Filling Pools

The Army Corps of Engineers has scheduled raising the pools behind three additional locks on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, leaving only two remaining to be raised before all pools on the 234-mile-long waterway are at their operational level.

Commencement of filling was set for this week for the pools at Locks C, D, and E, between Bay Springs lake and Fulton.

There are a total of 10 locks and dams on the waterway's navigation channel. All are expected to be in operation and Tenn-Tom open to through navigation by February 1, 1985.

Lower Rates

A recent order issued by the Mississippi Public Service Commission allows AT&T Communications to reduce rates on long distance calls within the state by three to five percent.

AT&T spokesman Dan Daugherty said, "The order will help bring the benefits of competition in the state's long distance market to consumers."

Daugherty said the PSC order also provides for a "banded rates concept that will allow AT&T to continue to set rates at competitive levels within guidelines approved by the commission."

Program Scheduled

The 35th annual Goodfellows Program will be held Saturday, Dec. 1, at 7 p.m. to raise money to provide Christmas baskets for needy families in Prentiss County.

This year's program will be held at the West Side Community Center in the Booneville City Park, according to Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb.

As in years past, Booneville radio station WBIP will broadcast the fund raiser.

The Goodfellows have set their goal this year at $4,000, up $500 from last year's goal.

This money will be used to provide approximately 400 baskets of fruits, nuts, candy and other items to needy families, Crabb said.

Prospective recipients will be screened by the Community Action Agency.

This year's entertainment will feature an all gospel singing format. Persons or groups interested in entertaining during the program should call the Rev. Larry Hill at 728-3508 or 728-4956.

In between the entertainment segments of the program, Mayor Crabb, R.J. "Piggy" Bonds, and the Rev. Larry Hill will be asking for donations to the Goodfellows Fund.

Donations may also be made at any of the local banks prior or preceding the Goodfellows Program.

Vets' Day Closings

The Prentiss County Courthouse and the Booneville Post Office will be closed Monday, Nov. 12, in observance of Veteran's Day.

Prentiss Voters Follow National Trend

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Voters in Prentiss County followed a national trend and gave Republican President Ronald Reagan and Vice-President George Bush the majority of their votes in Tuesday's general election.

Prentiss County Circuit Clerk Travis Cox reported there was about a 50 percent voter turnout for the election. There were 7,869 votes cast, he said.

Unofficial election returns showed that the Reagan-Bush ticket received 4,818 votes, while Democratic candidates Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro received a total of 2,895 votes.

Libertarian nominees David Bergland and Jim Lewis received 3 votes, while Independent candidates Lyndon H. LaRouche Jr.

and Billy M. Davis received 10 votes, and Larry Holmes and Gloria LaRiva received 1 vote.

Incumbent Sen. Thad Cochran received 4,504 votes and former Gov. William Winter received 3,365 votes.

Prentiss Countians gave Democratic incumbent Rep. Jamie L. Whitten 6,314 votes and Independent challenger John Hargett 683 votes.

The ethics amendment was also defeated in Prentiss County. There were 3,571 votes against the amendment and 2,035 votes for the amendment.

The amendment called for the repeal of Section 109, which would regulate conflicts of interest of legislators and public employees.

In the only contested race in Prentiss County, Mackie D. Holder was re-elected as fifth district school board member. He received 636 votes and his challenger James Gargus received 327 votes.

All five election commissioners were unopposed: Jimmy Murphy, first district; Woodrow English, second district; Mrs. Sale Martin, third district; Cayce DePoyster, fourth district; and Larry W. Lambert, fifth district.

680 Dilauidids Confiscated

Last July's Drug Bust Was A Record

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

The July 24 arrest of Bobby Berryhill, Rienzi, by state investigator David Huggins and Alcorn County Sheriff Bill Gant has been established as a record, according to Huggins.

Huggins said the quantity of dilauid tablets found in Berryhill's car, estimated as 350 tablets at the time of the arrest, was found to be 680 tablets by the state crime lab at Batesville.

Huggins announcement came after Berryhill's indictment Monday, Oct. 29, by the Alcorn County Grand Jury on a charge of "possession of hydromorphone (dilauid) with the intent to sell, transfer or distribute."

Huggins said his announcement was incorrectly interpreted as a separate arrest of Berryhill by another area newspaper and reported as such last week.

"What happened was that in the July 24 arrest we caught Berryhill at the (Highway) 45 and 72 intersection and, of course, we just guesstimated the pills because they were sent to the lab so the containers could be processed for prints," Huggins told The Banner-Independent Tuesday, Nov. 6.

"But, when the lab counted them, there were 680 pills," he said. "So, then, when he was indicted this month, we made public that it was 680, instead of 350."

Huggins said Berryhill is now free on $50,000 bail. His son, Steve, 20, who was arrested in the Oct. 9 drug raid in Prentiss County, presently remains in custody in lieu of $30,000 bond.

"He has not been released, as was reported earlier," Huggins said. "He is scheduled for a revocation hearing Friday in Booneville."

Huggins explained that the younger Berryhill was already on probation from an earlier charge when he was arrested on drug charge

According to Huggins, the Berryhill arrest in July is the second record arrest for the area in as many years. "In 1983, in the Hightown Community, we made a raid on a marijuana field and got 10,000 plants. That was a state record. Then, of course, the 680 dilauid is a second record," he said.

"We hope these two record busts will be a definite signal to would be drug offenders that Alcorn and Prentiss counties are not a good place to bring one's drug business," Huggins said.

Huggins said it is hoped that the decrease in drug trafficking because of the recent drug arrests may also produce a noticeable slowdown in related crimes, including auto theft, which was connected to drug abuse in the area in a Banner-Independent investigative series earlier this year.

"We have a large amount of people into auto thefts who steal to support a drug habit," He said.

Huggins said one of the keys to drug prevention is education. "Our children could be better protected from drugs if they were better educated about the dangers and problems associated with drug abuse in both our junior and senior high schools," he said.

"The only real way to overcome a drug problem will be the education of our students and a crackdown in our court system against drug offenders," Huggins said.

Booneville Man Dies In Truck Collision

A Booneville man was killed early Saturday morning of last week in Kemper County in a collision of two 18-wheelers.

Reginal Brown, 29, of 107 Cedar St., Booneville, died as a result of the accident which occurred around 3 a.m. Nov. 3, three miles south of Porterville on Highway 45.

Brown was the only passenger in the 18-wheeler he was driving.

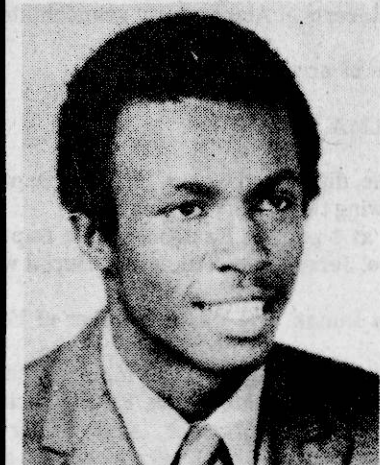

Floyd Durham, 42, of Mooreville was the driver of the other 18-wheeler involved in the accident. His son, Richard, 8, a passenger in his vehicle, was killed in the accident. The elder Durham was taken to the Mississippi Firefighters Memorial Burn Center in Greenville where he was listed in critical condition with burns over 95 percent of his body, according to the Mississippi Highway Patrol in Meridian.

The Highway Patrol said Monday the accident was still under investigation.

Brown was reportedly transporting furniture to Pensacola, Fla., and Durham was driving a gas tanker from Tupelo, the highway patrol said.

Brown was a 1973 graduate of Thrasher High School. While at Thrasher he was presented an award for scoring over 1,000 points in one season on the varsity basketball team.

He also attended Northeast Junior College and Rust College in

The Prentiss County Co-op is in the process of reorganizing, and will become a branch of the Tippah County Co-op, according to Perrin Drummond, New Albany District representative for MFC Services, parent company of county cooperative stores in Mississippi.

Drummond said the first step in the reorganization is to call in and pay off certificates.

"I don't know exactly what year the co-op store was organized here in Booneville. But what they used to do...money was hard to get, and anytime they needed new equipment or merchandise, or if they went into a new-type venture, they would go out to the local people, and those people would invest money...$100, $500, and on up.

"And we would give those people certificates saying they owned so much in the co-op, and we paid annual interest on those certificates," Drummond said.

"So, what we are doing now is paying off those certificates that were sold several years ago," he said. "MFC is redeeming them."

"But what caused the co-op's problems was that they got into some new ventures several years ago. And, as luck would have it, they lost money," Drummond said.

"They got into the poultry program, and for the next two or three years we had the lowest prices on poultry and eggs that we'd ever had. And the local co-op store here lost a good bit of money."

"Then, they got into the soybean program, and that didn't prove profitable. So they worked up quite a debt load, but it didn't really hurt them all that bad then because interest wasn't all that high," he said.

"But, now, you come on up to the last few years, the high rates of interest were one thing. And the farmers...I believe it's been five out of the last eight years that Prentiss County has been declared a disaster area."

"You have farmers going bankrupt, and the co-op store had to write off several accounts. So, it's just a combination of things like that that made it impossible to make a profit at the Prentiss County store," Drummond said.

He said it became almost impossible to find someone who was willing to take on the responsibility of managing a store that was already in trouble.

One person who was persuaded to give it a try was Prentiss County farmer Dalton Garner, who said he feels the reorganization is a good idea.

"I think making it a branch of the Tippah County Co-op will strengthen the local store because of their financial independence," Garner said. "They've been one of the strongest co-ops in this area."

"I believe they can buy more competitively and let Prentiss County farmers have the same product at a cheaper price than they've had to charge in the past because of their financial strain."

Garner managed the Prentiss County Co-op from 1977 to 1979. He said he felt an obligation to attempt to straighten the store out. "I was

QUESTION: What did Paul mean when he said, "And the times of this ignorance God winked at;" (Acts 17:30)

ANSWER: Vines states, "God bore with them without interposing by way of punishment." (Page 152 OVERLOOK) I take issue with this explanation. Why? The Bible states, "every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward." (Heb. 2:2) The word OVERLOOKED defined by Thayer is "to overlook, take no notice of, not attend to." The best explanation is found in the Expositor's Greek Testament Vol. II Page 378. It states, "It is a term opposite to oversee and means HE DID NOT FURTHER ATTEND TO (at that time) Romans One discusses the condemnation of the Gentiles. He declared them to be without excuse. (v. 20) They knew God but turned from Him to their own lusts. They changed the glory of God and gave themselves over to vile passions. Then Paul declared, "God gave them up..." (v.24); "God gave them up..." (v.26); and "God gave them over..." (v.28). What did He do? He no longer attended to them. He overlooked them. Now back to Acts 17:30. The provisions of the gospel are available to both Jew and Gentile and God has ONE SHEPHERD to OVERSEE both.

Supervisor Seeks Halt To Illegal Dumping

By ED WOODWARD
Managing Editor

Prentiss County Fifth District Supervisor William McKinney is planning to declare war on persons who have been dumping garbage along the edge of a gravel road in his district.

"So far, we have 20 names that we have collected from trash left there. And, if the dumping does not stop, we will see that some arrests are made," McKinney said.

The road, which connects Jacinto Road and Sportsmen's Club Road east of Booneville, was the subject of a similar controversy earlier this year when city sanitation workers were accused of dumping garbage there.

Wade Lambert, the Booneville alderman in charge of the sanitation workers, explained to The Banner-Independent at the time that only brush was being dumped on the site.

Lambert said the city was not allowed to dump brush at the county landfill, but that Booneville Police Chief John "Bobby" Lambert, who owned the property, had given permission for the brush dumping.

The controversy ended when the city contracted with Refuse Systems Inc. for garbage pickup.

RSI's trucks are capable of compacting brush and garbage together. The city's trucks could not combine the two.

But, according to McKinney, residents of the area are still using Chief Lambert's property as a dump, despite the prominent display of "No Dumping" signs.

"There is nothing we can do about the dumping on private property, but the trash spills over onto the road and blocks it," McKinney said. He said he must send a man out to clear the road at least once a week.

McKinney said he has discussed the problem with Chief Lambert.

"He says he will cooperate if we want to file charges," McKinney said.

When The Banner-Independent investigated the situation, garbage and trash were found strewn across the road, in addition to being piled along the berm and spilling into the hollow. Found were such items as bagged garbage, brush, furniture and a new tire mounted on a rim.

Though "No Dumping" signs are prominently displayed, while The Banner-Independent was there a car stopped, a woman got out, opened her trunk and deposited two bags of garbage on the edge of the road.

'Serendipity'

Injunction Sought Against Marshall Campground

The Mississippi Real Estate Commission has filed a complaint seeking an injunction against the developers of a Marshall County time-share campground.

The complaint filed in Marshall County Chancery Court against the operators of Serendipity, a campground development near Hickory Flat, charges that its agents do not have real estate licenses. It also alleges that the company has failed to register the property as a timeshare development.

Martin-Benton Investments Inc., Joel Mitchell, Carlos Reeves, Rita Allen, Sherrie Rodrigue and other unnamed salespersons are listed as co-defendants in the action.

The complaint charges that the developers of Serendipity have been "advertising, offering to sell and selling leasehold interests in real estate and have done so without possessing valid real estate licenses."

It also states that the defendants were notified by the administrator of the Real Estate Commission that their activities required real estate licenses.

During the summer of 1984, a number of area residents received letters signed by representatives of Serendipity telling them they had won a "valuable prize," and asking them to phone a toll-free number to set an appointment to claim their prize.

Those who kept the appointment were given a tour of Serendipity, which they were told is a campground development offering a time-sharing plan similar to those offered by Gulf Coast condominiums.

The development was to have a clubhouse, swimming pool and boating and fishing facilities. Those buying shares were offered the option of renting existing camper trailers left on the grounds by other members, or bringing their own campers and leaving them to be rented by other members when not in use.

Those buying shares were to pay an annual fee in addition to the purchase price.

Some who kept their appointments told The Banner-Independent they "won" a small personal carry-type stereo radio with headphones.

The Real Estate Commission is seeking an injunction against further unlicensed activities by the developers and a civil penalty "in the sum of four times any amount of money received by the defendants as a consequence of their violation of Mississippi State Law."

Phillip Hardwick, administrator of the commission said the action was taken after his office received numerous inquiries and several complaints about Serendipity.

Ambulance Report

The North Mississippi Ambulance Service reports a total of 43 ambulance runs during the period of Oct. 22-Nov. 6.

There were 13 emergency runs and six non-emergency runs.

The ambulance service reported a total of 24 transfers.

Fire Report

A fire occurred at the Tim Cunningham residence on Route 6, Booneville, Nov. 2.

The fire apparently started in a closet in a bedroom, cause unknown, according to fire reports. Damage was extensive.

Firemen from Booneville, New Site and Cairo responded to the fire.

A fire destroyed a trailer belonging to Steve Berryhill of Route 3, Rienzi. The fire is believed to have occurred Wednesday night of last week or Thursday morning, according to Fire Chief Frank Fleming.

State Deputy Fire Marshal Mike Ivy investigated the fire scene Tuesday. But cause of the fire remained undetermined, Fleming said.

