoke at Gulfport on Oct. 1.

Herring confirmed that he "no longer felt comfortable with the old group," namely, the Democratic Party, and that he never intends to run as a Democrat again. "I have no animosity toward the Democratic Party, but I'm philosophically where I should be now," the 45 year old Canton attorney said.

After his impressive showing in the 1975 lieutenant governor's race, Herring put together a statewide group of important and well-heeled Democrats for the 1979 governor's race. Included in that group was former Sen. James O. Eastland, and Mike Sturdivant, the wealthy Delta planter-businessman who became a candidate for governor in 1983.

But when William Winter jumped into the race on the final day for qualifying, Herring's base of support was badly shattered and he wound up finishing out of the money in the first primary.

Left with a big debt from the 1979 race, Herring made no attempt to run again in 1983, and probably could not have raised the money if he had tried.

Herring wound up paying the last $150,000 of his campaign debt, plus stiff interest, out of his own pocket, and accomplished he says was only possible by working hard at his law practice in Canton and Jackson.

"That kind of experience makes you think twice before getting involved in another political race," Herring admits.

He insists that he did not convert to the Republican Party with any prior understanding that he was a providing the GOP with a ready-made major candidate.

"I didn't try to get anything from them," Herring says, "I'm not trying to run for anything ... as a matter of fact, I really don't feel I'm a viable candidate for anything."

However, Herring is known to have confided to friends that he "can hardly wait" to get back into the political arena. Once having come close to the gold ring in politics, few persons are able to resist another campaign, particularly at Herring's age.

As for his reluctance to enter another campaign that may cost him money out of his own pocket, Herring would have no problem there with the

Dutch Visitors Renew Fascination With Mississippi

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

A wartime incident 40 years ago brought three Dutch visitors to Mississippi this month. And after two weeks of exposure to the Magnolia

State, these Dutch observers find the Mississippi River overwhelmingly fascinating due to its awesome size and character.

Bernard, Geurtje and Geertvander Laan live in Apeldoorn, Holland -- called "the pearl of Holland" because of the beauty of the landscape in and around their city which lies about an hour's train ride east of Amsterdam. From their background in a land laced with dikes, canals and reclaimed sea bottoms, these Dutch visitors find the Mississippi River of incomparable interest.

The "father of waters" was the focal point of visits to Natchez and Vicksburg. They closed one day at historic Natchez-Under-the-Hill watching traffic coursing across the illuminated bridge at dusk and photographing a prolonged display of lightning in the Louisiana sky reflected across the waters of the massive stream. At Vicksburg they stood beside a cannon muzzle overlooking the twin bridges and watched towboats and long strings of barges thread the needle of bridge pilings and churn upstream

Letters

Dear Editor,

For more than 90 years Section 109 of the Mississippi Constitution has guarded the public interest of Mississippi citizens against public officials who would use their office for personal profit.

Repeated efforts have been made by some members of the legislature during the past four years to weaken Mississippi's Ethics law but these efforts were thwarted by Section 109 of the Constitution.

Now the legislators have placed on the November 6th ballot a Constitutional amendment which amounts to a political scheme to do away with Section 109 which for almost a century has prohibited legislators from profiting from self dealing with State governmental agencies. Instead of strengthening Mississippi's Ethics law the Constitutional amendment you are asked to support weakens our Ethics law. It will open the door to legalized corruption.

An editorial in The Clarion-Ledger, one of Mississippi's leading daily newspapers, speaks to the very heart of this moral issue: "The public would be better served if legislators were prohibited from doing business not only with the legislative bodies but all other agencies of state government. This loophole (Constitutional amendment) opens the door to possible corruption, considering the budget function and other powers of the Legislature. Legislators should simply give up doing business with the state when they take the oath of office."

The type of activitis for which Bill Burgin and Senator Nap Cassibry were convicted would become legal if this amendment should pass. But if you want to preserve the long tradition of ethical government in Mississippi you should vote against this amendment. When you vote against this amendment, you are voting to keep Section 109 of the state Constitution. You are voting to prohibit a state legislator from making a profit from any contract produced by our tax dollars.

A vote against the amendment is a vote for good government.

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward

Managing Editor

Most writers steal. Some admit it; most don't. But sometimes it is a form of flattery. And, as long as you give credit to the person you stole from, the "victim" usually doesn't object.

I hope Judy Wall, managing editor of The Amory Advertiser, sees it that way because she is the victim of my theft. Last week Judy wrote a column I am about to steal portions of. But believe me, Judy, my motivation is flattery, not laziness.

Judy said the purpose of her column was "public clarification of just exactly what it is that we (newspaper people) do. People have some strange notions about newspapers and the folks who work for them," she said, explaining that she wonders whether readers think "we're some sort of alien creatures -- psychic, inhumanly endurable, and existing only within the vacuum of work."

She went on to debunk some of those misconceptions, saying: "We don't know about things unless somebody tells us." She's right. When something happens we are usually the last to know.

People will tell the police, the fire department, the ambulance service, their doctor, their next door neighbor, the stranger behind them in the check-out lane...even their brother-in-law.

But they apparently think we have a crystal ball, use tarot cards or are simply clairvoyant. We aren't. If we know about something, it's because somebody told us.

Judy's next point was that "our days at work are just like everybody else's days at work." And what she means is that journalists have appointments, scheduled meetings, lunches, deadlines and private lives just like normal people do. So, if you have something going on you want us to cover, you need to give us advance notice. If you wait until 15 minutes before the event, or even the morning of the event, we may be booked up and unable to come.

Judy says this automatically brings up another point. And being the chicken that I am, I'm going to quote her extensively so you'll be mad at her instead of me: "Everybody's news is just as important as everybody else's news. Don't think that we can easily drop the Junior Pet League meeting we have at 1:00 just because Aunt Sally's 90th birthday party is at that same time," she says. "Both the Pet League and Aunt Sally are equally important to the people involved, and since we're not in the business of deciding who is more newsworthy, we usually take whoever called first."

Judy makes one point I know will surprise a lot of people...especially those who like to call at 1 a.m. for something we could be told about during normal working hours (for me 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., usually...later if it's a true emergency.) "We do have lives outside the office. If I had a nickel for every time somebody has called me at home on a Saturday or Sunday and honestly thought I would be glad to drop everything I had planned and come cover their reunion, church supper, or horseshoes tournament 'right then', I wouldn't need this job. I could retire early and live on the interest," she says.

She's right. It doesn't happen to me a lot yet; though occurrences are becoming more frequent as people get used to contacting me, rather than Ken or Angela. And don't get the wrong impression. We want to hear from you about anything that is newsworthy at any time. This is our job, and though I can't speak for anyone else on this point, I can't think of anything I would rather be doing. All I...and Judy Wall...ask is that you realize that journalists are people, too.

(Thanks for letting me steal from you, Judy. You have my permission to retaliate any time.)

For those who seem "to have everything" the most thoughtful and appreciated gift may be something of your own making, a sharing of time and talent unique to the giver.

Of course such a gift often entails a minimal outlay of money, a fact that sometimes needs consideration. Surprisingly much of Gloria Vanderbilt's book entitled Gloria Vanderbilt Designs for You is made up of directions and diagrams for needlework and crafts, from collage and decoupage to dollhouses. There are more than 70 designs and many are expressly for holiday projects.

Norman Rockwell's Christmas Book also has some suggestions, especially recipes varying from those of past centuries to modern combinations.

The Foxfire Books contain all kinds of interesting ideas for handicrafts and entertaining pastimes.

The Reinhold Craft and Hobby Book has designs and instructions for woodworking, metal hammering, mosaics, jewelry, braiding and weaving and even puppets and marionettes. The crossbow and the boomerang, kites, and terrariums are but a few ideas from this lavish source.

There are special books on wirecraft and most other hobby interests that you can turn to your advantage.

A few of the books devoted entirely to crafts for Christmas are Christmas Decorations for You to Make, by Susan Purdy, Holiday Gifts, Favors, and Decorations, by Helen Sattler and The New Christmas Magic, by Margaret Perry.

Local Pilot Club Observes Founder's Day

Members of the Pilot Club of Booneville observed the week of Oct. 14, as the 63rd anniversary of Pilot Club International.

Anniversary posters made by Dr. Neola Cleveland and Miss Sherry Bowen were placed in the local banks, and Pilot exhibits created by Mrs. Lee Davis and Mrs. Billie Morgan were displayed in the George E. Allen Library and in the window of a local business establishment.

A Founder's Day program was presented at the regular Pilot meeting Thursday, Oct. 18, at 7 p.m. at the Northeast Junior College in the Alumni Room at Frank Haney Union.

Dr. Cleveland, president, presided. The invocation was given by Mrs. Dolye Hodges, chaplain, and Mrs. Gladys Moore, corresponding secretary, led the group in the pledge of allegiance. Miss Amy Goddard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Goddard Jr., and a senior at Booneville High School, was introduced as the Good Citizenship Girl of the Month by Mrs. Carolyn Jackson, a member of the patriotism area.

Miss Goddard is the president of the Student Government Association at Booneville High School.

Mrs. Mary Gault Nabors, club pianist, was introduced as the Pilot of the Month by Mrs. Lynda Davis.

Mrs. Vicki Walendzik, first vice-president and Pilot information area leader, had charge of the program, which depicted the history of Pilot Club International with special emphasis being placed upon the history of the Pilot Club of Booneville, which received its charter in April 1950, with a membership of 24.

PILOT CLUB International was chartered Oct. 16, 1921, with 40 members. Mrs. Pounds related activities of the "Roaring Twenties." Her remarks were highlighted by Mrs. Hodges dressed in a "Roaring Twenties" costume giving a demonstration of the famous Charleston dance of this era to the music of "Yes Sir, That's My Baby," played by Mrs. Nabors, pianist.

Mrs. Ortha Long, a charter member, represented Miss Pearl Sparks, the author of the Pilot Code of Ethics.

The history and service projects of Pilot Club International were related by Mrs. Walendzik and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Pounds gave the history of the Pilot Club of Booneville. Various accomplishments were listed as the local history was traced.

The six charter members of the present membership were recognized. They are Mrs. Ortha Long, Mrs. Annie Lee Kemp, Mrs. Eudora Kemp, Mrs. Nelwyn Murphy, Mrs. Sara Pounds and Mrs. Louise Peeler.

Ten past presidents were in attendance. The present membership is 34. The club also sponsors the Anchor Club at Booneville High School and the Compass Club at Northeast Junior College.

Today Pilot Club International has more than 21,000 members of executive and professional women in seven different countries, the United States, Canada, England, Japan, Bermuda, Bahamas and Mexico.

THE PROGRAM was concluded by Mrs. Peeler, charter president, giving the Pilot Code of Ethics.

The week-long celebration ended with a Pilot buffet breakfast given by Mrs. Peeler, public relations area leader, in the home of Mrs. Carroll Yarber, Saturday at 8 a.m.

The reception rooms were decorated with Pilot wheels, satin streamers featuring Pilot colors of green and gold and yellow chrysanthemums.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Ouida Jumper, second vice-president.

The breakfast ended with the group singing the Pilot Club song, "Sail on International."

Mrs. Marjorie Franks was a special guest.

Booneville Native Is Tennessee Town's First Female Water Systems Operator

A former Booneville resident has made history in La Vergne, Tenn. Rheta Lester Engle has made history because she is the town's first female, licensed water systems distributions grade one operator.

How did she happen to acquire such a job?

"I loved chemistry in high school back in Booneville, and I've always been one to find out how things work," she said.

After three years of "looking over meter reports and sending them back" as a clerk in the water office, Mrs. Engle asked her boss, Ben Andrews, to let her read meters instead.

"When I first started here, there were times when our meters had to be read by a certain date and we would be shorthanded. I felt that I should read meters because it would help me understand my work better," she added.

WHILE READING meters may look easy, Mrs. Engle has found there's more than meets the eye (or hand) in her job.

"I've run across snakes, spiders and bugs hiding in the water meters," she said, laughing. "I learned real quick to take the cover off before I stick my hand inside that meter."

The petite 36-year-old wanted to know more about her work. So she studied everything she could find on the subject and attended many state sponsored seminars on water treatment.

She took the two-and-a-half hour exam in April. In June she was notified that she had passed - with a score of 80 out of a possible 100. La Vergne City Manager Andy Anderson says, "She reads meters and does the bookkeeping. She works real hard."

Of course, keeping the water department running smoothly isn't her only full-time job.

She maintains a home for her husband, James, and their four sons, Jamie, 17, Ricky, 10, and the eight-year-old twins, Terry and Jerry.

She and her family have lived in La Vergne for 12 years.