Sheriff's Report

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department reports a total of 10 arrests during the period of Oct. 29-Nov. 6. Charges placed by the sheriff's department during that period include:

Forgery, 2; DUI, 5; no driver's license, 3; possession of less than an ounce of marijuana, 1; reckless driving, 2; failure to stop for an officer, 1; aggravated assault, 1; suspended driver's license, 2.

The State Highway Department reported that a truck was damaged Nov. 2, while it was parked at Baldwyn Fish Lake. Some 165 gallons of yellow paint spilled out of the truck due to the damage.

Bobby Hickman of Route 3,

Rienzi, reported the paint was scraped from the hood and driver's side of his 1983 Chevrolet pickup while it was parked at the Wheeler Gymnasium Oct. 30.

Roger Edward Jamison, 20, of 105 Massey St., Booneville, was arrested Oct. 31, and charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to resale. He was released on $50,000 bond. Teven J. Jefferies, 24, of Route 3, Booneville, was arrested Oct. 31, and charged with possession of a controlled substance, receiving stolen property and possession of an illegal firearm, a sawed-off shotgun. He was released on $50,000 bond.

Police Report

The Booneville Police Department reports a total of 18 arrests during the period of Oct. 29-Nov. 6. Charges placed by the police department during that period include:

Vandalism of vehicle, 2; reckless driving, 4; DUI, 5; failure to yield right of way, 1; possession of beer, 3; possession of whiskey, 1; public drunkenness, 7; expired tag, 1;

Suspended driver's license, 2; improper equipment, 2; following too close, 1; contempt of court, 3; no driver's license, 1; receiving stolen property, 1; family disturbance, 4; public disturbance, 4; improper tag, 1; resisting arrest, 1; failure to obey an officer, 1.

Martha Lawson of Eudora Heights, Booneville, reported the theft of a diamond ring from her home Nov. 2. The ring was valued at $200.

David Reece of Bridge St. Apartments, Booneville, reported the theft of a set of T-tops from his Chevrolet Corvette Nov. 2.

Stephen Wold reported the theft of a 1986 class ring from a desk at Belmont Furniture Nov. 1. The ring was recovered at Billy's Pawn Shop, according to police. Anthony Shinault and Derrick Groves, also known as Derrick Ratliff, were charged with receiving stolen property in connection with the theft. Another arrest is pending, police said.

A break-in occurred at Gordon McGee's Grocery Nov. 1. About $5 in change was taken from the cash register.

Vandalism was reported at West Side Community Center Nov. 1. Three toilet tanks, five toilet tank tops and one sink were broken in the washroom.

Hill's Chapel Church Of Christ

ROUTE 5, BOX 271-BOONEVILLE, MISS.

CAN ONE JOIN THE CHURCH?

Many speak of joining the church as though they had selected and joined their favorite club. It is common for people to tell of being saved and then joining the church of their choice, but such is not taught in the Bible.

The Bible teaches that the Lord only has one church (Matt. 16:18, Eph. 4:4, 1 Cor. 12:13, 20) One is not at liberty to join the church of his choice and still be right with God. One must be a member of the church of Christ's choice.

To be in Christ is to be in the church and only the Bible tells us how to get into Christ and the church. One is in Christ and the church only when he is baptized into Christ and into the church. (Rom. 6:3, Gal. 3:26-27, 1 Cor. 12:13) When one believes, repents, confesses Christ and is baptized, the Lord adds him to the church. (Acts 2:41, 47) No man or organization has the right to vote one into the church or to vote one out. Only the Lord can add people to His church, when they obey the truth. (Acts 2:47)

Any religious group which one can join cannot be the Lord's church, because the Lord adds people to His church. There is not a Bible example of anyone joining the Lord's church. When one obeys God's plan of salvation, the Lord adds him to His church. Acts 2:47 reads, "... praising God, and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved."

Obey the Lord and let Him add you to His church. He makes no mistakes.

Early Southern Cotton Production Spawned Major Historical Events

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

The first stirrings of the industrial revolution in early 18th century England were awakened by the discovery that water could be harnessed to power early spinning contraptions as American cotton came on the scene.

While the American colonies were becoming restive, yet were subject to the British crown, the successful production of cotton in the southern colonies gave rise to the invention and development of several key processes that were destined to change the faces of both young America and her sovereign ruler across the Atlantic Ocean.

While early American enterprise mostly was concerned with the improvement of cotton varieties and more efficient means of cotton production and ginning in the Natchez, Mississippi, area, the British receivers of early cotton imports were highly involved in developing a cotton spinning industry that was to help usher in a massive industrial revolution throughout the world.

The factory concept was unheard of early in the 1700's when Britons first toyed with spinning processes for the comfortable fiber from America that so enraptured a waiting world. The development of Kay's flying shuttle in 1733 and even Hargreaves' fabulous spinning jenny in 1767 brought the spinning industry into private homes even as King George III's manipulations of the lives and fortunes of the American colonists bodied ill times ahead for the British and the rise of a new nation for the Americans.

The development of water power surrounding rivers of west central England which soon spread worldwide brought about a realization that water power was far superior to man or horsepower in the budding milling industry. From this point in history came the switch of England from a peaceful, agricultural country at the outset of the 17th century to a burgeoning industrial empire two centuries later.

The first bonafide factory built in England was a silk mill constructed in 1722 which utilized water power from the fast flowing river Derwent at Derby. Although silk manufacturing employed nearly a thousand Britons within the first half century, this industry soon was surpassed by cotton, wool, and iron as water and steam powered rigs matured Britain's early dreams of industrial conquest.

By 1765 Britain's Matthew Boulton began the manufacture of steam engines largely patterned after the inventions of American James Watt. Boulton and Watt joined forces to engineer new equipment and the British industrial capitalist soon erected a larger, improved cotton mill which retired the horses he earlier had used.

In 1792 William Murdock started using coal gas for lighting which led to the inauguration of factory night shifts for the first time at Cromford, England.

This pioneering salient into the industrial age produced scores of small English Villages clustered around these new mills. At Ashton-under-Lyne there were nearly a hundred cotton mills within a ten-mile radius - all on the river Tame or its tributaries. Villages sprang up with the names of Boston, Charleston and Botany Bay.

These early English-built company towns featured large areas of company-built employee homes. The companies also built their churches and schools, and lavish mansions for their owners. The city of Birmingham, England, doubled in population between 1760 and 1801. Sheffield, Liverpool on the river Mersey, and Manchester boomed similarly.

Ironically, as British economic fortunes mushroomed, the political involvement with her American colonies took a turn for the worse under King George III - leading to the American revolution and military defeat at the hands of the general of the newly organized American army, George Washington, at Yorktown.

While America gained her freedom it remained for the new American nation to compete effectively with Britain's early advantages in the textile spinning industry.

Ponderings

By Angela Smith
Staff Reporter

It's hard for me to sit down and type my column this week. Perhaps I should say harder than usual. Every time I sit down in front of my computer, all I can see are recipes. Recipes for cakes, pies, and cookies - the good things in life.

The publisher says I am the only person he knows who gets fat just by typing recipes.

The reason for all the recipes is because The Banner-Independent's annual Holiday Cookbook will be published next week.

The response to our request for recipes was unbelievable.

Last year we received 277 recipes. This year we have over 400 recipes. The exact number of recipes will be announced next week.

SINCE I have problems counting above ten, it was necessary for me to call in a special accounting firm from Roaring Hollow to tabulate the actual number of recipes we have received.

The accounting firm has told me they will count the recipes and write down the number of recipes submitted after which they will place the number in a mayonnaise jar and bring it to us. We will open the jar on Monday and then know exactly how many recipes were submitted.

(I hope the accounting firm remembers to remove the mayonnaise from the jar before they put the number in it.)

WE REALLY appreciate those who took the time to share their favorite recipes with other readers.

We have some good recipes this year - I know this for a fact. Some people, such as Syble Dees of Blackland and Euella Farrar of Marietta, brought us samples of the recipes they submitted.

Whoops - I shouldn't have told that. I didn't tell my co-workers that Mrs. Dees brought by some 'Twinkie Cake' for us to try. I sort of gobbled up the slice of twinkie cake all by myself. I felt it was my duty as staff reporter to sample the cake. (The cake was delicious, too!)

The names of those who submitted recipes will be written down and we will have a drawing for two $25 cash prizes and three gift subscriptions to the newspaper. The winners will also be announced in next week's paper.

So all of you be thinking of me today and tomorrow - I'll still be typing recipes...and getting fatter and fatter.

Mississippi NAACP Struggling For Survival

By BILL MINOR
Syndicated Columnist

JACKSON, Miss. - The Mississippi NAACP, the black organization which used to be the scourge of white segregationists, has fallen upon hard times financially and now is engaged in a struggle for survival.

Once feared, hated and labelled by white extremists as "subversive," the old black civil rights group has been in recent years a toothless tiger in comparison with its heyday as the most stable and influential spokesman for the black community. However, at its peak, the NAACP dues paying membership in Mississippi is not believed to have exceeded 25,000.

Cut off last spring by the National NAACP from continued subsistence to the tune of $50,000 to $75,000 a year to operate the state office, Mississippi chapters of the organization are now being faced with the necessity of raising at least $50,000 to stay in business.

The state NAACP office for practical purposes has been shut down for the past two months since state field secretary Robert Walker was placed on unpaid leave in August when he became a candidate for county supervisor in Warren County. No replacement was brought in for Walker because there was no money available.

A meeting of the state executive board last month found the organization had $11,000 on hand, and $11,000 in debts.

"The NAACP in Mississippi for all intents is dead right now," one director told this column. "We have to go a new course or we are not going to make it," he added.

This week, the NAACP holds it annual state convention in Oxford amid mounting demands for a major shakeup in leadership and the ouster of Aaron Henry, the Clarksdale druggist and state Democratic leader, who has held the reins of power for more than two decades.

A movement within the organization for Henry's removal as president has been underway the past several years. A frontal effort to unseat him was narrowly averted last year when the annual NAACP meeting was held in Henry's hometown of Clarksdale.

Those behind the movement said they had the votes to oust Henry if the issue had ever reached the floor. However, as a compromise, it was agreed that some of Henry's authority be decentralized and shared with the vice-presidents.

A showdown on forcing Henry out appeared unavoidable at the Oxford meeting up until a few days ago. Last week, the longtime NAACP president unexpectedly said in a letter to several top leaders in the organization that he will step down if he is elected one more time to round out 25 years as president.

Obie Clark of Meridian, first vice-president of the organization, who is often mentioned as the most likely successor to Henry, apparently was the first informed of Henry's proposal.

Clark said while he believed "there is need for a change," he would be willing to let Henry retain the presidency one more year. "Aaron has been there and paid his dues," said Clark. "I'm not saying I'm satisfied with him, but I think we owe him that," he added.

"Right now, our biggest problem is to survive," said Clark, who has been one of the NAACP vice-presidents for 15 years. "We have a tremendous burden now that the national board has withdrawn its support. We have to prove we can raise our own funds."

Some of the younger firebrands in the NAACP say they are unwilling to give Henry another year in the presidency. They contend a shakeup in leadership cannot be delayed without endangering the organization's existence.

One of Henry's staunchest critics is Alvin Chambliss, the Oxford-based civil rights attorney who is the host for the annual meeting this year. "We have to go a new course if the NAACP is going to survive," Chambliss contends, "and it won't happen until the leadership changes."

Chambliss accused Henry of throwing confusion into the programming for the annual meeting by sending out information that the Rev. Jesse Jackson would not be able to appear at the convention's freedom banquet Saturday night despite the fact that "those of us who made contact with Jesse Jackson are 90 percent sure he will be there."

Jackson would be a big drawing card and bring out several thousand people, Chambliss said, "but Aaron seems to want a small convention."

In the meantime, the black organization's ability to attract white officials, including the governor and the chancellor of the University of Mississippi, to its annual meeting indicates a vast change from the days when the NAACP was considered off limits by white politicians.

That Yankee From Yonder

By Ed Woodward
Managing Editor

I was honored with the ultimate sign of acceptance last Wednesday night. My yard was rolled by a bunch of Bubba's friends.

Oh, I've felt like I was accepted for most of the year I have lived in Booneville. I was asked to join the Lions Club and did. I have been invited to speak to classes at Anderson Junior High and BHS. And I have been invited to various and sundry banquets and meetings.

But this all came from adults. And it's relatively easy to gain acceptance from adults. Look how popular J.R. Ewing is.

The average adult will take a person at face value. If they like you after speaking with you for a few minutes, they accept you. And, unless you do something particularly nasty to them, you remain accepted.

So, I have felt for some time that the adults here accepted me on a personal level.

I have also felt I was accepted on a professional level. I receive enough letters and phone calls, either from people who want to praise me, or from people who want to do the opposite, to tell me that people are aware of my existence as editor of The Banner-Independent.

An artist friend of mine says a work of art is either successful or unsuccessful and there is no in-between. And, he says, it makes no difference whether the reaction to a piece of art is positive or negative as long as the viewer reacts to it.

I think this is true of a journalist, too. I receive a lot of reaction from readers about things I write. Some of it is positive. A lot of it is negative. But the fact that people react to what I write tells me one thing: they are reading it. And, if they are reading it, they must enjoy reading it, whether they agree with what I've written, or not.

So, I've been reasonably certain that I was accepted by Booneville's adult population for some time. But it's a little more difficult to tell about the younger generation.

For one thing, they don't take you at face value. Most of them think like Holden Caulfield, the protagonist of Catcher In the Rye. They hate phonies. And, if you are a phony, they'll sense it pretty quickly.

Teenagers just don't accept adults at face value, and they don't accept them readily. They reserve judgement until they are absolutely sure about you.

And they have a different way of demonstrating their acceptance or rejection once they make their judgement. It is a sort of reverse psychology.

Many adults misinterpret a thing like having their yard rolled. They think it is just a vicious prank performed by kids who have nothing else to do. But that isn't true.

Having your yard rolled at Halloween is the ultimate sign of acceptance. Kids only roll the yards of people they like - the coach, the band director, a favorite teacher, their church youth director or parents of a peer who have been accepted.

If they don't like you, they are not about to waste time and money on you. Consequently, I was proud to come home Wednesday night and find my yard and trees decorated with several rolls of TP.

In fact, it's one of the greatest honors I've been bestowed with all year. Thanks, kids.

Bikers Riding Across Country For Spina Bifida Association

Jim Mangold, 35, has watched his 10-year-old nephew, Mark, walk with crutches and braces his whole life. He has also seen him undergo 19 operations to help alleviate the problems caused by the condition from which he suffers: spina bifida. Now Jim has decided to make a commitment to Mark's struggle by taking it on the road and across the country.

Jim and his friend Mike Young, 25, are going to bicycle approximately 3,000 miles across the United States this fall to raise public awareness and funds for individuals with spina bifida.

The most common disabler of newborns, spina bifida occurs in one of every 1,000 births, making it seven times more common than muscular dystrophy. It is a defect in the spinal column in which the spine fails to close properly.

Spina bifida results in varying degrees of paralysis, loss of sensation in the lower limbs, and in bowel and bladder complications. Its cause is not yet known.

Jim and Mike left from San Francisco on Sept. 3. Their route will take them through 12 states including Utah, Colorado, Arkansas and Alabama. They plan to arrive at their final destination, Jacksonville, Fla., around Nov. 14. They will use whatever attention they receive from the media to spotlight persons with spina bifida in the chapters on their route.