"We like La Vergne. It is a lot like the town I was born and reared in - where everyone knows everyone else," she said.

Mrs. Engle graduated from Booneville High School in 1966.

Mrs. Engle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lester of Booneville. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Lum Lester, all of Booneville.

State Has Lowest Room Charges

Recent statistics found in the Source Book of Health Insurance Data indicate that Mississippi hospitals have the lowest charges for semi-private rooms in the southeast United States.

The information, published by the Health Insurance Association of America, was gathered from July 1983 through January 1984.

Mississippi hospitals, on the average, charge $108.39 per day for a semi-private room. This is an increase of only 2.4 percent over the previous survey period when the average charge was $105.80.

"The semi-private room rates across the South are much higher than those in Mississippi," said Sam Cameron, president of the Jackson-based Mississippi Hospital Association. "We have the lowest hospital costs in the country and, from all statistical indications, we will continue to have the lowest costs for years to come."

Compared to other states, Mississippi's rate of $108.39 is much lower than that of South Carolina at $136.36, the next lowest. The highest rate was Florida's $174.91.

Rehab Help

For Veterans

Veterans receiving compensation for service-connected disability may be eligible for vocational rehabilitation counseling benefits under expanded Veterans Administration programs, according to Jackson VA regional office director, Samuel J. Maraman.

The basic period of eligibility for vocational rehabilitation services has been extended to a period of 12 years following discharge from active duty or from the date the veteran was notified of entitlement to VA compensation for the disability - whichever is later.

The basic period may be extended if the veteran received an upgraded discharge or was unable to enter or complete training for a period of time because of his or her medical condition.

Maraman said the purpose of the vocational rehabilitation program is to assist disabled veterans to overcome an employment handicap which resulted from their service-connected disability. In the case of a veteran whose handicap prevents employment, assistance to achieve independence in living is provided.

The director said his office provides evaluation and counseling to assist in development of a comprehensive rehabilitation plan designed to suit the disabled veteran's particular needs.

The Jackson VA Regional Office can be reached by telephone toll-free on the following number: 1-800-682-5270.

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

Several things have been asked and need clarification.

What seeding rates for grazing -- Regardless of how seed are planted you need 120 pounds of the small-seeded (Coker type) wheats per acre and 180 pounds of the large-seeded (Fla and McNair types) per acre. The 60 to 90 pound rates are for grain only!

Prussic acid in sorghum stubble -- The problem is with second growth, suckers, etc. Cold weather (light frost) stress or dry weather stress can produce prussic acid. This will remain in the cut and baled stubble. We have had both. Wait until we have a killing freeze, then about 10 to 14 days after before grazing.

Drill spacing for wheat -- Drill spacings under 8 inches are not recommended if high yields are anticipated. Seed 6 to 8 seed per foot of row in 6 to 8 inch spacings.

Soybean Profit Outlook
Bleak

Soybean producers in Prentiss

County will have a tough time realizing a profit on this fall's crop.

Soybeans are an important crop in Prentiss County, with about 50,000 acres available for harvest. But a typical soybean grower has to get $6.50 to $7 a bushel to make a profit.

Several factors have caused soybean prices to drop this fall and reduce profit for farmers. Soybean prices on the futures market have been below $6 a bushel this fall.

The U.S. soybean crop is estimated at more than 2 billion bushels. This large crop has caused soybean prices to tumble.

Soybean stocks for the marketing year that ended on Sept. 1, have been estimated at 175 million bushels. This is sharply above expectations and has also led to lower soybean prices.

Lack of rainfall in September and early frost in October is expected to make yields fall short of earlier projections, which would be a double blow to farmers in Prentiss County.

All of this adds up to prospects of a poor profit year for our soybean farmers.

ASCS News

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block has announced a base loan rate of 57.3 cents per pound for 1985-crop upland cotton. The loan rate applies to Strict Low Middling 1 and 1-16 inch cotton at average location in the U.S. The 1985 loan rate is 2.3 cents above the 1984 loan rate, Block said. The upland cotton loan rate is based on a statutory formula which includes domestic and world price data.

Block also announced a loan rate of 85.95 cents per pound for extra long staple (ELS) cotton. The ELS cotton loan rate must be at least 150 percent of the upland cotton base loan rate.

The ELS cotton target price is 120 percent of the extra long staple cotton loan rate and was announced by the Secretary as 103.14 cents per pound. If the average price received by extra long staple cotton producers during the period August 1985 through March 1986 falls below the target price, eligible producers will receive a payment based on the difference between the target price and the higher of the average farm price or the loan rate.

Other provisions of the 1985 cotton programs were announced on Sept. 14. Loan premiums and discounts for the various cotton qualities will be established next spring.

TO PROVIDE farmers with additional cash flow, advance payments are being offered during the sign up for the 1985 wheat, feed grain, upland cotton and rice acreage reduction programs. Advance payments represent 50 percent of the projected deficiency payments and 50 percent of the land diversion payments in those programs where land diversion payments are provided.

Deficiency payments are made to farm program participants when the average market price falls below the established target price for a crop. Target prices for 1985 are $3.03 per bushel for corn, $2.88 for sorghum, $2.60 for barley, $1.60 for oats, and $4.38 per bushel for wheat. The target price is 81 cents a pound for upland cotton and $11.90 per hundredweight for rice.

The advance deficiency payments equal one-half the projected deficiency payment rate, times the farm program yield, times the indicated acreage to be planted, not to exceed the permitted acreage of the crop.

In addition to deficiency payments, farmers who sign up for the 1985 wheat, upland cotton and rice programs will be eligible for land diversion payments. Payment rates are $2.70 a bushel for wheat, $3.30 per pound for upland cotton and $3.50 per hundredweight for rice. Half of the diversion payments will be available at signup. These payments compensate farmers for taking land out of production in addition to the acreage reduction requirement.

A farmer who accepts an advance payment, but who later does not comply with program provisions, must refund the amount of the advance payment with interest plus liquidated damages.

For 1985 feed grains and extra long staple cotton, a 10 percent acreage reduction program is in effect. For wheat and upland cotton, the total reduction is 30 percent, including a 10 percent paid land diversion requirement.

For 1985 rice program participants, the total reduction is 35 percent, including a 15 percent paid land diversion.

Applications for the 1985 programs may be filed from Oct. 15, through March 1.

Farmers are reminded that the county ASCS office is now receiving nominations for ASCS community committee election candidates. Farmers are encouraged to use this opportunity to nominate their farm neighbors as candidates in the ASC committee election.

The ASC committee provides the important service of administering government farm programs in the local community. The election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 23, to Dec. 3. Eligible farm voters will be provided with instructions for filling out the secret ballot and returning it to the county ASCS office.

In filling out a petition, farmers should be careful to include the name of only one nominee, the signatures of at least three eligible ASC voters who support the nominee, and certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected. Petitions must contain this information to be accepted. The completed petition should be dated and mailed or hand-delivered to the county ASCS office no later than Oct. 29.

ASC committee elections are open to all eligible ASC voters without regard to race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. Any concerned farmer with an interest in serving fellow producers would be an asset to the ASC committee. For this reason, farmers are urged to petition for the farmers of their choice. The individual producer will benefit in the long run from a responsible, concerned team of ASC committee members in the local administration of U.S. government farm programs.

Most resident farmers are eligible to hold office as ASC committee-members. If a farmer would like detailed information concerning eligibility requirements, he or she should contact either a present committee member or the county ASCS office.

Soil Conservation News

By ED CALVERT
Soil Conservationist
Booneville Field Office

If you were to ask any successful businessman what two things contributed the most to his success, good management and proper planning would probably be mentioned. The same applies to a farming operation, especially when no-till practices are used.

While every farm is different, we will discuss a "typical" no-till farmer's annual schedule. It will give you an overall idea of when to do what.

No-till jobs for September, October, November are as follows:

Harvest; select sites for next spring's no-till crops; map your fields for weed types and plan your herbicide program; visit no-till seed variety plots, evaluate varieties; apply phosphorous and potassium as needed; test soil pH; if below 6.0 apply agricultural lime; plant small grain cover crops.

No-till jobs for December, January, and February are as follows:

Select your varieties of seed for next spring; clean fence rows and other weed seed sources; attend no-till grower meetings and seminars; read up on latest no-till techniques; maintenance on no-till machinery; finalize your weed control program and order herbicides and fertilizers.

No-till jobs for March, April, and May are as follows:

Renovate pastures by interseeding legumes; get planter and sprayer calibrated and ready to go; Apply herbicides to kill cover crops, weeds, and grass or legume sods; plant and apply starter fertilizer; apply nitrogen; prepare combine for small grain harvest.

No-Till jobs for June, July, and August are as follows:

Harvest June wheat, plant no-till double-crop soybeans or grain sorghum; apply nitrogen to corn; scout crops for insect damage; spot treat perennial weeds in grain stubble to prepare fields for no-till crops next year.

For further information about no-till or any conservation practice, contact the Soil Conservation Service office at 728-3544 or come by and see us at 107 N. College St., in Booneville.

Home Economist's Notes

By PATTY K. ROBINSON
Extension Home Economist

It's fun squash time. What's a fun squash? What Cinderella used for a coach and where Peter Pumpkin Eater kept his wife. It's Halloween's grinning "jack" and Thanksgiving's scrumptious pie. It's pumpkin.

With Halloween just around the corner, pumpkins have come to market in full force. The pumpkin season is from October to December, with the majority of pumpkins being sold during these weeks preceeding Halloween.

But many people forget that they are also a delicious vegetable. This fall, try serving fresh pumpkins.

The first important thing is knowing how to choose the pumpkin. Although there are no USDA grade standards specifically for pumpkins, the same general buying criteria for winter squash apply to them.

They should be well matured, not broken or cracked; free from soft spots and excessive scarring; and they should be clean. They should also have a rich, orange color.

There are two types of pumpkin, Jumbo and Sugar. The Jumbo pumpkin is usually 12 to 15 inches in diameter and weighs between 10 and 90 pounds. The flesh is orangish yellow, thick and dry. The Sugar pumpkin is a smaller variety. It is usually 10 to 12 inches in diameter and weighs from 6 to 8 pounds. Its flesh is yellowish orange, thick, fine textured, and sweet.

If you are going to do some pie baking, choose the Sugar variety. This pumpkin will give a better flavor to the finished product. It usually takes 1½ to 2 cups of cooked pumpkin for a 9-inch pie. And you should plan on about 1½ pounds of fresh pumpkin to yield the 2 cups cooked. (This amount will vary some as the smaller pumpkins usually have less waste than larger ones).

The pies made from fresh pumpkin may not be as firm as those made from canned pumpkin pie mix. The pie mix is usually a combination of one-third pumpkin and summer or winter squash. The addition of these other squash varieties gives body to the product. Whether fresh or canned, though, the pie will make for delicious eating.

The Jumbo variety is for the goblins in your household. Although this pumpkin can be used in pies, it is best used in the making of Jack-O-Laterns. Choose a Jumbo pumpkin that is rounded in shape, yet flattened on the ends. Check to see the rind is hard and free from blemishes.

A soft rind makes carving the Jack-O-Latern more difficult. It's better to avoid using Sugar pumpkins for Jack-O-Laterns. These are denser than the Jumbo variety, and therefore, are not as easy to carve. This density also prevents the candle light of the Jack-O-Latern to shine through the entire pumpkin and make an errie glow, as is possible with the Jumbo variety.

When scooping out a pumpkin, we usually create two things - a Jack-O-Latern and a mess! This year, don't throw away all of that "mess." Save the seeds and turn them into a delicious snack - Salted Pumpkin Seeds.

To prepare this snack, wash the seeds well, and spread them on a cookie sheet to dry. Roast them at 375 degrees F. for 20 to 30 minutes or until dried. Do with butter and brown for 5 to 10 minutes at 400 Degrees F. (They toast more evenly if stirred often.) Sprinkle the seeds with salt and you have an extra Halloween treat for your family.

Timberline

By ROBERT THORNTON
County Forester

For centuries trees were viewed as sources of firewood and lumber. By-products of sawdust, bark and wood scraps were considered waste.

Then scientists began to see through the forests to the trees and to discover of what "stuff" they were made. That "stuff" was chemicals, energy.

Thus began new ways of doing things as new products were created, and an energy-pressed world saw great possibilities.

Today there are more than 5,000 products made from wood. The list is too long to present here, but for National Forest Products Week (Oct. 21-27), let me point out a few for you:

Bark: used as fuel in forest industry mills, for chemicals, resins, mulches, and soil conditioners. By-products become vitamins, plastics, explosives, photographic film, toothpaste, pharmaceuticals, and other items.