Both Mike and Jim work as intern architects in Rogers, Arkansas, and though they have done a bit of biking, neither are experienced cyclists. They are appealing to friends, relatives, businesses and the public at large to support their effort by donating generously to the Spina Bifida Association of America. All expenses for the trip are being paid either out of their own pockets or with the help of family and friends.

The Chicago-based Spina Bifida Association of America is a national network of over 100 local chapters dedicated to bringing a positive image of persons with spina bifida into the public spotlight.

The SBAA provides information on progress in the areas of medicine, education, legislation and financial support. It also helps fund research and medical facilities and encourages the training of professionals involved in treatment in order to maximize the potential of every person born with spina bifida.

Taylor-Ratliff Wedding Vows Exchanged

Miss Dana Caroline Taylor and John Christian Ratliff were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, Sept. 8, at 6 p.m. in the Little Brown Freewill Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ratliff.

The Rev. Gene Gilbert officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white organza over delustered satin. The bodice was styled with a sheer embroidered and beaded V-shaped yoke surrounded with scalloped chantilly lace and long fitted sleeves with lace ruffled cuffs. Her skirt, which swept to a cathedral train, was appliqued with lace medallions and completed with a deep lace ruffle under scalloped lace bands.

She wore a tiered fingertip prayer veil of illusion, finished with a lettuce-edge and trimmed with lace bands to match her dress.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white and rainbow colored rosebuds accented with Stephanotis and gypsophila.

Miss Lisa Hoard served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Janeen Akers and Tonja Long and Alesia Jacobs, cousins of the bride.

They wore long formal gowns of bridal satin in rainbow colors of green, yellow, pink and lavender. They carried bouquets of rosebuds and gypsophila.

Little Miss Jimma Jacobs, cousin of the bride, and Little Miss April Bain, niece of the groom, were flower girls. Ginger Jacobs, cousin of the bride, served as train bearer.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother-in-law, Charles Frederick.

Groomsmen were Jody Presley, Jason Frederick, nephew of the groom, and Greg Taylor, brother of the bride. Master Jason Wiggington, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Ushers were Donnie McCombs, Randy McCombs and Jim Jacobs, uncles of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Taylor chose a misty mauve floor-length dress. Mrs. Ratliff, mother of the groom, wore a floor-length dress in mauve. Both wore corsages of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Eleanor McCombs, grandmother of the bride, wore a floor-length dress in pale green. Mrs. Ethel Taylor, grandmother of the bride, wore a street-length dress in blue. Both wore corsages of white rosebuds.

Miss Debra Barron, cousin of the bride, presided at the register table.

Mrs. Janie Jacobs and Mrs. Joy Barron, aunts of the bride, directed the wedding.

Floral arrangements and decor were by Mrs. Coleen Barron of New Site.

Photographs were by Terry Whitesides of Tupelo.

Mr. & Mrs. Chris Ratliff

The Reception

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor hosted a reception in the church fellowship hall.

Little Miss Christy Sims, cousin of the bride, and Misses Melanie and Courtney Bain, nieces of the groom, distributed rice bags.

Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Carolyn McCombs, aunt of the bride, Miss Julie McCombs, cousin of the bride, and Miss Melanie Johnson.

Mrs. Kay Frederick and Mrs. Myra Raye, sisters of the groom, presided at the groom's table.

Punch was served by Miss Lane Barnes and Miss Sandy Sparks.

Floating hostesses throughout the evening were Mrs. Donna Bain and Mrs. Jimma Lambert, sisters of the groom.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ratliff hosted a rehearsal dinner on the eve of the wedding for the wedding party in the fellowship hall of Calvary Baptist Church.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Gene Gilbert.

Complimenting Festivities

On Aug. 11, Miss Taylor was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Miss Lisa Hoard. Hostesses were Miss Hoard and Miss Janeen

Akers.

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Taylor was held Aug. 12, in the home of Mrs. Janie Jacobs. Hostesses were Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Joy Barron and Mrs. Kay Wiggington.

The ladies of Little Brown Freewill Baptist Church hosted a shower for the bride-elect on Aug. 25, in the church fellowship hall.

Ladies of Calvary Baptist Church hosted a shower for the bride on Sept. 15, in the home of Mrs. Jean McCreary.

Susan Leigh Boerner

Miss Boerner And Mr. Johnson Plan December Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Boerner of Huntsville announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Susan Leigh, to Nathan Guy Johnson, son of Mrs. Jo Ann Jackson of Dalton, Ga., and Guy S. Johnson of Moulton.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. Doris Bowling and the late William C. Bowling of Cullman, Ala., and Mrs. Etoile Boerner and the late Herbert C. Boerner of Talladega, Ala.

The prospective groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson of Rienzi and Mrs. Vista Rinehart of Jacinto and the late Elder C.P. Rinehart.

Miss Boerner is a 1980 graduate of Grissom High School. She attends Auburn University where she will graduate in December with a degree in early childhood education. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, involved in Campus Crusade for Christ, served as Angel Flight chaplain and as a Lambda Chi Alpha little sister.

Johnson graduated from Bradshaw High School, Florence, Ala., in 1980. He is attending Auburn University, pursuing a degree in civil engineering. He is involved in Campus Crusade for Christ and serves as the student director.

The wedding will be Sunday, Dec. 16, at Saint Mark's Lutheran Church in Huntsville.

FBLA & VICA Selling Oranges

FBLA and VICA students at the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School are once again selling citrus fruit this year.

Despite recent rumors concerning Florida fruit, a truck load of oranges, tangelos, and grapefruit will arrive in Booneville Dec. 10. Orders must be placed by Nov. 15. To make an order, contact any FBLA or VICA member at the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School or phone 728-9259 or 728-3915.

Laura West

Miss West And Mr. Hisaw Reveal Wedding Plans

Ray West of Red Bay, Ala., and Frances West of Tishomingo announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Laura West, to Tim Hisaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Hisaw of Route 2, Tishomingo.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of the late Henry Ward Thomas and J.C. and Lillian Caveness of Booneville and Hazel West and the late Elijah West of Tishomingo.

The prospective groom is the grandson of the late Buster and Florence Hisaw and the late Mr. and Mrs. W.N. Holland and Mrs. Jessie Holland of Tishomingo.

Miss West is a 1984 graduate of Tishomingo High School.

Hisaw is a 1984 graduate of New Site High School and is presently attending Northeast Junior College.

The couple will be married Friday, Nov. 16, at 6 p.m. at the Tishomingo United Pentecostal Church.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Exam Will Be Given

According to Phillip D. Hardwick, administrator of the Mississippi Real Estate Commission, the examination for real estate broker and salesperson will be held Dec. 17, beginning at 9 a.m.

Hardwick said there had been a previous announcement that the examination would not be held because of a usual lack of demand and because anyone who received a license in December would be required to renew it by Dec. 31, 1984, less than two weeks after receiving it.

The examination will be held at the Downtown Holiday Inn in JK Jackson, Hardwick said.

Halley's Comet On It's Way

By MADELEINE JACOBS
Smithsonian News Service

After 76 years, astronomers can hardly wait for Halley's Comet's return in 1986. In fact, they haven't: On Oct. 16, 1982, California Institute of Technology astronomers "saw" the comet as it was speeding toward the sun from the outer reaches of the solar system. They used an advanced electronic detector system and the 200-inch Hale telescope at Palomar Observatory for their "picture" of the comet -- a mere speck, 19 million times fainter than the naked eye can detect.

More recently, on Sept. 22, 1984, Japanese comet-watcher Tsutomu Seki, using a 24-inch telescope, became the first amateur astronomer to photograph the comet on this return.

In all, more than 1,000 professional and amateur astronomers in nearly four dozen countries are planning to make scientific observations of Periodic Comet Halley, its official name.

"Halley's Comet will be the subject of the most intensive ground- and space-based study ever conducted on a comet," says Stephen Eddert, an astronomer with the International Halley Watch in Pasadena, Calif. The Halley Watch, with centers at Cal Tech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory and the Dr. Remeis Observatory in Bamberg, West Germany, will serve as a clearinghouse and archive for Halley data.

Using sophisticated ground-based telescopes, newly developed instruments and a number of spacecraft, scientists will probe the comet to determine just what stuff this peripatetic visitor is made of.

Why all the fuss over what appears to be a tiny chunk of ice and dust, an object affectionately dubbed a "dirty snowball" by Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory astronomer Dr. Fred L. Whipple? Whipple, developer of the most widely accepted model of comet composition and structure, has the answer.

"Comets are the most primitive bodies left over from the making of the sun and planets," he said. "They are most nearly like the gas clouds from which the solar system was formed some 5 billion years ago. They can help us solve some of the puzzles about the origin and early evolution of the solar system."

Halley's Comet is especially appealing to astronomers because it is bigger, brighter and more predictable than most of the 800 or so known comets. Unlike most comets, named for their discoverers, Halley's Comet bears the name of the English astronomer who realized, after many years of painstaking calculations of cometary orbits, that three comets which had appeared in 1531, 1607 and 1682 were really one and the same. Sir Edmond Halley (1656-1742) predicted correctly that it would reappear in 1758.

"Although fascination with Halley's Comet and others, as well as explanations of their nature, stretch back into the dim past," Whipple says, "it is only recently that scientists have achieved a basic picture of what comets are and why they behave as they do."

Housing Mortgages Available

Senator John White said that a recent bond sale has made housing mortgage money available to qualified families at a lower rate of interest than normally available.

The Mississippi Housing Finance Corp. sold its largest issue ever -- $200 million in revenue bonds. Senator White said Mississippi's interest rate is the lowest obtained by any state so far this year which will enable eligible families to borrow the money at a 10.78 percent interest rate.

The Housing Finance Corp. makes the proceeds of the bond sale available to banks and savings and loan institutions which in turn loan the money to eligible borrowers for housing. To qualify in Mississippi, homebuyers cannot have a family income greater than $35,000 plus $1,000 per exemption claimed on last year's income tax return.

Persons interested in borrowing the money should check with their local lending institutions to see if they qualify and to see if their institutions has funds available or call the Mississippi Housing Finance Corp. at 961-4514.

'Oh, Mr. Faulkner, Do You Write?'

Local audiences will have a unique opportunity to get to know Nobel Prize Winning author William Faulkner better when "Oh, Mr. Faulkner, Do You Write?" plays at Northeast Junior College's Seth Pounds Auditorium Nov. 16.

Starring John Maxwell as the Mississippi author, the play for one actor was developed in Mississippi, where Faulkner lived and worked. Originally produced by New Stage Theatre in Jackson, the play was written by Maxwell with Tom Dupree after several years of research by the performer.

"We drew mainly from Faulkner's published letters and speeches as source materials," Maxwell said, "and added our impressions of how Faulkner might have spoken in a few scenes."

Nowhere in the performance does Maxwell quote directly from Faulkner's fictional writings - a body of literature that has won the late Mississippian praise from around the world.

"Our objective, first and foremost, is to entertain," Maxwell said. "If people see the performance and then decide to explore Mr. Faulkner's works, we'll feel wonderful that we helped introduce a new reader. But we wrote this play to provide an evening of entertainment that can be enjoyed by people who have never heard of William Faulkner."

The play is set in the study of Faulkner's home, Rowan Oak in Oxford. From there, Maxwell's monologue takes the audience to Europe, Hollywood and finally to Stockholm, where Faulkner accepts the Nobel Prize in one of the best-remembered speeches ever presented at that ceremony.

Himself a native Mississippian, Maxwell admitted to taking great pains to present Faulkner as realistically as possible.

"I wanted to stay as true to the real William Faulkner as possible," Maxwell said. "We don't confine ourselves to presenting the dark, brooding artist many people think of when they think of William Faulkner. What the audience will see is a well-rounded, very charming country man who also happens to be one of the world's greatest literary talents. But he is, above all, a down-to-earth human being, and that's the impression we want to leave."

For this production, Maxwell and the production team visited Rowan Oak to see the setting first-hand.

"We've tried to maintain the flavor of Faulkner's working environment as much as we can in a set that has to be taken from theatre to theatre," he said. "We're using a few set-pieces as possible in order to present the intimate feeling that you would get from a real visit to a person's house."

Again, "Oh, Mr. Faulkner, Do You Write?", directed by William Partlan, plays at Seth Pounds Auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 16. Admission is free.

Seaman Graduates

Navy Seaman Recruit Anthony J. Perry, son of Joseph W. Perry of Route 1, Rienzi, has completed recruit training at Navy Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, IL.

During Perry's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Perry's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1982 graduate of Biggersville High School, Corinth, he joined the Navy in April 1984.

County Agent's Notes

By CLIFFORD J. HAMPTON
County Agent

Prentiss County farmers interested in fall wheat should examine the wheat program to help determine crop acreage.

The 20 percent reduction in acreage with 10 percent paid diversion entitles farmers to a $3.30 loan rate plus $1.08 per bushel deficiency payment. Base acreage is an average of 1983 and 1984 wheat acreage.

Wet weather has put wheat planting on hold. With a break in the weather, farmers should be able to complete planting on time.

Seeding with a grain drill is preferable because seeding rates and depth of planting can be more uniform. Because of variation in seed size among varieties, pounds per acre of seed will range from 60 pounds to more than 100 pounds.

If broadcasting seed, seeding rates should be increased by 50 percent. Planting depth will vary considerably and not as many seedlings will survive.

Apply potassium, phosphorus and lime according to soil test results. Preplant nitrogen is not needed after a good crop of soybeans. Use 20 pounds of nitrogen after cotton and 40 pounds after grain sorghum.

Before planting, seed with a fungicide or combination of fungicides. Vitavax should be included if smut has been a problem. Fungicides increase seedling survival by as much as 15 percent and ensure establishment.

THE RAINY weather of October has put a damper on cotton harvest in the state and is causing concern about moisture in stored cotton.

Moisture is cotton's worst enemy. Prolonged exposure to rain before harvest damages the quality of both fiber and seed.

Seed cotton harvested with a high moisture content can quickly deteriorate, even during short periods of storage.

Whether stored on a trailer or in a module, moisture content of seed-cotton mass, which includes trash and green material, must be under 12 percent. If moisture is between 10 percent and 12 percent, seed cotton should be checked carefully for several days.

If moisture levels are more than 12 percent, arrange for prompt ginning.

Measure the temperature of newly made modules. When it stays at 120 degrees F or more for 48 hours, the module should be ginned immediately.

For more information about cotton storage and protection from moisture, contact the county Extension office.

For more information on fall wheat and moisture in cotton come by the county Extension office on 404 East Church St., or call 728-5631.

ASCS News

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

1984 farm program participants are now authorized to graze their acreage conservation reserve (ACR) land. The prohibited grazing period ended Oct. 31.

The idled land must not be overgrazed and sufficient cover must be maintained to prevent wind and water erosion. Harvesting on the land is prohibited and grazing is permitted only during the six principal nongrowing months.

To protect the ACR land and guard against soil erosion, program participants were required to install and maintain an approved cover or conservation practice on these acres. They were required to plant certain grasses, legumes, small grains, or other protective cover, or to maintain various conservation practices as well as carrying out control measures for weeds, insects and rodents.

To qualify for full program benefits, farmers must maintain their acreage conservation reserve in accordance with program requirements. Failure to do so could result in the loss of program payments and other benefits.

The agency is checking farms to see that ACR acreage is properly maintained.

THE AGRICULTURAL Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) is currently accepting applications for the 1985 feed grain, wheat, cotton and rice acreage reduction programs. The signup period opened Oct. 15.

The acreage reduction programs are necessary to control excess crop supplies and maintain a better balance between supply and demand. All farmers with an established acreage base are eligible to participate in the voluntary programs.

For participating in the 1985 programs, farmers will be eligible to receive deficiency payments and price support loans. Additionally, the wheat, upland cotton and rice programs offer land diversion payments.

Projected deficiency payments are 47 cents per bushel for corn, 46 cents for sorghum, 44 cents for barley, $1.08 for wheat, 19.80 cents per pound for upland cotton, and $3.80 per hundredweight for rice.

Land diversion payments have been established at $2.70 per bushel for wheat, 30 cents per pound for upland cotton, and $3.50 per hundredweight for rice. These payments compensate farmers for taking land out of production in addition to the acreage reduction requirement.

Advance payments equal to one-half of the projected deficiency payment rate and one-half of the land diversion payment rate will be offered to farmers during the signup period.

A 10 percent acreage reduction requirement is in effect for 1985 feed grains and extra long staple cotton. The wheat and upland cotton programs contain a 20 percent acreage reduction and 10 percent paid land diversion requirement. The rice program calls for a 20 percent acreage reduction and a 15 percent paid land diversion.

The 1985 programs include target prices of $3.03 per bushel for corn, $2.88 for sorghum, $2.60 for barley, $1.60 for oats, and $4.38 per bushel for wheat. Target prices are 81 cents for upland cotton, 103.14 cents per pound for ELS cotton, and $11.90 per hundredweight for rice.

By participating in these programs, farmers will again help to maintain reasonable levels of carryover stocks and strengthen farm prices. Only those farmers who take part will be eligible for program benefits.

THE U.S. Department of Agriculture's October crop production report shows that soybean production in Mississippi could total 84,500,000 bushels this year. The 1984 forecast is up from the 58,900,000 bushel crop of 1983.

Price support loans are available to all producers of 1984 soybeans at a rate of $5.08 per bushel. Participation in production adjustment programs is not an eligibility requirement for obtaining soybean loans. The county loan rate is based on the national average loan level of $5.02 per bushel, and applies to soybeans graded No. 2.

Prentiss County farmers placed about 31,654 bushels of 1983-crop soybeans under price support loan. The program provides operating capital to farmers while they hold the crop for higher prices later in the year.

According to the report, Mississippi farmers are expected to harvest 3,250,000 acres of soybeans and realize an average crop yield of 26 bushels per harvested acre.

U.S. soybean production is forecast at 1.97 billion bushels, down 3 percent from the September forecast and 21 percent more than 1983 soybean crop.

Natural vs. synthetic products: what's it to you?

The current focus on the popularity of synthetics for products traditionally made from natural fibers - grocery bags, for instance - symbolizes an old debate on which one is better.

Not too many years ago, a brick house furnished with plastic and metal furniture was the ideal for many people. They were contemporary, clean, durable, low maintenance and reasonably priced. To a lot of other folks though, that sort of look and feel was cold, artificial.

Then the ideal swung back toward the warmth and character of natural products - wood for houses and furniture and cottons and linens for upholstery fabrics. Even synthetics were fashioned to look like wood.

Consumers not only re-discovered the good looks, good feeling and practical aspects of natural wood products, but realized that raw material for these natural products is renewable.

Synthetics require more energy to manufacture; energy that is produced largely by non-renewable oil and gas fuels. Petroleum is also the basic material for many of the synthetic products.

In contrast, wood products require less energy in the manufacturing process, and much of that energy is self-generated on site from wood chips for significantly less cost.

The natural insulating qualities of wood have also come to the forefront as gas and oil fuel prices have soared. With the energy emphasis, wood-burning heating systems have gained immense popularity, and firewood use in America increased 400 percent from 1973 to 1981, according to published information.

Meantime, forest technologists have been finding new ways to use wood for building materials, more efficient construction techniques and more effective methods of preserving wood. Sales of pressure-treated wood products in 1983 increased 31 percent from 1982; the largest-ever one-year increase!

Consumers more and more are appreciating the warmth, durability, versatility and energy-saving features of wood products. And they take comfort in knowing there's more where this wood came from - out in the managed forests of Mississippi.

By the way folks, did you know that Governor Bill Allain has proclaimed Oct. 21-27 as Forest Products Week in Mississippi?

And why not. Forestry was number two in terms of production value at the first processing point during 1983 - ahead of soybeans - just behind cotton. It certainly deserves to have the spotlight for a while!

When you have a chance I hope you'll choose to buy the real wood item rather than a synthetic copy. Forestry and wood products is the backbone of our State's economy and we need to help make that backbone stronger than ever by buying and using native grown and processed wood every chance we get.

Soil Conservation

By DON JONES
Soil Conservation Technician
Booneville Field Office

One of the most often asked questions about fish ponds is, "Why am I not catching fish in my pond?" Frequently there is no one problem, but a combination of factors producing poor fishing.

One of the main problems may be that the fish population is out of balance, that is to say there may be too many predator fish like large mouth bass to prey fish like bream and bluegill.

Also the water may be too clear due to a poor, or non-existent fertilization program. There may be too many weeds or aquatic growth in the water.

However, fertilization may not be the answer if fishing pressure is extremely light.

Assuming that there are fish in the pond, you may be using the wrong lure or bait. For example, catfish in ponds do not respond nearly as well to artificial lures as they do to live or cut bait.

A new lake will reach a temporary peak in fishing from about three to six years after it is stocked. It then tends to level off to a natural carrying capacity of fish, that is the correct number of pounds of fish that can be produced due to the fertility of the soil in the watershed.

If anyone has a problem with their fish pond, or a question about stocking, come by the Soil Conservation Service office at 107 College St., or give us a call at 728-3544.

Water

recently moved to the Highway 30-4 Bypass, asked the board about either extending city water to his business or giving the Big V Water Association a release to serve him.

After a short discussion, the board voted to extend city water service "all the way around the bypass."

Spencer was assured water would be extended to his business as soon as possible because it already serves the new State Highway Department building and would only need to be extended approximately one-half mile.

Bids were opened for a backhoe attachment for the city's trencher. The only bid submitted was from Ditch Witch for $8,178. It was accepted.

Mayor Charles Crabb reported to the board on the status of the city's new well and the construction of the city's new sewage treatment facilities.

Crabb said the new well had produced a flow of 982 gallons a minute when first opened. He said it should be on-line and serving the city water system by Friday, Nov. 8, if the water passes all bacterial tests.

He reported that, though construction of the sewage treatment facility is currently behind schedule, the projected completion date is August 1985.

Mayor Crabb suggested that, since the opening of Baptist Memorial Hospital's new building is near, the board should consider putting a "two-inch overlay of hot mix" on Washington Street between Highway 45 and First Street "if the money can be found." He said the work would cost $7,250.

The board voted to have the paving work done, subject to funding possibilities.

Co-op

on the board of directors and I knew the financial situation when I took over," he said.

"In fact, two young men just out of college turned it down. But I thought that, maybe, with all of us pulling together, we might be able to get the thing going and maybe turn it around a little bit.

"We've had some good managers there; that's not the problem,"

Garner said. "It's just the simple fact that, when you get a burden on your back that's so big it's hard to run and keep up with everything else with that much weight hanging on your shoulders," he said.

Lloyd McClusky, manager of the Tippah County Co-op, who will now take on the added burden of managing the Prentiss County store, is familiar with the operations of a co-op. His father preceded him as manager of the Tippah County store and he grew up with the association. "I've had about 39 years of it," he said.

"I think there is an awful lot of potential there," he said. "I don't really know why things haven't worked better than they have in the past. It seems like a lot of the farmers have left, but we're going to do our best to get them back."

McClusky said Prentiss County farmers have evidently abandoned their local co-op for lower prices at competing stores. "We even do a good bit of business here (in Ripley) with farmers from over there," he said.

"There's a lot more crop-acres in Prentiss County than there are in Tippah County, and we've been successful over here," McClusky said. He said he feels that, with the lower overhead realized by MFC's paying off of the outstanding certificates, he can make the Booneville store work with lower prices and higher volume.

"Reduction of prices is the biggest thing. Their overhead has been too high and they couldn't really offer a fair deal," he said. "But our (the Ripley store's) overhead is not that high."

McClusky explained that his store is in good enough shape to absorb some of the Booneville store's overhead, making lower prices possible.

"Volume is what it's all about. You can't do it on price," he said.

According to Drummond, the reorganization of the Prentiss County Co-op was made possible by MFC's absorbing the loss by paying off the outstanding certificates.

"The only way to go was to wipe out the whole debt. So it was a voluntary liquidation with MFC absorbing the loss," he said.

Drummond said the liquidation is not a bankruptcy and the courts are not involved. Rather it is as if MFC had insured the local co-op and was paying off on the policy.

"We (MFC) have been providing financing for them for the last 15 years and we felt it was in everybody's best interest to pay off the debt and start things over again," Drummond said.

Parkway Opening Scheduled

Natchez Trace Parkway Superintendent Jim Bainbridge has announced that one of the most significant events in the history of the parkway will take place on Sunday, Nov. 18, at 2 p.m.

The last remaining portion of the Natchez Trace Parkway in Northeast Mississippi will be opened to the public, Bainbridge said.

"This milestone completes the parkway from Jackson, Mississippi, to Jackson Falls, Tennessee, a distance of 305 miles. The Natchez Trace Parkway for the first time has an appearance of a national parkway, connecting Mississippi, Alabama, and Tennessee," he said.

The dedication and road opening will take place on the parkway bridge over the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, some 33 miles north of Tupelo, Mississippi. Congressman Jamie L. Whitten of Mississippi's First Congressional District will speak.

The public is cordially invited, Bainbridge said.

CONTRIBUTION TO GOODFELLOW FUND - The Charity Committee composed of Blue Bell employees in Booneville made an early donation to the Prentiss County Goodfellow Fund this year due to the company's temporary lay-off. Each year Blue Bell employees contribute to the Goodfellow Program through payroll deductions. The $600 contributed by Blue Bell employees kicked off this year's Goodfellow drive. "This shows Blue Bell's community spirit in wanting to continue to meet the needs of those less fortunate," Mayor Charles Crabb said. Pictured are (l-r) R.J. "Piggy" Bonds, the Rev. Larry Hill, Mayor Charles Crabb, the emcees for this year's Goodfellow program; Sybil Boren, secretary of the Blue Bell employees charity committee; and Joe Watterson, Blue Bell Manager.

NURSING MANAGEMENT TEAM -- Baptist Memorial Health Care Development Corporation has provided many new developments for Baptist Hospital Booneville. One of these is the Dynamics of Motivational Management Program in which the management team of the nursing department is involved. The 16-week program is attended each week to identify and clarify departmental goals. The program focuses on personal development as well as organizational development. The nursing management team consists of (seated, l-r) Gail Wroten, Dorothy Ballus, Deborah Lauderdale, Mary Floyd; (standing, l-r) Marty Gill, Mary Guy, Mary Ledford, Judy Ramey, Vivian Livingston and Margie Hurt, director.

Home Economist's Notes

By PATTY K. ROBINSON
Extension Home Economist

The November-December issue of the "Garden, Fruit and Flower Guide" is available at the Prentiss County Extension Office. This is a publication furnished by the Extension Horticulture Department. The following information is taken from this release.

The days are short and time for work outside is limited, but there are still things to do before the gardening year is over. Continue to harvest leafy greens and other vegetables until a hard freeze kills them. The farther south you are, the longer you'll be eating out of the garden.

Most garden activities involve cleaning up the garden site and getting ready for 1985. Don't leave dead plants, poles, stakes, and trellises standing in the garden all winter.

Weather permitting, turn under plant residues. Take a soil sample to determine lime and fertilizer needs. If your garden soil is too acid (below pH 6.0) for good vegetable plant growth, you need to apply limestone in the fall.

Don't dump wood ashes in the garden. If your soil is acid, wood ashes will help correct a pH problem, but they can also cause a problem if they are dumped in piles rather than broadcast or if they aren't needed at all.

Research continues to show higher vegetable yields for soils with no tillage compared to conventional tillage. Plots seeded to cereal rye in the fall had higher yields where the rye was killed with paraquat in the spring and vegetables planted in the rye residue, than where the rye was killed and tilled into the soil. The cover crop also helps keep the soil from washing during winter rains.

Check on stored vegetables such as squash, pumpkins, and sweet potatoes. Remove any showing spoilage and consider processing the rest to eliminate further losses.

Turnips, rutabagas, and carrots should be all right in the garden as long as the ground doesn't freeze. Mulching these root crops will help protect them.

Clean the brown tops off the asparagus bed and mulch it with two inches of compost or composted manure.

Store insecticides and fungicides in a dry protected area where they will not freeze. Protect wettable powders and dry fertilizer from moisture. Be sure all materials are clearly labeled; don't guess at the contents of a package that has lost its label.

Discard old seed not stored properly during the growing season. Don't risk poor stands next year just because you think you might be saving a few pennies. The old saying, "good seed is cheap; poor seed is expensive," still holds.

Remember that garden gifts at Christmas are appreciated. There are many items at your local nursery, garden center, or co-op that a gardener would appreciate.

We plant early in the spring so take advantage of winter months to read the new seed catalogs as they come in the mail. If you order from the catalogs, do it early.

As we close the door on '84 think back about all the good vegetables we've had. There were rough spots when it rained too much in early spring or not enough in summer, but the jars and freezers are full and while it wasn't the best gardening year, it was a good one.

4-H News

By WAYNE LAND
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

With a burglary occurring every 15 seconds in the United States, no place is safe any more. As families plan to leave town for the Thanksgiving holidays; youth enrolled in the 4-H safety project offer these suggestions for securing your home.

Do not attract burglars by talking about your travels or schedule. Keep your life to yourself and do not make your valuables known to others. Also, place valuable possessions so they cannot be easily seen through windows.

Make it difficult to get into the house. Good locks, alarms and lights will make your home tough for a burglar to enter. A good habit is to lock doors and windows, even when only going next door.

Make the house look occupied at all times. When you are not home, use timers to switch lights on and off and to turn radios on. The burglar prefers to work where he cannot be seen, especially if he has to spend any time making his entry.

A home that is well lighted at night is less attractive as a target.

Do not let mail or newspapers accumulate. Keep garage doors closed when the cars are not in the garage. An empty garage screams, "We are not at home!"

Burglar alarms are effective because they make noise. If the alarm sounds, the burglar must try to silence the noise or leave in a hurry. The peace and quite he needs to go through the house properly is disturbed.

These rules are important when you are traveling, but they can be equally important when you are away from the house for only a couple of hours. Remember, most burglars are not professionals.

Spotting a house that looks deserted, the amateur will stop and try to make a fast entry. If locks are secure, he will probably be discouraged quickly and leave.

The Prentiss County Extension office can provide more safety tips and information on the 4-H program.