Principal components of dinnerware, electrical receptacles and parts, toys, handles for cooking utensils, telephone and appliance housings and camera cases are wood "flour" and melamine resins using cellulose filler.

Other types of chemical based cellulose are used for manufacture of tool handles, photographic films, sausage casings, football helmets. Textile products such as clothing, draperies, rugs and solid rocket propellants and other explosives also use cellulose.

Torula yeast, a high protein product made from wood sugars as a by-product of papermaking, is used in baby foods, cereals, pet foods and feed supplements for cattle, fish and chickens.

Turpentine and tall oil, also by-products of papermaking, are ingredients in paint, varnish, adhesives, asphalt, inks, rubber products, soaps, polishes, chewing gum, toothpaste, menthol cigarettes, detergents and shampoos.

Cleaning compounds, insecticides, cement, ceramics, fertilizers, oilwell drilling muds, cosmetics, gummed tape and certain pharmaceuticals (including L-Dopa used to treat Parkinson's disease) are among products in which lignosulfonates from spent sulphite pulping liquor are used.

Residues from bark, ground wood and spent pulping liquors provide more than half the energy used by the nation's pulp and papermaking industry, and use of these fuels is becoming more widespread.

From Maine, where lobsters can grow faster from feed supplements made from wood products, to Texas, where mud additives from wood products make the oil drilling easier, and certainly in Mississippi where trees were the No. 2 crop in 1983, forests and forest products make daily lives easier and more pleasurable for all Americans.

4-H News

By WAYNE LAND
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Youth in the 4-H program have found that marketing their 4-H craft is a great way to make some extra spending money. Although their first though may be to participate in arts and crafts shows, there are other possibilities.

If your work is comparable to others, set out to get your things sold. Crafts shops thrive on other people's work, so do not hesitate asking them to display your wares.

Before approaching a business, choose a reasonable price for each article. Often a store will want to decide on a price themselves, but be prepared to give them your suggested amount.

Calculate whatever costs were put into each item. Always keep the receipts showing how much was spent for materials. To this total, add what you would like to earn.

You usually cannot be paid for the time you invested, so be careful not to over- or underprice. The best way to pick an accurate figure is to look around for items similar to yours.

Gather a sample and show it to different businesses until someone is interested. Most likely, your things will be taken on consignment. This means that if any are sold, the store will get a percentage of the money for displaying it. (Be sure to take this into account when figuring a suggested price. It generally runs about 10 percent of the amount the item was sold for.) If nothing sells, remove the items from the store after a reasonable amount of time.

Always ask for a receipt showing how many items have been left at the store. This will be positive proof that the items are yours in case of a mix-up. Before anything is displayed, decide what the store will receive when something sells. Keep careful records of your own, describing every article left in the shop.

Do not be afraid to change stores. Although it is not usual, occasionally a store may not try to sell your work. If, for instance, your items are displayed near the floor or behind other articles, and the owner does not seem to want to sell them, you may want to look for another business. In this case, it would be best to leave your wares in the first shop until you have a different store that is interested in your work.

Halloween Story On 'Farmweek'

Halloween is in the air - and a colorful Halloween story will be on the air, compliments of the Farmweek television series, at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 29, on Mississippi ETV.

Pumpkin production in Mississippi is the topic, and the Farmweek team went to Yalobusha County for the story. Yalobusha County farmers grow more pumpkins than farmers in any other Mississippi county.

The story is a Halloween special for more than one reason. It was originally scheduled for broadcast two weeks ago, but Farmweek producers discovered they had been "tricked" by the video demons known as technical difficulties and were forced to delay the "treat" until the October 29 show - which, spookily, is only two days before Halloween.

BHS Insights

By KIMI DROWN
BHS Journalism Student

Well, I shouldn't say "I told you so!" but I did. In last week's column, you fans were asked to come out and support the Devils. What? That's right; you who didn't come to the game should feel guilty.

Excitement filled the air as we blasted Houston away 22-7. You say that you want to see Booneville win its next game? Good -- the next game is at Shannon this Friday night. I expect to see everyone there cheering the Devils to victory.

Most Booneville students are relieved that last week is over but are worried about this week. Even though nine weeks test have been completed, many students are apprehensive about their grades. I wonder how many of you will still be seen crusin' through Sonic on Friday nights after report cards go out.

The National and Junior Honor societies initiated new members last Tuesday. The ceremony was a formal one, in which parents and friends attended.

The BHS Anchor Club has been busy selling calendars and stickers. If you wish to support the Anchor Club by buying one of the fund-raising items, contact an Anchor Club member from BHS. In other club news, the FHA installed officers.

The BHS Band gave a super performance last Saturday at Wal-Mart. The band will also be performing in the Tupelo Marching Contest this Saturday, Oct. 27. The band encourages everyone to be at Tupelo this Saturday "to feel the beat" when the band works to made all 1's.

By the way, a reward is offered by Wyatt Weatherford's paper patrol victims for information leading to the conviction of who is "rolling" the school grounds.

22-7 Over Houston

Second Half Rally Gives Devils Second Win

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

After giving up 240 yards rushing in the first half alone, the Booneville defense came alive in the second half and allowed the Blue Devil offense to get on track for a 22-7 win over district rival Houston.

The Devil defense came out swarming in the second half and never let up. The Booneville defense helped by forcing six Houston fumbles, four of those in the second half.

The Booneville defense allowed the Hilltoppers only 10 yards rushing in the second half. In the first half of action, the Toppers had used several big running plays to gain an early advantage. However, the Booneville defense flexed their muscles in the second half and closed the door on Houston.

Booneville Coach Wayne Jones said after the game that the effort by the entire team, not only the defense, in the second half was the turning point in the game.

"We didn't change anything at halftime," Jones said. "Our kids just decided to wake up and play football. In the first half, we looked about like we did last week against Baldwyn.

"We executed a lot better in the second half against them," he said. "We stopped their sweeps, and that was their big play in the first half. When we stopped their outside game, they couldn't get anything else going."

Houston jumped out to an early 7-0 first quarter lead, but the Booneville defense shut out the Hilltoppers the rest of the way.

The tough defensive play and a 15 point outburst by the Devil offense in the final period paved the way for Booneville's second overall win and their first in the district.

In the first period, it appeared the Blue Devils would be in for another long evening. Houston running backs Charles Moore, James Jones and Tom Rogers all piled up good yardage against the Booneville defense.