Mayo Was Bob Wills' Booking Manager

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Reporter

Oliver Mayo is what some might call a former Prentiss Countian who "made good."

Mayo once served as the business manager for Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys, who played the western-swing type music.

Mayo, now 83, resides in Tulsa, Okla., where he has lived since 1934. Although he lives in Oklahoma, he occasionally visits his old hometown and always tries to make it back to Prentiss County to attend the annual Mayo reunion.

Mayo's parents were Jim Mayo and America Civil McCoy. (His mother was born in 1865 - before the surrender of the Confederacy during the Civil War - hence her name). Mayo attended school at Mt. Nebo.

He grew up in a large family - 10 boys and 3 girls. He had a twin brother who died in 1932.

MAYO LEFT Prentiss County in 1919 at the age of 18 to visit relatives in Texas.

During his visit in Texas he worked in a railroad shop.

Later he began working for a major oil company and stayed there until 1933.

It was during this time that Mayo met Bob Wills.

"I met him in an unusual way," Mayo recalled. "His wife's brother was a member of the fire department and I had met him. The firemen had a club and they had a party and Bob and his band played. We were invited to the party. Bob was having transportation trouble and having problems getting booked - so I told him I had a new 4-door car and I was well acquainted with the area around Waco.

"I booked 2 or 3 engagements and then I had them playing every night."

At the same time, Mayo had a job offer from Phillips Petroleum - but he decided to continue as Bob Wills manager.

Mayo recalls the year 1939 when Bob Wills made a movie with Tex Ritter called "Take Me Back To Oklahoma."

And Wills made more movies and that provided the young man from Booneville with an opportunity to meet such celebrities as Glenn Ford, Ann Miller and Penny Singleton.

After Wills served a short stint in the Army, Mayo was just associated with him "in a casual way." But he then became manager for Wills' brother, Johnny Lee Wells until 1974, when Mayo retired.

Since his retirement, he has been associated with the American Association of Retired Persons. He also attends First Baptist Church in Tulsa.

Mayo has two daughters, Frances Berry and Betty Smittle, both of Tulsa. He has five grandchildren.

Mayo married Cody Little in 1920. They had been married 64 years when she died in September.

Although Mayo doesn't have the opportunity to return to Prentiss County perhaps as often as he would like to, he always looks forward to the annual Mayo reunion. It gives him the chance to remember times past and visit with friends and relatives in Prentiss County and the surrounding area.

35-0 Wet Victory

Chieftains Romp Over Rebels

By GREG SHOOK
Sports Writer

The Iuka Chieftians did everything but make the weather clear last Thursday night as they took a 35-0 victory over the Thrasher Rebels in Latimer Park. The Rebels were plagued by injuries to both starting quarterback Robert Shumpert and backup quarterback Alan Fugitt. Shumpert suffered from a broken ankle, while Fugitt was sidelined by a broken right index finger.

The Iuka squad allowed the Rebels only 58 yards total offense in the game. And Thrasher's top running back Dwight Shinault managed a total of only eight yards. Robert Shumpert managed 43 yards for the Rebels.

Iuka spoiled the Rebels only scoring opportunity by stopping Shinault on the one-yard line.

The only thing apparently going Thrasher's way last Thursday night was the bus going home after the game. Mistakes, turnovers and bad breaks seem to plague them throughout the night.

The first two touchdowns for Iuka came in the second quarter, one on a four yard run, the other on a 30 yard touchdown pass. The first PAT was no good, but a two point conversion after the second TD evened the score out at 14 for the Chieftains.

The Chieftains third touchdown came in the third quarter—this time from three yards out. A successful PAT followed.

Iuka scored two more times before the final horn moving them to a perfect 9-0 record for the season.

The Rebels now hold a 5-4 record for their second ever season.

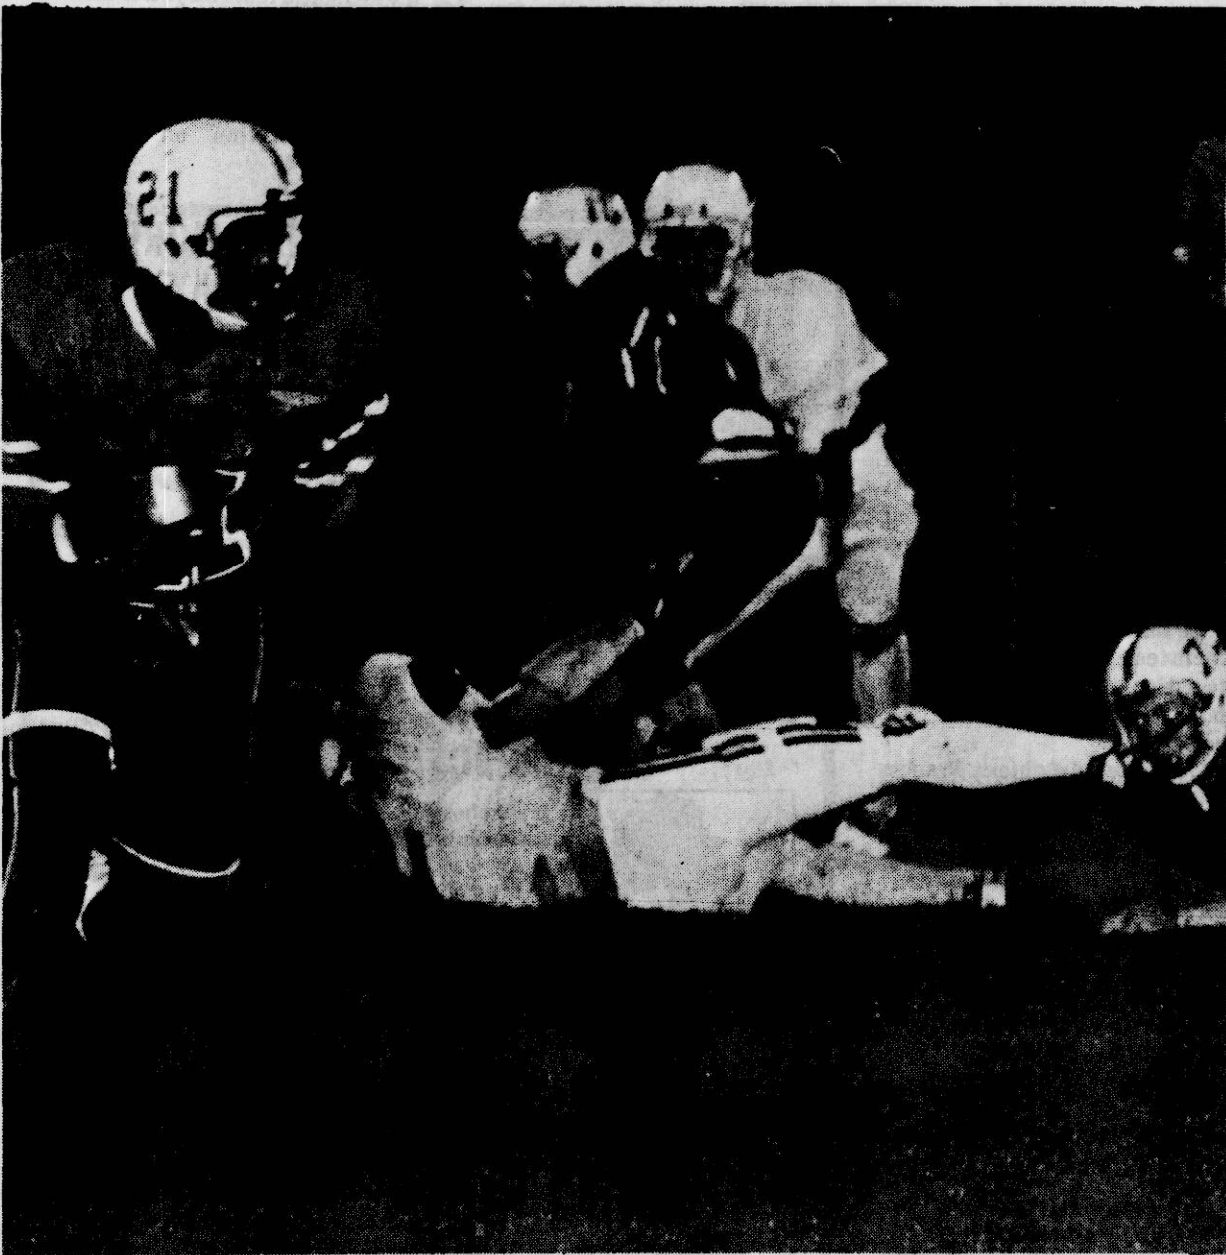

Leading the cold and wet Rebel defense was Paul McCutchen with eight solo tackles and two assists. Following McCutchen were Shinault and Fugitt, both with six solo tackles and three assists.

The Rebels will face the 5-4 Belmont Cardinals tomorrow night in Belmont. Both teams will be looking to finish 6-4 on the season with hopes of a bowl bid.

According to several area coaches, the Rebels have produced a great second season. And many say they expect trouble from the Rebels in years to come.

Bearcats Are Only One From A Perfect Season

After 36-2 Loss

Tigers End Season Winless

By SCOTT McKINNEY
Sports Writer

After a long and dismal season, the Northeast Tiger football team ended their season with a 36-2 loss to the nationally-ranked Jones Junior College Bobcats last Thursday night in a rain-drenched Keenum Stadium.

Jones scored three times in the opening period and never looked back. The Northeast offense could never seem to get on track on the rainy night in Booneville.

Jones scored again in the second period and later added nine more points in the final stanza to earn their ninth victory against only one setback.

Northeast managed only a safety in the second quarter for its only score of the night.

night in Latimer Park.

Now ranked fourth in the state's small school polls, the Bearcats still must play the Biggersville Lions before traveling to Hamilton for the District I-AA championship game.

Baldwyn had put four scores on the board before the Cardinals were able to retaliate. Belmont's only score came when David Holcomb took the ball in from one yard out after a 65 yard drive. A PAT by Kevin Rogers gave Belmont their seven points.

The first Bearcat touchdown came when Willie Howell dropped Cardinal quarterback for a loss and a fumble, giving the Bearcats the ball on the Belmont four yard line.

Greg Tucker then hit Stan Scott with a pass in the end-zone. Scott connected on the PAT to set the score at 7-0 Baldwyn.

The Bearcats struck again when Kevin Cole returned a Belmont punt 87 yards for the touchdown. Scott's PAT was once again good making it a 14-0 game.

The only scoring in the third quarter came when Tucker once again connected to Scott, this time from 16 yards out. Scott again converted on the PAT.

Belmont watched the numbers increase against them on the score board again when Fred Harvell scored from four yards out after returning an interception 41 yards. Scott's PAT was good again moving the score to 28-0.

Baldwyn will be at home for their last game of the regular season Friday night hosting the Biggersville Lions.

Lose 10-7 Battle

Blue Devils Run Out Of Time Against Bulldogs

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

"We didn't get beat, we just ran out of time," was all that Booneville coach Wayne Jones could say after his team lost a 10-7 battle last Friday night with the New Albany Bulldogs, who had to come from behind to capture the win.

"Our kids really played well tonight," Jones said. "We knew every formation that they ran. We just ran out of time."

Jones was right. The Devil defense did seem to know almost every play what the Bulldogs were running. "We studied their films so much last week that we felt like we were more prepared for this game than any we had run all year," Jones said. "And our kids proved it on the field. They gave a great effort."

New Albany coach Ben Jones said that his team was "just glad to get the win."

"They have a good team and really gave us a lot of trouble," B. Jones said. "We made some adjustments at halftime that allowed us to come out and move the ball a little better."

One factor in the game that had worried the Booneville faithful was the size of the Bulldog linemen. New Albany outweighed the Devils over 300 pounds on the line of scrimmage. However, the Devil blockers were not intimidated by the large Bulldogs.

"Oh yea, they had us outsize up there," Booneville lineman Rob Rogers said. "But, we outmuscled them and allowed some room for our running backs."

Booneville won the opening toss and took first possession in the chilly 50 degree weather, but failed to get anything going. However, the Bulldogs didn't find the going any easier on the other end as the devil defense flexed its muscles.

Neither team could gain much of an advantage throughout the opening period, but the Devils managed an early second period drive that looked like it would produce the game's first points.

Jimbo Goddard gave the Devils good field position on a 36-yard run to the New Albany 49. However, a Bulldog defensive back, Bo Hamilton, then picked off a Rod Coggin pass at the 19 yard line.

New Albany then took off on a 74-yard drive with running back Gary Cannon carrying most of the load. Cannon opened the drive with a 16-yard run, then three plays later on a fourth and two Cannon took a short snap in punt formation up the middle 18 yards to the 38, with 15 yards added to that on a face mask that moved the ball to the 23.

The Bulldog drive then stalled and Ben Jones called on David Gault to kick a 24-yard field goal with 10:33 left in the second quarter.

New Albany carried their 3-0 lead into the dressing room at the half as a surprised crowd looked on.

New Albany took the kickoff to start the second half, but fumbled on their first play from scrimmage, giving Booneville excellent field position. Chris Hughes pounced on the loose pigskin at the Bulldog 27 yard line.

Running back Rodney McVey put Booneville ahead seconds later as he went around left end and into the end zone from 27 yards out. Coggin's PAT gave the Devils a 7-3 lead.

However, New Albany came back on their next possession and got the game winning score. Quarterback H.F. Mason got the winning touchdown to cap a five play 73 yard drive on a six yard run. Gault added the extra point to give New Albany a 10-7 lead.

Booneville had two chances to get the winning score late in the final period, but an interception and a tough New Albany defense prevented the Devils from taking the win. Booneville had the football as the time expired and was driving on the Bulldogs.

Booneville will close out its season tomorrow night when they travel to Saltillo to face the Tigers. And, although Saltillo has had its share of problems this year, Coach Jones doesn't feel the Devils will have an easy time of things.