Rogers put the Toppers on the scoreboard first when he swept left and went 68 yards for the score. John Gravat's PAT gave Houston their only lead of the game at 7-0.

Neither team managed another serious scoring threat before halftime. Both the Hilltoppers and the Blue Devils drove numerous times into the other's territory. But, Houston fumbles and Booneville penalties kept the game a mild tug-of-war between both teams.

The Blue Devils came out firing in the third quarter and quickly gained the momentum needed to pull past the Hilltoppers.

On the opening kickoff in the third period, Buddy Bartlett handed off to Jimbo Goddard on a reverse and Goddard romped 56 yards to the Houston 40 to set up the Devils' first score.

Booneville quickly took advantage of the excellent field position as they scored on their first play from scrimmage. Another reverse, this time with Bartlett carrying the football, provided Booneville's first score when Bartlett jaunted 40 yards.

Rod Coggin added the extra point to tie the game at 7-7 with 11:38 left in the third stanza.

In the fourth period Booneville pulled away from the Hilltoppers and on to victory. Fifteen final period points gave the Devils a nice cushion to work with.

Jimbo Goddard got the first Booneville tally in the period as he dove into the end zone on a eight yard scoring run. A charging Houston defender blocked Coggin's try for the PAT.

Moments later the Devils got another tally as Coggin passed 12 yards to Rodney McVey for the score. Booneville's try for the two point conversion failed, leaving the score at 19-7.

The Blue Devils added three more points to their score with less than four minutes left in the game as Coggin booted a 25-yard field goal.

Coggin said after the game that the Devils didn't change anything at halftime except their attitudes. "Everybody decided at halftime that it was time to play ball and we made up our mind to do that and we did," Coggin said.

"Also, we decided to dedicate that game and the rest of our games to Michael (Starting quarterback Blalock who is out for the season with a broken collar bone)."

Fate has lent a hand in the Devils' upcoming game tomorrow night as they travel to Shannon to face the Red Raiders. Last year, Booneville had just beaten Houston for their only win when they battled the Red Raiders.

Shannon had not won a game when the two teams locked horns last year. But the Raiders earned their only win over the Devils in a hard-fought contest.

Jones said he hopes his players remember last year's game and what it meant to both teams. "We were the only team that they beat last year and that always helps motivate our players," he said.

"But, we'll have to play like we did in the second half of last week's game if we can stay with them. They are a lot better than they were last year."

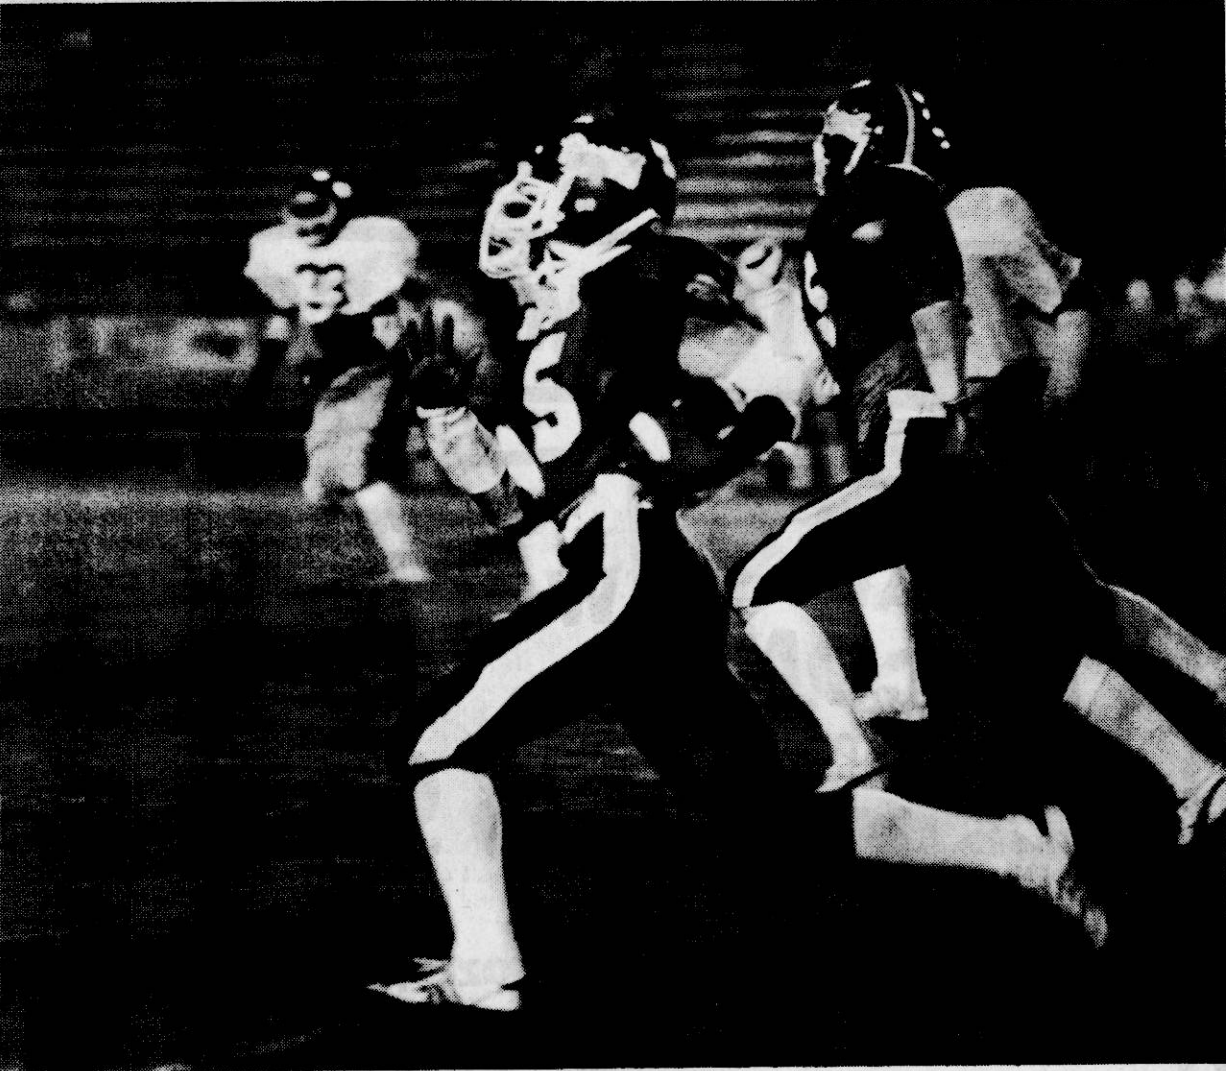

Though Jones feels last year's game will play a key part, Shannon coach Lee Gardner said it won't have much impact on his players. "We try to take each game one game at a time and not think about past wins or losses," Gardner said. "Booneville has got a strong program and they will be tough to control, especially if Goddard gets rolling," he said.