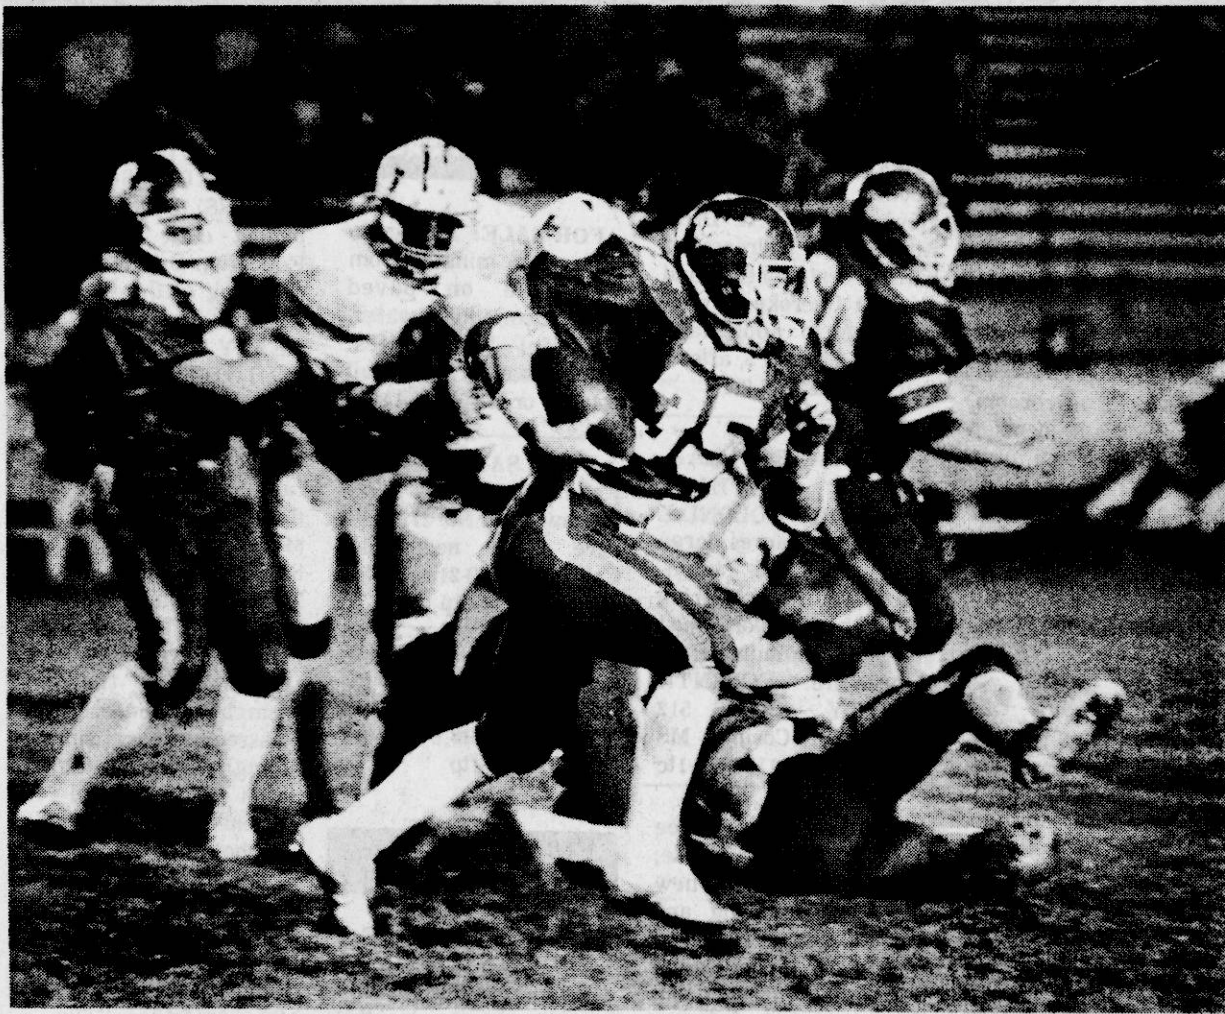

"They have a real good football team, and they have improved a lot since the first of the year," Jones said. "They beat Pontotoc and that is unbelievable. You saw what Pontotoc done to us."

Both the Devils and the Tigers have 3-6 records and both teams resemble the other in certain formations. "They'll be coming at us full force and we have to be as prepared this week as we were last week if we expect to do anything,"

Jones said. "It's the last game for both of us and both teams would like to end the season on a winning note."

Kickoff for the district game is set for 7:30 at Saltillo.

Blue Devil Roundballers Are Still Rebuilding

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

After finishing the 1983-84 season with a record of 11 wins and 17 losses, Coach Lee Stewart and the Booneville High School basketball team is again facing another rebuilding year.

Only two starters and four lettermen return from last year's squad and the Blue Devils will feature a line-up of all sophomores at certain times.

"Last year I said we would be rebuilding and it looks like we will be rebuilding again this year," Stewart said. "We've got a lot of young kids this year who are going to have to play and make a contribution."

And if returning so few players wasn't enough to worry about, the Devils' schedule this winter features three state tournament teams from last year -- Alcorn Central, Wheeler and New Albany. Also, Stewart said he expects tough competition from Baldwin, New Site, Ingomar, Jumpertown, Thrasher and Kossuth.

Only two seniors return for the devil hoopsters this winter, and Stewart said he was depending on the two as starters. The two seniors are Jim Caver, a 6-0 forward, and Mike Jones, a 5-11 guard. Stewart said he expects good things from the two athletes. "Jim is a real good shooter and we need him to have a good year for us," Stewart said. "Mike is also a good outside shooter and all he needs is just some experience. They're both going to have to take control and show leadership on the floor."

Another starter for Booneville game this year if Booneville plans to be competitive.

"We're looking for bigger and better things from him this year," the coach said. "He's got to have a better year this year if we plan to win some games. All the other teams now know what Clay can do and they will be keying on stopping him. So, he must work harder now and do more than he did last year."

With the loss of pivot man Tim Jumper, who transferred to Baldwin High School, Stewart could have a problem in filling the middle. However, sophomore Jeff McKinney, 6-2, has progressed during the offseason enough to gain this fall will be sophomore Clay Johnson, a 5-11 guard. Johnson averaged 18 points per game last year for the Devils and led the team in assists. But, Stewart said that Johnson must try to improve his a starting spot.

"Along with Caver, we're going to depend on Jeff to handle a lot of our rebounding," Stewart said. "And, he's got to be able to be physical under the goal."

The other starter for the Devils opener next week against New Site will be Rodney Williams, a 5-7 junior guard. "Rodney has a lot of quickness and speed and that's going to be a real advantage for us this year," Stewart said. "He needs some experience, but we don't have many who have experience."

Other players who, according to

Stewart, will see plenty of playing time this year include Jeff Burcham, a 6-1 sophomore; Anthony Crump, a 5-9 sophomore; Jerry Christian, a 5-7 sophomore; Jon Davis, a 5-11 freshman; and Stan Stubbs, a 5-9 sophomore. Stewart also said that he expects several members of the Booneville football team to come out and give Booneville some needed help. They include previous starter Rodney McVey, a 6-0 junior, and Matt Smith, a 5-10 freshman, as well as several others.

Stewart has set one goal for his team this fall and that is to be more competitive in tournament games. "We didn't win a single tournament game last year," he said. "This year we want to be tournament contenders instead of tournament participants."

The Devils will get their first challenge of the season Tuesday night when they face New Site. Then, a date with state tournament runner-up New Albany at NEMJC awaits Stewart's team. Stewart said that schedules are available at the high school or from any team member.

Bearcats In Action Against Belmont

Double Win Over NW Alabama

Tigers Sweep Basketball Games

Visiting Northeast Mississippi Junior College swept a pair of basketball games from host Northwest Alabama Monday night to open their 1984-85 season.

Northeast's women used a balanced scoring attack to rout Northwest 103-63.

Kunshinge Sorrell of Booneville led the Northeast attack with 20 points, while Jackie Perry had 19, Ara Gardner 13, and Trina Bullock 12.

Lisa Dutton and Cheloe Witt led the Northwest attack with 12 points each.

In men's action, Northeast placed five players in double figures in a 91-86 win.

Calvin Fields led the Tigers with 18 points while Perry Perrin had 15, Ronnie Elam 14, Roosevelt Combs 13 and Kevin Simmons 10.

Chris Garner led Northwest with 14. Northeast will open their home schedule Tuesday night when they host Jackson State of Tennessee.

VOT Employer Of The Week

Johnny Caveness, Jimmy Shearon & Gini Livingston

The Vocational Business Education Department at the Prentiss County Vocational School this week spotlights Johnny Caveness and McDonald's and their student-employees, Gini Livingston and Jimmy Shearon, from Booneville High School and the Cooperative Vocational Office Training program.

Caveness was employed by Booneville Foods, Inc., prior to coming to McDonald's. He has been at his present employment for three years, and now serves as Manager. He is married to the former Lois Olive, and they have one daughter, Amber. The attend the East Booneville Baptist Church.

Gini Livingston is the daughter of Mrs. Bobby Christian and Jimmy Livingston, and is a junior at Booneville High School. She is a member of the Anchor Club, Drama Club, Pep Club, FHA, and has been an Office Assistant.

Jimmy Shearon is the son of Mrs. Juanita Shearon, and the late Fred Shearon, and is a junior at Booneville High School. He belongs to the Math and Science Club, Drama Club, and the BHS Band.

Both Gini and Jimmy are members of the Prentiss County FBLA Chapter.

BHS Insights

By KIMI DROWN
BHS Journalism Student

The BHS Devils have come through this season and are improving every game.

Although their record will not be 10-0, our boys are trying their best and hopefully will succeed in winning their last game. Most people don't realize it, but the Devils have played superbly against their hard-hitting opponents.

In addition to the three teams we beat, Booneville scored more points against one team than anyone else had; and last week almost overcame New Albany. In other words, winning isn't everything. In this case, we have done something better.

Now - if you fell guilty (and you should) for not supporting the Devils like you could have, then one more chance is available. The Devils' last game of the season is Friday night at Saltillo. Let's get out there and cheer them on to victory.

The BHS Band is No. 1 and don't you forget it! How about those mighty marching Devils making all superiors at Northeast Marching Festival last Saturday. BHS was one of the few bands out of 31 that made all 1's. Wouldn't you like to see this great band? Come to Saltillo Friday and yell for the band. Also, the band is selling Christmas ornaments as a fund raiser. If you are interested, please contact Greg Fant or a member of the BHS band.

AS FALL Festival nears, more people are beginning to think this project will become an annual event. Clubs and classes will be sponsoring different activities for all ages. Why, Freshmen, you can even get your picture taken with Santa! BHS students will be working in the booths to make this night a great fund-raiser for the school.

The Math and Science Club

hosted a guest speaker at its meeting last Thursday. Jim Lamb, a biology instructor at Northeast Junior College, spoke to the club about the necessity for math and science courses for everyday living. FHA officers had a district meeting last Saturday at IJC.

The Prentiss County FBLA went to the Fall Leadership Conference in Nashville which was on Nov. 1-3. The FBLA is also hosting Family Night on Monday, Nov. 12. All FBLA members are invited to attend in order to learn about skills taught at Vo-Tech.

A "Meet the Devils" was held Tuesday night to start off the basketball season.

Booneville High School Honor Rolls

The following students have been named to the honor roll for the first nine weeks.

Superintendent's List: Beth Caver, Sabrina Scott, Jeanna Walker, Lisa Hopkins, Donna Murphy, Amanda Murphy, Kim

McKinney, Jason Scroggins, Lori Bolen, Joey Cadle, Michelle Kelly, Eddie Jumper, Julie Long, Amy Goddard, Amy Prichard, Tonya Finch, Jana Houck, Allison Johnson, Kim Johnson.

Principal's List: Melanie Garner, Felisha Bullock, Paula Dacus,

Second Annual Contest

Northeast Hosts 30 High School Bands

The 1984 Northeast Marching Band Contest, held at Keenum Stadium last Saturday, featured 30 high school bands from Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee.

Each band performed a field show similar to those performed during half-time football activities. Bands were judged and scored in several categories, including Drum

Major, Majorettes, Guard (Flags and Rifles) and Dance Team, plus three overall band scores.

Judges then totaled the scores for an overall rating for each band.

Both Prentiss County bands competed. Booneville received ones in every category and an overall one, or Superior rating; Baldwin received ones for Drum Major, Majorettes and Guard, a two for percussion and two ones and a two for band for an overall score of two. General awards went to Jackson, Tenn., Northside HS for Overall Best Drum Major, New Albany W.P. Daniel HS for Overall Best Majorettes, Germantown, Tenn., for Overall Best Drill Team, Olive Branch for Overall Best Guard and Alcorn Central for Overall Best Percussion (drums).

Class Winners were Mooreville - Best in Class C, Hernando - Class CC, Savannah, Tenn. - Class B, Dyersburg, Tenn. - Class BB, and Jackson, Tenn., Northside - Best in Class A.

The Northeast Mississippi Sweepstakes Winner, with the highest overall score, was Jackson, Tenn., Northside with a score of 90.66 out of a possible 100 points.

Other bands competing were Biggersville, Belmont, Saltillo, Ethel, Tusculumbia, Ala., Desher, Red Bay, Pontotoc, Florence, Ala., Wilson, Colbert County, Ala., Eupora, Itawamba AHS, Kossuth, Charleston, Okolona, Lafayette County, Humbolt, Tenn., Corinth, Ripley and Aberdeen.

The climax of the contest was an exhibition performance by the NEMJC Tiger Band.

HARVEST FESTIVAL PLANNED - New Site High School will sponsor its annual Harvest Festival Saturday, Nov. 10, beginning at 4 p.m. with a spaghetti supper. Tickets are $2.50 per plate. From 5-7 p.m. activities such as jail, basketball throw, washer toss, and marriage booth will be held before the auction begins at 7 p.m. Items auctioned will include new furniture, clothes, flower arrangements, a calf, and dog food. Pictured are New Site students (l-r) Vickie Barron, Melissa Moore, Katrina Akers and Ronald Clark.

Overall winner for the eight year olds was Earl Leonard of Pack 26. Brian Beckham of Pack 122 took overall honors for the nine year olds. Brad Enlow of Pack 26 was ten year old overall winner.

COMPETING AT NORTHEAST BAND CONTEST - The Booneville High School Marching Blue Devils strut their stuff for the judges at the 1984 Northeast Marching Band Contest held Saturday at Keenum Stadium. One of 30 bands competing, the BHS band recieved ones across the board for a Superior rating.

Hagman Is National Great American Smokeout Chairman

Larry Hagman, television's "J.R." will, for an unprecedented fourth year, be the Chairman of the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout.

It will give the more than 51 million Americans who still smoke the opportunity to kick the habit for at least 24 hours. This years Smokeout will be held on Thursday, Nov. 15, 1984.

The "Adopt A Smoker" campaign which was so popular last year, will be this years theme as well.

The "KWIT Line," a national "900" number, will be available again this year. By dialing 900-210-KWIT, a caller can receive friendly advice and encouragement based on personal experience.

On Smokeout Eve, Nov. 14, 1984, Mississippi ETV will air at 9 p.m. a national television special called Breathing Easy.

The one hour variety show is geared to teens and their families. Teaching Guides are available for teachers who would like for their classes to participate in this program through the American Cancer Society, Mississippi Division, 345 North Mart Plaza, Jackson, Miss. 39206.

DAN'S RENT TO OWN GRAND OPENING - Dan's Rent to Own has moved to a new location on 606 N. Second St. On Friday, Nov. 2, the store celebrated a grand opening at their new location. Pictured at ribbon cutting ceremonies are (l-r) Bobby Elam of First Citizens Bank, Debbie Lauderdale, manager; Mayor Charles Crabb; and Paul Bennett, accounts manager.

'Innerview' Weekend At The 'W'

High school students from throughout Mississippi and from surrounding states will have an opportunity to preview college life at Mississippi University for Women Nov. 9-10 during the annual fall "Innerview."

"Innerview," formerly called "W" Day, will get under way Friday with registration from 3-5 p.m. in the Pohl Physical Education-Assembly Building.

"Innerview" will give students a sampling of "everything in a short period of time," said Jayne Perkins, registrar and director of admissions. Recreational activities, campus tours and academic open houses are among events on tap during "Innerview 1984."

Student representatives and members of the MUW administration and faculty will present a campus overview Saturday morning from 9-10 in Poindexter Hall Auditorium. Tours of the W's nine academic divisions will follow.

Admissions and financial aid conferences will be held from 11 a.m. until noon in Simmons Hall.

Displays by student organizations and campus entertainment, featuring such groups as the Maskers' Washboard Band and the Copy Cats, will also be included on Saturday's agenda. The MUW Modeling Squad will perform during lunch.

"Innerview" participants who arrive Friday will have an opportunity to see the Readers' Theater production, "II&C," written by John Maxwell, writer-in-residence at MUW. A spirit rally and bonfire and a dance will conclude the evening's activities.

For additional information about the fall "Innerview" at MUW, interested persons should contact the Office of Admissions at 329-4750, Extension 106.

If food can't be put in another freezer, dry ice can be used to keep food cold.

Fifty pounds of dry ice will keep food frozen for 36 hours in a 20 cubic foot freezer. Put a layer of heavy cardboard between the food and the dry ice.

If foods start to thaw, some can be refrozen when the power comes on again. Any food that still contains ice crystals is safe to refreeze although there may be some changes in the quality.

Raw meats that have completely thawed can be refrozen if they are still cold. Many harmless bacteria that grow on raw meat at low temperatures will prevent the growth of harmful bacteria.

Cooked meats and leftovers won't be safe to eat if they have been warmed above refrigerator temperature.

Bacteria may grow rapidly in vegetables without causing any sign of spoilage. Refreeze vegetables only if they are still refrigerator temperature or below.

When refreezing food, do it quickly. Turn the freezer to the lowest setting until the food is frozen solid.

Even when there isn't a threat of a power failure, check the freezer regularly to make sure it is working properly.

Reflections On Area Football

By PIGSKIN PETE
Sports Columnist

It's hard to believe that the 1984 high school football season will be over for most teams tomorrow night. It seems like they started the season only a few days ago. And, after tomorrow night, only one Prentiss County team, Baldwyn, will still be involved in competition.

I remember back to about eleven weeks ago when I returned to Booneville for the start of the fall gridiron season. There was a lot of hope and optimism in the carnis of all the teams and the smell of football was in the air. Everybody had dreams of state championships and undefeated seasons.

For one team, those dreams have become reality. But, for the rest, another season has come and gone.

Let's look back on the season and reminisce over all the memories with each team.

There was a lot of excitement in the Booneville High School camp this fall. And, after the Devils knocked off state champ Falkner in the season opener, there was some talk that the Devils could go all the way.

But, many don't remember that BHS won only one game last year and this was supposed to be another rebuilding year, or something to that extent.

However, the Devils fell on hard times when they got involved in one of the toughest schedules around. Booneville's first six opponents had an overall record of 29-7 after six weeks of play, and that ain't shabby.

Wayne Jones and the Devils have already won three games and are shooting for number four tomorrow night at Sallililo, so they have improved since last year. And, as long as coach Jones is on the staff at Booneville, you can expect the Blue Devils to be tough.

Willie Jackson's Thrasher Rebels have had an unbelievable second year of competition. After winning three games last year in their very first year to sponsor football, the Rebels have already won five games this year and assured themselves a winning season after two years of competition.

And, one of the main things about that team is that they are very young. Running Back Dwight Shinnault is the leading rusher in the county and one of the better backs around. And, he is just a freshman. So, count on the Rebels to be heard from for the next few years on the gridiron.

The Baldwyn Bearcats are the

Prog Race Continues To Be A See-Saw Battle

After nine weeks The Banner-Independent's prognosticators' race has turned into a see-saw battle between Doug Jumper and Leighton Miller.

Both men have taken turns leading the rest of the pack over the past four weeks. This week it's Jumper's turn to be back in front.

Jumper picked 11 of 15 games correct last week to move one game ahead of Miller in the season's totals. Miller only picked 8 of 15 games correct last week to allow Jumper to move in front.

Jumper has picked 96 of 140 games correct for a 69 per cent average, while Miller has picked 95 of 140 games correct for a 68 per cent average.

Last year's defending champion, Manfred Saylor's tied Jumper last week for the top spot, picking 11 of 15 games correct. Saylor's has been making a run for the top spot the past few weeks and has now moved within three games of the top spot by picking 93 of 140 games correct for a 66 per cent picking accuracy.

NEA/MC Athletic Director Bill Ward fell off the pace last week, picking just 9 of 15 games correct. Ward has fallen into fourth place with 92 of 140 games picked correctly for the year, a 65 per cent average.

Last week's guest picker, Wayne Jones of Booneville High School, tied with Ward in the weekly race. Jones also picked 9 of 15 games correct. The guest spot has only picked 78 of 140 games correct all year for a 56 per cent accuracy.

Banner-Independent sports personality Pigskin Pete finished in last place last week with only 8 of 15 games correct. For the year, Pete has picked 87 of 140 games correct for a 62 per cent average.

This week's guest picker is Booneville restaurant owner Jimmy Fisher.

only team that will not end their regular season tomorrow night. The Bearcats are still undefeated this fall and have clinched a spot in the state playoffs. Coach Hubert Tucker's 'Cats have won 19 regular season games in a row and they too have a young team.

But, for as long as I can remember, Baldwyn has always had one of the better teams, either in the old Tombigbee Conference or the district. It seems they'll always be tough.

After suffering through a 0-10 season this year, Coach David Carnell and his staff must decide where to start for next year's squad.

There were a whole lot of freshmen playing for the Tigers this year and that's good news for next year. Now that these kids have some experience, maybe they can establish themselves as a team to be considered for the state championships next year.

And, with a good recruiting year, Northeast could very well turn around their program and move on to bigger and better things.

Well, I've spent enough time analyzing Prentiss County teams. I would like to congratulate all teams and coaches for a job well done in 1984. Remember, it's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game.

Coach Jones and the Blue Devils close out their season tomorrow night in Sattillo when they face the upstart Tigers.

Sattillo has had their share of problems this year, but they do have a win over powerful Pontotoc under their belt. Tiger coach Gary Buse knows that this game has always been a big rivalry, and since both teams haven't had the best of luck this year, expect both Buse and Jones to pull out all of the stops in the final game.

But, Booneville has impressed me over the past three weeks and I expect them to close the 1984 season on a winning note.

The Thrasher Rebels could earn their first winning season in only two years of competition tomorrow night when they travel to Belmont to battle the Cardinals.

But, the Cards are one tough football team and will give the Rebels all they want. Jackson and the Rebs from North Prentiss County will roll into Belmont tomorrow night with one of the premier running backs in the area in Dwight Shinault, and if Belmont expects to win, they'd better try to stop this speedy Rebel runner.

However, that's like telling General Custer to stop the Indians— it just ain't easy!

Baldwyn won't have much of a challenge tomorrow night as they host the Biggersville Lions in the final regular season game for the 'Cats. Baldwyn has already clinched the sub-district title and have a date next week with the unbeaten and number one ranked Hamilton Lions for the district title.

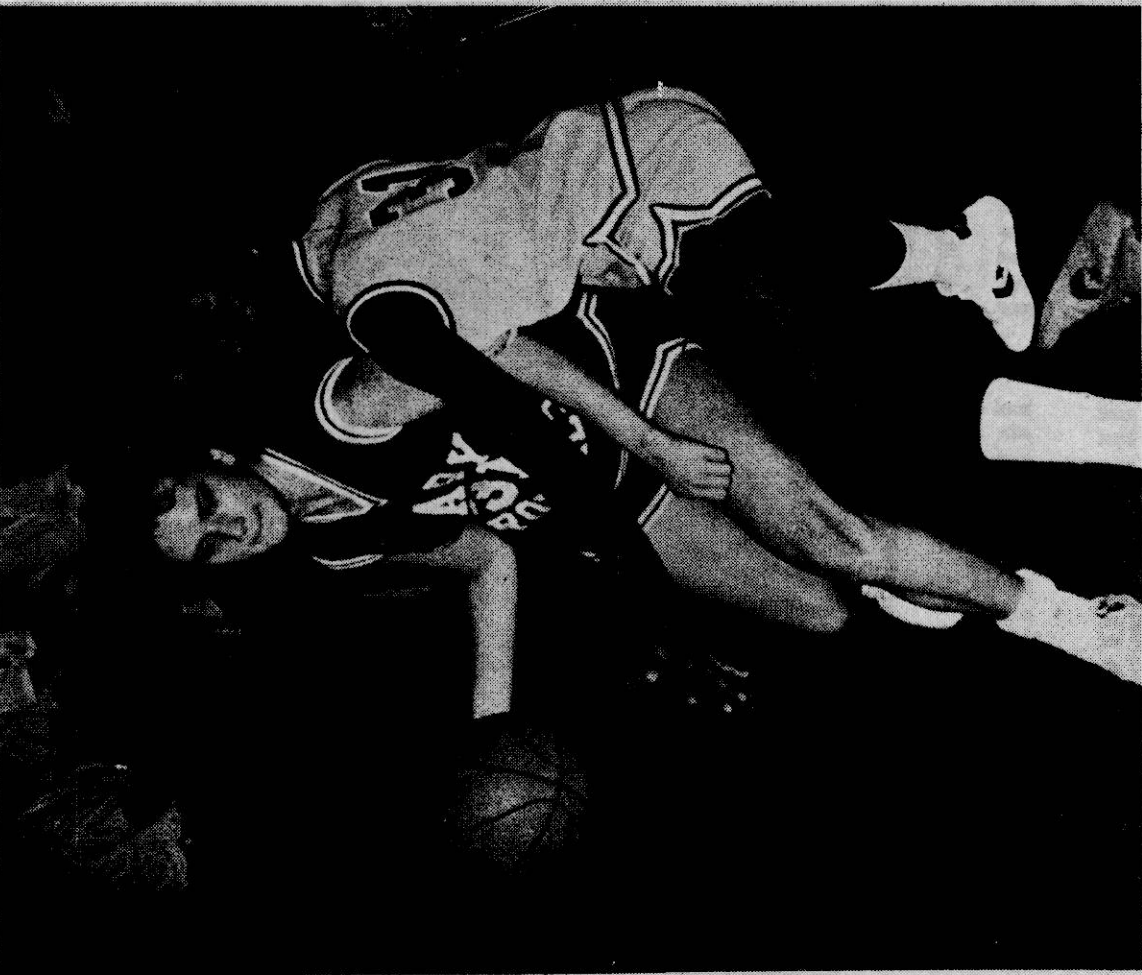

This week will just be a tune-up for the Bearcats as they have their eyes on the Lions.

Baldwyn 43 Biggersville 0

In other selected games this week, Fulton will beat Ripley by 4; Pontotoc will down Houston by 13; East Carolina will beat Southern Mississippi by 23; LSU will down Alabama by 5; Auburn will beat Cincinnati by 21; Georgia will beat Florida on a last-second field goal by Kevin Butler; Vanderbilt will beat Kentucky by 2; Memphis State will upset Tennessee by 6; TCU will roll past Texas Tech by 12; South Carolina will down Florida State by 1; Miami will blow past Maryland by 30; and Washington will slip past USC by 3.

Again, I congratulate the area football teams for their 1984 seasons. And, to the Baldwyn Bearcats, may the force be with you. (I like that line. I may try to sell it to some Hollywood movie producer.)

See ya next week.

Alabama Tide Rallies To Down Bulldogs 24-20

By SCOTT MCKINNEY
Sports Writer

Backup quarterback Mike Shula, son of Miami Dolphin coach Don Shula, threw a 67-yard scoring pass to receiver Greg Richardson with 7:37 left in Saturday's game as the Alabama Crimson Tide rallied to down the Mississippi State Bulldogs 24-20 in Jackson.

Bulldog coach Emory Bellard said his team must learn to hold on to their lead once the game enters the final period. "This was a very disappointing loss for us," Bellard said. "We have lost three games in the final period after we went into it leading. We've got to learn to play sixty minutes of football and not forty-five."

Both teams traded embarrasments early in the fourth quarter, State giving the ball up on downs twice, and Bulldog defenders forcing the Crimson offense into several turnovers.

After Artie Cosby missed a field goal the Tide took over for what proved to be the winning drive. Shula threw two consecutive passes to Richardson, the first for 12 yards to the Alabama 33 and the second the long scoring strike.

Shula had another scoring stroke earlier in the game, a 19 yarder to receiver Greg Payne in the second period.

State started the game as if the Tide would never have a chance. Two Cosby field goals and a fumble recovery by John Lowe in the end zone allowed them to open up to an early advantage.

But all the news wasn't good for the Bulldogs in the early going. Starting quarterback Don Smith of Hamilton, second in total offense in the conference, went out of the game with a slight shoulder separation. Team officials refused to comment on just when Smith could see action again.

Alabama kept hope alive throughout the contest as kicker Van Tiffin booted a couple of field goals. Shula's two scoring strikes later in the game pushed the Tide ahead of the Bulldogs and on to their third victory.

Mississippi State will have an off week this week before playing host to powerful SEC foe LSU on November 17. Alabama will get their chance at the Bayou Bengals Saturday as they host LSU in Birmingham.

Strategy Session

DSU Roars Past West Georgia

It didn't start raining until night before the first half ended, but West Georgia College thought it poured from the start as Delta State University rolled to a 52-0 Gulf South Conference rout to spoil the Braves' homecoming.

Running back Dewayne Herrington paced the DSU attack as he scored on runs of 63 and 69 yards in the first period to finish the game with 137 yards on just four rushes.

"I thought we were very aggressive defensively, and our offense controlled the ball early, controlled the line of scrimmage and broke on the ball very well," DSU coach Red Parker said.

"As far as the game itself though, I don't know if it helped either one of us," he said.

Delta State rolled to a 31-0 halftime lead after Herrington's long runs, thanks to TD runs of 10 yards by No. 2 quarterback Keith Williams and 12 yards by substitute running back Mark Scott in the second period.

Chip Dardaman also added a 45-yard field goal.

The Delta defense, which accounted for five fumble recoveries, contributed one score in the fourth period when cornerback Al Carey picked off a West Georgia pass and returned it 14 yards for the score.

Quarterback Scott Butler, the record setting signal-caller from Oxford, ran for a six yard score in the third period, and Alonzo Harris broke a couple of tackles on the last play of the quarter for a 17-yard run to account for the other DSU scores.

Delta State improved to 5-3-1 overall and 3-2-1 in the GSC while West Georgia is 0-6 in conference play. The Statesmen will return home Saturday to host Valdosta State in another conference match-up.

Several friends from our area were in Corinth Wednesday morning to attend funeral services for Marvin Dees of Biggersville. Mrs. Annie Mae Anderson returned to her home in California Tuesday following a visit with members of the Hearn family. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eldridge and Todd Eldridge of Meridian spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eldridge.

Some 35 family members and three invited guests met Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Frazier of Corinth to honor Mrs. Clarence Essary of Route 3, Rienzi, on her 81st birthday. Sharing honors on the week of birthdays were J.B. Elliott of Corinth; Mrs. Grady Kuykendall of Union and Robby Hamlin of Biggersville. Mrs. Margaret Lawson and Josh Lawson of Corinth were guests this week of Mrs. Louise Johnsey. An unusually large number of the young boys and girls were out in varied costumes Wednesday for the Halloween "Trick or Treat." It was a quiet night in town and the calls of the children was fun.