The Red Raiders are still in search of their first win and Gardner said a young team and a lack of interest in the sport has caused his team some problems this year.

"We only have 18 dressed out for football right now. We're real young and we have a fine junior high program, so we are expecting good things in the future," he said.

Kickoff for the District One, Class AAA battle is set for 7:30 tomorrow night in Shannon.

Leading scorers for the Royalettes were Lane Smith with 13 points, Lori Shockley with 12 and Tammy Thornton with 11.

In the final night on Saturday the Blue Mountain Lady Cougars defeated Burnsville. And, in the final game of the tournament the Royalettes had no trouble putting away the Lady Cardinals. Although the score at the end of the first quarter stood at 16-8, the Royalettes won 64-34.

High scorers in the game were Rhonda McKinney, Cindy King and Lane Smith all with 10 points each for the Royalettes. Myra Green was the lone double-figure scorer for Jumpertown with 11 points to her favor.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

Reverence For The Bible

By Larry E. Hill

Pastor First Pentacostal Church

Psalms 138:2, "I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth: For thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name." Reference for the word of God is the key to successful Christian living. Let us always remember the Bible is no ordinary book. More Bibles are printed every year than any other book. No book has undergone as many translations or has been printed in as many different languages as has the Bible. Its presence has solemnized the oaths of countless kings and presidents. Its words have brightened the writings of the world's best authors. Its teachings are the cement which holds the world together.

The Bible also receives more dubious honors. Despite its place of honor in countless homes, it annually collects more dust through disuse than practically any other book. Opposing sides of an issue will quote the Bible to prove their points and most of humanity regards it as an Holy book.

Misuse or failure to use the Bible makes it the victim of a great tragedy. Its presence is honored but its pages are often unread. Its cultural contribution is extolled, but its call to commitment is often ignored. Its literary worth is acclaimed, but its total authority is often disclaimed. In short, the Bible is grossly misunderstood.

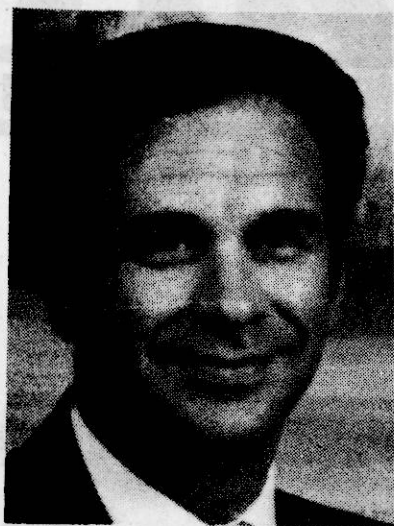

When Sir Walter Scott lay dying, he called for the book. "What book, sir?" was the reply, "You have written several." He answered, "The Bible, that is the only book."

What is so different about the Bible? To answer this question properly we have to look at two things:

1. What other books contain
2. The special role the Bible plays in human experience. When we see these two things, we can understand why the Bible should receive and why no other book, regardless of its claim, compares to it.

The Bible can be a medicine for sick minds and spirits. It can be basic, staple nourishment for our spiritual sustenance. Oh, how powerful is God's word.

Why listen to the Bible? Because God speaks through the Bible as He speaks nowhere else. His word, though written long ago, is right on target. It speaks with startling clarity to our deepest needs. I invite you to do as I have done, let the Word of God be your source of strength and courage as we face a dark, troubled future. Our hope is in God's word and He will not let us down. We have His word on it.

Larry E. Hill, Pastor

Can Basketball Season Really Be Underway Already?

By PIGSKIN PETE
Sports Columnist

You have got to be kidding me! High School basketball is already underway?

I noticed last week that some of the area high schools have started their basketball seasons and it just seems hard to believe. I mean, it was only a few weeks ago that football season got started, wasn't it?

Anyway, I decided to give my predictions on some of the local basketball teams since the season was starting. Hey, I know my name is Pigskin Pete and not Basketball Pete. But, I do know my basketball. I was once the starting forward for the Gorilla U. Swingers when I was in college. I wasn't really a superstar. Actually, I saved my best performances for after the game in the dressing room.

In all my travels, I can attest to the fact that Prentiss County and Northeast Mississippi is the hottest for high school basketball. It seems when the season gets underway, all types of people start coming out of their holes to watch the games (Some of them act more like they're out of their trees). And, many times, they don't really have a favorite team. They just enjoy watching the kids play.

And, anywhere you go this year, you're going to hear the name "Wheeler Eagles."

Coach Sam Ritchey and his talented bunch of buzzards should be the team to beat in the county and probably in the state. But, they'll get plenty of competition from Baldwin, Thrasher, Booneville, Hickory Flat, New Site, Jumptown, West Union and Alcorn Central.

Speaking of Alcorn Central, former Booneville coach and present ACHS coach Gerald Caviness has been putting his troops through the entire routine as the season draws near.

Many are speculating whether or not the Golden Bears will have a successful season or not after losing several players to graduation. But, take heed...

Coach Caviness and I go a long way back, and you'd better not count his team out yet, have you ever known one of his teams to not produce?

Miller & Jumper Are Tied Again For Lead In Prog Race

Leighton Miller picked 13 of 15 games correct last week to win the weekly prognosticators' contest and move into a tie with Doug Jumper for the season lead.

Miller and Jumper have both picked 73 of 110 games correct for a 66 percent picking average. Last week, Jumper finished second with 12 of 15 games correct, one game behind Miller.

Bill Ward also picked 12 of 15 games correct last week to tie Jumper for second place honors.

Ward is in third place in the year's totals with 73 of 110 games picked correctly for a 66 percent picking average.

Manfred Saylor's, the defending prognosticating champion, fell off the pace last week, picking just 10 of 15 games correct. Saylor's is in third place in the season totals with 72 of 110 games correct for a 65 percent average.