Those attending Bible Study at the Rienzi Baptist Church were given a "treat" following the evening service when Mrs. Jolene Perry served a freshly baked chocolate and coconut cake. Dishes of candy and cold drinks added to the refreshments and fellowship. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan visited in Alabama during the weekend.

Mrs. Hazel Hager has returned home to California after having spent a week recently with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Green and other relatives. Junior Wingo is at home from the hospital. Mrs. Gladys Wingo would like to say thanks to all for the cards, calls, visits and food. She also appreciates those who mowed the yard. And also those who gave blood at the hospital. Mrs. Jewel Hubbard and Chris Davis spent last weekend in Memphis where several of the Hubbard family got together for a small gathering. Others attending were Mrs. Claudie Pritchard, Mrs. Dorothy Kelly, Mrs. Hope Keith, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Bruno, Mandy and Mike, Joey Bruno, and daughters, Mrs. Eva Mask, Mrs. Edna Rushton, Mrs. Evelyn Johnson and Mrs. Celia Smith. Barry Rains is in the Tupelo Hospital. Get well wishes are extended to him.

Friday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis were Mrs. Linda Williams, Lee and Greda, Darrell, Lisa and Christy Williams. Mrs. Jewel Hubbard visited Friday night with Mrs. Ruth Knight and Mrs. Gladys Stanton in Booneville. Mrs. Jewel Hubbard, Bill and Chris Davis visited Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. James Freeze in Wheeler. Mr. and Mrs. Howser Hughey spent Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Duane Murley and Melissa.

Teachers' Wildlife Education Package Offered By JSU

Wildlife filmstrips currently being used in some 20,000 schools nationwide are being offered to Tennessee Valley schools by TVA through university environmental-energy education centers. The filmstrips, "Unendangered Species" and "What They Say About Hunting," were produced by the International Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies. They are packaged with a teacher's guide and other instructional materials for grades 7 through 12. They are currently used in ecology, biology, and social studies classes. TVA's Environmental-Energy Education and Wildlife Resources Programs purchased the filmstrips, and distributed copies to university centers for environmental-energy education in Kentucky, Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina, and Tennessee for loan to classroom teachers. Teachers interested in using the filmstrip packages should contact the centers for environmental-energy education at Jackson State University.

American Lung Association 'Pot' Prevention Program

The American Lung Association - and the Mississippi Lung Association - in cooperation with the American Council for Drug Education, will be conducting a new educational program designed to influence children ages 9-11 not to smoke marijuana now - or in the future. "Marijuana: A Second Look," is an awareness-prevention program which provides educational material for parents, teachers and students. By utilizing materials in the new program that will be available from the Mississippi Lung Association office, parents, teachers and youth leaders can work together to combat marijuana use.

Marijuana smoking interferes with normal lung function, irritating the air passages of the lungs. Research shows that marijuana smoking is harmful to lung health and can cause lung disease, but it can be especially harmful to young developing lungs. The Surgeon General of the U.S., C. Everett Koop, M.D., has stated that the problem of marijuana smoking, especially among young people, justifies national concern. National spokespersons for the prevention program include Nancy Reagan and the cast of television series, Fame. Although no single effort will be successful in combatting the problem of marijuana, "Marijuana: A Second Look" can help create an atmosphere in which children can easily learn to say "No" to marijuana... or as the program slogans say, "Don't Let Your Lungs Go To Pot" and "You Can't Fly if You're High." It is essential that young students receive accurate information about marijuana's health hazards and learn skills to resist pressures they may face to experiment with marijuana, tobacco and other drugs. For more information on "Marijuana: A Second Look" and facts on the lung health hazards of marijuana smoking, contact the Mississippi Lung Association, P.O. Box 9865, Jackson, Miss. 39206.

Nursing Workshop To Be Offered By USM December 1

A workshop entitled "Dealing with Difficult People in the Operating Room" will be offered Dec. 1 by the University of Southern Mississippi. The workshop, which is designed to provide educational activities for registered nurses, is part of USM's School of Nursing Continuing Education Program. These programs are designed to help expand nursing knowledge and increase skill competency in the nursing environment.

Dr. Midge Starzynski, who presents workshops for the American Association of Operating Nurses across the country, will help participants to enhance their ability to recognize and deal with factors which make people "seem" difficult. Dr. Starzynski holds both a master's degree and a doctorate in psychiatric-mental health nursing and is director of nursing services at Bethesda Hospital in Denver, Colo. The workshop will be held 8 a.m.

1 p.m. at the Holiday Inn Downtown in Jackson, Miss. Registration and a continental breakfast will be from 7:30-8 a.m. For additional information or pre-registration, contact Virginia B. Newbern, director of the Continuing Education Program of the University of Southern Mississippi School of Nursing, Southern Station, Box 5104, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39406 or phone (601) 266-5445.

Aerial Firefighters 1st First Forest Defense

By RITA CIPALLA
Smithsonian News Service

Few sights are more awesome and terrifying than a raging forest fire. Majestic oaks, verdant pines, fragrant cedars explode into balls of flame. Strong winds carry oppressive heat and choking, acrid smoke. The roar of the fire, the crashing of trees, the snapping and crackling of burning underbrush overwhelm the senses.

Above the inferno, another sound is heard, faintly at first, then growing louder: the insistent chopping of helicopter blades cutting through the air. Slowly, the hovering craft descends onto a brush area that had been cleared earlier. The copter doors swing open to reveal a team of men and women dressed to wage battle. Their enemy: the forest fire.

This dramatic scene is repeated many times a year across the country. As the fire season moves north and westward - beginning with the Southeastern states in April and ending with southern California in December - most of the people and equipment needed to combat the fire move with it.

Though the real task of firefighting takes place on the ground, help from the sky is often crucial.

"Aircraft are used in numerous ways to fight wildfires," says Dorothy Cochrane, a museum specialist in the Aeronautics Department at the Smithsonian's National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C.

Cochrane, curator of an exhibit on aerial firefighting scheduled to open this winter, explains: "They can discover the fire, determine which way it is headed and how quickly it is moving. They can report the best access routes to the fire and then ferry in people and equipment."

Whether on land or in the air, the men and women who risk their lives to put out wildfires are part of the team trained and employed by the Forest Service to manage and preserve the national forests. The Forest Service, an agency of the Department of Agriculture, manages nearly 200 million acres of land nationwide, including 167 national forests in 38 states and Puerto Rico. Forest-fire prevention and control programs on non-federal lands are organized and administered by each state, with some federal funding.

Forest fires vary in intensity, from the more common surface fires that burn leaves and debris on the forest floor to roaring crown fires that spread from treetop to treetop.

Since oxygen, high temperatures and fuel (leaves, debris and the like) must be present for a fire to burn, firefighting is aimed at breaking this "triangle." A fire line - a strip of land of varying width that has been cleared of flammable debris, usually by bulldozer or by hand - might be built around the edge of the blaze to rob it of its fuel, or the fire might be controlled by dropping water or fire-retardant chemicals on it.

Once a fire has been sighted - often by means of lookout towers or patrol planes - an amazing system of individuals and equipment is mobilized within a matter of minutes. The work is spectacular, but it is also difficult, dirty, dangerous and expensive.

An experienced forest official, known as the fire boss, coordinates the firefighting team and equipment via two-wave radio. Crews are assembled, equipped and transported; topnotch leadership is provided, and close communications are maintained. A breakdown in the system can mean the loss of lives and valuable timber, range land and homes.

When dense forest or impassable terrain make conventional means of fire detection and transportation impossible, the fire boss turns to the air.

Aircraft were first used by the Forest Service in 1919, when Army Air Service Maj. Henry H. "Hap" Arnold and Regional Forester Coert du Bois agreed to use Army Air Service pilots and aircraft to fly Forest Service observers on fire-detection missions. The experiment began on June 1, 1919, with six Curtiss JN-4D aircraft flying two patrols a day over the Cleveland National Forest from March Field, Calif. Information about the fire - for the ground crews below - was dropped in tin cans or tied to the legs of carrier pigeons.

Lack of funds forced the cancellation of the aerial fire patrols in 1923. Eventually, funding was restored, and, in 1928, the Department of Agriculture contracted with private firms to provide flying services. That policy is still in effect.

Today, the Forest Service maintains a fleet of about 35 aircraft, mostly Beechcraft Barons, a light, twin-engine plane. More than 100 air tankers, helicopters and smoke-jumper aircraft are contracted seasonally. In addition, about 400 small aircraft, called the Mosquito Fleet, are used for reconnaissance and to transport personnel, equipment and supplies.

Tankers drop water and fire-retardant chemicals from the air onto or ahead of forest fires. The craft vary in size, ranging from small planes that carry 400 gallons of retardant to such larger aircraft as the Douglas DC-7 and Lockheed C-130, which can discharge 3,000 gallons of chemicals. "Lead" planes guide the heavy tankers to the drop areas, where such chemicals as viscous diammonium phosphate and ammonium sulfate retardants are released.

In 1974, Mary Barr became the first woman hired by the Forest Service to fly as lead plane pilot. Her territory was the North Zone Air Unit in Redding, Calif. Barr is currently the Forest Service's National Aviation Safety Officer and a pilot with more than 12,000 hours flying time. She vividly recalls those adventuresome days.

"I flew ahead of the air tankers to determine where the air turbulence was, where the fire was located and where it was best to drop the load," she remembers. "It was - and is - a hazardous job, for I was often flying through heavy smoke over steep terrain. Under certain conditions, the fire moves at speeds up to 40 miles per hour - more quickly than the equipment and chemicals can be transported."

Helicopters are also a successful, though expensive firefighting tool. They are used to patrol the forests on the lookout for fires and to drop water and chemical retardants once a fire has broken out.

Perhaps the most dramatic method of firefighting is smokejumping - the delivery of firefighters and equipment to wilderness and backcountry areas by parachute. The main smokejumper aircraft is the deHavilland DHC-6 Twin Otter, which can carry up to 10 jumpers. Smokejumpers receive three weeks of intensive training in firefighting tactics, physical fitness and the use of aerial delivery equipment. In addition to fighting fires, they are sometimes called on for rescue missions - if a plane crashes in a remote area, for example, or if a fellow smokejumper is injured in a fall.

"About 75 percent of the smokejumpers employed by the Forest Service are summer employees," Cochrane says. "For the most part, they're young and in extremely good shape. They come from all walks of life - writers, film producers, students, teachers." In 1981, the first woman to qualify as a smokejumper, Deanne Shulman, joined the prestigious ranks of smokejumpers. Shulman, a young woman in her twenties based at McCall, Idaho, had six years of experience as a firefighter before trying out for smokejumper duty.

"During a fire, smokejumpers are airlifted into areas that can't be reached with pickup trucks and helicopters," Barr says. "The jumpers are dropped out on static lines, two at a time. Special protective gear is used, since the jumpers are dropping straight down through timber, often landing in heavy brush or on the rocks."

Today, the Forest Service is also relying increasingly on technology to fight forest fires. "Electronic equipment is playing a greater role in the detection and suppression of forest fires," Cochrane says. "The Forest Service feeds certain data into a computer - such as the type of terrain, weather conditions and former fires in the area - in order to project the spread of a fire."

Some aircraft are fitted with infrared cameras that scan and map the behavior and pattern of fires for hot spots. One such camera, the Forward Looking Infra-Red, can actually trace the line of fire. Viewing a fire through smoke or at night with an infra-red camera provides the observer with vital information on the fire's location and characteristics.

Since about half of the fires in the national forests are caused by lightning, an automatic lightning-detection system is also now being used in Alaska and the West. This device can instantly pinpoint lightning strikes and monitor storm patterns within a range of 400 miles and from 70 reporting weather stations.

Forty years ago, the Forest Service launched a public awareness program using a stern but kind-faced bear called Smokey. Since that time, Smokey has warned million of campers, "Only you can prevent forest fires." His warning has paid off. Today, the incidence of national forest fires caused by human negligence has been reduced substantially.

Although the threat of a large wildfire is always present, it's reassuring to know that Smokey Bear and the millions of Americans who enjoy the beauty of the national forests can depend on help from above.

USM Schedules High School Day For November 17

An estimated 2,000 high school and junior college students are expected to converge on the University of Southern Mississippi campus Nov. 17 for a special "Spirit Spectacular" program.

The ninth annual event, which is USM's "high school day," is sponsored each fall to allow interested high school and junior college students to get a first-hand look at life on the Hattiesburg campus.

The day's activities will begin at 1:30 p.m. with welcoming remarks by Dr. Clyde Ginn, executive assistant to USM President Aubrey K. Lucas; Joe Paul, dean of student development; and "Spirit Spectacular" coordinator Martha Vardaman of the university's Office of High School and Junior College Relations.

Entertainment by "Southern Exposure," the awarding of special door prizes, a discussion of USM athletics by head basketball coach M.K. Turk and the Golden Eagle pep rally will precede a scheduled 2:45 p.m. tour of the university campus, to be conducted by "Southern Style" members.

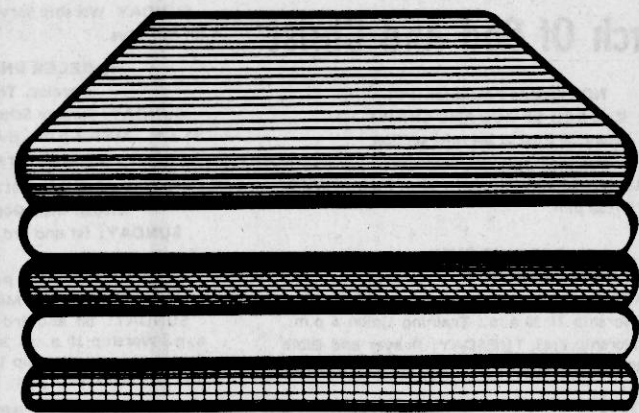

Free cokes, potato chips and tickets to the USM-Louisville football game will be distributed during a "Southern Hospitality Fair" slated at 3 p.m.

High School and junior college counselors planning to attend the event with groups from their respective schools are urged to contact the Office of High School and Junior College Relations at USM by calling (601) 266-5000 or the toll-free number 1-800-222-1601 for Mississippi schools only.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

‘Who Is The Greatest?’

Matthew 18:1

By Charles L. Potts

A recent book title caught my attention . . . How Great I Am. The author was giving an honest appraisal of himself . . . how he had made it big, how important he was and how people sought him out for advice and wisdom. Then something happened. It was totally beyond him to explain the reason why he felt so empty and restless. He reviewed his assets. He inventoried his personality . . . all seemed in place. One day, per chance, he saw this question written on a magazine in awaiting room . . . “Who Is The Greatest?” It reminded me of boyhood days attending Sunday School. Although he had long been a church dropout . . . he remembered that Jesus had said something about a child in answer to his disciples.

Qualities of “greatness” would at least include reverence . . . not for things but for persons. God first and then for one’s fellowman. It would probably include humility . . . which is an outgrowth of an authentic experience of God through Jesus Christ. Can we add Courage? The courage to extract something of worth from the bitter experiences and life’s hardships. The bottom line . . . fame, praise, prestige, and material wealth are not the stuff of true greatness. These are outclassed by reverence, humility and courage. Jesus said, “Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.” May we all find that true greatness in Christ.