Last week's guest picker, Banner-Independent sports writer Scott McKinney followed Saylor's with 9 of 15 games correct for the week. For the season, the guest spot has picked only 61 of 110 games correct for a mere 55 percent picking average.

Pigskin Pete also fell off the pace last week as he managed only 8 of 15 games correct. Pete has picked 69 of 115 games correct for the year for a 62 percent average.

This week's guest picker is WBIP Radio personality "Happy" Harold Campbell.

Overall, I think we'll see a well balanced season from everyone. I don't really think that there will be more than one or two teams that will be constant favorites. This will probably be the most balanced season in this area in some time. Just mark my word. Now, on to a subject I'm known for--girls--I mean football.

Coach Wayne Jones and his staff finally snuck out of the cellar last week as they beat the Houston Hilltoppers for the Devils' second win of the year.

And, though starting quarterback Michael Black is out for the season, BHS could gain their third win this week when they travel to Shannon.

However, just because the Red Raiders are winless and having their problems, don't count them out. Last year, Shannon beat Booneville for their only win of the year. And, don't think that Coach Lee Garner's squad doesn't remember that game.

But, count on the Blue Devils to win number three this week on the road.

Booneville 24 Shannon 17
Are Coach Willie Jackson's Thrasher Rebels for real or what? The Rebels won their fifth game of the year last week over Bigersville to prove to everyone that football is alive and well at Thrasher. But, the Rebs face another tough challenge this week when they travel to Tishomingo to face the Bulldogs.

Tishomingo has some impressive wins under their belt this year and they could provide more competition than Thrasher can handle. However, don't count on it.

Roll on Rebels.
Thrasher 23 Tishomingo 15

Coach Hubert Tucker and his Bearcats have another tune-up this week as they prepare to meet Belmont in two weeks. This week the 'Cats host the Hatley Tigers in a intra-division matchup.

Hatley has been known in the past for their football, but this year the Tigers are not a force to be reckoned with. And, the Bearcats are shooting for their eighteenth consecutive regular season win. Bet on them to get it.

Baldwyn 39 Hatley 12

After almost pulling off a major upset against East Mississippi two weeks ago, the Northeast Tigers almost did the same last week when they lost to the Northwest Rangers. But, just because the Tigers are 0-8 with only two weeks left in the season, don't think they're a pushover for any team. Coach David Carnell's Tigers will be fired up and ready for the Mississippi Delta Trojans this week, as it is homecoming at Tiger Tech.

Delta has always been a tough game for the Tigers in the past. But something tells me to pick Northeast. After the past two weeks, they might just do it.

NEMJC 21 Delta 20

In other selected games this week, New Albany will beat Saltillo by 14; Pontotoc will beat Ripley by 6; Vandy will down Ole Miss by 8; Auburn will beat Miss. State by 15; USM will beat SW La. by 17; Georgia will beat Kentucky by 4; LSU will beat Notre Dame by 19; Georgia Tech will upset Tennessee by 7; Memphis State will down North Carolina by 8; Michigan will beat Illinois by 8; and Texas will down SMU by 5.

Well, I'm in a bad hurry this week. It seems I'm supposed to be at an autograph session in five minutes. But, I wonder where 1313 Mockingbird Lane is. And, who is Herman Munster?

Memphis State Overpowers Drenched Bullies By 23-12

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Memphis State kicker Don Glessen booted three first quarter field goals, and Mississippi State fumbled away the football on their first three possessions of the game, to hand the Tigers a 23-12 win before a rain-soaked crowd of 26,997 in Memphis' Liberty Bowl Stadium Saturday night.

Glessen kicked field goals of 37, 23 and 39 yards in the opening period to give Memphis State a lead they would never relinquish. Bulldog coach Emory Bellard said he was displeased with his team's performance against the Tigers. "We gave them too many opportunities and we didn't create enough breaks for ourselves," he said.

"We gave them every chance in the world to win early in the game and they took advantage of it."

Glessen put the Tigers on the board early in the game with his first field goal, a 37-yard boot. Later in the period, Glessen added his other two field goals to give Memphis State a 9-0 halftime lead.

Tiger quarterback Danny Sparkman threw 75 yards to Enis Jackson for the next Memphis score. Glessen's PAT gave the Tigers a commanding 16-0 lead.

Memphis State added insurance to their lead later in the third period when James "Punkin" Williams scampered 66 yards for a score.

Mississippi State pulled within sixteen in the final period when quarterback Don Smith of Hamilton rolled into the end zone from five yards out. But the try for the two-point conversion failed, leaving the score at 23-6.

The Bulldogs added another score in the period when running back Mikel Williams scored from the eight. Again, the extra point was no good and Memphis State had captured a 23-12 win.

USM Squeezes Past Rebels

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

In the last scheduled game between the two schools for a number of years, the Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles scored 10 third quarter points to upset the favored Ole Miss Rebels 13-10 in Jackson last Saturday.

USM coach Jim Carmody said he was pleased with his team's performance. "We didn't make the big mistakes this week that we've made in our past games," he said.

"In the past, the fumbles and interceptions have really hurt us. But, today, our kids played error-free football and we won," Carmody said.

The Rebels, who fell to 3-3-1 on the year after an impressive start, were stunned all day by the play of Eagle quarterback Robert Ducksworth. Ducksworth, a 5-11, 194 lb. junior, rushed for 39 yards and passed for 128 yards to lead USM past the Rebels for the second consecutive year.

"Ducksworth was the one who hurt us today," Ole Miss coach Billy Brewer said. "He kept making those big third down plays against us."

Ole Miss jumped on the scoreboard first in the opening period when quarterback Kent Austin found receiver Timmy Moffett open in the end zone from 19 yards out. Jon Howard's PAT gave the Rebels an early 7-0 lead. The Eagles put together a drive of their own in the same period and got their first points when Rex Banks' 42-yard field goal put USM on the board. But Ole Miss still led 7-3.

Howard gave the Rebels their seven-point lead back by booting a 46-yard field goal before the half. But, in the third period, it was all USM. Banks added another field goal, this time from 32-yards out, and Ducksworth ran into the end zone from seven yards out to give the Golden Eagles their hard-fought 13-10 victory.

Ole Miss returns to SEC play this week when they travel to Nashville to face the explosive Vanderbilt Commodores. USM will be on the road this week as they face the Ragin' Cajuns of Southwest Louisiana.
